In order to make the decision of the Court final and conclusive in another Court, it must be the decision of a Court, which would have had pecuniary jurisdiction over the matter in the subsequent suit, on which the first decision is given in evidence as conclusive. There is no reason so far as the necessity for this condition is concerned, for making any distinction between a case, to which the strict rule of res judicata as enacted in S. 11 of the C. P. Code applies and a case in which the principles of res judicata such as for instance those laid down by the Privy Council in 9 M. I. A. 539 (P. C.) and 40 All. 593 (P. C.) and other cases, is sought to be availed of. (Case-law discussed.) (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) UIRASWAMI v. P. NAYUDAMMA. 49 M. L. J. 430 : 22 L. W. 178 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1270.

——S. 11—Competent Court—"Competency" of Court refers to value of suit.

Competency in S. 11, C. P. Code, has reference to the value of the suit and not the territorial jurisdiction. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Row, JJ.) AYISHA BIBI AMMAL. In re. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1167.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Small Cause Court—Decision on title to property.

The decision of a Small Cause Court on a question of title is not res judicata in a subsequent suit. (Madhavan Nair, J.) NARANO MAHAPATRO v. RAMCHANDRA MARDARAJA DEO GANI. 80 I. C. 724 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 357.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Probate proceedings—Contesting caveators are bound by the decision unless good cause under S. 50 of the Probate and Administration Act is made out.

Decisions after contest in a probate proceeding are res judicata in any subsequent proceeding of any kind against the caveator who contested it. On general principles of the Probate and Administration Act grant of probate by a competent Court binds all contesting parties unless good cause under S. 50 to set it aside is made out. (Odgers and Wallace, JJ.) VENKATARATHNAM v. SATYAVATI. 46 M. L. J. 383 : 34 M. L. T. 141 : 79 I. C. 44 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 578.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Revenue Court—Decision of—Civil Courts—Estate.

The Revenue Court, is not the final competent authority to decide whether particular lands constitute an estate or not and a decision passed by it on that question, will not be res judicata in a suit in a Civil Court, for a declaration that the lands do not form an estate. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) MAHANT RAMADINA DAS v. BOISHAMO. 69 I. C. 938 : 14 L. W. 251.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Civil and Revenue Court—Madras Estates Land Act, S. 189 (3).

The decision of Rev. Court, in a suit exclusively triable by it does not bind the Civil Court, though the subsequent suit could not be brought in the Rev. Court as S. 189 (3) is not more comprehensive than S. 11 of the C. P. Code. (Sadasiva Iyer and Spencer, JJ.) SOBHANADRI APPARAO v. DATHADU VENKATRAJU. 39 M. L. J. 476 : 43 Mad. 859 : (1920) M. W. N. 639 : 12 L. W. 512 : 60 I. C. 700 : 28 M. L. T. 359.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Partition proceedings—Dispute settled definitely by Revenue Court sitting as a Civil Court, cannot be opened again in a Civil Court.

Where during partition proceedings there was dispute among several co-sharers as to who should bear the burden of the lease and the deed of gift and it was definitely decided that the burden should be borne rateably by the Revenue Court sitting as a Civil Court. Held, that it will be unfair to reopen the question subsequently in a Civil Court. (12 O. C. 97 ; 23 All. 324, Dist). (Dalal, J. C.) KALKA SINGH v. BISHUNATH SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 638 : 2 O. W N. 539 : 89 I. C. 221 : L. R. 6 Oudh. 95 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 72.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Rent Court—Decision on question of adverse possession.

The decision of a Rent Court on a question of title as affected by the plea of adverse possession is not binding on a Civil Court and the latter is quite competent to come to a finding on that question independently. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHAHADAT KHAN v. KAMDAR KHAN. 89 I. C. 810.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Decision of Revenue Court—Subsequent suit in Civil Court—Bar—Fraud vitiating decision—What constitutes.

A Revenue Court's decision cannot be called in question in a Civil Court by a mere allegation of fraud in the pleading or evidence, when the Judge after giving full opportunities to the parties to produce their evidence, has decided rightly or wrongly in favour of one set of facts. To avoid a decision on the ground of fraud it must be shown that the plaintiff was prevented from putting his case before the Court or that some trickery or deceit was practised in connection with the proceedings. The mere fact that one of the parties did not admit something which he might in fairness have admitted in the former suit, when he was under no obligation to make the admission, would not bar the decision from being res judicata. (Kendall, A. J. C.) ASHARFI LAL v. DY. COMMISSIONER, GONDA. 10 O. & A. L. R. 553 : L. R. 5 O. 149 : 79 I. C. 660 : 11 O. L. J. 448 : 1 O. W. N. 8 : A. I. R 1924 Oudh 419.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Decision of Revenue Court in redemption proceedings bars civil suit for redemption later on.

Where during settlement proceedings mortgagor applied to the Revenue Court for redemption and the Settlement Officer dismissed the application on the ground that the term within which redemption was to be made had expired and that in consequence the mortgagor had no right left in him to redeem, held, that the Settlement Court acted with jurisdiction and a later redemption suit of the plaintiffs cannot be sustained, whether the mortgages were executed prior to the annexation of Oudh by the British Government in 1856 or were executed subsequently. 7 O. C. 259 Foll. No. 366 of 1894, 23 Oudh Cases, 269 Ref. (Dalal, J. C.) CHANDAN SINGH v. SHEO NARAIN SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 606 : L. R. 5 O. 92 : 80 I. C. 698 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 245.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Competent Court.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Decision by Court having no pecuniary jurisdiction—Not res judicata.

Where the Court which tried the former suit could not, by reason of its limited pecuniary jurisdiction, have tried the present suit the question of res judicata does not arise. 29 M. 65, Foll. (Simpson, A. J. C.) UDAIRAJ SINGH v. RAM UDIT TEWARI. 10 O. L. J. 376 : 77 I. C. 340 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 147.

——S. 11—*Competent Court—Revenue Court—*Res judicata—Kabzadari—Claim of — Sub-settlement —Rejection of claim for want of evidence—Subsequent claim of under-proprietary right —Maintainability of.

The plaintiff claimed rights of Kabzadari Darmiant at the sub-settlement but as he produced no evidence his claim was rejected. He subsequently claimed under-proprietary right. Held, that the plaintiff could have claimed under-proprietary right at the sub-settlement and he having omitted to do so a subsequent claim for such right was barred by res judicata. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J.M.) SPECIAL MANAGAR, COURT OF WARDS v. SHER BAHADUR SINGH. L. R. 5 O. 137.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Decision of Revenue Court —Correction of records—Subsequent suit for possession.

In proceedings for correction of records the Assistant Collector decided the question of correction on a report from the Naib-Tahsildar without reference to evidence on record. Held, that the judgment of the Assistant Collector did not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for possession. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) RAM PAL v. MT. SHUBRAJI KUNWAR. L. R. 5 O. 127 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 846.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Decree by Settlement Court—Right of redemption.

Where the Settlement Court through oversight decreed that the mortgagor had no right left in him with respect to a particular property the question of the existence of the right to redeem is final and suit for redemption by the mortgagor or his successors-in-title is barred. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) TILAK CHAND v. SHAMBHU SINGH. 23 O. C. 269 : 7 O. L. J. 524 : 60 I. C. 404 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 163.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Suit dismissed but one issue decided against defendant—Defendant appearing—Appellate Court wrongly holding appeal incompetent but deciding the issue in defendant's favour—Finding is res judicata.

An usufructuary mortgagee brought a suit against mortgagor for possession. He applied for an amendment to add alternate prayer for recovery of debt but his application was refused and his suit dismissed. Court held that consideration had passed. On appeal by defendant Court held that no consideration passed but the appeal was wrongly dismissed on the ground that defendant was successful in lower court and no appeal lay. Plaintiff brought a second suit for money decree for the debt. Held : that the first suit operated as res judicata. Raghunath Kurmi v. Deo Narain Rai (S. A. 1419 of 1916 Patna foll.) (Adami and Sen, JJ.) RAM AUTAR PANDEY v. SHANKAR DAYAL. 90 I. C. 622 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 338 : A. I. R. 1926 Patna. 87.

——S 11—Competent Court—Evidence that prior

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Compromise or Consent Decree.

Court had no jurisdiction—Admissibility—Latent and patent defect.

When there is no want of jurisdiction in the Court to try a suit, that is to say, when the want of jurisdiction is not apparent on the face of the proceedings, but the absence of jurisdiction depends on a fact in the knowledge of the party which he had an opportunity of bringing forward in the Court, then, if he does not bring that fact forward but allows the Court to proceed with the judgment he ought not to be permitted to impeach the jurisdiction of the Court in any collateral proceeding. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DWARKA PRASAD v. JAI BARHAM. 67 I. C. 686 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 322.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Probate proceedings.

In probate proceedings the question before the Court is one of representation of the estate and not of distribution and therefore an adjudication as to the latter is not binding on parties in subsequent liligation. (Pratt and Duckworth, JJ.) MAUNG TUN YIN v. MA SEIN YAN. 1 Bur. L. J. 59 : 68 I. C. 671 : 11 L. B. R. 331 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 9.

——S. 11—Competent Court—Arbitration Court —Objections to award dismissed—Suit to set aside award—If lies.

Where the objections to an award are dismissed it is not open to the objector to re-agitate the same questions by way of a regular suit to set aside the award. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) KHIMJI v. MT. NATHIBAI. 76 I. C. 953 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 42.

Compromise or Consent Decree.

——S. 11—Compromise decree—Partition—Suit for—Dismissal of suit—Subsequent suit for partition.

The plaintiffs, except one, subsequently born, had sued on 8—9—1919 for partition. The suit was compromised and both the parties filed a joint petition on 31—8—1920. It was to the effect :—" In the above case parties entered into a compromise at the remonstrance of a few respectable persons. The parties shall bear their own costs. The plaintiffs withdrew their claim. Hence the claim should be struck off." This petition of compromise was verified by all the parties. A decree was passed in accordance with this compromise. The order was " It is ordered and decreed that according to the compromise this case be struck off. The parties to bear their own costs." In a subsequent suit for partition by the plaintiffs, held, that the suit was barred by res judicata. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) RADHEY LAL v. MULCHAND. 46 A. 820 : 22 A. L. J. 749 : 80 I. C. 933 : L. R. 5 A. 541 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 905.

——S. 11 — Compromise decree—Rent decree terms of compromise not known—Decree is not res judicata as to rate of rent.

A rent-decree passed in a previous suit on the basis of a compromise in the absence of the terms of the compromise, does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit between the parties with regard to the rate of rent, but only amounts to proof of an admission in respect of the amount claimed. 16 Cal. 300 (F.B.) Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming. JJ.) OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v. SAGAR PAIK. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1011.

——S 11—Compromise decree.

A consent decree based on a compromise relating to matters outside suit does not operate as res judicata. (Rankin, J.) SHASHI BHUSAN SHAW v. HARI NARAIN SHAW. 48 Cal. 1059 : 66 I. C. 705 : 25 C. W. N. 990.

——S. 11— Compromise decree — Heard and decided—Admission of parties—No res judicata.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Compromise or consent decree.

Where the parties compromise a suit and there is no express adjudication on the question of relationship set up by them, the point cannot be said to be res judicata. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) NIHAL SINGH v. NARAIN SINGH.

6 Lah. L. J. 45 : 80 I. C. 525 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 469.

——— S. 11 — Compromise decree operates as res judicata.

A judgment by consent is intended to put a stop to litigation between the parties, just as much as is a judgment which results from the decision of the Court, after the matter has been fought out to the end, unless the compromise can be attacked in some effective manner. (1895) 1 Ch. 37, 35 M. 75 and 11 M. 191 Ref. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) CHENRAYA GOUNDAN v. ATHAPPA GOUNDAN.

18 L. W. 177 : (1923) M. W. N. 545 : 75 I. C. 336 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 88.

———S. 11—Compromise decree—Proceedings under Guardians and Wards Act are not binding.

Where under a compromise the petitioner (father) acquiesced in the retention of the custody of the minor by the respondent (mother).

Held, that the authority delegated by a natural guardian to any other person to retain the custody of the minor is revocable although the compromise has been embodied in a decree. 38 M. 808 Ref. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SATYANARAYANA VARAPRASADA RAO v. VENKATA LAKSHMI.

18 L. W. 173 : (1923) M. W. N. 668 : 73 I. C. 948 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 45.

Connected or Cross Appeals and Suits.

———S. 11—Connected appeals—Two appeals in same suit—Two decrees passed—Second appeal filed from only one—Appellant not prejudiced by the other—Second appeal is not barred.

Where there are two decrees arising out of two appeals to a subordinate appellate Court, and only one such decree is brought up in second appeal and there is nothing prejudicial to the appellant in the decree from which no appeal has been brought, which is not raised and cannot be set right if the appeal which he has brought succeeds, the right of appeal is not barred either by the rule of res judicata or at all by reason of his failure to appeal from the decree which does not prejudice him. The suit was for damages. The trial Court decreed the suit for 5 years. Both parties appealed and two decrees were passed. By the decree in the plaintiff's appeal the first appellate Court increased the number of years for which damages were awarded but reduced the rate of damages. The net result was that the decree of the Trial Court in plaintiff's favour was reduced in amount. In the defendant's appeal, the lower appellate Court disallowed the defendant's objection that the whole suit should be dismissed. The defendants filed a second appeal from the decree in this appeal alone. Held, that the second appeal was competent. (Sulaiman J.) RAM NARAIN v. NIHAL SINGH.

L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 222 : 87 I. C. 804 : A. I. R. 1925 All 488.

———S. 11—Cross suits.

Where there are two decrees arising out of two suits heard together or raising the same question between the same parties and arising out of two appeals to the lower appellate Court and only one of such decrees is brought before the High Court in appeal and there is nothing prejudicial to the appellant in the decree from which no appeal has been brought which is not raised and cannot be set right if the appeal which he has brought succeeds, the right of appeal is not barred either by res judicata or by reason of his failure to appeal from the decree which does not prejudice him. (Mears, C. J., Banerjee, Piggott, Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GHANSHAM v. BHOLA.

45 A. 506 : 21 A. L.J. 465 : 74 I. C. 411 : L. R. 4 A. 265 : A. I. R. 1923 All 490 (2) (F.B.).

———S. 11—Connected suits—Appeals in one only—Effect of—Other decrees not appealable against.

Where there were a number of cases between the same parties involving the same issue and an appeal was preferred only in one, the decision in the others having been allowed to become final. Held, that the hearing of the appeal was barred by res judicata. (Fremantel, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) GHAZI DIN SINGH v AGIL SINGH. L. R. 5 All. 124 (Rev.).

——— S. 11—Connected suits—Appeal against one—Bar by res judicata.

The doctrine of res judicata applies to all the stages of a suit till it is finally terminated and the doctrine is not confined to the Court of first instance. It applies equally to the procedure on a first as well as second appeal. The expression "former suit" means a previously decided suit and the same rule applies to appeals. It is not the priority in the commencement of one action that renders the judgment obtained therein a bar to the recovery of a second judgment in another, but because the first judgment, when given whether in the action commenced first or last, it extinguishes the original cause of action and gives to the plaintiff in lieu thereof one of the higher nature. Where there were two suits in the primary Court, decided by a common judgment and an appeal is preferred only in the first suit, while none is preferred from the decree in the second suit, the decree made in the latter becomes final and operates as res judicata. Cases on the point reviewed. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) ISUP ALI v. GOUR CHANDRA DEB. 37 C. L. J. 184 : 74 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 496.

——— S. 11—Cross suits—Two suits for damages—Common issue—Joint trial—Separate judgments—Res judicata.

Two suits for damages, by two persons, one against the other, were tried together, on the same issue of fact. One suit was dismissed and other decreed, in two separate judgments. There was an appeal against the judgment decreeing the suit but not against the one dismissing the suit. Held, the latter was res judicata in the other suit. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) GANGADHAR v. SAKALI TELNI. 34 C. L. J. 281 : 64 I. C. 574 : 27 C. W. N. 141.

———S. 11—Cross suits—Suit by principal against agent relating to certain transactions decided—Cross suit by agent in respect of the same matter is barred.

A decision in a prior suit by principals against agents wherein the amounts due by one party to the other were settled in respect of certain transactions bars a subsequent suit by agents against the principals in respect of the same transactions. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Addison, J.) FIRM SAGHRUMAL HARCHARAN DAS v. FIRM DHANPAT RAI. 7 Lah. L J. 420 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 596 (2).

———S. 11—Connected suits—Decree—Appeal in one case.

Plaintiff instituted two suits against respondents one for a share of his deceased brother's property and the other for a share in the charity fund set apart at the time of partition between brothers which was not disposed of. Both the suits were dismissed on the ground of estoppel by virtue of a deed of relinquishment executed by the plaintiff in favour of his brothers

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Connected or cross Appeals and suits.

Plaintiff appealed only in the case in which he claimed a share in the property left by his deceased brother. It was objected that as he did not appeal from the case in which he claimed a share in the charity fund, the question of estoppel was res judicata. Held, this objection is untenable, as the decision in the other case that the plaintiff was estopped by the deed of release from claiming a share in the charity fund does not affect the question whether he is estopped from claiming a share in the estate of one of his brothers, who died subsequently to the execution of that deed. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) SETH YUSAF ALI MOMOONJI v. SETH ALI BHOY. A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 8.

——S. 11 and O. 41, R. 1—Connected appeals—Decrees—Filing of one only with memorandum

Plaintiffs sued a widow and vendees from her, for possession of their share in two houses by partition. From the judgment of the first Court decreeing plaintiff's claim two appeals were filed in the Court of the District Judge (1) appeal by the vendees who made the plaintiffs and widow respondents, and (2) appeal by widow in which she made the plaintiffs sole respondents. The District Judge disposed of both appeals by one judgment but two separate decrees were drawn up, one in each appeal. The plaintiffs whose claim was dismissed appealed to the High Court but filed copies of the judgment and decree in appeal by widow and no copy of the decree in appeal by vendees was filed. Held, the appeal was not properly filed within the provisions of O. 41, R. 1, the memorandum of appeal not having been accompanied by a copy of the decree in favour of the vendees. If the High Court were to hear the present appeal and set aside the decree, there would still be subsisting the decree in favour of vendees which would operate as res judicata and the plaintiffs' suit would still stand dismissed as against them. (Scott-Smith and Harrison, JJ.) MUHAMMAD DIN v. MT. ZEB-UN-NISA.

3 L. 215 : A. I. R 1922 Lah. 390.

——S. 11—Connected and cross suits.

Where two cross suits involve directly and substantially same question and were tried together an appeal against one decree only while the other decree was not the appeal is incompetent as the decree from which no appeal is made operates as res judicata. 35 All. 187 Foll. (Leslie Jones and Wilberforce, JJ.) MAHOMED JAN v. DULI CHAND. 74 I. C 583 : 3 L. L. J. 473.

——S. 11—Connected suits—Two suits involving same matter—One decided finally bars appeal from the decree in the other.

Section 11 of the C. P. C, or, at any rate the principle on which that section is based, will prevent an appellate Court from trying a case involving a matter decided finally by a suit heard along with the suit from which the appeal is pending. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) PANCHAM SINGH v. THAKUR SINGH.

A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 598.

——S. 11—Connected suits—Appeals from even identical decrees are necessary, otherwise appeal from one is barred.

Two pre-emption suits were filed by L and A with regard to the same property and in connection with the same transfer; they were jointly tried, issue being the same, and identical decrees were passed in both Both were parties to both the suits. The decrees were to the effect that L. was to pre-empt and deposit a certain amount and on his failure A was allowed to pre-empt. L appealed from the decree in his own suit but not from the decree in the suit in which he was defendant.

Held, that the decree in A's suit which had become final barred the appeal. 20 O. C. 290 Dist. (Dalal, J. C.) LUCHHIM KUAR v. UMRAO SINGH.

11 O. L. J. 22 : 81 I. C. 333 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 311.

——S. 11—Connected suits—Common judgment but two decrees—Appeal against one only—If barred.

If two suits involving common issues are tried together and disposed of by one judgment, and an appeal is preferred against the decree in one only the other decree having become final operates as res judicata and the appeal is barred. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) DHANI SINGH v. SRI CHANDRACHOOR DEO.

A. I. R 1924 Pat. 823.

——S. 11—Connected appeals.

Two cross suits were tried together with common issues but two separate decrees were drawn up and also two judgments were written one relying on the other. Appeal from one decree was dismissed.

Held, that the appeal from the other decree cannot be heard, the subject-matter of the latter appeal being already decided in the prior appeal. 33 All. 15 (F.B.) Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Brown, J.) ANWAR ALLI SOWDAGAR v. AMEER ALLI SOWDAGAR.

2 Rang. 633 : 84 I. C. 894 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 104.

Co-plaintiffs.

——S. 11—Co-plaintiffs; Res judicata between—Same principles as for res judicata between co-defendants apply.

The same principles of res judicata as between co-defendants apply to res judicata between co-plaintiffs, and therefore if a finding as between co-plaintiffs is necessary before the Court can give any relief against the defendants that finding would be res judicata, as between co-plaintiffs. But where a question was not raised in the pleadings, but was only used as an argument, on one of the branches of the case as to limitation, and was not essential to give plaintiffs any relief. Held, that it would not be res judicata. The main tests to be applied are whether there was active controversy between the plaintiffs and whether that adjudication was necessary to enable the Court to grant any relief against the defendants. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) SHYAMA BHAI v. PURUSHOTHAMDOSS. 21 L. W. 551 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 645.

——S. 11—Co-plaintiffs—Decision when res judicata.

In the absence of a conflict of interest between persons ranged as co-plaintiffs in a suit the suit have made in the alternative, the claim which he made in the present suit and that by reason of decision in the suit would not bind their successors as res judicata. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) MAHARAJA PRATAB UDAI NATH SAHI DEO v. GANESH NARAIN SAHI. 70 I. C. 232 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 369.

Directly or substantially in issue.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Mere decree for share of profits does not conclude right to partition.

Where a prior suit for share of profits was decreed and no question of rights to partition was raised or decided.

Held, in a subsequent suit that the question of partition was not res judicata, but the Court added a declaration to the decree by which decree-holder could execute the decree without resorting to a suit for share of yearly profits. (Lord Blanesburgh.) MIR SUBHAN ALI v. IMAM BEGUM. 52 I.A. 294 : 23 A. L. J. 667 : 88 I. C. 347 : 21 N. L. R. 117 : (1925) M. W. N. 535 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 184 (P.C.).

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Rent suit—Tenant asserting landlordship of another and payment of rent to him—Latter can be impleaded as party—But question of title decided between him and plaintiff is not res judicata between them.

In a suit filed by a person against another who denies that the relation of landlord and tenant existed between him and the plaintiff, it is open to the Court to implead the person to whom the payment of rent is alleged to have been made by the defendant. But if any question of title is decided between the plaintiff and a third party so added, that decision does not operate as conclusive, and a suit by the defeated party to establish his title can lie in the Civil Court. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SALAMAT ALI v. GUJ KUNWAR CHAND. 85 I. C. 302 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 574.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Previous proceeding confined to question of possession—Question of title is not barred.

In a case where the previous proceeding was confined by statute to the question of possession a subsequent proceeding in which the question of title is raised is not barred by res judicata. (Stuart, J.) LALMAN v. FAZAL. L. R. 5 A. 132 (Rev.) : 78 I. C. 115 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 200.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Subject matter different—No bar

Where the subject-matter of the two suits is different and the second suit relates to a different grove land from that involved in the prior suit, there is no bar of res judicata. (Neave, J.) BHANU PRATAP SINGH v. BHAGWAN SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 406 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 922.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Incidental observation not binding.

Observations not arising out of the issues which were before the Court for decision are not binding as res judicata. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) BEHARI LAL v. SHIV NARAIN. 22 A.L J. 866 : L. R. 5 A. (C.v.) 697 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 884.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision on validity of sale deed.

Where the question whether a particular sale deed was a valid document arose directly and substantially in the previous suit and the prior suit could not be determined without a decision of the issue, the decision operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit even though the property involved in the subsequent suit is different from the one which was the subject of the prior suit. 13 B. 25 ; 7 I. C. 388 Ref. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) KEDAR NATH SINGH v. SHEO SHANKER. 45 A. 515 : 21 A. L. J. 421 : L. R. 4 A. 512 : 76 I. C. 370 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 613 (2).

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Declaratory suit—Suit dismissed on merits—Plaintiff out of possession.

A plaintiff out of possession sued for declaration that he be declared an occupancy tenant ; his suit was dismissed on the ground that he did not substantiate his position as occupancy tenant. He filed another suit for possession against the defendants. Held, that his suit was barred by res judicata ; and that he could not be allowed to contend in the second suit that the Courts should not have gone into the merits in the former suit as in that suit he would have failed only on the ground that he sued for mere declaration, when he ought to have sued for possession as well. (Rafique, J.) KASHI RAI v. MT. KALI KUERI. A. I. R. 1923 All. 554.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Obiter dictum not necessary for the decision of the case.

Where in a prior suit the Court had merely to decide the factum of a person's death at the date of suit having regard to the presumption under S. 108 of the Evidence Act, but it went further and expressed an opinion that the person was dead at a particular date relying erroneously on the supposed presumption to that effect found in S. 108, Evidence Act, the decision as to the date of death is not passed on an issue directly and substantially in question and does not constitute res judicata. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) REKHAB DAS v. MT. SHEOBAI. 45 A. 466 : 21 A. L. J. 393: L. R. 4 A. 532 : 74 I. C. 656 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 495.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Suit by son to avoid execution sale of joint family property—Prior suit—Dismissal of—Effect of.

A suit by a Hindu son to avoid a sale in execution of a decree against his father on the ground that the debt was tainted with immorality is barred by a similar previous suit on the ground that the property was joint family property. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) BADRI PRASAD v. MOHAN SINGH. 4 U.P. L. R. (A.) 15 : 65 I. C. 511 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 231.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision depending on one issue—Other issues not res judicata.

Plaintiffs sued defendants for an injunction restraining them from building on the disputed land alleging it to be the common property of the parties. The plea of the defendants was that the land was exclusively their own. A subsequent suit was instituted by defendants, against plaintiff in which defendants, inter alia claimed an injunction against plaintiffs restraining them from allowing water to flow on the disputed land to which the plaintiffs answered that they were joint owners of the land with plaintiffs and that they had a right of easement. The plaintiffs' suit was dismissed on the finding that the defendants were sole owners of the land in dispute. In the suit filed by defendants the Court found in favour of the easement alleged by the plaintiffs, and dismissed that suit. Plaintiffs appealed against the decree dismissing their suit and there was no appeal from the decree in the other suit. Held, that the consideration of the issue as to ownership of the land was not barred by res judicata since that question ceased to be substantially in issue in the second suit by reason of the finding on the question of the easement right. 33 A. 51 Dist. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) PEARY LAL v. JADO RAI. 20 A. L. J. 784 : 76 I. C. 618 : L. R. 3 A. 450 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 15.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Suit for possession—Previous suit for declaration.

The dismissal of a suit of the reversioner for a declaration that he was the next reversioner during the lifetime of the widow on the occasion of transfer by her by way of gift is no bar to a subsequent suit for possession of the property. (Gokul Prasad, J.) RAMJAS v. MR. SARTAJI. 20 A. L. J. 672 : 70 I. C. 635 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 401.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Suit for profits—Civil Court's decree.

A person purchased a share in a village. After the sale the vendor sued his co-sharer for profits and got a decree. The latter had already paid the purchaser profits and sued him for refund of the same, with costs. The dispute was referred to arbitration and by an award the suit was decreed. The purchaser then to recover his profits sued the co-sharer lambardar who resisted the suit on the ground of res judicata and estoppel. The first Court decreed the suit, holding that the question of profits could not be in issue in the civil suit and so S. 11, C. P. Code, could not bar the suit :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

Held, the co-sharer lambardar was not entitled to defeat the suit in limine by producing in evidence the decree of a Civil Court, several matters involved in the suit not being in issue in the previous one. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. GHANSHAM DAS. A. I. R. 1922 All. 397.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Nature of suits same—Dates different—Second suit barred.

A subsequent suit is barred under S. 11 where the subsequent suit is exactly of the same nature as the previous suit with the difference that the date from which the accounts are asked for in the later suit is a few years later than in the previous suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) SIDAGAVADA v. RAM CHANDRA BABAJI. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 118.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Issue decided by trial Court—Appeal—Appellate Court deciding on other grounds and declining to decide that issue—That issue is not res judicata.

When the judgment of a Court of first instance upon a particular issue is appealed against that judgment ceases to be res judicata and becomes res subjudice, and if the appellate Court declines to decide that issue and disposes of the case on other grounds, the judgment of the first Court upon that issue is no more a bar to a future suit than it would be if that judgment had been reversed by the Court of appeal 6 Bom. 110, Appl. (Cuming, J.) KARUNA CHARAN DAS v. KRISHNA SUNDAR MAJUMDAR. 90 I. C. 480 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 179.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Issue decided between same parties—Case decided on different issues—First issue is not res judicata (obiter).

In a previous suit in ejectment which was inter partes the Munsif who tried the suit held that the defendants had no right of occupancy but he dismissed the suit on the ground of its being instituted before the expiry of the agricultural year in which the defendants' predecessor died. On appeal that decree of dismissal was affirmed on the second ground. Held, that the decision of the first Court on the first issue would not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for ejectment. 24 Cal. 616 (P. C.) Rel. on. (Newbould and Graham, JJ.) ISWAR SANT v. TORANDRA NATH KUILA. 42 C. L. J. 560 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 163.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Findings necessary and essential to judgment are res judicata,

In the fist suit the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title and recovery of possession of two plots. His title was declared to these plots, but it was held that he could not recover possession in that suit from a co-sharer, but that his remedy lay in a suit for partition. In the second suit he was suing for partition of these plots and some others having been deprived of possession by the defendants. Held, that as in order to decide the first suit it was necessary to decide his title to the share in the whole property the question of the plaintiff's title to these plots also must be held to be res judicata as between the parties. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) RAJENDRA NATH v. BHABINI DASI. 87 I. C. 811 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 80.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Rent suit—Title in issue—Decision as to title is res judicata.

Where in a rent-suit the title of a person is in issue for the purpose of determining his share in the rent, the decision on the issue operates as res judicata. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) GOPAL CHANDRA DUTT v. SURENDRA NATH DUTT. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1004

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Suit by some shebaits of deity against others for better management of debutter properties—One defendant denying debutter nature of properties—Question is not res judicata among co-defendants—Frame of suit bad—Duty of Court.

A suit was instituted by some of the co-shebaits of a deity against the other co-shebaits for the better management of the debutter properties. One of the defendants in the suit denied the debutter character of the properties.

Held, that the question of debutter was not res judicata as between the co-defendants as it was not necessary to decide that question between them in order to give relief to the plaintiff in the suit.

Where a suit is properly framed, and the Court decides several issues, the decision on each issue is binding upon the parties. But where the Court holds that the suit as framed is not maintainable, the suit should be dismissed on that ground alone, and the Court cannot try the other issues so long as the suit is not properly framed. The decision of the Court on the other issues in such a case will not be res judicata. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) GOPAL JEW THAKUR v. RADHA BINODE. 41 C. L. J. 396 : 88 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 996.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Decision on incidental question is not res judicata,

Some of the co-shebaits of a deity filed a suit against other shebaits for a scheme for the better management of the debutter properties of the deity. One of the defendants denied the debutter character of the properties. Held, that the decision of the question of debutter was only incidental to the suit and did not amount to res judicata. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) GOPAL JEW THAKUR v. RADHA BINODE MONDAL. 41 C. L. J. 396 : 88 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 996;

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Previous suit for enforcement of easement—Question at issue whether plaintiff was tenant of one of the defendants—Subsequent suit by that defendant for ejectment or rent not barred.

In a previous suit by T against C, B, and others for the enforcement of an easement, the question directly and substantially in issue was whether T was a tenant under B. B subsequently sued for ejectment of T, or, in the alternative, for rent.

Held, that the questions for investigation in the latter suit were essentially distinct in character and if at all they arose in the previous suit they arose not distinctly and substantially but incidentally and collaterally. 30 C. L. J. 13 and 31 C. L. J. 507 Foll. (Mukerji, J.) TARITBARANI DASI v. BASUMATI DEVI. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 985.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision on any issue, to be res judicata need not be basis of decree—Issue arising directly and substantially and being finally heard and determined is enough.

In order that a decision in a previous suit on an issue should operate as res judicata it is not necessary that the decision of the issue should have been the basis of the decree. It is enough that the issue had been finally heard and determined and that it arose directly and substantially (and not incidentally or collaterally), for determination, i.e., that it was necessary for the determination of the suit though it may not have been ultimately made the basis of the decree. If the determination of the issue is inconsistent with the decree, it cannot be said that it was necessary for the determination of the suit, and such a finding will be treated as unnecessary and will not operate as res judicata. It matters not that the defendant is described as pro forma defendant if there was a real contest, and if the contest was opened by the defendant and not the plaintiff. Case-law discussed. (Mukerjee, J.) TARITBRANI DASI v. BASUMATI DEVI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 985.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—When defendants have been defeated in a previous suit as regards their contention that they are tenants in severalty the question is res judicata in a subsequent suit.

Where in a suit for rent the defence was that there was a division of the tenancy with the consent and knowledge of the landlord and that the defendants were not jointly but severally liable for the rent, the plaintiffs obtained two ex parte rent decrees jointly against all the defendants in respect of the entire rent. Held, that the defendants were debarred from setting up tenancy in severalty. Per Suhrawardy, J.—No hard and fast rules obtain as to what questions should be recorded as questions that ought to have been raised in the previous suit. But there are several tests which have been applied from time to time when such questions have had to be decided. One of the tests is whether by raising the questions the previous decree could have been in any way varied or affected or have been defeated. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) SHIB CHANDRA TALUKDAR v. LAKHI PRIYA GUHA. 29 C. W. N. 253 : 40 C. L. J. 507 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 427.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision that will was "wholly valid" does not bar question as to validity of its provisions regarding succession to the shebaitship, when the only question in the previous case was about the extent of bequest that operated under the will.

The will purporting to create a religious endowment and to appoint shebaits ran as follows :—"When you all have ceased to be, he who shall be of the Hindu persuasion and senior in age amongst your legal heirs shall have the management conferred upon him." The questions raised in a previous suit anent the will were that the dedication was illegal and invalid and that at the most it created a religious charge on the secular properties of the testator and in a later suit it was held that in that suit (the previous one) it had been decided that the will was wholly valid and passed the entire estate to the idol. Held, that the suit for declaration of plaintiff's right and that of his brother to the shebaitship of the idol on the ground that on the death of all the persons living at the time of the death of the testator the office of the management of the endowed property reverted to the heirs of the testator was not barred by res judicata because the question had not been before the Court in the previous suits and the decision therein had only been that the will had been valid to the whole extent of the bequest and did not refer to the question raised in the present suit. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) PROMOTH NATH MUKERJEE v. ANUKUL CHANDRA BANERJI. 40 C. L. J. 564 : 29 C. W N. 17 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 225.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Incidental findings—Findings essential for judgment are also res judicata.

Estoppel is not confined to the judgment but extends to all facts involved in it as necessary steps or ground work, in other words, a judgment operates by way of estoppel as regards all the findings which are essential to sustain the judgment though not as regards findings which did not form the basis of the decision or were in conflict therewith. The rule against reagitating matter adjudicated is subject generally to this restriction—that however essential the establishment of particular facts may be to the soundness of a judicial decision, however, it may proceed on them as established, and however binding and conclusive the decision may, as to its immediate and direct object, be, those facts are not all necessarily established conclusively between the parties and that either may again litigate them for any other purpose as to which they may come in question provided the immediate subject of the decision be not attempted to be withdrawn from its operation, so as to defeat its direct object. If both parties invoked the opinion of the Court upon the question, if it was raised by the pleadings and argued, the conclusion cannot be supported that the judgment upon it was ultra vires merely because an issue was not framed which, strictly construed, embraced the whole of it. Where a defendant is entitled to set up in the same answer as many defences as he has if a judgment is entered in his favour which contains no provision that it shall be without prejudice or any like limitation or restriction the estoppel raised by it will extend to every matter or fact in issue actually found by the Court in favour of the defendant. (17 All. 174, Diss.) (Mookerjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) DWIJENDRA NARAIN ROY v. JOGESH CHANDRA. 39 C. L. J. 40 : 79 I. C. 520 : A I. R. 1924 Cal. 600.

——— S. 11—Directly in issue—Landlord if a party cannot dispute title of a tenant decided between his tenants.

It is plainly not open to the landlord, who was a party to the previous suit, to take up a position inconsistent with the decision in the previous litigation which was pronounced in his presence, e. g., that the tract then in dispute was covered by the lease of one of his two tenants and not that of the other. Where the lessee landlord could not have succeeded in the previous suit except on the footing that the tract was included in his lease and not in that of his rival it is not open to the plaintiff to have the rent and premium assessed on any portion of those lands on the basis that they are not covered by and subject to the operation of the grant in his favour. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BHUPENDRA KUMAR v. SURAJ KANHA RAI. 38 C. L. J. 291 : 76 I. C. 917 : A. I R. 1924 Cal. 128.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—First suit for title—Second for fixing boundaries.

A prior suit determining a question of title regarding a certain land does not bar a subsequent suit between the same parties involving a question as to its boundaries. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) ANANTRAM BHATTACHARJEE v. HEMCHANDRA KAR.

50 Cal. 475 : 72 I. C. 1041 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 379.

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision as to rate of rent in one year—Effect of.

If in a case under S. 105, B. T. Act, the only point decided was the amount of additional rent to be allowed for the excess area, it does not constitute res judicata as to the rate of rent. A rent decree in a prior suit may not be res judicata in the sense that it finally decided the rate of rent between the parties, but it is res judicata that for the years for which that suit was brought the rent was the amount then found. (Newbould, J.) BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v. SHEIKH SOMAR ALI. 68 I. C. 298 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 282 (2).

——— S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Adjudication.

Where both parties in a dispute about land set forward certain measurements and they came to an arrangement by which the length of the rod was taken as of more than the Naikarsha rod and the plaintiffs got more than they were entitled. Held, as the question of the length of rod was not a point in issue and there was no adjudication thereon the principle underlying S. 11, C. P. C., does not apply. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SURADHANI DUTTA v. SITTO SHEIK. 27 C. W. N. 280 : 71 I. C. 378 : 38 C. L. J. 17 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 311.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue.

Where a pro-note was executed on account of interest due on the mortgage in question and the suit on the pro-note could not have been decreed unless the mortgage was found to be a valid mortgage,and in order to determine the validity of the consideration for the pro-note it was necessary for the Court in the previous suit to determine the validity of the mortgage. Held, that the question of the validity of the mortgage was directly and substantially in issue in the previous case, and the finding that no undue influence had been established and that the consideration was proved operates as res judicata in the later suit. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) NANAK CHAND v MIR MAHOMED KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 702.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue.

The real point at issue in a previous suit was whether the mortgage was for necessity or not. It was found as a fact that the mortgage was for necessity and therefore, there was no necessity to arrive at any decision upon the question whether M was the lawfully adopted son of A. Held, it is doubtful whether it can be said that the question of adoption was directly and substantially in issue in that suit within the meaning of S. 11, C. P. Code. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) MEHAN SINGH v. KEHAR SINGH.

6 Lah. L. J. 39 : 75 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 523.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Unnecessary finding.

A finding not necessary to the determination of the suit is not one against which a party could have appealed and thus the question is not a matter directly and substantially in issue which was heard and finally decided. (Campbell, J.) SOHAN SINGH v. JAWALA SINGH. 73 I. C. 854 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 248.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Pro-note—Set off.

Where a pro-note was the subject-matter of the former suit and no set off was formally claimed in the previous suit and the defendants' liability for the sums now in suit could only have been asserted and tried if there had been a formal set-off, held, since the pleas in the first suit were not explicitly recorded, it cannot be said with certainty that liability for the particular sums now in dispute was directly in issue in the other suit. (Campbell, J.) BAIJ NATH v. THE FIRM RADHA RAM SHAM LAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 146.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Unnecessary finding—Not res judicata.

Where the decree could be sustained independently of the findings on a particular point and there is no decision against a party in a former litigation, the finding cannot become res judicata. (Leslie Jones and Wilberforce, JJ.) AHMAD DIN v. MOHAMMAD TUFFAEL. 4 Lah. L. J. 376.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Incidents of res judicata.

In order that an adjudication be res judicata between plffs. and defts. or the latter inter se, there must be a conflict of interest between the defts. and a judgment defining their rights inter se ; without necessity a judgment will not be res judicata nor will it be res judicata by mere inference from the fact that they have been collectively defeated in resisting a claim to a share made against them as a group. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) MEHARA v. DEVI DITTA MAL. 2 Lah. 88 : 62 I. C. 665 · 3 Lah. L. J. 223.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Previous judgment contesting the right of granthi—Findings regarding the nature of the property.

Where in a suit contesting the right of the then granthi of the Darbar Sahib (golden temple at Amritsar) to alienate a certain shop, it was held that the properties were waqf and attached to the granthi and could not be alienated by the granthi ; the judgment only proves that at the time also the right of the granthi to alienate certain property was called in question. The finding of the Court that the property was waqf and was attached to the granthi is not relevant in a subsequent suit by the successor to the office challenging the alienation by his predecessor-in-title. (Scott-Smith and A. Raoof, JJ.) INDAR SINGH v. FATEH SINGH. 59 I. C. 734 : 1 Lah. 540.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Madras Hereditary Village Offices Act (III of 1805), S. 21—Suit for recovery of inam lands—Trial Court holding that Civil Court had no jurisdiction—District Court remanding, holding that lands were service inam lands and Civil Court had jurisdiction—District Court's decision concerns only the issue respecting jurisdiction and not the nature of lands.

The plaintiffs sued for certain inam lands. When the case was first tried, the first District Munsif held that he had no jurisdiction to try the suit, as the matter fell within the purview of S. 21 of Madras Act (III of 1895). This was on the first issue "whether the lands in dispute are service inams, and whether this Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit with respect to the same." The District Judge considered both these points and found that the lands in question were service inams, and as the plaintiffs did not rely on any right to an office or its emoluments, the Civil Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit, and remanded the suit to the District Munsif for disposal. The Munsif came to the conclusion that the alienation in favour of the plaintiffs was void and not enforceable. On appeal the Subordinate Judge held, disagreeing with the District Judge remanding the suit, that they were village service inams. It was contended that the Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to review the finding of the District Judge in his order of remand as to the character of those inams. Held, that the plaintiffs had the opportunity to appeal against such of the finding of the District Judge, as determined the character of the inams, and that not having done so, they would be concluded by that finding, it being a finding on a preliminary point but, what the District Judge really inrended to do and the important part of his remand order was only the finding as to the jurisdiction. (Odgers, J.) SUBBAIYYA v. S. RAMAYYA.

22 L. W. 225 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1046.

——S. 11—Directly—in issue Right to sell in dispute in subsequent suit—Right to mortgage in dispute in prior suit—Principle of S. 11 does not apply

Before the principle of res judicata can be applied it must be shown that the matter for decision had been directly and substantially in issue in a previous suit between the same parties. Where in the latter case the question in issue is the right to sell and in the previous case it was the right to mortgage. Held, that different considerations apply in the two cases and that the principle does not apply. 15 O. C 91 Ref. (Neave A.J. C.) GANESH v. RAJA SURAJ BUX SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

2 O. W. N. 944 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 139.

——S. 11— Directly in issue—Admission of plaintiff's claim by one defendant and contest by another —Effect.

In the previous suit by the plaintiff under O. 21, R. 63 of the Code of Civil Procedure, P was added as defendant and after setting out the sale by the latter to the plaintiff, the plaintiff asked for a declaration that the properties belonged to plaintiff and were not liable for the decree in execution of which they were attached. Held, that it cannot be said that the question was not in issue between the plaintiff and B merely by reason of the fact that B admitted plaintiff's claim, which was disputed successfully by the attaching creditor, and that the decision of the question against the plaintiff in the previous suit was res judicata. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) CHINNAKOZHANDAI NAINAR v. ANANTA VIJAYA NAINAR.
20 L. W. 979 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 319.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Decision on immaterial issues—Not res judicata.

In a suit by reversioner for a declaration that certain alienations made by the widow of a deceased Hindu were not binding on the reversioners the defence was that the suit was barred by limitation and that the properties in question were not part of the estate of the last male owner. The trial Court raised issues on both the points but dismissed the suit expressly on the ground of limitation. With a view to avoid the necessity for a remand in case the appellate Court took a different view of the question of limitation the trial Court gave a finding on the issue as to title against the plaintiffs. Held, that the finding on the question of title to the property was an obiter dictum and not res judicata. 4 M. 134 followed. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) BATHULA PITCHI REDDI v. BHARATA SASTRI. 47 M. L. J. 532 : 20 L. W. 526 : 82 I. C 485 : (1924) M. W. N. 859 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 893 (2).

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Incidental finding.

An incidental finding in one proceeding will be res judicata in another only where the issue in the second proceeding should have been raised and decided clearly in the first. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ) VATTELI KANDAR v. VATTOLI PUTHURAN.
41 M. L. J. 437 : 14 L. W. 702 : 69 I. C. 570 : (1921) M. W. N. 754.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Finding not the basis of the decree.

In the previous suit, the plaintiff sued the defendants in ejectment as trespassers and the latter pleaded that neither the plaintiffs nor the predecessor-in-title were owners of the property and the defendants were usufructuary mortgagees from some third persons, the real owners. Both the lower Courts found against the defendant but plaintiff's suit was dismissed on the ground that the mortgage was by plaintiff's predecessor. In the present suit for redemption the defendant pleaded that the finding in the prior suit that they were mortgagees from the plaintiff's predecessor was not res judicata. Held, that the finding was res judicata though it was not the basis of the decree. 18 Cal. 647, not approved. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) MUTHU PILLAI v. VEDA VYSACHARIAR. 60 I. C. 397 : 12 L. W. 277.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

——S. 11—Directly in issue.

The mere fact that two persons were ranged on opposite sides in a prior suit will not constitute the decision thereon res judicata, if there was no contest, no issue and no finding between the parties. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) DOMA v. GOVIND.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 124.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Unnecessary finding.

Where the decision as to ownership was not the basis or any part of the basis of the decree and the final decision of the whole case, that is the decree, would have been exactly the same if the decision on the point had been exactly the contrary the matter was not "directly and substantially in issue" in the former proceedings and therefore the question of ownership of the property does not operate as res judicata in these proceedings. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) GOVINDA v. LAXMAN.
A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 139 (1).

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Question decided in effect though not in express terms —Rule of res judicata applies.

The rule of res judicata extends to a question which must be taken to have been decided in effect, though not in express terms. 12 Beng. L. R. 304 ; Gregory v. Molesworth (3 Atkyns, 626) Rel on. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A.J.Cs.) BAIJ NATH SINGH v. RAJJU SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 571 : 2 O. W. N. 872 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh. 101.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—More than one issue decided in the first case—Decision on the real ground of decision is res judicata.

The finding which is the real ground of decision in the case operates as res judicata even though there may have been other issues on which the case might equally well have been decided. 5 O. L. J. 647 and 1924 P. C. 144 Foll. (Daniels, J. C.) MAHANT RAM DAS v. BHAGWAN KUNWAR. 12 O. L. J. 248 : 2 O W. N. 292 : A.I. R. 1925 Oudh 390.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Unnecessary finding is not res judicata.

The main question in the previous suit was whether the plaintiff was a co-parcener with a certain person. The Court decided two points (1) that the pedigree set up by the plaintiff was not proved, and (2) that the plaintiff was not a co-parcener with the person in question.

Held, that as the question as to the exact relationship of the plaintiff with the person in question was not essential to the decision of the previous suit, the finding was not res judicata in a subsequent suit on that question. (Dalal, J. C.) RAM BALI v RAM ASRE. 12 O. L. J. 105 : 86 I. C. 686 : A I. R. 1925 Oudh 386.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Finding not necessary for decision.

It is well established that no finding can operate as res judicata which is not necessary to the relief granted by the decree. (Daniels, A. J. C.) OUDH BEHARI LAL v. DAL SINGH. 10 O L. J. 404 : 79 I. C. 666 : A I. R. 1924 Oudh 205.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue.

Where in the previous suit the only question directly and substantially in issue was the validity of the mortgage, and the question of the amount which the mortgagor or his son may be called upon to pay in the event of a suit for sale being brought by the mortgagees on the basis of the mortgage deed, could not and was not directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit. Held, any decision as to the exact amount of mortgage payable in either of the two events would have been premature and hence the question of the rate of interest being excessive could not be res judicata. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) BASANT RAI v. KESHO RAM. 9 O. L. J. 612 : 74 I. C. 346 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 139.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Directly and Substantially in Issue.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Question indirectly involved.

Where a judgment or order can have no effect on subsequent litigation apart from the reasons given for it, such judgment or order cannot be said even indirectly to involve a question respecting the subject-matter of the litigation. Where the decision as to a claim under which defendant claimed one-half of property is res judicata against plaintiff who could not have calculated its value in fixing the value of appeal the defendant who has no claim to that half of the property cannot include it in fixing the value of subject-matter of appeal along with his own one-half share of the property. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BHAGWATI PRASAD v. ACHHAIBAR SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 531 : 26 O. C. 24 : 74 I. C. 214 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 93.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Unnecessary issue—Withdrawal of suit.

Plff. sued for resumption of a muafi and withdrew the suit without leave to sue afresh. The Court had raised an issue as to whether the land was liable to resumption or whether it was liable to assessment for rent. In a subsequent suit for assessment of rent by plaintiff, held, that in the prior suit it was unnecessary to raise an issue on the liability to assessment and consequently the prior decision did not operate as res judicata. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn. J. M.) THE SPECIAL MANAGER, COURT OF WARDS v. BADRI PRASAD. L. R. 5 O. 101.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Claim of occupancy negatived in respect of certain area—Subsequent suit in respect of another area under the same grant.

Where a claim of occupancy rights based on an old grant was decreed at settlement in respect of certain area, the decision bars a subsequent claim that another area was also held under the same grant (Burn, J. M.) MAHANT KUNJ BEHARI DAS v. BIRWA MEHNAM. L. R. 5 O. 31.

——S. 11—Directly in issue—Consideration for mortgage.

Where a person as against whom a suit is dismissed, appeal against a finding that a certain mortgage deed is genuine, but the appeal is dismissed on the ground it is incompetent, but a finding is recorded that there was no consideration for the mortgage, the finding will be res judicata in a subsequent suit between the parties. (Adami and Sen, JJ.) RAM AUTAR PANDE v. SHANKAR DAYAL. 90 I. C. 622 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 338.

——S. 11 and O. 9, R. 13—Directly and substantially in issue—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Non-service of summons—Finding as to service—Subsequent suit to set aside.

When an application was put in to set aside an ex parte decree on the ground that summons was not served, but it was dismissed on the ground of service of summons, a subsequent suit to set aside the decree on the same ground will be barred. But if some other ground of fraud apart from it is alleged, it is maintainable. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHANTH RAMRUP GOSHAIN v. MAHABIR SHAH. 2 Pat. 833 : 74 I. C. 825 5 Pat L. T. 66 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 238.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Suit for rent—Effect.

The decision in a suit for rent for a particular period is an absolute bar under the doctrine of res judicata to any suit for the rents of those years. But so far as the rents or rates of rent of subsequent years are concerned, that judgment cannot be held to be an absolute bar, so as to prevent the parties from raising the question in a subsequent suit. The prior decision may be taken to determine the rent claimed in that suit, and to give rise under S. 51 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to the presumption that the rents for subsequent years remained the same. 3 P. L. J. 372 Distinguished. 6 C. W. N. 569 Followed. (Ross, J.) MANNOO LAL CHOUDHURY v. LALJI CHAUBE. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 213.

——S. 11—Directly and substantially in issue—Application to set aside ex parte decree—Non-service of summons—Separate suit—If lies.

Where a party seeks to set aside an ex parte decree on the ground that summons was not served upon him, but the Court disbelieves him and dismisses the application, a suit to set aside the decree on the same ground is barred by res judicata. (Beasley, J.) MUSTHAN v. BABU MOHENDRA NATH SINGH. 1 Rang. 500 : 76 I.C. 794: A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 119.

Execution Proceedings.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order in—Not appealed against—Finality of.

Order passed in execution proceedings and not appealed against is final. (Sir John Edge.) SARJU PRASAD v. MAKSUDHAN. 31 M. L. T. 219 : 21 A. L. J. 195 : 27 C. W. N. 275 : 73 I. C. 882 : (1922) M. W. N. 793 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 341 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Plea of limitation raised and decided—Same plea could not be raised in a late stage.

Where a plea of limitation was raised by the judgment-debtor in a prior stage of an execution application, but was rejected and the decree-holder allowed to execute the decree, it was not competent for the Court to admit the same plea in a subsequent stage of the execution proceedings. (Lord Moulton.) RAJAH OF RAMNAD v. VELUSAMI TEVAR. 40 M. L. J. 197: 48 I. A. 45 : 19 A. L. J. 168 : 13 L. W. 290 : (1921) M. W. N. 51 : 33 C. L. J. 218 : 25 C.W.N. 581 : 23 Bom. L. R. 701 : 59 I. C. 880 : 29 M.L. T. 345 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Principle if applies.

Though S. 11 cannot in terms apply to execution proceedings, on general principles a decision in the execution department will bind the parties in all subsequent proceedings. Even if a point is not directly decided but is such as must be deemed to have been necessarily decided before an execution order is passed, it cannot afterwards be agitated. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) DIP PRAKASH v. DWARKA PRASAD. 90 I. C. 83 : L. R. 6 A. 606 : A. I. R. 1926 A. 71.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Principle applies.

The provisions of S. 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure are not expressly made applicable to execution proceedings, but the principles are applicable and if a point has been directly or by implication decided in any particular execution proceeding the point cannot be raised subsequently. The transferee of a decree applied under O. 21, R. 16 for the substitution of his name. A definite order of substitution of name was passed by the executing Court. Later on the judgment-debtor applied to the Court that the money deposited by him may not be paid to the decree-holder on the ground that the decree-holder was not a rightful transferee. This application was not granted. Held, that under the circumstances the question of the validity of the transfer of the decree was res judicata and could not be re-agitated. Per Mukerjee, J.—It was incumbent on the judgment-debtor when he received the notice of the application for execution made by the assignee of the decree-holder to have come forward and raised any objection that he may have had to the execution of the decree by the assignee. (11 A. L. J. 815 ; 14 A. L. J. 370, Foll. ; 13 A L J. 162, Dist.) (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) DWARKA DAS v. MUHAMMAD ASHFAQULLAH. 22 A.L.J. 928 : L.R. 5 A. (Civ). 742: 47 A. 86 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 117.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Decision in, when res judicata—Successive application against same person—Maintainability.

There is nothing to prevent a succession of applications directed against persons who are ascertained to be, or believed to be partners in the particular venture out of which the decree has arisen. The limitation however that is imposed on all these applications is that if there has been a previous application in which there has been a definite decision affecting a particular piece of property or particular person, and from that decision nothing has been done by way of appeal or institution of suit, if neither of these methods were available that decision is a final decision between the parties and if in any subsequent proceedings the point again becomes material, the parties are bound by that previous decision, and the matter cannot be re-opened. To that extent, and that extent only, is there limitation on the successive applications in execution. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) KAPURCHAND v. KANHAIYA LAL. 45 A. 735 : L. R. 4 A. 441 : 21 A. L. J. 641 : 74 I. C. 513 : A. I R. 1924 All. 34.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Constructive res judicata.

An omission to raise the objection to a wrong claim in execution is not res judicata in a later execution application, as the principle of implied or constructive res judicata is not applicable to execution proceedings. (Gokul Prasad and Sulaiman, JJ.) SHEO MANGAL v. MT. HULSA. 19 A. L. J. 954 : 65 I. C. 377 : 44 A. 159 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 413.

——S. 11, Expl. IV—Execution proceedings.

In execution of a decree against M. as representing a company certain properties were attached and on an objection by P. and S. brothers of M. ⅔ of the properties were released from attachment. The decree-holder thereupon applied under O. 21, R. 50 (2) for leave to execute the decree against P and S. as partners of the firm. Held per Wallach, J:—That as the issue whether P. and S. were partners had not been raised in the claim proceeding there was no bar to its being raised in this proceeding. S. 11, Expl. IV, does not extend to execution proceedings. Per Walsh, J.:—The previous order would operate as a bar to allow the decree-holder to enjoy a preliminary attempt to execute the decree by attachment and to reap the benefit thereof if successful and on failure thereof to fall back upon O. 21, R. 50 (2) would be contrary to the principle of the decision of the Privy Council in 6-A 269. An examination of S. 11 of the Code is beside the question in such cases. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ,) PHULCHAND v. KANHAIYA LAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

19 A. L. J. 923 : 65 I. C. 295 : 44 A. 130 : L. R. 3 A. 1: A. I. R. 1922 All. 247.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Decision after notice—Effect of.

A decision on an application for execution after notice to the judgment-debtor, that it was not barred by limitation operates as res judicata, though the judgment-debtor remained ex parte. The failure to oppose the application precludes the judgment-debtor thereafter from contending that it is barred It is not a question of res judicata ; but there is a bar by a decision in the very litigation upon the same application. (Walsh aad Ryves, JJ.) MT. MUHAMMADI BEGAM v. MT. UMDA BEGAM. 66 I. C. 751 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 100 (1).

——S. 11—Execution proceedings— Objection as regards invalidity of final mortgage decree—Costs, if can be claimed later.

A preliminary decree for sale was passed on a mortgage by the court of first instance, reversed by the appellate court, but finally restored with costs throughout by the High Court. When the decree was made final, the costs awarded by the High Court were not included therein and it was in effect the decree of the court of first instance that was made final. On an application for execution being put in, part of the decree amount was paid, and time taken for payment of the balance. As the money was not paid in time, a second execution application was put in, claiming for the first time the costs awarded by the High Court also. Two objections were raised (i. e.,) the final decree as passed could not be executed as the only decree that could be made final was the appellate decree of the High Court and (2) the execution court could not add the further amount claimed by way of costs. Held, on the first point, as the objection was not raised when the first execution application was put in it was barred by res judicata ; and on the second point the execution court can only add execution costs, and it cannot add to or amend the final decree which had been passed in the case. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) DAMBAR SINGH v. KALYAN SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 170 : L. R. 3 A. 164 : 65 I. C. 799 : 44 A. 350 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 27.

——Ss. 11 (Expln. IV) and 47—Execution proceedings—Res judicata—Execution sale by revenue authorities—Application to mamlatdar to set aside sale on deposit—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 89.

A decree was transferred for execution to the Collector who sold the property on 9—6—1914. The judgment-debtor applied under O. 21, R. 89, C.P. Code within one month of the sale to set it aside on deposit of the required amount with the mamlatdar. The Mamlatdar remitted the deposit to the Civil Court and directed the Judgment-debtor to appear before that Court on 8—8—1914. The judgment-debtor renewed his application before the Court and the auction-purchaser also agreed to the sale being set aside but the application was eventually dismissed on other grounds. On appeal the District Court ordered the lower Court to proceed with the application to set aside the sale. On further appeal the High Court confirmed the order of the District Court. Subsequently the execution sale was set aside by the Court. On appeal by the auction-purchaser the District Court allowed the appeal holding that the application made by the mamlatdar was ineffectual and that made to the Civil Court was barred by limitation. On a second appeal to the High Court by the judgment-debtor, Held, that the order of the Court below was appealable having regard to the prior proceedings and that the prior decision of the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

District Court and the High Court having proceeded on the footing that the application of the judgment-debtor was within time, it was not open to the auction-purchaser now to contend that it was barred. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GADIGAPPA CHAN BASAPPA v. SHIDAPPA GURU SHIDAPPA. 48 Bom. 638 : 26 Bom. L. R. 817 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 495.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings.

Plea decided against impliedly in suit cannot be raised again in execution proceedings. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) MULJI PURSHOTTAM v. GOVERDHANDAS. 76 I. C. 148 : 24 Bom L. R 1291 : A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 36

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Decision as to limitation—Effect on subsequent application.

A decision on an application to execute a decree that the application is barred by limitation does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent application to execute the decree. 21 Bom. L. R. 344, followed. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) RAMCHANDRA v. SHRINIVAS. 66 I. C. 940 : 46 Bom. 467 : 24 Bom. L. R. 97 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 238.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Limitation.

Where an intermediate execution application is ordered on notice to the judgment-debtor, it is not open to him on a subsequent execution application to plead that the intermediate application was barred by limitation and, therefore, the subsequent application was also barred. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PRABHULINGAPPA v. GURUNATH.
22 Bom. L. R. 1389 : 59 I. C. 747 : 45 Bom. 453.
[N. B.—See also 40 M. L. J. 197 (P. C.)]

——S. 11 Execution proceedings—Prior order—Effect of—Judgment-debtor not a party to prior proceedings not affected.

A judgment-debtor who was not a party to a previous application for execution of a decree or to any order made upon it, is not precluded from showing that the said application was barred by limitation and therefore it was not in accordance with law. (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) SITANATH DAS v. RANI KANAK PROBHA DEBI. 67 I. C. 879 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 322 (2).

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Objection petition dismissed for non-prosecution—Effect.

Where an objection petition in an execution proceeding is dismissed for non-prosecution, there is no adjudication on the merits and hence it cannot be res judicata. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) BAHIR DAS PAL v. GIRISH CHANDRA PAL. 67 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 287.

——S. 11 — Execution proceedings — Mortgage decree not made final—Decree-holder applying for execution and judgment-debtor not objecting—Judgment-debtor cannot object at a subsequent stage.

Where a preliminary decree under O. 34, R. 4 is as such incapable of execution unless made absolute under O. 34, R. 5 but the judgment-debtor fails to raise such objection at the first application for execution he is precluded from taking the objection at a later stage of execution proceedings. (Zafar Ali and Martineau, JJ.) BANU MAL v. PARAS RAM.
7 Lah. L. J. 397 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 640.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Appeal—Costs.

An order for costs was passed by the Privy Council against a certain person. On an application being made for the execution of that order a decree was drawn by the High Court giving the different items of costs. After the decree, embodying the order of the Privy Council, had been drawn, the Subordinate Judge had decided on another application for execution by the same decree-holder that he was not liable to pay one item of the costs. Held, as the Subordinate Judge's order was passed after the decree embodying the order of the Privy Council had been drawn up by the High Court and as no appeal was preferred from it, the order became final and operated as res judicata. (Martineau, J.) GOPI CHAND v. BENARSI DAS.
12 P. W. R. 1923 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 361.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Failure to object to Execution petition on the ground that it was barred by limitation.

Where a Judgment-debtor had full opportunity of raising the question that the execution petition was barred by limitation but did not raise it, he cannot afterwards raise it. (Jackson, J.) VEMULAMANDA BHADRAYYA v. JAGGARAJU. 22 L. W. 747.

——S. 11, Expl. IV—Execution proceedings—Application for transfer of decree - Notice to judgment-debtor—Limitation—Failure to plead—Effect of.

Where the assignee of a decree applies to the Court to transmit the decree to another court for execution and the judgment-debtor though served with notice fails to appear and plead that the decree could not be executed as being barred, S 11, Expln. IV, will apply and the question would be res Judicata in subsequent execution proceedings. 8 C. 51 ; 40 M. L J. 197 (P. C.) foll. Even in an application for transfer of a decree it is open to the judgment-debtor to plead limitation and he ought to do so. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) KALEPALLI RAJITAGIRIPATHY v. KALEPALLI BHAVANI SANKARAN. 47 M. L. J. 4 : 47 Mad. 641 : 80 I. C. 103 : (1924) M. W. N. 527 : 19 L. W. 650 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 673.

——S. 11— Execution proceedings—Failure to object at one stage of execution proceedings does not bar objection at later stage.

A joint-decree was transferred by one of the decree-holders after adjustment of the decree by the other decree-holders. The notice served on the latter of the application for execution filed by the transferee did not contain any indication that the Court was going to decide any question regarding settlement of the amount for which the decrees were executable and the properties liable to be sold in execution. The case proceeded ex parte as against them. Held, that they were not estopped in the subsequent proceedings from disputing their co-decree-holders' claims to execute the whole of the decrees against any of the judgment debtor's properties. 28 M. 355, Relied on. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) B. HANUMANTHA ROW v. A. KRISHNAMMA. 32 M. L. T. 118 : 70 I. C. 329 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 518.

——S. 11— Execution proceedings — Incidental finding.

The mere fact that the petition in the suit itself, to have the property sold in a particular order is disallowed is no bar to the executing Court making such an order in the course of the execution. (Schwabe, C. J. and Waller, J.) RAGHAVACHARIAR v. DUVVURU KRISHNA REDDI. 46 M. L. J. 32 : 19 L. W. 23 : (1924) M. W. N. 134 : 83 I. C. 918 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 509.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings.

Judgment-debtor can plead at a later stage non-executability though not previously pleaded where assignee of decree-holder was benamidar of judgment debtor. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) K. SRIRAMA RAO v. K. BAPAYYA. 18 L. W. 453 : 76 I. C. 845 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 189.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

———S. 11 (Expl. IV)—Execution proceedings—Failure to attend at the settlement of sale proclamation—Effect—Liability of property to attachment—If can be agitated.

Where in spite of notice to the judgment debtor he did not attend at the settlement of a sale proclamation under O. 21, R. 66, he cannot by reason by such non-attendance be considered to be estopped by the principle of res judicata from contending thereafter that the property was not liable to attachment. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) V. C. T. N. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v. KANDASAMI GOUNDAN. 45 M. L. J. 346 : 46 M. 768 : (1923) M. W. N. 571 : 74 I. C. 155 : 18 L. W. 757 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 1 (F. B.).

———S. 11—Execution proceedings— Constructive res judicata—Omission to object in prior execution proceedings—Effect of.

Where in a previous execution application the judgment-debtor did not take objection to executability of the decree and execution was ordered it is not open to him to object that the decree is inexecutable when a subsequent application for execution is made. The fact that the subsequent application for execution relates to different items of property does not take the case out of the operation of the rule res judicata. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) PALANCHERI GOVINDA MENON v. KRISHNA MANNADIAR. 45 M. L. J. 71 : 17 L. W. 566 : (1923) M. W.N. 299 : 72 I. C. 397 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 649.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Recognition of assignment and transmission of decree—Omission to object to execution—Effect of.

Where a decree was assigned and an application was made to the Court to recognise the assignment and transmit the decree for execution to another Court, the omission of judgment-debtor to object at that stage does not preclude him from objecting to the execution of the decree in the manner proposed by the decree-holder at a later stage of the execution proceedings. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) NATESA CHETTIAR v. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR. 17 L. W. 319 : 32 M. L. T. 157 : 73 I. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 487 (1).

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—O. 22, Rr. 1 and 4.

Where one of the defendants in mortgage suit died in January 1912 after the preliminary but before the final decree, and the legal representative was brought on record in 1916 in connection with application for transfer of the decree and was served with a notice but he did not appear and brought a suit when some of the properties were brought for sale in execution.

Held, his failure to plead abatement in 1916 did not operate as res judicata. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) SAMI MUDALIAR v. MUTHIA CHETTI alias VEERAPPA CHETTY 43 M.L.J. 293: 16 L. W. 314 : (1922) M. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 212.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order made on an application.

An order made in execution proceedings whether right or wrong bars a subsequent application when the validity of the first order is directly in question to determine whether the latter application is maintainable. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) DOORVASI SESHADRI AIYAR v. GOVINDASWAMI PILLAI. 40 M. L. J. 556 : 13 L. W. 529 : 29 M. L. T. 284 : 63 I. C. 189 : (1921) M. W. N. 344.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order without notice.

An order in execution passed without notice to the parties does not operate as res judicata. (Krishnan, J.) RAMUDU CHETTY v. VARADARAJA CHARIAR. 62 I. C. 480 : 13 L. W. 289.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Construction of decree—Executability.

Where on an application for execution it was decided that the decree as it stood was not executable the order is binding on the decree-holder as res judicata and no further application for execution would lie unless the decree had been made absolute and executable. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RAMALINGA ROWTHAN v. SHEIK IBRAHIM SAHIB. 59 I. C. 161 : 12 L. W. 34.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Prior orders—Effect of.

The principle of constructive res judicata applies to execution proceedings and if at an earlier stage a certain objection open to a party was not raised, he cannot at a later stage raise it. (Kinkhede, A. J.C.) RAGHUBARPRASAD v. SATTOR. 89 I. C. 1009 (Nag.).

———S. 11—Execution proceedings — Principle applies to execution proceedings though section does not apply.

If the judgment-debtor fails to appear and plead, at the time the proclamation for sale is settled, that the property attached is not liable to attachment and sale, he cannot be allowed to so plead at any later stage of the execution proceedings. (Kotval, A. J. C.) MT. RUKHMABAI v. RAMACHANDRA. 21 N. L. R. 23 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 320.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Ordering execution to proceed after limitation period, can operate as res judicata where the order is not set aside.

Where judgment-debtor does not challenge by way of appeal, review or revision a wrong order of an executing court ordering issue of notice after a lapse of twelve years, he is precluded from challenging the order at any subsequent stage of the execution proceedings on principles analogous to those of res judicata. (Kindhede, A.J.C.) KHAIRULLA v. SHETH DHANRUPMAL. 80 I. C. 905 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 82.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings— Order that application is not time barred—Res judicata.

Where an execution application was rejected on the ground that it was not in accordance with law and the decree-holder acquiesced in this order and did not appeal, held that the order was final and could not be questioned in further proceedings. Though orders in execution proceedings do not come directly within the language of what is now S. 11 of the C. P. Code, yet such orders if not appealed from are binding on the parties in subsequent proceedings on principles analogous to those of res judicata strictly so called. When a competent Court has decided, even though wrongly, that an execution application was not time barred, that order could not be questioned in subsequent execution proceedings. (Batten, J. C.) JAGANNATH v. BEHARI LAL. 72 I. C. 473 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 236.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order in, when res judicata—Case struck off—Effect of.

Where an order has been made on an application for execution expressly or by implication determining the rights of the parties to the proceeding, the fact that the decree-holder does not choose to proceed with the execution and the case is struck off does not entitle any party to re-open the question which previously has been adjudicated. 17 C.W.N. 113 Foll.; 6 A. 269, 8 C. 5 Ref. (Batten, J C.) MUSAMMAT PURA v. BEHARILAL. 68 I. C. 239 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 1.

———S. 11—Execution proceedings—Substitution

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Execution Proceedings.

under O. 22 applied for in execution—Refusal does not bar application under O. 21, R. 16.

An order refusing an application in execution proceedings for substitution under O. 22 does not operate as res judicata as against an application for execution under O. 21, R. 16. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) KALIMUDDIN v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 2 O. W. N. 352 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 417.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order ultra vires does not operate as res judicata in same proceeding.

An order of executing Court which is ultra vires does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent stage of the same execution proceedings. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) GOJADHAR PRASAD v. FIRM MAMULAL JAGARNATH.
4 Pat. 440 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 807.

——S. 11, Expl. IV—Execution proceedings—Execution case dismissed for default—Objection not taken that the objector was not liable for the debt—Objection is not precluded in subsequent execution case.

Where the former execution case was dismissed for default.

Held, that the contention, that as in the previous execution case the appellant did not take the point that he was not liable for the debt, he could not take it in the present execution, could not be maintained. In the previous execution case there was no adjudication which could even by implication be held to constitute a decision adverse to the appellant. The principle which was applicable to suits upon a party's failure to raise an issue, which he might have raised, was not applicable to execution cases, but even if it were, the final order in the last execution case was made not in consequence of the conduct of the appellant but in spite of it. The doctrine of res judicata did not apply. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) TIKAIT GAYAN NATH SAHI v. MALHJYI VAIDIJA. 6 P. L. T. 507 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 160 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 588.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Notice under O. 21, R. 66—Necessity for decision on prior application—Effect of.

In proceedings for execution of a mortgage decree, the court held that the petitioner, a puisne mortgagee who applied to be made a party and for notice under O. 21, R. 66, C. P. Code, was not entitled to the notice being a mere pro forma defendant. Petitioner did not appeal against the order but after the conclusion of the execution sale applied for an order that he was not liable to be evicted from properties inasmuch as notice under O. 21, R. 66, C. P. Code, was not served upon him. Held, that the contention was barred by res judicata the same having been negatived in the prior proceedings. (Das and Ross, JJ.) BAIJNATH SINGH v. HARI PRASAD BAB.
1924 P. H. C. C. 209 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 628.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order made at one stage—Binding on parties.

Where a court executing a decree passes an order after notice to the parties, that decision is unless set aside on appeal, binding upon the parties. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) MAHADEO PRASAD SAHU v. GAJADHAR SAHAI. 1 Pat. L. R. 145 : 73 I. C. 359 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 362.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings.

S. 11 of the C. P. Code applies to suits and an execution case is not a suit : but it is firmly established that the principle of law underlying S. 11 applies to proceedings in execution of decree. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAM LAL MALIK v. DEODHARI RAI. 2 Pat. 772 : 74 I. C. 781 : 5 Pat. L. T. 7 : A.I.R 1924 Pat. 265.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Ex parte decree.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—In previous execution proceeding pleas of limitation raised, but proceedings dismissed for default—Pleas that previous proceedings were barred not maintainable.

On the 10th November 1910 an instalment order was passed against the appellant whereby he had to pay a certain sum in 14 instalments. A number of these instalments were paid and then there was default. In 1921 the decree-holder applied for execution of the decree. In that execution case the judgment-debtor filed an objection contending that the execution was barred by limitation. The hearing of this objection in the execution case was fixed for the 8th April 1921. Upon that occasion the judgment-debtor did not appear in support of his objection and as there was nothing before the Court to show that the execution case was barred by limitation the Court dismissed the objection for default and on the same day passed an order that the decree-holder should take further steps and directed the case to be put up again on the 11th of the month for orders. On the 12th of the month no steps having been taken by the decree-holder his execution was dismissed for default. The next execution case was filed in September following that is to say well within three years of the last execution case. The appellant again objected that the case was barred by limitation on the ground that the previous execution case in which his objection was dismissed was itself barred by limitation.

Held, that the objection was no longer maintainable. 8 C. 51 and 24 A. 282 Foll. 28 C. 122 and 14 C. W. N. 114 Dist. (Dawson Miller, C.J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) JAGO MAHTON v. KHIRAOTHAR RAM.
2 P. 759 : 74 I. C. 130 : 2 P. L. R. 163 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 122.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings—Order in—When res judicata—Notice to parties.

Where an order for execution of a decree is passed after due notice to the judgment-debtor but eventually the application is dismissed for default of the decree-holder, it is not open to the judgment-debtor in a subsequent application for execution to plead that the former execution was time barred. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) GOURCHANDRA ROY v. JANARDHAN PRASAD THAKUR. 4 Pat. L. T. 204 : 68 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 180.

——S. 11, Expls. IV and V—Execution proceedings—Doctrine, not to be applied generally to.

Although the doctrine laid down in S. 11, C.P. Code may be applied to certain proceedings in execution arising out of the same judgment so as to put an end to the litigation and may possibly be applied in certain cases when separate suits have been brought raising points which have already been decided in execution cases brought between the same parties, the special rules laid down in the explanation to S. 11, which go beyond the ordinary doctrine of res judicata ought not to be applied generally to execution cases. 37 All. 580 ; 24 Mad. 681 Foll. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) PIRTHI MAHTON v. JAMSHED KHAN.
1 P. 593 : 3 Pat. L. T. 403 : 67 I. C 656 : 1922 P.H.C.C. 185 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 289.

——S. 11—Execution proceedings.

The provisions of S. 11 do not apply to execution proceedings. (Brown, A.J C.) MAUNG SO v. DEVIGYAN. 4 U. B. R. 132 : 70 I. C. 530 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 119 (2).

Ex parte decree.

——S. 11—Ex parte decree—No prima facie evidence—Fresh suit, if barred.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Ex parte decree.

Where a suit was decreed ex parte without even prima facie evidence in support of the claim :

Held, that the decision could not operate as a bar to a fresh suit between the parties with respect to the same subject-matter. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) JAGAT NARAIN v. SURAJ PAL.

L. R. 6 A. 229 (Rev.).

——— S. 11—Ex-parte decree for rent satisfied—Decree is res judicata as to parties being landlord and tenant.

An ex parte decree for rent which was subsequently satisfied can operate as res judicata on the question of the parties being landlord and tenant. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) UMEDALI MUNSHI v. GOYJADDI MOLLA. 87 I. C. 672 : A. I. R 1926 Cal. 114

——— S. 11—Ex-parte decree.

An ex-parte decision can operate as res judicata, even in rent suits. 16 C. 300 (F.B) Not Foll (Devadoss, J.) GOVINDOSS KRISHNADOSS v. P. MANIKYANAYANIM. 82 I. C. 990 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 378.

Fraud.

——— S. 11—Fraud—Decree obtained by fraud and collusion if bars a fresh suit.

A decree obtained by fraud and collusion is a nullity and cannot operate as a bar to a fresh suit between the parties with respect to the same subject matter (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) JAGAT NARAIN v. SURAJ PAL. L. R. 6 A. 229 (Rev.).

——— S. 11—Fraud.

So far as plaintiff relied on perjured evidence the suit is not maintainable. The alleged fraud having been in effect adjudicated upon, an attempt to re-open the case cannot be allowed. (Pratt, J.) ARLANDU v. SITHAMBARAM. 1 Bur. L. J. 129 : 74 I. C. 278 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 82 (1).

Heard and finally decided.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Question abandoned by the plaintiff but decided by Court at express request of defendant—If res judicata.

Where the plaintiff had excluded certain question by the statement of his pleader and the first Court had therefore expressly stated that it could not decide it but the defendant, expressly urged in appeal that the Judge was wrong in not deciding that question even though his action was based on the plaintiff's adviser's statement and he asked the lower appellate Court expressly to decide it and the Court did decide it.

Held, that the question was necessary for the decision of the suit and therefore the decision thereon operated as res judicata. It was immaterial that the Court did not refer to that question in its judgment. (Sir John Edge) MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARY CO., LTD. v. NARESH NARAYAN ROY. 47 M. L. J. 23 : 26 Bom. L. R. 651 : L. R. 5 P. C. 137 : 51 Cal. 631 : 35 M. L. T. 169 : 80 I.C. 827 : (1924) M.W.N. 723 : 20 L. W. 770 : 23 A. L. J. 76 : 3 Pat. L. R. 193 : 29 C. W. N. 34 : 51 I. A. 293 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 144 (P. C.).

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—First suit for redemption of mortgage—Compromise decree not providing for extinction of redemption right—Second suit for redemption.

In a suit for redemption of the usufructuary mortgage the parties entered into a compromise by which the plaintiff was to get the property redeemed on payment of a certain sum to the deft. within a certain time. The plff. did not pay. He brought a second suit for redemption.

Held, that the second suit was not barred by S. 11 of the C. P. Code, as the parties did not provide in the compromise that the plff.'s right to redeem would be extinguished absolutely. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MOHAMDI BEGAM v. TUFAIL HASAN.

23 A. L. J. 888.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Issue not arising on pleadings and so indistinct as not to show that parties were required to adduce any evidence—No res judicata arises.

Where a particular issue does not arise on the pleadings, or in any case is so indistinct that it does not indicate that the parties knew that they had to adduce any evidence on it, any finding on such issue does not operate as res judicata. (Mukerji, J.) LALLU SINGH v. RAGHUNUNDAN. A. I. R. 1925 All 794.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Point left undecided is not res judicata.

Where a point is expressly left undecided by the Court in a suit it can be agitated in subsequent suit. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHIAM LAL v. RADHA BALLABH. L R. 6 A. (Civ.) 547 : 88 I.C. 822 : 23 A. L. J. 950 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 770.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Mortgage by Hindu widow—Mortgagor held entitled to mortgage during her life-time—Question is res judicata in subsequent suit.

A mortgage was executed by a Hindu widow. A suit for possession brought by the reversioner during the widow's life-time, against the mortgagee on the ground that the mortgagor was only the mistress of the previous full owner's father and was not the full owner's true mother, and so was not entitled to succeed to his estate was dismissed on the ground that the woman was his true mother and that the suit was premature.

Held, that in a subsequent suit after the mortgagor's death, the plea that the mortgagor had no right to the property as she had been only the step-mother of the previous owner could not be raised. (Sulaiman, J.) RAM PRASAD SINGH v. BABU LAL SONAR.

L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 182 : 86 I. C. 849 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 417.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Lower Court deciding on title and possession—Appellate Court deciding on title alone—No res judicata regarding possession arises.

Where the decision of the previous suit proceeded in the first Court both on the question of possession and title but the decision of the appellate Court was confined to the question of title alone.

Held, there was no res judicata regarding the question of possession. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) GULAB RAI v. SUNDAR LAL.

L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 528 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 243.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Decision on issue—Grounds therefor—Res judicata.

It is the issue decided and not the reason for the decision which constitutes res judicata. (Daniels, J.) KUNDAN LAL v. JAGAT RAM. A. I. R. 1924 All. 927.

——— S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Agreement to refer—Subsequent suit on contract is not maintainable.

Plffs. brought a suit to recover a certain sum of money alleged to be due in respect of a contract which was entered into on 12-9-1918 for the delivery by 18-11-1918 of a bale of dhoties at a certain rate. The date fixed for payment was 27-11-1918. The goods were delivered to the defendant on the date in question but the price therefor was not paid on the due date. After this latter date, inasmuch as there had been much speculation in this class of goods, a committee of the cloth merchants of Jhansi assembled and brought out a plan by which claims for breach of contract of delivery of those goods or for failure to pay the price due in respect of these goods were to be settled. The plaintiffs and the defendant submitted to what might be called the award of the arbitrators and agreed that the claim which the plaintiffs had against the defendant should be settled on this basis. The plaintiffs subsequently sued on the basis of the old contract for damages. Held, that the suit was not maintainable. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) RAM NATH v MANNU LAL. 45 A. 472 : 21 A. L. J. 380 : L R. 4 A. 216 : 72 I. C. 615 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 518.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Mortgage suit—Decree for redemption—Fresh suit for redemption—Maintainability of.

A mortgagor who has obtained a decree for redemption which does not contain a provision that if payment is not made on the date fixed by the Court, the mortgagor shall be absolutely debarred of all right to redeem the property, and who has not enforced that decree and paid the decretal amount, can subsequently bring a second suit for redemption of the mortgage in respect of which such decree was obtained. The mere fact that in the previous suit the Court ordered that on default of payment of the amount of the mortgage decreed within the time fixed, the suit should stand dismissed, does not operate as a bar to a fresh suit for redemption. 24 A 44 Foll. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) HARI RAM v. INDRAJ 44 A. 730 : 69 I. C. 167 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 123 : L. R. 3 A. 397 : 20 A. L. J. 631 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 377.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

A dismissal of an appeal, for want of a copy of the first Court's judgment necessary under the Allahabad High Court rules, does not operate as res judicata. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) BINDESHRI v. AFZAL KHAN. 63 I. C. 344 : 19 A. L. J. 706 (2).

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Several mortgages on the same property—Mortgagor suing for accounts under S. 15-D of the Dekkhan Ag. Rel. Act under one mortgage—Mortgagee putting forth other mortgages—Court deciding suit only with respect to one mortgage—Subsequent suit on other mortgages by mortgagee is not barred.

If a mortgagor executes several mortgages on the same property, and asks for an account on one mortgage under S. 15-D of the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, and the mortgagee claims that an account should be taken of all the mortgages existing on the property, so that the mortgagor would not be entitled to redeem except on paying what is due on all the mortgages, and still if the Court takes an account of the one mortgage only, and decides nothing with regard to the validity of or the existence of other mortgages at the time when the account is taken, a subsequent suit by mortgagee to recover under the other mortgages is not barred under S. 11. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J). MAHADEV NARAIN v. SHRIDHURBHAT GOPALBHUT. 27 B. L. R. 488 : 87 I. C. 716 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 311.

—— S. 11, Expl. V—Heard and finally decided—Relief asked for in plaint but not referred to in judgment—Decision as to that relief found to be unnecessary—No res judicata.

Where in a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale of land, relief as to possession was prayed for in the plaint but there was no reference to it in the judgment, held that that relief may be taken to have been refused but the matter was not heard and finally decided within S. 11 and hence no res judicata especially when it was found that there was ground to hold that a decision on that relief was not considered to be necessary in that suit. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) KRISHNAJI BABAJI HAVAL v. SANGAPPA MURIGAPPA WANGI. 27 B. L. R. 42 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 181.

——Ss. 11 and 47—Heard and finally decided—Mortgagee suit—Decree not executed—Subsequent suit for redemption—Maintainability of.

If a mortgagor brings a redemption suit and obtains a decree nisi which entitles him on payment of a certain sum by certain time to get back the property, and nothing further is done, and no attempt is made to get back possession, and no order is made barring the mortgagor's right to redeem, then a second suit can be brought for redemption and the same would not be barred either by S. 11 or S. 47 of the Civil Procedure Code. There is nothing in the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act to prevent the operation of the above. If the first redemption decree is passed in a suit under the Act, the question whether the decree is a decree nisi or a decree which puts an end to the mortgage will be one depending on the facts of the case. 43 B. 334 Foll. (Macleod, C J. and Crump, J.) RAMCHANDRA LAXMAN v. BALBHIM BABAJI. 25 Bom. L R. 211 : 72 I. C. 315 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 287 (2).

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Suit by Hindu widow—Bar under S. 244 (old Code)—Second suit by reversioner—Not barred.

Where a Hindu widow sued for a declaration that a certain execution sale was not valid and binding, but it was dismissed not on the merits but on the ground it was barred by S. 244 (old Code), a suit by the reversioner after the widow's death was not barred by res judicata as there was no adjudication on the merits in the prior suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GANESH RAMCHANDRA v. LAXMIBAI VENKATESH. 46 Bom 726 : 24 Bom L. R. 249 : 67 I. C. 209 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 96.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Suit against Receiver on allegations already found against plaintiff.

Where a Court appointing a Receiver has gone into the Receiver's accounts and has passed them overruling the objections of the party impugning the accounts a suit will not lie against the Receiver for damages for negligence based on the same allegations already considered and overruled. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) SHRINIWAS KUPPUSAMY MUDALIAR v. M. C. WAZ. 22 Bom. L. R. 1126 : 59 I. C. 421 : 45 Bom. 99.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Matter in issue—Appeal—Issue not decided—Effect.

Where an issue is decided one way by a trial Court, when the matter is taken up in appeal, the issue was not decided, there can be no question of res judicata. (Cuming, J.) KANUR CHARAN DAS v. KRISHNA SUNDAR MAJUMDAR. 90 I. C. 480 (Cal.).

——S 11, Expl. V—Heard and finally decided—Prayer for declaration leading up to the main relief claimed, viz., of possession—Dismissal of suit on failure of main relief—Declaration cannot be deemed to have been refused.

Where the declaration which was claimed in the previous suit in the prayer was not a declaration under S 42 of the Specific Relief Act but a declaration which led up to the main relief claimed in the suit, namely, possession.

Held, that the prayer for declaration was merely an argumentative step towards the only decree sought, viz., possession and the Court was not entitled to make a declaration with regard to this prayer in the plaint

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

after the failure of the sole cause of action, and hence the refusal of the relief cannot "be deemed to have been refused" under Expl. (V). (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ). NRIPENDRA NATH v. BASANTA KUMAR. 29 C. W. N. 861 : 89 I. C. 207 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 1195.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Subsequent change in the law—Effect.

A question once decided against a party cannot now be allowed to be re-agitated merely because a Special Bench of the High Court has enunciated a rule different from what was recognised in previous case. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) ABINASH CHANDRA PAL v. KHETRA MOHAN DALOI. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 629.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Wrong decision in a rent suit.

In a suit for the recovery of arrears of rent on the basis of a kabuliyat the kabuliyat stipulated that arrears of rent should bear interest at the rate of 75 per cent. per annum. Both Courts below enforced the stipulation and decreed the plaintiff's claim as it appeared that the respondent had twice before obtained decrees for the arrears of rent on basis of this kabuliat with interest at the rate stipulated in 1911 and in 1915, Held, that the liability of the defendant-appellant to pay interest on arrears of rent at the rate provided for in the kabuliat is res judicata between the parties. 39 Cal. 848 and 32 Cal. 49 dist. (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) HAMID ALI v. MAHOMED NURERJJAMA MEAH. 76 I. C. 444 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal 361.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Unnecessary finding—Res judicata—Decree in an ejectment suit—Absence of notice—Permanent tenancy.

Where an ejectment suit is dismissed on the ground of absence of notice but the Courts records a finding that the permanent tenancy alleged by the deft. is not proved, under such circumstances the decree cannot operate as res judicata on the question whether the deft. had a permanent tenancy or not. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) RAJENDRA KISHORE v. KUMUD BAN MAHATA. 67 I. C. 271 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 297.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided — Decree on award—Fresh suit on same cause of action does not lie.

A decree under S. 526 of the old C. P. Code has the same effect as regards execution as a decree under S. 522. Consequently a decree upon an award stands precisely in the same position with regard to its execution as any other decree of court. A fresh suit does not lie on the same cause of action. 21 W. R. 248 Foll. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) LALIT MOHAN MOITRA v. RAJA SISI SEKHARESWAR. A.I.R. 1922 Cal. 73.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Judicial order—Made in one stage of a suit binding.

The validity of a judicial order made at one stage of a suit of litigation, unless forthwith challenged, is conclusive and cannot be attacked at a later stage. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA SASIKANTA ACHARYA v. SARAT CHANDRA RAI. 70 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 415.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Unnecessary issue.

A question raised at the instance of a party and decided by the Court as necessary operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit, even though the issue in the previous suit was in fact not necessary. (Woodroffe and Walmsley, JJ.) MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARI v. NARES NARAIN. 63 I. C. 161 : 33 C. L. J. 317.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Definite order cannot be set aside except on review by the same Judge or his successor though S. 11 does not apply.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

On general grounds when a definite decision has been given between the parties on any matter in controversy and such decision purports finally to adjudicate on such matter, it is not competent to the same Judge or his successor in office to set aside the former decision in the same proceeding. The parties, if they consider themselves aggrieved have their remedy by review or appeal to Superior Courts. 1924 P. C. 202 Foll. (Jai Lal, J.) SHER KHAN v. PRABH DAYAL. 7 L. L. J. 319 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 507.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal for mis description of suit property does not bar subsequent suit—O. 2, r. 2.

The dismissal of a suit on the ground of misdescription of property in suit is not a bar to a subsequent suit on the same cause of action either under S. 11 or under O. 2, r. 2. (Scott Smith, J.) BIKA v. BALANDA. 78 I. C. 579 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 193.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Decree on mortgage—Decree not drawn up in accordance with law—Second suit to redeem mortgage if barred.

In a suit for redemption of a mortgage the decree provided for redemption on payment of a particular sum within two months from the date of the decree. The decree went on to say that the plff, was to make up the court-fees. It was provided that on his failure to pay the money and the court-fees within the prescribed period the decree could not be executed. The decree was not drawn up in the manner prescribed by Order 34, R. 7 of the C. P. Code and did not contain any clause that if payment was not made on or before the date fixed by the Court the plaintiff should be debarred from all rights to redeem or that the mortgaged property should be sold. The plaintiff defaulted to pay the money within the time and brought a suit again for redemption. Held. that the second suit for redemption was not barred by res judicata or by S. 47 of the C. P. Code. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) ARURA v. BUR SINGH. 5 Lah. 371 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 31.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal of prior application as barred by limitation not res judicata.

Decision of a point on the ground of limitation only and not on the merits does not operate as res judicata. (Martineau, J.) SHANCHI KHAN v. KARAM CHAND. 73 I. C. 705 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 150 (2).

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Suit—Counter-claim—Appeal preferred in suit only—Effect of.

Plff. sued to recover a sum of money from the deft. on accounts and the latter denied the claim and counter-claimed for a sum of Rs. 46. The plff.'s suit was dismissed and the deft.'s counter-claim decreed by the first Court and the plff. thereupon filed two appeals, one against the dismissal of the suit and the other against the decree on the counter-claim. The District Court dismissed both the appeals whereupon the plff. preferred two second appeals, as in the Court below but the appeal against the decree on the counter claim was dismissed as being out of time. Held, the dismissal operates as res judicata for plff.'s claim. 16 C. 233 : 33 C. 1101 : 29 M. 333 : 3 P. R, 1897 : 31 P. R. 1895 : 85 P. R. 1905 : 33 A. 51 : 24 M. 350 : 1 Lah. 83 Ref. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) GHANIYA LAL v. ROSHAN LAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 344.

——S. 11—Heard and finallly decided—Mortgage—Successive suits.

A mortgagee who has sued for and obtained a decree for possession under his mortgage from the mortgagor is barred from a fresh suit for possession unless he had been dispossessed after the date of the former decree. (Leslie Jones and Dundas, JJ.) HAR CHAND SINGH v. NARAIN SINGH. 67 I. C. 281 : 2 L. L. J. 678.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal of suit to contest alienation—Subsequent suit for possession.

A suit to declare an alienation by a widow not binding upon the reversioner and which was dismissed is res judicata in subsequent suit by the same reversioner for possession after the death of the widow. (Chevis, J.) NAWAB v. PUNJAB. 59 I. C. 946 (Lah.)

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided — Question of validity of adoption—Intricate enquiry not held—Decision is not res judicata.

In the previous case, an application by an adopted son for a succession certificate was dismissed by the lower Court on the ground that there was no valid authority to adopt and no valid taking in adoption. The decision was confirmed by the High Court on the ground that no inquiry need be held in miscellaneous petitions into intricate questions of law and fact.

Held, that as there was no final adjudication on the validity of the adoption, the question was not res judicata. (Spencer, Offg. C. J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) MAHARAJA OF KOLHAPUR v. SUNDARAM AYYAR. 48 Mad. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 497.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided — Suit in ejectment—Claim of occupancy rights—Dismissal of suit for want of notice to quit—Occupancy right negatived—Subsequent suit for ejectment—Res judicata.

In a previous suit by an inamdar against a tenant, the latter set up a permanent right of occupancy in the land. The first Court negatived the claim of permanent occupancy right and decreed the suit. On appeal, the appellate Court upheld the decision of the trial Court negativing the claim of permanent occupancy right set up by the tenant but dismissed the suit for want of a proper notice to quit. In a subsequent suit by the namdar to eject the tenant after service of notice the tenant set up again a permanent occupancy right. Held, that the defence was barred by res judicata by reason of the decision in the prior suit. 12 L. W. 277; 9 L. W. 180 Foll. 48 C. 460: 13 C. 17 Dist. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VEERASAMI MUDALIAR v. PALANIAPPAN. 46 M. L. J. 515 : 34 M. L. T. 175 : 19 L.W. 513 : (1924) M. W. N. 466 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 626 :

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal for default of an application for mesne profits does not bar fresh application.

The dismissal of an application for ascertainment of mesne profits for default or as not pressed, in a suit in ejectment in which a preliminary decree for possession was passed, does not bar a fresh petition for ascertaining the mesne profits. 16 L. W. 198 ; 16 Cal L. J. 3 Dist. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) M. RAMACHANDRA RAJU v. M. P. BHUJANGA RAO 46 M. L. J. 46 : 19 L. W 69 : 33 M. L. T. 261 : (1924) M. W. N. 115 : 79 I. C. 635 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 473.

——S. 11—*Heard and finally decided—Tender of patta—Decision as regards propriety of the tender—*Res judicata in subsequent suit for rent.

Where a suit by ryot to set aside a distraint on the ground that tender of patta is not proper, is heard and finally decided the decision as regards propriety of tender works as res judicata in subsequent suit for rent. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) VARADA REDDI v. SRINIVASA MUDALIAR. 45 M. L. J. 199 : 72 I. C. 683 : 18 L. W. 169 : 33 M. L. T. 34 : (1923) M. W. N. 357 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 299.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Execution proceedings—Earlier order not deciding point—Effect.

There is no res judicata where an order is passed in a prior execution proceeding which does not decide the point raised in a later application. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) KANDASWAMY CHETTIAR v. MARUDA PILLAY. 18 L. W. 652 : 33 M. L. T. 64 : (1923) M. W. N. 835 : 76 I. C. 761 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 145.

——S. 11 (Expln. IV)—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal of prior suit for non-joinder of parties.

Where a prior suit for the same relief was dismissed for non-joinder of parties, the dismissal does not operate as res judicata. Expln. IV to S. 11, C. P. Code, deals only with a case which has been tried on the merits. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) COTASSERI E. V. SANKARAN NIMBI v. KONHOLI D. ANTHERJENAM. 43 M. L. J. 572: (1922) M. W. N. 428 : 16 L. W. 26 : 73 I. C. 491 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 259.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Failure to appeal against a decree for sale precludes objection to the decree in an application under O. 34, R. 6—Civ. Pro. Code, O. 34, Rr. 5 and 6.

The correctness of the form of a previous decree for sale cannot be contested in an application under O. 34, R. 6 when the decree was not appealed against. (Daniels, J. C.) SRI RAM v. SURAJ BALI. 88 I. C. 507 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 27 (2).

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Suit by the nearest reversioner decreed against a rival claimant—Redemption by the rival claimant subsequent to the institution of the suit on a usufructuary mortgage existing on the property—Subsequent suit by the rival claimant to recover property—Doctrine of res judicata applies as redemption could have no effect, the party redeeming having no title to redeem.

Where a suit is brought by a person as the nearest reversioner against a rival claimant and he obtains a decree for possession of property and the rival claimant either during the pendency of the suit or soon afterwards redeems a usufructuary mortgage existing on the property in suit and obtains possession, the rival claimant, in a subsequent suit brought by himself, cannot raise the defence as against the plea of res judicata raised by the successful reversioner that the redemption having taken place subsequent to the institution of the previous suit the decision in that suit does not operate as res judicata, because on the question of title the decision is clearly res judicata and the rival claimant cannot be allowed to go behind it by pleading the subsequent redemption for the simple reason that he had no title to redeem. (Wasir Hasan, A. J. C.) BHONDAI MISER v. RAM PRASAD. 2 O. W. N. 710 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 607.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

When the taluqdars had brought their suit for resumption of muafi they had made plaintiff and defendants 2 and 3 parties in an application claiming, as he claimed in this suit to be partner with plaintiffs and defendants 2 and 3. He was made a party but ultimately the decree was given only against plaintiffs and defendants 2 and 3. As regards the defendant No. 1 it was said that his name was not entered in the papers where he was recorded as a sub-tenant only. The question whether he was a partner was pronounced to be one for a Civil Court and he was discharged from the suit. Held, in plaintiff's suit, there is no res judicata here. What was decided by the Revenue Court was that the taluqdars were entitled to get the relief they sought from the plaintiffs whom they themselves had named and who were the only ones entered in the revenue papers. There was a decision that defendant had no independent rights in the plots, but the court refused to decide whether or not he had any partnership right. (Simpson, A. J. C.) KHALIL v. MOHMOD ISMILE. 9 O. L. J. 540 : 74 I. C. 195 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh. 101.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Heard and finally decided.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Express adjudication essential—Mere description insufficient.

At the time of the partition of a mahal a tenant was treated as an occupancy tenant and was styled in the proceedings as sakit ul melkiat manrusi quabzadar In a subsequent suit to contest a notice of ejectment, held, that the proceedings did not have the effect of res judicata. (Fremantle, S. M and Burn, J. M.) GOKUL v. SHEO SANKAR LAL. 10 O. & A. L. R. 402: L. R 5 O. 73 : 11 O. L. J. 395.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Rent suit —Area of holding—Record-of-rights—Entry in.

In a prior suit for rent, the area of one holding was decided to be a certain number of bighas. Held in the absence of any allegation as to encroachment, increment, fraud or error, this finding will be res judicata in a subsequent suit for rent, though it is alleged and proved that a later record-of-rights has an entry different from what was found before as regards the area. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) RADHIKA RAMAN v. SATNARAIN KOERI. 74 I. C. 961: A. I. R. 1924 Patna 307.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Dismissal for default—Fresh one is competent.

There is nothing in law to prevent the entertainment of a fresh appeal after the dismissal for default of a previously filed appeal, provided the latter appeal was otherwise in order and was filed within the period of limitation. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SURAJDEO NARAIN SINGH v, PRATAP RAI. 2. Pat. 739 : 4 Pat. L. T. 405 : 75 I. C. 284 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 514.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Cess—Liability to pay—Former decision.

Inasmuch as a cess under Bengal Act IX of 1890 is a recurring charge, prior decree for cess does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for recovery of the cess. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) PITAMBER CHOWDHURY v. RAHMAT ALI. 1922 P. H. C. C. 167 : 1 Pat. 218 : 3 Pat. L.T. 282 : 65 I. C. 138 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 303.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Decision in proceedings for letters of administration.

In a previous proceeding for letters of administration the present parties were rival claimants. Their evidence was taken at length as in a regular suit and the claim of the respondent was decided against her, she being held to be not the legitimate daughter of the deceased. Held, the decision in those proceedings barred the present suit for declaration by the respondent that she is the heir of the deceased, (Pratt and Carr, JJ.) MAUNG HMAT v. MA HTAY. 1 Rang. 258: 76 I. C. 494 (2): A.I.R. 1923 Rang. 257.

——S. 11—Heard and finally decided—Decree in administration suit declaring rights of parties—Suit to enforce rights—Maintainability of.

Where in an administration suit a decree is passed declaring the shares of the heirs to the estate after payment of the charges thereon, it is open to the heirs to bring a suit for distribution of the shares declared by the decree. The subsequent suit is not barred by res judicata as the plaintiff could not have enforced his rights under the prior decree. 6 B. 7 : 14 A. L. J. 102 : 22 C. L. J. 272 : 6 B. H. C. R. 231 Ref. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG PO THIN v. KO THA YE. 64 I. C. 813 : 11 L. B. R. 60.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Issue of Law.

Issue of law.

——S. 11—Issue of law—Decision on a point of law is not res judicata if cause of action is different as in the case of recurring liability—Right to eject a tenant is a recurring liabilitye Decision in ejectment suit against a tenant is not res judicata.

A decision on a point of law does not operate as res judicata if the cause of action in a subsequent suit is different from that in the former suit as often happens in the cases of recurring liability ; but if the cause of action is the same the decision would be res judicata The right to eject a tenant accrues afresh every year. Therefore the previous decision that an ejectment suit was not maintainable in a revenue Court cannot operate as res judicata (Sulaiman, J,) GANGA v. MAHMUD UNNISSA BEGAM. A. I. R. 1925 All. 761.

——S. 11—Issue of law.

Where the plaintiff inamdar got a decree for the Mamool rates for the years 1888, 1890 in the year 1892 against the defendant's Khots and where Survey Settlement was introduced in the village in 1855-86 and where he filed a suit in 1917 for proper construction to be placed on S.216 though not strictly speaking res judicata still, on the principle of stare decisis the previous construction should be adhered to, 18 Bom, 525 doubted.

Per Macleod, C.J.—An abstract question of law, viz., construction of a section of a statute and not a concrete question such as the construction of a document is not a question of res judicata since at least a Full Bench will form its own opinion as to what the law is. But it is a question whether the principle of stare decisis would be invoked. 18 Bom 525 doubted.

Per Shah, J.—The binding character of res judicata does not depend on the correctness of the reasons for the conclusion. No distinction is made between issues of fact and issues of law. 18 Bom. 525 affirmed.

Per Fawcett, J.—It is doubtful whether distinction between decisions on abstract questions of law and concrete questions such as construction of a particular document can be made. At least where parties seek to litigate again the very same cause of action such distinction cannot be drawn. (Macleod, C. J., Shah and Fawcett, JJ,) SITARAM v. LAXMAN. 45 Bom. 1260 : 64 I. C. 162 : 23 Bom. L. R. 749 (F. B.).

——S. 11—Issue of fact—Finding on mixed question of law and fact is res judicata like a finding of fact.

A finding on a mixed issue of law and fact stands on the same footing as a decision on a question of fact and operates as res judicata. A judgment operates as res judicata with regard to all the findings that are necessary and essential to the judgment. (Sukrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) RAJENDRA NATH v. BHABINI DASI. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 80 : 87 I. C. 811.

——S. 11—Issue of law—Erroneous decision on—Effect.

A decision on a question of law may be res judicata but an erroneous decision on a question of law cannot be allowed to operate as res judicata so as to prevent a Court from deciding the same question on its arising between the same parties in a subsequent suit. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ,) MOTI SAGAR v. DHANNA MAL. 29 P. W. R; 1922 : 72 I. C. 177 : A. I, R, 1922 Lah 329.

——S. 11—Issue of law—Plea disallowed in previous suit owing to state of law at the time and ques, tion left undecided—Change in law on the subject—Question is not res judicata.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Issue of Law.

If the plaintiff's suit was not res judicata when it was filed, no change in law can make it res judicata after it was filed. The previous suit was by the defendant in the present suit and was for establishing his claim to certain property which he had purchased and which had been attached by the present plaintiff as the property of his judgment-debtor. The present plaintiff's defence to that suit was that the sale was fraudulent and voidable under the T. P. Act, S. 53. The Court held, that the sale was not a sham. Further, in accordance with the view of the law that prevailed at the time, the Court held, that unless and until the present plaintiff first sued to set aside the sale, it was not open to him to urge the plea that the sale was fraudulent, in defence. On this ground it decreed the suit by the present defendant. Subsequently the law which precluded the present plaintiff from raising the plea of fraudulent transfer was altered by a Full Bench decision.

Held, that a suit by the present plaintiff to have the sale declared fraudulent was not barred by res judicata as the question had not been decided at all in the previous suit. (Wallace, J.) RAMAKKAL v. GOVINDANAYAKAN PALAIYAM THIRUMAL PARIPALANA NIDHI LTD. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1107.

———S. 11—Issue of law—Decision on—If res judicata.

Even an erroneous decision on a question of law can operate as res judicata. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) TULARAM v. MT. SUMRATI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 422.

———S. 11—Issue of law.

The section draws no distinction between an issue of fact and an issue of law; and an issue of law operates as res judicata in the same way as an issue of fact. Consequently a decision of a question of law in an execution case is res judicata in a subsequent application for execution of the same decree even though the view of law enunciated in the prior execution case has been since disapproved by a Full Bench. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAM LAL MALIK v. DEODHARI RAI. 2 Pat. 771 : 74 I. C. 781 : 5 Pat. L. T. 7 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 265.

———S. 11—Issue of law—Previous decision when res judicata.

A previous decision on a question of law which affects the subject-matter of the subsequent suit or creates a legal relation between the parties or defines the status of either of them is as binding upon them as a previous decision on a question of fact. (Fremantle, S. M.) MIRZA BAHADUR MAHAMAD JAFAR ALI KHAN v. MT. RUKMIN. L. R. 5 O. 52. 10 O. & A. L. R. 547: 11 O. L. J. 66.

Judgment in Personam.

———S. 11—Judgment in personam—Judgments not inter partes—Relevancy of—Not res judicata.

Former judgments not inter partes do not operate as a bar to the trial of a suit though they may be received as evidence in the case. In a suit by the plaintiffs against the Government for recovery of emoluments of a certain office, the Government pleaded as a bar to the maintainability of the suit, a former judgment in which the plaintiffs' claim to the office against certain contesting claimants was negatived though the Government was not a party to that litigation. Held, that it was open to the plaintiff to reassert his title to the office in spite of the former judgment. Distinction between the operation of judgments in rem and judgments in personam discussed. 33 Mad. 483; 36 Mad. 141, overruled. (Wallis, C. J. Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. SYED AHMAD BADSHA SAHIB. 41 M.L.J. 223 and 278 : 44 Mad. 778 : 14 L.W. 128 and 188: 67 I.C. 971 : (1921) M. W. N. 576 (F B.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Litigating under the same title.

———S. 11—Judgment in personam—Decision between parties in different capacity is not res judicata.

The decision of Court prior to Deceased Brother's Widow's Marriage Act (7 Edw. & C 47), that the widow had no locus standi to apply for Letters of Administration to the estate of her first husband's brother whom she married in 1916 after the former's death was held not to be is not res judicata and not to debar her from presenting a fresh application in 1923 for Letters of Administration since the parties to the two applications were really not the same in the legal sense. A.I.R. 1924 Patna 265; 11 C. L. J 461 Dist. (Bucknill, J.) A. C. LISH v. DAVID LISH. 1924 P. H. C. C. 138: 2 P. L. R. 125: 83 I. C. 951. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 624.

Leave to withdraw Suit.

———S. 11—Leave to withdraw appeal—Effect of.

The dismissal or withdrawal of an appeal has the same effect as a decision on the merits and leaves the finding of the trial Court final against the appellant for purposes of the rule of res judicata. (Daniels, J.) PARBHU DAYAL v. MURLIDHAR. 22 A. L. J. 365: 78 I. C. 677: L. R. 5 A. 298: 10 O. & A. L. R. 528: A. I. R. 1924 All. 867.

———S. 11—Leave to withdraw suit—Given in appeal—Effect on decision of trial Court.

Where in appeal, permission is granted to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit the order of the trial Court on the merits ipso facto falls to the ground and hence cannot operate as res judicata. (Ryves, J.) TEWARI GAJRA SINGH v. SRI THAKURJI MAHARAJ. 74 I. C. 894.

———S. 11 and O. 23, R. 1 (4)—Leave to withdraw suit—Withdrawal of suit by some of several co-plaintiffs—Fresh suit—Fresh suit for partition.

Where a court allows a suit to be withdrawn in contravention of O. 23, R. 1 (4), i. e., without the consent of other plaintiffs and grants leave for a fresh suit to be brought on the same cause of action, held, a second suit is barred. A suit for partition is however maintainable as the cause of action is recurring one (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ). MT. RAM DEI v. MT. BAHU RANI. 1 Pat. 228 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 489.

Litigating under the same Title.

———S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Prior suit as Trustee—Subsequent suit in personal capacity—No bar.

It is not obligatory on a party seeking to protect certain property as wakf property from an impending sale to assert in the same suit any personal right thereto which he may afterwards find himself to be entitled in case the property in question is not found to be wakf property. It is immaterial whether he could have joined in the previous suit an alternative claim for the protection of the personal share he was now seeking. There was no obligation to join the two claims and the omission to set up their present title in the previous suit does not, therefore, bar the decision of that matter in the present litigation.

The right in which the relief was claimed in the previous suit was not the same in which the relief is claimed in the present suit. The former suit was brought for the protection of what was described as public property. The present suit was brought for the protection of personal or private rights. So far as the property in dispute went, the capacity in which the plaintiffs sued was not the capacity in which they were now suing. (Kanhaiya Lal and Mukherjee, JJ.) KANHAIYA LAL v. ASHRAF KHAN. 46 A. 230: 78 I. C. 402: 10 O. & A. L. R. 380: L. R. 5 A. 177: A. I. R. 1924 All. 355.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Litigating under the same Title.

——— S. 11, Expln. VI—Litigating under the same title—Public right.

Where the ownership of a well regarding which there is a dispute between the trustees of a mosque and the Municipality was decided against the former, they cannot in a subsequent suit by the public set up their rights to it. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) RAM CHAND v. MAULA BAKSH. 46 All. 110 : 21 A. L. J. 882 : L. R. 4 All. 583 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 178.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Claim in the first suit based on a different title than that on which second suit was based—Plaintiff cannot be said to be litigating under the same title in the second suit.

Where the relief claimed by plaintiffs in the previous suit was based on a right inherited by them from their father, but the title upon which the plaintiffs instituted the second suit was a title not derived from their father but a title which they claimed as having devolved upon them as reversionary heirs of the last full owner: Held, the principle of res judicata cannot apply as the two suits were not litigated under the same title. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) NRIPENDRA NATH v. BASANTA KUMAR. 29 C. W. N. 861 : 89 I. C. 207: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1195.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Suit against a person setting up title of a third person—Subsequent suit impleading that person—Prior decision, if a bar.

A sued B for a declaration that he was entitled to receive rent at a certain rate from him and that B was a tenant under C and bound to pay rent to A as part of the settlement between them. In a prior rent suit by A against B the latter had set up that he held the land not under A but under C who was not a party to that suit. The prior suit had been dismissed. Held, that the decision in the prior suit was no bar to the trial of the issue as to B's liability for rent. 26 C. 428 Foll. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) GOPINATH v. BHAJAHARI DAS. 68 I. C. 472: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 327 (2).

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title--Erroneous view of law—Pre-emption suit.

In a previous suit a decision was given in favour of plaintiff pre-emptor, though a descendant of a remote ancestor of vendor, that he was entitled to inherit vendor's property. When the vendor again sold another property, plaintiff and another pre-emptor filed suits. The suit of the latter was decreed and upheld in appeal and in view of the decision the trial Court dismissed plaintiff's suit and the appellate Court decided on merits that the previous judgment was not of binding effect in determining plaintiff's status as a pre-emptor as it held the decision was wrong. Held, on the one hand, plaintiff and vendor pro forma defendant in the first case and on the other plaintiff and the present vendees in this suit, both suits being pre-emption suits, cannot be said to be parties litigating under the same title. As the vendees did not claim under the vendor, plaintiff did not and could not challenge vendee's right to own and possess the land in suit and his claim would therefore amount to asking the vendees to re-transfer in his favour the land in suit in virtue of the decision in the previous suit. The previous decision was based on the wrong view of law that a person descended from a remote ancestor of the vendor of altogether unknown degree is a person entitled to inherit the vendor's property. 34 P. W. R. 1921 Dist. (Campbell, J.) AHMAD KHAN v. JAWAHIR SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Litigating under the same Title.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Sale of proprietary rights—Purchase by tenants—Sale set aside—Delivery of possession—Subsequent suit for establishing occupancy rights.

The proprietor of certain land sold it to the occupancy tenants on the land and some time after his death his successor impugned the sale on the ground that it was not supported by necessity or consideration and obtained a decree for possession. In execution of the decree the occupancy tenants were turned out of possession. Thereupon they sued for restoration of their occupancy rights. Held, that the suit was not barred by res judicata or by S. 47, C. P. Code. The occupancy tenants were litigating in different capacities in the two suits. (Chevis and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) SURAJ KAUR v. NAGINA SINGH. 4 Lah. L. J. 400 : 67 I. C. 485: A.I. R. 1922 Lah. 44.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Suit for possession under a lease—Subsequent suit on title not res judicata.

Where a suit for possession of property based on a lease is dismissed, a subsequent suit for possession based on ownership is not res judicata (Chevis, J.) GIRIDHARI LAL v. UDAJAN. 63 I. C. 717: 3 Lah. L. J. 215.

——— S. 11—Expl. IV—Litigating under same title.

Plaintiff suing to rscover property from defendants alleging his reversionary right to the last male holder —Another suit against same defendants regarding the same property as reversioner of the female holder in possession is barred. The plaintiff brought a suit to recover certain property alleging that he was the reversionary heir of one V. The property had been in the possession of N, a female relation of V. Plaintiff's suit to recover the property from the defendants who were in possession was brought after N's death. The suit was dismissed. Again a suit was brought to recover the same property from the same defendants on the ground that the plaintiff was the heir of N who had been in possession of the property. Held: that the second suit was barred under S. 11, Expl. 4, as the plaintiff might and ought to have put forward both his titles in the previous suit. (Phillips, J.) R. RAMAIAH v. R. LAKSHMI NARAYAN. 49 M. L. J. 701 : 23 L. W. 13 : 1926 M. W. N. 126 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 234.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title—Person added as legal representative of deceased party—Decision is not binding on him in personal capacity.

Where a party was only added as a legal representative in the previous litigation and it was not open to him as such to raise any defences personal to himself. Held, that he can subsequently raise objections personal to himself. (Krishnan and Coleridge, JJ.) G. AKKAMMA v. NUNE VENKATAPATHI. 75 I. C. 623: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 59.

——— S. 11—Litigating under the same title--One of the parties—Same in both suits—Claim by other party under different title.

A lessor is not bound by a finding as between the lessee and a third party. 14 L. W. 387 Ref. Similarly a lessee who claims under a title previously created by a lessor is not bound by a subsequent finding between the lessor and third parties. Where the plaintiff is litigating under a title by lease obtained subsequent to that under which he litigated in the prior suit, the decision in the prior suit cannot be res judicata even though the other party was the identical person (Krishnan, J.) NALLAMUTHU PADAYACHI v. SRINIVASA AIYAR. 19 L. W. 369: 34 M. L. T. 160 : (1924) M. W. N. 378: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 576.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Litigating under the same Title.

——— Ss. 11 and 92—Litigating under the same title—Different capacity—Finding in suit for assertion of individual right—Effect on scheme suit.

Where a suit is brought by certain persons under S. 92, C. P. Code, with the sanction of the Advocate General for a scheme a finding in a prior suit by them that the defendant was hereditary trustee does not operate as res judicata especially when the Court which tried the prior suit is not competent to try the subsequent suit. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPU NATARAJA CHETTY v. RAJAMMAL. 43 M. L. J. 448. (1922) M. W. N. 464: 31 M. L. T. 125 (H. C.): 16 L. W. 122: 69 I. C. 15: A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 394.

Might and Ought.

Alternative claims and relief.
Cause of action.
Constructive res judicata.
Defences.
Grounds of attack.
Mortgage suit.
Omission to plead.
Partition.
Relief not claimed.
Scope of the rule.

Might and Ought—Alternative claims and relief.

——— S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Alternative relief—Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, S. 10-A—Inconsistent pleas.

The plaintiff sold his property to the defendant on 16th March, 1906, but continued in possession as tenant. The defendant agreed by a satekhat executed on the 13th August 1906, to resell the property to the plaintiff at any time within twelve years for Rs. 395 and received Rs. 5 as earnest money. The plaintiff sued in 1911 to redeem the property under S. 10-A of the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879, alleging that the sale was a mortgage. The suit failed. The plaintiff sued again in 1918 to recover the property on payment of Rs. 395 under the satekhat. A question having arisen whether the second suit was barred as res judicata, held, that the second suit was not barred by res judicata for the plaintiff was not bound in the first suit to have sued also for specific performance. The two suits were mutually inconsistent and if the plaintiff failed in proving the mortgage, he still had a number of years left under the satekhat within which he could have sued to get back the property on payment of the consideration mentioned in the satekhat. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) DOLA KHETAJI VAHIVATDAR v. BALYA KANOO PATEL.
24 Bom. L. R. 236 : 46 Bom. 803 : 66 I. C. 815 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 29.

——— S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Alternative claims—Title by purchase asserted and negatived—Subsequent suit on title by heirship—Bar of.

When plaintiff sued to recover possession of property from a trespasser on the ground that he was owner by joint purchase with two others and obtained a decree for his share, and subsequently brought a suit against the same defendant for possession of the remaining portion of the property claiming as heir to a deceased person, a title which he could have put forward in the alternative in the earlier suit but did not, the subsequent suit is barred by res judicata. 11 Beng. L. R. 158, 50 Cal. 1 relied on. 41 I. A. 142 Distinguished. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) THONA SINA NAINA MUHAMMAD ROWTHER v. ABDUL RAHMAN ROWTHER. 46 Mad. 135 : 72 I. C. 207 : 17 L. W. 188 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 82 : (1922) M. W. N. 845 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 257.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Constructive res judicata.

——— S. 11—Might and ought—Alternative claims—Test to determine whether the defence ought to have been raised.

A matter which ought to be raised but which, as a matter of fact, is not raised in a suit cannot be decided in specific terms in that suit. But this fact cannot be fatal to the plea of res judicata. If the effect of the decision in a former suit is necessarily inconsistent with the defence that ought to have been raised but has not been raised, that defence must be deemed to have been finally decided against the person who ought to have raised it. Where it was open to the plaintiffs in their defence in the former suit to claim in the alternative, that they had a vested right in half the property in suit, but they were content to plead a partition whereby they became owners of the whole and in the result their defence failed and it was held that the property belonged to their father, held, that this decision was necessarily inconsistent with the alternative defence that might and ought to have been raised. 13 C. W. N. 513 Foll. (May Oung, J.) MAUNG NO v. MAUNG PO THEIN. 1 Rang. 363 : 2 Bur. L.J. 109 : 76 I. C. 612 : A.I.R. 1923 Rang. 239.

——— S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Alternative claims—Suit for recovery of land—Subsequent suit on different title—Bar.

The point for determination in the case was whether the present suit was res judicata by reason of a former suit. Both the suits were instituted in the same Court between the same parties and the subject-matter was the same. In the former suit the plaintiff claimed title to three pieces of land as having been given to him by his father who at the time of that suit was dead. It was held that the gift was not valid. In the present suit he sued as the aurasa son of his father and mother, claiming a half share in the same three pieces of land. Held, that the plaintiff should in the former suit have made in the alternative the claim which he made in the present suit and that by reason of his omission to do so the present suit was barred by res judicata. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BA THAW v. MA HNIT. 2 Bur. L. J. 34 : 11 L. B. R. 451 : 72 I. C. 14 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 122.

Might and Ought—Cause of Action.

——— S. 11—Might and ought—Cause of action—Mortgagee need not enforce separate money bond along with mortgage—C. P. Code, O. 2, R. 2.

It cannot be contended that a mortgagee holding a separate money-bond against a mortgagor is under any obligation to enforce the money-bond along with the mortgage, or even to refer to its existence in his plaint seeking to enforce the mortgage. 38 Mad. 927 and 39 Bom. 138 Dist. (Madhavan Nair, J.) RAJAGOPALACHARIAR v. THIAGARAYA.
A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 991.

Might and Ought—Constructive res judicata.

——— S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Constructive res judicata.

The present plaintiffs were defendants in the original suit in the sense that they were members of the firm; the matter is res judicata if the plea now taken could have been taken by their respective fathers and grandfathers whose names were shown in the plaint (Le Rossignol and Harrison, JJ.) RAM RATTAN v. THE FIRM OF HUSSUKH ROY. 43 P. L. R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 783 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 26.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Constructive res judicata.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Constructive res judicata.

Plea not directly relevant for the decision of the question raised in the suit need not be raised and in such a case there is no bar of constructive res judicata. (Madhavan Nair, J.) PARIM MANICKYAM v. KODIMANGI. (1924) M. W. N. 666 : 21 L. W. 204 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 226.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Constructive res judicata—Deposit under Ss. 83 and 84 of the T. P. Act—Objections.

Where the defendant (mortgagor) deposited the amount due on the mortgage under S. 83 of the T. P. Act and the mortgagee plaintiffs appeared in answer to the notice of the deposit sent to them under S. 84 of the T. P. Act, the only reason they gave for refusing to accept it as sufficient was that it did not include interest up to the date on which they were summoned to appear in Court. There was no suggestion that it was not the full amount due for principal and interest on the date on which the deposit was made. In a subsequent suit on the mortgage the plaintiffs claimed a much larger amount than was deposited as due under the mortgage. Held, on the principle embodied in S. 11 (Expl. 4) of the C. P. Code the plaintiffs could not be heard to say that the amount deposited was less than the sum due to them on the mortgage on that date. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) KESHORAM v. BHANGILAL. 67 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 174.

Might and Ought—Defences.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Defences—Defendant having a cross-demand against plaintiff but failing to have it tried—Defendant's claim is not res judicata.

Where in a suit by an agent against the principal, the principal had a claim for damages against the agent in respect of a certain transaction but failed to have the issue tried but the agent gave credit for a certain sum in respect of that transaction and a decree was passed on the footing that the principal was entitled to that credit.

Held, that the decree did not preclude the principal from maintaining another action for damages. (1841) 8 M. & W. 858 and (1871) L. R. 6 Q. B. 687 Foll. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) SUTRAME GOVINDA RAO v. A. N. RUDRAYYA. 49 M. L. J. 14 : (1925) M. W. N. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 830.

Might and Ought—Grounds of attack.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Grounds of attack which must have been but was not referred to in plaint cannot be the basis of another suit.

Where the plaintiffs in a previous suit based their claim on nearness of kin but did not mention the family custom but for the proof of which, the nearness could not be proved and the suit therefore failed, held, that they cannot bring a fresh suit basing their claim on the family custom. (Lord Phillimore.) FATEH SINGH v. JAGANNATH BAKSH SINGH. 48 M. L. J. 64 : 52 I. A. 100 : 6 L.R.P. C. 50 : 12 O. L. J. 117 : 2 O. W. N 25 : 47 All. 158 : 27 O. C. 334 : 27 Bom. L. R. 725: 29 C. W. N. 749 : 23 A. L. J. 739 : 22 L. W. 58 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 55 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Might and ought—Grounds of attack.

When a matter which ought to have been raised was not raised it must be held to be a matter which also must have been heard and finally decided in the previous suit. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) SHIB CHANDRA TALUKDAR v. LAKHI PRIYA GUHA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Mortgage suit.

29 C. W. N. 253 : 40 C. L. J. 507 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 427.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Grounds of attack.

Matters which are substantially and directly in issue in the suit or which might and ought to have been made a ground of attack or defence in the suit cannot be allowed to be raised in execution proceedings. (Campbell, J.) MIR KHAN v. SHARFU. 5 L.L.J. 163 : 74 I. C. 577 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Grounds of attack—Suit based on custom—Custom not alleged—Suit dismissed—Second suit alleging custom barred.

A former suit was for declaration that the deed of gift by widow in favour of daughter's son was void. The plaintiffs were only remote reversioners and remote reversioners cannot sue in presence of the next reversioner unless there was a special custom that all branches of the family take equally as reversioners. The plaintiffs did not allege the custom in their plaint. During the pendency of the suit and before any evidence had been taken the widow died. Thereupon the plaintiffs made an application to be allowed to amend their plaint. They said that owing to her death they had become entitled to institute a suit for possession and that in order to show that right it was now necessary for them to plead the custom. They also asked to be allowed to sue for possession. The learned Subordinate Judge refused to allow the amendment of the plaint and as without the amendment, the plaintiffs had no locus standi the suit was dismissed. On a second suit by the same plaintiffs for the same relief, held, that the suit was barred. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) FATEH SINGH v. JAGANNATH BAKHSH. 10 O. L. J. 132 : 74 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 242.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Grounds of attack—Test.

The test, whereby to determine whether it ought to have been matter of attack is this : are the matters so dissimilar that their union might lead to confusion ? Where the plaintiff might have, in the former suit, put in the claim, that he made in the subsequent suit as an alternative claim, and if he did so, there would have been no confusion, and all questions relating to his title in the property would have been completely and finally determined. Held, he ought to have made the claim that he made in the subsequent suit as a ground of attack in the former suit, and, for this reason, the subsequent suit must be held to be res judicata. Where plaintiff claims title to the certain property, in proving his title to that property he ought to put forward all means of attack in his armoury. S. 11 omits all references to the cause of action. A plaintiff's cause of action is a very different thing from his title; the one being something done contrary to a person's interest which obliges him to seek the aid of the Court, the other the proof that that something affords him a valid ground for relief. (1892) I. L. R. 20 C. 79, (1900) I. L. R. 25 Bom. 189 F. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BA THAW v. MA HINIT. 11 L. B. R. 451 : 2 Bur. L. J. 34 : 72 I. C. 14 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 122.

Might and Ought—Mortgage Suit.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Plea of paramount title not set up—Effect.

Where the defendant in a mortgage suit had a double capacity, i. e., purchaser of equity of redemption and also settlement holder of a non-transferable occupancy holding, but he failed to set up the defence that the mortgage could not be enforced against the property in his hands, he will afterwards be barred by res judicata. A question of paramount title can be enquired into in a mortgage suit in certain cases. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) SRIMANTA SEAL v BINDUBASINI DASI. 38 C. L. J. 183 : 76 I. C. 517 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 138.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Mortgage suit.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Two mortgages in favour of the same mortgagee, one simple and one usufructuary—Suit for redemption of usufructuary mortgage decreed—Simple mortgage not put forth in the first suit—Second suit for mortgage money by mortgagee is not barred.

A subsequent suit by a simple mortgagee for his mortgage money is not barred, by reason of a prior suit by the mortgagor for possession and redemption of that property from the same mortgagee as usufructuary mortgagee, on the ground that the mortgagee should have put forth his mortgage in the previous suit. 60 P. W. R. 1917 relied on. (Martineau, J.) RELLU MAL v. MASITI. 87 I. C. 237 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 516.

——Ss. 11, Expln. IV and 47—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Sale pursuant to prior mortgage—Rejection of an application by party to reserve his rights under hypothecation bond.

The plaintiff had deposited Rs. 4,500 to release from a Court sale, held under a previous mortgage, the property included in his hypothecation bond. His application to reserve his rights thereunder had been rejected but he preferred no appeal. He instituted a suit later on for the recovery of the same. Held, there was no bar to the suit either under S. 11 or S. 47. S. 47 does not apply because the question raised in the suit cannot be said to relate to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of a decree. S 11 (Expln. IV) does not apply because in the previous suit on a prior mortgage, all that the present plaintiff as defendants in that suit could have done was to bring to the notice of the Court his own hypothecation bond and this was done; no further relief could have been asked for then. 24 All. 429 Distinguished. (Abdul Raoof and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RAHIM-UD-DIN v. SHAFQAT ULLAH A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 358 (2).

——S. 11—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Suit against mortgagor, only having mortgagee rights—Subsequent suit against owner—If lies.

A mortgagor mortgaged only the mortgagee's interest in certain lands. The mortgagee first brought a suit against the mortgagor only but not the owner of the property. Held, he could not bring a second suit against the owner of the property under S. 11 of the Code. (Wallis and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NUMBERUMAL CHETTY v. RAGHAVACHARIAR 71 I. C. 390 (2) : 14 L. W. 563.

——S. 11, Expl. IV—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Prior and subsequent—Omission to claim priority—If bars suit on mortgage.

A person mortgaged his property first to X and then to Y. Later on X took a mortgage in renewal of his earlier mortgage and brought a suit on the basis of both the mortgages impleading Y. Y remained ex parte and did not set up any priority. Held, the omission did not preclude him from afterwards suing on his own mortgage. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) LAXMAN. v. JANOO. 20 N. L. R. 197 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 429.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Failing to plead paramount title—Effect.

If a person joined as defendant in a mortgage suit has a title paramount to that of the mortgagor he is not bound to set up such a title by way of defence to the mortgage suit and the question of his title will not be res judicata against him. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) HEMRAJ v. SURYABHAN. A.I.R. 1924 Nag. 408 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Omission to plead.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Prior mortgagee impleaded as party—Omission to set up priority—Effect—Subsequent suit—Bar.

Where a prior mortgagee is impleaded as a defendant in an action on a subsequent mortgage and it is sought to displace his prior title and to postpone it to the title of the plaintiff it is the duty of a prior mortgagee to prove his prior mortgage. If he fails to contest the suit, the decision in the suit will operate as res judicata against him. (Das and Kulwant, Sahay, JJ.) LAL BIHARI SINGH v. GURPRASAD SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 108 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 118 : 71 I. C. 948 : 1 Pat. L. R. 238 : 2 P. 435 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 290.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Mortgage suit—Two mortgages—Suit on latter mortgage does not bar subsequent suit on former one.

Where a person holds two mortgages over the same property, a suit on the latter one will not bar a subsequent suit on the other. (Maung Kin, C. J.) MA MYIL v. SHARMA. 69 I. C. 897 : 10 L. B. R. 360.

Might and Ought—Omission to plead.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Relief claimable in prior suit but not claimed—That omission to plead relief cannot be claimed in a subsequent suit.

It is the policy of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as it was the policy of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, that parties should not have the right to split up a cause of action against defendants and claim a decree on it in a later suit when they might have claimed the same on it in a previous suit. Where, in a previous suit on a mortgage bond the plaintiff omitted to claim relief against the person and other property of the defendants.

Held, that they cannot claim that relief in a subsequent suit relating to the same bond. (Sir John Edge) SOURENDRA MOHAN SINHA v. HARI PRASAD. 52 I. A. 418 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 280 (P. C.)

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Relief claimable in prior suit but not claimed—Effect of.

It is the policy of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as it was the policy of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, that parties should not have the right to split up a cause of action against defendants and claim a decree on it in a later suit when they might have claimed the same on it in a previous suit. Where, in a previous suit on a mortgage bond, the plaintiff omitted to claim relief against the person and other property of the defendants:

Held, that they cannot claim that relief in a subsequent suit relating to the same bond. (Sir John Edge) SOURENDRA MOHAN SINHA v. HARI PRASAD SINHA A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 280 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Suit by reversioner against transferees from widow—Subsequent similar suit against transferees of other portions of estate—Defendants' failure in previous suit to plead that plaintiff was not next reversioner does not bar that plea in subsequent suit.

In a previous suit brought by the plaintiff as next reversioner against a Hindu widow and against transferees from her, the widow and those transferees had failed to adopt the plea that the plaintiff was not the next reversioner. Subsequently the sons of the plaintiff in the previons suit brought another suit against the widow and transferees of some other portions of the estate from her.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Omission to plead.

Held, that the defendants in the subsequent suit were not debarred from raising the plea that the plaintiffs in that suit were not the next reversioners. 19 A. L. J. 749 Dist. (Boys and Ashworth, JJ.) KALI CHARAN SINGH v. BAGESHRA KUNWARI.

23 A. L. J. 653 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 585.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Prior suit in ejectment—Enhancement agreement—Dismissal of suit—Subsequent suit in ejectment—Plea of occupancy right.

In an ejectment suit the Court held that the defendant was entitled to remain in possession for 5 years from the date of a certain enhancement agreement. A fresh suit for ejectment was brought against the defendant after the expiry of 5 years and he pleaded that he had acquired occupancy rights by exchange. Held, that in the former suit the defendant had either failed to set up his rights under the exchange or if he had set them up he had failed to prove them. In either case the prior decision operated as res judicata in the latter suit and no occupancy rights could be claimed. (Burn, J. M.) MOHAN v. BHANWAR SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 119 (Rev.).

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Omission to plead.

In a suit filed on the Original Side of the High Court against the defendant for rents collected by him on behalf of the plaintiffs, the defendant set up a counter-claim in which he prayed for a declaration that he was a monthly tenant of plaintiff at Rs. 185 per mensem and for an injunction restraining the plaintiffs from preventing the defendant's sub-tenants from paying rent to him. The High Court dismissed the plaintiff's suit and granted the declaration and injunction prayed for by the defendant. Plaintiffs subsequently filed a suit claiming arrears of rent at the rate of Rs. 185 per mensem and the defendant pleaded that he was liable to pay only the standard rent of Rs. 150 per mensem under the Bombay Rent Act. Held, that the defendant having waived the benefit of the Rent Act in the previous counter-claim and given up his right and obtained a declaration on that footing was barred by res judicata from setting up the plea under the Rent Act. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) FATMABAI v. FRAMROZ. 70 I. C. 103 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1281 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 145.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Suit in ejectment—Prior suit for possession between same parties—Dimissal of—Form of claim different—Effect of.

Properties belonging to X were in the possession of Y, a relation. After the death of X and Y, the plaintiff claiming to be the reversionary heir of X, sued in ejectment the defendants, who were in possession after the death of Y. That suit was dismissed, and thereupon a second suit was instituted by the plaintiff to recover the same properties from the same defendants on the ground that he was the heir of Y.

Held, that suit was barred under S. 11, Explanation IV, Civil Procedure Code, as the plaintiff might and ought to have put forward both his titles in the prior suit. (Phillips, J.) RAVIPATI RAMAIAH v. LAKSHMI NARAYANAN. 49 M. L. J. 701.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Omission by judgment-debtor to challenge liability, where it does not affect decree-holder's position creates no estoppel.

Omission to raise objections where it in no way affects the position of the decree-holder does not estop the judgment-debtor from contesting his liability when he has become aware of his legal position (Martineau, J.) GURANDITTA v. FIRM GURDASMAL.

7 Lah. L.J. 343 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 552.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Partition.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Subject-matter not the same—Effect.

Where in a suit for rent by the purchaser at an auction sale of an undivided share in a house against another sharer the other sharer's absence of a transferable interest was not pleaded, the point will be res judicata in a subsequent suit for possession. The fact that the actual subject-matter in the two suits is not the same does not affect the question. (Campbell, J.) THAKUR DAS v. BRIJ LAL. 73 I. C. 457 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 423.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Omission to plead available ground of defence.

Where a prior suit for declaration had been decreed in the presence of the defendant who did not urge either of the pleas which he now put forward and which if proved would have been sufficient to defeat the prior suit, the decision in the prior suit operates as res judicata and the defendant could not raise again the pleas which he had omitted to put forward on the prior occasion. (Le Rossignol and Harrison, JJ.) NABI BAKSH v. MUHAMMAD SALAM ULLAH.

5 Lah. L. J. 251 : 72 I.C. 91 : 24 P. W. R. 1923 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 83.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead—Minor defendant not pleading want of proper representation—Res judicata.

In a suit by a minor to set aside a decree and a sale in execution on the ground that the minor was not represented in the suit, it was found that the minor had previously sued through his next friend to set aside the execution sale and had failed in the previous suit. Held, that the ground on which the present suit was based, viz., that the minor was not properly represented in suit in which the decree was passed, was a ground that might and ought to have been put forward in the previous suit, and that not having been done, the decision in the previous suit constituted res judicata under Expln. IV to S. 11 of the C.P. Code. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) YEZZU MALLAYYA v. PONNAMMA.

46 M. L. J. 291 : 47 Mad. 476 : 34 M. L. T. 295 : 77 I. C. 628 : 19 L. W. 410 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 608.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead.

When the plaintiff sued the judgment-debtor for specific performance of the contract to sell, it was open to the latter to plead that the agreement was void because the property was under attachment or in the hands of the Collector at the time. Explanation IV of S. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code will bar him from taking that plea in a subsequent suit and it will equally bar the appellant who claims under him and is litigating under the same title. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) AMOLAK RAO v. MAHIPATRAO.

A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 81.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Omission to plead—In issue—Failure to set up plea open.

Where the defendants in a suit fail to set up a plea which was open to them, it must be deemed to have been decided by necessary implication against them and is res judicata in subsequent execution proceedings. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) LAWRENCE, PHILLIPS & CO. v. NAZARATH. 78 I. C. 806 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 86.

Might and Ought—Partition.

——S. 11, Expln. IV and O. 2, R. 2—Might and ought—Partition—First suit for partition of some items of family properties—Whether a subsequent suit for other items maintainable—Properties lying in different jurisdictions.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Might and Ought—Relief not claimed.

Where one suit for partition of some of the joint family properties was brought and disposed of another suit for partition of the remaining properties does not lie even though the properties comprised in the latter suit are within the jurisdiction of a District Munsif other than the one in whose Court the prior suit was brought There is nothing in Ss. 16 and 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure to give a person power to bring two suits in two Courts for the partition of properties under different jurisdictions so as to contravene the principle involved in S.11, Expln. IV and O.2, R.2 of the Code. A suit for partition of joint family property is a comprehensive ascertainment of the assets including immoveable properties belonging to the family and the liabilities to be satisfied out of those assets: and it is settled law that only one suit for partition would lie. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) BANKARA BASAVANA GOWD v BANKARA DODDA LINGAPPA. 44 M. L. J. 652 : (1923) M. W. N 294 : 72 I. C. 430 · 17 L. W. 740 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 584.

Might and Ought—Relief not claimed.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Relief not claimed—Suit to set aside sale on ground of non-receipt of consideration—Court finding that consideration was partly paid—Subsequent suit for balance of purchase money is not barred.

Where, to ask for a certain relief in a suit would embarrass the trial of the suit or would place the plaintiff in a false position, the plaintiff will not be bound to ask for that relief in the same suit but can bring another suit for the purpose.

In the previous suit, the plaintiff asked for the setting aside of a sale deed executed by her on the ground that she had not received any consideration therefor. The Court found that she had received a part of the consideration money but held that on her returning the same within a certain time she was entitled to get back the property. The plaintiff then brought another suit for the recovery of the balance of the purchase money after deducting the sum which she had been held to have received.

Held, the subsequent suit was not barred by limitation. (Mukerjee and Boys, JJ.) KANDHAIYA SINGH v. KUNDAN. 87 I.C. 257 : 23 A. L. J. 461 : 47 All. 561 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 486.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Relief not claimed—Suit for specific performance of a contract of sale—Relief as to possession need not be asked—Specific Relief Act, S. 42.

In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale though a claim for possession might be made it is not obligatory upon the plaintiff to make such a claim. Under S. 54 of the Transfer of Property Act, the contract for sale of immoveable property of itself creates no interest or charge upon the immoveable property, and until the claim for specific performance is decreed in favour of the plaintiff it cannot be said that he is entitled to possession, though for the sake of convenience, to avoid multiplicity of suits, it might be open to the plaintiff to make a claim for possession in the same suit (Shah, A.C.J. and Kincaid, J.) KRISHNAJI BALAJI HAVAL v. SANGAPPA MURIGAPPA WANGI. 27 Bom. L. R. 42 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 181.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Relief not claimed.

Where a Subordinate Judge not only dismissed the suit of a plaintiff for possession by partition but also granted the defendant a decree for pre-emption and the plaintiffs appealed only against the dismissal of their own suit and the lower Court granted a decree in their favour, held, that the decree for pre-emption stood, as it was not appealed against and the question of title was directly and substantially in issue in the pre-emption case, it was res judicata as between the parties and the plaintiffs and therefore the decree in favour of plaintiffs given by the lower appellate Court is invalid. (Leslie Jones and Wilberforce, JJ.) MAHAMMAD JAN v. DULICHAND. 74 I. C. 533 : 3 Lah. L. J. 473.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Relief not claimed—Payment under decree—Suit for declaration of right—Subsequent payment—Fresh suit—No bar.

Defendant obtained a decree on a mortgage and the judgment-debtor paid half the decree amount into court. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendant for a declaration that he was entitled to a moiety of the amount paid into Court and obtained a decree. Subsequently the judgment-debtor paid the remaining decree amount into Court and thereupon the plaintiff brought a suit for declaration of his right to a moiety of that amount. Held, that the plaintiff's right to a moiety of the amount was conclusively decided by the prior suit and that the subsequent suit was not barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code, inasmuch as the plaintiff could not have sued for a share of further payments which might or might not be made. (Pullan, A. J. C.) LALTOO v. BAJRANGI LAL. 10 O. & A. L. R. 574 : 28 O. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 303.

Might and Ought—Scope of the rule.

——S. 11, Expln. IV—Might and ought—Scope of the rule—Separate suits for possession and mesne profits against same defendants—Maintainability of.

Where a plaintiff sued for possession of lands only, when he might have joined in the same action a claim for mesne profits and damages, it is open to him to bring a subsequent suit against same defendants for the profits which became payable before the institution of the former suit and which might have been included in such suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) RAMACHANDRA ADARAM v. LODHA GOURI. 26 Bom. L. R. 288 : 80 I. C. 259 (1). A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 368.

——S. 11—Might and ought—Scope of the rule.

Before any argument can be advanced on the basis of Expln. IV, it must be shown that the matter sought to be concluded, not only might have been a ground of attack or defence but that it ought to have been so made. (Dass and Adami, JJ.) RAMAN CHOUKEY v. BACHA MISIR. 60 I. C. 393 : 2 Pat. L. T. 285.

Miscellaneous Proceedings.

——S. 11—Miscellaneous proceedings—Gujarat Talukdars' Act (Bombay Act VI of 1838), S. 16—No res judicata applies.

The decision of the District Court under S. 16 of the Act does not bar a regular suit on the principle of res judicata. 30 Bom. 220 Approved. (Macleod, C.J. Pratt and Crump, JJ.) AMARSANGJI DUNGARJI v. DEEPASANGJI RAVABHAT. 49 Bom. 442 : 87 I. C. 588 : 27 Bom. L. R. 345 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 241 (F. B).

——S. 11—Miscellaneous proceedings—Order under S. 47.

Decision that order on application to set aside execution sale is under S. 47 is binding on the parties so far as the proceedings taken on that application are concerned. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GADIGAPPA v. SHIDAPPA. 48 Bom. 638 : 26 Bom. L. R. 817 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 495.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Miscellaneous Proceedings.

——— S. 11 and Sch. II, paras. 20 and 21—Miscellaneous proceedings—Arbitration—Award order, refusing to file—If res judicata in a suit to enforce award.

Proceedings under paras. 20 and 21 of Sch. II to the Code are not proceedings in a suit and therefore an application to file an award, which is refused, is not res judicata in a suit to enforce the award. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) RAJMAL GIRDHARLAL v. MAMTI SHIVRAM. 22 Bom. L. R. 1377 : 59 I. C. 755 : 45 Bom. 329.

——— S. 11—Miscellaneous proceedings—Interlocutory order—Finality of.

The validity of an order made at one stage out of a litigation unless forthwith challenged by an appropriate proceeding in a superior tribunal is conclusive between the parties and cannot be questioned or collaterally attacked at a later stage. 2 I.A. 283, Foll. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA SASHIKANTA v. RAJA SHARAT CHANDRA. 70 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 415.

——— S. 11 and O. 21, R. 66—Miscellaneous proceedings—Omission to appear and settle terms does not bar plea that property was not liable to attachment.

Mere non-attendance of the non-applicant to appear for settling terms does not estop him from contending that the property was not liable to attachment in execution. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTI v. KANDASAMI GOUNDAN. 45 M. L. J. 346 : 46 Mad. 768 : (1923) M. W. N. 571 : 74 I. C 155 : 18 L. W. 757 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 1 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 11 and 47, O. 21, R. 90—Miscellaneous proceedings—Application under O. 21. R. 90 rejected as being too late—Defence, plea of invalidity of sale— Res judicata.

Where a sale certificate was given in respect of lands not included in the decree and an application by the defendant under O. 21, R. 90 to set aside the sale was rejected on the ground that it was too late, held, in a suit by the auction-purchaser for possession of the property that the defendant was not barred by res judicata from raising the contention that the sale was invalid and that S. 47 was no bar to the defendant's plea being maintained. (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) MUNSHI CHINA DANDUSI v. MUNSHI PEDDA TATTIAH. 14 L. W. 424 : (1921) M.W. N. 536 : 70 I. C. 303 : 41 M. L. J. 261.

——— S. 11—Miscellaneous proceedings—Interlocutory order.

A point finally adjudicated upon at a previous stage cannot be reopened. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SURAJ PRASAD PANDAY v. SOMRA MAHTON. 68 I, C. 903 : 2 Pat. L. T. 648.

Parties and Representatives.

——— S. 11—Parties—Suit for determination of rent in Revenue Court—Finding that defendants held under a third person and not under plaintiff—Suit against third person for recovery of possession is not barred.

Where the previous suit before the revenue Court was a suit brought by the plaintiff for the determination of the amount of rent to be paid by third parties on the allegation that these third parties were his exproprietary tenants, and they replied that they did not base their tenancy upon an agreement with the plaintiff but that they were holding from S who was a tenant of the plaintiff, and S intervened and took the same position. Held : that it was not necessary for the purpose of the decision of that suit to determine whether S was a benamidar of the plaintiff and therefore that finding to that effect was not res judicata in a subsequent suit by the plaintiff against S for possession. (Stuart and Daniels, JJ.) SHANKER KURMI v. MOHAMMAD MOGIM ALI. 88 I. C. 927 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 77.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

——— S. 11—Parties — Pre-emption suit—Vender and pre-emptor were rival pre-emptors in previous suit —Interpretation of wajib-ul-arz in previous suit is binding in later suit.

The present plaintiff and defendant were parties to a previous suit in which they figured as rival pre-emptors. In that suit a certain interpretation of the wajib-ul-arz was adopted.

Held, that that interpretation was binding between the parties in the later suit in which one of them was the vendee and the other was the pre-emptor. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) JAGAT NARAIN v. NAGESHWAR PRASAD. 6 L. R. A. 296 (Civ.) : 88 I. C. 133 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 663.

——— S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decision by Revenue Court.

A decision by a Court recovering thakkavat arrears that rent was not paid by the sub-tenant to the tenant in proceedings for sale of the tenure to recover takkavi paid to the tenant is not res judicata in a subsequent suit by the purchaser against the sub-tenant for the recovery of the rent payable by the sub-tenant. (Mukerjee, J.) SOBHA RAM v. RAM PRASAD. 5 L. R. A. 230 (Civ.) : 78 I. C. 373 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 910.

——— S. 11—Parties and representatives—Assignee before suit is not barred by decision against assignor.

N a minor on attaining majority repudiated a mortgage of his property executed by his mother S in favour of K as his certificated guardian and himself mortgaged a portion of the property to D. K brought a suit against N and S for a declaration that his mortgage was binding on N and obtained a decree. He then brought a suit for sale on the mortgage.

Held, (1) that D who claimed under N was entitled to repudiate the mortgage of K ; (2) that the decision in the declaratory suit operated as res judicata in the mortgage suit and was binding on all persons claiming through him under transfers made after the suit but not on D because the mortgagee rights of D having come into existence before the declaratory decree were not affected by it and the property could only be sold in execution of decree on K's mortgage subject to these rights. (Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerjee, JJ.) KISHORI RAMANJI v. DULEY RAM. 22 A. L. J. 155 : 5 L. R. A. 77 (Civ) : 78 I. C. 226 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 474.

——— S. 11—Parties—Auction-purchaser — Execution sale—Incumbrances—Notification of.

Purchaser is not estopped from questioning consideration for incumbrances though they were notified in the proclamation. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. LALLU. 20 A L. J. 722 : L. R. 3 A. 500 : 44 A. 714 : 68 I. C. 790 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 443 (2).

——— S. 11—Parties and representatives.

A decision in a former suit, unless tainted by fraud or procured by undue influence, against the predecessor-in-title of the plaintiff will be binding on him. (Banerji, J.) MUHAMMAD AHMED v. ZAHUR AHMED. 44 All. 334 : 20 A. L. J. 193 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 19.

——— S. 11—Parties and representatives — Prior suit against four persons—Plea that some other persons were also joint tenants—Dismissal for default—Suit against all persons subsequently—Maintainability of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

The plaintiffs sued to eject six defendants describing themselves as occupancy tenants, and defendants holding without consent and without payment of rent. The defendants claimed that they were occupancy tenants jointly with the plaintiffs and they pleaded res judicata arising from a suit previously decided. In 1921 plaintiffs had brought a similar case against four of the defendants who made similar objections and added that the other two persons now impleaded were also joint in the cultivation. After some evidence had been recorded plaintiffs absented themselves and the suit was dismissed for default. Held, that the suit did not constitute res judicata as the defendants in the subsequent suit were not the same as in the previous case. (Fremantle, S. M and Burn, J. M.) HARGU LAL v. MUNSHI. L. R 5 A. 329 (Rev.).

——S. 11, Expl. VI — Parties and representatives—Res judicata—Litigation between a reversioner and a Hindu widow, how far binding on another reversioner.

The decision, favourable or otherwise, in a suit by a reversioner in the life-time of a Hindu widow to get rid of a common apprehended danger to the interests of the general body of reversioners, affects the reversioners as a body, and bars a fresh suit by another reversioner on the same cause of action, such a fresh suit being covered exactly by Explanation VI to section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure. L. R. 42 I. A. 125 ; 38 Mad. 406 ; 29 I. C. 291 ; 9 Suth. W. R. 505 509 ; L. R. 43 I. A. 207 ; 39 Mad. 634. 1 O. W. N. 640 ; L. R. 51 I. A. 381 ; 82 I. C 962 ; 47 M. L. J. 824 ; 1924 P. C. 247 ; 21 L. W. 295 relied on. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) MATA PRASAD v. NAGESHAR SAHAI. 3 O. W. N. 1 : L. R. 6 P. C. 195 : 52 I. A. 398 · A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 272. (P. C.)

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Parties and representatives—Suit by manager of joint Hindu family—Binding effect of.

As the manager of a Hindu family represents all the members of the family, they are all bound by the result of a litigation conducted by him unless there is fraud or collusion. No question of negligence will arise in such a case as in the case of the guardian of a minor. (Sulaiman, J.) RAM RATAN v. DURGA KOERI. 89 I. C. 120 : L. R. 6 A. 545.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decision against one reversioner not resjudicata against another.

A decision against one reversioner is not res judicata against another inasmuch as no one reversioner claims through another. (Rafique and Stuart, JJ.) DARBARI LAL v. GOBIND RAM. 19 A. L. J. 514 : 63 I. C. 524 : 43 All. 558.

——S. 11—Parties and their representatives—Prior suit by mortgagee for possession—Title of mortgagor found—Subsequent suit for redemption.

In a suit for possession by the mortgagee the title of the mortgagor was disputed by a third party but found against. In a later suit for redemption, the son of the third party again disputed the title. Held, the decision in the prior suit was res judicata. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BAPUJI RAO RAOJI RAO v. RAGUNATH RAO 74 I. C. 285 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 299.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Suit against a person setting up title of a third person—Subsequent suit impleading that person—Prior decision if a bar.

A sued B for a declaration that he was entitled to receive rent at a certain rate from him and that B was a tenant under C and bound to pay rent to A as part of the settlement between them. In a prior rent suit by A against B the latter had set up that he held the land not under A but under C, who was not a party to that suit. The prior suit had been dismissed. Held, that the decision in the prior suit was no bar to the trial of the issue as to B's liability for rent. 26 C. 428 Foll. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) GOPINATH v. BHAJA HARI DAS. 68 I. C. 472 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 327 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

—— S. 11—Parties and representatives—Proceedings against benamidar binds—Real owner — Res judicata.

In a proceeding by or against the benamidar the person beneficially entitled is affected by the rules of res judicata. (Moti Sagar and Martineau, JJ.) NANAK CHAND v. MUHAMMAD KHAN. 75 I. C. 1048 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 702.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Litigating under the same title—Decision against defendant in individual capacity does not bar suit in representative capacity.

Where in the former suit the defendants were impleaded in their representative capacity but, were proceeded against in their individual rights the decision in the suit does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit against the defendants as representing the community (Broadway and Abdul Qader, JJ.) SITARAM v. GHANNO. 69 I. C. 528 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 275.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Suit against joint Hindu family—All the members bound by the judgment.

Where a person obtains an ex parte decree against the managers of a joint Hindu family business, the junior members cannot subsequently sue for a declaration of their immunity on the ground that the contract on which the decree was given was a wagering contract. The managers should have raised this plea as defence to the previous suit and their omission operates as res judicata. (Le Rossignol and Harrison, JJ.) RAM RATTAN v. THE FIRM OF HURSUKH ROY. 43 P. L. R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 783: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 26.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives.

So far as plaintiffs were concerned it was held in a previous suit that they had agreed to the alienation which had been for their benefit and could not question it, that they could under no circumstances inherit any of the estate left by the widow and that should they survive her another reversioner would be entitled to take that portion that had been alienated and that portion which had not been sold. Plaintiff brought a subsequent suit to the effect that this sale should not affect his reversionary rights. This was dismissed in 1913. Plaintiffs with his two younger brothers again brought a suit for a portion of the land which was not alienated after the death of the widow ; held, the question is clearly res judicata as between them and the widow and her successors. (Martineau and Harrison, JJ.) MAULA BAKSH v. MT. JIWI. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 556.

——S. 11— Parties and representatives—Judgment-debtor adjudged insolvent—Official Assignee is not a representative of the judgment-debtor.

A prior decision in execution proceedings to which the defendant was party to the effect that the suit property was liable to be attached in execution of a decree against him, does not bind the Official Assignee appointed in consequence of the defendants' insolvency as the Official Assignee cannot be deemed to be the legal representative of the insolvent-defendant within the meaning of S. 11, nor can he be deemed to be litigating under the same title as the defendant. 7 A. 752 Foll. (Phillips, J.) OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. AIYU DIKSHITHAR. 48 M. L. J. 530 : 88 I. C. 85 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 688.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Purchase prior to suit from defendant—Decision is not res judicata in purchaser's favour.

Where a suit by a mortgagee to enforce his mortgage as against a purchaser of the hypotheca was dismissed on the ground that the mortgage had been paid off and where a suit was subsequently filed by the plaintiff to enforce the mortgage against a person who had purchased the hypotheca from the defendants in the previous suit but prior to the institution of that suit. Held, that the decision in the prior suit was not res judicata and did not bar the subsequent suit. 41 M. L. J. 392 Foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) DURAICHAMI TEVAR v. ADIMUTHU NADAN.
47 M. L. J. 728 : 20 L. W. 740 : 84 I. C. 995 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 358.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—A's suit for possession against B dismissed on oath taken by B—Suit by C against A and B dismissed on finding that property belonged to A—Suit by A's heirs against B for partition—Res judicata.

The parties to the suit were Mahomedans. The plaintiffs' father sued for possession of certain lands from his brother. On defendant taking an oath, as agreed, the suit was dismissed. The sister's daughter of the defendant brought a suit for a share of the lands against the defendant but that suit was dismissed on the ground that the land belonged to the plaintiffs' father. On the death of their father, the plaintiffs brought the present suit for recovery of their share of the properties alleging that in the suit by the representatives of his sister, the defendant had wrongly alleged that the properties were exclusively his own. Held, that the decision in the prior suit by the plaintiffs' father was res judicata and that the plaintiffs could not in the face of that decision treat the defendant as a trespasser, or dispute his title to the suit lands. The alternative claim of the plaintiffs that the plaintiffs' father was entitled to a share of the property and not the whole ought to have been put forward in the prior suit and not having been so put forward, the plaintiffs were estopped from claiming the same in the present. The decision in the suit filed by the sister's representatives against the defendant did not wipe off the effect of the decision in the suit by the plaintiffs' father as in that suit the plaintiffs' father and the defendant were both co-defendants. 34 M. L. J. 740 Ref. (Spencer, O. C. J.) MAHOMED ESUF ROWTHER v. SULTAN ABDUL KADER. 47 M. L. J. 20 : 78 I. C. 1055 : 34 M. L. T. 147 : (1924) M. W. N. 569 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 711.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decree against insolvent without impleading Official Receiver is not binding on latter.

Where a person is adjudged an insolvent any decision obtained against him without making the Official Receiver a party to the proceedings will not be binding on him inasmuch as the property is vested in the Receiver. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) NIMMAGADDA VENKATESWARALU v. BODAPATI LINGAYYA.
47 Mad. 633 : 20 L.W. 63: (1924) M. W. N. 491 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 689.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decree in suit by Hindu widow—Reversioners when barred—Reversioners impleaded in first Court but not in appeal where judgment in favour of the widow was reversed—Effect of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

To a suit by a Hindu widow for the recovery of the property of her husband from a person who claimed to be his validly adopted son, persons, who were presumptive reversionary heirs of the estate, were made parties defendants. The first Court found against the adoption and decreed the suit. The alleged adopted son preferred an appeal making the widow alone a party respondent. The appellate Court found in favour of the adoption and dismissed the widow's suit. In a subsequent suit filed after the death of the widow by the reversioners who were parties defendants to the prior suit against the adopted son: Held, that whatever might have been the character in which plaintiffs were impleaded in the prior suit, inasmuch as the widow represented the estate in the appeal therein, the decision in the appeal was res judicata in favour of the adopted son, there being no suggestion of fraud or collusion between the widow and the adopted son in the proceedings in the suit or appeal. The expression "special cause" referred to in the Shivaganga Cases, 9 M. I. A. 539, must be ejusdem generis with unfairness or irregularity in the proceedings to which explicit reference is made. 43 B. 869 Ref. (Oldfield, and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) NACHIKALAI v. AIYAKANNU. 43 M. L. J. 95 : 16 L. W. 94 : (1922) M. W. N. 418 : 31 M. L. T. 129 (H.C.) : 70 I. C. 387 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 233.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Alienee after preliminary but before final decree—Lis pendens.

An alienee pendente lite, after preliminary decree but before final decree, is bound by the decree and cannot be allowed to re-open questions already decided in the suit nor can he sue for the establishment of his title. (Baker, J. C.) LACHIRAM v. BHOLU.
82 I. C. 452 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 132.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Meaning of.

The title by which the parties to the subsequent suit claim must for purposes of res judicata be subsequent to the commencement of the former suit because transferees prior to the date of such a suit are not bound by a decision in that suit. The words "between parties under whom they or any of them claim" cover a case where the latter litigant occupies by succession the same position as the former litigant. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) TULARAM v. MT. SUMRATI.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 422.

——S. 11—Parties or representatives.

Defendants got certain property attached and sold in execution of a money decree and themselves purchased it. Plaintiffs sued for possession on the ground that the sale was not binding on them inasmuch as an injunction was issued to the Munsiff to stay the execution proceedings and the Munsiff without waiting for the Subordinate Judge's order cancelling the injunction confirmed the sale, that when he applied for a review of the order confirming the sale, the application was rejected with an order that a regular suit was necessary. Held, the question whether suit can lie is not res judicata as the defendants were not parties to or heard in the proceedings in which the order was passed. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BRIJMOHAN SINGH v. KASTURCHAND. 68 I. C. 693 : A.I.R. 1922 Nag. 189.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decree against mortgagor without impleading the mortgagee as a party, whether binding on the mortgagee—Mortgagor's and mortgagee's estate—Distinction.

Upon a mortgage having been created in respect of a fee simple the legal estate at once vests in the mortgagee and the mortgagor is left with nothing more than an equitable interest which is popularly described as equity of redemption. Such a mortgagor does not possess any such estate as would enable him sufficiently to represent the mortgagee in a suit instituted after the mortgage and a decree passed in such a suit will not bind the mortgagee. 40 Bom. 679 followed. Therefore, where a superior proprietor obtained a decree for arrears of rent against the original owner of under-proprietary rights at a rental which was computed with reference to the annual gross income of the tenure but did not make his mortgagee a party to such suit, Held, that in a subsequent suit for rent at the same rate against the mortgagee who had purchased the property in an auction sale held in execution of the decree passed on the basis of the mortgage, the rate of rent determined in the previous suit to which the mortgagee was not a party was not res judicata against him as the mortgagor could not represent the legal estate of the mortgagee which was absolutely defined and distinct from that of the mortgagor's interest. (Ibid.) (Hasan and Gokaran Nath, JJ.) MOHAMMAD JAIMUR KHAN v. RAGHUNATH SINGH. 3 O. W. N. 55.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Parties and Representatives.

——S. 11—Parties—Discharged defendant is not bound by the decree.

Where in a previous suit certain defendants are discharged owing to a compromise between the plaintiffs of that suit and the contesting defendants the compromise decree does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit between the plaintiffs and the alienees from the discharged defendant. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) DUNYA SINGH v. GANGA DHAR.
2 O. W. N. 684 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 650.

——S. 11—Parties—Defence open to but not raised by guardian—Minor is not precluded from raising that defence.

The omission of the guardian to raise any other defence on behalf of his ward which he might and ought to have raised does not preclude the ward from raising that defence in a subsequent suit, otherwise the minor would be made to suffer for the laches of his guardian. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) RAMESHWAR BAKHSH SINGH v. RIDH KUER.
A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 633.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Claim through the same person.

There can be no res judicata where the parties in the subsequent litigation ranged on the opposite sides claim through the same person. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) MT. RAJ DULARI v. MT. CHANDESAR DEI. 78 I. C. 65 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 164.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Decision against mortgagee is not binding on mortgagor.

A mortgagor does not claim under his mortgagee and a decision against a mortgagee in a suit to which the mortgagor was not a party does not operate as res judicata against the mortgagor or his successors-in-interest. (Burn, J. M.) RAJA BHAGWAN BAKSH SINGH v. THAKUR DIN MISIR. L. R. 5 O. 118.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Previous suit with third party.

The question whether or not the present plaintiffs-respondents had acquired by prescription the right to a flow of water from the defendant-appellant's land was not decided in previous suit. All that was decided was that the defendant had not at that time acquired the prescriptive right upon which the claim for damages was based. Held, if the defendant with the consent of third party should make a cutting through the middle of the bund so as to let the water flow on to the latter's land, it is difficult to see how anything decided in the previous suit would give the plaintiffs any right to object. Plaintiffs could not maintain an action merely because the rights of a third party may possibly have been infringed. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MT. SARBAN v. PHUDO SAHU.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Prior Decision.

4 P. L. T. 81 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 305 : 69 I.C. 947 : 2 P. 110 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 65.

——S. 11—Parties and representatives—Auction purchaser—Execution of money-decree—Decision between decree-holder and judgment-debtor if binding on auction purchaser.

An auction-purchaser who purchases in execution of a money decree is bound as between himself and the decree-holder by any previous litigation between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor whose interests he has purchased. S. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code applies to the facts of the case. 22 C. 909 ; 10 C. L. J. 150 Foll. 14 M. I. A. 101 ; 7 Cal. 107 (P.C.) Dist. 14 Cal. 401 Diss. The representative of the judgment-debtor seems to be on the same footing as the person claiming under him. A person claims through or under another when he derives his title through that other either by assignment, inheritance or succession or when he holds a subordinate title granted by the other, and except in cases specially provided for by statute or common law, he can have no better title than the person through or under whom he claims. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) KALI DAYAL v. UMESH PRASAD. 1 Pat. 174 : 67 I. C. 266 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 33 : 3 P. L. T. 506 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 63.

Plea of.

——S. 11—Plea of—Party affected—Must be given notice and opportunity.

The party who is sought to be affected by the bar of res judicata should have notice of the point which is likely to be decided against him and should have an opportunity of putting forward his contentions against such a decision. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v. KANDASAMI GOUNDAN. 45 M. L. J 346 : 46 M. 768 : (1923) M. W. N. 571 : 18 L. W. 757 : 74 I. C. 155 : A I. R. 1924 Mad. 1 (F. B.).

Prior Decision.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Suit by heirs against widow for possession dismissed for non-payment of dower-debt ordered by Court to be paid by plaintiff to widow—Second suit for possession by the heirs is not barred.

The heirs of a deceased Mahomedan sued his widow for immediate possession of his property held and retained by the widow in lieu of dower, on the ground that her dower-debt had already been satisfied. They also claimed mesne profits for some period before and during suit. The suit was decreed on condition that the plaintiffs were to pay to the widow a certain amount as the balance of dower, within a certain time. The sum was not paid and the suit thus stood dismissed. The widow thereupon gifted away the property mentioning in the gift-deed that she had become absolute owner of the property.

Held, that the effect of the non-payment by plaintiff in the prior suit had not the effect of conferring absolute estate on the widow and the decision in the prior suit did not extinguish plaintiff's right to claim possession at any future time. (Lord Atkinson.) MT. MAINA BIBI v. CHAUDHRI VAKIL AHMAD.
48 M. L. J. 667 : 52 I. A. 145 : 2 O. W. N. 180 : 47 All. 250 : 27 Bom. L. R. 796 : 23 A. L. J. 115 : L. R. 6 P. C. 25 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 63 (P. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Prior Decision.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Executable decree precludes fresh suit for same relief.

Where the terms of the decree were as follows:—"It is ordered that this suit be decreed in the terms of the award annexed herewith and where the terms of the award were:—" The parties will collect rents and other profits and each of the two parties will deliver respectively to each other all the zemindari papers which they may have in their possession."

Held, that it was an executable decree and precluded a fresh suit for the possession of the properties concerned by one of the parties. (Lord Dunedin.) SASI SEKHARESWAR RAY v. LALIT MOHAN MAITRA.

48 M. L. J. 20 : 52 I. A. 79 : 52 Cal. 314 : 29 C.W.N. 633 : L. R. 6 P.C. 23 : 27 Bom. L. R. 166 : 21 L. W. 286 : 23 A. L. J. 717 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 34 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Prior decision—Rent decree—Puttah and Muchilikas—Question of—Madras Estates Land Act, S. 52 (3).

Where the appellants contended that the previous judgments are res judicata in the suits as they have fully gone into the question of custom relating to the different stipulations in the puttah, Held, their Lordships cannot sustain on legal grounds the plea of res judicata as suggested. The doctrine of res judicata is not in question, but the application of the special rules stated in S. 52 (3), Madras Estates Land Act, under which Muchilikas decreed for any revenue year remain in force, until the beginning of the year for which fresh ones are exchanged or decreed, and there is no reason for restricting the scope of the general reference to muchilikas decreed to those decreed by any particular description of Court (Lord Shaw) RATHAKRISHNA AYYAR v. SUNDER SWAMY IYER.

43 M. L. J 323 : 49 I. A. 211 : 45 Mad. 475 : 27 C. W. N. 1 : 20 A. L. J. 937 : 36 C. L. J. 450 : 16 L. W. 18 : 74 I. C. 584 : 31 M.L.T. 31 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 257 (P. C.).

——S. 11—Prior decision—Ejectment suit—Cause of action accrues form year to year—Civil P. C., O. 23 R. 1.

The right to sue for ejectment accrues from year to year, and therefore the withdrawal of a previous suit for ejectment does not bar a subsequent suit for ejectment against the same party. (Sulaiman, J.) KUMARI v. ADIT MISIR. 89 I. C. 379 : A. I. R 1926 All. 34.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Objections to application—Personal decree—Omission to raise objections—Effect of.

A mortgage decree-holder applied for a personal decree under O. 34, R. 6 of the C. P. Code. The judgment-debtor objected that the application was barred by limitation and that the accounts furnished by the decree-holder were incorrect. The application was dismissed as barred by limitation. On appeal the appellate Court was of the contrary opinion and remanded the application for disposal on the merits. The judgment-debtor subsequently raised other objections to the maintainability of the application for personal decree. Held, that as the application to which the latter objections were taken was the same as that to which the previous objections were taken, the rule of res judicata did not apply to the case and the judgment-debtor was not debarred from taking the subsequent objections. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) SANTI LAL v. RAJ NARAIN. L. R. 5 A. 565 : 82 I. C. 65 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 804.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Decision not appealed from—Effect of—Reversal in another proceeding.

Where a decision is not appealed from but it is in effect reversed by the order made by the High Court in an appeal from another proceeding in the same suit, it does not operate as res judicata. (Stuart and Ryves, JJ.) KESHRI v. BHAWANI RAI.

76 I. C. 473 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 456.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Subsequent inconsistent decision—Later decision to prevail.

Where there are two inconsistent decisions it is the later decision that operates as res judicata. So held with reference to an adjudication in the course of an execution proceedings. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) LALITA PRASAD v. SURAJ KUMAR. 44 All. 319 : L. R. 3 A. 111 : 20 A. L. J. 185 : 65 I. C. 877 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 145.

——Ss. 11 and 47—Prior decision—Mortgages—Redemption—Provision in preliminary decree that if not redeemed in a certain time all rights will cease—Failure—Effect.

Where a mortgagor is given a preliminary decree for redemption on condition that if he does not pay the amount within a certain time, he would be debarred from all rights to redeem, and if he fails so to redeem he cannot bring a second suit to redeem. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) KUSHABA v. BUDHAJI.

46 Bom. 348 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1176 : 64 I. C. 1004 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 127.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Redemption previously decreed—Right to redeem reserved—Subsequent suit for redemption.

Where the decree in a suit for redemption of a mortgage provided for payment by instalments by the mortgagor of the mortgage money in default of which the mortgagee was to remain in possession in lieu of interest, and also reserved the right to redeem, a subsequent suit for redemption is not barred. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ABDUL RAJAK ALLISHA MULANI v. VAMAN GANESH PADLIKAR.

45 Bom. 1335 : 63 I. C. 902 : 23 Bom. L. R. 593.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Rent Suit—Same parties, same subject-matter and same defence in both suits—First suit is res judicata.

The judgment in a former rent suit operates as res judicata between the parties if the parties are the same, the areas of the lands are the same and the defence is the same, namely, a third party holding certain portion of the whole land. 21 Cal. 236 Dist. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA v GOUR MOHAN.

90 I. C. 756 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 369.

——S. 11 and O. 23, R. 1, or O. 6 R. 1—Prior decision—Redemption suit—Claim for mesne profits withdrawn—Suit for mesne profits from payment under decree to delivery of possession is not barred—Civil P. C., S. 11.

Mesne profits from the date subsequent to the decree when the money is paid into Court by the mortgagor cannot be claimed in the redemption-suit itself.

Where in a redemption suit a claim for mesne profits is withdrawn, a subsequent suit, for mesne profits from the date of payment after the decree up to the date of delivery of possession is not barred by O. 23, R. 1 or O. 6 R. 1 or S. 11 of the Civil P. C. 14 C. W. N. 1001 Foll. (Rankin and Mukerji, JJ.) SUDHANYA KUMAR BOSE v. SASI BALA BOSE.

85 I. C. 547 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 178.

——S. 11—Prior decision as to title obtained against a lessor binds tenant at least as a strong piece of evidence.

A decision as to ownership of land obtained by plaintiff, in a former suit against defendant's lessor is at least a strong piece of evidence as against the defendants in a subsequent suit, on the question as to whom the rent is payable. 15 All. 108. Dist.; 28 C. L. J.

223 and 33 Mad. 459, doubted ; 30 Cal. 556 (P. C.) Ref. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) PURNA CHANDRA v. RAMESH CHANDRA.
A. I. R 1925 Cal. 1218.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Previous rent decree without judgment is not res judicata.

A previous decree in a rent suit without the judgment cannot amount to more than a strong piece of evidence regarding the amount of rent realized from year to year. (Newbould, J.) ABDUL KARIM v. PRASANNA KUMAR. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1116.

S. 11—Prior decision—Interlocutory—Pending suit—Order made in the course of—Finality of.

An order made in the course of a suit is final and cannot be retried by the Judge in the course of the same litigation. 48 C. 499 followed. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) IRRANI MUNDLE v. NAIMUDDIN SARDAR. 39 C. L. J. 251 : 81 I. C. 527 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1006.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Probate proceedings.

The order passed on compromise in previous probate proceedings cannot operate as a bar to an application for probate of the same will. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) BROJO LAL BANERJEE v. SHARAJUBALA DEBI. 51 Cal. 745 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 864.

——S. 11—Prior decision unappealable—Additional parties and grounds in second application—No res judicata arises.

Where the previous application was to the lower Court and where the lower Court's order dismissing the application was not open to appeal, and where a fresh application for the same relief was made to the High Court by the previous applicant and another and where such application urged additional ground.

Held, that it was not barred. (Martineau, J.) BEHARI LAL v. SHANKAR DAS. 86 I. C. 246 : 7 L. L. J. 6 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 309.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Redemption—Second suit not barred.

When a plaintiff has obtained a decree for redemption of mortgage by payment into Court of a certain sum within a certain time and when no steps have been taken by the plaintiff towards making such payment and the period fixed elapsed without any payment being made, still a second suit to redeem on payment of the self-same sum is not barred by the rule of res judicata.

The right of redemption could not be extinguished by the preliminary decree and could only be extinguished by a final decree. (Campbell, J.) SUNKA v. JARUN. 75 I. C 919 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 680.

——S. 11—Prior decision—In suit based on non-existent cause of action—Not res judicata.

The decision in a suit which proceeds on a cause of action, which has no existence in the eye of the law, cannot operate as res judicata. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) BUTA SINGH v. JHANDU. 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 49 : 61 I. C. 375 : 3 L. L. J. 211.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Adoption by widow—Suit by reversioner for declaration.

Where a reversioner brought a suit for a declaration that an adoption by a widow is not binding on him and got a decree, the question of relationship is res judicata in a second suit for a declaration that a gift by her is not binding on him. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Leslie Jones, J.) INDRAJ v. RANJI LAL. 59 I. C. 808 : 34 P. W. R. 1921

——S. 11—Prior decision—Father allotting some properties, others remaining undisposed of—Son getting decree declaring the sale not binding on him and for recovery of his share after father's death—Alienee subsequently suing for general partition—Matter is res judicata as regards properties sold but the alienee can get other properties as substitute—Hindu Law—Alienation by father.

A father sold certain properties and some properties were not disposed of by him. After his death his son alleging that the sales made by his father were not binding on him sued for partition and recovery of his share and obtained a decree. After the termination of the litigation, the sons of the alienee sued for a general partition of the properties of the father alleging that the properties left undisposed of by the father were enough to be allotted to the share which the son is entitled to and that the whole of the properties sold to them may be allotted to the father's share and through the father to themselves, and in the alternative they prayed for the allotment of other properties as substitute if the Court held that the properties sold to them could not be allotted to them.

Held : that the matter is res judicata so far as the property sold is concerned and so the first part of the prayer must be disallowed, and further that as it was not in the plaintiff's power to ask for a general partition in the former suit, the suit is competent for allotment to the plaintiffs of other properties as substitute : (Case-law considered). (Phillips and Ramesam, JJ.) SOURIMUTHU v. V. P. PACHIA PILLAI. 49 M. L. J. 679 : 1925 M, W. N. 844 : A. I. R 1926 Mad. 241.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Final decree for sale in mortgage suit cannot bar redemption suit.

In a suit by the mortgagee for sale the question whether the mortgagor has the right to redeem is not put in issue. In such a suit the questions for determination are whether there is a mortgage and what is the amount due to the mortgagee. So, where a final decree for sale is passed in a suit on mortgage, but is not executed for more than 3 years, S. 11 cannot bar a subsequent suit for redemption by the mortgagor. 43 Bom. 334 Foll. (Devadoss, J.) N NAGASAMI IYER v. T. ELLARUGAN A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1191.

——S. 11—Prior decision on the plea of parties being divided from the deceased is res judicata.

Where the parties distinctly put forward the contention that the deceased was divided from them, and on that plea the Court gave a decree against his assets in their hands :

Held, that in the face of that plea and the judgment, it was not open to those parties to contend that they and the deceased were undivided in interest and that they succeeded to his property by survivorship. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) PONNAPPA REDDI v. P. THIRUVENGADA PILLAI. 49 M L. J. 104 : 22 L. W. 455 : (1925) M. W. N. 713 : 90 I. C. 509 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1179.

——S. 11 (4)—Prior decision—Redemption suit—Properties not covered by mortgage included in suit and obtained delivery of in execution of decree—Mortgagee cannot sue on the ground that properties were not included in the mortgage.

Where mortgagor includes certain properties in his suit for redemption and obtains delivery of them in execution of a redemption decree, the mortgagee cannot bring a subsequent suit on the ground that some of the properties so delivered were not comprised in the mortgage and were wrongly delivered, S. 11, cl. 4 is a bar to such suit. 22 All. 442, Dissented from. (Devadoss, J.) U. P. APPALA NAIDU v. U. APPALA NAIDU. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1148.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Rent suit.

As regards rent suits the decision as regards the rent for one year precludes question as to rent for following years. (Devadoss, J.) GOVINDOSS KRISHNADOSS v. P. MANIKYANAYANIM. 82 I. C. 990 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 378.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Prior Decision.

——S. 11—Prior decision as to plaintiff's right of survivorship binds him so as to preclude him from objecting to the opponent being added as legal representative in subsequent proceeding.

Where the brother of a Hindu trustee fails in a suit against the widow of the deceased, wherein he claimed to succeed to the deceased's property by right of survivorship, it is not open to him afterwards to dispute the title of the widow as the legal representative of her husband in other proceedings. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) KOTHANDARAMASWAMI NAIDU v. PAPPAMMAL. 79 I. C. 891 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 218.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Decision in claim proceedings under O. 21, R. 58 not contested—Effect.

The decree-holder in a Small Cause suit applied for attachment of a debt alleged to be due to one K, to the judgment-debtor. Notice of that application was served upon K, as garnishee and also upon the widow of the judgment-debtor as representing his estate. She did not appear but the garnishee appeared and put a counter-statement in which he alleged, that the debt had never been due to the judgment-debtor, that it had been assigned and he had promised to pay the assignee, and that the amount of the debt was not Rs. 350 but Rs. 300. That application came before the District Munsif, the garnishee appearing and the District Munsif passed an order in these words "Attachment is confirmed". In due course the debt was brought to sale and was purchased by the present plaintiff, who was himself the decree-holder. The plaintiff then sued to recover the debt, and the garnishee raised the same defences.

Held, the garnishee not having proceeded, when the claim was decided against him in execution. under O. 21, R. 63, the matter was res judicata. (Schwabe. C. J. and Wallace, J.) SUBBIER v. MOIDEEN PITCHARI. 44 M. L. J. 588 : 17 L. W. 582 : 32 M. L. T. 304 : (1923) M. W. N. 282 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 562.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Effect of, though erroneous—Construction of grant.

In a prior litigation to which the plaintiff was a party it was decided that the question whether the properties in suit were wakf properties must be held in the affirmative by reason of res-judicata owing to a decision in a still prior suit. It was, however, overlooked that the plaintiff was not a party to that prior suit. Held that notwithstanding the mistake, the decision in the prior suit operated as res judicata and that the plaintiff could not raise the question of the wakf character of the suit property again. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) JAGGA ROW BAHADUR GARU v. GONHER BIBI. 17 L. W. 521 : (1923) M. W. N. 347 : 72 I. C. 789 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 545.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Possession, nature of, declared in a previous suit—Res judicata.

A judgment in a prior suit operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit between the same parties or their representatives-in-interest if it decides what was the character of the possession of any person who was a party to that suit, e.g., whether it was then adverse or permissive possession or whether it was separate or joint possession. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SINGARAVELU MUDALIAR v. CHOCKA MUDALIAR. 43 M. L. J. 737 : 16 L. W. 544 : 31 M. L. T. 298 : (1922) M. W. N. 676 : 46 Mad. 525 : 70 I. C. 994 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 88 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 11—Prior Decision.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Not inter partes—Res judicata.

A sued X for a declaration that he was entitled to the Asari Sheriff office and the suit was dismissed on the ground that A should prove his title to the office. A subsequently sued the Government for recovery of money alleged to be due to him as the person entitled to the office of Asari Sheriff. Held, that the suit was not barred by res judicata. Distinction between judgments in rem and judgments in personam considered. 33 M. 483 and 36 M. 141, overruled. (Wallis, C. J., Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) SECY. OF STATE v. SYED AHMED BADSHA SAHIB. 41 M. L. J. 223 : 44 Mad. 778 : 14 L. W. 128 : 67 I. C. 971 : (1921) M. W. N. 576 (F.B.).

——S. 11—Prior decision—Judgment of Revenue Court.

A judgment in a rent suit by the lessee for a term of a Zemindari against the tenant does not bar a subsequent suit by the Zemindar after surrender of the lease though the claim in the latter suit is one for a period covered by the lease.

Per Krishnan, J.—Surrender determines the tenancy and lets in the landlord's rights. (Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) RAJAH OF RAMNAD v. RAMANATHASWAMI. 41 M. L. J. 288 : 44 Mad. 514 : 29 M. L. T. 322 : 63 I. C. 205.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Findings on application.

In a proceeding under a mortgage decree, the assignee decree-holder applied to the Court to be recognised as such and to pass a final decree. The Court dismissed the application holding that no final decree can be passed, as the legal representatives of the deceased deft. were not brought on record within proper time. The present application is therefore made asking for sale of the mortgaged property. Held, that the application is barred on the principle of res judicata. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) KONDU NAGAYYAN CHETTIAR v. SRINIVASA AIYANGAR. 62 I. C. 856 : 14 L. W. 18.

——S. 11—Prior decision.

Where a claim of a third person based on a mortgage is disallowed, and also his suit for declaration of his mortgage rights is dismissed, he cannot enforce, by a regular suit, his rights under the mortgage. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) SINGARIAH CHETTY v. CHINNABI. 40 M. L. J. 7 : 44 Mad. 268 : 12 L. W. 725 : 28 M. L. T. 420 : 60 I. C. 780 : (1921) M. W. N. 33.

——S. 11, Expl. IV—Prior decision—Reduction from plaintiff's claim not claimed in prior suit bars subsequent suit therefor.

The omission by defendant to claim a reduction in the amount for which he is being sued, which reduction the defendant can lawfully claim debars him from suing for the amount subsequently. (Dalal, J. C.) GANESH PRASAD v. JOT SINGH. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 719.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Final decree in redemption suit bars fresh redemption suit.

Where a suit for redemption has been instituted and a decree for redemption has been passed therein but not executed, a subsequent suit is not maintainable for the redemption of the same mortgage. S. 10 would be better applicable as the former suit cannot be deemed to have been taken to a conclusion and must be deemed to be still pending. 25 Mad. 300, and 39 Mad. 896, Foll. 43 Bom. 334, Diss. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. GAYA DIN. 28 O. C. 212 : 87 I. C. 290 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 696.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Prior Decision.

——S. 11—Prior decision.

When the taluqdars had brought their suit for resumption of muafi they had made plaintiffs and defendants 2 and 3 parties to it. Defendant No. 1 however had put in an application claiming as he claimed in this suit to be partner with plaintiffs and defendants 2 and 3. He was made a party but ultimately the decree was given only against plaintiffs and defendants 2 and 3. As regards the defendant No. 1 it was said that his name was not entered in the papers where he was recorded as a sub-tenant only. The question whether he was a partner was pronounced to be one for a Civil Court and he was discharged from the suit.

Held, in plaintiffs' suit, there is no res judicata here. What was decided by the Revenue Court was that the taluqdars were entitled to get the relief they sought from the plaintiffs whom they themselves had named, and who were the only ones entered in the revenue papers. There was a decision that Deft. No. 1 had no independent rights in these plots, but the Court refused to decide whether or not he had any partnership rights. (Simpson, A. J. C.) KHALIL v. MAHOMED ISMAIL. 9 O. L. J. 540 : 74 I. C. 195 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 101.

——S. 11—Prior decision—No finding in previous suit—Effect.

An issue will not be res judicata, if, in the previous suit, there was no real finding. (Hopkins, S. M. and Harrison, J. M.) NARGOBIND v. JWALA PRASAD. 3 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 51.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Wrong decision—Whether res judicata.

A wrong decision in a previous suit bars a subsequent suit. A Settlement Court in deciding the question of title as between a mortgagor and his mortgagee lost sight of the fact that the mortgagor's right of redemption under the deed in suit had been taken away by proper foreclosure proceedings and declared the mortgagee to have acquired full proprietary rights in the property. Held, the decision operated as res judicata. 15 Cal. 800 (P.C.) Dist. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.Cs.) TILAK CHANDA v. SHAMBHU SINGH. 7 O. L. J. 524 : 2 U. P. L R. (J.C.) 163 : 60 I. C. 404 : 23 O. C. 269.

——S. 11—Prior decision—Previous decision that holding was bhauli does not bar later suit for cash rent.

The decision in a previous rent suit that rent was payable as Bhauli rent, does not operate as res judicata in a suit for the rent of the subsequent years at the cash rent system. The previous decision is merely presumptive evidence of the rent of future years and the presumption may be rebutted (Ross, J.) PARMESHWAR PRASAD v. NARSING RAI. 1 P. L. R. 109 : 72 I. C. 138 : A. I.R. 1924 Patna 371.

Question of Law.

——S. 11—Question of law—Question as to construction of documents.

The vendors had failed to deliver possession to the purchaser and he was compelled to bring a suit. The plaintiff based his claim very clearly on his proprietary title as purchaser under the sale deed. The defendants in their written statement did not contest the nature of the deed as drawn, but pleaded however that the contract between the parties had been one of the usufructuary mortgage, and alleged that the plaintiff had fraudulently altered its terms and got a deed drawn up which did not represent the real contract between the parties. The suit was decided in plaintiff's favour. Held, it was doubtful whether this decree would operate as res judicata on the question whether the deed was a sale of mortgage, in a subsequent suit. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) BABU BISHAMBHAR NATH v. MUHAMMAD UBAID ULLAH KHAN. 45 A. 581 : 21 A. L. J. 503 : L. R. 4 A. 433 (Civ.) : 77 I. C. 572 : A. I. R 1923 All. 586.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Representative suit.

——S. 11—Question of law decided in a particular way in previous suit—Law subsequently changed—Decision in the previous suit is not res judicata in a subsequent suit on the same question.

Case must be decided upon law as it stands when the judgment is pronounced, and not upon what the law was at the date of a previous suit ; and if the said law has been altered in the meantime, and the effect of the law has been differently interpreted by the judicial decisions or altered by the statute, the decision on a particular question of law in an earlier suit would not operate as res judicata with regard to the same question in a subsequent suit. For instance, if in a previous suit it was held that a particular rate of interest in a kabuliyat was penal, but the law is subsequently changed, then in a suit for subsequent rent on the same kabuliyat the previous decision is not res judicata. 32 Cal. 749, Foll. 1 C. W. N. 687; 19 C. L. J. 34, and 31 Bom. 128, Dist. (Greaves and Mukerjee, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA v. DUDA MIA. 30 C. W. N. 83 : 87 I. C. 767 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1193.

Representative suit.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Decision between Hindu widow and alleged adopted son regarding the ownership of the estate is binding on reversioners.

A suit brought by widow in possession of the whole estate holding as widow's estate to challenge an alleged adoption is a representative suit and all persons having a common interest (namely, the reversioners in this case) must be deemed to have been represented through her under S. 11, Explanation 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHIB DEO MISRA v. RAM PRASAD. 46 A. 637 : 22 A. L. J. 690 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 79.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Suit against manager of family binds other members.

Where a suit is either brought by or against a joint Hindu family, the other members of the family must be deemed to be parties to the suit through manager. 34 All. 549 ; 34 All. 572 Foll. (Sulaiman, J.) NAGINA RAI v. SANGAM RAI. 81 I.C. 737: A.I.R. 1925 All. 67.

——S. 11—Representative suit—Trustees—Suit by one trustee against others—Suit for protection of trust property.

A decree obtained by one of the trustees on behalf of the trust against the other trustees either for a declaration that the property in dispute was trust property or for rendition of accounts in a suit brought in the interests of the trust or for the protection of the trust preperty is binding as much on the trustees who are parties to the suit as on all persons interested in the trust. 2 I. A. 145, 152 Ref. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) THAKUR SRI GAT ASHRAM NARAINJI v. JAISHTH MADHO ACHARIA. 22 A. L. J. 641 : L. R. 5 A. 410 : 80 I. C. 406 : 46 A. 651 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 504.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Representative suit.

——— S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Binding nature of suit.

Where a suit is instituted in the interests of the whole estate and for the benefit of all persons who might come to inherit it, the decree in the absence of collusion or fraud has the effect of res judicata in a subsequent suit. (Sulaiman, J.) CHHAJU v. GOKUL. 75 I. C. 593 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 338.

——— S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Hindu Law—Alienation by widow—Nearest presumptive reversioner assailing alienation—Subsequent suit after widow's death between actual reversioner and alienee, if operates as res judicata.

A suit by a reversioner for a declaration that an alienation made by a Hindu widow in possession is without legal necessity and inoperative beyond her lifetime, is brought by him not for his personal benefit but in a representative capacity, that is, as representing the whole body of reversioners, for the protection of the estate and to remove an apprehended injury to the common interests of all the reversioners. A decree, in such a suit is, therefore, binding; if obtained after a fair contest and, in the absence of fraud and collusion, not only between the reversioner who brought the suit and the transferee, but also as between the whole body of reversioners on the one hand and the transferee or his representative in-title on the other. This is so, not because one reversioner must, in that case, be deemed to claim title through another but because the reversioner who sues represents the others and Explanation VI of S. 11 comes into operation inasmuch as the right claimed by the presumptive reversioner who sues is a right to demand that the estate be kept intact and free from danger during his enjoyment by the widow and is claimed in common for himself, and all the members of the reversionary body. (Banerjee, Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. SHEO PRASAD. 44 A. 19 : 19 A. L. J. 749 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 17 : 64 I.C. 248 : A. I. R 1922 All. 301 (F. B.)

——— Ss. 11, Expl. VI and 92 — Representative suit—All persons interested in the subject-matter of a suit under S. 92 are bound by the decision in such a suit.

A suit under S. 92 is a suit brought by the plaintiffs for themselves and as representatives of the general public. Under S. 11, Explanation VI, all persons interested in the subject-matter of such a suit would be bound by the decision in the suit if the provisions of the Explanation are satisfied. (Newtould and Ghose, JJ.) SYED ABU MAHOMED BARAKAT ALI v. ABDUR RAHIM. 80 I. C. 44 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 187.

——— S. 11—Representative suit--Reversioner bound by decree against widow.

Decree passed against widow for a genuine debt due by husband binds the reversioners. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) SHASHI KUMAR v. CHANDRA KUMAR SAMMADAR. 35 C. L. J. 348 : 68 I. C. 322 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 204.

——— S. 11—Representative suit— Decree against Hindu widow—Reversioners are bound.

The reversioner is bound by a decision against Hindu widow obtained on a fair trial and the decision operates as res judicata as regards the questions tried in that suit. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) PRAMATHA v. BHUBAN. 49 Cal. 45 : 25 C.W.N. 585 : 33 C.L J. 421 : 64 I. C. 980 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 321.

——— S. 11—Representative suit—Tenants-in-common—Decree against one

A tenant can, under certain circumstances, so represent his tenancy that a decree against him by the landlord will bind all the persons interested with him in the tenancy. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SARAT CHANDRA v. BIBHABATI DEBI. 66 I. C. 433 (2) : 34 C. L. J. 302.

——— S. 11, Expl. VI—Representative suit— Res judicata.

A suit by a reversioner to contest an alienation is one brought on behalf of all the reversioners who are bound by a decision therein. 38 Mad. 406 ; 39 Mad. 634; 41 M. 659, Foll. ; (Martineau, J.) BHARAT SINGH v. SHAFI MUHAMMAD. 79 I. C. 484 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 180 (1).

——— S. 11, Expl. VI — Representative suit — Dismissal of suit by certain reversioners for setting aside alienation by sonless proprietor bars another suit for the same purpose by other reversioners who had been co-defts. in previous suit.

Where the plaintiffs as collaterals sued among other things to contest a sale of land and a previous suit for a similar declaration by nearer collaterals about this very sale in which the present plaintiffs were co-defendants was dismissed :

Held, that the suit was barred. (Scott-Smith and Zafar Ali, JJ.) KHAIR MUHAMAD v. UMAR DIN. 5 Lah. 421 : 84 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 89.

——— S. 11—Representative suit—Decision that Will set up by a Hindu widow, under which she and her brother are joint legatees of her husband's property is genuine, does not bind the reversioners.

Where a Hindu widow, in whom her husband's estate has vested, represents the estate in litigation, to which she is a party, the decision in such litigation, fairly and honestly conducted, given for or against her will bind the reversioners. [9 M. I. A. 53 (P. C.); 11 Cal. 186. (P. C.) ; and 40 All. 593 (P.C.) Foll.] The rule of res judicata as enacted in S. 11 of the C. P. Code is not strictly applicable, as the reversioners do not claim under the widow ; but the principle of res judicata applies. This rule can be applied only if the widow did, as a matter of fact, represent the estate in the prior litigation. The question, in each case, will be whether the estate was properly represented by the widow in the prior suit. If, for instance, she had litigated in assertion of an absolute right, inconsistent with her representative character, she could not, in any sense of the word, be said to have represented the estate, or the interest of the reversioners in such litigation, and a decision given therein, upholding such a contention of hers, would not obviously be held binding on them : [48 Bom. 869 : 43 Bom. 249 Foll.] Hence in contending that a Will alleged to have been left by the husband, was genuine and that she herself was a joint-legatee under it, along with her brother, she is not only not representing the estate or the interests of the reversioners in such litigation, but is setting up a case in direct opposition to their interests. It cannot, therefore, be held that the decision in the suit that the Will is genuine is binding on the reversioners. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) VIRASWAMI v. P. NAYUDAMMA. 49 M. L. J. 430 : 22 L. W, 78 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1270.

——— S. 11, Expl. VI—Representative suit—Widow—Alienation—Suit by presumptive reversioner, challenging—Death of widow—Suit by actual reversioner for possession—If barred.

Where a Hindu widow makes an alienation and a contingent reversioner files a suit for declaring the same to be invalid, the suit is a representative suit on behalf of all the reversioners and the decision therein is binding on all of them. Where such a declaratory suit is dismissed, a suit by the actual reversioner after the death of the widow for possession of the properties alienated is barred by res judicata. 36 M. 406; 41 M. 659; 44 All. 19; 49 Cal. 45 Foll. (Wallace and Jackson, JJ.) POHULA HUSSAIN REDDY v. VENKATA REDDY. 47 M. L. J. 545 · 20 L. W. 552 : (1924) M. W. N. 730 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 86.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Representative suit.

——S. 11—Representative suit—Trust property represented — Decision in the suit is res judicata against representatives of trust in subsequent suit.

When in a suit, where the trust is properly represented, after real and genuine contest, a decision is given, it is absurd to hold that persons not parties to the previous suit, although they may have an interest in the trust, can ask the matter to be re-opened and the question to be retried. (Venkatasubba Rao and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) NARSIMHA SURYANARAYANA v. A. LAKSHMINARASIMHAM. 49 M L. J. 746. 1926 M. W. N. 40 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 267.

——S. 11—Representative suit—Suit under S. 92, Civ. Pro. Code—Death of defendant—Application to appoint receiver—Court's remarks in proceeding on application about abatement of suit will not be res judicata in appeal from the order holding suit as abated.

In an appeal against an order, declaring that the suit abated on account of the death of the defendant also tn respect of the prayer for a scheme for management under S. 92, an application was made for appointing a receiver. In the course of the hearing, the Court remarked that it was doubtful if on the plaint as it stood the suit had not abated. At the hearing of the appeal itself from the order:

Held, that the order on the receiver application was not res judicata because the decision was not necessary, and that there was really no decision on the question involved in the appeal. (6 All. 269 : 48 Cal 499 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 202, Dist. (Phillips and Krishnan JJ.) ARUMUGA THAMBIRAN v. NAMASIVAYA PANDARA SANNADHI. 48 Mad. 688 : 49 M. L. J. 324 : 22 L. W. 130 : 1925 M. W. N. 569 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 162.

——S. 11, (Expln. VI)—Representative suit—Joint Hindu family—Decree against father in respect of joint family properties—Sons if bound by the decree.

When a suit is brought in respect of the family property, impleading the father as a defendant, the decree passed against the father binds the sons. The case of a managing member, other than the father, may perhaps stand on a different footing. But where there is a dispute about property, which is admittedly family property and when the father is made a party to the suit, it cannot be said that the father is made a party in his individual capacity and not as the manager of the family. Where there are a number of defendants having a common interest and the contest is carried on by some of them bona fide against the plaintiff, the decision is binding on all the defendants including those who were ex parte. 24 M. 689; 24 M. 658; 36 A 383; 30 M. 245 : 43 M. 487 Referred to. (Spencer and Devadass, JJ.) MEYYAPPAN SERVAI v. MEYYAPPAN AMBALAM. 46 M. L. J. 471 : 19 L. W. 484: 34 M. L. T 209 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 571.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Hindu widow—Decision against—When binding on reversioners.

Whether the widow represented the inheritance in a litigation against her may be gathered from the nature of the defence put forward and the issues raised, tried and decided in the former suit. The mere allegation that she did or did not, would be of little value. Was the suit based upon a mere personal cause of action by or against the widow? Was it a ground personal to the female heir that was taken in a previous suit? Was it a claim by or against the widow personally or the inheritance which she represented? To decide these questions the Court must examine the averments, the issues and the findings in the previous suit. If the contentions raised are those connected with the inheritance and the trial was with reference to them the widow must be held to be representing the estate; if not, the litigation must be deemed personal to her and not binding upon the reversioners. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) POTHUKUCHI RAJAGOPALAN v. V. RAMAMOORTHY. 18 L.W 491 · 73 I. C. 284 · A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 301.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Rights claimed individually and in common with others—Decision when res judicata—Compromise decree.

Where a prior suit was brought by four persons claiming to be trustees of a temple for recovery of certain lands belonging to the temple and the suit was compromised by two of the trustees and the compromise was found to be bona fide, held, that a subsequent suit by other persons for recovery of the same temple lands was barred by res judicata. It is not necessary to attract the operation of S. 11, Expln. VI, C. P. Code, that the former suit should have been instituted with the leave of the Court under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) CHENRAYA GOUNDAN v. ATHAPPA GOUNDAN. 18 L. W. 177 : 75 I. C. 336 : (1923) M. W. N. 545 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 88.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Leave under O. 1, R. 8, not obtained—Explanation applies.

Explanation VI to S. 11 is not confined only to cases where leave of the Court has been granted under O. 1, R. 8. 43 M. 467 and 31 M. L. J. 26 Ref. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) CHENRAYA GOUNDAN v. ATHAPPA GOUNDAN. 18 L. W. 177 : (1923) M. W. N. 545 · 75 I. C. 336 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 88.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Hindu joint family—Decision in suit for partition by one member of family operates as res judicata between all members.

Where in a suit for partition by a member of a joint Hindu family all the members of the family are made parties and where all matters in dispute between the members of the family are decided, the suit must be regarded as a suit brought by the plaintiff in his representative capacity under Expln. VI, S. 11 of the C. P. Code and all matters decided in the suit operate as res judicata between the different members of the family. 32 All. 469 and 22 O. C 300 Foll. (Dalal, J. C.) NAGESHAR v. DARSHAN. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 506.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit applies only where a common interest based on a common title is in good faith enforced or defended on behalf of all persons having such common interest—Manager of joint family cannot sue or be sued so as to bind rest of family, in respect of property inherited by collateral succession.

In order to make Explanation VI of S. 11 applicable, there ought to be a community of interest claimed on the strength of a common title and the claim must have been made in good faith for the enforcement or defence of that common interest. The common interest may rest on the existence of a joint family, in which that interest is vested, or may rest on a joint title otherwise derived. Property inherited by right of collateral succession cannot be treated as joint family property in respect of which the manager as such could sue or be sued so as to bind the rest of the family. 20 O. C. 271, Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) HANSLA BAKSH SINGH v. RAJ BAKSH SINGH, 77 I. C. 1028 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 75.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 11—Representative suit.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Scope.

S. 11, Expl. VI applies to a common right asserted by certain persons on behalf of themselves and others, but not to rights which are not common but several and distinct. (Kanhaiya Lal and Dalal, A. J. Cs.) ZARIF-UN-NISSA v. SHAFIQ-UZ-ZAMAN.
26 O. C. 133 : 10 O. L. J. 535 : 75 I. C. 626: A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 185.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Suit against Hindu widow—Decree when binding on reversioners.

When a Hindu reversioner brings a suit against a widow in possession of her husband's estate for a declaration that a will set up by her as having been executed by her husband is a forgery, the suit is brought by the reversioner to protect an interest common to the entire reversionary body. Expln. VI to S. 11, C.P. Code, is applicable and the decision if obtained after fair contest must necessarily bind all the reversioners and it is not open to the reversioner who may happen to be entitled when the succession opens to claim to have the matter reagitated. To hold otherwise would be to let in the very mischief which the Expln. was enacted to avoid. On grounds of public policy it would be highly mischievous that a question of fact which was decided after full contest as between the reversioners on the one hand and the widow on the other should be liable to be reopened as between other representatives of the same sets of rival claimants after a lapse of time. 38 M. 406 (P. C).; 39 M. 634 ; 19 A. L. J. 749; 40 A. 593 Relied on. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD. 9 O. L. J. 235 : 69 I. C. 730 : 25 O. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 236.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit.

In a case in which the provisions of O. 1, R. 8 are not invoked by members of a community to enforce their right to worship, the decision would be binding on other members of the community. 35 All. 197 doubted. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) SADIQ HUSAIN v. KHAN BAHADUR HAKIM MIRZA. 9 O. L. J. 111 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 1.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Malabar Tarwad—Suit by karnavan—Dismissal—Subsequent suit by junior members as Uralan—Bar.

The karnavan of a tarwad brought a suit for the recovery of certain property on the ground that the tarwad was entitled to them as the heir of the last owner. The Court dismissed the suit on the ground that the last owner of the property followed the Makkathayam Law and that the plaintiff was not proper heir under that law. In a subsequent suit by the junior members of the tarwad for recovery of the property held by the last owner as Uralan, held, that the decision in the prior suit that the last owner followed Makkathayam Law and that therefore the plaintiff's tarwad was not the heir was res judicata and the present suit was therefore unsustainable. (Schwabe, C.J. and Wallace, J.) KOONAMVALLI UNNARA v. K. P. KUNHI RAMAN. 44 M. L. J. 443 : 72 I. C. 582 : 17 L. W. 322 : 32 M. L. T. 146 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 514.

——S. 11, Expln. VI—Representative suit—Malabar tarwad—Decision against—Decision of appellate Court operates as res judicata.

A decree in a suit in which the karnavan of a tarwad is joined as a defendant in his representative capacity and which he honestly defends is binding on the other members of the family though not actually made parties. In considering the plea of res judicata it is the judgment of the appellate Court that has to be looked to. 20 M. 129 ; 3 C. 145 ; 9 L. W. 84, Ref. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) ABUBAKKAR v. KUNHIKUTTYALI. 16 L. W. 768 : 31 M. L. T. 389 : 74 I. C. 27 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 153.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 13.

——S. 11—Representative suit—Mortgage by Hindu widow of inalienable estate—Decree against her does not bar her heirs from contesting her right to alienate.

Dawson Miller, C. J.—A Hindu woman cannot in a suit on a mortgage of the property executed by herself deny that she had power to alienate the property, and, therefore, the question of her power to alienate it is not in issue in the suit so as to bar it from being agitated by her heirs in a subsequent suit for possession after her death. (Dawson Miller, C.J.) HITENDRA SINGH v. RAMESWAR SINGH. 4 Pat. 510 : 87 I. C. 849 : 88 I. C. 141 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 625.

——S. 11—Representative suit—Suit by Hindu father for recovery of joint family land binds all co-parceners—Hindu Law—Joint family.

All Hindu co parceners are bound by the result of a suit brought by a Hindu father for recovery of possession of joint family land. Such suit must be deemed to be a representative suit on behalf of all the co-parceners. (Foster, J.) HUKUM MAHTO v. SANT SAHO. 78 I. C. 19 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 308.

——S. 13—Foreign Court—Suit on judgment of—Plea of want of jurisdiction—Merits, if open.

When a suit is brought in British India on a foreign judgment and a plea is brought forth that the foreign Court had no jurisdiction but it is found the defendants appeared and contested the claim, the plea is open. The general rule in such case is that one Court which entertains a suit on a foreign judgment cannot institute an enquiry into the merits of the original action or the propriety of the decision. (Piggott and Stuart, JJ.) GANGA PRASAD v. GANESHI LAL. 21 A. L. J. 890 : L. R. 4 A. 604 : 46 All. 119 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 161.

——Ss. 13 and 44—Court to which decree of foreign Court is transferred for execution can examine if decree was passed without jurisdiction.

The provisions of S. 13 of the C. P. Code apply to decrees that are transferred to British Courts for execution under the provisions of S. 44. It is therefore open to the Court to which a decree of a foreign Court is transferred for execution to go into the question whether the decree is passed without jurisdiction. 39 Mad. 24 and 40 Bom. 551 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) PANCHKARI MAJUMDAR v. GIRIDHARIMAL. 41 C. L. J. 508 : 89 I. C. 347 : A.I. R. 1925 Cal 955.

——S. 13—Foreign Court—Fraud—Effect of.

Where the decision in a Foreign Court was obtained between the widow and the alleged son of the deceased, it must be held that the widow completely represented the estate and that any decision between the parties in that suit, provided there was a direct adjudication upon the point, is conclusive between them and between their successors-in-title, provided also that the judgment is not disqualified by any of the flaws set forth in S. 13 of the Code. But where the decision is obtained by fraud it is not res judicata between the parties. (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) GOOR BACHAN SINGH v. GIAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 175.

——S. 13—Foreign judgment—Submission to jurisdiction—Execution of power of attorney.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 13.

The execution of a power authorising an agent to conduct litigation in a foreign Court is a submission to the jurisdiction of that foreign Court and the decision of the foreign Court is binding on the parties. (Phillips and Ramesam, JJ.) ASANALLI NAGOOR MEERA v. MAHADU MEERA. 22 L. W. 820.

——S. 13 (b)—Foreign judgment—"Merits of the case".

A decision cannot be said to be not given on the merits of the case because it was given ex parte. (Phillips and Ramesam, JJ.) ASANALLI NAGOOR MEERA v. MAHADU MEERA. 22 L. W. 820.

——S. 13—Decision ex parte is one on merits.

In a case in which there is no appearance and a decree is passed ex parte, the decision is still a decision on merits. A. I. R. 1925 Mad 155, Foll (Phillips and Ramesam, JJ.) ASANALLI NAGOOR MEERA v. MAHADU MEERA. 22 L. W. 820.

——S. 13—Execution of power of attorney to defend suits in foreign Courts amounts to submission—Person submitting as plaintiff cannot deny jurisdiction as defendant.

The execution of a power of attorney authorising an agent to conduct litigation in a foreign Court is a submission to jurisdiction. [37 Mad. 163 and A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 155 Ref.] A person who invokes the jurisdiction of a foreign Court as plaintiff cannot deny such jurisdiction as defendant. (Phillips and Ramesam, JJ.) ASANALLI NAGOOR MEERA v. MAHADU MEERA. 22 L. W. 820.

——Ss. 13 and 44—Judgment-debtor can object to execution on the ground that the decree is not conclusive—C. P. Code, S. 44.

Ss. 13 and 44 should be read together, but it ought not to be forgotten that S. 13 merely lays down a rule of res judicata and has nothing to do whatever with the manner in which the rule of res judicata should be enforced. Further, S. 13 merely codifies the rules of international law, with regard to foreign judgments. Unless, therefore, under its provisions, a decree that is produced for execution is conclusive, as to the matter directly thereby adjudicated it cannot and ought not to be executed. The judgment-debtor in such cases is permitted by the very provisions of S. 13 to show how or why it is not conclusive, by showing that the case falls under one of the exceptions enumerated. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR. 21 L. W 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 13—Foreign Court—Submission to jurisdiction of—What amounts to—Power of attorney empowering agent to represent principal in litigation in that Court—Execution of—Effect—Foreign judgment obtained on merit—Judgment delivered ex parte if and when a—Notice of suit to the defendant—Irregular in service of, not a ground for attaching decree—Decision of foreign Court as to sufficiency of service—Conviction of—Presumption.

The first defendant and his brother, who were trading in partnership in Ceylon, executed a power of attorney to R, empowering him to represent the principals in litigations either as plaintiff or as defendant. Under the provisions of that power, R appointed G as his sub-agent during his absence from Ceylon. A suit was filed on promissory notes against the first defendant, and notice thereof was served on G as first defendant's agent No appearance at all was put in on behalf of the first defendant, the case was allowed to proceed ex parte, and the suit was decreed. In a suit brought in British India against first defendant upon the judgment of the Ceylon Court. Held, (1) that the first defendant must, by reason of his having executed the power of attorney in favour of R, be deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the Court of Ceylon; (2) that the judgment sued upon though delivered ex parte, was one obtained on the merits; (3) that the decision of the Ceylon Court that the notice of the suit to the first defendant was sufficient must be taken to be correct in the absence of any evidence to the contrary; and (4) that, if there was any irregularity in the service of the notice, that point could not be raised in British Indian Courts as a ground for questioning the validity of the foreign judgment. (Phillips and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) JANOO HASSAN SAIT v. MAHOMED OHUTHU. 47 M L. J. 356 : 47 Mad. 877 : 82 I. C. 425 : 20 L. W. 677 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 155.

——S. 13—Foreign judgment—Whether binding on a Court in British India—A step-in-aid of execution.

Per Schwabe, C.J.—Where there has been a foreign judgment on a matter directly adjudicated upon between the same parties, under the section it is not open, whatever the High Court might have said in such cases, to an unsuccessful party to the application in the foreign Court, to contend that the law there is otherwise. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) SRINIVASA IYENGAR v. NARAYAN RAO. 43 M. L. J. 700 : 45 M. 1014 : (1922) M. W. N 647 : 16 L. W. 735 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 72.

——S. 13 (a)—Rules of international law govern—Submission to jurisdiction of foreign Court creates jurisdiction.

The question whether a Court is a Court of competent jurisdiction should be determined not by the rules laid down in respect of the jurisdiction of domestic tribunals but by rules of international law. Under the rules of international law personal submission to the jurisdiction of a foreign Court gives that Court jurisdiction. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTY. 21 L. W. 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 13 (a)—Submission to jurisdiction—Foreign Court.

Execution of power of attorney in favour of another empowering him to conduct litigation in foreign Court amounts to submission to the jurisdiction of that Court and its judgment is binding on the executant (Phillips and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) A. JANNOO HASSAN SAIT v. S. N. MAHOMED OHUTHU. 47 M L. J. 356 : 47 Mad. 877 : 20 L. W. 677 : 82 I. C. 425 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 155.

——S. 13 (b)—Plaintiff's evidence taken despite plaintiff's default—Decision may be "on merits".

Unless the judgment is given merely on default and in any case in which, in spite of the default any evidence is taken for the plaintiff, and judgment is given thereon, it may be difficult to say that it is not a decision on the merits. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR. 21 L. W. 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 13 (b)—Only when defence was raised and not adjudicated upon can the decree be said to be not on merits—Where defendant does not appear at all, decree should be held to be one on merits—Practice—Decision on merits.

It is only when a defence has been raised and for some reason or other has not been adjudicated upon that the decision can be said to be not upon the merits. In other instances of ex parte decrees, they must be decrees passed upon the merits. Where no appearance at all was put in on behalf of the first defendant and the case was allowed to proceed ex-parte: Held, that it must be deemed to have been passed upon the merits. (Phillips and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) A. JANNOO HASSAN SAIT v. S. N. MAHOMED OHUTHU. 47 M.L.J. 356 · 47 Mad. 877 : 20 L. W. 677 : 82 I. C. 425 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 155.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 13.

——— S. 13 (d)—Irregular service of notice.

Irregularity in the service of notice cannot be raised as a ground for questioning validity of foreign decree. (Phillips and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) A. JANNOO HASSAN SAIT v. S. N. MAHOMED OHUTHU. 47 M. L. J. 356 : 47 Mad. 877 : 20 L. W. 677 : 82 I C. 425 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 155.

——— S. 13—Foreign judgment— Submission to jurisdiction—What amounts to—Fraud—What is.

Where a defendant applies to a foreign Court for an adjournment of the case and later applies to set aside an ex parte decree passed therein, he must be deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the Court and cannot dispute the enforceability of that judgment. A fraud to vitiate a foreign judgment must be fraud practised on the defendant whereby he is prevented from defending the claim in the most advantageous manner. (Kotval, A. J. C.) MT. JANKI SETHANI v. LAXMINARAYAN. 89 I. C. 129 : A. I R. 1926 Nag 77

——— S. 15—Prima facie plaint determines jurisdiction except in cases where the result ousts the jurisdiction from the very start.

Prima facie plaintiff's claim determines jurisdiction and the jurisdiction continues whatever be the result unless a different principle comes into operation to prevent such a result as to make the proceedings from the first abortive. Where therefore the trial Court found that the amount due to the mortgagee was above its jurisdiction and it accordingly returned the plaint · Held, the order was legal. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) SARODA SUNDARI BASU v. AKRAMANESSA KHATUN. 51 Cal. 737 : 28 C. W. N. 710 : 78 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 783.

——— S. 15—Suit instituted in District Court—Valuation falling under Rs. 5,000 on enquiry—District Court has jurisdiction to continue hearing.

It is imperative on the suitor under S. 15 to bring his suit in the Court of lowest grade. The word 'shall' in S. 15 is not imperative on the Courts and does not deprive the higher Court of its jurisdiction to try a suit triable by a Court of less pecuniary jurisdiction. 7 All. 230 (F. B.) Ref. (Heald and Chari JJ.) MAUNG SIT PAUNG v. MAUNG TUN. 4 Bur. L. J. 104 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 278.

——— S. 16—Proviso —'Defendant' includes all defendants.

The word 'defendant' in the proviso to S. 16, C. P. Code, means all the defendants, where there are more than one defendant in the suit. 21 W. R. 303 Foll. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) MAHOMED YASIN v. BIMOLA PRASAD MUKHERJEE. 73 I. C. 405 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 443.

——— S. 16—Transfer of place where subject-matter is situated to jurisdiction of different Court does not deprive Court, which originally entertained suit, of its jurisdiction to try it to conclusion.

The jurisdiction of a Court consists in its power to entertain suits, and when once a suit has been properly entertained, the jurisdiction is not removed unless it is specifically so done by the order of a competent authority. Once the suit has been entertained, the remaining proceedings taken therein are not taken by reason of any particular territorial jurisdiction, but in the exercise of the powers vested in the Court to try suits generally and consequently the only time at which the territorial jurisdiction comes into operation is at the time of filing the suit. Once the Court has seizin of the case it has jurisdiction to try it to its conclusion unless there is any reason for holding that that jurisdiction has been removed though the subject-matter of the suit may be transferred to another Court in the meanwhile. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) CHOKKALINGA PILLAY v. VELAYUDHA MUDALIAR. 47 M. L. J. 448 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 117.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 17.

——— S. 16—Mortgage decree—Suit for declaration of invalidity—Property within jurisdiction but decree obtained outside—If a suit for land.

A mortgage decree was obtained in Benares, the lands being situated in Patna. A suit to declare the invalidity of the mortgage decree was instituted in Patna. Held, it was not a suit for land within the meaning of S. 16, C. P. Code. If an application to execute the decree had been put in that would constitute a cause of action within the meaning of S. 20, C. P. Code ; otherwise the lower Court has no jurisdiction to entertain the case (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) THE BENARES BANK, LTD. v. SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 831.

——— Ss. 16 (d) and 20 (c)—Suit for declaration that a will is a forgery—Determination of right to immoveable property—Cause of action—Jurisdiction.

A suit by a Hindu reversioner for a declaration that a will set up by the widow of the last male owner was a forgery and for its cancellation can be instituted under S. 20 (c), C. P. Code, in a Court having jurisdiction over any one of the places where any part of the properties dealt with by the will is situate. Such a suit is not one falling within S. 16 (d) of the C. P. Code. In a suit to set aside a will the plaintiff's allegation of interest and the threat to his rights are parts of his cause of action and where the properties are situate within different jurisdictions part of the cause of action arises under each jurisdiction. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) NITTALA ACHAYYA v. NITTALA YELLAMMA. 43 M. L. J. 615 : 72 I. C. 920 : (1922) M. W. N. 834 : 16 L. W. 785 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 109.

——— S. 16 (e)—Suit for mesne profits—Land situated outside British India.

A British Indian Court can entertain a suit to recover mesne profits of lands situated outside British India, against defendant residing within its jurisdiction. The proviso to S. 16 makes it clear that even although a wrong to immoveable property is alleged yet where the relief sought can be entirely obtained, through the defendant's personal obedience, then the suit can be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHADEO v. RAMACHANDRA. 23 Bom. L. R. 903 : 46 B. 108 : 68 I. C. 510 : A. I R. 1922 Bom. 188.

——— Ss. 17 and 20—Cause of action—Sale of goods—Agreement to pay price and render account—Forum.

Where a firm at Sialkot instituted a suit in the Sialkot Court against a commission agent carrying on business at Calcutta for sale proceeds of hides sent by the former to the latter for sale on commission, and it appeared that the money was to be payable at Sialkot and the accounts were to be rendered there, held, that the Court at Sialkot had jurisdiction to try the suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 20—Accounts.

26 P. R. 1918 Ref. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) LAL SINGH v. HAJI KADIR BAKHSH.
3 Lah. L. J. 499 : 69 I. C. 424 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 36 (2).

——— —S. 20.
Accounts.
Cause of action.
Contract.
Debtor and Creditor.
Leave to sue.
Partnership.
Place of suit.
Residence.
Tort.

Accounts.

———S. 20 (c)—Accounts—Principal and agent—Rendition of accounts—Forum.

The plaintiff was a trader in grain at Bilsi in the district of Budaun in the United Provinces. The defendant was a commission agent at Bombay of the pakka adatia type corresponding to what is known in England as del credere agent, that is to say, an agent or factor who, being entrusted with the goods of his principal to dispose of to the best advantage, is in lawful possession of them with a general power to deal with them without reference to his principal but guaranteeing the solvency of the sub-purchasers, and while entitled to charge against his principal his expenses and entitled also to an indemnity from his principal against all losses resulting from carrying out his duty, is under an obligation to pay to the plaintiff, his principal, the amount due after the accounts have been properly settled. The plaintiff brought a suit in Budaun for recovery of money alleged to be due from the defendant commission agent on account of profits on sales improperly retained by the defendant. Held, that the mere fact that payments had been made by post and statements of account sent by post to Budaun was not conclusive of the question of where payment ought, under the contract, to be made. The contract of agency having been made by correspondence and the defendant having agreed to act as plaintiff's agent by a letter sent from Bombay, the Budaun Court had no jurisdiction. Unless the contract clearly indicated the contrary, an agent of this kind who became a factor entrusted with the goods of his principal with wide powers has an eventual liability to account to his principal but the accounting must necessarily be done at the place where all the business is transacted. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Neave, J.) TIKA RAM v. DAULAT RAM. 46 A. 465 : 22 A. L. J. 591 : 80 I. C. 661 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 9 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 530.

———S. 20—Accounts—Suit for, by principal against agent—Place where contract was made or performance was due or refusal to account took place is the place of suing.

The cause of action in a suit for accounts against an agent arises at the place where the contract of agency was made or where it was to be performed and where the refusal to account took place.

The plaintiffs were grain dealers at S. The defendants were commission agents doing business at K. The plaintiffs sent goods to the defendants to be sold by them as commission agents at K. They accepted the plaintiffs' drafts., paid money at their request and having sold the goods credited the amount realised to their account. Later on, the defendants at the plaintiffs' request purchased goods at K and sent them abroad according to the plaintiffs' directions to various constituents. The defendants purchased goods at K and despatched them to S. and in doing so they adopted the following procedure :—They drew money from the K branch of a certain Bank and handed over the railway receipts to the Bank which transmitted them to the S Branch to be handed over to the plaintiffs on payment of the price of the goods received. Sometimes the plaintiffs sent money to K and drew the same by means of hundies and vice versa. The defendants also used to draw hundis upon the plaintiffs. Shortly put, the defendants were put in funds by various ways, such as (a) actual remittance of money, (b) hundis sent by the plaintiffs drawn in favour of the defendants, (c) defendants drew upon plaintiffs and sold the hundis to the Branch at K, etc., etc. The plaintiffs instituted the suit on the following allegations :—That there were mutual dealings between the plaintiffs and the defendants and that the latter received from the plaintiffs by way of loan Rs..... out of which they paid Rs.....leaving a balance of Rs.....due to the plaintiffs. They further claimed a sum of Rs.....on account of the profits of the grain transactions.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 20—Cause of Action.

Held, that it was a suit for an account by a principal against an agent and that the Court at S. had no jurisdiction to try the suit but that only the Court at K had the jurisdiction. (Case-law discussed.) (Abdul Raoof and Jai Lal, JJ.) RAM DAS UTTAM CHAND v. DHANPAT DIWAN CHAND.
6 Lah. 153 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 387.

———S. 20—Accounts—Suit by principal to recover money from agent—Forum of suit.

Where the principal and agent are carrying on business in different places, the former cannot call upon the latter to render accounts at his own place of business on the ground that goods were sent from such place, unless there was an agreement to that effect. A suit for money in such a place is not maintainable. (Martineau, J.) THE FIRM PRITHI SINGH JAMAYAT RAI v. THE FIRM HARSUKH DAS.
A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 593.

Cause of Action.

———S. 20—Cause of action—Suit for refund of over-charge demanded by a foreign Railway—Cause of action partly at place where goods were consigned.

Where the suit is for refund of over charge demanded from a consignee by a foreign Railway the cause of action arises in part at the place where the contract for carrying was made and so the Court at the latter place has jurisdiction to try the suit. (Stuart, J.) SRI NEWAS v. E. I. R. CO. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 395 : 88 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 823.

———Ss. 20 and 21—Cause of action—Suit for rent—Jurisdiction—Residence of defendant—Waiver of objection—B. T. Act, S. 144.

Reading Ss. 20 and 21 of the C. P. Code together with S. 144 of the B. T. Act a suit for rent may be instituted in the Court within the local limits of the jurisdiction of which lies the property in respect of which a suit for possession may have been brought. This however does not exhaust all the provisions of S. 20, C. P. Code, cls. (a) and (b) of S. 20, C.P. Code allow a landlord to institute a suit for rent where the tenant resides. This must obviously be limited to cases where the landlord seeks a decree for money. Where, however, the landlord seeks a decree for rent as also ejectment under S. 66 of the B T. Act the suit must be treated as one for the recovery of immoveable property within the meaning of S. 16 (4) C. P. Code and can consequently be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate. A suit for the recovery of rents of lands situate in one district may be brought in another district where the defendant is residing, although in such suits the plaintiff s title to the land in respect of which the rent is sought to be recovered may incidentally come in question. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KUNJA MOHAN CHAKRAVARTHY v. MANINDRA CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY.

27 C. W. N. 542 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 619.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Collusive and fraudulent decree—Suit to set aside decree—Jurisdiction of Court

Plaintiff obtained a decree against a person and attached his properties at Amritsar. The defendant who professed to have a decree of the Ferozepur Court against the same person got it transferred to Amritsar and applied for rateable distribution along with plaintiff. Thereupon the plaintiff sued for a declaration that the decree obtained by the defendant was fraudulent and collusive. Held, that the Amritsar Court had jurisdiction to try the suit 25 A. 48 : 37 A. 189 : 39 A. 607 Rel. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BALLA MAL v. JAGAN NATH.

72 I. C. 392 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 398.

——S. 20—Cause of action—Jurisdiction—Carrying on business—Objection to jurisdiction.

Where there has been no failure of justice an objection to the place of suing could not be entertained on appeal.

It is doubtful whether the mere letting of house property through an agent can be said to be carrying on business. A contract is concluded where it is accepted and the place of suit in respect of its breach is the place where it was concluded or the place where it ought to have been performed. The mere sending of a cheque from a particular place towards the contract does not give rise to a cause of action in that place. (Campbell, J.) SOHAN SINGH v. RIDDICK.

66 I. C. 865 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 164.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action arising in part at a particular place—Jurisdiction of Courts to try the suit.

In a case where plaintiff sent goods from Sialkot to defendant at Calcutta to be sold there and the money realised from the sale was payable at Sialkot, and the plaintiffs sued the Defendants for the money in Sialkot Court, Held, that the Court at Sialkot has jurisdiction to try the suit. 26 P. R. 1918 referred to. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) LAL SINGH v. FIRM OF HAJI KADIR. 3 Lah. L. J. 499 : 69 I. C. 424 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 36 (2).

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Commission agent—Suit for price of goods entrusted—Jurisdiction—Offer, acceptance—Money intended to be paid to principal.

The plaintiff, a permanent resident of a place within the jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court of M, went to Madras where he and the defendant talked and settled about the commission to be paid to him. He told defendant in Madras that he would consign goods directly to him or to others who would be directed to deliver to him. Plaintiff sent goods to a firm at Madras with instructions to deliver them to the defendant. He also wrote to the defendant asking him to sell them and send the amount. The firm delivered the goods to the defendant, who wrote to the plaintiff stating that he would send the amount after selling the goods. In a suit instituted by the plaintiff in the Munsif's Court of M. to recover the price of the goods delivered to defendant as commission agent on behalf of plaintiff, held that the money was intended to be paid to the plaintiff at his native place, that part of the cause of action therefore arose within the jurisdiction of Court M., and that that Court had jurisdiction to try the suit. The making of an offer may be part of the cause of action, but this means not the posting of the offer but the receipt of the offer. The receipt of the acceptance when the contract is complete is a part of the contract. (Ramesam, J.) CHEMALAPATI VENCATA REDDY v. NATARAJA SETTI. 46 M. L. J. 371 : 19 L. W. 499: 34 M. L. T. 116 : (1924) M. W. N. 336 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 789.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Sale of goods by Calcutta Firm to Madras Firm—Payment of price by hundis—Suit for recovery of money overpaid—Forum.

Plaintiff a firm of merchants carrying on business in Madras purchased goods from the defendants at Calcutta firm. The arrangement as regards payment of the price was that the money was to be paid by means of hundis drawn by the defendants on the plaintiffs. The hundis were to be presented at Madras along with the railway receipts for the goods. In the course of their dealings, the defendants drew a hundi in their favour for price of goods sold and endorsed it to a hundi broker in Calcutta. The hundi was eventually presented to the plaintiffs in Madras and paid off. The plaintiffs then sued the defendant at Madras for recovery of a sum of money alleged to have been overpaid by means of the hundi. On a question arising as to whether the Madras Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit, held, that a part of the cause of action arose in Madras as the payment was made in Madras and that under S. 20 (c) of the Civil Procedure Code the suit was maintainable in the Court in which it was brought. Where a person outside Madras draws hundis, on a firm in Madras which under the contract, the Madras firm has to honour and pay when presented to them in Madras, the payment cannot be considered to be made when the hundi is negotiated by the drawer outside Madras but only when the payment is actually made by the firm in Madras on the hundi. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) PONNUSWAMI AIYAR AND NARAYANASWAMI AIYAR v. DAMODAR HUNSRAJ. 46 M. L. J. 82 : 47 Mad. 403 : 19 L. W. 168 : 34 M. L. T. 7 : (1924) M. W. N. 178 : 79 I. C. 800 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 464.

——S. 20—Cause of action—Fraud.

Discovery of the fraud is not part of the cause of action. The cause of action is the fraud (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) PARAMESWARA PATTAR v. VIYATHAN MAHEDEVI alias THE VALIA THAMBURATTI. (1922) M. W. N 841 : 72 I. C. 982 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 272.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Meaning.

The words 'cause of action' mean the whole bundle of material facts which it is necessary for a plaintiff to allege and prove to obtain the relief he claims in the suit. (Krishnan, J.) NITTALA ACHAYYA v. NITTALA YELLAMMA. 16 L. W. 785: 43 M. L. T. 615: 72 I.C. 920: (1922) M.W.N. 834: A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 109.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Scope of.

Where a person employs an agent to sell his goods in certain districts and in breach of their agreement he sold the goods in some of the districts through other agents, held, in a suit for damages for breach of contract, the sale through other agents was part of the cause of action and such a suit can be filed in the district where the wrongful sale took place. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) RAIPUR MANUFACTURING CO. v. VENKATA SUBBA RAO. 70 I. C. 284 : 14 L.W. 341.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—What is—Goods sent for sale at place X—Suit for wrongful sale.

The term 'Cause of action' means the whole bundle of relevant facts which a plaintiff must allege and prove to enable him to succeed.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 20—Cause of Action.

Where goods are sent to place X to be sold there and a sale takes place in contravention of instructions, a suit for damages will lie at place X. (Baker, J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) FIRM JOHARMAL RUDMAL v. SUNDERLAL NARAYANDAS.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 308.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Pledge—Forum.

The place where the cause of action arises in respect of a pledge must be determined with reference to the terms of the original contract and not by subsequent negotiations thereafter. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) TEK CHAND v. MAHADEO. 65 I. C. 65 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 127.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action.

Where several shops were owned by the plaintiffs and separate Katas were kept in respect of them but the transactions relating to one shop were with the defendant's consent entered in the accounts of the other shops and the whole set of transactions treated by the defendants in a cross suit filed by them as forming one cause of action and one account. Held, that the accounts in regard to each shop cannot properly be treated as entirely separate causes of action. (Daniels, A. J. C.) BANKE LAL v. KANHAIYA LAL. A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 124.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Meaning of.

A cause of action includes every fact which it would be necessary for the plaintiff to prove, if traversed, in order to support his rights to the judgment of the Court. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MAHOMED HAMIDDULLAH KHAN v. FAKHRJAHAN BEGAM.
8 O. L. J. 650 : 65 I. C. 452 : A. I.R. 1922 Oudh 109.

——S. 20—Cause of action—Lex loci.

The law of the place where a marriage is contracted determines the validity of a marriage. (Robinson, J.) MA TWE v. LWE HAIN. 22 Cr. L. J. 123 : 59 I. C. 555 : 13 Bur. L. T. 105.

——S. 20 (c)—Cause of action—Assignment—If part of—Vesting of properties in Official Receiver.

Where on an order of adjudication, property of a firm vests in the Official Receiver, such vesting is part of the cause of action in a suit on behalf of the firm against a third party, inasmuch as such vesting has to be pleaded and if traversed, proved. "Cause of action" defined. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) THE OFFICIAL RECEIVER v. NARAINDAS LOTARAM.
89 I C. 493.

——S. 20—Cause of action—Conduct alleged as cause of action if determines forum.

Where the plaint alleged that on account of defendants' dishonesty or negligent conduct and dereliction of his duty as agent, the plaintiff had suffered a loss. Held, the cause of action accrued at the place where the conduct complained of occurred. 6 S. L. R. 181 Dist. (1912) 1 S. L. R. 93 Foll. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF GHANDAJI KHUBAJI v. FIRM OF DEVJI LADHA
A. I. R. 1924 Sind 22.

Contract.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract for delivery of goods—Breach.

Where a contract was made in Bengal for delivery of goods in Bengal, the mere despatch of goods from a place in the United Provinces does not give rise to a cause of action enforceable in the courts of the United Provinces in respect of the breach of the contract. (Ryves, J.) PURNA CHAND AMIR CHAND v. JODH RAJ RAM KUMAR. 66 I. C. 501 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 448 (2).

——S. 20 (c)—Contract—Claim outside jurisdiction—Ancestral home of defendant within jurisdiction.

Where a suit is brought on two contracts, one of which was entered into outside the jurisdiction of the Court, the portion of the plaint regarding that part of the claim was returned for presentation to the proper Court. Held, that the mere fact that defendants had their ancestral home within the jurisdiction of the Court though they actually resided outside such limits would not give the Court jurisdiction. (Walsh and Wallace, JJ.) KISHORI LAL v. RAM SUNDER.
64 I C. 688 (1) : 19 A. L. J. 822.

——S. 20—Contract—Breach of—Property in thing purchased passing to vendee at one place—Price paid partly at another place—Vendee can sue at latter place for return of purchase money on ground of breach of warranty.

Where a thing is purchased at C. and the property passes to the vendee, but where part of the purchase money is paid at D. to which place the article is sent, a Court at D. has jurisdiction to try suit by vendee for return of purchase money on the ground of breach of warranty by the vendor. (B. B. Ghose, J.) ADAM SAJAN & CO. v. ASUTOSH BANDOPADHYA.
A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 100.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract—Breach of—Place of delivery—Not instituted in.

The plaintiff firm residing in Gujranwalla arranged with defendant firm residing in Calcutta to purchase certain goods and send them to Gujranwalla ; the plaintiff-firm was to send the money to Calcutta to the defendant. The plaintiff remitted Rs. 800 to the defendant and the latter consigned the goods to itself in Gujranwalla, sending the railway receipt by value payable post for the balance of the price. The plaintiff refused to take delivery of the railway receipt through the value payable post and it was returned to the defendant. Subsequently it turned out that the goods were lost and the plaintiff sent the balance of the purchase price and asked for the delivery of goods. The defendants could not comply with the plaintiff's request. In a suit for damages instituted by the plaintiff at the Gujranwalla Court held that the goods had to be delivered under the contract at Gujranwalla, that the non-delivery formed a part of the cause of action and that the plaintiff's suit was maintainable in the Gujranwalla Court. 39 M. 195 ; 77 P. R. 1909 ; 65 I. C. 282 ; 43 A. 334 referred to. (Scott-Smith, J.) FIRM OF JAGANNATH DIWAN CHAND v. JAGANNATH MOTI LAL. 71 I. C. 38 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 349.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract for sale of goods—Place of delivery—Breach.

Plffs. carrying on business at Amritsar brought a suit in the Court of Amritsar against a firm carrying on business at Bombay for damages for breach of a contract made in Bombay, to sell goods to plffs. Held, that delivery of the goods by the defts. to the Railway Company in Bombay for being despatched to Amritsar would, by S. 98 of the Contract Act, have operated as a delivery to the plaintiffs and the Railway Co. would have held the goods as agents of the plaintiffs, consequently no part of the cause of action arose at Amritsar. (Martineau, J.) NAND LAL DAS MAL v. MIAN MAHOMED ALI. 67 I. C. 188 (1) : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 474 (2).

——S. 20—Contract—Place of suit—Contract Act, S. 2.

Where plaintiffs from Ludhiana asked defendants at Gonda for quotations and the terms and the defendants by post card sent their terms and asked the plaintiffs to wire if they wanted goods and the plaintiffs did so.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 20—Contract.

Held, the post card was only an invitation for an offer in the same way as a catalogue of goods sent out by any shop or business firm and not a proposal within the meaning of the Contract Act. The contract was completed at Gonda where the proposals were received by the wire acceptance signified and therefore was cognizable not by Ludhiana Court but by Gonda Court. (Wilberforce, J.) DURGA PARSHAD MUTSADDI LAL v. RULIA MAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 176 : 65 I. C. 282 : 29 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 100.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract—Cause of action—Place of payment.

Where money payable to plff, is, according to the contract to be paid at one place but is made payable in another place owing to the plaintiff's own default, advantage cannot be taken of that fact to give plaintiff a choice of forum. (Leslie Jones, J.) FIRM OF DAMRI SHAH THAKUR RAM v. FIRM OF RULIA MAL DOGAR MAL. 17 P. L. R. 1922 : 64 I. C. 387 : 2 Lah. L. J. 555.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract—Sale of goods—Suit for price—Jurisdiction.

Where according to the terms of a contract for sale of goods, the price is payable at a certain place, a suit for damages for breach can be maintained there. (Kotwal, A.J.C.) BOLTON v. HARJIWAN ULLABHJIVAN. 89 I. C. 181.

——S. 20—Contract—Refusal to take the delivery at Akola—Place of suing.

The defendants had by wire ordered the plaintiffs to send to them at Akola certain bags of grain. The price was agreed to be paid at Khurai. The plaintiffs sent the bags by train to Akola and also sent the invoice, but as the defendants did not send the money they sent the Railway receipt to their own agent at Akola and gave a notice to defendants to take delivery of the goods and pay the money to the agent. As defendants failed to pay the money the plaintiffs ordered him to sell the goods. The goode were sold at a loss for which the plaintiffs brought the suit.

Held, that the breach of contract occurred at Akola, and therefore the cause of action arose wholly at Akola and the Court at Khurai had no jurisdiction. (Baker, J. C.) GANPATLAL v. BILASRAI RAMJIDAS. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 18.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract for sale of goods—Breach—Damages—Place of suit.

The plaintiff was a resident of Yeotmal. The defendants carried on business in Bombay as commission agents. The plaintiff sent some bales of cotton to the defendants for sale in Bombay. He alleged that the defendants did not sell the bales on the day when they were instructed to sell them, that they described them as of a quality inferior to the real quality and that they thus failed to realise their proper value. He sued for damages occasioned by the defendant's conduct in the Court of the Subordinate Judge Yeotmal. Held, that suit was properly framed. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) CHAGAN LAL v. ABOOBAKAR ABDUL RAHMAN & CO., BOMBAY. 72 I. C. 465 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 167.

——S. 20 (c)—Contract—Cause of action—Performance of—Place where money is payable—Forum.

The cause of action in suits arising out of a contract arises at the place where the contract was made or the place where the contract was to be performed or performance completed or at the place where in performance of the contract any money to which the suits relate was expressly or impliedly payable. (Drake-Brockman, J.C.) JODRAJ v. BYRAM. 7 N. L. J. 25 : 83 I. C. 309.

——S. 20—Contract—"Cause of action" meaning—Causes based on contract of insurance—Cause of action does not include damage to insured property.

For the purposes of S. 20 of the Code, the words, 'cause of action' so far as suits on contract are concerned include the making of the contract and the performance or completion of the performance of the contract and the payment of money under the contract, and that in cases based on contract of insurance they do not include the loss or damage of the property insured, which is merely a cause of the cause, and is not even a proximate cause since the real cause of action is the failure to pay the money due under the contract and the primary cause of that cause is the contract itself, the destruction of the property being only a secondary cause which is purely accidental, being due merely to the nature of the particular kind of contract under consideration. The meaning of the expression "cause of action" in the section in question when applied to suits based on contract, should be ascertained by a consideration of the meaning of the expression in the past in the course of the development of such legislation in India and the case-law thereupon, and not by reference to any English decision on the construction of any English Statutes. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) THE JUPITER GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, LTD. v. ABDUL AZIZ. 1 Rang. 231 : 76 I. C 482 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 2.

——S. 20—Contract—Suit for damages for breach of contract of sale of goods deliverable at Karachi though contract was made at Lyallpur can lie at Karachi.

Cause of action consists of every fact which is material to be proved to entitle the plaintiff to succeed, every fact which the defendant would have the right to traverse. In a suit for damages on a breach of contract the cause of action consists of the making of the contract and of its breach in a place where it ought to have been performed ; thus where the contract was to be completed at Karachi though made elsewhere, suit for damages can lie in Karachi. (Kincaid, J.C. and Aston, A.J.C.) KOOVERBHAN SUKHANAND v. LOUIS DREYFUS AND CO. 79 I. C 30 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 132.

——S.20—Contract—Delivery at Karachi—Payment at Peshawar—Karachi Court has jurisdiction.

Certain contracts for import of goods were executed at Peshawar and both the parties had their places of business there but one of them had also a branch office in Karachi. As to the mode of payment the contracts provided that the documents for the purchase of goods would come through a Bank, i.e., the payment for the goods was to be made in Peshawar. The contract was for the sale and purchase of certain goods and the property in these goods passed under the terms of the contract to the applicants as soon as they arrived in the Karachi Harbour and the responsibility for any loss or damage to the goods was entirely theirs from that moment.

Held, that the parties contemplated the performance of the contracts in Karachi, a part of the cause of action therefore arose in Karachi and therefore Karachi Court had jurisdiction to entertain a suit in respect of the contract. 1 Lah. 22 Dist. (Kennedy, J. C and Raymond, A. J C.) FIRM OF KHALSA BROS. v. HARI RAM SRI RAM & CO. 17 S. L. R. 164 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 29.

——S.20—Contract—Breach of—Arbitration Act, S. 11.

J. K. Cawnpore firm sold at Cawnpore certain goods to S and Co. Karachi firm the goods being subject to inspection on arrival at Karachi in the presence of the seller's representative. There were other terms giving the buyers the right after such inspection to reject the goods and recover the price or accept them with an allowance. J. K. failed to consign any goods. S. and Co. went to arbitration under an arbitration clause in the contract and sought to have the award filed in the District Court at Karachi.

Held, that the Court was bound by the decision in 6 S. L. R. 97 that as a suit would lie in Karachi at the instance of the buyers for breach of the contract part of which was to be performed by passing the goods in Karachi an application to file an award under S. 11 of the Arbitration Act lay in the District Court at Karachi.

(Quaere) Whether the part of the contract which was to be performed in Karachi was susceptible of individual performance in Karachi independently of the fate of another and distinguishable part of the contract viz., to consign the goods under the railway receipt in the buyer's name and if not whether the buyers could have brought a suit in Karachi.

Whether in this respect 6 S. L. R. 97 does not require consideration. 18 I. C. 316, Ref. (Kemp, A. J. C.) MESSRS. C.H. PENNY v. MESSRS ATRAUSS AND CO., LTD. 64 I. C. 674 : 15 S. L. R. 74 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 32.

Debtor and Creditor.

——— S. 20 (c)—Debtor and creditor—Suit for money lent—Jurisdiction—"Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the cause of action wholly or in part arises"—Borrower and surety resident in Hyderabad, Deccan—Lender's place of business in Secunderabad—Repayment out of borrower's monthly salary from Nizam's Treasury.

In 1891, the Selladar of the Nizam's Prime Minister, Hyderabad, Deccan, borrowed Rs. 40,000 from a money-lender who carried on business at Secunderabad and executed a bond promising to repay the lender the said sum with interest at 1½ per cent. in the form of monthly payments of Rs. 1,000 by the Nizam's Treasury, Hyderabad. His Secretary also sent a corresponding letter to the Treasury authorising such payments by deductions from the Prime Minister's salary and also another letter to the lender to a similar effect.

On 30th March, 1904, the Minister's Private Secretary wrote a letter to the lender saying, inter alia, that "in future whatever money is received out of the saving will be sent to you every month from this office;" and on the 13th April, 1904, a letter to the Secretary of the "Office of Orders from Sarkar", wherein he stated that "it is also expedient that it may be settled by you what amount out of the saving of the feeding money of horses will be sent monthly towards payment to Bansilal."

In 1911, the lender instituted, in the Court of the Civil Judge, Secunderabad, a suit against the representative of the Silladar as the principal debtor, and the representative of the Prime Minister as surety for the recovery of the sums lent.

Held that, as the loan was contracted in Hyderabad and there was no promise, express or implied, by either defendant to pay at Secunderabad, the cause of action arose in Hyderabad, and the Court of the Civil Judge, Secunderabad was, therefore, not the proper forum for proceedings to recover the money under S. 20 (c) of the Code, 1908. (Lord Blanesburgh). FIRM OF RAI BAHADUR BANSILAL ABIRCHAND v. GHULAM MAHBUB KHAN. 49 M.L.J. 806 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 290.

——— S. 20—Debtor and creditor—Suit for price of goods or for recovery of money—Jurisdiction.

Ordinarily, if goods are purchased or money is borrowed, the payment for the goods or repayment of the money must be presumed to have been agreed to be made at the place of residence of the seller or the lender as the case may be. (Banerjee, J.) BANGALI MAL v. GANGA RAM. 71 I. C. 431 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 465 (1).

Leave to sue.

——— S. 20—Leave to sue.

Where leave to sue was sought for but refused under S. 20 the suit cannot go on with the defendants on the record when no permission was granted by the Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHOMEDBHAI v. ADAMJI. 46 Bom. 229 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1086 : 64 I. C. 919 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 152.

——— S. 20 (b)—Leave to sue—Ex parte grant of.

Leave to sue may be granted under S. 20 (b), C. P. Code, without previous notice to the defendant. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) THE INDO-BURMA OIL FIELDS v. BURMA OIL COMPANY, LTD. 64 I. C. 794 : 11 L. B. R. 26.

Partnership.

——— S. 20—Partnership—Carrying on business, explanation and meaning of.

"Carrying on business" is used in S. 20, C. P. Code, as distinct from personally working; of course a man personally working in a particular place is carrying on business, but a man may carry on business and thousands of people do, in a place where he does no personal work of any kind, and a firm may be carrying on business at a particular place either through an agency or through a manager or by its servants without ever having left his own town of Delhi.

"Carrying on business" means, in the section having an interest in the business transactions at a particular place; a voice in what is done; a share in the gain or loss as the case may be; and some control, if not over the actual method of working, at any rate, upon the existence of the business. "Carrying on business" necessarily means making provision for the future.

Winding-up or disposing of goods with a view to winding-up, is just as much carrying on business while it lasts, as purchasing goods or investing capital in carrying on business. Selling of goods at a particular place is evidence of carrying on business there. Selling is the most important part of a business if any profits is desired to be made out of it. He still carries on business if with a view to winding-up his business and preventing any further losses and committing a breach of the Insolvency Law, he proceeds to dispose of his stock. (Walsh and Wallace, JJ.) KIRPA RAM SITA RAM v. MANGALSEN BISHAN MAL. 19 A.L.J. 696 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 18 : 65 I. C. 93 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 367.

——— S. 20—Partnership carried on in foreign territory—Residence of defendant in British India.

A suit for a dissolution of a partnership commenced and carried on in foreign territory is maintainable in British India if the plaintiff and the defendant were within the jurisdiction of the Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah J.) ISMAILJI HAJI HALIMBHAI v. ISMAIL ABDUL KADIR. 23 Bom. L. R. 543 : 63 I. C. 969 : 45 Bom. 1228.

Place of suit.

——— S. 20 (c)—Place of suit—Loan borrowed at S but repayable at H—Defendant residing at H—S. Court has no jurisdiction to try suit to recover loan.

Where the loan was borrowed at S, but the defendants were residents of H and the loan was also repayable at H the Court at S has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit for recovery of the loan. (Lord Blanes- burgh.) BUNSILAL AHIRCHAND v. GHULAM MAHABUL KHAN. A. I. R 1925 P.C. 290 (P.C.).

——S. 20—Place of suit—False allegations—Abuse of the process of court

Where in order to bring a suit within the jurisdiction of a court of a particular locality, the plaintiff makes false statements knowing them to be false that is a fraud on the court and the court would have no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. (Mears, C. J and Banerjee, J.) ABDUL GHAFUR v. NURUDDIN AHMAD. 71 I. C. 411 : 20 A. L. J. 984 : 45 All, 193 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 28 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 137 (2).

——S. 20—Place of suit—Conditions to be fulfilled.

S. 20 provides that a suit may be instituted within the local limits of whose jurisdiction each of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually carries on business, and secondly in the alternative, within the limits of whose Jurisdiction any of the defendants at the time of the commencement of the suit, carries on business, provided that in such a case either the leave of the Court is given or a defendant who does not carry on business acquiesces in the suit being brought. (Walsh and Wallace, JJ.) KIRPA RAM SITA RAM v. MANGAL SEN BISHAL MAL. 19 A. L. J. 696 : 3 U, P. L. R. (All.) 18 : 65 I. C. 93 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 367.

——S. 20—Place of suit—Goods ordered by V. P. Post.

Where A at Kasganj ordered goods of B at Delhi and the goods were sent by V. P. P. and on taking delivery A found that the parcel did not contain the goods ordered, whereupon he instituted a suit at Kasganj against B for damages, held, that the contract, though entered into at Delhi, was not completed till delivery was made and the goods paid for at Kasganj, that until such delivery and payment was made the goods remained the property of B at Delhi and that the Kasganj Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAM LAL v. BHOLA NATH. 42 All. 619 : 18 A. L. J. 749 : 59 I. C. 359 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 254.

——S. 20—Place of suit—Suit for declaration that decree is void in the Court to which decree is transferred for execution.

The defendants obtained a decree in the Small Cause Court of Calcutta. The suit was decreed ex parte. After obtaining the decree the defendants got it transferred to the Court of Subordinate Judge of Sylhet within whose jurisdiction the present plaintiffs resided and applied for execution of the decree against the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs thereupon instituted a suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Sylhet for a declaration that the ex parte decree obtained by the defendants in the Calcutta Small Cause Court was obtained by fraud was void and not fit to be executed. They also applied for the issue of an in junction against the defendant No. 1 restraining him from executing the decree, Held the Court was entitled to issue an injunction and in order to grant relief it had the power to go into the question whether the ex parte decree was obtained by fraud in which case it would be inoperative. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) INDIAN PROVIDENT CO. v. GOVINDA CHANDRA DAS. 27 C. W, N. 359 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 425.

——S. 20—Place of suit—Cause of action--Hundi drawn in Cawnpore for acceptance and payment in Calcutta—Suit to recover sum paid.

Where a Hundi drawn in Cawnpore for acceptance and payment in Calcutta is so accepted and paid in Calcutta and the plaintiff sued to recover the sum so paid, held, that as the cause of action, would not be complete unless he proved the fact that he had accepted the Hundi in Calcutta on the due date, part of the cause of action arose within the Ordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court of Calcutta. (Sanderson. C J. Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) RAM CHUNDER GOURI SHANKER v. GANPATRAM BISWANATH. 59 I. C. 539 : 47 Cal. 583.

——Ss. 20, 115—Place of suit—Order as to—Revision.

No hard and fast rule as to revision can be laid down in cases of decisions as to jurisdiction under S. 20 and each must be decided on its own merits. Ordinarily, interference in revision is inadvisable in such cases and should only be exercised in exceptional cases to remedy an injustice. Where the defendant is by law entitled to have the case tried at Patna it will be a grave injustice to him to insist on its trial in Jagraon in the Punjab which will put him to a very great expense merely because the trial Court has erroneously held that the Jagraon Court has jurisdiction. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE FIRM SITA RAM RAM DHAN v. THE FIRM BENARSI DAS PURAN CHAND. 77 I. C. 764 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 565.

——S. 20 (c)—Place of suit—Suit to set aside ex parte decree obtained by fraud.

A instituted a suit in Ferozepore against B, a resident of Lahore. The serving officer wrongly reported to the Court that B was evading summons, and an ex parte decree was passed against him. B, thereupon sued A in Lahore to set aside the decree on the ground of fraud, held, that the suit was maintainable inasmuch as, by the wrong report of the serving officer part of the cause of action arose in Lahore. 37 A. 189 F. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAM LAL ISHER DAS v. SALIG RAM. 59 I. C. 2 : 7 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 20—Place of suit—Applicability to High Court.

The application of S. 20 to High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction is expressly excluded by S. 20, C. P. Code. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J) PARAMESWARA PATTAR v. VIYATHAN MAHEDEVI alias THE VALIA THAMBURATTI. 72 I. C. 982 : 1922 M. W. N. 841 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 272.

——S. 20 (c)—Place of suit—Contract to supply goods—Breach—Suit for damages at place where price was payable is maintainable.

A suit for damages for the breach of a contract to supply goods can be brought at the place where the price is made payable under the terms of the contract 42 All. 619, Foll. (Kotval, A. J. C.) P. D. BOLTON v. HARJIVAN. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 408.

——S. 20 (c)—Place of suit—Decree transferred for execution—Suit to restrain execution—If can be filed in the executing court.

Where a decree of one court is transferred to another court for execution, a suit for an injunction restraining execution can be filed in that Court as part of the cause or action arises there. (Kinkhede. A. J. C.) SULTANALI v. BALAJI. A.I.R. 1924 Nag. 413.

——S. 20—Place of suit—Payment is due at creditor's place in absence of express or implied specification.

Where the parties have not expressly or impliedly agreed on any place of payment, the creditor is entitled to be paid at his own place. Defendant selected some articles at A and ordered them to be sent to B. where he promised to purchase such of them as should be selected by his wife. The articles were accordingly sent to B and out of them some were selected by the defendant and the others with the price for the articles selected, were sent to A. After this, further consignments were also to B. Held that there was an implied contract to pay at A and that the Court at A had jurisdiction to try a suit for the balance of the price. (Kendall, A. J. C.) RAJA MOHANNUO MUMTAZ ALI KHAN v. LALA GANGA PERSHAD. 82 I. C. 122 · A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 209.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 20—Residence.

Residence.

——S. 20—Residence within notified area—Liability to taxation of traders.

In every case residence is a question of fact, and it must depend upon the particular circumstances. The general practice is to accept as the person's residence the place where throughout the year one would ordinarily expect him to be found. The term residence is naturally a flexible one, but in the case of traders carrying on business outside their native place their place of residence is manifestly the place where they earn a living and do their daily work nor does that place cease to be their residence because for purposes of rest or recreation or family ties, they occasionally return to the family home where they and their families have been brought up. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF BARIELLY v. HAFIZ ALA BAKSH. 22 A. L. J. 457 : L. R. 5 All. 363 : 79 I. C. 67 (2) : A. I. R 1924 All. 669.

——S.20 (a)—Residence—"Carries on business"—Personal presence or effort.

In S. 20 (a) of the Code 'carrying on business' is used as distinct from personally working. It does not involve personal presence or personal effort: It means having an interest in a business, a voice in what is done, a share in the profit or loss and some control upon the business. (Walsh and Wallace, JJ.) KRIPA RAM v. MANGAL SEN. 19 A. L J. 696 : 3 U P. L R. (All.) 18 : 65 I. C. 93 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 367.

——S. 20—Residence—Carrying on business at a place.

Where the defendants had no permanent office at Amritsar but there was only a travelling agent residing at that place who secured orders for them and forwarded them to the Head Office at Calcutta, but he had no power to enter into any contract or to receive any on behalf of he defendants. Held, that the defendants cannot be said to be carrying on business at Amritsar. (Moti Sagar, J.) FIRM OF HIRA NAND MURLIDHAR v. FIRM OF GURMUKH RAI. 73 I. C. 205 : A. I. R .1923 Lah. 427.

Tort.

——S. 20—Tort—Agency for purchasing goods—Damages for agent's negligence.

The plaintiffs at Karachi sent a telegram to their commission agent in the United Provinces to buy and send them certain specified goods. In respect of goods sent, the plaintiffs sued for damages for the agent's negligence at Karachi Held, the cause of action arose in U. P. and the suit was not maintainable at Karachi. Sending of quotation cards, or catalogue of price of goods is not an offer but only an invitation for offer. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM PREMJI MULJI v. FIRM OF TARACHAND THAWER DAS. A. I. R. 1924 S nd. 64.

——S. 21—Failure of justice—Conduct of party during the suit.

An objection as to territorial jurisdiction raised before App. Court must be determined on merits as without determining it, it is not possible to ascertain whether there has been a failure of justice, in considering which, the conduct of one or other party during the suit itself ought to be considered. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) LACHHA RAM v. VIRJI. 19 A. L. J. 305 : 62 I. C. 399 : 3. U. P. L: R. (All.) 9.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 21.

——S. 21—Interpretation—Consent.

The provisions of S. 21, C.P. Code are an exception to the well established rule that where the Court has no inherent jurisdiction over the subject-matter of a suit its decree is a nullity even though the parties may have consented to the jurisdiction of the court. This exception cannot be so interpreted as to have a wider application than what is justified by its terms. When the Judge has no inherent jurisdiction over the subject-matter of a suit, the parties cannot, by their mutual consent, convert it into a proper judicial process, although they may constitute the Judge their arbitrator and be bound by his decision on the merits when these are submitted to him. This however can be accomplished only when the parties have expressly consented to such a procedure. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KUNJA MOHAN CHAKRAVARTHY v. MANINDRA CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY. 27 C. W. N. 42 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 619.

——Ss. 21 and 44—Execution of foreign judgments—S. 21 does not apply—C P. Code, S. 44.

S. 21 cannot be construed, as either legislating for foreign tribunals or codifying any rules of international law. The section has no application to cases of foreign judgments sought, under the provisions of S.44, C. P. Code, and on the strength of the notification in the Gazette of India by the Governor-General in Council, referred to in that section to be executed in British Indian Courts. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR. 86 I. C. 492 : 21 L. W. 330 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 21—Appellate Court should not reverse decree on ground of jurisdiction only unless plea was raised at the earlier stage and appellant was prejudiced—Jurisdiction—Suits Valuation Act, S. 11—Practice—Plea.

The question of jurisdiction should be raised in the Court of first instance and it should be given effect to by the appellate Court only when prejudice is caused by the trial in the first Court. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) A. CHELMAYYA v. A. LAKSHMI DEVAMMA. 79 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 171.

——S. 21—Suit to set aside decree passed without territorial jurisdiction is excluded by waiver of objection to jurisdiction—The principle underlying the section viz. that of waiver of jurisdiction is also applicable to a separate suit to set aside a decree passed without jurisdiction.

Per Venkatasubba Rao, J.—The section in terms refers to the disallowing of the objection to jurisdiction by an appellate or revisional Court. But the principle is of general application and if in appeal or revision the decree cannot be impeached it is equally reasonable that in a collateral proceeding it should not be allowed to be attacked. The principle underlying S. 21 is that the objection to territorial jurisdiction is cured not merely for the purpose of the appellate and revisional Court but cured entirely and for all purposes. The section applies when there is want of jurisdiction not merely at the institution of the suit but at any stage during the progress of it. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) CHOKKALINGA PILLAY v. VELAYUDHA MUDALIAR. 47 M. L. J. 448 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 117.

——S. 21—Transfer of territorial jurisdiction—Effect on pending proceedings—Objection—Waiver—Appeal.

In a suit on a mortgage an application for the appointment of a Receiver pendente lite was made.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 21.

Issues were framed in the case and afterwards the application for a receiver was heard. Before delivery of judgment on the application the territorial jurisdiction of the Court was transferred by a notification of the Government and vested in another court. In spite of this the former court proceeded to deliver judgment appointing a Receiver, without any objection to its jurisdiction being taken by the parties. The defendants appealed against the order appointing a Receiver on the ground, inter alia that the Court ceased to have jurisdiction over the cause at the time when the order was made. Held, that S. 21, C. P. Code, governed all cases of want of territorial jurisdiction and that the appellants not having taken objection to the passing of the lower court's order must be held to have waived objection on the ground of want of jurisdiction and could not raise the same objection on appeal especially as there had been no failure of justice. (Odgers and Wallace, JJ.) RAMANI v. NARAYANASWAMI AIYAR. 47 M. L J. 192 : 34 M. L. T. 275: 20 L. W. 467 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 697.

——Ss. 21 and 37—Execution proceedings—Order for delivery of immoveable property after transfer of territorial jurisdiction—Objection to jurisdiction not raised in the first Court, if can be allowed on appeal.

Pending an application for execution by delivery of possession of the properties decreed, the territorial jurisdiction of the court over the properties was taken away and vested in another Court. Notwithstanding this the court passed an order for delivery of the properties without any objection by any of the parties. Subsequently on appeal from the order of the court it was contended that the court had no jurisdiction to order delivery. Held that the judgment-debtor having waived all objection to territorial jurisdiction in the lower court could not be allowed to raise it on appeal. The objection being one of form and not of substance the appellate court would not allow it to be taken for the first time 43 M. 675 (F. B.) Ref. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) MANAVIKRAMAN v. ANANTHANARAYANA AIYAR. 46 M. L. J. 250 : 19 L.W. 16 : (1924) M. W. N. 38 : 79 : I. C 806 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 4 7.

——S. 21 and O. 41, R. 23—Remand by appellate Court—Jurisdiction to try.

The jurisdiction of the Court trying a remanded case depends entirely on the order of remand. Where therefore, the High Court remanded a case for trial by the Munisif's Court of Madura Town held, that the Court of Madura Taluk, which was a different Court altogether had no jurisdiction to deal with it or pass any orders in it. Neither S. 21, C.P. Code, in terms nor any principle underlying it is applicable to the case. (Krishnan, J.) URHUMAN AMMAL v. NAINA MAHOMED ROWTHER. 44 M. L J. 238 : 17 L. W. 355 : (1923) M. W. N. 194 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 276 : 72 I. C. 314 : A. I R. 1923 Mad. 351.

——S. 21—Limits of applicability.

In order to satisfy the court under S. 21 of the C. P. Code it is necessary to show not merely that the suit was decided wrongly but that its being decided wrongly was in some measure due to its having been instituted in a court of wrong local jurisdiction. (Daniels, A, J. C.) BANKE LAL v. KANHAIYA LAL. A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 124.

——Ss. 21 and 99—Local jurisdiction—Place of suing—Objection—Prejudice.

Before an objection to the local jurisdiction of a Civil Court can be given effect to, prejudice to the applicant in revision must have been pleaded and proved. (Foster, J) THE INDIAN GENERAL NAVIGATION & RY. CO., LTD. v. FIRM OF DAULAT RAM CHATURBHUJ. 2 Pat. L.R. 74 : 30 I.C. 745 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 527.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 22.

——S. 22—Application not presented at earliest opportunity must be rejected.

The language of S.22 is mandatory and an application under the section not presented at the earliest possible opportunity must be rejected. (Zafar Ali, J.) SHIV DATT v. PANDIT MOTIRAM. 88 I.C. 531: 7 Lah. L.J. 93: A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 322 (1).

——S. 22—Provisions are mandatory and application should be made at or before settlement of issues.

The provisions of S. 22, Civil Procedure Code, are mandatory and an application under the section must be made in a case where issues are settled, at or before such settlement is made. (Broadway, J.) FIRM BEHARI LAL KANHAYA LAL v. OFFICIAL RECEIVER INSOLVENT ESTATES, LAHORE. 78 I. C. 608 : A. I R. 1925 Lah. 175.

——Ss. 22, 23 and 24—Transfer—Grounds for—Transfer to Original Side of the High Court.

The right of a plaintiff to institute a suit in a court in which the law permits him to sue should not be interfered with by the High Court in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction unless the suit is brought in bad faith for the purpose of working injustice to which the defendant would not be subjected if the suit were brought in another competent court. The mere fact that it would be more convenient to the defendant to have the suit tried in another forum is no ground for the transfer Ss. 22 and 23, C. P. Code, do not provide for the transfer of a case from a court subordinate to one High Court to the Original Side of another High Court. 12 C. W. N, 446 dist I. Pat L. T. 389 Ref. 27 M, L. J 645 approved. 44 A. 278 Ref. (Campbell, J.) PRAGJI SOORJI & CO., BOMBAY v. KALU MAL SHORI MAL & CO.. 69 I. C. 772 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 306.

——Ss 22 and 23—Mere inconvenience is not sufficient ground—Whether sufficient grounds exist depends upon the facts of each case.

On the ground of mere inconvenience a suit ought not to be transferred under Ss: 22 and 23, because the plaintiff has a right to choose his own forum and it is for the Court to see in each case whether there are good grounds for exercising the discretion to transfer the case. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAMJI DAS v. FIRM BRIJI LAL JAGAN NATH. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 304.

——Ss. 22 and 23 -Transfer of case—Principle guiding.

The plaintiff has always a right to choose his forum with this right. The jurisdiction conferred by Ss. 22 and 23, C P Code, is of an exceptional character and should be exercised very cautiously and only when a clear cause has been shown. The mere fact that it would add to the defendant's convenience to have a transfer is no ground for transferring a case (Shadi Lal, C.J.) PANDIT ROOP CHAND v. GOKAL CHAND. 73 I. C. 860 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 249.

——Ss. 22 and 23—Balance of convenience.

Where the dealings all took place at Karachi, the persons from whom goods were bought and to whom goods were sold, by the petitioners were at Karachi, and all the accounts relating to the dealings in question were at Karachi, Held, the balance of convenience was greatly in favour of the case being tried at Karachi. (Martineau, J.) BANARSI DAS v. KISHI LAL. 72 I. C. 592 : A I. R. 1923 Lah. 383.

——Ss. 22 and 23—Transfer of suit—Choice of forum.

It is only when a suit may be brought in one or other of two courts, both of which have jurisdiction that an application can be made under Ss. 22 and 23 of the C.P. Code. Where the jurisdiction of one Court is denied an application for transfer under these sections cannot lie. 12 A. L. J. 986 followed. (Abdul Qadir, J.) THE NATIONAL ENGINEERING CO. v. THE RATTAN ENGINEERING CO. 71 I. C. 268 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 288 (2), ——Ss. 22 and 23—Plaintiff having option of choosing forum—Transfer—Convenience and expense.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 22.

Under the terms of a promissory note the plaintiff had the option of suing in one of two places and he exerised his option by filing a suit in one place. The defendant applied to have it transferred to the other, on the ground the plaintiff himself was living there and that it would be more convenient for the parties and the witnesses who lived nearer that place. Held, it was a fit case for transfer. (Neave, A. J. C.) DUTT v. PANDIT SHEO BALAK PANDEY.

10 O. & A. L. R. 108 : 11 O. L. J. 377 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 410.

——S. 23 (3)—"Subordinate," meaning of.

For the purposes of transfer applications of suits from the Original Side of the High Court the Judge sitting on the original side is subordinate to the appellate side of the High Court. (Robinson, C. J and Duckworth, J.) V. F R. N. V. E. RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. V. E. R. M. N. R. RAMANATHAN CHETTY. 1 Bur. L. J. 194 · 11 L. B. R. 446 : A.I.R. 1923 Rang. 22.

——S. 24—"Suit" includes execution proceedings.

The word "suit" in S. 24 will include execution proceedings. A particular execution application can be transferred under the section. (Walsh, Ag. C. J. and Dalal, J.) MUHAMMAD HABIBULLAH v. SETH TIKAM CHAND. 85 I. C. 746 : 47 All 57 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 103 : A. I. R. 1925 All 276 (2).

——S. 24—High Court—Evidence concluded in one Court.

In a suit concerning land dispute, a court which really had no territorial jurisdiction went into the case elaborately, made local inspections and recorded evidence fully, when the defect was found out. Then the plaint was returned to be presented to the proper Court. Held, it was a proper case in which under S. 24, the High Court should send it for disposal to the first Court itself. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) NAND RAM v. HIRA DEVI. 21 A. L. J. 86 : L. R. 4 A. 311 : 73 I. C. 495 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 All. 249.

——S. 24—Transfer—Notice not issued—Order illegal.

An order of transfer cannot be passed without notice to the opposite party. If such an order is passed, it is without jurisdiction and can be set aside in revision. (Mukerji, J.) DE MELLO v. NEW VICTORIA MILLS CO. LTD. L. R. 6 All. 555 : 23 A. L. J. 948 : 90 I. C. 287 (2) : A. I. R. 1926 All. 17.

——S. 24—Grounds for transfer—Transfer of suit from one province to another—Balance of convenience.

When a litigant applies for the transfer of a case from one province to another the court will insist on his making out a strong case of the balance of convenience. 14 A. L. J. 242 Rel. 17 A. L. J. 371 not foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) INAYAT-ULLAH KHAN v. NISAR AHMAD KHAN. 44 A. 278 : 65 I.C. 782 : L. R. 3 A. 97 : 20 A. L. J. 118 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 65.

——S. 24 and O. 41, R. 23—Jurisdiction—Case remanded by High Court to Dt. Court—Power of Dt. Judge to transfer case.

Under S. 24 a Dt. Court to which an appeal has been remanded by the High Court for disposal has power to transfer it to the Court of the Additional Dt. Judge unless the High Court's order was drawn up in express terms so as to disclose a clear intention of limiting those powers. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAJKALI v. GOPI NATH NAIK. 44 A. 211 : 20 A. L. J. 44 : 66 I.C. 317 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 35.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 24.

——S. 24—High Court in insolvency jurisdiction cannot withdraw insolvency proceedings pending with a Sub-Judge in the presidency—Presy. Towns Insol. Act (1909), S. 18.

The High Court in the exercise of its insolvency jurisdiction has no power to order a withdrawal of the proceedings in insolvency from the Court of the Subordinate Judge in the presidency to itself. [39 Bom. 604 Appr.] But in the exercise of the jurisdiction of the High Court in insolvency a Judge invested with that jurisdiction has power under S. 18 to stay any suit or other proceeding pending against the insolvent in a District Court or Subordinate Judge's Court in the Presidency which is subject to the superintendence of the High Court. 1922 Bom. 390 Expl. and Dist. (Taraporewala, J.) NAGINLAL MAGANLAL v. GUNVANTRAI DHIRAJLAL. 49 Bom. 788 : 27 B.L.R. 1207: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 543.

——S. 24—Transfer—Refused by District Judge—Powers of High Court.

Quaere—Where the District Judge has refused to transfer a case under S. 24 whether the High Court can exercise its concurrent jurisdiction under the same section. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SOROJ BASHINI DEBI v. GIRIJA PRASHAD.

87 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal 326.

——S. 24—Two suits raising same issues instituted in two different Courts—The suits may be ordered to be tried together.

Where A filed a suit against B on a hand note and B filed another suit against A in another Court for accounts but both the suits dealt with a common issue.

Held: that both suits should be ordered to be tried together. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SOROJ BASHINI v. GIRIJA PRASAD. 87 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 326.

——S. 24—Suit dismissed by Small Cause Court—High Court directing restoration of suit—New Judge in Small Cause Court—Value of suit exceeding his jurisdiction—Suit transferred to another Court—Latter Court has small cause jurisdiction regarding the suit—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, S. 35.

A Small Cause Court is established first and the Judge of that Court is appointed afterwards. Therefore, the Court does not cease to exist if at any time there should be no Judge to preside over it. Suits can be instituted in the Court even if there should be no Judge appointed for the time being. The suits so instituted would remain in the Court until they are withdrawn therefrom. A Small Cause Court dismissed a suit. The High Court in revision directed the Trial Court to re-entertain the suit. In the meanwhile a new officer came to be the Judge in the Trial Court and he was invested with Small Cause Court powers. But the value of the suit exceeded the limits of his pecuniary jurisdiction. The District Judge transferred the suit to another Court.

Held: that the Court to which the suit was transferred had small cause jurisdiction with regard to the suit. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) JOGI PERSHAD v. AMIR BAKSH 88 I. C. 139 : 26 Punj. L. R. 308 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 561.

——S. 24—Order of transfer without notice to other party can be set aside in revision.

Section 24 of the C. P. Code requires the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 24.

Court to issue notice to the parties before it makes an order for transfer otherwise than of its own motion and an order of transfer made without notice to the other party can be set aside in revision and on the application of one party. (Martineau, J.) LABHU RAM v. KARTA RAM. 78 I. C. 614 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189 (1).

——— S. 24—Grounds for transfer — Reasonable apprehension.

It is true that a reasonable apprehension on the part of a litigant should receive consideration when a transfer is applied for but at the same time the apprehension must be such as a reasonable man might reasonably be expected to have. (Broadway, J.) KHWAJA AHAD SHAH v. MT. AYSHAN BEGUM. 77 I. C. 762 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 564.

——— S. 24—Notice—Transfer without notice is ground for setting aside ex parte decree.

It is always usual to issue notices to the parties informing them that a case has been transferred from one court to another and in the absence of such a notice a party may well plead that he did not know in what court he had to appear. (Moti Sagar, J.) GANGA RAM v. GUJARMAL. 84 I. C. 238 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 444.

——— S. 24—Grounds for transfer—Adverse decision on a point of law in a connected suit.

The fact that a judge has decided a point of law arising in one case is not a good ground for transferring from his Court another case in which the same point arises. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF JAI NARAIN BABULAL v. THE FIRM OF JOHRI MAL CHUNNA MAL OF DELHI. 67 I. C. 228 : 3 Lah. 296 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 369.

——— S. 24—Powers of transfer—Limitations.

A superior court has no jurisdiction to direct the transfer of a case from a court subordinate to it to another court which is outside its jurisdiction. In such a case it is even doubtful whether it can direct the former court to return the plaint to be returned for presentation to another court outside its jurisdiction. (Baker, J. C.) TOPAN HARJI & CO. v. SINGHAI DALCHAND. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 152.

——— S. 24—Notice to opposite party—Transfer of case—Necessary.

There can be no question that a District Judge should give notice to the other side when dealing with a transfer case on the application of one of the parties and not suo motu. His failure to do so is certainly an irregularity. (Ashworth, J. C.) KARIM BAKHSH v. ABDUL HUQ. 26 O. C. 62 : 74 I. C. 249 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 240.

——— S. 24—Grounds for transfer—Balance of convenience.

A plaintiff has an undoubted right to bring his suit in any court which has jurisdiction but there is no particular sanctity to be attached to this right. If the defendants can show a clear balance of advantage in the way of convenience and expense they are entitled to have the case transferred. (Ashworth J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) THAKUR NARAINDRA BIKRAM JIT SINGH v. SHEO RATAN THAKURAIN. 9 O. L. J 413 : 69 I. C. 717 : 4 U. P. L. R. (O.) 112 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 30.

——— S. 24—Transfer of suit—Choice of forum—Plaintiff's right to.

A plaintiff is entitled to file his suit in the Court having jurisdiction to try it and the convenience of the defendant is not a ground for transfer of the suit. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) RAJAKALANAND SINGH v. MAKSUDAN JHA. 2 Pat. L. R. 111 (Cr.)

——— S. 24 (4)—Court of Small Causes—Transfer of suit to regular jurisdiction—Appeal.

Where a suit instituted in a Small Cause Court is transferred for trial by the District Judge to a Court not invested with such powers, there is no appeal from the decision of such court. The suit remains a small cause one in spite of the transfer. 38 M. 25 ; 27 C. L. J 461 ; 31 B. 314 (F. B.) Foll. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS v. KESHWAR LAL. 1 Pat. 696 : 69 I. C. 681 (2) : 4 Pat. L. T. 259 : 1 Pat. L. R. 186 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 49.

——— S. 25—Judicial Commissioner of Coorg—Transfer of suit to High Court—Trial on the Original Side—Appeal.

Where a case is transferred under S. 25, C. P. Code by the Governor-General in Council from the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Coorg to the Original Side of the High Court of Madras and the suit is tried by the High Court, an appeal lies. (1913) A. C. 546 applied. (Schwabe, C. J. and Odgers, J.) KONGANDRA APPAYYA v. KONGANDRA KUTTAPPA. (1922) M. W. N. 830.

——— S. 26—Plaint—Presentation at private residence of Judge is valid.

The presentation of a plaint after the usual court hours at the private residence of the Judge is valid. A Judge has jurisdiction to receive the plaint at his residence and after the Court hours, though he is not obliged to do so. 34 A. 482 Relied on. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) MADHORAO v. MANOHAR LAL. 65 I. C. 674 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 167 (1).

——— S. 27—Suit duly instituted—Meaning of—Dismissal of suit for non-payment of deficit court-fee—Review without notice to other side not illegal.

A suit was instituted on the last day for filing the suit under the Limitation Act. The plaint was insufficiently stamped and the deficit court fees not having been put in within the time fixed by the Court, the suit was dismissed. Thereafter on an application for review, the order of dismissal was set aside without any notice to the defendant and time was granted for putting in the deficit court fee :

Held that at the time the order of dismissal was set aside, there was no opposite party on whom the notice could be served, as the summons in the suit had not yet been issued on the defendant and as, until the suit was registered, the suit could not be said to have been duly instituted. The order of dismissal passed at that stage of the case, can be reviewed without notice to the defendant. 8 W. R. 304 and 14 M. L. J. 7 Ref. 43 C. 178 Appl. (Newbould, J.) SURENDRA PRASAD LAHIRI v. ATTABUDDIN AHMED. 26 C. W. N. 391 : 69 I. C. 43 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 234.

——— S. 83—Decree should conform to judgment—C. P. Code, O. 20, R. 6.

The Code is clear in insisting that the decree which is drawn up by the Court shall be in accordance with the judgment. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) BALGOBIND v. SHEO KUMAR. 22 A. L. J. 791 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ) 545 : 82 I. C. 184 : 46 All. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 818 (2).

——— S. 33—Party need not apply for having a decree drawn up and need not apply for a copy till it is drawn up—Limitation Act, S. 12.

There is no provision requiring a party or his pleader to move the Court to draw up a decree and mere omission to ask the Court to do that which it is the duty of the Court to do on its own motion cannot affect his right to appeal. (38-B. 331, Foll.) Nor is there any obligation on the parties even to apply for a copy of the decree until the Court drew it up (13 C. P. L. R. 78, Dissent.) (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) PANDU v. RAJESWAR. 20 N. L. R. 131 : 78 I. C. 996 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 34.

A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 271.

——S. 34—Discretion of Court—Interest.

Under S. 34 of the C. P. Code, the Court has a discretion as to the rate of interest to be awarded after the institution of the suit till judgment and where the courts below had awarded 8 per cent. the Privy Council refused to interfere. (Viscount Haldane,) PANNAH LAL v. NIHAL CHAND. 43 M. L. J. 66: (1922) M. W. N. 376: 26 C. W. N. 737: 16 L. W. 80: 36 C. L. J. 5: 24 Bom. L. R. 971: 31 M. L. T. 129: 67 I. C. 423: 30 P. W. R. 1922: 2 P. L. R. (P.C.) 1922: A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 46 (P.C.)

——S. 34 Interest—Liability to pay after period fixed for redemption.

Where in mortgage by conditional sale the mortgagor covenanted to pay interest till the date fixed for payment after which the mortgagee was to become the absolute owner of the property and there was nothing expressed in the document to provide for payment of interest after the due date in case the mortgagee did not institute foreclosure proceedings, held, that having regard to the terms of the whole document, its general tenor implied an obligation on the part of the borrower on the making of default to be liable for subsequent interest at the rate mentioned in the bond. 19 A. 39; 20 A. 171; 25 C. 246 Ref. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. RAJADHIRAJ SINGH. 44 A. 772: 77 I. C. 122: L. R. 3 A. 536: 20 A. L. J. 752: A. I. R. 1923 All. 7.

——S. 34—Interest subsequent to date of plaint—Discretion of Court.

The award of interest after institution of a suit is in the discretion of the Court. Where throughout the dealings between the parties compound interest was charged and the total amount of such interest exceeded one-third of the amount of the claim, held, the Court would be justified in refusing future interest. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) BHAGWAN BAKSH v. DAMODARJI JOSHI. 42 All. 230: 59 I. C. 20: 18 A. L. J. 100.

——S. 34—Interest on damages.

Where a party improperly delays the ascertainment of damages for a long time he should be penalized by awarding interest from date of suit. (Marten, J.) COORLA SPINNING AND WEAVING MILLS CO., v. VALLABHDAS KALLIANJI. 27 B. L. R. 1168: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 547.

——S. 34—Decree for partition and for accounts—Section does not apply.

Where the decree is not for a definite sum of money but is one for accounts and for partition it does not fall under S. 34 and sub-S. (2) does not apply. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) KESARLAL GIRDHARLAL v. JOGUBHAI HIRALAL. 49 Bom 282: 27 B. L. R. 226: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 406.

——S. 34—Mortgage suit—Interest allowed from date of suit only so as to make interest equal to capital—Interest also allowed in case of default in payment from date fixed for payment—Award of interest was held proper.

There is a discretion vested in the Court to decide whether interest should be allowed on the redemption money from the date of the suit. Where the lower Court allowed interest after the date of the suit so as to make the total sum decreed for interest equal to the amount of the principal and then allowed further interest in case of default, on the total sum from the date fixed for payment under the decree up to actual realisation at 6 p. c.

Held; that plaintiff had no particular claim on the Court to award him any further amount and that the award of interest was proper. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) ACHYUT NARAYAN KHARE v. RAMCHANDRA KESHAV UKIDVE. 87 I. C. 719: 27 B. L. R. 492: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 362.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 34.

——S. 34—Interest on mortgage is payable at contract rate, pendente lite unless rate is excessive or transaction unfair — Usurious Loans Act, S. 3—C. Pr. Code, O. 34, r. 2.

Unless the Court finds that the rate of interest stipulated in the contract is excessive or that the transaction is substantially unfair, the Court is bound to award to a mortgagee interest at the contract rate during the period the suit has been pending and up to the date fixed for payment. (N. R. Chatterji and Graham, JJ.) JOGENDRA NATH ROY v. N. MURTAZA BEGUM. 29 C. W. N. 118: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 268 (2).

——S. 34—Interest—Damages—Breach of contract.

Under S. 34, C. P. Code, the Court has a discretion to award interest on damages for breach of contract from the date of suit up to the date of decree but the court should state its reasons for so doing. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) PANNALAL SAGORE v. MUKHRAM RADHA KISSEN. 39 C. L. J. 77: 80 I. C. 87: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 637.

——S. 34—Contract rate—Rate excessive.

The mere finding that the rate of interest in a mortgage bond is excessive, is not sufficient reason to refuse interest at the contract rate. (Newbould and Buckland, JJ.) DINESH CHANDRA SHAH v. SAFER ALI MANDAL. 60 I. C. 693.

——S. 34—Suit for money representing depreciation in value of goods supplied—No interest claimable.

In a suit for recovery of money representing the depreciation in the value of goods supplied, no interest can be claimed during the pendency of the suit as the amount is neither 'debt' nor sum certain within S. 1 but only unliquidated damages. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) CREWDSON v. GANESH DAS HARI BUX. 60 I. C. 288: 32 C. L. J. 239.

——S. 34—Post diem interest—Damages—Measure.

Where there is no express stipulation for the payment of interest after the due date, the mortgagee is entitled to damages on account of the failure of the debtor to pay the debt at the stipulated time. The measure of damages would prima facie be the same as the rate of interest stipulated for by the parties. There is no rule of law making the contract rate necessarily the measure of damages, and the Court has discretion to reduce the rate if it is found to be unusual. 17 All. 511 (P.C.); 3 Lah. 200. (F.B.) Ref. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) BUDHU RAM v. NIAMAT RAI. 4 Lah. 406: 75 I. C. 375: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 632.

——S. 34—Discretion of Court—Interest—Interest not asked for in the plaint can be awarded—C. P. Code, O. 7, R. 7.

Having regard to the provisions of O. 7, R. 7 of the Code the Court has discretionary power to grant interest under S. 34 of the Code in a suit for money, although interest was not specifically asked for in the plaint. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ). RUP RAM v. HARPHUL. 64 I. C. 896: 2 Lah. 256.

——S. 34—Court can award interest up to the date fixed for redemption even where Damdupat rule is applied at the date of suit.

Under S. 34 a Court has discretion in the matter of allowing in a redemption suit interest from the date of suit to the date fixed for redemption even in cases where the rule of Damdupat applied at the date of suit 1922 Nagpur 155 Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 34.

WILAYAT ALI KHAN v. MAROTI. 78 I. C. 632 ; A. I. R. 1925 Nag 193 (2)

——S. 34 —Court may in proper case award interest under S. 34 though it has ceased or is not, due for any reason—Interest—Damdupat.

The very fact that it is within the discretion of the Court to award interest or not, and to fix the rate of interest makes it manifest that it is a statutory power which does not relate back to the contract nor comprise the enforcement of any part of the contract between the parties. The law recognizes that in claims for money there may be considerable delay between the institution of the suit and the realization of his money for which delay the plaintiff may not be responsible. If the money is carrying interest by contract till the date of payment then probably no interest under S. 209 (new S. 34) will be allowed but merely interest under the contract. But if the money carried no interest ab initio or for any reason had ceased to carry interest from and after the date of suit or some earlier date, then the Court may in a proper case apply S. 34 Where interest had ceased on account of rule of damdupat even before institution of suit. Held, that the Court had the power of applying S. 34. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MOTI LAL PRAMLAL v. RENI. 78. I. C. 711 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 348.

——S. 34—Rate of interest, a question of fact.

The question of the rate of interest is a matter to be decided on the facts of each case. (Baker, J.C.) DAULATRAM v. GULABCHAND.

76 I. C. 131 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 346.

——S. 34 —Co-sharer —Demand.

There is certainly no ground for granting interest where a co-sharer makes no demand for his share of the profits. (Batten, J. C.) MAKUNDRAM v. SRI KRISHNA.

19 N.L.R. : 24 : 73 I. C. 142 : A.I.R. 1923 Nag. 197.

——S. 34—Discretion to be exercised reasonably.

The Court must use its discretion reasonably in granting interest. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ) MICHU MISSIR v. BALBHADRA PRASTI. 62 I.C. 116 : 2 Pat L.T. 147

——Ss. 34 and 151—Damages or interests as damages by way of restitution—No jurisdiction to allow in cases where interest not awarded by the decree.

The Court has no inherent jurisdiction under S. 151, C. P. Code, to award interest or damages in lieu of interest on the decretal amount from the date of decree where no interest has been specifically awarded by the decree. A decree-holder is not entitled in execution proceedings to interest by way of restitution under S. 144, C.P. Code, in cases where the decretal amount has never in fact been realised, though he will be entitled to such restitution on amounts realised and reimbursed to the opposite party for the period he was kept out on the use of the money. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) MAUNG PE v. MA HINT.

3 Bur. L. J. 58 : 82 I. C. 427 : A.I.R. 1924 Rang. 275.

——S 34 (2)—Decree silent as to interest—Effect

Where a decree is silent with respect to interest, the court should be deemed to have refused it. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) AMBI v. PUDIA KOVILAGATH SRIDEVI. 45 M.L.J. 687 : (1923) M.W.N. 763: 18 L.W. 686 : 33 M.L.T. 101 (H.C.): 75 I.C. 566 : A.I.R. 1924 M. 102.

——S. 34—Interest cannot be claimed unless written notice demanding it is given.

Where a plaintiff has not served any written notice of demand on defendant intimating that he would charge interest the defendant is not liable to pay the same. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) SARJABAI v. YUDESA. 90. I.C. 58 : A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 64.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

——S. 34—Interest should not be refused without proper reasons.

Although the award of interest pending suit is discretionary with the court it should not ordinarily be refused in the absence of proper reasons. 23 C.W.N. 336, Foll. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) RAMDHAN v. PURUSHOTTUM. 88 I C. 699 : A.I.R. 1926 Nag 109.

——S. 35—Contribution—Costs. See CONTRIBUTION.

——S. 35—Respondent lodging a case but absent at hearing—Appeal dismissed—Costs up to lodging should be allowed.

When respondents lodge a case, but do not appear at the hearing and the appeal was dismissed with costs, the costs should be paid to respondents down to the lodging of the case. (Mr. Ameer Ali) GAJADHAR MAHTON v. AMBIKA PRASAD TEWARI.

49 M L.J. 238 : 41 C.L.J. 450 : 27 B.L.R. 853 : 87 I.C. 292 : L.R. 6 P.C. 126 : (1925) M.W.N. 532 : 47 All. 459: 22 L.W. 306: A.I.R. 1925 P.C. 169. (P.C.).

——S. 35—Costs—Party in an advantageous position—Equity.

A property was leased to the Appellant on condition that the lease could not be cancelled for three years, the term of the lease the property was sold to the lessee. A creditor or rather the Receiver of his estate got the sale set aside in the High Court. He had not appeared to support the decision set aside in Privy Council Held ; if for commercial reasons it suited the lessees to accept the order of the Chief Court to hold the premises, during the remainder of their lease and then get out of what might by reason of changes in commerce be a bad bargain they were in a position to do so by abandoning their appeal. If on the other hand it suited them as apparently it had suited them, to re-establish their sale in this case they had only to bring their case to hearing. In these circumstances there was no hardship in making them bear their costs of the appeal to His Majesty. (Lord Phillimore) BEHARI LAL BULAKI RAM v. KUNDAN LAL.

32 M. L. T. 15 : 69 I. C. 356 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 361 (P. C.).

——S. 35—Costs—Co-defendants—Contribution—Right of when excluded.

Where several defendants have different antagonistic and exclusive defences there is no contribution in the absence of special contract to the contrary. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) PARSOTTAM DAS KOLAPURI v. LACHMI NARAIN. L. R. 3 A. 507 : 20 A. L. J. 890 : 45 A. 99 : A I. R. 1923 All. 67

——S. 35—Divorce.

Even although a wife's defence fails or her counter charges break down or she has been proved guilty of adultery the husband has to pay her costs. (Walsh and Stuart, JJ.) PATRICK NORMAN DWYER v. HARRIET MARY CECILIA DWYER.

A. I. R 1922 All. 243.

——S. 35—Costs—Independent action for costs—Damages too remote—No action lies.

A claim cannot be maintained for damages which are too remote. An independent action cannot be maintained to recover the balance of costs over and above that awarded by the Court which tried the matter. If under any particular proceeding the Court is not empowered to grant costs, no costs can be granted in an independent action by any other Court. (Mears, C.J. and Banerjee J.) RAM DAS v. MUHAMMAD FAQIR. 20 A. L. J. 205 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 143 (2).

——S. 35—Discretion—Interference when can be made.

S. 35 deals with costs and vests them in the discretion of the Court, with full powers to determine by whom and to what extent such costs are to be paid. It further provides that when the Court directs that any costs shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing. The Court in exercising such a discretion should state the principles upon which that discretion was exercised. Such a discretion of the lower Court may be interfered with where there has been violence of any established principle, misapprehension of facts, or no real exercise of discretion. (Walsh, J.) HAKIM ZAHUR AHAMAD v. FATEH ULLAH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

64 I. C. 962 : 3 U. P. L. R. 55 (All.)

——S. 35—When costs do not follow event, reasons must be given--Plaintiff who is not guilty of misconduct is not disentitled to his costs.

The ordinary rule is hat costs should follow the event. It is generally necessary that, when costs do not follow the event, the particular reasons should be given why the ordinary rule should not be followed. Where there are no circumstances in a case which show that the plaintiff is in any way guilty of misconduct he should not be disentitled to his costs.(Macleod. C. J. and Coyajee, J.) RAMPRASAD SHIVLAL v. SHRINIVAS BALMUKUND. 27 B. L. R. 1142 : 90 I. C. 685 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 527.

——S. 35—Privy Council Appeal presented but not prosecuted—Costs on petition for leave to appeal to Privy Council are to be paid by appellant.

Where a party obtained leave to appeal to the Privy Council, but took no steps to prosecute the appeal after the record reached there, and the appeal was thus dismissed for non-prosecution. Held : that the respondents were entitled to the cost incurred by them in the High Court on the petition to obtain a certificate for leave to appeal. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) VALLABHDAS v. RANCHHORDAS. 27 B. L. R. 699 : 89 I. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 471.

——S. 35—No appeal lies.

No appeal lies against an order passed by a Judge directing how costs are to be taxed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) LAXMAN WAMAN GADRE v. SARASWATI GANESH GADRE. 27 B. L. R. 692 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 432.

——S. 35—Several defendants—Suit dismissed against all—Each defendant is entitled to costs on the basis of suit valuation.

Where the plaintiff's suit is dismissed each defendant is entitled to costs taxed on the basis of the suit valuation and not on the basis of what each defendant's interest might be in the suit itself. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) LAXMAN WAMAN GADRE v. SARASWATI GANESH GADRE. 27 B. L. R. 692 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 432.

——S. 35—Costs—Order as to—Interlocutory application—Costs to be costs in the cause—Power of Court to deal with costs.

The words "costs in the cause" in an order made in an interlocutory proceeding do not mean that the costs would inevitably follow the event but that those costs remain to be dealt with by the Court at the hearing, the judge at the trial having still power to deal with such costs. If a decree is passed in favour of one side or the other for costs then those costs must be taken as being included in the final orders unless the Judge expressly excludes them. (Mocleod. C. J, and Shah, J.) JIVABAI PITAMBERDAS v. TEJA SAMA.
26 Bom. L. R. 282 : 80 I. C. 263 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 398.

——S. 35—Partition suit—Costs.

The general rule is that in partition suits parties should have their own costs except with regard to the institution fee which should be borne proportionately by all the parties. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KASTURIBAI MANIBAI v. BAI MAHALAXMI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

77 I. C. 914 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 464.

——S. 35—Costs—Appellate Court.

It may be sound exercise of discretion to refuse costs where the suit is based on a state of law which has been afterwards altered either by statute or by the decision of a superior tribunal, but this is so only if tne successful party is responsible for the litigation. Where there is an omission to consider the necessary circumstances then there cannot be a sound exercise of discretion and the Appellate Court in that case can reverse the order as to costs. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KHIMCHAND v. SOBHAGCHAND.
47 Bom. 559 · 25 Bom. L. R. 242 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 206.

——S. 35—Discretion—Costs.

Where the court below gave reasons for awarding costs in a particular manner and it is not shown that the principle adopted is wrong the discretion exercised by the court below should not be interfered with in appeal. (Martin and Pratt, JJ.) SHRIDHAR LAXMAN v. JANARDHAN.
72 I. C. 993 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 37.

——S. 35—Disallowance of—Suit filed in wrong Court.

No order as to costs was made in this case as ejectment proceeding could have been taken in the Small Cause Court but were taken in the High Court on the Original Side. (Macleod,. C J. and Shah, J.) RUSTOMJI DINSHAN BILLIMRIA v. DOSIBAI RUSTOMJI MASTER. 23 Bom. L. R. 850 : 63 I. C. 41 : 45 Bom. 1236.

——S. 35—Mortgagee contesting suit as purchaser will get no costs.

Where the defendant mortgagee contests the suit, on the ground that the transaction is a sale and not a mortgage, the ordinary rule as to the award of costs to mortgagee, will not apply. (Shah, A. C. J.) SHIVBASAPA v. BALAPA BASAPA. 2[illegible] Bom. L. R 1209 : 81 I. C. 673 · [illegible] 1924 Bom. 172.

——S. 35—Discretion—Pleader's fees—Opinion of the Taxing master.

On a question of pleader's fees, the Court always allows the opinion of the Taxing Master to prevail and it will not interfere with it unless it is wrong in principle or very clearly wrong in detail. (Pratt, J.) SADASUKH GAMBHIRCHAND v. BAIJNATH HARNANDRAI. 23 Bom. L. R. 854 : 63 I. C. 37 : 45 Bom. 1234.

——S. 35—Principles of—Third party proceeding—Taxation of costs—Method.

Where defendant succeeds in third party proceedings, after a decree is passed against him his costs in the suit as against the third party should be taxed as between solicitor and client and the costs of the third party proceedings should be taxed as between party and party. (Marten, J.) WELD AND CO v. SHER AHMED EKBAL AHMED. 59 I. C. 18 : 21 Bom. L. R. 808.

——S. 35—Discretion being exercised—Appellate Court ought not to interfere

The Court which tries a suit has full power to determine by whom the costs are to be paid. Where this discretion was exercised with care, the Appellate Court ought not to interfere with such discretion. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) RAKHAL CHANDRA v. GOUR GOPAL. 42 C. L. J. 137 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1085.

——S. 35—Defendants absent need not be exonerated—Antecedent conduct of parties should be looked into.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

There is no rule of law that because a suit or appeal is heard ex parte, the successful plaintiff or appellant is not entitled to costs against the absent defendant or respondent. The case would be different if the defendant would appear at the trial and state that he had no interest in the litigation, that there was no cause of action as against him, that he did not dispute the allegations of the plaintiffs in the plaint and that he should consequently be discharged. The Court while awarding costs is not confined to the consideration of the defendant's conduct in the actual litigation itself, but may also take into consideration matters which led up to and were the occasion of that litigation ; in other words, to look at the antecedent conduct of the defendant which led to the apparent necessity for the plaintiff's instituting the suit. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) UPENDRA NARAIN ROY v. BISWESWAR ROY CHOWDHURY. 86 I. C. 321 : 29 C. W. N. 297 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 569.

——S. 35—Costs.

Ordinarily costs should be awarded to parties according to success or otherwise in litigation. (Greaves and Chakrawarti, JJ.) NIBARAN CHANDRA ROY v. NABINCHANDRA ROY. 40 C. L. J. 504 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 297.

——S. 35—Appeal—Question of principle.

When the question is one of principle, a second appeal lies to the High Court on the question of costs only. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) RAMESH CHANDRA v. MOHIM CHANDRA. 68 I. C. 600 : 35 C. L. J. 156.

——S. 35—Administration proceedings—Costs of intervenor.

Where in an administration suit the intervention of a person did not change the character of the proceeding or alter the scope of the suit and the intervenor voluntarily came into it as a prudent measure not of immediate protection but of possible personal benefit hereafter, it would be clearly unjust to make the claimant pay an additional bill of costs of the intervenor. (Mookerjee, C.J. and Fletcher, J.) SOURENDRAMOHAN SINHA v. MURARILAL SINHA. 24 C. W. N. 888 : 59 I. C. 581 : 48 C. 352.

——S. 35—Scale of—Travelling expenses of witnesses.

Successful party is entitled to recover from his opponent, the expenses properly incurred on account of travelling charges of his witnesses. (Greaves, J.) HARA SUNDAR v. LAHABAR. 67 I. C. 277 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 315 (1).

——S. 35—Disallowance of costs for printing unnecessary records.

It is the duty of the appellant to print the record of a case, and if unnecessary matter is printed owing to his default, in the exercise of a discriminating judgment, the costs for printing such records should be disallowed. (Lord Phillimore.) GOPAL CHANDRA CHOUDHARI v. RAJANIKANTA GHOSH. 46 I. A. 299 : 47 C. 415 : 76 I. C. 737 : 24 C. W. N. 553.

——S. 35—Future interest is discretionary—No improper exercise of discretion—Appellate Court will not interfere.

Future interest is a matter which is within the discretion of the Trial Court and where it is not shown that the discretion has been improperly exercised, the appellate Court will not interfere. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) BENARSI DAS v. HIRA LAL. 86 I.C. 240: 7 Lah. L.J. 1 : : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 308.

——S. 35—Order—Costs to follow result.

Costs generally abide the result for where a plaintiff's suit is practically decreed in full, costs should be awarded to him. (Moti Sagar, J.) AGHA MAHOMED ASLAM v. JODH SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 513 (2).

——S. 35—Order—Exceptional cases.

Costs generally abide the result, if no valid reason has been assigned as to why an exception should be made in the case. (Moti Sagar, J.) DES RAJ SAWHNEY v. FRAYS MOTOR WORKS. 75 I. C. 64 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 302 (1).

——S. 35—Costs—Discretion of Court—Power of appellate court to interfere.

Plaintiff sued defendant for settlement of accounts due by late father of the defendant who pleaded not merely that he was not personally liable but raised every other plea that could be thought of. The Court directed that as the defendant raised all sorts of pleas which had been decided against him, the defendant was personally liable for costs. Held, the reasons given by the lower court for making defendant personally liable for costs are perfectly sound. The Courts have discretion to make such orders as to costs as they think fit and unless that discretion is exercised unreasonably, an appellate court should not interfere. (Chevis, J.) JHANWAR DAS v. BODH RAJ. 4 L. L. J. 210 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 229.

——S. 35—Interest on costs—When due—Interpretation of judgment.

Interest should not be allowed until the costs have actually been incurred. A judgment decreed a certain sum in favour of plaintiff with proportionate costs and future interest from the date of suit till realization at one per cent per month. Held the interest was payable only on the principal sum and not on the costs. (Chevis, J.) UTTAM CHAND v. BILAMAL. 60 I. C. 345 (Lah.).

——Ss. 35 and 47—Discretion of award of costs.

S. 35 gives discretion as to the ordering of costs but the award of costs depends finally on S. 47 and the provisions of S. 35 are supplementary. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) RAMESH CHANDRA v. MOHIM CHANDRA. 68 I. C. 600 : 35 C. L. J. 156.

——S. 35—Trustee.

A Trustee should be made to pay out of his pocket the cost of a suit or brought to his ill-feeling towards the defendant. (Devadoss, J.) CHITTAMBALA MUDALIAR v. PARTHASARATHY MUDALIAR. 47 M.L.J. 801 : 20 L.W. 659 · (1925) M.W.N. 90 : 84 I. C. 905 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 194.

——S. 35—Costs—Respondent—Unnecessary party—Right to costs.

A respondent who is unnecessarily made a party to an appeal and against whom no relief is granted is entitled to his costs of the appeal. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) GANGABATTULA KANTHAMMA v. MANCHI RAJU REDDI PANTULU. 19 L. W. 197 : 46 M. L. J. 134 : (1924) M. W. N. 122 : 34 M. L. T. (H.C.) 358 : 78 I. C. 296 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 476 :

——S. 35—Conduct.

A pleader who was in possession of documents belonging to his client, concealed the fact from him. Held, that (i) his conduct amounted to professional misconduct, (ii) having regard to the vindictive proceedings on the part of client, costs were disallowed though pleader's conduct was unjustifiable. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Ramesam, JJ.) A FIRST GRADE PLEADER, In the matter of. 17 L. W. 358 : 24 Cr. L. J. 585 : 73 I.C. 329 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 485.

——S. 35—Redemption suit decreed—Defendant not misconducting—Point not raised in first appeal—Second Appellate Court granted costs in Trial Court.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

Where a redemption suit was decreed by the Trial Court and both the appellate Courts, but in second appeal the defendant's costs of the suit were claimed on the ground that he was not guilty of any mis-conduct.

Held, that as the point had never been raised before the lower Appellate Court, he was entitled only to the costs in the Trial Court. (Ramesam, J.) RATNAM PILLAI v. KAMALAMBAL AMMAL.
48 M. L J. 213 : 86 I. C. 793 : 21 L. W. 252 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 778.

——S. 35—Costs—Discretion.

Costs are always in the discretion of the Trial Court and will not be interfered with in appeal unless the order is plainly irregular and contrary to principle. (Simpson, A. J. C.) GOBIND PRASAD v. NARBHIR SINGH. 90 I. C. 577 (1).

——S. 35, O. 33, R. (3)—Withdrawal of suit—Court's discretion to award costs, whether restricted—The word "shall" in O. 33, Rule 1 (3) merely directory and not mandatory—Appellate Court's power to interfere.

Sub-rule (3) of Rule 1 of O. 33, of the Code of Civil Procedure does not impose an unavoidable obligation on the Court to award costs in all cases of withdrawal of suits. The word 'shall', as used in the context is merely directory and not mandatory. The general law as to costs as laid down in S. 35 of the Code invests the Court with a discretion in the matter of awarding costs and sub-rule (3) of Rule (1) of Order 33 has not the effect of divesting the Court of that discretion. A court has absolute discretion in the matter of costs and an appellate Court will not interfere w th an exercise of discretion of a lower Court unless it has proceeded on a manifestly wrong ground. (1899) 2 Ch. 472 and 2 Bom. L. R. 254 relied on. (Simpson, A. J. C.) RAM BHAROS v. RAMPAL SINGH.
2 O. W. N. 901 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 699.

——S. 35—Appeal—Appellate Court will not interfere with discretion unless it is manifestly wrong.

A Court has absolute discretion in the matter of costs and an appellate Court will not interfere with an exercise of discretion of a lower Court unless it has proceeded on a manifestly wrong ground such as the application of an erroneous principle or a misapprehension of the facts. So long as the discretion was in fact exercised, an appellate Court will not interfere simply because it would itself have exercised the discretion differently. 2 Bom. L. R. 254. Foll. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) RAM BHAROS v. RAMPAL SINGH. 2 O. W. N. 901 : A. I.R. 1925 Oudh. 699.

——S. 35—Appeal—Grounds loosely drafted—Appeal decreed—Appellant was ordered to pay his as well as respondent's costs.

Where the grounds of appeal were loosely drafted consequent on a misunderstanding or want of understanding of the facts of the case, the Court disallowed the cost of the successful appellant and decreed the respondent's costs to be paid by appellant. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEORAJ v. MT. PHULBASA. 28 O. C. 203 : 85 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 561.

——S. 35—Costs—Expenses of litigation—Right to be indemnified.

Where a person institutes a suit obtains a decree and puts it in execution and purchases the property finally, there is a prima facie ground for holding that he has incurred the necessary expenditure relating to those proceedings. A plaintiff claiming against him under a better title must contribute in respect of the said expenditure, unless he shows he has contributed more than his share. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 35.

THAKUR JAI INDAR BAHADUR SINGH v. THAKUR SHEO INDAR BAHADUR SINGH.
10 O. L. J. 481 : 78 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 218.

——S. 35—Costs—Joint liability.

One of co-plffs, or co-defts. from whom the costs awarded jointly against them were realized can sue for contribution from others. (Daniels and Dalal, J. Cs.) SIDH GOPAL v. AVADH BIHARI LAL.
26 O. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 48.

——S. 35—Discretion—Interference on appeal.

Where a reasonable discretion has been exercised in the matter of costs the High Court will be slow to interfere. (Daniels, A. J. C.) RAJENDRA NARAYAN v. GHAFOOR KHAN. 73 I. C. 307 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 77 · A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 110.

——S. 35—Costs—Court of Second Appeal—Power to interfere.

Where the Lower Appellate Court has interfered with the order of the Court of hearing as to costs there is no reason why the legality of the lower Appellate Court's order should not be open to question in second appeal. There is no distinction made by the law between pleas based on facts and pleas based on law so far as the apportionment of costs is concerned. (Ashworth, J.C.) RAM KISHAN DAS v. JAGANNATH PRASAD. 25 O. C 385 : 10 O. L. J. 20 : 73 I. C. 222 · A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 155.

——S. 35—Costs—Court of second appeal.

Where the reasons given by the Munsif for the order which he passed relating to the costs were good and the Subordinate Judge gave no reason whatsoever for interfering with the exercise of the discretion by the Court of the First instance, High Court interfered. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) RAGHO PERSHAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 9 O. L. J. 629 : 74 I. C. 369 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 114.

——S. 35—Costs. Disallowing of—High interest.

A Court disallowing costs on the ground that the interest claimed is very high, exercises a very proper discretion. (Daniels, A. J. C.). SHEIKH FAZAL AZIM v. LALA GIRDHARI LAL. 9 O. L. J. 442 : 69 I. C. 657 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 8 (1).

——S. 35—Costs—Minor's Contract—Cancellation.

Where the plaintiff sued for cancellation of a bond, held, as the defendant could not enforce the contract being void, he was not entitled to costs. (Simpson, A. J. C.) MUHAMMAD ANWAR KHAN v. JHANDA SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 404 : 25 O. C. 237 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 271.

——S. 35—Discretion—Costs.

Where it was found that the suit was rendered inevitable by reason of the gross mismanagement of the trust estate by the Appellant, the lower Court was held to be right in directing the Appellant to pay the costs of the suit. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MD. WAHAB v. ABBAS HUSSAIN. 4 P. L. T. 326 : 71 I. C. 280 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 420.

——S. 35—Costs—Order for—Several respondents.

If costs are awarded against a number of respondents without indicating the proportion in which those costs shall be borne by the different respondents such an order is always taken to mean that the respondents are jointly and severally liable for the costs, and the order for costs may be executed against any one of them who will have a right of contribution against the others in a case of this nature. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) THE MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARY CO. v. MADAN MARWARI. (1923) P. H. C. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 215.

——Ss. 35 and 96—Appeal-order as to costs.

An appeal lies against an order of costs alone; but the Appellate Court will not interfere with this discretionary order unless a matter of principle is involved. (Saunders, J. C.) JALLALUDIN v. EBRAHIM. 63 I. C. 811 (2) : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 8.

——S. 35—Principles of—Appellate decree silent.

Where the appellate decree is silent as to costs the decree of the Trial Court is the guide to determine the costs. (Rigg, J.) LALL LWARKADAS v. BURMA RAILWAY CO. 10 L. B. R. 280 : 62 I. C. 299 : 13 Bur. L. T. 173

——S. 35—Suit overvalued—Costs will be allowed on proper valuation.

Where a suit has been overvalued the plaintiff is only entitled to costs as taxed in a suit valued at proper valuation. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) SECY. OF STATE v. DINSHAW NAOROJI. A.I.R. 1925 Sind 275.

——S. 35—Litigation due to vagueness of testamentary directions—Costs of all parties should come out of testator's estate.

Where it is the fault of the testator in making the testamentary directions vague or uncertain in law or fact that is responsible for a litigation, the costs of all parties should be awarded out of the estate of the testator. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) SHAMBAI v. GOVARDHAN. 78 I.C. 249 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 195.

——S. 36—Scope.

An order under that a mortgage in executed as previously ordered is an order which can be executed as if it were a decree under S. 36 of the code. (Robinson, C.J. and Baguley, J.) ALLAN BROS. & CO. v. SHAIK JOOMAN SONS & CO. 2 Rang. 673 : 85 I. C. 291 : 4 Bur.L. J. 32 : A. I. R 1925 Rang. 189.

——S. 37—Court to which business is transferred includes theCourt to which such business is transferred.

Where the whole business of one Court has been transferred to another Court, the expression 'the Court by which the decree was passed' is so definite and precise as to create an exception to the general rule introduced by S. 150. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) J. S. SHRINIWAS RAO v. HANUMANTHA RAO. 42 M. L. J. 344 : 15 L. W. 458 : (1922) M. W. N. 349 : 31 M. L. T. 79 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 10.

——S. 37 (b)—Decree passed by Additional Subordinate Court—Court abolished after decree and revived subsequently—Decree sought to be executed in the revived Court—Court which passed the decree and exercising jurisdiction over the judicial area—Jurisdiction.

Where a decree passed by an Additional Subordinate Judge's Court is sought to be executed after its abolition and revival in the revived Court with the same designation that Court has jurisdiction to execute the decree under S. 37 (b), C. P. Code as being the identical court which passed the decree and as having jurisdiction over the judicial area. 4 C. L. J. 473 explained and distinguished. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) MT. BIBI KHODAIYATUL KOBRA v. HARIHAR MISRA 4 P. 688.

——S. 38—Section is not exhaustive—Particular execution application may be transferred under S. 24—C. P. Code, S. 24.

S. 38 was enacted to decide the question as to the jurisdiction of a Court when a suit is transferred. If a suit instituted in Court A is transferred to Court B and Court B decided it, S. 38 enjoins that application for execution shall be presented to Court B and not to Court A, that is, the application is to be presented to the Court which passed the decree and not to the Court in which the suit was instituted. The section is not exhaustive and a decree can be executed by the Court to which it is transferred under S. 24. (Walsh, Ag. C. J. and Dalal, J.) MAHOMED HABIBULLAH v. TIKAM CHAND. 47 All. 57 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 103 : 85 I. C. 746 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 276 (2).

——Ss. 38, 39, 37 and 21—Court losing jurisdiction over property during execution can't proceed with it.

Section 38 does not make it optional to a Court to execute its own decree, or to transmit it to the Court which has territorial jurisdiction, if the original Court has lost jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the suit. Although the words in S. 39 are "the Court may send it for execution," in all cases the Court should send its decree to the Court which has territorial jurisdiction if between the passing of the decree and the executing of it, the jurisdiction has passed to another Court. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) K. C. MANAVIKRAMAN v. N. C. ANANTHANARAYANA AYYAN. 46 M L. J. 250 : 19 L. W 16 : (1924) M. W. N. 38 : 79 I. C. 806 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 457.

——Ss. 38, 37 and 150—Execution—Jurisdiction—Money-decree—Transfer of area where judgment-debtor lived from one Court to another.

Where subsequent to the passing of a money decree the area in which the judgment-debtor lived was transferred from the jurisdiction of the court which passed the decree to that of another Court it is open to the latter Court to execute the decree. 42 M. 821 ; 37 M. 462 Ref. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MUTHUKARUPPA CHETTY v. PAIYA KAVUNDAN. 45 M. L. J. 210 : (1923) M. W. N. 406 : 18 L. W. 17 : 73 I.C. 956 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 32.

——Ss. 38 and 47—Execution sale—Suit to set aside.

Under S. 38, Civil Procedure Code, a decree may be executed either by the Court which passed it or by the Court to which it is sent for execution and where the Trial Court is not the Court to which the decree is sent for execution, this section prevents it from proceeding with the suit as a matter in execution and executing the decree. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BRIJ MOHAN v. KASTURCHAND. 68 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 189.

——Ss. 38 and 39—Except in case of decree for sale of mortgaged properties, no Court can execute decree entirely affecting property beyond its jurisdiction.

Under Ss. 38 and 39 no Court can execute a decree in which the subject-matter of the suit or of the application of the suit is property situated entirely outside the local limits of its jurisdiction, but an exception has been recognised in cases of decrees for sale of mortgaged properties. 39 Cal. 104, Foll. (Dass and Ross, JJ.) SHEIKH ABDUL HADI v. MT. KABULTUNNISSA. 6 P. L. T. 71 : 80 I .C. 901 : A I. R. 1925 Pat. 139.

——Ss. 38 and 39—Application to original Court after transfer to another is no step-in-aid.

After a decree is transferred by one Court to another for execution any application made to the former Court cannot be a step-in-aid. (Adami and Das, JJ.) JNANENDRA NATH GHOSH v. KUMAR JOGENDRA NARAIN SINHA. 1924 P. H. C. C. 362 : 2 P. 247: 74 I. C. 608 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 384.

——S. 39—Transfer of decree—Award under the Co-operative Societies Act — Application to enforce award—Co-operative Societies Rules 31 and 34.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 39.

An award was made at Poona under the rules framed under S. 43 of the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912, whcih made it enforceable in the same manner as a decree of the Court. The party to the award next applied to the Judge of the Court of Small causes at Poona to transfer the decree to the Court of Small Causes at Bombay under S. 39, C. P. Code. Held, that inasmuch as the Poona Court could execute the decree as if it had passed it, it could also transfer the decree under S. 39, C. P. Code, Rule 34 of the Co-operative Societies Rules, 1919, framed under S. 43 of the Co-operative Societies Act is not clearly worded. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) KRISHNAJI BARLE v. MAHADEO PATIL. 46 B. 128 : 64 I. C. 337 (1) : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 377 (2).

——— Ss. 39 and 42—Transfer for execution--Original Court—Powers of--Grant of certificate of non-satisfaction.

A decree was transferred to another Court for execution. Nothing was done there, and another application was made in the original Court to transfer the decree for execution again. Certificate of non-satisfaction was issued by the Court to which it had been transferred only after the date of the second application. Held, the original Court had jurisdiction to entertain the application, and even if there was a defect it was cured by the subsequent granting of the certificate, the date of granting it being immaterial. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) FIRM HIRA LAL-ANANT RAM v. FIRM SHEAM MAL-CHANA MAL. 89 I. C. 958.

———S. 39—Decree of Village Munsif's Court transferred or withdrawn to District Munsif's Court for execution—District Munsif cannot transfer decree for execution.

A District Munsif receiving by transfer a decree of a village Court under S. 66 of Madras Act I of 1889 or withdrawing execution of a decree to his own file under S. 67 has no jurisdiction to transfer it for execution to another District Munsif's Court under S. 39 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) KANDOTH SANKARAN NAIR v. ATCHUTHAN. 44 M. L. J. 643 : 46 Mad. 734 : 32 M. L.T. 403 (H. C.) : 18 L. W. 19 : 73 I. C. 793 : (1923) M. W. N. 353 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 651.

———S. 39—Court passing decree having within its jurisdiction property sufficient to satisfy decree is not necessarily precluded from transferring decree.

The jurisdiction of a Court transferring decree for execution to another Court is not confined to cases in which there is no property within the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy the decree. Under cl (d) of sub-section (1) of S. 39 of the C. P. Code. the Court can made the order of transfer if it "considers for any other reason, which it shall record in writing, that the decree should be executed by such other Court." (Wazir Hasan and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) SADIQ ALI KHAN v. SHARF JAHAN BEGAM. 28 O C. 199 : 85 I. C. 411 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 481.

———S. 39—Execution case once transferred—Certificate under S. 41 not received—Court passing the decree cannot transfer it again to different Court.

Once a decree is transferred under S. 39, C. P. Code, the Court which passed the decree ceases to have jurisdiction till it receives a certificate under S. 41 and therefore a second transfer of the case by the Court passing the decree to a different Court for execution is without jurisdiction. 1925 A. 276 affirmed; 1923 P. 224 Dist. 1923 P. 384 Ref. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) JANG BAHADUR v. BENI MADHO. 12 O. L. J. 287 : 2 O. W. N. 313 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 428.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 41.

———S. 39—Court can execute decree against property entirely outside its jurisdiction if it is a mortgage decree for sale.

Under S. 39 a Court can execute a decree for sale of the mortgaged property, though it is wholly out of its jurisdiction because a mortgage decree is practically a decree of specific performance of the contract between the mortgagor and the mortgagee. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SHEIKH ABDUL HADI v. MT. KABULTUNNISSA. 6 P. L. T. 71 : 80 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 139.

———S. 39—Application for transfer and execution—Difference between—Fresh application for execution when necessary.

There is nothing in law which compels a decree-holder to make a second application for execution to the Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution, when he has already made one application to the Court transferring the decree. (Mullick and Foster, JJ.) DUTT v. TARAPRASANNA ROY CHAUDHURY. 5 P. L. T 11 : 2 P. 909 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 280 : 74 I. C. 753 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 120.

———S. 39—Transfer of decree—Court to which decree is transferred must be one having jurisdiction.

A decree cannot be transferred for execution to a Court which has no pecuniary jurisdiction to entertain the suit in which decree was passed. The legislative changes introduced in S. 39 (2), i. e. that when the Court suo motu transfers a decree to a subordinate Court the latter Court must be "of competent jurisdiction" does not mean that under S. 39 (1) a decree may be transferred to any Court for execution, irrespective of its pecuniary jurisdiction. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) AMRIT LAL v. MURLIDHAR. 1922 P. H. C. C. 229 : 3 P. L. T. 422 : 1 Pat. 651 : 67 I. C. 538 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 188.

———S. 39 (1) (d)—Execution of decree—Court's power to transfer to another Court—Decree-holder's right to execute his decree, whether liable to be limited.

The powers of a Court to transfer a decree passed by it to another Court for execution are not limited by the fact that there is not sufficient property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of that Court to satisfy the decree. A Court has no power to take away the decree-holder's legal right to execute his decree in such manner as he chooses, having regard to his own facilities and convenience.

Quaere.—Does an order of a Court transferring a decree passed by it to another Court for execution fall within the provisions of section 47 (1) C. P. Code, and amount to a decree as defined in S. 2 (2), C. P. Code; and does an appeal lie against it. (Wazir Hasan, J. C. and Kendall, A. J. C.) MOHAMMAD SADIQ ALI KHAN v. NAWAB SHARF JAHAN BEGAM. 1 O. W. N. 409.

———S. 39 (2)—Presumption under.

The Court cannot presume when a decree is transmitted for execution to another Court, it intended the decree to be executed even against properties situated within the jurisdiction of the transmitting Court. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v. RAJA LAKSHMI NARASAMMA GARU. 18 L. W. 747 : 76 I. C. 269 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 144.

———S 41—After issue of certificate whether rightly or wrongly, the Court to whom the decree is trans- ferred cannot deal with execution matters.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 41.

The Court to which the decree is transferred under S. 39 has jurisdiction only up to the time that it issues the certificate prescribed by S. 41. After the issue of the certificate that Court ceases to have jurisdiction whether the certificate was issued rightly or wrongly. (Dalal, J.) SHIAM LAL v. KOERPAL.

22 A. L. J. 1039 : L. R 6 A. (Civ.) 28 : A. I. R 1925 All. 179.

——S. 41—Decree—Transfer for execution—Certification.

Certification is a very important step when a decree has once been transferred to another Court for its consequence is that the latter Court ceases to have jurisdiction to execute the decree. There must be a formal certification by the Court to which the decree has been transferred, for execution, to the Court which passed the decree. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SHIVLINGAPPA MALLAPPA v. SHIDMALLAPPA,

26 Bom. L. R. 345 : 80 I. C. 752 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 359.

——S. 41—Certificate — Execution of decree—Decree sent to another Court for execution.

It does not follow that because one application for execution fails in a Court to which the decree has been sent for execution, that that Court is bound to send a certificate to the Court in which the decree was passed. The judgment-creditor might still be anxious to execute his decree in the former Court, and it is only when the Court to which the decree is sent has executed it or has failed to execute it that the Court is bound to send a certificate under S. 41. It was intended that there should be complete failure such as would result in no benefit to the judgment-creditor for one reason or another and not merely a partial failure. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) VITHU v. GANESH.

25 Bom. L.R. 453 : 74 I.C. 149 ;A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 396.

——S. 41—Applicability—What amounts to information.

S. 41, C. P. Code, does not prescribe any particular way in which the Court to which a decree is sent for execution should inform the Court as regards the result of the same. Where a Court has both small cause powers and original jurisdiction and a decree passed under the former is executed under the latter and an entry of satisfaction is made in the Small Cause Register, the section has been complied with.

Per Crump, J. :—S. 41 contemplates two different Courts and cannot be applied strictly to such a case. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MANIRAM PEERCHAND v VITHU RAMJI. 76 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 371.

——Ss. 41, 42 and 39—Scope of.

S. 41 requires that a Court to which a decree has been sent for execution shall certify to the Court which sent it that it has completely executed the decree or has failed to do so and is unable to do so any further. The section may also require certificates to be sent of the result of each application for execution that is made to the executing Court, but in any case such certificates have to be sent under the executive orders of the High Court. But the sending of a certificate does not of itself put an end to the jurisdiction of the Court to execute the decree,and the sending of a certificate of the latter class cannot do so at all. 37 Mad. 231 distinguished. 20 All. 129 followed. (Batten, J.C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) INDRA RAJ SINGH v. MURAD KHAN. 18 N. L. R. 178 : 68 I. C. 657 · A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 210.

——S. 41—Court to which decree is transferred has jurisdiction till certificate of execution is sent to Court passing decree.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 42.

The Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution is not divested of jurisdiction until it sends the certificate under S. 41, C. P. Code to the Court which passed the decree, and until such certificate is sent the Court which passed the decree has no jurisdiction to entertain application to certify payment under the decree so as to save limitation. 39 Mad. 640 (P. C.) Foll. (Dalal, J. C.) MAHOMED SHAKIR v. JUGAL KISHORE. 28 O. C. 169 : 85 I. C. 455 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 492.

——S. 41—Execution of decree—Transfer of decree for execution—Jurisdiction—Certification—To which Court should be made.

Where a decree is sent for execution to another Court by the Court which passed the decree the former Court is not divested of its jurisdiction until it sends the certificate under S. 41, C. P. Code. The meaning of Rule 172 (a) of the Oudh Civil Digest that the record shall be returned to the Court by which the decree was sent for execution when the decree has been executed wholly or in part by the Court to which it has been sent is that satisfaction should be such that no further satisfaction of the decree in that Court would be possible. (Dalal, J.C. and Neave, A.J.C.) SYED MD. SHAKIR v. JUGAL KISHORE.

10 O. & A. L. R. 1277.

——S. 42—Transfer of decree for execution to another Court—Judgment-debtor's estate taken over by Court of Wards after passing of decree—Objection to execution of decree by Manager of the Court of Wards —Maintainability of.

The Court of Wards took charge of the estate of a judgment-debtor which was situated at Aligarh. On the application of the decree-holder, the Collector as manager of the estate under the Court of Wards was brought on the record and the decree was transferred for execution to the Court of Aligarh without any objections taken by the Collector who had been given notice of the application. Subsequently when execution was applied for in the Aligarh Court, the Collector raised an objection on the ground that as the decree-holder had failed to notify his claim under S. 17 of U.P. Court of Wards Act,his demand must be deemed to have been satisfied under S. 18. The decree-holder contended that the question not having been raised at the time when the Collector was impleaded as a party representing the Court of Wards or at the time when the decree was transferred for execution, it could not now be raised. Held, that the judgment-debtor was justified in taking the plea before the Court at Aligart as neither the impleading of the Collector as a party nor the order transferring the decree for execution amounted to a decision of the question whether the decree-holder's demand must be deemed to have been satisfied under S. 11 of U P. Court of Wards Act. The executing Court had power to consider the objection. (Mukerjee and Daniels, JJ.) SANWAL DASS v. COLLECTOR OF ETAH. 46 A. 160 : 22 A. L. J. 439 : L. R. 5 A. 380 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 700.

——S. 42—Transfer to one Court—Application for further transfer.

Where a decree is already transferred for execution by Court which passed it, an application for further transfer should be made to the court where execution is pending. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) RANGASWAMI SHETTI v. SHESHAPPA MANJAPPA.

47 B. 56 : 68 I. C. 506 : 24 Bom. L. R. 798 : A. I R. 1922 Bom. 359.

——S. 42—Section is not applicable to execution proceedings of a decree by Madras Small Cause Court transferred to a Mofussal Court—But is applicable only to execution proceedings in the Madras Small

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 42.

Cause Court.

Section 42 is not applicable to proceedings in execution of a decree of the Madras Small Cause Court transferred to a Court in the mofussal ; but it only applies to execution proceedings in the Madras Small Cause Court, whether the decree sought to be executed was passed by the Madras Small Couse Court or transferred to that Court from a Court in the mofussal. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) PONNAPPA REDDI v. P. THIRUVENGADA PILLAI.

49 M. L. J. 104: 22 L. W. 455 : (1925) M. W. N. 718: 90 I. C. 509 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1179.

——S. 42—Application for execution—Civil Procedure Code, O 21, Rr. 10 and 11.

A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution cannot execute it in absence of regular application therefor under O. 21, Rr. 10 and 11. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SULTANALI v. BALAJI.

80 I. C. 59 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 413.

——S. 42—Transfer of decree—Order for, effect of—Jurisdiction of Court which passed the decree.

Where a decree-holder obtains an order for the transfer of a decree by the Court which passed it to another Court for purposes of execution, but the decree is not actually sent to that Court, the Court which passed the decree has jurisdiction to execute it. (Miller, C J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) RAM CHANDRA MARWARI v KRISHNA LAL MARWARI.

1 Pat. 328 : 3 Pat. L. T. 298 : 65 I C. 332 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 301.

——S. 44—Courts may refuse execution—Discretion to refuse is not limited to Ss. 13 and 14, Civil Procedure Code.

The expression " may be executed " in S. 44 gives a discretion to the Court, to which application is made for executing a decree to refuse to execute it, though the discretion should not be capriciously exercised. That discretion is not with special reference to Ss. 13 and 14. Cases may arise where in the exercise of proper discretion, Courts of law in British India may properly refuse execution of such decrees even apart from the exceptions enumerated in S. 13. However, in practice, no case may arise where the grounds on which the Court may consider it proper to refuse execution in the exercise of its discretion are not included in one or the other of the very general exceptions engrafted in S. 13. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR.

21 L. W. 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 44—Words " may be executed..... British India " refer only to mode of execution.

The words " may be executed in British India as if they had been passed by the Courts in British India" refer only to the mode of execution. They do not mean that such decrees should for all purposes whatsoever be placed in the same position as decrees of British Indian Courts. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v MADHAPPA CHETTIAR.

21 L. W. 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 44—Notice to judgment-debtor is essential.

When foreign decrees are sought to be executed in British Indian Courts, as an invariable rule, notice ought to be issued by the executing Court to the judgment-debtor, to appear and state his objections if any, and execution should be ordered, if deemed proper only thereafter. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR.

21 L. W. 330 : 86 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

——S. 45—Mortgage suit—Claim for costs in such suit is not an independent claim and must follow the character and form part of the decretal amount.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal.

The costs in a mortgage suit are not to be treated as independent claims by the mortgagee irrespective of the rights under the mortgage ; but such costs should form part of the amount decreed in the mortgage suit to be realized in accordance with the procedure laid down in the Code. It makes no difference if the order for costs was passed before the final decree was drawn up. The costs awarded in a mortgage suit follow the character of the amount decreed in the suit and form part of the entire decretal amount to be realized from the mortgaged properties. 35 Cal. 431 ; 20 All. 523 (F.B.) 40 All. 109 and 30 Mad. 464, Foll. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) BAHADUR SINGH DURGA v. BASIRUDDIN AHAMMAD.

41 C. L. J. 607 : A I. R. 1925 Cal. 1135.

——S. 46—Application under S. 46 is not application for execution.

An application for an attachment under S. 46 cannot be regarded as an application for execution. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) KASIWAR DE v. ASWINI KUMAR.

90 I. C. 527 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 249.

——S. 46—Scope of.

Indeed in principle there seems to be no difference between a concurrent execution after transfer in another Court and a concurrent execution in a Court in which a decree was passed. That the present Code does not view with disfavour concurrent executions is among other sections indicated by S. 46 which is new and relates to precepts. Two applications for attachment of different properties can proceed simultaneously in execution of the same decree. There is no provision of law which prevents the Court from entertaining a fresh application for the execution of the decree by attachment of money in deposit to the credit of the judgment-debtor in the same Court or in any other Court, when another execution proceeding is going on in the same Court. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAM SUMRAN PRASAD v. RAM BAHADUR.

2 P. 328 : 4 P. L. T. 99 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 61 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 224.

——S. 47.

Appeal.
Applicability.
Bar of suit.
Compromise decree.
Conversion.
Defence to a suit.
Execution sale.
Exonerated defendant.
Foreign decree.
Objection to attachment.
Parties and representatives.
Purchase of decree.
Question relating to execution.
Rateable distribution.
Restitution.
Scope of.
APPEAL.—
Application under.
Collector.
Compromise decree.
Execution.
Interlocutory Order.
Objection to attachment.
Order.
Question relating to execution.
Rateable distribution.
Receiver.
Sale proclamation.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal—Application under.

Scheme.
Stay of execution.

Appeal—Application under.

——S. 47—Appeal—Application under S. 73—Question arising in execution between parties to partition suit.

Plaintiff and one defendant got decrees for money against the same defendant in a partition suit, plaintiff got his decree transferred to another Court and realised a certain amount in execution. Defendant applied for rateable distribution without transfer of his decree. Order on the defendant's application is covered by S. 47. (Madhavan Nair, J.) AYISA BIVI AMMAL v. JOKARA BIVI. 49 M. L. J. 375 : 22 L. W. 740 : 90 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1265.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 103—Appeal—Application by decree-holder auction-purchaser in execution of a mortgage decree for delivery of possession—Order on.

The plaintiff obtained a decree on his mortgage and purchased the property himself. The defendant, the purchaser of the same properties in execution of a money decree against the mortgagor and who was in possession obstructed the plaintiff when he applied to take possession. The plaintiff applied for delivery of possession free of the obstruction by the defendant but the Court dismissed the application referring the plaintiff to a suit. Held, that this order was one passed under S. 47 of the C. P. Code, and as such appealable and the suit brought in pursuance of the order was not maintainable. Though a right of suit is provided by R. 103 of O. 21 of the C. P. Code, still if the order comes also under S. 47, C. P. Code, the remedy is only an appeal and not a suit (Odgers, J.) PACHAIAPPA CHETTI v. VENKATA CHARIAR. 90 I. C. 952 : (1925) M. W. N. 577.

Appeal—Collector.

——S. 47—Appeal—Collector—Order refusing to appoint under Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act.

An order passed in execution proceedings refusing to appoint the Collector under S. 22 of the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act falls under S. 47 of the Code and is appealable. (Fawcett and Raymond, A.J.Cs.) CHOITH RAM v. LALBUX. 63 I. C. 310 : 15 S. L R. 47.

Appeal—Compromise decree.

——S. 47—Appeal—Compromise decree—Award—Order in execution.

An appeal lies against an order in execution of an award and for this purpose the award stands on the same footing as the decree in a suit. (Kennedy, J.C. and Madgaonkar, A.J.C.) DONALD GRAHAM & CO. v. KWEALRAM. 79 I. C. 477: 16 S. L. R. 245.

Appeal—Execution.

——S. 47—Appeal—Execution sale—Purchase by decree-holder—Application to set aside.

Where in execution of a decree the decree-holder purchases the property and an application is put in to set aside the sale ostensibly under O. 21, R. 90, but which states the sale was illegal, the application also falls under S. 47 and any order passed therein amounts to a decree from which a second appeal lies. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) SUPERIOR BANK, LTD. v. BUDH SINGH 22 A. L. J. 413 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 639: L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 769 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 698.

——S. 47—Appeal — Order not open to second Appeal—C. P. Code, O. 21, Rr. 89—92.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal—Execution.

All orders between decree-holder and judgment-debtor under S. 47 are not decrees and appealable as such. An order under O. 21, R. 92 being appealable under O. 43, R. 1. (j) a second appeal does not lie. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BANSHIBADAN v. CHHAUNAT BIBI. 42 C. L. J. 176 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal 400.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 40—Appeal—Execution—Arrest of judgment-debtor.

An order of the executing Court refusing to arrest the judgment-debtor in execution of a decree is an order falling within the scope of S. 47 of the C. P. Code. Such an order is therefore appealable. (Martineau, J.) LALA DAS v. MINA MAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 266 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 259.

——Ss. 47 and 135—Appeal—Execution of decree—Exemption under S. 135, Civil Procedure Code, claimed by judgment-debtor—Arrest in execution of two decrees—Legality of.

Where judgment-debtor arrested in execution of a decree claims exemption from arrest under S. 135, Civil Procedure Code, and the Court negatives his contention, the order is one under S. 47 and is appealable. Where a Judgment-debtor has been arrested in execution of a decree and brought before the Court he is not at the time exempt from arrest in execution of another decree held by a different decree-holder. (Wallace and Jackson, JJ.) GOVINDASAMI ODAYAR v. THE UNION BANK, LTD., KUMBAKONAM. 47 M. L. J. 678 : 35 M. L. T. 102 : (1924) M. W. N. 781 · A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 900.

——S. 47—Appeal—Execution—Mistake —Order restoring possession to judgment-debtor.

A conditional decree cannot necessarily be treated as a preliminary decree and the order, restoring possession to the Judgment-debtor on the ground that the possession was given to the decree-holder under a misapprehension that the decree-holder has satisfied the condition which he had not, is of the nature of a final decree. The order, however, is an order passed in the execution department from which an appeal could be preferred under the provisions of S. 47, C. P. Code. (Daniels, J. C.). DORAI LAL v. MT. JAMAGA. 72 I. C. 879 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 16.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90—Appeal — Execution sale—Application to set aside — Limitation — Order overruling—Appealability.

Every order in proceedings under S. 47, C. P. Code, is not appealable. Orders dealing with mere matters of procedure such as those directing the production of documents, or the summoning of witnesses although in a wide sense they may be said to be orders relating to the execution can hardly be said to be the determination of any question within S. 47, C. P. Code read within S. 2. The questions for determination there referred to must be those which the parties are asking the court to decide as to their rights of liabilities and not merely interlocutory questions of procedure which incidentally arise for determination in the course of the proceedings. When the rights or liabilities of the parties as to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree are determined by the order, then the order is appealable as a decree. The Judgment-debtor applied to set aside an execution sale on the ground of material irregularity and fraud in conducting the sale and also on the ground that execution had been barred. The Court below held that by reason of a prior order in execution it must be held to have been impliedly decided that execution was not barred. Held, that the question whether or not execution was barred was a question within S. 47, C. P. Code, arising between parties to the suit and that the order of the Court below was appealable. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) SHIVA NARAYAN LAL CHAUDHURY v. NARAYAN PRASAD. 2 Pat. L R. 222 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 683.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S.47—Appeal—Execution.

——S. 47—Appeal—Execution sale—Omission to serve notice under O. 21, R. 22, C. P. Code.

Where an application to set aside an execution sale is based not only upon the failure to publish and conduct the sale according to law but also on the ground of the omission on the part of the decree-holder of the necessary notice under O. 21, R. 22, C. P. Code, the case comes under S. 47, C. P. Code, and a second appeal lies. (Mullick and Foster, JJ.) KISHUNDEO NARAYAN MAHTA v. RAMRAJAN SINGH. 1923 P. H. C. C. 298 : 5 Pat. L. T. 61 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 67.

Appeal—Interlocutory Order.

——S. 47—Appeal—Interlocutory order—Order refusing to postpone or alter terms of sale is interlocutory.

An order refusing to postpone a sale or alter the terms of the sale proclamation, either by raising the upset price, or by dividing the property into lots, is only an interlocutory order. (Schwabe, C. J. and Coleridge, J.) KAVIRIBAI AMMAL v. B. MEHTA. 46 M. L. J. 71 : 18 L. W. 615 : 1923 M. W. N. 894: 75 I C. 901 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 234.

——S. 47 and O. 43, R. 1—Appeal—Interlocutory order—Order dismissing execution application for default.

An order dismissing an application for execution for default of the decree holder is not appealable. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) GUR CHANDRA ROY v. JANARDAN PRASAD THAKUR. 4 Pat. L. T. 204 : 68 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 180.

Appeal—Objection to attachment.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Appeal—Objection to attachment.

Where a person impleaded as a party to the suit but against whom no decree is passed objects to the attachment of the properties in her hands relying on a conveyance executed by the deceased judgment-debtor in her favour, the objection falls within S. 47, C. P. C. The decision of such a question operated as a decree under S. 2 of the Code and is appealable in the same manner as other decrees under S. 96. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) JAMINIBALA DEBI v. KARALI PRASAD MUKHERJEE. 67 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 477.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Appeal—Objection to attachment—Claim by legal representative of judgment-debtor.

The provisions of S. 47 C. P. Code should receive the widest interpretation. Where the legal representative of a deceased judgment-debtor raises an objection to the attachment of certain property in his hands on the ground that it is his own property and not that of the deceased, the question must be investigated under S. 47, C. P. Code. and not under O. 21, R. 58, C.P.C. There is an appeal against the order of the court on the claim petition. 17 C. 711 : 19 C. W. N. 517 Ref. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) NAURATAN LAL v. MRS. MARGARET ANNE STEPHEN. 3 Pat. L. T. 613 : 68 I.C. 369 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 572.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Appeal—Objection to attachment—Dismissal of—Order not appealable.

An application put in by a judgment-debtor that the property sought to be attached is wakf property and as such is not attachable is one falling under O. 21, R. 58 and not under S. 47. No appeal lies from any order passed on such an application. (Coutts and Das,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal—Order.

JJ.) SHAIKH NAZIR HUSSAIN v. MAHOMMAD EJAZ HUSSAIN. 1 P. 637 : 3 Pat. L. T. 432 : 67 I.C. 438 A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 196.

Appeal—Order.

——S. 47 and O. 20, R 12—Appeal—Order that defendants are liable to account as legal representatives of deceased judgment-debtor—Amount due not determined—Order is not appealable—Civil P. C., O. 20, R. 12.

O. 20, R. 12 enables the Court to direct an enquiry to be made as to the rents and mesne profits to which the plaintiff may be entitled. Such an enquiry is made in the course of a proceeding which is virtually a proceeding in continuation of the original suit, and under rule 12, clause (2), a final decree has to be prepared in respect of the mesne profits which may be awarded in accordance with the result of such an enquiry. From such a final decree an appeal is maintainable. But where the order of the Court below merely directs that the defendants are liable to render accounts as the legal representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor and the amount for which they are liable has not been determined, the question which has been actually determined by the Court below is merely a question relating to the substitution of the names of the defendants in the place of the deceased, and their liability to render the accounts directed by the decree as his legal representatives. It is not a question relating to the execution, satisfaction or discharge of a decree. S. 47 therefore has no application. It is at best an interlocutory order and no appeal is maintainable but the defendants can raise the plea of their non-liability in the appeal from the final decree. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) RUDRA PRATAP SINGH v. SARDAR MAHESH PRASAD SINGH. 23 A. L. J. 458 : L. R. 6 A. Civil 359 : 87 I. C. 322 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 588.

——S. 47—Appeal — Order discharging surety from suretyship is decree—Surety is a party within S. 47—C. P. Code, S. 145.

When any person has become liable as surety for the fulfilment of any condition imposed on him, such person is for the purposes of appeal a party within the meaning of S. 47 and therefore an order discharging him from the suretyship is a decree and is appealable. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) RATNI BAI v. GHASI RAM. 23 A. L. J. 59 : L. R. 6 A. Civil 171 : 86 I. C. 105 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 344.

——S. 47—Appeal—Order concerning—Cost of commission—Execution—Nature of order.

Proceedings in execution of an order concerning costs of a commission are under S. 151, C. P. Code and do not fall under S. 47, C.P. Code. As such there is no appeal. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) GOPAL DAS v. GAURI SHANKER PRASAD. 74 I.C. 186 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 122.

——S. 47—Appeal—Order refusing stay of sale.

An order refusing to stay a sale pending an appeal falls under S. 47, C. P. Code, and is appealable. (Scott-Smith, J.) FIRM OF PHALLU MAL HIRA LAL v. BANARSI DAS. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 631.

——S. 47—Appeal—Order directing decree to be executed only against property—Decree.

Where a Court executing a decree holds that the decree could be executed only against the property of the judgment-debtor and not against him personally, it has the force of a decree and there is an appeal and second appeal from it. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM OF MUL CHAND HUT CHAND v. THE FIRM OF GANDA MAL RALLIA RAM. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 604.

——S. 47—Appeal—Order staying execution.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47--Appeal—Order.

An order staying or refusing to stay execution of a decree falls under S. 45 and is appealable. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF GOBINDRAM-RAM CHANDER v. FIRM RULIA RAM NAURTA RAM.
76 I. C. 174 · A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 602.

——— Ss. 47, 151 and O. 21, R. 90—Appeal—Order under O. 21, R. 90—Second appeal—When lies—Auction sale set aside under inherent powers of Court—Sale contrary to order of the Court—Effect of.

An application to set aside an auction sale was dismissed by the District Munsif on the ground that there was no evidence of fraud or material irregularity. On appeal the District Judge agreed with the findings of the Court below but holding that the sale was in contravention of a prior order of court which had become final, set aside the sale under his inherent powers. Held, the order of the District Judge was not one under O. 21, R. 90 but under S. 151 and an appeal lay to the High Court. In the case of an application to set aside an auction sale there is no second appeal when the court approached under S. 47 acts under O. 21, R. 90. But when it is so approached and exercises its inherent power under S. 151 there is a second appeal. 33 I. C. 692 ; 38 C. 339 : 27 M. L. J. 605 : 30 M L. J. 611 : 3 Pat. L. J. 645 referred to. Where the parties disputing the sale are parties to the suit they approach the court under S. 47 which decides the forum and not the scope of the jurisdiction. (Jackson, J.) AKSHIA PILLAI v. GOVINDARAJU CHETTY 47 M. L. J. 149: (1924) M. W. N. 842 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 778.

———S. 47—Appeal—Order between parties to suit.

It is only such orders as determine questions arising between parties to the suit or their representative that become appealable as decrees passed under S. 47, C. P. Code. 17 Mad. 394 : 1918 M.W.N. 507 referred to. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) BUDARAJU HANUMANTHA RAO v. ALLAMNENI KRISHNAMMA.
70 I. C. 329 : 32 M. L. T. 118 (2) : A. I. R 1924 Mad 518.

———S. 47—Appeal—Order in which properties to be sold—If within section.

A decision of an executing court as to the order in which properties were to be sold in execution, even though it is a question between judgment-debtors only, is one relating to execution, discharge or satisfaction and as such appealable under S. 47, C. P. Code. It is not applicable only to questions arising between parties who are opposed to each other in the suit. (Oldfield and Devadass, JJ.) VEDAVYASA AIYAR v. THE MADURA HINDU LABHA NIDHI CO., LTD.
45 M. L. J. 478 : 18 L. W. 311 : (1923) M. W. N. 662 : 77 I. C. 148 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 365.

———S. 47—Appeal—Order allowing one of two assignees to execute.

An order allowing one of two assignees of a decree to execute the decree to the exclusion of the other is not appealable. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) RADHABAI v. BHIMARAO. 21 N. L. R. 34 : 82 I. C. 734 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 186.

———S. 47—Appeal—Order under O 9, R. 8.

Where a Revenue Court executing a decree dismisses the judgment-debtor's objection in default of appearance no appeal lies either under the Oudh Rent Act or the Civil P. C. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J C.) MAHOMED ZAKU ULLAH v. MT. GULKANDI. 28 O. C. 124 : 85 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 485.

———S. 47 and O. 21, R. 71—Appeal—Order under O. 21, R. 71 is 'decree'.

An order under O. 21, R. 71 is a decree within the meaning of S. 47. 2 O. W. N. 141 Foll. (Daniels, J. C.) ANGNU v. MIRZA MAHOMED SAJJAD ALI KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 261 : 88 I. C. 131 : 2 O. W. N. 212 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 397.

——— ———S. 47—Appeal—Order that properties should be sold in certain order—Order is appealable—Mortgage decree.

Where a mortgage decree was passed against certain properties and the Court ordered that at first all except a certain item should be put up for sale and if such sale failed to fetch a sufficient sum, then the other item should be sold.

Held, that the order was a final order between the parties in a matter relating to the execution, satisfaction and discharge of the decree and was appealable. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) KHIRODHAR SINGH v. GUJADHAR LAL. (1925) P. H. C. C. 164 : 6 P. L. T. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 484.

———S. 47 and O. 21, R. 98—Appeal—Order under R. 98 is appealable.

When the decree-holder is the auction-purchaser and is resisted by the judgment-debtor an order made under R. 98 is appealable as a decree. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) ASKARAN BAID v. RAGHUNATH PRASAD.
6 P. L. T. 351 : 88 I. C 104 : (1925) P. H. C.C. 212 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat 478.

Appeal—Question Relating to Execution.

———S. 47—Appeal—Question relating to execution—Mortgage-decree—Execution—Objection as regards payment of court-fee.

Where an executing court disallows an objection as regards insufficiency of court fee and orders the execution to proceed, the question is not purely one of admission of an execution application, but it is a question as to whether the execution can proceed or not and an appeal lies against the order. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) RAM BHUJHWAN PRASAD v. NATHO RAM.
3 Pat. L.T. 146 : 70 I. C. 483 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 59.

Appeal—Rateable Distribution.

——— Ss. 47 and 73—Appeal—Rateable distribution—Order dismissing application for—Nature of.

Where the Court below dismisses an application for rateable distribution on the ground that it has not been validly presented before the money was paid out to other creditors the order is not appealable and the aggrieved party can sue. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR v. SUNDARESA RAO. 32 M. L. T. 155 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 97.

Appeal—Receiver.

———S. 47—Appeal—Receiver—Surety for receiver—Order to pay up moneys.

An order against a receiver to pay up moneys can be executed against the surety and the order directing execution against such surety is appealable under S. 47 (Twomey, C. J., and Robinson, J.) MAUNG PO THEIN v. MA WAING. 13 Bur. L. T. 91 : 59 I. C. 844 : 10 L. B. R. 236.

Appeal—Sale Proclamation.

———S. 47—Appeal—Sale proclamation—Objection as to misdescription of boundaries—Order falls within the section and is appealable—Civ. Pro. Code, S. 96.

If an order falls within S. 47 and is finally decisive it is a decree and is appealable. For determining whether an order falls within S 47, sub-section (1), we must see whether the order decides a question arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed and relates to the execution of the decree. The test in each case would be whether there had been a judicial adjudication binding on the parties in a subsequent proceeding. The determination of a question relating to an application under O. 21, rule 66 may also be an order passed under S. 47. Where objection was taken to a sale proclamation on the ground of misdescription of the boundaries; Held, that an order passed on the objection is within S. 47 and is appealable. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) DEVENDRA NATH BASU v. KAILASH CHANDRA KALU.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal—Sale Proclamation.

80 I. C. 861 : 29 C. W. N 556 : A. I.R. 1925 Cal. 318.

——S. 47 and O 21, R. 66—Appeal—Sale proclamation—Order settling terms.

An order settling the terms of a sale proclamation and directing its issue is not appealable. 16 C. W. N. 124 : 16 C. W. N. 970 Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chotzner, J.) JOGESH CHANDRA CHOUDHRY v. HEMENDRA KUMAR ROY. 64 I. C. 547 : 35 C. L. J. 170 (Cal.).

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 66—Appeal—Sale Proclamation—Order settling—Order in which property is to be sold—Order settling—Appeal from—Maintainability.

A Judge acts not judicially but only administratively when he settles a sale proclamation; his order does not come within S. 47 of the Code.

Held, therefore, that no appeal lay against an order merely settling one of the terms of the sale proclamation, namely, the order in which the property was to be sold. The ruling in 27 M. 59: 14 M. L. J. 57 (F.B.) is good law even under the present Code. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) LANKA RAMA NAIDU v. LANKA RAMAKRISHNA NAIDU. 46 M. L. J. 192 : 19 L. W. 235 : 35 M. L. T. 275 : 78 I. C. 829 : (1924) M. W. N. 220 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 527.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 66—Appeal—Sale proclamation—Notification of encumbrances—Objection by judgment-debtor.

On the application of the decree-holder encumbrances existing on the property attached were notified in the sale proclamation. The judgment-debtor applied under S. 47 for an order that the properties could not be sold subject to encumbrances. The objection was allowed and the decree-holders appealed. On a question arising as to whether the order of the court was appealable held, that the application of the judgment-debtor did not raise any question as to the terms on which the sale proclamation should be settled but it raised the question whether the Court could sell the property subject to the encumbrances and that the question was one relating to the execution of the decree and that the order was therefore appealable. (Dar and Adami, JJ.) WILLIAM MALING GRANT v. SURAJ MAL MARWARI. 1 Pat. L. R. 53 : 72 I. C. 860 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 76 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 134.

Appeal—Scheme.

——S. 47—Appeal—Scheme—Orders passed relating to the scheme are not orders in execution.

Orders passed relating to a scheme formed and sanctioned by the Court in a scheme suit, are not orders in execution of a decree and are not therefore appealable (Sir John Edge.) SEVAK JERANCHOD BHOGILAL v. THE DAKORE TEMPLE COMMITTEE.
49 M. L. J. 25 : 23 A. L. J. 555 : 27 B. L. R. 872 : 2 O. W. N. 535 : 87 I. C. 313 : L. R. 6 P. C. 117 : 41 C. L. J. 628 : (1925) M.W.N. 474 : 22 L. W. 246 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 155 (P. C.)

——Ss. 47 and 92—Appeal—Scheme—Order made in exercise of powers conferred by—Appealability.

An appeal does not lie against the order made by a court exercising a power given to it by a provision in the scheme, as such an order is not one made in execution. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) SIVAN PILLAI v. VENKATESWARA AIYAR. 22 L. W. 796.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Appeal—Stay of Execution.

Appeal—Stay of Execution.

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of Execution.

An order staying or refusing to stay execution of a decree by the Court is a determination of a question relating to execution within the meaning of S. 47, C.P. Code. Though a stay order falls within S. 47, C. P. Code it is not a decree because it is not a determination which has attaching to it the characteristics required by S. 2, C. P. Code, to be attached to a determination, whether in a suit or in execution, if it is to amount to a decree. A stay order is therefore not appealable as a decree and no special appeal being given against such an order, no appeal lies. Cases reviewed. (Daniels, and Boys, JJ.) HUSAIN BHAI v. BELTIE SHAH. 46 A. 733 : 22 A. L. J. 706 : L.R. 5 A. (Civ.) 482 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 808 :

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of execution—Refusal to restore execution application dismissed for default.

An order passed by an executing court is a decree only when it determines a question relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree. An order refusing to restore an execution application dismissed for default is not a decree and is not open to appeal. Where the execution court stayed proceedings directing each party to bear his costs, the question does not relate to execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and there is no appeal from the order. (Sulaiman, J.) LACHHMI NARAIN v. MT. BRIJ RANI. L. R. 5 A. 573 : 80 I. C. 39 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 794.

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of Execution—Order granting.

An order granting a stay of execution is not a decree and does not fall within S. 47 of the Code and is not appealable. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) JANARDAN TRIMBAK GODRE v. MARTAND TRIMBAK GODRE. 45 Bom. 241 : 59 I. C. 523 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1212.

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of execution.

All orders staying execution of decrees are questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed, and relating to the execution thereof, and, as such appealable. (Scott-Smith, J.) FITZ HOLMES v. WARYAM SINGH. 75 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 514.

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of execution.

All questions which determine the rights and liabilities of the parties in the matter of the execution of the decree are appealable. A decision that execution shall or shall not take place for the time being is a question relating to execution and is appealable. (Le Rossignol, J.) SARDAR KHAN v. FATEH DIN.
68 I. C. 751 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 480. (2).

——S. 47 and O 41, R. 5—Appeal—Stay of execution—Refusal to stay.

No appeal lies from an order refusing to stay execution by an appellate court. (Harrison, J.) KANHAIYA LAL v. RAM GOPAL. 68 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 400.

——S. 47—Appeal—Stay of execution—Order refusing.

An order staying or refusing to stay execution of decrees are orders determining questions relating to execution and thus appealable. (Maung Kin, J.) KYANKSEMA v. APARNA CHARAN.
62 I. C. 342 : 10 L. B. R. 326.

Applicability.

———S. 47—Applicability—Section does not cover a dispute as to possession between auction-purchaser and judgment-debtor.

A question between the auction-purchaser and the judgment-debtor with reference to the possession of property sold under the decree is not covered by S. 47. 31 All. 82 (F B.) Foll. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 429 (F.B.) Ref. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) IMTIAZ-UN-NISSA v. CHHUTAN LAL. 22 A. L. J. 1119 : 47 All. 304 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 183 : 84 I. C. 746 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 236.

———S. 47—Applicability—Collector is not a Court.

Collector executing a decree transferred to him is not a Court and therefore cannot entertain an application under S. 47. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS MARWARI v. SURAJ PRASAD SINGH. 47 All 217 : 22 A. L. J. 1060 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 89 : 84 I. C. 1031: A. I. R. 1925 All. 146.

———S. 47—Applicability—Question relating to execution discharge or satisfaction of the decree—Decree for possession—Waste by judgment-debtor after decree.

Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession of the property in dispute in the suit. An appeal was filed by the defendant who remained in possession. The appeal was eventually dismissed and the plaintiff thereafter discovered that the defendants, while in possession of the property pending the appeal, committed waste by cutting trees. The plaintiff decree-holder thereupon applied in execution for ascertaining the damages alleged to have been committed by the respondents. Held, that the question raised was one relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and that it must be determined in execution and not by separate suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HARI SHRIDHAR v. SAKHARAM. 25 Bom. L. R. 449: 73 I. C. 443 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 391.

———S 47 and O. 21, R. 89—Applicability—Application under O. 21, R. 89—Objection by decree-holder as to non-mention of interest in application for execution by mistake comes under S. 47.

In an application under O 21, R. 89 to set aside an execution sale, an objection by the decree holder that interest was not mentioned in the application for execution by mistake and that, therefore, besides the principal amount, interest also should be ordered to be deposited, comes within S. 47 of the C.P. Code. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) JADAB KRISHNA v. APSARADDIN SARDAR. 41 C.L.J. 391: A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 948.

———S. 47—Applicability—Execution refused on ground of want of jurisdiction—Order is not "decree".

Where the Court declines to entertain application for execution at all on the ground that it has no jurisdiction, the order does neither come under S. 47 nor under the general definition of "decree". (Chatterjee and Chotzner, JJ.) ASIRUDDIN MONDAL v. RAM SHAKHI DEBYA. 41 C. L. J, 166: 86 I. C. 775: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 679.

———S. 47—Applicability — Court cannot grant partition merely on execution petition by auction-purchaser.

A Court cannot, on a mere application for execution by a Court auction-purchaser, enforce his right by an order for partition. (Phillips, J.) MUTHU PILLAI v. ALAGIRISAMI PILLAI. 22 L. W. 663: A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 232.

———S. 47—Applicability—Question relating to execution—Scheme suit—Direction in decree for filling up vacancies—Order, if appealable.

On an appeal against an order passed by the Subordinate Judge's Court, Chingleput, on a petition presented to it under cl. 10 of a scheme sanctioned by a decree for the management of a Hindu temple, it was found that the petition was presented on the assumption that a vacancy had occurred among the trustees under the scheme and that, as it had not been filled by either of the two agencies primarily responsible for filling it the Lower Court must in accordance with the scheme do so The Lower Court held after enquiry that, the point disputed before it, a vacancy had occurred and directed that it should be filled in the manner provided by the rules framed by the High Court. Held, that though the Court was in this matter acting judicially, it was still necessary to see whether its order was one, against which under the ordinary law an appeal will lie, and that depended on whether its order was a decree within the meaning of S. 2 (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure, or more particularly whether it was the determination under S. 47 of a question relating to the execution of a decree. Held, that it did not satisfy the above requirements and there was no appeal against the order, (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RANGANADHA THATHACHARI v. KRISHNASWAMI THATHACHARI. 47 M. 139:18 L. W. 237: 75 I. C. 189 : (1923) M. W. N. 664 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 369.

———S. 47 and O. 21, R 103—Applicability.

O. 21, R. 103 of the Code only applies to cases where strangers to the decree are involved; while S. 47 governs cases where the persons concerned are parties to the suit or their representatives. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) RUKMANI AMMAL v. NARASIMHA IYER. 41 M. L. J. 54: 14 L. W. 85 : 63 I. C. 730: (1921) M. W. N. 487.

———S. 47—Applicability—Auction-purchaser and judgment-debtor—Decision as between, if appealable.

The questions determined under S. 47 of the Code are those arising between parties opposed in interest in the suit and not between a party and his representative as between a judgment-debtor and an auction-purchaser. A decision as between the latter, is not appealable (Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) YAGNASAMI AIYAR v. CHIDAMBARANATHA MUDALIAR. 61 I. C. 961: 13 L. W. 15.

———S. 47—Applicability.

Objection by a person who is both prior and puisne mortgagee after he has got a decree as prior mortgagee to the sale of property in execution of a decree by another as owner under his own decree is an objection not under S. 47 but one under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code.

One P mortgaged twice to K his property and subsequently mortgaged the same to G and afterwards again to K. On his two earlier mortgages K sued P and G and obtained a final decree. During the pendency of K's suit, G sued on his mortgage P and K and obtained an ex parte final decree. On G's application for execution of his decree, K objected on the ground of being owner on a title prior in time to G's mortgage. Held, that K's objection was not covered by section 47 as he was not a party to the decree and that it was covered by O. 21, R. 58 as that was a direct attack on G's decree for the sale of the property. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) GANGARAM v. KANHAIYALAL. 80 I. C. 626: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 185.

———S. 47—Applicability—Joint possession under—Disturbance of—Remedy.

Where joint possession awarded under a decree is disturbed, the aggrieved party can maintain a suit for its restoration. (Kotval, A. J. C.) JUGAN v. AMAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 345.

———S. 47—Applicability—Permission to bid granted to decree-holder—Permission modified in his absence

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Applicability.

—Sale can be set aside in appeal—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 90.

Modifying the permission already granted to the decree-holder to bid, on an office report, behind the decree-holder's back amounts to a material irregularity which though not covered by O. 21. R. 90 is covered by S. 47, C. P. Code, and the sale is liable to be set aside in appeal. 32 M. 752, 30 A. 379 and 43 M. 107 Foll (Daniels, A. J. C.) ALI ABBAS v. NARAIN DAS. 12 O. L. J. 321· 87 I. C. 997: 2 O. W. N. 297: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 381.

——S. 47—Applicability—Failure to issue notice under O. 21, R. 22—Execution sale sought to be set aside—Second appeal if lies.

Where an execution sale is challenged on the ground that no notice was issued under O. 21, R. 22, but the Court finds that no such notice was necessary, the order is not one under S. 47. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHADEO SINGH v. DHOBI SINGH.
2 P. 916: 74 I. C. 838: 4 P. L. T. 721: 1923 P. H. C. C. 283: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 111.

——S. 47—Applicability—Order under, should not be contingent.

An order passed under S. 47 should conclusively and finally determine the rights of the parties and should not be contingent upon future events alternative in their nature. (Godfrey, J.) N. K. R. R. M. CHETTY FIRM v. M. SUBRAYA MUDALIAR.
3 Rang. 132: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 271.

——S. 47—Applicability—Execution stayed—Order regarding sufficiency of security—S. 47 does not apply.

An order relating to the sufficiency of the security tendered as a condition of the stay of execution which has been granted, is not one which comes within the purview of S. 47. 41 Cal. 160 Foll (Heald and Chari, JJ.) MOOLJEE DHURSEE AND CO v. M.E. MOOLLA.
3 Rang. 255: 4 Bur. L. J. 61: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 225.

——S. 47—Applicability.

Section includes not only questions relating to the execution of a decree, but also its discharge and satisfaction and so it includes fraud in execution proceedings. (Fawcett, J. C., Crump and Kemp, A. J. Cs.) BARUNMAL v. NEWANDMAL. 83 I. C. 360 (2): 16 S. L. R. 207 (F. B.)

Bar of suit.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Receiver appointed in suit by party to decree—Claim of refund against receiver—Separate suit is unnecessary.

A suit was instituted by a defendant in a suit who had been exempted from the decree, for a declaration that certain property which had been attached in execution of the decree did not belong to the judgment-debtor. At the instance of the plaintiff, a receiver was appointed by the Court. The suit was decreed and under the decree, the Receiver disposed of the property. The decree was reversed in appeal.

Held: that the appointment of the Receiver must be deemed to have been only in the execution department and that in order to compel him to refund the value of the property no separate suit was necessary but that the executing Court itself had jurisdiction. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) JWALA PRASAD v. SHEIKH CHATTAN. L. R. 6 A. Civ. 36 : 85 I. C. 161: A. I. R. 1925 All. 328.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Bar of suit—Section cannot bar a suit by decree-holder specifically directed to file by an order under O. 21, R. 58.

A suit filed by decree-holder in pursuance of an order passed under O. 21, R. 58 directing him to file a separate suit to establish his title cannot be dismissed on the ground that the remedy lay under S. 47 (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) MATHURA DAS v. RAMRAJ SINGH. L.R. 5 A. Civ. 755: A. I. R. 1925 All. 240.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Suit against auction-purchaser for property sold—Judgment-debtor having no interest.

Where property is sold in execution of a decree, but the judgment-debtor has no interest in the property sold, a suit will lie against the auction-purchaser for the recovery of the same. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) BALMANT SINGH v. MT. LAIQA BEGUM.
75 I. C. 238: L. R. 4 A. 526: A. I. R. 1924 All. 273.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Sale—Agreement by one decree-holder to pay others—Failure to do so—Fraud—Suit to set aside sale.

One of several decree-holders agreed to pay the others as a consideration for a sale of land to him their share of the decree debt but failed. The others executed the decree and sold the judgment-debtor's property. Held, an application to set aside the sale will not lie under S. 47, but as a suit would be maintainable. (Gokul Prasad, J.) NARAIN SINGH v. ZALIM SINGH.
74 I. C. 351 (2): A. I. R. 1923 All. 573.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Claim suit.

When objections are allowed under O. 21, R. 58 of C. P. Code the decree-holder is entitled to bring a suit for declaration that the assets of the deceased debtor are liable to attachment and sale in the execution of the decree, and such a suit is not barred by Section 47 of the C. P. C (Banerjee, J.) BANSIDHAR v. SHAMLAL. 71 I. C. 1012· A. I. R. 1923 All. 292.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Plea of sale of property beyond decree.

Where the purchaser of part of the mortgaged property was a party to the mortgage suit and could have pleaded in execution that the mortgagor had mortgaged property to which he had no title, a separate suit by him for a declaration, that the decree-holder auction-purchaser is not entitled to that part does not lie. (Stuart, J.) RAI BAHADUR PANDIT SADANAND PANDEY v. SHEIKH JUFAIL AHMAD.
A. I. R. 1923 All. 115.

——S. 47—Bar of Suit—Subsequent suit for ejectment on fresh cause of action.

Plff.'s father obtained a decree for possession against the deft. who admitted his right after the passing of the decree and paid him all costs of the suit. Subsequently deft. set up adverse possession. Held that a fresh suit for possession was not barred. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) JETHU MISIR v. GODAVARI DUTT. L. R. 3 A. 404 : 20 A. L. J. 619 : A I. R. 1922 All. 411.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Execution barred, whether fresh suit lies.

Where plff. failed to recover possession either privately or by execution within time after pre-emption decree in his favour though he deposited the pre-emption money in time, he cannot file a fresh suit on the basis of the former decree. 14 A. L. J. 102 overruled. (Sulaiman and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAMANAND v. JAIRAM 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 379 : 18 A. L. J. 1001 : 59 I. C. 632 : 43 All. 170.

——S 47—Bar of suit—Suit by auction purchaser who was himself a decree-holder for possession—Not barred.

Where a decree-holder in execution of his money-decree purchased the right, title and interest of his Judgment-debtor in certain immoveable properties a suit by the purchaser to recover possession on the strength of that title would not be barred by S. 47, C. P. Code, 35 B. 452 overruled. (Macleod, C. J. and

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Bar of suit.

Crump, J.) HARGOBIND MULCHAND v. BHUDAR RAOJI. 48 Bom. 550 : 26 Bom. L. R. 601 : A. I. R, 1924 Bom. 429.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Decree-holder auction-purchaser—Obstruction to possession by judgment-debtor as well as stranger—Remedy—Suit.

The proper remedy of a decree-holder auction-purchaser who is resisted in trying to get possession of the property purchased, by the judgment-debtor as well as a third person claiming to have an interest in the property, is to bring a separate suit for possession both against the judgment-debtor and the stranger. S. 47 of the Code is no bar to such a suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GOBA NATH BAROLA v. SAKHARAM TEJU PATIL. 44 Bom. 977 : 59 I. C. 366 (2): 22 Bom. L. R. 1101.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Adjustment uncertified—Suit for declaring satisfaction of decree.

S. 47, C. P. Code, does not bar a suit for declaration that by means of an adjustment though uncertified the decree has been fully satisfied. (Moti Sagar, J.) BISHEN SINGH v. MAHINDAR SINGH. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 54.

——S. 47, and O. 21, R. 91—Bar of suit—Auction-purchaser dispossessed—Suit for purchase money is maintainable.

An auction-purchaser, who has paid the full price can bring a suit to recover that money on being dispossessed of the property by a successful claimant, who had lodged an unsuccessful objection under O. 21, R. 58 and subsequently brought a suit and established his right to the property. 36 C. L. J. 205 Foll. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) ASAD ULLAH KHAN v. KARAM CHAND. 4 Lah. 354 : 76 I. C. 605 : 6 L.L.J. 67 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah 115.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Possession in execution proceedings—Subsequent dispossession—Remedy.

Where in the course of execution proceedings, the decree-holder got possession of the properties though not through the Court officer, and was subsequently dispossessed by the judgment-debtor, a suit to recover possession is maintainable. (Chevis and Harrison, JJ.) RUP CHAND v. ALLAH JAUNAYA. 68 I. C 744 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 459 (2).

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Suit for declaration—Satisfaction of the decree.

A suit for a declaration that a decree is satisfied and for an injunction restraining the decree-holder or his assignee, from executing the decree is barred by S. 47, C. P Code. (Chevis, Abdul Raoof and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RAMLABHAYA v. FIRM MUKANDA MALKAPUR CHUND. 3 Lah. 319 : 67 I.C. 593: A.I.R. 1922 Lah 428 (F.B.).

——S. 47—Bar of suit.

The plaintiff had deposited a sum to release from Court sale held under a previous mortgage. The application by the plaintiff to reserve his rights under the hypothecation bond was rejected. Held that there was no bar to the institution of the suit. (Abdul Raoof and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RAHIM-UD-DIN v. SHAFQAT ULLAH. A. I. R 1922 Lah. 358 (2).

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Legal representatives brought on record in execution—Dispute as to property of judgment-debtor—Suit, if lies.

Where legal representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor are brought on record in execution, the questions which they might raise as to property in their hands not being the assets of the judgment-debtor in their hands, are governed by S. 47, and a separate suit by them to establish their title to the property is barred by the section. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) BHAGAT RAM v. NIZAM DIN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Bar of suit.

63 I. C. 853 : 3 Lah. L. J. 406.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Stranger auction-purchaser—Sale of share in a property—Right to partition—If enforceable in execution proceedings.

A person who purchases at an auction sale a share in an item of property cannot work out his right to partition in execution proceedings. (Phillips, J.) MUTHU PILLAI v. ALAGIRISAMI PILLAI. 22 L. W. 663.

——S. 47 - Bar of suit—Whether bars to subsequent suit depends on previous decree being executable for reliefs claimed in later suit.

Whether a subsequent suit is barred by reason of C. P. Code, S. 47 depends upon the existence of a decree which is executable for the purpose of the reliefs sought to be enforced in the subsequent suit. (Spencer, Offg. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTI v. RAJARAJESWARA SETHUPATHI. 22 L.W. 195 : A.I R. 1925 Mad. 1260.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Unless judgment does not provide for execution of obligation created thereby no suit lies on an executable judgment.

In India no separate suit can be brought on the basis of an executable judgment. The judgment creditor is left to his remedy by execution. But where a new obligation is created by a judgment without provision for execution a suit can be brought on the basis of the judgment. (6 B. H. C. R. 231 and 9 C. W. N. 952, Foll ; 27 Mad. 243 ; 8 Bom. 1 ; 20 C. W. N. 58 and 43 All. 170, Dist.) (Ramesam and Jackson, JJ.) RAMASWAMI NATHAN v. M. P. M. MUTHIAH CHETTY. 47 M. L. J. 829 : 21 L. W. 75 : 48 Mad. 482 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 279.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Mistakes in execution proceedings.

Mistakes in execution proceedings should be rectified by the executing Court and no separate suit lies. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) JAINOLABDIN SAHIB v. KRISHNA CHETTIAR. 41 M. L. J. 120 : 63 I. C. 200 : (1921) M. W. N. 491 : 14 L. W. 92.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—One of two judgment-debtors not proceeded against in execution—Property sold in execution—Auction-purchaser sued subsequently by the judgment-debtor not mentioned in the execution, for recovery of the property—Suit is maintainable.

Where of two judgment-debtors one only was proceeded against in execution proceedings as being the sole owner of the property sold in auction, a suit by the other judgment-debtor after the auction-sale for recovery of the property from the auction-purchaser is maintainable. S. 47 is not strictly applicable in such a case. (Findlay, O.J C.) KANHAIRAM v. KALICHARAM. 8 N. L. J. 184 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 68.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Representative character of parties.

Where in a suit to set aside an execution sale, the plaintiffs were the representatives of judgment-debtor and the defendants were the decree-holders in the suit in which the decree was passed and the matter related to execution of a decree. Held, Sec. 47 applied to the case. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BRIJMOHANSINGH v. KASTURACHAND. 68 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 189.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Partition suit—Shares not specified or allotted—Separate suit if lies.

If a decree is passed in a partition suit, the parties thereto whether arranged as plaintiffs or defendants are in the position of decree-holders. If the decree merely directed the separation of the shares of the plaintiffs and left the shares of the defendants joint among themselves the defendants cannot execute the decree and a fresh suit among them inter se will not be barred. But if shares are allotted to each of the parties, their rights must be worked out not by suit but in execution. (Mullick, A. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HEM CHANDRA MAHTO v. PREM MAHTO.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Bar of suit.

90 I. C. 739 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 330.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Suit by judgment-debtor for possession of property not sold in auction but wrongly taken by auction purchaser—Section does not apply.

If the property was in fact attached and sold then the judgment-debtor's only remedy as a party to the suit would be under S. 47 of the C. P. Code and not by a separate suit. But if the property was not included either in the sale proclamation or in the sale certificate and was not in fact purchased at the auction-sale, but was wrongly taken possession of by the auction purchaser under colour of a title which he did not possess no question arises within S. 47 of the Code and the period for recovering possession of property taken under such circumstances will be 12 years from the date of dispossession. (Dawson Miller, C.J. and Foster, J.) LACHMI NARAIN SINGH v. REBATI DEBYA.
6 P. L. T. 473 : 86 I. C. 648 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 37 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat 376.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Decree against Hindu father Son's liability.

A separate suit for the determination of the liability of the sons for the debt covered by the decree passed against their father would be barred by section 47. The only remedy of the decree-holder is to apply for execution of the decree against the son of the deceased judgment-debtor as his legal representative. The question as to whether the decree is capable of execution inasmuch as the debt covered by it was tainted with immorality, is one relating to the execution of the decree and the plea with respect to that must be taken and determined in the execution proceedings. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) SHEIK KAROO v. RAMESHWAR RAO.
3 P. L. T. 43 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 143.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Decree for possession—Obstruction—Subsequent suit for declaration of title—If maintainable—Remedy of party.

Where a decree of Court awards a person possession of properties, his duty is to proceed under the C. P. Code, and if obstructed to proceed under the provisions of O. 21, Rr. 97, 100; a subsequent suit for declaration of title is barred by S. 47. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SOVANJI JENA v. BHIMA RAY.
1 P. 157 : A. I R. 1922 Pat. 407.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Bar of suit—A suit by party to objection proceedings is barred.

A suit by a person who was a party to objection proceedings under O. 21, R. 58, though as a pro forma defendant is barred by S. 47. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) SANTU CHAMAR v. ARJUN MISRA.
88 I. C. 842 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 64 (1).

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Decree-holder purchasing property at auction-sale cannot sue separately for possession.

Section 47 bars a separate suit for the pessession of property purchased by a decree-holder at a court-sale. For a decree-holder by purchasing property at Court-sale does not cease to be a party to the suit within the meaning of S. 47 and proceedings for the delivery of possession of property purchased by him are proceedings in execution and fall within the scope of S. 47. (Raymond and Kennedy, A. J. Cs.) PIRIMAL v. MT. SANGHAR.
18 S. L. R. 34 : 78 I. C. 930 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 171.

——S. 47—Bar of suit—Object of suit.

If the object of the suit is to interfere with the execution of the decree i. e. by a declaration and injunction restraining the decree-holder from executing the decree or to set aside the sale in execution, no separate suit will lie; but if the suit does not relate to the execution of the decree, but to the transaction of adjustment a separate suit will lie. (Fawcett, J. C., Crump and Kemp, A.J.Cs.) BANUMAL v. NEWANDMAL.
83 I. C. 360 (2) : 16 S. L. R. 207 (F.B.).

Compromise decree.

——S. 47 and O. 23, R. 3—Compromise decree—Execution of—Such decree can be executed only in respect of matters covered by it—Separate suit will lie for matters outside it.

Court's power to pass a consent decree is limited to matters covered by the suit. But if the agreement refers to matters outside the suit forming consideration for the compromise or settlement of the matter compromised in the suit such terms should also be mentioned in the decree. But it does not follow that such terms can be enforced in the execution of that decree. They can be enforced only by a separate suit. Where a decree includes matters covered by the suit and also matters outside it the decree can be executed only to the extent of the matters included in the suit and not in respect of the matters outside it. (Suhrawardy, J.) ARJUN KAPALI v. ASWINI KUMAR KAPALI.
78 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 286.

Conversion.

——S. 47—Conversion—Suit sought to be converted into a proceeding after 12 years—Plaint misconceived—Plaintiff misled by order of Court—Conversion was not allowed.

Where the Court while rejecting decree-holder's application under O. 21, R. 95 directed him to a suit which was filed and the party subsequently discovering after 12 years that a suit was not competent as an appeal lay from that order under S. 47, requested the Court to change the suit into a proceeding and it was found that the plaint was misconceived.

Held: that the conversion of suit into proceeding should not be allowed. (Odgers, J.) PACHAIAPPA CHETTI v. C. VENKATACHARIAR.
(1925) M.W.N. 577 : 90 I. C. 952 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1198.

——Ss 47, Cl. (2) and 144—Conversion—Power of Court.

Where a suit is brought for restitution in spite of the provision in S. 144 of the C. P. Code it is open to the Court to treat the suits as a proceeding in execution in the exercise of its powers under S. 47, cl. (2) of the C. P. Code, 13 Bom. 485; 28 Mad. 355; 45 Bom. 1137, 25 All. 441 foll. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) JAMANLAL v. RAGHO.
67 I. C. 319 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 198.

——S. 47 (2) and O. 21, R. 16—Conversion—Case between rival assignees of decree converted by Court into suit—Appeal lies.

Where two rival assignees from a decree-holder applied for execution of the same decree and the question arose as to the validity of the assignments and the case was converted by Court into a suit under S. 47 (2) and decided.

Held: the Court acted within its jurisdiction even supposing that it acted under O. 21, R. 16, an appeal lay from the decision as from one passed in a regular suit. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RUN BAHADUR SINGH v. BAJRANGI PRASAD SINGH.
3 Pat. 344 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 193 : 78 I. C. 495 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Defence to a suit.

Defence to a suit.

——S. 47—Defence to a suit.

An objection, which could not have been raised by plaintiff in a suit by him under S. 47, C. P. Code, can be made the ground of defence in a suit by another. 30 Cal. 946 followed. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SURADHANI DUTTA v. SITTOO SHEIKH.

27 C. W. N. 280 : 71 I. C. 378 : 38 C. L. J. 17 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 311.

——S. 47—Defence to a suit—Objection as to jurisdiction to try suit cannot be raised in execution.

An objection to the jurisdiction of the Court that tried the suit is not one of the questions allowed by S. 47 to be dealt with in execution. 43 Mad. 675 (F.B.) Ref. (Spencer, J.) K. R. RADAKRISNHA AIYAR v. VINAYAKASWAMIAR. 49 M. L. J. 664 : 22 L. W. 567 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 128 (1).

——S. 47—Defence to a suit.

S. 47 is no bar to a defendant setting up by way of defence a matter relating to the execution of a decree though, if he were the plff., he would be debarred from suing on the ground that the plea could only be gone into in execution. (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) CHINA DANDUSI v. PEDDA TATIAH.

41 M.L.J. 261 · 14 L. W. 424 : 70 I. C. 303 : (1921) M. W. N. 536.

Execution sale.

——S. 47—Execution sale.

A purchase by decree-holder without obtaining leave to bid or in spite of refusal of leave is not void but voidable. (Lord Phillimore.) RADA KRISHNA v. BISHWESWAR SAHAY. 44 M. L J. 718 : 3 Pat. L. T. 529 :37 C. L. J. 430 : 31 M. L. T. 209 : 16 L. W. 190 : 25 Bom. L. R. 630 : 49 I. A. 312 : 1 P. 733 : 21 A. L. J. 23 : 27 C. W. N. 294 : 9 C. & A. L. R. 410 : 67 I. C. 914 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 336 (P. C.).

——S. 47—Execution—Sale in excess—Sale certificate.

Certificates of sale are documents of title which ought not to be lightly regarded or loosely construed. If there is no ambiguity in the words of a certificate of sale, the object of the certificate would be defeated if it were possible to change its plain meaning by reference to other documents on which the decree is based. Under S. 47, C. P. Code, the mortgagor is at liberty to liberate, from the effects of sale, land which is by mistake included in a mortgage decree and sold at a Court sale and is then included in sale certificate. If it is too late to take such proceedings, possession being duly given under the sale certificate, the right thus acquired cannot be challenged. (Lord Buckmaster.) RAMABHADRA NAYADU v. KADIRIYASAMI NAICKER. 24 Bom. L. R. 692 : 30 M.L.T. 34 : 48 I. A. 155 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 252 (P. C.).

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—Setting aside—Property included in decree by mistake and sold in execution—Suit for recovery of—Maintainability.

Where property outside the suit had been included by a mistake in the decree and was sold in execution and 2 years after the sale and its confirmation the plff. sued for the recovery of the property or its value, held, that the suit could not lie until the court sale was set aside, it not being a nullity and that the plff. not having set aside the sale within the period prescribed by Art. 166 of the Limitation Act the suit was barred. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) NAGABHATTA v. NAGAPPA. 24 Bom. L. R. 423 : 46 B. 914 : 67 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 62.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Execution sale.

Setting aside—Fraud—Plea of purchaser without notice.

Judicial sales fraudulently procured will not give a good title to a purchaser who does not take in good faith and without notice. The fact that the Court has been successfully deceived is one which upon the issue as to the purchaser's good faith, must be of a very different value in different circumstances. In all cases the burden of proving that he acted in good faith and without notice of the fraud is in the first instance upon the purchaser This is an essential future of the equitable rule. The rule is not that there is a special favour for every one until he is shown to have been dishonest or a volunteer, but that equity where it can will favour those who show that in innocence they have given value. Per Mookerjee, J.—The protection given to the bona fide purchaser had its origin exclusively in equity and is based entirely upon the conception that a Court of equity acts solely upon the conscience of litigant parties by compelling the defendant to do what, and only what, in foro conscientiæ he is bound to do· If the relation between the two contestants standing before the Court are such that, in equity and good conscience, the plaintiff ought to obtain the aid which he asks, and the defendant ought to do or suffer what is demanded of him, then the Court will interfere and grant the relief, if the relations are not of this character then the Court will withhold its hand and will leave the parties where they stand. The protection given to the bona fide purchaser, therefore, simply means that from the relations subsisting between the two parties specially that which is involved in the innocent position of the purchaser, equity refuses to interfere and to aid the plaintiff in what he is seeking to obtain, because it would be unconscientious and inequitable to do so the Court will not, in such an event, aid either party against the other. The doctrine of bona fide purchase is thus not a rule of property. It does not determine the question of title between parties. It is in most cases available only by way of defence. It is a shield in the hands of a defendant to protect him against the claim of his adversary. It means that equity will refuse to interfere to aid the plaintiff in his suit, because under the circumstances of the case, it would be unconscionable that the plaintiff should have what he seeks to obtain. It enforces no right, but simply refuses to interfere in the plaintiff's behalf. An execution sale which has been brought about by the fraud of the decree-holder is liable to be set aside on that ground by application to the executing Court even though it is not proved that the auction-purchaser, a stranger, has participated in or been cognizant of the fraud. Subject to the conditions prescribed by O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, an execution sale may be set aside on the ground of fraud precisely in the same manner as on the ground of irregularity and exercise of this power by the Court is not excluded in cases where the purchaser falls within the category of bona fide purchaser for value without notice. 6 C. W. N. 383 ; 4 C. W. N. 538 ; 26 C. 539 referred to. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BIRESWAR GHOSE v. PANCHCOURI GHOSE.

37 C. L. J. 145 : 27 C. W. N. 587 : 74 I. C. 975 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 538.

——S. 47—Execution—Agreement prior to decree not to execute can be pleaded.

An agreement made before the passing of the decree by which the decree was not to be executed against one of the judgment-debtors should be enquired into and decided on the merits by the executing Court. (Madhavan Nair and Jackson, JJ.) VELU THEVAN v. KRISHNASWAMI REDDI. 48 M. L. J. 277 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Execution sale.

87 I. C. 297 : 21 L. W. 725 : A I.R. 1925 Mad. 591.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—Application to set aside—Limitation.

Under Sec. 47 to an application to set aside an execution sale is applicable under Art. 166. Lim. Act. (Oldfield and Venkatsubbarao, JJ.) GANAPATHI MUDALIAR v. N KRISHNAMACHARI.

43 M. L. J 184 . 16 L. W. 178 : (1922) M.W.N. 514 : 70 I. C. 743 · 31 M.L.T. 135 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 417 (2).

——S. 47—Execution sale—Puisne mortgagee—Compromis without reference to puisne mortgage.

Where in a suit on a prior mortgage impleading the puisne mortgagee as a party, a compromise was effected between some of the parties without reference to the puisne mortgagee and the properties were sold in execution of the compromise decree without impleading the representatives of the puisne mortgagee who had by that time died, held, (1) that the compromise decree was one affecting the puisne mortgagee and hence the latter must be held to be a judgment-debtor in the suit ; (2) that the proceedings in execution without impleading the representatives of the puisne mortgagee are void and a nullity and the latter's nterests are not extinguished by the execution sale. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) RAGHUNATHASWAMY v. GOPAUL. 41 M. L. J. 547 : (1921) M. W. N. 732 : 15 L. W. 123 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 307.

——S. 47—Execution sale.

To an application to set aside an execution sale on the ground of illegality or irregularity Art. 166 and not Art. 181 is applicable. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) KONIDEVA KANNAYYA v. RAMAMMA.

(1922) M. W. N. 176 : 74 I. C. 458 : 16 L. W. 934 : A. I. R 1922 Mad. 95.

——S. 47 and O. 21, Rr. 92 and 103—Execution sale—Decree-holder selling his own properties by mistake—Confirmation of sale · Remedy of decree-holder.

Where a decree-holder under a bona fide mistake brought to sale in execution some of his own properties and they were purchased by a stranger and the sale was confirmed. Held that, thereafter the decree-holder's only remedy was by a suit under O. 21, R.103, C. P. Code, and that an application under S. 47, C. P. Code was incompetent. (Ayling, O. C J. and Odgers, J.) RAMASWAMI KONAN v. KOLANDAIVELU PILLAI. 15 L. W. 272 : 70 I. C. 569 : (1922) M. W. N. 121 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63 (1).

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Execution sale—Objection by judgment-debtor that a certain property was not liable to be sold—Dismissal—Remedy—Suit or appeal—Objection dismissed without inquiry into merit—Error of law, effect of.

Where a judgment debtor made an application to the executing Court that out of several properties attached and entered in the sale proclamation a certain item of property was not liable to be sold on the ground that he did not possess a saleable interest therein, Held, that the objection cannot be treated as one under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code, but must be treated as one falling under S. 47, C. P. Code, and hence an appeal lay against the order adjudicating the objection. 8 A. 146 foll. 1 O. C. Suppl. 11 distinguished. Where the Court dismissed the objection on the ground that was made too late and was not bona fide.

Held, that the Court ought to have inquired into the merits of it and owing to its failure to do so the order was liable to be set aside. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) LACHMAN PRASAD v. SRIMATI MIRNALUNI DEBI. 1 O. W. N. 857 : 85 I. C. 997 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 618.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Foreign decree.

——S. 47—Execution sale—Money decree and mortgage decree which to prevail.

Though the sale to the defendant in execution of his money decree was earlier, the later sale to the plaintiff in execution of his mortgage decree, the mortgage-decree being in existence at the time of the defendant's purchase, is to prevail. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) CHAMAN LAL v. KAMARUDDIN.

3 P. L. T. 757 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 655.

——S. 47 and O. 21, Rr. 90 and 92—Execution sale—Absence of attachment—Suit to set aside—Limitation.

An objection as to the defect or absence of the necessary attachment before an execution sale involves a substantial question as to the absence of proper notice to the judgment-debtor as to the property attached which does not come within O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code but comes within S. 47. Consequently where an application is made to set aside an execution sale on the ground of want of attachment, a second appeal lies. An application to set aside the execution sale on the ground of the absence of a proper attachment is governed by Art. 166 of the Limitation Act. The sale does not become a nullity in the absence of attachment though it may be an irregularity. (Lentaigne, J.) MA PWA v. MAHOMED TAMBI. 1 Rang. 533 : 77 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 124.

Exonerated defendant.

——S. 47—Exonerated defendant—Objection to execution of decree against property in his hands—Appeal.

One of the defendants in a suit for sale on a mortgage was exonerated by the plaintiff and no decree was passed against him or the properties in his hands. Subsequently the plaintiff brought to sale in execution certain property which the exonerated defendant claimed to be his own.

Held, that the objection raised by the defendant to the sale of the property in his hands was one relating to the satisfaction of the decree and that the exonerated defendant was a party to the suit within S. 47, C. P Code consequently the objection was one that should be decided by the executing Court. (Stuart and Mukerjee, JJ.) MT. MAHADEI v. JAGANNATH DAS. L. R. 5 A. 91 : 78 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 313.

——S. 47—Exonerated defendant—Objection to attachment in execution—Appeal.

The first defendant in a suit against whom no decree had been passed filed an application under S. 47, C. P. Code claiming that certain properties in his hands should not be attached in execution. There was no application by the decree-holder for attachment of the property. Held that the application was premature. It was only when his property was actually attached that the first defendant could prefer a claim petition and in such a case S. 47, C. P. Code would be applicable to him. The enquiry should be full as in the trial of a suit and not confined to affidavits. (Macleod C. J. and Crump, J.) CHUNI LAL ASHARAM v. KASHIBAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 440 : 73 I. C. 419 · A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 381.

Foreign decree.

——Ss. 47, 44 and 21—Foreign decree—Execution in British India—Objection to decree is allowable.

The judgment-debtor under a foreign decree sought to be executed in a British Indian Court can raise objections to the decree. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) B. N. KRISHNASWAMY CHETTY v. MADHAPPA CHETTIAR. 86 I. C. 492 : 21 L W. 330 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Objection to attachment.

Objection to attachment.

——S. 47—Objection to attachment—By judgment-debtor's representative under O. 21, R. 58—Case falls under S. 47, and decision thereon is a decree.

Where one N was brought upon the record as a representative of the deceased judgment-debtor and he set up his own right to the property and filed objection under O. 21, R. 58:

Held, that this objection must be taken to have come under S. 47 and that O. 9, R. 13 would in terms be applicable to an ex parte decision passed on the objections. 39 All. 47 Foll. 41 Cal. 1 Dist. (Walsh and Sulaiman, JJ.) JHUNNI LAL v. NATHA

L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 278 : 87 I. C. 287 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 594.

——S. 47—Objection to attachment—Decree nullity.

An objection can be raised in execution proceedings that the decree sought to be executed is a nullity. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ. ANWAR-UL-HAQ v. NAZAR ABBAS. 6 Lah. 313 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 494

——S. 47—Objection to attachment—Party against whom suit dismissed—Objection—Order in—Remedy.

Under S. 47, C. P. Code, a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed is a party to the suit, and where he puts in an objection petition to an attachment and that is dismissed, he is entitled to come in by way of appeal. The fact that the petition is put in under O. 21, R. 58, does not disentitle him from pleading it was really one under S. 47. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. GAURAN v. CHANDU LAL.

A I. R. 1924 Lah. 589.

——S. 47—Objection to attachment by a party against whom suit was dismissed—Objection is one under S. 47 and not under O. 21, R. 58.

Under S. 47 parties to the suit include the parties against whom the suit has been dismissed and therefore an objection by such a party that the property attached in execution is not liable to attachment is one under S. 47 and not under O. 21, R. 58 and the decision thereon is a decree. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) SHAIKH KALOO v. BHOLANATH. 3 Pat. L. R. 90 : 87 I. C. 743 : A. I R. 1925 Pat. 482.

——S. 47

Parties and representatives.
Auction-purchaser.
Collusive purchaser.
Custodian of property.
Exonerated Defendant.
Legal Representatives.
Meaning of.
Mortgage suit.
Parties unnecessarily impleaded.
Personal property.
Purchaser.
Question as to.
Scope of.

Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

An auction-purchaser, in execution of a decree, obtained upon a mortgage, purchases the rights of the mortgagor and the mortgagee at the date on which the mortgage was made and any subsequent equities or liabilities which arose in respect of the mortgaged property cannot attach to him inasmuch as he acquires the property free from any such liabilities or equities. (Mears, C J. and Banerji, J.) KARAMAT ALI v. GORAKHPUR BANK, LTD.

44 A. 488 : 20 A. L. J. 337 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 495.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser—Resistance to delivery—Suit for removal of obstruction—Maintainability.

The plaintiff, a mortgagee of an eight annas share belonging to the mortgagor and his brother obtained a decree on the mortgage and in execution the mortgagor's interest in the eight-annas share was sold and purchased by the plaintiff. The sale having been confirmed the plaintiff applied for delivery of possession but was obstructed by an alienee from the brother of the mortgagor. The court having held that the plaintiff was only entitled to joint possession of the eight-annas share along with the alienee, the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the eight-annas share beyond the expiry of one year from the date of the order in the execution proceedings. Held, that the plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession of the four-annas share of the mortgagor's brother having been filed after the expiry of one year from the date of the order was barred but that his claim for the remaining four-annas share was maintainable. 26 Bom. L. R. 601 Foll. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) LAKSHMAN SADASHIV v. GOVIND GANESH.

26 Bom. L. R. 843 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 527.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R 101—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser—Stranger purchaser.

An auction-purchaser at a sale in court auction in execution of a decree is a stranger to the suit. He is not a representative of any of the parties to the suit. Any question arising between him and the parties to the suit or their representatives must be determined by a separate suit. The question as to the legality of the sale raised by the judgment-debtor is one between the parties to the suit, i. e., between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor. Even though the auction-purchaser is interested in the result of the case, the judgment-debtor cannot bring a suit to set aside the sale. 34 B. 540 Foll. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) BAIMANI v. RANCHHODLAL. 25 Bom. L. R. 147 : 72 I. C. 256 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 214.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser—Petition of.

A bona fide auction-purchaser for value in execution of a decree is not a party to the suit within the meaning of S. 47, C P. Code. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. ASGHARI BEGUM v. IRSHAD-UD-DIN.

79 I.C 57 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser—Attachment by two Courts—Sale by inferior Court—Rights of purchaser—Application to set aside the sale.

In execution of a decree against a judgment-debtor certain property was attached by the Munsiff's Court. Subsequently the same property was attached before judgment by a Court of the Subordinate Judge which after the passing of the decree became an attachment in execution. The property however was sold in execution by the Munsiff's Court and purchased by the appellant. The decree-holder in the Sub-Court applied to the Court to sell the property in execution of his own decree. The appellant applied to that Court that the property should not be sold inasmuch as by the execution sale in the Munsiff's Court it had become the property of the appellant and ceased to be the property of the judgment-debtor. The Sub-Court rejected the application. On appeal held that the appellant was the representative of the judgment-debtor and that his appeal was maintainable. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) SREENIVASACHARIAR v. APPAVOO REDDY. 47 M. L. J. 720 : (1924) M. W. N. 551 : 20 L. W. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 889.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser, representative of whom—Person not impleaded as party, whether bound to apply.

The auction-purchaser is a representative of the decree-holder. Where certain property belonged to two persons but one of them alone was sued as though the entire property belonged to him, a decree was obtained and the entire property attached and sold, held, the person who was not impleaded was not bound to apply under S. 47 and O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, to have the sale set aside even if he had been aware at the time that the entire property was being attached. (Findlay, O. J. C.) KANHAIRAM v. KALICHARAN. 8 N. L. J. 184. (Nag)

—S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

For the purpose of an adjudication between an auction-purchaser and a judgment-debtor the auction-purchaser should be regarded as a representative of the decree-holder. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) SUNDERABAI v. SHRIKISAN RAMDHAN. 20 N. L. R. 170 : 79 I. C. 636 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 328.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

Adjudication between auction-purchaser and judgment-debtor comes under S. 47 and is appealable. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SUNDERABAI v. SHRIKISAN RAMDHAN. 20 N. L. R. 170 : 79 I. C. 636 : A I. R. 1924 Nag. 328.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser—Not a representative of judgment-debtor.

An auction-purchaser is not a representative of the judgment-debtor and he cannot apply under S. 47, C. P. Code, to set aside an execution sale. 34 M. 417: 42 B. 411 Ref. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) BALWANT v. RATAN LAL. 68 I. C. 429 : A.I.R. 1923 Nag. 161 (2)

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser.

An auction-purchaser is representative of the judgment-debtor and not of the decree-holder. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) JAINULABDIN SAHIB v. KRISHNA CHETTIAR. 41 M.L.J. 120 · 14 L.W. 92 : 63 I. C. 200 : (1921) M. W. N. 491.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Auction-purchaser obstructed—Order refusing to remove obstruction.

Where the decree-holder auction-purchaser in execution of a decree is obstructed in obtaining possession and the Court refuses to remove the obstruction, held, that the order is one under S. 47 of the Code. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MEYAPPA CHETTY v. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY. 39 M. L. J. 603 : 12 L. W. 273 : 61 I. C. 349 : (1920) M. W. N. 562.

——S. 47 and O. 21, Rr. 98 and 99—Parties and representatives — Auction purchaser in execution of money decree against mortgagor pending mortgage suit —Resistance to delivery of possession.

Pending a suit on a mortgage the mortgaged properties were brought to sale in execution of a money decree against the mortgagor and were purchased by the fourth respondent. The petitioner purchased the property in execution of the mortgage decree and applied for possession but was resisted by the 4th respondent. Held, that the fourth respondent was a person claiming under the mortgagor judgment-debtor and against whom proceedings can be taken under S. 146 of the C. P Code and that the respondent was liable to be removed from possession under O. 21, R. 98 of the C. P. Code. 43 Mad. 107 Ref. (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) MANICKA GRAMANI v. PARASURAMA MUDALI. (1920) M. W. N. 787 : 59 I. C. 894 : 12 L. W. 350.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Exonerated defendant.

Parties and representatives—Collusive purchaser.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Collusive purchaser—Decree-holder and objector to attachment—Enquiry.

Proceedings between the opposite party and the judgment-creditor as to whether the attachment is valid are proceedings under S. 47 and not under O. 21. S. 47 would be very much narrowed if it were laid down that people claiming under a purely colourable and fraudulent document are not to have their claim set aside or ignored when proceedings are taken in execution. (Rankin, J.) KARALI PRASAD MUKHERJI v. JAMINIBALA DEVI. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 344.

Parties and representatives—Custodian of property.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Custodian of property—Court of Wards Act, S. 6 (e)—Proprietor declared disqualified—Execution proceedings against the properties of the proprietor—Objection by Court of Wards is objection by judgment-debtor through manager, Court of Wards.

Where under S. 6 (e) of the Court of Wards Act a proprietor is declared to be disqualified and the Court of Wards is in possession of his properties then under S. 47 of C. P. Code any objection taken by the manager of the Court of Wards in execution proceedings against the properties of the proprietor is an objection taken by the judgment-debtor through the general manager of the Court of Wards. (Ross and Sen, JJ.) LACHMI NARAYAN SHANKAR v. MAHOMED ABRAHIM HUSSAIN KHAN. 1924 P. H. C. C. 310 : 84 I. C. 620 : 4 Pat. 172 : 6 P. L. T. 400 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 179.

Parties and representatives—Exonerated defendant.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Exonerated defendant suing for declaring property attached not to be judgment-debtors—Property entrusted to stranger pendente lite—He disposing of it on Trial Court's decree—Decree reversed on appeal—He being ordered to refund—No appeal lies.

During the continuance of an attachment in execution, a suit was filed by a person who had been a defendant in the suit who had been exempted by the decree, for a declaration that the property did not belong to the judgment-debtor and during this suit the property was entrusted to a third person. On the suit being decreed by the Trial Court, that person sold the property and distributed the proceeds as directed by the decree. The decree was reversed in appeal. Then the person who had been entrusted with the property in question was ordered by the Court executing the decree under which the property was originally attached, to refund the proceeds.

Held, that inasmuch as he was not aparty to the execution proceedings no appeal lay from the order.

Held, further, that even assuming the person to have been a receiver under O. 40, against whom an order was passed under O. 40 R. 4, no second appeal lay. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) JWALA PRASAD v. SHEIKH CHATTAN. L.R. 6 A. (Civ) 36 : 85 I. C. 161 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 328.

——S. 47—Parties—Exonerated party—Party exonerated in course of suit—Party fraudulently deprived of property in execution proceedings—Remedy is in execution.

Though a person who was once a party might be exonerated in the course of the suit and though no decree is passed against him and no relief is given against him, yet if any question by virtue of the execution of that decree between the parties arises, such a question must be determined according to the provisions of S. 47, that is to say, in execution: no separate suit will be for the purpose of agitating any question which arises by reason of the execution of the decree provided the party which raises the question was a party to the suit in which the decree was passed. 15 Mad. 226 Diss. 23 Mad. 361 (F. B.) Foll. Therefore if in execution of a decree a person who was a party to the suit is deprived fraudulently of his property his remedy is by proper application and not by suit. (Devadoss, J.) V. VALLABHA VALIA v. V M. KOVILUKATH VEDATURATH A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1133.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Exonerated defendant.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Exonerated defendant—Defendant's name struck out at plaintiff's instance but claim not dismissed against him—Defendant is not a party under the section.

There is no formal expression of an adjudication conclusively determining the right of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy where a defendant's name is struck out from the record at the plaintiff's instance but against whom the claim is not dismissed because such defendant cannot be regarded as a party to the suit or decree within the meaning of S 47 (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) KANHAIYALAL KALAR v. LACHHI. 80 I. C. 470 : A.I.R. 1925 Nag. 118.

Parties and representatives—Legal representatives.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Legal representatives.

Questions raised by legal representatives as to property which they claim as their own and not liable to be sold as the property of the deceased judgment-debtor fall within S. 47 and a separate suit is barred even where the proceedings in execution have come to an end. (Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) BHAGAT RAM v. NIZAM DIN. 63 I. C. 853 : 3 Lah. L. J. 406.

Parties and representatives—Meaning of.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Meaning of—Legal representative of judgment-debtor impleaded—Objection to attachment as trustee—Appeal if lies.

Objection to attachment on the ground that the objector is a trustee does not make the objector a representative of judgment-debtor though the trust be created by the judgment-debtor and the objector an heir of his, unless of course the trust is created pendente lite. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) BHAGWAN DAS v. MT. MAHOMED BANO. L. R 4 A. 447 : 75 I. C 1053 : A. I R. 1924 All. 183 (2).

——S.47—Parties and representatives—Meaning of—Execution proceedings against minor—No representation—Suit to declare sale a nullity—Limitation.

Proceedings in execution were commenced against a judgment-debtor. but on his death his minor sons were brought on record. In appointing a guardian for them, the affidavit under O.32, R. 3 was not put in. The guardian did not appear on their behalf at any stage and prior to the confirmation of the auction sale though the court specifically sent him notice to appear in court and pay up the small decree amount, the guardian did not pay any attention to the notice but actually purchased the properties himself some months later from the court auction-purchaser. In a suit by the minors to set aside the sale: Held, (1) the minors not being represented at all, cannot be considered parties to the proceedings and S. 47 of the C. P. Code did not bar the suit; (2) not being parties, the suit was governed by Art. 144 and not Art. 12 of the Lim. Act. (Harrison, J.) ALAM DIN v. ALLAH DAD. 5 Lah. L. J. 44 : 67 I. C. 547 · A. I. R 1922 Lah. 447.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Mortgage suit.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Meaning of—'Parties to suit' includes parties on the same side arrayed against each other.

The expression 'between the parties in the suit' in S.47 of the C.P.Code must not be limited to the parties arrayed against each other as plaintiff and defendant but it also applies to parties on the same side who are arrayed against each other. Therefore a question pertaining to the execution of a decree and decided in a dispute between the defendants themselves cannot be re-opened in a separate suit. 24 M. L. J. 477; A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 366, Foll. 31 M.L.J. 44 Dist. (Madhavan Nair, J.) S. VENKATA SASTRI v. Y VENKATA GOPALADU. 20 L. W. 742 : 85 I. C. 209 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 353.

——S. 47—Parties to suit—Meaning of—Applicability where co-defendants are arrayed as against each other.

Held, the expression "between parties to the suit" no doubt imports "between parties opposed to each other in the suit," but does not necessarily mean "between parties who are plaintiff and defendant respectively in the suit." It also applies to parties who are opposed to each other in the course of execution proceedings, and when an order is passed under S. 47 in execution of the decree passed therein no separate suit is maintainable by one of them to re-open the same. 24 M. L. J. 477. (Madhavan Nair, J.) VEDAYYASA AIYAR v. MADURA HINDU LABHA NIDHI CO., LTD. 45 M. L. J. 478 : 18 L. W. 311 : (1923) M. W. N. 662 : A I. R. 1924 Mad. 365.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Meaning of, transferee pendente lite in possession—Order of—Court removing obstruction—Appeal.

Where a transferee pendente lite from a defendant obstructs delivery of possession in execution to the decree-holder and the Court orders the obstruction to be removed, held, that the order was one within S. 47 and is appealable. Per Ramesam, J:—The transferee is the representative of the transferor-defendant and hence the order of the Court is a decree. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) MEYYAPPA CHETTY v. MEYYAPPAN SERVAI. 66 I. C. 722 : (1921) M. W. N. 698.

——S. 47—'Parties'—Meaning of—Co decree-holders are not 'parties' within the meaning of S. 47.

The expression "parties" in S. 47 refers to parties ranged on opposite sides and not as co-decree-holders on one side only. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) RADHABAI v. BHIMRAO. 21 N. L. R. 34 : 82 I. C. 734 · A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 186.

Parties and representatives—Mortgage Suit.

——S 47—Parties and representatives—Mortgage suit—Mortgage decree against father—Execution against sons.

A mortgagee of certain property belonging to a joint Hindu family instituted a suit against the father only to enforce the mortgage. The mortgagee obtained a decree and at a court sale in execution of the decree himself purchased the property. The decree-holder purchaser died before obtaining possession of the property and his surviving brother sued for recovery of possession of the property impleading the judgment-debtor and his sons as parties. The defendants pleaded that a separate suit was barred under S. 47, C. P. Code. Held, that the suit was maintainable and that so far as the sons where concerned they were not parties to the prior suit and could not be proceeded against in execution proceedings. 35 B. 452 Dist. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) DADA JINAPPA v. YESU SAKHOBA 25 Bom. L. R. 494 : 73 I. C. 402 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 450.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Mortgage suit.

——S. 47—Parties and their representatives—Mortgagee of patni interest—If representative of judgment-debtor patnidar.

A person who is bound by a decree or who is affected by it is a representative within the meaning of S. 47. Thus a mortgagee who is not a party to a rent suit against his mortgagor is a representative of the judgment-debtor. 24 Cal. 62 and 11 C W. N. 312 Foll. (Greaves and Mukerjee, JJ.) HARI MOHAN DALAL v. PURENDRA NATH CHOUDHURI. 90 I. C. 955: A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 356.

Parties and representatives—Parties unnecessarily impleaded.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Parties unnecessarily impleaded.

Although a Court passed an opinion that A, the widow of a deceased debtor, was not a proper party in a suit by the creditor against the heirs, because she was not one of the heirs, yet she was treated as a proper party by reason of the allegation against her that she was in possession of the immoveable property of the estate. On this basis the suit was tried against her and she succeeded on the merits. Held, that A was a party to the suit within the meaning of S. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) JAMINIBALA DEBI v. KARALI PRASAD. 67 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 477.

Parties and representatives—Personal property.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 58—Parties and representatives—Personal property—Claim in execution proceedings by legal representative of judgment-debtor—Enquiry under, to be full and exhaustive

Where the legal representative of a deceased judgment-debtor objects to the attachment of certain property in execution on the ground that it is his own property and not that of his judgment-debtor, the question falls within S. 47, C. P. Code, and the enquiry must be full and all the evidence adduced should be taken. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. MAUNG SAN NGWE. 2 Rang. 168 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 323.

Parties and representatives—Purchaser.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Purchaser of property covered by decree is not a representative of judgment-debtor unless the decree has been assigned to him—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 16.

After a decree for possession had been passed the decree-holder sold his interest in some of the properties of which possession was directed to be given him. He then applied for execution of his decree. His purchasers were not parties to that application. An order was made in execution under Order 21, rule 35 (1) but the Subordinate Judge held that action ought to have been taken under Order 21, rule 36, which he directed should be done, and that the possession given under Order 21, rule 35 (1) should be set aside. The purchasers sought to appeal from that order

Held, that as they were not parties to a proceeding in the lower Court they cannot appeal from the decree or order passed, when there had been no assignment in their favour and the procedure under O. 21, R. 16 was not followed.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Parties and representatives—Scope of.

Per Shah, J.—The mere fact that on the decree-holder's application the possession was in fact ordered to be given to the purchasers is not sufficient to make them parties to the proceedings or to constitute them representatives of the decree-holder within the meaning of S. 47 of the Code. (1907) A W. N. 280, Foll. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) VITHAL LAXMANNAIK v. MAHADEV RAGHUNATH. 26 Bom. L. R. 333 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 426.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Purchaser—Representation of judgment-debtor.

A purchaser at a revenue sale of the interest of the judgment-debtor after a decree for sale on a mortgage had been passed against him is a representative of the judgment-debtor and as such entitled to apply to set aside the sale under O. 21, R. 99 of the C. P. Code. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DHAROHAR SINGH v. RAM PRASAD NARAYAN SAHAI. 72 I. C. 862 : 1 Pat. L. R. 139 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 367.

——S. 47—Parties and representatives—Purchaser—Purchaser from auction-purchaser decree holder.

The purchaser from the decree-holder auction-purchaser is not a representative of the decree-holder qua decree-holder His suit is therefore not barred by S. 47 as he is not a representative of the decree-holder and as the question does not relate to execution, discharge and satisfaction of a decree. A purchaser from a decree-holder auction-purchaser no doubt acquires the interest and the rights of the auction-purchaser, but he is not to be deprived of the rights of an ordinary auction-purchaser to bring a suit at any time within twelve years to recover possession. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) MI AH KOOK v. MI HLA MO WAY. 11 L. B. R. 17 : 64 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1922 L. B. 18.

Parties and representatives—Question as to.

——S. 47(3)—Parties and representatives—Question as to—Applicants claiming to be brought on record as legal representatives of deceased judgment-debtor—Claim rejected—Second appeal lies from the decision.

Where the Court in execution adjudicates on the question of right of the applicant to be brought on record as the legal representative of the deceased judgment-debtor, the decision is a decree and a second appeal lies. (Mukerjee and Daniels, JJ.) KHEM SINGH v. RAGHUBIR SINGH. 47 All. 365 : 86 I. C. 1048 : A.I. R. 1925 All. 578.

——S. 47 (3)—Parties and representatives—Question as to—Question whether a party is or is not the legal representative—Decision thereon appeal lies.

Sub-S. (3) of S. 47 in express terms includes a question arising between the parties whether any person is or is not the representative of a party, and in view of S. 2, the determination of such a question between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor amounts to a decree and is appealable. (Daniels, J.) PEARE LAL v. JHABBA LAL. 82 I. C. 604 : L. R. 5 A. (C.v.) 668: A.I. R. 1925 All. 66.

Parties and representatives—Scope of.

——S 47—Parties and representatives—Scope of—Dispute between judgment-debtor and auction-purchaser—If within section.

Disputes between a judgment-debtor and the auction-purchaser as to the extent of the land sold do not fall within S. 47, C. P. Code, as it is not between parties to the suit, but between the judgment-debtor and his representative the purchaser. (Daniels, J.) MUKHTAR AHMAD v. KABIR AHMAD.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Purchase of decree.

A. I. R. 1924 All. 856.

Purchase of decree.

——S 47 and O. 21, R. 2 (3)—Purchase of decree—Decree sold in execution of another decree—Judgment-debtor can plead in the execution proceeding that decree was already satisfied.

If one decree is sold in execution of another decree it is open to the judgment-debtor, when the purchaser of such decree seeks to execute that decree against him, to plead that the decree had been satisfied by him prior to its sale although the satisfaction was not certified according to the provisions of O. 21, R. 2. R. 2 (3) does not bar the plea and the Court must enquire into it under S. 47. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SURJI NARAIN MISRA v. ULAND SINGH.

27 O. C. 277 : 78 I.C. 776 : A. I. R. 1925 Ordh 225.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 16—Purchase of decree—Execution by assignee—Objection as to assignee's title can be raised

When a decree is sought to be executed by the assignee thereof, it is competent to the Court to entertain, at the instance of the judgment-debtors and the original decree-holder, objections to the execution of the decree on the ground that the title to the decree has not passed to the assignee. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHEO PRASAD SINGH v. P. E. LALL.

4 Pat. 120 : 86 I. C 564 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 449.

Question relating to Execution.

Agreement.
Application.
Certificate of Payment.
Compromise.
Decree.
Delivery of Possession.
Discharge
Excess Property.
Execution Sale.
Heir of judgment-debtor.
Jurisdiction.
Legal Representatives.
Liability.
Mortgage.
Objection.
Power of Executing Court.
Preliminary Decree.
Redemption of Mortgage.
Son's liability.
Suit for Declaration.

Question relating to Execution—Agreement.

——S. 47, O. 21, R. 2 (a)—Question relating to execution—Agreement to certify payment—Suit for damages.

Any Court other than the Court executing the decree can recognize the payment, provided, in doing so, the court does not disobey the provisions of S. 47. And recognition of such a payment by the Court other than the Court executing the decree must necessarily be in a suit, (1) where the judgment-debtor sues for the money he has paid out of Court on the ground of failure of consideration, (2) where the judgment-debtor sues for damages for a breach of an express or implied promise of the decree-holder to certify the payment. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG MYO v. MAUNG KHA.

11 L. B. R. 129 · 1 Bur. L. J. 207 : 70 I. C. 115 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 88.

Question relating to Execution—Application.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 16—Question relating to execution—Application by decree-holders to execute—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Compromise.

Assignment—Determination of right of assignee.

Where a decree-holder applying for execution wanted his application to be dismissed only if the assignment was considered to be binding upon the assignee so that the latter could be made liable for the money mentioned in the deed of assignment, it would be wrong to hold that while the assignment should be considered as binding upon the assignor so far as his rights under the decree are concerned the assignee should be able to wriggle out of this liability for the price of the assignment by relying upon fraud. The transaction is an undivided one and must be viewed as a whole. Where the order of the Court dismisses the application for execution, it adversely affects the rights of the decree-holder against the judgment-debtor and consequently determines a question relating to the execution or discharge or satisfaction of the decree. Such an order is therefore appealable. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) HARDITTA v. NIGHAHIA MAL

4 Lah. L. J. 259 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 396.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Application by judgment-debtor against unlawful dispossession—Execution struck off as satisfied—If maintainable.

A judgment-debtor's application complaining of unlawful dispossession is maintainable under S. 47 even after the execution is struck off as fully satisfied. (Kotval, A. J. C.) KRISHNA KUMBI v. VINAYAK KUMBI.

A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 122.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Application.

A question arising between the same parties but not in their capacity as decree-holder and judgment-debtor but in their capacity as landlord and tenant is not covered by S. 47 and a separate suit is necessary. (Batten, J.C.) RAMASA v. GAMBHIRCHANDRA.

6 N. L. J. 25 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 149.

Question relating to Execution—Certificate of payment.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 2—Question relating to execution—Certificate of payment—Application for certifying payment—Order on—If appealable.

An application by the judgment-debtor for certifying payments by him to the decree-holder out of court raises questions as to the execution and satisfaction of the decree, and as such falls under S. 47, C. P. Code. The dismissal of such an application gives a right of appeal to the judgment-debtor. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) JADUNANDAN SINGH v. SHEONANDAN PRASAD.

1922 P. H. C. C. 200 : 3 Pat. L. T. 487 : 1 Pat. 644 : 68 I. C. 645 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 276.

——S. 47 and O. 21, R. 2—Question relating to execution—Certificate of payment—Non-certification—Enquiry—Fraud—Effect of.

O. 21, R. 2 of the C. P. Code does not in any way limit or affect the operation of S. 47 of the C.P. Code, and does not prevent the Court from investigating a question of fraud on the part of the decree-holder in omitting to certify satisfaction of a decree. (Robinson and Macgregor, JJ.) P. R. P. L. CHETTY FIRM v. G. LON POW.

11 L. B. R. 363 : 70 I. C. 859 : A.I.R. 1922 L. B. 31 : 1 Bur L. J. 226 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 103.

Question relating to Execution—Compromise.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution of decree—Compromise—Suit for accounts.

In a suit for accounts the parties entered into a compromise under which they agreed to a preliminary decree in accordance with the terms of the compromise. Under the compromise one of the parties was given a share of the profits of a certain contract, the profits to be determined by competent accountants ; it was also provided that any dispute relating to the share was to be referred to arbitration. On a question arising between the parties to the suit as to the share of profits, held, that the proceedings did not relate to the execution of a decree within S. 47, C. P. Code, and the decree in the suit did not relate to the amount now in dispute. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) HAJI BAKHSH ILAHI v. ABDUL RAHIMAN. 71 I. C. 817 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 405.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Compromise.

——S. 47 and O. 23, R. 3—Question relating to execution—Compromise—Decree—Objection to validity of—Remedy by suit.

Where a compromise embraces matters not relating to the suit and the decree following such compromise gives reliefs which are not unlawful but which could not have been given, if the suit had been decided after trial the remedy is by way of appeal. If the objection could be taken in execution proceedings the legislature would not provide special provisions in O. 43 for an appeal. (Maung Kin and Rigg, JJ.) ANA PAKIRI SHA v. SOMASUNDARAM SERVAI. 64 I. C. 391 : 10 L.B.R. 349 : 13 Bur. L.T. 170 : A.I.R 1922 L.B. 22.

Question relating to Execution—Decree.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Decree—Construction—Title to standing crops.

Where a pre-emption decree was silent as to standing crops, held, that the question whether the crops passed with the land cannot be said to have arisen in execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BAPU v. VITHOBA. 76 I. C. 193 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 327.

Question relating to Execution—Delivery of possession.

——S. 47—Questions relating to execution—Delivery of possession—Court sale confirmed—Executing Court ceases to have jurisdiction over the property—Subsequent delivery of possession is not a proceeding in execution.

The proceeding relating to delivery of possession after confirmation of Court sale, to the auction-purchaser, whether he be a stranger or the decree-holder, is not a proceeding in execution of a decree and any question arising in such a proceeding is not a question relating to execution, satisfaction or discharge of the decree within the meaning of S. 47, C.P. Code. 20 C. L. J. 433 Rel. on. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) SHYAMBALLAV SAHA v. BROJENDRA LAL PODDAR. 89 I. C. 196 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1250.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Delivery of possession to auction-purchaser—Order for.

It may be disputed whether an order for delivery of possession to an auction-purchaser is an order relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of a decree, for so far as the decree-holder is concerned his decree is satisfied, and whether the auction-purchaser gets the property or not is a matter with which he is not concerned.

Per Cuming, J.—The delivery of possession is not a part of the satisfaction of the decree. So far as the decree-holder is concerned the decree is satisfied when the property is sold and the money paid to decree-holder. Obviously he is not concerned with the property being delivered to the purchaser. The question of the delivery of possession to the auction-purchaser is not one relating to the execution of the decree or between the parties to the suit or their representatives. It is immaterial that the auction-purchaser is also the decree holder. As an auction-purchaser he is in an entirely different capacity (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) LAKHI PRIA GUHA v. NANDA KUMAR BASU. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 345.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Excess property.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Delivery of possession.

A claim by the judgment-debtor to recover property overdelivered to the auction-purchaser who was a stranger to the suit is one coming under S. 47. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) JAINULABDIN SAHIB v. KRISHNA CHETTIAR. 41 M. L. J. 120 : 14 L. W. 92 : 63 I. C. 200 : (1921) M. W. N 491.

Question relating to Execution—Discharge.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Discharge—Antecedent to decree.

Questions relating to the execution of a decree and arising between parties to a suit in which the decree was passed or their representatives must be such as have reference to matters arising subsequent to the passing of the decree and not antecedent to it. A claim that the debt on which the decree sought to be executed was obtained had been discharged before suit is not within S. 47, C. P. Code. (Broadway, J.) RAM DAS v. S. P. NETTO. 64 P. L. R. 1922 : 67 I. C. 753 : 4 U. P. L. R (Lah.) 93.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Discharge.

A question whether a decree has been discharged is one relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and to allow one of several joint decree-holders who have already received payment to come in and apply for execution after the other decree-holders have certified discharge of the debt would open the door to fraud and defeat the object of O. 21, R. 15. A joint decree was transferred after adjustment to the other decree-holders to one of the decree-holders. The transfer was recognised after notice to the decree holders who had satisfied the decree, but there was nothing in the notice sent to them that there was any question raised as regards the validity of the transfer. On a subsequent application for execution of the decree by the transferee held that it was open to the other decree-holders to object to the execution on the ground that the decree had been paid off by themselves and that the transferee took the decree with the knowledge thereof. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) BUDARAJU HANUMANTHA RAO v. ALLAMMENI KRISHNAMMA. 32 M. L. T. 118 (2) : 70 I. C. 329 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 518.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Discharge—Pre-emption decree—Question of payment in time.

The question whether payment was made in time of the money required to be deposited under a pre-emption decree is one affecting the discharge or satisfaction of a decree and as such falls under S. 47, C. P. Code. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NILKHANATH v. MAHABIR SINGH. 26 O. C. 345 : 74 I. C. 558 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 207 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 104.

Question relating to Execution—Excess property.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Excess property sold—Application by judgment-debtor to set aside sale—S. 47 applies.

An application by the judgment-debtor to set aside an execution sale on the ground that the sale had taken place in contravention of the decree and the property sold was in excess of that ordered to be sold is one under S. 47 and an appeal lies from the order on the application. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) GANGA DEVI v. RAM PRASAD. 23 A. L. J. 558 : 88 I. C. 393 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 464.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Excess property.

A. I. R. 1925 All. 551.

——S. 47—Questions relating to execution—Excess property—Whether decree is for excess land not included in subject-matter is a question for the executing Court to decide and subsequent suit is not maintainable.

The main object underlying the section is to prevent multiplicity of suits and to secure that all matters, which can be decided in the suit, shall be so decided. Where the decree was for land in excess of that which formed the subject of the suit, and where it included land which ought not to have been included: Held, that such matters are for determination by the Court executing the decree, and that looked at from that point of view a subsequent suit is bad. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) KAYEM BISWAS v. BAHADUR KHAN. 42 C. L. J. 22 : 89 I. C. 744 : 30 C. W. N. 41 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1258.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Excess property—Enquiry into extent of property attached and sold—Application by judgment-debtor.

Where a judgment-debtor applies to the executing Court for restoration of certain property alleged to have been taken possession of by the decree-holder under colour of his decree the matter is one that ought to be enquired into by the executing Court. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) KESHRI SINGH v. UMRAO SINGH. 20 N. L. R. 90 : 7 N. L. J. 151 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 246.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Excess property—Recovery of land in excess of share under partition decree—Final decree can be amended, and excess land restored without separate suit, under Ss. 47 and 151, C. P. Code.

A separate suit is not necessary for recovering land obtained possession of by a party under a final decree for partition in excess of that which was awarded by the preliminary decree. The Court has jurisdiction in execution under Ss 47 and 151 of the C. P. Code to amend its final decree and to order the restoration of the land recovered by a party in excess of that awarded by that decree. (Raymond and Madgavkar, A. J. Cs.) DANDUMAL v. DWARKAMAL. 78 I. C. 1039 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 126.

Question relating to Execution—Execution sale.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Execution sale—Dispute between decree-holder, auction-purchaser and judgment-debtor—Separate suit lies.

When a question arises between auction-purchaser, decree-holder and judgment-debtor as to what was the property that was sold, the matter is one to be investigated by a separate suit and not by an application to the execution Court. A. I. R. 1923 All. 470, Foll. (Mukerjee, J.) JAI SINGH v. CHIRANJI LAL. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 282 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 703.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Execution sale—Sale confirmed—Decree amended later—Sale if can be set aside.

Where an execution sale has been confirmed, although it had taken place in execution of a decree which was incorrectly prepared, it cannot be set aside simply because the decree has been subsequently amended, especially when there is no allegation of fraud or collusion. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) AGHA HUSAIN v. QASIM ALI. L. R. 6 A. 580 : 89 I. C. 1018 : 23 A. L. J. 946.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Liability.

Question relating to Execution—Heir of judgment-debtor.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Heirs of judgment-debtor—Mortgagor cannot challenge right of mortgagor to mortgage in execution proceedings.

Per Dawson Miller, C. J.—The heirs of a deceased mortgagor judgment-debtor, who have been substituted in the place of a deceased in execution proceedings, cannot in those proceedings challenge the right of the mortgagor to execute the mortgage. (Dawson Miller, C. J.) HITENDRASINGH v. RAMESWAR SINGH. 4 Pat. 510 : 87 I. C. 849 : 88 I. C. 141 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 625.

Question relating to Execution—Jurisdiction.

——S. 47 and O. 9, R. 13—Question relating to execution—Jurisdiction—Ex parte defendant—Objection to jurisdiction of Court, whether can be raised in execution.

Even where a defendant was ex parte, an objection to the jurisdiction of Court cannot be raised in execution proceedings. The proper course is to have the ex parte decree set aside and the suit reheard. (Spencer, J.) RADHAKRISHNA AIYAR v. VINAYAKASWAMIAR. 49 M. L. J. 664 : 22 L. W. 567.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Jurisdiction—Objection to the jurisdiction of Court whether a question within the section.

An objection to the jurisdiction of the Court that tried the suit is not one of the questions relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree within S. 47, C. P. Code. (Spencer, J.) RADHAKRISHNA AIYAR v. VINAYAKASWAMIAR. 49 M. L. J. 664 : 22 L. W. 567.

Question relating to Execution—Legal representatives.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Legal representative—Liability of—Power of Court to decide objection.

Where on an application to substitute the brother of the deceased judgment-debtor as his legal representative, he pleads that he is not liable to satisfy the decree as being an undivided co-parcener of the deceased, the objection must be decided by the executing Court before an order substituting him as legal representative is made. If the Court leaves the point whether the brother was liable for the decree open and undecided and makes an order of substitution it would be acting illegally. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) PATAIT DINANATH SAHI v. PATAIT MALHIJI BAID. 3 Pat. L. T. 106 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 149.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Legal representative cannot prefer claim in individual capacity but must bring separate suit.

A person who is party to execution proceedings as a legal representative cannot have a claim in his individual capacity enquired into under the provisions of S. 47. But he must bring a separate suit in respect of the claim because it is only as a third party that such a claim can be put forward by him. (Raymond and Madgavkar, A. J. Cs.) MURAD v. DAYARAM. 78 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 156.

Question relating to Execution—Liability.

——Ss. 47 and 145—Question relating to execution—Liability of surety—No personal liability.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Mortgage.

Security bonds hypothecating immoveable properties as security for the due performance of a decree can be enforced by execution without a separate suit for sale. Where the equity of redemption is held by the surety, the surety is the primary person from whom the amount of security can be recovered and S. 145, C. P. Code, is intended to enable the enforcement of such security. 17 A. 99 ; 38 A. 327 ; 42 A. 158 ; 41 M. 327 Ref. (Walsh and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BETI MAHALAKSHMI BAI v. CHAUDHARI BADAN SINGH. 45 A. 649 : 21 A. L. J. 604 : L. R. 4 A. 3 6 : 74 I. C. 927: A. I. R. 1924 All. 105.

Question relating to Execution—Mortgage.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Mortgage—Acquisition of equity of redemption—Sale in execution of decree—Suit for possession.

In 1906 two simple mortgages were executed over the suit property, one in favour of plaintiff and the other in favour of one Bagirath. The defendant acquired the right of Bagirath and brought the property to sale under his mortgage. The plaintiff was made a party to the suit and he had also acquired the equity of redemption from the original mortgagor and was in possession of the property in that capacity. The decree in the defendant's suit was for sale of the property subject to the prior lien of the plaintiff. On the property being brought to sale the defendant purchased it himself. He thereupon obtained possession through the Court as against the plaintiff. Subsequently the plff. brought a suit not for recovery of his mortgage money but to be restored to possession of the property. Held, (1) that the plff. was not entitled to possession as mortgagee because the mortgage in his favour was a simple mortgage ; he was not entitled to possession as owner because the equity of redemption had been sold and purchased by the defendant and his only right, if any, under the decree was to bring the property to sale for the enforcement of his prior lien. Held, also that the suit was barred under S. 47, C. P. Code. The plaintiff was a party to the decree. He had been dispossessed under the terms of the decree and his remedy for recovery of possession was by application to the execution Court. (Daniels and Boys, JJ.) DWARKA DAS v. DURGA PRASAD. 22 A. L. J. 683 : 82 I.C. 80 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 15 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 752.

——S. 47—Questions relating to execution—Mortgage—Final decree for sale in mortgage suit cannot bar suit for redemption.

Where a final decree for sale is passed in a suit on a mortgage, but is not executed for more than 3 years, S. 47 does not prevent the mortgagor from suing for redemption of the mortgage. 39 Mad. 896 and 25 Mad. 300, Dist. (Devadoss, J.) N. NAGASAMI IYER v. T. ELLARGAN. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1191.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Mortgage—Section does not apply to proceedings for making preliminary mortgage decree final.

A suit on a mortgage remains pending till the final decree. Questions arising in proceedings for making preliminary mortgage decree final are not covered by S. 47. That section applies only to questions regarding the satisfaction of the decree. (Baker, J. C.) LACHHI RAM v. BHOLU. 82 I. C. 452 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 132.

Question relating to Execution—Objection.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Objection by legal representative that decree is fraudulent—Remedy by suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to Execution—Power of Executing Court.

If a judgment-debtor or a legal representative objects to the execution of a decree on the ground that the decree is not valid, because it is collusive, the question as to the validity of the decree is not one relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and cannot therefore be tried in execution under S. 47 of the Civil Procedure Code. Such a question can only be tried in a regular suit brought for the purpose. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BEHARI SINGH v. NAWAL SINGH. 20 N. L. R. 24 : 78 I. C. 136 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 81.

Question relating to Execution—Power of Executing Court.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Powers of executing Court—Decree for specific performance of contract for sale—Question of judgment-debtor damaging property after decree can be gone into by executing Court.

The question with regard to waste committed by a judgment-debtor after the date of the decree is a question arising between the parties relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, and must be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit. Hence where a decree has been passed for specific performance of a contract for the sale of immoveable property, and where it is alleged that, subsequent to the decree, the judgment-debtor has damaged the property with a view to cause loss to the decree-holder, the question can be gone into by the executing Court. A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 391 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) BAI LALLU v. MOHUNLAL GOKALDAS. 27 B. L. R. 687 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 385.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Power of executing Court—Fraud—Sale—Decree for partition.

If the plaint properties or any of them have been sold so that the partition proceedings can no longer go on, then the Court in charge of execution proceedings will have to decide what is the proper course to follow, whether to direct that the parties entitled to partition should get the sale proceeds brought into Court and divide them which would of course be the simplest way of settling the matter or to relegate he parties to separate suits. If the plaintiff alleges that some property has been fraudulently sold by other sharers, the question cannot be dealt with in execution proceedings but in a separate suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ELLIS ENAS PAVLOO GHARRY v. KITTER PHILLIP GOWRYA. 46 Bom. 226 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 380 (2).

——Ss. 47 and 145—Question relating to execution—Power of executing Court—Security of immoveable property—Sale of property given as security—Suit under S. 67 of the T. P. Act, unnecessary.

The relationship between a decree-holder and a judgment-debtor who has executed a security bond under O. 41, R. 5, C. P. Code, charging certain immoveable properties for the due performance of the decree or order that may ultimately be passed by the Appellate Court is not that of mortgagee or mortgagor, and, in the event of the appeal being dismissed, the decree-holder is entitled to realise his decretal money by sale of the properties given in security without instituting a suit under S. 67 of the T. P. Act. 41 M. 327 ; 42 A. 158 Rel. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) JYOTI PRAKASH NANDI v. MUKTI PRAKASH NANDI. 51 Cal. 150 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 485.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Power of executing Court—Powers of—Amendment of decree.

Advocate High Court Jammu & Kashmir Srinagar.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Question relating to execution—Power of executing Court.

An executing Court has no power to go behind a decree or entertain any objection to its legality or correctness (Baker, O. J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) GANPATRAO v. TULSABAI. A. I R. 1924 Nag. 419.

——Ss. 47, 144 and 151—Question relating to execution—Power of Court—Attached property entrusted to custodian—Direction to produce or restore—Default—Power to proceed against custodian.

An executing Court which entrusts to a party to the decree or to a third person as a depository or suprat dar, property taken by it under attachment or in execution of its process, has, either acting on its motion or at the instance of a party to the decree, power to order him to produce it for sale if necessary, even to return it to the judgment-debtor or to the objector or any other person from whose possession it was attached or taken, upon the decree being satisfied or objection being allowed or upon the termination of any proceedings in execution or for any cause whatever, and also, if necessary, to visit him with any penalty for his default in obeying its orders by proceeding against him in a summary manner, in order to prevent the abuse of its own process and for shortening the litigation or for the ends of justice. 16 Nag. 178 Dis. (Prideaux and Kinkhede, A. J. C.) RAMJI v ZIBLAJI.

20 N. L. R. 93 : 7 N. L. J. 130 : 80 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 258.

——S. 47, O. 21, R. 2—Question relating to execution—Power of executing Court.

O. 21, R. 2 does not in any way limit or affect the operation of S. 47 and does not prevent the Court from deciding any question arising out of the execution of a decree. (Rutledge, J.) CHETTY FIRM v. G. LON POW. 11 L. B. R. 364 : 1 Bur. L. J. 43 : 70 I. C. 859 : A. I. R. 1922 L. B. 31.

Question relating to Execution—Preliminary Decree.

——S. 47—Questions relating to execution—Preliminary decree—Decree for possession of share in Ijmali Mahal—Partition—Enquiry into shares.

A decree for possession of a share in an Ijmali Mahal can be executed against the specific lands which have been allotted in lieu of the share in partition proceedings. An enquiry as to what are the lands thus substituted is one relating to the execution of the decree and falls under S. 47. (Sir John Edge.) RAI BAIJNATH GOENKA v. RAVANESHWAR PRASAD SINGH. 43 M. L. J. 124 : 1 Pat. 378 : 20 A. L. J 650: (1922) M. W. N. 415 : 31 M. L. T. 43 : 16 L W. 128 : 36 C. L. J. 1 : 26 C. W. N. 906 : 3 Pat. L. T. 547 : L. R. 3 P. C. 146 : 24 Bom. L. R. 974 : 49 I. A. 139 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 93 : 69 I. C. 180 : A. I R. 1922 P. C. 54 (P.C.).

Question relating to Execution—Redemption of Mortgage.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Redemption of mortgage—Whether a property is accretion or increase in the hypothecated property for whose redemption the suit was brought and decreed, is a question within S. 47

Where certain shares in a company were pledged and during that period of pledge, the company issued fresh shares, payable out of the dividends of the old ones, and a suit by pledgor to redeem the old shares was decreed and the pledgor in execution applied for return of the new shares also :

Held : that the question whether the new shares were accretions to the old ones was a question within S. 47. (Ameer Ali.) MOTILAL HIRABAI v. BAI MANI. 48 M. L. J. 648 : 52 I. A. 137 : 27 Bom. L. R. 455 : 49 Bom. 233 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 86 (P. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Rateable distribution.

Question relating to Execution—Son's liability.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Son's liability—Hindu Law.

Where a Hindu judgment-debtor dies before the decree is satisfied, the decree can be executed against his son to the extent of the ancestral property come to his hands. The proper procedure for the decree holder is to bring the son on the record as a separate suit to determine son's liability is barred. The question whether a decree against a Hindu father is capable of execution. the debt being tainted with immorality is one relating to the execution of decree and should be determined by the executing Court (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) KAROO v. RAMESHWAR SAO. 62 I. C. 905 : 6 P. L. J 451.

Question relating to Execution—Suit for declaration.

——S. 47—Question relating to execution—Suit for declaration—Suit on prior decree.

A suit is not maintainable on a prior decree if the relief claimed in the suit has already been granted by the decree and could have been obtained by enforcement thereof in execution proceedings. A decree which merely declares the rights and does not direct any act to be done, is incapable to execution. In such an event a separate suit will lie to enforce the rights declared by the decree. Doobe v. Fowkee. 3 Agra H. C.R. 381 and 4 Mad 219. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) SHYAMA CHARAN v. SATYA PRASAD.

36 C. L. J. 101 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 252.

Rateable distribution.

——Ss. 47 and 73—Rateable distribution—Partnership property—Attachment of partner's share in execution of personal decree—Appeal from order in rateable distribution proceedings.

An order under S. 73. C. P. Code, is not appealable unless it also comes under S. 47. C. P. Code and satisfies all the requirements thereof. In order to be appealable the order must decide a question arising between the decree-holder on the one hand and the judgment-debtor on the other hand. In cases where as between the parties to the suit a question relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree passed therein has been decided by the order for rateable distribution, an appeal lies. 39 M. 570 ; 36 B. 156 Ref. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) DWARIKA DAS MARWARI v. JADAB CHANDRA GANGULY.

51 Cal. 761 : 28 C. W. N. 704 : 78 I. C. 731 : 39 C. L. J. 439 : A I. R. 1924 Cal. 801.

——S. 47—Rateable distribution—Rights of mortgagee to sell hypotheca—Rights of purchaser.

The balance of authorities is clearly in favour of the view that a mortgagee decree-holder has the conduct of the sale and is entitled to execute the decree against any of the mortgaged properties he pleases and if any question of equity arises between the decree-holder and the persons to whom the equity of redemption in the mortgaged properties in or in any of them may have subsequently become vested that equity can only be enforced by an independent suit for contribution and not in proceedings for execution. Though every parcel of the mortgaged properties is liable rateably to its value and the principle applies with equal force where the mortgagee himself buys the equity of redemption in one or more of such parcels or releases any part of the security, such an enquiry as in the rateable distribution of the mortgage debt cannot be made in execution proceedings without serious complications. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SURJU LAL v. BAIJNATH PRASAD. 1923 P. H. C. C. 6 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 44.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Restitution.

Restitution.

————Ss. 47 and 144—Restitution—Execution sale—Property alleged to have been wrongfully sold in execution.

Where the judgment-debtors apply for restitution of property purchased by the auction-purchaser at an execution sale on the ground that the decree-holders had sold certain property not covered by the decree, held, that the application was not maintainable under S. 47, C. P. Code. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MUNNA LAL v. THE COLLECTOR OF SHAHJAHANPUR. 45 All. 96: 74 I. C. 995: A. I. R. 1923 All. 470.

————Ss. 47 and 144—Restitution - Auction purchaser—Decree declared to be invalid—Right to apply for refund of purchase money.

An auction-purchaser of property sold in execution of a decree is not bound to look beyond the decree. When, therefore, he purchases property in execution of a decree which subsequently turns out to be invalid, he is entitled to recover it from the defendants who are in equity bound to refund it. An application for refund of the sale price can be made by the auction-purchaser under S. 47 of the Civil Procedure Code. 40 M. 299 ; 43 M. 107 ; 42 Bom. 411 ; 44 A. 256 referred to. (Lindsay, Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) BINDESHRI PRASAD TEWARI v. BADAL SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 228 : 45 A. 369 : 74 I. C. 873 : 4 L. R. A. Civ 161 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 394 (F. B.).

————S. 47—Restitution.

An application for mesne profits under S. 144 relates to execution, discharge or satisfaction and the Court-fee payable on the memo. of first appeal against an order on the application is 8 annas. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) GABBA v. KANCHEDI LAL. 18 N. L. R. 15 : 67 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 62.

————Ss. 47 and 144—Restitution—Question under C. P. Code, S. 144 is also one under S. 47—Court Fees Act (1882), S. 35 and Local Government of B. & O. Notification No. 2576 L. A 25 of 1921.

Determination of a question arising under S. 144 will naturally relate to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree either of the First Court or of the Appellate Court. If the First Court's decree has been discharged by the Appellate Court, the question arising under S. 144 will naturally be a question as to the discharge of the decree coming under S. 47 of the C. P. Code. In an appeal under S. 47, of the C. P. Code, "A" was declared (reversing the lower Court's order) entitled to a certain share in the sale proceeds realised by the decree-holder, which were lying in Court. Subsequently the lower Court allowed also the claim of "A" for interest and damages from the date on which the decree-holder removed from the Court, the entire sale proceeds realised by him. Held, that the order came under S. 47, that therefore the B. and O. Government Notification No. 2576 L.A. 25 of 1921 directing under S 35 of the Court Fees Act that the fee chargeable on appeals from orders under C. P.Code S. 47 shall be limited to the amounts chargeable under Sch. II, Art. 11 of the Court Fees Act applied and therefore that an appeal from the Court's order in the present instance need not be stamped ad valorem but that a stamp of Rs. 4 was enough. (Jwala Prasad, J.) SITAL PRASAD SINGH v. JAGDEO SINGH. 4 Pat. 294 · A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 577.

Scope of.

————S. 47—Scope of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Scope of.

That which should in reality form the basis of an independent suit cannot be introduced as a question to be tried in execution proceedings. (Lord Phillimore.) MANINDRA CHANDRA v. RAM KUMAR LAL BHAGAT 43 M. L. J 589 : 49 I. A. 220 : 4 P. L. T. 1 : 20 A. L. J. 988 : 31 M. L. T. 131 : 16 L. W. 905 : 68 I. C. 973 : 1 P. 581 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1251 : 27 C. W N. 29 : 4 L. R. P. C. 1 : 36 C. L. J. 542 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P.C.) 88 : A.I.R. 1922 P.C. 304 (P.C.).

————S. 47—Scope of—Executing Court cannot examine validity of decree—Execution.

It is not competent to an executing Court to investigate the validity of a decree provided that a valid decree capable of being executed is in existence. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) SHRINATH CHATTERJI v. KEDAR NATH RAI. 82 I. C. 255 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 276 (2).

————S. 47—Scope—Validity of attachment—If within section—Colourable titles—If can be ignored.

Proceedings between the judgment-debtor and the decree holder as to whether an attachment is valid fall under S. 47 and not under O. 21, C. P. Code. The claims of people holding under a purely colourable and fraudulent document can be set aside or ignored in such proceedings. (Rankin, J.) KARALI PROSAD MUKERJI v. JAMINIBALA DEVI. 76 I. C. 316 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 344.

————S. 47—Scope—Stay of execution—C. P. Code, O 41, Rr. 5 to 8.

Matters relating to stay of execution fall within S. 47. 9 M. 541 Foll. (Martineau J.) SHANKAR LAL v. KASTURI LAL. 75 I. C. 789 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 69.

———S. 47—Scope of—C. P. Code, O. 2, R. 103.

The procedure under S. 47 and under R. 103 is not cumulative and the aggrieved party cannot at his option proceed by way of suit or appeal. (Odgers, J.) PACHAIAPPA CHETTY v. C. VENKATACHARIAR. (1925) M. W. N. 577 : 90 I. C. 952 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1198.

———S. 47 and O 21, R. 2—Scope—Legal representative—Execution of decree—Agreement prior to decree if can be pleaded in bar.

S. 47 of the C. P. Code is wide enough to permit any valid objection to be taken by a judgment-debtor to the execution of a decree by the decree-holder or the decree-holder's legal representative. An agreement between such legal representative and the judgment-debtor prior to the decree which would preclude the legal representative from applying can be set up in bar of execution by such legal representative. 40 M. 233 Foll. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) ARUNACHELA GOUNDAN v. SWAMINATHA AIYAR. 46 M. L. J. 240 : (1924) M. W. N. 144 : 77 I. C 847 : 19 L. W. 27 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 611 (1).

———S. 47—Scope of.

Disputes among co-decree-holders as to the right of one to execute a joint decree to the exclusion of the other are not questions arising between parties to a suit. Disputes between judgment-debtors inter se as to the possession of the property after satisfaction of a decree would not come under S. 47. To come within the category of S. 47 there must be questions arising between persons opposed in interest in the suit and not between a party to a suit and his own representative. 25 Bom. 631; 31 M. L. J. 44 referred to. Persons may be parties opposed to each other without necessarily being arrayed as plaintiff and defendant respectively in the suit. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) BUDARAJU HANUMANTHA RAO v. ALLAMNENI KRISHNAMMA. 70 I. C. 329 · 32 M. L. T. 118 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 518.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 47—Scope of.

——S. 47—Scope of—Executing Court cannot order sale when decree is only declaratory—Execution.

The Court executing the decree cannot go beyond the terms of the decree and order sale of partnership property and distribution of sale proceeds where the decree merely declared partners' interest. A sale in lieu of partition is ordered only when the property is incapable of division by metes and bounds and when the equities of the case require it. (Kennedy, J. C. and De Souza, A. J. C.) LILARAM KHAN CHAND v. NIHAL CHAND KAKOOMAL.

A. I. R. 1925 Sind 318.

——S. 48—Decree passed under old C. P. Code. (1882)—Execution sought after 1908—Bar of 12 years in S. 48 applies.

Where a decree was passed at a time when the old C. P. Code of 1882 was in force but the application for execution of it is made at a time when the new Code of 1908 is in force, the law of procedure and limitation applicable to an application for execution would be the law actually in force at the time when the application is made, and such application is governed by the bar of 12 years contained in S. 48, C. P. Code 32 All. 499 Expl. and Dist. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) MT. BEGAM SUTTAN v. SARVI BEGAM. 23 A. L. J. 977 : 6 L. R. A. Civ. 582 : 90 I. C. 274 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 93.

——S. 48—Limitation for execution—Decree—Execution—Right to apply.

S. 48, C. P. Code. deals with the maximum limit of time prescribed for execution and does not prescribe the period within which each application for execution is to be made. The right of applying for execution in a case where money is payable within 6 months of the decree occurs from the date when default to make the payment occurs. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SURAJMAN CHAUBE v. ANJORE SHUKUL.

21 A. L. J. 861 : 46 All. 73 : L. R. 4 A. 591 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 959 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 263.

——S. 48—Fraud—Frivolous and futile objections to execution.

"Fraud" in S. 48, C. P. Code, should be understood in a large and liberal sense. The delaying of execution by frivolous, futile and dishonest objections on the part of the judgment-debtors amounts to fraud. 6 A. L. J. 401 ; 9 A. L. J. 17 Foll. 11 Q. B. D. 270 Ref. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) LALTA PRASAD v. SURAJ KUMAR. 44 All. 319 : L. R. 13 A. 111 : 20 A. L. J. 185 : 65 I. C. 877 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 145.

——S. 48—Starting point—Appeal—Execution of decree.

The limitation provided for in S. 48 of the Code begins to run in respect of a decree appealed against from the date of the appellate decree even when it is held that no appeal lies. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RUP NARAIN v. SHEO PRAKASH. 43 All. 405 : 61 I. C. 129 : 19 A. L. J. 159.

——S. 48—Decree passed before new Code came into force—Section applies.

S. 48 of the C. P. Code, has retrospective effect, and governs an application for the execution of a mortgage decree passed before the new Code came into force. 22 Bom. L. R. 1420 Rel. on. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) GULABRAO YESHWANT v. MAGAN GHELABHAI. 27 Bom. L. R. 461 : 87 I. C. 769 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 326.

——S. 48—Instalment decree ceasing to be so on default—Court cannot restore decree to original status.

Court cannot order at the instance of the judgment-creditor that a decree which has ceased to be an instalment decree should be restored to its previous status so as to prevent time from running against him.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 48

1922 Bom. 170 Dist. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) GULABRAO YESHWANT HARPHALE v. MAGAN GHELABHAI. 27 Bom. L. R. 461 : 87 I. C. 769 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 326.

——S. 48—Starting point—Decree against some defendants—Surety—Decree against on appeal—Execution of original decree—Limitation.

Plaintiff obtained a money decree in 1907 March against defts. 1 to 4, but the trial Court did not pass a decree against the 5th deft. who was impleaded as a surety. On appeal by the plaintiffs the High Court seeking to make the 5th deft. liable dismissed the appeal in 1909. The plaintiffs made several attempts to execute the decree against the defendants 1 to 4. In November 1919 the plaintiffs sought to amend a prior execution application by seeking attachment of certain properties. In 1920 the plaintiffs applied for attachment of another house belonging to defts. 1 to 4. Held that the applications were barred by time. As no relief was asked for against defendants Nos. 1 to 4 in the appeal to the High Court, the decree which was being executed was the decree of the trial Court and limitation began to run from the date of the decree of the trial Court and not of the High Court on appeal. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) KALYANCHAND v. BHOGILAL. 25 Bom. L. R. 371 : 73 I. C. 310 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 400.

——S. 48—Mortgage decree under Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act—No necessity for decree absolute—Effect of making decree absolute—Limitation.

Where a decree is passed under the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act there is no necessity to apply to the Court to make it absolute. On default of payment of any instalment, execution can be applied for and an application to have the decree made absolute would at best be considered as a step-in-aid of execution. Hence when the application for execution is put in more than 12 years from the date when the decree could have been executed though within 12 years from the date of decree absolute, it is barred under S. 48, C. P. Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) HIRACHAND KHEMCHAND GUJAR v. ABA LALA PATIL.

46 Bom. 761 : 24 Bom. L. R. 269 : 67 I. C. 153 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 95.

——S. 48—Applicability of—Retrospective effect—Decree on mortgage.

S. 48 has a retrospective effect, and governs an application for the execution of a mortgage decree passed before the Code came into force. Hence such an application, if presented 12 years after the date of the decree, is barred. 40 Cal. 704, Foll. 32 All. 499 Diss. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GOPALDAS GANPATDAS v. TRIBHOVAN JETHIRAM.

45 Bom. 365 : 59 I. C. 790 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1420.

——S 48—Mortgage decree—Personal decree—Execution—Limitation.

The period of limitation provided for in S. 48 of the Code for execution in a personal mortgage decree runs from the date of such decree. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BARANESHI v. BHABADEB. 66 I. C. 708 : 34 C. L. J. 167.

——S. 48, O. 20, R. 11—Limitation for execution—Order for payment by instalments upon compromise—Extension of time.

The parties agreed that the decretal amount should be paid by instalments and it appeared that the Court accepted the compromise and consequently passed an order striking off the execution proceedings. Held, the Court, when accepting the request of the parties, intended that the decretal amount should be payable by instalments : and the order which was passed was in essence and substance one made under S. 210 of the C. P. Code, which extended the period of limitation. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) BANARSI DAS v. RAMZAN RAJ BIBI. 73 I. C. 671 : A. I. R 1923 Lah. 381. On appeal from 72 I C. 477.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 48.

——— S. 48—Decree directing recovery of money from A on failure to recover from B—Execution against A is barred after 12 years from date of decree.

Phillips, J. agreeing with Devadoss, J.—Where a decree directs that money is recoverable from a party only on failure to recover from another party, the execution of the decree becomes barred against the former after 12 years from the date of the decree. (Wallace, J. contra.) 48 I. A. 17 (P. C.) Dist. 22 C. W. N. 145 (P. C.) Foll. 40 Mad. 989 (F. B.) considered as overruled by 22 C. W. N. 145 (P. C.).

Wallace, J.—In a case like this the decree-holder's remedy against the former party accrues not on the date of the decree but on the date of the failure of the other party to satisfy the decree, which date must be fixed by an order of Court, and limitation begins to run in respect of that remedy from the date of that order. Such order would have the effect of a fresh decree directing the payment of money by the second party to be made from the date of its order, and S. 48 would apply to it as such ; that is, 12 years' limitation for the relief against the second party will run from the date of such an order. (Phillips, J.) (NAWAB) SHUJA-UL-MULK v. UMIR-UL-UMRA BAHADUR 49 M. L. J. 498 : 48 Mad. 846 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 20.

———S. 48—Mortgage decree for sale of properties and for recovery of balance from mortgagor's person—Limitation for execution of latter part of decree runs from date of decree.

Where it is directed in a mortgage decree that the mortgage properties must be sold and the balance must be realised from the other properties and person of the judgment-debtor, the date from which the period of twelve years under S. 48 of the C P. Code for execution of the latter part of the decree, runs, is the date of the mortgage decree. (Odgers, J.) SAMINATHA ODAYAR v. THIAGARAJASWAMI ODAYAR. 82 I. C. 827 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 331.

———S. 48—Fraud—Execution of decree—Evasion of arrest—Limitation—Extension of time.

Where a judgment-debtor evades arrest in execution of the decree he is guilty of fraud within the meaning of S. 48, Civil Procedure Code, and the period of limitation for execution is thereby extended. 6 M. 365: 12 L. W. 710 followed (1898). 8 M. L. J. 203 not followed. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) R S. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR v M. G. MOHIDEEN SAHIB. 47 M. L. J. 428 : 20 L. W. 475 : 80 I. C. 731 : (1924) M. W. N. 745 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 836.

———S. 48—Does not apply to insolvency proceedings.

S. 48 deals only with execution and lays down that no order for execution of the decree shall be made upon an application presented after the expiration of 12 years from certain dates, but it does not mean that a decree more than 12 years old is not proveable in insolvency proceedings. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SIVASUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. THEETHIAPPA PILLAI. 45 M. L. J. 166 : 18 L. W. 636 : (1923) M. W. N. 895 : 75 I. C. 572 : 47 M. 120 : A. I R. 1924 Mad. 163.

———S. 48—Limitation for execution—Cannot be extended by Court.

The executing Court cannot extend the period of 12 years fixed in S. 48 of the C. P. Code under S. 15, Lim. Act. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBBARAYAN v. NATARAJAN. 43 M. L. J. 168 : 45 M. 785 : 70 I. C. 396 : (1922) M. W. N. 424 : 16 L. W. 68 : 31 M. L. T. 140 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 268.

———Ss. 48 and 63—Continuation of application—Property attached by two Courts—Sale by one—Application for rateable distribution more than 12 years after decree.

A and B obtained decrees against X in the District and the Munsif Court respectively and attached the properties of X in execution. They were ordered to be sold under S. 63 of the C. P. Code by the District Court. While B's application was pending in the Munsif's Court he applied to the District Court for rateable distribution 12 years after the date of his decree though his last application was within 12 years. Held, that the application to the District Court was only a continuation of the application made to the Munsif's Court. (Odgers, J.) RENTALA VEERA RAZU v. KURUVELLA SUBBARAYUDU. 41 M. L. J. 378 : (1921) M. W. N 507 : 64 I. C. 493 : 15 L. W. 245 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 3.

———S. 48—Fraud—Avoiding arrest under a warrant.

An intentional avoiding by the judgment-debtor of arrest under a warrant by the decree-holder to avoid payment of decretal amount amounts to fraud and gives a fresh start to the period of limitation. (Abdur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) AYYAVU v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR. 12 L. W. 710 : 60 I. C. 630 : (1920) M. W. N. 788.

———S. 48—The term 'fraud' is used in wider sense than in English Law—Looking house, evading arrest or payment or fictitious transfer is fraud.

The word 'fraud' is used in much wider sense than that in which it is generally used in English Law. Thus evading arrest by any contrivance or dishonestly evading payment by evading service of warrant or locking up the house so as to prevent attachment of moveable property is a fraud within the section. So also is a fictitious transfer of property to defeat or delay the execution of a decree that may be passed against the judgment debtor. Ordinarily two things are essential for execution of a decree for money. Either the property of the judgment-debtor must be available or the person of the judgment-debtor must be available for arrest. Conduct is the best proof of intention. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) KHAIRULLA v. SHETH DHANRUPMAL. 80 I. C. 905 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 82.

———S. 48 (1) (b)—Subsequent order means any order made by a competent Court—Order of executing Caurt allowing time for judgment-debtor to pay up the balance of decretal amount is a subsequent order and gives a fresh period for executing the decree.

The words "any subsequent order" must not be limited as if the words "by the Court which passed the decree" were there, but mean any order made by a competent Court, and an order made by a Court executing a decree allowing a judgment-debtor time to pay up the balance of the decretal money by instalments is a subsequent order within the meaning of S. 48, and gives a fresh period to the decree-holder to execute his decree. 40 All. 198 Dissented from. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) D. S. APTE v. TIRMAL HANMANT. 49 Bom. 695 : 27 Bom. L. R. 961 : 88 I. C. 949 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 503.

———S. 48 (1) (b)—Limitation for execution—Order directing payment of money on a certain date—Compromise after decree.

To render S. 48 (1) (b) of the C. P. Code applicable there must be an order of Court directing the payment of money on a certain date. Where there was a decree for money in a lumpsum, the fact that the parties come to some arrangement out of Court for payment in instalments would not attract the operation of this clause or prolong the period of limitation. (Broadway, J.) BANARSI DAS v. RAMZAN RAJ BIBI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 48.

72 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 342.

——S. 48 (1) (b)—Compromise decree—Order by executing Court recording compromise—Effect—Limitation.

An order under S. 48 (1) (b), C. P. Code, must be made by the Court which made the decree and not by a Court executing the decree. Where a Court executing the decree records a compromise the original decree is not altered and limitation for purposes of execution is still calculated from the date of the decree. (Broadway, J.) JIVAN BAKSH v. MUBINAL HUQ. 73 I. C. 794 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 678

——S. 49—Transfer of decree—Judgment-debtor if could attach money deposited for a decree against assignee.

A decree being assigned the judgment-debtor deposited the money in Court and in execution of a decree he had against the assignee attached the sum in Court, held, he was entitled to do so. (Baker, O.J.C.) CHUNNILAL v. GULZARILAL. 19 N. L. R. 164 : 75 I. C. 752 . A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 46.

——S. 49—Consideration for assignment partly unpaid—Assignee's right to execute depends on parties' intention.

The question as to whether the non-payment of a part of the consideration money would debar the assignee of a decree from executing the decree would depend on the intention of the parties as to when the title was to pass to the transferee. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHEO PRASAD SINGH v. P. E. LALL.
4 Pat. 120 : 86 I. C. 564 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 449.

——S. 49—Assignee, benamidar for some judgment debtors—Equities against these do not bind assignee.

The right of the assignee of a decree to execute the decree cannot be made conditional upon equities which the mortgagor judgment-debtors may have against the mortgagee judgment-debtors for whom he is said to be the benamidar, (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHEO PRASAD SINGH v. P. E. LALL.
4 Pat. 120 : 86 I. C. 564 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 449.

——S. 50—Attachment of son's undivided interest in co-parcenary property—Death of son—Effect—Father if legal representative.

The attachment of the undivided interest of a Hindu son in co-parcenary property creates a charge on the property, which is not extinguished by his death. The father who but for the attachment would take his interest by survivorship is the legal representative of the son. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) FAQIR CHAND v. SANT LAL. L. R. 6 A. 511 : 89 I. C. 291 : 23 A. L. J. 877.

——Ss. 50 and 99—Application for substituting legal representative's name can be made to the Court passing the decree—If it is not made to that Court, it is mere irregularity which is cured by S. 99.

An application for the substitution of the name of the legal representative of a deceased can be made to the Court to which the decree has been transferred for execution and in any case if the application is not made to the Court passing the decree it is a mere irregularity which is covered by S. 99. 22 Cal. 558 ; 35 Cal. 1047 Foll. 17 All. 431 ; 19 All. 337 and 28 Mad. 466 not Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Fforde, JJ.) MT. BEGAM BIBI v. BULAQI SHAH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 50.

26 P. L. R. 740 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 34

——S. 50—Death of puisne mortgagee—Legal representatives not on record—Sale free from his charge—Validity—Limitation Act (1908), Art. 166.

Where in execution of a decree in which the puisne mortgagee consented for sale free of his mortgage on the condition that the balance be paid to him after the discharge of the prior mortgage, subsequent to the order for sale but prior to the sale itself such puisne mortgagee died and his legal representative was not brought on the record and the sale was held and confirmed :

Held, as the procedure laid down by S. 50, Civil Procedure Code had not been followed the sale was a nullity and did not require to be set aside under Art. 166 of the Limitation Act, 1908. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) RAGHUNATHASAMY v. S. GOPAUL RAO.
15 L. W. 123 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 307

——S. 50—Mortgage decree against father—Occupancy field sold and mortgage satisfied—Balance money is not assets of father in son's hands—C.P. Tenancy Act (1920), S. 11 (2).

Balance of the sale proceeds of occupancy fields sold after father's death in execution of the mortgage decree against him are not assets of the father's estate in the hands of the son. To hold that succession to such an untransferable right of occupancy creates a personal liability to pay the debts of a deceased judgment-debtor would be opposed to principle and could scarcely have been intended by the legislature [9 N. L. R. 137, and 84 P. W. R. 1916. Rel. on] To fasten liability on the heir-at-law or legal representative, the right which has devolved must be property which can be disposed of for the purpose of satisfying the debt due by the deceased. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BONDRU v. MISRIYA. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 449.

——S. 50—Decree transferred—Execution commenced—Judgment-debtor's death—Court of transfer bringing legal representative on record—Acquiescence by legal representative—Irregularity is curable—C. P. Code, S. 99.

When a decree is transferred to another Court for execution and after the execution proceedings are started, the judgment-debtor dies and the Court of transfer brings on the record the legal representative of the judgment-debtor and the legal representative acquiesces in the procedure and puts forward objection in the Court of transfer without challenging its jurisdiction to hear, the objections, but no application under S. 50, C. P. Code is made to the Court which passed the decree, no case of want of jurisdiction will arise but there would be an irregularity of procedure curable under the provisions of S. 99 of the C. P. Code. 28 Mad. 466 Dist. 55 I. C. 812 Foll. 22 Cal. 558 Ref to. (Dalal, J.C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JANG BAHADUR v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. LUCKNOW. 12 O. L J. 146 : 87 I. C. 21 : 2 O. W. N. 73 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 448.

——S. 50—Assets—Property of deceased—Contest as regards inheritance—Acceptance of money in lieu of right to inheritance—Effect of.

A legal representative is liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of. The fact that a claimant to the inheritance of a deceased person received a sum of money from the opposing claimants who were in possession of the estate does not make the money so received assets of the deceased in the hands of the claimant. Quaere Whether property converted into one form different from the form which the estate originally represented could be called as the property of the deceased. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 50.

SHAMSHER BAHADUR SINGH v. MT. KAILASH BIBI 10 O. & A. L. R. 275 : 11 O. L. J. 441 : 27 O. C. 262 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 364.

——— S. 50—Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, Ss. 74 and 22—Legal representative of deceased agriculturist—Liability of.

Under S. 50 of the Code read with S. 74 of the Act the legal representative of deceased agriculturist, is liable for his debts to the extent which has come to his hands and has not been disposed of and S. 22 of the Act is no bar to the appointment of a Collector to manage the property in the hands of such legal representative. (Fawcett and Raymond, A. J. Cs.) SHOITRAM v. LALBUX. 63 I.C. 310 : 15 S. L. R. 47.

——— S. 50 (2)—Legal representative—Personal liability—Insufficiency of assets—Onus of proof.

If it were shown that a deceased person left a certain amount of assets and that the legal representative had received some portion of those assets, it would be for him to explain why he did not receive the whole of the assets and if he says that he did not so receive them, it would be for him to establish what proportion of the assets, proved to have been left by the deceased, really got into his hands. Of course, the burden is on the legal representative to show that he has utilised the assets that have come into his hands, in the proper administration of the estate ; otherwise, he will make himself personally liable for the debts of the deceased to the extent of the assets shown to have been left by the deceased and presumed to have passed into his hands. From the mere fact that a person is a legal representative, it could not be strongly presumed that he got the assets of the deceased. It must be made out by the evidence in the case 30 M. L. J. 391 ; 21 M. L. J. 1096 ; 3 M. 359 Referred to. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) ANGAVALATHAMMAL v. JANAKI AMMAL. 19 L. W. 119 : 79 I. C. 894 : (1924) M. W. N. 207 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 466.

———S. 51—Personal decree — Right to arrest judgment-debtor does not exist in every case.

Every personal decree does not carry with it a right to arrest the judgment-debtor in execution. There are exceptions as in the case of minors, legal representatives, and females against whom a decree has been passed or is sought to be executed. (Hallifax and Dhobley, A. J. Cs.) JIWANDAS v. JANKI. 18 N. L. R. 145 : 5 N. L. J. 49 : 65 I. C. 53 : A. I. R 1922 Nag. 98.

———S. 51 (d) and O. 40, R. 1—Receiver—Appointment of—Mortgage decree—Objection of decree-holder—Effect.

It would be stretching too far the discretion of the Court under O. 40, R. 1 in the matter of appointment of receivers, if it thereby deprives the decree-holder of his right to sell the mortgaged property under the decree. S. 51 does not apply to the case ; for it merely prescribes the mode in which the decree-holder may execute his decree, one of them being by the appointment of a receiver. The section does not give any right to the judgment-debtor to apply for the appointment of a receiver. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) MALIK MOKHTAR AHMED v. MT BIBI RAHIMUNNISSA BEGUM. 4 P. L. T. 58 : 1922 P.H.C.C. 66 : 67 I C. 606 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 369.

———S. 51 (e)—Construction of decree—Supplementary relief.

Cl. (e) of S. 51 of the C. P. Code cannot be taken as authorising a Court to read into a decree a supplementary or alternative relief which is not there. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) MARATH SIVARAMAN NAIR v. SESHU PATTAR. 42 M. L. J. 356 : 16 L. W. 589 : 70 I. C. 259 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 299.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 52.

———S. 52—Property of deceased—Income of, accrued since death of deceased and come into hands of representative if included in—Attachment of income—Decree holder's right of — Realisation of amount attached.

Under S. 52 of the Code the income of landed property, which has passed from one Zemindar to the next, the property being an impartible Raj, is liable to execution for the debts of the deceased Zemindar. Income accrued since the late Zemindar's death which has come into the hands of the new Zemindar can be attached. It is unnecessary to sell it. The Code has made ample provision for execution upon the money belonging to a deceased person in the hands of another. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts Trotter and Ramesam, JJ.) KADIRVELUSAMI NAICKER v. THE EASTERN DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION, LTD. 46 M. L. J. 261 : 47 Mad. 411 : 34 M. L. T. 17 : 1924 M.W.N. 346 : 80 I. C. 163 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 530 (F.B.).

——— S. 52—Occupancy holding—Sale of—Balance of proceeds in the hands of heir—If assets of deceased.

Where an occupancy holding is sold in execution of a mortgage decree after the death of the judgment-debtor, any surplus sale proceeds paid to his legal representative are not assets of the deceased in his hands, and cannot be proceeded against by a money decree holder. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BONDRU v. MISRIYA. 89 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 449.

———S. 52—Suit against legal representatives of a deceased should not be dismissed merely on the ground that they are not in possession of any assets of the deceased—C. P. Code, S. 2 (11).

A suit against the legal representatives of a deceased debtor should not be dismissed on the mere ground that the defendants are not in possession of any portion of the estate left by the deceased. 2 N.W.P.H. C R. 449 and 13 Bom. 653 Foll. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) SHANKERLAL v. GANESH. 89 I.C. 236 (1) : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 170.

———S. 52—Effect of.

The practical effect of S. 52, C. P. Code, is not to make the liability of a person sued in a representative capacity any the less personal or to make the debt recoverable only from certain property ; the application of the section only converts the decree from one for a single stated sum of money into a decree for that sum or another unascertained sum if the latter should be less. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) BED PRASAD v. NAKCHHED PRASAD. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 410.

———S. 52—Property held by one heir as legal representative—Creditor can proceed against whole property and need not wait for partition among heirs—Purchaser in execution is not responsible for neglect on the part of heir in possession, in allowing a larger portion to be sold than necessary.

Where a decree is passed against a party as the legal representative of a deceased person and the decree is for the payment of money out of the property, the creditor, in execution of decree, is entitled to attach and sell any property of the deceased in possession of the defendant independently of the fact whether the property in such possession is up to the share of the defendant in the property of the deceased or in excess thereof. This procedure gives a speedy remedy to a creditor of a deceased person and saves him the trouble of waiting until the different heirs have decided between themselves either amicably or through Court as to what property each heir is to inherit. The creditor is not concerned according to the privilege given to him by S. 52 with the rights of the heirs but is only concerned with his own right to recover his money debt out of the property of the deceased. Where any portion of such property is sold the purchaser cannot be held responsible for any neglect of the person in possession in allowing a larger portion to be sold than was necessary, unless any fraud or collusion is alleged. 8 O. L. J. 191 and 1925 Oudh 330 Dist. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A J. C.) HAJI AMIS AHMAD v. MT. HAFIZ-UN-NISSA. 2 O. W. N. 407 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 515.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 55.

———S. 52 Personal property of the legal representative is exempt from execution.

Decree passed against a legal representative is not a personal decree and consequently only the property of the deceased and not the property of the judgment debtor is to be proceeded against in execution of the decree. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) KUNWAR JANG BAHADUR v. LALA GUR PRASAD. 27 O. C 238 : 11 O. L. J. 54 : 80 I.C. 600 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 113.

——— S. 52—Appropriation of assets of the deceased —Personal liability.

Where the defendant along with another person took possession of the assets of the deceased and disposed of a portion thereof without any right and where the property disposed of was sufficient to exceed the debts, a personal decree can be passed against the defendant 20 Mad. 446 followed. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) MIHI LAL v. BABU LAL. A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 200.

———S. 52—Personal decree against son—Can be executed only against co parcenary property in his hands.

A personal decree against the son after the death of his father on a hundi executed by the father in a Mitakshara Hindu family can be executed only against the co parcenary property in the hands of the son. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM BHUJAWAN PRASAD SINGH v. RAM NARAIN. 65 I. C. 224 (1) : 2 Pat. L. T. 396.

——— S. 53—Hindu son with ancestral property liable for the debt is legal representative.

A decree-holder who has a decree against a Hindu father can proceed in execution after his death against the joint ancestral property in the hands of the son and can treat the son as the legal representative of his judgment-debtor provided the property is liable under the Hindu Law for the debt. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) RUDRA PRATAP SINGH v. SHARADA MAHESH PRASAD SINGH. 23 A. L. J. 467 : 88 I. C. 200 : 6 L. R. A. (Civ.) 321 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 471.

———S. 53—Person taking property by survivorship—Legal representative—Nephew of deceased Hindu co-parcener.

It is only in the case of a son or other descendant that a person taking property by survivorship can be joined as a legal representative under S. 53 of the Civil Procedure Code. The section has no application to a nephew. 45 A. 455 Rel. on. He can, therefore, plead that he holds the property under an independent title and cannot be joined as a party to the proceedings for the preparation of the final decree. If he fails to do so he must be held to be bound by the decree. (Daniels, J.) BALKARAN LAL v. MALIK NAMDAR. 5 L.R. A. (Civ.) 279: 78 I.C. 637: A.I.R. 1924 All. 873.

——— S. 53—Scope of—Section applies only to son or other descendant.

It is only the son or lineal descendant of a deceased Hindu that comes within the scope of S. 53 of the C. P. Code and there is no obligation on the part of any other co-parcener who has acquired rights by survivorship to pay up the decree debts of the deceased co-parcener. 42 B. 54 Ref. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) JAGARNATH SINGH v. MOTILAL. 21 A. L. J. 303 : L. R. 4 A. 220 : 45 A. 455 : 73 I. C. 958 : A I.R. 1923 All. 539.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 55.

——— S. 53—Hindu father—Decree debt—Pious obligation—Extent of.

A Hindu son is liable for the unsatisfied decree debts of his deceased father to the extent of the ancestral properties unless he shows that the debt was contracted for an illegal or immoral purpose. This is so even if the son was a party to the decree against the father. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAMANAND SHUKUL v. CHHOTEY LAL. 71 I. C. 417 : 20 A.L.J. 969 : 4 L.R. A. (Civ.) 31 : A I.R. 1923 All. 124.

——— S. 53—Applicability of—Decree for possession—Money decree—Executability against sons.

S. 53 of the C. P. Code is not confined in its operation to money-decrees. If a decree is passed in respect of joint family property, it can be executed against the sons after the father's death. 42 B 504 not foll. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) MEYYAPPAN SERVAI v. MEYYAPPAN AMBALAM. 46 M. L. J. 471 : 19 L. W. 484 : 34 M.L.T. 209 : A.I R. 1924 Mad 571.

——— S. 53—Decree under—Ancestral property—Liability for sale.

The whole of the ancestral property and not merely father's share can be sold under a decree passed in terms of S. 53. (Daniels, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BHAGWANTI SAHAI v. MAHARAJ PRAG DIN. 27 I C. 111 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 313 : 11 O. L. J. 202 : 81 I. C. 15 : 1 O. W. N. 13 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 393.

———Ss. 53 and 54—Hindu father—Son's liability —Separate suit.

Under the present law there is no necessity of any order for attachment of the property in execution of a mortgage decree. Consequently, after father's death the proceedings in execution may be continued against the son. The sons of a Mitakshara family have been made by express enactment under S. 53 of the Code of Civil Procedure, legal representatives of their father in respect of the property which descends to them under the Hindu Law and which has been made liable for the satisfaction of the decree passed by the Court. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) SHEIK KAROO v. RAMESHWAR RAO. 3 P. L. T. 43 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 143.

———S. 55—Surety bringing judgment-debtor in Court during stay ordered in his favour—Conditions of suretyship are not fulfilled.

Where the surety for the appearance of judgment-debtor brought the letter to Court though not so called upon an order granting stay of execution was passed in his favour and was still in force :

Held, that the conditions of suretyship were not fulfilled and he could not therefore be discharged. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) RATNI BAI v. GHASI RAM. 23 A.L.J. 59 : 6 L. R. A. (Civ.) 171 : 86 I. C. 105 : A. I R. 1925 All. 344.

———S. 55, cl. 4—Failure of judgment-debtor to apply within time—Effect of—Surety liable though judgment-debtor may die after the time allowed—Scope of sub clause.

Where the judgment-debtor failed to apply within time to be declared an insolvent, on his release on offering a surety for Rs. 500 and the Court suo motu issued warrant of arrest but the judgment-creditor prayed for calling upon the surety to pay the amount of the decree and praying that no warrant be issued.

Held, that execution for the amount of the decree should be allowed against the surety notwitnstanding the fact that judgment-debtor had died after the order of arrest, because the surety's liability came into existence on the failure of the judgment-debtor.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 55.

(Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAKANJI MAOJI v. BHUKHANDAS NAGARDAS. 48 Bom. 500 : 26 Bom. L. R. 415 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 428.

——S. 55 (4)—Security should continue until final order in insolvency petition.

When a judgment-debtor furnishes security under S. 55 (4) the security should be directed to continue until a final order is made on his petition to be declared an insolvent. (Macleod, C. J.) ABDUL HUSSAIN v. MISTRAY AND CO. 23 Bom. L. R. 1263 : 64 I. C. 648 : 46 Bom. 702 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 340.

—— S. 55 (4)—Judgment-debtor not applying within one month to be declared insolvent—No charge, of failing to appear when required to do so, against Judgment-debtor—Surety is liable—Time cannot be extended.

Under S. 55 (4) surety does not merely undertake that the judgment-debtor will appear when called upon to do so, but also that the judgment-debtor will apply to be declared an insolvent within the prescribed period. If the judgment-debtor does not apply to be declared an insolvent within the prescribed one month the surety can be proceeded against. The Court has no power to extend the period for the judgment-debtor's filing a petition to be declared an insolvent, beyond the prescribed month.

Obiter. The surety is liable even after the dismissal of the execution proceedings against the judgment-debtor. (Jackson, J.) VENKOBANNA v. FIRM MYACHAND-VENICHAND. 86 I. C. 304 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 286.

——Ss. 55 (4) and 145—Assets of judgment-debtor in execution—Surety for production of Judgment debtor and for his application in insolvency—Failure to produce Judgment-debtor—Execution against surety.

The appellant executed a surety bond, as a result of which, the judgment-debtor who was arrested in execution of a decree against him, was released. On the dismissal of the application of the judgment-debtor to be declared insolvent, the decree-holder applied to the Court for directing the appellant to produce the Judgment debtor who was released on his surety. Notice of this application was served upon the appellant and he was directed to produce the judgment-debtor. The appellant failed to produce the judgment-debtor ; even he himself did not appear in Court. The execution was dismissed. The decree-holder now enforced the terms of the security bond executed by the appellant and proceeded to realise the decretal amount from the appellant.

Held that the liability of a surety under S. 55, C.P. Code enures for the benefit of the Court as well as for the decree-holder. The Court accepting the security may enforce it, failing which the decree-holder is equally entitled to enforce same in any way that may be open to him, for he is the ultimate beneficiary under the security bond. No doubt, under the Old Code of Civil Procedure sometimes it used to be contended that the remedy of the decree-holder against the surety was only by means of a regular suit. In order to save the decree-holder from trouble, inconvenience and expense of bringing a suit to enforce the security bond the present Code under S. 145 gives him a right and opportunity to enforce the bond in execution proceedings. Therefore if the appellant as surety in the present case made himself liable for the performance of the decree or any part thereof, the decree-holder is entitled to enforce the bond by executing the decree against him in execution proceedings. The execution proceedings referred to therein, are not in any way connected with the execution proceedings in which the surety bond was filed but it may be any execution proceedings. The appellant's liability, therefore, arose on account of the failure of the Judgment-debtor to appear in Court after the insolvency petition was dismissed and he was called upon to appear. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHYAM PROSONO KATARI v. KESHAB CHANDRA RANA. 1924 P. H. C. C. 63 : 5 Pat. L. T. 336 : 81 I. C. 702 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 487.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 60.

——S. 56—Personal decree—Mode of execution—Arrest.

A money decree does not necessarily carry with it a right to execute it by arrest of the judgment-debtor e. g. minor or a female, or a legal representative. (Hallifax and Dhobley, A. J. Cs.) JIWANDAS v. JANKI. 5 N. L. J. 49 : 65 I. C. 53 : 18 N. L. R. 145 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 98.

——S. 60—Pension—Saleability decided upon by the trial Court—Executing Court cannot question—Civil P. C., S. 47.

The question whether a certain pension is of such a character as not to be liable to be sold is a mixed question of law and fact If the point was expressly raised by the defendant concerned in the suit itself and decided against him and a decree under O. 34, R. 4, was passed for the sale of that pension, it no longer remains open to the judgment-debtor to say that the pension was of such a character as not to be saleable at all. It would not be proper for the execution Court to reopen the question which has already been decided in the original suit. In cases where no attachment is necessary and the sale takes place in pursuance of a mortgage decree directing a sale of the mortgaged property S. 60 will not be applicable to decide the saleability of the property so as to prevent the Court from selling the property. 1924 All. 328 Rel. on. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MD. MAZAR ALI v. MT. BIJJA BEGAM. 23 A. L. J. 841 : 6 L.R. A. C v. 448 : 89 I.C. 364 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 652.

——S. 60—Agriculture the only source of livlihood —S. 60 applies.

A person who has no other source of livelihood than agriculture is an agriculturist and houses in his occupation are exempt from attachment.

Per Daniels, J.—The burden of proving that the case falls under S. 60, Civil P. C. lies on the person objecting to the attachment. 41 Bom. 475 Foll. (Mukerji and Daniels, JJ.) MT. BHUTA v. BISHESHAR SINGH. 6 L. R. A. Civ. 217 : 87 I. C. 564 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 432.

——S. 60—House of agriculturist—If exempted from sale under mortgage decree—Simple money-decree —Destination.

Per Walsh and Mukerjee, JJ. On a proper construction of S. 60 of the Civil Procedure Code, the sale of an agriculturist's house (the expression is used for the sake of brevity), not in execution of a simple money-decree in which the previous attachment is necessary, but in execution of a mortgage-decree, which has been passed on foot of a contract of mortgage specifically making the property a security for the debt, is not prohibited.

An agriculturist may make a valid mortgage of his house, there being nothing in section 60 of the Civil Procedure Code to the contrary, and after a decree for the sale of it has been made on foot of a mortgage, it may be sold in execution of the decree and the judgment-debtor is not entitled to raise the point in the execution proceedings. (Walsh, Ryves and Mukerji, JJ.) MUBARAK HUSAIN v. AHAMAD. L. R. 5 A. 201 : 22 A. L. J. 321 : 46 A. 489 : A. I. R. 1924 All 328 (F. B.).

——S. 60—Pension—Exemption from attachment

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 60.

—Burden of proof—Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871), S. 7.

A pension is not ordinarily attachable for sale. The burden of proof that a particular pension is attachable lies on the decree-holder. (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.) MAZHAR ALI KHAN v. MALIFUZ HASAN. A. I. R. 1922 All. 429 (1).

——S. 60—Hindu widow—Life-interest in lands —Maintenance—T. P. Act, Ss. 6 and 10.

A compromise under which a Hindu widow was allotted certain lands for her maintenance ran as follows :—" I (the widow) have taken for myself the property for the period of my life-time. I alone shall pay jodi....and I shall go on making vahivat. I shall not sell or mortgage or give it on self reducing mortgage or give it as present or in any manner give it into the possession of others. If I do so, it will not be valid. After my death, the said minor alone is owner of the said property." Held, that this restriction on alienation prevented the judgment-debtor from having disposing power within the meaning of S. 60, C. P. Code and the restriction being valid, the property could not be attached. 10 B 342 ; 15 M.L.J. 7 Ref. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) BASANGOWDA v. IRGOWDATI. 47 Bom. 597 : 25 Bom. L R. 293 : 73 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 276.

——S. 60—Agriculturist, meaning of.

The party alleging that he is an agriculturist must prove that he earns his livelihood wholly or principally by agriculture or that he ordinarily engages personally in agricultural labour. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) RUBINE v. BALWANT RAI. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 12.

——S. 60—Occupancy holding is liable to attachment and sale in execution—Occupancy holding—Liability to attachment.

The transfer for value of the whole or part of an occupancy holding, apart from custom or local usage, is operative as against the raiyat whether it is voluntary or involuntary. The principle is a general one which applies to the case of creditors other than landlords also. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 52 and 48 Cal. 184 (F.B.) Appl. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA v. ABDUL AZIZ. 90 I. C 998 : A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 337 (1).

——S. 60—Accrued debt is attachable though its payment is deferred.

There is a distinction between the case where there is an existing debt, payment whereof is deferred, and the case where both the debt and its payment rest in the future. In the former case there is an attachable debt, in the latter case there is not. A debt, in order to be attachable, need not be ascertained but must be accruing or have accrued, a debitum in prasenti solvendum in futuro. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) BAHADURMULL RAMPURIA v. TRICUMDAS CALLIANJI. 78 I. C. 881 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 561.

——S. 60—Property in the hands of mother deriving title by virtue of marriage can be attached for debts of previous male holder—Custom (Punjab).

The estate in the hands of the mother of a deceased proprietor who derives her title by virtue of her marriage in the family is liable to attachment for payment of debts incurred by a previous male holder of the estate. (Jai Lal, J.) DHANPAT RAI v. GOPAL KUAR. 26 P. L. R. 735 : 90 I. C. 1052 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 7.

——S. 60—Crops grown by heir of tenant cannot be attached.

Where crops are grown on a tenancy by the heir of deceased tenant, after his death such crops cannot be said to be his crops and cannot be as such liable to attachment and sale in the hands of the heir under S. 60, C. P. Code. 84 P.W.R. 1916 followed. (Scott-Smith, J.) ABDUL AZIZ v SARAB DAYAL. 69 I. C. 520 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 335 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 60.

——S. 60—House of agriculturist—Panchotra money—No attachment.

The only house of an agriculturist is not liable to be attached and sold in insolvency. The income of panchotra is not covered by S. 60 of the C. P. Code. (Broadway, J.) NAND SINGH v. LACHMI NARAIN SINGH. 73 I. C. 928 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 226.

——S. 60—Inam—Service inam—Swasthiwachakam service—Grant burdened with public service—Not liable to attachment and sale in execution.

To do swasthiwachakam service an inam of land is granted, which is always burdened with public service and is not liable to attachment and sale in execution. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) NETI ANJANEYALU v. SRI VENUGOPAL RICE MILLS. 42 M. L. J. 477 : 15 L. W. 510 : 30 M. L. T. 255 : (1922) M. W. N. 307 : 45 M. 62 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 197.

——S. 60—Damages resulting from wrong attachment can be recovered from the decree holder though he acts in good faith.

Generally speaking, it is not incumbent on the plaintiff to allege and prove that the person at whose instance a wrong attachment has been made acted thereupon maliciously or without probable cause. Proof of malice is not necessary when the property of a stranger, not a party to the suit, is taken in execution. The decree-holder may have acted in perfectly good faith and innocently, but is nevertheless liable if damages have been caused by his mistake. (Findlay, O. C. J.) LOBO v. BABULAL. 8 N. L J. 170 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 390.

——S. 60—Tool of artisan—Sewing machine.

A sewing machine is a tool. There is no reason why a tool should be confined to primitive implements. (MacNair, A. J. C.) VITHOBA v. BABULAL. 19 N. L. R. 22 : 65 I. C. 416 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 289.

——S. 60—Tools of artisans—Sewing machine cannot be attached.

Under S. 60, C.P. Code, a sewing machine owned by a tailor is a tool of an artisan and therefore exempt from attachment. (MacNair, A.J.C.) VITHOBA v. BABULAL. 65 I. C. 416 (Nag.).

——S. 60—Hereditary but non-transferable lease granted by Settlement Court in Oudh is not attachable under money-decree—Objection can be taken by lessee himself.

A heritable but non-transferable lease granted by a Settlement Court in Oudh is not liable to sale in execution of money decree, but nevertheless it is not a succession of life-estates and each hereditary owner fully represents the estate. The lessee himself can raise the objection as to non-transferability against the holder of a money decree. (Case-law fully discussed.) (Simpson, A. J. C.) MT. MOHAN DEI v. BAL MOKUND. 12 O. L. J. 543 : 2 O. W. N. 737 : 90 I. C. 256 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 702.

——S. 60—Earning maintenance otherwise than by cultivation—Person is not agriculturist.

An agriculturist is not a person who obtains his livelihood otherwise than by cultivating himself or through his servants, even if he may have some sort of interest in a field or two. (Ashworth, A.J.C.) LACHMAN DASS v. MT. PARTAPI. 85 I.C. 700 : A.I R. 1925 Oudh 365.

——S. 60 and O. 21. R. 30—Asthan property—Liability to attachment and sale.

The Asthan property is not liable to be attached and sold in execution of a personal decree obtained against a Mahant. (Lindsay, J.C.) GOBIND DAS v. NARINDRA BAHADUR SINGH. 61 I. C. 757 : 8 O. L. J. 210.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 60.

———S. 60—Decree assigned—Subsequent attachment of decree—Attachment is wrong unless assignment is not bona fide.

Money deposited under decree to the credit of decree-holder, who has already assigned his interest in the decree, cannot be attached by his creditors unless the transfer is proved to be not bona fide (1912) M.W.N. 176 Diss. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD SINGH v. BHAGWAT SAHAY.

6 P. L. T. 604 : 3 Pat. L. R. 18 : 86 I. C. 626 : 1925 P.H.C.C. 43 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 372.

———S. 60—Non-transferable occupancy holding, partial or whole interest in—Whether saleable in execution of a money decree obtained either by the landlord or a stranger.

The transfer of the whole or a part of an interest in non-transferable occupancy holding is operative against the tenant whether it is made voluntarily or involuntarily, e. g., in execution of a money decree obtained against him, either by the landlord or by a stranger. 43 Cal. 148 Foll. 1 P. L. J. 257 and 2 P. L. J. 530 Overruled. (Das and Adami, JJ.) JUGESHWAR MISRA v. NATH KOERI.

1922 P. H. C. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 19 (F.B.).

———S. 60—Prospective rent cannot be attached.

An existing debt can be attached, but there is no provision of the Code under which a debt that has not yet fallen due can be attached. An attachment of rents which are only prospective is merely an attachment of a debt that has not accrued due. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) MAUNG THEIN ZAN v. S. A. S. FIRM.

3 Rang. 235 : 89 I.C. 794 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 318.

———S. 60 (1) and (3)—Attachment of insolvent's pay.

Moiety of insolvent's pay can be ordered to be given to the Receiver for benefit of creditors. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) NARASIMHAM v. HANUMANTHRAO. (1922) M.W.N. 717 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 439.

———S. 60 (1) (b)—Article for making jaggery—Exempted from attachment.

Article used for making jaggery are implements of husbandry and hence are not subject to attachment. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) LAKSHMAN MHASU BHAGAT v. NARHARI DADASA GUJAR.

25 Bom. L. R. 1211 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 294.

———S. 60 (c)—Becoming Akali is not ceasing to be agriculturist.

A judgment-debtor who is an agriculturist does not cease to be so merely because he has turned an Akali. (Abdul Raoof, J.) SURAIN SINGH v. MULA SINGH.

7 L. L. J. 95 : 88 I. C. 543 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 331 (1).

———S. 60 (c)—Agriculturist—Who is.

Where a person earns his livelihood, otherwise than by agriculture the mere fact that he has some sort of an interest in some lands, is not sufficient to entitle him to claim the exemption under S. 60, C. P. C. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) LACHIMAN DASS v. MT. PARTAPI. 10 O. & A. L. R. 1275.

———S. 60 (e)—Breach of contract—Right to sue for damages—If attachable.

Where the right to sue for damages for breach of a contract is attached and sold; no title passes as the attachment is in contravention of S. 60 (e). (Raymond, A. J. C.) GORDHANDAS KALIDAS v. FIRM OF GOKAL KHATAOO. 78 I. C. 409 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 98.

———S. 60 (e)—Mere right to sue for damages—Bankrupt.

The mere right to sue for damages in the case of a bankrupt is restricted to damages arising from bodily or mental suffering or injury to his person or reputation as contradistinguished from injuries to his estate. (Raymond, A. J. C.) THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BOMBAY v. FIRM OF CHANDULAL CHIMANLAL.

17 S. L. R. 52 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind. 89.

———S. 60 (f)—Indian Articles of War—Reference to Army Act.

The reference in S. 60 (f) to the Indian Articles of War must now be taken to mean the Indian Army Act (VIII of 1911). (Mears, C. J. and Mukerji, J.) BROWNE v. MADEN PEAREE MILLINER.

L. R. 6 A. 578 : 23 A. L. J. 929 : 89 I. C. 882 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 122 (2).

———S. 60 (1) (f)—Jatribahis of a Gayawal.

Though Jatribahis of a Gayawal are sold at fancy prices and have got a marketable value, they are not attachable and saleable in execution. They are merely entries as to the names and addresses of the pilgrims who deal with the gayaval and represent the claim of the judgment debtor to personal service. 2 Pat. L. J. 705 Ref. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) LACHMAN LAL v. BALDEO LAL. 3 Pat. L. T. 603 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 228 : 1 Pat. 619 : 68 I. C 944 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 556.

———S. 60 (g)—Gratuity by University—If attachable—If a debt before it falls due.

A gratuity paid by a University for services rendered not being a pension granted by Government is not exempt from attachment under S. 60 (g), C. P. Code. Such a gratuity recommended by the authorities constitutes a debt even before it becomes due and can be attached. (Moti Sagar, J.) MAHOMED ABDULLA v. JIWAN MAL. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 688.

———S. 60 (g)—Decree against assets—Gratuity given to heir of deceased employee if not part of assets.

A gratuity granted to the heirs of a deceased employee by a Railway administration is not assets of the employee in the hands of his heirs and cannot be attached in execution of a decree against him. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) LACHMI NARAIN KALU v. UMAID RAI. 26 O. C 53 : 69 I. C. 893 : 9 O. L. J. 401 : 4 U. P. L. R. (C). 96 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 21.

———S. 60 (1) (k)—Deposit under Provident Funds Act—Not attachable.

A deposit in a provident fund which so long as the subscriber was in service was a compulsory deposit within the meaning of S. 2 (4) of the Provident Funds Act does not become attachable by a creditor the moment the subscriber retires irrespective of whether it has been drawn out or not. (Daniels, J.) DEVI PRASAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

21 A. L. J. 454 : 74 I. C. 746 : L. R 4 A. 256 : 45 A. 554 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 68.

———S. 60 (1) (k)—Provident Fund—State Railway—Deposit of railway official—Provident Funds Act, S. 4, sub-S. (1)—Railway Code, Vol. II, App. I, R. 30.

Compulsory deposits made in a State Railway Provident Fund by an officer of the Railway during his employment are not liable to attachment in execution of a money decree against him even though he has ceased to be in the service of the Railway at the time of execution. The rules regulating the General Provident Fund do not apply to the State Railway Provident Fund. The fact that the deposits became repayable to the officer after he left the service did not remove them from the category of compulsory deposits. 29 B. 259 : 5 Bom. L. R. 454: 35 C. 641 : 46 C. 962, Ref. (Richardson and Ghose, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. RAJ KUMAR MUKHERJEE.

50 Cal. 347 : 27 C. W. N. 472 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 585.

———S. 60 (n)—Right of maintenance though not attachable, receiver can be appointed—C. P. Code, O. 40, R. 1.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 60.

Although the right of maintenance is in point of law not attachable and not saleable under S. 60, the proper remedy lies in a fitting case, in the appointment of a receiver for realising the rents and profits of the property paying out of the same a sufficient and adequate sum for the maintenance of the judgment-debtor, and his family, and applying the balance, if any, to the liquidation of the judgment-creditor's debt. (Lord Shaw.) RAJENDRA NARAIN SINGH v MT. SUNDAR BIBI. 49 M. L. J. 244 : 47 All. 385 : 52 I. A. 262 41 C. L. J. 383 : 23 A. L. J. 634 : 27 B.L. R. 849 : 87 I. C 295 : 3 Pat. L. R. 142 : (1925) M.W.N. 630 : 22 L. W 284 : L. R. 6 P. C. 138 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 176 (P.C.).

——S. 60 (1) (n), O. 21, R. 46—Annuity granted by will—Prohibitory order can be made.

S. 60 (n) contemplates the right of a particular individual to be maintained. It is purely a personal right and does not include an annuity conferred by a will especially where the allowance is not personal but heritable. Future instalments of such an allowance are not therefore exempt from attachment and a prohibitory order can be passed in respect of such allowance under O. 21, R. 46 of the Code. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MADAN LAL v. LAL AMBIKA BAKSH. 63 I. C 851 : 24 O. C. 250.

——S. 62—Actual residence at date of plaint—Not necessary.

The word 'residing' for the purposes of jurisdiction does not necessarily mean keeping within the jurisdiction. If a person has a residence within the jurisdiction it is sufficient residence although he may not be staying there at the exact time when the proceedings were initiated against him. (Walsh, A C. J. and Ryves, J.) TAWASSUL HUSSAIN v. WAJID ALI. L. R. 5 A. (C.v.) 695 : 87 I. C. 795 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 140.

——S. 63—Section applies only as between Civil Courts.

S. 63 applies only as between Civil Courts—or where the section extended to Revenue Courts, as between Revenue Courts. The omission of the word "Civil" from the old definition of decree has not altered the law with respect to S. 63. Where subsequent to an attachment of property by a Civil Court, the same property was sold by a Revenue Court, the purchaser can maintain a suit for a declaration that the property was his and not liable to be sold in execution of the Civil Court's decree. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. MASHKUR ALI KHAN. 43 All. 612 : 19 A. L. J. 643 : 63 I C. 909 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 115.

——S. 63—Decree by Court of higher grade—Sale by Court of lower grade in execution—Transfer of sale proceeds to Court of higher grade for rateable distribution.

Where a property is attached and a decree passed against its owner by the Court of a higher grade, but the property is sold by a Court of lower grade in execution of a decree passed subsequently in that Court, the Court of higher grade is entitled under S. 63 to ask that the sale proceeds as well as the execution proceedings be transferred to its Court, for rateable distribution among the decree-holders who have qualified themselves under S. 73 of the Civil Procedure Code. 46 Cal. 64 Foll. 18 Bom 458 Expl. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) DEEKAPPA MALAPPA v. CHANBASAPPA RACHAPPA. 49 B. 655 : 89 I. C. 980 : 27 B. L. R. 917 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 420.

——S. 63 and 73—Execution of decree stopped by superior Court—Decree-holder entitled to rateable distribution without further application under S. 73.

The holders of the decrees of inferior Courts, whose execution had been stopped by the superior Court under S. 63, are entitled to rateable distribution under that section read with S. 73 without any further applications. 21 Cal. 200 Foll. (Case law discussed.) (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) GIRINDRA NATH v. KEDAR NATH. 29 C. W. N. 575 : 87 I.C. 783 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 966

——S. 63—Sale by Court of lower grade—Not invalid.

Where property is under attachment by two courts of different grades and the sale is held by the court of lower grade, the sale is not invalid. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) GIRIS CHANDRA GANGOPADHYA v. SRI KRISHNA DE NAG. 38 C. L. J. 266 : 75 I. C. 325 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 168.

——S. 63 (2)—Attachment by Courts of different grades—Sale by inferior Court earlier though attachment by it later—Validity—Subsequent attempt to sell the properties in execution of a decree of superior Court—Application by purchaser in execution of decree of inferior Court to stop sale—Maintainability—Civil Procedure Code, S. 47—Enquiry on application—Scope of.

Where property attached by a court of a higher grade is subsequently attached by a court of a lower grade and is sold by the latter court in execution of its decree, the sale is under S. 63 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code valid and passes title to the purchaser. Where, subsequent to the sale by the Munsif, the decree-holder in the suit in the Sub Court applied for the sale of the property in execution of his own decree, held, that the purchaser in execution of the Munsif's decree was entitled, under S. 47, Civil Procedure Code, to apply to the Sub-Court to stop the sale on the ground that the title to the property has passed to him and that it has ceased to be the property of the judgment-debtor. The purchaser in execution of the Munsif's decree is a representative of the judgment-debtor, and the matter is one relating to execution. Held further, that on such an application it would be open to the Court to inquire whether the decree of the Munsif was vitiated by fraud or on any other ground. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) SRINIVASA CHARIAR v. APPAVOO REDDY. 47 M.L.J. 720 : (1924) M. W. N. 551. 20 L. W. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 889:

——S. 63 (2)—Sale of property attached under a prior decree—Whether permissible—Effect of the rule.

The rule protects a sale of property which is already attached under a prior decree, if it takes place without the knowledge of prior decree but does not permit a Court to hold such a sale. If the same property is attached by two Courts, and sold by that one which should not sell it, the party aggrieved should apply to the District Court to have the sale proceeds transferred to that Court which ought to have sold the property. (Dass and Adami, JJ.) RAMHARI LAL v. NATHU RAM. 2 Pat L. T. 719 : 62 I. C. 33 : 6 P. L. J. 332.

——S. 64—Scope.

A transfer during the pendency of the attachment would be void only as against all claims enforceable under the attachment. It cannot be disputed that it is open to the attaching decree-holder to ignore the subsequent mortgage and to proceed to sell the whole property and not only the equity of redemption, and that if he did so, the auction-purchaser would get the whole property free from the incumbrance, the mortgage not creating any lien on the property sold. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. LALLU. 44 A. 714 : 20 A. L. J. 722 : 68 I. C. 790 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 64.

A. I. R. 1922 All. 443 (2).

——S. 64—Attachment—Sale—Mortgage during attachment for satisfying a simple money decree—Validity of mortgage.

It was contended that the mortgage deed in dispute was executed in order to pay off the money due to another attaching creditor, and that therefore this mortgage is invalid. Held, he did not hold any decree for sale He was a simple money decree-holder and as soon as his amount was paid out of Court, the attachment ceased to exist and would not affect the attaching decree-holder purchaser. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. LALLU.

44 A. 714 : 20 A.L.J. 722 : 68 I C. 790 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 443 (2).

——S. 64—Attachment—Another decree-holder's application for execution—Sale under first decree set aside—Mortgage by judgment-debtor—Effect.

A's property was attached on 5—6—'12 in execution of B's decree. C, another decree-holder applied for execution on 12—12—'13. The property was sold on 25—3—'13. On 2—4—'13 A and B applied to have the sale set aside on the ground that B's decree was satisfied out of Court. The application was disallowed but the sale was set aside on 24—5—'13 as the auction-purchaser failed to pay the purchase money. On 26—5—13, A mortgaged the property to D. C attached it on 20—6—'13 and it was sold to E who sold it on 12—2—'14 to F. D now sued to enforce the mortgage against E Held, that the mortgage could be enforced against him. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BOHRA BHUPAL v. KUNDAN LAL.

43 All. 399 : 19 A. L. J. 221 : 60 I. C. 846 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 25.

——Ss. 64 and 73—Claims enforceable under the attachment—Right to rateable distribution—Liability of transferee pending attachment.

Where an attachment has been levied on property in execution of a decree, then any attempt by the judgment-debtor to deal thereafter with the property must be considered as contrary to the attachment and the transferee or mortgagee must be considered as taking the transfer or mortgage subject to all claims which could be made against the property attached which by the law are not confined to claims of creditors attaching before the transfer but will also include the claims of any other execution creditors who may apply for execution before the assets are realised. Plaintiff attached certain properties of defendants 2-10 before judgment and defendants 2—10 subsequently mortgaged the properties. There was a decree in favour of the plaintiff against defendants 2—10. The defendant No. 1 filed another suit against defendants 2—10 and obtained a money decree. In execution of his decree plaintiff sold the properties free from the mortgage and brought the proceeds into Court. Defendant No. I applied for rateable distribution of the money realised by the sale. Held, that 1st defendant was entitled to rateable distribution. Subsequent claims for rateable distribution are claims enforceable under the original attachment within the meaning of S. 64, C. P. Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHUNILAL DEVAJI v. KARAM CHAND SHRI CHAND.

24 Bom. L. R. 364 : 69 I. C. 161 : 46 B. 895 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 241.

——S. 64—Valid release of attachment validates prior alienation.

If an attachment comes to an end validly, then upon a second attachment no Court can refuse to recognise an interest validly created in the meanwhile, but if an attachment is wrongly released and the right to attach is established subsequently according to law either by appeal or otherwise, the attachment will relate back to the time when it was made. (Rankin and Page, JJ.) NAJIMUNESSA BIBI v. NACHARADDIN SARDAR.

51 Cal. 548 : 39 C. L. J. 418 : 83 I. C. 233 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 744.

——S. 64—Grounds to avoid private transfer.

To make a private transfer or delivery void under S. 64 as against a claim for rateable distribution of assets the claim must be existing when the private transfer is made. The expression "claim enforceable under the attachment" in S.64 apart from the explanation refers to a claim in existence as such on the date of alienation. A private transfer contrary to an attachment is under S.64 not absolutely void but void only as against claims enforceable under the attachment, (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BARENDRA NATH MITTER v. MARTIN CO. 62 I. C. 167 : 33 C. L. J. 7.

——S. 64—Attachment does not create charge—Rights of creditor.

An attachment creates no charge on the attached property and confers no title on the attaching creditor but it merely prevents a private alienation of the property. 25 C. 179 ; 42 C. 72 Rel. (Martineau and Harrison, JJ.) RAM BHAJ DATTA v. RAM DAS.

3 Lah. 414 : 69 I. C. 720 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 261.

——S. 64—Attachment—Property belonging to Gaddinashin—Mutation in the name of the shrine—Effect of.

Where a property has stood in the name of Gaddinashin he cannot defeat an attachment of the property by getting it mutated in the name of the shrine. If satisfaction of the decree could not be obtained by sale of the property, the gaddinashin could be arrested and imprisoned in execution. (Chevis, J.) FIRM OF GANDA MAL & CO. v. GANGA NATH.

4 L. L. J. 49 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 147.

——S. 64—Attachment—Private transfer is voidable.

A private transfer of property under attachment is not absolutely void but is void only as against claims enforceable under attachment. (Leslie Jones and Wilberforce, JJ.) NATHU MAL v. GANGA RAM.

63 I. C. 108 (L).

——S. 64—Alienations after attachment are void and not merely voidable.

Section 64, Civil Pro. Code, says in effect that private alienation of property after attachment shall be void as against all claims enforceable under the attachment.Such alienations therefore are not voidable merely. (Madhavan Nair, J.) SRINIVASA AIYANGAR v. VELLAYAN AMBALAM.

47 M. L. J. 913: 85 I C. 349 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 338.

——S. 64—Attachment—Prior contract for sale of property Subsequent suit for specific performance—Decree—Rights of purchaser.

Property,which the 1st defendant had contracted to sell to the 2nd, was attached by the plaintiff in execution of a money decree obtained by him against the 1st defendant. After the attachment, the 2nd defendant brought a suit for specific performance and got an order for the sale from the Court and delivery of possession. He put in a claim to the property attached which was allowed.In a suit brought bythe plaintiff to set aside the order on the previous petition, held, that the attachment could not prevail against the 2nd defendant's decree by which he got possession of the property in pursuance of the contract for sale though it was open to the plaintiff, who was not a party to the suit for specific performance, to impugn the decree therein as being based on fraud or collusion. The plaintiff's proper course was to file a suit under S.53 of the Transfer of

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 64.

Property Act to have the transfer avoided as being intended to defeat creditors. (Spencer, O. C. J.) SUNKARI SITAYYA v. MUDARAGADDI SANYASI.
46 M. L. J. 361 : 19 L. W. 455 : 34 M. L. T. 110 : (1924) M. W. N. 329 : 80 I. C. 38 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 610.

——S. 64 and O. 21 R. 57—Execution petition – Dismissal when attachment ceases.

The default of the decree-holder contemplated by O. 21, R. 57, C. P. Code as a ground for dismissal of an execution application must be default in the discharge of some obligation laid on him by the Code or the rules framed under it. The omission of the decree-holder to attend the sale and his failure to bid at the sale does not constitute such default as covered by O. 21, R. 57, C. P. Code, and where an application for execution is dismissed on that ground, it does not terminate the attachment. Under a mistaken impression that an attachment of property had ceased by reason of dismissal of a prior execution application the decree-holder put in a fresh execution application and the Court ordered him to pay batta and file a schedule of the immoveable properties required to be attached. Owing to his default in furnishing the said schedule the execution application was dismissed. Held, that the dismissal of the execution was not one under O. 21, R. 57, C. P. Code, and that the attachment already subsisting on the property did not cease (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) VENKATESWARAYYAN v. ASWATHA NARAYANAN. 45 M. L. J. 315: (1923) M. W. N. 529 : 75 I. C. 491 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 703.

——S. 64—Applicability—Prohibitory order restraining payee of pro-note—Not an attachment.

A prohibitory order restraining the payee of a promissory note from receiving the money under it, has not the effect of an attachment. Such an attachment is invalid and S. 64, C. P. Code, does not apply (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. CHOKKALINGA MUDALIAR. 44 M. L. J. 206: 46 Mad 415 : 17 L. W. 314 : 72 I. C. 189 : (1923) M. W. N. 91 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 317 (2).

——S. 64—Attachment—Private sale—Agreement by decree-holder to exonerate property sold—Assignee of decree with knowledge of agreement is bound by it.

A decree-holder after attaching certain items of property entered into an agreement for consideration with a private purchaser of a particular item that he would not bring to sale that item of property. Subsequently an assignee of the decree with knowledge of the aforesaid agreement sought to bring the property alienated to sale in execution. Held, that the prohibition against alienation after an attachment was one for the benefit of the decree-holder which he could waive and that an assignee from him with knowledge of such waiver stood in the same position as his assignor and could not execute the case against the property alienated. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) NANDIGAM GANGAYYA v. MADUPALLI VENCATARAMAYYA. 44 M. L. J. 80 : 16 L. W. 988 : 31 M. L. T. (H. C.) 423 : (1923) M. W. N. 51 : 72 I. C. 839 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 230.

——S. 64 and O 21, R. 63—Decree creating a mortgage during a subsisting attachment—Not void against attaching decree-holder.

Where pending an attachment of A's properties by C, certain disputes between A and B were referred to arbitration and a decree was passed in terms of the award whereby a mortgage charge in favour of B for 2 lacs of rupees was created Held, that the decree which embodied the award was not a private transfer within S. 64 of the Code. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA IYER v. BIYARI BIVI. 41 M. L. J. 557 : 14 L. W. 524 : (1921) M. W. N 808 : 68 I. C. 673 : 45 Mad 103 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 221.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 64.

——S. 64 and O. 21, R. 63—Attachment of debt—Claim—Order allowing claim—Suit by defeated decree-holder and decree in his favour—Effect of decree—Revivor of attachment.

The release from attachment on a claim being allowed is only provisional and is subject to the result of a suit which is brought under O. 21, R. 63 of the Civ. Pro. Code, if the suit succeeds the attachment is revived from the beginning against all parties to the suit whether or not they were parties to the claim proceedings. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) ANTHAYA HEGADE v. MANJAIYA SHETTY. 41 M. L. J. 393 : 45 Mad 84 : 14 L. W. 371 : 69 I. C. 642 : (1921) M. W. N. 642 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 176.

——S. 64—Attachment before judgment—Alienation pending void—Non-compliance with O. 38, R. 5, C. P. Code - Effect of.

An alienation of property validly attached before judgment is void under S. 64, C. P. Code. But where the attachment before judgment is ultra vires and has been passed without complying with the formalities prescribed by O. 38, R. 5, C. P. Code, the alienation is not void. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BANSILAL v. SITARAM. 68 I. C. 188 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 238.

——S. 64 and O. 21, R. 58—Attachment—Revival of—Claim suit—Decree—Appeal.

On a decree being made in favour of the plff. in a claim suit, the attachment was raised. But on appeal the decree was reversed and the claim dismissed. The decree-holder then applied for execution. After the raising of the attachment and before the decree on appeal the judgment debtor alienated the property. Held, that on the subsequent application for execution the prior attachment was revived and the transfer was void as against the decree-holder. 14 M. I. A. 543 : 20 A. 421 ; 35 B. 516 : 15 C. 771 : 25 A. 431 : 16 B. 91 : 28 M. 50 : 37 C. 796 Ref. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) BHURIA v. BALIRAM. 65 I. C 220 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 138.

——S. 64—Attachment if continues after dismissal of application for execution.

It cannot be urged that decree-holder's first attachment enures beyond the dismissal of his first application for execution. If the transfer is, therefore, not made during the continuance of the attachment under which decree-holder's claim was enforced by the sale, section 64 has no application to the case. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) AMOLAK RAO v. MAHIPATRAO. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 81.

——Ss. 64 and 73—Claim enforceable under attachment—Rateable distribution.

S. 64 Expln. gives priority to claims under S. 73, C. P Code, only in connection with the attachment under which they are enforceable. If an attachment is withdrawn or ceases to exist there is no right to rateable distribution. S. 64, C. P. C., refers only to claims enforceable under the attachment effected prior to the alienation and not claims enforceable under the decree in execution of which the attachment was made. (Daniels, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.) SHEIKH MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I C. 642 : 8 O. L. J. 358.

——S. 64 and O. 21, Rr. 57 and 63—Transfer pending attachment—Cessation of attachment on dismissal of execution petition—Transfer not invalid.

S. 64, C. P. Code, avoids an alienation made which was made while an attachment remained subsisting and enforceable and not one which might have been enforced under an attachment which has since come to an end ; consequently where an attachment ceases to exist consequent on the dismissal of an execution application for default, a mortgage which was made pending such attachment cannot be impeached by the attaching creditor when he attaches the property on a fresh execution application. (Miller, C.J. and Foster, J.) BAGWAN LAL v. RAJENDRA PRASAD SAHI.

4 Pat. L. T. 409 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 564.

——— S 64—Possession delivered and money paid before attachment—Registered deed prepared during attachment—Sale not invalid.

What is aimed at in S. 64 is the transfer of a beneficial interest, delivery of property or any payment. Where the purchaser of a property had paid the purchase money and taken delivery of possession before attachment issued against vendor, but the formal sale deed was executed and registered during attachment :

Held, that the attachment did not effect purchaser's right. (Rutledge and Heald, JJ.) MAUNG SAN PWE v. HAMADANEE. 4 Bur. L. J. 166 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 382.

——— Ss. 65 and 63—Property sold in execution of two decrees—Sale by superior court not confirmed—Sale by inferior Court—Effect.

Certain property was attached in execution of a decree and was sold on 28th Feb. 1917. The same property was attached and sold by another Court in execution of another decree on 3rd March 1917 and was purchased by the plff. The first sale was never confirmed. The judgment-debtor applied to set it aside under O. 21, R. 89, and ultimately it was decided by compromise that if the judgment-debtor deposited a certain amount by a certain time the sale should be set aside. The deposit was accordingly made by the judgment-debtor, on 11th Sep. 1920, and the sale was set aside and the proceedings in the first executing Court thus terminated. The sale of the second Court was duly confirmed. The judgment-debtor had obtained from defendants the necessary money to set aside the sale by the first Court. In consideration thereof he sold the property to them on 21st Sep. 1920 with certain other properties, and put the purchaser in possession thereof. The plaintiff then brought a suit to recover possession.

Held, that when the first executing Court sold the property the purchaser merely obtained a right to get the sale confirmed, and it would not be until he obtained the sale certificate, that the vesting of the property would date back to the date of the sale. When the second executing Court sold the same property, the purchaser also obtained an inchoate right which would fail to materialize if the previous sale was confirmed. When the previous sale was set aside then the right of the purchaser from the second executing Court which had been in the meanwhile in suspense, revived, and if the sale was confirmed, then his title would date back to the date of the sale. There was nothing to prevent the judgment-debtor objecting to the second sale before the certificate was issued. Therefore the plaintiff was entitled to succeed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) VISHNU SHANKER v. YUSUF NUR MAHOMED. 27 Bom. L. R. 963 : 88 I. C. 962 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 483.

——— S. 65—Rights of purchaser at revenue and voluntary sale are different.

The rights of a purchaser at a revenue sale are entirely and radically different from those of a purchaser at a voluntary sale. (Walmsley and M. N. Mukerji, JJ.) JATINDRA NATH v. NARAYAN DAS.
52 Cal. 862 : 90 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 97.

——— S. 65—Structures erected by defaulting proprietor do not pass to purchaser.

The ownership of the structures or buildings which are admittedly erected by the defaulting proprietor does not pass to the purchaser. Prima facie and in the absence of anything else, it is the land or the share in the land which passes at the sale and not the structures or buildings on the land. (Walmsley and M. N. Mukherji, JJ.) JATINDRA NATH v. NARAYAN DAS. 52 Cal 862 : 90 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 97.

——— S. 65—Validity of—Fraud of purchaser—Annulment of encumbrances.

It is an abuse of statutory provisions for sale of tenures in execution of decrees for rent to bring about designedly a sale under such circumstances so that the right of under-tenure-holders might be destroyed, an unencumbered title conveyed to the purchaser, and the maximum of benefit conferred upon the defaulter. In such a case, the transaction is a private sale. Though the purchaser joined in the fraud after the default had been made, he cannot by reason of his entering into the agreement before the sale which was the machinery by which the fraud was to be carried out and with knowledge thereof, be permitted to enjoy to the detriment of others, the benefits which result to a purchaser at a sale for arrears of rent or revenue. 10 M.I.A. 540 ; 12 C.L.J. 336 ; 18 W. R. 240 Ref. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) TEJENDRA CHANDRA DHAR v. DURGADAS DUTT. 67 I. C. 398 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 324.

——— S. 65—What passes under—Person in adverse possession must surrender possession to purchaser.

On the failure of an owner to pay the Government assessment his estate or interest in the land is forfeited or rather determined and under a sale for arrears of revenue. What is sold is not the interest of the defaulting owner but the interest of the Crown subject to the payment of the Government assessment. A person in adverse possession who occupies the land without payment of rent to the defaulting proprietor is bound to surrender possession of that land to the revenue sale purchaser when the sale confirmed, and if the land is not so surrendered he renders himself liable for mesne profits, as he unlawfully keeps the purchaser out of possesssion. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) JOBEDA KHATUN v. TULSI CHARAN DAS. 36 C. L. J. 472 : 77 I. C. 564 : A. I R 1923 Cal 82.

——— S. 65—Purchaser—Rights of—Person in adverse possession.

A purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue does not derive his title from the defaulting proprietor but takes the estate from the person as it stood at the time of its inception as a permanently settled estate. A person in adverse possession who occupies the disputed land without paying rent to the defaulting proprietor is bound to surrender possession of the lands to the purchaser at the revenue sale if the sale is confirmed. Otherwise he would be liable for mesne profits. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA SASHIKANTA v. RAJA SARAT CHANDRA. 70 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 415.

——— S. 65—Property sold vests in the purchaser from the date of sale—Auction-purchaser is entitled to profits and responsible for loss from the date of the sale to him.

Section 65 lays down that when a sale has been confirmed, the immoveable property sold shall be deemed to have vested in the purchaser from the date of the sale and not from the date of the sale becoming absolute. Under the old Code the position was precisely the reverse. 1923 Mad. 635 Foll. The auction-purchaser is obviously entitled to claim profits and accretions to the property from the date of the sale to him. So the converse also holds true and he must be held responsible for any deterioration or loss which the property suffers in the meantime. 40 Cal. 89 Foll. (Findlay, O. J. C.) NIRZAMUDDIN v. JUMMA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 65.

88 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17.

——S. 65—Rights of purchaser—Property purchased subject to encumbrance—Effect of.

Where a purchaser at an execution sale buys the property which is encumbered, he must be deemed to accept the burden of the encumbrance and cannot thereafter escape from it merely because his purchase has not been profitable. 31 M. 439 ; 40 B. 646, Ref. to. (Hallifax. A. J. C.) PANDURANG v NARAYAN.
76 I. C. 615 : 6 N. L. J. 78 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 111.

——S. 65—Revenue sale what passes under.

What passes to a purchaser at a revenue sale is only the right, title and interest of the defaulting proprietors. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM NANDAN SAHAY v. JAIGOBIND PANDEY. 2 Pat. 839 : 75 I. C. 955 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 213.

——S. 65—What passes under.

Both in a sale in execution of money decree, and in a sale in execution of rent-decrees the right, title and interest only of the jagirdar in the tenure passes and consequently one who purchases first prevails against subsequent purchasers. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) BINANAND SAWATI v. THUROO MAHTO.
1923 P. H. C. C. 249 : 4 Pat. L. T. 659 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 592.

——S. 65—Auction-Purchaser—Mortgage.

There is no difference between a person who purchases by private treaty and a person acquires by a sale under a mortgage decree, property from the mortgagor. The mortgagee auction-purchaser stands in no better position against a stranger than the mortgagor himself. (Dawson-Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) BASANTA KUMARI v. BALMAKUND.
2 P. 277 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 1 : 72 I. C. 912 : 1 P. L. R. 338 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 371.

——S. 66—Sale Proclamation—Statement as to revenue assessed—Omission of—Effect.

Under section 66 it is plain that the proclamation should contain the statement as to the revenue assessed upon the estate, that it is a material matter and that its omission is the omission of a matter which would enable the judgment-debtor to base an application for setting aside the sale if he could comply with the other condition that the Code provides. (Lord Buckmaster.) BALIRAM SINGH v. NARSINGDAS.
45 M. L. J. 403: 18 L. W. 137 : 33 M. L. T. 275 : L. R. 4 P. C. 197 : 28 C. W. N. 593 : (1923) M. W. N. 714 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 93 (P. C.).

——S. 66—Applicability—Sale by Receiver—Confirmation and sale certificate.

S. 66, C. P. Code, does not apply to a sale by a Receiver with the approval of the Court which appointed him. In such a case there is no sale certificate issued by court nor a confirmation order of the sale passed. (Kanhaiya Lal and Lindsay, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. RAM CHANDRA. 90 I. C. 116 : L. R. 6 A. 610.

——S. 66—The section is not a bar when the certified purchaser does not contest plaintiff's claim.

S. 66 of the Code of Civil Procedure only applies when the plaintiff attempts to assert his secret title as against a certified purchaser. But where the certified purchaser does not contest the plaintiff's claim the suit is not barred. 1923 Cal. 302, Foll. (Neave, J.) JAMBU DASS v. JAI PRAKASH L R. 5 A. (Civ.) 671 : 82 I. C. 344 : A. I. R 1925 All. 47.

——S. 66—Applicability of.

Where out of two joint mortgages, one alone sued making the other pro forma defendant, and obtained a decree in execution of which he purchased the property in his own name, and the question arose whether the other joint mortgagee can claim a share of the property purchased. Held, that S. 66 of the C. P. Code does not apply and he is not entitled to claim a share. 29 All. 557 and 37 All. 545 (P. C.) Dist. (Gokul Prasad, J.) MAKHAN LAL v. BADRI PRASAD.
A. I. R. 1923 All. 405.

——S. 66—Sale held by Receiver is not a sale held in execution—S. 66 does not apply to such sales—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 94.

A sale by a Receiver is not a sale by the Court but a sale under the Court and in such cases the Court does not grant a sale certificate nor does it confirm the sale. S. 66, C. P. Code, does not apply to such sales. 16 C. W. N. 394 Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal and Lindsay, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. RAM CHANDER.
24 A. L. J. 26 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 610 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 124.

——S. 66—Suit for declaration of benami nature of purchase does not lie.

A suit by a son, who with his father constituted a joint Hindu family for a declaration that a Court auction-purchase in the name of his mother, made out of family funds, is benami, is not maintainable in view of S. 66 of the Code. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) BAIJNATH DAS v. BISHEN DEVI. 19 A. L. J. 787 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 147 : 63 I. C. 676 : 43 A. 711.

——S. 66—Benami—Auction-purchase—Suit by real purchaser against transferee—Transfer made before but suit brought after the new Code—Effect.

Where an auction purchase was made by a benami in the name of B who subsequently transferred it to C and after the new Act came into force A sued C for possession on the ground that both the auction-purchase and the transfer to C were benami for himself, held, that S. 66 of the new Code applied and that the suit was barred. (Mears, C. J. and Knox, J.) ABDUL JALIL KHAN v. UBEDULLAH. 43 All. 416 : 62 I. C. 725 : 19 A. L. J. 227.

——S. 66—Scope of—Retrospective effect.

S. 66 operates retrospectively and a suit cannot be maintained against the transferee of a certified benami purchaser though the transfer took place when the old Code of 1882 was in force. (Mears, C. J. and Knox, J.) ABDUL JALIL KHAN v. UBEDULLAH KHAN.
43 A. 416 : 62 I. C. 725 : 19 A. L. J. 227.

——S. 66—Suit for confirmation of possession after declaration that purchase at court auction was benami for plff. (Cuming and Chakravarti, JJ.) UMASASI DEBI v. AKRUR CHANDRA MAZUMDAR UMASASI. 30 C. W. N. 160.

——S. 66—Benamidar—Benamidar not claiming the property—Effect of.

S. 66, C.P. Code, has no application in a case where the benamidar himself does not claim under the sale certificate. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SARADINDU CHAKRAVARTHY v. GOSTA BEHARI.
37 C. L. J. 403 : 27 C. W. N. 208 : 75 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 302.

——S. 66—Not retrospective—Execution sale under the old Code.

S. 66, C.P. Code, has no retrospective operation and does avail an execution-purchaser whose title was perfected under the Code of 1882. 47 C. 1108 Rel. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) PROMODE KUMAR ROY v. MADAN MOHAN SAHA. 36 C. L. J. 396 : 70 I. C. 555 : 27 C. W. N. 305 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 228.

——S. 66—Benami—Certified purchaser—Possession with real purchase.

S. 66 of the C. P. Code should not be restricted to benami purchases made by or on behalf of judgment-debtors. 12 B.L.R 317 ; 22 C.L.J. 408 ref. The failure of the alleged benamidar of the certified purchaser to assert his rights against the real purchaser during the latter's possession after the auction purchase cannot be regarded as a waiver or transfer of the right. 11 Mad. 234 not foll. 23 All. 175 Foll. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) HARISH CHANDRA GUHA v NRIPENDRA KUMAR CHUCKRAVARTI. 59 I. C. 719 : 24 C. W. N. 1024.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 66.

——— S. 66—Manager of joint Hindu family—Benami-purchase by—Suit by other members for a share—C. P. Code of 1882, S. 317.

In execution of a decree obtained by A, the manager of a joint Hindu family, with the aid of joint family funds purchased the property of the judgment debtor himself benami in the name of B a stranger without obtaining leave of the Court to bid. In a suit for partition by A's son against the other members of the family and B. Held that S. 66, C. P. C. was no bar to the plaintiff's claim to a partition of the property purchased in the name of B. on the ground that B was only a benamidar for A and that the property was joint family property. The purchase was not one made on behalf of the plaintiff within the meaning of S. 66 (1) C. P. Code. 6 M. 135 ; 9 M. L. J. 298 : 20 M. 349; 40 A. 159 Ref. (Schwabe, C. J. and Coutts Trotter, J.) NATARAJA MUDALIAR v. RAMASWAMI MUDALIAR. 43 M. L. J. 363 : (1922) M. W. N. 584 : 16 L W. 358 : 73 I. C. 479 : 45 M. 856 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 481.

———S. 66—Third person purchasing property disregarding decree holder's instructions to obtain leave and bid for him Decree-holder can't sue for possession.

S. 66 of the Civ Pro. Code will stand in the way of a decree-holder suing for possession of property from a person who purchases the property in his own name disregarding the instructions of the decree-holder to bid at the sale for him after obtaining the Court's permission, because the purchase in such case will be benami for the decree-holder. (Case-law discussed.) (Baker, J. C.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR v NAWAL KISHORE 82 I. C. 41 : A I. R. 1925 Nag. 41.

———S. 66—Applicability of—Agreement with auction-purchaser—Specific performance of contract—No bar.

A suit claiming specific performance of an agreement to sell made by a purchaser cannot be described as a suit brought on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff, i. e., benami. The purchase is made on behalf of the purchaser with whom the title remains until the plaintiff obtains specific performance of the contract. The object of the section appears to be to prevent the executing Court being led to believe that a person who is not the purchaser is the purchaser. If the plaintiff proves the original contract and fails to prove the subsequent contract, he is entitled to fall back on the original contract. 43 Mad. 643 (P. C.) at 649 and 42 Mad. 615 Ref. (Batten, J. C.) ABDULLA KHAN v. JALAM SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 11 (2.)

———S. 66—Does not exclude evidence as to auction purchaser being benami for another where such evidence is relevant.

S. 66 of the C.P. Code, makes a suit founded on the ground mentioned therein not maintainable. It does not go further ; it has not the effect of excluding evidence as to the auction-purchaser being a benami for another wherever such evidence is relevant. Where the suit is founded on title by prescription in determining that title, the fact of the purchaser being benami for another may be taken into consideration. (Wazir Hasan, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) MT. MUHAMMAD UNNISSA v. SYED ZAHED RAZA. 11 O. L. J. 466 : 84 I. C. 98 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 20.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 68.

———S. 66—Applicability of—Title of person beneficially interested in the purchase—Not affected.

S. 66 of the C. P. Code was designed merely to create a check on the practice of making benami purchases at execution sale, for benefit of the judgment-debtors but in no way affected the title of persons otherwise beneficially interested in the purchase. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A J. Cs.) THAKUR JAI INDAR BAHADUR SINGH v. THAKUR INDAR BAHADUR SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 481 : 78 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 218.

——S. 66—Benami—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

S. 66 does not avoid benami purchases or render them illegal, but when such purchases are made at Court sales, it bars the legal remedies by which they can otherwise be enforced The section does not bar a Civil Court from dealing with a cause of action based on a contract between the parties on the equities arising out of the contract. The Court is not barred from decreeing specific performance in the case where before an auction purchase a contract is made between the plaintiff and defendant that the property should be purchased by the defendant in his own name and subsequent to the purchase the defendant should convey a certain share to the plaintiff. (Das, J) BIKRAM AHIR v. RAJPATILAL. 62 I. C. 720 : 1921 P. H. C C. 21.

———S. 67—Act I of 1914—Sanction of Commissioner to sale by Receiver of insolvent's agricultural lands.

Where the Local Government has not issued notification under S. 3 of Act I of 1914, that special rules under S.327 of the old C. P. Code were in force, the insolvent's land can be sold by the Receiver without the sanction of Commissioner. (Scott-Smith, J.) FAKIR MUHAMMED v. AMIR CHAND. 66 I. C. 893 : 3 Lah. L. J. 5.

———S. 68—Transfer of decree to Collector for execution—Sale—Purchase by decree-holder—Discovery of encumbrances by purchaser—Re-sale—Powers of Collector—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

A decree holder who had obtained a mortgage decree made an enquiry in the Sub-Registrar's Office and declared that the property to be sold in execution was ancestral and free from encumbrances. The decree was thereafter transferred to the Collector for execution with a note that there were no encumbrances over the property. The property was sold by the Collector and purchased by the decree-holder himself. He gave a certificate of satisfaction of his own decree and had under the rules to pay the balance. He then discovered that there was heavy encumbrance over the property, the date of which being more than twelve years prior to the date of the sale was not shown in the Sub-Registrar's certificate for twelve years. The decree-holder did not put in the balance of the purchase money and asked the Collector to re-sell the property declaring the encumbrance which he discovered. The Assistant Collector who was in charge of sale, refused to hear him, being of opinion that he could not go behind the orders of the Civil Court. Held that the order of the Court below was erroneous because the decree having been sent to the Collector for execution proceedings, in spite of the sale having taken place, it was for the Collector to decide whether he would resell the property or not in order to realise the balance of the purchase money. (Mukerji and Daniels, JJ.) SHAHZAD SINGH v HANUMAN RAI. 46 A. 562 : 22 A. L. J. 452 : L. R. 5 A. 350 : A. I. R. 1924 A. 704.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 68.

——— S. 68 and Sch. III—Execution sale—Ancestral property sold as non-ancestral property, whether can be set aside.

Where with the knowledge of the judgment-debtor, ancestral property was sold by the Court in execution of a decree in the manner prescribed for the sale of non-ancestral property a subsequent suit by the judgment-debtor to set aside the execution sale on account of that irregularity is not maintainable. 28 A. 273, 42 A. 58 foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) BHATELAY CHUNNI LAL v. CHAKKERPAN. 44 A. 380 : 20 A. L. J. 281 : 67 I. C. 934 : L. R. 3 A. 167 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 56.

——— S. 68—Rules framed under R. 17 of the Bombay High Court—Transfer of decrees for execution.

R. 17 of the Bombay High Court, which regulates the procedure to be followed when decrees are transferred for execution, provides that if an application to set aside a sale is made to the Collector, within the prescribed time, he shall refer the applicant to a Civil Court: In every proclamation for sale, it should be notified that a person wishing to set aside a sale under O. 21, C. P. Code, must apply to the Court and not to the Collector within 30 days of the date of sale, and if an applicant still applies to the Collector, he should be referred to the Civil Court without a moment's delay. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SHANTMURTI DEVAPPA v. NARAYANA RAMACHANDRA. 45 Bom. 1132 : 62 I. C. 221 : 23 Bom. L. R. 476.

——— Ss. 68 and 69—Agriculturist—Power of civil court to order temporary alienation.

A Civil Court can order the temporary alienation of the land of an agricultural tribe in satisfaction of a money decree. (Scott-Smith and Dundas, JJ.) SAIN DITTA v. NUR AHMAD. 74 I C. 194 : 4 Lah. L.J. 476.

——— S. 73—Rival decree-holders—Right of one decree-holder to impeach his rival's decree as being fraudulent.

An executing Court, when rateably distributing the proceeds of a sale in execution, cannot go into the question whether the decree under which distribution is claimed has been obtained by fraud. 13 Bom. 154, overruled. (Macleod, C. J., Shah and Fawcett, JJ.) DATTATRAYA GOVINDSETH LUBRI v. PURSHOTTAM NARAYANSETH DALI. 46 Bom. 635 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 31 (F.B.).

——— S 73—Attachment not sufficient—Execution application necessary.

A mere application for attachment of property is not sufficient to entitle the applicant to share in the rateable distribution of the assets. He must make an application in execution to the court before assets are received. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) KASIWAR DE v. ASWINI KUMAR PAL. 90 I. C. 527 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 249.

——— S. 73—Properties sold in separate lots—Realisation of assets is separate in case of each lot.

Where the properties were sold separate and their sale proceeds were realised separately. Held: that the sale of each lot was at any rate completed when the whole of the balance of the purchase money for that lot was deposited in Court, and that a person who had applied for rateable distribution after the properties began to be sold was not entitled to rateable distribution of the sale proceeds of the whole of the properties but only of the sale proceeds of the properties that were sold subsequent to his application. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) GIRINDRA NATH v. KEDAR NATH. 29 C. W. N. 575 : 87 I. C. 783 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 966.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 73.

——— S. 73—Mere deposit of earnest money is not assets realised by sale.

The mere deposit of the earnest money cannot be said to be the assets realised by the sale of any property until the balance of the purchase money is deposited and the sale becomes a concluded transaction. 14 C. W. N. 396 and 15 C. W. N. 872 Foll. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) GIRINDRA NATH v. KEDAR NATH. 29 C. W. N. 575 : 87 I. C. 783 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 966.

——— S. 73—Scope.

Order for rateable distribution of assets cannot be made in anticipation of assets being realised. (Chatterjea and Panton, JJ.) ADWIT CHANDRA SAHA v. CHITTAGONG CO., LTD. 28 C. W. N. 988 : 84 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102.

——— S. 73—Right to—Rateable distribution—Partner's property—Attachment of partner's share in execution of a personal decree—Consent of other partners—Effect of Contract Act, S. 262.

There were two decrees against a person one in his personal capacity and the other against him and his partner in respect of partnership debts. In execution of the personal decree, his half share in the partnership moveables was attached with the consent of the other partner. Subsequently the whole of the moveables including the half share already attached were attached for the decree against partnership. Both the attaching decree-holders consented to rateably divide among themselves the proceeds of sale of the moveables but the other partner objected, Held, that the other partner having consented to the attachment of a half share of the moveables, they ceased to be partnership property and were liable to be distributed for the debts of the other partners.

Per Mukerji, J.—An application for rateable distribution would be maintainable even though the two Judgment-debtors of the two decrees were not precisely the same. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) DWARIKA DAS MARWARI v. JADAB CHANDRA GANGULY. 51 Cal. 761 : 28 C. W. N. 704 : 78 I. C. 731 : 39 C. L. J. 439 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 801.

——— S. 73—Avoidance of multiplicity of execution proceedings and placing all decree-holders on the same footing are the two objects of the section—Word 'passed' has made no change in law prior to 1908.

The insertion of the word "passed" does not make any change in the law prior to C. P. C. 1908. 'The object of the section is two-fold. The first object is to prevent unnecessary multiplicity of execution proceeding, to obviate in a case where there are many decree-holders each competent to execute his decree by attachment and sale of a particular property the necessity of each and every one separately attaching and separately getting the property. The other object is to secure an equitable administration of the property by placing all the decree-holders in the position upon the same footing and making the property rateably divisible among them instead of allowing one to exclude all the others merely because he happened to be the first who had attached and sold the property. Principle enunciated in the Full Bench decision in the case of Ganesh Das Bagria v. Shiva Lakshman Bhakat. 30 C. 583 is not affected by the alteration of the law. (Walmsley and M. N. Mukerji, JJ.) DWARKA DAS MARWARI v. JADAB CHANDRA. 51 Cal. 761 : 39 C. L. J. 439 · 28 C. W. N. 704 . 78 I. C. 731 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 801.

——— Ss. 73 and 115—Assets—Money deposited by sureties for release of an attachment before Judgment—Rateable distribution of such money—Interference in revision.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 73.

In a money-suit certain property belonging to the defendant was attached before judgment and then released on two persons standing sureties for the amount of the claim. The suit was ultimately decreed and the decree holder applied for execution, whereupon the sureties deposited the decretal amount in Court. On that very day just before the deposit was made, the petitioner who also held a money-decree against the same judgment-debtor, applied for execution of his decree and prayed for rateable distribution of the amount deposited. The application was refused by the trial Court and the money paid out to the attaching creditor on the latter giving an undertaking to refund the amount in case the High Court reversed the order rejecting the petitioner's application of rateable distribution. Held, that the amount deposited was subject to rateable distribution under S. 73, C. P. Code. The natural interpretation of the wide language of the section would include any assets in the possession of the Court and at the disposal of the Court for the purpose of satisfying a decree against a judgment-debtor. There is no reason why it should be restricted to what is paid in by virtue of a process taken in execution. Besides, the assets in the present case though not strictly speaking realized in process of execution were realized by a process in the nature of an anticipatory execution. 40 Cal. 619 : 36 Bom. 156 referred to. 41 Mad. 616 discussed. In cases like these where no appeal is allowed, it has been the practice of the High Court to interfere under the powers conferred by S. 115 of C. P. Code. (Richardson, J.) GHISULAL v. TODARMULL. 26 C. W. N. 169 : 70 I. C. 539 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 19.

——S. 73—Assets—Meaning of—Change in Code.

The omission of the words "realized by sale or otherwise in execution" and the substitution of "assets held by the court" must have been deliberate and the intention of the legislature was that the term 'assets' should now include any assets held by the court irrespective of the manner in which they came into possession of the court. The scope of the section has been purposely broadened. (Cuming, J.) HARI CHARAN ROY CHAUDHURI v. BIRENDRA NATH SAHA. 70 I. C. 541 : 35 C. L. J. 327.

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution—Application in two Courts for execution—Assets realised by Superior Court.

A held two decrees against D obtained on different dates and under both, attached his goods before judgment. B also held a decree against him and attached his goods between the dates of the two attachments by A. All the three decrees were passed by the Small Cause Court, Calcutta. A applied to the Munsiff at N and B applied to the Sub-Judge at D for execution by whom the goods were sold. A applied for rateable distribution to the Sub-Judge at D but the application was disallowed. Held, that as regards the decree, the attachment due to which was prior to that of B- he was entitled to rateable distribution and as regards the other, he had no right. (N. R. Chatterji and Newbould, JJ.) KRISHNA KUMAR GHOSE v. MAKHANLAL BANNERJI. 63 I.C. 11 : 25 C. W. N. 740.

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution—Duty of creditor.

A creditor, to get a right to rateable distribution, must have applied to the Court which holds the assets, before the receipt of such assets, for the execution of an unsatisfied decree for the payment of money passed against the same judgment-debtor. (Mookerjee A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BARENDRA NATH MITTER v. MARTIN & CO. 62 I. C. 167 : 33 C. L. J. 7.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 73.

——S. 73—Priority—Points to be determined.

To determine the question of priority the material point of time is not the date of sale of the mortgaged property but the date of receipt of assets by the Court. Where a subsequent encumbrancer claims the benefit of S. 73 (1) (c), the Court must satisfy itself that he is lawfully entitled to priority over the holders of decrees for the payment of money mentioned in the fourth category. (Mookerjee, A. C. J and Fletcher, J.) BARENDRA NATH MITTER v. MARTIN & CO. 62 I. C. 167 : 33 C. L. J. 7.

——S. 73—Assets—Money paid to Sheriff in execution of a decree—Costs of previous execution—Right to.

Where a decree-holder applied for execution and money was paid by the judgment-debtor to the Sheriff who paid it into Court and two other creditors who had previously applied for execution asked for rateable distribution. Held, that the money so lying in Court was assets available for rateable distribution. The right to rateable distribution is limited to the amount due under the decree and does not apply to costs of a previous application for execution. 36 Bom. 156 Diss. 40 Cal. 619, ref. (Rankin. J.) NOOR MAHOMED DAWOOD v. BILASIRAM TAKURSIDASS. 59 I. C. 458 : A. I. R. 47 Cal. 515.

——S. 73—Assets held by Court—Right to rateable distribution.

Although the respondents had actually had the money attached before judgment this fact would not entitle them to an order for the rateable distribution when they had not obtained their decree before the money was realised. 21 C. L. J. 614 Ref. Where money was wrongly paid over to the petitioners, Held, even if the petitioners had not been entitled to receive the money the respondents could not compel them to refund it without bringing a suit in accordance with the provisions of S. 73. (Martineau, J.) KAHNA MAL BENARSI DAS v. KAHNA MAL NATHU MAL. 40 P.L.R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 718 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70.

——S. 73—Revision.

The High Court will not interfere in revision with orders disallowing or allowing claim for rateable distribution except in very exceptional circumstances. (Chevis, J.) BHAGAT RAM KALYAN DAS v. MANGAT RAM SHIBBU RAM. 60 I. C. 371 (Lah.).

——S. 73—Rateable distribution—Right to—Conditions—Execution application praying for a relief which the Court could not grant—If a ground for rejecting that decree-holder's application under S. 73.

Only two conditions must be fulfilled to entitle a person to rateable distribution under S. 73, Civil Procedure Code. He must have a money decree against the same person of which satisfaction has not been obtained ; and he must have applied for execution of that decree before the assets were realised. It is not necessary to entitle him to join in the rateable distribution, that his execution application should be such as would have ended in his successfully obtaining satisfaction of his decree. Held, therefore, that the execution application of a decree-holder was for the arrest of a person who could not have been arrested, because he was outside the jurisdiction, was quite immaterial so far as S. 73 was concerned. (Krishnan, J.) SUBRAMANIAM CHETTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTY. 49 M. L. J. 753 : 22 L. W. 744 : 91 I. C. 11 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 179.

——S. 73—Revision is allowed though remedy by suit is available—C.P. Code, S. 115.

The special remedy by way of suit under S. 73 does not prevent a Court from interfering under S. 115 where there is a manifest error in the order under

S. 73, and putting that error correct as otherwise the parties will be driven to unnecessary litigation. (Krishnan, J.) SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTI. 49 M.L.J. 753 : 22 L.W. 744 : (1926) M.W.N 27 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 179.

——S. 73—Rateable distribution applied for after realisation of assets—Application cannot be rejected.

Presentation after realisation of assets is no ground for refusing an application for rateable distribution, provided that execution of decree has been applied for before realisation of assets. (Srinivasa Aiyangar. J.) KARPAGA NIDHI, LTD. v. COIMBATORE VANIA VILASA NIDHI, LTD. 48 M. L. J. 489 : 21 L. W. 518 : 87 I. C. 390 : (1925) M.W.N. 173 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 587.

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution—Conditions to be satisfied.

In a suit by S against defendant in the Court of the District Munsif certain properties were attached before judgment and their sale proceeds were deposited in Court to the credit of the suit on 11-4-1917. Subsequently N brought a suit against the same defendant in the same Court and attached the money in Court deposit to the credit of the prior suit. N obtained a decree on 19—4—1917 and on 7—6—1917 he applied in S's suit for payment out to him of the money in Court. While this application was pending S got a decree on 2—7—1917 and on the next day applied for payment out to him. In the meantime one R had brought a suit in the same Court against the same defendant, obtained a decree and applied for payment of the money in Court on 29—6—1917. On a question arising as to which of the plaintiffs S. N. and R. was entitled to be paid the sum in Court, held, that under S. 73, C. P. Code the money in Court was liable to be rateably distributed among the three decree-holders S. N. and R. 44 M. 100 : 39 M. L. J. 608 Relied on. 42 M. 692 Diss. (Schwabe, C. J., Krishnan and Wallace, JJ.) NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR v. SUBBIER. 44 M. L. J. 413 : 46 Mad. 506 : 17 L. W. 390 : 72 I. C. 820 · 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 198 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 505. [On appeal from 70 I. C. 20 (2)].

——S. 73 and O. 38, R. 11—Rival decree-holders—Several attachments—Attachment before judgment—Effect of.

Where there are several attachments before judgment and the moneys are realised before any of the plaintiffs obtains a decree, the moneys should be held to the credit of all the suits and distributed between all the attaching creditors who subsequently obtained decrees. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) SUBRAMANIAM CHETTY v. SANKARA AIYAR. 15 L. W. 531 : (1922) M. W. N. 262 : 31 M. L. T. 70 (H. C.) : 68 I. C. 714 : A. I. R.1922 Mad. 236 (1).

——Ss. 73 and 47—Rival decree-holder—Order for rateable distribution.

Where an order for rateable distribution is made among rival decree-holders on a decision of the disputes among them without any objection on the part of the judgment-debtor or without in any way affecting his rights, the order is not one under S. 47, C. P. C. or a decree within the meaning of S. 144, C. P. Code. If the order for rateable distribution is set aside on appeal, there is no power to order restitution under S. 144, C. P. Code. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Row, JJ.) VARADA RAMASWAMI v. UMMA VENKATARATNAM. 42 M. L. J. 473 : 30 M. L. T. 178 : (1922) M. W. N. 184 : 15 L. W. 421 : 67 I. C. 546 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 99.

——S. 73—Fund in Court—Order for rateable distribution—Payment not made—Ownership of the fund.

Where moneys have been allowed to various decree-holders by an order for rateable distribution and stand to the credit of their respective suits, those moneys are no longer the property of the judgment-debtor, but they remain the properties of the various decree-holders even though the amounts have not been paid out to them (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) OFFICIAL RECEIVER OF TANJORE v. VENKATARAMA IYER. 42 M. L. J. 361 : (1922) M. W. N. 51 : 30 M. L. T. 67 : 15 L. W. 37 : 68 I. C. 512 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 31.

——S. 73—'Assets held in Court'—Meaning of.

'Assets held by a Court' mean assets levied in execution or paid into Court in satisfaction of the decree under execution. A mere order of attachment does not of itself effect a transfer of the money standing to the credit of another suit from that credit to the credit of the suit in which the attachment took place. S. A. No. 662 of 1919 (F B.) Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) SUBBIER v. NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR. 14 L. W. 582 : 70 I. C. 20 (2) : (1921) M. W. N. 817.

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution—Deposit in Court to the credit of judgment-debtor.

Money paid in Court to the credit of judgment-debtor before any decree-holder applies to have it paid in satisfaction of his decree, is liable to rateable distribution among decree-holders who apply for execution either before or after such money is paid into Court. (Wallis, C. J., Ayling, Sadasiva Aiyar, Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) VISVANATHAN CHETTY v. ARUNACHELAM CHETTY. 39 M. L. J. 608 : 44 Mad. 100 : 12 L. W. 744 : 28 M. L. T. 412 : 60 I. C. 302 : (1921) M. W. N. 14. (F. B.).

——S. 73 and O. 21, R. 52—Fund in Court—Attachment—Rival decree-holders—Priority—Receipt of assets.

When a Court in execution of a decree attaches a fund in the Court the latter Court holds the fund subject to the direction of the executing Court and to transfer it to that Court. The fund as soon as it is transferred to the execution Court becomes "assets held by that Court" within S. 73 of the C.P. Code. All decree holders who have applied for execution to the executing Court before the receipt of such assets are entitled to rateable distribution. If the executing Court and the custody Court are the same, the fund becomes the assets within S. 73 of the C. P. Code by an order of attachment coupled with a formal order of transfer of the fund to the credit of the suit in which the execution is sought. (Wallis, C. J., Ayling, Sadasiva Airar, Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) VISVANATHAN CHETTI v. ARUNACHELLAM CHETTY. 39 M. L. J. 608 : 44 Mad. 100 : (1921) M. W N. 14 : 12 L. W. 744 : 60 I. C 302 · 28 M. L. T. 412 (F.B.).

——S. 73 and O. 21, R. 72—Rival decree-holders—Permission to one to bid and to set-off—Right of the other decree-holders to rateable distribution not affected.

One of two decree-holders against a common judgment-debtor got permission to bid at the auction sale and to set off his claim against the purchase money, and purchased one item of the property but did not deposit the purchase money. Another item was sold to a stranger who deposited the purchase money whereupon the other decree-holder applied for rateable distribution. Held, that he was entitled to rateable distribution in respect of both the purchases as the permission to set off granted to the other decree-holder did not affect the right to such distribution. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ARUNACHALAM CHETTY v. SOMA-

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 73.

SUNDARAM CHETTY. 59 I. C. 86 : 12 L. W. 328.

——S. 73—Application for execution is essential.

Before a person is entitled to rateable distribution under S. 73 an application for execution must be made. Where no regular applications for execution have been made and the prayer is only for rateable distribution of the assets, no rateable distribution can be ordered. 1924 Nag. 39 Ref. 17 N. L. R. 143 Foll. (Baker, J. C.) ALI MAHOMED v. MAHOMED NOOR. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 382.

——S. 73—The section does not apply to deposits by judgment-debtor for a particular decree-holder.

Civil Procedure Code, S. 73, applies to a case where money is realised in execution by process of the Court and not when the judgment-debtor deposits in Court for payment to a particular decree-holder. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) FIRM OF HAJI UMAR SHARIF v. RODBA. 81 I. C. 7 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 157.

——S. 73—Applicability—Nature of proceedings—Inquiry into bona fides of decree.

The proceedings under S. 73, C. P. Code are of non-judicial character and the Court cannot inquire into the validity or otherwise of the decrees under which payments are claimed. (Kotval, A. J. C.) MAGENMAL v. RAGHUNATH RAO. 19 N. L. R. 172 : 75 I C. 749 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 39.

——S. 73 and O. 21, R. 11—Application for execution—Application for rateable distribution is not.

Before a decree-holder can claim rateable distribution he must, before the receipt of the assets, have applied to the Court by which the assets are held for the execution of his decree, and such application must be in the form prescribed by O. 21, R. 11, (2) C. P. Code. An application for rateable distribution is not an application for execution. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) DWARKADAS v. GHASI RAM. 64 I. C. 53 : 17 N. L. R. 143.

——S. 73—Where set-off is claimed under O. 21, R. 72, application under S. 73 must be made before decree-holder's application for set off.

In a case where an application for set-off is made and there are no obstacles to the granting of it, that is to say, no application exists under S. 73 for rateable distribution at the time of making the application for set-off, the Court will ordinarily be bound to grant the set-off, and if that is done there can be no receipt of assets by the Court within S. 73. An order allowing a set-off under O. 21, R. 72, is not equivalent to receipt of the assets. It is a disposal of the purchase-money over which the Court re-acquired dominion on the date of the sale. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) MOHAN LAL v. AMAR NATH. 80 I. C. 40 : A I. R. 1925 Oudh 287.

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution.

Claims enforceable under the attachment cease to have effect on withdrawal of attachment. (Daniels and Dalal, A. J. Cs.) MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I. C. 642 : 8 O. L. J. 358.

——S. 73—Applicability—Identity of judgment-debtors not necessary.

S. 73, C. P. Code, is imperative and does not imply that an application for execution is necessary to obtain the benefit of it. It is not necessary that all the judgment-debtors in the several decrees should be identical, and the fact that in one there is an extra judgment-debtor does not make the section inapplicable. The addition of the word "passed" in 1908 has not restricted the application of the section. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MT. INDERBASI KUER v. SAT NARAYAN SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 373 : 74 I. C. 626 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 216 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 521.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 73, (1) (b).

——S. 73—Right to rateable distribution—Property sold free of mortgage—Rights of mortgagee.

When property liable to be sold in execution of a decree is sold free from mortgage under S. 73 (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure the mortgagee has that same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold. But to enforce his interest he must proceed by way of suit, and he cannot obtain an order for payment of the amount alleged to be due on the mortgage until he had obtained a decree. (Robinson, Offg. C. J.) V. P. T. REDDYAR v. V. R. M. ARUNACHALAM CHETTY. 13 Bur. L. T. 210 : 64 I. C. 417 : 10 L. B. R. 398.

——S. 73, O. 38, R. 1—Assets—Arrest before judgment—Money deposited to avoid arrest—Attachment by other decree-holders.

Payment into Court by a judgment-debtor to avoid arrest is payment for a specific purpose, viz., the satisfaction of the plaintiff's decree and is therefore not attachable by other judgment-creditors. (Raymond, A. J. C.) MAHBUBBUX v. BUKSH ELAHI. 61 I. C. 424 : 14 S. L. R. 164.

——S. 73, O. 38, R. 1—Right to rateable distribution—Arrest before judgment—Money paid to avoid arrest—Whether other judgment-creditors can attach it.

Money paid into Court by a defendant under S. 73, O. 38, C. P. C. to avoid his arrest in a suit, is money paid for specific purpose and as it is intended to satisfy the plaintiff who has been instrumental in compelling the deposit he acquires a lien over it and consequently other judgment-creditors of the defendant cannot attach such money. (Raymond, A. J. C.) HAJI MAHBUBBUX v. BUKSH ELAHI. 61 I. C 424 : 14 S. L. R. 164.

——S. 73 (1)—Applicability—Proviso (b)—Scope of—If confined to immoveables.

The words "any property" in clauses (a) and (b) of the proviso as contradistinguished from "immoveable property" in clause (c) shows that a mortgage of moveables is included therein. (Mukerjee, J.) JATINDRA CHANDRA CHOUDHURY v. RANGPUR TOBACCO COY. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 990.

——S. 73 (1) (b) and O. 21, R. 83 and O. 34, R. 6.—Sale in execution—Sale free from mortgage—Sale postponed to enable judgment-debtor to raise money by private alienation.

Under S. 73 of the Civil Procedure Code where any property liable to be sold in execution of a decree is subject to a mortgage or charge, the Court may, with the consent of the mortgagee or incumbrancer, order that the property be sold free from the mortgage or charge, giving to the mortgagee or incumbrancer the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold. But it is not so in the case of a private alienation where there is absolutely no necessity to refer to the prior incumbrancer. For a private alienation all that is necessary under O. 21, R. 83, Civil Procedure Code is that the Court should be satisfied that the application is made in good faith and that the decree amount may be raised by the mortgage or sale of a part or whole of the attached property. In the present case it was represented to the Court that the decretal amount could be raised by private alienation. The decree-holder consented to time being given to the judgment-debtors for raising money by private alienation. The plaintiff was not asked to give up his mortgage lien, nor did he or his agent make any statement in Court to the effect that he would give up his mortgage lien if the judgment-debtors would satisfy the decree by private alienation.

Held, that in the absence of any express consent on the part of the plaintiff it could not be held that plaintiffs had given up his mortgage security and that his rights as a mortgagee had come to an end. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) BENARSI DAS v. GOPI CHAND. 5 Lah. L. J. 279 : 76 I. C. 529 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 132

——S. 73 (1) (b)—Right to rateable distribution—Mortgagee holding money decree.

S. 73 (1) (b) applies only to a mortgagee whose charge is valid against the executing decree-holder. When he holds a money decree apart from his mortgage, he can apply for rateable distribution. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) BABU BISHUN MOHAN SAHAY v. NARAYAN PRASAD ASTHANA. 74 I. C. 140 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 434

——S. 73 (2)—Aggrieved decree-holder—Remedy is by suit.

Even though the person aggrieved is the decree-holder, the remedy is by way of suit and not one under S. 47, C. P. Code, or by revision. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR v. SUNDARESA RAO. 32 M. L. T. 155 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 97.

——S. 73 (2)—Applicability—Assets not liable to be distributed—Section does not apply.

Where the assets are not liable to be rateably distributed, S. 73 (2), C. P. Code, has no application. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VARDA RAMASWAMI v. UMMA VENKATRATNAM. 42 M. L. J. 473 : 30 M. L. T. 178 : (1922) M. W. N. 184 : 15 L. W. 421 : 67 I. C. 546 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 99.

——S. 73 (2)—Erroneous distribution—Suit for recovery of money wrongly distributed.

S. 73 (2), C. P. C., does not contain any indication that an execution sale by virtue of which assets have been made available for rateable distribution can be attached in a separate suit. The cause of action under the section arises out of a wrong distribution of assets and is entirely without relation to the manner in which those assets were obtained. (Drake Brockman, J.C.) LAKHMICHAND v. CHATURBHUJ. 65 I. C. 230 : 4 N. L. J. 274.

——S. 75—Party ordered to supply papers to Commissioner—Commissioner asked to decide whether papers supplied were adequate, and, if not, whether party was liable to pay money compensation—Order was held unobjectionable.

Where the Court, upon the materials on the record, was unable to come to any decision and it ordered a party to submit certain papers before a Commissioner and directed the Commissioner to state in his report whether what had been submitted was adequate and also whether the party should not be ordered to pay money compensation for what had not been supplied:

Held, that, as after the Commissioner had submitted his report the matter would necessarily be considered by the Court there was no objection to the Commissioner having been asked to decide the above-mentioned points. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NANDALAL ROY v. MUKUNDALAL DE. 89 I. C. 24 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 57.

——S. 75—Powers of Court under.

S. 75 does not give the Court power to issue a commission to examine anybody anywhere and before any private person whether or not any suit has been instituted. For instance, this section would not give the Court power where there was no pending suit to direct a private citizen to appear before, say, a Punchayat of some particular caste to give evidence on some caste dispute. Nor could the Court require a private citizen in a similar case to appear before the Club Committee or any other private domestic tribunal: nor for the matter of that before, say a Government departmental commission. This section must be qualified by the rules in the First Schedule subject, of course, to such further rules as may be found in the High Court Rules. (Martin, J.) MACKINTOSH & CO. v. SCINDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO. 24 Bom. L. R. 853 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 444.

——S. 75 and O. 26—Commission—Issue of—Judge cannot delegate trial of material issues to Commissioner.

S. 75, C P. Code, defines clearly the circumstances under which a commission may be issued and does not authorize a court to delegate to a commissioner the trial of any material issue which the Judge is bound to try. 16 Mad. 350 Foll. O. 26 does not in any way amplify the scope of S. 75. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) SAWAN MAL v. RAUNAQ MAL CHUNI LAL. 3 Lah. 209 : 68 I. C 802 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 47.

——S. 75—Commissioner's appointment whether to decide an only issue in the case—Whether Court can delegate its powers to Commissioner.

Where in a suit on a mortgage the defence pleaded that the mortgagees were in possession of portion of the mortgaged property and that they had satisfied the mortgage debt out of the usufruct of the property and the Sub-Judge referred the case to a Commissioner for trial, Held, that if the Commissioner merely enquired into the amount of the profits from the mortgaged lands there would be no objection to the Commissioner proceeding; otherwise the Commissioner would not be empowered to take the evidence as to the plaintiffs' possession or to the extent of such possession.

Held further, that the lower Court could not delegate all its judicial powers to the Commissioner and the most a Commissioner could do would be to investigate and report on the profits arising from the mortgaged lands. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BABU RAM CHANDER TIWARI v. GUDAR POTEDAR. 3 Pat. L. R. 136 : 89 I. C. 343 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 576.

——Ss. 78, 83, 107 and 118—Ascertained goods—Warrant.

Where goods were purchased on condition that they would be undamaged, and subject to inspection and approval, there is an implied warranty that they are such as fall under the denomination of undamaged goods. The goods cannot be said to be ascertained until they are inspected and approved. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) FIRM OF RAMDAYAL RAM NARAIN v. FIRM OF BHAIRO BUX GOURIDUTTA. 1 Pat. L. R. 398 : 79 I. C. 183 : 5 Pat. L. T. 558 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 240.

——S. 79—Railway administration under Government control—Notice of suit—Parties—Secretary of State.

Where a railway administration is owned and worked by the Government, suits for and against the Railway should be brought in the name of Secretary of State for India in Council. (Fawcett, J.) SUKHANAND SHAMLAL v. OUDH AND ROHILKHAND RAILWAY. 48 Bom. 297 : 26 Bom. L. R. 71 : 80 I. C. 531 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 306.

——S. 80—Plea as to want of notice may be raised at the final hearing.

A plea as to want of notice under S. 80 is not barred even though it is raised for the first time at the date of final hearing. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MURARI LAL v. E. V. DAVID. 22 A. L. J. 1116: L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 106 : 84 I. C. 739 : 47 All. 291 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 241 (2).

——S. 80—Official Receiver cannot be sued without notice—C. P. Code, S. 2 (17)—Provincial Insolvency Act (1920), S. 58.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 80.

As soon as a receiver is appointed under the Provincial Insolvency Act, he becomes a public officer within the meaning of S. 2, sub-sec. 17 and he is protected by S. 80. An Official Receiver stands on a higher footing than a receiver appointed in a particular case and therefore no suit is maintainable against him without the requisite notice. A sanction granted by Insolvency Court ex parte cannot be taken as an adequate compliance with the requirements of S. 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MURARI LAL v. E. V. DAVID.
22 A. L. J. 1116 · L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 106 : 84 I. C. 739 : 47 All. 291 · A. I. R. 1925 All. 241 (2).

——S. 80—Notice under—Necessity for—Act done in official capacity.

It is not the law that S. 80, C. P. Code, has no application unless the act complained of was done in good faith. The section does not require that the act should have been done in good faith ; it merely requires that it should purport to be done by the officer in his official capacity. If the act was one such as is ordinarily done by the Officer in the course of his official duties and he considered himself to be acting as a public officer and desired other persons to consider that he was so acting, the act clearly purports to be done in his official capacity within the meaning of S. 80, C. P. Code. The motives with which the act was done do not enter into the question at all. 38 C. L. J. 104 ; 41 M. 792 Foll. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) ABDUL RAHIM v. ABDUL RAHMAN.
22 A. L. J. 812 : L. R. 5 A. 599 : 80 I. C. 72 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 837 : 46 All. 884 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 851.

——S. 80—Official Receiver in insolvency proceedings—Notice necessary.

The utmost that can be said is that an Official Receiver is a public officer within S. 2, sub-clause 17 (d), C P. Code and notice under S. 80 is necessary before filing a suit against him (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) MAHRANA v. DAVID. 21 A. L. J. 737 : L. R. 4 A. 483 : 46 A. 16 : 77 I. C. 57 : A. I. R. 1924 All 40.

——S. 80—'Act purporting, etc.' refer to public officer only—Injunction proper in emergent cases—Want of notice no bar in such cases.

Per Shah, Ag. C. J.—The words "in respect of any act purporting to be done" in S. 80, C. P Code, apply to the 'Public Officer' only and not to the Secretary of State for India in Council. But the principle underlying the decisions in 35 B. 662 and 40 B. 372 is independent of these words and is applicable to suits against the Secretary of State for India as well as to suits against public officers. The rule contained in S. 80 is a rule of procedure and does not affect in any way the cause of action or the rights of the parties. If the cause of action requires an immediate remedy by way of injunction, and if S. 80 is literally applied the party aggrieved would have no remedy. In a case where a class of persons is taxed heavily it would not be fair to treat the position as one of ordinary pecuniary liability of an individual only. Where at the date of the suit a situation had arisen which was calculated to cause serious apprehension in the minds of the plaintiffs that irremediable damage might be caused to their business as dealers in saris unless the enforcement of the orders were stopped at once.

Held, the remedy sought by way of injunction was appropriate and necessary to safeguard their interests under the circumstances. 35 Bom. 362 : 40 Bom. 392, Foll. 44 Bom. 555 Diss.

Per Kemp, J.—No suit may be instituted against the Secretary of State until the expiration of the two months' notice required by the section. The terms of the section are imperative and make no exception in the case of suits for an injunction and a Court of law is not entitled to graft on to the plain wording of the section, a qualifying clause excepting suits for an injunction, a kind of relief which must have been in the contemplation of the framers of the Code when the section was drafted and redrafted. Nor does it make any difference that the injury apprehended is immediate or irrepairable. A suit in respect of something which a public officer is going to do, not in respect of something he has done, but in respect of the further acts threatened lies without notice. No notice is necessary in a suit for injunction to prevent a threatened act against the public officer. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kemp, J.) BHAGCHAND DAGADUSHA v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 48 Bom. 87 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 1.

——S. 80—Suit against Official Assignee—Notice not necessary.

Plaintiff purchased certain property from the defendant who was soon after adjudged an insolvent. The Official Assignee objected to an application by the plaintiff to have his name entered as owner in the Record-of-Rights. Plaintiff thereupon sued for declaration of title without giving notice under S. 80, C. P. Code, to the Official Assignee. Held, that the suit was maintainable without notice. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) DAMODAR JAGJIVAN v. GOVINDJE. 25 Bom. L. R. 378 : 73 I. C. 240 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 392.

——S. 80—Interpretation—Public Officer—Discharge of duty—Notice—Mala fides.

It is not permissible to read the words in S. 80, C. P. Code, as if they were "in respect of any act purporting to be done by such public officer bona fide in his official capacity." It is not legitimate to construe the section by importing into the section words which do not appear in the section. A public officer is entitled to notice of suit under section 80 of the Civil Procedure Code, even if in the discharge of his duty he has acted mala fide. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) DAKSHINA RANJAN GHOSE v. OMAR CHAND OSWAL. 50 Cal. 992 : 28 C. W. N. 10 : 75 I. C. 173 : 38 C. L. J. 104 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 145.

——S. 80—Suit under special Law—Period of notice—Cannot be deducted.

Where a special law of limitation applies a party is not entitled to deduct the period of two months for service of notice under S. 80 of the Code. (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. ANANDA MOHAN ROY. 66 I. C. 287 : 34 C. L. J. 205.

——S. 80—Action against Village Headman—Notice is necessary.

No action for damages can lie against a village headman for an act done in his official capacity unless the requirements of S. 80 are fulfilled. A report to the S. D. O. or D. C. is not notice. (Heald, J.) MAUNG SAN YA v. MAUNG NGWE HLA. 2 Bur. L. J. 29 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 250.

——S. 83—Test of—Domicile—Commercial domicile.

When considering questions arising with an alien enemy it is not the nationality of a person but his place of business during the war that is important. (1916) 1 K. B. 284 ; (1915) 1 K. B. 857 ; (1902) A. C. 484 Ref. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MOHANLAL v BISHESHWARDAS DAGA. 70 I. C. 344 : A. I R. 1923 Nag. 121 (2).

——S. 85—Rights of purchaser—Crops on the land—Delivery of possession.

The sale of a plot of land in execution of a decree

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 86.

would pass to the purchaser of the crops growing on the land unless they had been exempted from the sale by notification. (Ross, J.) DHOBI ROY v. MAHADEO SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 318 : 1 Pat. L. R. 269 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 355.

——— S. 86—Suit against—Ruling Chief as co-sharer—Sanction if necessary.

In a suit against a Ruling Chief with respect to immoveable property in British India which he held as co-sharer along with plaintiffs no relief can be granted unless the consent of the Government is obtained under S. 86, C. P. Code. (Lindsay and Ryves, JJ.) KANHAYA LAL v. MAHARAJAH OF BENARES. 46 A. 355 : 22 A. L. J. 317 : 78 I. C. 559 : L. R. 5 A. 129 (Rev.) : A. I. R. 1924 All. 422.

——— S. 86—Defence of—Set off—Section not applicable.

The section does not apply to a defence put forth as set off. Such a defence can be put forward in answer to a claim by a Ruling Chief without the consent of the Governor-General. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) SUKHDEV SINGH v. HAZURA MAL GOBIND RAO. 62 I. C. 778

——— S. 86—Applicability—Acquiescence by defendant bars him from questioning validity of decree.

S. 86 of the Code becomes applicable to a suit where the defendant attains the dignity of a Ruling Chief and the suit cannot be continued without the requisite sanction. The bar is on the plaintiff and not on the Court. If the defendant acquiesces in the failure of the plaintiff to obtain the sanction he cannot after judgment question the validity of the judgment on the ground that the bar was not removed. (Das and Ross, JJ.) MAHARAJAH OF REWA v. SIVA SARAN LAL. 2 P. L. T. 180 : 6 P. L. J. 185 : 61 I. C. 989 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 136.

——— S. 88 and O. 35, R. 5—Interpleader suit—Nature of.

Where the defendants do not claim adversely to one another, nor is the plaintiff admitting the title of one of the defendants or is willing to pay or deliver the property to him, the suit is not an interpleader suit. (Chatterji and Pearson, JJ.) ASAN ALI v. SARADA CHARAN. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 138.

——— S. 88—All contesting defendants are in the position of plaintiffs.

In an interpleader suit in which each of the contesting defendants attacks the title of the other, each is virtually in the position of a plaintiff. Where an adoption was set up by one party as having taken place in 1863 and the others pleaded that the former, not having sued within 12 years to establish the adoption, its right was barred as per the Limitation Act of 1871, Art. 129 and where the others also had not sued within the period prescribed by that Act, to set aside the adoption:

Held, if the supporters of the adoption are debarred from supporting it the others will be equally debarred from getting a declaration that the adoption is invalid. (Spencer, Offg. C J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) MAHARAJAH OF KOLHAPUR v. SUNDARAM AYYAR. 48 Mad. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 497.

——— S. 89—'Any other law' in S. 89 include 2nd Schedule.

Per Kanhaiya Lal, J.—The words 'any other law' in S. 89 do not exclude O. 23, R. 3 or any other portion of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable to such a proceeding. The object of S. 89 clearly is to give effect to the provisions of Sch. II as if they had been enacted in the body of the Code, and it cannot be said that any material change of procedure, differing from what was in force prior to the enactment of the present Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, was really intended.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 91.

Per Mukerji, J. (contra.)—Whatever meaning may be given to the words 'any other law for the time being in force' those words were never meant to apply to the schedule to be appended to the main Code of Civil Procedure. (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 23 A. L. J. 561 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 503 (F. B.).

——— S. 89 with O.23, R 3 and Sch. II, paras. 20 and 21—Arbitration without Court's consent—Case pending—Arbitration Act.

If in a pending suit the parties go to a private or informal arbitration without the consent of the Court the award cannot be enforced either under O. 23, R.3, C. P. Code or under the provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act. If C.P. Code is looked into as a scheme for dealing with arbitration in the course of litigation, it intends these to be under the strict conditions and stipulations of the second schedule and under the supervision of the Court. The Indian Arbitration Act does not apply to arbitrations in the course of litigation. 25 C.W.N. 127 Ref. 40 Bom. 386 ; oll. 45 Bom. 245 Diss. (Rankin, J.) AMAR CHAND CHAMARIA v. BANWARI LAL RAKSHIT. 49 C. 608 : 69 I. C. 808 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 404.

——— S. 89—Save in.....in force.

The words 'save in....in force" in S. 89 do not let in O. 23, R. 3 of the Code and the words "any other law for the time being in force" refer to amendments of, or substitutions for, the Arbitration Act or other prices of legislation on that subject-matter (Rankin, J.) DECKARI TEA CO. v. ASSAM BENGAL RAILWAY. 47 Cal. 6 : 61 I. C 919 : 25 C. W. N. 127.

——— S. 89—Award without intervention during pendency of suit cannot be recorded as adjustment.

An award made without the intervention of the Court during the pendency of a litigation cannot be recorded as an adjustment under O. 23, R. 3 of the C. P. Code and cannot be enforced under S. 89 of the C. P. Code. 37 Bom. 639 ; 26 Bom. 76 Diss (Shodi Lal, C. J. and Leslie Jones, J.) HARI PERSAD v. SOOGANI DEVI. 67 I. C. 123 : 3 Lah. L J. 162.

——— S. 89, and O. 23, R. 3—Applicability—Arbitration.

S. 89, C. P. Code, does not preclude the application of O. 23, R. 3 to cases in which there has been a reference to arbitration. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) CHINTALAPALLI CHINNA DORAYYA v VENKANNA. 76 I. C. 502 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 50.

——— Ss. 89 and 96—Award—Compromise modifying—Decree—Appeal.

A Court is competent on an application under Sch. II, para. 20, C. P. Code, to pass a decree on an award as modified by a lawful compromise filed by the parties and from a decree so passed no appeal lies except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award so modified. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) HAKIM FASAL AHMED v. ENAYAT AHMED. 9 O. L. J. 219 : 68 I. C. 209 : 25 O. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 189.

——— S. 91—Scope of—Highway—Obstruction—Suit for compensation.

S. 91 of the C. P. Code is a provision for procedure. It does not purport to create a right which does not exist before. It does not purport to deprive anybody of a right derived from the general law of the land. It merely prevents a person from asserting a right except in a particular way. If a plaintiff brings a suit for damages and injunction against the defendant in respect of the latter's obstruction of a highway, without reference to S. 91, C. P. Code, the plaintiff must prove that he has suffered a more particular kind of obstruction or inconvenience beyond that of the general public by reason of the act of the defendant. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) MAHOMED RAZA-KHAN v. MAHOMED ASKARI KHAN. 46 A. 470 : 22 A L. J. 729 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 599.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 91.

——S. 91—Suit for removal of encroachment in public street—Plaintiff unable to prove that the rest of the street cannot be used—Suit is not maintainable.

Plaintiff filed a suit to have declaration that the land described in the plaint was street land and to obtain a mandatory order directing defendant to remove an otla made by him on the land.

Held, that such a suit at the instance of a private person is not maintainable unless he is able to show that he is unable to use the road, nor can he seek the assistance of the Court to get the otla removed, merely because he wants to walk over that portion of the street occupied by the otla, unless he proves special damage. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MANILAL JIBHAI v. ISHVARBHAI SAMABHAI. 27 Bom. L. R. 421 : 87 I.C. 934 : A.I.R. 1925 Bom. 367.

——S. 91 and O. 1 R. 8—S. 91 does not control or restrict O. 1, R. 8.

Section 91 does not control or restrict the provisions of O. 1, R. 8 and therefore it does not take away the right of the plaintiffs to sue which may exist independently of its provisions. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) PEARY LAL MULLIK v. SURENDRA NATH. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1233.

——S. 91—Relief not claimed in respect of public nuisance cannot be granted.

No relief was sought in respect of the public nuisance and there was no claim : held, there can be no declaration that the place in suit is a public thoroughfare and has been obstructed as such. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) TIRATA RAM v. MD. ABDUL RAHIM. 73 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 546

——S. 92.

Abatement of suit.
Addition of parties.
Alienation of trust property.
Charitable trust.
Compromise of suit.
Forum.
Mandatory provision.
Parties.
Private trusts.
Public trusts.
Religious trust.
Removal of trustee.
Right to sue.
Sanction.
Scheme.
Scope of.
Trespasser.
Trustee De Son Tort.

Abatement of suit.

——S. 92—Abatement of suit—Death of one plff.

A suit under this section is prosecuted by individuals not for their own interest but as representing general public, and so it does not abate on the death of the original plffs. (Lord Dunedin.) RAJA ANAND RAO v. RAM DAS DADURAM. 48 Cal. 493 : 13 L. W. 318 : (1921) M. W. N. 24 : 17 N. L. R 37 : 48 I. A. 12 : 25 C. W. N. 794 : 62 I. C. 737 : 30 M. L. T. 194 (P. C).

——S. 92—Abatement of suit—Death of one of the plaintiffs obtaining sanction—Neither the suit nor an appeal therefrom abates.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Alienation of Trust Property.

Although one of the plaintiffs obtaining the sanction for instituting the suit dies, a suit under S. 92 or an appeal therefrom does not abate. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) H. K. SAYYAD GULAM GOUSE v. DOST MOHAMMAD KHAN SAHIB. 47 M. L. J. 745 : 20 L. W. 882 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 244.

Addition of Parties.

——S. 92—Addition of parties—Sanction of Advocate-General obtained—Stranger may be joined as defendant.

If a suit is brought under the sanction of the Advocate-General, the addition of a stranger as defendant does not render the suit bad. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) SYED ABU MAHOMED BARAKAT ALI v. ABDUR RAHIM. 80 I. C. 44 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 187.

Alienation of trust property.

——S. 92 (h)—Alienation of trust property—Cl. (h) refers to reliefs ejusdem generis with the ones actually mentioned in S. 92—Actual possession cannot be decreed against transferees.

In a suit under S. 92 a decree for actual possession against transferees from the trustee cannot be properly passed. The words 'granting such further or other relief as the nature of the case may require' refer to reliefs ejusdem generis and not to every possible relief which a Civil Court may grant. 24 Cal. 418 Diss. 28 All. 112, 35 Bom. 470 and 27 M. L. J. 266 Foll. 2 C. L. J. 431 Ref. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) RAMSARUP GOSHAIN v. RAMDHARI BHAGAT. 23 A. L. J. 601 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 352: 89 I.C. 40: A.I R. 1925 All. 683.

——S. 92—Alienation of trust property—Declaring alienations invalid comes under S 92.

A relief which prays for a declaration that the alienations made by the trustee, whose removal is prayed for in the suit, may be declared void comes under S. 92. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) RAMRUP GOSHAIN v. RAMDHARI BHAGAT. 23 A. L. J. 601 : L. R 6 A. (Civ) 352 : 89 I.C. 40 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 683.

——S. 92 (h)—Alienation of trust property—Suit for declaration of invalidity—Maintainability—When granted—Scope of section.

S. 92, C. P. Code, is intended to be an exhaustive statement of the law applicable to suits based upon any alleged breach, of any express or constructive trust, created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature. A declaration regarding the validity of an alienation by a trustee comes within S. 92 (h). If the result of a declaration is not to produce any effect on the parties, but will only be a stepping-stone for further litigation, the Court ought not to exercise its discretion and grant a declaration of such a nature. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MUFTI ALI JAFAR v. FAZAL HUSAIN KHAN. 44 A. 622 : 20 A.L.J. 557 : L. R. 3 A. 352 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 131 : 67 I. C. 658 : A. I R. 1922 All. 349.

——S. 92—Alienation of trust property—Founder appointing himself to be trustee and, after his death, his heirs—Founder's widow alienating trust property—Reversioner's right to challenge alienation sanction under S. 92 removal of widow from trust from trusteeship.

The founder of a trust appointed himself as manager during his lifetime and his heirs after his death. Founder's widow after his death alienated the trust property. The plaintiff, reversioner to the estate sued to recover property alienated by the founder's wife. Held, that the widow could not be transposed as plaintiff and the plaintiff could not claim to be trustee.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Alienation of rust property.

The proper remedy for the plaintiff was to sue for the removal of the widow from the trusteeship by a suit properly framed under S. 92, C. P. Code, after obtaining Advccate-General's permission.

Held, further, that plaintiff could not be allowed to do that in this suit as that would alter the nature of the suit. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASAMI GOUNDAN v. ALAGIA SINGAPERUMAL.

50 M. L. J. 42 : 22 L. W. 701 : (1926) M.W.N. 117 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 280.

——S. 92—Alienation of trust property—Suit to recover trust property transferred by trustee—Suit under S. 92 is necessary.

Where the trustee of charitable endowment transfers the trust property, plaintiffs cannot recover the property before first having the trustee formally removed by the Court for which purpose a suit under C. P. Code, S. 92, is necessary. (Krishnan, J.) MUTHUSWAMI NAIDU v. BAYALU NAIDU. 21 L. W. 525 : 88 I. C. 375 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 689.

Charitable Trust.

——S. 92—Charitable trust—Hereditary trustee—Advisory Board—Creation of a new body—Inexpediency of.

Where a hereditary trustee has been appointed and the control of the charity left in him and the legislature has not thought fit to take away from him the control or administration of the trust, it is not for the Court because it may think that it is undesirable that charitable funds should be administered by one man without control or even without audit to impose a control which was not part of the original trust. But the Court has very wide powers under S. 92, C. P Code, and the circumstances under which those powers should be exercised are clearly stated by the Privy Council in 43 C. 1085, 1101 (P. C.) (Schwabe, C. J. and Odgers, J.) DORAIVELU MUDALIAR v. ADIKESAVALU NAIDU. (1922) M. W. N. 620 : 70 I. C. 87 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 409.

——S. 92—Charitable trust—Limitation—Charities—Proper scheme of management.

Where the plaintiffs bring a suit not to assert their own individual right but on behalf of the general public, who are interested in the institution, for the settlement of a proper scheme of management of the charities and for other reliefs, held, there is no limitation against such a suit. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPU NATARAJA CHETTY v. RAJAMMAL.

16 L. W. 122 : (1922) M.W.N. 464 : 31 M. L. T. 125 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 394 : 43 M. L. J. 448.

——S. 92—Charitable trust—Bequest to charity—Administration—Suit for.

S. 92 of the C. P. Code deals with completed trusts and is inapplicable where that stage has not yet been reached. Where the will of the deceased testator bequeaths a legacy for the constitution of a trust the proper remedy to enforce the provisions of the will is by an administration suit. A suit for the administration of the trusts of a will which contained disposition for charitable purposes is maintainable though it is not brought under S. 92, C P. Code. (Wallis, C. J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) ANNAVARAPU NACHARAMMA v. MALLADI VENKATAPPAYYA.

31 M. L. T. 63 : 70 I. C. 903 : 16 L. W. 922.

Compromise of suit.

——S. 92—Compromise of suit.

There is nothing in law to prevent a Court passing a compromise decree in a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code. (Newbould and Ghosh, JJ.) ABU MAHOMED BARAKAT v. ABDUR RAHIM. 80 I.C. 44 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 187.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Private Trusts.

Forum.

——S. 92—Forum—Additional District Judge—Bengal Civil Courts Act, S. 8 (2)—'Any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Govt.'—Meaning of.

An Addl. Dist. Judge is, by S. 8 (2), empowered to exercise the same powers as a Dist. Judge in suits under S. 92 C. P. Code. He need not, in such cases, be empowered by Local Government. The phrase "Any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government" in S. 92 probably refers to Courts such as the Subordinate Judge's Courts. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) MOHABOR RAHMAN v. ABDUR RAHIM. 62 I. C. 115 : 48 Cal. 53.

—— S. 92 and O. 1, R. 8—Leave of Court whether necessary.

For the institution of a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, the essential requisite is the obtaining of the sanction of the Advocate-General, and leave of Court under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, is not necessary. (Kumaraswami Sastri, Madhavan Nair and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) VEERARAGHAVA ACHARIAR v. PARTHASARATHY AIYANGAR. (1925) M. W. N. 505 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070.

Mandatory provision.

——S. 92—Mandatory provision—Reliefs mentioned in section can only be enforced by procedure prescribed in section.

S. 92 is mandatory and the reliefs specified in the section can only be enforced now by resort to the procedure of the section. The cases which before 1908 held to the contrary and decided that the founder of an endowment or his heirs had the right to sue the trustees for the due performance of the trust and to remove them and to appoint new trustees without invoking the aid of S. 92 are no longer good law. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) DILJAN ALI v. AKHTAR BEGUM. 1925 P. H. C. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544.

Parties.

——S. 92—Parties—Transferees of trust property can be impleaded in suit.

Third party transferees of trust property can be impleaded in a suit under S. 92. 24 Cal. 418, and 28 All. 112 Foll. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) RAMRUP GOSHAIN v. RAMDHARI BHAGAT

23 A. L. J. 601 : L. R. 6 A (Civ.) 352 : 89 I. C. 40 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 683.

——S. 92—Parties—Conduct by one relator with Advocate-General's sanction is valid where all can't join but the others must be joined as parties.

Ordinarily sanction granted to more than two persons cannot be availed of by any two of them without the others. But the death of a single relator or the dullness or dishonesty of one or more of them will not be fatal to the validity of the suit. Therefore in cases of difference between two or more relators the conducting of a suit or an appeal by one of them with the sanction of the Advocate-General will be valid provided the opposing relators are made parties. Moreover, under O. 1, R. 10 the single relator with the sanction of the Advocate-General can apply to the Court to add another relator to the record ; this latter course should be adopted where the number of relators owing to death or other causes falls below two. (Kennedy and Aston A. J. Cs.) VISHONDAS v. DAMOMAL.

76 I. C. 345 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 1.

Private Trusts.

——S. 92—Private trusts.

S. 92, C. P. Code, is not applicable to private trusts. (Lord Buckmaster.) GOPAL LAL SETT v. PURNA

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Private Trusts.

CHANDRA BASAK. 49 I. A. 100 : 16 L. W. 963 : 67 I. C. 561 : 27 C. W. N. 174 : 20 A. L. J. 625 : 36 C. L. J. 57 : 49 C. 459 : 24 Bom. L. R. 937 : A. I. R. 1922 P.C. 253 : 43 M. L. J. 116 (P.C.)

——S. 92 (9)—Private trusts--Trust--Distinction between private and public trust.

In the case of a temple and idol publicly constituted and publicly accessible in which the appearance may be what one may describe as ambiguous, one would expect and ought to insist upon clear evidence of permission given or license given and permission withheld because it is equally true that a private individual may construct out of his private purse a private temple and idol retaining the control and management in his own hands and that of his family or some other selected individuals and yet so conduct himself as to provide conclusive evidence of dedication by implication and by conduct. There is a broad difference when one comes to construe a dedication, between conduct which shows that the owner of the property is giving express permission from time to time to particular individuals and conduct which shows that he intends certain members of a class whom he desires to benefit to act indiscriminately without permission that is to say, as of right. A useful test, for a Judge to apply to see whether the evidence satisfied the conditions of the private trust, is to ask himself whether any of the acts testified to by the witnesses could have been prevented or penalised by proceedings for trespass. In private trusts the beneficial interest is vested absolutely in one or more individuals who are, or within a given time, may be definitely ascertained. On the other hand public trust has for its object the members of an uncertain and fluctuating body and the trust itself is of a permanent and indefinite character and is not confined within the limits prescribed to a settlement of a private trust. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) RAM DAS v. MUSAMMAT BASANTI. 20 A. L. J. 789: A. I. R. 1922 All. 519.

Public Trust.

——S. 92—Public trust—Acharya of a temple—Constructive trustee—Suit for scheme—Maintainability of.

A constructive trustee within the meaning of S. 92 would include a person who holds a particular fiduciary position whose obligation as such can be enforced in a court of law. Held, on the evidence that the Acharya of the Swaminarayan temple at Vadtal was a trustee to whom S 92 would apply. It is true that the mahant or manager of a matt is not a trustee in the strict sense of the term when used of an express or declared trust. It would be more accurate to describe him as occupying a fiduciary position. This relationship is commonly called an implied trust but the implied trustee is subject to the same obligations as the express or declared trustee. In the case of a matt as in the case of a temple the ownership is in an ideal person. In the one case it is the idol; in the other case it is the office of spiritual head. The individual holding the office is trustee for the office, the gadi or matt or the institution. The succession to the property follows the succession to the office. This is the general law as to mutts. In the case of matts the corpus and the income belongs to the institution though a shebait or head of a matt has a nearer position than a Dharmakarta. (Marten and Pratt, JJ.) SARIPAT PRASAD v. LAKSHMIDAS. 25 Bom. L. R. 747 : A.I.R. 1924 Bom. 193.

——S. 92—Public trust--Mosque—Private institution—Proof.

A Mahomeden mosque is prima facie a public trust and in the absence of proof that it was a private mosque and that the public had no right to congregate therein without special permission, S. 92, C. P. Code, would apply. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) TAFAZZAL BEG v. MAJID ULLAH.

5 Lah. 59 : 79 I. C. 120 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 432.

——S. 92—Public trust—Section applies.

If a trust has been created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature " a suit will lie for settling a "scheme" where the direction of the Court is deemed necessary for the administration of such trust" and the person who is the heir-at-law and in possession of the property which is impressed with the character of trust property has an interest in and is a proper party to such a suit. A suit against a person in possession of trust property does lie though defendant may not be a trustee either by appointment or de son tort. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) SRI GADICHERLA VENKATANARASIMHA RAO v. NYAPATHY SUBBA RAO PANTULU GARU.

17 L. W. 31 : 32 M. L. T. 47 : (1923) M. W. N. 111 : 46 M. 300: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 376.

——S. 92 (2)—Public trust—Suit by trustee against co-trustees for accounts.

A trustee of a public charity can sue his co trustee for an account without the sanction of the Advocate-General or the Collector. (Ayling, O. C. J., Oldfield, Kumaraswami Sastri, Ramesam and Odgers, JJ.) APPANNA v NARASINGA. 15 L. W. 18 : (1921) M W.N. 833: 30 M.L.T. 1: 45 M. 113: 69 I.C. 304: A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 17 : 41 M. L. J. 608 (F.B.)

——S. 92—Public trust—Use by the public, worship by the public and offerings by the public are the obvious indications of a public endowment.

The indicia of a public foundation must be carefully scrutinised and the existence of the obvious tests such as the use by the public, worship by the public and offerings by the public should be found out for determining whether an endowment is a public or private endowment. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) DEOKINANDAN v. BRIJNANDAN. 5 P. L. T. 231 : 76 I. C 89: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 502.

Religious Trust.

——S. 92—Religious trust—Pujary of an idol is a servant and not a trustee.

Where a person was put in charge as pujary of an idol in a Dharmsala, he is a servant and not a trustee and a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, is not maintainable against him. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) BALDEO DUTT v. GOPALJI. 21 A. L. J. 310 : L. R. 4 A. 190 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 247.

——S. 92—Religious trust—Public or private—Inference as to.

Where the origin and founder of a temple are unknown, the facts that members of public are freely admitted, festivals are celebrated in a certain manner, and the like lead to the inference that the temple is a public one, and the inference is not rebutted by the fact that a particular mode of worship is followed, that management follows a particular line of descent in the pujari family, etc.. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PURAVIYA GOUNDAN v. POONACHI GOUNDAN. 62 I. C. 655 : 40 M. L. J. 289.

——S. 92—Religious trust—Suit by trustee to recover amount due.

A suit by a temple trustee to recover the amount due by deft. under the terms of the trust cannot be maintained without leave as the suit is not exempt from S. 92, C. P. Code or S. 18, Religious Endowments Act. (Ayling, Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) SAMINATHA PILLAI v. SUNDARESA PILLAI. 29 M. L. T. 267: 62 I. C. 911: 14 L. W. 238.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Religious trust.

——S. 92—Religious trust—Suit by chela of mutt for possession of office and emoluments—Forfeiture of office by reigning mahant.

Where the chela of an asthal claims possession of the office of a mahant and of the properties of the asthal in his own right alleging that the reigning mahant has forfeited the office by contracting a marriage and other irregularities, the suit is not one falling within the scope of S. 92, C. P. Code, and the sanction of the Advocate-General is not necessary therefor. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHANT RAGHUNATH DAS v. SHEO KUMAR MISSER. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 309.

Removal of Trustee.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Grounds of—Hindu temple.

The Dharmakarta holds the position of a trustee and as such on assertion of private ownership in trust property and falsification of accounts, he is liable to be removed. (Lord Shaw.) SRINIVASA CHARIAR v. EVALAPPA MUDALIAR. 43 M. L. J. 536 : 31 M. L. T. 1: 49 I. A. 237 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1214: 21 A. L. J. 250: 27 C. W. N. 317 : 36 C.L.J. 524: L. R. 3 P. C. 213: 45 M. 565 : 68 I. C. 1: 16 L. W. 247 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 325 (P. C.).

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Mutwali—Founder of trust—Removal—Power of Court.

The Court will be guided solely by considerations of the welfare of the trust and will not hesitate to remove a trustee who has purchased the trust property or concurred in a breach of trust or has wrongfully alienated trust property or has been guilty of wanton waste and neglect of duty or shows a total lack of capacity to manage and has from old age left the management in the hands of incompetent persons. This is so even where the mutwali was the founder of the mosque. 21 M. 10; (1918) M. W. N. 552 Ref. (Mukerjee and Rankin, JJ.) JOYGUNNESSA BIBI v. MAJILULLAH MAMED PROMANIK. 28 C. W. N. 781 : 81 I. C. 850: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1024.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Managers putting forth absolute and adverse title in themselves must be removed.

Where the managers vigorously contested the suit and put forward and tried to establish their own adverse and absolute title to the waqf property they were held liable to be removed from the management of the waqf. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) HARJI MAL v. DEVI DITTA MAL. 4 Lah. 364: 77 I. C. 398 · A. I. R 1924 Lah. 107

——S. 92—Suit for removal of defendant from office of Pandara Sannadhi and for framing a scheme for mutt—Death of defendant pending—Cause of action if survives as regards relief for framing a scheme —Res judicata—Opinion in interlocutory proceedings not necessary for disposal of same if.

Pending a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, for the removal of the defendant from the office of Pandara Sannadhi and for the framing of a scheme in relation to the mutt, the defendant died. The question arose whether the suit abated even with reference to the second relief prayed for, namely, the framing of the scheme. Held, that it did not and that the cause of action survived against the representative of the deceased defendant for the purpose of framing a scheme.

The two reliefs are distinct, though the second relief is to a certain extent dependent on the first, because it is necessary to allege a breach of trust in order to constitute the necessary cause of action.

Held, further, that the question was not res judicata by reason of the opinion previously expressed by the High Court in an application for the appointment of a receiver in the suit, the opinion being to the effect that the prayer for a scheme was not an independent relief asked for, but was only incidental to the prayer for removal of the defendant. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) ARUMUGA THAMBIRAN v. NAMASIVAYA PANDARASANNADHI. 48 Mad. 688 : 49 M. L. J. 324. (1925) M. W. N. 569 : 22 L. W. 130.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Removal of trustee.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Evidence not justifying removal—Trustee may be removed if the interest of institution is being served.

Once a person accepts an office of trusteeship the one governing consideration in his mind, the ruling motive for all actions, the one principle by reference to which all his acts should be determined, is the interest of the institution and that alone. Persons who, though holding a fiduciary position, allow their actions to be prompted by any other considerations, motives or principles are as much guilty of breach of trust as persons who may be found actually guilty of misappropriating property belonging to the trust. Even though the evidence in a case against the trustees may not be sufficient to warrant, generally speaking, their removal from office on the ground of misconduct or negligence, still their removal may be ordered, if, in the opinion of the Court, such removal is necessary in the interests of the trust to be administered. Lettersted v. Broers, (1884) 9 A. C. 371 Foll. (Kumaraswami Sastri, Madhavan Nair and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) S. VEERARAGHAVA ACHARIAR v. V. PARTHASARATHY IYENGAR. (1925) M. W. N. 505 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Temple—Trustees who have not misappropriated any funds and who are interested in maintaining temple should not be removed.

When it is not proved that the defendants have misappropriated any of the temple income, and when it is found that they are as much interested as any one else in maintaining the temple worship, it will not be for the benefit of the trust to remove them from office and put strangers who have no such interest in their place. 1923 Mad. 163 Foll. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) A. V. N. RAMASWAMI v. V. M. MUTTUKARUPPAN. A. I. R 1925 Mad. 1011.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Stranger as a Receiver.

In a suit under S. 92 the Court has power to appoint a receiver and take the management of the temple out of the hands of the trustees appointed by the Temple Committee pending the disposal of the suit even though there is no prayer for his removal and though he cannot be removed except on a proper enquiry. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) C. KUPPUSWAMI MUDALIAR v. Y. SUBRAMANIAM CHETTIAR. 41 M. L. J. 545 : 16 L. W. 927 : (1923) M. W. N. 75 : 68 I. C. 565 : A. I. R 1923 Mad. 224.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Failure to keep accounts—Doubt as to existence of trust.

Where there is considerable doubt as to whether there is a trust in respect of certain properties, the omission of the alleged hereditary trustees to maintain proper accounts without any wilful default on their part is no ground for their removal. (1918) M. W. N. 786 Foll. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) JAKKAM REDDI SESHADRI REDDI v. SIR S SUBRAMANIA IYER. 16 L.W. 839 : 74 I. C. 35 : 32 M. L. T. 89 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 163.

——S. 92—Removal of trustee—Grounds for—Archaka and trustee same individual—Committee of supervision.

The mere fact that the hereditary trustees of a temple are also its archakas is no ground for their removal though it is not desirable that the two offices should be combined in the same individual. It is possible to appoint a committee or some other authority to supervise their management. Where the hereditary archaka trustees of a Hindu Temple have long been acting bona fide in the belief that they were the owners of certain lands subject to the performance of services to the deity and have been appropriating the surplus income of the lands, they are not liable to removal. (Abdur Rahim and Moore, JJ.) MUTTEYI SRINIVASACHARYULU v. DINAVATI PRATYANGA RAO. 64 I.C. 816 : 30 M. L. T. 101 (H. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Removal of trustee

Right to sue.

——S. 92—Right to sue—Plaintiff's absence of interest in trust—Advocate-General's written consent is useless.

The Advocate-General's written consent will not entitle a party to sue unless the latter has an interest in the trust. (Sir John Edge.) VAIDYANATHA AYYAR v. SWAMINATHA AYYAR.

35 M. L. T. 189 : 47 Mad. 884 : 22 A. L. J. 983 : L. R. 6 P.C. 17 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1121 : 40 C. L. J. 454 : 29 C. W. N. 154 : 51 I. A. 282 : 20 L. W. 803 : (1924) M. W. N. 749 : 82 I. C. 804 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 221 (2) : 47 M. L. J. 361 (P.C.).

——S. 92—Right to sue—Descendants in female line from founder of charity have "interest" therein although they are not directly benefited thereby.

Descendants in the female line from the founder of the charity have an "interest" therein within the meaning of S. 92 although they may not directly obtain any benefit from it. (Sir John Edge.) VAIDYANATHA AYYAR v. SWAMINATHA AYYAR.

35 M.L.T. 189 : 47 Mad. 884 : 22 A.L.J. 983 : L. R. 6 P. C. 17 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1121 : 40 C. L. J. 454 : 29 C. W. N. 154 : 51 I. A. 282 : 20 L. W. 803 : (1924) M. W. N 749 : 82 I. C. 804 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 221 (2): 47 M L. J. 361 (P. C.).

——S. 92 (1) (e)—Right to sue—Share in the offerings—Scheme already framed.

A suit by hereditary pujari for a share in the offerings made to a deity falls under S. 92 (1) (e); but where a scheme has already been framed in respect of the property, the suit is not maintainable and the right procedure is to apply to the Court forming the scheme to give directions to the application of the fund. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) SAKHARAM DAJI v. GANU RAGHU. 45 Bom. 683 : 60 I. C. 924 : 23 Bom. L. R. 125.

——S. 92—Right to sue—Worshippers in a Sikh Dharmsala can sue under S. 92.

In the case of a temple or a mosque as well as in the case of Dharmsala, persons entitled to attend there for purposes of worship are beneficiaries and must as such be held to possess a sufficient interest to support a suit under S. 92 of C. P. Code. Opinion of Abdur Rahim, J. in 42 Mad. 360 Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) NARINJAN SINGH v KIRPAL SINGH. 5 Lah. 455 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189 (2).

——S. 92—Right to sue—Members of caste—"Interest"—Meaning of.

It is impossible to define with any degree of accuracy what exactly constitutes an interest as contemplated in S. 92 of the Civil Procedure Code. It need not be a direct interest in the sense that only a beneficiary can institute a suit but it must be a real substantial and existing interest. Where a trust provided for the maintenance of the widow and orphans of a certain caste and dedicated a building for the use of pilgrims as a Dharmsala held, a suit by some members of the caste living in the Mohalla in which the institution was situated could maintain a suit. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) MURLIDHAR v. SULTAN SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Right to sue.

73 I. C. 302 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 518.

——S. 92—Right to sue—Interest—What is—Residence in the neighbourhood—Marriages celebrated in the temple—Occasional worship—If sufficient—Prior suit by trustee to recover possession of lands from archokas—Decision against trustee—If res judicata in suit by relators.

In a suit under S. 92, Civil Procedure Code, the question whether the plaintiffs have an interest in the trust or not is a pure question of fact. Where the plaintiffs live within 2 or 3 miles of the suit temple and the temple owns lands at their place of residence, and the evidence shows that persons belonging to their village attend the temple on important occasions and perform their marriages there, they are persons "interested" within the meaning of S. 92. The mere circumstance that the plaintiffs do not habitually resort to the temple is not sufficient to debar them from exercising the right under the section. 42 Mad. 360: 47 Mad. 884 (P. C.) referred to. Where in a prior suit by the trustee of a temple to recover possession of certain lands from the archakas, a decision is given after a real and genuine contest that the lands do not belong to the temple but to the archakas, it is res judicata in a subsequent suit filed by relators under S. 92, Civil Procedure Code, for recovering possession of the same from the same archakas. (Venkatasubba Rao and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) KASTURI NARASIMHA SURYANARAYANA v. LAKSHMINARASIMHAM. 49 M. L. J. 746 : (1926) M. W. N. 40 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad 267.

——S. 92—Right to sue—Temple—Scheme suit—Contributing to funds of temple and worshipping at temple entitles one to sue—Joinder of one who is not entitled does not affect others.

In a scheme suit in respect of a temple a person who has contributed to the funds of the temple and is a worshipper at the shrine has sufficient interest to be plaintiff. Joining a person not entitled to sue does not affect the right of others who are entitled to sue. (Spencer Offg. C.J. and Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) A.V. M. RAMASWAMI v. V. M. MUTHUKARUPPAN. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1011.

——S. 92—Right to sue—Trustee can be a plaintiff.

A trustee is a person interested in the trust, and there is nothing in S. 92 to prevent his being a plaintiff. (1919) M. W. N. 522 Foll. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) T.A. BALAKRISHNA ODAYAR v. JAGANNADA CHARIAR. 48 M. L. J. 534 : 87 I. C. 194 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 820.

——S. 92—Public trust—Evidence—Devadayam—Description of Inam as—Effec.—Scheme suit for and for removal of trustees—Decree in plaintiff's favour owing to default of prosecution of defence—Setting aside of—Jurisdiction—Scheme—Decree for, when granted.

Whether or not the word "Devadayam" implies a public endowment, there is no doubt that the use of the word "Devadayam" is a very strong piece of evidence that the inam in connection with which the word is used is a public endowment.

Held, on the evidence, that the institution in question was a mosque. Where, in a suit for framing a scheme for a mosque and for removal of the defendants from their trusteeship, it appeared that the defendants had not applied the inam granted for the mosque in the proper manner and that they had denied the title of the mosque to the inam, held, that the defendants ought not to be allowed to continue to manage in the same way as before and that it was necessary to frame a scheme for the management of the trust.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Right to sue.

Quaere: Whether when in such a suit a decree is given in favour of the plaintiffs owing to the failure of the defendants to prosecute their defence, the Court has jurisdiction to revise its original order (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) PIR PACHA SAHEB v. MAHOMED RUHIMUDDIN SAHEB. 46 M. L. J. 245 : 19 L. W. 174 : (1924) M. W. N. 217 : 77 I. C. 777 : 34 M. L. T. (H. C.) 347 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 491.

——S. 92—"Persons having an interest in the trust"—Insertion of—Object of Legislature—Temple public—Interested persons—Mahomedan worshippers in a mosque.

The object of the Legislature in inserting the words "Persons having an interest in the trust" in S. 92 was to prevent people interfering by virtue of the section in the administration of charitable trusts merely in the interests of others and without any real interest of their own. Reasons why the word "direct" which occurred in S. 539 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1877 was omitted in subsequent Codes. Public Hindu temples are prima facie to be taken to be dedicated for the use of all Hindus resorting to them. To hold that the bare possibility, however remote, that a Hindu might desire to resort to a particular temple gives him an interest in the trust will defeat the object with which the Legislature inserted those words in the section. Mahomedans who worship regularly in the mosque of a village have a direct interest in the trust relating to the mosque. (Sir John Edge.) VAIDYANATHA AIYAR v. SWAMINATHA AIYAR. 47 Mad. 884 : 35 M. L. T. 189 : (1924) M. W. N. 749 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1121 : 22 A. L. J. 983 : 20 L. W. 803 : 40 C. L. J. 454 : 29 C. W. N. 154 : 1 O. W. N. 617 : 82 I. C. 804 : 10 O. & A.L.R. 1076 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 221 (2): 47 M. L. J. 361 (P.C.)

——S. 92—Right to sue—'Interest'—Meaning of.

The fact that the plaintiffs belong to the family of the founder and are entitled to succeed to the properties thereof under certain contingencies would naturally give them an 'interest' so as to enable them to bring a suit under S. 92 of the Code. 42 M. 360, Dist. (Abdur Rahim and Burn, JJ.) VAITHYANATHA AIYAR v. TYAGARAJA AIYAR. 68 I. C. 631 : 41 M. L. J. 20.

See ON APPEAL. 47 M.L.J. 361 : 47 M. 884 (P.C.).

——S. 92—Right to sue—Worshippers—Mahant, if a trustee—Right to remove Mahant from his office of trustee—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

Worshippers at a temple are persons having an interest in the religious trust and are entitled to sue under S. 92, C. P. Code. A mahant is a trustee and it is competent to a Court in a suit under S.92, C.P Code, to remove him from the control of a religious or charitable endowment, though it cannot interfere with his special functions as mahant. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A.J.Cs.) SARABJIT BHARTI v BABU GAURI NATH KAKAJI. 10 O. & A. L. R. 1 : 10 O. L. J. 619 : 80 I. C. 674 : 27 O. C. 149 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 261.

——S. 92—Right to sue—A mere worshipper cannot sue for possession of trust properties.

In respect of properties which form part of a public trust, a mere worshipper cannot have the right of suit to obtain possession of the properties. He has no right to sue for any of the reliefs mentioned in S. 92 of the Civil Procedure Code except in the manner prescribed by that Section. (Case-law referred to.) (Heald and Chari, JJ.) SAW DURMAY v. BAGGAH SINGH. 3 Rang. 213 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 294.

Sanction.

——S. 92—Sanction—Sanction granted for one kind of suit.

A sanction granted for a suit under S. 92 means any suit which may be raised under that section and it is not confined to one of the species of suits that could be raised on the application. (Lord Dunedin.) RAJA ANAND RAO v. RAMDASS DADURAM. 48 Cal. 493 : 13 L.W. 318 : (1921) M. W. N. 24 : 17 N. L. R. 37 : 25 C. W. N. 794 : 62 I.C. 737 : 30 M. L. T. 194 : 48 I. A. 12 (P. C.).

——S. 92—Sanction—Hukdars of a temple—Persons in wrongful possession—Suit for accounts and directions—Necessity for sanction.

The plaintiffs alleged that they and defendants 11 and 12 were really the Hukdars or some of the Hukdars in the income of a Hindu temple and that defendants Nos. 1 to 10 had been managing wrongfully and appropriating the proceeds of the temple. After referring to their Huk to appropriate the proceeds of the temple they claimed a declaration that they and defendants Nos. 11 and 12 were Hukdars of the temple, an account of the income received by defendants Nos. 1 to 10 and an order that the defendants should make over the income received by them to the plaintiffs. Held, that the suit involved an enquiry into and the taking of the accounts of the public trust and that it was not maintainable without the sanction referred to in S. 92. (Shah, O.C. J. and Fawcett, J.) NARAYAN v. VASUDEO. 26 Bom. L. R. 950 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 518.

——S. 92—Sanction obtained for some reliefs—Other reliefs joined

Where plaintiff's suit asks for some reliefs sanctioned by Collector and others not so sanctioned, the whole suit should not be dismissed. It must be tried so far as the relief sanctioned by the Collector is concerned. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) SAKHARAM BALWANT v. LAXMAN TRIMBAK. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 428.

——S. 92, O. 1, R. 8—Sanction—Public pathway—Suit for declaration and injunction.

The suit for declaration and injunction of pathway is one to which O. 1, R. 8 is appropriate if the Court's permission is taken, the recourse to the Advocate-General being unnecessary. (Panton, J.) HARISHCHANDRA SAHA v. PARAN NATH CHAKRAVARTY. 69 I. C. 910 : 26 C. W. N. 587.

——Ss. 92 and 93—Sanction—Suit omitting some reliefs for which sanction was obtained—Suit not maintainable.

Where sanction was obtained from the Collector under S. 93, C. P. Code, to file a suit not only for removing the trustee, but also "for declaring the alienations made by him null and void" and for recovering the trust properties from the alienee, but later the plaint omitted the two latter reliefs and asked only for the removal of the trustee, who was made the sole defendant in the suit:

Held, that since the reliefs asked for, in the plaint did not precisely correspond with the reliefs mentioned in the sanction order, or, in other words, since the suit instituted differed from the one, for which sanction was given the plaint should be rejected. 11 M. 148 Foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) MOHIDEEN SAHEB v. CHINNA FAKRUDDIN SAHIB. 21 L. W. 71 : 85 I. C. 1045 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 636.

——S. 92—Sanction—Suit against co-trustee for joint possession, scheme and accounts—Sanction not necessary.

No sanction is required for a plaintiff suing as a trustee for obtaining a decree for an account against his co-trustees. (Ayling, O.C.J., Oldfield, Kumaraswami Sastri, Ramesam and Odgers, JJ.) APPANNA

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Sanction.

PORICHA v. NARASINGHA PORICHA. 15 L. W. 18 : 30 M. L. T. 1 : 45 M. 113 : 69 I. C. 304 : (1921) M. W. N. 833 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 17 : 41 M. L. J. 608 (F. B.).

——S. 92—Sanction—Suit by trustee against co-trustee for accounts.

A suit by a trustee against his co-trustee for accounts of management is a suit coming within S. 92, C. P.C., and sanction of the Advocate-General is necessary for the suit. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) GOVINDASAMI KADAVAKAN v. KALIAPERUMAL. (1922) M. W. N. 83 : 66 I. C. 837 : 16 L. W. 155.

——S. 92—Sanction—Suit by one trustee against another for accounts.

A suit by a trustee or trustees of a public charitable or religious trust against a co-trustee for accounts and for delivery of account books and other papers does not fall within section 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure and may be brought without the sanction of the Advocate General. 40 B. 539 Foll. 45 M. 113 and 22 B. 496 Ref. (Kotwal and Prideaux, A.J.Cs.) AYUB, KAREEM v. JAFFAR, AYUB. 6 N. L. J. 209 : 74 I. C. 45 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 298.

——S. 92—Sanction—Sanction to file suit against some defendants not obtained.

A suit under S. 92 for declaration and injunction and settlement of a scheme in relation to certain immoveable property which was alleged to be wakf and dedicated to the Imams of Islam was filed with the previous sanction of the Collector of Karachi, in the names of two persons as plaintiffs against J and A, sons of M, who are referred to as his heirs and legal representatives. By their written statement defendants alleged that the property in question originally belonged to M and that on his death it became the absolute property not only of his sons, the two defendants, but of his other heirs, who were not specifically named in the written statement but their names were supplied later to the plaintiff's pleader who consented to their being brought on the record as co-defendants and applied for amendment of his plaint which was granted. Beyond this, the plaint underwent no alteration in any shape or form. The sanction of the Collector was however not obtained prior to the application for this amendment. Summonses were issued to the newly added defendants who appeared and adopted the same written statement as filed by the original defendants. When the suit came on for hearing the defendants contended as a preliminary point, that as the sanction of the Collector had not been obtained prior to the amendment of the plaint by the addition of the eight defendants referred to above the suit should stand dismissed, as not being a suit sanctioned by the Collector. Held, that the original sanction given by the Collector to the institution of the suit substantially authorised the plaintiffs to sue for a declaration that certain immoveable property was wakf and for an injunction against all that claimed an interest therein, and the mere absence of names of some of those interested in the property does not invalidate the sanction already granted or necessitate a fresh sanction before the interested parties could be brought on the record. 36 Bom. 168 Dist. (Raymond, A. J. C.) SAYED BACHAL SHAH v. JUMA SHAH. 16 S. L. R. 221 : A.I.R. 1923 Sind 35.

Scheme.

——S. 92—Scheme — Alteration of—Power of Court.

Where a Court has sanctioned a scheme for the administration of a religious or charitable trust the Court can vary the scheme from time to time according to the exigencies of the case. A clause in a decree settling a scheme giving liberty to the persons interested to apply from time to time for modification of the scheme if necessary does not entitle the Court to vary the rules of succession to the office of high priest which had been determined in the suit according to ancient usage and custom. A variation in this respect cannot be said to be a modification within the meaning of that clause. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) MANADANANDA JHA v. TARAKANANDA JHA. 37 C. L. J. 281 : 76 I. C. 220 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 330.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Scheme.

——S. 92—Scheme—No express provision for removal of trustee—Remedy only by way of suit and not by way of application.

Where a scheme does not provide expressly for the removal of a trustee, a petition for his removal does not lie. The remedy is only by way of a fresh suit. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) SIVAN PILLAI v. VENKATESWARA AIYAR. 22 L. W. 796.

——S. 92—Scheme— Powers given under—Order of Court in exercise of these powers, whether an order in execution and as such appealable under S. 47. SIVAN PILLAI v. VENKATESWARA AIYAR. 22 L. W. 796.

——S. 92—Scheme — Hindu temple—Grant of land—Lands burdened with service—Absolute grant to temple—Dealing by trustees—Evidentiary value of Scheme—Framing of—Provision for permanent supervision and control by Court—Undesirability of.

Where the question was whether a certain land was granted to a Hindu temple as an endowment or to certain Archakas (who were also its trustees) burdened with the service of maintaining the worship of the temple, held, that having regard to the inam title deed describing the lands as "Devadayam" and the other documentary evidence in the case the lands were granted to the deity as an endowment and not to the Archakas. The evidence of user and enjoyment, however long uninterrupted and unquestioned, would be evidence of the grant only in the absence of any reliable or cogent evidence with regard to the terms of the grant itself or in the case of any ambiguity in the grant. The fact that during a long period of time the Archakas dealt with the properties as if they were their own, and partitioned them amongst themselves is not of much evidentiary value in the absence of any parties or persons interested in setting up the rights of the temple as distinguished from the Archakas. A scheme framed under S. 92 of C. P. Code for a Hindu temple provided inter alia for vacancies in the office of trusteeship being filled up by the court, for the appointment of an auditor by the court annually, and for the court sanctioning mortgages or leases of temple properties and a further clause gave general liberty to apply to the court with regard to any matter arising out of the scheme or modifications thereof. Held that the provisions were objectionable both in principle and in practice Courts should not assume to themselves the continued supervision of institutions for the management of which they are called upon to frame schemes. (Spencer and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) NARAYANAMURTHI v. ACHAYYA SASTRULU. 47 M. L. J. 714 : 20 L. W. 687 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 411.

——S. 92 and O. 22, R. 3—Scheme Suit—Appeal—Death of one of the relator appellants—Effect of—Abatement.

Where during the pendency of an appeal against a decree in a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, one of the plaintiff-appellants dies there is no abatement resulting from such death. 40 M. 110 : 41 M. 237 followed. 37 All. 296 at 298 dissented from. An application for dismissal of the appeal on the ground the appeal had abated by reason of such death does not come within the scope of O. 22, R. 3, C. P. Code. (Spencer and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) SAYYED GULAM GOUSE SHA SAHIB KADIRI v. DOST MUHAMMAD KHAN SAHIB. 47 M. L. J. 745 : 20 L.W. 882: A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 244.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Scheme.

——S. 92—Scheme under, is to be interpreted like an Act, and where District Court is referred to it is not the person but the tribunal that is meant.

No distinction can be drawn between the interpretation of an Act, and that of a scheme under S. 92, C. P. Code. District Court in such a scheme means not the person but the tribunal. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) M. RANGANATHA v. KRISHNASWAMI. 47 M. 139 : 18 L. W. 237 : (1923) M. W. N. 664 : 75 I. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 369.

——S. 92—Scheme—Remedy not asked in suit but given in the Scheme cannot be or need not be asked in execution and order thereon is not appealable under S. 47, C. P. Code.

When the relief asked for and granted was the scheme alone, there is no reason for holding that the further remedy provided in the scheme need or can be asked for execution of the decree or that the order granting or refusing it is appealable as one passed under S. 47. When a suit is instituted in the words of S. 92, C. P. Code, to obtain a decree settling a scheme the relief must, so far as the suit is concerned, be regarded to have been finally given and there remains nothing to obtain by way of execution. (1923) M. W. N 133 and (1923) M. W. N 78, Foll. ; 24 B. 45, Diss. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) M. RANGANATHA v. KRISHNASWAMI.
47 M. 139 : 18 L. W. 237 : (1923) M.W.N. 664 : 75 I. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 369.

——S. 92—Scheme—Kattalais—Management — Right to frame a scheme.

A scheme should be framed where there has been gross mismanagement of the affairs of the temple and some scheme for the co-ordination of the various Kattalais and for some control over the various Kattalais in so far as it may ensure the harmonious working of the Kattalais, wherever they have to co-operate, is necessary. It cannot be said that the income of the various Kattalais belonging to a temple could be mixed up and utilised for all the purposes of the temple indiscriminately. These trusts are somewhat analogous to temple service inams, just as the latter are different from inam properties belonging to a temple, being granted to office holders on condition of rendering services in a temple and do not belong to the idol, though the idol may be interested in the rendering of the services. Similarly the incomes of the Kattalais do not belong to the idol though the idol is interested in the proper performance of the distinct duties attached to each Kattalai. A Kattalai is a distinct endowment "under a separate trustee to which specific items of expenditure are assigned as legitimate charges to be paid therefrom." Where there are numerous Kattalais a scheme has to be framed which will ensure the harmonious working of the Kattalais, when they have to co-operate in the Pagoda service, and prevent the embezzlement of the funds of the Kattalai or their diversion by the trustees contracting debts. It is very necessary that the scheme should contain stringent prohibitions against the borrowing or lending of money by the trustees from or to the trust funds, or from one Kattalai to another Kattalai. The preparation of a budget, the proper keeping of accounts in which the income and expenditure of the Kattalais may be separately shown and the periodical audit of those accounts are matters most essentially to be provided for in the regulations in order to fix the trustees with responsibility for the due performance of their trusts and to avoid waste and indebtedness. The need for supervision and co-ordination by a controlling and inspecting body is also apparent. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) MANIKKAVACHAKA DESIKA GNANA SAMBANDA PANDARA SANNADHI v. VAITHILINGA MUDALIAR. 18 L. W. 247 : 74 I. C. 115 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 168.

——S. 92—Scheme—Successive suits—Maintainability of—Application for amendment of scheme.

When a scheme drawn up by a Court contains a provision permitting parties or persons interested in the religious institution to apply to the Court for directions and for modifications to be made in the scheme already existing ; the proper remedy for defects discovered in the original scheme is to apply by petition to the Court that framed the scheme and not to file a regular suit : Quaere Whether Courts have inherent powers to alter schemes without a fresh suit being brought for the purpose when there is no provision for alteration in the scheme ? 24 B. 45 : 43 I. C. 772 Ref.

The mere fact that in a prior suit a prayer for the settlement of a scheme was not granted will not prevent a renewed attempt being made by a suit to have a scheme framed when the occasion arises at a later date. 36 M. 364 : 37 C. 870 Ref. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) GOVINDASAMI NAIDU v. UCHAPPA GOUNDAN. (1922) M. W. N. 477 : 70 I. C. 579 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 413.

——S. 92—Scheme—No limitation.

Where a suit is brought by plffs. not in assertion of their individual rights but on behalf of the general public who are interested in the institution for the settlement of a proper scheme of management of the charities and for other relief there is no bar of limitation. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPU NATARAJA CHETTY v. RAJAMMAL. 43 M. L. J. 448 : (1922) M. W. N. 464 : 31 M. L. T. 125 (H. C.) : 16 L. W. 122 : 69 I. C. 15 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 394.

——S. 92—Scheme—Relief under Rel. Endowments Act—S. 14 differs from S. 92 C. P. Code—Scheme can be made only under S. 92, C. P. Code.

The reliefs granted under S.14 of Act XX of 1863 are slightly different from those accorded under S. 92 of the C. P. C. The power of appointing a new trustee and of making a scheme for the administration of the property is restricted to S. 92 only. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) DILJAN ALI v. AKHTAR BEGUM.
1925 P. H. C. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544.

——S. 92—Scheme -- Framing of—Powers of Court—Necessity for scheme—Arrangements made by the founder—Decree—Form of.

There is no warrant for the proposition that the Court in framing a scheme under S. 92, C. P. Code, had no power to depart from the arrangement contemplated by the author of the trust. The institution of a suit under S.92, C.P Code, attracts the jurisdiction of the Court and the Court has complete power to make such appointment as it considers proper in the circumstances even though such appointment may involve a departure from the arrangement contemplated by the author of the original constitution of the trust. There is no legal restriction in the power of the Court ; but although there is no restriction the Court ought not to depart from the arrangement contemplated by the settler except for a very strong reason. The mere fact that the trust deed does not contemplate a scheme does not mean that a scheme should not be framed in the case if the Court thinks that one is necessary. In a suit for the administration of a public trust it is necessary that the decree should give liberty to the parties to apply. The effect of making such a provision is that the suit is kept alive and it is possible for the parties to take the direction of the Court from time to time and so often as may be necessary. (Das and Bucknill, JJ) MAHOMED WAHEB HUSSAIN v. ABBAS HUSSAIN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Scheme.

4 Pat. L. T. 326 : 71 I.C. 280 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 420.

——S. 92—Scheme—Majority of worshippers of certain denomination—Number of trustees.

Where it was found in a scheme suit that the majority of worshippers were of a certain denomination, it is fair that a majority of the trustees also are from that denomination. (Robertson, C. J. and Lentaigne, J.) FAZAL RAHMAN v. GULAM HOSSAIN ACHA. 2 Bur. L. J. 208 : 76 I. C. 788 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 134.

Scope of.

——S. 92—Scope of.

A declaration that the properties specified are waqf properties is clearly within S. 92. 28 All. 112 Foll. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ) RAMRUP GOSHAIN v. RAMDHARI BHAGAT. 23 A. L. J. 601 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 352 : 89 I. C. 40 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 683.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for possession of properties from trustees removed from office.

S. 92, C. P. Code, does not apply to a suit in which plaintiff claims to be appointed as lawful trustee and as such seeks to recover possession of the properties of the trust from the former trustees who are alleged to have been properly dismissed from office and who are therefore trespassers. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) INAYAT HUSSAIN v. FAIZ MAHOMED. 45 A. 335 : L. R. 4 A. 142 : 21 A.L.J. 191 : 71 I. C. 767 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 319 (1).

——S, 92—Scope of—Idol—Suit against trespasser on property—Sanction—Necessity for.

A suit by an idol in his juristic capacity against persons who are interfering unlawfully with his property or with his income is not governed by S. 92. C. P. Code. It is not a correct proposition to say that an idol who is being defrauded by his lawful guardian or trustee might be treated by a court of law on the footing of an infant and that any person claiming a benevolent interest in the fortunes of the said idol, would be permitted to maintain a suit in the name and as the next friend of the injured idol. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) DARSHAN LAL v. SHIBJI MAHARAJ BIRAJMAN. 20 A. L. 45 A. 215 J. 977 : L. R. 4 A. 50 : 71 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 120

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for removal of trustee—Private right to office.

S. 92, C. P. Code, provides for the institution of a representative suit by the beneficiaries to secure the proper administration of a public trust either by the removal of the existing trustees or by the settlement of a scheme by which the object of the trust can be properly carried out. A dispute between rival claimants to the office of trustee does not fall within the section. In order to bring a case within S. 92, C. P. Code, the suit must be a representative one, brought for the benefit of the public and to enforce a public right in respect of an express or constructive trust upon a cause of action alleging a breach of trust or necessity for directions as to its administration against a trustee of such express or constructive trust. Such a trustee may be a de jure trustee or a trustee de son tort. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) PUTTU LAL v. DAYA NAND. 20 A.L.J. 712: L.R. 3 A. 455: 44 A. 721: 68 I. C. 786 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 499.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Scope of.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for declaration that defendants are not trustees of a temple.

A suit for a declaration that defendants are not properly appointed trustees of a temple and for an injunction appropriate to that declaration does not fall within the purview of S. 92. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J) NILKANTH v. RAMAKRISHNA. 23 Bom. L. R. 876 : 64 I. C. 353 : 46 Bom. 101 : A. I. R 1923 Bom. 67.

——S. 92—Scope of—Defendant claiming under trust—Plaintiff challenging defendant's appointment as trustee—Can sue under S. 92.

Where the defendant claims under a trust a suit under S. 92 is maintainable even though the plaintiffs challenge the appointment of the defendant as a trustee. 33 C. 789 Foll. (Chatterjee and Chotzner, JJ.) ABDUS SAKOOR v. ABDUL RAHIM. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1106.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for a declaration of public right of way—Permission of Court obtained under O. 1, R. 8—Effect

S.92, C.P.Code, need not be resorted to where a suit for a declaration of public right of way is filed with the permission of Court obtained under O. 1, R. 8. (Panton, J) HARISH CHANDRA SAHA v. PRAN NATH CHAKRABARTHY. 69 I. C. 910 : 26 C. W. N. 587.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for possession and declaration—Sanction when necessary.

Where the worshippers of a temple sue for possession of temple property, the suit is not maintainable as prima facie, it is only the trustees who could claim that relief. They can however sue for a declaration that it is trust property and to such a suit S. 92 will not apply. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) SALIG RAM v. BASSAO MAL. 67 I. C. 320 (2) : 1 Lah. L. J. 150.

——S. 92—Scope of—Sanction of Advocate-General obtained—Procedure under O. 1, R. 8, need not be followed—C. P. Code, O. 1, R. 8.

It cannot be seriously contended that the provisions of O. 1, R. 8, are not merely of an enabling character. The condition precedent to the proper institution of a suit under S.92,C.P. Code, is the obtaining of the sanction of the Advocate General and no other condition for the maintainability of a suit is to be found in the Code. Previous to the amendment of S. 92 (formerly S. 539 in the previous Code) by the Civil P. C. of 1908 no doubt the procedure under O. 1, R. 8 (formerly S. 30) was, in suits instituted otherwise than with the sanction of the Advocate-General or the Collector, deemed necessary in order to render the decree in the suit binding on all parties interested in or concerned in any manner with the trust But the amendment of the law embodied in the present S.92, C. P. Code, has obviated the necessity for a representative suit. (Kumarasami Sastri, Madhavan Nair and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) S. VEERARAGHAVA ACHARIAR v. V. PARTHASARATHY IYENGAR. (1925) M. W. N. 505 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070.

——S. 92—Scope of—Decree under S. 92 binds all persons interested in the trust—C. P. Code, S. 11.

Any decree passed in a suit under S. 92, C.P. Code, is binding not only on the trust and the trustees, but also on all the worshippers at the temple. (Kumarasami Sastri, Madhavan Nair and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) S. VEERARAGHAVA ACHARIAR v. V. PARTHASARATHY IYENGAR. (1925) M. W. N. 505 : A. I R. 1925 Mad. 1070.

——S. 92—Scope of.

S. 92 speaks of " any express or constructive trust created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature". It does not signify whether it is a charitable nature or of a religious nature provided that it is one of these two and also that it is a public purpose. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) SRI GADICHERU VENKATANARASIMHA RAO v. NYAPATHY SUBBA RAO PANTULU GARU. 17 L. W. 31 : 32 M. L. T. 47 : (1923) M. W. N. 111: 46 M. 300 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 376.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Scope.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit by trustee against dismissed trustee for possession.

S. 92 only governs suits for the vindication of the rights of the public in public charitable trusts and not suits for vindicating the plaintiff's right of management and getting possession for the purpose. Further a suit by a trustee against a person whom he alleges to have been lawfully dismissed is nonetheless outside the scope of the section because it asks for an account of the trust money and payment of the amount due. 33 Cal. 789, foll. (Napier and Odgers, JJ.) VENKU v. DORAISAMI. 14 L. W. 38 : 62 I. C. 761 (1) : (1921) M. W. N. 439.

——S. 92—Scope—Arbitration—Private rights—Dispute as to jurisdiction to try suit under—District Court—C. P. Courts Act, S. 17.

A suit under S. 92, C. P. C. does not concern the private rights of the parties thereto and consequently the suit cannot be referred to arbitration. Under S. 17 of the C. P. Courts Act the District Court is the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction and alone has jurisdiction to try suits under S. 92, C. P. Code. Where the law has given jurisdiction to determine a civil dispute to specific tribunals the jurisdiction of other tribunals is excluded. (Prideaux and Kotwal, A.J.Cs.) GANOBA v. NARAYAN. 6 N. L. J. 7 : 72 I. C. 1016 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 112.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit between trustee and non-trustee for recovery of trust property and for submission of accounts—Preliminary formalities are unnecessary.

A suit by an admitted trustee against one who is not a trustee for the recovery of trust property and submission of accounts is cognisable by the ordinary Civil Court without any preliminary formalities mentioned in S. 92. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) DILJAN ALI v. AKHTARI BEGUM. 1925 P. H. C. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544.

——S. 92—Scope of—Suit for establishing right to office of Mutwalli—S. 92 does not apply.

A suit for an establishment of the right to act as mutwalli is cognisable by the ordinary Civil Court without any preliminary formalities. But it is otherwise where the appointment of a trustee has been recognised and it is sought to remove him for a breach of trust. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) DILJAN ALI v. AKHTARI BEGUM. 1925 P. H. C. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544.

——S. 92—Scope of—Public trust—Denial of trust and assertion of private title by trustee—Power of Court.

In order to make S. 92, C. P. Code, applicable it is not necessary that the existence of the trust for public, charitable or religious purposes alleged by the plaintiff should be admitted by the defendant. If the trust is disputed, the question falls to be decided by the Court upon evidence. 2 C. L. J. 431 ; 9 I. C. 358 Ref. Where a trustee not only mismanages the trust property but sets up a title adverse to the trust there is no reason why S. 92, C. P. Code, should not be invoked. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) DEO SARAN BHARTHI v. DEOKI. 3 Pat. 842 : 5 Pat. L. T. 305 : 80 I. C. 980 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 657.

——S. 92—Scope of—Dispute about managership of temple—If within section.

A suit between two rival claimants as to the right of management of the temples does not fall within S. 92, C. P. Code. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) DEOKINANDAN v. BRIJ NANDAN JHA. 5 Pat. L. T. 231 : 76 I. C. 89 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 502.

——S. 92—Suit by reversioner to recover trust property alienated by the founder's wife, during the lifetime of the founder's wife—Maintainability without sanction of the Advocate-General.

The founder of a trust had appointed himself as manager, during his lifetime and his heirs after his death. The founder's wife who succeeded to the managership after the founder's death alienated some of the trust properties. The reversioner to the estate of the founder sued to recover the alienated properties, during the lifetime of the founder's wife. Held, that the suit was not maintainable, as the plaintiff could not claim to be the trustee during the lifetime of the founder's wife, and had not obtained the sanction of the Advocate-General to remove her from the trusteeship by a suit under S. 92, C. P. C. and appoint another trustee who may then sue for recovery of the alienated properties. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASAMI GOUNDAN v. SINGAPERUMAL KADAVUL. 22 L. W. 701.

Trespasser.

——S. 92—Trespasser—Though defendants are not proved to be even de facto trustees, still suit for appointing new trustee lies—The new trustees can elect trespassers by suit—Trespassers, though not necessary parties, are not improper parties.

If the plaintiffs, after their evidence is closed, succeed in establishing that the defendants entered into possession as trustees, or have been acting de facto trustees of these properties, and that the properties are trust properties, then there can be no doubt that the suit under S. 92 would be maintainable. On the other hand, if they altogether fail to establish such a character of the possession of the defendants, even then they have a right to ask the District Judge in case they prove that the properties are trust properties, to appoint new trustees, because no trustees exist. It is not incumbent on the plaintiffs to first bring a representative suit to recover possession of the properties under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, and then, having obtained possession, ask the Judge to appoint trustees for the same. Where either a breach of trust has been committed, or where the direction of the Court is necessary for the administration of such trust, persons interested in the trust can ask the Court to appoint new trustees. After such new trustees have been appointed, it would be open to them to take steps to recover possession of the property from the hands of the trespassers who may hold the properties. In a suit under S. 92 it is within the jurisdiction of the Court to first decide the question whether the property in dispute is or is not trust property. If the Court has jurisdiction to decide this question, it is obvious that such a question ought to be decided in the presence of persons who are interested in denying the trust. If trespassers in possession are made defendants they cannot be said to have been improperly impleaded, though they might not be absolutely necessary parties. Even if it be held that the properties are trust properties and that the defendants are mere trespassers and have no right to retain possession thereof, the Court cannot order their ejectment. But there can be nothing to prevent the Court from declaring that the properties are trust properties, and they vest in the newly appointed trustees. 19 A. L. J. 236, Dist ; 41 Cal. 749 ; 33 All. 660, Expl.; 35 Bom. 470, Foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) LACHMAN PRASAD v. MUNIA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 92—Trespasser.

23 A. L. J. 795 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 405 : 89 I. C. 639 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 759.

——— S. 92—Trespasser—No proof that heirs of trustee were appointed as trustees.

Where there is no allegation that the heirs of trustees were themselves appointed trustees or they took possession of the property as trustees, a suit against them for breach of trust is not maintainable if they are mere trespassers and should be proceeded against in ejectment. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MAHAMED BUX v. MT. PIARI. 62 I. C. 744 : 19 A. L. J. 236.

——— S. 92—Trespasser—Suit against—Section is not applicable.

A suit by a trustee for recovery of possession of trust properties against trespassers does not fall under S. 92, C. P. Code (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) GANGA PURI v. MOHAN LAL.

73 I. C. 645 : 4 Lah. 295 : 5 Lah. L. J. 480 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 131.

Trustee de son tort.

——— S. 92—Trustee de son tort—Suit against—Maintainability—Advisory committee not in the possession of trustees.

A suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, is maintainable against a trustee de son tort. A Hindu testator set apart certain properties for a charity and appointed his widow trustee of the charity. He directed that after her death, the person to whom she gave her own property should be trustee. The widow died intestate and the nephews of the testator entered into possession of the endowed property as being the nearest reversioners to the widow. Held, that on failure of the widow to nominate a trustee, the trusteeship of the charity reverted to the heirs of the founder and that the nephews of the testator must be regarded as trustees. Consequently the nephews were liable as trustees in a suit instituted under S. 92, C. P. Code, for their removal and possession and for accounts. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) BEHARI LAL v. SHIVA NARAIN. 22 A. L. J. 866 : L. R. 5 A. 697 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 884.

——— S. 92—Trustee de son tort—Suit against—Maintainability of.

A suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, is maintainable against a trustee de son tort who has without title chosen to take upon himself the character of trustee. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) RAM BILAS v. NITEA NAND. 44 A. 652 : L. R. 3 A. 365 : 69 I. C. 990 : 21 A.L.J. 105 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 542 (2).

——— S. 92—Trustee de son tort—Relief can be granted against but not against alienees of trust property.

A suit under S. 92 will lie against a trustee de son tort who is a trustee de facto though not de jure but no relief can be granted against alienees of trust property in a suit under S. 92. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) P. N. MALKAJIGUNDA v. RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR. 78 I. C. 950 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 212.

——— S. 94 and O. 39—Inter-relation.

S. 94 is governed by O. 39. (Phillips, J.) V. VARADACHARLU v. K. NARASIMHA CHARLU.

23 L. W. 85 : (1925) M. W. N. 886 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 258.

——— S. 95—Suit for damages for attachment before judgment on insufficient grounds—Attachment not effected—No cause of action exists.

Mere procuring of an attachment before judgment does not of itself afford a cause of action for damages. It is an essential part of the cause of action in a suit for damages, for the abuse of civil proceedings that the proceeding in which the process complained of is taken out, should have terminated in favour of the plaintiff or that the particular process complained of has been superceded or discharged. S. 95 is applicable only where the attachment is in fact effected and does not apply to a case where the attachment is applied for and has not in fact been levied. The remedy by way of a suit is allowed where the aggrieved party claims a larger compensation than Rs. 1,000. But that does not make the basis of the suit any way different from the basis on which compensation is allowed in the suit itself where the process has been wrongly put into effect, excepting that in a suit something more is required than under S. 95 and not that something less is required, namely, that under S. 95 it is sufficient to prove that attachment was applied for on insufficient grounds, while in a suit the paintiff has to show not merely that it was applied for on insufficient grounds but that it was so done maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause. 39 Mad. 952 Rel. on. (Taraporewala, J.) KEDARNATH TULSIDAS v. BEHARILAL JAGAMAL. 87 I. C. 1026 : 27 B. L. R. 525 : A. I. R 1925 Bom. 357.

——— S. 95—Claim for compensation—When to be awarded—Interim injunction.

It is doubtful if an award of compensation can be made in a case where the order of injunction was passed after hearing both the parties and it was found there was sufficient grounds for making it. The proper stage for making such an application would be only when the suit is heard and until then, it would be premature. (Ramesam, J.) CHINTAMANENI VENKATAPAYYA v. VENKATAPAYYA. 17 L. W. 150 : 71 I. C. 450 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 352.

——— S. 95—Wrongful attachment— Trespass to goods—Malice—Reasonable and probable cause—Right to damages.

A judgment-creditor who attaches property which does not belong to his judgment-debtor but to a third person, commits a trespass for which he is responsible in damages, even though he may have acted without malice and mistakenly. 8 B. H. C. R. 177 : 3 Beng. R. 413, Ref.: 32 M. 170 : 35 M 598 : 45 M. 227, Ref. (Beasley, J.) K. A. ASSAN MOHOMED v. KADERSA ROWTHER, 2 Rang. 181 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 302.

——— S. 95 (2)—Whether a separate suit for damages for tortious temporary injunction lies—Whether proof of malice necessary.

A separate suit for compensation in respect of tortious temporary injunction lies. (16 I. C. 443 followed.) Malice can be properly inferred on proof that there were no sufficient grounds for an application for temporary injunction and that the plaintiff has sustained some substantial injury ; 186 P. R. 1895, referred to : 16 I. C. 443 followed. (Abdul Raoof and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) L. EVANS v. ARTHUR MINCK.

45 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 303.

——— S. 96—Consent decree—Parties agreeing to produce only documentary evidence and to be baund by the decision thereon—Decision is not open to appeal.

Where in pursuance of an agreement between the parties the Court proceeds outside its ordinary jurisdiction, the proper inference would be that there was to be no appeal from the decision as there would be in the case if the trial were in the ordinary way. [Burges v. Mortan (1896 A. C. 136) Rel on.] But it does not follow that unless the Court has proceeded outside its ordinary jurisdiction a right of appeal always exists. Where the parties to a suit agreed that whatever decision the Court arrives at on the documentary evidence shall be accepted and agreed to by them :

Held, that neither of them can go back upon that agreement and challenge the decision in appeal. (Sulaiman, J.) BALLABH DAS v. SHRI KISHEN. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 541 : 89 I. C. 586 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 90.

——S. 96—Order determining a party's right to be the representative of a deceased party is decree and appealable.

Sub-section (3) of S. 47 of the present Code in express terms includes a question arising between the parties as to whether any person is or is not representative of a party, and in view of S. 2 of the Code the determination of such a question as between the decree-holder or a person claiming to represent the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor amounts to a decree and is appealable as such. 36 All. 423, Ref. to. 20 All. 539, Overruled. (Daniels, J.) PEARE LAL v. JHABBA LAL. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 668 : 82 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 66.

——S. 96—Appeal—Costs—Order as to—Appealability of.

An order as to costs is within the discretion of the trial Court and unless some question of principle is involved therein, an appeal will not be entertained from the order. (Sulaiman, J.) LACHHMI NARAIN v. MT. BRIJ RANI L. R. 5 A. 573 : 80 I. C. 39 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 794.

——S. 96 and O. 23, R. 3—Order recording compromise—Decree passed thereafter—Appeal filed afterwards from order recording compromise is incompetent —C. P. Code, S. 11.

Where a preliminary decree or order is followed by a final decree, appeal does not lie against the former after the final decree is passed. An appeal from an order recording a compromise under O. 23, R. 3 filed after a decree is prepared in pursuance of that order in accordance with the provisions of R. 3, is incompetent : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 218 ; 36 Cal. 726 : 32 Cal. 1023 and 17 C. W. N. 868, Foll.: 10 M. I. A. 203 (P. C.) Ref. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) BENGAL COAL CO., LTD. v. APCOR COLLIERIES, LTD. 29 C. W. N. 928 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 412.

——S. 96—Order under—Appeal if and when lies.

If the determination of a question under O. 21, R. 66 is also an order passed under S. 47, e. g., there had been a judicial adjudication as to the boundaries binding on parties in a subsequent proceeding and finally determining the rights of the parties, an appeal lies against the order. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) DEVENDRA NATH BASU v. KAILASH CHANDRA KALU. 80 I. C. 861 : 29 C. W. N. 556 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 318.

——S. 96—Preliminary Decree—Determination of matters in controversy—Decree not drawn up—Appeal.

Where during the trial of a suit judgment is given against some of the parties on a certain date but no decree is passed until the whole suit is disposed of, the time for purposes of appeal runs from the date of the decree and not from the date of the interlocutory judgment. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) IRRANI MUNDLE v. NAIMUDDIN SARDAR. 39 C. L. J. 251 : 81 I. C. 527 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1006.

——S. 96—Decree refusing exclusive but awarding joint possession aggrieves plaintiff.

When a person is compelled to hold land jointly with another who he alleges is not his co-sharer, he can hardly be held to be not aggrieved by the decree. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) JNANENDRA NATH v. DUKHIRAM SANTRA. 28 C.W.N. 865 : 40 C. L. J. 90 : 82 I. C. 386 ; A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 850.

——S. 96—New plea of jurisdiction—Facts not in dispute.

A question of jurisdiction which depends on no disputed facts can be raised for the first time in appeal. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) RAJENDRA NARAIN CHOWDHURY v. SATISH CHANDRA CHOWDHURY. 50 Cal. 948 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 233.

——Ss. 96 and 100—Order for re-trial in appeal against dismissal of suit.

Where an appellate court set aside the decree of the lower court and directed a re-trial of the suit with reference to the entry in the record of rights, published subsequently to the decree and such other evidence as may be adduced by the litigants : held such an order is made in the exercise of the inherent power of the court and not under O. 41, R. 3 and as such an appeal is competent under S. 96 read with S. 100. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHAIRAB CHANDRA DUTT v. KALI KUMAR DUTT 37 C. L. J. 491 : 71 I. C. 453 : 74 I. C. 1038 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 606.

——S. 96—Findings of fact of trial Court—Interference of Appellate Court.

It is a salutary rule that where the issue is simple and straightforward and the only question is which set of witnesses is to be believed the findings of fact of the Trial Judge should not be lightly disregarded but it is otherwise where the question depends upon admitted surrounding circumstances and the Trial Court has not sifted the evidence with reference thereto. (Mookeree and Buckland, JJ.) PRASANNA MAYI v. BAIKUNTHA NATH. 34 C. L. J. 384 : 25 C. W. N. 779 : 66 I. C. 782 : 49 Cal. 132 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 260.

——S. 96—Suit for rent—Plaintiff's title proved but tenancy disproved—Suit dismissed—Right of appeal exists.

Where in a suit for rent the lower Court holds that though plff.'s title was proved, the relationship of landlord and tenant had not been established, and dismisses the suit, held that the plff. has a right of appeal against the decision and that it was immaterial whether the appeal related to the question of title or whether such decision was in favour of the plff. (Shamsul Huda, J.) DINABANDHU v. JAGABANDHU. 63 I. C. 520 : 33 C. L. J. 384.

——S. 96—Appeal from preliminary decree after final decree is passed—Not maintainable—Amendment.

Where a final decree is passed no appeal will lie against a preliminary decree. But the Court may allow the appeal to be amended so as to convert it into one against the final decree. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) KULADA PRASAD v. RAMANAND PATNAIK. 33 C. L. J. 414 : 61 I. C. 923 : 25 C. W. N. 776 : 48 Cal. 1036.

——S. 96—Party not aggrieved— Cannot file appeal.

Where appellant is not aggrieved by the judgment dismissing the appeal against him, he is not entitled ro prefer an appeal against it. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Quadir, J.) GOPALDAS v. MT. ZAINALA BIBI. 77 I. C. 477 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 504.

——S. 96—Order—Setting aside execution sale without notice to auction-purchaser—Appeal.

An appeal lies from an order setting aside execution sale without notice to the auction purchaser at the instance of the auction-purchaser. (Scott-Smith, J.) GUL BANO v. MUHAMMED ZAKAR KHAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 96.

3 Lah. L. J. 463.

——— Ss. 96 and 98—Appeal from the mofussil—Differences of opinion between the two Judges of the High Court hearing the appeal—Confirming Judge's opinion prevails—Letters Patent (Madras) Cls. 15, 16 and 36.

In appeals governed by S. 96, when the two Judges of the High Court are divided in opinion, the judgment of that Judge, who confirms the decree of the lower Court prevails. 45 Bom. 718 Expl. (Venkatasubba Rao and Jackson, JJ.) VENKATASUBBIAH v. VENKATASUBBAMMA. 21 L. W. 721 : 86 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1032.

——— S. 96—No appeal lies simply because finding on a particular matter was against appellant though suit against him was dismissed.

There is no right of appeal vouchsafed to a party against whom a suit has been dismissed, simply because the finding on a particular matter in controversy has been against him. (Devadoss and Jackson JJ.) M. LATCHAYYA v. S. KOTTAMMA. 47 M. L. J. 743 : 20 L. W. 734 : (1925) M. W. N. 141 : 84 I. C. 945 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 264 (2).

——— S. 96—Right of appeal—Party adversely affected by decree—Water supply in ryotwari tracts——Right of Government to regulate—Right of private party to appeal against decree.

In the Ryotwari tracts the Govt. has a right to regulate the water supply, and so the party adversely affected by a decree against the Govt. can appeal; and the decree against the Govt since it prevents the Govt. from using the channel as supply channel, and the order allowing the suit to be withdrawn as against them was illegal. 1914 M. W. N. 788, Ref. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) E. T. DHARMARAJA v. K. M. PETTUR RAJA. 45 M. L. J. 212 : 46 Mad. 811 : (1923) M. W. N. 677 : 18 L. W. 243 : 74 I. C. 4 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 79.

——— S. 96—Execution proceedings — Civ. Pro. Code, S. 2.

Every order made in proceedings under S. 47 is not necessarily appealable. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) SHIV NARAYAN v. NARAYAN PRASAD. 2 P. L. R. 222 : 84 I. C. 576 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 683.

——— S 96—Does not apply to execution proceedings

S. 96 (3) C. P. Code applies only to suits and not to proceedings in execution. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) LACHMAN LAL v. PADARATH SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 735 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 346.

——— S. 96—"An appeal"—If excludes a fresh appeal.

The words "an appeal" in S. 96, C. P. C. do not exclude the entertainment of a fresh appeal if the dismissal of the first appeal does not bar the hearing of the fresh appeal. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SURAJDEO NARAIN SINGH v. PRATAP RAI. 4 Pat. L. T. 405 : 2 Pat. 739 : 75 I. C. 284 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 213 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 514.

——— S. 96 and O. 9, r. 13—In appeal from ex parte decree question of service of summons cannot be considered which can be considered only under O. 9.

In an appeal from an ex parte decree, the only question with which the appellate Court is ordinarily concerned is whether the evidence on the record is sufficient to support that decree, and that the question of due service of summons is the subject-matter not of an appeal from the decree but of the special proceeding under O. 9. (39 All. 143 and 27 Cal. 738, Foll.) Young, Offg. C. J. and Carr, J.) RAJ CHANDRA DHAR v. K. D. O. C. RAY 2 Bur. L. J. 282 : 2 Rang. 108 : 79 I. C. 506 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 137.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 96 (3).

——— Ss. 96 and 97—Unless the dates of the preliminary and the final decrees do not allow challenge of both the decrees, appeal from preliminary decree does not affect final decree.

Where there has been a preliminary decree and a fina decree and the dates permit the appellants to challenge both the preliminary decree and the final decree within the time allowed by law it is unreasonable to allow the appellant to avoid the provisions of the Court-Fees Act and obtain a reversal of the final decree by a circuitous method. The proper course is to allow the appellant a reasonable time within which to amend his appeal. 18 Bom. L. R. 76 and 18 Bom. L. R. 80 not Foll. Where the appeal against the preliminary decree was filed before the final decree was made and the dates did not allow of an appeal against both the preliminary decree and the final decree, Held: the subsequent passing of the final decree did not render the appeal against the preliminary decree nugatory but that the final decree being dependent on the preliminary decree if the latter was set aside the former would fall with it. 36 A. 532, F. B. and 17 C. W. N. 868 Foll. (Kincaid, J.C. and Aston, A.J.C.) ISHAK v. FATIMA. 18 S. L. R. 133 : 78 I. C. 978 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 178.

——— S. 96—Parties asking Court to inspect locality and decide—If appealable—Duty of appellate Court.

The parties to a suit instead of leading evidence asked the Judge to have a local inspection and decide on the basis of that. The Judge did accordingly and passed a decree. The aggrieved party appealed. Held, the proceedings before the Judge were not extra cursus curiæ and as there was no agreement by the parties to treat his decision as final, he was not in the position of an arbitrator. Hence there was a right of appeal. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) TILLOOMAL JESSOMAL v. HARBHAGWANDAS. 76 I. C. 309 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 134.

——— S. 96 (2)—What is not a consent decree.

Where plaintiff agrees to accept a conditional decree because otherwise the Court was prepared to dismiss the suit, the decree is not a consent decree. (Scott-Smith and Brasher, JJ.) ALI AKBAR v. SULTAN-UL MULK. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 129.

——— S. 96 (3)—Consent order—Consent given under mistake of fact—Setting aside, grounds for.

Serious and substantial injustice to the party must be shown to result from letting the order stand which was made by the consent of the pleader under a mistake of fact. (Lord Sumner.) JAMNABAI v. FAZALBHOY. 47 M. L. J. 164 : 18 L. W. 437 : 33 M. L. T. 376 : 46 M. L. J. 160 : 26 Bom. L. R. 189 : 40 C. L. J. 272 : 77 I. C. 355 : L. R. 5 P. C. 80 : A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 184 (P. C.).

——— S. 96 (3)—Agreement arrived at during suit and signed by both parties—Decree passed in terms of the agreement—No appeal lies—C.P. Code, O. 23, r. 3.

Where during suit an agreement had been arrived at, the terms were signed by the parties and all that the Court had to do was to pass a decree according to the terms to which the parties had agreed, Held, that the decree was a consent decree and no appeal lay. If any party was not satisfied, it was open to him before the decree was passed to contend that a lawful agreement had not been arrived at. (Macleod, C.J. and Madgaonkar, J.) GULABCHAND RAMSUKH v. RAMSUKH RAMPROTAP. 27 Bom. L. R. 1279 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 39.

——— S. 96 (3)—Party not joining in the compro- mise can appeal if prejudicially affected.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 96 (3).

When a consent decree had been made as between some of the parties to a suit, the other parties who have not assented to the compromise are entitled to appeal against the decree provided they have been prejudicially affected thereby. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) NIRODE CHANDRA BANERJI v. PROFULLA CHANDRA BANERJI. 40 C. L. J. 535 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 421.

——— Ss. 96 (3) and 104 (2)—Consent decree—Appeal—Decree passed—Further appeal.

The trial court refused to record an oral compromise alleged by the defendants on the ground that all the parties to the suit had not joined the compromise. On appeal, the District Court found as a fact that all the parties had agreed to the compromise and passed a decree in terms of the compromise. On a further appeal to the High Court, held, that the order of the District Court was final under S. 104 (2). C. P. Code and that the decree pased by him fell under S. 96 (3), C. P. Code and was not appealable. 27 M. L. J. 173: 46 I. C. 775, diss. (LeRossignol and Campbell, JJ.) GURCHARAN SINGH v. GURDEV SINGH.

3 Lah. 175 : 66 I. C. 258 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 309.

——— S. 96 (3)—Consent decree—No appeal.

Held by Coutts-Trotter, J:—A decree to which the pleaders of both parties had consented is a consent decree, though subsequently at the time of passing the decree, one of the parties resiled from it. From such a decree there is no appeal. 41 M 233, not foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) GOVINDASAMI KADAVARAN v. KALIAPERUMAL.

(1922) M. W. N. 83 : 66 I. C. 837 : 16 L. W. 155.

——— S. 97—Appeal against preliminary decree—Passing of final decree—Effect.

Where pending an appeal against a preliminary decree a final decree is passed, the proper course is to file an appeal against the final decree also or in any event to inform the Court hearing the appeal against the preliminary decree that a final decree has been passed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHANDULAL v. MOTILAL. 27 Bom. L. R. 1492 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 43.

——— S. 97—Appeal—Appeal from refusal to set aside ex parte preliminary decree cannot be filed after final decree.

Where after the passing of the final decree in a suit, an appeal was preferred against the orders by which the lower Court dismissed (1) the appellant's application under O. 9, R. 13 to set aside the ex parte preliminary decree and later on (2) his application under O. 9, R. 9 for restoration of his application under O. 9, R. 13. Held, that the appeal was incompetent. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAYAN DAS v. SATYENDRA CHANDRA GHOSH. 29 C. W N. 640 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 790.

——— S. 97 — Final decree passed — No appeal against preliminary decree.

An appeal against a preliminary decree is not maintainable unless there is also an appeal against the final decree passed subsequent to the preliminary decree by the Court below. 40 C. 1036 : 20 C. W. N. 231 : 18 C. L. J. 321: 10 C. L. J. 113, referred to. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) MONOHAR PESHAKAR v. HARAN CHANDRA KARMAKAR. 71 I. C. 290 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 543.

——— S. 97—Appeal against preliminary decree—Passing of final decree after, does not affect hearing of appeal.

There is a difference between cases where the final decree is passed before the appeal is preferred from the final decree and cases where it is passed after the appeal is preferred. In the latter case the appellate court is competent to hear and dispose of the appeal. 25 C. W. N. 776 : 18 C. L. J. 214; 18 C.L. J. 321, Ref. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) MEA HUSSA KHAN v. SHEIKH SAMIR. 68 I. C. 475 : A. I. R 1923 Cal. 282 (1).

——— S. 97—Preliminary and final decree—Duty of party to appeal against both.

Where a final decree has been made, whether or not an appeal had been preferred against the preliminary decree it is the duty of the party aggrieved by the final decree to appeal against the final decree. An appeal therefore, against the preliminary decree after the passing but before the signing of the final decree and without challenging by appeal the final decree is useless and could not be entertained. 18 C. L. J. 321. 32 All. 225: 36 Cal. 762, foll. (Broadway, J.) GANDA RAM v. SUNDER LAL. 67 I. C. 278 : 2 Lah. L. J. 673.

——— S. 97 — Preliminary decree not appealed against—Final decree—Appeal against—If preliminary decree can be challenged.

Where a preliminary decree is not appealed against, S. 97 bars its correctness being challenged in an appeal against the final decree. (Baker, O. J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) GANAPATRAO v. MT. TULSABAI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 419.

——— S. 97—No right of appeal against preliminary decree exists after passing final decree.

Where there are preliminary and final decrees in the same suit an appeal against the preliminary decree alone cannot be maintained unless it is instituted before the passing of the final decree. 36 Cal, 762 : 30 All. 479 : 37 Mad. 455, Ref. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) BIHARIDAS v. BAJRANGDAS. 67 I. C. 261 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 179.

——— S. 97—Preliminary decree.

Appeal from preliminary decree cannot be treated as one against the final decree also. (Dalal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) RAJA SETH SWAMI DAYAL v. MUHAMMAD SHER KHAN. 74 I. C. 485 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 205 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 299.

——— S. 98—Letters Patent, Cl. 36—Applicability—Judges differing in opinion.

The natural place to find the rules governing the exercise of the appellate civil jurisdiction over the other Judges of the High Court would be the Letters Patent, While the natural place to find the rules governing the exercise of the appellate civil jurisdiction over the civil Courts of the mofussal subject to the High Court would be the Civil Procedure Code. The Code makes no provision for an appeal within the High Court, that is to say, from a single Judge of the High Court. This right of appeal depends on clause 15 of the Charter. Appeals under the Letters Patent are governed by the Letters Patent, and appeals under the Code are governed by the Code. Further the Code only deals with appeals from certain Courts and does not deal with appeals within the High Court from the decision of one judge of the Court to another. Therefore when a Bench of two Judges is hearing an appeal from the decision of a single Judge of the same High Court whether on the original side or the appellate, and they differ in opinion, the opinion of the senior judge would prevail. 26 All. (1921) : 23 Bom. L. R 623, Ref. (Marten and Pratt, JJ.) PANDY WALAD v. JAMNADAS. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 218.

——— S. 98— Letters Patent (Calcutta) Cl. 36—Difference of opinion between 2 Judges on the appellate side of the High Court—Affirmance of the decision of the lower Court.

Where two judges of a High Court hearing an appeal from a subordinate Court preferred under the provisions of the C. P. Code differ in opinion. S. 98 of the C. P. Code applies and the decision of the Lower Court must be confirmed. Clause 36 of the Letters Patent does not apply. (Walmsley and Page, JJ.) PRAFULLA KAMINI ROY v. BHABANI NATH ROY. 52 C. 1018 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 121.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 98.

——S. 98—S. 98, C. P. Code, supersedes cl. 36 of Letters Patent—Letters Patent (Cal.) cl. 36.

Per Suhrawardy, J. (Walmsley, J. Contra.)—To the extent to which S. 98, C. P. Code, is inconsistent with clause 36 of the Letters Patent the former has, by virtue of the power conferred on the Indian Legislature by clause 44 of the Letters Patent superseded or modified the latter. (Walmsley, Newbould, C. C. Ghose, Suhrawardy and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) BECHARAM CHOUDHURI v. PURNA CHANDRA CHATTERJI. 41 C. L. J. 456 : 88 I. C. 637 : 29 C. W. N. 755 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 845 (F.B.).

——S. 98—Reference to a third Judge—Third Judge deciding case on another point—Procedure.

Under S. 98, C. P. Code, a third judge to whom a point of law is referred on a difference of opinion between the members of a Division Bench of the High Court cannot dispose of the appeal generally but can only dispose of the point of law referred and then decide the appeal in the manner indicated by the referring judges, having regard to the possible answers that might be given. Where the question of law actually referred to a third judge was not decided by him and the reference consequently proves infructuous, the appeal must be disposed of under S. 98 (2), C.P. Code. (Woodroffee, Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JNANENDRA MOHAN DUTT v. UMESH CHANDRA GUHA. 26 C. W. N. 985 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 544.

——S. 98—There is no conflict between S. 98, C. P. Code, and Letters Patent, clause 36 of Bombay and 28 of Patna.

Per Das and Foster, JJ.—There is no conflict between the Code and the Letters Patent. The special procedure indicated in the Letters Patent applies to Letters Patent appeals ; the procedure indicated in S. 98 of the Code applies to appeals from Subordinate Courts. 43 Bom. 433 Foll. (Dawson Miller, C. J.) HITENDRASINGH v. RAMESWARSINGH. 4 Pat. 510: 87 I. C. 849 : 88 I. C. 141 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 625.

——S. 98 (2)—Old Code—1882—Distinction.

Formerly the third Judge could dispose of the case generally, now he must decide the point of law referred and then dispose of the appeal, the referring Judges having indicated how it should be disposed of accordingly to the possible answers to be given. The result is that under the present Law a Judge may be asked to decide whether this or that applies when his opinion may be that neither does apply. The third Judge in this case having held that he did not concur with either of the Judges, the differing Judges dismissed the appeal under clause (2), that is, the part preceding the proviso. (Woodroffe, Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JNANENDRA MOHAN DUTT v. UMESH CHANDRA GUHA. 26 C. W. N. 985 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 544.

——S. 99—Power of attorney—Institution of suit under—Defect in power—Not a general power.

If the power of attorney, on the strength of which a suit is instituted is defective as when it is a special and not a general power, there is merely an irregularity in proceedings not affecting the merits of the case and hence is no ground for setting aside the decree appealed from on that ground. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) GANPATI NANA v. JIVANABAI. 24 Bom. L. R. 1302 : 47 Bom. 227 : 76 I. C. 34 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 44 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 99.

——S. 99—Section does not apply if merits are affected.

When the merits of the case have been affected by the non-joinder of parties the section can have no application. (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) AADUL RAHMAN MIA v. SALIMANNISA BIBI. 89 I. C. 121 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 416.

——S. 99—Irregularity in Court below—Merits weak—Interference.

Where the merits of an appellant are extremely weak, the High Court will not interfere even though there have been irregularities in the procedure adopted by the Court below. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) NIRANKA SASHI ROY v. SWARGANATH BANERJEE. 90 I. C. 121 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 95.

——S. 99—Judgment based on evidence other than inadmissible—Remand is not proper.

Where the judgment of the lower Court is based on inadmissible evidence, remand would be proper but where apart from the inadmissible evidence the Court is mainly influenced by the absence of evidence on behalf of the defendant and the positive evidence of plaintiff's witnesses, it will serve no useful purpose to remand the case for a reconsideration of the evidence. (7 Cal. 293, Foll.) (Suhrawardy, J.) FAIJADDIN v. AGNI KUMAR. 71 I. C. 300 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 370.

——Ss. 99 and 96—Misjoinder of causes of action—Objection to be taken in trial Court.

An objection that there cannot be a decision in a partition suit of rights subordinate to that of the co-sharers cannot be gone into for the first time in appeal. (Woodroffe and Walmsley, JJ.) MIDNAPORE CO. v. NARES NARAIN. 63 I. C. 161 : 33 C. L. J. 317.

——S. 99—Defect—Minor sued without guardian.

Where the mother of a minor refuses to act as guardian, the Court ought to appoint one of its officers as guardian ad litem. An omission to appoint one is a serious defect not curable by S. 99. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) SURENDRA NATH v. AGHOR NATH. 62 I. C. 464 : 25 C. W. N. 525.

——S. 99—Time fixed for payment—Default—Security—Acceptance of—Extension of time—C. P. Code, S. 99.

In a suit for pre-emption instituted on 3-11-1919 the court ordered on 11-11-1919 the deposit of one-fifth the purchase money into Court by 2-12-1919. In 2-12-1919 the case was adjourned because it was found that the process fee for summoning the defendants had not been paid. The purchase money was not paid till 23-2-1920 when the plff. put in a security bond which the Court ordered to be put on record. Subsequently the defendant applied to reject the plaint but the trial Court refused to do so and decreed the suit. Held, though the court had received and placed on record the security bond on 23-2-1920, that did not raise any inference that the Court had altered its previous order or extended the time within the meaning of S. 22, Sub-S (4) of the Punjab Pre-emption Act. The provisions of the section requiring the rejection of the plaint are mandatory and the trial Court's omission to comply with the terms is not an irregularity which could be cured by S. 99, C. P. Code. Consequently the plaint was rejected on second appeal by the High Court. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) BAHADUR SHAH v. AHMAD SHAH. 5 Lah. 492 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 209.

——S. 99—Misjoinder—It includes non-joinder.

Per Schwabe, C. J.—Quære, whether misjoinder in S. 99, C. P. Code, includes non-joinder. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) MOHANAVELU MUDALIAR

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 99.

v. ANNAMALAI MUDALIAR. 17 L. W. 241 : 44 M. L. J. 249 : 72 I. C. 63 : (1923) M. W. N. 89 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 337.

——— S. 99 and O. 1, R. 9—Objections as to non-joinder—Procedure.

Per Ramesam, J:—Objections as to non-joinder should be taken at the earliest opportunity and if so taken fall under two heads :—

(1) If it is absolutely necessary to have the absent party, he ought to be added unless the plff. refused to add him, when the suit should be dismissed. If the trial Court erroneously proceeds with the suit, without following either of these courses, the objection can be repeated on appeal and the appellate Court may dispose of it in one of the two ways aforesaid. (2) If it is not a case of imperative necessity but only a matter of convenience or expediency either the absent party may be added or the suit may be tried without him. In such a case the objection if repeated in appeal may be dealt with similarly. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) THINA SHANMUGA MOOPANAR v. MONA CHUNA NANA SUBBAYYA MOOPANAR.

42 M. L. J. 133 : (1922) M. W. N. 106 : 15 L. W. 283 : 70 I. C. 645 : 31 M. L. T. 266 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 317.

———S. 99—Mere irregularity—Omission of Judge to sign deposition of witness.

The deposition of a hand-writing expert signed by him and admitted in evidence does not vitiate the trial though it is not signed by the Judge. (Batten, J. C.) ALAM SINGH v. SETH GOPALDAS.

68 I. C. 664 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 7 (1).

———S. 99—Several cases tried together—Evidence—Trial Court dealing with case separately—Lower appellate Court dealing with all cases together—Case was remanded.

Where the trial Court considered each case or group of cases separately and dealt with the evidence relating to those cases or groups of cases separately, but the lower appellate Court did not deal with each case or group of cases separately, Held, that the appeals were not properly dealt with by the lower appellate Court. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) NAND LAL CHAURE v. KESHO PRASAD. 1923 P. H. C. C. 339 : 78 I. C. 593 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 245.

———S. 99—Irregularity in signing vakalatnama is only formal.

S. 99, C. P. Code, covers a case when a person authorised to instruct a pleader actually signs the vakalat for the litigant where no fault is committed and the litigant himself knows of it and acquiesces in it. It is a formal irregularity cured by the section. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BANWARI RAI v. CHETHRU LAL RAI.

2 P. L. R. 174 : 74 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 114.

———S. 99—Defect of signature—Section applies.

Defect of signature does not justify reversal of the decree. The mere fact that pleadings, are not duly signed does not invalidate them. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) RAJA BRAJA SUNDAR DEB v. SIVA-RANJAN. 59 I. C. 282 : 1 Pat. L. T. 647.

———S. 99—Error as to Court-fees.

Error as to Court-fees not affecting merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court does not justify reversal of decree. (Lentaigne, J.) D. S. ABRAHAM AND CO. v. IBRAHIM GORABHOY. 2 Rang. 462 : 84 I. C. 971 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 65.

———S. 99 and O. 6, R. 14—Failure of plaintiff to sign pleadings—No power of attorney given to agent—Objection not raised—Section 99 applies.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Abandonment.

Where the plaintiff filed the plaint through an agent and did not even sign the plaint, and there was no power of attorney given by the plaintiff to her agent on the record and no explanation was apparently obtained for her failure to sign the plaint and no objection however appeared to have been taken. Held, S. 99 of the C.P. Code applies to the case. (Mac Coll, J.) MA NGWE KIN v. MA HME. 1 Rang. 42 : 74 I. C. 100 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 206.

———S. 100—See also PRACTICE.

Abandonment.
Acquiescence.
Additional evidence.
Admissibility of evidence.
Adverse Possession.
Ancestral Property.
Appreciation of evidence.
Burden of Proof.
Concurrent findings.
Consideration of evidence.
Construction of document.
Costs.
Court-fee.
Custom.
Damages.
Defective Judgment.
Discretion.
Grounds.
Jurisdiction.
Legal necessity.
Misjoinder.
Misreading of Evidence.
Mixed question of Law and Fact.
Nature of tenancy.
Negligence.
New plea.
Non-joidner.
Powers of Court.
Presumption.
Procedure.
Question of fact.
Question of law.
Second Appeal.
Sufficiency of evidence.
Sustainability.
Waiver.

Abandonment.

———S. 100—Abandonment—Point expressly abandoned in Court below.

Where the appellant expressly abandons a point in the court below he ought not to be allowed to take it in second appeal. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) JADU GOPAU KUNDU CHOWDHURY v. GOPAL CHANDRA NANDI. 69 I. C. 44 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 541 (2).

———S. 100—Abandonment—Question of fact.

Whether there has been an abandonment or not is in each case a question of fact. 27 C. W. N. 802, ref. to. (C.C. Ghose and B. Ghose, JJ.) SARAT CHANDRA MAJUMDAR v, PRASANNA KUMAR.

71 I. C. 304 (Cal.) : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 366.

———S. 100—Abandonment.

A finding of non-abandonment cannot be attacked in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) AHMAD YAR v. MAHOMED ALI. 3 Lah. L. J. 445.

———S. 100—Abandonment.

Finding as to the effectiveness of abandonment in law on the facts found could be challenged in second appeal even where there is not any ground in the memorandum of appeal. (A. Raoof, J.) RAJA v. SALABAT. 66 I. C. 935 : 3 Lah. L. J. 26.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Abandonment.

——S. 100—Abandonment.

A question of fact which is abandoned before the lower appellate Court cannot be raised in second appeal. (Neave, A. J. C.) RAM NICH v. JANKI.
85 I. C. 387 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 510.

——S. 100—Abandonment.

Where a party or his pleader abandons a point in the lower appellate Court he cannot raise it in second appeal. (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHADEO TEWARI v. SITLA BAKHSH SINGH. 65 I. C. 408 : 8 O. L. J. 660 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 102.

——S. 100—Abandonment—Finding of fact.

Question as to abandonment is one of fact. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) UDAI NATH SAHI DEO v. MAHADEO SAHU. 6 Pat. L. T. 500 : 88 I. C. 1032 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 741.

Acquiescence.

——S. 100—Acquiescence can be considered in second appeal.

The question as to whether in a case there has been acquiescence is not one of fact but of legal inference from the facts found and therefore it is open to be considered in second appeal. (Mukerji, J.) BANESWAR BANDOPADHYA v. AMULYA CHARAN.
82 I. C. 309 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 288.

——S. 100—Acquiescence—Question of, is one of law.

The question of acquiescence from the facts found by the lower Court is one of law and not a question of fact. 21 A. 496 followed. (Halifax, A. J. C.) SHANKER v. RANGUBAI
71 I. C. 942 : A. I. R. 1924 Nan. 56.

——S. 100—Acquiescence—Question of fact.

Acquiescence is not a question of fact, but of legal inference from the facts found. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAMRATAN v. SHIODATTARAI. 73 I. C. 137 (Nag.)

Additional evidence.

——S. 100—Additional evidence rejected not in exercise of a discretion but due to supposed insuperable difficulty—Second appeal lies.

If an appellate Court, before whom an application for admitting fresh evidence is made, exercises its discretion and refuses to admit fresh evidence, the propriety of that order would not be a good ground for entertaining a second appeal. If however the lower appellate Court does not apply its mind to the question properly before it at all and feels that it is unable to admit fresh evidence because of some supposed insuperable difficulty in its way which, in fact, does not exist, then it cannot be said that the Court in the exercise of its discretion, has refused to admit fresh evidence and second appeal will lie. (Sulaiman and Ryves, JJ.) BADRI DAS v. HOSHIAR SINGH.
47 All. 412 : L. R. 6 A. (Cv.) 85 : 23 A. L. J. 193 : 86 I. C. 761 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 288.

——S. 100—Additional evidence whether allowed.

There is no precedent for allowing an appellant to lead evidence, which could have been led in the Court below, in appeal. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) MOTI CHAND RAOJI v. MANICKCHAND RAMCHAND GOJAR. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 147

Admissibility of Evidence.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence — Objection to —When considered on second appeal.

It would be in the interest of administration of justice in this province if it were generally understood that questions dealing with the admissibility and the legal effect of evidence will not, as a general rule be entertained in Second Appeal in this Court if they have not been taken at least at the stage of First Appeal in the Court below. (Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) MULANI v. MAULA BUX.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Admissibility of evidences.

46 A. 260 : 22 A. L. J. 149 : L. R. 5 All. 104 : 78 I. C. 222 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 370.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Certain evidence held inadmissible—Case should be remanded for decision on other evidence.

Where certain evidence was held inadmissible by a second appellate Court, but there were other pieces of evidence relating to the finding by the lower Court, the second appellate Court remanded the case for decision on the other evidence, as it could not be sure that the lower Court was not influenced by the reception of the inadmissible evidence. 1922 Cal. 251 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) CHOONI LALL PRAMANIK v. NILMADHAB BARIK. 41 C. L. J. 374: 86 I. C. 734 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1034.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Objection as to, can be taken for first time in second appeal —Evidence Act, S. 167.

An erroneous omission to object to inadmissible evidence does not make it admissible. The omission to take objection to the admissibility of a document becomes fatal only in cases where if the objection is taken in time, any defect in its admissibility can be cured and the document made admissible. In other cases objection as to inadmissibility can be raised even in second appeal though it was not raised in the lower Courts. 19 All. 76 P. C. Foli. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) CHOONI LALL KHEMANI v. NILMADHAB BARIK. 86 I. C. 734 : 41 C. L. J. 374 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1034.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence in lower Court.

Although an erroneous omission in the trial court to object to an admission which was irrelevant did not make it relevant and admissible in evidence, an objection that a document that per se is not admissible in evidence, has been improperly admitted in evidence cannot be entertained in second appeal. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) SAYERUDDIN AKONDA v. SAMIRUDDIN AKONDA.
72 I. C. 985 : A. I.R. 1923 Cal. 378.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Inadmissible evidence—Finding based on.

Finding of a lower appellate Court based on inadmissible evidence can be impeached in second appeal. 2 W. R. 74 : 21 C. L. J. 45 Ref. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) TARAKUMAR GHOSE v KUMARA ARUN CHANDRA SINGH. 74 I. C. 383 : 36 C. L. J. 389 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 261.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence.

If a document is wrongly admitted in courts below the High Court in second appeal cannot decide there is other evidence to justify decree. (Mookerjee, A.C.J. and Fletcher, J.) UJIR ALI SARDAR v. SHADHAI BEHARI. 35 C. L. J. 182 : 68 I. C. 1003 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 185.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Finding based on inadmissible evidence—Second appeal.

Where a finding of fact arrived at by the lower appellate court is based on inadmissible evidence, and there is no other evidence in support of it, the High Court will not accept the finding. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) SRI RAM v. CHANDO.
6 Lah. L. J. 204 : 80 I. C. 705 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 470.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Evidence Act, S. 45—Comparison of handwriting.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 100—Admissibility of Evidence.

Comparison of signatures is one of the modes of proving handwriting and although where there is no other evidence such proof would be regarded as hazardous and inconclusive, it cannot be regarded as an error-in-law to base the conclusion on such proof alone, and a Court of second appeal would have no power to set aside a finding based on such comparison. 14 I. C. 741, Foll. (Broadway and Moti Sagar, JJ.) BALAK RAM v. MAHOMED SAID. 5 Lah. L. J. 530 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 695.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Late production—Refusal to admit.

The refusal to admit a document produced at a late stage is a ground for second appeal, 12 C. W. N. 312 Foll. (Ross, J.) JAGDIP PANDEY v. MT. TAIBUNESSA. A. I. R 1924 Pat. 208.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Relevancy of document.

Relevancy and proof of document is a question of law and can be raised at any stage but the question as to the proof of a document is one of procedure and can be waived. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) KALIKA NAND v. SHIVA NANDAN. 3 Pat. L. T. 149 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 122.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence.

Entries in batwara papers are admissible in evidence. (Das and Adami, JJ.) JUGDEO NARAIN v. BULAKI GOPE. 2 P. L. T. 343 : 63 I. C. 226 (2) : 1921 P. H. C. C. 343.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—High Court will not interfere with rejection of documents when no cause is shown at rejection time.

The High Court will not in second appeal interfere with the order of the Court rejecting admission of documents when no reason has been shown for their non-production at the time they were rejected. (Cuming and Chakravarty, JJ.) NRISHINHA CHARAN v. BATASI DUSHI. 90 I.C. 602 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 106.

——S. 100—Admissibility of evidence—Finding based on inadmissible evidence—Open to attack.

A finding based on inadmissible evidence is liable to be challenged in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALIRAM v. SADARAM. 89 I. C. 1019.

——S. 100—Inadmissible evidence—Finding partly based on—Second appeal.

If legally inadmissible evidence is a material part of the basis of a finding of fact, that finding can be set aside in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BANAN v. RANJIT SINGH. 89 I.C. 752 : A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 99.

Adverse possession.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Inference from facts.

The question whether possession is adverse or permissive may be one of legal inference from documents. The mere fact that the evidence in the case is merely documentary does not constitute the finding of the lower court findings of law. The question of the weight to be attached to the instances proved by the documentary evidence is one of fact. 29 A. 203 · 42 A. 152 Ref to. (Daniels, J.) MOHAMMED AHMED v. BABU. 71 I.C. 762 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 442.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Question of fact.

Where a house was found to be occupied by the defendant's father adversely to the plaintiff landlord for more than 12 years before suit, this finding of fact is fatal to the appeal. 41 All. 669 Dist. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) BISHESHAR NATH v. ABDUL WAHID. 75 I. C. 672 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 382 (1).

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Inference from facts.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 100—Ancestral property.

The question of adverse possession is a mixed question of fact and law. The facts found by the Judge must be accepted by the High Court in second appeal, but the conclusion drawn from them, namely, whether the possession was adverse or not, is a question of law and can be considered by the High Court. 19 Cal 253, 262 : 20 C. 93 : 29 C. L. J 241 : 24 C. W. N 1057 Ref. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) JOGENDRA NATH v. RAJENDRA NATH. 26 C. W. N. 890 : 68 I.C. 200 : A.I.R. 1922 Cal. 54.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Prescription.

A finding of the lower appellate court that the possession of a party to the suit has not been adverse for a continuous period of 12 years is a finding of fact which cannot be disturbed in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) MAHOMED AZIM KHAN v. SULTAN AHMED KHAN. 4 Lah. L. J. 309.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Not pleaded—Decree based on—Absence of prejudice—Effect.

Where in a suit for possession based on ownership, the court finds a title by adverse possession in the plaintiff, though the allegation was not contained in the plaint itself, and there is nothing to show the defendant was prejudiced or taken by surprise, it is not open to set up in second appeal that the plea of adverse possession was not raised in the pleadings. (Odgers and Hughes, JJ.) MUKAMBIKA SHETTITHI v. SHIDDAYA SHETTI. 18 L. W. 543 : 75 I. C. 613 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 116.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Question as to nature of possession is one of legal inference.

The question whether possession is adverse or permissive may often be one of legal inference from documents. 42 All. 152 (P. C) and A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 59 Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) YESHWANT v. DAULAT. 89 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 129.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Inference from facts found.

The question of adverse possession is one of inference from facts found and is a question of law, justifying a second appeal. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. MUNGA v. LACHMI PRASAD. 6 N. L. J. 70 : 74 I. C. 51 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 65.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Finding as to, is not conclusive.

The finding of the lower Court on the question of adverse possession is not conclusive in second appeal. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) INDARPAL v. THAKUR DIN. 10 O. L. J. 646 : 27 O. C. 77 : A.I.R. 1924 Oudh 266.

——S. 100—Adverse possession—Hindu widow—Nature of possession—If a question of fact.

The question whether the possession of a Hindu widow is only in lieu of maintenance or adverse is to be decided by legal inferences and is not a question of fact. (Dalal, A. J. C.) BHAGWAN DIN v. AJUDHIA. 87 I. C. 1021 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 429.

Alternative Case.

——S. 100—Alternative case—Not put forth in Courts below.

An alternative case arising out of the decision of the lower appellate Court cannot be allowed to be raised in second appeal when that was not put forward in the Courts below. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMDHANI SINGH v. MT. KEWAL MANI BIBI. 90 I. C. 929 (Pat).

Ancestral property.

——S. 100—Ancestral property—Finding as to character of property is one of fact and as to eligibility of plaintiffs to sue is one on custom.

Whether the property in dispute is ancestral is a finding of fact. Whether the plaintiffs as the collaterals in the sixth degree are entitled to sue is a finding on custom and cannot be questioned in second appeal without the production of the necessary certificate under the Punjab Courts Act. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MAULA DAD v. ALI. 5 Lah. L. J. 449 : 76 I.C. 147 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 263 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Ancestral property.

——S. 100—Ancestral property—Finding of fact.

A finding by the Appellate Court that the right to the "birt" is not proved to be ancestral is one of fact and is not a matter to be decided in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) BISHIN DATT v. KRISHEN DATTA. 67 I. C. 439 : 3 Lah. L. J. 414.

Appreciation of Evidence.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence.

Where the High Court differed from the lower Court not only in the estimate of the evidence, but also with regard to the inferences derivable from documents produced in the case and other circumstances their Lordships dealt with the case on its merits. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) JAGDEO NARAIN SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH. 45 M. L. J. 460 : (1923) M. W. N. 361 : 27 C. W. N. 925: 71 I. C. 984 : 3 Pat. L. T. 605 : 36 C. L. J. 499 : 49 I. A. 399 : 32 M. L. T. 1 : 2 P. 38 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 272 (P. C.)

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence— Inference from admitted entries is a question of fact.

An inference of fact from admitted entries in documents cannot be disturbed in second appeal unless the inference is perverse or illegitimate. (Mukerji, J.) MT. SHAM DEVI v. BHAGWAT DAYAL. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 139 : 85 I. C. 584 : A. I.R. 1925 All. 353.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence— Question of inferences from documents other than documents of title is one of fact.

A question as to inference of fact from voluminous documentary evidence, not being documents of title, is one of fact. A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 187 Fol. (Sulaiman, J.) GUPTA NAND BHARTHI v. HARI SHANKER. 78 I. C. 1016 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 39.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Question of fact.

Where it was possible that the expert evidence given on both sides was true, held, that the finding of the lower appellate Court could be considered afresh in second appeal. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) MOHD. IBRAHIM v. MT. ALTAFAN. 22 A. L. J. 1045 : 83 I.C. 27 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 55: 47 All. 243 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 24.

——S.100—Appreciation of evidence—High Court will interfere in second appeal when lower Courts go outside the foundation for determination of fraud.

The High Court is reluctant to interfere in cases where two Courts have held that fraud has been established. But where in determining whether there has or has not been any fraud, the lower Courts have gone outside the proper foundation for determination of such a question, the High Court should interfere in second appeal. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) DODBASAPPA DHARMAPPA v. PRADHANAPPA VENKAPPA. 27 Bom. L. R. 1318 : A.I.R. 1926 Bom. 33.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Inferences as to the legal standard of care taken by bailer can be considered by High Court.

Where the facts are not in dispute the inference which the Court below draws from these facts and the legal standard of reasonable care set up by it are questions of law and the High Court can see whether the Court below was right in holding e.g., that the defendant in despatching baled jute in a boat with 20 or 32 leaks, 1 or 1½ inches in length, through which water entered into the boat, the jute being left in the hold of the boat for thirty hours complied with the requirements of S. 151 of the Contract Act merely because there was continuous pumping out of the water which had only the effect of saving the boat. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) LAKSHMI NARAIN v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 27 C.W.N. 1017 : A. I. R.1924 Cal. 92.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Duty of appellate Court.

The verdict of a Judge trying the case should not be lightly disregarded by the Appellate Court where the issue is simple and straightforward and the only question is, which set of the witnesses is to be believed. But where the determination of the question of genuineness of anything depends not merely upon the assertions of witnessesbut upon surrounding facts and circumstances whose existence is either admitted or indisputably proved, the judgment of the trying Judge may be vitiated by his failure to test the veracity of the witnesses by reference thereto. Two conflicting view-points have thus to be reconciled namely, on the one hand, the undoubted duty of the Court of Appeal to review the recorded evidence and to draw its own inferences and conclusions and, on the other hand, the unquestionable weight must be attached to the opinion of the Judge of the primary court, who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses and noticing their look and manner. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) PRASANNAMAYI DEBI v. BAIKUNATH CHATTORAJ. 49 C. 132 : 66 I. C. 782 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 260.

——S 100—Appreciation of evidence—Inferences of fact—Reliability of—Entries.

Inferences from the entries of the pocket book to the effect that the debit entries were unreliable are inferences of fact and not of law and High Court cannot interfere even if inferences are not correct. (Moti Sagar, J.) POKHEN MAL v. JAI BHAGWAN. 6 Lah. L J. 311 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 719.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence.

If a finding of fact is recorded on a mis-interpretation of the evidence it can be interfered with in second appeal. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE FIRM JOWALA DAS PARAMANUND v. UTTAM CHAND. 76 I. C. 553 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 585.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Finding based on misreading of judgment.

A finding cannot be contested in second appeal if it is based on a misreading of the first court's judgment. (Scott Smith and Fforde, JJ.) MT. BASANTI v. CHANDRA SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 502 (2).

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Conclusion can be attacked.

Although in second appeal findings of fact cannot be impugned, it is nevertheless open to a party to challenge the correctness of the conclusions drawn from such findings. (Broadway and Moti Sagar, JJ.) BAJ SINGH v. PARTAB SINGH. A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 497 (2).

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Finding of fact—Discussion of evidence—Partition.

Where the judgment of the lower appellate Court leaves no room for doubt that the material evidence in the case has been considered, the mere fact that reference in detail is not made to every piece of evidence does not vitiate his judgment. The findings of fact would therefore be binding in second appeal. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) NATHU SHAH v. HAVELI SHAH. 16 P. W. R. 1922: 65 I. C. 475: 1 Lah. L.J. 72:

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Appreciation of Evidence.

A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 140.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence.

The High Court cannot in second appeal upset a finding of fact on the ground that the evidence on record has not been properly appreciated by the Court below. (Chevis, A. C. J. and Abdul Raoof, J.) JADU NATH v. RAMAN MAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 426.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Mortgage deed—Attesting witnesses denying that the execution was witnessed by them—High Court's power to find that it was executed in their presence.

It is quite open to High Court to find that the execution was witnessed by the attesting witnesses even though they may not speak to the fact if there is other and satisfactory evidence on record to show that the attesting witnesses did witness the execution. 20 C. W. N. 192 Foll: (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) KURUKUNDI SAMA RAO v. LAL CHAND.

43 M. L. J. 745 : (1922) M. W. N. 708 : 32 M. L. T. 9 : 17 L. W. 661 : 46 M. 64 : 71 I. C. 153 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 36.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Finding of lower appellate Court differing from that of trial Court and based on misappreciation of evidence is not binding.

It is not sufficient for the lower appellate Court when it reverses the findings of the trial Court to merely differ from it as regards appreciation of only the oral evidence. It ought to consider the evidentiary value of the several documents on record filed by the parties. If it does come to any conclusion by misappreciation of evidence such finding is not binding in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) YESHWANT v. DAULAT. 89 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 129.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Inference as to the right of way being as of right would not be interfered with by High Court in second appeal.

Where from an open user continued without interruption for a period of over 20 years and not shown to be attributable to permission or sufferance on the owner's part, the final Judge of fact, i.e., the first Appellate Court draws an inference or presumption that it is as of right, the High Court cannot interfere with the finding. (Kinkhede, A. J. C) WASUDEO v. SHANKAR. 7 N. L. J. 232 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 168

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Doubtful evidence—High Court will not interfere unless injustice is caused or there is misapprehension of evidence.

Even where the evidence is doubtful, High Court will not interfere with the decision of fact in second appeal until strong reasons either of injustice or of misapprehension of evidence by the lower Court are indicated. (Dalal, J. C.) ANPURNA KUAR v. JAGESHAR MISRA. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 658.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Inferences of lower Court from documents cannot be questioned in second appeal though they differ from inferences of the appellate Court

Inferences of fact drawn from documentary evidence on the record cannot be questioned in second appeal merely on the ground that if the Court of second appeal had itself considered the documents it would have arrived at different conclusions. (Wazir Hasan A. J. C.) MT. SITAL v. RAM BUKHAN. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 611.

——S.100—Appreciation of evidence—Trial Court disbelieving witnesses with reference to certain statements—Appellate Court believing them as to other statements—No second appeal lies.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Appreciation of Evidence.

Where the Trial Court called certain witnesses a pack of shameless liars with reference to certain statements made by them the appellate Court can believe the witnesses with reference to some other statements and the action of the appellate Court in so believing does not call for interference in second appeal.(Dalal, J. C.) SANTU v. TURU. 85 I. C. 407 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 537.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Evidence not viewed legally—Question can be re-opened.

Where the evidence in a case has not been viewed as required by law, a point of law is raised and the question can be gone into in second appeal. (Dalal, J. C.) ZAHID ALI v. MT. SHAHR BANO. 12 O. L. J. 130 : 86 I. C. 101 : 2 O. W. N. 10 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 384.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Recitals in a deed—Question as to weight to be attached is of fact.

The question of weight and sufficiency to be attached to recitals in a deed as pieces of evidence is one of fact. 44 Cal. 186 (P. C.) Ref. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BAJU AMARPAL SINGH v. MT. CHANDRANI. 12 O. L. J. 134 : 86 I. C. 743 : A. I. R 1925 Oudh 367.

——S. 100 — Appreciation of evidence—Giving preference to one evidence to another by lower Court is justified.

Where the lower Courts believed the oral evidence produced on behalf of the plaintiff in preference to that of the defendant on the question of possession even though the name of the plaintiff was not entered in the Khasra (revenue papers) :

Held, that it could not be said that the Court acted wrongly in believing it in preference to the conclusion to be drawn from the absence of the plaintiff's name from the annual Khasras. (Dalal, J. C.) BHIM SHANKAR DUTT v. MANI RAM. 10 O. L. J. 643 : 80 I. C 457 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 265.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Even a wrong inference from facts is binding.

In second appeal it is not the business of the High Court to assess the value of evidence relied upon by the lower Appellate Court. A wrong inference from facts does not entitle the High Court to interfere. A finding of the lower Appellate Court as to a gift being incomplete for want of acceptance, at the time of its revocation, is one of fact and binding on the High Court. (Dalal, A. J. C.) NANHU v. RAM DAYAL. 74 I. C. 818 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 164.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence.

In second appeal the High Court will not entertain any question as regards the weight to be attached to the oral evidence in a case. (Daniels, J. C.) BHUDHAR SINGH v. BHIKAM SINGH. 65 I. C. 370 : 8 O. L. J. 629.

——S. 100—Appreciation of evidence—Inference of fraud.

Where certain facts are found and an inference of fraud is drawn, based upon the facts so found, it is open to the Court in second appeal to consider whether, as a matter of law such an inference is justified by the facts found. If, however, the first appellate Court, which is the ultimate judge of fact refuse to draw an inference of fraud upon the facts so found by it, that decision cannot be questioned in second appeal unless the facts found necessarily amount to fraud : even if, upon a consideration of all the circumstances. High Court might have drawn a different inference and come to a different conclusion unless that inference necessarily followed from the facts proved. High Court would not be entitled to disturb the findings of the first appellate Court.] (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAMDHURI CHOWDHURI v. DEONANDAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S.100—Burden of Proof.

2 P. 65 : 3 P. L. T. 501 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 269 : 1 Pat. L.R. 18 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 507.

Burden of Proof.

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Second appeal—Suit in ejectment—Evidence adduced on both sides—Effect of.

Where the initial burden of proving possession within 12 years of suit was wrongly placed on the plaintiff but nevertheless both the parties had adduced evidence, the question of onus loses its importance. The finding on the issue of possession is largely one of fact with which the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. (Neave, J.) SHIVA PRASAD SINGH v. MUNESHWAR DUBE. L. R. 5 A. 358 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 924.

——S. 100—Burden of proof— Onus wrongly placed.

Where the plaintiff has not been prejudiced in any way owing to the fact that the initial onus was wrongly placed upon him, held, that no reason for interference is made out. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Brasher, J.) NAGINA SINGH v. MOTA SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 335 (2).

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Negotiable instrument—Want of consideration—Question of onus of proof—One of law.

Question of burden of proof where defendant admits execution but denies partial or total absence of consideration is one of law. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) GURDIT SINGH v. KARAM DAD. 77 I. C. 246 : 4 L. L. J. 199.

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Custom—Necessity for certificate.

Where a question of burden of proof clearly involves a question of custom, an appellant is not entitled to argue it on second appeal without a certificate. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) MILKHI v. MUSSAMMAT PUNNI. 66 I. C. 492 : 2 Lah. 348.

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Question of law.

The question upon which party the onus of proving any particular point lies is undoubtedly a question of law on which a second appeal lies. (Scott-Smith, J.) MT. NAIMAT BIBI v. MAHOMED FAIZ. 65 I. C. 745 (Lah.).

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Finding of fact—Error as to—Interference.

Defts. executed a mortgage in favour of the plaintiffs for Rs. 4,580 made up of sums due to previous mortgagees, previous debt due on account-price of buffaloes and payment of debts due to other persons. Before the Sub-Registrar the executants admitted receipt of full consideration, but at mutation they stated that the whole of the consideration had not been received. In a suit by plaintiff, for possession as mortgagee, held, that the question of onus probandi arising in this case was a question of law rendering a second appeal competent. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) GANGA RAM v. RULIA. 64 I. C. 901 : 2 Lah. 249.

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Finding of fact.

A correct appreciation by an Appellate Court of a direction of the Lower Court as to the burden of proof, and a consequent arriving at a finding of fact must be accepted in second appeal. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SHANMUGA UDAYAR v. KANDASAMI ASARI. 59 I. C. 973 : 12 L. W. 170.

——S. 100—Burden of proof—Cast on wrong party—Disregarding evidence.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) S. 100—Consideration of Evidence.

A fact resulting into a finding of wrong burden of proof and disregard of evidence on record is not binding in second appeal. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) SHEOPUJAN RAI v. KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 2 Pat. 919 : 76 I. C. 347 : 5 Pat. L. T. 315 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 310.

Concurrent Findings.

——S. 100—Concurrent findings—Inference—High-way—Dedication.

The evidence on which the concurrent findings were based was one of user by the public. From this evidence the Courts below inferred animus dedicandi. Held, this was a finding of fact which is not vitiated by any defect in procedure or by any wrong application of a principle of law. On the evidence of the user before it, the Courts below were quite competent to draw the inference that there was a dedication with the intention to dedicate. This is a presumption of fact which could legitimately be raised on the evidence produced. Folkstone Corporation v. Brockman, (1914) A. C. 338 and Turner v. Walsh, 6 A. C. 636 Foll. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) RAI BAJRANG BAHADUR v. BADRI NATH BHARGAVA. 9 O. L. J. 497 : 70 I. C. 74 : A I. R. 1923 Oudh 26.

——S. 100—Concurrent findings.

Ordinarily it is not possible on second appeal to go behind concurrent findings of fact but where not only the findings are perverse in the sense that they were opposed to the weight of the oral evidence but that was due to the fact that the trial court wholly ignored the entry in certain document whilst the first appellate court entirely failed to realise its probative value the High Court set aside the concurrent findings of fact. (Pratt, J.) MAUNG HLAING v. MAUNG CHIT SUO. 1 Rang. 135 : 76 I. C. 449 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 196.

Consideration of Evidence.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding based on inadmissible evidence can be set aside by High Court.

Where a finding of fact is vitiated by the consideration of inadmissible evidence, it is open to the High Court in second appeal to come to an opposite conclusion on a consideration of the evidence. (Stuart, J.) SAKTOO MAI v. GOPAL CHAND. 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 5 : 66 I. C. 313 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 439.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding on inadmissible evidence—High Court, interference of.

Where the finding of an Appellate Court is based on evidence which is inadmissible, the High Court will interfere. (Tudball and Stuart, JJ.) SRI THAKURJI v. HIRDE NARAIN. 63 I. C. 811 (1) (All).

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Document not produced at first hearing—Rejection of—Interference.

Certain documents were not produced at the first hearing of a suit under O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2 and they were not received in evidence as the Trial Court was not satisfied with the reasons for their non-production at the earlier stage. Held, the High Court in second appeal will not interfere with the order of rejection. (Cuming and Chakravarti, JJ.) NRISINHA CHARAN NANDI CHOUDHURI v. BATASI DASHI. 90 I. C. 602 (Cal.)

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding not based on legal evidence is not binding.

Where a plaintiff bases his claim upon a title the mere fact that the adjoining plot happened to be a courtyard or outer compound of a house and belongs to a certain person does not show that the plot on which the disputed house stands must also belong to that person. The finding to the effect being not based on legal evidence can be set aside in second appeal. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) MOULVI AHIDANNABI v. NAGENDRA LAL GANGOPADHYA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Consideration of Evidence.

80 I. C. 903 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 302.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Not adequate—Remand.

Where the judgment of the court below is not satisfactory and the court has not come to a finding on a consideration of the whole evidence on the point, the case should be remanded for a rehearing. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) ISAP ALI v. SATIR CHANDRA ROY. 65 I. C. 504 (Cal.).

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding of fact—Based on admissible and on inadmissible evidence.

Where a finding of fact is based on evidence some of which is inadmissible the High Court cannot uphold the finding on the admissible evidence excluding the evidence which is inadmissible. (Chatterjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SARAJ KUMAR ACHARJI v. UMED ALI. 25 C. W. N. 1022 : 63 I. C. 954 : 35 C. L. J. 19.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding of fact can be set aside when lower Court has not considered whole of evidence or finding is not reasonably deducible from the evidence.

Where an appellate Court has arrived at a finding of fact without taking into consideration the whole of the evidence in the case or where the finding is such that it cannot reasonably be deduced from the evidence, it is liable to be set aside in second appeal. 174 P. L. R. 1914 : 48 I. C. 742 Foll. (Moti Sagar, J.) NAGINA SINGH v. JIWAN SINGH. 79 I. C. 107 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 87.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding based on statement not admissible in evidence—Can be questioned in second appeal.

As the District Judge has based his finding not on the certified copy which shows what the entries in the records are, but on a statement which is not admissible to prove the entries, the finding can be contested in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) RAM LAL v. GHANESHAM DAS. 71 I. C. 825 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 150 (1).

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Findings of fact—When open to attack in second appeal.

Ordinarily grounds which impugn findings of fact cannot be entertained in second appeal but where an Appellate Court bases a finding of fact upon one piece of evidence alone without considering the whole of the evidence bearing upon the point the finding is not binding on a court of second appeal. A finding of fact to be binding on a Court of second appeal must be a judicial decision reached on a consideration of the whole of the evidence, and where it appears that all the available evidence has not been considered, the High Court will interfere and should interfere in Second Appeal. 58 I. C. 482 : 56 I. C. 529 : 54 I C. 768 : 65 I. C. 475, Ref. (Broadway and Moti Sagar, JJ.) FIRM OF MANSA RAM GORDHAN DAS v. FIRM OF MANGAL SAIN DUNI CHAND.
65 I. C. 497 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 149.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence.

The finding of the Lower Appellate Court however erroneous, but based on the evidence of the record cannot be disturbed by High Court. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) NIRANJAN SINGH v. BHAGWAN SINGH. 3 Lah. L. J. 409.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence.

A finding of fact arrived at that the plaintiff was a minor on consideration of inadmissible evidence, can be attacked in second appeal. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) BALWANT SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH.
64 I. C. 929 : 2 Lah. 271.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence.

The finding of Lower Appellate Court with respect to the market-value and the amount paid in the pre-emption suit, however erroneous, cannot be contested in second appeal. (Chevis and Scott-Smith, JJ.) GANPAT RAI v. HARI RAM. 64 I. C. 297 : 3 Lah. L. J. 108.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Material evidence not considered—Finding on fact can be reversed.

A finding on a question of fact would be binding if based on a proper consideration of all the material evidence otherwise the finding can be reversed. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Waller, JJ.) SECY. OF STATE v. NANDYAPPA SHETTY. 21 L. W. 227 : 86 I. C 919 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 447.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Inadmissible evidence—Material part as basis of finding renders remand necessary.

Inadmissible evidence which is at least material part of the basis of the finding, though it may not be the main part of it renders remand necessary. The admission and consideration of improper evidence would not necessitate a remand if that evidence formed no more than a negligible part of the basis of the finding resting on it, because in that case it would be possible to say that the finding would undoubtedly be the same, even if the improper evidence were excluded. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAOJI v. WARLU. 18 N.L R. 182 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 107.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding of fact—When open to question.

A finding of fact by the lower appellate court reached without considering material evidence in the case will not be accepted. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) LAL SINGH v. PARASHRAM. 68 I. C. 332 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 226.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Quaint reasoning of lower Court—Finding can be reversed.

A finding of fact based upon quaint reasoning can and must be interfered with. (Dalal, J. C.) RAM BALI v. RAM ASRE. 12 O. L. J. 105 : 86 I. C. 686 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 386.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Interference with a decision based on something which the Record-of-Rights does not contain, is justifiable even if the Record-of-Rights is merely a document of evidence.

If the Record-of-Rights is a document of title obviously it is open to the Court in appeal to construe that document. But it is open to the High Court in second appeal to interfere with a decision based upon the Record-of-Rights if the decision is founded on something which the Record-of-Rights does not contain even if the Record-of-Rights is not a document of title but merely a document of evidence. (Mullick, A. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BHUPAL MISSIR v. SARBAN LAL. A. I. R 1925 Pat. 725.

——S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Finding of fact—Kabuliyat.

It is not proper in the second appeal generally to consider whether or not the lower courts have taken a right view of evidence in coming to findings of fact, but the construction of Kabuliyats upon which the courts below mainly based their view, that a custom was shown, can certainly be considered by the High Court in order to see whether their meaning has been rightly interpreted. (Bucknill and Ross, JJ.) NATHUNI

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Consideration of Evidence.

RAI v. MAHARAJADHIRAJ RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR. 1 Pat. L. R. 289 : 73 I. C. 629 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 147.

——— S. 100— Consideration of evidence—Judgment of reversal.

In a judgment of reversal it is absolutely necessary that good grounds should be shown for coming to any finding of fact. There must be sufficient material in the judgment of Appellate Court to show the High Court that Lower Appellate Court has considered the evidence and duly considered the reasons given by the trial Courts in its judgment for coming to a contrary decision. (Adami, J.) BHIKHU MANDAL v. BHIKEHAKAR DUTTA. 2 Pat. L. R. 32 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 275.

——— S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Commissioner's report—Failure of lower appellate court to consider.

The report of the commissioner in a case of a boundary dispute is an important piece of evidence and should be considered by the lower appellate court. An omission to do so justifies the second appellate court in remanding the case to the lower appellate court. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) MT. SONEKUAR v. BAIDYANATH SAHAY. 3 Pat. L. T. 483 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 562 (2).

——— S. 100—Consideration of evidence—Whole evidence not considered—Effect.

A finding of fact which has been arrived at without the consideration of the entire evidence on record is not binding on the court in second appeal. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) GIRJA PRASAD v. JAGAL KISHORE. 70 I. C. 853 : A, I. R. 1922 Pat. 503

Construction of document.

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Misconstruction.

The date, at which a particular holding first began to be held as a definite holding, is essentially a question of fact, and must depend on evidence. That evidence may be, and naturally is, documentary, but the documents admitted in evidence upon that question are really historical materials, and although they have to be construed, and if possible understood, they are not to be treated as involving issues of law merely because they have to be construed. It is not as though they were being construed, as instruments of title or mere contracts or statutes, or otherwise the direct foundation of rights. (Lord Sumner) MIDNAPUR ZAMINDARY CO. LTD. v. UMA CHARAN MANDAL. 45 M. L. J. 663 : 4 Pat. L. T. 627 : 33 M. L. T. 291 : 40 C. L. J. 16 : (1923) M. W. N. 832 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1287 : L. R. 4 P. C. 184 : 21 A. L. J. 723 : 29 C. W. N. 131 : 74 I. C. 482 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 187 (P. C.).

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Finding of fact based on Court's view of legal effect of an endorsement—Interference is permissible.

A finding of fact based on the view taken by the Court as to the legal effect of a document is open to question in second appeal (Stuart and Boys, JJ.) MEHARBAN SINGH v. PANNA LAL. 23 A. L. J. 869 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ) 399 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 75.

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Question of law or fact.

So far as the nature of the contract is to be gathered from the language used, this is a question of construction which is a question of law. So far however as it is to be gathered from external fact proved in evidence it is a question of fact (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) BABU BISHAMBHAR NATH v. MUHAMMUD

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Construction of Document.

UBAID ULLAH KHAN. 45 A. 581 : 21 A. L. J. 503 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 433 : 77 I. C. 572 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 586.

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Misconstruction—When a question for second appeal.

Where a Court of appeal has read entries in revenue papers and has simply decided to what extent the entries indicated the plaintiff's possession of certain plot of land and it has in no way interpreted these entries to indicate any legal point, his decision in interpreting these documents is a decision of fact, and not of law. Where there is sufficient evidence to support a finding of fact in second appeal it cannot be impeached on the ground that the reasoning is not accurate. (Stuart, J.) SHEIKH MUHAMED SHUKER v. ABDUL GHANI. 71 I. C. 369 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 362.

——— S 100— Construction of document—If extrinsic evidence is admissible, construction is question of fact, otherwise it is of law.

If extrinsic evidence is necessary and therefore admissible to determine the meaning of the words used in a document the construction of the document is a question of fact which cannot be reagitated in second appeal. But if the question is one of construction of the document upon the document itself, then it is a question of law which can be considered in second appeal. (Greaves and Graham, JJ.) PRASANNA KUMAR RAY v. ARUN CHANDRA SINGHU. 29 C.W.N. 353 : 85 I.C. 693 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 656.

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Question of law—Misconstruction of document containing admission—If one.

Per Mookerjee, J.—The misconstruction of a document which is the foundation of a suit is no doubt a question of law, but the misconstruction of a document which is alleged to contain an admission, that is to say, a misappreciation of the meaning and effect of an admission is not a question of law which can be raised in second appeal. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) UJIR ALI SIRDAR v. SHADHAI BEHARA. 35 C. L. J. 182 : 68 I. C. 1003 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 185.

——— S. 100—Construction of documentary evidence is a question of fact.

The question of the construction of documentary evidence, apart from the construction of a document of title which is the foundation of a claim, is one of fact and not of law and cannot be agitated in second appe al. A. I. R. 1925 All. 39 Foll. (Addison, J.) DEVI CHAND v. JAI CHAND. 26 P. L. R. 605 : A. I, R. 1926 Lah. 21.

——— S. 100—Construction of document includes two things, namely meaning of words and its legal effect—The former is a question of fact and the latter one of law—Deed—Construction.

The expression 'construction' as applied to a docutment includes two things namely, the meaning of the words and their legal effect. The meaning of the words is in all cases a question of fact and the effect of the words is a question of law. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 626 Foll. (Addison, J.) DEVI CHAND v. JAI CHAND. 26 P. L. R. 605 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 21

——— S. 100—Construction of document—Finding based not on construction of deed alone but on other facts also—Finding cannot be reversed in second appeal.

Where the lower appellate Court's finding is based, not merely on the construction of the deed, but on other facts as well the finding cannot be reversed in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) ISHAQ LAL v. PIYARI LAL. 7 L.L.J. 74 : 86 I.C. 595: A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 344.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Construction of Document.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Question of fact and law—Erroneous finding of fact—Interference.

The construction of a document may bear either the meaning of the words or its legal effect. The first is a question of fact and the second a question of law. The High Court cannot entertain a second appeal on the ground of an erroneous finding of fact, however gross or inexcusable the error may seem to be, if the Court had before it evidence proper for its consideration in support of the finding. (Moti Sagar, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. MANSA RAM. 78 I. C. 36 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 150.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Question of fact or law.

The expression 'construction' as applied to a document includes two things : first, the meaning of the words ; and secondly, their legal effect. The meaning of the words is in all cases a question of fact. The effect of the words is a question of law. (1891) 1 Q. B. 79 Foll. A second appeal is not admissible merely because some portion of the evidence is in writing of which the meaning has been mistaken by the lower appellate Court. (Campbell and Moti Sagar, JJ.) DAL SINGH v. PLUIMAN. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 626.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Deed open to one of two constructions.

Where it is possible to read the words of a document in dispute either way, it is open to the lower appellate court to adopt whichever reading appears to be more reasonable to it after considering all the connected circumstances and where it has done so, its finding as to what the words in dispute really are, is a finding of fact which cannot be questioned in second appeal. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) NIGAHIA RAM v. BHAGU ALI. 65 I. C. 580 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 240.

——S. 100—Construction of deed—Question of fact—Intention of parties.

The question whether the parties to a deed of transfer intended that certain property should pass under the deed is one of fact and cannot be agitated in Second Appeal. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) SHANKAR DAS v. MALI. 63 I. C. 746 (2) (L).

——S. 100—Construction of document—Deposition—Question of law.

The construction of a deposition is what the Court thinks is proved by it and it is wrong to speak of it as a construction so as to make it a question of law. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) RAGGU MAL v. SITA RAM. 63 I. C. 575 (L).

——S. 100—Construction of document—Document wrongly read or misconstrued by lower Court—High Court will interfere if finding is vitiated.

If a document has been wrongly read or misconstrued the High Court would consider whether the misconstruction has in any way vitiated the finding otherwise the High Court will not interfere with the conclusions of fact arrived at by the lower Court. (Devadoss, J.) RAMA RAO v. APPU. 88 I. C. 924 · A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1226.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Deed—Material alteration—Question is not purely one of law.

The question whether an alteration is material or not is always dependent upon the nature of each transaction and it also depends upon the nature of the alternation and its juxtaposition in the particular part of the document where it is interpolated and the new complexion the instrument is made to bear by reason of the alteration. It is not therefore a pure question of law. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) HEMCHAND v. GOVINDA. 8 N. L. J. 1 : 86 I. C. 185 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 243.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Court-fee.

——S. 100—Construction of document.

Interpretation of documents and inferences to be drawn from that interpretation are not mere questions of fact and even concurrent findings based on such interpretation and inferences can be set aside in second appeal. 24 C. W. N. 594. ref. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) RRISHNA RAO v. NILKANTH. 5 N. L. J. 25 : 69 I. C. 800 : 18 N. L. R. 163 : A.I.R. 1922 Nag. 52.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Whether Wajib-ul-arz entry is based on custom or contract is question of law.

Whether an entry in the Wajib-ul arz is a record of an alleged custom or of a contract being a question of the construction of a document is a question of law which must be entertained in second appeal. (Cuming, A. J. C.) RAM KUMAR v. HAR PRASAD. 76 I. C. 1021 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 64.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Construction of a title deed is a question of law.

The construction of a document of title is a point of law. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) GANESH LALL v. BISESAR PANDAY. 88 I. C. 820 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 49.

——S. 100—Construction of document—Question was held to be one of law.

The headman of a village in Lower Burma granted a permit to occupy certain land, which formed the basis of appellant's title.

Held, that the legal effect of the document was a question of law and that Second Appeal was competent. (Maung Gyi, J.) ABDUL RAHIM v. MAHOMED CASSIM. 4 Bur. L. J. 27 : 88 I. C. 314 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 255.

Cost.

——S. 100—Costs—Lower Court interfering with discretion of first Court—Ground for interference in Second Appeal.

Interference with the discretion of the Trial Court by the Lower Appellate Court in the matter of costs, is a ground for interference in Second Appeal under S. 100. (Walsh, J.) HAKIM ZAHUR AHMAD v. FATEH ULLAH. 64 I. C. 962 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 55.

Court-fee.

——S. 100—Court-fee—Order rejecting memorandum of appeal—Deficiency in Court-fee—Court-Fees Act, Sch. I, Art. 1.

After the decree-holder had obtained the possession under the final decree for foreclosure it was set aside in appeal. The application for compensation under S. 144, C. P. Code of the judgment-debtor who was restored to possession was dismissed. The District Judge, after admitting the appeal, rejected the memorandum of appeal on the ground that the judgment-debtor had paid only 8 as. Whereas ad valorem court-fee should have been paid under Art. 1 Sch. I of the Court Fees Act and failed to make good the deficiency in time. Held, decision of the District Judge that ad valorem court-fees was payable instead of 8 as. was wrong and that as the question of compensation related to execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree in appeal the court-fee of 8 as. paid on the memorandum of appeal to the District Judge was sufficient. An appeal lies against the decision of the District Judge rejecting the memorandum of appeal. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) GABBA v. KANCHEDILAL. 18 N. L. R. 15 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 62.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Custom.

Custom.

——S. 100—Custom—High Court can examine whether evidence in the case establishes a custom.

Although the findings of the lower appellate Court so far as they are findings of fact are binding in second appeal, nevertheless it is open to a Court in second appeal to consider whether the evidence which has been found to be proved and instances which have been established do or do not establish a custom having the force of law. (Mears, C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) SYED TAJAMMUD HUSAIN v. BANWARI LAL. L. R. 6 A. 179 : 88 I. C 752: 23 A. L. J. 932 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 43.

——S. 100—Custom—Tenants whether entitled to sell site of house is mixed question of law and fact.

The question whether by custom a tenant is entitled to transfer the site of his house in the village abadi is a mixed question of law and fact and in the second appeal the question of sufficiency or insufficiency of the evidence in support of such a custom may be gone into. 30 All. 311, Foll. (Mukerji, J.) RAFIQ v SHANKAR LAL. L. R. 6 A. 109 (Rev.) : 87 I. C. 749 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 718.

——S. 100—Custom—High Court should consider the admissibility and quantum of evidence to establish custom.

In second appeal the Court should consider whether the evidence that is brought forward to prove custom is not only legally admissible evidence but whether the sum total of that evidence regarded from the point of quantum is of sufficient weight to justify the Court's coming to a conclusion that the custom has been proved. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MT. DHOLA KUAR v. MATHURA SINGH. 75 I. C. 657 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 341.

——S. 100—Custom—Finding of fact—Power of High Court to interfere.

Where a question arises as to the existence or non-existence of a particular custom and the lower appellate court has acted upon illegal evidence or on evidence legally insufficient to establish an alleged custom, the question is one of law and the High Court is entitled in second appeal to consider whether the finding is based on sufficient evidence. The High Court in second appeal has jurisdiction to consider the evidence given in support of an alleged custom and to determine whether or not that evidence is sufficient in point of law to establish the custom set up. Where the lower appellate court after examining the evidence legally and properly and not having rejected admissible evidence finds that the evidence is not sufficient to establish a custom, no question of law can arise. 30 A. 311 ; 37 A. 125 ; 31 A. 557 ; 45 C. 285 Ref. (Stuart, J.) SHAKIRA BIBI v. NANDAN RAI. 4 U. P. L. R. 95 : 66 I.C. 613 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 241.

——S. 100—Custom—Finding on—Nature of.

A finding on a question of custom is a mixed finding of fact and law. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) SHAMSHER SINGH v. PYARE LAL. 20 A. L. J. 57 : 64 I. C. 956 : L. R. 3 A. 87 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 88.

——S. 100—Custom—Specific instance as to—Objection as to insufficiency of evidence.

Objections based on the grounds of insufficient evidence, or improper rejection of evidence, or as to the evidence taken as a whole amounting to insufficient proof in law of local custom, may be gone into in second appeal, but whether a specified instance is properly proved or not, is a question of fact. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) RATILAL NATHALAL v. MOTILAL SANKAL CHAND. 27 Bom. L. R. 880 : 88 I. C. 891 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 380.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Custom.

——S. 100—Custom—Lower Court holding that no question of custom involved—Whether case involves question of custom can be considered.

When the lower appellate Court holds that no question of custom is involved in a case and rejects an application for a certificate to enable the applicant to file a second appeal it is open to the second appellate Court to hold that a question of custom is involved and to remand the case to the lower Court to consider whether the certificate can be granted. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 37 and 18 P R. 1918 Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) HAR PHUL v. BHAGMAL. 79 I. C. 488 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 82.

——S. 100—Custom — Gift — Jains — Hindu Law—Certificate.

Jains are subject to Hindu Law in matters of alienation except where a special custom is proved as a widow would not be competent to make a gift under Hindu Law ; the question whether she has this right by custom is one that cannot be raised in the absence of a certificate in second appeal. (Broadway and Brasher, JJ.) CHHAJU MAL v. KUNDAN LAL. 70 I. C. 838 : A I. R. 1923 Lah. 53.

——S. 100—Custom—Certificate as to—Second appeal.

On second appeal the question of custom must be confined to that set out in the certificate granted by the lower appellate Court. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) NATHU v. BANNA. 3 Lah. 344 : 69 I. C. 507 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 426.

——S. 100—Custom—If supported by facts found open in second appeal.

It is not competent to a High Court in second appeal to interfere with findings of fact ; but it can consider whether the facts found are sufficient to sustain an allegation of custom. (Baker J. C.) MT. BASHIRAI v. ABDUL SATTAR. 82 I. C. 815: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 179.

——S. 100—Custom—Question as to custom is not purely of fact—Second Appellate Court can enquire into sufficiency of evidence to prove a custom.

The question of custom is one of mixed fact and law and the point whether the facts found in any given instance prove existence of the essential attributes of a custom or usage is a question of law and in second appeal an inquiry can be made whether all the attributes of a local custom had been established or not by evidence accepted by the lower Court. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 157 Ref. There is no difference between cases where custom is accepted and those in which the existence of the custom is not accepted. 21 O. C. 334, Rel. (Dalal, J. C.) RAZA HUSSAIN KHAN v. SUBBANI. 2 O. W. N. 838 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 53 (2).

——S. 100—Custom—Question of custom of transferability of house built by tenant on village abadi is one of fact and law and can be taken in second appeal.

The question whether a custom obtains enabling a tenant who has built by the Zemindar's permission, a house in the village abadi on a site belonging to the Zemindar and has been enjoying it to transfer it, is a mixed question of fact and law and can be raised in second appeal. (Kendall, A. J. C.) BHIKARI LAL v. HADI ALI KHAN. 11 O L. J. 738 : 82 I. C. 840 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 239.

——S. 100—Custom.

A question of custom is a mixed question of law and fact and can be entertained for the first time in second appeal. (Pullan, A. J. C.) MAJID HUSAIN v. MT. SAFADARI BEGAM. 81 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 55.

——S. 100—Custom—Finding as to—When open to attack on second appeal—Scope of the enquiry.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S 100—Custom.

The decision of the lower appellate Court on a point of custom is liable to attack on second appeal on the ground that in the determination of the question in controversy, illegal principles or tests have been erroneously applied, for instance, that the Court has not correctly appreciated essential the attributes of a custom or usage. Consequently, the question whether the facts found in any given instance prove the existence of the essential attributes of a custom or usage is a question of law, which may be discussed in second appeal. It is clear that on second appeal an enquiry must be made whether all the attributes of a local custom have been established or not by the evidence which is accepted by the lower Court. (Dalal, J.C.) MANNA LAL v. THAKUR JAI INDAR BAHADUR SINGH. 26 O. C. 386 : 76 I. C. 774 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 157.

——S. 100—Custom — Finding as to—Mixed question of law and fact.

Where a point of custom raises a mixed question of law and fact, the Court can in second appeal go into the evidence to see whether it establishes the alleged custom. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) BALBHADDAR PRASAD v. NARAYAN DAS. 9 O.L.J. 518 : 73 I. C. 727 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 102.

——S. 100— Custom — Wajib-ul-arz rejected under erroneous view of law.

A Court of second Appeal can interfere with the finding of the Court of the First Appeal on a point of custom where the latter Court has rejected the wajib-ul-arz under an erroneous view of the law. (Daniels, J. C.) SWAMI DAYAL v. RAM DAS. 64 I. C. 86 : 24 O. C. 237.

——S. 100 - Custom—Finding of fact—Relevancy of evidence, dispute as to.

Where the First Appellate Court finds the evidence let in support of an alleged custom, as unreliable, but expresses an erroneous opinion as to its relevancy the High Court will not, in Second Appeal, merely on that ground re-assess its value as proof of the custom. (Lindsay, J. C.) SANT BAKHSH v. GAJADHAR 61 I.C. 781 : 8 O. L. J. 202.

——S. 100—Custom—Existence of custom of privacy—Finding cannot be attacked in second appeal.

A question as to the existence of a customary right of privacy in a town is a question of fact and when the evidence on both sides has been considered by the lower appellate Court the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. 45 C. 285 46 C. 189 : 37 M.L.J. 199 Foll. (Fawcett, J.C. and Kemp, A.J.C.) SHAH MAHOMED v. RAMZAN. 66 I C. 833 Sind.

Damages.

——S. 100—Damages—Finding of fact.

Ordinarily the question as to the amount of damages is a question of fact and the finding as to amount of damages arrived at by the lower appellate Court is binding on the High Court ; but when the amount is fixed arbitrarily, it cannot be taken as an amount arrived at on a finding which is binding on the High Court, (Sulaiman, J.) JUGAL KISHORE v. RAM NARAIN. A I. R. 1923 All. 199.

——S. 100—Damages—Contract of sale—Condition of goods,

Where under the terms of a contract of sale, goods were to be undamaged, and the Courts below found it to be damaged, it is a finding of fact binding in second appeal. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) FIRM OF RAMDAYAL RAM NARAIN v. FIRM OF BHAIRO BUX GOWRIDUTTA. 5 P. L. T. 558 : 1 Pat. L. R. 398 : A.I.R, 1924 Pat. 240.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Defective Judgment.

Defective Judgment.

——S. 100—Defective judgment--Lower Appellate Court reversing finding of fact of primary Court must consider all important materials.

If the lower Appellate Court means to reverse the finding of the primary Court on any point it should consider all the important materials on which that finding was based. It would be intolerable if a Court were required to give all its reasonings in its judgment, or notice, all the evidence which influences its decision. But the position is wholly different where a Court takes upon itself to reverse a finding of the Trial Court on a question of fact. (Mukerjee, J.) UMARAM GOGOI v. PURUK CHAND OSWAL. 85 I. C. 540 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 993.

——S. 100—Defective judgment.

Finding of fact arrived at upon an erroneous conjecture as to matters not on record can be interfered within second appeal. (Mukerjee, J.) ABDUL SAMAD v. GUNENDRA KRISHNA ROY. 82 I. C. 974 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 452.

——S. 100--Defective judgment—In judgment of reversal lower appellate Court must give reasons to disbelieve the evidence and disagree with lower Court's finding.

In a judgment of reversal it is not enough to say that, in the opinion of the appellate Court, the evidence is meagre and could not be relied on without giving any reason in support of that view. In such a case its finding of fact is not binding in second appeal. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) CHANDRA MOHAN MAITI v. KINARAM MAITI. 79 I. C 412 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 408.

——S. 100 — Defective judgment — Appellate Judge, duty of to arrive at clear findings.

It is the duty of the Judge in his judgment when sitting as the final Court of fact to state clearly what his findings are, and the High Court sitting in second appeal cannot deduce from casual statements in the Judgment findings of fact which are not clearly expressed. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) JOGENDRA KISHORE ROY v. SHEIKH AKTAR. 67 I. C. 998 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 278.

——S. 100—Defective judgment—Finding of fact based only on local investigation is not sustainable.

The judgment of a lower appellate Court based entirely on a local investigation conducted by the Judge of the Court of first instance cannot be sustained in second appeal. 52 I. C. 241 and 39 Mad. 501 Foll. (Martineau, J.) RALLA v. HARNAM SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 208 (1).

——S. 100—Defective judgment — Certificate—Necessity of, in Punjab.

Where it was doubtful whether the flaw in the District Judge's judgment was such as to absolve the appellant from the necessity of producing a certificate for second appeal, the benefit of doubt was given to the appellant. (Chevis, J.) SHER DIL v. GULAB. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 471.

——S. 100 — Defective judgment — Burden on appellant -- Arbitrary decision of the lower Court—Appellate Court's power.

It is incumbent on an appellant to show that the judgment appealed from is wrong. An Appellate Court can come to an independent decision on a point when the lower Court decided it arbitrarily. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) MESSRS. PROBHU DIAL BHANWARI LAL OF DELHI v. DINA NATH KAPUR. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 127.

——S. 100 -Defective judgment—No evidence.

A finding of fact on no evidence is liable to be upset by High Court in second appeal. (Wallace, J.) SUPPAI GOUNDAN v. KANDASWAMY GOUNDAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Defective Judgment.

19 L. W. 560 : 80 I. C. 567 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 617 (1.).

——S. 100—Defective judgment—Evidence entirely absent—Finding will be set aside.

If there is an entire absence of evidence on which a finding of fact by the lower appellate Court is based, the finding will be liable to be set aside as defective on a ground of law. (Dalal, J. C.) SHIV NARAYAN v. G. I. P. RAILWAY CO. 27 O. C. 331 : 85 I. C. 338 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 525.

——S. 100—Defective judgment—Trial Court's judgment reversed without considering all circumstances—Second appeal does not lie.

A second appeal would not lie merely on the ground that the lower appellate Court in reversing the Trial Court's judgment, failed to consider all the circumstances on which the judgment of that Court was founded. (Wazir, Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEORAJ v. BECHEY LAL. 84 I. C. 470 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 313.

——S. 100 — Defective judgment — Fraud not pleaded—Finding of fraud.

Fraud must be expressly pleaded and positive facts and circumstances must be set out clearly giving rise to the application of fraud. Where it was not so pleaded in the case and no issue was framed as to fraud and it was never urged in the primary Court, the finding of the lower appellate Court to the effect that the surrender was actuated by "dishonest and improper motive" is not a real finding of fact binding upon the High Court in second appeal. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM ORAON v. DOMAN KALAL.
2 P. 898 : 4 P. L. T. 562 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 117: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 100.

Discretion.

——S. 100—Discretion—Future Interest.

A question of the award of future interest is discretionary with the Court and is not a pure question of law. (Moti Sagar, J.) AGHA MAHOMED ASLAM v. JODH SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 513 (2).

——S. 100 — Discretion — Second Appeal — No interference in.

Unless a very strong case is made out a Court of second appeal will not interfere with the discretion of the Court below in passing a decree for money payable in instalments, especially where a large portion of the amount decreed consists of interest. 15 C. W. N. 1088 Ref. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) BHUP CHAND v. UDE RAM. 27 P. W. R. 1922 : 66 I. C. 147 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 355.

——S. 100—Discretion—Rate of interest.

In each case where the question is "what is a reasonable rate of interest" the finding as to the reasonable rate of interest is really a finding of fact, moreover if it is within the discretion of the Courts below to interfere in certain cases with the contract rate of interest, High Court sitting in appeal, would not be justified in interfering with the exercise of the lower appellate Court's discretion unless it is made to appear that this discretion was arbitrarily exercised. (Lindsay and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BINDESHRI PRASAD v. JAG PRASAD RAI. A. I. R. 1922 All. 335 (1).

——S. 100—Estoppel—A party insisting upon the adjudication of an unnecessary issue cannot in appeal be allowed to get rid of such adjudication.

A party who has insisted upon the trial of an unnecessary issue in a case cannot at the stage of appeal be allowed to get rid of the adjudication on that issue by urging that it should not have been investigated. Neither party who has taken the chance of a favourable decision, when defeated, can ask reversal on the ground that the issue was not properly triable in that action. 33 Cal. 425 ; 9 N. L. R. 38 ; 9 W. R. 338 and 3 M. I. A. 229 (P. C.) and A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 144, Foll (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) RAGHUBAR PRASAD v. SATHU. 89 I C. 1009 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 164.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Jurisdiction.

Grounds.

——S. 100—Grounds—Plea of law not raised in the grounds—Court can allow the plea to be raised.

In first appeal the Court upheld the finding of the trial Court that certain contract was voidable having been brought about by undue influence by the appellant and suggested to the appellant that he should get some consideration under S. 19-A, Contract Act, but after appellant's rejection of the suggestion upheld the dismissal. In second appeal no plea was raised that the first appellate Court had overlooked the second clause of S. 19-A.

Held, although the grounds of appeal did not raise any question as to the propriety of the lower appellate Court in not invoking this provision of law, High Court was entitled to allow the point to be raised. (Boys and Ashworth, JJ.) SUNDAR RAI v. SURAJ BALI. 23 A. L. J. 856 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 483 : 88 I. C. 1013 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 783.

——S. 100—Grounds—Conjectures and presumptions—Unsafe basis for decision.

A judgment based upon mere conjectures and presumptions was liable to be set aside even in Second Appeal. (Scott-Smith and Hosde, JJ.) MT. BASANTI v. KABUL SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 127 : 80 I. C 329 : A. I R. 1924 Lah. 465.

——S. 100—Grounds—Omission to refer to particular evidence in judgment is not sufficient ground for interference.

The weight to be given to one particular piece of evidence is a question for the Court which deals with the facts, and the omission to refer to a particular piece of evidence in the judgment is not a sufficient ground for setting aside a finding. (Daniels, J. C.) SHIVA PRASAD v. LAL BAKSH SINGH.
88 I. C. 496 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 691.

Jurisdiction.

——S. 100 — Jurisdiction — Maintainability of second appeal—Order not appealable.

A second appeal lies in a case in which an appellate Court wrongly admits an appeal against a non-appealable order and passes a decree therein, and in such second appeal an objection to maintainability of the appeal in the lower Court can be raised for the first time. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) BHAGWAN DAS v. MAHOMED BANO. L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 447 : 75 I. C. 1053 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 183 (2).

——S. 100—Jurisdiction—Order of abatement of appeal—Effect.

No appeal lies from an order that an appeal pending has abated. 17 All. 172 : 12 A. L. J. 113. Foll. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MUHAMMAD ISMAIL v. MANOHAR DAS.
20 A. L. J. 214 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 113 (2).

——S. 100—Jurisdiction — First appeal entertained without jurisdiction—Second appeal lies.

If the lower appellate Court entertains an appeal which it has no jurisdiction to do, an appeal will lie from the decree of that Court. 20 C. W. N. 967 and 45 Cal. 926 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) WAJUDI PRAMANIK v. BOLAI MORUL.
A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1032.

——Ss. 100 and 96—Jurisdiction—Forum—Execution proceedings—Suit for more than 5,000 Rupees.

Where a decree is passed by the High Court on a first appeal in a suit valued at more than Rs. 5,000 an appeal from an order in execution of such a decree lies to the High Court and not to the District Court, and if the appeal is heard and decided by the District Judge the High Court will on second appeal set aside the order of the Dt. Judge and direct the appeal to be presented to itself. 16 C. L. J. 77 Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) KUMUDINI RAY v. KAMALA KANTO SEN. 35 C. L. J. 106 : 68 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 247.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Jurisdiction.

——S. 100—Jurisdiction.

The question of jurisdiction can be for the first time agitated in Second Appeal. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAM KISHAN v. RANSHAN. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 551.

——S. 100—Jurisdiction.

Where the decision of the Special Judge does not determine merely the amount of fair and equitable rent, but is in essence a decision upon the question of the status of the tenant, it is liable to be challenged by way of second appeal to the High Court. 43 Cal. 603, Ref. (Mukerjee and Cuming, JJ.) SARAT CHANDRA v. TARAPRASANNA BHATTACHARYA. 36 C L. J. 333 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 141.

Legal Necessity.

——S. 100—Legal necessity —Alienation by Hindu widow—Necessity.

Ordinarily the Court of second appeal should not go into a finding regarding necessity for an alienation by a Hindu widow, and determine whether or not there is sufficient evidence supporting the finding. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) UDAI BHAN SINGH v. GAJENDRA SINGH. L. R. 3 A. 376 : 70 I. C. 815 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 28.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Finding as to necessity for sale is one of fact.

The finding of the lower appellate Court that one of the vendors was a cripple and incapable of working, and that his share of the price was required for his personal necessities, is a finding of fact and cannot be contested in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) RAM KISHEN v. KHIALI. 6 L. L. J. 313 : 78 I. C 148 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 685.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Finding as to, is one of fact.

The finding as to the existence of necessity is clearly a finding of fact and cannot be impugned in second appeal. (Moti Sagar, J.) DALJIT SINGH v. HARI CHAND. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 669.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Finding as to.

Where the lower appellate Court has decided the question as to the existence of necessity on entirely wrong principles his finding is vitiated and can be examined in second appeal. (Broadway, J.) ANOKH SINGH v. SAPURAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 660.

——S. 100—Legal necessity.

Finding as to legal necessity cannot be questioned in second appeal. (Moti Sagar, J.) BALBIR SINGH v. GOBIND. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 532.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Question of law or fact—Custom—Alienation.

Question of necessity for an alienation may be one of fact or of law, and when the point raised is whether the Court below has infringed rules and maxims laid down by the High Court and has decided on wrong principles as to the quantum of proof of necessity required, then the question is one of law. (Campbell, J.) PREM DAS v. SARBALAND. A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 41.

——S. 100—Legal necessity and consideration.

Findings regarding consideration and necessity are findings of fact and not open to question on a second

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Misreading of Evidence.

appeal. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) HAKUMAT RAI v. WADHAWA SINGH. 4 L. L. J. 243 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 398.

——S. 100—Legal necessity.

The finding of the lower appellate Court with respect to the alienation not for the benefit of the family cannot be contested in second appeal. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) MUNSHI LAL v. SOHAN LAL. 66 I. C. 881 : 3 Lah. L. J. 137.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Existence of necessity is question of fact—Whether lender should see to the application of money is a question of law.

A finding of the existence of necessity for alienation is a finding of fact. But a finding that the lender is or is not bound to see to the application of the money is one of law. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SHEO BEHARI v. SHEO RATAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 740.

——S. 100—Legal necessity—Alienation by Hindu widow—Enquiry by alienee, as to legal necessity—Sufficiency of enquiry is question of law.

The sufficiency of the inquiry which an alienee from a Hindu widow has made as to the necessity for the alienation is a question of law and the finding of the lower appellate Court is liable to be examined by the High Court in second appeal. (Dalal, J. C.) RAMAN v. BARATI. 27 O. C. 329 : 85 I. C. 489 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 557.

Misjoinder.

——S. 100—Misjoinder—Question as to whether defendant could contest a suit.

Question whether a particular defendant was a necessary party and could contest the suit is one of law and may be raised in second appeal if it does not involve the taking of further evidence. (Moti Sagar, J.) SHAMAS-UD-DIN v. ALLAH DADKHAN. 6 L. L. J. 351 : 82 I. C. 603 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 65.

Misreading of Evidence.

——S. 100—Misreading of evidence.

A finding on an issue of fact by the lower appellate Court which is based on a misconception of what the evidence is, cannot be accepted in second appeal as a legal finding upon it. 20 B. 753 Ref. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) SUBEDAR v. DUBEY JAGAT NARAIN. 46 A. 773 : 22 A. L. J. 739 : 80 I. C. 25 : L.R. 5 A. 533 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 848.

——S. 100—Misreading of evidence—Misconception as to nature of claim—Second appeal lies.

Where the lower appellate Court has based its judgment on a misconception as to the nature of claim put forth by plaintiff, High Court will interfere in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) NIRANJAN LAL v. GHULAM NABI. 6 L L.J. 508 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 251.

——S. 100—Misreading of evidence.

Where the lower appellate Court comes to an erroneous decision owing to a misreading of the revenue records, the High Court has power to interfere in second appeal. (Wilberforce, J.) MALIK KHAN v. NAWAB. 4 Lah. L. J. 307.

——S. 100—Misreading of documentary evidence—Finding is not binding.

Where a finding of fact is based on a piece of a documentary evidence which has been completely misread by the Court, the finding is not binding in second appeal. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) GANESH LALL v. BISESAR PANDEY. 88 I. C. 820 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 49.

——S. 100—Misreading of evidence.

Misreading of the documentary evidence is not a question of law which justifies a second appeal. (Das, J.) MAHABIR MISSER v. MT. ASOKUER. 67 I. C. 435 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 154

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Mixed question of law and fact.

Mixed question of law and fact.

——S. 100—Mixed question of law and fact—Tenancy, nature of.

A decision on a question of the nature of the tenancy, viz., whether it is a permanent one or a tenancy at will is a mixed question of law and fact and can be decided in second appeal. 44 Cal. 119 and 8 C. W. N. 755 Foll. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) MOTI SAGAR v. DHANNA MAL.
29 P.W.R. 1922 : 72 I. C. 177 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah. 329.

——S. 100—Mixed question of law and fact—Partner or agent—Question is mixed one of law and fact and is assailable in second appeal.

The question whether a person is a partner or agent of a firm is a mixed question of law and fact, and therefore the High Court is entitled to test the correctness of the lower Court's conclusion by an examination of the relevant evidence in the case. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) CHOKALINGA CHETTIAR v. MUTHUSWAMI CHETTIAR. 48 M. L. J. 518 : 87 I. C. 663 : 21 L. W. 541 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 768.

——S. 100 Mixed question of law and fact—Omission to certify adjustment—Question of fact and law mixed—Not open in second appeal for the first time.

Whether an omission to certify an adjustment was due to any valid grounds is a mixed question of fact and law which cannot be raised for the first time in second appeal, as it involves taking fresh evidence. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) RAGHUBAR PRASAD v. SATTOO. 89 I. C. 1009 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 164.

——S. 100—Mixed question of law and fact—Dower—Amount to be paid.

A finding as to the amount of dower which can be claimed is one of mixed fact and law and is open to attack in second appeal. (Neave, A. J. C.) MT. ALIA BIBI v. MT. AMALIA BIBI. 89 I. C. 672 (2).

——S. 100—Mixed question of law and fact—Question as to jointness of Hindu joint family.

The question whether a Hindu family is joint or separate is not a pure question of fact but is a mixed question of law and fact, and it is open to a High Court to look into evidence to find out how far the evidence let in by the parties as to the status of the family is legal evidence and justifies the conclusions arrived at by the lower Court. 44 A. 602 Ref. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANGABAKAS v. NARAYAN. 86 I. C 505 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 284.

——S. 100—Mixed question of fact and law—Limitation—Question if to be raised suo motu.

Where a question of limitation is not purely one of law but of mixed fact and law, the High Court in second appeal cannot go into the question of its own accord under S. 3, Lim. Act. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BHUWAN LAL v. MANHORI. 78 I. C. 960 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 178.

——S 100—Mixed question of fact and law—"Necessaries".

The question of what are "necessaries" under S. 68, Contract Act, is a mixed question of law and fact and cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) TULSIRAM v. ANUSUYA. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 360.

——S. 100—Mixed question of fact and law—Duty of Court—Conclusion on facts found.

In second appeal, the court can legally decide mixed questions of fact and law, but it is undesirable to dispose of the question in the absence of findings of fact by the lower appellate Court. Whether a right conclusion has been drawn on the facts found can be gone into in second appeal. (Batten, J. C.) POMDUSA v. BAHENABAI 69 I. C. 193 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 124.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Nature of Tenancy.

——S. 100—Amount of dower is a mixed question of law and fact.

The finding as to the amount of dower which can be claimed is one of mixed law and fact. (Neave, A. J. C.) MT. ALIA BIBI v. MT. AMALIA BIBI. 89 I. C. 672 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 128.

Nature of Tenancy.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Land whether parjaut—Finding is one of fact.

The question whether the land is or is no parjaut land is one of fact and cannot be re-opened in second appeal. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) SHRI LAL GOAIKA v. KESHO DAS. 87 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 83.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Finding as to joint tenancy is one of fact.

The finding that a holding was a joint holding of the parties is one of fact. (Sulaiman, J.) NOHUR AHIR v. PARTAB AHIR. 21 A.L.J. 899 : L. R. 5 A (Rev.) 1 : 79 I. C. 367 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 231.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Recognition of tenancy by landlord—Question can be re-opened in second appeal.

The question as to whether a landlord recognised a certain person's tenancy is a question of inference as to a state of mind on the part of the landlord and it is open to the High Court in second appeal to enquire as to whether the facts would go to prove recognition. (Mukerjee, J.) SATISH CHANDRA GHOSE v. DEBENDRA NATH DEY. 85 I. C. 636 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 761.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy.

The question as to whether permanent tenancy can be presumed is a mixed question of fact and law. 46 Cal. 90, Foll. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MAKHAN LAL v. ARUN BALA. 73 I. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 465.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Permanent tenancy—Evidence.

Where on a consideration of the entire evidence in the case the lower appellate Court comes to the decision that a permanent tenancy had not been established, it is a finding of fact which the High Court has no power to interfere in second appeal. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) RAM SAHAI v. MAHOMED SADIQ. 4 Lah. L. J. 311.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Question whether tenant is tenure-holder or raiyat under B. T. Act ultimately depends on question of fact.

Though a substantial question of law may, and generally does arise in determining whether a tenant is a raiyat or a tenure holder, the point depends ultimately on questions of fact. 46 Cal. 90 (P. C.) Foll In second appeal the High Court is not entitled to go behind the findings of fact of the lower appellate Court unless such findings result from the misconstruction of a document of title or the misapplication of law or procedure. 19 C. W. N. 270, Foll. Such findings cannot be assailed however gross and inexcusable the error therein if the lower appellate Court had before it evidence proper for its consideration in support of its finding. 18 Cal. 23 (P. C.) Foll. (Miller, C. J. and Macpherson, J.) TARNI SINGH v. SATNARAIN MAHARAJ. 1925 P. H. C. C. 281 : 6 P. L. T. 787 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 9.

——S. 100—Nature of tenancy—Question as to rent payable can be allowed in second appeal.

Where, in defence to a suit for rent, it is pleaded by the tenant that the rent claimed by a landlord in respect of fruit trees is not payable, the question is one relating to the amount of rent payable and second appeal is allowable. (Dawson Miller. C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAMESWAR SINGH v. SHEIKH WAZUL HAQUE. 78 I. C. 463 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 294.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Negligence.

Negligence.

——S. 100—Negligence—Question of Lambardar's negligence is one of fact and law.

In a suit by co-sharers against lambardar for profits the question of negligence of lambardar is a question of mixed fact and law and it is open to review in second appeal. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. ABDUL HADI.

77 I. C. 1032 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 613.

——S. 100—Negligence—Mixed question of law and fact—Whether can be reviewed in second appeal.

The lower appellate Court has found that there was gross negligence on the part of a lambardar which involves a question of mixed fact and law and is open to review in second appeal. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) ASAD ALI v. FAIYAZ ALI.

70 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 421.

——S. 100—Negligence—Lambardar—Agra Tenancy Act (1901), S. 164.

The question whether the acts or omissions of the Lambardar amount to negligence or misconduct, is one of law and the High Court is not bound by a finding on that question in Second Appeal. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) CHABRAJSI KUAR v. GANGA SINGH.

43 All. 29 : 18 A. L. J. 863 : 60 I. C. 643 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A.) 272.

——S. 100—Negligence—Finding of fact.

The question of negligence is very largely a question of fact. (Richardson and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SYED SADAG REZA v. KHOSHMOHINI DASI.

71 I. C. 346 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 317.

——S. 100—Negligence.

Finding that there was wilful neglect on the part of the Railway is a finding of fact. (Martineau, J.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. CHARANJIT LAL.

6 L. L. J. 237 : 79 I. C. 428 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 594.

——S. 100—Negligence is a mixed question of law and fact.

What is gross negligence is a question of mixed law and fact, and the High Court can interfere with the findings of the lower appellate Court. Thus a finding of negligence attributed to the Court of Wards in representing a minor in not relying upon a previous judgment for the purpose of raising the plea of res judicata was set aside by the High Court. (Devadoss, J.) S. ANAND RAO v. VENKATADRI APPA RAO.

47 M. L. J. 700 : (1925) M. W. N. 75 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 258.

New Plea.

——S. 100—New plea—Mixed question of law and fact—Not raised in the Court below—If can be raised on Second Appeal.

A mixed question of law and fact not raised in the Courts below will not be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal in the High Court. (Daniels, J.) RAMKARAN SINGH v. RAJA RAM.

L. R. 5 A. 225 (Rev.): A. I. R. 1924 All. 877.

——S. 100—New plea—As a general rule inadmissibility of evidence should not be raised in second appeal.

Questions of law dealing with the admissibility and the legal effect of evidence will not as a general rule be entertained in second appeal in the High Court if they have not been taken at least at the stage of the first appeal in the Court below. (Neave and Daniels. JJ.) RADHA KISHAN v. KEDAR NATH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—New Plea.

46 All. 815 : 22 A. L. J. 761 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 536 : 80 I. C. 874 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 845.

——S. 100—New plea—Point going to the root of the whole case cannot be taking.

The High Court may be justified in an exceptional case, in permitting a point of law to be taken in second appeal which goes to the root of the merits of the whole case. (Stuart, J.) RAM GAJADEER v. MT. SARTANI. 71 I. C. 381 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 343.

——S. 100—New plea—Point of law—Limitation—When allowed to be raised.

A point of law which does not require any questions of fact to be determined but can be decided on the record as it stands may be allowed to be raised in second appeal for the first time. 21 A. 466 Foll. ; 42 C. 72 Dist. (Gokul Prasad, J.) BHIKHARI SINGH v. JOKKAN. 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 104 : 66 I. C. 856 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 124.

——S. 100—New plea—Objection in Trial Court—Not urged in First Appeal.

An objection which is taken in the Trial Court but is not urged in the lower appellate Court cannot be raised in Second Appeal. (Rafique and Stuart, JJ.) SHIAM SARUP v. NAND RAM. 43 All. 555 : 63 I. C. 366 : 19 A. L. J. 511.

——S. 100—New plea—Re-opening of the whole case.

Where the plff. has relied on a custom he cannot be allowed to change his position in Second Appeal, and take his stand on a point which would reopen the whole case. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) MUKHLAL RAI v. HIRANAND SINGH. 19 A. L. J. 442 : 62 I. C. 884 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 81.

——S. 100—New plea—New point of limitation when entertained.

Though questions of limitation being questions of law are not excluded from being heard in Second Appeal when they have not been raised in the lower Court, it has always been maintained that where a question of law depends on a finding of fact on evidence and that evidence has not been led in the Trial Court, then the High Court in second appeal will not deal with the question of law. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) DIGAMBAR v. LAHYADEO.

25 Bom. L. R 245 : 72 I. C. 226 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 254.

——S. 100—New plea—Fresh evidence required—Practice.

A point of law which cannot be decided without further evidence should not be allowed to be raised in second appeal. 24 Bom. 260 Foll. (Pratt and Fawcett, JJ.) DODDAVA v. YELLAWA. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 233.

——S. 100—New plea—Point adumbrated in plaint but no issue raised nor evidence led—Point cannot be raised.

A point, although adumbrated in the plaint but never put forward before the Courts below and on which no issue is framed and no evidence directed, cannot be allowed to be raised in second appeal. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) GIRISH CHANDRA v. GOPAL CHANDRA. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1184.

——S. 100—New plea.

New point involving determination of new questions of facts can't be raised in second appeal. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) PROMOTH NATH MUKHERJEE v. ANUKUL CHANDRA BANERJI. 40 C. L. J. 564 : 29 C. W. N. 17 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 225.

——S. 100—New plea—Amendment of decree, point relating to, cannot be raised in second appeal.

A point relating to an amendment of decree is not a point which can be urged in second appeal. (C. C. Ghose and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) KALI PADA BOSE v.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 100—New Plea.

FANI BHUSAN ROY. 70 I. C. 173 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 363.

——S. 100—New plea—Question as to construction of lease is not allowed in second appeal if not raised in lower Court.

Where the question that the tenure granted to defendant No. 1 was a single tenure consisting in part of patni rights and in part of dar patni rights was not taken in the Courts below but it was assumed throughout that the superior landlord was entitled to sell the patni tenure separately for its own arrears, held, that the lease is not prima facie incapable of this construction and as the question may be in part a question of fact depending on the state of things in which the tenure was granted, it ought not to be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. (Richardson and Suhrawardy, JJ.) GOPAL CHANDRA v. DWARIKA NATH. 69 I. C. 655 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 353 (2).

——S. 100—New plea.

Where, in the lower Courts a plea has been raised the opposite party might have produced evidence to rebut it, it is too late to raise it in second appeal. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) TUKA MIAH v. NABIN CHANDRA. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 292 (2).

——S. 100—New plea—Question involving consideration of evidence.

Where a point of fact was not raised in the Courts below nor had any issue been framed with reference to it, it cannot be raised for the first time on second appeal. (Greaves, J.) SYED NAYAJAN ALI v. MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARI COMPANY. 67 I. C. 770 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 285.

——S. 100—New plea—When allowed to be raised for the first time in appeal or second appeal.

The court will allow a party to raise a new point of law on appeal or second appeal when no further investigation of facts is necessary and when there is no surprise to the other side. If however the new plea raises a question of fact or mixed question of fact and law, the court will not allow it to be raised. 35 A, 273 : 10 M. 1 Ref. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. UPENDRA NARAIN ROY. 36 C. L. J. 336 : 71 I. C. 849 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 247.

——S. 100—New plea—When can be raised.

It is not open to the appellant to raise, for the first time in second appeal, an issue which would depend on facts. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) HRIDAY NATH MONDAL v. TALA BEWA. 65 I. C. 706 (Cal.).

——S. 100—New plea—Question turning on new facts.

An appellant cannot in Second Appeal raise a new question turning of facts not investigated by the lower Courts. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) PARIKSHIT MANDOL v. CHANDRA MOHAN DUTTA. 62 I C 761 (2).

——S. 100—New plea—Finding of fact—Second Appeal.

A question of fact, not raised in the Courts below cannot be raised for the first time in Second Appeal. (Sanderson, C J. and Woodroffe, J.) DINESH CHANDRA BANERJEE v. ROMESH CHANDRA DAS. 59 I. C. 316 (Cal.).

——S. 100—New plea—When allowed.

A new point which is not a pure question of law cannot for the first time be taken up in second appeal. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) NILRATAN MITRA v. ABDUL GAFUR GAZI. 59 I. C. 3 : 32 C. L. J. 75.

——S. 100—New point—Defendant can't raise in second appeal.

Defendant cannot raise for the first time in second appeal a point which he did not raise in the written statement and as to which no issue was framed. (Abdul Raoof, J.) SHURGAN CHAND v. SHIKER CHAND. 6 L. L. J. 467 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 192.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908).—New Plea.

——S. 100—New plea—Technical plea nat allowed.

A technical plea, that the suit was premature, should not be allowed to be taken for the first time in appeal. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) BUDHA MAL v. SHIB DAYAL. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 328.

——S. 100—New plea—Res judicata—Plea raised for the first time.

It is open to the High Court, in second appeal to allow a plea of res judicata to be raised even though it had not been raised in any of the courts below or even in the memorandum of second appeal, 4 A, 69 ; 22 I. C. 12 Foll. (Campbell, J.) MIRKHAN v. SARFU. 5 Lah. L. J. 163 : 74 I. C. 577 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560.

——S. 100—New plea—When can be entertained.

A law point which is patent upon the record even if it has not been taken at all in either of the courts below could be raised for the first time in the second appeal and must be considered. (Campbell, J.) SOHAN SINGH v. SANTA SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 491.

——S. 100—New plea advisedly given up before.

Where probably advisedly a plea was given up in the first Court by the party, he cannot be allowed to set up the plea in the Court of second appeal. (Le Rossignol and Zafar Ali, JJ.) LAJJA RAM v. SHAMBHU NATH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 252.

——S. 100—New plea.

Where there is no reference to a plea in the judgments of the Courts below or in the pleadings of the parties, the point cannot be allowed to be raised in second appeal. A decree for a sum cannot be granted in second appeal, when no such relief was asked for in the Courts below. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) FIRM RAM DYAL SHEO PERSHAD v. FIRM GHAMANDI LAL NARAIN DAS. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 56.

——S. 100—New plea—Raising for first time.

A point which was not raised in either of the Courts below cannot be entertained in the High Court. (Broadway and Brasher, JJ.) CHHAJU MAL v. KUNDAN LAL. 70 I. C. 838 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 53.

——S. 100—New plea.

Objections as to maintainability of suit if raised for the first time in appeal, cannot be allowed. (Scott-Smith and Campbell, JJ.) NARINJAN SINGH v. DIWAN CHARAN. 3 Lah. 239 : 68 I. C. 557 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 363.

——S. 100—New plea—Question of fact—Not allowed.

A pure question of fact unless it is at least in the memorandum of second appeal cannot be allowed to be argued for the first time in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) MAULA BAKSH v. JAFAR ALI KHAN. 4 Lah. L.J. 437.

S. 100—New plea—Mixed question of law and fact—Not to be raised for the first time on second appeal.

A mixed question of tact and law cannot be raised on second appeal for the first time. (Scott-Smith and Dundas, JJ.) JAGGA v. BHAG MAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 432.

——S. 100—New plea—When allowed in second appeal.

A point which had been the subject of an issue in the trial court and definitely given up cannot be considered again on second appeal. Simllarly a new point which was not raised in the Court below cannot be raised on second appeal. (Scott-Smith and Harrison, JJ.) SADHU RAM v. UTTAM DAS. 3 Lah. L. J. 516.

——S. 100—New plea.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—New Plea.

The question that the defendants were entitled to the shamilat land as natural accretion to the proprietary land not having been raised in either of the lower Courts cannot be raised in second appeal. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, JJ.) KARAM CHAND v. VIR SINGH. 3 Lah. L. J. 470.

——S. 100—New plea—Question of law—When can be raised—Change of case.

A pure question of law arising out of the findings of the Courts below and patent on the record can be raised for the first time in second appeal. 51 I. C. 588, Foll. The suit for arrears of maintenance cannot be changed into one for contribution in second appeal. (Broadway, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. BISHEN DAS 67 I. C. 919 : 2 L. L. J. 255.

——S. 100—New plea.

The contention that the parties did not constitute joint Hindu family cannot be raised for the first time in second appeal. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) MUNSHI LAL v. SOHAN LAL. 66 I. C. 881 : 3 Lah. L. J. 137.

——S. 100—New plea— Namboodries —Special usage.

Namboodri litigants cannot adduce evidence of special usage varying Hindu Law. for the first time in second appeal. (Jackson J.) T. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRI v. K. RAVUNNI NAIR. 47 M. L. J. 686 : 20 L. W. 876 : 35 M. L. T. 127 : (1924) M. W. N. 792 : 84 I. C. 973 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 260.

——S. 100—New plea—Impropriety of substitution of legal representative cannot be raised for first time in second appeal—Practice.

In the absence of a plea as to the impropriety of a certain person having been brought on the record as the legal representative of another party in the lower Courts precludes the raising of such plea for the first time in second appeal. (Krishnan, J.) HARIHAR AIYAR v. UKKANDAN VARIAR. 81 I. C. 498 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 207.

——S. 100—New plea—Point of limitation not raised in courts below not to be allowed to be raised

Points under the Limitation Act not taken in the court below should not ordinarily be allowed to be raised in the High Court. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) PARA DEKKAN v AMEERUDDIN SAHIB. 17 L. W. 169 : 72 I. C. 131 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 306.

—— S. 100 New plea.

An objection not taken in either of the lower Courts cannot be entertained as a ground of second appeal, the more so as the respondents have had no notion in the memo of appeal that it would be urged. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBRAMANIAN v. K.U. RAMAN. 16 L. W. 620 : 31 M. L. T. 454 : 69 I. C. 363 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 519.

——S. 100—New plea.

Contention given up in lower appellate Court cannot be raised in second appeal. (Baker, J. C.) NARAYAN v. BIHARILAL. 89 I. C. 18 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 160.

——S. 100—New point—New question of law on construction of document or on facts admitted or proved beyond dispute can be and must be allowed in Court of last resort.

When a question of law is raised for the first time in a Court of last resort upon the construction of a document or upon the facts either admitted or proved beyond controversy, it is not only competent but expedient in the interests of justice to entertain the plea. The expediency of adopting that course may be doubted when the plea cannot be disposed of without deciding nice questions of fact in considering which the Court of ultimate review is placed in a much less advantageous position than the Courts below. But in any case Courts ought not to follow the course unless to their satisfaction the evidence upon which they have to decide establishes beyond a shadow of doubt that the facts if fully inquired into would have sustained the new plea. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. MT. TULSHI. 80 I. C. 607 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 104.

——S 100—New plea.

In a partition suit, a plea on the ground of inconvenience, cannot be urged in second Appeal, if not urged in the lower Courts. (Lindsay, J C.) TAJA MUL HUSSAIN , BANDE RAJA. 7 C. L. J. 538 : 60 I. C. 433 : 23 O. C. 281.

——S. 100—New plea.

Where before the Subordinate Judge the whole case proceeded on the common ground that there did exist a definite custom that the Mohantship and the possession of the properties of the Sitamarhi asthal were limited primarily to Chelas who were blood relatives of the deceased or the outgoing incumbent. Held that it is not possible to allow the respondent to raise the question as to the validity of this custom at the stage of appeal. (Das and Bucknill, JJ) RAGHUNATH DAS v SHEO KUMAR. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 309.

——S. 100—New plea—Question of limitation—Facts, necessary for, not pleaded—Entertainability of.

Issues not raised in the written statements of defendant cannot be entertained in second appeal. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KULLAL UPADHYA v. JUGDESH PRASAD SINGH. 1 P. 23 : 69 I. C. 185 : 3 P. L. T. 795 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 398.

—— S. 100—New plea.

The defendant cannot be allowed to raise in appeal the point of failure to prove legal necessity for the stipulated rate of interest when no such plea was taken in the Court below nor any issue raised on that point. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Adami, JJ.) AINTHU v. KHAKKAR. 3 P. L. J. 367 : 1 P. 612 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 356.

—— S. 100—New plea—Sufficiency of tender—When can be raised.

The question of sufficiency or insufficiency of the sum tendered cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) JAG SAHU v. RAM SAKHI KUER. 1 Pat 350 : (1922) P H. C. C 58 : 3 Pat. L. T. 332 : 65 I. C. 666 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 167.

——S. 100—New plea— When allowed.

An altogether new point should not be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal in High Court, when there is no evidence on the record and no finding to support it. (Dawson-Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) CHANDRA MOHAN DUTTA v. SASIBALA DASI. 3 Pat. L. T 623 : 4 U P. L R. (Pat.) 7 : 65 I C. 277 : 1922 P. H. C. C 39 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 68.

Non-Joinder.

——S. 100—Non-joinder—Objection when to be taken.

If an objection as to non-joinder of parties is not taken in the first appellate Court, it cannot be taken for first time in second Appeal. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KANDIYAL PARKUM v. KHOTTALI KOTTARATHIL. 40 M L. J. 282 : 44 Mad. 344 : (1921) M. W. N. 229 : 62 I. C. 386 : 14 L. W. 69.

Powers of Courts.

—— S. 100—Powers of Court—Inference of law from admitted facts—High Court can interfere if inference is wrong.

If from admitted facts, logical inference, drawn by lower appellate Court which is an inference of law and not of mere fact, be wrong, High Court can interfere. (Mukerjee, J.) PEERJI MOHIB ALI v. RAM CHANDER. L. R. 6 A. 104 (Rev.) : 87 I C. 64 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 796.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Powers of Court.

——S. 100—Powers of Court—Finding accepted by appellant—Appellate Court—If can go behind.

The appellate Court has no power to go behind a finding of the trial Court, when the appellant has accepted it in his ground of appeal. The carelessness of the appellant's counsel in drafting the grounds makes no difference. (Scott-Smith, J.) WADHAWA SINGH v. SUNDAR SINGH. 59 I. C. 689 : 21 P. W R. 1921.

——S. 100—Powers of Court—High Court can decide title, if left undecided by lower Courts.

A Court of second appeal can decide a question of title itself if left undetermined by the lower Court whether it was a question of fact or law, under S. 103 read with O. 41, R. 25. Where the question of title rests purely on interpretation of certain documents and the legal inferences to be drawn from them, it is not a question of fact alone and the High Court can interfere and decide it itself 27 C. W. N. 245, 42 All. 152 Foll. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) INDARPAL v. THAKUR DIN. 10 O. L. J. 646 : 27 O. C. 77 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 266.

——S. 100—Powers of Court — Remand—Issue determination in the lower Courts.

Where an issue has been raised and determined, it is not within the competence of High Court in second appeal to remand the case for a rehearing upon that very issue. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) GANPATI RAI v. RAJ KUMAR SINGH. 1 P. 639 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 575.

——S. 100—Powers of Court to decide issues of fact.

Per Miller, C. J.:—It is not for High Court, sitting in second appeal, even if it thought that certain evidence had been improperly rejected by the lower Court to weigh that evidence as against the evidence on the other side and arrive at a conclusion of fact upon the matter, except in cases where on the evidence only one conclusion is possible for any court.

Per Jwala Prasad, J.—Where once a second appeal has been properly laid, the ordinary rules under O. 41 and O. 42, C. P. Code will apply When a finding of fact is set aside and the evidence on the record is sufficient, there is nothing to prevent the court from going into the evidence and determining the case finally under O. 41, R. 24. (Miller. C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) LOCHAN RAI v. LALA SANT PRASAD. 3 Pat. L. T. 303 : 65 I.C. 536 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 417.

——S. 100—Powers of Court—Appeal--Restoration —Erroneous order—Objection as to validity.

If a respondent first comes to know of the erroneous order restoring the appeal without any notice upon him, he can raise objection to its validity in second appeal. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) SURAJ PAL PANDEY v. UTTIM PANDEY. 3 P. L. T. 117 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat 281.

Presumption.

——S. 100—Presumption — Rebuttal—Question of fact.

The question whether the presumption of the correctness of the Record of Rights has been rebutted in a particular case is more a question of fact than of law. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) YAKUB ALI CHOWDHURI v. RAJ KUMAR DUTTA. 65 I. C. 527 (Cal.).

——S. 100—Presumption—Not based on evidence but on conjecture.

A merely conjectural finding of the lower appellate

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 100—Question of fact Amount of damages.

Court that the common ancestor of the parties occupied the land in suit is liable to be set aside in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) KISHEN LAL v. KANHAYA. 79 I. C. 970 : 5 Lah. L. J. 106.

——S. 100—Presumption—Inference of law from facts is question of law.

Where the lower appellate Court found as a fact that the evidence established that there had been no change of rent for 48 years and then inferred that fixity of rent could be presumed.

Held, that it was an inference of law and could be questioned in second appeal. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. ISSER DUBEY. 1 P. L. R. 32 : 71 I. C. 15 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 373.

——S. 100—Presumption—Rebuttal.

It is for the final Court of fact to say whether the evidence as furnished by the batwara proceedings is so valuable as to rebut the presumption of the correctness of the record-of-rights. (Das and Adami JJ.) JUGDEO NARAIN v. BULAKI GOPE. (1921) P.H.C.C. 343 : 63 I.C. 226 (2) : 2 P. L. T. 343.

Procedure.

——S. 100—Procedure—C. P. Code, O. 47, R. 27.

Taking additional evidence without recording reasons and without calling upon the party to show its necessity is a substantial error in procedure and such an order of the lower appellate Court is open to second appeal. (Rankin and Mukerjee. JJ.) KEBAL NEMADAS v. RAJANI KANTA ROY. 39 C. L. J. 261 : 81 I. C. 999 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 98.

——S. 100 and O. 41, R. 17—Procedure—Ex-parte hearing of appeal—Interference on second appeal.

Where the lower appellate Court has decided an appeal ex-parte the High Court has power to interfere in second appeal on the ground that the lower appellate Court acted irregularly in hearing the appeal ex parte. 30 M. 54 Foll. 1 I. C. 329 dissented. (Martineau and Harrison. JJ.) GULAM HAIDAR v. JIWAN. 3 Lah. 357 : 69 I. C. 499 : A. I. R. 1922 L. 439.

——S. 100—Question of fact

Amount of damages.
Bona fides.
Breach of contract.
Change in contract.
Consideration.
Delay
Different inferences.
Evidence.
Finality.
Grove.
Marriage.
Minority.
Mistake or error.
Nature of property.
Notice.
Nuisance.
Partnership
Possession.
Reasonable or probable cause.
Right over property.
Status of party.
Tender.
Transfers.
Waqf.
Will.
Miscellaneous.

Adoption.

——S. 100—Question of fact. Amount of damages.

It is a question of fact whether or not a caste was suit up. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) FULCHAND

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Finding of fact Adoption.

MOHANLAL v. HARILAL NANSA.
27 Bom. L. R. 1503 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 69.

——S. 100—Finding of fact—Adoption—Finding capable of being interpreted both as finding of fact and of law—Untenability as finding of law—High Court is not bound to treat it as finding of fact.

Where the finding of the lower court might mean either that there was no adoption in fact or that the adoption was not valid in law and where the view that it was not valid in law could not be supported in view of the ruling in a certain case and where therefore the High Court was asked to hold that the finding meant that there was no adoption in fact.

Held that it was not for the High Court to say that the lower Court must have meant something simply because it was the duty of the lower Court to say the same and that the finding in question was not a finding of fact. (Mukerji, J.) UMARAM GOGOI v. PURUK CHAND OSWAL. 85 I. C. 540 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 993.

Question of fact—Amount of damages.

——S.100—Question of fact—Amount of damages

Ordinarily the question as to the amount of damages is a question of fact and the finding as to amount of damages arrived at by the lower appellate Court is binding on the High Court but when the amount is fixed arbitrarily, it cannot be taken as an amount arrived at on a finding which is binding on the High Court. (Sulaiman, J.) JUGAL KISHORE v. RAM NARAIN. A. I. R. 1923 All. 199

Question of fact—Antecedent debt.

——S. 100—Question of fact— Antecedent debt—Existence of.

The question whether an antecedent debt existed is one of fact. The fact that in coming to a conclusion on the point the judge declined to accept recitals in a deed as evidence of the debt is no ground for second appeal. (Simpson, A. J. C.) BHAGWATI PRASAD v LALL BAHADUR. 90 I. C. 404 : A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 33.

Question of fact—Bona fides.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Bona fides—Question as to plaintiff's bona fide mistake is not one of fact.

Question as to plaintiff having misnamed a defendant purposely or by bona fide mistake is not purely one of fact. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) KHERODAMOYI DASI v. HABIL SHAHA.
29 C. W N. 51: 82 I. C. 638: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 152.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Bona fides is a.

Finding as to bona fides of a party in taking a certain action is a finding of fact. 75 P. R. 1916 Foll. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, FEROZEPORE CITY v. MILKI RAM. 7 L. L. J. 358 : 26 Punj. L. R. 641 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah 505.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Bona fides.

It is a question of fact whether a guardian is justified in entering into a compromise. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) ANNAPURNAYYA v. VENKATASUBRAMANIAM. 49 M. L. J. 549. 22 L. W. 560 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 1285 :

Question of fact—Breach of contracts.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Breach of contract.

A finding that it was the defendant who committed the breach of contract and not the plff. is one of fact which will not be interfered with by High Court in second appeal. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Wilberforce, J.) WELD AND COMPANY v. HARCHARAN DAS. 4 Lah. L. J. 317.

Question of fact—Change of contract.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Change in contract—Real contract between parties.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of fact—Different Inferences.

Where question in dispute is merely whether the real contract between the parties was something different from the contract entered in the deed, the finding on this point is clearly a finding of fact, with which the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. (Martineau, J.) KAPUR CHAND v. CHET RAM. 5 Lah. L. J. 541 : 80 I. C. 494 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 260.

Question of fact—Consideration.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Consideration.

A finding that a pronote was executed for consideration is a finding of fact. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) MAHOMED HUSSAIN v. RAM LAL.
5 L. L. J. 198 : 71 I. C. 783 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 39.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Consideration—Errors in—Not open to consideration on second appeal.

Where the Lower Appellate Court in a suit to contest an alienation has found that Rs. 475 out of the sale price due on a prior oral mortgage was fictitious and in arriving at this conclusion the Lower Appellate Court has considered the evidence on record connected with this matter then the finding however erroneous cannot be challenged in second appeal. 18 C, 23 P. C. Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. NIRANJIN SINGH.
67 I. C. 436 : 3 L. L. J. 409.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Consideration—Pre-emption suit—Fictitious item of consideration—Market value of the property.

A finding in a pre-emption suit that a portion of the price mentioned in the deed of sale is fictitious though erroneous is binding upon the High Court in second appeal. So is a finding as to the market value of the property in dispute based on evidence. (Chevis and Scott Smith, JJ) GANPAT RAI v. HARI RAM. 64 I. C. 297 : 3 L. L. J. 108.

Question of fact—Creation of Right.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Creation of Right—Whether joint tenancy was intended to be created is.

Question of intention to create joint tenancy is one of fact, and so long as the Judge makes no inferences which are not justified in law, the finding of intention is one which cannot be interfered with in second appeal (Phillips, J.) MUTHUKARUPPA MUTHIRIAN v. SHIVABHAGYATHAMMAL. 22 L. W. 511 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 33 : 49 M. L. J. 358.

Question of fact—Delay.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Delay—Requisite time.

Finding as to the time required for obtaining the copies is one of fact and cannot be attacked in second appeal. 48 I, C. 31 ; 100 P. R 1918 ; 185 P. W. R. 1918 Foll. (Martineau, J.) BAWA SINGH v. THAKUR SINGH. A. I. R. 1922 Lah 423.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Delay is a question of fact, but the finding that it disentitles the plaintiff from certain relief is one of law and can be examined in second appeal.

The question whether there was delay is one of fact and a finding thereon cannot be questioned in second appeal. But the lower appellate Court's finding that the plaintiff is on that account disentitled from claiming the relief which he desires is not one of fact but of law and can be considered in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) ABDUL MAJID KHAN v. BALAPPA.
82 I. C. 105 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 58.

Question of Fact—Different Inferences.

——S. 100— Question of fact—Different Inferences from fact.

Where more than one inference is legally open from the evidence, the High Court cannot in second appeal refuse to be bound by that inference drawn in the Court below. (Broadway, J.) ABDUL GHANI v. ISHAR SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 239 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of fact—Different Inferences.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Different inferences—Another inference possible—If ground for second appeal.

The mere fact that a court of appeal draws one of two possible inferences on a question of fact does not entitle the High Court in second appeal to interfere with finding. If only one inference is possible and that has not been drawn, it may be ground for second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MT. MATHURABAI v. LAL SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Nag 160.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Different inferences—Conclusion—Correctness, if can be challenged.

In Second Appeal, findings of fact cannot be impugned, but it is open to a party to challenge the correctness of the conclusion drawn from those findings. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JASADHA v. MURALIDHAR. 61 I. C. 144: 24 O. C. 1.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Different Inferences from facts—Interference.

An inference drawn from facts by the lower appellate court is a finding of fact and cannot be interfered with in second appeal. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BION v. SHEOGULAM LAL. 74 I. C. 843 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 305.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Different—Inferences.

Inferences of fact which are not unreasonable and are justified by evidence cannot be interfered with in second appeal. (Kincaid, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) PEWANDBAI v. CHETANMAL. 62 I. C. 1002 : 15 S. L. R. 84.

Question of fact—Error.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Error—Erroneous view of law—Interference.

The finding of fact of a lower appellate court which proceeds on an erroneous view of the law, and which is inconsistent with the facts recited can be interfered with by the High Court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SABAL SINGH v. SALIK RAM SINGH. 44 A. 602: 20 A. L. J. 473: L. R. 3 A. 301: 67 I. C. 67 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 93: A.I.R. 1922 All. 188 (2).

———S 100—Question of fact—Error—Interference in Second Appeal.

An erroneous finding of fact is different from an error in procedure. Where there is no error or defect in the procedure the finding of fact by the Court of First Appeal is final if that Court had before it evidence proper for its consideration in support of its finding. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) RUGGU MAL v. SITA RAM. 63 I C. 575 (L.)

———S. 100—Question of fact—Error—Though wrong will not be disturbed in second appeal.

Where the lower Court has dealt with all the essential points in deciding the case and has also analysed the evidence and the main findings which determine the suit are warranted by the evidence on record, the Court of second appeal will not disturb his findings though they may be wrong. (Prideaux, A. J C.) MT. SARASWATI BAI v. YADORAO. 78 I. C. 887. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 240.

Question of fact—Evidence.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Witness—Opinion as to.

In at appeal on a pure question of fact sufficient weigh snhould be given to the opinion of trial judge as regards the demeanour, intelligence, position and character of the witnesses who are brought before him. He is in a better position to form a judgment on the points than the appellate judge who has no advantage of seeking the witnesses. (Lord Wrenbury). BANU BAI FRAMJI v. MANILAL JUGALDAS. 45 M. L. J. 242: (1923) M. W. N. 580: 18 L. W. 148: L. R. 4 P. C. 147: A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 62 (P. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 100—Question of fact—Evidence.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Letters Patent Appeal—Burden on the person raising.

In order to maintain a contention of fact in second appeal and even more so in an appeal under the Letters Patent it would be incumbent on the person raising it to plead and to show from the record that documentary evidence establishing his contention of fact had either been disregarded by the Court of first appeal or misinterpreted. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD v. RAMESHWAR. 44 A. 169: A. I. R. 1922 All. 312.

———S. 100—Question of fact.—Evidence.

Where the Lower Appellate Court arrived at the finding on relevant evidence and certain-admissible registered deeds that there was a partition. Held, that, being a finding of fact was conclusive. (Stuart, J.) SYED MAHAMMED v. SYED MANZUR HASSAN. 69 I. C. 807 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 283 (2).

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence.

Findings of fact cannot be interfered within second appeal, but the High Court will interfere when such findings are not borne out by evidence or are based upon evidence misunderstood. (Rafique and Ryves, JJ.) MATBAR SINGH v. RANBAZ SINGH. 19 A.L.J. 149 : 61 I. C. 65: 3 U. P. L. R. (All.). 27.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Distorted view of evidence—Interference.

Though the High Court is averse to upsetting in second appeal the decision of Court below on a question of fact, it can do so in a case where the lower court was not justified in coming to the conclusion it did. (Macleod, C. J and Coyajee, J.) IBABASAPPA v. BHADSAWA. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 296.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Question is one of fact.

It is not proper for a Court in second appeal to lay down whether a piece of evidence is or is not sufficient to rebut the presumption raised under S. 50, that being a question of fact, (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SATINDRA MOHAN v. KAMAREDDI MIJI. A I. R. 1925 Cal. 1133.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence.

Unless it is shown that a finding of fact is not justified by the evidence in the case it cannot be challenged in second appeal. (Greaves and Graham, JJ.) JINNA TENNESSA v. ABDUL HALIM MUNSHI. 82 I. C. 822 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 469.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Want of evidence or erroneous view of the law are the only grounds for interference.

In a second appeal finding of fact cannot be interfered with unless it can be shown that there was no evidence to support it or that it had been influenced by an erroneous view of the law. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) HARIRAM MAHATA v. MOHESH CHANDRA MAHATA. 80 I. C. 290: A I. R. 1925 Cal. 169.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Finding based partly on inadmissible evidence—Duty of High Court.

Where a finding of fact is arrived at by the Court below partly on the basis of inadmissible evidence, the High Court should remand the case for a fresh finding after excluding the inadmissible evidence. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) JAGADISH CHANDRA DE v. HARIHAR DE. 40 C. L. J. 39: 78 I. C. 219: A. I. R 1924 Cal. 1042.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact —Evidence

——S 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Weight of evidence Thak map and survey map.

The question with regard to the weight to be attached to thak maps and survey maps is a question of fact. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KALI PROSANNA BHADURI v. RANI HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 977.

——S. 100—Question of fact Evidence--Documeatary evidence—Inference from—Function of the High Court.

Where in a second appeal a great many documents have to be canvassed in the course of the case, it is not true that the inferences of fact to be drawn from the numerous documents are themselves to be regarded as inferences of law. It is quite true that it is part of the duty of the High Court to see that the lower appellate Court has not omitted to take into account all the important and relevant items of evidence. (Rankin and Ghose, JJ.) MIDNAPORE ZEMINDAR CO., LTD. v. TRILOKYA NATH HALDAR. 51 Cal. 110: 31 I.C 501: 40 C. L. J. 238: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 562.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Finding of facts based on evidence cannot be contested.

A finding of fact based upon legal evidence cannot be contested in second appeal. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) FAZAL DAD v. UMAR BAKHSH. 7 L. L. J. 129: A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 377.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—When not binding on the Court of second appeal.

When there is (i) no evidence (12 Cal. 972) or (ii) no sufficient legal evidence (16 I. C. 887) or (iii) important evidence is ignored (103 P. L. R 1915) or (iv) only a colourable pretence of considering the evidence is made (38 I. C. 561) or (v) there is no honest and complete consideration, a finding of fact can be contested in second appeal. Otherwise it is final (18 Cal. 23 P. C.) (Scott-Smith and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) RAM SINGH v. GANGA RAM. 3 Lah. 389: 70 I. C. 202: A. I R. 1922 Lah. 356 (2).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence when open to examination.

It is not necessary in law for Appellate Courts such as the District Judge to refer in detail to every piece of evidence on the record. In the absence of doubt that all the available evidence has been given due weight to his findings on questions of fact cannot be attacked in second appeal. Whether or not there had been a complete separation, is a question of fact. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) NATHU SHAH v. HAVELI SHAH. 1 Lah. L. J. 72: 16 P. W. R. 1922: 65 I. C. 475: A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 140.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Inadmissible evidence—Right to question.

A finding of fact arrived at on a consideration of evidence which is inadmissible and which proceeds partly on such evidence can be assailed in second appeal, 57 I.C. 561 Foll. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) BALWANT SINGH v. BALDEV SINGH. 64 I. C. 929: 2 Lah. 271.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Supported by evidence can't be questioned in second appeal, however erroneous it may be.

Provided that the finding of fact has got for its basis proper evidence however grossly erroneous or improper it may be, it cannot be challenged in second appeal. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. LAXMAN. 80 I. C. 885: A I. R. 1925 Nag. 111.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Finding without weighing evidence is not binding,

The High Court is not bound by the findings of facts recorded by the lower appellate Court without properly weighing all the evidence on the record. (Dalal, J C.) MT. MAHARAJA v. BAJRANG BALI. 87 I. C. 1040: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 747.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Evidence.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence.

A pure finding of fact based on evidence cannot be disputed in second appeal. (Lyle, A. J C.) NIAMAT ALI v. ASHIQ ALI. 9 O. L. J. 127: 67 I. C. 803: A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 96.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence--Allegation in plaint not denied specifically in written statement—Finding cannot be challenged.

Where the allegation in plaint was not specifically denied in the written statement and was supported by evidence Held, that a finding in support of such allegation cannot be said to be based on no evidence and cannot be challenged in second appeal. (Ross and Sen, JJ.) MAHOMED ALAM v. NATHU SAHU. 85 I.C. 1024 : 2 Pat.L.R. 284 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 552.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—When open to attack in second appeal.

Although the findings of fact of the lower appellate Court are not open to question in second appeal, it is always open to the High Court to consider whether there is in fact any evidence to support the findings. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) DHANRAJ v. FIRM OF SANEHI RAM PANNA LAL. A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 687.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Finding on facts can be upset where lower Court was not in a better position than the appeal Court to judge of witnesses' reliability.

Where the District Court, had not examined the witnesses nor had it had an opportunity of observing those witnesses' demeanour and in fact, it was in no better position than the High Court, to judge of the reliability of the witnesses' evidence.

Held, that though as a rule very great value would be attached by the High Court to the finding of the District Court on facts yet, in this case its finding could be upset. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) MA E KHIN v. MAUNG SHEIN. 2 Rang 495 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 71.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Evidence—Appellate Court should not lightly disturb trial Court's verdict on facts.

On appeal, the whole case, including the facts, are within the jurisdiction of the Appeal Court. But generally speaking, it is undesirable to interfere with the findings of fact of the trial Judge who sees and hears the witnesses and has an opportunity of noting their demeanour especially in cases where the issue is simple and depends on the credit which attaches to one or other of the conflicting witnesses. Nor should his pronouncement with respect to their credibility be put aside on mere calculations of probabilities by the Court of appeal. This does not mean that appellate Courts have no discretion in consideration of the evidence. It only means that where the issues is simple and straightforward and the only question is which set of witnesses is to be believed, the verdict of a Judge trying the case should not be lightly disregarded (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) JOSSOMAL VALIRAM v. CHELLARAM BHOJRAJ. 78 I. C. 534 : 18 S. L. R. 55 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 35.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Existence of antecedent debt is question of fact and cannot be disturbed in second appeal.

The question whether antecedent debt existed is one of fact and cannot be considered in second appeal. The fact that the lower appellate Court declined to accept the recitals in a deed as evidence of antecedent debt does not validate the findings as to its existence. (Simpson, A. J. C.) BHAGWATI PRASHAD v. LALL BAHADUR. 90 I. C. 404 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 33.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 100—Question of Fact —Finality.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Findings of fact—Clear and specific—Conclusions from—If open to attack

An appellate court must give clear, definite and specific findings on every issue of fact, and if there is any ambiguity or vagueness about any finding, the case must be sent back or finding called for. The soundness of conclusions from findings of fact may involve matters of law and can be questioned in second appeal. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) CHANNU DUTTA VYAS v. GAJANANNANDJI MAHARAJ. 90 I. C. 976 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 130.

Question of Fact—Finality.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality.

Where the first appellate court omitted to note a very important document on record, the finding cannot be considered final. (Gokul Prasad, J.) TIKA RAM v. DUBA SHIB LAL. A. I. R. 1923 All. 401 (1).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality—Objection involving question of fact not raised in lower Court—Cannot be raised in appeal.

An objection not taken in the lower Courts and involving a question of fact cannot be gone into in appeal (Woodroffe and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SASHI BHUSAN JHA v. AHMADULLAH. 69 I. C. 1005 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 372.

——S 100—Question of fact—Appellate Judgment—Finding of fact—When conclusive.

A finding of fact by a court of appeal was contained in the following words "The finding of the trial court is based on evidence and consideration of the prevailing circumstances of the time and after hearing both counsel. I am not able to say that the decision is clearly wrong. It is certainly not perverse. Cogent grounds for upsetting it are not forthcoming. It must therefore prevail." Held, it did not amount to an independent finding of fact closing the door to a second appeal. (Le Rossignol and Harrisan, JJ.) NIRBHE RAM-NAGAR MAL v. MURARI LAL—BHAJIRAT MAL. 89 I. C. 662 (2).

—S. 100—Question of fact—Finality.

A finding of fact is final in second appeal if it is based on evidence. (Campbell, J.) GAJJA SINGH v. NATHA SINGH. 7 L. L. J. 70 : 88 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 333 (2).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality.

A simple finding of fact arrived at by the lower appellate Court could not be disturbed on second appeal and if disturbed, the judgment of the Judge of the High Court can be reversed on Letters Patent appeal. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Fforde, J.) GIRDHARI v. ABDULLAH. 7 P. W. R. 1923 : 73 I. C. 232 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 236 (1).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality.

Issues of facts cannot be agitated in second appeal. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Brasher, J.) MT. CHHOTO v. MT. SONA DEVI. 70 I.C. 299: A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 11(2).

——S.100—Finding of fact—Conclusive in second appeal.

Given certain set of facts from which two inferences are possible, it is open to the first appellate court to draw anyone of them and his decision will not be open to challenge in second appeal. If there is evidence to be considered, the decision of a first appellate court however unsatisfactory it might be when examined, must stand final. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) E. I. RY. CO. v. BADRILAL. 90 I. C. 209.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality.

A decision depending entirely on a finding of fact is not open to challenge in second appeal. (Kotval, A. J. C.) NAMDEO v. GANOBA. 86 I. C. 847 : 8 N. L. J. 29 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 271.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 100—Question of Fact—Grove.

——S, 100—Question of fact—Finality—Whether can be raised for the first time—Appeal.

Any ground of appeal raising question of fact ought to be pleaded in the Court of trial and cannot be taken at any later stage of the case. (Simpson, A.J.C.) MOHKAM v. BANSIDHAR. 9 O. L. J 350 : 68 I. C. 972 : 26 O. C. 125 : A I. R. 1923 Oudh 14.

S. 100—Question of fact—Finality—Erroneous decision.

The law has deliberately laid down that on questions of fact, there should be only one appeal and that it was to the public interest that there should be an end to the litigation even at the cost of occasional error; if this rule was strictly enforced the parties would know where they were, and if a High Court every time it differed from the view of the Court below on a question of fact, was to seek out flimsy pretexts for treating the question as one of law, the whole policy of law would be defeated. (Daniels, J. C.) AHMAD HUSSAIN v. UMRAO FATIMA. 64 I. C. 223 : 24 O. C. 221.

——S 100—Question of fact—Finality—Second Appeal.

A finding of fact of a trial Court ought not generally to be disturbed in appeal. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JAGMOHUN SINGH v. RAM DAYAL SINGH. 61 I. C. 135 : 8 O. L. J. 4.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality—Cannot be disturbed.

A finding of fact upon the evidence cannot be questioned in second appeal, (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BRAHAMDEO NARAYAN PANDE v. SALIGRAM SAHAI PANDE. 6 P. L. T. 67 : 86 I. C. 141 : 1925 P. H. C C. 53 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 384.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Finality—Appeal—When trial Court's opinion as to witness depends not on honesty of witness but on reason not acceptable to appeal Court, trial Court's finding on fact can be disturbed.

It is with great hesitation that an appeal Court differs with the trial Court on its estimate of witnesses whom the trial Court has had an opportunity of seeing, but where the opinion of the trial Court depends not upon the honesty of the witness but upon reasons which the appeal Court cannot accept, it is obviously the duty of the appeal Court to record its disagreement with the trial Court and to set aside the findings of fact arrived at by it. (Dawson Miller, C.J., Mullick and Foster, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJ KESHAO PRASAD SINGH. 5 P. L. T. Sup. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 68.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Foreign law.

What a foreign law is on a particular point is a question of fact and has to be proved by the parties setting it up. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) KHODAY GANGADARA SAH v. SWAMINADHA MUDALI. 22 L. W. 679 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 218.

Question of Fact—Grove.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Grove—Question whether land is a grove.

Whether a plot is or is not grove is a mere question of fact than of law. (Fremantle, S. M.) DEBI SAHAI v. QANNAUJI. L. R. 5 A. 94 (Rev).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Grove.

Whether a particular property still retains the character of a grove is a finding of fact. (Dalal, J. C.) BASHIRUDDIN KHAN v MAHADEO SINGH. 27 O. C. 26 : 11 O. L. J. 565 : 79 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 306.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Grow.

——S. 100—Holding under uniform payment of rent—Finding of fact.

The question whether a tenant has held at a uniform rate of rent for more than 20 years or back to the time of the Permanent Settlement is one of fact and not of law. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ) DUKHU MIA v. JAGADISH NATH ROY. 90 I. C. 564.

Question of Fact—Marriage.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Marriage—Privy—Council—Concurrent findings of fact— Whether the Board bound.

Where the Judges of Appellate Court affirm the finding that the marriage was disproved, the finding being a concurrent finding of fact binds their Lordships of Privy Council. For concurrent findings to be binding on the board the fact or facts found must be such as are necessary for the foundation of the proposition in law to be subsequently applied to them. (Lord Dunedin,) HABIBUR RAHMAN v. ALTAF ALI CHOUDHARI. 48 I. A. 114 : 26 C. W. N. 81 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 159 (P. C.)

——S. 100—Question of fact—Marriage.

Whether a valid marriage took place between the parties is a question of fact. (Shadi Lal, C J. and Zafar Ali, J,) MT. NAWAB BIBI v. ALLAH DITTA. 5 L.L.J. 505 : 73 I.C. 896 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 188 (2).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Marriage.

A finding as regards the factum of marriage between the parties is a finding of fact which will not be interfered in second appeal by the High Court. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) RAM DASI v. MT RAMA DEVI. 5 Lah. L. J. 117.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Marriage—Legitimacy—Presumption of marriage.

Though the finding on the question of legitimacy is one of fact, it would not be upheld in second appeal where the lower Appellate Court has ignored important pieces of evidence and the strong presumption of law in favour of legitimacy. (Wilberforce and Le Rossignol, JJ.) SULAKHAN v. SANTA SINGH. 60 I. C. 375 (1).

Question of Fact—Minority

——S. 100—Question of fact—Minority—Family arrangement—Binding nature of.

The question whether a family arrangement is beneficial or detrimental to the interests of the minor members of a family and therefore binding or not binding upon them is a question of fact which cannot be contested in second appeal. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) THAKUR A JAWALA. 4 Lah. L. J. 40.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Minority—Question of party's minority cannot be re-investigated

It is not open to the High Court in second appeal to investigate the ground upon which the lower appellate Court had come to a conclusion on a question as to whether certain person was a minor at the date of a suit. (Das, J.) ALI HUSSAIN v. FAGUNI RAI. 3 Pat. L. R. 16 : 86 I. C. 856 : A. I. R. 1925 P. 367.

Question of Fact—Mistake or error.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake or error of fact.

Where the finding of the lower appellate court is based on a mistake of fact it does not bind the High Court on second appeal. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) HABIBKHAN v. FIDA HUSAIN KHAN. 71 I.C. 1017 : L.R. 4 A. 138 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 270.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake or error—Grossly erroneous finding of fact—No second appeal lies in absence of error in procedure, if lower Court had evidence before it.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Mistake or error.

There is no jurisdiction to entertain a second appeal on the ground of an erroneous finding of fact, however gross or inexcusable the error may seem tobe, and where there is no error or defect in the procedure the finding of the first appellate Court upon a question of fact is final, if that Court had before it evidence proper for its consideration in support of the finding. (18 Cal, 23, Foll). (Moti Sagar, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. MANSA RAM. 78 I. C. 36 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 150.

——S. 100, O. 41, R. 23 and O. 43, R. 1 (a)—Question of fact—Mistake—First appellate Court misunderstanding the whole case,

In an appeal from an order of remand findings of fact cannot be examined by High Court sitting as a Court of second appeal but where the finding of the lower appellate Court appears to have been based on a misappreciation of the true controversy between the parties, a rehearing of the appeal by the lower appellate Court may be directed. 13 I. C. 445 Foll. (Broadway, J.) QADIR BAKSH v. SHAMASDIN. 73 I. C. 756 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 206.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake as to—No interference.

However erroneous and inexcusable a finding of fact may be, the High Court cannot disturb it in second appeal. (Leslie Jones and Wilberforce, JJ.) HAYAT v. FIRM OF DITU RAM KAJU RAM. 4 Lah. L. J. 464.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake—High Court if can interfere—Suit whether collusive.

A High Court cannot in Second Appeal interfere with finding of fact arrived at by the District Judge, not resulting from a misconstruction of a document or the misapplication of law or procedure. It is bound by the finding of the lower Court, that a suit is collusive. (Broadway, J.) SARJU v. BUDHA. 59 I. C. 885 : 3 Lah. L J. 86.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake—Lower Court making vital mistake on simple question of law in arriving at finding—Finding can be disturbed.

If lower Court has committed vital mistakes on simple questions of law and has made errors as to burden of proof, etc, a finding of fact arrived at in this manner will not be binding on the High Court in second appeal. (Devadoss, J.) DHANAMATHE AMMAL v. JAYAKEERTHI NAIRAN. 22 L. W. 352 · A. I. R. 1925 Mad, 973.

——S 100—Question of fact—Mistake or gross error—Finding is inassailable.

Even a finding of fact which is altogether erroneous will not be disturbed in second appeal. (Ramesam, J.) K. KRISHNAMACHARLU v. S. VIJAYASARATHY. 22 L. W. 73 : 88 I. C. 646 : (1925) M.W.N. 117 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 823 : 48 M. L. J. 467.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake or error—Gross or inexcusable error—Omission to consider evidence—Interference on second appeal.

An erroneous finding of fact, however, gross or inexcusable the error may be, cannot be made the basis of a Second Appeal. The High Court would be precluded from disturbing the findings of the fact in the judgment of the Lower Appellate Court, however, strongly it may think they were opposed to any really sane view of the evidence, provided the facts found were relevant and the findings were based on evidence proper for consideration. It is not necessary that the whole of the evidence given in the case should have been considered in the Lower Appellate Court and still less that every part of it should have been mentioned in the Judgment ; interference is not justified by an apparent omission to consider some material part or even the main part of it (Hallifax, A. J. C.)

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Mistake or error.

TUKARAM v. CHINTARAM. 20 N. L. R. 17 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 91.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Mistake—When can be challenged.

The High Court in second appeal is bound by the findings of the lower appellate court unless it be shown that the Court went wrong in law or that there was no evidence to support the findings. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAMSUNDER KUER v SATRUHAN PRASAD CHAUDHURI. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 591.

———S 100—Question of fact—Mistake—When interfered with.

Findings arrived at on a point of fact will not be disturbed in second appeal. But they will be interfered with if the inferior court either gives a wrong decision on a question of law or if evidence is not forthcoming to support it. (Dawson Miller, C. J and Mullick, J.) AJTI CHAUDHURI v. JANAK LAL CHAUDHURI. 1923 P. H. C. C. 332 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 336.

Question of fact—Nature of property.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of property—Building—Moveable or immoveable property.

It is a question of fact in each case whether a particular house and the building materials are moveable or not and the High Court will not interfere with the findings of the Court below in second appeal. 8 C. 590 Ref. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) JITAN TANBOLI v. NANKO. L. R. 3 A. 128 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 45.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of property—Whether properties are sufficiently described is a question of fact.

The question whether the lands have been sufficiently specified is a question which cannot be gone into in second appeal. (Chatterica and Cuming, JJ.) NRIPENDRA NATH v. BASANTA KUMAR. 29 C. W. N. 861 : 89 I. C. 207 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1195.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of a property.

There is abundant authority for holding that a finding as to the character of property arrived at after a full consideration of the evidence is a pure finding of fact and it cannot be impugned in second appeal. (Moti Sagar, J.) BALBIR SINGH v. GOBIND. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 532.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of property—Whether a place is a town.

The question whether a certain place is a town for the purposes of the Punjab Pre-emption Act is a question of fact and cannot be raised in second appeal. It cannot be denied that whenever such a questiou arises it is to be denied upon the evidence and the particular circumstances of each case. It is therefore, difficult to hold that it is a question of law. It is not necessary that a custom prevailing in the town should apply to the mohallas or suburbs. (Abdul Raoof, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. NIZAMDIN. 75 I. C. 610 : A. I. R, 1923 Lah. 443.

———S. 100—Finding of fact—Nature of property—Dharmasala—Binding in Second Appeal.

The finding that a Dharmasala was always treated as private property is one of fact which cannot be attacked in second appeal. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) SADHU DAS v. MUSHTAQ SHAH SINGH. 3 Lah. L. J. 514.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature af property—Estate—Lands whether part of.

Where both the courts below have found that the suit laads did not form part of an estate so as to oust the jurisdiction of Civil Courts, the decision is binding on the High Court. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) TOTA VARNHALIAH v. SRI VENKATA SURYANARAYANA. 18 L. W. 324 · (1923) M. W. N. 732 : 75 I.C. 465 : A-I.R. 1924 Mad. 117.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Partnership.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of property—Public place—In absence of dedication to public use, character and actual use determines whether place is public place or not.

When there is a dedication of a place in any way to the use of the public, doubtless it will become a public place, but where it is under private ownership and there has been no such dedication the question whether or not it is a public place depends on the character of the place and the use to which it is actually put. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) SABAMIYA v. EMPEROR. 25 Cr. L. J. 1073 : 81 I. C. 897 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 123.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nature of property—Implied grant—Existence of, is a question of fact.

Where the lower Court, on the evidence before it came to the conclusion that there was an implied grant which gave rise to a right of easement.

Held : that it was a finding of fact. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Macpherson, J.) ABDUL GHANI v. HARNAM SINGH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 250 : 90 I.C. 356 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 748.

———S.100—Question of fact—Necessity for alienation by Hindu father.

A finding whether there was necessity or not for an alienation by a Hindu manager is one of fact. But if the Court proceeds to add that the lender is bound to see to the application of the money, it will be open to attack in second appeal. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SHEO BEHARI v. SHEO RATAN SINGH. 90 I. C. 345 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 740.

Question of fact—Notice.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Notice.

A finding that the subsequent purchaser had notice and knew that there was a contract of sale with the plaintiff is one of fact. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) ARURA v. GEHNA. 3 Lah. L. J. 447.

Question of fact—Nuisance.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nuisance—Finding as to, existence of nuisance is one of fact.

The finding that no nuisance has been proved is one of fact. (Campbell, J.) MANGTU v. LACHHI RAM. 7 L. L. J. 192 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 424.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nuisance—Mixed question of law and fact.

Where the principles of law applicable have neither been ignored nor violated, a finding as to the existence of a nuisance is binding on the court in second appeal. 31 I. C- 62 ; 106 P. R. 1888 ; 40 B. 401, Ref. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) CHIRAGH DIN v. KARIM. 64 I. C. 169 (L).

———S. 100—Question of fact—Nuisance — Existence as to nuisance is a question of fact.

Whether a certain latrine is likely to cause pollution to the water of a well is a question of fact. (Baker, J. C.) ANAND RAO v. PRESIDENT MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, NAGPUR. 89 I.C. 929 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 50.

Question of fact—Partnership.

———S. 100—Question of fact—Partnership not one.

A finding that there was a partnership as defined in the Contract Act is not a finding of fact by which the High Court is bound. The findings that are final are those on the facts from which the existence of the legal relationship of partners might or might not be inferred provided of course they are not otherwise unsound. (Hallifax, A J. C.) MOULA BUX v. MUHAMMAD AFZAL. 69 I. C. 781 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 96.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Possession.

Question of fact—Possession.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Possession—Appeal—Legal inference or finding of fact—Adverse possession.

Where it was urged that the finding that the possession of the daughter-in-law was adverse to the mother-in-law who had become the tenant on account of the second marriage of the daughter-in-law is a finding of fact with which High Court could not interfere. Held : it is however not a finding of fact but a legal inference drawn from the facts found the chief of which was the fact that mother-in-law's name was not substituted for daughter-in-law's in the Jamabandi. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. MUNHA v. LACHMIPRASAD. 6 N. L. J. 70 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 65.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Possession.

Where defendant does not allege dispossession but that plaintiff had never been in possession, and plaintiff proves obtaining possession under a deed of birt, the finding that it must be presumed that the plaintiff has continued in possession ever since, cannot be disturbed in second appeal. (Neave, A. J. C.) SUBDHUN PANDE v. MAHESH PRASAD. 81 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 170.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Pre-emption suit—Market value.

In a pre-emption suit, a decision as to the market value is one of fact. (Dalal, J. C.) HAR PERSHAD v. SHEO SHANKAR. 90 I. C. 679.

——S. 100—Question of fact Rate of rent—Question as to the rate of rent is a question of fact.

The question generally, whether the tenant has held at a uniform rate of rent for more than 20 years or back to the time of the Permanent Settlement, is a question of fact and not a question of law. A I. R. 1925 Cal. 632, Appl. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) DUKHU MIA v. JAGDISH NATH. 90 I. C. 564 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 359.

Question of fact—Reasonable or probable cause.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Reasonable cause—Malicious prosecution—Suit for—Absence of reasonable or probable cause for prosecution is question of fact—Tort.

In an action for malicious prosecution the question whether the prosecution was instituted against the plaintiff without any reasonable or probable cause is a question of fact. 25 Bom. 332 and 28 Cal. 591 Foll. (Dalal. Ag. J. C.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. CHUNNI LAL. 12 O. L. J. 88 : 86 I. C. 596 : 2 O. W. N. 62 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 359.

Question of fact—Right over Property.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Right over property.

A finding that two houses have a common entrance from the street is a finding of fact not liable to be disturbed in second appeal. (Moti Sagar and Martineau, JJ.) BUTA RAM v. HARBHAGWAN. 6 L. L. J. 284 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 257.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Right over property.

A finding that no right of way was granted is a finding of fact. (Martineau, J.) GANGA RAM v. SITA RAM. 6 L. L. J. 176 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 488.

——S. 100—Finding of fact—Right over property

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Transfers.

The finding that the right to the birt is not ancestral is one of fact. (Martineau, J.) BISHAN DATT v. KISHEN DATT. 67 I. C. 439 : 3 L. L. J. 414.

Question of fact—Status of party.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party.

Where a lower court, upon a review of the entire evidence, arrives at a finding as to the extent of the proprietary rights of the vendors, its decision being upon a question of fact cannot be challenged in second appeal. (Mears. C. J. and Piggott, J.) IQBAL HAIDAR KHAN v. MASI FATIMA BIBI. 74 I.C. 1004 : 45 A. 53 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 358.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party—Landlord and tenant—Existence of relationship—Presumption—Entry in record-of-rights.

Where on a consideration of the entire evidence in the case the lower appellate court has come to the conclusion that the relationship of landlord and tenant exists between the parties and that the presumption raised by an entry in the record-of-rights has been rebutted, the finding is one of fact with which the High Court cannot interfere in second appeal. (Newbould, J.) KARIM BUX v. DWARAKANATH KAR. 64 I. C. 190 (C).

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party—That vendees were the only reversioners of vendor is a finding of fact.

The finding that at the time of the sale the vendees were the only reversioners of the vendors then living, so that the plaintiff, the son of one vendor, if born after the sale would have no locus standi was held to be one of fact. (Martineau and Harrison, JJ.) RATNA v. SAWAN SINGH. 6 L. L. J. 566 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 275.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party.

The finding of the Court below on the question of plaintiff's status is a finding of fact and it cannot be attacked in second appeal. (129 P. L. R. 1912. Ref.) (Campbell and Moti Sagar, JJ.) DAL SINGH v. PLUIMAN. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 626.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party.

The conclusion that the plaintiff was a full owner, and not merely a dohlidar is clearly a finding of fact and cannot be impugned in second appeal. (Moti Sagar, J.) CHHITRU v. CHAJJU. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 611.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Status of party—Joint Hindu family.

Where the principles of Hindu Law applicable to the case have been correctly appreciated by the lower appellate court a finding as to whether certain persons form members of a Joint Hindu family or not is a finding of fact with which the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) MT. MAYAWANTI v. ISHAR SINGH. 67 I. C. 789 : 3 L L. J. 552.

Question of fact—Tender.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Tender—Finding as to tender is one of fact.

The finding that a tender was duly made before the expiry of the time fixed is one of fact and cannot be disturbed in second appeal. (Scott-Smith, J.) DALIP SINGH v. ISHAR. 86 I. C. 250 : 7 L. L. J. 11 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 353.

Question of fact—Transfers.

——S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers.

Where in second appeal the High Court accepts the lower Appellate Court's finding of fact that a gift was made by a Hindu widow for the benefit of the soul of her deceased husband, which finding, it holds as binding upon it and then holds that no special benefit was to accrue to his soul, the two findings are inconsistent and the High Court in a Letters Patent Appeal must interfere. (Mears, C. J. and Walsh, J.) GOVIND UPADHYA v. LAKHRANI. 43 All. 515 : 63 I. C. 221 : 19 A. L. J. 499.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of Fact—Transfers.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers—Mahomedan Law—Marz-ul-mout.

Whether or not a particular illness constitutes Murz ul-mout is primarily a question of fact. 14 Bom. L. R. 295 Foll. But it may sometimes be a mixed question of law and fact, for instance, where the question arises whether the facts found as the physical condition of the deceased at the date of execution of the deed constitute the essential elements of Marz-ul-mout as formulated by Mahomedan Jurists. 35 Cal. 1 Foll (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BIBI JINJIRA KHATUN v. MOHAMMAD FAKIRULLA MIA. 49 C. 477 : 26 C. W. N. 749 : 67 I. C. 77 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 429.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers—Transaction executed to defeat creditors

Whether a transaction, e. g., hcba is executed is breach of S. 53 of the T. P. Act, with intent to defeat or delay creditors is a question of fact and cannot be interfered with in Second Appeal. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) RAM KUMAR BANIKYA v. SAFIUNNESSA BIBI. 63 I. C. 169 (C).

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers—Gift—Nature of.

That a gift was an absolute one enuring for the benefit of the donee's descendants is a finding of fact with which the High Court cannot interfere. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) ALLAH SWAYA v. ADIL JA. 4 Lah. L. J. 457.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers—Deed—Conveyance—Inclusion of shamilat land.

The finding of the lower appellate Court that no shamilat rights were sold with the proprietary land is one of fact which cannot be questioned in second appeal. 3 P. R. 1917 and 85 P. R. 1919 foll. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) KHARAM CHAND v. VIR SING. 3 Lah. L. J. 470.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfer—Mortgage—Suit by mortgagee—Actual possession, finding about—Cannot be questioned in second appeal.

The finding of the lower appellate Court that a mortgagee has never been in actual possession of the land, being one of fact cannot be contested in second appeal. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. GANAT RAIBI. 67 I. C. 152 (Lah.)

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfer—Finding that a transfer was intended to defeat creditors.

A finding that a transfer was intended to defraud, defeat or delay the creditors is one of fact. (Scott-Smith, J.) ATTAR SINGH v. GULAM MOHAMMAD. 60 I C. 527 (Lah.)

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Transfers.

Question as to whether a transaction amounts to a mortgage by conditional sale or to an absolute sale is not a pure question of fact. (Wallace, J.) C. GANESH MUDALIAR v. V. GNANASIKHA MUDALIAR. 47 M. L. J. 385 : 20 L. W. 338 : 35 M. L. T. 87 : (1924) M. W. N. 643 : 84 I. C. 505 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 37.

Question of fact—Waqf.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Waqf—Existence of Waqf is a question of fact.

The finding that no waqf has been proved is a finding of fact. (Martineau, J.) ALI MAHOMED KHAN v. ALI ABKAR KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 382.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Waqf—Dedication to waqf.

That certain property is not waqf and does not belong to it is a finding of fact with which the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. (Chevis and Dundas, JJ.) ILAHI BAKHSH v. KALA RAM. 5 L. L. J. 11.

Question of fact—Will.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Will.

Question as to whether oral will was executed is one of fact. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) BHAVANI RAM v. DAMMAR SINGH. 66 I. C. 413 : 5 N. L. J. 183 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 46.

Question of fact—Miscellaneous.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Meaning of a particular word in a particular place is question of fact.

The question as to whether a particular word bears a particular meaning in a particular place is a question more of fact than of law. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) BASANT KUMAR v. SATINDRA MOHUN. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1209.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—B. T. Act, S. 50—Proof of uniform rent for 20 years is a.

The question as to whether the tenant has held the land for more than 20 years at a uniform rent is a question of fact. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) ALIMUDDIN MOLLAH v. KARIM BUX. 41 C. L. J. 135 : 86 I. C. 316 : 29 C. W. N. 500 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 632.

——— S. 100—Question of fact—Time if essence of contract

The question whether time is or is not of the essence of a contract is one of fact and a finding thereon cannot be assailed on second appeal. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) FAZAL ILAHI v. THE IMPERIAL CHEMICAL COMPANY. 67 I. C. 157 (Lah.)

Question of Law.

——— S. 100—Question of law—Question purely legal is open.

A pure question of law can be raised for first time in second appeal. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) NADIR HUSAIN v. SADIQ HUSAIN. 47 All. 324 : 23 A. L. J. 138 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 19 : 86 I. C. 589 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 361.

——— S. 100—Question of Law—Transfer of Property Act, S. 41.

The question whether a particular section of an Act does or does not apply to the facts as found in a question of law. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) MUL RAJ v. FAZAL IMAM. 45 A. 520 : 21 A.L.J. 424 : L.R. 4 A. (Civ.) 234: 74 I.C. 307: A.I.R. 1923 All. 583

——— S. 100—Question of law—Words—Meaning of.

The meaning of words is a question of fact in all cases ; the effect of the words is a question of law. (Stuart, J.) BADRI PRASAD v. RAI KUNWAR. 75 I. C. 686 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 337.

——— S. 100—Question of law—If can be raised for the first time in second appeal.

A Court of Second Appeal is not bound to entertain a question of law raised for the first time before it. It can however take the point of itself or if some good cause is shown it may permit that point to be argued. (Banerji, Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHEODAN KURMI v. BALKARAN KURMI. 43 All. 193 : 59 I. C. 116: 18 A.L.J. 1033: 2 U. P L R. (All.) 392 : (F. B.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of law.

——S. 100—Question of law—When allowed to be newly raised on second appeal.

If there is a point of law arising on the issues as framed and on the evidence as led in the trial Court, the second appellate court would entertain that point though not raised in the lower Courts. But where the point of law could not be decided without remanding the case for further evidence, the point of law is not competent. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) KALAPPA MALLAPPA v. KALAPPA NINGAPPA.

26 Bom. L. R. 494 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 469.

——S. 100—Question of law—Point involving evidence.

The appellant cannot in second appeal take a point of law which involves the taking of additional evidence. (Marten and Pratt, JJ.) SHRIDHAR LAXMAN v. JANARDHAN.

72 I. C. 993 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 37.

——S. 100—Question of law—Meaning of word.

Whether a word is used in a restricted sense is a point of law. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) E. I. RAILWAY COMPANY v. DAYABHAI.

47 Bom. 18 : 24 Bom. L. R. 416 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 416

——S. 100—Question of law—Validity of gift.

If, for the first time, in second appeal various questions of law are raised but in order to decide these questions of law evidence would have to be taken, points of law of that description are not admissible. A deed of gift to be valid must be accepted by the donee ; but where it was never suggested in the Court below that the deed was invalid, because it had not been accepted. Held, it is not competent in second appeal for the appellant to urge the invalidity of the gift on the ground of non-acceptance. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) TRIKAM LAL v. NAGENDAS JETH LAL.

A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 148.

——S. 100—Question of law—Whether tenancy is proved or not is a question of law.

The question of status of the tenant is a matter of inference as to whether certain legal conditions had been made out or not. 8 C. W. N. 774 (F. B.) Foll. 16 C.W.N. 725 Dist. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.) JOGESH CHANDRA v. TAZAR ALI.

A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1238.

——S. 100—Question of law—Question of admissibility for want of registration or irrelevancy of document can be raised at any stage—Civil Procedure Code, S. 100.

The question as to whether a document is admissible or not for want of registration or irrelevancy is eligible to be raised at any stage of the case. (Chakravarti, J.) SABDI BEPARI v. SHEIKH BUDHAI.

82 I. C. 949 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 370.

——S. 100—Question of law—Construction of Commissioner's Report—If question of law.

The misconstruction of a report and map prepared by a Commissioner is not a misconstruction of a document involving an error of law and it is no ground for second appeal. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SUMER SINGH v. DALTHOMAN SINGH. 90 I. C. 911.

——S. 100—Question of law—Documentary evidence—Inference from—Not a question for second appeal.

A second appeal does not lie, because some portion of the evidence may be in writing and the Judge makes a mistake as to the meaning of it. For instance, a writing supposed to contain an admission may be put in as part of the evidence, but a mistake in its meaning is not a misconstruction of a document upon which special appeal will lie if it is connected with other evidence affecting its construction. The misconstruction of a document which is the foundation of the suit, which is in the nature of a contract or a document of title, is allowed to be a ground for second appeal. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) PRANKISHORE TARAFDAR v. SARADA PRASAD PAKRAS.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of law.

37 C. L. J. 580 : 72 I. C. 55 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 308.

——S. 100—Question of Law—Consideration—Passing of.

Finding as to passing of consideration and existence of legal necessity is not one of fact. (Moti Sagar, J.) TARA CHAND v. RAHMAN SHAH.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 689.

——S. 100—Question of law—Burden of proof—Second Appeal.

The question of onus is one of law and so can be taken up in second appeal. (Broadway, J.) HAYAT v. ALI MOHAMMAD. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 195.

——S. 100—Question of law—Second appeal.

The question of onus probandi is a question of law rendering a second appeal competent. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) GANGA RAM v. RULIA.

64 I. C. 901 : 2 Lah. 249.

——S.100—Question of law—Legal inference from proved fact—Finding of fact and inferences from facts—Liability to be disturbed in second appeal.

While the District Court's decision as to the effect of the evidence must stand final as to the facts the soundness of the conclusions from those facts may involve matters of law and may be questioned by a Court of second appeal. The proper legal effect of a proved fact is essentially a question of law. 20 Cal. 93 and 46 Cal. 189 Foll. (Broadway, J.) PURAN v. LALA. 73 I. C. 795 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 216.

——S.100—Question of law—Different inferences from facts.

Legal inferences drawn from facts may be examined in second appeal. 20 Cal 93 Foll. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) GIRDIT SINGH v. MT. ISHAR KAUR. 3 Lah. 207 : 68 I. C. 551 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 392.

——S. 100—Question of law—Whether ala malik has rights in shamilat is not a question of law.

The question that an ala malik must be presumed to have rights in the shamilat is not a question of law. 35 P. R. 1919 : 36 P. R. 1919 : 68 P. R. 1916 Appl. (Addison, J.) DEVICHAND v. JAI CHAND.

26 P. L. R. 605 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 21.

——S 100—Question of law—Appeal presented out of time.

An objection that the appeal to the lower appellate Court was presented out of time is a question of law and it may be taken on second appeal. (Scott Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) NIGAHIA RAN v. BHAGU MAL. 65 I. C. 580 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 240.

——S. 100—Question of law—Abandonment.

An appellant is entitled to question in second appeal the effectiveness of the abandonment in law on the facts found, and the Court may allow the plea to be raised even if it has not been taken in the memorandum of appeal as it involves a pure question of law. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAJA v. SALABAT.

66 I. C. 935 : 3 Lah. L. J. 26.

——S. 100—Question of law—Form of marriage is a question of law.

When facts are proved the question, of what form the marriage is, becomes a question of law. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MT. KISHAN DEVI v. SHEOFALTAN. 23 A L. J. 981 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 557 : A. I. R. 1926 All 1.

——S. 100—Question of law—Omission by judgment-debtor to certify payment under O. 21, R. 2 is not always a pure question of law.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Question of law.

The question of the judgment-debtor's omission to certify the adjustment within the time prescribed is not always to be considered a pure question of law. (Kinkhede A. J. C.) RAGHUBAR PD v. SATTU.
89 I. C. 1009 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 164.

——S. 100—Question of law—Penalty—Stipulation in deed.

The question whether a stipulation in a deed as to payment of interest is one by way of penalty is a question of law which is open to consideration in second appeal. (Scott Smith, J.) LACHHMAN v. SANTA.
64 I. C. 350 : 14 P. L. R. 1922.

——S. 100—Question of law—Town or village.

Whether certain local conditions found to exist in a place, constitute the place, a town or village is a question of law, and can be raised in second appeal. (Le Rossignol, J.) MANSA RAM v. JOTI.
62 I. C. 808 (L).

——S. 100—Question of law—Penalty.

The question whether any particular stipulation is only by way of compensation or by way of penalty depends upon the construction of the particular document or contract and on the circumstances of each case. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) RAMALINGA ADAVIAR v. MEENAKSHISUNDARAM PILLAI.
21 L W. 54 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 177 : 47 M. L. J. 833

——S. 100—Question of law—Question as to stipulation being a penalty.

The question as to a stipulation being penal within S. 74 of the Contract Act is a question of law. (Jackson, J.) RAJAGOPAL PADAYACHI v. VARADARAJA PADAYACHI. 47 M. L. J. 605 : (1924) M. W. N. 861 : 82 I. C. 751 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 84.

——S. 100—Question of law—Plea—Nature of—When to be raised.

Estoppel is a plea of mixed fact and law and must be raised in the trial Court. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) HIRALAL v. TULSIRAM. 80 I. C. 946: A.I.R. 1925 Nag. 77.

——S. 100—Question of law—Joint Hindu family—Status of—Joint or separate—Not a finding of fact.

A finding that there has been no disruption of a joint Hindu family is not a finding of fact but an inference of the legal effect of fact found and the inference can be challenged in second appeal but not the facts found. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) BED PRASAD v. NAKCHEED PRASAD. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 410

——S. 100—Question of law considered by Trial Court but ignored in appeal—High Court must take notice of such question.

The High Court is bound to take notice of a question of law notwithstanding that it was not argued in the lower appellate Court though it was considered by the Trial Court. (Misra, A.J.C.) ASHRAF ALI v. CHANDRAPAL SINGH 12 O. L. J. 382 : 2 O. W. N. 529 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 506.

——S. 100—Question of law—Inferences from documents are not.

Inferences drawn from documentary evidence are not questions of law and cannot be challenged in second appeal. (Dalal, A. J. C.) BINDESHRI PANDE v. SHEO RATAN PANDE. 9 O & A. L. R. 443 : 74 I. C. 811 : A.I.R 1924 Oudh 185.

——S. 100—Question of law.

Error of law vitiating conclusions of facts should be interfered with. (Simpson, A. J. C.) DHAUNTAL KHAN v. RAM LAL KALWAR. 10 O. L. J. 412 : 75 I. C. 227 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 154.

——S. 100—Question of law—Second appeal lies from decision that appellant who had agreed to sell land and taken advance but had not conveyed registered title, had sold the land.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence.

Where the appellant had agreed to sell the land in dispute and recovered a small advance of purchase money but had conveyed no registered title to the land and where both the lower Courts held that the appellant had sold the land. Held that second appeal lay. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG PO YIN v. MAUNG TET TU. 2 Rang 459 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 68.

Second Appeal.

——S. 100—Second appeal—Appellate order not appealed against in time—Amendment of the decree, as regards interest—Subsequent filing of appeal—Question of interest not attacked—Limitation.

If an amendment of a mere clerical error in decree in calculation of interest is allowed after the limitation for second appeal has already expired and if after such amendment a second appeal is filed without raising any objection regarding interest, the second appeal is time barred. (Stuart, J.) SHIMBHU PRASAD v. RAMJAS. L. R. 3 A. 27.

——S. 100—Second appeal—Gujarat Talukdar's Act (Bom. Act VI of 1888), S. 16—Scope.

No second appeal lies to the High Court from a decision of the District Judge under S. 16 of the Act. 16 Bom. 408 overruled (Macleod, C. J., Pratt and Crump, JJ.) AMARSANGJI DUNGARJI v. DEEPASANGJI RAVABHAT. 49 Bom. 442 : 87 I. C 588 : 27 B. L. R. 345 : A. I. R 1925 Bom. 241 (F.B.).

——S. 100 (2)—Second appeal is maintainable against an ex parte decision, even when other remedies are open—Civil Procedure Code, O. 9, R. 13.

When a case is decided ex parte the remedy open to the party affected by the decision is threefold: first, he may apply for restoration of the case, secondly, he may apply for a review of judgment, and thirdly, he may appeal from the decree. Even though other remedies are available against an ex parte decision to the aggrieved party second appeal can be preferred against that decision under S. 100 (2). (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KALI PRASANNA CHAKRAVARTY v. NAGABULLA JAMADAR.
80 I. C. 14 : A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 497.

——S. 100—Second appeal—Interest, rate of—Finding that rate hard and unconscionable—High Court whether will interfere.

The High Court in second appeal will not interfere with a finding of the lower Appellate Court, that the rate of interest in a mortgage bond is hard and unconscionable. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) JYOTISH CHANDRA v. ATIT SAHA. 61 I. C. 275 (Cal.)

——S. 100—Interference with finding—Decision based on something which the Record-of-Rights does not contain—Document of evidence.

If the Record-of-Rights is a document of title obviously it is open to the Court in appeal to construe that document. But it is open to the High Court in second appeal to interfere with a decision based upon the Record-of-Rights if the decision is founded on something which the Record-of-Rights does not contain even if the Record-of-Rights is not a document of title but merely a document of evidence. (Mullick, Ag. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BHUPAL MISSIR v. SARBAN LAL. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 725.

Sufficiency of Evidence.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Custom.

It is always open to the High Court in second appeal to see whether an opinion or custom which has been pronounced by the Lower Court is or is not based on sufficient evidence. 30 A 311 Ref. (Mukerjee, J.) ALI HUSAIN v. SYED MAZABIR HUSAIN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence.

L. R. 5 A. 115 (Rev.) : 79 I. C. 134 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 477.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of rebutting evidence is a question of fact.

Whether the evidence adduced by the plaintiffs had not been sufficiently rebutted is a question of fact and will not be interfered with in second appeal. 17 A. L. J. 345 Dist. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) RAMDAS RAI v. ABDUL GHAFUR. 74 I. C. 297 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 146.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Judgment based on opinions of experts open to challenge in second appeal.

Where the findings of the Courts below are based on an examination and balancing of opinions and view of experts as to sufficiency of the facts observed and of the inferences drawn they can always be examined. Where there is a material difference of opinion their value and sufficiency even when accepted by one court or other it can be attacked in second appeal. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) ALTAFAN v. IBRAHIM.
21 A. L. J. 811 : L. R. 4 A. 561 : 75 I. C. 502 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 116.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Whether a specific instance as to custom is proved is a question of fact—Objection as to general insufficiency of evidence may be gone into in second appeal.

Objections based on the grounds of insufficient evidence, or improper rejection of evidence, or as to the evidence taken as a whole amounting to insufficient proof in law of local custom, may be gone into in second appeal, but whether a specified instance is properly proved or not, is a question of fact. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) RATILAL NATHALAL v. MOTI LAL SANKAL CHAND. 27 B. L. R. 880 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 380.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence.

A finding of fact cannot be attacked in second appeal on the ground of the insufficiency of evidence. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) PROSANNA KUMAR BEDANTA v. MADHU BADYA. 68 I. C. 500 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 279.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—No evidence—Interference in second appeal.

Where a finding of fact is based on no evidence whatever or on purely conjectural grounds, it can be examined by a High Court in second appeal. 47 C. 107: 33 P. L. R. 1918 Ref. (Broadway and Abdur Qadir, JJ.) MUNSHA SINGH v. UTTAM SINGH.
4 Lah. L. J. 31 : 4 U. P. L. R (Lah) 18 : 64 I. C. 428 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 65.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Easement.

The mere finding that a parnala is old is not sufficient to prove that an easement has been established with respect thereto. (Wilberforce, J.) AHMAD BAKSH v. MUSAMMAT PALI. 66 I. C. 922 (2) : 3 Lah. L. J. 58.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—No ground for interference.

It is not for the High Court in second appeal to interfere on the ground of weakness or meagreness of the evidence. (Kotval, A. J. C.) NAMDEO v. GANOBA. 8 N. L. J. 29 : 86 I. C. 847 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 271.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Whether alleged custom is supported by facts found can be considered.

It is not competent to a High Court in second appeal to interfere with findings of fact ; but it can consider whether the facts found are sufficient to sustain an allegation of custom. (Baker, J. C.) MT. BASBIRBI v. ABDUL SATTAR. 82 I. C. 815 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 179.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 102.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Proof of custom.

Though the High Court cannot interfere with the findings of fact of the Court below in second appeal it can consider whether the facts found are sufficient to support a custom alleged. 41 M. L. J. 437 ref. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) KRISHNA RAO v. NILKANTH.
5 N. L. J. 25 : 69 I. C. 800 : 18 N. L. R. 163 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 52.

——S. 100—Sufficiency of evidence—Evidence—Absence of.

The question whether there is any evidence in support of a finding of fact is a question of law with which it is competent to the High Court to interfere in second appeal. 23 C. W. N. 315 ref. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) GHULAM SARWAR KHAN v. MAHOMED ALI KHAN.
65 I. C. 398 : 8 O. L J. 609 : A.I.R. 1922 Oudh 98.

Sustainability.

——S. 100—Sustainability—Order passed in execution proceedings—Amount of the subject-matter to be considered.

In determining whether a second appeal lies against an order passed in execution proceedings, the amount of the subject-matter of the suit and not the amount sought to be recovered in execution must be taken into consideration. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) MOHNAMAL v. TULSI RAM. 3 Lah. 141: 67 I.C. 718: 28 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 290 (2).

——S. 100—Sustainability.

In second appeal, the question for the High Court is not to determine whether the weight of evidence is in favour of the appellant or the respondent, but whether there is any evidence to justify the finding. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) MUNSHI LALL v. RAMASAIS. 1 P. 246 : 3 P. L. T. 343 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 384.

Waiver.

——S. 100—Waiver—Question of fact.

The question whether there is a waiver in a particular case is a question of fact and the finding on that question cannot be challenged in Second Appeal. (Kincaid, A. J. C.) BAHADUR v. GELOMAL.
59 I. C. 607 : 14 S. L. R. 128.

——S. 102—Second appeal—Mortgagee abandoning claim on mortgage—Money decree.

Where a mortgagee suing on a hypothecation bond expressly abandons all claim against the mortgaged property and frames his suit purely as a money suit for the recovery of Rs. 252 and odd, S. 102, C. P. Code, applies to the case and no Second Appeal lies. (Daniels, J.) LAKHAN SINGH v. LAL SINGH.
L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 293 : 78 I. C. 652 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 205.

——S. 102—Competent Court—Small Cause Judge trying original suits—Relief of injunction—Effect.

A suit is not one of Small Cause nature if it includes a plea for a mandatory injunction. (Stuart, J.) SHAKIRA BIBI v. NANDAN ROY.
A. I. R. 1922 All. 241.

——S. 102—Suit of small cause nature—Contribution—Suit for—Second appeal.

Plaintiff and defendant jointly borrowed money on a mortgage of their property but the plaintiff having discharged the whole debt sued the defendant for recovery of his half share of the debt which was a sum below Rs. 500. Held, that the suit was of a small cause nature and that no second appeal lay to the High

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 102.

Court. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) GAYA PANDE v. AMAR DEO PANDE. 22 A L. J. 855 : L R. 5 A. 673 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 787.

——S. 102—Execution proceedings—Suit of a small cause nature below Rs. 500—Second appeal.

There is no second appeal against an order in performance of a decree passed in suit of a small cause nature for less than Rs. 500 (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SURAIMAN CHANBU v. ANJORE SHUKUL.

21 A. L. J. 861 : L. R. 4 A. 591 : 46 A. 73 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 989 : A. I. R. 1924 A. 263.

——S. 102—Suit for refund of money wrongly distributed under S. 73—Second appeal.

Where the subject-matter of a suit under S. 73, cl. (2) of the C. P. Code for recovery of money wrongly distributed is less than Rs. 500 no second appeal could be preferred from the decree. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) KESHO SARAN v. KHAIRAT LAL.

21 A. L. J. 248 : 74 I. C. 836 : 45 A. 359 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ) 146 : A. I. R. 1923 A. 310.

——S. 102—Suit for haq chaharum—If open to second appeal.

A suit for haq chaharum or one-fourth share of the sale proceeds of a house, is not cognizable by a Small Cause Court and is appealable under S. 102 of the C.P. Code. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BECHAI v. BADRI NARAIN. 63 I. C. 292 (2) : 19 A.L.J 719.

——S. 102—Suit as framed not a Small Cause—Plaintiff omitting a portion of claim subsequently—Suit does not change its character.

Where a suit as framed is not a suit of a Small Cause nature, it does not attain that character, if the plaintiff in the course of hearing gives up a part of his claim. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) GANAPPA v. MAMMAD SAHIBA. 49 Bom. 596 : 27 B.L. R. 637 : 89 I. C. 59 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 440.

——S. 102 and O. 21, R. 71—Suit to recover deficiency from defaulting purchaser—Amount less than Rs. 500—No second appeal.

An order on an application under O. 21. R. 71 of the Code for recovery of the deficiency, being less than Rs. 500, from the defaulting purchaser is not open to second appeal. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) RAJACHARYA SESHACHARYA v. CHEMMANNA GURUSHANTAPPA. 45 Bom. 223 : 59 I. C. 192 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1193

——S. 102—Small Cause Court nature determined by nature of relief and amount or value of subject-matter as claimed by plaintiff if not fictitious.

A suit is cognizable by the Small Cause Court if in respect both of its character and of the amount or value of its subject-matter it is within the jurisdiction of the Court. The value or amount is not that actually recoverable or ascertained at the trial, but that claimed by the plaintiff and set out in the plaint. (Page, J.) CHANDMULL KANGORIA v. DEBI CHAND.

51 Cal. 62 : 28 C. W. N. 6 : 80 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 405.

——S 102—Small Cause nature.

Suit for compensation for removal of trees is not exempted from the cognizance of a Small Cause Court and it does not come within Art. 35 (ii), Sch. II, Pro Small Cause Courts Act (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) MIRSA DILBAR HUSSAIN v. SADARUDDIN CHOWDHURI. 27 C. W. N. 469 : A. I. R. 1923 C. 568.

——Ss. 102 and 115—Suit for price of fish taken from a tank is small cause.

There is no second appeal from the decree in a suit for recovery of the price of fish removed from a tank after declaration of title when the value of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) ARADHAN MONDAL v. ABHOYA CHARAN MONDAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 102.

68 I. C. 626 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 321.

——S. 102—Execution—Small Cause decree transferred to Original Side—Second appeal.

An order in execution of a Small Cause Court decree passed by a Small Cause Court Judge, is final. 3 Pat. L. W. 146 Ref. But, when the decree has been transferred to the ordinary Court to be executed as if it were a decree made by that Court, the orders made in execution are appealable in the same way as orders made in execution of decrees passed by that Court, although a second appeal would be barred under S. 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure : 31 All. 11 Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) JAMINIBALA DEBI v. KARALI PRASAD. 67 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 477.

——S. 102—Suit for grazing fee—Small Cause nature.

No second appeal lies in a suit for recovery of less than five hundred rupees claimed as grazing fee. There can be no claim for rent unless there is a tenancy and there can be no tenancy unless a right to the land has been given to the grantee. 20 C. L. J. 227 Rel. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) JATINDRA MOHAN LAHIRY v. ABDUL AZIZ MIA.

59 I. C. 595 : 32 C. L. J. 88.

——S. 102—Suit to recover price of coal—No second appeal.

A suit for price of coal supplied under an agreement is in the nature of a Small Cause suit and where the amount sued for is below Rs. 500 no second appeal lies. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) DHAR AND COMPANY v. SIB NARAYAN SINGH.

59 I. C. 188 (2) (c).

——S. 102—Suit to recover tax illegally levied—If of a small cause nature—Second appeal.

A suit to recover tax illegally levied is one of a small cause nature and where the subject-matter is less than Rs. 500 in value, no second appeal lies. (Broadway, J.) THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, PIND DADANKHAK v. BHAGWAN SINGH.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 619.

——S.102—Suit for damages for infringement of monopoly—No second appeal.

A suit for damages by a holder of monopoly against an infringement by previous holder is barred for second appeal under provisions of S. 102, of C. P. Code. (Martineau, J.) RAMJI DAS v. GOPAL.

69 I. C. 431 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 244.

——S. 102—Execution proceedings—Second appeal—Valuation of suit

In the case of execution proceedings the test to find out whether a second appeal lies is the value of the suit and not the amount sought to be recovered in execution. 29 P. R. 1902 : 30 M. 212, Ref. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) MOHNA MAL v. TULSI RAM.

3 Lah. 141 : 67 I. C. 718 : 28 P. W. R. 1922: A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 290 (2).

——S. 102—Suit on agreement to share proceeds of a tenancy is one of Small Cause nature.

A suit based upon an agreement that defendant would pay plaintiff half of what he got from the tenancy granted by the Government is a suit of Small Cause nature. (Abdul Raoof, J.) GANGA RAM v. MAYA DAS. 67 I. C. 841 : 3 Lah. L. J. 419.

——S. 102—Decree in Small Cause suit passed on review—No second appeal.

It is absurd to allow a Second Appeal against a decree in a Small Cause suit, not exceeding Rs. 500 merely because the decree has been passed on review. (Chevis, J.) KANSHI RAM v. KARAM NARAIN.

3 Lah. L. J. 166 : 60 I.C. 259 : 3 U.P.L.R. (Lah.) 65.

——S. 102—Suit for damages for use and occupation against tenants holding over is Small Cause—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 102.

Prov. S. C. Courts Act, Sch. II, Arts. 8 and 11.

A suit by a landlord for damages for use and occupation on the footing that the defendants are tenants holding over and are trespassers in the eye of the law is cognizable by a Small Cause Court and if the value of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500, a second appeal does not lie in the suit. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ANNAMDEVULA THATA v. KHWAJA AHMADULLA KHAN. 48 M. L. J. 701 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 890.

——— S. 102—Small Cause Court suit—Execution—No second appeal lies.

No second appeal lies in a matter of execution in a suit which is of a Small Cause nature. 12 Mad. 116; 30 Mad. 212; 42 All. 200; 43 All. 403, Ref. to. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) P. K. VEERARAYAN v. AYYAKUTTI. 48 M .L. J. 499 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 742.

——— S. 102—Suit of small cause nature—Test of.

In deciding the question whether a suit is of a small cause nature or not, attention has to be paid to the nature of the suit, as it was presented in the first court and not to the subsequent shape that it may have taken as a result of the findings of the lower Courts. A suit for specific performance of a contract or for damages in the alternative is not a suit of a small cause nature. (Madhavan Nair, J.) SANKER PEDDAPPA v. VENKATAPPA. 20 L. W. 321 : (1924) M. W. N. 691: 82 I. C. 123: A. I. R. 1924 Mad 844

——— S. 102—Suit of small cause nature—Joint patta—Payment of kist and water-cess by a co-pattadar—Suit for contribution—Second appeal if lies—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, Sch. II, Art. 41.

Plaintiff sued for recovery of a certain sum of money on the ground that he and the defendants had divided their properties, though the property still remained under the same patta, and that his property was attached for arrears of rent and water-cess under this patta, which were due from defendants 1 to 6, they not having paid the kist on their property under the same patta and that plaintiff, to save his own property therefore, had to pay up the arrears. Held, (1) that the suit was not of the nature contemplated by Art. 41 of Sch. II to the Provincial SmallCause Courts Act; (2) that there was no joint property, since plaintiff and defendants, on plaintiff's own showing, were divided; (3) that the mere fact that the patta was still joint and therefore the liability under it was joint would not affect the manner in which the property was held; and (4) that there was no Second Appeal to the High Court 12 M. 349 Foll. (Wallace, J.) SOORAPANENI SEETHARAMA BRAHMAM v. SOORAPANENI KRISTABRAHMAM. 19 L. W. 547 : 80 I. C. 303 (1) : (1924) M. W, N. 478 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 790.

——— S. 102—Small Causes Court—Suit cognizable by—Award—Money payable under—Suit to recover—Second Appeal in—Award—Suit to enforce—If suit to enforce contract.

A suit to recover money payable under an award is a suit of Small Cause nature, and no second appeal lies against the decree in such a suit.

Semble : A suit to enforce an award is not the same as one to enforce a contract. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) THIRUMURTHY CHETTY v. PONNAN CHETTY. 46 M. L. J. 51 : 19 L. W. 210 : (1924) M. W. N. 46 : 75 I. C. 843 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 485 (1).

——— S. 102—Second appeal—Small cause suit—Execution proceedings.

In a suit of a small cause nature, execution proceedings is not appealable. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) VEMURI PITCHAYYA v. RAJA YARLAGADDA. 18 L.W. 739 : 33 M. L. T. 125 (H. C.) : 45 M.L.J. 651 : 76 I.C. 750 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 367.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 103.

——— S. 102—Second appeal—Small Cause decree—Execution proceedings.

There is no civil miscellaneous second appeal from proceedings in execution of a Small Cause decree. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MUTHUKARUPPA CHETTY v. PAIYA KAVUNDAN. (1923) M. W. N. 406 : 45 M. L. J. 210 : 18 L. W. 17 : 73 I. C. 956 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 32.

——— S. 102—Suit against President, District Board, for damages—If of a Small Cause nature.

Suit against President, District Board, for damages is one of small cause nature. (Schwabe, C. J. and Odgers, J.) PRESIDENT OF THE DT BOARD, SOUTH KANARA v. GOPALKRISHNA BHATTAR. 46 Mad. 808: 45 M. L. J. 125 : 18 L. W. 82 : 32 M. L T. (H. C.) 378 : 74 I. C. 223 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 689.

——— S. 102—Suit to recover arrears of kattubadi —Is Small Cause nature.

A suit to recover arrears of Kattubadi is one of a Small Cause nature and where its value is less than Rs. 500 no second appeal lies. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBBAYYA v. RAJAH OF VENKATAGIRI. 14 L. W. 349 : 66 I. C. 207 : 42 M. L. J. 118: A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 302.

——— S. 102—Immoveable property—Sale—Suit for recovery of purchase-money—Small Cause nature.

A suit for recovery of purchase money by a vendee after the sale falls through or is set aside is one of a small cause nature and where the claim is less than Rs. 500, there is no second appeal. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) UDAIRAM v. THAKUR PRASAD. 89 I. C. 933.

——— S. 102—Plaint returned for presentation to Original Side by Small Cause Court—Suit does not cease to be of Small Cause nature.

Where in a suit for damages or for the value of trees cut by the defendant from plaintiff's land, the Small Cause Court returns the plaint for presentation on the Original Side, the suit does not cease to be of a Small Cause nature and there is no second appeal. 20 A 480; 12 A. L. J. 1032, Foll. (Lyle, A. J. C.) KANWAR SINGH v. UJAGA SINGH. 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 18 : 65 I. C. 7 : 8 O. L. J. 391.

——— S. 102—Applicability of.

Suit for rent other than house rent does not fall within the scope of S. 102. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) SADANAND TEWARI v. DEBI NATH MANJHI. 1922 P. H. C. C. 154 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 184.

——— S. 102—Suit for rent—If of a small cause nature—Second appeal.

A suit for rent of agricultural land does not relate to immoveable property and where the amount is less than Rs. 500, no second appeal lies. (Heald and Rutledge, JJ.) MA PAN v. MAUNG NE U. 3 Rang. 390.

——— S. 102—Award.

A suit to enforce an award is in essence a suit for specific performance of a contract, and is not of a Small Cause nature. (Pratt, J.) MA HLA GYI v. MAUNG SEIK PO. 1 Rang. 700 : 79 I. C. 718 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 192.

——— S. 103 and O. 41, R. 25—Powers of High Court on second appeal—Finding of fact.

To avoid gross miscarriage of justice resulting from the omission by the lower appellate court to determine any issue of fact or to come to definite conclusion on a set of facts, the High Court has the power of determining the issue left undetermined by the lower appellate court on the evidence on record, or of remitting the case to the lower court for a finding on that issue with liberty to the parties to adduce additional evidence. 43 M. 567 Ref. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) CHIDAMBARA SIVAPRAKASA v. VEERAMA REDDI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 103.

45 Mad. 586 : 43 M. L. J. 640 : (1922) M.W.N. 749 : 16 L. W. 102 : 68 I. C. 538 : 49 I. A. 286 : 31 M. L. T. 54 : 37 C. L. J. 199 : 27 C. W. N. 245 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 292 (P. C.).

——S. 103—Scope.

Where the question has been determined by the lower Court, and that decision cannot be supported because it is based in part on evidence improperly admitted, S 103 does not apply. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) JAGADISH CHANDRA DE v. HARIHAR DE. 40 C. L. J. 39 : 78 I. C. 219 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1042.

——S. 103 and O. 41. R. 25—Issue of fact—Question of title—Not decided by lower appellate Court—Power of High Court to decide—Question of law—Inference from documents.

Where an issue of fact or law has been tried by the trial court and decided but is left undecided by the lower appellate court. it is open to the High Court in second appeal to determine that issue itself. Where the question of plaintiff's title is one purely of interpretation of certain documents and the legal inferences to be drawn therefrom the High Court could interfere in second appeal. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) INDARPAL SINGH v. THAKURDIN SINGH. 78 I. C. 895 : 10 O. L. J. 646 : 27 O. C. 77 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 266.

——S. 103—High Court can determine issue not determined by court below.

Per Jwala Prasad, J.—S. 103, C. P. Code, which has been newly added, has widened the power of the Appellate Court to go into evidence and determine any issue not determined by the Court below. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) LOCHAN RAI v. LALA SANT PRASAD. 3 Pat. L. T. 303 : 65 I. C. 536 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 417.

——S. 104—Appeal—Arbitration Act, S. 19.

Order granting stay of suit pending arbitration is appealable. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) FIRM KACHAURI MAL KALYAN MAL v. FIRM WALI MUHAMMAD ABDUL LATIF. 22 A. L. J. 1031 : L.R. 5 A. (Civ.) 756: 47 A. 186 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 154.

——S. 104 and O. 43, R. 1—Order of Court—Right of appeal.

Where a Court is seized with a matter under a particular rule and an order thereunder is appealable, then the order actually made by the Court in that matter is also appealable. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) SHRINIWAS KUPPUSAMY MUDALIAR v. M. C. WAZ. 45 Bom. 99 : 59 I. C. 421 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1126.

——S. 104—Second appeal—Question of law.

The amount of inquiry necessary for a creditor to make when lending money to a Hindu widow is a question of law and can be examined in second appeal. (Dalal, A. J. C.) RAMAN v. BARATI. 1 O. W. N. 654 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 965 : 27 O. C. 329 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 557.

——S. 104—Award filed—Right to appeal is not lost though a decree is drawn up.

S. 104 of the Code clearly gives a right of appeal against an order to file the award, and the fact that a judgment has been pronounced and decree drawn up does not render the order to file the award incapable of appeal. 19 C. W. N. 948, Foll. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MAHOMED KHALIL v. ABDUL RAHIM. 4 Pat. 670 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 810.

——S. 104—Order rejecting decree-holder's petition to withdraw execution case—Appeal.

An appeal shall not lie against an order of a Munsif rejecting the decree-holder's petition to withdraw his execution case. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM PRASAD v. MAHESH KANT. 1 P. 232 : 3 P.L.T. 445 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 525.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 104.

——S. 104—Order under R. 90 of O. 21—No second appeal.

No Second Appeal lies against the order passed in appeal on an application under O. 21, R. 90 but when a Second Appeal is competent under S. 47 in respect of the allegation relating to the notice under O. 21, R. 22 the High Court will deal with the entire case; for the remedy of the losing party affected by the decision of the lower Appellate Court cannot be divided into parts, particularly when the application was prima facie barred by limitation. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) DASS NARAYAN SINGH v. MIR MAHAMED. 2 Pat. L. T. 401 : 6 Pat. L.J. 319 : 61 I. C. 823.

——S. 104—Appeal lies from order of attachment and that of arrest before judgment—C. P. Code, O. 43, R. 1.

An appeal lies both from an order of arrest before judgment and from that of attachment before judgment. It is true that an order of arrest is not one of the appealable orders enumerated in O. 43, r. 1, but the right is given specifically by S. 104, C. P. Code, and being a statutory right conferred by the body of the Code is not a matter of procedure and would not be taken away by rules contained in the schedule. Moreover its omission from O. 43 does not necessarily mean that it does not exist; in fact its inclusion would be superfluous, the order not being exhaustive in its terms. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) SYED HOOSEIN v. S. R. M. M. C. T. CHETTIAR FIRM. 2 Rang 362 : 3 Bur. L. J. 159 : 84 I. C. 270 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 361.

——S. 104—Arbitration Act, S. 19—Appeal from order.

No appeal lies under section 104, C.P. Code from an order passed under Section 19 of the Arbitration Act staying a suit.

1 S. L. R. 86 F. B.; 28 A. 349, Foll. 45 B. 245 : 16 S. L. R. 174, Appr. (Kincaid, J. C., Aston and Madgavkar, A. J. Cs.) FIRM OF MENGHRAJ KHIALDAS v. MESSRS. LANGLEY BILLIMORIA AND CO. 17 S. L. R. 195 : A. I. R. 1923 Sind 38 (F. B.).

——S. 104—No appeal from order under S. 19, Arbitration Act.

No appeal lies from an order staying a suit under S. 19 of the Arbitration Act. (Kemp, A. J. C.) SODAWATERWALA v. VOLKART BROTHERS. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 25.

——S. 104 (1) (a)—Order revoking order of reference under Para. 17, C. P. Code, 2nd Schedule, is not appealable—C. P. Code, Sch. II, para 17.

Where under para 17 of 2nd Schedule, C. P. Code, order is made filing an agreement, but on finding that arbitrators were not willing to act the Court revokes the order of reference and dismisses the suit, the order is not appealable. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) HAFIZ ZAHUR AHMED v. TASLIM-UN-NISSA. 23 A. L. J. 891 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 575 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 55.

——S. 104 (1) (f)—Order refusing to file award under Arbitration Act is appealable.

An order refusing to file an award made under the Arbitration Act is appealable under S. 104 (1) (f) of the Civil Procedure Code. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) NAIN SUKH DAS v. GAJANAND. 43 All. 348 : 61 I. C. 269 : 19 A. L. J. 132.

——S. 104 (1) (f)—Order filing award can be implied.

Where at the hearing of an application for filing an award under C. P. Code, Sch. II, para. 20, the objections of the opposite party are overruled and the Court eventually passes a decree in accordance with the award, though there is no order in so many words that the award be filed, the decision of the Court dismissing the objection must be held to amount to an order filing an award. The right conferred by the Legislature cannot be defeated by the mere fact that no express order filing the award was made. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) FIRM SHANKAR DAS NAND LAL v. FIRM AMIR CHAND LUKHIM DAS. 7 Lah. L.J 91 : I.C. 533 : 88 A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 321 (1.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 104.

——S. 104 (1) (f)—Order filing the award—What is.

An order filing an award from which an appeal is provided for in S. 104 (f), C.P. Code, is one which is passed after objections to the award have been disposed of. It does not mean the order by which the arbitrators are directed to bring the award to Court. (Harrison, J.) GHULAM MUSTAFA v. GHULAM SADIQ. 73 I. C. 820 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 231.

——Ss. 104 (1) (f) and 115—Revision against an order open to appeal whether entertainable — Revision filed after the expiry of the period of appeal, whether can be treated as an appeal.

Where it is open to a party to appeal against an order, a revision does not lie. An application in revision cannot be treated as an appeal where an appeal filed on the date which the application in revision bears would be beyond time. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JAGESHAR SINGH v. THAKUR JWALA BUKHSH SINGH. 1 O. W. N. 802.

——S. 104 (1) (f), O. 9, R. 13 and O. 43, R. 1 (d)—*Reference to arbitration—Award—Application to file—Objections—Objector not present—Decree—Ex parte—Setting aside—Refusal—Appeal.*

The matters in dispute between the parties were referred to the arbitration of certain persons by order of Court and the arbitrators filed their award. The defendants filed their objections and applied for time which was refused. The defendants thereupon withdrew from the contest and the Court pronounced judgment according to the award and a decree followed in accordance with law. The defendants applied to set aside the award under O. 9, R. 13 but the application was rejected. Held, that no appeal lay against the order. As the arbitration was with the intervention of the Court S. 104 (1) of the C. P. Code had no application. An appeal was incompetent under O. 43, R. 1 (d), C.P. Code inasmuch as there was no appeal from the decree and the decree itself could not be deemed to have been passed ex parte. The Court was bound to pass judgment according to the award when the defendants did not choose to prosecute an application under Sch. II, para. 15, C. P. Code. (Das and Adami, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL MARWARI v. FIRM OF BRIDHICHAN SRI LAL. 3 Pat. 839 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1924 Patna 603.

——S. 104 (1) (f) and Sch. II, para. 21 (2)—Decision as to filing of award—Right of appeal—Distinction between the two provisions.

The effect of section 104 (1) (f) seems to give a right of appeal against the decision of the Court on the question whether the award should be filed or not. Paragraph 21 (2) of the Second Schedule allows an appeal also if the decree of the Court does not correctly interpret the award and on an appeal under this provision the decree can be corrected so as to bring it in accordance with the award. But when the decree does correctly interpret the decree in other words when an award has lawfully been made there is no appeal against the decision of the arbitrators. (Carr, J.) MAUNG TUN v. MAUNG PO SHOK. 1 Rang. 265 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 199.

——Ss. 104 (2) and 109—Scope of—S. 104 does not restrict S. 109.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 104.

The provisions in sub-S. 2 of S. 104 deal with internal appeals within the limits of British India. The application to file an award may be made in the Court of the Subordinate Judge ; if any dispute arises, and the amount at stake is below a certain figure, the appeal would lie from him to the District Judge. If it were above that figure, it would lie to the High Court. The provision is intended to prevent any appeal beyond the District Judge where the sum in dispute is small. In this respect it runs parallel with S. 100, which limits second appeals from appellate decrees by District Judges. That section deals with decrees only while the decisions on arbitration questions are styled orders. There is therefore nothing in S. 104 to take away the general right of appealing to the Crown given by S. 109. (Lord Phillimore.) RAM LAL HARGOPAL v. KISANCHANDRA. 51 Cal. 361 : 26 Bom. L. R. 586 : 22 A. L. J. 386 : 19 L. W. 549 : 34 M. L. T. 62 : 20 N. L. R. 33 : 51 I. A. 72 : 7 N. L. J. 62 : 28 C. W. N. 977 : L. R. 5 P. C. 216 : (1924) M. W. N. 79 : 46 M. L. J. 628 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 95 (P. C.).

——S. 104 (2)—Order in appeal setting aside the order for return of plaint—Further appeal does not lie.

An order in appeal setting aside the order of the lower Court, returning the plaint for presentation to the proper Court is not open to Second Appeal nor is such order open to revision, though it may be erroneous in law or in fact. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) CHANDULAL v. KOKAMAL. 43 All. 334 : 61 I. C. 36 : 19 A. L. J. 110.

——S. 104 (2)—Order returning plaint—Second appeal—Maintainability.

S. 104 (2) bars a second appeal in a case where the original appeal itself was from an order returning a plaint and not from a decree. (Martineau, J.) HAYAT ALI KHAN v. ISHAR DASS. 89 I. C. 384.

——S. 104 (2)—Scope of—Appeals under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent not affected.

It was not intended by S. 104 (2), C.P. Code, to override the express provision of the Letters Patent or to take away by implication a right of appeal conferred thereunder. 14 A. 226 : 39 A. 191 : 9 C. 482 : 11 A. 375 : 26 C. 361 : 25 M. 555, Ref. (Shadi, Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) RULDU SINGH v. SAWAL SINGH. 3 Lah. 188 : 67 I. C. 388 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 380 (2).

——S. 104 (2)—Order in terms of compromise.

Order of District Court in appeal in terms of compromise is final and is inappealable. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) GURUCHARAN SINGH v. GURDEV SINGH. 3 Lah. 175 : 66 I. C. 258 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 309.

——S. 104 (2), O. 43, R. (1) (j)—Second appeal where no first appeal lay.

There can be no second appeal to the High Court on the decision in appeal which did not lie. (Scott Smith, J.) GUL BANO v. MUHAMMAD ZEKAR KHAN. 3 Lah. L. J. 463.

——S. 104 (2) and O. 41, R. 1 (a) (u)—Order in appeal setting aside order returning plaint—No second appeal.

There is no second appeal against an appellate order setting aside an order returning a plaint to be presented to the proper court and remanding the case for trial on the merits. 33 All. 479 and 101 P. L. R. 1913, foll. (Broadway, J.) FIRM OF BHAWANI SAHAI KANSHI RAM v. FIRM OF HARBANS SINGH GOPAL DAS. 68 I. C. 304 : 2 Lah. L. J. 587.

——S. 104 (2)—Plaint order returning—Appeal—Order not open to Second Appeal.

An order of an Appellate Court reversing an order of the Lower Court returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court is not open to Second Appeal. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAM LAL ISHAR DAS v. SALIO RAM. 59 I. C. 2 : 7 P. W. R. 1921.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 104.

——S. 104 (d), O. 9, R. 13, O. 43, R. 1 (d), Schedule II, Para. 16 (2) —Arbitration—Application to set aside under O. 9, R. 13—Appeal.

Where arbitration proceedings took place with the intervention of the Court and the defendants being absent and an award was made, an application to set aside the decree under O. 9, R. 13 was made, and the Lower Court rejected the application. Held, on appeal, that S. 104 (f) of the Code which provides an appeal from an order filing or refusing to file an award without the intervention of the Court cannot be applied in the present case, which was made with the intervention of the Court and that under O. 43, R. 1 which gives a right of appeal only to cases which are appealable only where the decree sought to be set aside is appealable and is regarded as having been passed ex parte and neither of the conditions is satisfied. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAGUNATH RAI DISUKRAI v. BRIDICHA SRILAL. 3 Pat. 839 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 603.

——S. 104 (f) and Sch. II, Para. 21—No order for filing award and no decree thereon separately passed—Single order disposing of whole case—Appeal is competent.

Where an order directing an award to be filed and a decree in accordance with the award were not separately passed but the Court disposed of the whole case by a single order:

Held, that the appeal was in substance an appeal from an order directing the award to be filed, and as such was competent. 38 All. 380 and 42 All. 185, Ref. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) JAGAT PANDE v. SARAWAR PANDE. 23 A. L. J. 440 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 350: 88 I. C. 76: A.I.R. 1925 All. 404.

——S. 104 (f)—Arbitration Act, S. 14—Order setting aside award—No appeal lies.

An order, under the Arbitration Act, setting aside an award is not appealable. (Kincaid, J.C. and Kennedy, A. J. C.) MESSRS. G. P. GUNNIS AND CO., LTD. v. MESSRS. AMANMAL TULSIDAS. 79 I. C. 920: A. I. R. 1925 Sind 218.

——S. 105—Interpretation of remand order.

Where remand was ordered on one of the two points any one of which would have been sufficient to dispose off the case the remand order must be deemed to have confirmed the decision on the other point. (Lord Phillimore.) SRIPAT SINGH DUGAR v. RAI HARIRAM GOENKA. 31 M. L. T. 38 : 26 C. W. N. 739 : 74 I. C. 597 · 16 L. W. 447 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 68 : (1922) M. W. N. 671 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 51 (P. C.).

——S. 105—Appeal from order impleading a person in appeal does not lie.

An order impleading a person in appeal is not an appealable order, but can be challenged in the appeal from the order finally passed in the appellate Court. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) FIRM SHIAM LAL JOTI PRASAD v. DHANPAT RAI.

23 A. L. J. 757 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 386 : 88 I.C. 493 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 768.

——S. 105—"Decision" means decision upon merits.

Per Lindsay, J.—The word "decision" in S. 105 (1) must necessarily be taken to mean the decision upon the merits. 22 C. 981 ; 24 A. 464 ; 25 A. 280, Foll. : 34 A. 592 Diss.

Per Daniels, J.—An illegal order and in consequence the illegality committed in passing that order, affects the decision of the case, if the order passed by the trial Court is one "but for which the decision might have been other than it was." Opinion of Piggott, J. in 43 All. 564 (F.B.) Foll. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. GAYA PRASAD. L. R. 6 A. 193 : 88 I. C. 447 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 610 (F.B.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105.

——S. 105—Order in pending suit superseding award can be questioned in appeal from decree.

An order made in a pending case, superseding an award and directing the suit to proceed on the merits can be questioned in an appeal from the decree passed in the suit. 1925 All. 458, Foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RUDRA PRASAD PANDE v. MATHURA PRASAD PANDE. 23 A. L J. 656 : 87 I. C. 173 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 459 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 566.

——S. 105—Interlocutory order—Appeal from decree—Interlocutory order cannot be attacked unless affecting merits of the case.

Unless the interlocutory order affects the merits of the case, it cannot be challenged in an appeal against the decree in the case. Where a final decree was challenged on the sole ground that the order setting aside the abatement of the suit which (the order) preceded the decree was unjustifiable :

Held, that the order did not affect the merits of the case and that it could not be challenged in an appeal from the decree in the case. 13 A. L. J. 1089 Foll. (Mukerjee and Boys, JJ.) BABU RAM v. BANKE BEHARI LAL. 23 A. L. J. 444 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 297 : 87 I.C. 211 : 47 All. 555 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 426.

——S. 105—Plea—Ex parte decree—Order set on.

In the absence of any error, defect, or irregularity affecting the decision of the case, the propriety of an order setting aside an ex parte decree cannot be questioned on appeal. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BENAIK RAO v. PUTTAN SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 335 : 79 I. C. 69 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 929.

——S. 105—Interlocutory order can be objected to—Appeal from final decree.

Notwithstanding the dismissal of an appeal against an interlocutory order in a suit on the ground that no appeal lay against it, it is open to a party to complain of any defect or irregularity in the order in an appeal from the final decree itself. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) SHANKER LAL v. MAHOMED ALI. 44 All. 534 : 20 A. L. J. 349 : L. R. 3 A. 304 : 4 U.P.L.R. (A.) 97 : 66 I. C. 920: A.I.R. 1922 All. 118.

——S. 105—Final decree must be appealed from.

A final decree giving directions or ordering costs of commissioner will remain effective notwithstanding the decision of the appellate Court reversing the order on objections to the commissioner's report, though the appellate Court's decision was given after the final decree and though in law the lower Court was incompetent to give directions and deal with costs until disposal of the appeal from the order on objections. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) ELIAS HAJI AHMAD v. HAJI ESMAIL SAIT. 25 Bom. L. R. 237 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 200.

——S. 105—Order setting aside abatement passed in same judgment in which decree is passed—Order cannot be questioned.

The order setting aside the abatement of a suit cannot be questioned in appeal from the decree in the suit whether such order is passed before or simultaneously with the decree. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SAYMA BIBI v. MADHUSUDAN MOHANTA. 52 Cal. 472 : 29 C. W. N. 675 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 766.

——S. 105 and O. 23, R. 1 (2)—Refusal to allow withdrawal, with liberty to file fresh suit—Decree—Appeal—Refusal cannot be attacked.

The expression 'affecting the decision of the case' means affecting the decision of the case on its merits.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105.

Order refusing permission to the plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit is not an order which affects the decision on the merits and does not fall within the provisions of S. 105, C. P. Code. The interlocutory orders which can be challenged in an appeal against the final decree are of such a nature as would or might have induced the Court to alter its decision; for instance an order refusing to admit a document which is in law admissible, or to examine a witness or to issue a commission or some such act which is calculated ultimately to influence the decision of the Court on the merits. 22 Cal. 981 and 8 C.L. J. 308 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) NISHI KANTA SARKAR v. UMAR LAL SARKAR.

41 C. L. J. 186 : 86 I. C. 1029 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 711.

——S. 105—Order setting aside abatement under O. 22, R. 9 is not appealable—C.P. Code, O. 22, R. 9—C. P. Code, O. 43, R. 1 K.

Order setting aside the abatement and allowing substitution of heirs of deceased party cannot be questioned in appeal from the decree in the suit whether such order is passed before, or simultaneously with the decree, such an order not being one which affects the decision of the case with reference to its merits with in S. 105. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) MOHAMED NARU AMIN v. MONOHAR SARAN DEB MOHANTA. 40 C. L. J. 588 : 85 I. C. 100 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 473.

——S. 105—Appeal against final decree—Powers of appellate Court—Correctness of preliminary decree.

It is not open to the appellants, in an appeal against the final decree,to attack the preliminary decree,which might have been directly challenged by an appeal. But the appellate Court can consider whether theprelimina-ry decree was capable of enforcement and whether it afforded a basis for the final decree as made. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) TARAPRASANNA SARKAR v. KALIKA MOHAN SARKAR. 38 C. L. J. 111 : 75 I. C. 319 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 80.

——S. 105—Scope of.

The policy of the Legislature in enacting S. 105, C. P. Code was to give finality to orders of remand. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BISAI NATH v. TARA NATH DEB. 72 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 385.

——S. 105—Appeal against preliminary decree.

Where a final decree is passed after an appeal against the primary decree is filed, the appellate Court has jurisdiction to decide the appeal. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) MEA HOSSAIN KHAN v. SAMIR. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 282 (1).

——S. 105, O. 6, R. 17—Amendment of plaint—When not to be allowed.

Where in an action for damages and injunction the plaintiffs had alleged in their plaint title to and possession of the land in dispute but the defendants having denied the latter fact the plaintiffs applied for an amendment by addition of a prayer for declaration of title. The court of first instance did not allow the amendment but the appellate Court did and remanded the case for retrial. In the course of retrial the plaintiff applied for another amendment with a prayer for recovery of possession. An objection was taken to the amendment that it altered the character of the suit and was illegal but the objection was disallowed, and the suit was decreed and the appellate court affirmed the decision. Held in second appeal that the second amendment ought notto have been allowed and that the other party was not precluded from taking objection to its showing that they were prejudiced by it, even though not having appealed against the order of remand they could not question the validity of that order and consequently the validity of the first amendment. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) GYANENDRANATH v. PORESHNATHPAL. 26 C. W. N. 73 : 35 C. L. J. 25 : 65 I. C. 39 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 255.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105.

——S. 105 and O. 9, R. 13—Order setting aside decree—Propriety of—Cannot be questioned.

Not only can an order setting aside an ex parte decree not to be questioned on appeal from the decree but any error in the proceedings is not one affecting the decision of the case within the meaning of section 105 of the Code. (Harrison, J.) SUNDAR SINGH v. NIGAHIYA. 72 I. C. 410 : A. I.R. 1923 Lah. 425 (1).

——S. 105, and O. 22, R. 9—Abatement—Order setting asideO--bjection to in an appeal from the decree, can be made.

Where a Court sets aside the abatement of a suit under O. 22, R. 9, C. P. Code ignoring the objections of a party it is open to him on appeal from the decree passed in the suit to object to the orders setting aside the abatement. 31 M. 345 ; 13 M. L. J. 308 ; 34 A. 562 Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) AJUDHIA PARSHAD v. IMAMUDDIN.

71 I. C. 587 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 230.

——S. 105—"Affecting the decision of the case"—Meaning of.

The phrase "affecting the decision of the case" in S. 105 means affecting the decision of the case with reference to its merits. An order superseding an arbitration is not an order affecting the decision of the case on merits and therefore even if it is erroneous, objection cannot be taken in an appeal from the final decree in the case. (Martineau, J.) FIRM BUDHU RAM HOUDA RAM v. RAMZAN. 3 Lah. L. J. 59 : 59 I. C. 676 : 33 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 105—Trial Court dismissing suit as barred by S. 33 of local Act—Appellate Court, reversing decision holding suit barred neither by S. 33 nor by S.27 (4) of Act and remanding suit—Remand order not appealed from—S. 27 (4) cannot be pleaded in second appeal from decision after remand, as bar to suit.

The Trial Court dismissed the suit as barred by S. 33 of Madras Act 2 of 1894. The appellate Court reversed this decision and remanded the suit. While doing so, the appellate Court also dealt with S. 27 (4) of the same Act and held that the suit was not barred by it. There was no appeal from the order.

Held, that in second appeal on decision after remand, the defendants could not raise the defence that S.27 (4) was a bar to the suit. (Devadoss, J.) DORAISWAMI v. THIRUVENGADA.

A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 916.

——S. 105—In appeal from final order points decided by the preliminary order can be challenged.

The order of the Court is the order that is embodied in the formal order drawn up and issued by the Court generally, more especially is this so with the Courts of record such as the original side of the High Court. An appeal against the final order must be deemed to include all the points decided in a preliminary order for the purpose of that order. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) P. SATYARAZU v. GUNTUR COTTON, JUTE AND PAPER MILLS CO., LTD.

47 M. L. J. 710 : 21 L. W. 136: 48 Mad. 267 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 199.

——S. 105—Ex-parte decree.

A defendant can impugn an ex-parte decree even in appeal where he has not moved the Court under O. 9, R. 13. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) BAVA LEVVAI SAHIB v. AMMEENAMMAL. 45 M. L. J. 805 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 107.

——S. 105—Scope of.

Points decided by remand order cannot be reconsidered at final hearing. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105—

Rao, JJ.) VENKATARAMA AIYAR v. AIYASAMI AIYAR.

43 M. L. J. 340 : (1922) M. W. N. 657 : 16 L. W. 552 : 31 M. L. T. 465 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 67.

——S. 105—Order of remand—Not appealed against—Effect.

An order of remand which is not appealed against cannot afterwards be objected to. (Kinkhede, A J. C,) RAGHUBAR PRASAD v. SATTOO. 89 I C. 1009.

——S. 105—Order of remand—Not appealed against—Effect of—Power of Court under O. 41, R. 2.

A party who does not appeal against an order of remand cannot afterwards challenge its correctness. But this does not take away the power that vests in a court of appeal under O. 41, R. 2 to base its decision on a point not urged in the memorandum of appeal. The only condition is that the party affected thereby must have an opportunity to meet it. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALIRAM v. SADARAM. 89 I. C. 1019.

——S. 105—Remand of case for effecting partition on another basis—Order is not final and no appeal lies to Privy Council—C. P. Code, S. 109.

Where the trial Court ordered partition on the basis of a certain family arrangement between the parties, but the High Court in appeal held that the family arrangement was not binding and the case was remanded to effect partition according to the personal law of the parties :

Held : that the remand order was not a final order within S. 109, that O. 43, R. 1 (a) does not apply to appeals to Privy Council and therefore no leave can be granted to present an appeal to Privy Council. (Hallifax and Kotval, A. J. Cs.) FAKHRUDDIN v. FARIDKHAN. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 349.

——S. 105—Order of remand.

A party who accepts erroneous order of remand and does not appeal against it, cannot afterwards change it. (Hallifax, A. J C.) GANGARAM v. KANHAIYA LAL. 80 I. C. 626 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 185.

——S. 105—Finality of order—Point not decided beyond revisability—Remand order is not binding.

A remand judgment is not conclusive on points not specifically decided therein beyond possibility of revision. 32 Bom. 432 Dist. (Pullan and Ashworth, A.J. Cs.) LACHHMIPAL SINGH v. BHAGWAT SINGH. 85 I. C. 468 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 527.

——S. 105, O. 9, R. 13 and O. 17, R. 1—Adjournment improperly refused and ex-parte decree passed—Application under O. 9, R.13 dismissed—Appeal from ex parte decree can be set aside on Ground of improper refusal of adjournment, apart from question of sufficient cause for defendant's non-appearance or date of passing ex parte decree.

Where an adjournment is improperly refused and an ex parte decree is passed and where an application to set aside the ex parte decree is dismissed, the propriety of the order refusing adjournment can be questioned in an appeal from the ex parte decree and the decree can be set aside, apart from any question raised in any application under O. 9, R. 13, as to whether the defendants had sufficient cause for non-appearance on the date on which the decree was passed. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) S. N. MULLICK v. GANGA GOPE. 1925 P.H.C.C. 199 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 534.

——S. 105—High Court remanding case for retrial—No appeal from High Court's decision filed—Finding in remand order is binding in appeal from lower Court's decision after remand.

Where the High Court remands a case to the lower Court for retrial and there is no appeal from the decision of the High Court, the finding of the High Court at the time of remand is binding in the appeal from the decision of the lower Court after remand. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Macpherson, J.) PARMESHWAR SINGH v. MT. SUREBA KUER. 1925 P. H. C. C. 185 : 88 I. C. 495 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 530.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105—

——S. 105—Findings how far binding.

In the case of keeping the appeal pending in the Appellate Court and remanding the case for further findings on an issue not decided, the Court when the matter comes up for final considerations can disregard the reasons given for remanding the case ; but a decision on the point of law by a Court of co-ordinate jurisdiction is final in so far as it sets aside the decision of the lower Court and lays down the law to be followed by that Court on remand. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) BRIJ RAJ KRISHNA v. CHATHU SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 35 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 226.

——S. 105—Lower Court dismissing Mahomedan widow's administration suit on ground of her having been divorced—High Court holding otherwise and remanding suit—Order of remand not appealed from—Point not precluded thereafter before P. C.

An administration suit by a Mahomedan widow against her son was dismissed by the Original Court on the ground that she had been divorced—The High Court on appeal.

Held, that no divorce had been proved, and remanded the suit to the Original Court for decision on the merits.

Held, that the provisions of S. 105 (2) of the Code will not debar the son from raising the question before the Privy Council, when the whole case had been decided, though there had not been any appeal from the order of remand. (Robinson, C. J. and Baguley, J.) MA MI v. KALENTHAR AMMAL. 3 Bur. L. J. 248 : 84 I. C. 519 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 147.

——S. 105—'Save as otherwise expressly provided means provided in Acts other than C. P. Code.

The words " Save as otherwise expressly provided " in S. 105 of the Code would seem to directly contemplate appeals from orders of a character provided for elsewhere than in the C. P. Code and to include appeals allowed under other laws such as the Probate and Administration Act. (Pratt and Maccoll, JJ.) HAJI PU v. TIN TIN. 2 Rang. 117 : 80 I. C. 746 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 237.

——S. 105 (2)—Decree after Remand—Appeal—Remand order cannot be questioned.

Where a decree after remand is appealed against, the appellant cannot question the correctness of the remand order. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) MURARI CHANDRA DE v. DINA NATH CHANDRA. 63 I. C. 845 (Cal.).

——S. 105 (2)—Order of remand—Appealability—C. P. Code, O. 41, R, 23.

Where an order of remand purports to be made O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code, it is the duty of a party adversely affected to appeal against the order. Otherwise the order would be final. (Scott-Smith, J.) MT. NIAMAT BIBI v. MAHOMED FAIZ. 65 I. C. 745 (Lah.).

——S. 105 (2), O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Remand, order of—Appeal, when lies.

Where an Appellate Court confirms the dismissal of the suit by the lower Court, as to a part, and remands the case for a retrial as to the other part, such an order of remand is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (u) of the Code. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) KARAM SINGH v. VIR SINGH. 3 Lah. L. J. 426 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 105.

63 I. C. 776 : 2 Lah. 252.

——S. 105 (2)—Question decided in remand cannot be re-agitated in appeal from decision after remand.

A question once decided by the appellate Court in the order of remand cannot be re-agitated in the stage of appeal after the return of the finding pursuant to the remand order. (Madhavan Nair, J.) UDAMANTHALA NALUPURATATIL v. PARAMESWARA. 22 L. W. 460 : 85 I. C. 996 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1019.

——S. 105 (2)—Order of remand.

Where on appeal by the plaintiff the case is remanded on the ground that the burden of proof was on the defendants and not on the plaintiff, S. 105 (2) precludes the defendants from questioning the correctness of that decision in second appeal. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) DAU v. RAMPRASAD.

A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 283.

——S. 105 (2)—Order of remand—Failure to appeal—Effect.

Where it was open to the persons aggrieved by an order of remand to appeal against it but they failed to do so they are precluded from further contesting the correctness of that order. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG PO KAING v. MA TOK. 1 Bur. L. J. 231 : 4 U. B. R. 93 : 70 I. C. 893 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 29.

——S. 107 and O. 7, R. 10—Appellate Court.

O. 7, R. 13 applies to appeals by virtue of S. 107. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. TUKARAM.

74 I. C. 33 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 310.

——Ss. 109 and 110—Fit case—Certificate conclusive—Order in Council about—Conclusiveness repealed by another—Effect.

The ruling provision as to certificates of value applicable, at the time the appeal was filed, was No. 2 of Sch. 1. Order in the Council of 10th April 1838, which as to the effect that the certificate shall be deemed conclusive of value and not liable to be questioned on appeal by any party. As therefore on the date of the appeal this order was operative and accordingly governed the case, so far as the Board is concerned, the certificate is conclusive. As to the certificate subsequent to the date of the Order in the Council of 9th February of 1920, it is not conclusive and the Board is free to differ from High Courts as to value of the subject-matter. (Lord Shaw). RATHA KRISHNA AYYAR v. SUNDERSWAMY IYER.

43 M. L. J. 323 : 49 I. A. 211 : 45 Mad. 475 : 27 C. W. N. 1 : 20 A. L. J. 937 : 36 C. L. J. 450 : 16 L. W. 18 : 74 I. C. 584 : 31 M. L. T. 31 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 257 (P. C.).

——S. 109—Final Order—Remand order directing lower Court to re-hear application under O. 22, R. 9 is not a final order.

Where an application to set aside abatement of suit by excusing delay of two days in making it was rejected and in appeal from the order, the High Court accepted the appeal and directed the lower Court to re-hear the application.

Held, that the order of remand was not a final order. Solomon v. Warner, (1891) 1 Q. B. D., 734 Foll. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MAMTUZ UD-DAULA MUKURRAM ALI KHAN v. JAMES R. R. SKINNER. 47 All. 335 : 23 A. L. J. 12 : 86 I. C. 161 : L. R. 6 (A.) Civ. 175 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 263.

——S. 109—Final order—Order for a personal decree in mortgage suit—Appeal to Privy Council.

In an execution appeal which arose out of a mortgage decree, the decree-holders were the appellants in the High Court. They had obtained execution of their mortgage decree in a somewhat uncommon but perfectly lawful manner. They had exhausted the whole of the property covered by the decree, and they alleged that a very considerable portion of the decree still remained unsatisfied. They applied to the Court below to prepare a decree covering this unsatisfied balance, under the provisions of O. 34, R. 6, of the Code of Civil Procedure. The office report prepared at the time the application was made showed that the amount due under the decree on the date of the said report, namely, the 23rd of May 1918, was Rs. 32, 119-7-6, and that the total amount realised by the sale of the mortgaged property was only Rs. 18,600. The judgment-debtors objected that the application for a decree under O. 34, R. 6 was statute-barred under appropriate article of the Indian Limitation Act. The execution Court upheld this contention and dismissed the application of the decree-holders. On appeal, a Bench of the High Court held that the application was within time. The order of the Court below, was then set aside and the execution Court was ordered to re-admit the application of the decree holders on to its file of pending applications and to dispose of it according to law. Held, that under the circumstances this amounted to a direction that a decree under O. 34, R. 6, should be prepared, the details of which were left for the execution Court to settle, and that the order of the High Court was a final order against which leave to appeal to the Privy Council should be granted. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) SANTI LAL v. RAJ NARAIN. 21 A. L. J. 686 : 45 A. 741 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 832 : L. R. 4 A. Civ. 577 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 119.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109.

——Ss. 109 and 110—"Final order"—Meaning of.

The word "final" in S. 109, C. P. Code is used in its ordinary sense and therefore means an order which puts an end to the litigation between the parties, or at all events disposes so substantially of the matters in issue between them as to leave merely subordinate or ancillary matters for decision. A suit ended in a compromise decree passed on a compromise entered into between plff. and deft. No. 2. The other defendant appealed against the order recording the compromise and the High Court on appeal set aside the order and directed a trial of the suit on the merits. On an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council against the order. Held, that the order of the High Court was not a final order and that therefore leave could not be granted for an appeal to the Privy Council. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) SHANKAR BHARATI v. NARASIMHA BHARATHI. 24 Bom. L. R. 925 : 69 I. C. 80 : 47 Bom. 106 : A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 383.

——S. 109—Sp. Rel. Acts. S. 45—Fit case—Letters Patent Bom., Cl. 39.

Where the petitioners applied to the High Court for an order under S. 45 of the Sp. Rel. Act directing the Chief Revenue Authority to refer a case for the decision of the High Court under S. 51 of the Income Tax Act, 1918 and the application was refused by a Division Bench of the High Court, leave to appeal to the Privy Council ought to be granted, where the Division Bench entertained an appeal from the judgment of the Single Judge of the High Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ALCOCK ASHDOWN & CO. v. CHIEF REVENUE AUTHORITY. 64 I. C. 959 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1132.

——S. 109—Suit dismissed due to plaintiffs' want of locus standi—Appeal—Prima facie case held as made—Case remanded for further hearing—Order is not final.

Where the lower Court had dismissed the plaintiffs' suit on the ground that they had no locus standi and the High Court on appeal held that the plaintiffs had prima facie sufficient interest to entitle them to an investigation of the case which they made and that the facts had not been sufficiently ascertained to justify the dismissal of the suit on the preliminary point of locus standi and remanded the suit.

Held, that it was only a mere order of remand under O. 41, r. 23 and not a final order within the meaning of S. 109. (Sanderson, C.J. and Richardson, J.) HARI NARAYAN DE v. HARI BHUSAN DE.

78 I. C. 117 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 574 (1).

——S. 109—Final order—What is—Excusing delay in presenting an appeal under S. 5, Lim. Act—If appealable.

An order extending the period for filing an appeal under S. 5 Lim. Act is not a final order within the meaning of S. 109, C.P. Code and is not appealable to the Privy Council. A final order within the meaning of S. 109 is an order which finally decides any matter which is directly at issue in the case in respect to the rights of the parties. (Das and Adami, JJ.) PERIERA v. EAST INDIAN RY. 90 I. C. 723.

——S. 109—Final Order—Suit dismissed on preliminary point.

An order of the High Court, in an appeal from an order dismissing a suit on a preliminary point, setting aside the dismissal and remanding the suit for trial of the remaining issues, is a decree or final order within S. 109. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) KHAGENDRA NANDAN ASRAM v. SAHAYRAM CHAKRAVARTHI. 62 I. C. 776 : 25 C. W. N. 896.

——S. 109—Final order.

An order of remand is interlocutory and therefore not subject of appeal to His Majesty in Council ; it can be a final order if it decides some cardinal point in the suit but an order of remand which merely decides that a suit is maintainable in the form in which it is brought is not final. (Scott-Smith and Broadway, JJ.) MEHRCHAND v. LABHU RAM.

60 I. C. 522 : 2 Lah. 106.

——S. 109—Insolvency—Appeal from original side—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council.

Where the High Court passes an order under S. 8 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act annulling its own prior order, the order of the High Court is appealable to the Privy Council and leave can be granted under Cl. 39 of the Letters Patent if not under S. 109 of the C.P. Code. (Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF RANGOON v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS. 35 M. L. T. 57 (H. C.) : 22 L. W. 362 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 243.

——S. 109—Appeal to Privy Council against order under S. 8 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

S. 120 (2) of the C. P. Code was repealed by Act III of 1909 with the result that all the portions of the Code applying to the Original side of the High Court also apply to insolvency matters—this result being consistent with S. 90 (1) of the Insolvency Act. Still it is doubtful whether the provisions of the C. P. Code, so made applicable include the Chapter relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council or should be confined to those relating to the procedure to be followed in the High Court. (Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF RANGOON v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS. 22 L. W. 362.

——S. 109—Appeal to the Privy Council is not open from order directing final decree to be passed in accordance with the preliminary decree passed by the Privy Council.

An order of the High Court passed on an application to pass a final decree according to the preliminary decree of the Privy Council, or to transfer it to the sub-Court for passing a final decree, is not a final judgment within the meaning of S. 109 of the C. P. Code and therefore no appeal lies to the Privy Council from such order. Such order is also of course, not a final decree. (Krishnan and Odgers, J.) S. GANGARAJU BAHADUR v. V. RAMACHANDRA DEO MAHARAJULUM. 20 L. W. 703 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 187.

——S. 109—Final order—Order of High Court refusing to interfere in revision.

An order of the High Court refusing to interfere in revision with the order of a Subordinate Court restoring to file a suit which had been first disposed of upon an alleged compromise between the parties is not a "final order" within the meaning of S. 109, C. P. Code. S. 105, C. P. Code, does not apply to appeals to His Majesty in Council and does not supply a guide to the interpretation of the word "final" in S. 109. (Spencer, O. C.J. and Devadoss, J.) JOHN JOSEPH BRITO v. BRITO. 46 M. L. J. 557 : 19 L. W. 408 : 34 M.L.T. 112: (1924) M. W. N. 380 :78 I. C. 938 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 701.

——S. 109—Order granting a review.

An order granting a review is not a final order, and no leave to appeal to His Majesty can be granted from such an order. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA IYER v. BIYARI BIVI. 43 M. L. J. 559 : 16 L.W. 623 : (1922) M.W.N. 731 : 32 M. L. T. 98 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 57.

——Ss. 109 and 110—Final order—Meaning of—Suit for dissolution of partnership and accounts.

To find out whether an order is a "final order" within S. 109, C. P. Code it is the effect of the order as determining the disputed right of a party not as formally concluding the proceedings which must be regarded as decisive. Where a suit for dissolution of partnership and accounts was dismissed as barred by limitation by the trial court but on appeal the High Court reversed that decision and remanded the case for the passing of a preliminary decree. Held that the order of the High Court as it finally declared plaintiff's right to an account, was a final order and was therefore appealable to the Privy Council. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) SATHAPPA CHETTY v. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY. 16 L. W. 718 : 43 M. L. J. 758 : 71 I. C. 334 : 31 M. L. T. 385 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 510.

——S. 109 and O. 40, R. 3—Disciplinary jurisdiction—Order suspending vakil from practice—Leave to appeal.

The High Court has no power to grant leave to appeal to the Privy Council in a case where an order is made by the court suspending a vakil from practice. 4 Pat. L. J. 423 ; 39 M. 128 ; 2 M. I. A. 428 Foll. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter, Kumaraswami Sastri, Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) E. RAGHAVA REDDI, In the matter of. 43 M. L. J. 382 : 31 M L. T. 173 (H. C.) : (1922) M. W. N. 530 : 16 L. W. 328 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 440 (F. B.).

——S. 109—Appeal—If lies—Test determining—Order granting review—Appeal.

In deciding whether leave to appeal to the Privy Council should be granted, a court should be guided by the same principles as in deciding whether an appeal to the High Court if the same order had been passed by a Subordinate Court. Thus when the High Court grants an application for review it is only if any one of the three grounds referred to in O. 47, R. 7 exists that leave to appeal can be granted. (Wasir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) JOGMOHAN SINGH

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109.

v. SHEO MANGAL SINGH. 90 I. C. 332.

——Ss. 109 and 110—Affirming judgment.

The decision of the appellate court affirms the decision of the court below if the decree is affirmed even though the appellate court may have reached the same conclusion on different grounds. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) MAHOMED ALI KHAN v. GHAZANFAR ALI KHAN. 25 O. C. 277 : 70 I. C 283 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 49.

——S. 109—Final order, meaning of—Order determining the competency of a person to apply is not final order.

An order to be final must finally determine the rights of the parties. An order which only determines the competency of an incorporated body as a judicial person, to apply for probate but does not determine whether it would be entitled to a grant of it if it applies is not final within S. 109. (Lindsay, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J.C.) SRI KRISHNA DAS v. BENARES HINDU UNIVERSITY. 60 I. C. 208 : 23 O. C. 324.

——S. 109—Application for leave to appeal—Probate Proceedings—Opposite party recognising applicant to be proper party—High Court will not enquire whether applicant has any locus standi to appeal.

The applicant filed a caveat in the Court of First Instance and the opposite party did not apply to have that caveat discharged. In other words, the opposite party recognized that the applicant was a proper party to the probate proceedings. The opposite party appealed to High Court and he made the applicant party respondent to the appeal, The opposite party succeeding in appeal the applicant applied for leave to appeal to Privy Council.

Held, the High Court was competent to enter upon the question whether the applicant had any locus standi to maintain the application. (Das and Adami, JJ) GENDAMONI DEBYA v. RAGHUNANDAN SINGH. (1925) P. H. C. C. 337 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 712 (1).

——Ss. 109 and 110—Final order—Substantial question of law—Co-decree holder allowed to join as executing decree-holder.

The High Court declined to interfere in revision with an order of the lower court allowing a co-decree holder to join in executing the decree. On an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council: Held that the order of the High Court was not a final order determining the rights of the parties in any matter in controversy between the parties and that leave to appeal should be refused. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) PRAKASH CHANDRA SARKAR v. BRINDABAN CHANDRA SARKAR. 4 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 93 : 3 Pat. L. T. 781 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 296 : 67 I. C. 911 : A. I. R, 1922 Pat. 611.

——S. 109—Fit case—Legal Practitioner—Refusal to enrol.

An order of High Court refusing to enrol a person as legal practitioner comes under its disciplinary or administrative powers and no leave to appeal to His Majesty can be granted. 4 Pat. L.J, 423 Foll. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) SUDHANSU BALA HAZRA, In re, 1 Pat. 590 : 4 Pat. L. T. 229 : 70 I. C. 172 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 603.

——S. 109—Applicability.

An order made by the High Court after contest by both the parties, which decides one way or the other whether an order by a lower Court recording a compromise agreement was valid, order is not an order by consent, and therefore the case is a proper case in which to issue certificate as to the fitness of the case to be taken to the Privy Council. (Dawson Miller, C.J. and Adami, J.) RAI KISHORE DAS v. RAM GULAM SAHU. 3 P.L.J. 61: A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 256.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109.

——S. 109—Fit case—Construction of statute.

A decision upon the construction of a section of a Tenancy Act, incidentally affecting the right of those who have tenures subject to the Act, is not enough to entitle a High Court to grant special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council under S. 109 of the Code. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) MRITUNJOY v. BALMUKUND. 2 Pat. L. T, 657 : 61 I. C. 663 : 6 Pat. L. J. 125.

——S. 109—Final order—Order of Subordinate Court dismissing a partition suit—High Court's order setting aside.

An order of the High Court setting aside an order of the Subordinate Court dismissing a partition suit for default after preliminary decree has been passed is a final order within S. 109. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) LACHMI NARAIN v. BAL MUKUND. 2 Pat. L. T. 155 : 60 I. C. 479 : 6 Pat. L. J. 116.

——S. 109—Final order—Order dismissing an appeal.

No appeal lies from an order dismissing an appeal in default of the appellant's compliance with the rules of the Court as to the composition of the paper book in the case. (Miller, C. J. and B. K. Mullick, J.) RAJENDRA KISHORE v. KAMA KHYA NARAIN SINGH. 2 Pat. L. T. 112 : 5 P. L. J. 719 : 60 I. C. 285 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 97.

——S. 109—Ordinarily order of remand is merely interlocutory—But if decisive of a cardinal point in a suit, it is "final."

Ordinarily an order of remand is merely an interlocutory order ; but, that does not finally decide the question, and if the order in question has the effect of deciding finally the cardinal point in the suit, it must be held to be a final order from which leave to appeal should be granted. Where the suit was an administration suit by a Mahomedan widow, and the defence thereto was that she had been validly divorced.

Held that the main point in dispute between the parties was whether the plaintiff had been legally divorced or not. The decision on that point in defendants' favour would put an end to the whole suit, and so the point was the cardinal point in the suit and an order of remand by the High Court, relating to the point must be held to be a final order within S. 109, Civ. Pro. Code. 38 Mad. 509 ; 33 All. 391 ; 25 All. 629; 15 Bom. 155 ; 17 All. 112; 35 Cal. 618 Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Bagnley, J.) MA MI v. KALENTHER AMMAL. 3 Bur. L. J. 248 · 84 I. C. 519 : A I. R. 1925 Rang. 147.

——S. 109 and O. 41, R. 17—Order of dismissal of appeal for default is not appeal.

Order, dismissing application for restoration of the appeal dismissed for default, is not a decree or final order passed in appeal nor an order passed in the exercise of the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court and so no appeal lies to Privy Council from the Order. 37 I. C. 832, Foll. (Young, Offg. C. J. and May Oung, J.) MAUNG SAW MYAING v. MG. SEIN. 2 Bur. L. J. 294 : 79 I. C. 504 : A. I R. 1924 Rang. 208.

——S. 109 (a) and (b)—Final order—Order of remand—Appeal to His Majesty in Council.

Semble. Where the High Court on appeal reverses the decision of the Court below and directs certain accounts to be taken not because his liability was established but for the purpose of determining his liability the order is a "final order" from which an appeal would lie to His Majesty in Council (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) SANYASI CHARAN MANDAL v. KRISHNA-

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109.

DHAN BANERJI. 49 Cal. 560 : 43 M. L. J. 41 : 16 L. W. 536 : (1922) M. W. N. 364 : 26 C. W. N. 954 : 35 C. L. J. 498 : L. R. 3 (P.C.) 133 : 30 M. L. T. 228 : 20 A. L. J. 409 : 24 Bom. L. R. 700 : 67 I. C. 124 : 49 I.A. 108 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 237 (P. C.).

——S. 109 (a) and (c)—Order passed "on appeal" —Order of High Court in Revision against an order accepting an award.

The High Court refused to interfere in revision under S. 115 of the C. P. Code against an order of the Dt. Judge accepting an award, by an application for leave to appeal to Privy Council against the order of the High Court, held that leave could not be granted as the order of the High Court was not an order passed "on appeal" within S. 109 (a) of the C.P. Code. Held also that leave should not be granted under clause (c) as the policy of the law is to make all decisions in arbitration cases final. (Lindsay, J, and Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SURAJ SINGH v. PHOL KUMARI. 90 I. C. 904 : 23 A. L. J. 997.

——S. 109 (a)—Final order—Interlocutory order.

The substantial portion of the order which the applicants complained of in their petition for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council was really passed on the Civil Extraordinary application, but it did not finally dispose of the rights of the parties and the suit was left at practically the stage at which it was when filed.

Held, it cannot be said that this is a final order within the meaning of S. 109 (a) or that it is a final judgment within the meaning of Cl. 39 of the Letters Patent. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) SHRINIWAS v. HANMAT. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 39.

——S. 109 (a)—Compromise not recorded and suit ordered to proceed as usual—Order is not "final."

An order that an alleged compromise should not be recorded and that the suit should proceed in the usual way is not a "final order". 10 M. I. A. 340 Ref.

Per Rankin, J.—Whether the character of finality can be rightly claimed in respect of an order must be determined with reference to the precise relation in which it stands to the proceeding before the Court. 13 C. L. J. 90 Foll. (Sandersen, C.J. and Rankin, J.) SOURENDRA NATH MITTER v. SM. TARUBALA DASSI. 29 C. W. N. 832 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 857.

——S. 109 (a)—On appeal, meaning of.

A decree of the High Court dismissing an appeal with costs on the ground that it was out of time, after refusing an application under Limitation Act, S. 5, is one 'passed on appeal'. (Sanderson, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) PROMOTHO NATH ROY v. LEE. 62 I. C. 216 : 33 C. L. J. 128.

——S. 109 (a)—Meaning of final order—Order of remand by High Court—If final order—Test.

In a suit brought by the Plaintiffs under S. 92 for the removal of the defendants from the office of executors appointed under a will, and it was contended that the Plaintiffs had no locus standi having no interest in the trust, and the High Court remanded the case for trial holding they had locus standi, the defendants applied for leave to sue to the Privy Council. It was contended that the order of the High Court was not a 'final order' within the meaning of S. 109(a). C. P Code. Held, on a reference to the Full Bench Sir Shadi Lal, C. J. Broadway and Harrison, JJ.—Refusing application for leave to appeal under S. 107 (a), C. P. Code—that the principle deduced from the judgment in Rahimbhoy Nahbhoy v. S. A. Turner (15 Bom. 155 P. C.) Saiyad Muzhag Hussain v. Mussammat Bodha Bibi, (17 All. 112) and Ramchand v. Goverdhandhas, 47 C. 918 is to the effect, that an order comprising the decision of the High Court upon a cardinal issue in a suit and which while that decision stands cannot be disputed again is a final order for purpose of appeal to Privy Council. Held, further that a matter of procedure can never be treated as a cardinal point in the suit and that an order of remand in this case is not a final order and the test of finality is whether the order as made finally disposes of the rights of the parties.

Per Broadway, J.—It is the nature of the order sought to be appealed against that determines the right to appeal, and that an order is a final order, only, if it puts an end to the litigation between the parties or disposes of substantially the matter in issue so as to leave merely subordinate matter for decision. (Sir Shadi Lal, C. J. Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) SULTAN SINGH v. MURLIDHAR. 5 Lah. 329 : 80 I. C. 366 : 6 S. L. J. 240 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 571 (F. B.).

——S. 109 (a)—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council—Order of remand.

Where the High Court in remanding a suit merely decided that the plaintiffs had a locus standi to institute the suit under S. 92, C. P. Code and directed the Court below to try the other issues. Held, that the order of the High Court was not a final order and leave to appeal to the Privy Council could not be granted. The test of finality is whether the order as made finally disposes of the rights of parties. Cases reviewed. (Shadi Lal, C. J., Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) RAI BAHADUR LALA SULTAN SINGH v. LALA MURLI DHAR. 5 L. 329 : 6 Lah. L. J. 240 : A.I.R. 1924 Lah. 571.

——S. 109 (a)—Final Order—Order rejecting application to appeal as pauper is not final.

Order rejecting an application to appeal as pauper is not a final order as it is even then open to the applicant to file the appeal on payment of Court-fees. (Daniels, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) SUNDAR BAHU v. MAHANDIE. 20. W. N. 393 : 88 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 548.

——S. 109, Cl. (a) and (c)—Fit case—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council—Order of remand—When appealable.

Ss. 97 and 105 of the C. P. Code do not regulate the right of appeal to His Majesty in Council, for an order which the Code declares to be final may yet be open to an appeal to His Majesty in Council, if the effect of the order is to negative the right of a party to continue the suit. Such an order would have the effect of finally determining the rights of the parties. The nature of the order in each case would determine whether it was final or interlocutory. If the order finally disposes of the rights of the parties, it ought to be treated as final order, but if it did not it is an interlocutory order from which no appeal could be entertained. Where the order in question did not finally determine the rights of the parties but merely disposed of a subsidiary issue, the determination of which would require the continuation of the trial, held that if the suit ultimately failed on the merits an appeal to the Privy Council might become wholly unnecessary and that leave to appeal to the Privy Council could not be granted. To determine whether special leave should be given it must be borne in mind that what is contemplated in S. 109 (c) of the C.P.Code is a class of cases in which there may be involved questions of public importance, or which may be important precedents governing numerous other cases, or in which, while the right in dispute is not exactly measurable in money, it is of great public or private importance. Cases reviewed. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109 (a).

MAHOMED KARIM KHAN v. SADIQ HUSAIN.
O. L. J. 289 : 71 I. C. 339 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 81.

——S. 109 (a) and (c)—Refusal to appoint a receiver does not come under S.109 (a)—The contingency in case receiver was appointed of two receivers being appointed by different High Courts for the same property and a conflict of jurisdiction arising therefrom was held not to invite the application of S. 109 (c).

In a mortgage deed, the mortgagee was given the right in the event of suit being filed, to apply for the appointment of a Receiver to take possession of the land and the deed provided that he might do that without any further consent on the part of the mortgagor. Owing to certain complications due to other legal proceedings, the High Court on appeal refused to appoint a Receiver in the mortgage suit by the mortgagees.

Held that this was not a final order within the meaning of S. 109 (a) of C. P. Code. The appointment of a Receiver is in no way a matter which finally determines the rights of the parties. Though but for the special complications which had arisen, upon an application being made on the mortgage suit being filed the Court would have appointed a Receiver forthwith in this case, the matter is one entirely for the discretion of the Court and whichever way the Court decided it certainly does not finally determine any of the rights of the parties which have arisen out of the mortgage bond. The fact that a Receiver had already been appointed by another High Court and that therefore if another Receiver were appointed according to the mortgagee's wishes there would apparently be conflict of jurisdiction between the two Courts and therefore a question would arise as to what was to be done in such contingency was held to be not in itself sufficient to require the exercise of jurisdiction under S. 109 (c). 22 Cal. 928 and 13 C. L. J. 507 Ref. to. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) MAGNI RAM BUNGAR v. SRIDHAR CHOUDHURY. 6 P. L. T. 119 : 82 I.C. 176 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 173.

——S. 109 (c)—Fit case—Certificate under—Nature.

A certificate granted S. 109 (c) must show on its face that the discretion conferred by that section has in fact been exercised. (Lord Buckmaster.) RADHAKRISHNA AYYAR v. SWAMINATHA AIYAR.
40 M. L. J. 229 : 44 Mad. 293 : 48 I. A. 31 : 19 A.L.J. 161 : 23 Bom. L. R. 718 : 25 C. W. N. 630 : 33 C. L. J 277 : 13 L. W. 321 : 29 M.L.T. 418 : 60 I.C. 85 : (1921) M.W.N. 119 (P.C.).

——S. 109 (c)—Order, meaning of—Fit case.

The "order" is obviously intended to be not merely a final order and the expression is wide enough to include any order. Where there is involved a matter of real importance, namely, as to whether the Court has jurisdiction to make an order, the case is a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council under S 109 (c). (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SHIVAPRASAD SINGH v. RANI PRAYAG KUMARI.
26 C. W. N. 819 : 70 I. C. 519 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 130.

——Ss. 109 (c) and 110—Leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council—"Substantial question of law"—Acknowledgment of debt.

Where following other case previously decided, the High Court held that an acknowledgment of a debt was not given to supply evidence of such debt within the meaning of Art. 1 of Sch. I of the Stamp Act, it cannot be said that the case is of public or great private importance or such an important precedent as to justify the grant of leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council under S. 109 (c) of the Civil Procedure Code. 44 M. L. J. 217, Foll. (Schwabe, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) ANANTALAL DAMANI v. SURJIMULL MURLIDHAR CHANDICK. 46 M. L. J. 239 : 19 L. W. 372 : 34 M. L. T. 1 : (1924) M. W. N. 319 : 78 I. C. 165 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 616.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109 (c).

——S. 109 (c)—Fit case—Construction of agreement—Question affecting rights of considerable private importance.

The construction of an agreement which would affect rights of great public or private importance is a matter regarding which leave to appeal to the Privy Council can be given under S. 109 (c). (Schwabe, C. J. and Coleridge, J.) NATTU KESAVA MUDALIAR v. U.S. GOVINDACHARIAR. 45 M.L.J. 514: 18 L.W. 348: (1924)M.W.N. 3: 76 I.C. 811 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 231.

——Ss.109 (c), 110 and O. 45, R. 4—Substantial question of law—Different suits involving substantially same questions—Separate judgment in the first Court—Same judgment on appeals—Latter judgment.

Two suits involving substantially the same questions were decided by distinct judgments in the first Court. There were two appeals to the High Court which were disposed of originally by one judgment. Afterwards in one of the appeals a review petition was filed and eventually that appeal was reheard on review and another judgment was given which adopted the original judgment in appeal to the extent to which it still stood. On an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council in the High Court in the latter case and for consolidation for the purpose of pecuniary valuation. Held, that consolidation could not be ordered under O. 45, R. 4 of the C. Pr. Code as the judgments which decided the suits were different in the first Court and on appeal. The fact that leave to appeal was given in the other case does not bring the latter case within the terms of S. 109 (c) of the Code. 5 I.C. 583 not followed. For leave to appeal to the Privy Council being granted under S. 109 (c) of Code some substantial question of law of general importance must be involved in the case. 24 A. 174 : 30 M. 185 Ref. to. (Oldfield and Krishnan, JJ.) B. RAJA RAJESWARA SETHUPATHI alias MUTHU RAMALINGA SETUPATTI AVERGAL v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR. 44 M. L. J. 424 : 73 I. C. 217 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 602 :

——Ss. 109 (c) and 110—Substantial question of law—Land tenure—Forfeiture on alienation.

The question whether the permanent tenures known as Karamkuri and Adimayavana in Malabar have the incident of forfeiture on alienation attached to them by custom is a substantial question of law and one of general interest in Malabar sufficient to justify the grant of leave to appeal to the Privy Council even though the valuation is less than Rs. 10,000. 45 Mad. 394 Foll. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ZAMORIN OF CALICUT v. KANNAN NAIR.
17 L. W. 445 : 72 I C. 918 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 443.

——S.109 (c)—Substantial question of law--What is—Costs of appeal to Privy Council—Order as to.

S. 109 (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure, contemplates a class of cases in which there may be involved questions of public importance, or which may be important precedents governing numerous other cases, or, in which, while the right in dispute is not exactly measurable in money, it is of great public or private importance. Where the point in issue appears to be of general importance to the appellant but not of sufficient importance to the proposed respondent to warrant the High Court in putting him to the expense of an appeal to the higest tribunal, the High Court must refuse leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council. The High Court has no power, in granting leave to appeal, to impose a condition that the appellant should, in any event, pay all the costs of the other party. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) RAJA RAJESWARA SETHUPATHI v. TIRUNEELAKANTAM SERVAI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 109 (c).

44 M. L. J. 217 : 17 L.W. 775 : (1923) M.W.N. 415 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 126 · 72 I. C. 250 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 232.

——S. 109 (c)—Substantial question of law.

To come within S. 109 (c) C. P. Code, it must be shown that the decision sought to be appealed against might result in a precedent governing numerous other cases or decides a right of great public or private importance. 21 I. C. 783 Ref. (Oldfield and Spencer, JJ.) ALAGAPPA CHETTY v. NACHIAPPAN

43 M.L.J. 728 : 16 L.W 517 : (1922) M.W.N. 683 : 31 M.L.T. 335 : 69 I. C. 385 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 125.

——S. 109 (c)—Fit case—Decree by nature not appealable—No certificate for fitness can be granted.

Where a decree passed by the High Court is such that had it been passed by a Subordinate Court no appeal would have lain to the High Court, no leave would be granted for an appeal to his Majesty in Council against such a decree of the High Court. (Wazir Hasan and Simson, A. J. Cs.) JAGMOHAN SINGH v. SHEO MANGAL SINGH. 90 I. C. 332 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 17 (2).

——S. 109 (c)—Case must be of public or private importance or general interest—Discretion should be sparingly used.

Clause (c) of S.109, C.P. Code was intended to meet special cases, such, for example, as those in which the point in dispute was not measurable by money, though it might be of great public or private importance. To determine whether a case is of great public or private importance, though it is left entirely in the discretion of the Court is a judicial process, which could not be performed without the special exercise of that discretion evinced by the fitting certificate. The discretion thus vested in the Court, has been always very sparingly used. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.) MAHOMED KARIM KHAN v. MIRZA SADIQ HUSAIN. 10 O. L. J. 289 : 71 I. C. 339 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 81.

——S. 109 (c)—Fit case—Applicability—No question of general interest.

Where there is no question of general interest but merely a question affecting the parties alone S. 109 (c) C. P. Code is inapplicable. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A.J.Cs.) SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH v. UDIT NARAIN SINGA. 61 I. C. 131 : 8 O.L. J. 1.

——S. 109 (e)—Considerations governing.

Where the value involved in the case is very large and the decision of the High Court was based on findings of fact which reversed the findings of the Trial Court and the High Court acted on evidence which was not at all before the Trial Court and there was a question of procedure of a somewhat unusual character upon which a higher tribunal was likely to take a different view, the combined effect of these matters made the matter a fit one for certification under S. 109 (c), though the powers under the sub-section are to be used sparingly. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAO BAHADUR MAN SINGH v. NAWLAKHBATI. 5 Pat. L. T. 17 : 75 I.C. 58 : 2 Pat. L. R. 48 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 468.

——S. 110.

Affirming or Reversing Judgment.
Connected appeals, Suits and Cross Appeals.
Decree or consent decree.
Construction.
Leave to appeal.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Affirming or Reversing Judgment.

Substantial question of law.
Valuation.
Affirming or Reversing Judgment.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—No substantial question of law need be involved if there is a small variation by the appellate Court in the lower Court's decree.

Where the appellate Court increased the amount of maintenance payable to deft. from Rs. 800 to Rs. 1,200 a year and in other respects confirmed the lower Court's decree.

Held, for purposes of appeal to Privy Council no substantial question of law need be involved, as the lower Court's decree was not 'affirmed' but 'varied' by the appellate Court. (Lord Dunedin.) ANNAPURNA BAI v. RUPRAO. 51 Cal. 969 : 51 I. A. 319 : 86 I. C. 504 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 60 (P.C.).

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—Modification of decree in favour of party seeking to appeal—Appeal directed agains tpart which was affirmed.

A decree on a mortgage bond which was passed by the Court of first instance was affirmed in appeal with a modification as to the rate of interest : the mortgagor claimed a right to appeal to the Privy Council on the basis of this modification, but wanted to impeach the genuineness and validity of the mortgage deed, as to which both the Courts had concurred.

Held, the subject-matter of the appeal not being the modification as regards interest, and there being an affirmance of the decree of the Court below on the question of the validity of the mortgage deed, the application for leave to appeal must fail. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) KAMAL NATH v. BITHAL DAS.

44 A. 200 : 20 A. L. J. 9 : L. R. 3 All. 83 : 64 I. C. 916 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 89.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—Modification of First Court's decree is not affirmation.

A decree of the High Court which modifies that of the Lower Court to whatsoever extent is not a decree of affirmance within S. 110 of the Code and the party prejudiced is entitled to the grant of leave to appeal to the Privy Council. (Mears, C. J. and Gokul Prasad, J.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. ALLAHABAD BANK.

43 All. 220 : 19 A.L. J. 3 : 64 I. C. 3 : 2 U. P. L R (A.) 363.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—High Court—Variation of decree as to costs.

Where the High Court dismisses an appeal on the merits, but varies the Lower Court's decree as to costs, the decree is still one of affirmance and a party is not entitled to appeal to the Privy Council. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) CHAITANYA CHARAN v. MOHAMMED YUSUF. 34 C. L. J. 299 : 66 I. C. 407 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 316

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—Modification of Lower Court's decree with consent of Vakil for appellant.

Where the High Court varied a decree of the Lower Court at the instance of the Vakil for all the appellants with the result that one of the appellants was benefited at the expense of all the appellants and it was not suggested that the Vakil in making the application made any reservation as to the rights or position of the other appellants. Held, that the decree was a decree of affirmance. (Sanderson, C.J. and Richardson, J.) UMA CHARAN v. KANAI LAL.

66 I. C. 621 : 25 C. W. N. 775.

——S. 110 (3)—Affirming judgment—Variation in decree regarding costs.

A variation, not touching the merits of the case but relating only to costs, does not make the decree anything other than an affirming decree. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) VADIVELU AMMAL v. RAJARATNA MUDALIAR. 30 M. L. T. 337 : 16 L. W, 262 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 30.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Affirming or revers ng Judgment.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—Substantial question of law.

In the case of an affirming judgment, leave to appeal to the Privy Council can be granted only if there is a substantial question of law, i.e., a question of law in respect of which there may be a difference of opinion (Baker, J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) NAGARMAL v. ABDUL RAHMAN. 89 I. C. 941.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment--Decree is 'affirmed' though the decision is based on different grounds.

Where the High Court in dismissing an appeal proceeded, in some respects, on grounds different from those adopted by the Trial Court, the decision of the High Court amounts to an affirmation of the decree of the First Court within the meaning of S. 110, 24 O.C. 164 Foll. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) MD. SHER KHAN v. MT. KAMAL-UN-NISSA. 83 I. C. 90 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 219.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment.

It is enough for the purpose of S. 110 of the Code, for the High Court in order "to affirm the decision of the Court below" to affirm the decree of the Trial Court, even though on grounds quite different from those of the trial Court. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, J. Cs.) AHMAD MIRZA BEG v. ABADI BEGUM, 63 I. C. 292 : 24 O. C. 164 (1).

——S. 110—Affirming judgment—What is—Findings reversed—Effect.

In an appeal the High Court though it affirmed the decision of the Court below, reversed many of the findings arrived at by the trial Court. Held even in the absence of concurrent findings, the decision of the High Court is not affirming decision for the purposes of S. 110, C. P. Code. It is not necessary that a judgment of affirmance should be based upon precisely the same reason as those given by the Court below. The term "decision" in the section means only the decree or order passed and not the reasons therefor. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAO BAHADUR MAN SINGH v. NAWLAKHBATI. 5 Pat. L. T. 17 : 75 I. C. 58 : 2 Pat L.R. 48 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 468.

——S. 110—Affirming judgment.

The word decision means the decision of the suit by the Court. It is not necessary that the appellate Court should also affirm the grounds of fact upon which the judgment was based. It is immaterial that appellate Court comes to a different conclusion on the question of fact. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) SEN S. N. v. ABDUL AZIZ TAR MD. 1 Bur. L. J. 215 : 11 L.B.R. 410 : A.I.R. 1923 Rang. 55.

Connected Appeals—Suits and Cross Appeals.

——S. 110 and O. 45, R. 4—Connected suits—Privy Council appeals—Certificate.

Where in two connected suits the points are identical but one only exceeds Rs. 10,000 in value and is certified as fit for appeal to the Privy Council, the other suit should also be similarly certified though its subject-matter is less than Rs. 10,000 in value. (Mears, C. J. and Gokul Prasad, J.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. BHAWANI DAS. 43 All. 223 : 18 A. L. J. 1119 : 59 I. C. 794 : 2 U.P.L.R. (A.) 411.

Construction.

——S. 110—Construction—Section need not be widely construed.

No real mischief can arise from not allowing a very wide construction of S. 110 because such cases, if worthy of being tried by a higher tribunal, can always be dealt with under sub-section (c) of S. 109. (Lord Dunedin.) UDOY CHAND PANNALAL v. P. E. GUZDAR & CO. 49 M. L. J. 20 : 52 Cal. 650 : 52 I. A. 207 : 27 Bom. L. R. 867 : 88 I. C. 445 : 41 C. L. J. 623 : 22 L. W. 255 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 159 (P. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Leave to appeal.

Decree or Consent Decree.

——S. 110—Decree or consent decree—Consent order.

An order of the High Court passed after contest as to whether an order recording a compromise is valid, is not a consent order and if it otherwise complies with the requirements of law forms a fit subject for appeal to His Majesty in Council. (Miller, C.J. and Adami, J.) RAJ KISHORE DAS v. RAM GHULAM SAHU. 6 Pat. L. J. 171 : 62 I. C. 235 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 193.

Leave to Appeal.

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Petitioner praying leave in respect of decision involving a claim of Rs. 3,900—Petition cannot be granted.

A dispute arising out of a contract of sale was referred to arbitrators ; the arbitrators were unable to agree and ex parte awards were made, one in favour of the petitioner for Rs. 81,000 odd, the other in favour of the respondents for Rs. 3,900 odd. Subsequently the High Court on application of the respondents, set aside the award in favour of the petitioner. The petitioner then raised a suit to set aside the award in favour of the respondents. The High Court in its original jurisdiction set it aside, but on appeal the Appeal Court reversed and dismissed the suit. The petitioner applied for leave to appeal, but this was refused upon the ground that the sum involved was neither directly nor indirectly of the value of Rs. 10,000.

Held : that the case neither fell within para. 1 nor para. 2 of S. 110 and that the petition was rightly refused. (Lord Dunedin.) UDOYCHAND PANNALAL v. P. E. GUZDAR & CO. 49 M.L.J. 20 :22 L.W. 255 : 52 Cal. 650 : 52 I. A. 207 : 27 Bom. L. R. 867 : 88 I. C. 445 : 41 C. L. J. 623 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 159 : (P. C.).

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Discretion—Exercise of.

Where leave to appeal is granted the certificate granting leave should show on its face, that discretion of the Court was invoked and exercised. (Lord Buckmaster.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. BALCHAND CHOWDHURY. 25 C. W. N. 770 : 6 Pat. L. J. 163 : 2 P. L. T. 132 ; (1921) M. W. N. 87 : 62 I. C. 320 : 13 L. W. 365 (P. C.).

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Grounds—Point not allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal—Appeal.

In a second appeal arising out of a suit for specific performance filed on the last day of limitation a point was for the first time raised in the High Court that specific performance ought not to be granted as there was extraordinary delay in filing the suit and also because damages had been alternatively asked for. The Court refused the point to be raised at that late stage.

Held, the question of procedure involved was not a proper one for appeal to His Majesty in Council. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) OUDH NARAYAN SINGH v. KAULESHWER SINGH. 76 I. C. 516 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 463.

——S 110—Leave to appeal—Decree of High Court partly affirming and partly reversing decree of lower Court.

When a portion of the decree of the High Court was in reversal of the decree of the lower Court and in favour of the applicant for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, and the remaining portion of the decree was in confirmation of the decree of the lower Court and against the applicant for leave, he is not entitled to leave as a matter of right under S. 110, C. P. Code. 8 C. W. N. 294 : 20 A. L. J. 9 Ref. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) CHANDER SEKHAR v. MT. AMIR BEGUM. 66 I. C. 721 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 243 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Leave to appeal.

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Suit for declaration without consequential relief—Value given in plaint for jurisdiction must be held to be market value and where defendant applies for leave to appeal to Privy Council plaintiff cannot go behind the plaint and show value is less than Rs. 10,000.

On an application by the defendant for leave to appeal to the Privy Council against the appellate decree in a suit where the suit was for declaration without consequential relief falling under Sch. II, cl. 17 of the Court-Fees Act, the value given in the plaint for purposes of jurisdiction must be held to be the market value of the subject-matter of the suit, and where it has been stated to be Rs. 10,000 the defendant having accepted the valuation so given, it is not open to the plaintiff to show that the value of the subject matter is less than Rs. 10,000. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RATTAYYA v. A. BRAHMAYYA. 49 M. L. J. 309 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1223.

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Execution—Further applications time barred.

Where further applications for execution were time barred and the sum realised in execution as to which there was dispute between joint decree holders was only 1300 though the unsatisfied balance under the decree executed was Rs. 10,000 held, leave could not be granted to appeal to His Majesty. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) PRAKASH CHANDRA SARKAR v. BRINDABAN CH. SARKAR. 3 P. L. T. 781 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 296 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 611.

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Defendant not taking interest in the proceedings.

Where a defendant does not take interest in the prosecution of the suit and leaves it entirely to his co-defendant he cannot separately prefer an appeal to His Majesty in Council. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) NIBARAN CHANDRA v. PRATAP UDAI NATH SAHA. 2 Pat. L. T. 173 : 60 I. C. 500 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 129.

——S. 110—Leave to appeal—Similar decree in both Lower Courts—Value less than Rs. 10,000.

If the value is less than Rs. 10,000 and the would-be appellant to His Majesty in Council has lost his case in both the Lower Courts he cannot, except in very exceptional cases, get a certificate though a substantial question of law is involved. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) ALIBHAI MAHOMED v. B. I. S. N. CO. 62 I.C. 71 : 10 L. B. R. 307.

Substantial question of law.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Sale with option to re-purchase—Mortgage by conditional sale.

Where broad general principles applicable to a case have already been subjected to much discussion and analysis and there is no difficulty in ascertaining what are the principles, but the difficulty arises in their application, the difficulty of application is not a matter which can come under the words "substantial question of law" in S. 110, C. P. Code. Thus the High Court refused to grant leave to appeal to the Privy Council in a case where the question was whether a transaction amounted to a mortgage by conditional sale or a sale with an option for re-purchase. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) BISHAMBHAR NATH v. MD UBAIDULLAH. 46 A. 227 : L. R. 5 A. 158 : 79 I. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 559.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Substantial question of law.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Abatement.

In a suit for possession by a Hindu widow the defendant pleaded that the suit was not maintainable in as much as a previous suit by the predecessor-in-interest of the plaintiff had abated under O. 22, R. 9 of the Civil Procedure Code and that the plaintiff having adopted a son during the pendency of the suit she was not competent to continue it without bringing the adopted son on record. The High Court held that the previous suit had not abated and that in view of an agreement between the widow and the father of the adopted boy by vesting the management of the estate of the widow during the minority of the boy the widow could continue the suit in her own name. Held, that the decision involved no substantial question of law of general importance within the meaning of the S. 110 of the Civil Procedure Code and leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council should not be granted. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) BU ALI KHAN v. RANI SUJAN KUAR. 45 A. 667 : 21 A. L. J. 665 : 75 I. C. 100 : L. R. 4 A. 298 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 66.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law.

To justify the grant of a certificate for leave to appeal to the Privy Council a substantial question of law must be involved in the case, i.e., question of law in respect of which there is a difference of opinion. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) PARSHOTTAM SARAN v. HARGU LAL. 43 All. 513 : 63 I. C 837 : 19 A. L. J. 462.

——S. 110 (3)—Substantial question of law—Discretionary matter—Practice.

The question of rightful or wrongful exercise of its discretion by the High Court does not involve any substantial question of law within S. 110 (3) of the Civil Procedure Code. The High Court declined to grant a certificate for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, where the only appeal which the appellant could make would be to ask the Privy Council to hold that the High Court had wrongly exercised its discretion in refusing to grant leave, under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent, to file an additional statement. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GOVINDLAL BANSILAL v. BANSILAL MOTILAL. 46 Bom. 249 : 24 Bom. L. R. 196 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 11.

——S. 110 (c)—Substantial question of law—Fit case must be clear.

Where from the record it is not clear whether resumptions by several strangers were for exactly the same grounds as those in suit, the case does not involve questions of wide public importance. (Sanderson, C. J. and Ghose, J.) BHUPENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v. NURPUT SINGH. 27 C.W.N. 204: A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 451.

——S. 110 (3)—Substantial question of law—Decree of High Court dismissing appeal, yet varying decree of lower Court—Effect.

Where the High Conrt dismissed an appeal with costs, but yet made one substantial variation which amounted to overruling the decision of the lower Court on that point, it cannot be held there was an affirmance of the decision of the Court below. Hence a substantial question of law was not necessary for appealing to the Privy Council. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) NAGENDRABALA DASI v. DINANATH. 26 C. W. N. 651 : 70 I. C. 933 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 251.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Substantial question of law.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Laches in filing paper book.

Where the only question for the Judicial Committee was whether the High Court was right in dismissing the appeal on the ground that the appellant was guilty of laches in filing the paper book of his appeal, there is no substantial question of law. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J., MARIUM BEGUM v. BANKU BEHARY BOSE. 62 I. C. 205 (1) : 33 C. L. J. 131.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Question of custom depending on evidence.

When the Courts in India have held that a custom of pre-emption claimed in a suit had been established by overwhelming evidence and there was not a single instance where a claim of pre-emption had not been allowed, there is no substantial question of law justifying the grant of leave to appeal to the Privy Council. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) GOKAL CHAND v. SANWAL DAS. 5 Lah. 260 : 6 Lah. L. J. 180 : 78 I. C. 417 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 473.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Time to make up Court-fee.

The Court has discretion to grant or refuse to grant time for making up deficient Court fee, and whether a Court has used proper discretion in a particular case is a substantial question of law. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Moti Sagar, J.) SAGAR CHAND v. DEWAT RAM. 63 I. C. 222 (1) (L.).

——S. 110 (3)—Substantial question of law.

What the last clause of S. 110, C. P. Code, requires is substantial questions of law and not mere question of law. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) VADIVELU AMMAL v. RAJARATNA MUDALIAR. 30 M.L.T. 337 : 16 L.W. 262 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 30.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Evidence necessary to prove custom.

The question whether the evidence produced in a case to establish a custom is sufficient to prove it is a question of law, but not a substantial question of law within the meaning of S. 110, C. P. Code. (Baker, J. C.) JAGESHWAR TUKARAM v. PANDURANG. 90 I. C. 270.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Question on which there is difference of opinion.

In order to justify the grant of a certificate for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, the High Court must be satisfied that a substantial question of law is involved in the case ; that is to say, a question of law in respect of which there may be a difference of opinion. 43 All. 513 Ref. (Baker, J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) NAGURMUL v. ABDUL RAHMAN. 89 I. C. 941 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 5.

——Ss. 110 and 109 (c)—Substantial question of law—Question of general importance.

In order to obtain leave to appeal to the Privy Council where the valuation is not above Rs 10,000 application must show that the questions involved are generally important in the way that the decision of them will affect a large number of persons. (Batten, J. C.) MOHANLAL BALBHADRA v. BISSESARDAS. 73 I. C. 221 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 272.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Whether prior mortgagee in possession can apply under O. 21, R. 89 and whether T. P. Act, S. 72 (d) applies to such sale—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 89—T. P. Act, S. 72 (b).

Whether a prior mortgagee in possession can apply under O.21, R. 89 to set aside a sale where such a sale has taken place in pursuance of a decree obtained by a subsequent mortgagee of a simple mortgage in a suit to which the prior mortgagee was not a party and whether cl. (b) of S. 72, T. P. Act, applies to such a sale are substantial questions of law within the meaning of S. 110, C.P. Code. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) JAGANNATH SINGH v. JAG JEWAN DAS. 2 O. W. N. 860 : A. I. R 1926 Oudh 17 (1).

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Decree transferred for execution—Application for substitution made to second Court—Whether application is according to law is a substantial question of law within S. 110.

The question, whether an application made for substitution to a Court to which execution is transferred is according to law, is a substantial question of law within S. 110. (Dalal, J. C. and Misra, A. J. C.) JANG BAHADUR v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA. 88 I. C. 552 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 728.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—General interest—Leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council.

Where owing to the faulty procedure of the Board of Revenue a specific property belonging to a disqualified proprietor was not taken over under management by the Court of Wards and the ward gave a mortgage of that property and the High Court having held that the ward was incompetent to contract under S. 11 of the Indian Contract Act and the presumption under S. 15 of the Courts of Wards Act (III of 1899) (Local) was unrebuttable the questions involved in the appeal, though raising questions of law, were not substantial in the sense that they may be debatable, of general interest, on without previous decisions of the Privy Council to guide Indian Courts so as to justify grant of a certificate. 30 C. 539 and 26 O. C. 223 Ref. to. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) LALA HARI KISHUN DAS v. CH. MOHAMMAD SAFI JAN. 1 O. W. N. 608 : 85 I. C. 409 : 28 O. C. 34 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 545.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Legatees attesting the will—Question as to their intention is not a substantial one of question.

The question whether the legatees signing the will as witnesses did not intend to attest the will is not a substantial question of law. (Daniels, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHIAM SUNDAR SINGH v. JAGANNATH SINGH. 88 I. C. 579 : 2 O. W. N. 394 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 541.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Interpretation of document may amount to.

The interpretation of a document may amount to a substantial question of law but that depends on the circumstances of every document. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) MD. SHER KHAN v. MT. KAMAL-UN-NISSA. 83 I. C. 90 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 219.

——S. 110 (2)—Substantial question of law—Construction of deed.

Mere questions of construction of particular documents cannot be treated as questions of general importance or substantial question of law within the meaning of S. 110. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C. and Simpson, A. J.C.) SARSUTI PRASAD v. MUHSHI EHTISHAM ALI. 25 O. C. 349 . 73 I. C. 407 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 214.

——S. 110—Substantial question of law—Exercise of discretion in S. 90 of Evidence Act.

The exercise of discreton under S. 90 of the Evidence Act is not a substantial question of law within the meaning of S. 110 of the Code. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J.Cs.) SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH v. UDIT NARAIN SINGH. 61 I. C. 131 : 8 O. L. J. 1.

S. 110—Substantial question of law—Issue given up re-opened.

Where an issue given up in the trial Court is allowed to be re-opened in appeal and fresh evidence let in, the propriety of the same is not a substantial question of law within the meaning of S.110. (Miller, C.J. and Mullick, J.) RAO BAHADUR MAN SINGH v. NAWLAKHBATI. 5 Pat. L. T. 17 : 75 I. C. 58 : 2 Pat. L. R. 48 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 468.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Substantial question of law.

——— S. 110—Substantial question of law—Several decisions of Court—Point of law.

There has been a number of cases beginning in the year 1868 and going down to the year 1913 all to the same effect, namely, that the claims for malikana being claims in respect of an interest in land did become barred absolutely by limitation under the provisions of the statute before the Act of 1871 and that the statutes of 1871 and 1877 did not have the effect and could not have the effect of reviving the claim which had already become barred. Held, that owing to this long consensus of opinion on the question the High Court would not treat it as a substantial question of law remaining to be determined but should refuse the present application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council on the ground that there is no substantial question of law, and if the appellant wished to have this question brought before their Lordships of the Privy Council he would have to make a special application to that effect. (Miller, C.J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BABU RAMNIRANJAN CHAUDHURY v. BABU GOBARDHAN THAKUR. 1 Pat. L. R. 314 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 271 (1).

——— S. 110—Substantial question of law.

The power of co-heirs in respect of alienation of joint and undivided property is well settled and is not a question of general importance. For the grant of special leave the question involved must be not merely substantial but must be of great public or private importance which did not exist in the case. 27 A. 174, 6 B. 403, 39. Mad. 843 foll. (Robinson, C.J. and Macgregor, J.) MAUNG THWE v. A. L. A. R. CHETTY FIRM. 1 Bur. L.J. 62 : 11 L. B. R. 335 : 68 I. C. 690 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 71.

Valuation.

——— S. 110—Valuation—Annuity.

S. 110 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies to the value of an annuity which is sought to be recovered, not the value of the property upon which that annuity is charged. (Lord Atkinson.) MIRZA ABID HUSSAIN KHAN v. AHMAD HUSSAIN. 45 M. L. J. 253 : (1923) M. W. N. 590 : 26 O. C. 216 : 33 M. L. T. 232 : 10 O. L. J. 288 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 484 : 28 C. W. N. 289 : 75 I. C. 502 (1) : 18 L. W. 146 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 102 (P. C.).

——— S. 110—Valuation—Future interest.

Where in a suit for sale on a mortgage the plaintiff claimed Rs. 9,300 with interest pending the suit and the plaintiff got a decree for more than 10,000 rupees; the case satisfies the requirements of S. 110 C.P.Code, as regards the valuation. (Mears, C.J. and Piggott, J.) GAJADHAR MAHTON v. AMBIKA PRASAD TIWARI. 45 A. 133 : 69 I. C. 645 (1) : 20 A. L. J. 903 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 78.

——— S. 110—Valuation — Value in partnership suits is calculated on the appellant's share and on the whole property.

On principle it can make no difference on the point of valuation for purposes of appeal to Privy Council whether a suit is a partition suit or a partnership suit. It is the value of the appellant's share and not the whole of the property that determines the value of the subject-matter. (Shah, A. C. J and Kincaid, J.) NARIMAN RUSTAMJI MEHTA v. HASHAM ISMAYAL. 49 Bom. 149: 26 B.L.R. 1261 : A.I.R. 1925 Bom. 137.

——— S. 110—Valuation.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Valuation.

Plaintiff sued for possession of two houses and for an injunction restraining defendant from using a well and compound. He was awarded possession of one house and a portion of the other and he got a decree jointly with defendant for the user of the well and the compound. The relief with respect to the house was valued at Rs. 5,000. Though the value of the well and compound was more than Rs. 5,000 plaintiff's share in them was below 5,000 in value. On an application by the plaintiff for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, held, that for purposes of S. 110, C.P. Code, the value of the subject-matter was in excess of Rs. 10,000 and leave should therefore be granted. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) APPAYA PADDAYA v. LAKHAM GOWDA. 25 Bom. L. R. 77 : 72 I. C. 127 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 176.

——— S. 110—Valuation—Decree for more than Rs. 10,000—Value of the property involved less.

The High Court reversed the decree of the trial Court and granted a declaration that the deed in question was void, and that the plaintiff was entitled to the possession of the property mentioned in the deed. Held, it is not necessary for the purpose of an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty to inquire into the question as to whether the property actually handed over to deft. applicant is worth Rs. 10,000 or not if whatever the value of that property may be, it is clear that the whole of the property as to which the question arose in the appeal and in respect of which the decree has been passed in High Court is worth more than Rs. 10,000. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) PYARI BIBI v. HASANALLI. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 59.

——— S. 110—Valuation—Proceedings under the Bombay Rent Act.

Plffs. sought to eject their tenant in order that they might occupy the premises themselves while the tenant sought the protection of the Bombay Rent Act. The monthly rent of the premises was Rs. 275 and capitalised at 20 years, the purchase value of the property would be over Rs 10,000. The plff. got a decree and deft. applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council. Held, that the decree involved directly a claim or question to or respecting property over Rs. 10,000 and leave to appeal must be granted. (Macleod, C.J. and Coyajee, J.) KASTURBHAI v. HIRALAL. 24 Bom. L.R. 350: 67 I.C. 938: A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 23(1).

——— S. 110—Valuation—Easement

Where the subject-matter of a suit is an easement, the value of which is less than Rs. 10,000, there is no right of appeal to the Privy Council although the easement affects property worth over Rs. 10,000. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) MANILAL JUGALDAS v. BANUBAI FRAMJI. 63 I. C. 588 : 23 Bom. L. R. 374.

——— S. 110—Valuation—Subject-matter in a suit to recover enhanced rent of occupancy holding is not the holding but only the plaintiff's claim to enhanced rent.

In a suit for recovery of rent at an enhanced rate under S. 30 of the Bengal Tenancy Act as well as for additional rent under S. 52 of that Act against an occupancy tenant, the holding is not the subject-matter of the suit and of the appeal. The subject-matter of the suit and of the appeal is the plaintiff's claim to recover the enhanced rent and the additional rent under S. 52. 1923 P. C. 102, Followed. Neither does such suit involve directly or indirectly a claim or question to or respecting the holding within S. 110. (Sanderson, C.J. and Walmsley, J.) PRAMADA NATH ROY BAHADUR v. BASIRUDDIN QUAZI. 82 I. C. 744 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 414.

——— S. 110—Valuation—Leave to appeal—Indirectly affecting property—Question of public importance.

It is not possible to hold that a decree directly or indirectly involves a claim or question respecting property of the statutory value where it is necessary to investigate the terms and conditions of leases in respect of lands which are not included in the suit. Before it could be held that a decision between a landlord and tenant involves a question of wide public importance, there should be some evidence that the rights of landlords and tenants in a locality or province are, generally speaking, dependent on the same facts as appear in the suit and that the terms of the leases regulating such leases are also similar. (Sanderson, C. J. and Ghose, J.) BUPENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v. NURPUT SINGH. 27 C. W. N. 204 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 451.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Valuation.

——S. 110—Valuation of—Subject-matter—Substantial question of law—Suit for rectification.

A person who had obtained a decree on a mortgage sued for rectification of that decree on the ground that a share of the property which had been purchased by the 8th defendant in the suit had by mistake been omitted from the decree owing to a mis-description in the mortgage deed. The Court below as well as the High Court decreed the suit as brought. On an application by the 8th defendant for leave to appeal to the Privy Council the plaintiff objected that the value of the subject-matter on appeal to His Majesty in Council was the market value of the share of the property claimed by the 8th defendant which was less than Rs. 10,000. It was also objected that there was no question of law in the case. Held, that the claim of the plaintiff against the 8th defendant was part and parcel of the mortgage transaction and as there was no claim by title paramount set up by the 8th defendant, the value of the appeal to His Majesty in Council was not the value of the share of the 8th defendant but was the entire value of the mortgage suit which was about the appealable value. Held, further, that the question whether the plaintiff was entitled to have the decree rectified was a substantial question of law. (Sanderson, C. J. and Ghose, J.) BEPIN KRISHNA ROY v. PRIYABRATA BOSE. 71 I. C. 371 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 387.

——S. 110—Valuation—Must be according to market.

The rules under the Suits Valuation Act in accordance with which the land is valued for the purposes of jurisdiction do not apply in determining the value for the purpose of S. 110 of the Civil Procedure Code, but it is the market value which has to be ascertained (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) NAWAZ ALI v. ALLU. 6 L. L. J. 44 : 75 I. C. 520 : 4 Lah. 185 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 82.

——S. 110—Valuation—Subject-matter.

Where the subject-matter of the suit was the question whether the applicants were permanent tenants of the site, or mere tenants at will, and the plaintiff laid no claim whatever to the buildings on the site, held, the matter in dispute between the parties was solely the nature of the tenancy of the site. The second paragraph of S. 110 means that the suit must involve rights and claims to property which rights and claims were worth Rs. 10,000 or upwards, nor that the rights affected properties whose value was Rs. 10,000 or more. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) DHANNA MAL v. RAI SAHIB LALA MOTI SAGAR. 75 I. C. 654 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 286 (2).

——S. 110—Valuation—Suit for declaration of status—Valuation fixed by plaintiff not conclusive.

Plff. sued for a declaration that he was a Rajput by caste and valued his suit for purposes of jurisdiction at Rs. 11,000. His suit was decreed by the Subordinate Judge, but dismissed by the High Court. On an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, held, that the suit was not one to which any special money value could be attached, and that the value of the subject-matter of the suit could not be said to amount to Rs. 10,000 or upwards or that the decree involved directly or indirectly any claim or question to or respecting property of like amount or value. 18 Cal. 378, Foll. 60 P. R. 1905, 15 Mad. 237 (F. B.), 25 C. W. N. 269 (P. C.) Dist. (Chevis and Scott-Smith, JJ.) GHULAM RASUL KHAN v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 2 Lah. 297 : 26 P. L. R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 239 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 131 (2).

——S. 110—Valuation—Interest subsequent to suit—Inclusion.

For the purpose of ascertaining the pecuniary value of an appeal for purposes of leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, interest subsequent to the date of plaint and up to the date of the decree must be included in the subject-matter. 16 L. W. 18 Rel. 39 M. 843 Dist. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) RAGHUNATHASWAMI IYENGAR v. GOPAUL RAO. 43 M. L. J. 622 : 16 L. W. 682 : 74 I. C. 596 : 32 M. L. T. 1 : (1922) M. W. N. 652 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 135.

——Ss. 110 and 109 (c)—Valuation—Fit case—Question of general importance—Plaintiff if can go behind his own valuation in the plaint and appeal—Indirectly affecting property over Rs. 10,000 in value.

To come within S. 109, (c), C. P. Code, it must be shown that the decision sought to be appealed against might result in a precedent governing numerous other cases or decides a right of great public or private importance. 27 I. C. 783, Ref. The question whether a decree involves indirectly a claim or question to property worth more than Rs. 10,000 in value must be decided with reference to actual circumstances at the time and not to circumstances which are remote, and not in particular to a mere possibility that future suits as to all or part of a large extent of the property alleged to be concerned may be instituted at some time in the future. 15 L. W. 140 ; 24 A. 236 ; 85 A. 445 ; 8 C. 210 ; 4 C. L. R. 125 Ref. Where the plaintiffs had estimated the market value of the property in dispute at Rs. 2,500 for purposes of Court-fee in the Court of first instance and on appeal, they could not be allowed to change their valuation for the Privy Council. (Oldfield and Spencer, JJ.) ALAGAPPA CHETTY v. NACHIAPPAN. 43 M. L. J. 728 : 16 L. W. 517 : (1922) M W. N. 683 : 31 M. L. T. 335 : 69 I. C. 385 : A I.R. 1923 Mad. 125.

——S. 110 (1)—Valuation—Cause of action different against defendants.

In a suit against several persons where the cause of action against each is quite distinct and different from the others, the fact that a joint suit is brought cannot make the subject-matter of the appeal the same as that of the joint suit. The valuation will depend upon the relief claimed against the particular defendant. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) VADIVELU AMMAL v. RAJARATNA MUDALIAR. 16 L. W. 262 : 30 M. L. T. 337 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 30.

——S. 110—Valuation.

The words "must involve, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to or respecting property" of upwards of Rs. 10,000 in value in S. 110, C. P Code, evidently refer to questions arising between parties to the suit and not to questions affecting the title of one of the parties to the suit or suits that can hereafter be brought but are not now pending. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) SETHUPATHI AVERGAL v. KAMITH RAVUTHAN. 42 M. L. J. 78 : 15 L. W. 140 : (1922) M. W. N. 46 : 30 M. L. T. 42 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 34.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Valuation.

——S. 110—Valuation—Interest on the amount decreed.

The suit was based on a mortgage deed for Rs. 7,000 and the amount claimed was Rs. 9,776 together with interest to the date of the decree and further interest to the date of payment. The plaint was presented on the 11th December, 1916, and was returned to be signed by plaintiffs personally. It was again presented to the Subordinate Judge on the 2nd February 1917. The first hearing was on the 16th January 1917, and the suit was decided on the 17th November 1919, when a preliminary decree for sale was granted. The decree was for Rs. 9,776 and 3,451-6-3 compound interest at 9 per cent per annum up to the 17th May 1920, the day fixed for payment, together with interest on the total amount at 6 per cent per annum up to the date of the actual payment. The appeal was filed in the High Court on the 20th February 1920, and decided on the 21st December 1921. Held, on an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, the case satisfied the requirements of S. 110, C. P. Code, as to amount and nature, since on the date of the decree the amount to be paid on the date fixed already included together with interest an amount exceeding Rs. 10,000 and a decree including interest up to the date of the decree had been asked for in the plaint. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) SETH MAGAN LAL v. DARBARI LAL CHOWDHURY.

72 I. C. 395 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 239.

——S. 110—Valuation—Admission.

Defendants who accept the value of property for purposes of jurisdiction cannot be heard to question that value subsequently. The value of the property is a question of fact. It is not proper for a party by an admission as to a lower valuation to suffer an appeal to be heard by a single Judge and then to claim a higher valuation for the purpose of obtaining an appeal to the Privy Council. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BHAGWATI PRASAD v. ACHHAIBAR SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 531 : 74 I. C. 214 : 26 O. C. 24 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 93.

——S. 110—Valuation—Mortgage suit.

Plaintiff sued to redeem his mortgaged property. He claimed that all the money due had been paid from the usufruct and that there was a large surplus which was due to him. The trial Court held that the entire mortgage money had been paid and decreed plaintiff's claim for possession and for a surplus amount of Rs. 9,012-12-8. The defendant appealed to the High Court to be relieved of the surplus awarded to plaintiff and claimed a sum of Rs. 2,073 due on the mortgage. The decree of the trial Court was modified in the High Court to the extent of reducing the surplus awarded to Rs. 7,910-11-7. The defendant then applied for leave to appeal to His Majesty Held, that the value of the subject-matter, including the surplus awarded, viz., Rs. 7,910-11-7, amounted to Rs. 983-11-7 since in the memorandum of appeal to the High Court the defendant had claimed only Rs. 2,073 on the mortgage and had not claimed possession of the property. It not being alleged that the appeal affected a question relating to property exceeding Rs. 10,000 in value, no leave to appeal could be granted under S. 110 although the decree of the High Court varied the decree of the Court below. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C. and Simpson, A.J.C.) SARSUTI PRASAD v. MUNSHI EHTISHAM ALI.

25 O. C. 349 : 73 I. C. 407 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 214.

——S. 110—Valuation—Variation on appeal.

The trial Court decreed a suit by a Hindu reversioner to set aside an alienation by the limited owner as having been effected without justifying necessity. On appeal to the HighCourt the decision of the lower Court was varied, the Court finding that out of a total sum of Rs. 3,800 the purchase price, Rs. 1,412 was justified by legal necessity at the time of transfer. Accordingly the High Court varied the decree of the trial Court by ordering that the plff.'s title to the property in question should be declared and that he should recover possession thereof upon condition that he first paid to defts. Rs. 1,412 with interest from the date of decree. Held, that the value of the appeal did not come up to the statutory requirements and that leave to appeal to the Privy Council could not be granted. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BISHUN PRASAD SINGH v. NARSINGH DAS.

3 Pat. L. T. 550 : 68 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 555 (2).

——S. 110—Valuation— Future mesne profits must be included.

Future mesne profits should be taken into consideration in assessing the value of the subject-matter for the purposes of S. 110 of the Code. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) IMAMUDDIN v. KISHUNDEO.

6 Pat. L. J. 246 : 63 I. C. 492 : 2 Pat. L. T. 675

——S. 110—Valuation — Future interest not included.

A suit was instituted to enforce a mortgage-bond for Rs. 3,000 which, with interest up to the date of decree, amounted to Rs. 9,325. The suit was decreed with interest at the contract rate up to the days of grace which was Rs. 198, the total amount being Rs. 9,523. After that period interest was calculated at 6 per cent. per annum to the date of realization. The defts. appealed and the High Court allowed the appeal. Held, that the provisons of S. 110.(1) were not satisfied and so S. 110 (2) did not apply. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) RAMNAD SINGH v. RAMBILAS SINGH. 2 Pat. L. T. 463 : 62 I. C. 959 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 229.

——S. 110—Valuation—Partition suit—Share or whole property as the basis of valuation.

Where a decree in a partition suit affects the share of the plff. as well as of the deft. who would share the property along with plff. if his case be decreed, the value for purposes of S. 110 is the value of the whole property and not only the share claimed by the plff. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) KULDIP NARAYAN SINGH v. RAGHUNANDAN SINGH.

60 I. C. 844 : 2 Pat. L. T. 386.

——S 110—Valuation—Value how determined.

The value of the subject-matter must be taken to be the amount or value which the plff. obtained or would have obtained had he been successful at the time when the decree was passed. (Miller, C.J. and Adami, J.) MATHURA PRASAD SINGH v. RAM PRASAD TEWARY. 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 32 : 60 I. C. 523 : 2 Pat. L. T. 340.

——S. 110—Valuation—Subject-matter—Interest claimed in plaint—Interest up to decree.

Where interest is claimed in the plaint, such interest as accrues during the period between the filing of the suit and the decree is part of the subject-matter of the suit for the purposes of S. 110. (Heald and Rutledge, JJ.) THAMASUNDASEEN v. S.M.A.R R.M. CHETTY FIRM. 3 Rang. 405.

——S. 110—Valuation—Substantial question of law.

To enable an applicant to obtain leave to appeal to the Privy Council it must be shown that the value of the subject-matter in the Court of first instance was Rs. 10,000 at the date of the decree of that Court. A decision as regards the validity of a particular alienation by a co-heir of properties worth less than Rs. 10,000 does not affect other alienations made by other co-heirs to different persons. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) MAUNG THWE v. A. L. A. R. CHETTY FIRM. 1 Bur. L. J. 62 : 11 L. B. R. 335 : 68 I. C. 690 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 71.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 110—Valuation.

——S. 110—Valuation—Suit for damages.

A suit for damages exceeding Rs. 10,000 was brought in respect of loss of crops caused by an inundation due to the defendant's tortious acts. The first Court decreed Rs. 8,000 and odd but on appeal the appellate Court dismissed the suit. On an application for leave to appeal, held that as regards the valuation and other matters the case was a fit one for appeal to the Privy Council. In granting leave the correct principle is to look at the judgment as it affects the interests of the parties who are prejudiced by it, and who seek to relieve themselves from it by an appeal, 6 Bom. L. R. 403 : 6 Pat L J, 415, 15 Moo. P. C. 181 : 3 C L J. 257 ; 35 A. 445 Foll. Per Robinson. C. J.—The second paragraph of S. 110, C. P. Code is intended to deal with property other than that forming part of the actual subject-matter in dispute and which would be affected by the final decree or order. If the decree affects the petitioner's rights in or to such other property, that may be taken into consideration in estimating the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council. 39 M. 843 Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J.) MAUNG BYA v. MAUNG KYI NYO. 66 I. C. 606 : 11 L. B. R. 152.

——S. 111—Appeal from single Judge acting in revision does not lie.

There is no appeal to His Majesty in Council from the order made by a single Judge in revision under S. 111, C. P. Code and S. 107, Government of India Act. (Krishnan and Wallace, JJ.) SRI RAJAH BOMMA DEVARA VENKATA SATYANARAYANA v. VENKATA BHASHYAKARULU.

46 M.L.J. 117 : 46 Mad. 958 : 18 L. W. 655 : 75 I.C. 604 : (1923) M. W. N. 719 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 399.

——S. 113 and O. 46, R. 1—Reasonable doubt.

Where it was perhaps somewhat difficult to hold that the judge making the reference entertained any reasonable doubt as to what his decision should be or as to what decision was correct, but the respondent withdrew any objection on this ground, as he said the questions that arose would affect a very large number of cases and must affect a very large amount of money, reference was entertained. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) E. E. DAWOODJEE AND SONS v. THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF RANGOON. 1 Rang. 220 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 193.

——S. 114—Review—Grounds for Reversal of High Court's decision in a connected case by the Privy Council—Not a sufficient cause.

Reversal of High Court's decision in a connected case by the Privy Council is not a sufficient cause for review. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) GANNALATHULA VENKAMMA v. GANNALATHULA RANGARAO.

43 M. L. J. 33 : 15 L. W. 593 : (1922) M. W. N. 304 : 70 I.C. 741 : 31 M.L.T. 473: A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 227.

——S. 114 and O. 47, R. 1.—Succession Act, S. 234—Probate and Administration Act, S. 50—Contested Probate proceedings—Power of review can be exercised.

The right of review is an entirely different right from that given by S. 234 of the Succession Act or S. 50 of the Probate and Administration Act. The powers of review given by the Code of Civil Procedure can be exercised by a Court which has been dealing with a contentious matter in proceedings for the grant of letters of Administration. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) KYONE HOE v. KYON SOON SUN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Amendment of Decree.

3 Rang. 261 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 314.

——S. 115.

Addition of parties.
Amendment of decree.
Amendment of plaint.
Amendment of pleadings.
Appeal.
Award.
Case
Court-fee.
Criminal prosecution.
Delay.
Discretion.
Error of law.
High Court.
Illegality.
Interference.
Interlocutory order.
Jurisdiction.
Leave to sue.
Liberal interpretation.
Material irregularity.
Misconstruction.
New plea.
Order.
Other remedy.
Revision.
Right to apply.
Scope of.
Subordinate Court.
Withdrawal of Suit
See also C. P. Code, Ss. 107 and 151.

Addition of parties,

——S. 115 and O. 1, R. 10—Addition of parties—Revision—Discretion

It is not a case of failure to exercise jurisdiction justifying interference in revision if the lower Court rejects an application under O. 1, R. 10, C. P. Code, on the ground that it was made too late (Richardson, J.) RAMCHARAN MOHAJAN v. JIBAN CHANDRA SARMA.

64 I. C. 563 (Cal.).

——S. 115—Addition of parties—Interference.

The addition of a party under O. 1, R. 10 is ordinarily a matter within the discretion of the Court trying the suit and an erroneous exercise of discretion in a matter of procedure should not be regarded as something done illegally in the exercise of the Courts jurisdiction. But if the addition of party causes not only misjoinder of parties but also of causes of action the order can be set aside in revision. (Spencer, J.) MURUGAPPA CHETTIYAR v. L. K. S. S. FIRM. 90 I. C. 721.

——S. 115 and O. 1, R. 10—Addition of parties—Refusal—Interference in revision.

Where in a suit for partition among co-sharer landlords the Court below refused to add the tenants as parties in the exercise of its discretion, Held, that there was no case for interference by the High Court. (Odgers, J.) RATNACHALAM AIYAR v. SIVACHIDAMBARAM PILLAI.

45 M. L. J. 703 : 18 L.W. 198: (1923) M. W. N. 403 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 690.

Amendment of decree.

——S. 115.—Amendment of decree—No revision would be accepted if the lower Court has exercised discretion under S. 152 rightly.

Where a District Judge, in the exercise of his discretion vested in him under S. 152, refused to correct a decree passed by a Court subordinate to him and confirmed by him on appeal on the ground that the applicant was guilty of laches held, that the discretion was rightly exercised and the High Court would not interfere. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) KISHORI MOHAN v. CHHANGA LAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Amendment of Plaint.

47 All. 44 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ). 753 : 82 I. C. 1030 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 187.

Amendment of Plaint.

——S. 115—Amendment of plaint.

Amendment of plaint if not allowed can be allowed in revision. (Martineau, J.) SUNDER v. PURAN SINGH. 10 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 394 (1).

——S. 115—Amendment of plaint—Improper refusal to permit amendment of plaint is revisable.

The refusal of a Court to exercise its lawful power, so as to deprive the plaintiff of what apparently was a vital plea is a material irregularity justifying interference in revision under S. 115. Therefore the order of a court refusing to permit a plaintiff to amend his plaint by adding that at the date of the sale sought to be set aside by him on the ground of its having been brought about by undue influence and fraud, he was a minor, can be set aside in revision. ((Jackson, J.) SOMASUNDARA BHATTAR v. MUTHU THEVAR.

80 I. C. 278 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 188.

——S. 115—Amendment of plaint—Order allowing—Revision.

An amendment of the plaint is in the discretion of the Court and, if wrongly allowed. the defendant could attack the order on appeal if the decision is against him. The High Court will not interfere in revision with the order especially when it does not change the character of the suit or cause material injustice to the defendant. (Odgers, J.) RAMA KRISHNA PILLAI v. KRISHNASWAMI PILLAI.

(1922) M. W. N. 521 : 68 I. C. 167 : 15 L. W. 667 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad 321.

——S. 115—Amendment of plaint—Case referred to arbitration—Award filed and objection raised—Jurisdiction.

A reference to arbitration was made in a pending suit. The award was put into court and objections raised to its being made a decree of court. While these matters were pending one of the parties applied for an amendment the result of allowing which was to oust the jurisdiction of the court to try the suit. Held, until the reference to arbitration was superseded, the court had no jurisdiction to take up to the case and the order of amendment was ultra vires. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SANKAR v. CHUNILAL MULCHAND. 89 I. C. 782.

——S. 115—Amendment of plaint.

The High Court has power to interfere under S. 115 of the Code with an order directing that a plaint should be amended as being bad for misjoinder. (Batten, A. J. C.) SHANKAR v. SONOO.

63 I. C. 419 : 4 N. L. J. 58.

Amendment of pleadings.

——S. 115—Amendment of pleadings—Refusal to allow.

The refusal to allow an amendment disposes of the case so far as the question of amendment is concerned and the order is capable of being revised. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SHANKAR v. MURARJI.

78 I. C. 510 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 195.

Appeal.

——S. 115—Appeal.

If District Court entertains appeal in non-appealable case revision lies. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) HAFIZ ZAHUR AHMAD v. TASLIM-UN-NISSA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Award.

23 A. L. J. 891 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 575 : 89 I. C. 404 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 55.

——S. 115—Appeal—Conversion into revision—Discretion of Court.

Where District Court hears and disposes of an appeal without jurisdiction, the High Court can interfere in revision and for this purpose convert an appeal from the decision of the District Court into a revision petition. 38 C. 421 Ref. (Rankin and Ghose, JJ.) MOHINI MOHAN ROY v. RAMDAS PARAMHANSA.

28 C. W. N. 271 : 80 I. C. 210 : 39 C. L. J. 532 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 487.

——S. 115—Appeal—Conversion into revision—Interference.

Where it would amount to a denial of justice to the appellant to refuse relief and it appears that no appeal lies against the decision of the Court below, the High Court would convert the appeal into a revision petition and interfere Where the lower Court had erroneously and without jurisdiction purported to amend a final decree, the High Court set aside the order in revision. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) NAWABKHAJEH HABIBULLA v. GOLA ASMOTER KHATUN. 37 C.L.J. 395 : 74 I. C. 575 : 27 C. W. N. 720 : A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 612.

——S. 115—Appeal—Conversion into revision.

The High Court is entitled in the exercise of its discretion to convert a second appeal into a revision and interfere. (Teunon and Abdul Majid, JJ.) MAHATAP DASI v. MADHU SUDAN SAHA.

64 I.C. 712 (Cal.).

——S. 115—Appeal—If can be converted into one for revision.

A petition of appeal presented to the High Court in a case where no such appeal lay may, in a proper case, be treated as an application for revision under S. 115 of the Code. (Shamsul Huda, J.) DINABANDHU v. JAGABANDHU. 63 I. C. 520 : 33 C L. J. 381.

——S. 115—Appeal—Can be converted into revision petition.

A memorandum of second appeal can in proper cases as where the Courts below have exercised jurisdiction not vested in them by law be converted into a revision petition. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) HARBAX v. LACHMAN. 82 I. C. 201 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 183.

Award.

——S. 115—Award—Decree in terms of award going beyond matters referred—Revision lies.

A party is entitled to be protected by the law against a decision by arbitrators on points not referred to therein at all and against a decree of Court based on such a decision, all the more so because he has no right of appeal. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v. VENKATARAMA AIYAR.

49 M. L. J. 523 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 201.

——S. 115—Award—Refusal to hear objection to award justifies interference.

If a Court refuses to hear a valid objection properly raised before him or entertains matters which are outside his jurisdiction then the High Court can interfere under S. 115 not with the arbitrators nor with the award but with the exercise of the jurisdiction of the Court in dealing with the application. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) GOBIND SINGH v. BHIRGUNATH SINGH. 46 All. 686 : 22 A. L. J. 676 : L. R. 5 A. 465 : 82 I. C. 16 : 100 & A. L. R. 820 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 788.

——S. 115—Award—Revision—On objection that arbitrators had made secret enquiries—Court's decision apart from award is not revisable.

Where an award was attacked as vitiated by misconduct on the ground that the arbitrators had made secret enquiries and the Court thereupon took up the case and proceeded to dispose of it without reference to the arbitration, held, no revision lay. (Daniels, J.) RAM LAL SINGH v. BEHARI SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Award.

A. I. R. 1924 All. 761 (1).

——S. 115 and Sch. II, para. 15—Award—Private inquiries authorised by agreement—Not misconduct—Order superseding award—Revision.

Where the parties to an arbitration agreed to abide by the arbitrator's decision in whatsoever manner he might see fit to arrive at it, and he made private inquiries into the dispute behind the back of the parties, held, it did not constitute misconduct ; in superseding the award in such a case, the Court acted illegally and with material irregularity and hence the High Court could interfere in revision. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) HUSAIN BAKHSH v. LACHHMAN DAS MATHRA DAS. 20 A. L. J. 125 : 64 I. C. 934 : L. R. 3 A. 106 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 69.

——S. 115—Award—Material irregularity—Extension of time for filing award.

A Court has jurisdiction to extend the time for filing an award and such an extension is not therefore a material irregularity. The mere fact that the Court has used threatening language towards an arbitrator is not a ground for interference under S. 115 in the absence of proof that the arbitrator was thereby forced to arbitrate against his will. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BASUDEO MAL v. KANHAIYA LAL.
43 All. 101 : 59 I. C. 667 : 18 A. L. J. 952.

——S. 115—Award—Decree passed on an award—Revision is competent.

An application can be entertained under S. 115 against a decree passed in terms of an award. 29 Cal. 167 Expl.; 36 Bom. 105 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BHIKALAL GIRDHARLAL v. ACHRATLAL LALLUBHAI. 49 Bom. 535 : 87 I. C. 910 : 27 Bom. L. R. 423 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 341.

——S. 115 and Sch. II, Para. 15—Award—Setting aside for misconduct—Revision.

Where a Court sets aside an award of arbitrators on the ground of misconduct on the part of the arbitrators, its order is not open to revision under S. 115, C. P. Code, 25 B. 551 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) CHIMANBHAI v. KESHAVLAL.
25 Bom. L. R. 443 : 47 Bom. 721 : 73 I. C. 464 : A. I. R 1923 Bom. 402.

——S. 115—Award—Decree on—Appeal—Revision.

The High Court has power to set aside a decree on an award under S. 115 of the Code, as no appeal lies against the decree. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) RAVJI BHAI KASHIBAI v. DAHYABAI ZAVERBHAI.
45 Bom. 832: 59 I. C. 811 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1454.

——S. 115—Award—Award given and decree passed—Interference.

There is no general rule to the effect that in no case in which an award has been filed and decree passed could the High Court interfere under S. 115, C. P. Code. If the arbitrators or the Court exceed jurisdiction oract with material irregularity in the conduct of the proceedings, the High Court can interfere. (Suhrawardy and Page, JJ.) DEBIR-UD-DIN v. AMINA BIBI. 78 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 475.

——S. 115 and Sch. II, Para. 16—Award—Notice of objections not given—Effect.

Where a Court decides the objections to an award without notice to the objector of the date of hearing, it acts with material irregularity and its order is liable to be revised. (Abdul Raoof, J.) DARBARI RAM v. BHIKHA RAM. 64 I. C. 394 (Lah.)

——S. 115—Award—Notice of filing not given—Material irregularity—Interference.

The provisions of Sch. II, para. 10 are mandatory and parties are entitled to notice even if they have knowledge of the date on which the award is filed. The omission to give such notice is a material irregularity and is good ground for reviving decree passed on such award. (Moti Sagar, J.) GURDITTA MAL v. FIRM OF BASANTA MAL-PANNA LAL. 89 I. C. 240 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 619 (1).

——S. 115 and Sch. II, Para 16—Award—Revision—Competency of.

If a Court passing a decree on an award has committed an error in procedure or has misused the jurisdiction prescribed by Sch. II, C. P. Code, there is a revision against the decree. (Martineau, J.) DELHI CLOTH AND GENERAL MILLS CO. v. FIRM KIDARI PERSHAD CHHEDI LAL. 22 P. L. R. 1922 : 64 I. C. 363 : 4 U. P. L. R. (L.) 15.

——S. 115—Award—Objection to validity of.

Where the objection as to non-joinder is not taken in the memorandum of objections to the award presented in the lower Court and it is not shown that the parties not joined in reference were necessary parties to the suit between the plaintiff and the petitioner, the High Court will not interfere in revision. (Spencer, J.) (PASUMARTHI)BAGHAVANULU v. BOLLAM SEETHARAMASWAMI. 32 M. L. T. 298 : (1923) M. W. N. 296 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 502.

——S. 115—Award—Objection to, to be investigated—Jurisdiction—Revision.

A dispute was referred to arbitration in connection with a pending suit, an award was made, and a decree was passed in accordance with the award under Para. 16 of the second schedule of the Code of Civil Procedure. Where the Court has considered the objections to the award on the merits and come to what the applicant contends is a wrong decision as to whether there had been an irregularity on the part of the arbitrator, it is clear that the case will not come within the provisions of S. 115 and that no revision will lie. It was the clear intention of the legislature that objections to the award on the ground of invalidity from any cause whatsoever should be decided by the Court which had made the order of reference and by no other Court. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SHEO PALTAN v. SUKHDEO SINGH. 26 O. C 107 : 74 I. C. 401 : A.I.R. 1923 Oudh 235.

——S. 115—Award—Order taking it off the file—No error on face of award—Interference.

Where there is no error patent on the face of an award and a Court still directs it to be taken off the file of Court, it assumes a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, and the order is revisable. (Kennedy and Bilaram, A.J.Cs.) RAMJIBHOY & CO. v. YUSIFALI MAHOMEDALI. A.I.R. 1924 Sind 151.

——S. 115—Award—Order of a Judge directing an award to be taken off the file.

Per Madgavkar, A. J. C.—An application lies against an order directing an award to be taken off the file of Court provided it falls within the purview of S. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. [1907] 1 S.L.R. 86 Ref. (Kincaid, J. C., Aston and Madgavkar, A.J. Cs.) GUNNIS & CO., LTD. v. AMANMAL TULSIDAS.
17 S. L. R 133 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 75 (F.B.)

——S. 115 and Sch. II, para 20—Award—Filing award without jurisdiction is a good ground.

Filing an award by a Court having no jurisdiction to entertain a suit on the cause of action, with respect to which the award was made, is a good ground for revision. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF KHALSA BROS. v. HARIRAM SRI RAM & CO. 17 S. L. R. 164 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 29.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Award.

——S. 115—Award—Revision—Minor parties—Want of sanction.

The absence of Court's sanction to a reference to arbitration on behalf of certain minor parties does not, of itself, render the award void but only voidable and if the Court negatives the objection that the award is void for want of such sanction and passes decree on the award, it is not open to revision under S. 115, C. P. Code. 40 M. 793 (P.C.) Ref. (Kennedy, J.C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) EMNABAI v. FAKIR MAHOMED.
15 S. L. R 165 : 65 I C. 50 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 1

Case.

——S. 115—Case—Appellate order setting aside ex parte decree is "case"—Revision lies.

The High Court can interfere in revision with an appellate order directing the setting aside of a decree ex parte as the order is a 'case' within S. 115 and not a mere interlocutory order.

Per Lindsay, J.—Where there are independent proceedings arising out of a case, such as a proceeding to restore a case dismissed in default, or to set aside a decree ex parte for which the legislature has provided an independent remedy or a different procedure, such proceeding may be a case within the meaning of the section. 12 O.C. 405 Appr. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. GAYA PRASAD. A. I. R. 1925 All. 610 (F.B.).

——S. 115—Case—Refusal to adjourn.

The refusal by a Court to adjourn the hearing of a suit in order to enable the applicant to pay the Court-fee is not an order which should be revised by the High Court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) CHAKHAN LAL v. KANHAIYA LAL. 45 A. 218: 20 A.L.J. 1005 : 69 I. C. 921 : 9 O. & A.L.R. 146 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 118.

——S. 115—Case - Minority.

Where the defendant claimed to be a minor but refused to produce any evidence and the plaintiff swore that he was major, held, no revision lies from the order of the Judge in which defendant was held to be major there being before High Court no record of the suit or case decided in the Court below. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) AMOLAK CHAND v. BHAGWAN DAS. A. I. R. 1922 All. 334.

——S. 115—"Case decided"—Meaning—Decision of a single issue.

Per Piggott, Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.—The decision on a single issue by a Subordinate Court in a suit which is still pending in that Court is not a 'case decided'. Per Rafique, J.—'Case' includes an order that deals with an issue or question raised between the parties and 'decided' includes any adjudication on such question or issue, whether the adjudication finally determines the suit or not. (Rafique, Piggott, Walsh, Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BUDDHOO LAL v. MEWA RAM. 43 All. 564: 63 I. C. 15 : 19 A. L J. 558 (F. B.)

——S. 115—Case—What is—Interlocutory order—Powers of interference—Bombay Regulation II of 1827, S. 5.

In a suit which relates to a municipal election two first preliminary issues were raised and decided whether the Government was a party. and secondly, has the Court jurisdiction to hear the suit. Held, the decision amounted to the decision of a case and could be raised both under S. 115 and under S. 5 of Regulation II of 1827. Case-law reviewed. (Shah and Coyajee, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. NARSIBAI DADABAI PATEL. 48 B. 43 : 25 Bom. L.R. 992: 77 I.C. 241 : A I R. 1924 Bom. 65.

——S. 115—Case.

No revision lies from an order of remand by lower

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Case.

appellate Court, as there is no case decided. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) THAKOREDAS v. LALLUBHAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 452: A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 401.

——S. 115—Case—"Decided"—New Code and old Code.

However modified in language, the word "decided" in S. 622 of the old Code of Civil Procedure is similar in its purport to the word "decided" in S. 115. (Greaves, J.) UDOY CHAND v. MOLLA REASAT HOSSAIN. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 58.

——S. 115—Case—Order for transfer is decision of a case within the section and is revisable.

The application for transfer is a particular branch of a case for which a special procedure is provided in the Civil Procedure Code, and the decision of such an application is a decision of a "case" and therefore can be revised. 6 All. 233 Dist.; 60 P.R. 1897 (F. B.), Foll. (Martineau, J.) LABHU RAM v. KARTA RAM. 78 I. C. 614 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189 (1).

——S. 115—Case decided—Interlocutory orders—Revision.

Interlocutory orders do not amount to the decision of a case within the meaning of S. 115, C.P. Code, and are not revisable. (Shadi Lal, C J., Le Rossignol, Broadway, Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) FIRM LAL CHAND MANGAL SAIN v. FIRM BEHARI LAL MEHAR CHAND. 5 Lah. 288: 6 L. L. J. 558: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 425 (F. B.).

——S. 115—Case—Meaning of—Order under S. 10 of Act XIV of 1920.

The expression "Case" in S. 115 of the C. P. Code does not necessarily mean the whole case and includes a particular branch of the case which is quite distinct. An order directing the defendant to deposit money under S. 10 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act is open to revision by the High Court (Brasher, J.) MAHANT KIRPAL SINGH v. NARINJAN SINGH. 69 I. C. 658: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 408.

——S. 115—Case—Order under S. 10, C. P Code—Interference in revision.

An order staying a suit under section 10 of the Civil Procedure Code is not "a decision of a case" within the meaning of section 115 of the Civil Procedure Code any more than a decision by a Subordinate Court in a case in which the only question is whether it has or has not jurisdiction to go on with a suit. In order to come to a finding as to whether the requirements of section 10, C. P. Code have or have not been fulfilled, the Court is bound to determine certain matters mentioned in the section, and, if it does, it cannot be said that the Court has acted illegally in the exercise of its jurisdiction which was vested in it by law. (Moti Sagar, J.) FIRM OF RAMCHAND DIVANCHAND v. FIRM OF PRITHVICHAND & CO. 73 I. C. 247: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 615.

——S. 115—Case—Decision as to jurisdiction of the Court.

Where on the objection of the defendant that the Court has no jurisdiction to entertain the suit, the Court decides it has jurisdiction, the order of the Court does not amount to a decision of a case and no revision lies against it. 40 P.W.R. 1921 : 41 A. 43 ; 42 A. 564, referred to. (Abdul Raoof, J.) COLONY FLOUR MILLS CO., LTD. v. FIRM OF SANT SINGH. 5 L. L. J. 140: 71 I. C. 487: 11 P. W. R. 1923: A I. R. 1923 Lah. 414.

——S 115—Case—Refusal to issue interrogatories.

The refusal to issue interrogatories for the examination of witnesses does not amount to "a case decided" within the meaning of S. 115, C. P. Code, and hence the order is not revisable. (Scott-Smith, J.) ROOPCHAND v. THE CHURCH MISSIONARY TRUST ASSOCIATION. 69 I. C. 417: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 282 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Case.

——S 115—Case—Order staying suit.

Semble:—There is no revision against an order of the lower Court staying the trial of a suit. 42 A. 409; 42 C. 926; 27 M. L. J. 494; 15 C W. N. 666 Ref. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MELA RAM v. RIKHI SINGH.

33 P. W R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 111 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 69.

——S. 115—Case—Meaning of—Order refusing stay of suit under S. 10, C. P. Code.

An order of lower Court refusing to stay the trial of a suit under S. 10, C. P. Code, is not open to revision under S. 115, C. P Code, inasmuch as there is no 'case decided.' 42 A. 409; 60 P. R. 1897 (F. B.) Foll. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF ISHAR DHARAM CHAND v. FIRM OF BUTA MAL DURGA DAS. 4 Lah. L. J. 425: 67 I. C. 870: A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 54.

——S. 115—'Case'—Meaning of—Jurisdiction—Revision.

The word 'case' in S. 115 does not mean necessarily the whole case, but may mean a particular branch of a case, having a separate remedy or procedure. The order of a Court, deciding that it has jurisdiction to entertain a suit is not a decision of a 'case' under S. 115, and no revision lies against the order. (Martineau, J.) SAWANMAL v. KANHAIYA LAL.

59 I. C. 680: 40 P. W. R. 1921.

——Ss. 115 and 144—Case—Decision as to payment of Court-fee.

An order of the appellate Court directing the appellant to pay ad valorem Court-fee is a case decided within the meaning of S. 115, C. P. Code, and the High Court can revise the order. (Oldfield, J.) SUDALAIMUTHU PILLAI v. SUDALAIMUTHU PILLAI.

17 L. W. 623: (1922) M W. N. 831: 71 I. C. 173: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 270.

——S. 115—Case—Order granting adjournment—If revisable.

An order adjourning the hearing of an application is not revisable, as there is no case decided. Nor is such a case covered by S. 151, C.P. Code. S. 115 refers only to cases of failure to exercise or improper exercise of jurisdiction. (Baker, J.C) RAJABAI v. JAGANNATH. 7 N. L. J. 183 : 78 I. C. 969 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 417.

——S. 115—Case decided—Meaning of—Question of jurisdiction—Interference.

The word "case" must be understood in its broadest and most ordinary sense. Where a refusal to interfere with an interlocutory order on the question of jurisdiction might result in a waste of public time and parties' 'money' the Court can interfere in revision if the order is wrong. (Prideaux and Kinkhede, A. J. Cs.) SHEOPRATAP SHRINIVAS v. SUKHDEO KANHAIYALAL. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 292.

——S. 115—Case—Refusal to sue in forma pauperis.

A refusal of leave to sue in forma pauperis is "a case decided" within S. 115, C. P. Code, and hence capable of being raised. (Baker, O. J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) ACHAL SINGH v. JIWAN DAS.

19 N. L. R. 165 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 44.

——S. 115—Case—'Decided', meaning of—Withdrawal of suit—High Court, power of.

Where a Court allows or refuses to allow a suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit, it 'decides' within the meaning of S. 115 of the Code and the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere. (Batten, A. J. C.) SINGHAI v. KANHAI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 115—Case.

61 I. C. 584 (Nag.).

——S. 115—Case—Order deciding finally one point in a suit is decision in a case—Court should not strike out pleadings unless the striking out is necessary for ends of justice—C. P. Code, S. 151.

Plaintiff sued for possession of certain properties; part of them under-proprietary interest and part occupancy interest in different plots of land. The first Court granted a decree, but the appellate Court was of opinion that a suit for the recovery of occupancy land, even from strangers who are not landlords did not lie in the Civil Court. It thereupon passed an order that the plaintiff should strike out from her plaint her claim for possession of the occupancy lands. Held, that the order of the lower Court amounted to an order in a case because it finally settled the matter whether a suit for the possession of occupancy land did lie in the Civil Court or not and that the Judge had no jurisdiction to pass the order which he did because such an order was not necessary for the ends of justice to prevent any abuse of the process of the Court. (Dalal, J. C.) MT. MALUKA v. PATESHUR SINGH. A. I. R. 1925 Ordh 604.

——S. 115—Case decided—Order directing certain issues to be tried first—Modification of—Revision.

A Munsiff directed that the first two issues in a case were to be argued first and then only evidence to be let in on the other issues. His successor directed evidence to be let in fully on all the issues. Held, the order was not one which could be revised under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Kendall, A. J. C.) RUTLEDGE v. BHIKARI SINGH. 89 I. C. 772 (Ordh).

——S. 115—Case—Order refusing to grant leave to amend cannot be revised under S. 115—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, S. 25.

The application for leave to amend is not a case, and, therefore, no revision can lie against an order refusing to grant leave to amend either under S. 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act or under S. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BADRI PRASAD v. MURLIDHAR. 77 I. C. 553 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 254.

——S. 115—Case—Refusal to try a preliminary issue as such cannot be revised.

Refusal of a Court to try the plea of res judicata as a preliminary issue cannot be revised as no case is decided and no question of jurisdiction is involved in the action of the Court. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) GAJADHAR LAL v. REOTI RAMMAN. 80 I. C. 628 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 179 (2).

——S. 115—Case decided—Order fixing fee of Commissioner.

An order fixing the fee of a Commissioner is not a case decided within the meaning of S. 115, C. P Code. Even if the Court fixes a high fee it is not an exercise of jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity. (Daniels and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) GIRDHARI GOPAL v. LACHMI NARAYAN.

A. I. R. 1924 Oud h 348.

——S. 115—Case—Adjournment granted on damages being paid.

An order requiring the plaintiff to pay certain damages on condition of getting an adjournment, with an order that the case will not be taken up unless the amount is paid, does not constitute the decision of a case within the meaning of the section. If the amount is not paid and the case dismissed, there is a right of appeal and the interlocutory order can be attacked therein. (Daniels, J.C) NARENDRA BAHADUR SINGH PANDE v. PEARY LAL. 64 I. C. 211 (1) : 24 O. C. 215.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Court-fee.

Court-fee.

——— —S. 115—Court-fee—District Judge's refusal to consider the allegation of an applicant for probate that certain properties have been erroneously included in the schedule and not liable to Court fees is revisable —Court Fees Act, S. 19-H.

Revision lies against the order of a District Judge refusing to enter into the matter when the applicant for probate alleges that certain properties have been erroneously included in the schedule and that they are trust properties and not part of the estate of the deceased and should therefore be excluded from the valuation. It is the duty of the District Judge in such a case to go into the matter and his failure to do so is a refusal to exercise a jurisdiction vested in him by law and, under S. 115 of the C. P. Code, his order is revisable. (Rankin and Mukerjee, JJ.) CHINMATH NATH PAL CHOWDHURI v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

78 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 357.

———S. 115— Court-fee— Wrong valuation is a good ground.

The High Court will interfere where the Courts below in a pre-emption suit committed a material irregularity in assuming, as the value for purposes of jurisdiction, the market value at the time of the suit instead of that at the time of the sale. (Scott Smith, J.) SHER MUHAMMAD v. AHMAD.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 380.

———S. 115—Court-fee—Decision as to category of suit for Court-fee purposes—Revision lies.

Where the question is as to whether a suit falls under Court Fees Act S. 7, cl. 4 (c) or 2nd Schedule, Art. 17-A (1) and the lower Court in the course of the suit has decided the matter in one way, the High Court can interfere in revision and set aside the decision. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) VENKAT RAMANI AIYAR v. M. NARAYANASWAMI AYYAR.

48 M. L. J. 688 : 21 L. W. 649 : 87 I. C. 660 : (1925) M. W. N. 276 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 713.

———S. 115—Court-fee—Order directing payment of—Revision—Interference.

An order of the lower Court calling upon the plaintiffs to pay ad valorem Court-fee, which led to the plaintiffs asking permission to contiuue the suit in forma pauperis. is erroneous, it is liable to be set aside in revision under S. 115, Civil Procedure Code. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MANAJI v. SITARAM.

7 N. L. J. 91 : 81 I. C. 643 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 105.

———S. 115—Court-fee—Order that Court-fee paid is sufficient—Neither revision nor appeal lies.

An order directing that the Court-fee paid by the plaintiff on a plaint is sufficient is open neither to appeal nor to revision. (Adami and Macpherson, JJ.) KANHAIYA LAL v. BALDEO LAL

A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 703.

Criminal prosecution.

———S. 115—Criminal prosecution—Sanction on irrelevant evidence is illegal.

Where the Court below grants sanction to prosecute on evidence which is legally inadmissible it acts with material irregularity and the order is open to revision by the High Court. (Rafiq, J.) PEARY LAL v. EMPEROR.

21 A. L. J. 399 : L. R 4 A. 92 (Cr.) : 75 I. C. 148 : 24 Cr. L. J. 900 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 601.

———S. 115—Criminal prosecution— Sanction — Refused by Munsif and granted by District Judge— Revision lies.

Where the District Munsif refused sanction to prosecute but on an application under S. 195 (6), Cr. P. Code, the District Judge granted sanction, an application for revision to the High Court lies under S. 115, C. P C. and not under S. 195 (6), Cr. P. Code. (Lindsay, J.) RAM NARAIN v. HARBANS SINGH.

71 I. C. 617 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 490 (1).

———S. 115—Criminal prosecution— Criminal Procedure Code. S. 476—Offence under S. 193, I. P. Code—Revision of order.

An order of a Judge passed under S. 476, Cr. P. Code, directing the trial of a person under S. 193, I.P. C. is open to revision only under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Ryves, J.) R. SIMEON v. EMPEROR. 23 Cr.L.J. 291 : 66 I. C. 515 · A. I. R. 1922 All. 438 (1).

———S. 115—Criminal prosecution—Government of India Act, S. 107—Order of District Judge revoking sanction revisable under—Revocation on wrong basis—No revision lies.

The High Court can only interfere with the order of District Judge revoking the order of the Munsif granting sanction for the prosecution of a party for perjury either under S. 115, Civil Procedure Code or under S. 107 of the Government of India Act, and the ground that the learned Judge should have considered not whether the prosecution was likely to succeed but whether a prima facie case has been made out which was a sufficient justification of removing the bar imposed by the Legislature to a prosecution for perjury, is not one which would justify interference under either of these sections. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JAINUDDIN v. KERAMATULLA.

24 Cr. L. J. 179 : 71 I. C. 595 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 641 (1).

——— S. 115—Criminal prosecution — Revision— Costs.

Having regard to the accepted view that a revision against an order granting sanction to prosecute should be treated as one under S. 115 of the C. P. Code, it is competent to the Court to award costs of the petition. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. FEROZA JAN v. MIRZA AMIR ALI. 9 O. & A. L. R. 103 : 24 Cr. L. J. 781 : 9 O. L. J. 593 : 74 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 119.

———S. 115—Criminal prosecution.

An order directing prosecution for an offence under S. 195, Indian Penal Code, is not open to revision. (Daniels, J. C.) EJAZ ALI KHAN v. EMPEROR.

24 O. C. 367 : 66 I. C. 68 : 23 Cr. L. J. 228 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 220.

Delay.

———S. 115 and O. 22, R. 2—Delay in bringing legal representatives—Revision.

Where an application to bring on record the legal representative of a deceased defendant is presented out of time on the ground of ignorance of the death on the part of the applicant and the Court below excused the delay, held, that the Court ought to have considered whether the applicant's ignorance of the death was justified and afforded sufficient cause for the belated application. (Wallace, J.) GOPALASWAMI IYER v. RAMACHANDRA IYER. 44 M. L. J. 409 : (1923) M. W. N. 159: 32 M. L. T. 293 : 72 I. C. 137 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 503.

———S. 115—Delay—Limitation.

As a general rule the High Court does not entertain revision petitions after 3 months, but the High Court may in a proper case excuse the delay in the exercise of its discretion. (Devadoss, J.) YAGNASWAMI AIYAR v. CHIDAMBARANATHA MUDALIAR.

(1922) M. W. N. 180 : 16 L. W. 760 : 65 I.C. 732 : A I. R. 1922 Mad 63 (2).

———S. 115—Delay—Revision filed after delay of more than 3 years, entertainment of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Delay.

A revision filed after an unexplained long delay of more than 3 years cannot, apart from merits, be entertained. 4 A. 154 Foll. (Dalal, J. C.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. MUSSAMMAT GANESHI. 10. W. N. 799 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 608.

——S. 115—Delay—Application filed too late will not ordinarily be allowed.

An application for revision made more than a year after the order complained of was passed will not be accepted unless some good reason can be shown for the delay. (Daniels, A. J. C.) BINDA PRASAD v. BANARSI DAS. 10 O. L. J. 205 : 77 I. C. 115 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 272.

Discretion.

——S. 115—Discretion—Refusal to extend time—Interference.

An order refusing to extend time for paying costs made conditional prior to setting aside a dismissal for default should not be interfered with in revision. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) AHMAD HUSAIN KHAN v. HARDIAL. 90 I. C. 243 : L. R. 6 A 586.

——S. 115—Discretion—Refusal to exercise discretion in one case is not relevant in another case.

Omission to give reasons by a Court for granting instalments is after all an irregularity and the discretion exercised by the Court below in that respect ought not lightly to be interfered with. [22 C. W. N. 601 Foll.] Where the question is one of discretion the ground why it was refused in one case is not relevant in other cases. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) JOKHU SINGH v. CHUNNO LAL. L. R. 5 A (Civ.) 784 : 83 I. C. 133 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 218 (1).

——S. 115—Discretion—No limitation.

There is no limitation for application in revision, but the Board has a discretion in entertaining them and will not intervene unless the parties use reasonable diligence. RAM PIARI MT. v. NAWAB MUMTAZ-UD-DAULAH. L. R. 2 A. 248 (Rev.)

——S. 115—Discretion—Order setting aside sale of a holding under S. 173 (3) of Bengal Tenancy Act—No prejudice caused—Order is not revisable.

Court has got discretion to decide whether the sale of a holding is voidable or not under S. 173 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and its decision is not revisable unless serious prejudice has been caused. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BROJENDRA NATH MUKERJI v. JADUNATH PALTA. 80 I. C. 708 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 293.

——Ss. 115 and O. 41, R. 27—Discretion—Additional evidence—Refusal to admit by appellate Court.

Where an appellate Court in the exercise of the discretion vested in it by O. 41, R. 27 of the C. P. Code refused to admit additional evidence offered three days after the argument was closed, the High Court would not interfere with its order in revision. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) HARICHARAN KARANJAI v. BAHAR SHEIKH. 67 I. C. 252 (Cal.).

——S 115—Discretion—Order as to mesne profits.

The High Court will not interfere in revision with the lower Court's order directing the Commissioner to ascertain mesne profits. (Spencer, J.) HUSSAIN SAHIB v. HAMMAD SAHIB. 16 L. W. 312 : 31 M. L. T 180 1922 M. W. N. 562 : 74 I. C. 812 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 43

——S. 115—Discretion—Misapplication of.

Where a subordinate Court which has made a mistake in law but has entirely misunderstood the nature of the judicial discretion and was called upon to exercise, the High Court will interfere in revision under S. 115. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) SHANMUKA NADAN v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR. 42 M. L. J. 97 : 14 L. W. 642 : (1921) M. W. N. 799 : 30 M. L. T. 172 : 69 I. C. 961 : 45 M. 194 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 332.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Discretion.

——Ss. 115 and 149—Discretion—Court's discretion for extending time for payment of deficient Court-fee cannot be questioned in revision.

Under S. 149 the Court has discretion to grant time for payment of deficient Court-fee and the propriety of the exercise of that discretion cannot be challenged in revision. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) MAHOMED GOLIF v. ABDUL RAHIM, 89 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 156.

——S. 115 and O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Court has great powers to allow amendment within its discretion.

Where amendment was allowed, after the case had been closed for argument, on plaintiff's application, and the alternative pleas newly raised involved merely a matter of construction of the facts set out in the plaint and the amendment did not involve the introduction of any new allegation of facts and did not in any way change the character of the suit. Held, O. 6, R. 17, gives a Court great powers to permit either party to alter or amend his pleadings at any stage of the proceedings and, therefore, the matter of amendment is one within the discretion of the presiding Judge and it cannot be said that the Judge in this case exercised jurisdiction not vested in him by law or failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested. nor can it be justly said that in allowing the amendment the Judge of the lower Court acted in the exercise of his jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) ANWAR KHAN v. YAKUB KHAN. 79 I. C. 911 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 62.

——S. 115—Discretion—Non-appealable cases.

Though revision is allowed only when no other remedy is available yet the remedy is discretionary and revision may be granted though other remedy is open. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) NILKANTH v. KASUBAI. 63 I. C. 46 : 4 N. L. J. 55.

——S. 115—Discretion—Powers of revision by High Court are discretionary—The Court will not interfere merely because there is an irregularity, want of jurisdiction, or wrong pronouncement on a point of law.

Under the provisions of S. 115 the interference by the High Court is discretionary. The power is one of superintendence by the High Court. Under no circumstance of want or wrong assumption of jurisdiction or of illegality, or irregularity is the Court bound to interfere even though the decision which is sought to be revised may be in conflict with any principle of law. The Court's interference will be influenced by the justice of the case and not by any mere irregularity, want of jurisdiction or wrong pronouncement on a point of law by a subordinate Court. 6 C. L. R. 234 ; 20 B. 630 ; 24 Cal. 133 ; 9 Bom. 97 ; 21 All. 152, Foll. (Dalal, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) MAGBUL HUSSAIN v. ESTATE OF SHAFIQ-UZ-ZAMAN. 12 O. L. J. 626 : 2 O. W. N. 543 : 89 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 28.

——S. 115 and O. 23, R. 1—Discretion—Order under O. 23, R. 1 can be revised if judicial discretion is not used.

Where a Court below has failed to exercise a judicial discretion an order under O. 23, R. 1 can be made the subject of revision. 21 O. C. 66, Foll. (Daniels, J. C.) RAJINDRA PURI v. BENI MADHO. 11 O. L. J. 351 : 79 I. C. 1031 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 140.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Error of Law.

Error of law.

——S. 115—Error of law—Interference by High Court—When justified—Not a ground for revision.

It is well settled that the scope of S. 115, C. P. Code, is very limited. Unless the Lower Appellate Court can be said to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law or to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity, this Court has no power to interfere in revision. It is manifest that an error of judgment on questions of law does not come under either of these categories. (Sulaiman, J.) LALA MATHURA PRASAD v. B. B. & C. I. RY. CO. L. R. 5 A. 252 : 78 I. C. 434 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 691.

——S 115—Error of law—Erroneous decision on point of limitation—Interference.

An erroneous decision on a question of limitation can be amended if the order results in an improper refusal to exercise jurisdiction, e.g., to execute a decree. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SURAJMAN CHAUBE v. ANORE SHUKUL. 21 A. L. J. 861 : L. R. 4 A. 591 : 9 O. and A. L. R. 989 : 46 All. 73 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 263.

——S. 115—Error of law—No ground for revision.

Where the Judge in the Court below has applied his mind to the question of law arising in the case but had decided it wrongly there is nothing to attract the interference of the High Court under S. 115, C. P. C. (Daniels, J.) BHOLA NATH v RAM SAHAI. 75 I. C. 472 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 465 (2).

——S. 115—Error of law—No ground for revision.

Where in the exercise of its jurisdiction the lower Court commits an error of judgment this is not a matter upon which revision can lie. (Banerji, J.) GANESH PRASAD SAHU v. DUKH HARAN SAHU. 66 I. C. 509 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 441 (1).

——S. 115—Error of law—Refusal to order partition at instance of defendant—High Court will interfere.

The High Court will interfere in revision where the lower Court refuses to order partition at the instance of any of the defendants in a partition suit as such a refusal amounts to a failure to exercise jurisdiction. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) LOKE NATH SAHA v. RADHA GOBINDA SHAHA. 86 I. C. 765 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 184.

——S. 115—Error of law—Notice of suit—Necessity for—Decision on if a point of jurisdiction—Railways Act, S. 77.

It cannot be said that a Court by holding that a notice under S. 77 of the Railways Act is not necessary on the facts of the case assumes a jurisdiction which had not been vested in it by law. Even if there was an error in the decision of the suit by the Court it was an error on a point of law and the High Court would not interfere under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Ghose, J.) EAST INDIAN RY. CO. v. KANAI LAL. 28 C. W. N. 292 : 80 I. C. 205 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 493.

——S. 115—Error of law—No ground for revision.

A mere error of law does not justify the Court in interfering under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Greaves, J.) GOLAM SOBHAN v ALI HOSSAIN BAHADUR. 65 I. C. 696 : A. I R. 1923 Cal. 322 (1).

——S. 115—Error of law—Not a ground of revision.

Where a matter is entirely within the jurisdiction of the lower Court, a mere error of law in arriving at a finding is no ground for revision by High Court. 41 C. 32, Ref. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) RAJENDRA NATH ROY v, SHEIKH ABDUL. 68 I. C. 430 : A. I. R 1923 Cal. 280.

——S. 115—Error of law—Interference.

Where there is error of law, there is no ground to exercise the powers of revision under S. 115, C. P Code. (Cuming, J.) HARI CHARAN ROY CHAUDHURI v. BIRENDRA NATH SAHA. 70 I. C. 541 : 35 C. L. J. 327.

——S. 115—Error of law—No revision.

Even if the lower Court had committed an error of judgment or of law the High Court cannot interfere under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Suhrawardy and Ghose, JJ.) GURUDAS KUNDU CHOWDHURY v. DASARATHI HALDAR. 65 I. C. 512 (Cal).

——S. 115—Error of law and burden of proof.

There is no ground for interference in revision with the order of the lower Court on the ground that the decision on a point of law is erroneous or the decision on a question of onus of proof is wrong. (Martineau, J.) MT. BARKAT BIBI v. ABDUL AZIZ. 26 P. L. R. 783.

——S. 115—Error of law—Erroneous decision of appellate Court as to first Court's having jurisdiction over a suit, cannot be revised.

An appellate judgment deciding (even erroneously) that the Court of first instance had jurisdiction to hear a suit, is not open to revision by the High Court. (Campbell, J.) BHOGI LAL v. AMAR NATH. 26 P. L. R. 746 : 90 I. C. 1042 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 47 (1).

——S. 115—Error of law—No ground for interference.

A Court directed a plaint to be returned in order to be represented to a Court having jurisdiction over the subject-matter. In appeal the order was reversed on the ground that that Court itself had jurisdiction. Held, even if the appellate order was wrong, it amounted only to an error of law and was no ground for interference in revision. (Simpson, J.) MT. HAIDRI KHANAM v. AHMAD ALI. 90 I. C. 430 (Lah.).

——S. 115—Error of law—Interference in revision.

A mere error of law is not necessarily an illegality and is not an exercise by a Court of a jurisdiction not vested in it by law so as to entitle the person aggrieved to apply for revision. Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is on the face of it barred, but the Court still sets it aside, the order cannot be interfered with in revision. (Moti Sagar, J.) SURJIT SINGH v. TORRIE. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 666.

——S. 115, O. 21, R. 89—Error of law—Dismissal of application—Revision.

The High Court can exercise revisional powers with respect to the dismissal of an application under O. 21, R. 89 on the ground that a person is not entitled to apply as it falls under S. 115. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Kumaraswami Sastry, JJ.) SUNDARAM v. MAMSA RAVUTHAR. 40 M. L. J. 497 : 13 L. W. 498 : 29 M. L. T. 269 : (1921) M. W. N. 272 : 63 I. C. 937 : 44 Mad. 554 (F. B.).

——S. 115—Error of law.

An alleged wrong view of law taken by the Court is not a ground for interference in revision. (Batten, J. C.) MT. BARI BAHU v. KUNDAN SINGH. 71 I. C. 31 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 264.

——S. 115—Error of law—Obvious mistake—Revision.

Where the finding of the Lower Court is vitiated by an obvious error the High Court can interfere in revision. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) MANGU LAL v. MT. NANHI. 5 N. L. J. 1 : 19 N. L. R. 131 : 67 I. C. 806 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 104.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Error of Law.

——S. 115—Error of law—Erroneous decision on a question of law is not revisable.

Erroneous decision on a question of law is no ground for revision. Decision of the lower appellate Court on appeal from an order of trial Court directing presentation of the plaint to the proper Court is not open to revision though erroneous as it is a question of law and it had jurisdiction to try it. (Simpson, A.J.C.) HAIDRI KHANAM v. AHMAD ALI. 90 I. C. 430 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 31.

——S. 115—Error of law—Erroneous finding on a question of law is no ground for revision.

The High Court will not ordinarily interfere with a finding of fact in revision. Erroneous decision on a question of law which the lower appellate Court has jurisdiction to try, is no ground for interference in revision. (Simpson, A. J. C.) GAJADHAR v. AULAD HUSAIN. 90 I. C. 373 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 80.

——S. 115—Error of law—Erroneous interpretation of section—No revision lies.

An erroneous decision, whether on a point of fact or on a point of law, is not sufficient reason for revision. It is necessary under S. 115, Civil Pro. Code, at least to show that some jurisdiction has been irregularly exercised. 40 Mad. 793 (P. C.) Dist. and also Foll. An erroneous idea of the meaning of any section or enactment, such as Art. 75 of the Limitation Act, will not justify an application in revision. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) BANKEY LAL v. RAM LAL 86 I. C. 918 : 12 O L. J. 112 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 373.

——S. 115—Error of law—Wrong decision on question of res judicata —Revision.

Held, further, that a wrong decision on a question of res judicata is not an exercise, by a Court, of jurisdiction not vested in it by law so as to entitle the person aggrieved by it to apply for revision. (Daniels, J. C.) KEDAR NATH v. SUKH NATH SINGH. 64 I. C. 209 : 24 O. C. 213.

——S. 115—Error of law—Subordinate Judge deciding a question following a ruling of another High Court—High Court taking different view—No revision lies.

Where the subordinate Judge decided a question following a decision of the Madras High Court which was directly in point, the Patna High Court refused to interfere in revision although it would have taken a different view on that point. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD SINGH v. BHAGWAT SAHAY. 6 Pat. L. T. 504 : 3 Pat. L. R. 18 : 86 I. C. 626 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 43 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 372.

——S. 115—Error of law—No ground for revision.

Where the Court below took a wholly erroneous view of the law of limitation, but at the same time its decision was one arrived at with jurisdiction, it cannot be reviewed under S. 115, C. P. C. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. BIBI ZAINBAB v. PRAS NATH. 4 Pat. L. T. 491 : 1 Pat. L. R. 361 : 2 Pat. 800 : 75 I. C. 430 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 37.

——S. 115—Error of law—Misconstruction of rules made by the High Court.

An erroneous construction of the rules framed by the High Court as regards costs of proceedings in subordinate Courts is no ground for revision. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMKISHUN DAS v. BENI PRASAD 3 P. L. T. 314 : 65 I. C. 355 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat 90.

——S. 115—Error of law—Interference.

Under S. 115 the High Court cannot interfere when the lower Court commits an error of law by applying one provision instead of another. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHABIR v. BALKISHUN. 3 Pat. L. T. 29 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 76 : 1 P. 48 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 376.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Illegality.

——S. 115—Error of law.

Where there is no mistake in computing the period of notice but error in law in holding that 15 from the 17th to the 31st days inclusive of the first were sufficient there is no sufficient ground for review. (Adami, J.) AKSHOY KUMAR BHATTACHARJEE v. M. L. AGARWALA. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 308 (1).

——S. 115—Error of law—Provisions of S. 6 (1) of Limitation Act overlooked by lower Court—Revision was allowed.

Where the lower Court dismissed the application on the ground that the claim was barred by limitation overlooking the provisions of S. 6 (1) of the Limitation Act revision was allowed. (Das, J.) MA SHWE U v. MA SHIN. 4 Bur. L. J. 146 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 381.

——S. 115—Error of law.

The omission by a lower Court to consider the effect of a prior decision is a good ground for revision. (Young, J.) MAUNG LEE GALE v. PROHTADO BARICKAN. 3 Bur. L. J. 127 : 84 I. C. 199 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 37.

——S. 115—Error of law—Illegality

A mere error of law is not necessarily an illegality though a perverse and wilful error of law or fact may be. Where the Court states the law correctly but applies it to facts which are assumed to exist but which really do not exist the Court acts illegally. (Saunders, J. C.) MA KYAW v. MAUNG SAEIN GO. 63 I. C. 838 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 16.

High Court.

——S. 115—High Court, practice as to—Rateable distribution.

Where in a suit for money certain property belonging to judgment-debtor was attached before judgment but released on two persons standing as sureties and they paid the amount in Court just afrer a holder of another money decree applied for execution and for rateable distribution, held, that the money was liable to be distributed. In such cases where no suit lies it is the practice of the High Court to interfere in revision. (Richardson, J.) GHISULAL v. TODURMAL. 26 C. W. N. 169 : A. I. R 1922 Cal. 19.

——S. 115—High Court.

Enquiry into disputes regarding election is capable of being revised by the High Court whose order is final. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VENKATARAMA AIYAR v. JANAB HAMID SULTAN MARACAYAR. 44 M. L. J. 161 : 17 L. W. 656 : (1923) M. W. N. 78 : 70 I. C. 987 : 32 M. L. T. 114 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 360.

——S. 115—High Court—Powers of.

High Court can interfere where a lower Court has framed and tried an issue which did not properly arise ; but before this principle can be applied it must be shown that an error of this nature has in fact been committed. (Fawcett, J C., Crump and Kemp, A.J. Cs.) BANUMAL v. NEWANDMAL. 83 I. C. 360 (2) : 16 S. L. R. 207 (F. B.)

Illegality

——S. 115 (c)—Illegality —Meaning of—Irregularity in procedure.

" Acting illegally" in S. 115 (c), C. P. Code, does not merely imply the committing of an error of procedure such as " acting with material irregularity" does. This part of the clause was advisedly left in indefinite language in order to empower the High Courts to interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts the justification for the interference being determined upon the grossness and palpableness of the error complained of and upon the gravity of the injustice resulting from it. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.) JOGUNNESSA BIBI v. SATISH CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE. 28 C. W. N. 559 : 39 C. L. J. 434 : 51 Cal. 690 : 78 I. C. 958 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 633.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Illegality.

——S. 115—Illegality — Refusal to decide on merits on wrong ground is revisable.

Dismissal of suit for damages for breach of contract on the preliminary ground that plaintiff being benamidar is not entitled to sue is revisable as the Court has acted illegally in the exercise of jurisdiction. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BALMOKAND v. SHANKAR DAS 76 I. C. 125 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 68.

——S. 115—Illegality—Order under O. 16, Rr. 10 and 12—Revision.

An order under O. 16, R. 10 or R. 12 of the Code is not appealable but if it is illegal, it is open to revision by the High Court under S. 115 of the Code. (Seshagiri Iyer, J.) RENGASAMI REDDI v. KONDA REDDI. 61 I. C. 967 : 29 M. L. T. 95.

——S. 115—Illegality—Injustice or hardship to be proved.

Even where the order of the Court below is illegal, it will not be revised unless it has caused injustice or hardship. (Hallifax A. J. C.) RAMIJI PATEL v. KARKAJI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 293.

——S. 115—Illegality — Inadmissible evidence admitted—Finding based on other evidence—Finding not vitiated.

Where a Court erroneously holds that certain documents are admissible but arrives at its finding independently of such documents, its finding cannot be said to be vitiated by such admission. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SHAMSHER NARAIN SINGH v. MAHOMED SALE. 90 I. C. 329 : A.I R. 1926 Pat. 29 (2).

——S. 115 and O. 23, R. 1—Illegality—Execution application—Withdrawal—Sale of property by Court notwithstanding—Revision.

Where the Court below rejected an application by the decree-holder withdrawing the execution proceedings which he had initiated and proceeded to sell the properties in execution notwithstanding such withdrawal, the order of the Court is without jurisdiction and can be set aside in revision. The order however is not open to appeal. 4 Mad. 217 : 32 C. 146 : 28 A. 72 Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM PRASAD RAI v. MAHESH KANT CHOWDHURY. 1 P. 232 : 65 I. C. 122 : 3 P. L. T. 445 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat 525.

——S. 115—Illegality—Failure to note a proviso to section—Powers of interference.

An error of misconstruction of a proviso of a section is not an illegality which justifies revision. (Carr, J.) MAUNG NYAN v. MAUNG SHWE NI. 2 Bur. L. J. 275 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 212 (2).

Interference.

——S. 115—Interference—Transfer of case without notice.

An order of transfer passed under S. 24 without notice to the other party can be set aside in revision. (Mukerji and Boys, JJ.) DE MELLO v. THE NEW VICTORIA MILLS CO., LTD. L. R. 6 A. 555 : 90 I. C 287 (2) : 23 A. L. J. 948.

——S. 115—Interference—Evidence—Not proved or admissible—When justifies interference.

Ordinarily when a Court acts on evidence which has not been proved or which is inadmissible it does not act without jurisdiction. If it considers the question of the admissibility of a document and decides either that it is admissible or not admissible then even though the decision may be wrong the Court does not act with material irregularity or illegality. It merely commits an error of law. But if the Court does not apply its mind to the question of admissibility at all and acts on a document which has not been proved or is not admissible, it acts with material irregularity or illegality in exercising jurisdiction. (Sulaiman, J.) HABIB BUX v. SAMUEL FITZ & CO. L. R. 6 A. 553 : 89 I. C. 22 : 23 A. L. J, 961.

——S. 115—Interference—Revision may be refused in the discretion of the Court.

Under S. 115 of the Civil Pro. Code, the High Court is not bound to intervene but may refuse to exercise its discretion if the circumstances require that such discretion should not be exercised. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) FATEH LAL v. SHER SINGH. L. R 6 A. (Civ.) 63 : 85 I.C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 264.

——S. 115—Interference—Lower Court's order not clear—Case was sent back.

Where the lower Court's order had left the matter in a muddle so much so that both the parties believed the matter to be pending, the case was sent back to the lower Court. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GAYA PRASAD v. FIRM NATHU LAL BUDHA LAL. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 319 : 78 I. C 1050 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 202.

——S.115—Interference—Interpretation of words in a document.

On a mere question of interpretation of particular words in a document, where the words were clearly susceptible of more than one interpretation, the High Court would decline to interfere in revision. (Piggott J.) KRISHNA DATT v. BRIJ LAL. A. I. R. 1923 All. 269.

——S. 115—Interference — None on technical ground.

High Court will not interfere in revision only on technical grounds. (Banerji, J.) RAMRAJ SINGH v. RABI PROSAD. 63 I. C. 140 (All.)

——S. 115—Interference is discretionary and not obligatory.

There is no obligation on the High Court to interfere on an application made under S. 115, even if facts are proved which bring the application within the section. It is purely a matter of discretion, and no rules can be laid down how that discretion is to be exercised. Whether the Court will interfere or not is entirely for the Court, which hears the application, to decide on the particular circumstances of the case before it. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BHIKALAL GIRDHARLAL v. ACHRATLAL LALLUBHAI. 49 Bom. 535 : 87 I. C. 910 : 27 B. L. R. 423 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 341.

——S. 115—Interference —Correct procedure not followed but justice done—No revision will be allowed.

Where substantial justice has been done to the parties and the applicant for revision has not ben prejudiced in any way, no revision will be allowed though the lower Court has not followed the correct procedure. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AZAM KHAN v. UMEDALI MORAL. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1223.

——S. 115—Interference—Revision is refused where substantial justice is done.

Where substantial justice is done the High Court will not interfere in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction even if it is of opinion that the procedure adopted by the lower Courts is wrong (Greaves and

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interference.

Graham, JJ.) BHAGABAN CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHRY v AMIR ALI 86 I C. 756: A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 245.

——S. 115—Interference—Sale set aside after 7 years on the ground of fraud—Question of fraud not fully discussed—Order was set aside in revision.

A sale was impeached under O. 21, R. 90 on the ground of fraud seven years after its confirmation. The lower Court did not grant the application but the Dt. Judge on appeal set it aside. The judgment of the Dt. Judge did not show that he had discussed all the points arising in the case. Held, that his judgment was defective and should be set aside especially because the decree-holder purchaser would have no remedy left to get the benefit of the decree if the sale were set aside so late as 7 years. 1 C. W. N. 67, Ref. (Suhrawardy, J.) GIRIBALA DASI v. TARAK NATH JATAN. 78 I. C. 149 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 515.

——S. 115—Interference—Order refusing restoration of review application dismissed for default.

High Court can revise an order refusing to restore an application for review dismissed in default. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) HEM SANKAR ROY CHAUDHURI v. NISHI KANTA DAS GUPTA.
81 I. C. 1017 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 430.

——S. 115 and O. 21, R. 58—Interference—Claim to mortgaged property—Mortgage decree for sale—Claim once allowed but disallowed on fresh application for sale.

A claim is not entertainable under O. 21, R. 58 of the Civil Procedure Code to property which has been ordered to be sold under a mortgage decree ; and where such a claim was once allowed but subsequently the decree-holder having again applied for execution of the decree by sale of the property, a further claim to the property by the successful claimant was disallowed by the executing Court, held, on an application for revision under S. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code that the High Court could not interfere. 14 Cal. 631, Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) MAHABIR PRASAD SINGH v. JOGENDRA NATH MONDAL. 68 I. C. 271 : 26 C. W. N. 50.

——S. 115—Interference—Grounds for affidavit of pleader's clerk.

The High Court will not interfere in revision when the applicant has suffered no prejudice and the order complained against does not affect his interests. Nor would the High Court act on the affidavit of a pleader's clerk and interfere. (Suhrawardy and Ghose, JJ.) SURAJ NARAIN DAS v. AMIRUDDIN MAHOMED. 66 I. C. 127 (C).

——S. 115—Interference—Order refusing to stay a suit pending a previous one is revisable—Civ. Pro. Code, S. 10.

High Court can set aside an order refusing to stay suit under S. 10 pending the final decision of a suit previously instituted for the same subject-matter and between the same parties. (Zafar Ali, J.) MEHTAH SHAH v. ALI HAIDER SHAH. 82 I. C. 234 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 144 (2).

——S. 115—Interference—Miscarriage of justice.

Where a decree is claimed against a person in a representative capacity and judgment is given accordingly, but in drafting the decree, a personal liability was cast on the defendant and the Court refused to amend it, the High Court can interfere in revision to prevent a gross miscarriage of justice. (Zafar Ali, J.) CHANDA SINGH v. FATEH CHAND. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 621.

——S. 115 and O. 47, R. 1—Interference—Review—Rejection of an application—Revision.

Excepting cases where an obvious injustice has to be remedied the High Court need not interfere in revision with an order rejecting an application for review. 26 A. 573 : 35 P. R. 1911, Referred to. (Broadway, J.) TOLA RAM v. CHANDU MAL TOTA RAM.
71 I. C. 160 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 400.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interference.

——S. 115—Interference—Substantial justice—Mandatory injunction.

The question of substantial justice arises more truly where a case has been decided and where the High Court is of opinion that any technical error, which might have been urged in an ordinary appeal, is not a sufficient ground for interference on revision unless injustice has been caused thereby or the petitioners have been prejudiced. (Harrison, J.) THE LAHORE ELECTRIC CO. v. BOMBAY MOTOR AND CYCLE CO.
67 I. C. 742 (Lah.)

——S. 115—Interference—Temporary injunction granted by first Court but revoked on appeal—Revision Judge admitting the allegations in the plaint but refusing injunction on his own private opinion.

The District Munsif granted an injunction pending the suit. On appeal, the Judge admitting the plaint allegations said that, in his own private opinion, it was not necessary to grant the injunction and hence revoked it. On revision held, that it was not a judicial order to be passed and must be set aside. (Wallace, J.) SRIRANGA NARAYANA JEER v. AHOBILA JEER. 22 L. W. 837.

——S. 115—Interference.

Exercise of jurisdiction owing to a wrong interpretation of a rule is revisable. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) VEERAPPA CHETTIAR v. P. G. SUNDARESA SASTRIGAL. 49 M L. J. 366 : 48 Mad. 676 : 22 L. W. 606 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 1201.

——S. 115—Interference—Suit for damages for use and occupation against legal representative of tenant holding over—Defendant challenging plaintiff's title—Court ignoring issue—Revision should be allowed.

The suit was for damages for use and occupation against the legal representative of a tenant holding over. The defendant in her written statement challenged the plaintiff's title. The defendant did not abandon the issue. The Court ignored the issue of title. Held, that the plaintiff was not absolved from the duty of proving his title and that as the defendant was prejudiced by the Court having so absolved the plaintiff, the High Court should interfere in revision. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) KOPPA ANKI v. P. VENKATA SUBBAYYA. 48 M. L. J. 685 : 87 I. C. 695 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 884.

——S. 115—Interference—Erroneous decision—Wrong provision of law applied—Order justifiable under other provision.

Where an order of the Lower Court which purports to be passed under a particular provision of law is not justifiable with reference to that provision but can be made under some other provision of law not invoked by the parties and where the order complained against has been passed after full enquiry into the merits of the case and does substantial justice between the parties, the High Court will not interfere in revision with that order. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) JOHN JOSEPH BRITO v. S. C. BRITO. 19 L. W. 532 : 75 I. C. 888 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 586.

——S. 115—Interference — Proceedings under S.36 of the Legal Practitioners Act—Power of High Court to interfere.

The High Court will not interfere in revision under S. 115 to quash the pending proceedings where a Court is taking proceedings under S. 36 of the Legal Practitioners Act. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) VARADACHARIAR v. KALYANA SUNDARAM AIYAR.
44 M. L. J. 437 : 16 L. W. 795 : 69 I. C. 433 ;

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interference.

23 Cr. L.J. 705 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 188 (2).

——S. 115—Interference — Remand—Improper order—Revision—Interference by High Court.

The High Court can interfere in revision when an improper order of remand is passed. (Devadoss, J.) PERICHERLA SURYANARAYANA RAJU v. GANAPATHY RAJU. 30 M. L. T. 314 : 16 L. W. 593 : 70 I. C. 665 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 113.

——S. 115—Interference—Temporary injunction —Grant of.

Interference in revision in granting temporary injunction is not justified under S. 115. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) KADANKOLATHIL SAIDALI KUTTI v. GODAN NAMBUDRI. (1922) M. W. N. 303 : 16 L. W. 238 : 70 I. C. 713 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 172.

——S. 115—Interference—Merits of the case to be looked into.

Where no injustice has been caused by the irregular procedure of the Court below, the High Court will not interfere in revision. (Devadoss, J.) YAGNASWAMI AIYAR v. CHIDAMBARANATHA MUDALIAR. (1922) M. W. N. 130 : 16 L. W. 760 : 65 I. C. 732 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63 (2).

——S. 115—Interference—No cause of action—Revision.

Where there is no cause of action for a suit or where the cause of action is illegal, the High Court can in revision set aside the decree of the lower Court. 25 A. 209, Relied on. (Baker, O. J. C.) KASHI RAM v. BARKYA. 7 N. L. J. 13 : 77 I C. 46 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 101.

——S. 115—Interference—Decree of Small Cause Court based on question of fact—Grounds for interference in revision.

Small Cause Courts have doubtless been given very wide powers with regard to decisions on questions of fact and in revision the High Court is always reluctant in questioning a decision on the facts. But there is no doubt that it has for good reasons power to do so. In cases where the findings of fact are based on or involve assumptions or inferences which there is nothing in fact or probability to support, or are not justified by sufficient evidence or where the finding of fact is opposed to the evidence or on flagrant misinterpretation or disregard of evidence, or if injustice would otherwise be done, the High Court has power to interfere in revision. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) PADAMSI v. SESHRAO. 19 N. L. R. 72 : 73 I. C. 1055 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 292.

——S. 115—Interference—Security—Rejection of.

An order which finds certain security offered to be insufficient cannot be revised. (Simpson, A. J. C.) JAIDAT SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH. 90 I. C. 1051.

——S. 115—Interference—Errors of fact and law —Death of arbitrator—Effect.

The High Court will not ordinarily interfere with a finding of fact in revision ; nor with a decision on a question of law which the Court below had jurisdiction to decide. Where the Court below decided that the death of one of several arbitrators did not render the award invalid, there is no ground for interference in revision. (Simpson, A. J. C.) GAJADHAR v. AULAD HUSAIN. 90 I. C. 373.

——S. 115—Interference—Revision lies on a point of limitation.

Judgment of a Subordinate Court may be upset on a question of limitation in revision. 16 O. C. 45 Rel. on, (Neave and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) MT. MOHANYA v. PANNA LAL. 11 O. L. J. 513 : 79 I. C. 848 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 34

——S. 115—Interference—Revision lies though Dt. Judge acts as Rent Court—Oudh Rent Act, S. 135.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interference.

Even where the District Judge has acted as a Rent Court, the High Court can interfere in revision under S. 115. (Dalal, J. C.) JAGANNATH PERSHAD v. BECHU. 27 O. C. 89 : 11 O. L. J. 77 : L. R. 5 O. 78 : 80 I. C. 327 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 349.

——S. 115—Interference—Order refusing to extend time for payment fixed in decree—If revisable.

Where a decree fixes a certain time for payment of money and an application to extend the time for payment was dismissed, there is no appeal against the order, but it is revisable. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) TIRBHAWAN DIT SINGH v. SURAJ BALI. 11 O. L. J. 119 : 78 I. C. 387 : A.I.R. 1924 Oudh 330.

——S. 115—Interference—High Court, when will not interfere.

Where the order of the Lower Court is good on the merits, the High Court will not interfere in revision and drive the parties to another suit even if the order of the Lower Court is irregular or illegal. (Lindsay, J. C.) DEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAM KHELWAN. 63 I. C. 545 : 8 O L. J. 307.

——S. 115—Interference—Joinder of parties—Refusal to add.

An order of Court refusing to add a party as defendant cannot be revised, as there is no refusal to exercise jurisdiction, but if at all only a wrong exercise of it. Possibly S. 107, Government of India Act, will apply, if there is a denial of the right of fair trial. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) KALI RAI v. TULSI RAI. 4 Pat. 723.

——S. 115—Interference—Ex parte order—Setting aside—Finding that applicant had no knowledge of suit till within 30 days of application—One of the plaintiffs dead—Finding that legal representatives represented by other plaintiffs—Inadmissible evidence —Conclusion apart from.

A Munsiff set aside an ex parte order on finding that the applicant had no knowledge of the suit till within 30 days of the application to set aside the decree, that summons was not served on him and that though one of the plaintiffs was dead, the others represented his heirs. There was one piece of inadmissible evidence but the finding was arrived at on the rest of the evidence. Held, there was no scope for interference in revision. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SHAMSHER NARAIN SINGH v. MOHAMMAD SALE. 90 I. C. 329.

——S. 115—Interference—Trial Court indefinitely postponing some issues of fact—Loss of evidence to parties almost certain—High Court will interfere under general powers, if not under S. 115—Govt. of India Act, S. 107.

If the effect of an order of the trial Court indefinitely postponing the trial of an issue of fact in an almost certain loss of material testimony to plaintiff as well as defendant the High Court will interfere in the exercise of its powers of superintendence though S. 115 of the Code may not apply. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) BHIMNATH v. JAGARNATH. 1925 P. H.C. C. 294 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 674.

——S. 115—Interference—High Court need not interfere save for aiding justice—Lower Court's order under S. 151, C. P. Code, passed without jurisdiction setting aside its own decree is not revisable where the decree would have been successfully avoided in review.

The Court is not bound to interfere under section 115 except in aid of justice. Where the lower Court acceded to plaintiff's prayer under S. 151 to set aside a decree, held, that though the Court had no jurisdiction under that section to set aside its own decree, yet, as plaintiff would have succeeded had he applied under O. 47, R, 1 instead of under S. 151, High Court should not interfere. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMESWAR

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interference.

MAHTON v. LALA DWARKA PRASAD. 3 Pat. 778 : 6 P.L. T. 309 : 84 I. C. 320 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 36.

———S. 115—Interference—Local investigation—Commission for—Interference in revision by High Court.

Where the issue of a commission for local investigation by the lower Court would lead to the determination of the rights of the parties on an improper basis and would inevitably and unnecessarily prolong a litigation and cause irreparable loss and expense to the parties, the High Court would interfere in revision and set aside the order. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) RAMJI RAM v. RAMASRE. 1924 P. H. C. C. 217 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 761.

———S. 115—Interference—Rateable distribution—Order regarding.

Orders under S. 73, C.P. Code, are not ordinarily revisable under S.115, C.P. Code. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) BABU BISHUN MOHAN SAHAY v. NARAYAN PRASAD ASTHANA. 74 I.C. 140: A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 434.

———S. 115—Interference—Compromise decree—Order extending time—Revision.

An order extending time for payment of money under a compromise decree cannot be revised under S. 115, C. P. C. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. NAND RANI KUER v. DURGA DAS NARAIN. 2 Pat. 906 : 1924 P. H. C. C.122 : 5 Pat. L. T. 401 : 82 I. C. 505 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 387.

———S. 115 and Government of India Act (1915), S. 107—Interference—Revenue Court, order of—Jurisdiction of High Court to revise.

An order of a Revenue Court under S. 476 of the Cr. P. Code is open to revision by the High Court under S. 115 of the C. P. Code. or S. 107 of the Government of India Act (1915). (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) RAKTU SINGH v. EMPEROR. 6 Pat. L.J. 178 : 61 I. C. 643 : 2 Pat. L. T. 609 : 22 Cr. L. J. 403 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 240.

Interlocutory order.

———S. 115 and Sch. II, Para 15—Interlocutory order—Order superseding award in pending case and directing suit to proceed—No revision lies.

No revision lies against an order superseding an award made in a pending case and directing the suit to proceed on the merits. 43 All. 564 and 1925 All. 458 Foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RUDRA PRASAD PANDE v. MATHURA PRASAD PANDE. 23 A. L. J. 656 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 459 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 566.

———S. 115—Interlocutory order—Pending suit—No revision lies.

Where the matter to be revised arises out of the proceedings of a pending suit there will be no revision till the suit has been decided. There were two suits, the plaintiff in one of which was the defendant in the other. The parties agreed to refer the matters in dispute to arbitration. Before the arbitrators, the parties stated that they had arrived at a compromise by which one suit should be decreed and the other suit should be dismissed. The arbitrators recommended that the Court should dispose of the two suits according to this compromise. When the matter went before the Court it set aside the award on the ground that the compromise recorded by the arbitrators has been arrived at by means of lottery. Held, that no revision lay from the order of the Court. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) SHAH MUHAMMAD FAKHRUDDIN v. RAHIM MULLAH SHAH. 47 A. 121 : 85 I. C. 502 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 22 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 458.

———S. 115—Interlocutory orders are generally not revised where alternative remedy exists except where they may lead to failure of justice or irreparable injury.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interlocutory order.

Although the High Court interferes as little as possible with interlocutory orders where an alternative remedy exists it is not a hard and fast rule and where the orders may cause a failure of justice or irreparable injury, the High Court can and will interfere. When issues which were unnecessary and which were likely to entail an expenditure of time and money wholly out of proportion to the matter in dispute were likely to cause irreparable injury, the issues were ordered to be struck off in revision. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) SM. SARAJUBALA DEBI v. MOHINI MOHAN GHOSH. 40 C L. J. 191 : 28 C. W. N. 991 : 82 I. C. 1008 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 204.

———S. 115 and O. 26, R. 4—Interlocutory order.

Where the lower Court wrongly refused to grant commission for examination of witnesses, the High Court will interfere and set aside the order. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SHARAT KUMAR v. RAM CHANDRA CHATTERJEE. 35 Cal. L. J. 78 : 68 I. C. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 C. 42.

———S. 115—Interlocutory order not open to revision.

Interlocutory orders cannot or at any rate should not be interfered with in revision. (Zafar Ali, J.) THE FIRM RAHMAT ULLAH FAKHAR-UD-DIN v. THE FIRM RAHIM BAKHSH AUMAR-UD-DIN. 75 I.C. 107 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 301 (2).

———S. 115 and O. 6, R. 17—Interlocutory order—Amendment—Refusal—Interference.

Though the High Court would not generally interfere with interlocutory orders of the lower Courts yet if the interests of justice required the amendment which was refused the High Court may interfere. (Scott-Smith, J.) JHARIA COAL COMPANY v. DIWAN CHAND COMPANY. 67 I. C. 335 (Lah.).

———S. 115—Interlocutory order—Appeal.

In revision the High Court is not bound to interfere even in a case of defect of jurisdiction unless it is shown that there has been a failure of justice arising from such defect. 36 P. R. 1902 Foll. There is no appeal from an interlocutory order in a suit and if the appellate Court entertains such an appeal it assumes a jurisdiction not vested in it. (Broadway, J.) GANDA RAM v. SUNDAR LAL. 67 I. C. 278 : 2 L. L. J. 673.

———S. 115 and O. 41, R. 25—Interlocutory order—Discretion.

It is only in exceptional cases that revisional powers are exercised in the case of orders of an interlocutory nature and even when the order is not of an interlocutory nature the High Court should not interfere except in cases where the order is not a final order such as one under O. 41, R. 25 of the C. P. Code. (Broadway, J.) ALLAH BAKSH v. LAL KHAN. 67 I. C. 269 : 2 L. L. J. 662.

———S. 115—Interlocutory order.

Unless irreparable waste not only of time and money but of the time of the trying Courts will be the result, the High Court will not interfere with an interlocutory order as an exceptional case. (Leslie Jones, J.) FIRM OF DAMRI SHAH v. FIRM OF RULLA MAL. 2 Lah. L. J. 555 : 64 I. C. 387 : 17 P. L. R. 1922.

———S. 115—Interlocutory order allowing a party to adduce evidence after closing case.

Revision of interlocutory orders is justified only in cases where irremediable damage is likely to result. An order allowing a party to produce fresh evidence on an issue after closing the case was held as not open to revision in this particular case. (Wilberforce, J.) THE FIRM OF MAKHAN LAL TEJ PAL v. THE FIRM OF JAI NARAIN BRIJ RAJ. 59 I. C. 450 : 17 P. W. R. 1921.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interlocutory order.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Revision should not be granted during pendency of suit except for strong reasons.

Interference by the High Court with the proceedings of a lower Court during the pendency of a suit is to be deprecated unless strong reasons are made good. In the present case revision was granted, partly on the ground that the lower Court had not properly understood the provisions of O. 11, R. 14 of the C. P. Code, and partly on the ground that the result of its orders might be wholly unnecessary and cause irremediable damage to the first defendant's business interests. (Wallace, J.) RAMACHARI v. KRISHNAMACHARI.
47 M. L. J. 460 : 47 M. 934 : 20 L. W. 533 : (1924) M. W. N. 863 : 80 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 846.

——S. 115—Interlocutory orders—Interference with, exceptional.

Though the Court will interfere in revision with an interlocutory order, such interference should be exercised with extreme diligence, the general rule being against such interference ; it will interfere only in such cases as for example where the Court below has acted perversely or in a manner as to cause irreparable loss to the plaintiffs. (Odgers, J.) RATNACHALAM IYER v. SIVACHIDAMBARAM PILLAI. 45 M. L. J. 703 : 18 L. W. 198 : (1923) M. W. N. 403 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 690.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Refusal to issue commission—Interference.

In a case where a Court refused to examine a witness on commission, when it had no discretion to refuse it, the High Court will interfere in interlocutory proceedings rather than permit a trial to go on an illegal course, which will entail unnecessary expenditure and waste of time. (Wallace, J.) JAGANNATHA SASTRY v. SARATHAMBAL AMMAL. 46 Mad. 574 : 17 L. W. 251 : (1923) M. W. N. 157 : 71 I. C. 530 : A. I. R 1923 Mad. 321 : 44 M. L J. 202.

——S. 115—Interlocutory orders—Appeal is proper remedy.

A regular appeal and not revision is the proper method of challenging the correctness of interlocutory orders made in the course of trial. (Spencer, J.) HUSSAIN SAHIB v. HAMMAD SAHIB.
16 L. W. 312 : 31 M. L. T. 180 : 74 I. C. 812 : (1922) M. W. N. 562 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 43.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Revision—Interference when justified—Posting of case for argument on preliminary issues.

It is impossible to say that in no case whatever will the High Court interfere with an interlocutory order of the lower Court. But interference must be exercised with great diligence, the general rule being against such interference. Interference will be justified if the order sought to be revised is in fact perverse or if irreparable injury will be caused unless the revision is allowed. 9 M. 256 ; 15 M. L. T. 339 ; 5 L. W. 207 ; 12 C. L. J. 505 ; 12 C. L. J. 519 : 12 C. L. J. 525 ; 39 M. 195 (F. B.) Ref. Where the lower Court posted a case for final hearing on preliminary issues of law settled long before, the High Court refused to interfere as the party had a remedy by appeal in case of injury or inconvenience. (Odgers, J.) RAMAKRISHNA PILLAI v. KRISHNASWAMI PILLAI.
15 L. W. 667 : (1922) M. W. N. 521 : 68 I. C. 167 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Misjoinder of parties and causes of action—Interference.

The powers of the High Court in revision could be exercised in cases where the lower Court held that a suit is bad for misjoinder of parties, non-joinder of parties and misjoinder of parties and causes of action. The use of the revisional powers would be justified where the lower Court has decided that the suit is not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. 42 M. L. J. 43 ; 29 M. L. J. 53 ; 10 L. W. 652 ; 6 L. W. 9 ; 5 L. W. 207 Foll. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) VEERAPPA NADAR v. CHIDAMBARA NADAR.
43 M. L. J. 277 : (1922) M. W. N. 316 : 70 I. C. 684 : 16 L. W. 186 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 174.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Usually no revision lies.

It is not usual to interfere in revision in the case of interlocutory orders because though there may be no immediate appeal against such an order a remedy is supplied by S. 105, C. P. Code, which provides that such orders may be made a ground of objection in the appeal against the final decree. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) ANWAR KHAN v. YAKUB KHAN.
79 I. C. 911 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 62.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Decision as to Court-fee—Error of law—Revision.

A decision of a Subordinate Court determining the amount of Court-fees payable by plaintiff is not open to interference in revision inasmuch as no case has been decided by the Court below. 43 A. 564 Foll. A mere error of law though a ground for second appeal does not justify revision. (Prideaux, A. J. C,) GOVIND v. DAJI. 65 I. C. 327 : A.I.R. 1922 Nag. 128.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order for collecting materials for decision of case is unrevisable.

An interlocutory order which does not determine the case but which is made with the object of collecting materials upon which the case is to be determined thereafter is not revisable. (Kendall, A. J. C.) DHARAM NARAIN v. UNAO COMMERCIAL BANK.
11 O. L. J. 692 : 80 I. C. 612 : 28 O. C. 78 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 189 (2).

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Revision.

Where a Subordinate Judge allowed a plaintiff to put in a replication conditional on the payment of a certain amount of costs and where the aggrieved party applied to the High Court in revision, held, that no revision lay as no case had been decided so far. (Daniels, J. C.) NARENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. PEARY LAL. 64 I. C. 211 (1) : 24 O. C. 215.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Decision of issue as to jurisdiction.

No revision lies from an order deciding an issue as to jurisdiction against the defendant as such an order is an interlocutory order. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Lyle, A. J. C.) SHYAM SUNDER v. SHEOAMBER BAN. 64 I. C 92 : 24 O. C. 231.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order is not revisable where there is other remedy unless irreparable loss will occur.

Ordinarily an interlocutory order is not capable of revision particularly when there is another remedy available to the injured party ; but where the order complained against is such as is calculated to cause irreparable loss to the injured party and there is no right of appeal and no remedy available to the party, an interlocutory order may be revised under S. 115 read with S. 15 of the Charter Act. (Case-law discussed.) (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) MANI LAL v. DURGA PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. J. 425 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 254 : 3 Pat. 930 : 80 I. C. 667 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 673.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Appeal—Revision—Interference when justified.

Where there is a right of appeal from the decree that might be passed in the suit, the High Court will not interfere in revision with the judgment on an interlocutory order passed by the Court below. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 71 I. C. 911 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 176.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Interlocutory order.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Refusal to frame issue—Revision—Interference—Government of India Act, S. 107.

As a general rule, except upon proof of irreparable injury, the High Court will not interfere in revision under S. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, when there is another remedy open to the applicant. Interlocutory orders are not exempted. Where the Court below refused to raise an issue clearly arising from the pleading of the party, without assigning any reason whatever, the High Court interfered under S. 107 of the Government of India Act. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) SHEO PRASAD SINGH v. SUKHU MAHTO. 4 Pat. L.T. 401: 1 Pat. L.R. 89: A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 518.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order.

The High Court will not interfere in revision with interlocutory orders unless some irreparable injury is caused to any party thereby. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMJAS v. LINTON MOLESWORTH & CO. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 411.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Interference.

Where the record of a case has been sent for by the High Court and the case is before it for order, it would not be exercising a wise discretion if the High Court did not dispose of the matter, the question of discretion being merely concerned with the stage at which the matter should be determined. Where considerable delay has already occurred and is likely to occur if a remand is ordered, the High Court ought to interfere even with interlocutory orders. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) B. NAURATAN LAL v. W. J. STEPHENSON. 1922 P. H. C. C. 79 : A. I.R. 1922 Pat 359.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order—Trial of case piecemeal—Procedure defective.

The High Court will interfere with an interlocutory order directing the trial of certain issues in a case before trying others, as the trial of a case piecemeal is a serious evil to the parties or might involve heavy costs in Second Appeal or any other hearing. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SATYA NIRANJAN CHAKRAVARTI v. DWARKANATH. 60 I. C. 528 · 2 Pat. L. T. 154.

——S. 115 and O. 26, R. 2—Interlocutory order—Interference in revision—Examination of witnesses.

The High Court has power to interfere in revision with interlocutory orders not directly appealable so as to avoid irreparable damage or gross injustice. The High Court will not interfere with the discretion of the lower Court not perversely exercised. A dismissal of an application to examine witnesses on commission without considering whether their evidence would be relevant or not, is open to revision. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) S. R. M. M. CHETTY v. P. L. N. N. NARAYANAN CHETTY. 64 I. C. 821 : 11 L. B. R. 65.

——S. 115—Interlocutory order practically deciding suit but incapable of being made ground of appeal from decree—Revision lies.

Ordinarily the High Court will not interfere in revision with interlocutory orders. But where the Judge against whose order there is an application for revision has so used his jurisdiction that the result of allowing his order to stand will be definitely to decide the case pending before him, so that all the proceedings thereafter taken would be merely infructuous and waste of time and where the interlocutory order could not be made the ground of an appeal against the final decree then the High Court can interfere in revision and set aside the order. Where the plaintiff originally prayed for a declaration and injunction but when the defendants objected that they were in possession and so the suit as framed was not maintainable, the plaintiff applied to amend the plaint by adding a prayer in the alternative, for possession of the property, and where the lower Court refused to allow the amendment, held, that the High Court had jurisdiction to interfere with the order and set it aside if necessary. 14 S. L. R. 28 Dist. (Kennedy, J. C. and De Souza, A. J. C.) MUNICIPALITY OF TANDO ADAM v. KHAIR MAHOMED. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 260.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of.

——S. 115—JURISDICTION.

Application under.
Excess of.
Failure to exercise.
Irregular Exercise.
Local Acts.
Order under.
Refusal of review.
Refusal to exercise.
Revenue Court.
Small Cause Court.
Jurisdiction—Application under.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Application to set aside election—Lower Court deciding that petition disclosed grounds for holding election enquiry—High Court can interfere.

The lower Court decided, over-ruling objections that an election petition to set aside an election disclosed grounds on which an election enquiry could be held under the Election Rules. Held, that the High Court could interfere because if the election petition did not disclose any ground for an enquiry, the lower Court would be exercising a jurisdiction not vested in it by holding such an enquiry and to hold it would simply lead to waste of time of the Court and of the parties. In such a case it was but right and proper that the High Court should decide whether the petition disclosed any grounds for holding an enquiry and, if it did not the High Court should say so at once and stop the enquiry at the very outset. (Krishnan, J.) C. JANARDHANAN v. N. M. VERGHESE. 48 M. L. J 451 : 87 I. C. 113 · (1925) M. W. N. 305 ; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 707.

——S. 115, O. 47, R. 1 and S. 151—Jurisdiction—Application—Lower Court competent to extend time on a review application—Extension granted on application for extension is valid.

If Court has jurisdiction to extend time upon an application for review there is no reason why his order should be disturbed because he made the order upon an application for extension and not upon an application for review. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) MT. RAM KUMARI v. DEONANDAN SINGH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 151 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 452.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Application under O. 21, R. 100—Misconstruction of law—Interference.

Where the decision of a Court is the very basis and foundation of jurisdiction, the case falls within S. 115, C. P. Code. Where a Court by misconstruction of the provisions of law holds that a person is not entitled to maintain an application under O. 21, R. 100, it declines a jurisdiction vested in it by law and the matter is revisable. (Das, J.) RAM KISHUN SINGH v. DAMODAR PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. T. 107 : 75 I. C. 856 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506.

Jurisdiction—Excess of.

——S. 115 and O. 21, R. 89—Jurisdiction—Excess of—Execution sale—Application to set aside—Sale of property by judgment-debtor—Locus standi to apply.

After an execution sale of the properties of a judgment-debtor he sold them to a third person and deposited the execution sale price with 5 per cent. in addition as required by O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code. On a question arising as to whether the sale should be set aside, the first Court held that it should be set aside and the appellate Court held to the contrary. On revision to the High Court, held, that the Court had jurisdiction to decide the question as it did, and that no revision lay. 40 M. 793 : 43 A. 334 Referred to. 44 M.554 : 4 Pat. L.J. 340 dissented. (Banerjee, Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) YAD RAM v. SUNDAR SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of.

45 A. 425 : 21 A.L.J. 313 : L. R. 4 A. 402 : 74 I.C. 778 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 392 (F. B.)

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of—Point not in issue—Decision on—Effect.

Where the Courts below decided the suit on a point not in issue between the parties, the orders are without jurisdiction and can be revised. (Hopkins, S. M. and Fremantle, J. M.) JAHANGIRA v. MT. LACHHI KUAR. L. R. 3 A. 219 (Rev.) : 4 U. P. L. R. (B.R.) 47.

——S. 115 — Jurisdiction—Excess of—Proper exercise of.

Where the Lower Court exercises jurisdiction in a proper manner, the High Court will not interfere. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RATAN LAL v. HAMIDULLA KHAN. 19 A. L. J. 47 : 2 U. P.L.R. (A.) 403 : 60 I. C. 699 : L. R. 2 A. 5.

——Ss. 115 and 102—Jurisdiction—Excess of.

Where it was open to the Judge to decide the question of title incidentally in so far as it was necessary for the purposes of giving relief to the plaintiffs, namely, their prayer for declaration of right to, and recovery of the price of fish but it was not within his jurisdiction at all to declare the plaintiff's title to the tank in dispute, held, in revision so much of the decree of the lower appellate Court must be expunged as declares the plaintiff's title to the tank in suit which was not within the Judge's jurisdiction to declare. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) ARADHAN MONDAL v. ABHOYA CHARAN. A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 321.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of—Execution sale—Deposit by person not entitled, allowed.

Where the Court of execution allowed a reversioner to make a deposit he was not entitled to make, it exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law or was acting it with exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity within the meaning of S.115 of the Civil Procedure Code. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chotzner, J.) MOHENDRA NATH v. BAIDYA NATH TRIPATHI. 26 C. W. N. 167 : 70 I. C. 127 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 95.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of—Appellate Court entertaining appeal in a non-appealable case—Revision lies.

Where the appellate Court entertains an appeal from an order from which no appeal is allowed, its order is without jurisdiction and is open to revision. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) RAGHUNANDAN PANDEY v. GAJRAJ MANDAL. 1925 P.H.C.C. 183 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 525

——S. 115—Jurisdiction— Excess of— Order without—Revision—Interference.

Under S. 115, C. P. Code, it is competent to the High Court to act in revision suo motu as it is bound to set aside orders of lower Courts passed without jurisdiction. 4 M. 217 ; 32 C. 146 ; 28 A. 72 Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM PRASAD RAI v. MAHESH KANT. 3 P. L. T. 445 : 65 I. C. 122 : 1 P. 232 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 525.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Excess of—Want of, is a good ground for revision—Wrong decision not a ground for revision.

On the mere ground that the decision was wrong, a High Court certainly will not interfere but where the lower Court had no jurisdiction to enquire into the question, HighCourt has power to interfere in revision. (Carr, J.) MAUNG TUN v. MAUNG PO SHOK.
1 R. 265 : 76 I. C. 504 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 199.

Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise.

—— — S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order dismissing suit after decree is without jurisdiction—C. P. Code, O. 17, R. 2. See under O. 17, R. 2, C. P. Code. (Lord Phillimore.) LACHMI NARAYAN MARWARY v. BALMAKUND MARWARY. 5 P. L. T. 623 : 81 I. C. 747 : 4 Pat. 61 : 51 I.A. 321 : L.R. 5 P.C. 171 : 20 L.W. 491 : 35 M. L. T. 143: 22 A. L. J. 990 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1129 : 40 C. L. J. 439: 29 C. W. N. 391: (1924) M.W.N. 707 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C 198 : 47 M. L. J. 441 (P. C.).

——S. 115 (c)—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise—Erroneous decision of lower appellate Court as to jurisdiction of trial Court.

The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere under Section 115 (c) when a lower appellate Court erroneously decides in the exercise of its admitted jurisdiction as an appellate Court that the Court of first instance has or has not jurisdiction to entertain a suit. In any case the High Court can take up under section 115 (b) both orders of the Court below read together on the question whether the first Court has failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it. (Campbell, J.) DALIPA v. BARKET ALI. 76 I. C. 1010 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 412.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise—Plea of illegality.

A Court is said to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested where a Court fails to entertain a plea of illegality suo motu, i.e., that a certain contract is opposed to public policy, and even refuses to allow the defendant to raise it. (Phillips, J.) KANDASAMI GOUNDAN v. NARAYANASWAMI GOUNDAN, 45 M. L. J. 551 : (1923) M W.N. 566 : 76 I. C. 306 : 19 L. W. 617 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 159.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Declining of—Dismissal of execution petition is not sustainable. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MUTHUKARUPPA CHETTY v. PAIYA KAVUNDAN. (1923) M.W.N. 406: 73 I.C. 956 : 18 L.W. 17 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 32 : 45 M.L.J. 210.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise—Limitation—Decision on.

Where by reason of an erroneous decision on a question of limitation, a Court does not entertain a proceeding, it is a failure to exercise a jurisdiction vested in the Civil Court and the High Court can entertain a revision under S. 115, C. P. Code. 44 M. 554 Foll. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO. v. SHARAFALLY. 44 M.L.J 100 : 46 Mad. 938 : 17 L.W. 705 : 70 I. C 888 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 435.

——S. 115 and O. 21, R. 89 (1)—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise—Applicant entitled to deposit—Refusal to entertain application on ground of no locus standi amounts to failure to exercise jurisdiction—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 89 (1).

Where a Court erroneously refuses to entertain an application under O.21, Rule 89 on the ground that the petitioner has no locus standi, it is a case where the Court fails to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law within the meaning of section 115 and the High Court will entertain a revision in such a case. 40 M. L. J. 497 (F.B.) Foll. But where the applicant is found as a fact to have no locus standi, there is no failure to exercise a jurisdiction vested in the Courts by law and the revision will fail on its merits. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) ONKAR v. DHAN SINGH. 21 N.L.R. 102 : 90 I. C. 963 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 10 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Failure to exercise—Omission to decree claim admitted.

Where the lower Court dismissed the plaintiff's suit for rent without considering whether he was entitled to a decree for the whole or a portion of the claim on the admission of the defendant, there is a failure to exercise jurisdiction with which the High Court will interfere in revision. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAJGIRI SINGH v. JADUNATH RAY.
1922 P. H. C. C. 355 : 4 P. L. T. 39 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 41.

Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise.

——— S. 115 and O. 41, R. 5—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Application to stay execution pending an appeal from the decree—Court exercising jurisdiction irregularly—Revision lies.

Where the petitioner applied for stay of execution of decree from which an appeal was pending and the application was dismissed by the District Judge as being made too late:

Held (Graham, J. dissenting) the District Judge, though he had jurisdiction over the subject-matter, exercised the jurisdiction irregularly and High Court had jurisdiction to interfere in revision with the order of the District Judge and set aside his order.

Per Graham, J.—The power confirmed by O. 41, R. 5 of the C. P. Code upon the appellate Court is discretionary, though of course the discretion has to be exercised judicially. The rule contemplates that the application for stay of execution should be made as soon as possible after an appeal has been filed. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) BIRESH CHANDRA DAS v. HARI DASI BOSE. 82 I. C. 435 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 54.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Appellate Court's decision.

Where an appellate judgment erroneously decided that the Court of the first instance had jurisdiction to hear the suit, held, the High Court could interfere and could grant revision. (Wilberforce, J.) DURGA PARSHAD MUTSADDI LAL v. RULIA MAL.
4 L. L. J. 176 : 65 I. C. 282 : 29 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 100.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Judge deciding a case on his private opinion—Order is without jurisdiction.

Judicial matters cannot be decided on the private opinions of the Judge nor can that opinion be substituted for decision on evidence, even though the taking of that evidence may involve much time and trouble. A decision based on such private opinion is without jurisdiction. (Wallace, J.) SRIRANGA NARAYANA JEER v. AHOBILA JEER.
22 L. W. 837 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 166.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Gross mistakes may amount to irregular exercise of jurisdiction.

Where the mistakes committed by the lower Court are so varied and so numerous as almost to amount to material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction, revision may lie though there may be no excess of jurisdiction. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) T. C. XAVIER v. E. C. JOSEPH. 48 M. L. J. 268 : 87 I. C. 216 : 21 L. W. 654 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 614.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Lower Court taking wrong view of law.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under.

Where the Subordinate Court assumed jurisdiction to enquire into a petition on a wrong view of the law that certain maxim Actus curiae nominem gravabit applied, where in fact it did not, an application in revision is maintainable. (Krishnan, J.) KRISHNAJI REDDIAR v MUTHUVEERA. (1923) M. W. N. 199 : 18 L.W. 299 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 490 : 44 M. L. J. 344.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Erroneous decision on point of law—Revision.

Where a Court assumes jurisdiction to pass an order for an erroneous view of the law, in a matter where it has in fact no jurisdiction, it is a case for interference of the High Court under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMASWAMI GOUNDAN v. MUTHU VELAPPA GOUNDAN.
44 M. L. J. 1 : 46 Mad. 536 : (1923) M. W. N. 133 : 16 L. W. 848 : 71 I. C. 1039 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 192.

——— S. 115 & O.33, R. 5—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Court can consider matters outside the plaint and no revision lies from an order refusing application.

In cases under O. 33, R. 5, it is the duty of the Court not merely to read through the plaint but to make a very extensive inquiry as to the facts on which the plaint is based. And if the Court after proper exercise of jurisdiction has come to a conclusion and rejected the application no revision lies, although the conclusion may be wrong. (Neave and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) MT. ISMAIL v. KARAM ALI. 11 O. L. J. 568 : 79 I. C. 922 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 74.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise—Court can construe its own order—No revision lies if no irregularity occurs in exercising this power.

A Court has jurisdiction to construe its own order and the High Court would not interfere if there is no irregularity in the exercise of that jurisdiction. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) TULAMAN BAID v. PRAYAG SAHU. 1925 P. H. C. C. 4 : 3 P. L. R. 100 : 6 P. L T. 481 : A. I R. 1925 Pat. 318.

——— S 115 (c)—Jurisdiction—Irregular exercise.

Applying O. 25, R. 1 to a suit which is not for payment of money is an illegal exercise of jurisdiction and such an order is revisable. (Carr, J.) AMINA BIBI v. MOIDEEN KAKA. 3 Rang. 211 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 300.

Jurisdiction—Local Acts.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Local Acts — Lower Court referring a case to Collector under local Act—Revision lies as to correct exercise of jurisdiction.

The lower Court found that the mortgagor was a member of an agricultural tribe and referred a mortgage suit to the Collector under sub-S. 3 of S. 9 of the Bundelkhand Land Alienation Act with a view to the Collector exercising powers under sub-Ss. 1 and 2 of the section, held, that a revision lay to the High Court on the question whether the lower Court had exercised its jurisdiction correctly in refusing to pass a decree in favour of the plaintiff and referring the case to the Collector. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) JASWANT RAO v. KASHI NATH RAO. L. R 6 A. (Civ.) 14 : 86 I. C. 208 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 253 (1).

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction — Local Act—Failure to exercise—Interference.

Failure to exercise jurisdiction vested by the Calcutta Rent Act can be interfered with under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) BASANTA CHARAN v. RAJANI MOHAN. 39 C. L. J. 85 : 26 C. W. N. 711 : 49 Cal. 928 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 514.

Jurisdiction—Order under.

——— S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under O. 33

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under.

R. 6—Wrong exercise of—Evidence of title.

The Court is not entitled to take evidence from the parties upon the question of the plaintiff's title before coming to the conclusion whether it would grant or refuse the application under Rules 5 and 6 of O. 33. If it takes evidence on the question of title it exercises a jurisdiction not vested in it by law within S. 115. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MT. SHAURAN BIBI v. ABDUS SAMAD. 45 All. 548 : 73 I. C. 538 : 21 A.L.J. 441 : L. R. 4 A. 252 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 577.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under—S. 151 Refusal to use inherent powers vested under S. 151 is a refusal to exercise jurisdiction.

An order dismissing an application under Ss. 151 and 152 on the ground that such application did not lie amounts to a refusal to exercise jurisdiction within S. 115. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KABIR-UD-DIN MONDOL v. ENTAJ MONDOL. 79 I. C. 586 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 420.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under—Absence of.

Proceedings under O. 41, R. 23 instead of under O. 41, R. 25 does not create a point of jurisdiction as to justify interference. (Newbould, J.) ATUL CHANDRA v. KOBAD ALI. 64 I. C 436 (Cal.)

——S. 115—Jurisdiction — Order under—Returning plaint for want of jurisdiction—Order upheld in appeal—Revision ordinarily does not lie.

Interference in revision is ordinarily inadvisable from an appellate order upholding an order of the trial Court returning plaint for want of jurisdiction and should only be exercised in exceptional cases to remedy an injustice. (77 P. R 1909, Ref.) (Scott-Smith, J.) FIRM JAGANNATH DIWAN CHAND v FIRM JAGAL NATH MOTI LAL. A. I R. 1924 Lah. 349.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order of remand—Suit dismissed for want of—Remand by first appellate Court—Revision.

Where a suit was dismissed by the Court holding that it had no jurisdiction and the lower appellate court remanded the case to the trial court for taking action under O. 7, R. 10, held, a revision lay from the order of remand. (Broadway, J.) DWARKA DAS v. RAHIM BAKHSH. 73 I.C 755: A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 524.

——Ss. 115 and 10—Jurisdiction—Order under S. 10—Stay of suit Refusal by lower Court.

Where a Subordinate Court proceeds with the trial of a suit in contravention of S. 10, C.P. Code, it usurps a jurisdiction not vested in it by law and its order refusing to stay the suit, though interlocutory, is open to revision by the High Court 42 A. 409 Dist. (Phillips, J.) RAMACHANDRAM PILLAI v. NEELAMBAL ACHI. 16 L. W. 607 : 70 I. C. 5 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 88 (1).

——Ss. 115, 151, O. 6, R 16—Jurisdiction—Order under S. 151—Suit for recovery of occupancy and under-proprietary rights — Under-proprietary rights decreed and claim for occupancy rights to be struck out—Order whether can fall under inherent powers.

Where a party claimed possession of certain under-proprietary and occupancy interests in different plots of land and the Court holding that the suit for recovery of occupancy land did not lie in the Civil Court, decreed the claim as regards under-proprietary rights and ordered the claim for possession of occupancy lands to be struck out from the plaint. Held, (1) that the order was without jurisdiction and the provisions of O. 6, R. 16, C.P. Code, did not apply to the cases as the particular pleading referred to above was not unnecessary so as to be deleted ; (2) that the order did not fall under the provisions of S. 151, C.P. Code ; (3) that the order striking off part of the claim amounted to an order in a case and was open to revision under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Dalal, J.C.) MUSSAMMAT MALUKA v. PATESHWAR SINGH. 1 O. W. N. 754 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1062 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 604.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction—Refusal of review.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under O. 23, R. 1—Allowing suit to be withdrawn—Conditions of O. 23, R. 1 not satisfied—Effect.

If an order under O. 23, R. 1 is passed without the conditions required by the section being complied with, the order is without jurisdiction and can be set aside in revision. The case is different from interfering with the exercise of a judicial discretion. (Daniels, J. C.) DAULA v. DWARKA PAL. 78 I. C. 121 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 61.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order granting—Adjournment on payment of costs.

A Court granting an adjournment on condition costs are paid, and on failure to pay the same deciding the suit ex-parte, does not exceed its jurisdiction and the order is not open to revision. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) CHOTU MIAN v. PALTO GOPE. 1 Pat. L. R. 270 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 529.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction — Order refusing to accept deposit.

It is now the settled practice of the Patna High Court to treat a refusal to accept deposit tendered for the purpose of setting aside a sale as a refusal to exercise jurisdiction. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) AULAD ALI v. ABDUL HAMID. 2 Pat. 715 : 74 I. C. 102 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat 490.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order under O. 21, R. 66.

When a date is appointed for the hearing of parties in order to ascertain valuation on sale proclamation, the Court acts without jurisdiction in fixing valuation at an earlier date without hearing the parties. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) SULARAJ BAHADUR v. DEVI BUKHSH. 3 P. L T. 342 : 65 I. C. 360 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 102 (1).

——S. 115 — Jurisdiction— Order returning—Plaint by both Munsif and by Small Cause Courts.

Where the Small Cause Judge returned a plaint returned by the Munsif to be presented before the former and the Munsif adhered to his previous order, held, High Court is entitled to make such an order as would enable the plaintiff to have his action tried. (Ross, J.) RAZAUR RAHAMAN v. ATHAR HUSSAIN. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 368.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Order correcting decree—Inclusion of mortgage item—Interference.

Where through omission one of the mortgage items was omitted in the plaint and a decree in a mortgage suit and the Court corrects the mistake under S. 152, C P. Code, there is no ground for interference in revision. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG CHIT HLAING v. N. A. R. M. CHETTY. 74 I. C. 1020 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 104.

Jurisdiction—Refusal of review.

——S. 115— Jurisdiction — Refusal of review—Application.

An appeal filed subsequent to the presenting of an application for review does not bar the jurisdiction of the Trial Court to entertain the application for review. The refusal by a Court having jurisdiction to entertain an application for review amounts to a refusal to exercise jurisdiction and the order is open to interference by High Court in revision. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAM PRASAD v. ASA RAM. 43 All. 288 : 61 I. C. 334 : 19 A. L. J. 24.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Jurisdiction of review.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction — Refusal of review to grant—Revision.

Where the Judge of the Court below refuses to grant a review finding that the additional evidence sought to be adduced could have been adduced at the original hearing, the High Court will not interfere in revision. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) LAKSHMAN MARUTI v. MARUTI LAXMAN. 26 Bom. L. R. 284 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 344.

Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction — Refusal to exercise Appellate Court concurring—Revision lies against orders of both Courts.

Per Mukerji, J.—Where there is a refusal to exercise a jurisdiction which was undoubtedly possessed and there is an appeal to the District Judge who comes to the same conclusion as the Court below, an application in revision would lie against the orders of both the Courts. It would be different if the District Judge came to a different conclusion from that of the first Court. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) GANESHI LAL v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 79 : 85 I. C. 470 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise—Revision lies where on wrong view of law jurisdiction has been refused.

Where the Courts below upon an erroneous interpretation of the provisions of the Court-Fees Act and also Civil Courts Jurisdiction Act, came to a wrong conclusion that the suit was not triable by the Subordinate Judge ·

Held, that this is a case in which the High Court should interfere though the lower Court's order may be an interlocutory one. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) RAJANI KANT BAG v. RAJA BALA DASI. 52 Cal 128 : 29 C. W. N. 76 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 320.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise—Appellate Court erroneously rejecting the suit as not maintainable—Revision lies.

S. 115, C. P. Code, covers the case of an appellate Court rejecting a suit on the erroneous ground of its not being maintainable. The Court's act amounts to declining to give a decision on the merits. This means it refuses to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law, a refusal which can be rectified in revision (Martineau, J.) IMAM DIN v. DITTU. 78 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 174 (1).

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise—High Court's enquiry as to the jurisdiction is not confined to the lower Appellate Court only, but extends even to the jurisdiction of the trial Court.

The High Court is not confined to an enquiry as to the jurisdiction exercised by the lower appellate Court alone. But it has got power to enquire whether the Court of first instance has failed to exercise its jurisdiction or not. (Dalal, J. C.) ABDULLAH v. MAHAMMAD NAZIR. 80 I. C. 694 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 163.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise.

Refusal to receive evidence in support of application for restoration of a suit dismissed under O. 17, R. 2, on the understanding that it was dismissed under R. 3, is a refusal to exercise jurisdiction within S. 115. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHOMED MAUDOOD v. RAMESHWAR SINGH. 1 P. L. R 281 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 530.

Jurisdiction—Revenue Court.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Revenue Court—District Judge entertaining appeal from Revenue Court—No revision.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Leave to sue.

Where District Judge entertains an appeal from the order of a Revenue Court in a case in which no appeal is entertainable by him, no revision lies to High Court from the order of District Judge. SAQIB HUSAIN v. NAND KISHORE. L. R. 2 A. 166 (Rev.).

Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court—Suit tried wrongly by Small Cause Court—No objection by parties—Interference.

Where a Court of Small Causes disposes of a suit on the merits though it has no jurisdiction to entertain the suit, but neither of the parties objected to it or brought it to the notice of the Court, the High Court will not interfere in revision. (Boys, J.) RAGHURAJ SINGH v. MT. SHAM DEI. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 685 : 81 I. C. 870 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 All. 51.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court—Suit--Small Cause nature—Appeal--Decision confirmed.

Where a suit to recover arrears of Kattubadi was of a small cause nature and was tried by the Munsiff on the original side and the decision was confirmed in appeal, the High Court refused to interfere in revision and to remand the suit for re-trial on the Small Cause side. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) B. SUBBAYA v. RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI. 42 M. L. J. 118 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 352.

——S. 115—Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court—Objection to—Trial of Small Cause suit as a regular suit without objection.

High Court would not interfere in revision, in a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court, but tried by a District Munsiff and appeal suit heard by the District Court without any objection. 21 C. 249 : 25 A. 135, Relied on. 33 M. 323 ; 25 B. 417, Dist. (Baker, J. C.) KAM RUDDIN v. MT. INDRANI. 19 N. L. R. 179: 75 I. C. 769 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 17.

Leave to sue.

——S. 115—Leave to sue—Pauperism—Failure to consider—Question of title.

In an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis a Court acts without jurisdiction in going into the evidence elaborately and trying the question of title in order to see if he has a good cause of action, so also failure to take evidence on the question of pauperism amounts to not exercising a jurisdiction vested in it by law and the order can be interfered with in revision. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) SHAURAN BIBI v. ABDUR SAMAD. 45 A. 548 : 21 A. L. J. 441 : L. R. 4 A. 252 : 73 I. C. 538 : A.I R. 1923 All. 577.

——S. 115—Leave to sue—Pauper application—Order granting leave.

No application in revision lies against an order admitting an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) KANDHAIA SINGH v. MT. KUNDAN. 20 A. L. J. 471 : 67 I. C. 641 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 208 (1).

——S. 115 and O. 33, R. 5—Leave to sue in forma pauperis—Rejection of application—Revision

Per Walsh, J. (Piggott, J. contra) :—An order rejecting an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is not open to revision. 19 A L. J. 558, Rel. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHADEO SAHAI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 44 All. 248 : 20 A. L. J. 55 : 65 I. C. 255 : L. R. 3 A. 54 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 1 (1).

——S. 115—Leave to sue in forma pauperis—Refusal—Interference in revision.

Where the Court below refuses to grant leave to sue in forma pauperis, it is open to the High Court to interfere in revision. The order on an application for permission to sue in forma pauperis is a case decided within the meaning of S. 115, C. P. Code, 12 O.C. 381 Followed. 43 A. 564 : 44 A. 248 Distinguished. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEO NARAYAN LAL v MT. MUNAQQA. 9 O. L. J. 610 : 74 I. C. 344 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 118.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Leave to sue.

——S. 115—Leave to sue in forma pauperis—Examination of applicant—Limitation.

The Court could enter into the merits of the case on an application for leave to sue as a pauper under O. 33, R. 4, C. P. Code, and for that purpose the Court could examine the plaintiff seeking leave. But the Court cannot take other evidence and examine other witnesses for deciding the question of limitation or any other question arising in the case other than the applicant's pauperism. 19 M. 197 Not Foll. 46 C. 651 Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) SHAIK MAHOMED NASIRULLAH v. SHAIK MAHOMED SHUKURULLAH. 3 Pat 275 : 6 P. L. T. 209 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 134 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 30

Liberal Interpretation.

——S. 115—Liberal construction—Powers of—High Court.

The powers of the High Court under S. 115, C. P. Code, should be liberally utilized, especially when the applicant has no remedy. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgaonkar, A. J. C.) NARAINDAS v. JASSOMAL. 65 I. C. 37 : 15 S. L. R. 135.

Limitation.

——S. 115—Limitation—Time for filing revision is 45 days in C. P. and Berar.

The period allowed by the Nagpur Judicial Commissioner's Court for applications for revision is only 45 days. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) UDAIRAM v. THAKUR PRASAD. 89 I. C. 933 : A. I R. 1926 Nag 65.

Material irregularity.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Acting on unproved or inadmissible evidence or erroneously deciding (after consideration) on admissibility is not revisable—But acting on evidence without considering admissibility is illegal and is revisable.

Ordinarily, when a Court acts on evidence which has not been proved or which is inadmissible in evidence, it does not act without jurisdiction. Furthermore, if a Court considers the question of the admissibility of a document and decides either that it is admissible or not admissible, then, even though the decision may be wrong, the Court does not act with material irregularity or illegality. It merely commits an error of law. But, on the other hand, if the Court does not apply its mind to the question of the admissibility at all and acts on a document which has not been proved or which is not admissible without considering whether or not it is admissible, it acts with material irregularity or illegality in exercising its jurisdiction (Sulaiman, J.) HABIB BUX v. SAMUEL FITZ AND CO. 23 A. L. J. 961 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 553 : 88 I. C. 22 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 161 (2).

——S 115—Material irregularity—Reversing order of reference.

If the Court reverses the order of reference after the submission of award and sets aside the award on the ground of some supposed defect in the order, it amounts to material irregularity and the High Court will interfere. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) KANHAIYALAL v. JAGANNATH PRASAD HANUMAN PRASAD. 43 All. 305 : 60 I. C. 857 : 19 A. L. J. 33.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Order on appeal—Application rejected.

Where on appeal against an order sanctioning prosecution of the appellant, an order 'The application is rejected' is made, the order amounts to a refusal to consider the question and thus is a material irregularity within S. 115. (Gokul Prasad, J.) ABDUL AZIZ v. BOHRU TARA CHAND. 22 Cr. L. J. 304 : 60 I. C. 800 : 19 A. L. J. 291.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Material irregularity.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Refusal of hearing—Interference.

Whenever the Court below has refused to hear a party on the merits without just grounds the High Court is entitled to interfere in revision. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) BACHUBAI JHIRAD v. IBRAHIM ISAK. 47 B. 11 : 24 Bom. L. R. 744 : 69 I. C. 169 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 207.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Point of law not raised in the lower Court.

If a party does not raise a point of law in the lower Court, the lower Court cannot be said to have acted with material irregularity if it has not considered that point. The High Court cannot entertain a point of law not raised in the Courts below. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HARIDAS CHEKUBAI v. RATANSAY RAGHAVJI. 46 Bom. 56 : 23 Bom. L. R. 802 : 62 I. C. 952 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 149 (2).

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Evidence not considered.

Where the Court rejected the application to set aside a sale in execution on the ground of fraudulent suppression of process and other irregularities, merely on the deposition of the applicant and without considering all other evidence in respect of the grounds, the Court was held to have acted with material irregularity. (Teunon and Asutosh Chowdhury, JJ.) BHUSHAN MANI DASI v. PRAFULLA KRISTA DEB. 60 I. C. 801 : 48 Cal. 119.

——S. 115 — Material irregularity — Finding based on no evidence—Interference is justified.

A finding based upon no evidence is not a good finding in law and can be interfered with on the revision side by the High Court. (Moti Sagar, J.) FIRM INDRAJ MAL JUGAL KISHORE v. LIJE RAM. 6 Lah. L. J. 593 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 278.

——S. 115 — Material irregularity — Setting aside ex parte decree—Interference.

In an application to set aside an ex parte decree where the Court below fails to determine an essential point of limitation, it acts with material irregularity to justify interference in revision. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM OF MAGHI MAL KHARAITI RAM v. THE FIRM OF GOPI RAM RAM CHAND. A.I.R. 1924 Lah. 603.

——S. 115— Material irregularity—Dismissal for default—Revision.

Where on an application to set aside a dismissal for default, the lower Court disbelieved the plaintiff's story and dismissed the application, there is no scope for revision, as the lower Court could not be said to have acted illegally or with material irregularity. (Le Rossignol, J.) FARIDA v. KHAIRA. 3 Lah. 79 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 290 (1).

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Petition under S. 44 of Act IX of 1919.

A wrong throwing of burden of proof constitutes a material irregularity which justifies interference in revision. 102 P. R. 1912, Disapproved. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) JANDA RAM v. RENAHAH. 3 Lah. L. J. 417.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Appellate judgment vitiated by irregularity—Surmises and conjectures.

Where the judgment of the lower appellate Court is vitiated by inaccuracies and misunderstandings and it is entirely based upon them, the High Court would set it aside in revision, though it is reluctant to interfere on revision in arbitration cases. (Wilberforce, J.) THE FIRM OF KESAR MAL SHANKAR DAS v. THE FIRM OF HUKAM CHAND BADRI NATH. 2 Lah. L.J. 681 : 67 I. C. 260 : 69 P. L. R. 1922.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Material Irregularity.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Omission to consider a question of estoppel.

Omission by the Appellate Court, to consider a question of estoppel amounts to a material irregularity and the High Court will interfere in revision. (Martineau, J.) TEG BHAN v. WALI DAD. 60 I. C. 716: 3 Lah. L. J. 181.

——S. 115— Material irregularity — Election Court deciding as a question of fact if the returning officer's decision regarding validity of vote was correct —No irregularity is caused justifying interference in revision.

Where the voting papers of two votes besides the cross mark against the name of the candidate showed lines scoring out the names of the other candidates, and the Returning Officer did not take these votes into consideration in the candidates' favour apparently because of these lines, but the Election Court held them to be valid in spite of these lines. Held that the Election Court had jurisdiction to go behind the decision of the Returning Officer in a matter of this kind and that there was neither lack of jurisdiction nor irregular exercise of jurisdiction, which would give the High Court authority to interfere under S. 115. (Wallace, J.) MAMUNDI KONAR v. SHAMSUDDIN SAHIB. 49 M. L. J. 381: 22 L. W. 507 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1207.

——S. 115—Material irregularity.

Reversing judgment of a lower Court on a new question not raised by the parties and for which there were not sufficient materials for the Court, is acting with material irregularity. (Madhavan Nair, J.) NARANO MAHAPATRO v. SRI RAMACHANDRA MARDARAJA DEO GARU. 80 I. C. 724: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 357.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Order in excess of prayer.

Where the Court below passed an order granting reliefs not prayed for, without reference to any provision of law the High Court will interfere in revision. (Wallace, J.) MINNEKANTI KOTAYYA v. T. KRISHNAYYA. (1924) M. W. N. 547 : 20 L. W. 488: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 911 (1).

——S. 115, O. 32, Rr. 2 and 3—Material irregularity—Minor applying to be impleaded as legal representative—Application without next friend —Dismissal —Impleading legal representative without notice to another claimant—Rival claims not adjudicated on—Orders if revisable.

Where on the death of the plaintiff in a suit, his minor widow applied to be brought on record as legal representative without being represented by a next friend and the court rejected the application on the analogy of O. 32, R. 2, C. P. Code it cannot be held to have acted irregularly in the exercise of its jurisdiction. On the death of a party, two persons applied to be impleaded as legal representatives. The court dismissed the application of one on the ground she was a minor and was not represented by a next friend and allowed the other petition without determining the question of rival claims on the merits and without notice to the minor claimant. Held the mere fact of being a minor is no ground for not considering the claim of the minor and the order is revisable under S. 115, there being no right of appeal against the same. (Jackson, J.) RUCKMANI AMMAL v. VEERASAMI AIYANGAR.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Material Irregularity.

47 M. L. J. 370 : 35 M. L. T. 82 : (1924) M. W. N. 763 : 80 I. C. 942 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 813.

——Ss. 115 and 152, O. 20, R. 3—Material irregularity—Judgment dictated in open Court—Transcript—Whether can be revised— Irregularity—Revision.

A judge who has been empowered to pronounce his judgment by dictation to a shorthand writer in open Court should sign the transcript of the judgment so pronounced after such revision as is necessary but such revision cannot be of the effective part of the judgment and must be one relating to clerical or arithmetical mistakes arising from any accidental slips or omissions. The correction of the shorthand transcript so as to entirely change the effect of the judgment amounts to a material irregularity to the prejudice to the party affected by it and even though it can be remedied by suit under O. 21, R. 63, the High Court will interfere in revision against such judgments. (Oldfield, J.) HARIKRISHNA PILLAI v. ARUR PANDITHAR. (1923) M. W. N. 354: 72 I. C. 688: 18 L. W. 105: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 663.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Wrong view as to burden of proof.

The defendants in response to the plaintiff's petition for discovery produced certain accounts and at a later date produced further accounts. Those accounts were before the Court and the suit being for an account of the profits of properties which had been in the possession of the defendants and their father, they would have been most material in arriving at the amount, to which the plaintiffs were entitled. The plaintiff having inspected the accounts, brought to the notice of the lower Court that they did not admit their genuineness or completeness. The case standing thus the lower Court held that as the accounts have been inspected by the plaintiffs, the defendant's vakil was entitled to insist on their being exhibited in spite of the objection from the other side that they were not genuine, and ought not to be exhibited without proof. Held the burden of proof was on the defendants and the Court committed a material irregularity, which should be set aside. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAJAGOPALA IYENGAR v. RAMANUJA IYENGAR. (1923) M. W. N. 292 : 18 L. W. 165 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 607.

——S. 115—Material irregularity— Revision—Principle regarding.

The general principle applicable in case of revision under S. 115, C.P.Code, is that when a court has taken up a point of fact or law for decision and has decided that point wrongly, it has acted with full jurisdiction regularly and legally and no revision lies unless that decision itself affects the court's own jurisdiction. But when having jurisdiction, the court has failed or refused to take up the point for decision it has exercised its jurisdiction irregularly and the more the failure or refusal affects the exercise of its jurisdiction the greater the irregularity will be. A Subordinate Judge when dealing with an election concern under the Madras Municipal election rules set aside an election merely on account of non-compliance with rules without deciding whether such non-compliance had materially affected the election Held, that he had acted with material irregularity and the High Court had power to interfere in revision. (Wallace, J.) A. K. G. AHMAD THAMBI MARICAIR v. V. V. S. BABASA MARACAYAR. 16 L. W. 898 : (1922) M. W. N. 813 : 72 I. C. 902 : 46 Mad. 123 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 254 : 44 M. L. J. 69.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) S. 115—Material Irregularity.

———S. 115 and O. 9, R. 13—Material irregularity—Dismissal for default—Setting aside—Improper refusal—Revision.

Where a court dismissed an application to set aside an order of dismissal of a suit for default without considering the existence of sufficient cause for non-appearance of the plaintiff the order is open to revision under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Krishnan, J.) KOWTHA SURYANARAYANA GARU v. YARUDALA VENKAYYA. 16 L. W. 837 : 70 I. C. 38 : (1922) M. W. N. 822 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 177.

———S. 115—Material irregularity—Failure to add receiver as party to suit or execution proceedings.

A receiver in a partition suit is entitled to be added as a party in execution proceedings in a mortgage suit concerning the properties in his possession and in refusing to add him as a party the court acts with material irregularity within the meaning of S. 115, C. P. Code. (Devadoss, J.) FRASER v. KRISHNASWAMI IYER. 43 M. L. J. 211: 47 M. 47: (1922) M.W.N. 745: 16 L. W. 322 : 71 I. C. 293 : 31 M. L. T. 290 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 144 (2).

———S. 115 (c)—Material irregularity—Refusal to frame issue—Court fee—Valuation—Revision.

Where the defendant in his written statement objected that the suit was grossly undervalued but the court below instead of raising an issue thereon merely recorded the objection. Held, that the court below acted with material irregularity in refusing to raise an issue and decide it. (Devadoss, J.) VENKATACHALLAM CHETTIAR v. KRISHNASWAMI THEVAN. (1922) M. W. N. 692 : 69 I. C. 542 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 134 (2).

———Ss. 115, 153 and O. 21, R. 94—Material irregularity—Sale certificate—Amendment—Notice.

If a Court amends a sale certificate without giving notice of the application to the judgment-debtor or other persons interested it acts with material irregularity. (Devadoss, J.) YAGNASWAMI AIYAR v. CHIDAMBARANATHA MUDALIAR. (1922) M. W. N. 130 : 16 L. W. 760 : 65 I. C. 732 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63 (2).

———S. 115 and O. 41, Rr. 23 and 27—Material irregularity—Remand—Improper order—Revision—Interference when justified.

Where an appellate court thinks that reasonable and sufficient opportunity has not been given to the plaintiff—appellant for adducing evidence and instead of allowing additional evidence under O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code, remands the case for retrial, the irregularity in procedure is not such as to justify interference in revision, 44 C. 929, 37 M.L.J. 536 Ref. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) SHEIKH MAHOMED MARACAYAR v. RANGASAMI NAIDU. 31 M. L. T. 182 : (H. C.). 69 I. C. 826 : 16 L. W. 515.

———S. 115—Material Irregularity — Petition alleging grievances—Summary rejection thereof—Order is unjustifiable and revision lies.

If a litigant believing that he has certain valid grounds to urge against certain proceedings going on in his case, puts forward his grievance in the form of a petition, justice and equity require that the matter should be disposed of one way or the other by formal orders dealing with the points raised. It is not intended that the Courts should be so technical as to throw away the application practically without any orders. The Courts are bound to dispose of matters coming up for consideration by an adjudication in some form or the other, whether the same be an order, or a judgment, or a decree. A failure to so adjudicate is a material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Material Irregularity.

(Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MADHO RAO v. MANOHARLAL 85 I. C. 779 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 289.

———S. 115—Material irregularity—Direct contradiction between evidence and finding.

(Obiter) A direct contradiction between the evidence and the finding, constitute a material irregularity justifying interference in revision. (Baker and Hallifax, O. J. Cs.) ACHAL SINGH v. SETH JIWANDAS. 19 N. L. R. 165 : 75 I. C. 993 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 44.

———S. 115 (c)—Material irregularity—Decision on imaginary facts—Perversity.

Where the decision of the court below was based not merely on a forced and impossible construction of the facts that were before the court but on the importation of facts which were admitted by both parties not to exist, this is clearly a material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction of the sort contemplated by S. 115 (c), C.P. Code. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) PANDURANG v. KALLU DAS. 65 I. C. 881 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 108.

———Ss. 115 and 151—Material irregularity—Orders passed under inherent power—When it could have passed an appealable order.

Where a Subordinate Court has express jurisdiction to pass an appealable order but has gone out of its way to invent a novel form of procedure, and consequently makes an order for which no appeal is provided in the Code, the High Court will be ready to consider whether this course was really necessary, and will not hold itself precluded from setting aside the order by taking a strict view of the provisions of S. 115. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BHAGWAN BAKHSH SINGH v. SURENDRA BIKRAM SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 209 : 74 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 11.

———S. 115—Material irregularity — Transfer without notice is not.

Transfer of a suit at the instance of one of the parties but without notice to the other party is not a material irregularity sufficient to justify interference in revision, 23 O. C. 216 diss. (Ashworth, J. C.) KARIM BAKSH v. ABDUL HUQ. 26 O. C. 62 : 74 I. C. 249 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 240.

———S. 115—Material irregularity—Refusal to set aside ex-parte decree.

Where a court refuses to set aside an ex-parte decree on the ground that no sufficient cause was shown for failure to appear, there is no illegal or irrregular exercise of jurisdiction justifying interference in revision. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) BHAI CHAND FUL CHAND v. DAWOOD AYUB. A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 816.

———S. 115—Material irregularity — Defect of procedure—Revision.

Where the Court disposed of a suit on a case not raised by the parties and to which evidence had not been directed, there was a substantial error or defect of procedure. (Ross, J.) GAYAN SAHU v. BALCHAND SAHU. 73 I. C 41 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 341.

———S. 115 — Material irregularity — Lower Court not considering point of limitation—Revision lies.

Where there is nothing in the judgment of the lower court to indicate that it considered at all the point as to limitation in setting aside an ex-parte decree., High Court will interfere in revision. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MODE NARAIN SINGH v. BIKRAM SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 545 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 36.

———S. 115—Material irregularity—Wrong view as to burden of proof.

Revision will lie where the Appellate Court take a different view as to burden of proof but does not give the party on whom it places the burden, opportunity to produce evidence. (Ross, J.) RAMPARICHAN SINGH v. BIRANJI PRASAD SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Material Irregularity.

1923 P. H. C. C. 269 : 4 P. L. T. 245 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 295.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Rejection of evidence—Appeal—Revision—Interference.

Where the trial Court after the examination of the witnesses for both parties was over, rejected an application of the plaintiff to call further witnesses without assigning any reasons and the lower Appellate Court on appeal disposed of the appeal without considering the ground of appeal based on such irregularity, the High Court would interfere in revision and remand the case to allow plaintiff an opportunity of producing further evidence. (Heald, J.) U. NGE v. MG. TUN HLAING. 3 Bur. L. J. 125 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 318.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Order as if under O. 41, R. 27 without setting aside lower Court's decree—Revision lies—C. P. Code, O. 41, R. 27.

Where in appeal against dismissal of suit under O. 17, R. 3, the appellate Court directs further evidence to be taken by the trial Court, without expressly setting aside the decree passed by the Trial Court it acts with material irregularity within S. 115, (1917) 38 Mad. 414 dist. (1922) 46 Bom. 184 ; (1919) 46 Cal. 738 foll ; (1922) 44 All. 176 ; (1922) 44 All. 492 dist (Duckworth and Po Han, JJ.) ASHROF ALI v. MAHOMED MORDEN. 1 Rang. 656 : 79 I. C. 482 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 177.

——S. 115—Material irregularity—Omission to consider point arising in the case.

Where a Court omits to take into consideration a material point which arises in the case, its decision is liable to be revised. (Maung Kin, J.) SHWE HLA GYI v SAN DWE. 64 I. C. 361 : 10 L. B. R. 332.

Misconstruction.

——S. 115—Misconstruction—Omission to consider evidence—Revision.

Where the Court below misconstrued a material document and did not consider the other evidence on the record, it is a sufficient ground for interference in revision. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J M.) CHAUBEY GAYA PRASAD v. RAM LAL.
L. R. 4 A. 248 (Rev.).

——S. 115—Misconstruction—In case of illiterate voters, rule against writing the name of either of the canditate or the voter against the space left for cross-mark is the same as for-literate voters—Revision lies if this rule is not strictly applied.

Where the voter wrote his name against the name of the candidate instead of marking a cross and the lower Court held that the rule that voter should not write his name should not be strictly applied in the case of illiterate voters. Held, the rule is mandatory and omission to apply it strictly is revisable. (Devadoss, JJ.) Y. A. VENKATARAMIAH v. M. SUBBIREDDI. 22 L. W. 24 : 90 I. C. 1055 : A. I.R. 1925 Mad. 1173.

——S. 115—Misconstruction—An erroneous order holding applicant to be not entitled to apply under O. 21, R. 100, is revisable.

An erroneous order based on misconstruction of the provisions of the law holding that the applicant cannot apply under R. 100 of O. 21 is a refusal to exercise jurisdiction and is revisable. (Das, J.) RAM KISHUN SINGH v. DAMODAR PROSAD. 5 P. L. T. 107 : 86 I. C. 599 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506.

——S. 115—Misconstruction of rules made by the High Court.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Other remedy.

An erroneous construction of the rules framed by the High Court as regards costs of proceedings in subordinate courts, is no ground for revision. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMKISHUN DAS v. BENI PROSAD. 3 Pat. L. T. 314 : 65 I. C. 355 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 90.

New plea.

——S. 115—New point involving consideration of evidence cannot be raised in revision, though involving consequently question of jurisdiction.

A question involving a consideration of the terms of the contract between the parties was not allowed to be raised in revision though it involved consequently a question of jurisdiction. (N. R. Chatterjee, J.) RAHIMODDIN MOLLAH v. NIROD BURANI DEBI.
40 C. L. J. 197 · 84 I. C. 685 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1036 (1).

——S. 115 and O. 6, R. 17—New plea.

Where the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff was allowed to set up a claim not open to original plaintiff, the High Court will interfere in revision and set aside the order. (Kumaraswami Sastry, J.) VENKATRAM ROW v. VENKALINGAM NAYANIN.
42 M. L. J. 43 : 30 M. L. T. 204 : (1922) M.W. N. 42 : 68 I. C. 703 : 15 L. W. 72 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 49.

——S. 115—New plea—Plea of Estoppel.

A plea of estoppel being a mixed question of law or fact cannot be entertained for the first time in revision. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) HIRALAL v. TULSIRAM.
80 I. C. 946 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 77.

——S. 115—New plea involving question of fact and law cannot be raised.

A new point raising questions both of law as well as of fact cannot be entertained for the first time in an application in revision. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SURAJ NARAIN MISSER v. HARDWAR SINGH.
87 I. C. 381 : 6 P. L. T. 295 · A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 461.

Order.

——S. 115—Order—Rateable distribution—Order disallowing.

The High Court will not interfere in revision with orders disallowing or allowing claims to rateable distribution except in very exceptional circumstances. (Chevis, J.) BHAGAT RAM KALYAN DAS v. MANGAT RAM SHIBBU RAM. 60 I. C. 371 (Lah.).

——S. 115—Order.

No appeal lies from an order setting aside an order rejecting an appeal for failure of the appellant to give security for costs nor is the order open to revision when it is made in the interests of the justice. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUNDAR v. HABIBCHICK. 18 A. L. J 838 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 283 : 60 I. C. 81 : 42 A. 626.

——Ss. 115 and 73—Order—Order in rateable distribution case—Revision.

Orders in rateable distribution cases should not as a rule be interfered with in revision except when they involve any question of jurisdiction. (Sadasiva Iyer and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) SUBBIER v. NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR. 14 L. W. 582 : 70 I C. 20 (2) : (1922) M. W. N. 817.

Other remedy.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Case appealable to a Court subordinate to High Court—Revision lies.

S. 115 confers revisional jurisdiction of the High Court in cases in which no appeal lies to that Court. Its jurisdiction is not excluded by the fact that an appeal might lie to a subordinate Court, If the order of the trial Court is set aside the confirming order of the lower appellate Court must necessarily fall to the ground with it : 8 All. 111 (F. B.), Foll ; 11 All. 267 (F. B.) ; 39 All. 641 and 43 All. 405, Not foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) BISSESHAR PRASAD PANDEY v. RAGHUBIR. 24 A. L. J. 83 : 90 I. C. 353 : L. R. 6 All. 255 (Rev.) : A. I. R. 1926 All. 58.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Other remedy.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Remedy by way of suit open—Revision does not lie.

Where a remedy by way of suit is available the High Court will not ordinarily interfere by way of revision. [(1914) M. W. N. 95 Ref.] But if the remedy is clear and is sure to result in applicant's success the parties will not necessarily be driven to another suit. 32 Mad. 334, (F. B.) Foll. (Jackson, J.) VEERASWAMY MUDALI v. P. R. VENKATACHALA MUDALI. 50 M. L. J. 102 : 22 L. W. 448 : (1925) M. W. N. 763 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 18.

——— S. 115—Other remedy open—Revision may lie.

Sulaiman, J.—The existence of another remedy cannot be an insuperable obstacle in the way of interference by the High Court in revision. 43 M. 94. Foll. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. GAYA PRASAD. 90 I. C. 180 : L. R. 6 All. 601 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 610 (F. B.).

——— S. 115—Other remedy.

S. 115 would be inapplicable where appeal lies to the High Court. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) GANESHI LAL v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 : L. R. 6 A. (civ.) 79 : 85 I. C. 470 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Suit—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 63—Revision.

Where another remedy is open to a party, e.g., by a suit under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code, the Court will not entertain an application for revision. (Banerji, J.) BASDEO SAHAI v. SARASWATI. 64 I. C. 469 (All.).

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Decision of lower appellate Court is revisable where High Court (single Judge) has held that it is not appealable.

Where a second appeal is dismissed on the ground that no appeal lies to the High Court, the decree of the lower appellate Court stands good as between the parties, and is the only decree which is capable of execution. It is also capable of revision by the High Court. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) SURENDRA KRISHNA v. ABBAS ALI. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1237.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Revision—Interference.

The High Court will not interfere in revision when the aggrieved party has a remedy by suit open to him except in cases where there would be a very serious miscarriage of justice if the High Court did not interfere. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) GIRIBALA DASI v. PRIANATH PAL. 65 I. C. 476 (Cal.).

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Revision does not lie when appeal lies.

Remedy by way of revision is an exceptional remedy and is to be resorted to only when there is no other remedy available to the aggrieved party. A suit was found to be under-valued and an order was passed for amendment of plaint and for making up the deficiency in Court-fees. Thereupon an application was made to continue the suit in forma pauperis which was disallowed and the plaint was rejected on the ground that the party did not comply with the first order. An application having been made on the order disallowing the suit to be continued in forma pauperis. Held, that the order disallowing the application to continue the suit in forma pauperis had become merged in the order rejecting the plaint, and as the order rejecting the plaint amounted to a decree, an appeal ought to have been preferred against that order and a revision was not maintainable. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. AZAM BIBI v. MT. IMTIAZ BEGUM. 78 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 191.

——— S. 115—Other remedy open—Substantial Justice done in the Court below—No interference in revision.

The ordinary rule is that where an applicant has other remedies by way of suit or otherwise the intervention of the High Court under Section 115 of the C. P. Code is not called for. Where a Court's order is based on the merits of the case, though in the exercise of a jurisdiction wrongly assumed and where it is not shown how the party aggrieved will be unfairly prejudiced by being made to resort to a suit, the High Court will refuse to interfere in revision. (Moti Sagar, J.) NAND KISHORE v. SARDAR NARAIN SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 137 : 78 I. C. 350 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 471.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Interference in revision.

Although a High Court generally does not entertain an application for revision when there is another remedy open to a petitioner, there is nothing in the law which prohibits such court from interfering where grave injustice might have been done. 10 All. 119, 36 P. R. 1887 : 71 P. R. 1884 ; 15 P. R. 1874 Ref. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RALLA RAM v. MT. RAJ. 4 Lah. L. J. 71 : 67 I. C. 945 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 63.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Final decree not giving mesne profits though allowed by preliminary decree—Application under S. 151 for further final decree for mesne profits, dismissed—Appeal lies but no revision lies.

The final decree in a partition suit omitted to give relief as to mesne profits though it had been allowed in the preliminary decree. An application for the amendment of the final decree either by way of amendment or by way of review was dismissed. Then an application was made under S. 151, 115 C.P. Code, to pass a further final decree for mesne profits. This application was also dismissed.

Held : that if the application was treated as an application for a final decree in the suit the order on such application must be treated as a decree and an appeal would lie and therefore no revision lay. (Phillips, J.) VEERAPPA GOUNDAN v. VEERAPPA GOUNDAN. 48 M. L. J. 512 : 88 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 886.

——— S. 115—Other remedy open—Suit against trespassers by owner who have leased the land to others under Sec. 9 of the Specific Relief Act—Dismissal of suit—Revision—Remedy by suit.

A suit under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act against trespassers by the owners of the properties after they had leased out the properties to others was dismissed as not being maintainable. A revision was filed against this order of dismissal.

Held : that where a party has his remedy by way of suit, the High Court will not ordinarily interfere in revision ; but if the remedy is clear, the parties will not necessarily be driven to another suit. (Jackson, J.) VEERASWAMI MUDALI v. VENKATACHALA MUDALI. 22 L. W. 448 : (1925) M. W. N. 763.

——— S. 115—Other remedy—Revision.

It is no doubt the practice of this Court not to interfere in revision, when another remedy is available, but the High Court may interfere in exceptional cases especially where it is not clear that there is in fact another remedy. (Oldfield, J.) HARI KRISHNA

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Other remedy.

PILLAI v. ARUR PANDITHAR. 18 L. W. 105 : (1923) M. W. N. 354 : 72 I. C. 688 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 663.

——S. 115—Other remedy—High Court, if interferes.

The High Court is slow to interfere in revision when there is a separate remedy open. (Odgers, J.) VENTALA VEERA RAZU v. KURUVELLA SUBBARAYUDU. 41 M. L. J. 378 : (1921) M. W. N. 507 : 64 I. C. 493 : 15 L. W. 245 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 3.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Where other remedy is open no revision lies.

As a general rule the High Court does not interfere in revision when the applicant has another remedy open to him. (Baker, J. C.) SHEIKH BALDAR v. SHAIKH IMAM. 76 I. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 31.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Revision is allowable if necessary though other remedy is not availed of.

Though S. 115 prohibits revision in cases in which an appeal lies, and though revisions should not be granted ordinarily where some other remedy has been provided still as the exercise of the power to revision is discretionary, it must be adopted to the circumstances of each particular case and where necessary interference may be made. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) VITHAL SINGH v. AGARCHAND. 79 I. C. 903 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 17.

——S. 115—Other remedy open but barred—Interference.

There are cases in which justice requires interference in revision even where another remedy is open to the aggrieved party, much more so would interference be necessary and justifiable where another remedy is barred. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) AYODHYA PRASAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 298.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Interference.

Where another and equally effective remedy is open to a party aggrieved by an order and where no grave injustice or inconvenience would follow from the refusal to act, the High Court would not interfere in revision with the order. 30 A. 331: 33 A. 647 Foll. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) RAMJI v. BALKRISHNA. 69 I. C. 719 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 38.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Suit—Spec. Rel. Act, S. 9—Interference in revision.

On principle revision, should not ordinarily be granted, even in a case in which no appeal lies, if some other remedy is provided which can be called reasonably efficacious in respect of the circumstances of the particular case. But where the decree of the Court below is manifestly wrong, and the slower remedy by a regular suit would still leave the applicant suffering injustice and undue hardship, the Court should exercise the revisional powers in his favour. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAMCHANDRA v. SHRIDHAR. 5 N. L. J. 151 : 65 I. C. 351 : 18 N. L. R. 71 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 115.

——S. 115—Other remedy open—Revision does not lie.

Where another remedy is open an application for revision is not maintainable. 12 O.C. 109, Foll. (Simpson, A. J. C.) MAKHDOOM BAKHSH v. GANGA PRASAD 2 O. W. N. 658 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 666.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Order returning plaint—Revision does not lie—Civil P. Code. O. 43, R. 1 (a).

Order of an appellate Court returning a plaint being appealable, no revision lies from such an order. (Neave, A. J. C.) BADRI SINGH v. LALTA SINGH. 79 I. C. 1024 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 70.

——S. 115—Other remedy.

In an appeal from final order of dismissal, interlocutory orders are open to attack under S. 105, C. P. Code. (Daniels, J.) NARENDRA BAHADUR v. PEARY LAL. 64 I. C. 211 (1) : 24 O. C. 215.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Decision on individual issue can't be revised unless it goes to the root of jurisdiction of the trial Court.

A case should not come to High Court until all the issues are determined and the case finally disposed of; but this is upon the ground of convenience and does not bar the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court when the determination of one of the issues in the case goes to the root of the jurisdiction of the trial Court to determine the remaining issues (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) MANI LAL v. DURGA PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. T. 425 : (1924) P. H. C. C. 254 : 3 Pat. 930 : 80 I. C. 667 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 673.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Suit—Interference by High Court in revision.

It is the practice of the High Court where there is another remedy, not to interfere under S. 115, C. P. C. As the unsuccessful party in the present case had a right of suit, the Court refused to interfere in the exercise of its revisional powers. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) KAPLESHWAR JHA v. RAGHUNANDAN PARSAD. 1 Pat. L. R. 370: 4 Pat. L. T. 718 : 74 I. C. 474 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 134.

——S. 115 and O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Other remedy Dismissal of suit—Appeal.

Where the lower Court dismisses a suit making it clear that it is proceeding under the provisions of O. 17, R. 3, C. P. Code, and not under O. 17, R. 2, the remedy of the plaintiff is by way of appeal and not in revision to the High Court. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SYED BAKER HUSSAIN v. MIRZA HUSSAIN MIRZA. 4 Pat. L. T. 46 : 73 I. C. 373 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 223.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Interlocutory order—Liability for accounts—Government of India Act. S. 107.

Where the parties have a right of appeal from the ultimate decision after the accounts are taken the High Court should not interfere in revision or superintendence, unless it were proved to its satisfaction that the Judge had given improper directions in his interlocutory order as to the mode of taking accounts to the commissioner which unless varied or set aside would result in irreparable loss to the parties. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 3 P. L. T. 638 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 598.

——S. 115—Other remedy—Conclusion right but procedure wrong—Interference.

Per Das, J.—The ordinary rules is that where an aggrieved party has other remedy available. the High Court is unwilling to interfere in revision.

Per Bucknill, J.—Where the right thing has been done in quite the wrong way, the sensible course is not to interfere. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) SYED ALI ZAMIN v. NAWAB SYED MOHABAD AKBAR ALI. 1 Pat. 68 : 3 Pat. L. T. 406 : 65 I. C. 135 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 315.

——S. 115 and Sch. II, Para 16—Other remedy—Defect in—Interference.

To justify interference by the High Court under S.115, C.P. Code, on the ground of want of jurisdiction the facts ousting jurisdiction must be patent on the face of the record. The High Court will be slow to interfere in revision unles the party applying to the Court has no other remedy. 44 B. 595, Foll. (Kennedy, J.C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) EMNABAI v. FAKIR MAHOMED. 15 S. L. R. 165: 65 I. C. 50 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 1.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Revision.

Revision.

——S. 115—Revision—Order of remand passed by District Judge in an appeal from the revenue Court—Revision—Agra Tenancy Act, S. 167

An order of remand passed by a District Court in an appeal from a revenue Court is revisable by the High Court and S. 167 of the Agra Tenancy Act does not preclude the High Court from entertaining revision in such cases (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) KEHRI SINGH v. THIRPAL. 23 A. L. J. 965.

——S. 115—Revision—Plaint returned—Order confirmed in appeal.

Where a Court orders a plaint to be returned for presentation to a proper Court and the order is affirmed in appeal, the order of the appellate Court cannot be revised as no question of illegal exercise of jurisdiction arises. But the High Court can in a proper case revise the order of the trial Court, in spite of the fact it has been appealed against. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) BISHESHAR PRASAD PANDEY v. RAGHUBIR. L. R. 6 A. 255 (Rev) : 90 I. C. 353.

——S. 115—Revision.

No revision lies from an order of remand. (Rafique, J.) BISHMATH SINGH v. RAM SRI. 76 I. C. 525 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 All. 464 (2).

——S. 115—Revision—Order passed by the Political Resident at Aden granting letters of administration.

An order passed by the Political Resident at Aden granting letters of administration is one on which an appeal would lie to the Privy Council and therefore the High Court of Bombay refuses to interfere in revision with this order. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) LEOH MOSES v. MEYER. 27 Bom. L. R. 1460.

——S. 115—Revision — Jurisdiction—Appellate reversing judgment.

An appellate Court has jurisdiction (even if erroneously) to reverse the decision of a trial Court and it is not open to revision. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM BHOGI LAL TRIKAM LAL v. THE FIRM AMAR NATH LAJPAT RAI. 26 Punj. L. R. 746 : 90 I. C. 1042 (1).

——S. 115—Revision—Question of—To try suit.

Ordinarily interference in revision is inadvisable in cases of decisions as to jurisdiction and should only be made in exceptional cases to remedy injustice. (Motisagar, J.) THE FIRM SITARAM v. THE FIRM BANARASI DAS. 77 I. C. 764 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 565.

——Ss. 115 and 104 (2)—Revision—Order on appeal from order returning plaint for presentation to proper Court.

An order of an Appellate Court reversing an order of the Lower Court returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court is open to revision, as no Second Appeal lies from such order. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAM LAL ISHAR DAS v. SALIG RAM. 59 I. C. 2 : 7 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 115 and Sch. II, para 1—Revision—Reference to arbitration—Interested party not committed.

Where a District Munsif referred a case to arbitration, the agreement to refer not having been signed by one of the interested parties who was ex parte and passed a decree in terms of the award passed by the arbitrators. Held, that a revision lay against the decree in terms of the award, as the Munsif exercised a jurisdiction not vested in him by law by referring the case to arbitration without the consent of an interested party, though he was ex parte. (Jackson, J.) PARASURAMA MUDALIAR v. MUTHUSAMI PILLAI.

C. P. CODE (V. OF 1908), S. 115—Revision.

22 L. W. 395 : (1925) M. W. N. 744.

——S. 115—Revision against the order of the Collector dismissing an appeal against the order of the Revenue Divisional officer refusing enhancement of rent under S. 42 of the Madras Estates Land Act.

The Revenue Divisional officer refused to enhance the rent in an application made under S. 42 of the Madras Estates Land Act. An appeal was preferred to the Collector and the same was dismissed. A revision petition was filed to the Board of Revenue and another revision petition to the High Court. The Board of Revenue held that it had no power to revise the order of the Collector. Held, that the High Court had power to interfere in revision. Held also that the Board of Revenue had power to revise the order of a revenue officer if he happens to be the Dt. Collector himself. Where the Dt. Collector himself acts as appellate authority he cannot revise his own order and there is nothing in the Code to say that the Board cannot interfere. (Kumarasami Sastry, J.) GOPANNA MANNADIAR v. PALANI GOUNDAN. (1925) M. W. N. 489.

——S. 115—Revision against order setting aside ex parte decree on the ground of the absence of the practitioner.

The lower Court cannot be said to have acted without jurisdiction or with material irregularity in the exercise of it in regarding the absence of the pleader when the case was called on for hearing as a sufficient cause for setting aside the ex parte decree. (Odgers, J.) THIRUMALACHARIAR v. ATHIMOOLA KARAYALAR. 22 L. W. 695.

——S. 115—Revision—Court must interfere to set aside illegal order.

When entirely without jurisdiction an order was passed, it is the bounden duty of the Court to interfere in revision and to see that the order does not remain in force. A party who resorts to the aid of law has a right to insist that the law shall be followed and that an order which contravenes the law shall be set aside. (Wallace, J.) V. MANICKAM PILLAI v. MAHUDAM BATHUMMAL. 48 M. L. J. 152 : 20 L. W. 849 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 209.

——S. 115—Revision—Final decision is revisable for want of jurisdiction

There is no better way of directing that there shall be no appeal than by the legislature stating that the decision of a particular Court shall be final. But even a decision which is final is open to revision. (Schwabe, C. J., Ramesam and Waller, JJ.) K. PARTHASARADHI NAIDU v. C. KOTESWARA RAO. 46 M. L. J. 201 : 47 M. 369 : 19 L. W. 402 : 34 M. L. T. 50 : (1924) M. W. N. 272 : 78 I. C. 98 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 561 (F.B.).

——S. 115—Revision—Order issuing commission for examination of the plaintiff.

If the High Court finds that the discretion of the lower Court in granting a commission has been wrongly exercised, if it sees that the case in all its bearings was not laid before the Court below, if it sees that the Court below misapprehended an important part of the case, the High Court will interfere in revision. It will interfere where the Court below seemed to have treated the matter of a commission to examine the plaintiff as if it was merely a commission to examine witnesses (Das and Ross, JJ.) NAWAB SYED MUHAMMAD AKBER ALI KHAN v. HERBERT FRANCIS. 1925 P. H. C. C. 326.

——Ss. 115 and 4—Revision—Oudh Rent Act, S. 119—No revision lies against second appellate decree of Dt. Judge in rent suits.

The plaintiffs filed certain suits for rent which were heard by an Assistant Collector of the second class. On appeal his decrees were confirmed by the Collector. There were further appeals to the District Judge, which were unsuccessful. The defendant then applied in revision under S. 115, C. P. Code for the discharge of the decree passed by the District Judge. Held, that an application for revision to the High Court in these circumstances is not maintainable. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) KALI BAKSH SINGH v. BHAGWAN DAS 10 O. L. J. 191 : 72 I. C. 1023 : L. R. 5 O. 17 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Revision.

——— S. 115—Revision — Sanction — Refusal by Revenue Officer- Appeal to Collector—Sanction ordered —If a Court subordinate to High Court.

Where a Collector in an appeal against an order refusing to prosecute a person for offences under Ss. 471 and 193, I. P. C., reverses the order and directs prosecution, he acts as a Court exercising judicial powers and being subject to the superintendence of the High Court, his order is revisable. (Mullick, J.) FAUJDAR RAI v. EMPEROR. 90 I. C. 445 : 26 Cr. L. J. 1565.

——— S. 115—Revision— Court— Rent Controller of Rangoon—Orders of—If revisable.

Held by a majority of the Full Bench, (Robinson C. J., dissenting) that the Rent Controller of Rangoon is not a Court and the High Court has no powers of revision over his orders under the Rangoon Rent Act. (Robinson, C. J., Heald and Rutledge, JJ.) MOHIDEEN v. BUKSHI RAM. 3 Rang. 410 (F. B.).

——— S. 115—Revision—Wrong provision of law—Application of.

Where a Court has applied its mind to the law and decides wrongly then there is no ground for revision ; but, where it disregards some provision of law and has not applied its mind to that provision, then there is ground for revision. (Young, J.) RASU v. KATTARA. 2 Rang. 202 : 82 I. C. 6 8 : A. I R. 1924 Rang. 349.

——— S. 115—Revision—No remedy open.

The powers of the High Court should receive a liberal rather than a narrow interpretation when the applicant has no other remedy. (Raymond and Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) MESSRS. FORBES, FORBES CAMPBELL & CO., LTD. v. VERSIMAL DIWANMAL. A. I. R. 1924 Sind. 49.

Right to apply.

——— S. 115—Right to apply—Wrongly entering application under O. 21, R. 89.

The High Court can interfere in revision if an application under O 21, R. 89 has been wrongly admitted on the ground that it was made by a person interested to apply. 44 Mad. 554 (F. B.,) Appl. (Odgers, J.) SUBBA REDDI v. VASIREDDI JAYARAMAYYA. 17 L. W. 680 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 659.

——— S. 115 and O. 47, R. 4—Right to apply—Review disallowed—No revision lies.

No revision lies from an order rejecting an application for review. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEOCHARAN v. JAGWANT KUAR. 12 O. L. J 443 : 2 O. W. N. 419: 88 I. C. 582: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 594.

——— S. 115—Right to apply—Pauper suit.

No revision lies where Court finds on the materials before it, that the person seeking to sue as pauper is not unable to pay the Court-fees due. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) UMAR BAHADUR v. MD. KARIM NAWAB. 5 P. L. T. 606 : 2 P. L. R. 276 : 79 I. C. 56 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 287 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 667.

Scope of.

——— S. 115—Scope of—Cr. P. Code, S. 195.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Scope of.

Where there has been no excess of jurisdiction nor failure to exercise jurisdiction in refusing sanction under S. 195, Cr. P. C., on the facts, it is difficult to say that the case can be brought within the last clause of S. 115, C. P. C.

Per Cuming, J.—S 115, C. P. C., obviously refers to civil matters and civil matters only. It is found in C. P. C. and can have no application in criminal matters. (Ghose and Cuming, JJ.) SARAT CHANDRA v. RAMSASHI ROY. 36 C.L.J. 265 : 26 C.W.N. 1016 : 69 I. C. 1 3 : 23 Cr. L. J. 665 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 45.

——— S. 115—Scope of—Mortgage decree—Sale—Claim.

A claim is not entertainable under O. 21, R. 58 of the C. P. Code to property. which has been ordered to be sold under a mortgage decree and where it is disallowed, no revision can lie to the High Court under S. 115 of the Code. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) MAHABIR PROSAD v. JOGENDRA NATH. 68 I. C. 271 : 26 C. W. N. 50.

——— S. 115—Scope of.

S. 115, C. P. Code, which corresponds in its wordings to S. 44 of the Punjab Courts Act, applies to jurisdiction alone, the irregular exercise or non-exercise of it or the illegal assumption of it, and it is not directed against conclusions of law or fact in which the question of jurisdiction is not involved. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE PUNJAB BANKING COMPANY, LTD. v. DIWAN DHANPAT RAI. 75 I.C. 487 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 506 (2).

——— S. 115—Scope of—Section applies to jurisdiction alone, irregular exercise or non-exercise of it or illegal assumption of it.

S. 115 applies to jurisdiction alone, the irregular exercise or non-exercise of it, or illegal assumption of it. An application under that section may, therefore, fall to be considered on the grounds : (1) absence of jurisdiction, (2) refusal to exercise jurisdiction and (3) where the Subordinate Court has not only had jurisdiction but has also exercised it but exercised it illegally or with material irregularity. The third ground would clearly include erroneous conclusions of fact or law reached in the exercise of jurisdiction, but it would certainly include such rules of procedure as lay down certain preliminary conditions on the fulfilment of which the exercise or jurisdiction, one way or the other, will depend. An order purporting to be passed under O. 23, R. 1, but made in disregard of the procedure presented therein is irregular exercise of jurisdiction and deserves revision. (Wazir Hasan, J C.) MT. EJAZ RASUL KHAN v. MUBARAC HUSAIN. 27 O. C. 231 : 11 O. L. J. 613 : 79 I C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 291.

——— S. 115 (b)—Scope of—Appeal from non-appealable cases may be treated as application for revision—Not applicable to interlocutory orders.

There is abundant authority for holding that where no appeal lies, an appeal to the High Court may be treated as an application for revision. S. 115 is intended merely to rule out revision of interlocutory orders. An order of remand is not an interlocutory order as it entirely disposes of the case so far as the Court disposes it for the time being. A. I. R. 1922 All. 254, 1922 All. 226, Dist. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEIKH FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI. 26 O. C. 10 : 10 O. L. J. 36 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : 73 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——— S. 115—Scope.

The High Court should not exercise its power of revision except in aid of justice. (Das, J.) SHEIKH HAMIDUR RAHIMAN v. SHAHANAND DAS. 80 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 153.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Scope of.

——S. 115—Scope of—Prov. Sm. C. C. Act, S. 25—Latter is wider in scope than former.

S. 25 of the Small Cause Courts Act is of the widest scope in conferring discretion upon the High Court in contradistinction to the narrow terms of S. 115, Civil Procedure Code. (Duckworth, J.) VALAB DAS v. MAUNG BA THAN. 1 Rang. 372 : 2 Bur. L. J. 154 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 54.

——S. 115 (b)—Scope.

It is not failure to exercise jurisdiction by the Lower Court merely because it omitted to consider ex proprio motu a case which is not properly raised before it. (Fawcett, J. C., Crump and Kemp, A. J. Cs.) BANUMAL v. NEWANDMAL. 83 I. C. 360 (2) : 16 S. L. R. 207 (F. B.).

Subordinate Court.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Order of District Judge under S. 177 of Agra Tenancy Act—Revision lies to High Court—Agra Tenancy Act, Ss. 167 and 177.

Per Boys, J.—There is nothing in S. 167 precluding the hearing by the High Court under S. 115 of the Civ. Pro. Code of a revision of an order passed by a District Judge under S. 177 of the Tenancy Act ; and it is reasonable that the High Court should have such power, and to hold that it has such power is in accord with S. 193 of the Tenancy Act. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) KEHRI SINGH v. THIRPAL. 23 A. L. J. 965 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 113.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court--Order of Revenue Court or District Judge, original or appellate, in reference to questions under Local Tenancy Act—Revision does not lie.

The High Court has no power to interfere in revision under S. 115 of the Civ. Pro. Code or otherwise with any order that has been passed originally or in appeal by a Revenue Court or by a District Judge in reference to questions decided under the provisions of the Agra Tenancy Act, No. 2 of 1901. 42 All. 83, Foll. (Stuart, J.) MANOHAR v. MANGAL DAS. A. I. R. 1925 All. 800.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—High Court, Kumaun—If subordinate to the Allahabad High Court.

The High Court of Kumaun is not a Court subordinate to the Allahabad High Court for purposes of revisional jurisdiction under the Code of Civil Procedure. (Piggott, J.) SADAR SINGH KONDARI v. AMAR SINGH KONDARI. 45 All. 383 : 71 I. C. 991 (2) : A. I. R. 1923 All. 291 (2).

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Evidence and finding of fact conflicting—Revisional Court cannot revise the finding.

In revision evidence may be looked into, to see whether the jurisdiction of the Court has been properly exercised, but if there is conflict of evidence and an issue of fact has been found in one way, the Revisional Court does not revise the finding of fact. (Walsh and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MUNNA LAL v. SADANNU LAL. 18 A. L. J. 1104 : 76 I. C. 624 (1) : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 408.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—City of Bombay Municipal Act, S. 33—Election petition—Decision of Chief Judge of Small Cause Court.

The High Court has no jurisdiction under S. 115 of the C. P. Code to interfere with the decision of the Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court in an election petition. The Chief Judge acting under the powers given to him by S. 33 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act is a persona designata. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) NAVAL KAR v. MRS. SAROJINI NAIDU. 25 Bom. L. R. 463 : 73 I. C. 133 : A. I. R 1923 Bom. 421.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Subordinate Court.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Land Acquisition Officer—Omission to make reference—Revision.

Where a Collector in a land acquisition proceeding refuses to make a reference to the District Court on the question of the apportionment of the compensation, the High Court has no power to interfere with the order in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction, as the Collector is not a "Subordinate Court" to the High Court. 42 M. 231, Dis. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BALKRISHNA DASI v. THE COLLECTOR, BOMBAY SUBURBAN. 47 Bom. 699 : 25 Bom. L. R 398 : 73 I. C. 354 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 290.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Order under Part 2, Lunacy Act, cannot be revised.

Order of Dt. Magistrate under part 2 of the Lunacy Act with respect to reception, care and treatment of the lunatic are executive and not judicial and therefore not revisable by the High Court. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) DONALD v EMPEROR. 4 Lah. 1 : 73 I. C. 696 : 24 Cr. L. J. 664 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 55.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Election inquiry.

Sub-Court holding an enquiry into election under the Madras Dt. Municipalities Act is a Court subordinate to the High Court. 16 L. W. 848 : A. I. R. 1923 M. 192, Foll. (Wallace, J.) AHMAD THAMBI v. BASAWA MARAKAYAR. 44 M. L. J. 69 : 16 L. W. 898 : (1922) M. W. N. 813 : 46 M. 123 : 72 I. C. 902 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 254.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—District Judge—Trial of election.

A District Judge trying the validity of an election under the Madras Local Boards Act XIV of 1902 is not acting as a persona designata but as a Court : his orders are judicial and liable to interference in revision by the High Court. The mere fact that the order of the District Judge is declared to be "final" merely means that it could not be questioned by way of appeal but it does not exclude the exercise of revisional jurisdiction by the High Court. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMASWAMI GOUNDAN v. MUTHU VELAPPA GOUNDAN. 44 M. L. J. 1 : 46 Mad. 536 : (1923) M. W. N. 133 : 71 I. C. 1039 : 16 L. W. 848 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 192.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Sub-Judge trying an election petition.

A Sub-Judge trying an election petition questioning the validity of the election of a Municipal Commissioner under the Madras District Municipalities Act is not a Court subordinate to the High Court within S. 115, C. P. Code. Consequently the High Court has no jurisdiction to interfere with the order of a sub-Court refusing to try an election petition. 21 B. 279, Foll. 38 M. 581 Ref. (Devadoss, J.) DEIVANAYAGAM PILLAI v. P. T. S. DIWAN MOHIDEEN ROWTHER. 44 M. L. J. 39 : (1922) M. W. N. 818 : 16 L. W. 827 : 70 I. C. 780 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 169.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Rent Court.

In cases where an appeal would lie to the High Court the Rent Court is a Court subordinate to the High Court within the meaning of S. 115, C. P. Code. 14 O. C. 38, Foll. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) CHANHRAJA v. KALKA PANDE. 9 O. L. J. 543 : 72 I. C. 394 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 18.

——S 115—Subordinate Court — Sub-Deputy Collector refusing application to prosecute—Collector on appeal setting aside the order and making a complaint exercises judicial powers and revision lies—Government of India Act, S. 107.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 115—Subordinate Court.

Where the Sub-Deputy Collector after inquiry refused the application of the opposite party for prosecution of petitioner under Penal Code, S. 471 but on appeal the Collector set aside the order of the Sub-Deputy Collector and made a formal complaint under S. 200, Crim. Pro. Code, for the prosecution of the petitioner, held, that the Collector was clearly acting as a Revenue Court and he was exercising judicial powers in setting aside the order of the Sub-Deputy Collector and in making a complaint under S. 200 and was therefore subject to the superintendence of the High Court and his order is revisable under S 115, Civ. Pro. Code, as also under S. 107 of the Government of India Act. (Mullick, J.) FAUJDAR RAI v. EMPEROR. 26 Cr. L. J. 1565 : 90 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 25.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court ordering partition—Omission of one of the properties— Parties should draw the attention of trial Court to the matter and no revision lies.

Where a partition was to be a partition of the whole property and by oversight or for any other reason one of the properties was left unpartitioned, Held, that it was open to the parties to draw the attention of the trial Court to the omission and to get a direction from it in the matter and no revision lies. (Ross, J.) BALARAM MANJHI v. JAGANNATH MANJHI. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 760.

——S. 115 and Government of India Act (1915), S. 107—Subordinate Court—Revenue Court.

An order of a Revenue Court under S. 476 of the Cr. P. Code is open to revision by the High Court under S. 115 of the C.P.Code or S. 107 of the Government of India Act (1915). (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) RAKTU SINGH v. EMPEROR. 6 Pat. L. J. 178 : 2 Pat. L. T. 609 : 22 Cr. L. J. 403 : 61 I. C. 643 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 240.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—Reference under Municipal Act—Decision of Sm. C. Court—Revision lies.

The decisions of the Rangoon Small Cause Court in dealing with references under the Rangoon Municipal Act, 1922, are subject to revision under S. 115, C.P. Code. (Doyle, J.) M.A. SHAKUR v. MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF RANGOON. 4 Bur L. J. 161 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 367.

——S. 115—Subordinate Court—First Judge of Court of Sm. Causes is subordinate to High Court.

The First Judge of the Court of Small Causes is not merely a persona designata appointed for a special purpose and he must be regarded as a Civil Court and as such subordinate to the High Conrt. The High Court has, therefore, jurisdiction to entertain an application for revision from his decision. (Robinson, C. J., Pratt and Macgregor, JJ.) MAHOMED IBRAHIM MOOLDA v. S. R. JANDOSS. 1 Bur. L. J. 138 : 70 I. C. 144 : 11 L. B. R. 387 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 49.

Withdrawal of suit.

——S. 115—Withdrawal of suit — Permission wrongly given—Interference.

Where a Court decides wrongly to grant permission to withdraw from a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, but still has applied its mind to the question whether there was a formal defect by reason of which the suit was liable to fail, the High Court cannot interfere in revision. (Daniels, J.) NANNHU v. ROSHAN SINGH. 74 I. C. 112 : A. I R, 1924 All. 121.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 116.

——S. 115 and O. 23, R. 1—Withdrawal of suit —Order without recording reasons—Revision.

Where on an application for leave to withdraw a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit the Court merely passed an order to the effect that it was allowed without considering or recording the grounds for granting such leave, the High Court in revision set aside the order. (Banerjee, J.) RAHMAT ULLAH v. DHARAM SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 90 : L. R. 3 A. 93 : 64 I. C. 948 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 185 (1).

——S. 115 and O. 23, R. 1—Withdrawal of suit.

When the grant of leave to withdraw suit is improper it will be interfered with in revision. (Richardson, J.) KIRANMOYI v. RAMA NATH. 64 I.C. 556 (Cal.)

——S. 115—Withdrawal of suit—Order allowing, is open to revision.

An order allowing a suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit, if improperly made, is capable of being revised by the High Court. (Abdul Qadir, J.) GHULAM RASUL v. MT. RAMZAN BIBI. 68 I. C. 753 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 97 (2).

——S. 115, O. 33, R. 1—Withdrawal of suit—Evidence of both plaintiff and defendant examined—Case set down for arguments—Application for withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, grant of—Irregularity—Revision.

Where in a suit all the witnesses for the plaintiff and the defendant had been examined and the Court had fixed a date for hearing the arguments on which date the plaintiff's guardian put in an application for withdrawal of the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit which the Court granted. Held, that the Court had exercised its jurisdiction with gross irregularity and the High Court was bound to set aside the decree in revision. (Dalal, J. C.) MUST. RABUL ARFAIN v. BABU RAZA. 1 O. W. N. 861 : 85 I. C. 324 : 10 O. & A L. R. 1130 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 596.

——S. 115 and O. 23, R. 1—Withdrawal of suit with liberty to sue—Ill-advised grant of leave—Revision.

Where in granting leave to withdraw a suit with liberty to sue afresh the Judge never applied his mind to the merits of the application and gave no reasons for allowing the plaintiff permission to bring a fresh suit and it was quite clear that if he had considered the language of the section for a moment such a permission could never have been given. Held that the High Court can and will interfere in revision in such cases. (Daniels, A. J. C.) PULAI v. RANA UMANATH SINGH. 9 O & A. L. R. 3 : 72 I. C. 1034 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 107.

——S. 116—Pending suits—Maintainability of suit questioned—Interference is justified.

Obiter:—If a suit is not maintainable at all, it might in some cases be advisable for the High Court in revision to interfere and thus to prevent further waste of time and money, the ground of interference being that a Court has no jurisdiction to proceed with a suit which is not maintainable in law. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) T. A. BALAKRISHNA ODAYAR v. V. JAGANNADA CHARIAR. 48 M. L. J. 534 : 87 I. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 820.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 122.

——— S. 122—High Court cannot alter period of limitation.

The High Court has power to alter, amend and add to rules of procedure laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure according to S. 122 but it has no power to alter the period of limitation provided by the Limitation Act. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MADAN GOPAL v. MALWA RAM. 68 I. C. 777 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 96.

———S. 122—Rules under—Lahore High Court.

Under the Rules of the Lahore High Court framed under S. 122, the memo in the case of second appeal shall be accompanied by a copy of the First Court's judgment. (Chevis, J.) MOLU MAL v. SRI RAM. 63 I. C. 33 : 2 Lah. 227.

———Ss. 122 and 125—Scope—Rule made by High Court in conflict with the section of C. P. C. is void.

A rule made by the High Court if it is in conflict with the provisions of a section of the C. P. C. would be ultra vires. (Dalal, J. C.) MAHOMED SAKIR v. JUGAL KISHORE. 28 O. C. 169 : 85 I. C. 455 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 492.

———S. 122—Force of rules under—Effect of change in rules in schedule.

In order to have the effect of varying the rules in the first schedule to the Code, the rules under S. 122 must first have been considered and submitted by a Rule Committee appointed under S. 123. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAMDEO SINGH v. MAKHAN SINGH. 74 I. C. 330 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 19.

———Ss. 122 and 123—Rules not submitted to committee—Ultra vires—Application to Patna High Court.

Ss. 122 and 123 do not apply to Patna High Court. Though the rules made by the High Court were not submitted to any Rule Committee, and though no Rule Committee exists in Patna, the rules are not ultra vires. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAJENDRA KISHORE v. KAMAKHYA NARAIN SINGH. 2 Pat. L. T. 112 : 5 Pat. L. J. 719 : 60 I. C. 285 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 97.

———S 125—Calcutta High Court Rules—Adoption by Patna High Court—Publication.

Though the Patna High Court did not publish the rules which it had adopted from the Calcutta High Court, it published the rule by which the rules were adopted and this was enough 'publication' under S. 125 of the Code. (Coutts and Ahmad, JJ.) NANOO BABOO v. RAM NIVAJI. 61 I. C. 666 : 2 Pat L. T. 45.

———S. 128—Surety—Death of—Principal debtor—Surety not absolved.

Where a person has rendered himself liable as a surety for any amount that might be decreed against the defendant, the fact that the principal debtor has died since, does not absolve the surety from performing his contract. 41 B. 402, referred to (Harrison J.) MAULA DAD v. WADHAWA SINGH. 14 P. W. R. 1923 : 71 I. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 428.

———S. 129—S. 129 refers to Letters Patent of 1865.

S. 129 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, may legitimately be read as referring to the Letters Patent of 1865 which were in force at the time of the passing of that Code and not the Letters Patent of 1862. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) UDOY CHAND PANNA LAL v. KHETSIDAS TILAKCHAND. 51 Cal. 905 28 C. W. N. 916 : 81 I. C. 1048 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1025.

———S. 135—Witness—Attendance in Court—Return—Arrest—Exemption from.

The protection given by S. 135, C.P. Code, is expressed as protection "while returning from such tribunal". It is clear that it cannot be claimed by a witness who is claiming privilege to return by any route he pleases. It is a clear that his return must be straight from the Court to the place where he came in obedience to summons. It cannot possibly be open to a witness claiming privilege to dictate as to how far out of the straight route he may or may not go. (Boys, J.) BEHARI SINGH v. EMPEROR. L. R. 5 A. 94 (Cr) : 22 A. L. J. 638 : 46 All. 663 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 676 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 141.

———Ss 141, 151 and O. 9—Restoration application dismissed for default—Application to restore is entertainable.

Where an application for setting aside dismissal of a suit for default was itself dismissed for default and a subsequent application was made to restore it :

Held : Per Daniels, J.—That O. 9 read with S. 141, applied to the case and that if there was no other remedy left to the applicant, S. 151 applied.

Per Sulaiman, J.—That though it could not be said that the case came under O. 9 read with S. 141, S. 151 applied and the Court could entertain the application under its inherent jurisdiction. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) GANESH PRASAD v. BHAGELU RAM. 23 A. L. J. 817 : L. R. 6 A. (C.v) 412 : 89 I. C. 350 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 773.

———S.141—Does not apply to Succession Certificate Act except so far as Ss. 19 and 26 make it applicable.

Civ. Pro. Code does not apply to proceedings under Succession Certificate Act which is not analogous to Guardians and Wards Act or Bengal Tenancy Act to which the Civ. Pro. Code has been held to apply. Therefore S. 141 does not apply except in so far as it is expressly introduced by S. 19 (3) and as a corollary by S. 26 (3) of the Succession Certificate Act. A Succession Certificate Court has no jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KANHAIYA v. KANHAIYA LAL 46 All. 372 : 22 A. L. J. 345 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 238 : 79 I. C. 363 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 376.

———Ss. 141 and 144—Restitution proceedings—Section applies.

Proceedings under S. 144, C. P. Code, are not proceedings in execution. Consequently S. 141, C.P. Code applies to them. 40 M. 780. Diss.(Rafique and Lindsay JJ.) JIWA RAM v. NAND RAM. 20 A. L. J 226 : 44 A. 407 : 66 I. C. 144 : L. R. 3 A. 209 : A. I. R 1922 All. 223.

———S. 141—Section does not apply to execution proceedings.

Execution proceedings should be excluded from those proceedings to which provisions relating to suits are extended by S. 141. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) T. WANG v. SONU WANGDI. 52 Cal. 559 : 42 C. L. J. 26 : 87 I. C. 633 : 29 C. W. N. 886 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 812.

———S. 141—Objections made under O. 21 to the execution of a decree—Section does not apply.

Objections made under O. 21 to the execution of a decree although numbered separately are virtually proceedings in execution and therefore S. 141 is inapplicable to them. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) NARENDRA NATH CHATTERJI v. RAKHAL DAS TARAFDAR. 79 I. C. 351 : 41 C. L. J. 286 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 510.

———S. 141—Permission given to mutwalli to lease—Order is not appealable.

Where a Court grants permission to a mutwalli to lease wakf properties the order is passed under S. 141, C. P. Code. No appeal lies under the Code or any other law. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) HARIBAR RAHIMAN v. SAIDANNESSA BIBI. 38 C. L. J. 358 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 327.

——S. 141 and O. 9, R. 9—Applicability to proceedings under O. 9, R. 9—Appeal.

It is extremely doubtful whether S. 141, C. P. Code, applies at all to proceedings under O 9, R 9 C P.Code, and even if it does apply, S. 141 cannot operate to give an appeal from an order not otherwise appealable under O. 43, R. 1. 17 A. 106, Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) HARA KUMAR v. MURARI MOHAN. 36 C. L. J. 184 : 69 I. C. 1003 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 572.

——S. 141—Probate proceeding against minor—O. 32 is made applicable.

Where a will of which probate is sought affects the interests of a minor, it is expedient to appoint a guardian ad litem of the minor following O. 32, C. P. C. But it does not follow that every rule in O. 32, C. P. C., is made strictly and legally applicable. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) RADHASHYAM DASYA v. RANGA SUNDARI DASYA. 59 I. C. 664 : 24 C. W. N. 541.

——S. 141—Applicability—Execution proceedings.

S. 141 does not apply to proceedings in execution. (Le Rossignol, J.) KAURA LAL v. THE PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK, LTD., MULTAN. 89 I. C. 360 (1) (Lah.).

——Ss. 141 and 151—Not applicable to execution proceedings.

S. 141 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not applicable to execution proceedings, and an application for execution dismissed for default could be restored only under the provisions of S. 151 of the Code. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE PUNJAB BANKING CO., LTD, v. DIWAN DHANPAT RAI. 75 I. C. 487 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 506 (2).

——S. 141—Not applicable to execution proceedings. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) BHOLU v. RAM LAL. 2 L. 66 : 60 I. C. 720 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 29.

——S. 141 and O. 43, R. 1 (c)—Scope of—Dismissal for default—Application to set aside—Dismissal.

The procedure laid down in the C P. Code regarding suits must be followed also in cases of application to set aside dismissal for default and as such O. 9 and O. 43, R. 1 (c) apply to an order of dismissal of such an application. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) KALICHARAN v. RATAN SINGH. 19 N. L. R. 119 : 75 I. C. 589 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 293.

——S. 141 and O. 9, R. 9—Execution proceedings—Dismissal for default—Restoration—Inherent power.

S. 141, C. P. Code, has not the effect of extending the provisions of O. 9, R. 9, C. P. Code, to execution proceedings or of authorizing the Court to set aside a dismissal of an execution petition for default. But the Court may, in a proper case, in the exercise of its inherent power, restore the execution application and with such restoration the attachment will revive. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHANKERRAO v. MANIKRAO. 68 I. C. 643 : A. I. R 1923 Nag. 18.

——S. 141—Does not apply to execution proceedings.

S. 141 of the C. P. Code is not applicable to execution proceedings, so as to empower the Court to restore to file an application in execution dismissed for default. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HARILAL v. NARAYAN. 4 N. L. J. 118 : 64 I. C. 420 : 18 N. L. R. 152 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267.

——S. 141 and O. 9, R. 9—Application to restore suit—Application to restore application.

Having regard to the provisions of S. 141, C. P. Code, an application to set aside an order, rejecting a prior application for the revival of a suit dismissed for default is maintainable. (Burn, J. M.) TASADDUQ HUSAIN v. BHAGWAN BAKSH SINGH. L. R. 5 O. 89 (Rev.) : 11 O. L. J. 232 : 1 O. W. N. 109 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1134.

——S. 141—Does not apply to execution proceedings.

S. 141, C. P. Code, is applicable only to proceedings in original suit. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) LACHMAN LAL v. PADARATH SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 735 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 346.

——S. 141 — Non-applicability to proceedings under S. 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Proceedings under S.105, B.T. Act, are not governed by S.141, C.P. Code; because the former are to be sued in a Revenue Court before Revenue Officers. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HAZARI LAL SAHU v. AMBICA GIR. 3 Pat. 67 : 2 Pat. L. R. 169 : 79 I. C. 5 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 273 : 5 P. L. T. 591 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 104.

——S. 141 and O. 9, R. 4—Execution proceedings—Restoration.

S. 141 of the C. P. Code does not make the provisions of O. 9, R. 4 and all cognate provisions applicable to execution proceedings. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHEO NANDAN CHAUDHURY v. DEBI LALL CHAUDHURY. 4 Pat. L. T. 93 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 78 : 1 Pat. L. R. 134 : 2 Pat. 372 : 71 I. C. 484 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 239.

——S. 141 and O. 43, R. 1—Execution proceedings—Dismissal for default.

The order in question was passed in execution of the decree on account of the default of the decree-holder to take certain steps. The order was passed in execution proceedings by virtue of section 141 of the C. P. Code ; in other words, the order was similar to what is passed in suits on account of default of plaintiffs, here the decree-holder failed to take necessary steps for the prosecution of his application in execution and it was accordingly dismissed for default. Held, whether such an order is an order in the suit or in the execution it is not at all appealable. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) GOUR CHANDRA v. JANARDAN. 4 P. L. T. 204 : 68 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 180.

——S. 141—Scope of—Provisions of S. 10—If apply to arbitration proceedings.

S. 141, C. P. Code, is wide enough to make the provisions of S. 10 apply to arbitration proceedings. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF JAI NARAIN BABU LAL, In the matter of. 16 S. L. R. 79 : 66 I. C. 796 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 6.

——S. 141 and O. 9—Applicability to execution proceedings.

S. 141 and O. 9 are not primarily intended to apply to proceedings in execution, under O. 21, R. 90 for disposing of applications ex parte ; still, a Court in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction should have power in such cases to restore the applications to file and decide it on merits. (Kennedy, J.C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) ISSARSING v. UDHAVDAS. 83 I. C. 749 : 17 S. L. R. 105.

——S. 144—Execution sale—Setting aside—Repayment of purchase money—Payment of encumbrances by purchaser.

An execution sale was confirmed by the Courts in India but set aside on appeal by the Privy Council after a lapse of 9 years. In the interval the a[illegible] purchasers had obtained possession of the pr[illegible] sold and had also paid off certain incumb[illegible] thereon. The sale price paid into Court by the a[illegible] purchasers had been distributed to various [illegible] holders. After the decision of the Privy Council the judgment-debtors applied for restitution under S. 144, C.P. Code. The auction-purchasers claimed a refund of the purchase money paid by them as well as the value of the incumbrances discharged by them. Held, that the judgment-debtors were entitled to possession only on their payment to the purchaser the amount of the purchase money less the mesne profits derived by the purchasers in the interval. The interest on mesne profits was allowed to be set off against the interest on the purchase price. The purchaser having discharged the incumbrances of their own accord and without any order of Court, they were entitled to the benefit of the security but not to a refund of the amounts as a condition precedent to their surrendering possession. (Lord Carson.) JAI BERHAM v. KEDAR NATH MARWARI 44 M. L. J. 735 : 25 Bom. L. R. 643 : L. R. 4 P. C. 117 : 69 I. C. 278 : (1923) M. W. N. 368 : 21 A. L. J. 490 : 18 L. W. 802 : 37 C. L. J. 351 : 2 P. 10 : 32 M. L. T. 10 : 4 P. L. T. 61 : 27 C. W. N. 582 : 49 I. A. 351 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 269 (P. C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

——S. 144—Appeal—Court-fee—Court-Fees Act, Sch. II, Art. 1.

Appeal from order under S.144 must be stamped ad valorem. 19 A.L.J. 771, Overruled; A.I.R. 1922 All. 238 and A. I. R. 1925 Patna 1 (F. B.) Foll. (Daniels, J.) BAIJNATH DAS v. BAL MAKUND. 47 All. 98 : 22 A.L.J. 881 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 773 : 82 I. C. 321 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 137.

—— S. 144 and 151—Court has inherent power of restitution.

Jurisdiction as to restitution does not arise merely under Section 144. It is inherent in the general jurisdiction of the Court to act rightly and fairly, according to the circumstances, towards all parties concerned. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 269; A. I. R. 1923 All. 394 (F.B.) Foll. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) TARA CHAND v. MT. CHAMPA. 46 All. 767 : 22 A. L. J. 673 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 659 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 718.

——S. 144—Applicability of — Decree against minor with costs—Decree subsequently set aside in suit—Restitution—Costs.

The plaintiff in a partition suit brought on record as the legal representative of the deceased defendant, his minor adopted son without having a guardian ad litem appointed for him. A decree was obtained against the minor with costs and an appeal preferred by the minor against the decree was also dismissed with costs. Subsequently, the minor sued to set aside the decree and obtained a declaration that it was null and void against him. Thereupon the minor applied under S. 144, C.P. Code, for restitution of the costs realised from him by the plaintiff. Held, that S 144, C. P. Code, was not in terms applicable to the case, that the Court had jurisdiction apart from S. 144 to order restitution, but that in the circumstances of the case and having regard to the conduct of the party, restitution should not be ordered. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) TARA CHAND v. CHAMPA. 22 A.L.J. 673 : L. R. 5 A. 659 : 46 All. 767 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 905 : A. I. R. 1924 All 713.

——S. 144—Applicability—Restitution against auction-purchaser.

S. 144, C. P. Code, allows restitution to be made against the decree-holder who obtains any benefit under a decree which is afterwards reversed in appeal. It does not allow restitution against a third party such as a stranger auction-purchaser. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) BALWANT SINGH v. MT. LAIQA BEGAM. L. R. 4 A. 526 : 75 I.C. 238 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 273.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

——S. 144—Appeal—Applicability of section impugned.

Where one of the issues was whether S. 144 applied to the facts, and the Judges decided it one way or the other, an appeal lies even though one of the grounds of appeal is that the decision on the issue is wrong. (Daniels, J.) SHEIKH CHHUTAN v. JWALA PRASAD. 73 I. C. 602 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 64.

——S. 144—Suit for damages—For bringing false suit is maintainable.

Where restitution cannot be obtained by application under S. 144 (1), C. P. Code, there is no bar to the institution of a suit. Consequently a suit for recovery of damages by a successful defendant against an unsuccessful plaintiff for bringing a false suit which involved great injury to the defendant is maintainable. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) ARJUN SINGH v. PARBATI. 44 All. 687 : 20 A. L. J. 636 : 69 I. C. 173 : L. R. 3 A. 408 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 465.

——S. 144—Proceedings under are not proceedings in execution—"Party," meaning of.

Proceedings under S. 144, C. P. Code, are not proceedings although they are in the nature of proceedings in execution to enforce directly or indirectly the final decree. The section is very wide in terms. It includes matters which an execution Court or appellate Court could not ordinarily deal with and the word "party" is not used in the section in the sense of "party to the suit" but must mean "party to the application." (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) BRIJ LAL v. DAMODAR DAS. 44 All. 555 : 20 A. L J. 456 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 74 : 66 I. C 545 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 238.

——Ss. 144 and 141—Nature of restitution proceedings.

Proceedings under S 144 of the Code are proceedings in execution of a decree. S.141, C.P.Code, applies to restitution proceedings. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) JIWA RAM v. RAM NAND L R 3 A. 209 : 66 I. C. 144 : 20 A. L. J. 226 : 44 A. 407 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 223.

——S. 144—Application for restitution to be made to Court which passed the decree—Separate suit, if lies.

Where an ejectment decree is passed by a Revenue Court and duly executed, but afterwards the decree was reversed in appeal, any application for restitution must be made to the Revenue Court as "the Court of first instance". No separate suit is maintainable in respect thereof. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) KASHI PRASAD SINGH v. BALBHADDAR SINGH. 44 A. 283 : 20 A. L. J. 133 : L. R. 3 A. 97 : 65 I. C. 798 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 71.

——S. 144—Order for costs reversed on appeal—Refund can be ordered with interest.

Where in pursuance of an order for costs the defendant pays up the amount to the plaintiff and the order is reversed on appeal, the defendant is entitled not only to the refund of the money paid but also to interest thereon. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) GOKUL PRASAD v. RAM DEVI. 19 A. L. J. 771 : 63 I. C. 513 : 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 126.

——S. 144—Limitation for application for restitution.

A judgment-debtor first applied for execution against the decree-holder transferee and certain other persons who had got the money deposited in Court under the decree. The application was successful and the purchaser then appealed and got the order set aside; the judgment-debtor then made a second application for restitution against the decree-holder for loss suffered by him on account of the sale. Held, that the second application was a continuation of the first and so not time-barred. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) HANIFUNNESSA v. CHUNNI LAL. 19 A. L. J. 549 : 63 I. C. 184 : 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 91.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

—— S. 144—Money paid under decree by one defendant—Plaintiff pursuing his appeal against another defendant and succeeding—First defendant while withdrawing money is entitled to interest thereon.

Plaintiff having got a decree against the 1st and 2nd defendants in the suit for the return of the earnest money and damages for breach of contract proceeded to appeal on the ground that he was entitled to specific performance of the contract against the defendant No. 3. Pending the appeal the 1st defendant paid into Court the amount which had been awarded against defendants Nos. 1 and 2. The plaintiff continued the appeal and was successful. On an application by defendants 1 and 2, for restitution and claiming interest on the money which remained in Court, held, that plaintiff could not resist the claim on the ground that he acquired no benefit from the money. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) HARABHAI DAHYABHAI v. MANEKLAL RACNHHOD. 27 Bom. L. R. 485 : 87 I. C. 713 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 313.

——S. 144—Limitation Act Art. 182—Application for restitution is one for execution of appellate decree.

An application for restitution under S. 144, C. P. Code, is one for execution of decree of the Appellate Court and is thus governed by Art. 182, Lim. Act. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) HAMIDALLI KADAMALLI v. AHMEDALLI MAHIBUBALLI.

45 Bom. 1137 : 62 I. C. 233 : 23 Bom. L. R. 480.

——S. 144—Decree holder being auction-purchaser sale will be set aside if decree is set aside but not where stranger is auction-purchaser or decree-holder has transferred the property purchased.

Where a decree-holder is himself the purchaser in execution of his ex parte decree and the ex parte decree is subsequently set aside, the sale stands cancelled and any interest which has accrued to the decree-holder or any one claiming through him must also fail. But where the right of an innocent third party is injuriously affected by the conduct of the parties to the suit the sale need not fall along with the decree. For instance, where the decree-holder has parted with his interest in the property or in the greater portion of it, and thereafter he enters into a compromise with the judgment-debtor behind the back of the transferee who has come on the property in good faith, and gets the decree set aside, the right of the transferee will not be affected. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BEHARI LAL AGWAN v. SUBALA DASI. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1074.

——S. 144—Scope—C. P. Code, S. 2 (2).

There is no distinction between a decree in suit and a decree in a proceeding under S. 144. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ADWIT CHANDRA SAHA v. CHITTAGONG CO., LTD 28 C. W N. 988 : 84 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102.

——S. 144—Applicability—No property taken out of applicant's possession—Act of Court.

The appellant applied for letters of administration to the estate of one M and the respondent set up a will of the deceased. The moveable properties in dispute were at that time in the possession of the respondent. An inventory was made by the Commissioner appointed by Court and the properties were locked up in a room under seal. Letters were granted to the appellant and probate was refused to the respondent. This decision being reversed on appeal to the High Court the respondent applied for removal of the seals and for delivery of the properties to her, and the District Judge made an order accordingly. The order of the High Court granting probate was, however, reversed by His Majesty in Council. The Letters of Administration to the appellant were thereupon restored, and the appellant applied for restitution of the properties to him. Held, that the properties were never in the possession of the appellant, they were not taken out of his possession and made over to the respondent under any decree or order of Court, and therefore, S. 144 had no application. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) BAIKUNTHA NATH CHOTTORAJ v. PROSANNA MOYI DASI. 51 Cal. 324 : 81 I. C 571 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 769.

——Ss. 144 and 151—Inherent power of restitution exists—Order for repayment of money mistakenly paid out can be made.

S. 144, C.P. Code, does not define the full measure of the power of the Court to make an order for restitution. The section may be taken as a guide to determine in what class of cases an order for restitution may be made, so that complete justice may be made, between the parties concerned and they may be restored to the status qua ante. It is competent to the execution Court in the exercise of its inherent power, to make an order for restitution to prevent what would be essentially a miscarriage of justice, even in cases not comprised within the terms of S. 144 of the Code of Civil Procedure. 15 C. L. J. 187 Ref. The Court has inherent power to recall money improperly paid out. 11 C. L. J. 533 Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAI CHARAN BHUIYA v. DEBI PROSAD BHAGAT. 26 C. W. N. 408 : 64 I. C. 864 : 35 C. L. J. 53 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 28.

——S. 144—Pre-emption decree — Pre-emption money increased in appeal—Decree-holder's failure to deposit enhanced amount—He can withdraw original deposit.

A pre-emption decree was passed conditionally on payment of Rs. 7,000. The decree-holders paid the money and obtained possession of the land in execution ; but afterwards, on the appeal of the vendee the amount payable to him was enhanced by Rs. 500, which the decree-holders were directed to pay, and it was provided in the decree of the appellate Court that if the money were not paid by a certain time the suit should stand dismissed with costs. The decree-holders did not pay the additional sum of Rs. 500 and they applied to the first Court for a refund of the Rs. 7,000 which they had paid. Held, the decree-holder was entitled to refund of the deposit. (76 P. R. 1902 Dist.) (Martineau, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. HIRA NAND. 78 I. C. 971 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 177.

——S. 144—Restitution against bona fide auction-purchaser cannot be obtained.

Restitution cannot be obtained as against a bona fide auction-purchaser at an auction-sale held by a Court which has jurisdiction to hold the same. (14 Cal. 18 ; 10 All. 166 ; 38 All. 240, Ref.) (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. ASGHARI BEGUM v. IRSHAD-UD-DIN. 79 I. C. 57 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176.

——S. 144—Restitution—Powers of Court.

The power of a Court to grant restitution is not confined to cases covered by S. 144 but may be extended to other cases under S. 151 read along with S. 144. (Campbell, J.) GANGA RAM v. NATHA RAM. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 583.

——S. 144—Restitution—Execution sale—Reversal of decree—Expenses of sale—Right to refund.

In execution of a decree for money moveable and immoveable properties of defendant were attached and sold. The defendant appealed and the decree was reversed. He then applied for restitution and the properties which had been purchased by the decree-holders themselves were restored and sale proceeds of properties which had been purchased by third parties refunded. The defendant now applied for mesne profits and interest for the period during which the properties and sale proceeds remained in the possession of the plaintiffs and asked for the refund of the commission paid to the auctioneer. Held, that the defendant was entitled to restitution of mesne profits, interest and commission paid to the auctioneer. (Moti Sagar, J.) RALYA SINGH v. TUNIA MAL. 6 L. L. J. 142 : 80 I. C. 316 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 486.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

——S. 144—Limitation starts from reversal and not confirmation of the reversal.

An application under S. 144, C. P. Code, for mesne profits is not one for execution, and as soon as the decree is reversed a right to apply for mesne profits accrues. (Martineau, J.) CHANDA SINGH v. BISHEN SINGH. 5 L. L. J. 389 : 76 I C. 701 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 166

——S. 144—Non-applicability to—Acts done prior to decree.

The object of S. 144. C.P. Code. is that anything done in execution of a decree reversed on appeal, should, as far as possible, be undone : and that the party who has been finally victorious should be placed in the position which he would have occupied, if the erroneous decree had not been made. The section does not cover relief in respect of acts done before the decree and not under the decree. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) CHHABER SINGH v. RADHU RAM. 68 I. C. 307 : 4 L.L. J. 333.

——S. 144—Purchaser party to suit but getting no benefit under decree—Decree reversed on appeal—Sale should be set aside.

A bona fide purchaser, who is not a party to the suit or proceeding in which the auction sale is held-is entitled to hold the property even though the decree or order in execution of which the auction sale is held is subsequently reversed or set aside. But the protection which is given to a bona fide purchaser should not be extended to a defendant or a party to the suit even though he gets no benefit directly under the decree ; in other words, it is only a bona fide purchaser who is not a party to the suit or proceeding that is entitled to keep the property purchased by him. In all other cases the purchase is liable to be defeated on the reversal of the decree in execution of which the sale is effected. 10 All. 166 (P. C.) Rel. on.

Per Wallace, J.—This salutary principle of restitution should be enforced as the rule, and exceptions to that rule should be allowed only so far as authority by which we are bound, has allowed them. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) VAVANAN v. CHETTIAPPA CHETTI. 49 M. L. J. 452 : 48 Mad. 767 : 22 L. W. 439 : A. I. R 1926 Mad. 78.

——S. 144—Mortgage decree—Increase of mortgage money on appeal—Rights of person in possession—May be substituted for profits—Interest.

Interest at a sufficient rate may be substituted for the profits, which the person in possession under a mortgage decree which was subsequently varied enjoyed during the period between his execution of the first Court's decree and his giving notice that he had deposited the additional amount. 8 L. W. 179 Foll. In a suit for redemption of a Kanom the defendants are not entitled to recover possession from the plaintiff which he had taken in pursuance of the decree of the trial Court simply because the amount of compensation for improvements was increased on appeal. 13 L. W. 449 : 44 M. 961 Relied on. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) NEELAKANDAN NAMBUDRI v. VASUDEVAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

45 M. L. J. 323 : 18 L. W. 30 : (1923) M. W. N. 508 : 83 M.L.T. 45 (H.C.) : 73 I.C. 1041 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 87.

——Ss. 144 and 151—Execution sale—Distribution of proceeds among several decree-holders rateably—Sale subsequently set aside—No right to refund of the purchase-money.

In execution of a decree certain properties were attached, brought to sale and purchased by the appellants who were strangers to the decree. The proceeds of the sale were rateably distributed among the respondents who were creditors holding decrees against the same judgment-debtor. Subsequently certain claimants who had unsuccessfully intervened in the execution proceedings obtained a decree in a claim suit that the properties belonged to a trust and therefore not liable to sale in execution of the decree and recovered possession of the properties with mesne profits from the appellants. The appellant thereupon applied for refund of the purchaser-money which had been distributed rateably among the various decree-holders. Held, neither S. 144 nor S. 151 of the C. P. Code authorised the Court to order the refund sought by the appellants and their application was unsustainable. 24 I.C 384 dist. (Ayling, O.C.J. and Venkatasubba Rao J.) RAJA RAO v. ANANTHANARAYANAN CHETTY. 42 M.L.J. 308 : 15 L. W. 303 : (1922) M. W. N. 255 : 67 I. C. 369 : A. I. R 1922 Mad. 228.

——S. 144—Rateable distribution.

Where an order for rateable distribution was reversed on appeal no order for restitution of money distributed can be granted. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VARADA RAM SWAMI v. VENKATARATNAM. 42 M. L. J. 473 : 15 L. W. 421 : 67 I. C. 546 : (1922) M. W. N. 184 : 30 M. L. T. 178 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 99.

——S. 144—Execution sale—Subsequent reduction of decree amount—Effect of.

The sum due to a decree-holder under the decree of the first Court was Rs. 7,695. In execution of the decree, 19 items of property were sold for Rs. 10,357 in all. Five items of the property were purchased by the decree holder himself. Subsequent to the execution sale the appellate Court modified the decree by reducing the amount to Rs. 7,495. Thereupon the judgment-debtor applied for restitution by redelivery of the five items purchased by the decree-holder. It was found that the sale of every item including the last was necessary to realise the amount of the appellate decree, though if the properties had been sold in a different order and the five items had been reserved to be sold last, their sale would have been unnecessary to realise the amount of decree on appeal. Held, that there had been no case made out for restitution, as the position of the judgment-debtor as regards the sale of the five items was in no way affected by the variation in the decree. Such prejudice as the judgment debtor had suffered was due not to the variation in the decree, but to the terms in the order in execution regulating the order in which the items were to be sold. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SUNDARA RAMA REDDI v. ENUGA RAGHAVA REDDI. 42 M. L. J. 315 : (1922) M. W. N. 141 : 68 I. C. 516 : 16 L. W. 355 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 96.

——S. 144—Applicability of—Restitution—Costs of separate proceedings—Direction for re-payment.

S. 144, C. P. Code, is not confined to cases where restitution is claimed on the reversal of the decree in first or second appeal. Provided the decree is varied or reversed, the section applies, however, the reversal or variance has been effected. Where an order of abatement of the lower Court was set aside in separate proceedings the High Court and not on appeal, the lower Court has power to order restitution of costs paid to the representatives of the original plaintiff though such representative was not a party to the suit. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Venkatasubba Rao, J.) SITALAKSHMAMMAL v. KRISHNASWAMI IYER.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 144.

(1922) M. W. N. 186 : 65 I. C. 797 : 16 L. W. 587 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 70 (2).

——S. 144—"Court of first instance"—Meaning of.

The 'Court of first' instance referred to in S. 144 of the Code is the Court which passed the decree or the Court to which the proceedings are transferred, if the other Court ceases to exist. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) LAKSHMANH GOUNDEN v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR. 61 I. C. 962 : 13 L. W. 67.

——S. 144—'Decree' includes 'order'.

The word "decree" in S. 144 covers an "order" and the word "Court" in the said section includes Courts of every grade. (40 Mad. 299 ; 43 Mad. 235 : 1922 P. C. 269, Foll.) (Prideaux and Kinkhede, A. J. Cs.) RAMJI v. ZIBLAJI. 20 N. L. R. 93 : 7 N. L. J. 130 : 80 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 258 :

——S. 144—Order of remand—Order for mesne profits is not a consequential one.

An order placing a party in possession may be properly consequential on an order of remand. But an order awarding mesne profits is not a proper consequence of an order of remand if the question, whether the party who has been in possession under the decree which the order of remand has reversed was rightly in possession or was a trespasser is still sub-judice. An application for mesne profits would then be premature the limitation for mesne profits will start only when the possession is decided to be wrongful. (Macnair, A. J. C.) SONBA v. PARASHARAM.
18 N. L. R. 200 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 101 (1).

——S. 144—Scope.

Suit for restitution can be converted into an application. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) JAMAN LAL v. RAGHO.
67 I. C. 319 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 198.

——Ss. 144 and 151—Inherent power—If restitution exists.

Where a judgment-debtor is dispossessed under wrong order of Court subsequently set aside, it is the duty of Court to restore him to possession. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) SHRIKISAN v. SUNDARBAI.
64 I. C. 732 : 18 N, L. R. 24 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 82.

——S. 144—Application for compensation under S. 144 by judgment-debtor was dismissed, held that the question relates to execution, discharge or satisfaction of decree, and so the Court fee payable on memorandum of first appeal is 8 annas. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) GABBA v. KANKHEDILAL. 18 N. L. R. 15: 67 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 62.

——S. 144—Application for restitution under the section, whether an application for execution of the decree.

An application under S. 144 of the Code of Civil Procedure is an application for execution of a decree passed in an appeal when that decree varies or reverses the decree of the Court of first instance, it being in substance an application made for seeking the aid of the Court in working out the final decree. (Hasan and Raza, JJ.) SANT SAHI v. CHHUTAI, KURMI. 3 O. W. N. 65.

——S. 144—Execution under mistake—Court can set right the wrong.

The plaintiff decree-holder not having complied with the decree under which he was to make a deposit within a fortnight and the Court under the misapprehension that he had made the deposit granted him relief to which he was not entitled. Held it is fully within the Court's power to put right the wrong which had been done. S. 144 does not apply to a case where the original decree holds good ; but what was reversed here is an order, not the decree granting the plaintiff decree-holder execution under the erroneous impression that he had fulfilled the terms of the decree. (Daniels, J. C.) DORI LAL v. MT. JAMAGA.
72 I. C. 879 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 16.

——S. 144 Application under Is governed by Limitation Act, Art. 181.

Das and K. Sahay, JJ.—An application for restitution is governed by Art. 181 and not Art. 182.

Per Ross, J—There is no reason in principle why an application for restitution should not be treated as an application for execution, and therefore such an application is governed by Art. 182. 24 C. L. J. 467 (1916) 28 Cal. 113; [1900] 16 I. C. 238 ; [1912] 11 C. L. J. 541; [1910], Foll. (Das, Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BALMUKUND MARWADI v. BASANT KUMARI DASI. 3 Pat. 371 : 5 P. L. T 145 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 33 : 78 I. C 200 : A. I. R. 1925 P. 1 (F. B.).

——S. 144—Restitution resembles execution only superficially—Limitation Act, Art. 182.

Das, J.—Execution presupposes a decree or order capable of being carried into effect ; restitution presupposes an act of the Court, which has done an injury to the suitors. Execution will issue as of course ; but in cases not comprehended strictly within the letter of S. 144 of the Code, restitution is not a matter of course but depends upon the discretion of the Court, and will be ordered only when the justice of the case calls for it. The jurisdiction as to restitution bears only a superficial resemblance to the jurisdiction as to execution. The jurisdiction to order restitution is inherent in the Court and that it flows, not from any power which it may have to carry into effect the decree or order of the Court, but from the recognition of the duty which it owes to the suitors to take care that no injury is done to them by its acts. (Das, Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BALMUKUND MARWADI v. BESANT KUMARI DASI. 3 Pat. 371 : 5 P. L. T. 145 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 33 : 78 I. C. 200 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 1 (F. B.).

——Ss. 144 and 151—Powers of Court to order restitution—If confined to S. 144—Inherent power to do justice.

A Court interpreting a decree in a certain way gave possession of the property to the decree-holder. Subsequently a higher Court held the interpretation to be erroneous. Held, though the decree is not reversed the Court can order restitution in the interests of justice by virtue of its inherent powers, as its power to do so is not confined to cases falling under S. 144. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KAMLANATH JHA v. UDIT NARAIN JHA. 5 Pat. L. T. 553 : 78 I. C. 310 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 800.

——S. 144—Application for restitution—Limitation—Art. 182 applicable.

An application for restoration under S. 144 of the C. P. Code is therefore governed by Art. 182 of schedule I. to the Limitation Act. (Miller, J.) BALSANT KUMARI DASI v. BALMUKUND MARWARI.
1 P. L. R. 338 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 1 : 2 P. 277 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 371.

——S. 144—Execution sale cancelled—Proceedings under S 144 are not open to the auction purchaser.

Where a decree was reversed on appeal and an auction-sale which had taken place in execution of the decree was cancelled and the order cancelling the sale was allowed by the auction purchaser to become final. Held : that the remedy of the auction-purchaser was not by proceedings under S. 144. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) MA TOK v. MAUNG MO HNAUNG.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) S. 144.

4 Bur. L. J. 58 : 3 Rang. 251 : A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 215.

——S. 144—Money lying in Court and none deriving benefit from it—No interest is payable.

Where an auction-purchaser chose to leave the purchase money in Court on the chance that if the decree which was appealed against was confirmed, he would be able to get the property purchased by him and the money was lying in Court all the time and no one had the benefit of it. Held : that when the decree had been reversed and the sale cancelled, the auction purchaser could not claim interest. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) MA TOK v. MAUNG MO HNAUNG.
3 Rang. 251 : 4 Bur. L. J. 58: A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 215.

——S. 144—Restitution as against auction-purchaser—Sale not bona fide.

While as against a decree-holder who is himself the auction-purchaser a sale can be set aside and restitution made, an innocent purchaser through Court cannot ordinarily be so disturbed. But where a stranger purchaser declined to join as defendant in a suit against decree holder to set aside the sale though expressly invited and was therefore absent in the suit by the appellant. Held, that he was a representative of decree-holder to that extent that he had notice of the claim and therefore restitution should be granted even as against him. 29 Bom. 435 (F. B.), Dist. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) JAMNOMAL GURDINOMAL v. GOPAL DAS. 17 S. L. R. 73 : 80 I. C. 1002: A. I. R. 1924 Sind 101.

——S. 145—Court cannot call on Supurtdar to produce property in a different suit

A Court cannot call on supurtdar to produce property in a suit in which he was not appointed supurtdar. (Daniels, J.) CHHUTTAN v. JWALA PRASAD.
73 I. C. 602 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 64.

——S. 145—Surety for production of judgment-debtor—Imprisonment of judgment-debtor—Failure to produce—Surety is liable.

Where a surety for production of a judgment-debtor, failed to produce him, owing to the imprisonment of the latter in a criminal case, and the surety knew of the pending criminal case against the judgment-debtor, held that the surety could not be discharged from the obligations under the surety bond. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAMESWAR DAS v. SRI LAL. 19 A. L. J. 968 : 44 A. 174 : 65 I. C. 375 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 390.

——S. 145—Discretion to refuse execution.

The Court has a discretion to refuse execution against the surety. (Macleod, C.J.) ABDUL HUSSEIN v. MISTRY & CO. 23 Bom. L. R. 1263 : 64 I. C. 648 : 46 Bom. 702 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 340.

——S. 145—Forfeiture of security to be applied in satisfaction of the decree.

Where the security offered by a surety for the judgment-debtor, for his appearance or for filing an insolvency petition, is forfeited owing to failure of the surety to produce the judgment-debtor, the sum so forfeited will be applied in satisfaction of the decree. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH GHOSH v. KESHAB LAL GHOSH. 59 I. C. 778 : 25 C. W. N. 36.

——S. 145—Obiter—Surety is party within S. 47 and can raise a plea of fraud in executing Court—C. P. Code, S. 47.

A surety by virtue of S. 145 is a party within the meaning of S. 47 and a plea of fraud can be raised before the execution Court by him. (Zafar Ali, J.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 145.

KANSHI RAM v. FIRM PRABH DIAL.
7 Lah. L. J. 457 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 618.

——S. 145—Surety is discharged if Decree-holder executes deeree contrary to his agreement.

Where the consideration for the surety's promise is the forbearance to sue or to continue legal proceedings against the principal debtor all stipulations on the subject which constitute part of such consideration must be strictly complied with or the surety will not be bound, and total failure of the consideration for the surety's promise of guarantee will discharge him. (Martineau, J.) GURANDITTA v. FIRM GURDASMAL
7 Lah. L. J. 343 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 552.

——S. 145—Surety becomes party only on application against him.

Until an application is made for execution against the surety he does not become a party to the execution proceedings. (Martineau, J.) GURANDITTA v FIRM GURDASMAL. 7 Lah. L.J. 343 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 552.

——S. 145—Sapurd dar not producing moveable property attached and made over to him—Executing Court can attach his property.

Certain articles belonging to a judgment-debtor were attached and made over to the Sapurtdar on his giving the undertaking in writing that he would produce the articles when required to do so by the Executing Court or would pay the value thereof. He failed to produce some of those articles. Held: that the Executing Court could order the attachment of his property to recover the value thereof. 16 N. L. R. 178 Diss; 39 M. L. J. 472, Dist. (Zafar Ali, J.) NAZIR AHMAD v. BAKHSHI RAM. 86 I. C. 173 ; A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 412.

——S. 145—Surety undertaking to pay decree amount if judgment-debtor fails to apply for insolvency within certain time or if surety fails to produce judgment debtors in Court when ordered to do so—Judgment-debtor applying for insolvency within time alone, will not release surety who must also produce judgment-debtor in Court, but decree cannot be executed against him unless he was first ordered to produce judgment-debtor in Court and made default.

The surety for a judgment-debtor who was arrested in execution of a decree and brought before the Court and released on giving security, took upon himself the burden of paying the decretal amount if the judgment-debtor did not make an application for insolvency within one month or if the surety failed to produce him in Court when required to do so. Held that the mere fact that the judgment-debtor filed an application for insolvency within time did not release the surety from liability but that he was also bound to produce the judgment-debtor in Court when required to do so. Held further that the surety must be ordered to produce the judgment debtor in Court first, and only on his default, he would become liable under the bond and the decree could be ordered to be executed against him. (Moti Sagar, J.) DHARAM SINGH v. NAND SINGH. 78 I. C. 447 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 170.

——Ss. 145, 55 (4) and O.21, R. 40—Surety for judgment-debtor — Insolvency — Non-appearance of judgment-debtor—Liability of surety.

When a Judgment-debtor was arrested in execution of his decree the respondent stood surety for him and executed a bond undertaking liability for the decretal amount in case the judgment-debtor failed to appear in Court on any hearing till the final decision of the Case. On the date of the hearing the judgment-debtor appeared and expressed his intention of applying to be declared an insolvent. The hearing was adjourned and no fresh security was taken, nor was the surety released. The Judgment-debtor failed to appear on the adjourned hearing and the decree-holder applied to realise the decree amount by attachment of the sureties' properties. Held, that the surety was liable in execution under S. 145, C. P. C. and that his properties could be attached and sold for the decree-debt. (Moti Sagar, J.) FIRM OF SHIV DAYAL RAM DITTA MAL v. MAHOMED KHAN. 6 Lah. L. J. 200 : 80 I. C. 700 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 490.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 145.

——Ss. 145 and O. 21, R. 40—Judgment-debtor released on giving surety for appearance—Failure to produce debtor—Effect.

Where sureties agreed to produce the judgment debter but did not produce, without further notice they can be made liable on their bonds for their failure. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) NAGIER v. KRISHNAN CHETTIAR. (1923) M. W. N. 770 : 75 I. C. 830 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 241.

——S. 145—Principal and surety--Debt extinguished by merger—Surety not liable

The liability of a surety for a debt ceases to exist when his principal's debt is extinguished by an act which causes the merger of the estate of the debtor and the creditor.

The plaintiffs obtained a decree for mesne profits against a person and the defendant stood surety for him under an order for stay of execution pending a Second Appeal against the decree. The judgment-debtor died and his estate became vested in the plaintiffs. On an application by plaintiffs to recover the amount from the surety, held, under the circumstances the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover. It does not make any difference that the surety bond in the case was executed to the Court under S. 145 of the Civil Procedure Code as the Court holds the security only for the benefit of the decree-holder. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) JEKKANNU SAMI AIYAR v. RAMSWAMI CHETTIAR. 44 M. L. J. 171 : 17 L. W. 473 : 72 I. C. 194 : (1923) M. W. N. 253 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 340.

——S. 145—Decree should not be executed against surety where he has substantially complied with his liability though he has produced the judgment-debtor somewhat late.

Where sureties have substantially complied with their liabilities and have, though somewhat late, produced the judgment-debtor, the extreme step of executing the decree against their property must not be taken. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) TAN KIN SHAM v. V. CHI SI. 2 Rang 567 : 84 I. C 998 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 135 (2).

——S. 145—Previous notice to surety is essential before attachment of his property.

Attachment on the property of a judgment-debtor's surety without previous notice to the surety calling upon him to show cause is ultra vires. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) TAN KIN SHAN v. V. CHI SI. 2 Rang 567: 84 I.C. 998: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 135 (2).

——S. 145—Surety for production of the judgment-debtor—Affidavit of illness—False—Subsequent production of judgment-debtor.

A surety for the production of the judgment-debtor obtained more time from the Court on the allegation made in his affidavit that the judgment-debtor was laid up with fever. The court adjourned the case to another date when the judgment-debtor duly appeared. The decree-holder filed an affidavit challenging the correctness of the affidavit filed by the surety with regard to the judgment-debtor's illness on the former occasion. Held, that the terms of the surety bond had been complied with and if the surety's affidavit was false that may be a ground for separate proceedings against the surety. (Young, J.) MA TA DIN v. U. K. SHIVALKAR. 3 Bur. L. J. 99: A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 347.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 146.

——S. 145—Surety's inability owing to judgment-debtor being in jail—Surety not liable.

Where the judgment-debtor is convicted and is in jail and hence cannot be produced as agreed in the surety bond the sureties cannot be directed to pay the agreed amount. 21 Mad. 637; 41 Cal. 50, Foll ; 3 Bur. L. T. 141, Diss. (Mac Coll, A. J. C.) MAUNG KYWE AND ANOTHER v. MAUNG SAN TIN. 1 Bur. L. J. 236: 70 I. C. 870: 4 U. B. R. 99: A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 26.

——S. 145—Surety for Receiver—Liability.

Under S. 145 of the Code, a surety for a Receiver can be asked to pay the sum which he has bound himself to pay. (Twomey, C. J. and Robinson, J.) MAUNG PO THEIN v. MA WAING. 10 L. B. R. 236 : 59 I. C. 844 : 13 Bur. L. T. 91.

——S. 145—Procedure—If applicable to surety under Guardians and Wards Act—Remedy.

The procedure laid down under S. 145, C.P. Code, is not applicable to the case of a surety under the Guardians and Wards Act. The only remedy against him is by way of suit under S. 35 of the G and W Act. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) KHUSHIRAM TEJBHANDAS v. JHALIBAI. 89 I. C. 342.

——S. 145—Surety under adjustment.

A surety under an adjustment of an application for execution of award filed previously in Court can be proceeded against in execution under S. 145. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) RAMSINGH JETHSINGH v. REWACHAND KEWALRAM. 17 S. L. R. 257: 83 I. C. 870 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 25.

——S. 146—Claiming under—Meaning of transferee of property covered by decree—If can execute.

The words "claiming under" in S. 146 are wide enough to cover even cases of devolution mentioned in O. 22, R. 10. A transferee of property covered in a decree can execute the decree though the decree itself is not transferred to him. (Oldfield and Devadass, JJ.) MANNEM SESHADRI REDDI v. PUTTA VENKATA REDDY. 19 L W. 610: 76 I. C. 809: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 709.

——S. 146 and O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Private purchaser after Court-auction—Dismissal of application by Judgment-debtor—Appeal, if can be continued by private purchaser.

A private purchaser of properties after a Court sale cannot apply under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code to set aside the execution sale. 44 M. 554 F. B., Ref. Where the judgment-debtor had appealed against an order under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code refusing to set aside the execution sale and he withdrew his appeal, it is not open to the private purchaser to apply to continue the appeal in the place of judgment-debtor. 41 M. 510, Ref. (Phillips, J.) VENKATESA AIYAR v. VENKATRAMA AIYAR. (1924) M. W. N. 62: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 470.

——Ss. 146 and 50 and O. 9, R. 13—Legal representative not actually brought on record can apply under O. 9, R. 13.

An application under O. 9, R. 13 is not exempted from the general provision relating to procedure contained in S. 146. A legal representative can therefore file an application to set aside an ex parte decree before he is actually brought on the record. (Dalal, J. C.) MT. DEOKI v. JUGAL KISHORE. 27 O. C. 299 : 85 I. C. 529: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 370.

——S. 146—Time fixed by compromise decree—Court cannot extend.

Where a compromise decree fixes the time for the doing of an act and does not provide that the act is to be done with the assistance of the Court, the Court cannot extend the time on any ground, legal or equitable. (Daniels, J. C.) ILAHI RAZAKHAN v. MT. TAIBA BEGAM. 66 I. C. 273 (1) : 9 O. L. J. 53: A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 145 (1.)

——S. 146—Transferee of decree—Right to apply for execution—Recognition by Court—Is necessary.

Transfer of property during pendency of a suit will not entitle the purchaser to apply for the execution of the decree unless he has taken steps to have his name substituted in the suit in the place of his vendor (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) THAKURI GOPE v. MALIC MOTHLAYAR. 1922 P. H. C. C. 256 : 69 I. C. 959 : 3 Pat. L. T. 625 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 563.

——S. 148—Mortgage decree—Preliminary decree for foreclosure—Extension of time.

It is open to the Court under S. 148, C. P. Code to extend the time fixed for payment by a preliminary decree for foreclosure in a mortgage suit. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) BALGOBIND v. SHEOKUMAR. L. R. 5 A. 545 : 22 A. L. J. 791: 82 I. C. 184: 46 All. 864: A. I. R. 1924 All. 818 (2).

——S. 148—Time fixed by decree for payment of Court-fee cannot be extended.

Where time has been fixed by a decree of Court for payment of Court-fee, the Court has no jurisdiction to amend the decree so as to enlarge the time for payment. S. 148, C. P. Code is inapplicable to cases where time has been fixed by a decree of Court. 35 A. 582: 40 A. 579; 39 M. 876, Ref. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) NAWAB KHAZEH HABIBULLA v. GOLA ASMOTER KHATUN. 37 C. L. J. 395: 27 C. W. N. 720: 74 I C. 575: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 612.

——Ss. 148 and 149—Extension of time—Rejection of plaint—Restoration.

Once an order rejecting a plaint is set aside in review the Court has full power, under Ss 142 and 148 of the C. P. Code, to extend the time for payment of the deficit Court-fee and the plaint having been originally filed within the period of limitation the suit was not barred. (Newbould, J.) SURENDRA PRASAD LAHIRI v. ATTABUDDIN AHMED. 26 C. W. N. 391 : 69 I. C. 43: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 234.

——S. 148—Time fixed by decree of first Court—Confirmation on appeal—Time runs from date of Appellate decree.

When time is fixed by the lower Court for payment of money and the decree of that Court is confirmed on appeal, the time for payment runs from the date of the decree of the Appellate Court, although the latter decree does not expressly provide the time for payment and it should be calculated from the date of the appellate decree. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA SHASHIKANTA v. RAJA SARAT CHANDRA. 70 I. C. 6: 34 C. L. J. 415.

——S. 148—No applicability to—Pre-emption suit.

S. 148, C. P. Code, does not apply to pre-emption suits. (Broadway, J.) KHAN MUHAMMAD v. AHMAN. 73 I. C. 891 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 359.

——S. 148—Setting aside ex parte decree—Extension of time to pay money can be given.

Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree has been allowed conditionally on payment of a sum of money by a certain date, the Court has power to extend the time. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM GOBIND SAHAI RUP LAL v. GURDAS MAL. 73 I. C. 648 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 222

——Ss. 148 and 149—Conditional decree—Time fixed by, cannot be extended.

When the Court has made a decree in plaintiff's favour conditional on his paying an extra Court-fee within a specific period and had decreed that if this extra Court-fee was not paid the suit was to stand dismissed. Held, that once the term of deposit had been embodied in the decree the Court itself, even if it desired, had no jurisdiction to alter its own direction save on an application for review of judgment. (Scott-Smith, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. RAM LABBAYA. 73 I. C. 922 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 372.

——S. 148—Pre-emption decree—Section not applicable—Order extending time is open to revision.

It is not competent to a Court to extend the time fixed in pre-emption decree for payment of purchase money. 35 A. 582 Followed. An order of the Court extending the time under S. 148, C. P. Code, is not a decree and is not appealable as such But the party aggrieved by the order can apply in revision. (Scott-Smith, J.) LABH SINGH v. GANPAT. 71 I. C. 35 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 162.

——S. 148—Extension of time for paying additional Court-fee after return of plaint is ordered, is without jurisdiction.

After the Court has ordered a return of plaint for presentation to proper Court on payment of additional Court fee, it cannot review its order and extend time previously fixed for payment of Court-fee. (Odgers, J.) K. RAMACHANDRAYYA v. V. VENKATRATNAM. 22 L. W. 582 : (1925) M. W. N. 804 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 133 (2).

——S. 148—Court can extend time for payment of money antecedent to the passing of decree under the section.

S. 148 applies to proceedings antecedent to the passing of a decree. Where the Appellate Court passed an order for restoration of a suit which was dismissed for default by the Trial Court, on the plaintiffs paying a sum of money within a time fixed by it and where the Trial Court refused to accept the sum a day later on the ground that the money was paid after the time fixed for payment. Held, that the Court has jurisdiction under S. 148 to extend time for payment in such cases. (Case-law discussed.) (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BULAKI CHAND v. AMIR ALI. 21 N. L. R. 111 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 44.

——S. 148—Mortgagee applying for final decree for foreclosure knowing mortgagor's attempt to raise decretal money—Time should be extended.

Where after an ex parte preliminary decree for foreclosure was passed and the mortgagor in pursuance thereof attempted to raise money to pay off the sum but mortgagee applied for final decree immediately he was so entitled.

Held, that extension should be granted to mortgagor to make the payment. (Hallifax and Kotval, A.J.Cs.) AMAN SINGH v. KUNJ BEHARI LAL. 8 N. L. J. 6 : 86 I. C. 397 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 258.

——Ss. 148 and 151—Pre-emption decree—Court cannot extend time fixed by.

S. 148, C. P. Code, does not enable a Court to extend time for doing acts allowed by a decree, (e.g.,) the time allowed by a pre-emption decree, for payment of the sale price. 35 A. 582: 39 M. 876: 40 A. 579 Rel. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) AMBADAS v. LAXMAN. 19 N. L. R. 8 : 71 I. C. 401 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 210.

——S. 148—Time fixed by decree—Court if can extend.

Where a decree fixes a certain time for payment of money the Court has no jurisdiction to extend the time under S. 148, C. P. Code, as otherwise it would have the effect of altering the terms of a decree which has become final between the parties. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) TRIBHUWAN DIT SINGH v. SURAJ BALI. 11 O. L. J. 119 : 78 I. C. 387 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 650 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 330.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 148.

——Ss. 148 and 115—Extension of time fixed by decree—Revision.

An order dismissing an application for extension of time fixed by a decree is open to revision. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) TRIBHUWAN DUT SINGH v. SURAJ BALI. 11 O. L. J. 119 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 650 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 330.

——S. 148—Applies only to proceedings prior to decree.

The general provisions of S. 148, C. P. Code, relate only to proceedings antecedent to the passing of a decree. After a final decree is passed, the time for payment of money cannot be extended under S. 148. (Dalal, A. J. C.) GANGA RATAN v. CHANDIKA PRASAD. 74 I. C. 573 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 319 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 179.

——S.148—Power of Court to extend time—Time fixed by decree.

The Court has no power to extend the time allowed by a decree for the payment of money under S. 148, C. P. Code. If the decree provides for the payment of a certain sum of money on or before a certain date and specifies the penalty which will attach to non-payment, the enforcement of the penalty cannot be delayed or dispensed with by any order or direction issued in derogation of the decree. In other words, if it provides that the right of the decree-holder to obtain possession shall be extinguished, in case a certain condition is not carried out within a certain period that right becomes extinct on the failure to comply with that condition and cannot be revived by any subsequent act of the Court or party at fault. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) BADAL v. CHHATTAR SINGH. 25 O. C. 74 : 66 I. C. 205 : A. I. R 1922 Oudh 131.

——S. 148—Date of payment of decretal amount fixed by consent of parties—Sale to be cancelled on payment of money agreed—Time is essence of the compromise and cannot be extended by the Court—Contract Act, S. 55.

Time is the essence of the agreement, when, in the course of proceedings by the judgment-debtor to set aside an execution sale, a compromise is made between the decree-holder and judgment-debtor that on payment of the judgment debt within a prescribed period, the sale shall stand cancelled, while upon failure to make such payment the sale shall stand confirmed. In such a case the Court has no power to extend the time fixed for payment. 33 C. L. J. 244, Foll. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) HANSRAJ SANGECHI v. JOGESHAR PRASAD. 6 P. L. T. 511 : 88 I. C. 1020 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 691.

——S. 148—Accepting deficit Court-fee after time fixed is equal to extending time—C. P. Code, S. 149.

Where a Court accepts deficit Court fee after the time fixed for its payment and the plaint is registered, it may be inferred that the Court condones the delay and grants extension, as it has discretion to do under S. 148 or S. 149 of the C. P. Code, for, if it wanted, the Court might have rejected the plaint under O. 7. R. 11. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAGHUNANDAN SAHAY v. RAM SUNDAR PRASAD. 1924 P. H. C. C. 355 : 4 P. 190 : 6 P. L. T. 4 : 3 Pat. L. R. 22 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 299.

——S. 148—Scope.

S. 148 only applies to cases of acts done by a party under the provisions of the Code itself. (Das, J.) SHEIKH HAMIDUR RAHIMAN v. SHAHANAND DAS. 80 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 153.

——S. 148—Time fixed for payment of costs on payment of which appeal was accepted cannot be extended—C. P. Code, S. 151.

Where the appellant failed to pay the costs on payment of which only appeal was to be accepted, the Court has no power to extend the time limited in the order for payment of the money either under S. 148 or 115. (Das, J.) SHEIKH HAMIDUR RAHIMAN v. SHAHANAND DAS. 80 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 153.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 149.

——S. 148—Extension of time given for payment of Court-fee—Expiry of time during vacation—Payment on re-opening day.

Under an order of the Appellate Court an appellant was ordered to deposit the proper Court-fee payable on his memorandum of appeal within one month and, on default, the appeal was to stand dismissed. The month's time expired during the vacation and, on the reopening day, the appellant could not get stamp for required value from the stamp vendor. So on the next day the appellant furnished the required stamp. Held, that there was no laches or negligence on the part of the appellant, that the time fixed for payment of the Court-fee should be extended till the date when it was furnished and that there was sufficient cause for reinstating the appeal (Miller, C.J, and Bucknill, J.) AMIR MANDAL v. MOHAN CHANDRA MANDAL. 3 Pat. 337 : 80 I. C. 1030 · A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 663.

——S. 149—Deficiency of Court-fee—Extension of time—Effect of, on limitation.

Under O. 7, R. 11 (c) and S. 149 the Court has power to extend time to pay the deficient Court-fee If the deficiency is made good within the time allowed the suit is not barred though limitation expired in the meantime. (Ryves, J.) RAM DIAL v. SHER SINGH. L. R. 4 A. 251 : 45 A. 518 : 21 A. L. J 387 : 74 I. C. 358 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 538 (1).

——S. 149—Insufficient stamp—Rejection of appeal—Reasons to be stated

S. 149 of the C. P. Code gives a Court discretion to extend the time for payment of Court-fees on an insufficiently stamped memorandum of appeal and where the Lower Court rejected an appeal simply on the ground that the requisite Court-fee has not been paid without calling upon the appellant to supply the deficiency or exercising any discretion in the matter, held, that its decision was unsustainable. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) JAI SINGH GIR v. SITARAM SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 333 : L. R. 4 A. 188 : 74 I.C. 757 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 349 (1).

——S. 149—Deficient Court-fee made up after limitation—Deficiency caused unintentionally—Limitation bar excused.

Where an appeal when filed was insufficiently stamped and the deficiency was made good after the expiry of the period of limitation but the omission to pay the proper Court-fee in the first instance was unintentional and a bona fide mistake :

Held, that the appeal should not be dismissed merely for such an omission. (Martineau, J.) MIHAN MAL v. INDAR SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 506 : 84 I. C. 946 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 246.

——S. 149—Deliberate under-payment—No extension to be given.

Where the omission to pay proper Court-fee was due not to a bona fide mistake but was deliberate time should not be granted under S. 149, C. P. Code, to make up the deficiency. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) MUHAMMAD MAJID ULLAH KHAN v. MUHAMMAD HAMID ULLAH KHAN. 69 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah 325.

——S. 149—Bona fide mistake in not paying full Court-fees—Deficiency made good after limitation.

Where full Court-fee is not paid in the first instance through bona fide mistake, but the deficiency is made good afterwards, the appellant is entitled to the benefit of S. 149 and accordingly Court can extend the time. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) MOTI RAM v. BHANU RAM. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 629.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 149.

——S. 149—Deliberate under-payment—No extension to be given.

Where there is no bona fide mistake in the payment of a smaller Court-fee and the omission is deliberate, a Court should not extend time to pay up the deficiency. (Campbell, J.) RAMJI LAL v. SHIBBA.
75 I. C. 667 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 309.

——S. 149—Under-valuation deliberately made—Extension of time not to be given.

Where an appellant deliberately omits to pay the necessary Court fee and grossly undervalues his claim he is not entitled to any indulgence under S. 149, C. P. Code. 49 I. C. 871 ; 3 P. L. J. 74; 44 I. C. 398 ; 1 Lah. 234 Rel. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) TIKKAN RAM v. BOSA RAM. 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 77 : 67 I. C. 106 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 440.

——S. 149—Pauper appeal—Court-fee.

Under S. 149, on the payment of Court-fee within time allowed, the memorandum of appeal has the same force and effect as if the Court-fee had been paid in the first instance. The respondent is not entitled to challenge its validity on the ground of limitation. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) DIYAL DAS v. SUNDAR DAS. 3 Lah. 35 : 65 I. C. 741 : 26 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 225.

——S. 149—Extension of time—Grounds.

When the insufficiently stamped memo. of appeal is refiled, extension should not be allowed as ignorance of law or poverty is not an adequate legal ground for extension. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) SHAHU v. BAKRI. 67 I. C. 901 : 3 L. L. J. 237.

——S. 149—Extension of time to pay proper Court-fee.

An extension of time will not be allowed for payment of Court-fee for an appeal which has been insufficiently stamped in the absence of satisfactory explanation of the mistake, if any (Scott-Smith and Jones, JJ.) FATTEH SINGH v. BABU RAO.
67 I. C. 130 (1) : 3 L. L. J. 156.

——S. 149—Appeal filed on insufficiently stamped memo.—Deficiency made up after limitation—Extension of time.

Where the deficiency in stamp for a memorandum of appeal is pointed out to the appellant but is nevertheless not made up till long after the appeal is barred by time he is not entitled to the benefit of S. 149, C. P. Code. (Scott-Smith, J.) WADHAWA SINGH v. SUNDAR SINGH. 59 I. C. 689 : 21 P. W. R. 1921.

——Ss. 149 and 151—Time fixed by decree—No extension to be given.

Defts. judgment-debtors failed to comply with their contract and plaintiff decree-holder got a decree for specific performance on condition of deposit within a certain period. He made the payment 4 days after, but before the expiry of the period allowed, he applied for correction of the decree by the insertion of certain directions as to what was to happen in the event of his making the deposit. The Court on 20th March allowed the amendment, but in the same order stated that plaintiff decree-holder had failed to make the deposit and was not entitled to any extension of time. Two months before this order, the plaintiff decree-holder had applied for execution and was given possession of the property, the failure to make deposit not having been brought to the notice of the Court. The judgment-debtor in connection with proceedings which culminated in the order of 20th March, applied to be restored to possession and her application was granted. Held, in revision, where a definite time is fixed by the decree, the Court has no power to extend it, but in any case no extension having been granted, plaintiff-decree-holder was not entitled to any relief. (Daniels, J. C.) DORI LAL v. MT. JAMAGA.
72 I. C. 879 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 150.

——S. 149 and O. 7, R. 11—Deficiency of Court-fee—Subsequent payment—Effect—Difference between suit and appeal.

Where a plaint is filed in time but with an insufficient Court-fee, and the deficiency is made good under O. 7, R. 11, no question of limitation arises. The law is otherwise as regards memoranda of appeal. 3 Pat. L. J. 74 Ref. to. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) DEONATH SAHAI v. RADHA KANT PRASAD. 3 Pat. L. T. 142 : 70 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 56 (1).

——S. 149—Discretion—Reasons for not filing the entire Court-fee must be considered before granting extension.

To avail of the terms of S. 149, the permission to deposit deficit Court-fee must be given after considering the circumstances and reasons for not filing the entire Court-fee in the first instance. (Jwala Prasad, J.) FORZAND ALI v. ABDOOD HAMID. 60 I. C. 493.

——S. 149—Application to sue in forma pauperis withdrawn—Court-fee paid beyond limitation—Suit barred.

Where the plaintiff applied for permission to sue in forma pauperis but withdrew his application on the ground that in another Court his application to sue in forma pauperis with respect to a previous suit had been rejected and paid the requisite Court-fees beyond the period of limitation, Held, his suit was barred and it was not a fit case for the Court to exercise discretion under S. 149. (Young, J.) SOOK LAL v. DAL CHAND. 1 Rang. 196 : 74 I. C. 835 : A. I R. 1923 Rang. 256.

——S. 149, O. 7, R. 11—Plaint not sufficiently stamped—Time for paying Court-fee—Payment after limitation—Power of Court.

Where a plaint is presented on insufficiently stamped paper, the Court has discretion under S. 149 and O. 7, R. 11 to give the plaintiff time to make up the deficiency and if the deficiency is made up within the time granted, though after the expiry of the period of limitation, the suit is not barred. The exercise of the discretion cannot be challenged in revision. (Wadegoankar, A. J. C.) MAHOMED GALIF v. ABDUR RAHIM. 89 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 156.

——S. 150—'Transfer of business'—Assignment of business within local limits of one subordinate Court to another by the Dt. Judge is not transfer of business—Bengal, Assam and N. W. P. Civil Courts Act, S. 13 (2).

A decree was passed by the third Subordinate Judge's Court in respect of a claim, the cause of action whereof arose within certain local limits Subsequently the business arising within these limits was assigned to the fourth Subordinate Judge's Court by the District Judge under Ss. 13 (2) of the Bengal and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887). Held, that the fourth Subordinate Judge's Court could not entertain an application to execute the decree. An "assignment" of business under S. 13 (2) of Act XII of 1887 is not the same thing as "transfer" of business within the meaning of S. 150 of the Civil Procedure Code. (Chatterjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MD. KAZEM ALI v. NIAMUDDIN AHMED. 26 C. W. N. 216 : 70 I. C. 210 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 41.

——S. 150 and O. 39, R. 2 (3)—Injunction—Disobedience—Transfer of venue—Application for contempt.

The Court of M. passed an injunction order under

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 150.

O. 39, R. 1, C. P. Code. Subsequently the local jurisdiction as well as the suit in which the injunction was ordered, were both transferred to the Court of D. Thereupon the applicant applied to the Court of D for punishing the opposite party for contempt for disobeying the injunction. Held, that the Court of D had jurisdiction to entertain the application for punishment for alleged contempt. 26 C. W. N. 216 Diss. 39 M. 907, Foll. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MOUNA GURUSAMY NAICKER v. SHEIKH MAHOMEDHU ROWTHER. 43 M. L. J. 713 : (1922) M. W. N. 743 : 16 L. W. 748 : 46 M. 83 : 86 I. C. 650 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 92.

———S. 150 and O. 6, R. 13—Transfer of jurisdiction—Application to set aside ex parte decree.

Subsequent to the passing of an ex parte decree by the District Munsiff's Court, Penukonda, the properties which were the subject-matter of the suit were under a territorial re-distribution of jurisdiction transferred to the jurisdiction of the District Munsiff's Court of Anantapore. On an application made thereafter in the District Munsiff's Court of Anantapore to set aside the ex parte decree, held, that Court had jurisdiction to set aside the decree under O. 9, R. 13 read with S. 150 of the C. P. Code. The wording of O. 9, R. 13 which declares that an application to set aside an ex parte decree may be made to the Court which passed the decree, does not take away the power of a Court that has territorial jurisdiction over the subject-matter of a suit to set aside an ex parte decree passed by another Court that originally tried the suit.

Per Krishnan, J.—S. 150 of the C. P. Code applies not merely to cases where the whole of a business of a Court with reference to the whole of its jurisdiction is transferrred to another Court but also to cases of the partial territorial adjustment of jurisdiction and the transfer of the business with reference to that part alone to another Court. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) SRINIVASA RAO v. HANUMANTHA RAO. 42 M. L. J. 344 : 65 I. C 727 : 46 M. 1 : 15 L. W. 458 : (1922) M. W. N. 349 : 31 M. L. T. 79 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 10.

———S. 151.

Amendment.
Appellate Court's Power—See C. P. CODE, S. 107.
Applicability.
Consolidation.
Conversion.
Correctness of Proceedings.
Costs.
Dismissal for default.
Ends of justice.
Enforcement of order.
Error of law.
Execution.
Ex-parte decree and order.
Expunging from record.
Extension of time.
Fraud.
Injunction.
Invention of procedure.
Jurisdiction.
Limits of.
Mistake
Receiver.
Reconstruction of records.
Refund.
Remand—See also O. 41, RR. 23 AND 25.
Restitution.
Restoration.
Review.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Amendment.

Scope of.
Stay of execution of suit.
Substitution of parties.
Who can invoke.
———See also C. P. CODE, SS. 107, 148, 149, 150, 152 and 153.

Amendment.

——— S. 151—Amendment—Inherent power of Court—Variance between judgment and decree—Preliminary decree not in accordance with judgment—Remedy of aggrieved party—Power of Court.

Where the judgment of the Court contained an express direction that there was to be a preliminary decree for sale, the decree that was actually drawn up was a decree for foreclosure. The notices issued to the defendants (mortgagors) were notices to show cause why a final decree for sale should not be passed. Finally an ex parte final decree for foreclosure was passed. The defendants subsequently applied to set aside the ex parte final decree on the ground that the notices had not been served and that the preliminary decree for foreclosure not being in accordance with the judgment, all subsequent proceedings were void. The Court below rejected the application. Held, on appeal, that the applicants (defendants) had no proper notice of the proceedings for drawing up the final decree inasmuch as the notices were misleading documents having no relevance to the real proceeding which were contemplated and having no reference to the order eventually passed. The preliminary decree for foreclosure was not in accordance with the judgment and the mistake being due to an error on the part of the officers of the Court must be rectified by the High Court in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction. There can be no estoppel against a litigant arising out of the wrongful acts of the Court, permitted or performed by its own officials. (Walsh, A. J. C. and Ryves, J.) BALGOBIND v. SHEO KUMAR. 22 A. L. J. 791 : L. R. 5 A. 545 : 82 I. C. 184 : 46 All. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 818 (2).

———S. 151—Amendment—Clerical error—Court can correct.

Where a purely clerical error is brought to the notice of a High Court when it is seized of the matter as a Court of appeal it can correct the error. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) IQBAL HAIDAR KHAN v. WASI FATIMA BIBI. 45 A. 53 : L. R. 3 A. 597 : 74 I. C. 1004 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 358.

———S. 151—Amendment of decree—Variance with Judgment—Refusal to award—Interference.

Where a decree is at variance with the judgment a refusal to amend the same and bring the same into conformity with each other is a refusal to exercise a jurisdiction vested by law and can be interfered with in revision. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KABIR-UD-DIN MONDAL v. ENTAJ MONDAL. 79 I. C 586 : A I. R. 1925 Cal. 420.

———S. 151—Amendments.

An application in substance for substitution of the heirs of the deceased party can be allowed to be amended into one under O. 22, R. 10, if owing to misunderstanding of law, the applicant has applied for substitution instead of under O. 22, R. 10. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) RAJANI KANTA v. JYOTI PRASAD. 27 C. W. N. 710 : 75 I. C. 255 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 90.

———S. 151—Amendment of decree.

S. 151 would enable a Court to alter a decree when it does not correctly express what theCourt actually decided or intended to decide. (Campbell, J.) ASA SINGH v. JAGJIT SINGH. 73 I.C. 679: A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 147 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Amendment.

——S. 151—Amendment.

Where the decree has not been signed the Court has power to make alteration to make decree consistent. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPALA AIYANGAR v. MUMMACHI REDDIAR. 17 L. W. 254 : 74 I. C. 416 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 392.

Ss. 151 and 152——Amendment—Decree—Executing Court

It is not competent to a Court to amend the decree of another Court transferred to it for execution, even though the error may be obvious. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) KORALLA BUCHILINGAM v. KORALLA SATYANARAYANAMURTHI. 15 L.W. 301: 65 I. C. 710 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 186 (1).

——S 151—Amendment—Pre-emption decree—Amount entered wrongly—Correct amount paid by plaintiff in time—Decree can be amended even after expiry of period fixed by decree for payment.

Under S. 151 of the C. P. Code the Courts are given very wide powers to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court. The amount payable by the plaintiff was entered in a pre-emption decree, through a clerical error, as a sum higher than that really payable by him. The plaintiff paid the amount really due from him within the time fixed, bona fide ignorant of the error in the decree. On objection being raised by the defendant that the decree had not been complied with, the plaintiff applied under S. 152 for amendment of the decree. The lower Court (after expiration of the period fixed for the payment of the pre-emption amount by the decree and without giving notice to the defendant) amended the decree. Held, that the order of the lower Court was correct. (Daniels, J. C.) SURAJ BAKSH SINGH v. BANS BAHADUR SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 246 : 87 I C. 987 : 2 O. W. N. 218 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 418.

——Ss. 151 and 152—Amendment—Intention of judgment not coinciding with order passed—Judgment can be corrected so as to agree with the intention.

Where from the discussion of the case it appeared that the intention of the Judge was to decree the appeal and it was only by a mistake that the words "fails and is dismissed" were used, held, that the Court is bound to correct a clerical error such as has taken place in the judgment, and the words "is decreed" should be substituted in place of "fails and is dismissed". The provisions of Ss. 151 and 152 are much wider than the corresponding sections of the old Code. (Dalal, A. J. C.) MT. MAHESHA v. RAMESHAR. 71 I. C. 563 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 144.

——S 151—Amendment—Decree—Pendency of appeal

Even though an appeal is pending from a decree it is open to the Court that passed the decree to amend it. (Das and Ross, JJ.) REVA MAHTO v. DALU MAHTO. 2 Pat L R. 6 : 78 I. C. 794 (1) : 5 Pat. L. T. 588 : A I. R. 1924 Pat. 528.

——Ss. 151 and 152—Amendment—Mistakes in plaint copied in decree—Dismissal of appeal under O. 41, R. 11, C. P. Code.

Even though a second appeal has been dismissed under O. 41, R. 11, C. P. Code, the High Court has power to amend the plaint and decree so as to rectify a mistake in the description of the properties occurring in the plaint and copied in the decree. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) KARTAR RAI v. TALEY CHOWDHURY. 1923 P. H. C. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 218 (1).

Applicability.

——S. 151—Applicability—Exercise of inherent power when remedied by way of appeal.

A Judge has no power to exercise his inherent power in favour of a party who has a remedy by way of appeal. (Macleod, C J. and Coyajee J.) VIRAPA v. BASAPA. 27 Bom. L. R. 1511.

——S. 151—Applicability—Co-plaintiff transferred as defendant—Security for costs—Power to order—Past or future.

Per Chatterjee, J:—On a co-plaintiff being transferred as defendant he can call on the other plaintiff to give security for costs. The matter being one of amendment only, costs up to date of order can be ordered but not future costs.

Per Cuming, J:—Where as in O. 25, R. 1 and O. 41, R. 10, the C. P. Code has provided for security for costs under specific circumstances, an inherent power of Court should not be invoked in cases not falling under either of these. The Court cannot order security for costs in other cases. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) BHAIRABENDRA NARAIN DEB v. UDAI NARAIN DEB. 50 Cal. 853 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 251.

——S. 151—Applicability—Remedy barred by limitation—Section cannot help.

S. 151 cannot be invoked to help a party who had a remedy provided by law and failed to take advantage of that remedy within the period of limitation allowed. (Campbell, J.) FIRM OF DUNICHAND-GOKEL CHAND v. PUTAM DAS. 7 Lah. L. J. 13 : 86 I. C. 256 : 26 Punj L. R. 841 : A I. R. 1925 Lah. 321 (2).

——S. 151—Applicability of.

S. 151 of Civil Procedure Code does not apply where there is an express provision of law. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF KAHNA MAL BENARSI DAS v. FIRM OF KAHNA MAL NATHU MAL. 40 P. L. R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 718 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70.

——S. 151—Applicability—Code making express provision—S. 151 cannot be invoked.

When the Code makes provision for a certain procedure, the Code must be deemed to be exhaustive in that respect and the provisions of S 151 cannot be invoked in opposition to those provisions. 43 Mad 94 and A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 114 Rel. on. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 144 Dissented. (Phillips, J.) V. VARADACHARLU v. K. NARASIMHA CHARLU. (1925) M. W. N, 886 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 258.

——S. 151—Applicability—Preliminary decree awarding mesne profits—Final decree omitting the relief—No appeal filed—Review petition dismissed—Subsequent application to pass further final decree in respect of that relief is not maintainable.

The final decree in a partition suit had omitted to give relief as to mesne profits though it had been allowed in the preliminary decree. No appeal was filed and an application for review was dismissed. Subsequently an application was put in under S. 151 of the C. P. Code asking for further final decree for mesne profits awarded in the preliminary decree. Held, that inasmuch as no appeal was filed and the application for review of the final decree had been dismissed, there was no authority and no sufficient ground for invoking the inherent jurisdiction of the Court. (Phillips, J.) VEERAPPA GOUNDAN v. VEERAPPA GOUNDAN. 48 M. L. J. 512 : 88 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 886.

——S. 151—Applicability—Setting aside its own orders.

S. 151 does not apply in every case in which there is no other remedy open to the party. A Court has not inherent power to set aside its own orders whenever it chooses to do so. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ANANT POTDAR v. MANGAL POTDAR.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Applicability.

4 Pat. 704 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 27.

——S. 151—Applicability—Order certifying adjustment of a decree.

When there is no application for review, a Court cannot set aside an order certifying adjustment of a decree, unless the order is prejudicial to one of the parties. (Mullick and Sultan Ahmad, JJ.) RAM GULAM SAHU v. SHAM SAHAI DAS.

1 P. L. T. 663 : 1920 P. H. C. C. 358 : 62 I. C. 234 : 5 Pat. L. J. 379.

Consolidation.

——S. 151—Consolidation—Power to deal with two appeals together.

In spite of the absence from the Code of Civil Procedure of any provision enabling two cross-appeals from the same decree to be consolidated, the appellate Court has inherent jurisdiction in such a case in disposing of the two appeals so to mould its decree as to merge the result of the two appeals into one decree representing the final adjustment of the rights of the parties in all the points raised. (Mears., C.J., Banerji, Piggott, Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GHANSHAM SINGH v. BHOLA SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 465 : L. R. 4 A. 265 : 45 A. 506: 74 I. C. 411: A. I. R. 1923 All. 490 (F. B.).

——S. 151—Consolidation of suits—Joint promisees suing separately—Power of Court.

Where joint promisees sue separately for the share of each in a debt due, the Court has power to consolidate the suits. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) KISENLAL v. CHENDHA. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 196.

——S. 151— Consolidation— Order declaring appeals are analogous, does not result in their consolidation—Practice—Consolidation of suits.

The effect of an order declaring that appeals are analogous is merely that they shall be heard together. It has not the effect of consolidation and an order passed in one does not govern the other unless expressly stated. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) TOFA LAL DAS v MOINUDDIN.

4 Pat. 448 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 765.

——S. 151—Consolidation of suits—Consent of parties.

A Court has inherent power to consolidate suits, and this jurisdiction can be exercised even without the consent of the parties. 17 C. W. N. 526 Ref. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) QAZI MAHOMED FAZAL v. MAHKUMAR MAHTON. 3 Pat. L. T. 584 : 1 P. 669 : 67 I. C. 1000 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 566 (1).

Conversion.

——S. 151—Conversion.

The petition under S. 151 can be treated as one for review. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ALAMELU AMMAL v. RAMA IYER.

43 M. L. J. 290 : (1922) M. W. N. 495 : 31 M. L. T. 132 (H. C.) : 16 L. W. 440 : 70 I. C. 425 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 446.

Correctness of Proceedings.

——S. 151—Correctness of order—Remand not appealed against—Court may investigate under.

A Court can investigate the correctness of a remand order though no appeal had been filed against it. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAM RAI v. MAHESHWAR PRASAD SINGH. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 336.

——S. 151—Correctness of proceeding—Guardian of plaintiff giving up relief against one defendant—Application by minor to re-open—Remedy.

Where the guardian of a minor plaintiff withdraws his claim against one defendant, he ought to get the leave of the Court under O. 32, R. 7. It is open to the minor to get it re-opened and the appropriate remedy is under S. 151 and not by way of review. It is an inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings where it has been misled. (Jackson, J.) KANAPARTHY SRINIVASA RAO v. VENKATANARASAMMA.

22 L. W. 629.

Costs.

——S. 151—Costs—Defts. granted adjournment on condition of paying costs—Default in paying—Defence can be struck off—C. P. Code, O. 17, R. 1.

Where payment of costs is made a condition precedent of adjournment granted to the defendants, it is open to the Court to strike off the defence and proceed ex parte, when the costs are not paid as directed (Mukerjee, J.) EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO. v. JIT MAL KALLO MAL.

23 A. L. J. 212 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 212: 86 I. C. 862 : 47 All. 538 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 280.

——S. 151—Costs — Order directing costs of commission being realised—If one in execution under S. 47—Appeal.

An order passed by a Court for the payment of the costs in connection with the execution of a commission recoverable from the parties is an order in favour of an officer of the Court and any proceeding taken to enforce such order is not a proceeding between the parties within the meaning of S. 47 and as such is not appealable. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) GOPAL DAS v. GOURI SHANKER PRASAD. 74 I. C. 186 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 122.

Dismissal for default.

——S. 151—Dismissal for default—Restoration—Appeal.

The Court in a proper case can readmit an appeal dismissed for default. Where the next friend of a minor appellant is of unsound mind, the minor's absence at the hearing cannot be treated as default and his appeal will be re-admitted by court in exercise of inherent powers. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) SONUBAI BABURAO v. SHIVAJIRAO.

45 Bom. 648 : 60 I. C. 919 : 23 Bom. L. R. 110

Ends of Justice.

——S. 151—Ends of justice — Stay of suit—Inherent power—Vexatious and oppressive suit—Natural forum avoided by plaintiff—Evidence accessible outside jurisdiction.

Appeals to the inherent jurisdiction of the Court have to be regarded with great caution. But if having exercised such caution, the Court is clearly of opinion that the jurisdiction ought to be exercised it should not be intimidated from so doing, because no case on all fours is forthcoming from the reported decisions of the High Courts. (Marten, J.) JETHABHAI VERSEY & CO. v. AMARCHAND MADHAVJI & CO.

25 Bom. L. R. 713: A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 90.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Stay—Court will stay suit where no injustice to plaintiff is caused but there is oppression and vexation which is avoidable by trial elsewhere.

The Court will stay an action brought within the jurisdiction, in respect of a cause of action arising out of the jurisdiction if it is satisfied that no injustice will be done thereby to the plaintiff, and that the defendants would be subject to such injustice in defending the action as would amount to vexation and oppression to which he would not be subjected if an action were brought in another and accessible Court, where the cause of action arose. A suit may consist of two claims A and B, and be only oppressive as regards A,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Ends of Justice.

If, therefore, a defendant satisfies claim B, defendant should not be precluded from contending that claim A should be stayed. In order to justify a stay it is, as a rule, necessary that something more should exist than a mere balance of convenience in favour of proceedings in some other place. (Marten, J.) JETHABHAI VERSEY AND CO v. AMARCHAND MADHAVJI & CO

25 Bom. L. R. 713 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 90.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Stay of proceedings—Decision of another tribunal.

The Court has inherent power to postpone the hearing of a suit pending the decision of a selected action and to make an order for stay of cross-suits on the ground of convenience. 38 C. 927; 40 C. 965 Ref. This inherent power is not to be exercised capriciously or arbitrarily and is to be exercised to facilitate that real and substantial justice for the administration of which alone Courts exist. 17 C. 272 ; 16 M. 380 ; 33 C. 927, 932; Rel. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ) SYED ABDUL ALIM v. BADARUDDIN. 28 C. W. N. 295: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 757.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Proceedings under Cr. P. Code, S. 476 pending in lower Court—Stay can be granted.

When the lower Court has issued notice to certain partiesto show cause why they should not be proceeded against under Cr, P. Code, S. 476, the superior Court has inherent power under S. 151 to stay the proceedings. (Zafar Ali, J.) HARNAM SINGH v. MT. ATRI. 7 L. L. J. 73 : 88 I. C. 526 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 323 (2)

——S. 151 and O. 46. R. 1—Ends of justice—Application for reference—Inherent power of Court.

The applicant when he filed his suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge was bold to go to the Court of the Munsif and when he went to the Court of the Munsif was told that the Munsif had no jurisdiction. The orders passed were very old and an application for reference did not lie under O. 46, R. 1. Held, at the same time the High Court could take action under S. 151, C. P. Code, and pass such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice. (Dalal, J. C.) JAFAR HUSAIN KHAN v. MT. CHOUTI.

10 O. & A. L R. 1191: A. I. R 1925 Oudh 461

——S. 151 and O 21, R. 89—Ends of justice—Parties coming to an arrangement before confirmation of the auction sale—Application made by parties to set aside sale—Court can set aside—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 89.

If the judgment-debtor and the auction-purchaser come to an arrangement before an auction sale is confirmed by which the decree-holder is paid off and parties apply to the Court to set aside the sale, the Court can set aside the sale under S. 151 notwithstanding that the procedure laid down in O. 21, R. 89 has not been followed. (Wazir Hasan J. C.) KUBER SINGH v. BACHNIRAM. 80 I. C. 444: A. I R. 1925 Oudh 128.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Court can call for documents.

Even though a document is not produced at the first hearing of a case the Court can call for the document under S. 165 of the Evidence Act. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHANKAR LAL v. MAHBUB SHAH.

25 O. C. 286: 70 I. C. 278 · A. I. R. 1923 Oudh. 59.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Decree-holder permitted to bid on conditions—Failure to fulfil conditions—Powers of Court to refuse to confirm sale.

Where decree-holder is permitted to bid at an auction sale, subject to certain conditions being fulfilled and he fails to fulfil the condition, the Court has power to refuse to confirm the sale. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) MT. JANAKBATI v. RAMESHWAR.

1 P. 235 : 69 I. C. 872 : 1 Pat. L. R. 179: A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 511.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Execution.

——S. 151—Ends of justice.

The Court has inherent power to do justice between the parties under S. 151 of C.P Code. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHINTAMONI MAHAPATRA v. MONMOHINI DEBI. 1 P 149 : 69 I. C. 200 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 409.

——S. 151—Ends of justice—Stay of execution—Leave to appeal to Privy Council not granted—Exercise of powers.

A Court has inherent power under S. 151, C.P. Code, in appropriate circumstances to stay execution on receipt of an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council pending the passing of orders on the application. But such inherent powers should be sparingly used and only on good grounds being established. Language of O. 45, Rr. 5 and 13 considered. (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) NARUMAL v. JAGATMAL. 82 I. C. 739: A. I. R. 1925 Sind 216.

——S. 151—Ends of justice.

An order under S. 151, C. P. Code, is to be made when the ends of justice require it or to frustrate an abuse of the process of Court. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF JAI NARAIN BABU LAL IN THE MATTER OF. 16 S. L. R. 79: 66 I.C. 796: A. I. R. 1922 Sind 6.

Enforcement of Order.

——S. 151—Enforcement of order—Variation as to details.

Every Court has power to enforce its own orders made by consent of parties, when by the accident of circumstances the carrying out of such detail according to the agreement can no longer be achieved. If a specific Commissioner is named to do an act and he refuses to act, the Court can appoint another though the parties do not agree to it. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) PARSHOTTAM DOSS v SHIAM LAL.

A. I. R. 1923 All. 460 (2.)

Error of Law.

——S. 151, O. 32, R. 3—Error of law—Court guardian—Appointment of.

To appoint a guardian ad litem without issuing notice to the natural guardian, in contravention of O. 32, R. 3 is illegal and the Court has inherent power under S. 151 to correct the errors or mistakes committed by itself. (Devadoss, J.) JAMBU AMMAL v. NATARAJA PILLAI. 31 M. L. T. 215: 70 I. C. 867: A I. R. 1922 Mad. 485.

Execution.

——S. 151—Execution—Property sold in revenue auction—Mortgagee suing for lien on surplus sale proceeds—Surplus sale proceeds attached before judgment in mortgage suit—Auction sale set aside and remand ordered—Auction-purchaser can apply under S. 151 for withdrawal of attachment, though he was not party to mortgage suit.

By virtue of S. 73 of the Transfer of Property Act the moment a mortgaged property is transformed into money by reason of a revenue sale the lien fastens by operation of law upon the surplus sale-proceeds. It is so, on the equitable principle that the mortgagee is entitled, for the purpose of the security, to all such interests as may be acquired in place of the mortgagor's interest. If the mortgagor's interest in the mortgaged property is re-vested in him in consequence of the sale being set aside, and the mortgagor ceases to have any interest in the sale proceeds, the mortgagee is in a position to fall back upon his original security, and has no more lien on the sale proceeds which no longer represent the interest of the mortgagor. The fact that by the order of attachment surplus sale proceeds had already become available to the mortgagee makes no difference; for the Court has ample powers in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction under S. 151, C. P. Code, even to make an order for refund. Also the fact that the auction-purchaser applying for withdrawal of the attachment was not a party to the suit in which the order for attachment of the surplus sale proceeds was made does not disentitle him to apply. 1922 Cal. 28; Foll. The application being one under S. 151, Civil P. Code, invoking the inherent powers of the Court to make an order necessary for the ends of justice, the question as to the locus standi of the applicant can hardly arise. (M. N. Mukerji, J.) RASH BEHARI v. KASUM KUMARI. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1145.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Execution.

——S. 151—Execution—Only a chartered High Court can restrain executing Court in certain cases from executing a decree—Jurisdiction—Powers of Court.

No Court except a chartered High Court in which a suit was instituted has power under the C. P. Code or any other statutory enactment to restrain the executing Court by an injunction from executing a decree. Only a chartered High Court has inherent powers to issue injunctions of this nature in certain cases, but other Courts do not possess any such powers. 34 Cal. 97 and 34 Cal. 101, Foll. (Zafar Ali, J.) KANSHI RAM v. FIRM PRABH DIAL.
7 L. L. J. 457 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 618.

——S. 151—Execution—Decree whether can be transferred to Native State—Inherent power of Court.

The Code does not authorise Courts in British India to transfer their decrees for execution to a Court of a Native State. But there is nothing to prevent the transmission of certified copies of the necessary documents to such a Court to enable it to execute the decree under any powers conferred by the Legislative authority of its own State. S. 151 is wide enough to cover this procedure and it is a proper course to pursue where a State has intimated its willingness to have decrees of Courts in British India executed in the Courts of the State. (Twomey, C. J. and Ormond, J.) SADAYAPPA v. ANNAMALAI. 61 I. C. 704 : 13 Bur. L. T. 145.

Ex-parte Decree and Order.

——S. 151 and O. 9, R. 13—Ex-parte decree—Inherent power to set aside—Application filed after time prescribed by Art. 164, Lim. Act.

An application under O. 9, R. 13 to set aside an ex parte final decree in a mortgage suit which was filed long after the time limited by Art. 164 of the Limitation Act, was dismissed by the first Court on the ground that notice was duly served. The District Judge, while agreeing with the finding of the first Court as to the service of notice, acted under S. 151 of the Code and set aside the ex parte decree on the ground that when it was passed, it was barred by time. Held, that S. 151 of the Code cannot be used in that way. Where a definite period of limitation has been prescribed by Art. 164 of the Limitation Act for an application to set aside an ex parte decree, the Court would not be entitled, by purporting to act under S. 151 of the Code, in effect to extend that period. 43 Mad. 94 (F. B.) Foll. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) AYODHYA MAHTON v. PHUL KUER. 1922 P. H. C. C. 61 : 65 I. C. 341 : 1 Pat. 277 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 479.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Fraud.

——S. 151 and O. 21, R. 90—Ex parte decree or order setting aside.

A Court can entertain an application to set aside an ex parte order under O. 21, R. 90. (Jwala Prasad, J.) BHIKAN GIR GOSSAIN v. JALPADAT JHA.
62 I. C. 113 : 2 Pat. L. T. 270.

——S. 151—Ex parte decree—Decree passed by over sight.

A Court can set aside an ex parte decree passed by an oversight under O. 34, R. 6 as against a person who is not the mortgagor. (Jwala Prasad, J.) HANUMAN LAL v. RAM PEARI KOER. 60 I. C. 368 : 2 Pat. L. T. 251.

Expunging from Record.

——S. 151—Expunging from record.

Where the judgment of a Subordinate Court has not been brought before the High Court on appeal or revision the High Court has no power to expunge adverse remarks on the character and credibility of a witness from the judgment of the Subordinate Court. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) C. DUM v. EMPEROR.
44 All. 401 : 66 I. C. 1005 : 20 A. L. J 261 : L. R. 3 A. 66 (Cr.) : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 165 : 23 Cr. L J. 349 : A I. R. 1922 All. 107.

Extension of time.

——S. 151 and O. 21. R. 11—Extension of time—Execution proceedings—Power to grant time to judgment debtor for payment of decree amount.

The Court has got an inherent power to grant time to the judgment-debtor for payment of the decree amount even after the passing of the decree and before he is arrested and brought before it in execution. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) PERURI SOORYAPRAKASAM v. MUNISWAMI CHETTY. 20 L. W. 175 : 84 I. C. 134 : 48 M. 494 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 42.

——S. 151—Extension of time—Costs of appeal to be paid in one week—Power to extend time.

An appeal was allowed and the case remanded to the Court below on condition the appellant paid the respondent's costs within one week, and on default the appeal was to stand dismissed. Held, the Court had no power to extend the time for payment under S. 148, C. P. Code, as the section applies only to the case of an act by the party under the Code itself. (Das, J.) SHEIKH HAMIDHUR RAHIMAN v. SHAHANAND DAS. 80 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 153.

——S. 151—Extension of time—Setting aside ex parte decree.

No appeal lies against refusal of an application under S. 151 nor can time be extended under S. 151 for setting aside an ex parte decree. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) AJODHYA MAHTON v. PHUL KUER.
1 Pat. 277 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 61 : 65 I. C. 341 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 479.

Fraud.

——S. 151—Fraud—Inherent power—Compromise—Mistake—Allegations of fraud—Setting aside compromise.

Where the Court acting on the assurance of counsel that the plaintiff has agreed to a compromise and after issuing notice to the plaintiff ordered a decree to be passed in terms of the compromise and some time later the plaintiff applied to the Court to review its order alleging that the petition of compromise and the affidavit in support thereof were put in without her knowledge, held, that the court was not bound to exercise its inherent power in the case and set aside the compromise on an application. (Piggott, J.) DWARKA DHISH PRASAD SINGH, In re. 46 A. 245 : 22 A. L. J. 118 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ) 46 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 398.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). S. 151—Fraud.

——S. 151—Fraud—Inherent powers to refuse to confirm sale are invoked only when the Court is misled by misstatement or non-disclosure of facts.

The inherent powers of the Court to refuse to confirm the auction-sale held under its order are only invoked when it is shown that the Court is misled by a mis-statement or non disclosure of relevent facts. (Findlay, O. J. C.) NIZAMUDDIN v. JUMMA. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17.

——S. 151—Fraud— Consent decree— Setting aside—Factum of consent disputed—Fraud—Power of Court.

A Court has inherent power to correct its own proceedings when it is satisfied that in passing a particular order, it was misled by any party. Where in a consent decree, a party alleges that its consent was obtained by fraud the Court has no inherent power to investigate into the matter. But the factum of consent can be investigated. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SADHO SARAN RAI v. ANANT RAI. 1923 P. H. C. C. 197 : 2 P. 731 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 483.

Injunction.

——S. 151 and O. 39—Injunction—High Court may grant injunctions irrespective of O. 39—C. P. Code, O. 39, Rr. 1 and 2.

High Court has an inherent power to grant injunction in suitable cases irrespective of the provisions of O. 39. (Abdul Raoof, J.) SAMANDAR v. FAZAL. 78 I. C. 802 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 242 (2).

——S. 151—Injunction—Declaratory suit—Suit pending in another Court should be stayed.

In a suit merely of a declaratory nature it is not proper to grant an injunction staying proceedings in another suit pending in another Court. (Abdul Raoof, J.) SAMANDAR v. FAZAL. 78 I. C. 802 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 242 (2).

——S. 151—Injunction restraining sale—Sale ignoring injunction.

Pending a partition suit, the District Munsiff issued an injunction restraining an auction sale being held, and soon after refused an application of the judgment-debtor to postpone the sale. He then confirmed the sale ignoring the injunction order. On appeal the sale was set aside as illegal. Held, though a legal act done in breach of an injunction is still valid the sale in such circumstances would be an abuse of process of Court and should be set aside under the inherent powers of the Court. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) REPAKA MAMILLAYYA v. ADDEPALLI VENKATARATNAM. 45 M. L. J. 312 : (1923) M. W. N. 672 : 77 I. C. 12 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 100.

Invention of Procedure.

——S. 151—Invention of procedure.

A Court is not justified in applying its powers of inherent jurisdiction to introduce a new form of procedure for which no provision is made by the Indian law. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) GOUR CHANDRA GOSWAMI v. NABADWIB MUNICIPALITY. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 1 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S 151—Jurisdiction.

——S. 151—Jurisdiction—Executing Court can not go behind the decree.

A decree was passed in terms of an award. There was a clear mistake in the map filed with the award. The executing Court examined the head arbitrator who deposed that the map was incorrect. Held, that the procedure adopted by the executing Court was wrong and his order passed thereon must be set aside. (Walsh and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HAR PRASAD v. RAGHUBAR DIAL. 45 All. 628 : 21 A. L. J. 541 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 553 : 74 I. C. 817 : A. I. R 1924 All. 62.

——S 151—Jurisdiction — Questions removed from the jurisdiction of Court cannot be brought within the same under the inherent powers.

Where certain questions have been removed from the jurisdiction of the Court, they cannot be brought within the jurisdiction on the ground that the Court has inherent power to do what justice requires for the parties before it. 45 Bom. 512 : 24 Bom. 467 applied. (Findlay, O. J. C.) NIZAMUDDIN v. JUMMA. 88 I. C. 893 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17.

——S. 151—Jurisdiction — Security for mesne profits—No provision is made in the Code.

Although a plaintiff has often a reasonable fear that if he gets a decree he will fail to realise mesne profits, yet the Code has not made express provision for such an order. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BHAGWAN BAKSH SINGH v. SURENDRA BIKRAM SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 209 : 74 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 11.

——S. 151—Jurisdiction—Appeal in non-appealable cases.

Under S. 151 of the Code, the Court has no inherent power to allow the appeal against the order of remand where no right of appeal is given by the Code. That section can never be invoked in any case unless a Court has jurisdiction to entertain the case. It cannot be invoked to give the Court jurisdiction, if it does not possess it otherwise. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEIKH FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI. 26 O. C. 10 : 10 O. L. J. 36 : 73 I. C. 591 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——S. 151—Jurisdiction—Power to alter order of predecessor in office.

Apart from the power to correct clerical or arithmetical errors, or to review a judgment, a Court has no inherent power to alter an order passed in Court. (Das and Foster, JJ.) BISHESHWAR PARTAP NARAIN SAHI v. ASARFI SINGH. 2 Pat. L. R. 155 : 74 I. C. 110 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 136.

——S. 151—Jurisdiction — Recalling an order passed by the predecessor is beyond jurisdiction and invalid.

If an order of a Sub-Judge in execution is erroneous the proper course for the party aggrieved is to apply to the High Court under S. 115, Civil Procedure Code It is well settled that the Court has inherent power to recall an order which has not been perfected but no power whatever to recall one which has been perfected. Therefore a successor has no power to recall the perfected order of his predecessor. 12 Ch. D. 88 and 10 C. L. J. 396 Foll. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) HIRO SINGH v. KAZI SYED AHMAD HUSSAIN. 69 I. C. 742 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 204.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Jurisdiction.

——S. 151—Limitation—Period—Extension of.

Where a definite period of limitation is fixed by law, a Court is not entitled to extend such period by invoking S. 151. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) FIRM KUNDAN LAL-MUKANDI LAL v. KANSHI RAM.

89 I. C. 427 (1).

——S. 151—Misappropriation of paddy by Amin deputed to attach the paddy—Inherent power of Court to direct the Amin to make good the value of the paddy misappropriated.

Where an Amin deputed by the Court to attach a quantity of paddy in execution of a decree misappropriated a portion of it, held, that the Court had jurisdiction under S 151 of the C. P. Code, to order the Amin to make good the value of the paddy misappropriated by him, as the conduct of the Amin was an abuse of process of the Court. (Madhavan Nair, J.) AMIN MALLIKARJUNA v. B. BEORAN KUNHI.

22 L. W. 387 : (1925) M. W. N. 742.

Limits of.

——S. 151—Limits of—Statute of limitation not to be overlooked.

S. 151, C. P. Code, is not intended to override the express provision of law. In other words, where the law provides for a period of limitation for a particular class of application, the Court cannot ignore the provisions of the law of limitation by appealing to S. 151, C. P. Code. That section is intended for cases for which the strict letter of the law provides no remedy. 46 A. 144 : 1 Pat. 277 : 1 Lah. 263 : 42 B. 367 : 47 M. 171 Rel. (Daniels, J.) TOTA RAM v. PANNA LAL.

46 A. 631 : 22 A. L. J. 583 : L. R. 5 A. 347 : 79 I. C. 997 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 668 (2).

——Ss. 151 and 152—Limits of—Inherent power is not limited to Ss. 151 and 152.

The inherent power of the Court as vested in it by its own constitution is not limited to Ss. 151 and 152, C. P. Code. 18 C. W. N. 772 Ref. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KABIR-UD-DIN MONDAL v. ENTAJ MONDAL.

79 I. C. 586 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 420.

——S. 151—Limits of—Remedy barred by limitation—Section cannot help.

S. 151 cannot be invoked to help a party who had a remedy provided by law and failed to take advantage of that remedy within the period of limitation allowed. (Campbell, J.) FIRM DUNICHAND GOKANCHAND v. PRITAM DAS.

7 L. L. J. 13 : 86 I. C. 256 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 321 (2),

——S. 151—Limits of.

S. 151, C. P. Code, cannot be called into aid to justify an act, which, instead of being necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court, not only causes or is likely to cause incalculable mischief, but also perpetuates injustice to third persons who are neither parties to the suit nor bound by the decree passed therein. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) PANNA LAL v. MT. BHAGIRATHIBAI.

20 N. L. R. 11 : 78 I. C. 601 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 98.

——S. 151—Limits of—Prohibition by positive law—C. P. Code, O. 22, R. 3.

S. 151 cannot confer jurisdiction on Court to do what is prohibited by positive law. Where a Judge had passed an order as to Court-fees, held, that his successor could not alter that order save in case of arithmetical or clerical error or on review. (Dass and Ross, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD NARAIN DEO v. MAHESWARI PRASAD NARAIN DEO.

3 Pat. 654 : 82 I. C. 813 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 47.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Mistake.

Mistake.

——S. 151—Mistake of Court—Court can rectify even apart from S. 151.

Even apart from S. 151 the Court has an inherent power to rectify the mistake which had been inadvertently committed by itself. A preliminary decree for sale was passed in favour of the appellant who within three years of the passing of the preliminary decree applied to the Court to pass a final decree. Notices were issued to the judgment-debtors and the case was adjourned from time to time ; on one of the adjourned dates the applicant happened to be absent. The defendants never appeared. In the absence of the parties, the Judge passed an order dismissing the suit for default Held, that the order of the Court was wrong and that the Court was right in setting it aside when the mistake was brought to its notice by the party.(Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) JODHA SINGH v. PADAY GOKARANDAS.

47 All. 546 : 23 A. L.J. 405 : 87 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 622.

——S. 151—Mistake in execution sale will not be rectified after three years so as to affect a bona fide purchaser.

S. 151 cannot properly be applied, where an application to rectify a mistake in the quantity of property sold in execution was not made till more than three years after the sale, and it was substantially directed against a purchaser for value who was no party to the decree and who acquired the property in good faith on the basis of the sale certificate. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) IMTIAZ-UN-NISSA v. CHHUTAN LAL.

22 A.L.J. 1119 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 153 : 84 I. C. 746 : 47 All. 304 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 236.

——Ss. 151 to 153—Mistake—Obvious mistakes can be corrected by Court of its own motion.

Where the Court had wrongly entered the word "probate" in its judgment instead of "letters of administration" the Court corrected the judgment at a subsequent stage of the same case on the matter having been brought to its notice. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) SIVADAS MOOKERJEE v. SURENDRA NATH CHATTERJI.

40 C. L. J. 24 : 82 I. C. 382 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 178.

——S. 151 and O. 20, R. 14—Mistake—Failure to deposit even costs in time cannot be excused.

Where pre-emptor was directed to pay into Court pre-emption money and costs in a certain time and he paid the money but failed to pay costs, held, that the mistake cannot be excused. (Broadway, J.) KHAN MUHAMMAD v. AHMAN.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 359.

——S. 151—Mistake—Inherent powers should be exercised to correct errors—Express provision in C. P. Code is not necessary.

It is an inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings where it has been misled although there may be no express provision in the C. P. Code for such correction. (Jackson, J.) KANAPARATHY SRINIVASA RAO v. V. K. VENKATANARASAMMA.

22 L. W. 629 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 119.

——S. 151—Mistake—Court can remedy injury caused by dishonest conduct of its own officer.

When an officer of Court deputed to execute an order issued by it conducts himself dishonestly, with the result that one of the parties to the suit in which the order was issued suffers thereby, the Court, on being informed of this fact, has jurisdiction under S.151 to remedy the injury by passing necessary orders. (Madhavan Nair, J.) AMIN MALLIKARJUNA v. B. BEORAN KUNHI. 22 L.W. 387 : (1925) M.W.N. 742 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1212.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Mistake.

——S. 151—Mistake—Compromise decree—Setting aside—Remedy of party.

Where an application to set aside the decree passed in pursuance of compromise by a lady whose signature was obtained by mistake or fraud of an agent, the remedy is by way of review petition. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ALAMELU AMMAL v. RAMA IYER. 43 M.L.J. 290 : 70 I. C. 425 : 16 L. W. 440 : (1922) M.W.N. 495 : 31 M.L.T. 132 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 446.

——S. 151—Mistake—Ignorance of fact.

The Court has inherent power, in fact it is its duty, to rectify mistakes in judicial orders arising from the ignorance of the Court or of its subordinate officers. (Hallifax, A.J.C.) MAROTI SONAR v. CHINTAMAN SONAR. 69 I. C. 112 : A I. R. 1924 Nag. 58.

——S. 151—Mistake—Error deliberately introduced—Power of Court to amend.

Where a deliberate error is introduced in the pleadings and the same creeps into the decree, the Court ex delito justitiae can correct it under S.151, C. P. Code, subject to safeguarding rights of third parties acquired in the interval. In such cases, the wronged party should not be left to remedy by means of a suit. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEO DARSAN SINGH v. MATADAR. 11 O. L. J. 227 : 78 I.C. 96 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 408.

——Ss 151 and 152—Mistake—Clerical error—Decree—Duty of Court to rectify.

The Court which decided an appeal wrote a judgment allowing it, but in the decretal portion concluded by remarking that the appeal failed and was dismissed. Held, that it was incumbent upon the Court to rectify the mistake at any time that it was brought to its notice 7 A. 875, R. (Dalal, A.J.C.) MT. MAHESHA v. RAMESHAR. 26 O. C. 329 : 10 O. L. J. 24 : 71 I. C. 563 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 173.

——S. 151—Mistake—Pleader erroneously filing a different decree with appeal—Substitution of the correct one should be allowed.

Where a pleader by mistake attached a different decree to the memo. of appeal, the names of parties in two decrees (the correct one and the one attached) being the same but in opposite order, held, that he should be allowed to put in the right decree in place of the one already filed. (Young, J.) MAUNG PO THIN v. MAUNG PO THIN. 3 Bur. L. J. 325 : 85 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 188.

——S. 151—Mistake—Question relating to execution—Excess area in partition decree—Power to correct—Execution proceedings.

Where the final decree in a partition suit awards an excess share to one party by mistake, it can be amended in execution proceedings, the language of S. 47 being wide enough to cover the case. Apart from S. 47 the Court can do the needful under S. 151, C. P. Code. (Raymond and Madgavkar, A.J.Cs.) DANDUMAL v. DWARKAMAL. 78 I. C. 1039 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 126.

Receiver.

——S. 151 and Sch. II, para 3, cl. 2—Receiver—Court can appoint Receiver pending arbitration proceedings—C P. Code, Sch. II, para. 3, cl. 2—C. P. Code, O. XL, R. 1.

The Court is competent to appoint a Receiver in the interval between the submission of an award and the final acceptance or rejection of it and also where an arbitrator is proceeding with a reference. But in the latter case the power of the Court should not be exercised save in exceptional circumstances. (Kennedy, J.C.) CHETANSING BAGASING v. GULIBAI. 78 I. C. 84 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 102.

Reconstruction of Records.

——S. 151—Reconstruction of records—Procedure.

Where owing to accident or other cause the records of a Court of justice have been destroyed or lost, the Court has an inherent power to reconstruct its records. An appellate Court has the same power to reconstruct the records of the Court from which an appeal lies to it. In reconstructing the record the Court may have to go very near to rehearing but the Court will always apply its mind to ascertain not what the rights of the parties were, but what the destroyed record of the suit was and on that record, when reconstructed, it will have to act on the ordinary principles on which it would have acted if the original record had been before it. Affidavits, counter-affidavits, the hearing of witnesses and admission of copies are all methods by which the Court may reconstruct the record and an appellate Court may also send the case back to the lower Court for a finding as to the state of record. The best evidence of what took place in the Trial Court would be found in the judgment of that Court if it is available. 7 W.R. 18 Ref. (Schwabe, C.J., Oldfield, and Ramesam, JJ.) MARAKKARUTTI v. VEERANKUTTY. 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 382 : 18 L. W. 21 : (1923) M. W. N. 471 : 73 I. C. 1050 : 46 Mad. 679 : 44 M. L. J. 673 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 647 (F. B.)

——S. 151—Reconstruction of records.

If any credible witness who read the judgment or the part of the judgment which contained the decision can depose to what he read a decree can be drawn up. There is nothing in the C. P. Code to prevent that. (MacCell, A. J. C.) MAUNG CHIT v. MAUNG THA KU. 4 U. B. R. 135 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 113.

Refund.

——S. 151—Refund of Court-fee—Inherent power.

The appellants in an appeal applied for the grant of a certificate for renewal or refund of the value of stamps worth Rs. 1,627-8-0 used on a memorandum of appeal which was returned to the appellants by the order of the High Court dated 22nd November 1922, because the memorandum of appeal was not properly stamped. An application was made to the Collector of Patna for renewal or refund of the stamps used on the memorandum of appeal, but he refused the application by his order of the 6th of December, 1922. The appellant then moved the Commissioner who by his order of the 11th January 1923 directed the petitioners to obtain a necessary certificate for renewal from the Taxing Officer of the High Court. Held, that even in the absence of any rule the High Court has inherent power under S. 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure to grant the certificate asked for. (Jwala Prasad and Adami JJ.) BHUANESHWARI PRASAD v. KISHEN DAYAL BHAGAT. 4 Pat. L T. 504 : 70 I. C. 405 (1) ; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 600.

——S. 151—Refund.

Deposit in Court was withdrawn by person having no right or title. Order for refund was requested and it was held that executing Court could decide the matter. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) GOPAL RAI v. RAMBHANJAN RAI. 1 P. 336 : 65 I. C. 307 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 53 3 P. L. T. 754 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 166

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Remand.

Remand.

——S. 151—Remand—Case not properly understood—Appeal, Second.

Where both the Primary and the First Appellate Court gave a decision in a case without understanding it, it is not a proper decision on the merits and the High Court should, in second appeal, act under S. 151 of the Code and remit the case for retrial. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) RANCHHOR DAS v. HAR KISHEN DAS. 19 A. L. J. 553 : 63 I. C. 501 : 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 87

——S. 151—Remand—Adjournment, refusal to grant—Appeal.

An order refusing an adjournment is appealable, and the Appellate Court has power to set aside the decree and order a retrial if the adjournment had been wrongly refused. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) JETHA LAL v. VARAJLAL. 63 I. C. 478 : 23 Bom. L. R. 769.

——S. 151—Remand Specific provisions of Code.

Where the Code contains specific provisions which would meet the necessities of a case, an order of remand under inherent powers should not be made. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chakravarty, J.) RAJANI KANTA SAHA v. RAJENDRA KUMAR BOSE. 82 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 274.

——S. 151—Remand—Appeal—Death of respondent—Remand by appellate Court—Legality of order.

A suit for cancellation of a sale held under the Patni Regulation was decreed in the Court of first instance, upon appeal by the two Zemindars (defendants) that judgment was reversed and the suit was dismissed. The plaintiff thereupon appealed to the High Court. They joined as respondents three sets of persons, viz., (1) the auction purchaser, (2) the two Zemindars, and (3) the persons alleged to be joint tenants in the putni. During the pendency of the second appeal in the High Court the executor to the estate of one of the Zemindar respondents died on the 10th June 1916. The plaintiffs, it is now asserted, were not aware of this circumstance and the auction-purchaser as also other Zemindar respondents were equally ignorant of the event. The result was that on the 31st January 1917, when the appeal was taken up for final disposal in this Court, the hearing proceeded on the assumption that all the parties were properly represented on the record, The appeal was heard, the decree of the lower appellate Court was set aside and the case was remanded for reconsideration. When the case went before the District Judge, he was informed on the 20th December 1917, that one of the Zemindar defendants had died during the pendency of the appeal in the High Court and that the representative-in-interest of that Zamindar was not bound by the order of remand made by the High Court. Thereupon the District Judge held that the appeal could not be reheard by him. Held, the order of the High Court was not a nullity by reason of the death of one of the respondents, that the High Court had jurisdiction to hear the appeal and that the District Judge should have reported the case for the orders of the High Court. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) ABDUL AZIZ v. LAKHMI CHANDRA MAJUMDAR. 37 C. L. J. 494 : 74 I. C. 545 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 676.

——S. 151—Remand—Powers of Court under Code.

The appellate Court has no jurisdiction to remand the case to a trial Court under O. 41, R. 23, C.P.Code (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) RADHAKRISHNA SAHA v. KAMALAKAMINI. 35 C. L. J. 345 : 70 I. C. 547 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 456.

——S. 151—Remand—Inherent powers—When to be used.

A remand under the inherent powers of a Court can be made only when the justice of the case requires it. (Walmsley and Ghose JJ.) SASI MUKHI DASI v. ABINASH CHANDRA HOLDER. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 279.

——S. 151—Remand—Retrial—Power of Appellate Court to order—Power when to be exercised.

An appellate Court has the power to order a retrial and this power is to be adopted in exceptional circumstances where the Code does not provide adequate procedure. (Buckland, J.) RADHA KANTA v. PRAKASH CHANDRA. 64 I. C. 599 (Cal.)

——S. 151—Remand.

An appellate Court has power to make an order of remand under S 151 of the C. P. Code when O. 41, R. 23 of the Code does not apply. (Martineau, J.) MAHMUD SHAH v. JALAL HUSSAIN SHAH. 73 I. C. 915 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah 245.

——S. 151—Remand—All the issues fully tried and decided by trial Court—Appellate Court coming to a different conclusion on one issue—Remand — Impropriety of.

Remand by the appellate Court coming to a different conclution on one issue though all the issues were fully tried and decided by trial Court is not proper. (Devadoss, J.) PERICHERLA SURYANARAYANA RAJU v GANAPATHY RAJU. 30 M L. T. 314 : 16 L. W 593 : 70 I. C. 665 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 113.

——S. 151 and O. 41, R. 23—Remand— Order of remand affecting the whole suit, is an order under S. 151 and so not appealable.

Where there was no question of any preliminary point and the order of remand affected the whole decision of the whole suit, held, that the remand must be taken to have been made under inherent powers and no appeal lies. 3 P. L. J. 253, Foll. (Ross, J.) BALARAM MANJHI v. JAGANNATH MANJHI. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 760.

——S. 151—Remand under inherent power—Appeal—Maintainability—If can be re-considered

There is no appeal against a remand made under the inherent powers of a Court, but when the matter comes up for final disposal the Court has power to reconsider the correctness of the order. (Das and Ross, JJ.) BABU RAM RAI v. MAHESWAR PRASAD SINGH. 78 I. C 466 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 336.

Restitution.

——Ss. 151 and 144—Restitution.

Execution Court has inherent powers to make restitution orders in cases that may not fall under S. 144, C P. Code. It has powers to direct refund of money paid out of Court. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAI CHARAN v. DEBI PRASAD. 35 C. L. J. 53 : 26 C. W. N. 408 : 64 I. C. 864 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 28.

——S. 151—Restitution—C. P. Code, S. 144.

Under S. 151 Court can apply the principle of S 144 to cases to which it would not ordinarily apply and can order restitution as may be necessary. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) ALLAH DIN v. CHIRAGH DIN. 63 I. C. 43. (L).

——S. 151—Restitution can be ordered in exercise of inherent powers even in cases not covered by S. 144—C. P. Code S. 144.

There is inherent power in Courts under S. 151 to apply the principle of S. 144 even in cases which do not strictly come within the terms of that section and to order such restitution as may become necessary as the result of their orders. (Jackson, JJ.) SUDALAIMUTHU PILLAI v SUDALAIMUTHU PILLAI. 83 I. C. 138 : A. I. R. 1925 : Mad. 365.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Restitution.

——— S. 151—Restitution—Execution sale.

Where in an execution sale the proceeds have been distributed among several decree-holders rateably and the execution sale set aside in a claim suit, stranger purchaser has no right to refund of the purchase money, (Ayling O. C. J. and Venkatasubba Rao, J.) RAJARAO v. ANANTHANARAYANAN CHETTY.

42 M. L. J. 308 : 67 I. C. 369 : 15 L. W. 303 : (1922) M. W. N. 255 : A. I. R. 1922 M. 228.

———Ss. 151 and 141 — Restitution — Power of Court to order—Inherent power—Scope of.

The inherent power of a Court to grant a restitution will be exercised in the ends of justice, that is to say, where this is the only legal method by which the applicant can obtain his dues, (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VARADA RAMASWAMI v. UMMA VENKATARATNAM. 42 M. L. J. 473 : 30 M. L. T. 178 : (1922) M. W. N. 184 : 67 I. C. 546 : 15 L. W. 421 : A. I. R 1922 Mad. 99.

———Ss. 151 and 144—Restitution — Inherent power—Delivery of possession under mistake.

Where a judgment-debtor is dispossessed under an erroneous order of Court and that order is set aside in a proceeding to which the Court auction-purchaser is a party it is the duty of the Court to order restoration of possession to the judgment-debtor. 41 M. 467 Rel. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) SHRIKISAN v. SUNDARBAI.

18 N. L. R. 24 : 64 I. C. 732 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 82.

———S. 151—Restitution—Power to order.

Even in cases which are not covered by S. 144 a court has inherent power to order restitution if the interests of justice require it. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KAMALANATH JHA v. MOBIT NARAIN JHA.

5 Pat. L. T. 553 : 78 I.C 310 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 800.

———S. 151 and O. 40, R. 1—Restitution—Improper appointment of Receiver—Refund of salary paid to Receiver.

The plaintiff in a suit applied for and obtained the appointment of a Receiver over properties belonging to A and also properties belonging to B. B was subsequently held to have been wrongly joined and was dismissed from the suit. B thereupon applied to the Court that the plaintiff should return Receiver's commission and other charges incurred by her in respect of the Receivership. Held, that the Court had inherent power to order the restitution prayed for. The Receiver's possession was wrongful ab-initio and such restitution should be ordered as will, so far as may be, place the parties in the same position that they would have occupied if such decree had never been passed. But for the order the applicant would never have been called upon to pay to the Receiver fees for taking charge of the property and realising its profits, and she was entitled under the law to be put in the same position so far as may be as if the order had never been passed. (Young, O. C. J. and May Oung, J.) NAIKWAR v. MA AYE BYU. 1 Rang. 770 : 79 I.C. 724 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 181.

Restoration.

———S. 151—Restoration—Decree set aside for want of guardian—Procedure.

Where the previous suit had failed for want of a lawful guardian, the proceedings in it including the decision are a nullity from the point when the improper appointment of the guardian was made. It is not a commencement of a fresh suit. It is not an application for rehearing, because in the eye of law there has been none. It is not an application to restore. It is an application to revive it by the appointment of a proper guardian so that from the date of such appointment it becomes a properly constituted suit in which the differences between the parties can be decided. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KIRPU KISHAN v. BABULAL 45 All. 606 : 76 I. C. 765 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 225 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Restoration.

———S. 151—Restoration—Inherent power—Rehearing—Decree against minor impleaded as a major.

Plaintiff sued to eject defendant who was in fact a minor without describing him as such. A decree was passed. On an application by the minor the decree was subsequently cancelled and the case was posted for rehearing. Held, that the court had jurisdiction to pass the order under S. 151, C. P. Code. (Burn, J. M.) SHAMI v. JAI DEEI KUAR.

L. R. 5 A. 331 (Rev.)

———S. 151—Restoration—Suit dismissed for want of letters of administration—Subsequent production of letters.

The Court below, instead of staying a suit for production of the letters of administration, dismissed it giving liberty to the plff. to apply to have the dismissal set aside on obtaining letters. Subsequently the plaintiff obtained letters of administration and succeeded in setting aside the dismissal of the suit which was then tried and decreed. On an application in revision by defendant. Held, that the lower Court should have properly speaking stayed the further trial of the suit pending the production of the letters of administration, that the order of the lower Court was really a means of suspending the suit and at the same time discharging it from the list of suits on file, that the merits of the case were entirely in favour of the plaintiff and therefore the High Court would not interfere in revision. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KHUSHAL SINGJI v. UMAN SINGJI. 24 Bom. L. R. 738 : 70 I. C. 910 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 210.

———S. 151—Restoration—Execution case erroneously dismissed for default—Application for restoration headed as under O. 47, R. 1 and S. 151—Application is for restoration and not for review.

Where an application for restoration of an execution case wrongly dismissed for default was headed as an application under O. 47, R. 1 and also under S. 151, Held : the application was really one under S. 151 and hence no appeal lay. (Suhrawardy, J.) SARADINDU MUKERJI v. GIRISH CHANDRA TEWARI.

78 I. C. 816 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 184.

———S. 151—Restoration—Execution application—Dismissal for default.

Under S. 151, C. P. Code, a Court has inherent power to restore an application for execution which has been dismissed for default, if the applicant satisfies the court that such order is necessary in the ends of justice. Such an order is not appealable. Even viewed as an application for review of the order of dismissal for default, notice is not necessary for the opposite party (Scott-Smith, J.) ABDUL KARIM v. CHAUDHRI RAM SINGH. 69 I. C. 506 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 350.

———S. 151—Restoration of suit—Minor—Decree against, set aside—Effect of.

A decree passed against a minor was set aside in a subsequent suit on the ground that the minor was not properly represented in the prior suit and that his guardian ad-litem had not consented to act as such. After the decree in the subsequent suit the court below purported to restore the prior suit and revive it in the exercise of its inherent powers. Held, that the court had no inherent power to re-open the suit. 10 L. W. 471 ; 39 A. 8 ; 5 L. W. 482 Ref. (Spencer, J.) ARUMUGA GOUNDAN v. PERIANANJIAPPA GOUNDAN 46 M.L.J. 348 : 19 L. W. 233 : (1924) M. W. N. 289 : 78 I.C. 76 : 34 M. L. T. (H. C.) 94 : A. I. R. 1924 M. 489 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Restoration.

——— S. 151—Restoration—Dismissal of execution application for default.

The executing court has inherent power to restore to file an application for execution dismissed for default and thereupon the attachment revives. 35 A. 331 ; 45 B. 648 Ref. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHANKER RAO v. MANIK RAO. 68 I. C. 643 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 18.

——— S. 151—Restoration—Execution application—Dismissed for default.

A Court has inherent jurisdiction under S.151, C. P. Code, to restore to the file, an application for execution which has been dismissed for default if it is necessary in the interests of justice and to prevent abuse of process of Court. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HARLAL v. NARAYAN. 18 N. L. R. 152 : 4 N. L. J. 118 : 64 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267.

——— S. 151—Restoration.

Strong grounds would be required to justify an application under S. 151 for the restoration of an execution application. (Ashworth, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) NAGESHWAR PRASAD v. JAI NARAIN. 73 I. C. 73 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 201 (2).

——— S.151—Restoration—Inherent power of court—Execution of decree—Application dismissed in default—Restoration without notice to judgment-debtor.

An order restoring an execution application dismissed for default without issuing notice the judgment-debtor and without examining the merits cannot be maintained. In restoring an application for execution of decree dismissed in default the Court should specifically state under what section of the law the order is made. A Court acting under S.151 of the Code of Civil Procedure must state in what manner the ends of justice require the revival of the proceedings. It must satisfy itself that as strong grounds exist for acting under S. 151, C. P. Code as would be required on an application for review. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) SITAPAT RAM v. LAL MAHABIR PRASAD. 1 O. W. N. 747 : 87 I. C. 438.

——— Ss. 151, 148, 149 and 114 and O. 47, R. 1—Restoration—Deficit Court-fee not paid due to treachery of pleader's clerk—Plaint rejected—Application to restore, lies.

If the statute says that a thing should not be done, S. 151 cannot vest the Court with the power to direct that it should be done ; but when and where there is doubt and difficulty in applying the other provisions of the Code to the facts of a particular case,S. 151 would apply. The deficit court-fee demanded by the Court was paid by the plaintiff to the pleader who handed it to his clerk to put it in Court. The clerk mis-appropriated the money and filed bogus applications for time to pay the deficit Court-fee with the result that the Court,being tired of such applications ultimately rejected the plaint. The plaintiff coming to know of the result of the suit and the deceitful conduct of the clerk filed an application in Court for revocation of the order rejecting the plaint and for restoration of the suit to its original file. Held, the suit must be restored to file. After having paid the money to a duly constituted agent and an officer of the Court under the Legal Practitioners Act and the rules of the High Court. Whose duty it was to deposit it in court the responsibility of the plaintiff ceased until he was informed of the default made by the pleader or his clerk. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ADIT PRASAD SINGH v. RAMHARUKH AHIR. 4 Pat. 180 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 147 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 435 (2).

——— S. 151 and O. 9, R. 9—Restoration—Dismissal for default.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Scope of.

That there is an inherent power in the Court to set aside a dismissal for default has been repeatedly held. The power may be exercised where the claim is a substantial claim and would be barred by limitation, if the suit was not restored. (Ross, J.) RAM NARAIN v. RAMDHAN SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 647 : 72 I. C. 668 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 280 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 274.

——— S. 151—Restoration of appeal dismissed for default—Laches of advocate or careless mistake of his clerk.

The High Court refused to exercise its inherent power to restore an appeal dismissed for default, on the ground of laches of advocate of careless mistake of his clerk. (Pratt, J.) MAUNG THAN v. ZAMIAT BIBI AND ONE. 3 Rang. 488.

Review.

——— S. 151—Review—Inherent power.

A Court has no inherent power to review a decree which was perfectly valid when it was passed. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) NATHU MAL v. RAGHUBIR SINGH. L. R. 6 All. 569 : 89 I. C. 946 : 23 A. L. J. 1029.

——— S. 151—Review—Inherent powers—Dismissal of suit for non-payment of Court-fee—No power to restore.

The Court has power to review its order rejecting the petition under O. 7, R. 11. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMESHWARDHARISINGH v. SADHU SARENSINGH. 2 P. 504 : 72 I. C. 629 : 4 Pat L. T. 261 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 354.

——— S. 151—Review applied for instead of setting aside of ex parte decree—Court can admit.

Court can admit in the exercise of inherent power an application for review though the proper remedy would have been to apply to have the Judgment set aside as having been passed ex parte. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG SAN TIN v. MA PHET PU. 2 Rang. 659 : 85 I. C. 284 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 192.

Scope of.

——— S. 151—Scope of—Abortive proceeding in lower Court.

High Court has power not merely to set aside abortive proceeding in lower Court but to pass such order as the Court ought to have passed itself, and can if the matter be referred back, still pass. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) BALGOBIND v. SHEO KUMAR. 22 A. L. J. 791 : L. R. 5 A. Civ. 545 : 82 I. C. 184 : 46 All. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 818 (2).

——— S. 151—Scope of—Inherent power—Scope of—Other remedy open under the Code—Inherent power not to be invoked.

S. 151, C. P. Code, declares the existence of an inherent jurisdiction in all Courts to go beyond the law of procedure in the ends of Justice. But S. 151 does not lay down, and could not lay down that a Court may act in defiance of the law of procedure. A judge is bound by the Code of Procedure and the law of limitation. Where the Code of Civil Procedure is silent it is possible and frequently desirable to apply the provisions of S. 151. But the following qualification should always be applied. S. 151 cannot be applied where the rule of procedure is already laid down, and where owing to the appellant's laxity they waited until it was too late to apply under that rule, and endeavour to obtain the relief they desire by ignoring the specific provisions of the law. (Stuart, J.) JOSHI SHIB PRAKASH v. JHINGURIA. 46 All. 144 : 78 I. C. 416 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 446.

——— S. 151—Scope of—Not to be used to evade law.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Scope of.

S. 151, C. P. Code, is intended for exceptional cases for which there is no remedy except the Court's inherent powers. It is not intended to enable courts to evade or ignore the provisions of law which govern procedure. Where after passing a decree, a court suo motu set aside its own decree on the ground it had discovered some documentary evidence on the record, the procedure is illegal, (Daniels, J.) MAHADEO v. KALLOO. 21 A. L. J. 447 : L.R. 4 A. 365 : 73 I.C. 494 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 603 (1).

——S. 151—Scope of—Summoning a witness before a private person.

To summon a private citizen to give evidence before another private citizen is not within the inherent jurisdiction of a Court. (Martin, J.) MACKINTOSH AND CO. v. SCINDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO. 24 Bom. L. R. 853 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 444.

——S. 151—Scope of—Powers under S. 151 should not be invoked when there is express provision for review in the Code—Civ. Pro. Code, O. 47. R. 1.

Where the power under O. 47, R. 1 is granted by the Code itself it is not necessary to invoke the inherent powers of the Court under S. 151, Civ. Pro. Code. The powers exercisable under these respective provisions are not mutually exclusive. (Mukerjee, J.) PROBHAS KUMAR GANGULI v. NITHAR LAL GANGULI. 28 C. W. N. 928 : 84 I. C. 278 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1054.

——S. 151—Scope of—Inherent power of court.

The doctrine of inherent power has no scope for application where there is express statutory provisions on the point in controversy, (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF KAHNA MAL TANARSI DASS v. KAHUMMAL NATHUMAL. 40 P. L. R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 718 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70.

——S. 151—Scope of—Exercise of powers under—Discretion—Order not revisable.

The exercise of powers under S. 151, C. P. Code is purely discretionary with a Court and if the learned subordinate Judge refused to exercise these powers their non-exercise is not a ground for revision. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE PUNJAB BANKING COMPANY v. DIVAN DHANPAT RAI. 75 I. C. 487 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 506 (2).

——S. 151—Scope of—Extension of limitation—Power of Court.

S. 151, C. P. Code must not be used to defeat the imperative provisions of S. 3 of the Limitation Act. (Chevis, J.) KHAIRATI v. UMAR DIN. 66 I. C. 270 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 266.

——S. 151—Scope of—Court may do what is fair and equitable in absence of express prohibition.

S. 151 would not enable the Court to act against any of the express provisions of the Code or the rules but where there is no express provision which prohibits a course or where it does not violate any of the rules there seems to be no reason why S. 151 should not be resorted to in order that the Court may do what in its opinion is fair and equitable, 33 C. 927 Ref. to (Case law discussed. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) PERURI SOORYAPRAKASAM v. P. I. MUNISWAMI CHETTI. 20 L. W. 175 : 84 I. C. 134 : 48 Mad. 494 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 42.

——S. 151—Scope of—Section not to be applied where specific provisions exists but is not availed of.

Where a Code declares the law on any matter specifically dealt with, the law must be ascertained by an interpretation of the language used by the legislature, for, the essence of a Code is to be exhaustive on such matters, 43 M. 94 Foll. 45 B. 648 dissent. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) KRISHNASWAMI NAIDU v. CHENGALROYA NAIDU. 45 M. L. J. 813 : 18 L. W. 870 : 33 M.L.T. 207 : 47 Mad. 171 : 76 I. C. 836 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 114.

——S. 151—Scope of.

The inherent powers of a court are not to be used in order to relieve a party from the consequences of his own mistakes or to enable him to evade the law of limitation. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) GANAPATHI MUDALIAR v. KRISHNAMACHARI. 43 M. L. J. 184 : 16 L. W. 178 : 31 M. L. T. 135 (H. C.) : (1922) M. W. N. 514 : 70 I. C. 743 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 417 (2).

——S. 151—Scope of—Inherent power—When can be invoked—Specific provision in the Code.

A Court cannot invoke its inherent jurisdiction where there is a provision in the Code which would meet the requirements of the case. (Baker, O. J. C.) MT. MULIA v. PARTAB. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 325.

——S. 151—Scope of—Power when exercised.

The power mentioned in S. 151, C.P. Code must be used very sparingly and only in the last resort, if only because of the great danger of mistake as to what the justice of a given case may be and the same result can here be achieved in accordance with the letter as well as the spirit of the law. By its very terms S. 151, C. P. Code does, in certain specified circumstances, nullify the clear and imperative provisions of the Code as well as those that are ambiguous or advisory, if any of the latter classes exist. The provisions which cannot be nullified by virtue of the power mentioned in that section are not those that are clear and imperative but only those whose operation in the particular case will not defeat the ends of justice or lead to abuse of the process of the court. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) DEBILAL v. KRISHNAJI. 5 N.L.J. 265 : 67 I. C. 296 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 125.

——S. 151—Scope of.

Under S. 151 a Court can apart from considerations of law, and equity, prevent abuse of its processes where the action of the decree-holder is likely to result in undue advantage to one party. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) YASIN ALI KHAN v. ALI BAHADUR. 10 O. L. J. 443 : 79 I. C. 685 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 230.

——S. 151—Scope of—Courts not entitled to contravene distinct provisions of law.

Held, that S. 151 of the C. P. Code was never meant to enable the Court to contravene a distinct provision of the law. (Daniels, J. C.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. SHEONATH SINGH. 64 I. C. 217 : 24 O. C. 215

——S. 151—Scope of—Court cannot do what is prohibited by the Code.

A Court has no inherent jurisdiction to do that which is prohibited by the Code. So it cannot set aside its own decree save under O. 20, R. 3. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMESWAR MAHTON v. LALA DWARKA PRASAD. 3 Pat. 778 : 84 I. C. 320 : 6 P. L. T. 309 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 36.

——S. 151—Scope of—Suit dismissed for default in absence of both parties owing to reorganisation of Courts and change of venue—Application to restore case filed out of time—Whether Court has power under S. 151, C. P. Code, where no ground available under S. 8, Limitation to excuse delay.

The provisions of S. 151, C. P. Code, cannot be invoked in cases in which a party has had a definite remedy open to him but has failed to resort to it within the time allowed by law and so has lost it. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) MRS. S. G. M. SAMSON v. SILVARAN. 3 Bur. L. J. 47 : 82 I.C. 418 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 274.

——S. 151—Scope of—Except in very exceptional circumstances no sale by court should be set aside suo motu without proof of substantial injury.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 151—Stay of Execution.

The Court should not, except in very exceptional circumstances and when it is necessary in the ends of justice or to prevent a gross abuse of the process of the Court, set aside a sale suo motu without proof of substantial injury to any party, especially when the legislature has made it incumbent on a party interested in setting aside a sale to prove that the irregularity or fraud complained of by him has resulted in substantial injury. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) RUSTOMJI CURSETJI v. PEROZSHAH D. MINVALA. 18 S. L. R. 130 : 86 I. C. 1045 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 253.

Stay of execution.

——S. 151—Stay of execution—Inherent powers—Exercise of.

The inherent power of the High Court to make an order staying execution should not be exercised in a case where such an order would merely impede the execution of the final decree without any good and sufficient cause. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) FITZHOLMES v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA. 89 I. C. 588.

——S. 151—Stay of execution—Fraud—No suit pending—Power of executing Courts.

The executing court has no power to stay the execution under O. 21, R. 29, if at that time no suit is pending before it against the decree-holder on the part of the judgment-debtor, but the court has an inherent power under S. 151 of the C. P. Code to stay execution on the ground that the ex parte decree was obtained by fraud. (Scott-Smith, J.) P. W. FITZHOLMS v. WARYAM SINGH. 75 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 514.

——S. 151—Stay of execution—In absence of possibility of speedy decay or depreciation in value execution should be stayed until disposal of insolvency application.

Where property under attachment is not liable to speedy decay or where it is not of such a nature that the delay in its sale would seriously depreciate its value, the Court should, in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction order stay of the execution proceeding till such time as the Insolvency Court either passes an order of adjudication or dismisses the application. (Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF LYON, LORD & CO. v. FIRM OF VIRBHANDAS RUTTEN CHAND. 76 I. C. 380 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 69.

Substitution of parties.

——S. 151 and O. 1, R. 10—Substitution of parties—Appeal—Abatement.

A suit was brought by a firm against three other firms but the names of the members of the firm were disclosed. Pending an appeal one of the members of the plff. firm died and his three sons applied under O. 30, R. 4 (2) to be added as his legal representatives and parties appellants. Their application was dismissed as time-barred. and some time after the dismissal the surviving appellants applied to add the legal representatives as respondents. Held that the Court has inherent power to add the legal representative as respondent and to proceed with the appeal. 3 Pat. L. J. 409. Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) PULIN BEHARI ROY v. MAHENDRA CHANDRA GHOSAL. 67 I. C. 10 : 34 C. L. J. 405.

——S. 151—Substitution of parties—Power of appellate court to add parties—Circumscribed by O. 41, R. 20.

An appellate Court has power to implead only such persons as parties to the appeal as were parties in the trial court and were not made parties to the appeal but not those who were complete strangers to the suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 152.

Powers of a Court to implead parties under S. 151, C. P. Code are circumscribed by O. 41, R. 20 and it is only in exceptional circumstances that the inherent powers under S. 151 could be invoked. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. HALIMAN v. NUR MUHAMMAD KHAN. 73 I. C. 136 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 490.

Who can invoke.

——S. 151—Who can invoke—Plaintiff not clearly entitled to relief—Advancement of income cannot be granted.

In cases where the plaintiff is not clearly entitled to some relief in the suit, Courts will refuse to make an order for advancement of income. (Spencer, Offg. C. J. and Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) SYED YUSUF SAHEB v. SUBHAN BIBI. 48 M. L. J. 395 : 21 L. W. 308 : 86 I. C. 909 : (1925) M W. N. 109 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 443.

——S. 151—Who can invoke—Company—Representation—Defect in—Effect of decree or order.

Where a corporation or company is made a party to a proceeding but is not represented by a person having legal authority to do so and an order is passed adversely to it, it is competent to the proper officer to apply for vacating that order after hearing the person through whom the corporation or company can legally act. In such a case it cannot be said that the corporation or company is not a party simply because a wrong person represents it. It is open to a court to act under S. 151, C. P. Code, and set aside the order passed under the above circumstances and it is not necessary to proceed by way of separate suit. But a stranger to the litigation cannot intervene after the suit or proceedings are disposed of and claim the protection of S. 151 or appeal to the inherent powers of the court to do justice. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) PERUMAL MOOPAN v. VENKATACHARIAR. 42 M. L. J. 563 : 15 L. W. 586 : (1922) M. W. N. 268 : 31 M. L. T. 35 (H. C.) : 68 I. C. 910 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 193.

——S. 151—Who can invoke—Order for payment of amount sued for before decision of suit.

S 151, C. P. Code saves the Court's inherent power to make such order as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court, but there is no rule of law or equity which requires, in the interest of justice that a plaintiff suing to enforce a contract for the payment of money, where the claim is disputed should be awarded a portion of the amount claimed before his right has been established by the suit brought for that purpose. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) GOPAL SARAN NARAIN SINGH v. SITA DEVI. 2 Pat. L. R. 159 (Civ.) : 5 Pat. L. T. 560 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 290 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 69.

——Ss. 152 and 115—Court has jurisdiction to refuse amendment—Failure to exercise jurisdiction makes revision competent.

Under S. 152 of the C. P. Code, the Court has power, under the peculiar circumstances of any case, to refuse the application for amendment of decree, if it feels inclined to do so. The Court is not bound to grant the application in every case. On the judgment-debtor satisfying a mortgage decree in full, the case was struck off. Three years afterwards, the defendant applied for amendment of the decree. Held, that the Court could dismiss the application if it was inclined to do so. Held, further that the failure by the Court to exercise this jurisdiction on the ground of its non-existence, amounted to material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction, so that revision of its order was permissible.

Per Daniels, J.—When a decree for money has been finally satisfied and discharged, the Court is functus officio and can no longer entertain an application for amendment under S. 152 of the C. P. Code. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) PITAM LAL v. BALWANT SINGH. 23 A. L. J. 518 : 88 I. C. 396 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 423 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 556.

——S. 152—Correction of error is discretionary.

Under S. 152 of the C. P. Code there is no right in any party to have a clerical or arithmetical mistake corrected. The matter is left to the discretion of the Court and the discretion has to be exercised in view of the peculiar facts of each case. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) KISHORE MOHAN v. CHHANGA LAL. L. R. 5 A. Civ. 753 : 82 I. C. 1030 : 47 All. 44 : A. I. R. 1925 All, 187.

——S. 152—Clerical or arithmetical mistake—Mistakes in pleadings, etc.

A mistake in the final form of an order may well be due to an original mistake made by the party or his lawyer in making the application. That is not a reason for refusing to correct a mistake ; otherwise there should be no object in the legislature giving the Courts jurisdiction to correct mistakes. Mistakes of the kind which may be described as clerical, or due to an oversight between a decree nisi and a decree absolute, are in the majority of cases the mistake or slip of the party who sets the Court in motion. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) ALLAH DIA v. RAHIMUDDIN. 22 A. L. J. 215 : L. R. 5 A. 102 : 78 I. C. 166 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 520.

——S. 152—Mistake, error or omission—Calculation of amount due—Overlooking of order of Court.

In calculating the amount due on redemption, the office overlooked an order of Court directing the calculation up to date of payment, Held, it was a mere error or mistake under S. 152, C. P. Code and could be corrected at any time. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) BISHUN NARAIN v. MT. BIBI RAMJI. 74 I. C. 842 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 127.

——S. 152—Mistake in plaint.

Where an error has crept into the record of a case owing to the mis-description of the suit property in the plaint it is incumbent on the Court to correct the error in an application under S. 152, C. P. Code. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SURJAN SINGH v. WAZIR SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 328 : L. R. 4 A. 184 : 72 I. C. 483 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 349 (2).

——S. 152—Appellate Court can amend the decree of the First Court.

The decree of the lower Court merges into that of the App. Court and the two become one for the sake of execution. Therefore the App. Court can amend the errors if any in the lower Court's decree. (Tudball, J.) MAIKU LAL v. MULIAM SINGH. 19 A. L. J 375 : 62 I. C. 910 : 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 156.

——S. 152—Court sale under an order erroneously stating larger sum as due, cannot be set aside for the error.

When an error has been committed, it is always within the competency of the Court if nothing has intervened which would render it inexpedient or inequitable to do so, to correct the record in order to bring it into harmony with the order which the judge obviously meant to pronounce. Thus where a property is sold at a Court sale and made over to the auction purchaser, the Court which has ordered the sale, cannot set it aside under its inherent powers under

S. 152, on the ground that the sale was ordered by a mistake for a sum larger than what was due under the decree. Hatton v. Harris (1892) A. C. 547, Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) PANDURANG SHRIDHAR PATHAK v. NARHAR PANDURANG ATRE. 27 B. L. R. 657 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 389.

——S. 152—Amendment of decree—Decree passed against legal representative personally.

To pass a decree against the legal representative of the deceased defendant so as to make him personally liable is not competent to a Court to direct. When the attention of the Court is drawn to the error, even although it might be at a rather late stage of the proceedings there is no reason why on that account the mistake should not be remedied. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) JAYAVANT RAO NARAYAN v. NARSING SAKHARAM. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 414.

——S. 152—Decree — Amendment—Discretion—Variance between judgment and decree.

It is made obligatory on the court, if there is any variance between judgment and decree to bring them into conformity. The word " may " in S. 152 does not make it discretionary with the court to order the correction but merely enlarges the powers of the court by providing that such correction can be done at any time ; or in other words, the section simply emphasises that no lapse of time would disentitle the court to make the correction. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) CHANDRA KUMAR MUKHOPADHYA v. SUDHANSU BADANI. 28 C. W. N. 873 : 80 I. C. 55 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 895.

——S. 152—Decree not in accordance with judgment should be amended.

Where the decree was a personal decree but the judgment intended it to be in representative capacity (as heirs).

Held : amendment of decree must be allowed. (Zafar Ali, J.) CHANDA SINGH v. FATEH CHAND. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 621.

——S.152—Order of amendment—Not appealable.

Though an appeal can lie against an amended decree in the same way as against any other decree, there can be no appeal against an order amending a decree. The Court has power to amend clerical errors which had crept into a decree by following similar errors in the plaint, without causing the pleadings in which the errors first appeared to be amended. (Campbell, J.) ASA SINGH v. JAGIT SINGH. 73 I. C. 679 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 147 (2).

——S. 152 and O. 47, R. 7—Application.

Even though a Court purported to act under S. 102 on an application which challenged the whole system of calculation adopted by a Court, but there was no allegation that there was any arithmetical or clercial mistake, really the order is an order under O. 47, R. 7 of the Code and an appeal lies from it. (Wilberforce, J.) RAYJI LAL v. GIYANI. 3 Lah. L. J. 341 . 66 I. C. 992 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 54.

——S. 152—Court cannot amend where decree is in conformity with judgment though judgment is apparently wrong.

A Court has no power to amend a decree when it is in conformity with the judgment, not even if there is an error apparent on the face of the judgment. 60 I. C. 368 not Foll. 3 L. W. 499. Foll. (Hughes, J.) LAKSHMANA IYENGAR v. NARAYANA IYENGAR. 18 L.W. 876 : 33 M. L. T. 221 : 76 I. C. 786 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 225.

——S. 152—Amendment of decree—Discretion—Principles guiding—Intervention of rights of third parties action in good faith—Effect—Sale in execution of decree—Subsequent application for its amendment—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 152.

Parties—Purchase of necessary parties.

The exercise of the power to amend a decree under section 152 of the C. P. Code is discretionary and ought not to be exercised where an application to amend is made after the rights of third parties acting in good faith have intervened without those parties being made parties to the application. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA AYYAR v. BIYARI BIVI. 43 M.L.J. 559 : (1922) M.W.N. 731 : 16 L. W. 623 : 32 M. L. T. 98 : 69 I. C. 977 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 57.

——S. 152—Amendment of decree — Delay—No difference between decree and judgment—Time for review over.

Where the time for reviewing a judgment and decree is long past and there is no difference between the decree and judgment, the objection cannot be raised in a way to take advantage of S. 152 in the absence of clerical or arthimetical errors. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) MUNIYAPPA CHETTY v. MANGATHYAMMAL 15 L. W. 393 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 192.

——S.152—Clerical error—When to be corrected

A Court can correct a clerical error in a plaint in whatever subsequent record it is repeated by slip, or inadvertence or by mistake. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) MAHABOOB BEGUM v. LAL BEGUM. 62 I. C. 652 : 14 L. W. 445.

——Ss. 152 and 151—Amendment—Lapse of time.

Where the parties allowed a decree to be enforced for 6 years before attempting to amend it, it should not be amended, specially when there is no clerical or arithmetical mistake. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) RAJE UDAJIRAM v. RAJESHWAR. 67 I. C. 310 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 109.

——S. 152—Amendment refused to be considered on merits on ground of decree having been signed by party's pleader—Revision was allowed.

Where an application by judgment-debtor under C. P. Code, S. 152 on the ground that a certain sum incurred as expense in summoning witnesses, was wrongly included in the decree, because none of the witnesses appeared on behalf of the decree-holder was refused to be considered on its merits for the reason that the decree as prepared had been signed by the judgment-debtor's pleader. Held, that in so doing the Court failed to exercise jurisdiction vested in it by law. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEO BALAK v. AMBIKASAHAI. 12 O. L. J. 141 : 87 I. C. 333 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 373 (1).

——S. 152—Error in plaint—Description of property—When can be amended—Lapse of time—Effect.

S. 152 applies only to the correction of accidental slips or omission. If the error is made deliberately, a Court will not lend its aid to correcting the same. But even accidental errors will be not corrected if third parties have acquired rights under the judgment in the interval. Lapse of time has nothing to do with the question. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MATADIN v. SHEO DARSHAN. 11 O. L. J. 227 : 78 I. C. 96 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 408.

——S. 152—Mistakes in decree and judgment—Mistakes in plaint—Correction of.

Errors in judgments and decrees can be corrected at any moment ; and if those errors follow from clerical mistakes committed in the plaint or other proceedings it is open to the Court to ascertain by enquiry whether any accidental slip has occurred and to rectify it, if the real points at issue are not affected thereby. 12 A. L. J. 185 : 17 O.C. 256 Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) PAHALWAN SINGH v. GANGA BAKSH SINGH. 66 I. C. 693 : 8 O. L. J. 416.

——S. 152—"Court" meaning of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 153.

"Court" in S. 152 does not mean the particular presiding Judge who may have made the mistake but means the Court, whoever may be the presiding officer. (Das, J.) MEWA SAHU v. JHOUTI SINGH. 2 Pat. L. T. 296 : 63 I. C. 840.

——S. 152—Omission of one of the mortgage properties in plaint and decree—Power to correct exists.

By a mere oversight the plaint and the decree in a mortgage suit omitted one of the items in a mortgage document, though there was no dispute between the parties as to what was included. Held the error can be corrected under S. 152, C. P. Code. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG CHIT HLAING v. N. A. R. M. CHETTY. 74 I. C. 1020 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 104.

——S. 152—Appellate decree—Trial Court cannot amend—Notice.

Once a decree has been confirmed on appeal, it is merged in the appellate decree and the Trial Court has no longer any jurisdiction to amend that decree. Notice must be given to opposite party before amending a decree. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG YANGIN v. KATHARASAN CHETTY. 63 I. C. 799 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 1.

——S. 153, O. 6, R. 17—Plaint, amendment of suit for breach of contract—Limitation Act (1908), Art, 115.

The plff. sued in 1913 for specific performance of the verbal agreement made in 1912 by the defendant with him for transfer of certain land for oil wells in place of the first agreement of 1903 and when the court found the verbal agreement not proved, the plaintiff applied to amend the plaint by claiming damages for breach of the contract of 1903. Held, the amendment could not be allowed under S. 153 and O. 6, R. 17 and it was not open to the court to permit a new case to be made out. Held further ; the new case as made out was in any event barred under article 115 of the Limitation Act. (Lord Buckmaster.) MA SHWE MYA v. MAUNG MO HNAUNG. 24 Bom. L. R. 682 : 30 M. L. T. 28 : 48 I. A. 214: A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 249 (P. C.)

——S. 153—Overvaluing a suit to get round a previous decision is an abuse of the court.

Overvaluing the suit in order to get round a previous decision is an abuse of the process of the Court and the proper thing for the Court is to return the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) MOHAN LAL v. BHUTESWAR. L. R. 5 A. Civ. 709 : 83 I. C. 1 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 142.

——S.153—Court should allow parties to supply by way of amendment, signature to application—Civ. Pro Code, O. 6, R. 6.

Under S. 153 the Court is authorised to amend any defect or error in any proceeding in a suit. An application should be allowed to be signed by parties by way of amendment where their signature is necessary but has not originally been made. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) SANTI LAL v. RAJ NARAIN. L. R. 5 A. Civ. 565 : 82 I. C. 65 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 804.

——S. 153, O. 6, R. 7 and O. 21, R. 17—Application returned for amendment—No time fixed—Application, presentation of—Continuation or revival.

The preliminary decree for sale was passed on the 24th September 1915. It allowed time for the payment of the decretal money till the 24th March 1916. On the 11th December 1918, an application was made by the decree-holder for the preparation of a final decree for sale. On the 13th December 1918, the Court passed an order returning the application to the decree-holder for amendment without fixing any time for its presentation after amendment. On the 6th March 1918, the Court ordered that as the application had not been filed after amendment the papers should be consigned to record room. Held, the application presented after amendment must be treated as a continuation of the previous application and is an application for the continuation or revival of the same proceeding and it was not barred by time. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) KALLU MAL v. KASHI NATH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), S. 153.

20 A. L. J. 580 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 446.

——S. 153—Appellate Court—Arithmetical mistake or obvious error in plaint and decree—Duty to amend.

Where in a suit on a mortgage the name of the village in which the mortgaged property was situated was misdescribed and the mistake is discovered on appeal it is the duty of the appellate Court to allow an amendment of the plaint and thus rectify a clerical mistake. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BHAGIRITH SHUKUL v. CHANDRA HARIHAR PATTAK.

20 A. L. J. 159 : L. R. 3 A. 115 : 66 I. C. 208 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 31.

——S. 153 and O. 6, R. 17—Amendment of plaint—Power of Court after decree is made.

S. 153, C. P. Code allows the Court to give leave for amendment at any time in any proceeding in a suit, and O. 6, R. 17 says that the Court may allow such amendments at any stage of the proceedings. Prima facie this limits the Court to allow amendments in pleadings during the actual pendency of the suit and not after the decree has been actually drawn up and sealed. But when a decree is passed, if it is final, the original Court is, generally speaking, functus officio and the occasion for an amendment of pleadings cannot really arise. (Fawcett, J.) KISHEN PRASAD AND CO., LTD. v. FULLUMAL HIRALAL.

25 Bom. L. R. 888 : 77 I. C. 171 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 166.

——S. 153—Appeal against dead person—Cause title may be amended by inserting the name of respondent's legal representatives—Appeal is proceeding in a suit.

If an appeal is presented against a person who was dead at the date of presentation the Court may under S. 153 permit the cause title to be amended or may return the appeal memorandum for amendment and representation. Although the appeal may be incompetent owing to the wrong person being named as respondent, the Court which deals with it is acting in a proceeding in a suit and as such has full power under S. 153 to direct an amendment of the appeal memorandum. 1924 Mad. 56 Overruled. (Spencer, C. J. Kumaraswami Sastri and Krishnan, JJ.) GOPALAKRISHNAYYA v. A. LAKSHMANA RAO.

49 M. L. J. 590 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1210 (F. B.).

——S. 153 and O. 1, R. 10—Dead man—Appeal against—Addition of legal representatives is illegal.

The respondent whose name was entered in the cause title of an appeal died before its presentation and an application was made to substitute the names of his legal representatives in his place. Held that the application could not be sustained. The proper course for the appellant was to file another appeal against the legal representatives and to have the delay excused. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) GOVINDA KAVIRAJ PUROHITA v. GAURANGA SAW.

45 M. L. J. 231 : 18 L.W. 54 : (1923) M. W. N. 408 : 75 I. C. 739 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 56.

——S. 153—Scope.

Where the amendment was asked for, before any prejudice could have arisen and it would in the particular case have raised no new question of limitation, Held, the objection to amendment was groundless. (Oldfield and Venkatasubbarao, JJ.) C. GANPATHI MUDALIAR v. N. KRISHNAMACHARI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 1.

43 M. L. J. 184 : 16 L. W. 178 : (1922) M.W.N. 514 31 M. L. T. 135 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 417 (2)

——S. 153—Notice to opposite party necessary.

Amendment of sale certificate without notice to judgment-debtor is irregularity. (Devadoss, J.) YAGNASWAMI IYER v. CHIDAMPARANATHA MUDALIAR. (1922) M. W. N. 130 : 65 I. C. 732 : 16 L. W. 760 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63 (2).

——S. 153—Applicability—Dismissal order.

As the dismissal order was not an error or defect in the proceedings, S. 153 does not apply; the remedy for the aggrieved minors is to appeal against the order. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAMGHULAM SINGH v. SHEODEONARAIN SINGH. 1922 P. H. C. C. 5 : 3 Pat. L. T. 149 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 121.

——S. 155—Interlocutory orders—Orders, correctness of which can be challenged in appeal from the final decree are not revisable.

It is not usual to interfere in revision in the case of interlocutory orders against which though no appeal may lie their correctness can be challenged in an appeal against the final decree in the suit. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) BANOOBI v. YAKUBKHAN. 80 I. C. 375 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 108 (2).

——O. 1, R. 1.—See also C. P. CODE, S. 92.

——O. 1, R. 1—Receiver—Property in the possession of Receiver—Suit by real owner against creditor.

Where at the instance of the creditor of an insolvent certain property which the creditor alleged to belong to the insolvent was taken possession of by the Receiver, and on objection by the real owner, was restored to him and the real owner brought a suit against the creditor for damages and wrongful seizure, held, that the Receiver was not a necessary party and that the suit was maintainable. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BINDA PERSHAD v. RAM CHANDER.

43 All. 452 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 42 : 60 I. C. 821 : 19 A. L. J. 277.

——O. 1, R. 1—Suit for declaration that certain properties are debutter—Person interested in the worship can alone maintain.

Only a person interested in the worship of an idol, can maintain a suit for declaration that certain properties are the debutter properties of his ancestral idol. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) DAYAMANSI v. SANKAR NATH MUKHOPADHYAYA.

42 C. L. J. 30 : 87 I. C. 159 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 417.

——O. 1, R. 1—Co-sharer—Manager of a holding is sufficient party—Co-sharers need not be joined.

If the person recorded in the patwaris papers is the manager of the holding and usually pays the rent it is not necessary to implead all the co-sharers in the holding. (Hopkins, S. M. and Fremantle, J. M.) DATA PRASAD v. KANEZ FATIMA BIBI.

3 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 92.

——O 1, R. 1—Suit for rent by all co-sharers—One plaintiff subsequently compromising—Suit can proceed—Co-sharers.

Where a suit for rent at an enhanced rate was instituted by the whole body of co-sharer landlords, but subsequently one of the plaintiffs compromised the suit with the defendants: Held: that the nature of the suit as being one instituted by the whole body of the landlords, did not alter and that notwithstanding the compromise, it was maintainable. (Chakravarti, J.) DURLAW MANDAL v. HEM CHANDRA.

89 I. C. 177 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 188.

——Or. 1, R. 1—Addition of parties—Dominant owner need not make non-obstructing servient owners parties to suit for declaring right of way.

A dominant owner has no cause of action against servient owners who have neither caused obstruction nor raised any objection to the exercise of his right of easement. In a suit for declaration of his right of way he is not bound to make parties any servient owners other than those who have so obstructed or challenged his right. 19 C.W. N. 1211, Foll. (Mukerji, J.) DURGA RAM v. BHARAT RAM.

85 I. C. 739 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 92.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Suit to remove obstruction to easement—Non-obstructing servient owner is not necessary party.

In a suit for the removal of an obstruction to an easement, the servient owners who did not obstruct and consequently against whom no relief is sought are not necessary parties. "Servient owner," for the purpose of such suits is the owner who has raised objection to plaintiff's claim and does not refer to the owners of all the tenements subject to the easement. 25 C. W. N. 249, Dist. ; 19 C. W. N. 1211 Rel. on. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BHOLA NATH v. MOHESH CHANDRA. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1138.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Landlord and tenant.

The maintainability of a suit for possession by a landlord alone of lands which had been occupied by his tenants depends on the status of the tenants. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KALI PROSANNA v. HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI. 79 I. C. 1038 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 977.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Rent suit—Suit against tenant's heirs—Non-joinder.

In a suit for arrears of rent against only those heirs of a tenant who are in actual possession of the holding and for the period that they were in possession, the rest of the heirs are not necessary parties. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) MEAGAN MONDAL v. JOGENDRA NATH. 63 I. C. 949 : 48 Cal. 518.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Rent suit—Tenancy not represented in its entirety.

Where in a suit for arrears of rent, some of the tenants who are necessary parties are not before the Court, the plff. cannot get a decree against such of them as are before the Court. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) SURENDRA NATH v. AGHORE NATH. 62 I. C. 464 : 25 C. W. N. 525.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Co-plaintiffs—Joint appeal by plaintiff and defendant No. 2 against defendant No. 1, maintainable.

The trial Court dismissed the suit as against defendant No. 1 but decreed the claim in full as against the former defendant No. 2 on the ground that he had admitted the receipt of the consideration and had not contested the plaintiff's claim. The plaintiff and the defendant No. 2 preferred a joint appeal against this decree. Held that the rule contained in O. 1, R. 1, applies to appeals also and the joint appeal is maintainable. (Campbell and Motisagar, JJ.) BULAQI MAL v. ABDUL RAHIM. 75 I. C. 950 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 638.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Necessary parties—One deft. absent on field service—Suit involving land of the remaining defts. only—Dismissal.

The proprietor of a village sued to eject three persons who were brothers from Shamilat land. One brother being on field service, the plff. withdrew his claim as against him and reduced it to two-thirds of the land. The suit is not bad for non-joinder. (Scott-Smith, J.) BHURA v. MATU. 60 I. C. 6 (Lah.).

——— O. 1, R. 1—Suit against debtor—Liability of his transferee can be tried in the suit obiter.

The liability of a transferee of a debtor's liability is a question on which the Court can adjudicate without referring the plaintiff to a separate suit. (41 Cal. 137; and 3 All. 799) Ref. (Spencer, J.) MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR v. L. K. S. S. FIRM. 90 I. C. 721 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 135 (2).

——— O. 1, R. 1—Right to sue trespasser—If other co-owners necessary parties.

One co-owner can sue to eject a trespasser without joining the other co-owners parties to the action, provided the title of the others is not denied. (Krishnan and Ramesan, JJ.) PENDEKKALLU THIMMAYYA v. SIDDAPPA. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 63.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Necessary parties—Co-executors—Suit by some of them on behalf of the estate—Non-joinder of others—Objection by defendant—Second appeal—Addition of other parties if allowed.

Where several executors have been appointed under a will and have entered on their duties as such, it is not open to some of them to sue on behalf of the estate without impleading the others. If a defendant is sued by one only of two persons who have a cause of action against him, he has a right to have the action dismissed unless the other is joined. 6 Cal.815, Ref. to. Where in spite of the objection of the defendant in his written statement that the suit as constituted was bad for non-joinder of the other executors, the plaintiffs proceeded with the case without taking steps to add the other executors either in the trial Court or on appeal the High Court would not, on second appeal allow the addition of the necessary parties. (Schwabe, C.J. and Wallace, J.) MOHANAVELU MUDALIAR v. ANNAMALAI MUDALIAR. 44 M. L. J. 249 : 17 L. W. 241 : 72 I. C. 63 : (1923) M. W. N. 89 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 337.

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 and 3—Co-plaintiffs—Different causes of action—Joinder of—All defendants not interested in relief—Effect of.

The effect of the change of language of O. 1, Rr. 1 and 3 of the new C. P. Code is to permit different causes of action to be joined even in respect of several plaintiffs or defendants provided they satisfy the conditions of O. I, R. 1 or O. 1, R. 3 as the case may be. (Ramesam, JJ.) ALLU RAMALINGIER v. SUBRAMANIA PILLAI. 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 46 : 17 L. W. 25 : 69 I. C. 402 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 331 (2).

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 to 3—Registration suit—Minor executants whether parties.

When a document purports to be executed by certain persons it is essential that those persons even though they are minors should be brought on record in a suit to enforce registration so as to make the proceedings binding upon them in so far as the proceedings have been conducted bona fide by their guardians. They are clearly necessary parties to such a suit. (Phillips and Dravadoss, JJ.) N. APPALACHARYULU v. N. RAMCHANDRACHARYULU. 16 L. W. 287 : 68 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1923 Mda. 81.

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 and 2—Co-plaintiffs—Alternative relief—Suit by two sets of plaintiffs.

Where the plffs. 1 and 2 claimed the entire subject-matter and their sisters plffs. 3 and 4 claimed a portion of the subject-matter of the suit in a certain contingency and the suit was prayed on the ground that the defendant was unlawfully detaining the moneys due to the plaintiffs. Held, that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. The right to relief claimed was in respect of or arose out of the same act i.e. the act of the unlawful detention of the moneys by the defendant. The right to relief was alleged to exist in the alternative in the first or second set of plffs. in regard to a portion of such relief. There was a common question of fact to be tried and decided, the unlawful withholding of the moneys. The case therefore fell within O. 1, Rr. 1 and 2, C. P. Code. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) VELAPPA NADAR v. CHIDAMBARA NADAR. 43 M. L. J. 277 : 16 L. W. 186 : (1922) M. W. N. 316 : 70 I. C. 684 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 174.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Creditor of manager of joint Hindu family suing after manager's death—All members must be impleaded in the suit if family property is to be bound by the decree—Hindu Law—Debts by manager.

A creditor advancing money to the manager of a Hindu family and suing for the money after his death must join all the members as parties to the suit if he desires to bind the family property or the persons in possession of the property. If he impleads some members only in the suit, it is not open to him to have the other members joined in execution proceedings. (Baker, J. C.) PESTONJI v. GANPAT. 8 N. L. J. 73 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 288.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Reversioner's suit—Co-plaintiffs—Joinder of parties.

Where in a suit by reversioners the 2nd plaintiff was joined as a co-plaintiff in fear that the 1st plaintiff's right as nearest reversioner would be questioned; held, that the suit is not bad for misjoinder of plaintiffs and the plaintiffs could not be made to elect which of them should proceed with the suit. (Batten, A. J. C.) SHANKAR v. SONOO. 63 I. C. 419 : 4 N. L. J. 58.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Refusal to join as co-plaintiff—The person may be joined as co-defendant.

Where it is impossible to make a person join as co-plaintiff all that can be done is to make him a co-defendant. (Pullan, A. J. C.) INDAR PAL SINGH v. RAMESHWAR BAKSH SINGH. 80 I. C. 285 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 71.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Ejectment suit—Persons in actual physical possession are necessary parties—Persons only receiving rents are not.

In a suit for ejectment all persons who are actually in physical possession of the property should be made defendants. It is neither necessary nor proper to join any person who is merely in receipt of the rents and profits of the land. 21 B. 229; 6 P. L. J. 604 Ref. (Ross, J.) POONIT SINGH v. KAMAL SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 172.

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 and 3—Co-plaintiffs—Causes of action.

The claim of the plaintiff No. 1 was based upon an agreement alleged to have been entered into by and between the defendants Nos. 3 and 20 and himself for sale of a land and colliery. The claim of the plaintiff No. 2 was based upon the purchase of September 1919 from the defendants Nos. 10 to 20. The plaintiff No. 1 had absolutely nothing to do with the claim of the plaintiff No. 2 so far as the possession and partition of the plaintiff No. 2's share was concerned. Similarly the plaintiff No. 2 has no concern with the relief claimed by the plaintiff No. 1. If the two plaintiffs had brought the suits separately there would not be any question of law or fact which would be common to the suits. The rights to the reliefs claimed by the two plaintiffs did not arise out of the same act or transaction, or series of acts or transactions. Held that the joinder of the two plaintiffs and the causes of action alleged by them was not authorised by any law or principle. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMJAS AGARWALLA v. LINTON MOLESWORTH & CO., LTD. 73 I.C. 71 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 411.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Co-suit for partition— Co-sharer vendor not necessary party.

In a suit for partition by transferee the co-sharers who transfer their interest are proper but not necessary parties. (Coutts and Dass, JJ.) NANDEKSHWAR v. SUDARSHAN. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 162.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Necessary parties—Transferee pendente lite is not such.

In a suit for setting aside an alienation of properties belonging to a religious endowment a person to whom plaintiff had conveyed a portion of the properties at a time when he had neither title nor cause of action to sue, need not be joined as co-plaintiff in the action. Nor is a transferee pendente lite a necessary party to the suit. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHANT RAMRUP v. LAL CHAND MARWARI. 1 Pat. 475 : 3 Pat. L. T. 352 : 67 I. C. 401 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 243.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Necessary party—Remote interest.

As a general rule a person who is only indirectly or remotely interested in the subject-matter of the suit need not be made a party thereto. (Jwala Prasad, J.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. AKAL KOER. 59 I. C. 292 (P.).

——— O. 1, R. 1—Suit by one co-trustee for rents is tenable.

The action of only one co-trustee in trying to recover the rent due to the trust is not unreasonable even when the other co-trustee is not taking part in it. (Po Han, J.) MA SE v. U LUN. 2 Bur. L. J. 266 : 83 I. C. 329 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 201.

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 and 3—Advocate-General is proper though not necessary party to suit to set aside trust.

The Advocate General is a proper party though not a necessary party to a suit for a declaration that a bequest for charity of property is void, and for injunction restraining the trustees from spending the income of the property. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) SHAMBAI v. GOVERDHAN. 78 I. C. 249 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 195.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Partners in a firm or joint promisees—Cause of action accruing to all jointly—All must join as plaintiffs.

A suit cannot be maintained by one only of the partners of a firm or by one of the joint promisees in respect of a cause of action which has accrued to all jointly. 1 All. 453 : 14 All. 524, Foll. (Kennedy, Rupchand and Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) RALLIRAM SHEWARAM v. FIRM OF BUDHU RAN PARMANAND. 17 S. L. R. 324 : 79 I. C. 914 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 181.

——— O. 1, Rr. 1 and 3—Scope.

In a suit by a firm all the partners must be joined, because the cause of action vests in them jointly. (Kemp, A. J. C.) FIRM MANGHOOMAL v. FIRM ARATMAL. 15 S. L. R. 152 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 13.

——— O. 1, R. 1—Receiver—Partnership—Receiver, whether necessary party—Suit against partnership.

A Receiver, appointed in a suit for dissolution of partnership is not a necessary party in a suit by a third person against the partnership. The test is to see whether the object of the suit is to interfere with the possession of the Receiver or the jurisdiction of the Court appointing him. (Raymond, A. J. C.) ASUDAMAL DWARKA DAS v. CHOITHRAM GOPAL DAS. 60 I. C. 273 : 14 S. L. R. 171.

——— O. 1, R. 2—Interlocutory order—Misjoinder of causes of action—Revision—Interference.

The High Court will in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction interfere when the lower court has wrongly held a suit as bad for misjoinder of causes of action and directed him to elect which cause of action he would proceed with in the suit. 5 L. W. 207 : 6 L. W. 9 ; 42 M. L. J. 97 Foll. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR. 43 M. L. J. 218 ;

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 2.

16 L. W. 175 : (1922) M. W. N. 453 : 69 I. C. 966 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436.

——O. 1, R. 2—Non-joinder—Sufficient representation—Suit not to fail.

The plaintiff in a mortgage suit is bound to bring every person interested in the mortgage or in the equity of redemption upon the record it is obvious that there is sufficient representation of the members of the joint family, although all are not on the record, the plaintiff's suit cannot fail. 1921 P. H. C. C. 289 ; 6 P. L. J. 640, Foll. (Jwala Prasad, C. J. and Das, J.) SHEIKH ABDUL RAHMAN v. SHIB LAL SAHU. 1922 P. H. C. C. 81 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 252.

——O. 1, Rr. 3 and 5—Landlord and tenant—Occupancy holding—Suit between rival claimants—Landlord if necessary party.

The landlord is not a necessary party to a suit between rival claimants to an occupancy holding, one of whom is the mortgagor and the other is a successor to the mortgagee who took a usufructuary mortgage, who (the rival claimant) somehow got his name entered in the village papers as occupancy-holder, to which proceeding the mortgagor was not a party. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) MT. DURGA DEVI v. GIRWAR SINGH. 70 I. C. 958 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 11 (2).

——O. 1, R. 3—Mortgage suit—Stranger to mortgage claiming by title paramount impleaded—Misjoinder can be pleaded but on ground of inconvenience—Correct view is to see if case comes under R. 3.

Per Sanderson, C. J.—Speaking generally, it may be said that a suit to enforce a mortgage in which the adverse claims of persons not privy to the mortgage and setting up a title paramount to that of the mortgagor and the mortgagee are sought to be investigated, is open to objection on the ground of misjoinder and inconvenience, 38 All. 488 (P. C.), Foll. The question, however, is not one of jurisdiction, and at most the misjoinder is an irregularity or inconvenience.

Per Rankin, J.—The correct view in the matter is to ask whether the case does or does not come under R. 3 of O. 1. If it comes under the rule, the question of misjoinder can be raised on the ground of inconvenience but not as a matter of law. There is however need for a high degree of caution before permitting questions of paramount title to be investigated in a mortgage suit. Both as to competence and convenience there will generally be much to consider. 33 Cal. 425 and 20 C. W. N. 1279 Dist. (Sanderson, C. J. and Rankin, J.) BHUBAN MOHON v. CO-OPERATIVE BANK. 29 C. W. N. 784 : 88 I. C. 866 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 973.

——O. 1, R. 3—Landlord and tenant.

In a suit for possession the tenants in occupation of the land need not necessarily be joined as defendant. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KALI PROSANNA v. HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI. 79 I. C. 1038 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 977.

——O. 1, R. 3—Multifariousness—Suit for accounts and for negligence.

The plaintiffs brought a suit against the defendant No. 1, who was their cashier and defendant No. 3 who was the Sadar Naib. It was alleged that money was due by defendant No. 1 on account being taken against him that the Sadar Naib was responsible for any loss which the plaintiffs might have sustained through the action or omission of their cashier which loss had been occasioned by his negligence, his duty being amongst others to supervise the work and to sign the accounts of the Treasurer. Held, that the suit was bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) CHANDRA KUMAR BASU v. SASHI MUKHI DEBI. 71 I.C. 324 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 511.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 3.

——O. 1, R. 3—Suit for compensation—Parties.

It cannot be disputed that, as a general rule, where a person claims a right of easement on a servient tenement all the owners of the servient tenement ought to be made parties, as any decree in the absence of a necessary party declaring a right of easement would be infructuous. But there are cases which may well be taken as exception to the general rule, such as where any of the co-sharers took no part in obstructing the plaintiff's right. (Ghose, J.) AMRITANATH BISWAS v. JOGENDRA CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 369.

——O. 1, R. 3—Multifariousness—Cause of action against some of the defendants arising out of the jurisdiction—Effect of.

The plaintiff had distinct and separate causes of action against the first and second defendants. The cause of action against the first defendant arose within the jurisdiction and that against the second defendant arose outside the jurisdiction of the Court in which plaintiff sued both the first and second defendants. Held, that the Court had no jurisdiction to try the suit as against the second defendant and that the joinder of both the defendants in the same suit was not permitted by O. 1, R. 3, C. P. Code. O. 1, R. 3, C. P. Code, relates to a joinder of parties and it assumes the existence of a suit in a proper forum, the Court having jurisdiction to try the suit. If the Court has such jurisdiction, then O.1, R. 3 might come into play. (Woodroffe and Richardson, JJ.) B. N. W. RY. CO. v. SADARAM BRAIRODAN. 49 Cal. 895 : 27 C. W. N. 82 : 70 I. C. 229 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 500.

——O. 1, R. 3—Joinder of parties and causes of action.

A suit is not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action if the right to relief against the defendants arises out of the same transaction and a common question of fact would arise, if separate actions had been brought. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) KRISHNA JIBAN v. MAHAMMAD. 63 I. C. 244 : 33 C. L. J. 369.

——O. 1, R. 3—Non-joinder of legal representative.

Non-joinder of respondent's legal representative, when the question in appeal is as to apportionment as between the plaintiffs, of the costs decreed to them, vitiates appeal. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) MT. TEHL KUAR v. AMAR NATH. 17 P. W. R. 1923 : 79 I. C. 670 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 2.

——O. 1, R. 3—Suit to set aside alienation—Several alienations.

O. 1, R. 3 is very wide and even if there is only one question common to all the cases that is sufficient to justify a joint trial. Where in a suit for a declaration that certain alienations shall not affect the plaintiff's reversionary rights, the plaintiff impleaded all the alienees as defendants, held, that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) JIWAN SINGH v. GARBHA SINGH. 59 I. C. 522 : 25 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 1, R. 3—Plaintiff aggrieved by decision of survey authorities that certain lands were not in plaintiff's village—Plaintiff suing against the decision and impleading as defendants persons in possession of different plots—Suit is not bad for multifariousness.

The survey authorities had decided that certain plots of land were not, as alleged by the plaintiff, within the boundaries of the village of which he was the proprietor. Held, that a suit filed against the decision of the survey authorities and in which the persons in possession of the different plots were joined as defendants, was not bad for multifariousness. It was the decision of the survey authorities that was the common cause of action. The same question in the case was whether plots in the possession of each defendant were or were not included in the village in question and a right of relief in respect of the same act or series of acts, viz., the decisions of the Survey authorities existed against them severally under O. 1, R. 3. If separate suits were brought the common question of fact would be whether the plots should be included in the village in question. (Odgers, J.) GOVINDA KRISHNA v. SRINIVASA RAMACHARLU.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 3.

49 M. L. J. 420 : (1925) M. W. N. 629 : 90 I. C. 748 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1237.

——0. 1, R. 3—Malabar Law—Maintenance suit on basis of teer deed—Karnavan is necessary party.

The children of the donees under a teer deed must also be included in the tavazhi. The karnavan of the tavazhi is a necessary party to a suit for maintenance based on the teer deed, (Ramesam, J.) PAPPI AMMA v. KUNHU. 21 L. W. 432 : 87 I. C. 198 : A.I. R. 1925 Mad. 761.

——0. 1, R. 3—Suit against manager of Hindu joint family on allegation of trespass—Defendant claiming property for his family—Suit binds other members.

Where in a suit the plaintiff contends that the defendant has wrongfully encroached on his land and the defendant who is the manager of a joint Hindu family contends that the land is his family property the suit cannot be said to be brought on a trespass pure and simple. If the defendant as manager of the joint family put forward a title to the plaint-property and if it is found against him, the other members of the joint family are also bound. (Devadoss, J.) SUBBAMMA v. KURNAM DHANDRA BAYAMMA. 21 L. W. 300 : 86 I. C. 498 A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 640.

——0. 1, Rr. 3 and 9—De son tort—Suit against—Legal representative as party to suit.

Where an executor de son tort takes possession of all the assets of the deceased, a suit for general administration can be filed without joining the legal representatives and in cases where he takes possession of only a part of the assets he can be made accountable for the part he actually took possession of, without joining the legal representatives. But where administration is sought for the entire estate in cases where the executor de son tort has taken possession of only a part, the legal representatives would also have to be added. (Schwabe, C.J. and Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF BHADRACHALLAM v. SRI RAJA VENKATADRI APPA ROW.
43 M. L. J. 486: (1922) M W. N. 532 : 31 M. L. T. 221 (H. C.) : 16 L. W. 369 : 46 M. 190 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 457 (F. B.).

——0. 1, Rr. 3 to 10—Joinder of parties—Creditors.

Creditors are proper parties to a suit by sons against a Hindu father for partition and for declaration that the debts contracted by the father were not valid and binding on the family. (Oldfield aud Ramesam, JJ.) SHANMUKA NADAN v. ARUNACHALAM.
42 M. L. J. 97 : 14 L. W. 642 : (1921) M. W. N. 799 : 30 M. L. T. 172 : 69 I. C. 961 : 45 M. 194 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 332.

——0. 1, Rr. 3 and 5—Misjoinder of causes of action—Suit for possession—Different persons in possession of different plots.

A plaintiff suing for recovery of possession of a single plot of land can join as defendants three different persons who claim to be in possession of three different portions of the property. The plaintiff is entitled only to claim the recovery of possession of his land as a whole and not in fragments and it matters little to him upon what grounds the different defendants in possession may seek to justify the wrongful dispossession of his property. 29 C. 871, Foll. (Batten, J. C.) LAXMI NARAYAN v. RAM RATAN.
19 N. L. R. 178 . 77 I.C. 761 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 55.

——0. 1, R. 3 and S. 99—Single suit against several defendants—Misjoinder—Effect of—Duty of appellate Court.

The lower Court consented to try a suit jointly against all the defendants and the plaintiff in course of time lost his opportunity by cause of limitation of bringing separate suits against the defendants. Held, that no party having been prejudiced by the joint trial, the appellate Court would not reverse the decree on account of misjoinder. It is for the reason of preventing injustice of such a character that S. 99, C. P. Code, has been enacted. (Dalal, J. C.) MANSADIN v. MANNU LAL. 27 O. C. 35 : A. I. R 1924 Oudh 337.

——0. 1, R. 3—All persons recorded as in possession of village are necessary parties to suit for declaration that entry in Survey Record is incorrect and for recovery of possession.

When a suit is filed for declaration that an entry in Survey Record of Rights of a village is incorrect and for recovery of possession if the plaintiff is held to be out of possession all persons found on the record as in possession of the village and as claiming title adverse to the plaintiff are necessary parties. (Jwala Prasad and Macpherson, JJ.) GOPAL OJHA v. RAMADHAR SINGH. 82 I. C. 204 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 228.

——0.1, R. 3—Execution proceedings—Judgment-debtor's property under Court of Wards—Manager, Court of Wards, not made party—Judgment-debtor is not properly represented.

If the property of the judgment-debtor is under the Court of Wards the ward (judgment-debtor) is not properly before the Court if the Manager of the Court of Wards is not made a party to the proceedings. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SIDDHESWARI PRASAD NARAIN SINGH v. MT. DULHIN RADHA DULAIN KUAR.
6 P. L T. 164 : 80 I. C. 716 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 160.

——0. 1, R. 3—Suit not bad for misjoinder of parties.

In a suit for partnership accounts, the plaintiff added defendant 3, whom he did not recognise as partner, but who was alleged to be a partner by defendant No. 1 in a previous litigation. Held, the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) K. V. LIMAYA v. J. K. WATNE.
1923 P. H. C. C. 276 : 76 I. C. 950 : 2 P. L. R. 132 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 65.

——0. 1, R. 8—Notice—Omission to issue notice and advertisement—Effect.

The Court in granting permission to sue two plaintiffs on behalf of all the residents of a locality directed the plffs. to advertise and give notice to all the residents of the locality as regards the suit. But the notice and advertisement were not issued. Held, that (1) the omission to issue notice was not fatal to the suit and would not result in the dismissal of the suit ; (2) that the publication of notice was peremptory and must be complied with under O. 1, R. 8 (3) and that the case should be remanded to the trial Court for issuing of notice and retrial of the suit. (Banerji, Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHYAM LAL v. MT. LALLI.
44 A. 231 : 20 A. L. J. 73 : 65 I. C. 259 : L. R. 3 A. 75.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 8.

A. I. R. 1922 All. 16 (F. B.).

——O. 1, R. 8—Public right—Right of way for cattle.

A plff. suing for declaration on behalf of himself and other inhabitants of the village of their right to take their cattle through the jungle of another village cannot get a declaration unless leave of the Court obtained and proclamation issued as provided by R 8 of O. 1. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) LAL BAHADUR v. RAMESHWAR DAYAL. 43 All. 345 : 60 I. C. 990 : 19 A. L. J. 126.

——O. 1. R. 8—Leave to sue—Granted after suit —Representative suit.

The permission under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, may be given even after the filing of the suit. This is a matter analogous to the addition of powers and amendment of pleadings. Notice under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, is required to be given and the provisions of the Rule are mandatory. (Mulla, J.) NARIMAN v. MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF BOMBAY. 47 Bom. 809 : 25 Bom. L. R. 689 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 305.

——O. 1, R. 8—Notice—President of community when authorised cannot sue in his own name.

A president of a community authorised to file suits cannot sue in his own name and notice under O. 1, R. 8 to all the members of the community must be given. Permission also was necessary under R. 8. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ATMARAM v. NARAYAN. 23 Bom. L. R. 972 : 64 I. C. 555 : 46 Bom 132 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 109.

——O 1. R. 8—Permission granted for representative suit—Some of several representatives not joining in the suit—Fresh permission is necessary.

The general rule is that all persons interested in the subject-matter of a suit in respect of its object should be made parties, but in cases where there is a large class of individuals having the same interest, the Courts, for the sake of convenience, allow them to be represented by one or more of the class for himself and the others. When out of fifteen persons in whose favour permission was granted by the Court three did not join in the institution of the suit, held, the remaining twelve were not competent to take upon themselves the capacity with which the fifteen collectively were clothed. The remaining twelve were bound to bring the matter to the notice of the Court and it would have been for the Court to grant them a fresh permission or not, making the dissentient or non-prosecuting plaintiffs defendants to the action or taking such other steps as the Court thought just, safe and proper. (Mukerjee, J.) ABDUL HAKIM v. ABDUL GANI. 80 I. C. 26 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 547.

——O. 1, R. 8—Notice is not a mere matter of formality.

The issuing of a notice under the rule is not such a mere matter of formality as it is sometimes thought. The wording of O. 1, R. 8 shows that it is the duty of the Court to cause the service of the notice or the publication of the advertisement, on being moved for the purpose. The suit may not be dismissed on account of the failure of the Court to perform its own duty. 17 Cal. 906 Foll. (Mukerjee, J.) ABDUL HAKIM v. ABDUL GANI. 80 I. C 26 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 547.

——O. 1, R. 8—Leave of Court—Grant of—Form of.

It is not necessary that the leave of Court required under O. 1, R. 8 (1), C. P. Code, should be express. It is enough if it could be gathered from the proceedings. 21 C. 180 ; 29 C. 100, Ref. (Mukerjee, J.) KRISHNA KUMAR DEB v. ATUL CHANDRA GHOSE. 39 C. L. J. 612 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 998.

——O. 1, R. 8—Public right—Suit for declaration of public right of way—Nature of special damage.

A suit for a declaration that a certain pathway was public one, can be maintained with the permission of Court under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code. If permission is granted, recourse need not be had to S. 92 of the Code. Such a case is per se actionable proof of special damage. (Panton, J.) HARISH CHANDRA SAHA v. PRAN NATH CHAKRABARTHY. 69 I. C. 910 : 26 C. W. N. 587.

——O. 1, R. 8 and O. 22, R. 4—Some defendants allowed to represent whole body of defendants—Some non-appearing defendants dying during suit—Legal representatives not added—Suit abates.

An order passed under O. 1, R. 8 allowing some defendants to represent the whole body of defendants will not relieve the appellants from the necessity of impleading all those persons who were parties in the Court below and had obtained a decree in their favour, and the representatives of any of these persons who have died. The appeal will abate in toto, if the appellants do not bring the legal representatives of the latter on the record within the time prescribed by law. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 124 Rel. on. (Campbell and Moti Sagar, JJ.) SAMAIL v. HAJI. 89 I. C. 378 : A. I R. 1926 Lah. 31 (2).

——O. 1, R. 8—More than one plaintiff—Death of one does not necessitate fresh leave of Court if plaintiffs are self-constituted.

Where four persons sued on behalf of the proprietary body of a village for an injunction for the demolition of a building erected by the defendants, on a part of the common land, but one of the plaintiffs died while case was pending : Held, no fresh sanction of the Court was necessary to continue the suit by the remaining plaintiffs. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAM GOPAL v. HAR KISHAN. 7 Lah. L. J. 517 : 88 I. C. 478 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 598.

——O. 1, R. 8 and O. 22, R. 4—Representative suit —Death of some of the respondents—Omission to implead legal representatives—Abatement.

Where certain defendants were parties to the suit and the appeal in a representative capacity under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, and some of them impleaded as respondents in second appeal die during the pendency of the second appeal the appellants are not relieved from the necessity of impleading their legal representatives within the time prescribed by law. The omission to do so in time will cause an abatement of the suit. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) WALI MAHAMAD v. MAHLU. 6 Lah. L. J. 360 : 5 Lah. 429 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 124.

——O. 1, R. 8—All the members of the body on whose behalf the suit is sought to be instituted need not be of the same opinion.

The true principle underlying this rule is that the suit should in form be constituted into a representative suit merely to prevent the defendant from being vexed and molested, as he may well be, by similar suits by other persons of the body. For the application of this principle, it is really unnecessary to determine whether or not all the members of the body on whose behalf the suit is sought to be instituted are of the same opinion. The order only means this that all the members of the body on whose behalf the suit would, on the passing of the order, be constituted into a representative suit, would be prevented thereafter from instituting any proceedings on the cause of action alleged in the plaint : and such body being an indefinite body and the order being given only to sue in respect of all persons having the same interest, the order would have the effect only of preventing multiplicity of suits and would not be calculated in any manner or to any extent to prejudice the rights of any of the worshippers or of the defendant (Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) HAMEED LABBAI v. MAHAMAD. A. I.R. 1925 Mad. 985.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 8.

——O. 1. R 8—*Object of—Applicability—Conditions—Right to sue in original plaintiff and community of interest between him and members of the class—Suit in name of wrong plaintiff—Effect—O. 1, R. 10—Application of—Conditions—*Bona fide mistake in institution of suit—Necessity—Pleadings—Amendment of, by introducing case of fraud—When granted and when not.

The plaintiff describing himself as a creditor of a person who had been adjudicated an insolvent and whose estate was represented by the Official Assignee of Rangoon, sued for a declaration that a sale-deed executed by the Official Assignee in favour of the defendant was null and void. The defendant pleaded that the plaintiff was not a creditor of the insolvent and had no locus standi to maintain the suit. When the trial was about to commence, one K, who had all along represented the plaintiff, applied to be added as a plaintiff to obviate the technical objection raised by the defendant. Held, that if the plaintiff was not a creditor of the insolvent, the application was not sustainable under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code; that if the plaintiff was a creditor, the assumed necessity for the application did not exist and it equally failed; and that the application could not be allowed under O. 1, R. 10, as there was no allegation even that the suit was instituted originally in the name of a wrong person through a bona fide mistake. O. 1, R. 8; C. P. Code, presupposes the existence of a right of suit in the plaintiff who instituted the suit, and the community of interest between him and the others of the class is the pre-requisite necessary to enable him to represent the class. If the plaintiff turns out not to be a member of the class on whose behalf he professed to institute the suit the suit is not a representative suit and no member of the class is constructively a party to it. Quaere:—Whether O 1, R. 10, C. P. Code, applies to cases falling within O. 1, R. 8? On the same date on which the abovementioned application was made, another application was made by the original plaintiff for leave to amend his plaint by saying that the defendant was a benamidar for the insolvent and that the agent of the Official Assignee who conducted the sale on his behalf made a pretence of selling the property by public auction but really sold the property by private contract to the insolvent, the defendant being merely a benamidar for the insolvent. The materials, if any, which substantiated the allegations of fraud, thus sought to be added were not referred to in the affidavits filed in support of the application. Held, that in the circumstances and in view of the great delay in making the application from which want of bona fides might be inferred, the Court below was right in rejecting the application. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) KRISHNA AIYAR v. PACHAIYAPPA CHETTI.

47 M. L. J. 540 : (1924) M. W. N. 522 : 82 I. C. 492 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 883.

——O. 1, Rr. 8 and 10—Religious endowment—Addition of plaintiffs after decree is competent.

In a suit by three persons under S. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act, a decree for damages was passed in favour of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs neglected to execute the decree whereupon the Court added the trustees of the temple as plaintiffs to enable them to execute the decree. Held, that as the suit was brought by the plaintiffs in a representative capacity it was competent to the Court under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code to add parties even after the passing of a decree. 24 M. L. J. 192; 33 M. 483; 20 M. L. J. 546; 28 Mad. 319, Foll. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SWAMINATHA MUDALIAR v. KUMARASWAMI CHETTIAR.

44 M. L. J. 282 : 17 L. W. 422 : (1923) M. W. N. 239 : 72 I. C. 284 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 212 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad 472 (2).

——O. 1, R. 8—Communal property—Fluctuating body—Promise to pay money—Enforceability—Suit to enforce payment.

A person can make himself liable to a community (like the Vysia community of a particular place) by agreeing to pay a certain sum of money to it; and a suit to recover the sum may be brought by a member of that community with leave of Court obtained under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code. (Krishnan, J.) BUDAVARAM NARASIMHULU CHETTY v. NOOTA IBBUNDRUM NAGASAM VARU.

44 M. L. J. 240 : (1923) M. W. N. 237 : 72 I. C. 95 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 434.

——O. 1, R. 8—Religious endowment—Suit by worshippers—Sanction of Court—Necessity for.

With the permission of the Court when there are numerous persons having the same interest in the same suit one or more such persons may sue on behalf of or for the benefit of all persons so interested. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) RANGASWAMI v. KRISHNASWAMI.

44 M. L. J. 116 : 17 L. W. 147 : (1923) M. W. N. 84 (2) : 32 M. L. T. 133 : 71 I. C. 463 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 276 (2).

——O. 1, R. 8—Leave to sue—Caste dispute—Suit by some members—Sanction of majority.

Where numerous members of a caste seek to enforce rights as against strangers or as against certain other members of the caste, O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, applies to the case. It is not necessary for the persons asking for leave under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, to obtain formally beforehand the authority of those whom they are seeking to represent. Nor need they summon a caste meeting before bringing the suit. Per Napier J.: Semble—If the plaintiffs areunable to prove that they have got a support of the majority of the caste they cannot succeed in getting the relief which they seek. Such a plea may be taken in defence. (Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) SIVATHAL PERIYAVA NADAR v. NANA CHUNA VELMURUGA NADAR.

64 I. C. 618 : 30 M. L. T. (H. C.) 47.

——O. 1, R. 8—Communal property—Members of a community—Suit for declaration that property is waqf property.

It is competent to certain persons alleging themselves to be members of the Shia community to institute a suit for a declaration that certain property in the possession of the defendants is waqf property over which the defendants had no proprietary right. To such a suit the sanction of the Court under O. 1, R. 8, C. P. Code, is not required. 7 All. 188; 32 All. 631; 24 Ca. 385; 35 All 197, Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) SADIQ HUSAIN v. KHAN BAHADUR HAKIM MIRZA NAZIR HUSAIN KHAN.

9 O. L. J. 111 : 4 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 25 : 66 I. C. 90 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 1.

——O. 1, R. 8—Communal property——Waqf—Right of beneficiaries to sue—Remedies open to worshippers.

A beneficiary of a trust in respect of a Muhammadan waqf interested in the maintenance of a mosque or other charitable institution may, without having recourse to the provisions of R. 8, O. 1, C. P. Code, and without suing in a representative capacity on behalf of the other beneficiaries sue for recovery of possession of property wrongfully alienated by the trustee and for the incidental declaration that the subject of trust cannot be alienated. The trust property vests in God and the right of a Muhammadan who is entitled to use a mosque to bring a suit for the recovery of property belonging to it is comparable to a right of suit in respect of a private road which many persons have a right to use. Every Mussalman who derives any benefit from such a waqf is entitled to maintain an action against the mutwalli to establish his right thereto or against a trespasser to recover any portion of the waqf property which has been misappropriated, without joining any other person who may participate with him in the benefit. It is clear that if the mutwalli himself is the offender or if he is unwilling to act, the beneficiary must have the power to recover the property. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) MAULAVI MAHOMED FAHIMUL HUQ v. JAGAT BALLAV GHOSH. 2 Pat. 391 : 4 Pat. L. T. 675 : 74 I. C. 403 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 475.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 8.

——O. 1, R. 8—Scope of.

O. 1, R. 8 is merely permissive and is intended to provide a remedy for cases in which it might be difficult or impossible to implead all the persons it is sought to affect. But it does not bar a suit to establish a right possessed by an individual. (Robinson, O. C. J. and Macgregor, J.) SAKLAT v. BELLA. 63 I. C. 963 : 13 Bur. L. T. 183.

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder.

O. 1, R. 9, provides that no suit shall be defeated by reason of non-joinder of parties and the Court may, in every suit, deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it. The notion that a decree-holder can seize property which belongs to a stranger and hold it by reason, for exemple, of the fact that one of his judgment-debtors is keeping out of the way so as to prevent any possibility of service being effected upon him in the suit after an order of dismissal of the claim by the execution Court, is so contrary to one's sense of justice, that one would decline to accept it as being the law. The failure to join such a party is covered by O. 1, R. 9. (Walsh, J.) MT. MARYAM BIBI v. RAM DAS. 70 I. C. 613 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 404.

——O. 1, Rr. 9 and 10—Dismissal of suit—Necessary party not added after being required to do so.

Where a plaintiff is ordered to take a necessary step such as to add necessary parties and he refuses to do so the Court can dismiss the suit. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) BAGWATI PERSHAD v. BABULAL. 63 I. C. 548 (2) : 19 A. L. J. 525.

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder—Test of—Court not to travel beyond claim made in the suit.

In determining the question of non-joinder the Court must confine itself to the claim before it. The present deft. No. 2 had filed a suit against P. in which he obtained a decree against him. At that time the defence was that the present deft No. 1 had really paid rent to H. which was then claimed as being payable to P. but the defence was not believed and a decree was passed in favour of H. Thereafter the present plaintiff P. and his daughter, the mulgenidars of a Dewasthan, filed the present suit in the same Court to recover the rent that would be payable by deft. No. 1 to them. The Court found that the rent was due by deft. No. 1 to the plaintiffs and passed a decree against him. But as it appeared from the evidence that as a matter of fact deft. No. 1 paid this amount previously to H, the Court directed H to be joined as defendant No. 2 and after impleading him as a deft. the Court held that deft. No. 1 had paid the rent to deft. No. 2, and the ultimate decree was passed by the Court in favour of deft. No. 1 against deft. No. 2. Held, that the procedure of the lower

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 9.

Court was irregular : that the only question appropriate to the suit was whether deft. No. 1 was liable for the amount claimed by the plaintiffs ; and that the questions as between deft. No. 1 and deft. No. 2 were not appropriate to the suit. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) HARICHANDRA v. KUMMA VITHOBA. 24 Bom. L. R. 1318 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 454.

——O. 1, R. 9—Applicability to mortgage suits.

The provisions of O. 1, R. 9 apply to proceedings under O. 34, C. P. Code. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) KHERODAMYI DASI v. HABIB SHAHA. 29 C. W. N. 51 : 82 I. C. 638 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 152.

——O. 1, R. 9—Parties to suit—Persons interested in easement—Joinder of.

Where the plaintiffs sued for a declaration of their right to certain land as against the defendants who under a claim of easement were alleged to have obstructed plaintiffs in the enjoyment of the land : Held, that the contention that all persons interested in the right of easement were necessary parties to the suit was without substance. The cause of action on the pleadings was against those persons only who were alleged to have interfered with the plaintiff's right. 25 C. W. N. 249 ; 19 C. W. N. 1211 Ref. (Suhrawardy, and Graham, JJ.) SURJA NARAIN BERA v. CHANDRA BERA. 40 C. L. J. 74 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1050.

——O. 1, R. 9—Scope.

O. 1, R. 9, C. P. Code, applies to cases where there may be multiplicity of suits. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) SURJA NARAIN BERA v. CHANDRA BERA. 40 C. L. J. 74 : 84 I. C. 467 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1050.

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder—Effect—Form of decree.

If two parties contract with a third party, a suit by one of them making the other co-defendant, ought not to be dismissed, merely because the plaintiff has not proved that the defendant had refused to join as a co-plaintiff. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) KAMINI MOHAN BASU v. NIBARAN CHANDRA MITRA. 76 I. C. 577 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 506.

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder—Interested party not joined.

Where in a suit for a declaration of a right of way and for removal of an obstruction, the person interested in the servient tenement is not made a party, the Court cannot make a decree, as, a decree passed would be infructuous and in such a case the suit cannot be entertained in spite of O. 1, R. 9. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) HARAN SHEIKH v. RAMESH CHANDRA. 62 I. C. 425 : 25 C. W. N. 249.

——O. 1, Rr. 9, 10—Suit against two defendants—One of them dead at the time of institution—Procedure.

A suit was instituted against two persons, but it turned out that one of them was dead at the time the suit was filed. Held, the proper procedure was to strike off the name of the dead defendant and not to dismiss the suit. (Campbell, J.) FIRM PALA MAL NARAIN MAL v. FANJA SINGH. 89 I. C. 661.

——O. 1, R. 9—Dismissal of suit—Ejectment suit against persons jointly interested—Withdrawal against some—Effect of.

Where the proprietors of a village sued to eject three persons from a piece of land alleged to be shamilat and finding it difficult to serve one of them with notice of suit withdrew their claim as against that defendant, the trial Court passed a decree for two-thirds of the lands sued for. But the appellate Court dismissed the suit on the ground of the non-joinder. Held, in second appeal, that the claim having been expressly limited to the interests of the defendants on record the suit could not be dismissed on the ground of the non-joinder. (Scott-Smith, J.) BHURA v. MATU. 60 I. C. 6 (Lah.)

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder—Objection—Procedure.

As regards non-joinder, the objection as to procedure to be followed is disposed of by the application of the present S. 99 of the C. P. Code. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) THINA SHANMUGA MOOPPANAR v. SUBBAYYA MOOPANAR. 42 M. L. J. 133 : 70 I. C. 645 : 15 L. W. 283 : (1922) M, W. N. 106 : 31 M. L. T 266 : A I. R. 1922 Mad. 317.

——O. 1, R. 9—Misjoinder of plaintiffs.

Misjoinder of plaintiffs in a mortgage-suit, some of whom are not entitled to any relief, is a mere defect of form not fatal to the suit. 34 Bom. 358 Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) UDARAM v. GONDU. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 366.

——O. 1, R. 9 and S. 107 (2)—Non-joinder of parties to appeal making it impossible to deal with matter equitably and sufficiently—Non-joinder cannot be condoned.

O. 1, R. 9 read with S. 107 (2) will not permit the non-joinder of any party being condoned by an Appellate Court when such non-joinder makes it impossible to deal equitably and sufficiently with the matter in controversy between the parties to the appeal. Where one of several defendants appealed against a decree and took up a position calculated to enhance the liability of other defendants, held, that the non-joinder of the latter vitiated the appeal and that after the period of limitation had expired the appellant should not be allowed to join the other defendants. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) PARMESHWAR v. CHHAB NATH. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 606.

——O. 1, Rr. 9 and 10 — Dismissal of suit — Court's power to add parties.

A Court should not dismiss a suit for non-joinder of necessary parties but should add them, of its own motion, as parties to the suit or direct the plaintiff to do so. (Lyle, A. J. C.) GUR PRASAD v. MUHAMMAD TAQU. 63 I. C. 548 (1) : 8 O. L. J. 310.

——O. 1, R. 9—Suit by some of the servient owners only should not be dismissed.

A suit by some of several servient owners for a declaration that the defendants had no right to dig and take earth from plaintiff's land is not liable to be dismissed for non-joinder of the other servient owners and there is nothing to prevent the Court from adjudicating on the rights of the parties actually before it. 14 C. W. N. 15, Dist. (Ross, J.) BIKOO MAHTON v. NARAYAN SAH . A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 303.

——O. 1, Rr. 9 and 10 — Addition of parties—Necessary and proper parties — Distinction between limitation.

The Court cannot, by its decree, affect the rights of those who are not parties to the suit. If therefore no decree can be passed without affecting the rights of absent parties, the suit cannot proceed in their absence and should be dismissed. If, however, the rights of the parties actually before it can be determined in the suit bearing the rights and interest of others unaffected, there is no reason why, even if other parties might properly have been added, the Court should not determine the matters in controversy between the parties actually present. There is a distinction between necessary and proper parties to a suit. Two conditions must be satisfied in order that a defendant may be considered a necessary party, namely, first, there must be a right to some relief against him in respect of the matter involved in the suit and secondly, his presence is necessary in order to effectually and completely adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit. 16 C. L. J. 358 Rel. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick J.) SITAL PRASAD ROY v. ASHO SINGH. 1922 P. H. C. C. 326 : 2 Pat. 175 : 69 I. C. 677 : 4 Pat. L. T. 698 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 651.

——O. 1, R. 9—Necessary parties—Land recorded as Gairmazrua Am—Suit for declaration of title to—General public, not necessary parties.

A suit for declaration of title to land entered in the Survey Khatian as Gairmazrua Am is not bad for non-joinder of parties, if the general public are not made parties to it. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) BABU TRILOKE PRASAD SINGH v. LALA UMANAND LAL. 72 I. C. 634 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 447.

——O. 1, R. 9—Non-joinder.

The omission to implead a tenant in possession of a portion of the disputed land does not make the proceedings defective. (Ross, J.) RAMNARAIN v. DHONRAI GOPE. 3 P. L. T. 291 : A. I R. 1922 Pat. 371.

——O. 1, R. 9 Ejectment—Non-joinder of person under whom defendant claims title.

A Court is not incompetent to grant a decree to the plaintiff for possession as against the person in judicial possession of the property, even if for some reason the plaintiff does not choose to claim any relief as against the party who may have put the other party in actual possession. 21 Bom. 229, Foll. (Das and Adami, JJ.) BHAGWAT KUAR v. JAGDAM SAHAY, 3 P. L. T. 429 : A. I.R. 1922 Pat. 352.

——O. 1, R. 9—Partition suit—Grandsons not necessary but proper parties.

There is a distinction between the non-joinder of proper persons but not necessary parties and non-joinder of parties whose presence is essential. In a suit for partition in a joint Hindu family, the grandsons are not necessary parties and are represented by their own father. At the same time, they may be proper parties and, on an appeal, the appellate Court can direct the lower Court to bring them on record and give them separate allotments if they so desire. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DIGAMBAR MAHTON v. HANSRAJ MAHTON. 1 P. 361 : 67 I. C. 156 : 3 P. L. T. 238 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 96.

——O.1, R.9—Necessary party— Suit and appeal.

Under O. 1, R. 9, C. P. Code, a person who is a necessary party to the suit is a necessary party to the appeal. (Ross, J.) JITENDRANATH CHATTERJEE v. JHAKU MANDAR. 3 Pat. L. T. 4.6 : 66 I. C. 780 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 4.

——O. 1, R. 10—Transposition of parties—Suit for money—Contesting claimant made defendant—If can be made plaintiff.

Where A the plff. claims to have a sole right to a certain sum of money due from a deft. and makes B, a third person, who claims as against A, a party to the suit, B cannot be made a plff. in the place of A in the course of the suit and no decree can be passed in his favour as against a co-defendant. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) JARAO KUNWAR v. BAGWAN KUNWAR. 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 182 : 63 I. C. 773 : 19 A. L. J. 833.

——O. 1, R. 10—Object of Revenue Courts.

The power under the rule should be liberally construed and exercised in a reasonable way enabling Revenue Courts to prevent the decision of cases on narrowly technical grounds. (Hopkins, S. M. and Porter, J. M) SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. RAGHUNANDAN KOER. 3 U. P L. R. (B. R.) 60 (2).

——O. 1, R. 10—Addition of parties —Redemption suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 10.

In a suit for redemption, by some of the heirs of the mortgagor where the other heirs are not impleaded as defendants, the Court has power to add them as defendants under O. 1, R. 10. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) SHIVUBAI RAJARAM v. SIDESHWAR.
45 Bom. 1009 : 61 I. C. 590 : 23 Bom. L R. 405.

——O. 1, R. 10—Transposition of parties.

In a partition suit, the Court can make a defendant a plaintiff and continue the suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) VISHNU NARHAR SAPRE v. SHIRAM.
23 Bom. L R. 391 : 61 I. C. 398 : 45 B. 983

——O. 1, R. 10—Person having interest in the result of suit and having right to ask Court's assistance is proper party.

The expression "proper party" means the party who may be interested in the result of the suit and who may have a right to seek the assistance of the Court in coming to a decision on the point in issue. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BAIKUNTHA KUMAR v. SARAT CHANDRA NATH. A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 1257.

——O.1, R. 10—Rent suit—Some heirs of deceased tenant not joined—Suit is not bad for non-joinder and is maintainable—Contract Act, S. 43.

Per Curiam (C. C. Ghose, and Mukerji, JJ., dissenting)—A suit for rent is maintainable against some of the heirs or successors-in-interest of a deceased tenant without bringing all the heirs or successors-in-interest on the record.

B. B. Ghose, J.—The heirs of a deceased tenant do not take the tenancy as an entire body forming as it were a partnership or a corporation, the individual members of which have no definite interest but they take as tenants-in-common, each having a definite share in the whole which he might deal with in any way he pleases.

Mukerji, J.—When a person obtains a share of a tenure either by assignment or by inheritance he becomes a co-tenant with the other tenant or tenants in the whole tenure, and in so far as the relations between him and his landlord are concerned, he cannot be deemed to hold any estate in severalty. There is no valid reason why tenants-in-common should be in a position as regards liability for rent different from that of joint tenants. On the contrary each of the tenants-in-common has the privity of estate with the landlord in the whole of the land leased. A suit, however, against some of such tenants need not be dismissed on that ground The Court must proceed under O.1, R. 10 (2), C.P.Code, to make an order for the addition of such of these persons as are not already on the record as defendants, and it is only in the event of the necessary amendments not being made that the suit is liable to be dismissed.

Persons who are under a joint liability to pay the rent are necessary parties in a suit for rent, from more points of view than one. They are necessary for determining whether the liability which is prima facie joint is also joint and several, for protecting the defendant from being made to pay what may have already been paid by others, for safeguarding against the eventuality of his being defeated in a suit for contribution as the co-tenant against whom a suit for contribution is brought will not be bound by the result of the earlier suit, for preventing conflicting decisions as to the character and incidents of the same tenancy being arrived at in different suits, and for various other reasons. (Walmsley, Greaves, C.C.Ghose, B.B. Ghose and Mukerji, JJ.) KAILASH CHANDRA v. BROJENDRA K. CHAKRAVARTI. 29 C. W. N. 1000 : 42 C. L. J. 232 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1056 (F. B.)

——O. 1, R. 10—Transfer of parties from one side to other should be granted where refusal would prejudicially affect the applicant.

Plaintiffs instituted a suit for cancellation of Patni lease against the Zemindars, the auction-purchaser, and two other persons, their co-sharers whom they described as pro-forma defendants. The pro forma defendants applied to be transferred from the category of defendants to that of plaintiffs. No order was passed on this application and later on the case was settled as between the plaintiffs and the auction-purchaser. At that stage the pro forma defendants renewed their application to be made co plaintiffs. The Court refused the application and made a decree on the basis of the compromise between the plaintiffs and the auction-purchaser. On an appeal by the pro forma defendants, held, that if the order of refusal were allowed to stand, the only result would be that the pro-forma defendants would be driven to a separate suit and hence their application should be allowed. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) NIRODE CHANDRA BANERJEE v. PROFULLA CHANDRA BANERJEE.
40 C. L. J. 535 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 421.

——O. 1, R. 10—Transfer of plaintiff as defendant.

A Court can transfer a plaintiff from the category of plaintiffs to that of defendants under O. 1, R. 10. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) PADMA LOCHAN PAL v. KALI KAMAL PAL.
82 I. C. 649 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 328.

——O. 1, R. 10 and O. 30, R. 1—Refusal by partner to join in suit as plaintiff—He should be made a defendant.

Where a partner in business refuses to join as plaintiff, the correct procedure is to make him a defendant in the suit, and not to dismiss the suit altogether. (Coldstream, J.) BULLI MAL v. JHABBA.
7 L. L. J. 280 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 504.

——O. 1, R. 10—Addition of parties—Suit against dead person—Bona fide mistake—Amendment not allowed.

In a suit brought against a deceased defendant, the Court has no jurisdiction to allow the plaint to be amended by substituting the names of the representatives of the deceased even when the suit was instituted bona fide and in ignorance of the death of the defendant. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Lumsden, J.) MT. BOONDU v. MOTI CHAND.
A. I R. 1923 Lah. 652 (1).

——O. 1, Rr. 10 and 3—Addition of a party—Erroneous exercise of discretion under R. 10—No revision lies but a revision does lie if the addition results in misjoinder.

The addition of a party under O. 1, R. 10, is ordinarily a matter within the discretion of the Court trying the suit, and erroneous exercise of discretion in a matter of procedure should not be regarded as something done illegally in the exercise of the Court's jurisdiction within S 115. 5 L. W. 207, Doubted. Where by the addition of a party, there is not only a misjoinder of parties, but a misjoinder of causes of action, a Court of Revision should interfere. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436 Foll. (Spencer, J) MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR v. L. K, S. S. FIRM.
90 I. C. 721 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 135 (2).

——O. 1, R. 10—The application to be impleaded, by a son of deceased defendant in suit for dissolution of partnership, if out of time on account of amendment of Limitation Act, must be allowed.

The Limitation Act was amended so as to reduce the period of limitation for application under Art. 177 from six months to 90 days between the death of a defendant on 30th September 1920 after the passing of the preliminary decree in a suit for dissolution of partnership and his son applying on the 6th January 1921 to be brought on the record. Held, that in the circumstances of the case it was in the interests of justice necessary for all parties interested to be added under O. 1, R 10, Civil Procedure Code. (Spencer, J.) V. R. M RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v ADAPPA CHETTIAR. 78 I. C. 168 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 347.

———0. 1, R. 10 and O. 22, R. 10—Mortgage suit —Preliminary decree—Addition of parties.

It is competent to the Court to add a person interested in the equity of redemption as a party to a suit on a mortgage even after the passing of the preliminary decree therein and to re-open the prior proceedings so far as he is concerned. Keith v. Butcher, 25 Ch. D. 750 Foll. 31 I. C. 849 Diss. from. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) KRISHNA AIYAR v. SUBRAMANYA AIYAR. 46 M. L. J. 368 : 34 M.L.T. 114 : (1924) M. W. N. 364 : A. I R 1924 Mad. 648.

———0. 1, R. 10—Suit against dead man—Application to add his legal representatives as parties—Procedure.

Application to add his legal representatives as parties in an appeal against a dead man is covered by S 153 and O. 1, R. 10. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) GOVINDA KAVIRAJ PUROHITA v. GOWRANGA SAW. 45 M. L. J. 231 : 18 L. W. 54 : 75 I. C. 739 : (1923) M. W. N. 408 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 56.

———0. 1, R, 10—Striking out unnecessary parties —No appeal lies.

Where some of the defendants, who are joined for the sake of convenience, are struck out, there is no substantive right decided, nor the striking out has any effect of putting an end to the litigation and therefore no appeal lies. A I.R. 1922 Mad. 332: 45 M. 194 Foll.; 42 M. 219 and (1920)M.W.N. 467 Not Foll. (Odgers, J.) RATNACHALAM IYER v, SIVACHIDAMBARAM PILLAI. 45 M. L. J. 703 : 18 L. W. 198 : (1923) M. W. N. 403 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 690.

———0. 1, R. 10—Addition of parties.

The Court has no power for addition of plaintiffs after the passing of the decree. (Spencer, J.) SWAMINATHA MUDALIAR v. KUMARASWAMI CHETTIAR 44 M. L. J. 282 : 72 I. C. 284 : 17 L. W. 422 : 32 M. L. T. 212 : (1923) M. W. N. 239 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 472 (2).

———0. 1, R. 10 —Appeal.

Order under O.1, R.10 does not come within the definition of "decree" in S 2 (2) and there can be no appeal. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) SHANMUKA NADAN v. ARUNACHALAM. 45 M. 194 : 14 L.W.642 : (1921) M.W.N. 799 : 30 M. L. T. 172 : 69 I. C. 961 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 332 : 42 M. L. J. 97

———0. 1, R. 10—Transposition of parties—Withdrawal of claim as to part.

Where in a suit for partition of immoveable and moveable property the Court passes a preliminary decree with respect to immoveable property and the party withdraws his claim as to moveable, the suit does not come to an end but the Court may transpose parties and continue the suit. (Odgers, J.) SURAMPALLI RAMAMURTHI v. SURAMPALLI REDDI. 60 I. C. 144 : 12 L. W. 563.

———0. 1, R. 10—Addition of party—Attaching creditor intending to challenge the validity of mortgage—Whether can be added as party.

Although an attaching creditor has a right to redeem yet when he does not wish to be added as a defendant so that he may have an opportunity to redeem plaintiff's mortgage but his object in asking the Court to add him as a defendant is to challenge a compromise arrived at between the parties to the suit and also the mortgage in favour of the plaintiffs on the ground that it was not a valid mortgage, his application for being impleaded in the suit should be rejected. (Findlay, O. J. C. and Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BRUEL & CO., BOMBAY v. KESHEORAO. 89 I. C. 446 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 67.

———0. 1, R. 10—Addition of defendants—Plaintiff has the option to add—No defendant should be added against plaintiff's will even when defendant asserts that his interests will be affected by plaintiff's suit.

Ordinarily the plaintiff who comes into Court is the dominus litis and it must always be left to him to choose his opponent against whom he has to claim the relief in the suit. No stranger has any business to intrude into the case and force himself upon a plaintiff who does not want him and who does not claim any relief against him. The plaintiff is the best judge of his own interest. If he seeks relief against a particular individual and impleads that individual as a soledefendant, it is not the look-out of the Court or of any other third person to see whether somebody else must be allowed to intrude into the case as a co-defendant against the plaintiff's will, simply because that third person represents to the Court that he is a person who would be affected by the decision. The first principle of law is that nobody would be bound or affected by the decision to which he is not properly made a party. It is not the intention of law to let third persons ventilate their own grievances in, and thus derive profit from a suit commenced by another, at his own cost and for his own benefit. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) VITHOBA v. SECY. OF STATE. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 373.

———0. 1, R. 10—Subsequent mortgagee—T. P. Act S. 74.

Subsequent mortgagee paying mortgage decree of prior mortgagee before final decree is passed can apply for final decree. (Hallifax, A.J.C.) SHANKAR RAO v. GANPAT RAO. 80 I. C. 283 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 15.

———0. 1, R. 10—Return of vakalatnama.

The practice of not returning the vakalatnama when the plaint is returned under R. 10 is wrong. The original vakalatnama enures for the purposes of the suit in the Court in which the plaint is subsequently filed under R. 4 (2) of O. 3, even if it contains no express provision to that effect, and therefore ought in every case to be returned along with the plaint. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MAHARASTRAYAJANAN KOSH v. BIJJULAL. 19 N. L. R. 36 : 6 N. L. J. 100 : 71 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 182.

———0. 1, R. 10—Plaintiff—Major wrongly discribed as minor—Amendment of plaint—Order striking off name of plaintiff—Appeal.

Certain reversioners sued to set aside alienations of property after the death of a Hindu widow. One of the plaintiffs was described in the plaint as a minor but he was actually a major. The defendant pointed out the defect, whereupon the Court ordered the plaint to be amended by describing the said plaintiff as a major. The order was not complied with, and the Court struck off from the record the name of that plaintiff. Eventually the suit was dismissed on the merits. Held, that the order of the lower Court was correct. Though the order was not appealable, its validity could be questioned on appeal from the final decree in the case. (Simpson, A. J. C.) LACHHMI NARAIN v. SALIG RAM. 11 O. L. J. 154 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 428.

———0. 1, 10—Addition of parties—Preliminary decree passed in the case—Transferee before suit—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 10.

Addition of.

O. 1, R 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure gives wide powers to the Court at any stage of the proceedings to direct that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, or whose presence before the Court may be materially necessary in order to enable the Court to effectively and completely adjudicate upon the questions in issue, may be added But that power can ordinarily be exercised only in proceedings not concluded by a decree, unless the person to be added is a subsequent transferee. In a suit on a mortgage after the preliminary decree had been passed, a person who is alleged to be interested cannot be impleaded at such a late stage. Scope of O. 1, R. 10 considered. The law gives a wide discretion to add as a party to a proceeding a person interested in it, so as to affect his prospective right but not with retrospective effect. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) BENI MADHO v. YUSUF HUSAIN KHAN. 26 O. C. 317 : 72 I. C. 1031 : 10 O. L. J. 232 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 826 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 33.

———0. 1, R. 10 and O. 7, R. 10—Transfer of parties—Raising value of subject-matter higher than Court's jurisdiction—Court should add parties and return the plaint.

Where transfer of some co-defendants to the side of plaintiffs raises valuation of the suit beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, the Court should not refuse the transfer. It should allow transfer and return the plaint for presentation to proper Court. (Adami, J.) RAJKISHORE LAL v. ALAM ARA BEGAM. 90 I. C. 82 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 28.

———0. 1, R. 10—Order under, is not appealable, but striking out defendant's name in partition suit, resulting in leaving defendant's right to share undecided, is appealable.

An order under O. 1, R. 10 is not appealable under the Civil Procedure Code. But a partition suit differs from other suits. In that every party whether arrayed on the side of the plaintiffs, or on the side of the defendants, is in the position of a plaintiff in so far as every party whether plaintiff or defendant is entitled to ask the Court to allot a share of joint property to him. In such a case where the name of one of the defendants is struck out at the instance of the plaintiff, the order is appealable if its effect is to leave undecided the defendant's claim to a share in the partition. (Das, J.) RAMJI PANDEY v. ALAF KHAN. 6 P. L. T. 581 : 3 Pat. 859 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 121.

———0.1, R. 10—Addition of parties--Court's power.

A Court has, under O. 1, R. 10, power to bring on record any person as a party at any stage. (Das and Ross, JJ.) JOHN SOLONO v. RAM NARAIN 61 I.C. 378 (Pat)

———0. 1, R. 10—Preliminary decree—Party if can be impleaded after.

O. 1, R. 10 does not limit the powers of a Court as to joinder of parties to proceedings prior to preliminary decree in a mortgage suit but permits it at any stage of the proceedings which will include up to the passing of a final decree. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) KHIMANMAL TEJUMAL v. LALCHAND GHANOMAL. 89 I. C. 609 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 26.

———0. 1, R. 10—Applicability—Party added by Court under—Limitation Act, S. 22.

S. 22, Lim. Act, applies even to cases where a person is added as a party at the instance of the Court under O. 1, R. 10. (Kennedy and Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) RALLIRAM SHEWARAM v. BUDHURAM PARMANAND. 17 S. L. R. 324 : 79 I. C 914 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 181.

———0. 1, R. 10 (1)—Scope of—Institution of suit by person not entitled to continuance by proper persons.

A suit might be continued even where the original plaintiff had no right to sue, provided that the defective institution was due to a bona fide mistake. 30 M. 419; 43 M. 707, Rel. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) PANICHIKKAL v. EDATHIL. 16 L. W. 826: (1922) M. W. N. 817: 69 I. C. 413: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 180 (1).

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Nature of suit can't be altered by addition—Party can be added if he ought to have been joined or is necessary for complete decision.

Sub-rule (2) is to be invoked in view of the special circumstances of the particular litigation subject to the general proposition that parties cannot be added so as alter the nature of the suit. 10 W. R. 86, 24 All. 553 Foll.

A person may be added as a party to the suit only in two cases, viz., when a party ought to have been joined and has not been joined or when without his presence the suit cannot be completely decided. (Mookerjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) ABDUL GAFUR v. ALI MIAH. 28 C. W. N. 805: 82 I. C. 369: A I. R. 1925 Cal. 26.

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Scope.

Plaintiff-purchaser from K, sued purchasers defendants 1 to 3 from a female co-tenant, of K, both of whom inherited from their father. Plaintiffs failed on the ground of limitation and therefore in second appeal defendants 4 and 5, sons of K, applied to be added as plaintiffs and plaintiff consented. Held, the plaintiff could succeed only on the basis that the sale by K was for legal necessity. The fourth and fifth defendants if they sued as plaintiffs could succeed only on the contradictory hypothesis that the sale was not for legal necessity and did not affect their interest as reversioners It would be necessary for the added plaintiffs to discharge the entire evidence on the record and succeed on a case which not only was not made in the first Court but was absolutely contradictory to the evidence put forward. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) JAGABANDHU SAHA v. HARIS CHANDRA SIL. 36 C. L. J. 92 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 459.

———0. 1, R. 10, (2)—Addition of parties—Court can add persons whose presence is necessary effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all questions involved in the suit.

A person who would be represented by a party on the record and bound by the decision against that party is entitled to be impleaded under O. 1, R. 10, (2), C. P. Code, to protect his interests. The plaintiff, claiming to be the son of an adopted son of S, the last male owner of the suit property, sued for the recovery of possession of the same from 1st defendant, the widow of the last male owner. Plaintiff's case was that his father had been adopted by the 1st defendant, and that he (plaintiff) had been unlawfully excluded from the plaint properties by the 1st defendant on account of an invalid agreement between her and the 2nd defendant. Certain persons, claiming to be the nearest reversioners to the last male owner, applied to be made defendants in the suit and were made defendants by the Court below. One question, and probably the most important question, in the suit was whether the plaintiff's father's adoption to the last male owner was true and valid. Held, that the presence of the nearest reversioners to the last male owner before the Court was necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, and that the Court below was competent to make them defendants. (Oldfield, J.) RAJARATNAM AIYAR v. HALASYASUNDARAM AIYAR. 44 M. L. J. 322 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 1, R. 10.

72 I. C. 156 : 17 L. W. 329 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 521.

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Transposition of parties—Madras Estates Land Act, S. 55.

A suit under S.55, Madras Estates Land Act, should not be dismissed for the sole reason of non-joinder of a rival claimant. In such case of non-joinder, the Court should add such a claimant as a party deft. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) RAMANATHAM CHETTIAR v. ARUNACHALLAM CHETTIAR.

44 Mad. 43 : 60 I. C. 316: 39 M. L. J. 474.

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Addition of parties—Court, powers of.

O. 1, R. 10 (2) is wide enough to give a Court power to add any person, i. e., whether already a party or not, so as to enable it effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Odgers, JJ.) MAHOMED SIRAJUDDIN v. GHULAM JAILANI.

59 I. C. 233 : 12 L. W. 25.

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Order discharging party—If a decree—Appeal.

An order passed under O. 1, R. 10 (2) discharging a defendant from a suit does not amount to a decree and it is not appealable. The mere drafting of the order as a decree does not make it a decree. (Findlay, O.J. C.) SHANKAR RAO v. RAGHUNATH RAO.

89 I C. 331.

———0. 1, R. 10 (2)—Addition of parties—Order of remand by High Court—Appeal to Privy Council—Jurisdiction of High Court to add parties.

A suit was remanded by the High Court to the lower Court and an appeal to thePrivyCouncil was filed against the remand order. Held, that the High Court had no power to add parties after the remand order and the lower Court having seizin of the suit had power. (Rutledge and Heald, JJ.) KALENTHER AMMAL v. MAMI.

3 Rang. 474 : A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 9.

———0. 1, R. 10 (5)—Misdescription can always be corrected—Misdescribed party and wrong party differ from each other—But of two persons if wrong one is sued and no question of representation arises, the case is not one of misdescription.

On the language deliberately employed by the legislature in the provision of the Code, there is no room for controversy that the proceedings as against any person added as a defendant shall be deemed to have begun only on the service of summons. Where there is a misdescription of the defendant in the cause title there is complete power in the Court to make the necessary correction without any regard to lapse of time, for in case of misdescription the Court will not have any difficulty in coming to the conclusion that the defendant had been substantially sued though under a wrongname. There is all the difference in the world between misdescribing a party intended to be sued and suing a wrong party. Where a personal decree was sought against the Agent, East Indian Railway Company, and there was no suggestion in the plaint that it was sought to bind the Railway Company by any decree that the plaintiff migh obtain against the defendant. Held, no question of representation arose in such a case. When there are two known persons in existence and the plain iff brings the suit against one of them and afterwards applies to have the other brought on the record as a defendant on the ground that he all along intended to sue the other and that in substance he sued the other, and no question of representation arises in the case, it is impossible to maintain the view that the case is one of misdescription. (Das and Ross, JJ.) EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO. v. RAM LAKHAM RAM.

3 Pat. 230: 6 P. L. T. 415: 1924 P. H. C. C. 9: 78 I. C. 312 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 37

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 1.

———0. 1, R. 11—Suit by one trustee—Death of plaintiff—Co-trustee made plaintiff.

One of two trustees brought a suit in respect of the trust and his co-trustee was made a deft. The plff. having died during the pendency of the suit, the Court transferred the co-trustee from the position of deft. to that of plff. Held, that Court had general power to do so. (Abdur Rahim and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) SAMINATHA PILLAI v. RAJAGOPALA MUDALIAR.

40 M. L. J. 208 : (1921) M. W. N. 108 : 62 I. C. 360 : 13 L. W. 148 : 29 M. L. T. 151 :

———0. 1, R. 13—Non-joinder—Suit in ejectment by manager—Denial of title—Joinder of other family members.

In a suit by plaintiff, as representing the senior branch of a jagirdar family to eject the defendants who had executed a lease in favour of the plff., the defendants denied the plaintiff's title and pleaded non-joinder of the members of the junior branch. Held, the defendants were in no way prejudiced by the plaintiff suing alone and in no case could there be any chance of their being troubled by any other suit filed by the other members of the family ; consequently there was no substance in the plea of non-joinder and the appellate Court could not interfere on that ground. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) GANGARAM v. BAPU SAHEB.

46 B. 1022 : 24 Bom. L. R. 826 : A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 354.

———0. 1, R. 13—Redemption suit—Transferee of the mortgage whether a party—Limitation Act, Art. 134.

The mortgagee defendants (1 to 7) of certain talukdari lands mortgaged some of the mortgaged properties to defendants (8 to 10) who in a suit by plaintiff mortgagor against defendants (1 to 7) took objection to their being joined as defendants, on the ground that as the defendants 1 to 7 represented that they were owners of the lands they were mortgaging, they (defendants 8 to 10) were entitled to rely on that representation for the purpose of Art. 134, Limitation Act. Held, there is no reason why the plaintiff-mortgagor should not join defendants 8 to 10 in a suit against defendants 1 to 7. As he was endeavouring to get possession of all the suit properties and the only result of the defendants 8 to 10 establishing their claim under Art. 134 would be that the plaintiff in order to get possession of the lands mortgaged to them would have to pay the amount due on the mortgages executed by defendants 1 to 7, there is no reason why all those questions should not have been decided in one suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) TALUKDHARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER v. AKUJI.

46 Bom. 993 : 24 Bom. L. R. 762 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 350.

———0. 1, R. 13—Non-joinder—Plea not raised in written statement is barred.

Where a defendant does not raise any plea of non-joinder when he filed his written statement he will be precluded from raising such a plea at a later stage of the litigation under O. 1, R. 13. (Dalal, J. C.) RAM PHER v. AJUDHIA SINGH.

12 O. L. J. 66 : 87 I.C. 17 : 2 O.W.N. 144 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 369 :

———0. 2, R. 1—All causes of action need not be joined.

A suit should include the whole claim arising out of the same cause of action but it is not necessary to include all causes of action in the same suit. (N. R. Chatterjee and Duval, JJ.) MANMATHA NATH BOSE v. JAGAT RAM ROY.

59 I. C. 517 (Cal.).

———0 2, R. 1—Defendants not in possession of debtor's property—Cause of action.

Where the defendants pleaded in clear terms that the debtor left no property as he died in the lifetime of his father, and that the plaintiffs could have no cause of action against them without establishing that such property of the deceased was in their possession, and the plaintiffs failed to mention any such property, held, according to no rule of law could plaintiff's claim be decreed on the ground that they may be able to indicate in execution proceedings. the property, if any, left by the deceased debtor. This would amount to giving them further opportunities to harass the defendants. (Broadway and Jafar Ali, JJ.) FIRM OF BHAG MAL v. GARIMJEE MAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 1.

A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 471.

——O. 2, R. 1—"Subjects in dispute"—Meaning of.

The expression "subjects in dispute" in O. 2, R. 1 refers to the right which one party claims against the other and not to the cause of action alone. (Phillips, J.) RAVIPATI RAMAIAH v. LAKSHMINARAYANA.

49 M.L.J. 701 : A.I.R 1926 Mad. 234.

——O. 2, R. 1—Properties attached under Cr. P. Code, S. 145 and put in Receiver's possession pending Civil Court's decision—Suit praying only for adjudication of right and no prayer for recovery of possession is properly framed—Lands lying fallow at time of attachment makes no difference—Specific Relief Act, S. 42.

In proceedings under S. 145 of the Cr. P. Code the Magistrate found himself unable to say which party was in possession and placed the properties in the possession of a receiver pending the decision of the Civil Court in favour of one or other of the parties. A suit was brought by one of the parties for an adjudication that he was the person entitled to the properties but he did not pray for possession. Held, that the possession of the receiver was on behalf of the person properly entitled to the properties and that no relief by way of recovery of possession from the receiver need be asked and that the suit as framed was proper and maintainable. 15 C. W. N. 758 and 27 Mad. 591, Foll. Held, further, that no difference was made in the matter by the fact that at the time when the attachment of the properties was ordered by the Magistrate, they were not in the plaintiff's possession but were lying fallow owing to a dispute about possession. (Krishnan, J.) T. DEVARAJULU NAIDU v. KONDAMMAL.

20 L. W. 754 : 80 I. C. 929 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 427.

——O. 2, R. 2.

See also C. P. CODE, S. 11.

Applicability
Cause of action.
Contract.
Damages.
Declaration.
Dek. Agr. Relief Act.
Dismissal of prior suit.
Dower
Execution proceedings.
Fresh suit.
Instalment bond.
Mesne profits.
Minor.
Mortgage.
Omission of claim.
Option to sue.
Partition.
Principal and interest.
Rent suit.
Revenue Court.
Same parties.
Specific performance

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action.

Suit for possession.
Withdrawal of suit.

Applicability.

——O. 2, R. 2—Applicability—Suit for a declaration that mortgage was not enforceable.

Order 2, R. 2, only applies where the creditor brings a second suit; but the rule cannot enable the debtor to apply for a declaration that the previous suit by the creditor has extinguished his claim. (Coutts-Trotter C. J. and Krishnan, J.) SAWMY RAO v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS.

49 M. L. J. 474 : 22 L W. 17 : 48 M. 703 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1120.

——O. 2, R. 2,—Applicability—Different causes of action—Res judicata.

A plaintiff is not bound under O. 2, R. 2 to join in one suit all the causes of action he has got against the defendant but that principle is not the one applicable to the question which refers to a plaintiff's duty to bring forward all the grounds of his attack in support of the title that he is litigating.

A plaintiff is not bound to combine different causes of action in the same suit. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) MUHAMMAD T. S. N. ROWTHER v. M. M. ABDUL RAHMAN ROWTHER.

(1922) M. W. N. 845 : 17 L. W. 188 : 32 M. L. T. 82 : 46 M. 135 : 72 I. C. 207 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 257.

——O. 2. R. 2—Applicability—Rule refers only to "Suits"—Proceedings to file or enforce award are not "suit".

O. 2, R. 2 refers to suits and bars the second suit in respect of a claim omitted or intentionally relinquished in the first suit. Where there is no first suit, the rule does not apply. An award though enforceable as a decree under the Indian Arbitration Act is not a decree and the proceedings to file an award or to enforce it are not a suit. 24 C. W. N. 775 Foll. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF BRIJLAL JAGANNATH v. FIRM OF ALLAH DITTA.

86 I C. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 242.

Cause of action.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Previous suit for wrongful conversion—Subsequent suit to obtain legacies—Different subject-matter—Suit is not barred.

Where the previous suit had been for the wrongful conversion of goods and the subsequent suits were to obtain payment of legacies, and there was no claim in respect of any of the goods to which the previous suit related, held, that the subsequent suits were not barred. (Sir John Edge.) VENKATADRI APPA RAO BAHADUR v. PARTHASARATHI APPA RAO.

48 M. L. J. 627 : 48 Mad. 312 : 52 I. A. 214 : 23 A. L. J. 261 : L. R. 6 P. C. 82 : 27 Bom. L. R. 823 : 87 I.C. 324 : (1925) M. W. N. 441 : 3 Pat. L. R. 208 : 29 C.W.N. 989 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 105 (P. C.).

——O 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Identity of—Test of—Different evidence.

A person's cause of action can be defined as consisting of every fact which would be necessary for the plaintiff to prove if traversed in order to support his right to the judgment of the Court. One test which is valuable in considering whether the causes of action are identical is whether the evidence which would suffice to enable the plaintiff to obtain a decree in both suits is the same. 16 A. 165; 40 B. 351, Referred to. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) MAHOMED UMAR KHAN v. AMTUL RAHIM BIBI.

45 A. 376 : 21 A. L. J. 267 : L. R. 4 A 169 : 71 I. C. 965 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 311.

——O. 2, R. 2—Causes of action—Identity of—Test.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2. R. 2—Cause of action.

The question whether there is a bar by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code, has to be decided with reference to the identity of the causes of action in the two suits and that question has to be determined with reference to the allegations made by the plff. in either suit. In determining this question the Court is not in any way concerned with the defences which were raised in the suits or with the character of the relief which was sought. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHAIKH ABDUL RASHID v. MT. QUDRAT-UN-NISSA.

L. R. 3 A. 587 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 510 (2).

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action refers to the media upon which plaintiff seeks relief.

A cause of action means every fact which it would be necessary to prove, if traversed, in order to enable a plaintiff to sustain his action. But the cause of action has no relation whatever to the defence which may be set up by the defendant, nor does it depend upon the character of the relief prayed for by the plaintiff. It refers entirely to the grounds set forth in the plaint as the cause of action. or, in other words, to the media upon which the plaintiff asks the Court to arrive at a conclusion in his favour. 33 Mad. 131, Foll. (Fawcett, J.) YESHVADABAI v. JANARDHAN RAGHUNATH. 25 Bom. L. R 1172 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 141.

——O. 2, R. 2—Causes of action—Suit for profits—Subsequent suit for partition—Co-sharers.

So long as a tenancy in common continues, it is open to one tenant to file a suit for partition irrespective of any suit or suits which had been filed between them for a share of the profits during the continuance of the tenancy-in-common. The cause of action for the suit for partition subsists so long as the co-tenancy continues. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) TIMMAPPA v. MANJAYA. 25 Bom. L. R. 491 : 73 I. C. 424 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 440.

——O. 2, R. 2—Causes of action—Splitting of—Prior suit for redemption of portion of mortgaged property—Subsequent suit for possession of remainder.

Where in a suit for redemption of a portion of the mortgaged property the plaintiff succeeds and obtains a decree he is debarred from bringing a fresh suit for recovery of possession of the remaining portion of the mortgaged property. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) BHAN DAJI v. PATLU MALU. 24 Bom. L. R. 115 : 73 I. C. 862 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 63.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Different causes of action—Successive suits not barred.

Under O. 2, R. 2, every suit must include the whole of the claim arising from one and the same cause of action and it is not necessary that every suit shall include every claim or every cause of action which the plaintiff might have against the defendant. The test is, whether the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from the cause of action in the earlier suit. If the answer be in the affirmative the subsequent suit is not barred, even though it might have been open to the plaintiff to unite the cause of action with the cause of action in the prior suit. 8 M. 520 ; 23 C. 821, Foll. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KULADA PROSAD CHATTERJEE v. KHUDIRAM MISRA. 37 C. L. J. 545 : 27 C. W. N 673 : 70 I. C. 187 : A I. R. 1923 Cal. 371.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Suit need not include every cause of action.

If the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from that in the first suit the subsequent suit is not barred by O 2, R. 2 of the C. P. Code. What the rule requires is that every suit shall include the whole of the claim arising from one and the same cause of action and not that every suit shall include every claim or every cause of action which plff. may have against deft. 8 Mad. 520, Foll. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) H. H. MAHARAJAH OF COOCH BEHAR v. RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN.

66 I. C. 923 : 34 C. L. J. 465.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Lease by mortgagee to mortgagor—Prior suit for rent—Subsequent suit for mortgage money not barred.

The defendants executed a usufructuary mortgage and a lease of the same property on the same day and in the lease it was stated that the defendants took the mortgaged property from the plaintiffs on a rent of Rs. 187-8-0 per mensem for six months. Plaintiff first sued for rent and then for mortgage money and it was contended that the second suit was barred by O. 2, R. 2. Held, that although the mortgage deed and the lease were executed on the same day and rent was equal to the amount of interest yet in view of the facts that the mortgage-deed contained no reference to the lease and that the mortgagees were not restricted in their choice of tenants the mortgage and the lease were two distinct transactions and the institution of the former suit, which was based on the lease, is therefore no bar to the subsequent mortgage suit. 3 Lah. 1, Foll. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) RALIA RAM v. AMIR CHAND. 4 Lah. 52 : 5 Lah. L. J. 259 : 74 I. C. 122 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 203.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Mortgage and lease—Suit for rent—Subsequent suit on mortgage bar.

Where deft. mortgaged certain properties to plff. with possession directing him to set off the rent against the interest due on the mortgage, and the plff. sued the deft. as lessees for arrears of rent and obtained a decree, a subsequent suit on the mortgage for recovery of the mortgage money and interest for the remaining period is not barred. 19 A. 496 ; 26 M. 662, Ref. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) MAHOMED HUSSAIN v. ABDUL GHAFUR KHAN. 3 Lah. 1 : 65 I. C. 102 : 8 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I R. 1922 Lah. 111.

——O 2, R. 2.—Cause of action—Suit by mortgagee for possession—Second suit for possession.

Where a mortgagee obtains a decree for possession on the basis of the mortgage, no further suit for possession could be maintained unless it could be shown that possession had been taken under the decree and the judgment-creditor has been subsequently dispossessed. (Leslie Jones and Dundas, JJ.) HAR CHAND SINGH v. NARAIN SINGH. 67 I. C. 281 : 2 Lah. L. J. 678.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Mortgage and lease—Suit for rent—Subsequent suit for principal and interest is barred.

Where a person executed a mortgage and a lease simultaneously to another person and the lease provided that the rent would be appropriated for the interest due under the mortgage and on the rent falling into arrears, the mortgagee brought a suit and recovered the arrears, held, that the mortgage and lease must be treated as one transaction and that a subsequent suit by the mortgagee to recover principal and interest under the mortgage was barred by O. 2, R. 2. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) BALA RAM v. DIWAN CHAND. 63 I. C. 928 : 36 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Whole claim arising from same causes of action must be included—Suit for refund of purchase money from vendor—Previous suit for possession of property sold.

Under O. 2, R. 2, while it is necessary that every suit must include the whole of the claim arising from one and the same cause of action, it is not necessary that every suit shall include every claim or every cause of action which the plaintiff may have against the defendant. The test is whether the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from the cause of action in the previous suit. If the cause of action was different it is immaterial if it was permissible to the plaintiff to join the two causes of action in the previous suit.

A suit for refund of purchase money from the vendor on the ground that he has no title to the property conveyed is not barred by a previous suit against him for possession of the property conveyed: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 371; A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 89; 15 Cal. 51 and A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 558, Foll. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) RAMDHAN v. PURUSHOTTAM.

88 I. C. 699 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 109.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action must be antecedent to the institution of the suit—A second suit is not barred if cause of action is different.

Cause of action refers entirely to grounds set forth in the plaint as the cause of action and has no relation whatever to the defence which may be set up by the defendant; nor does it depend upon the character of the relief prayed for by the plaintiff. In other words, it refers to the media upon which the plaintiff asks the Court to arrive at a conclusion in his favour. A cause of action must be antecedent to the institution of the suit. If the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from that in the first suit the subsequent suit is not barred. Where, therefore, properties are different and plaintiff's rights are infringed at different times by different acts of ouster, O. 2, R. 2 will have no application, because the object of the rule is to give effect to the maxim interest respublicae ut sit finis li tium. Where there is some discrepancy in the two causes of action they are different, and they need not be subject of one suit. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) VENKAT BHAT v. MT. YAMUNA. 80 I. C. 286 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 54.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Plaintiff if bound to unite in one suit—Bar.

Where there are perfectly different causes of action, though it might be open to a plaintiff to join them in one suit he is not bound to do so and the failure to do it will not be bar under O. 2, R. 2. (Baker, O. J. C.) LALLU PRASAD v. BABU LAL.

76 I. C. 218 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 214.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Bundle of essential facts which plaintiff must prove in order to succeed is cause of action.

A cause of action for a suit is the bundle of essential facts which it is necessary for the plaintiff to prove in order to succeed. A mortgagee who is entitled to possession but to whom possession is not given and who first sues for possession and fails cannot subsequently sue for the recovery of the mortgage money. (Neave, A. J. C.) SHEO RATAN SINGH v. RAM SINGH.

28 O. C. 82 : 85 I. C. 391 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 524.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Previous suit for setting aside mortgage as being unauthorised—Subsequent suit for redemption by plaintiff as mortgagor's heir—Clog on equity of redemption alleged—Suit is not barred.

Where the previous suit was for the possession of the mortgaged property on the ground that the property was joint family property and that the mortgagor had no authority to transfer it. Held: that the cause of action in a subsequent suit for immediate redemption of the mortgage on the ground that the plaintiff was the mortgagor's heir and that the terms of the mortgage amounted to a clog on the equity of redemption was different. Held: further the plaintiff had not been bound to declare in the previous suit, that the terms of the mortgage were invalid. (Dalal J. C.) RAM BALI v. RAM ASRE. 12 O. L. J 105 : 86 I. C. 686 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 386.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Every alienation by Hindu widow gives a separate cause of action to reversioners.

A Hindu reversioner's right to challenge the validity of one alienation made by a Hindu widow is different from his right of impeaching the validity of a separate and independent alienation though both the rights may arise out of one and the same title. Each alienation by the widow gives rise to a separate and distinct cause of action and a suit to impeach one is no bar under O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code, to a subsequent suit to impeach another alienation. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BAHADUR SINGH v. SULTAN HUSAIN KHAN.

8 O. L. J. 535 : 66 I. C. 455 : 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 83 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 171.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Bar of suit—Usufructuary mortgagee—Dispossession—Suit for recovery of possession dismissed—Subsequent suit for money—If lies.

A usufructuary mortgagee who was dispossessed sued for possession of the properties, but his suit was dismissed, as properties were joint family properties and all members had not joined in it. He then sued for a money decree. Held as he could have asked for a money decree in the prior suit under S. 68 (b) T P. Act but did not do so, the suit was barred under O. 2, R. 2. (Adami and Sen, JJ.) RAM AUTAR PANDE v. SHANKAR DAYAL 90 I. C. 622 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 338.

——0. 2, R. 2—Causes of action—Different—No bar.

O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code, requires that every suit shall include the whole of the claim arising from one and the same cause of action and not that every suit shall include every claim and every cause of action which the plaintiff may have against the defendant. Consequently if the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from that in the first suit, the subsequent suit is not barred. The whole question for investigation, therefore is, whether the cause of action in the subsequent suit is the same as that in the first suit. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) MT. BHAGJOGNI v. SAKHI MAHTON. 1923 P. H. C. C. 234 : 77 I. C. 500 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 575.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Meaning.

The expression refers entirely to the media upon which the plff. asks the Court to arrive at a conclusion in his favour. (Das, J.) HARDEO v. BHAWANI SAHAI. 60 I. C. 496 : 1921 P. H C. C. 125.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Suits on pro-note and for original loan are based on different causes of action.

The suit on the promissory note and the suit for the original loan are not based on the same cause of action, though the two actions arise out of the same transaction, they are in respect of different causes of action. The section is directed to securing exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action and not to the inclusion in one and the same action, different causes of action, even though they arise from the same transaction. The first part of the clause makes it incumbent on the plaintiff to include the whole of his claim in his action. The second portion makes it incumbent on him to ask for the whole of his remedies. (Dass, J.) M. K. M. V. CHETTY FIRM v. MA MYA. 4 Bur. L.J. 130: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 304.

——0. 2, R. 2—Cause of action—Difference of—Prior suit on mortgage—Inconsistent claim in later suit.

Where the prior suit was based on the ground that the mortgaged property had been sold in execution of a simple money decree free of the mortgage, it does not bar a subsequent suit on the same mortgage on the allegation that the land was sold subject to the mortgage in execution of the money decree. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG KYIN PEIN v. MA PWA ME.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Contract.

4 U. B. R. (1921) 62 : 64 I. C. 953 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 1.

Contract.

———O. 2, R. 2—Contract—Each contract for sale of goods is generally a separate one.

Prima facie each separate order and delivery of goods in the case of sale of goods is a separate contract and a separate cause of action, but in some cases it may be a question of successive claims under a single obligation within the terms of the "Explanation" to the rule, that is, for example, when the successive claims arise under the same contract. It is open to the parties even in the latter case of a single contract to agree that successive claims for separate deliveries thereunder should be treated as separate contracts and therefore as separate causes of action; so that a prior suit for one part of the contract may not bar a subsequent suit for another part. But the more prudent lawyer should usually, as a wise precaution as far as possible, take the course of greater safety by including all transactions up to the date of suit in a single plaint. (Lentaigne, J.) K.E.A.K.A. SAHIB & CO. v. K. M. ADAMSA. 2 Rang. 66 : 81 I. C. 465 : A. I R. 1924 Rang. 249.

———O. 2, R. 2—Contract—Distinct causes of action—Contract for sale of goods—Delivery by instalments—Effect of—Distinct contracts.

Prima facie each order and delivery of goods is a separate transaction and a separate cause of action, if not they are successive claims which arise under the same obligation within the explanation at the end of O. 2, R. 2, C.P. Code. The question is really dependent on the contract between the parties. If all the goods were delivered under a single contract it would be within the explanation unless there was an express stipulation that each delivery or each month's deliveries would be considered as a separate contract. The validity of such a clause has been recognised. There are numerous definitions of the expression "Cause of action" and courts have held that the meaning of the expression as used in S. 20, C.P. Code must be gathered from the previous legislation in India and not from the definition of the expression adopted in certain English decisions. Likewise the meaning of the expression as used in O. 2, R, 2, should be gathered from that rule and the authorities on that rule or on the sections of the previous Code replaced by that Rule, and it should not be assumed that the expression has the same meaning in that rule as it has either in English decisions or in decisions on questions relating to the law of Limitation. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) K. E. A. K. AHMED SAHIB AND CO v. M. K. PAKIR MAHOMED ROWTHER. 2 Bur. L. J. 169: 1 Rang. 694 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 145.

Damages.

———O. 2, R. 2—Damages—Claim for against vendor—Dismissal of prior suit for possession.

Where a prior suit for possession under a conveyance of immoveable property is dismissed, a subsequent suit for damages against the vendor is not barred under O. 2, R. 2, C.P. Code at any rate where claim for damages has been reserved in the previous suit. (Mookerjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) LAKSHAM CHANDRA MANDAL v. TAKIM DHALI. 39 C. L. J. 90 : 28 C. W. N. 1033 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 558.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Dismissal of prior Suit.

Declaration.

———O. 2, R. 2—Declaration—Subsequent suit for possession—Maintainability.

Where a person entitled to claim a share in an estate sued for and obtained a mere declaration of his right and did not ask for possession, a subsequent suit for possession is barred by O. 2, R. 2 and S. 11, Expl. IV, C. P. Code. (Hallifax and Prideaux, A. J. Cs) SUBHAN ALI v. IMAMI BEGAM.
65 I. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 129.

Dekkan Agriculturists Relief Act.

———O. 2, R. 2—Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act—Suit on one of several simultaneous mortgagees—Account taken out in respect of one mortgage—Subsequent suit on another mortgage.

To secure the balance arrived at, as due by the defts, to the plffs. in several transactions between them, the defts. executed simultaneously three mortgages to plff. and the latter brought a suit on one of the mortgages and the account taken therein was limited to the particular mortgage sued on and subsequently the plff, brought a suit on the second mortgage, Held, that an account taken by the Court under S. 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act is taken from the earliest of the proceedings transactions between the parties to the suit and is continued right up to the date of the suit and that the suit was barred under O. 2, R. 2 C. P. C. (Macleod C. J. and Heaton, J.) DADUCHAND BALARAM v. APPI KHEMA. 45 Bom. 55 : 59 I. C. 347 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1093.

Dismissal of Prior suit.

———O. 2, R. 2—Dismissal of prior suit—Valuation deliberately inflated to get round a previous decision—Whether an abuse of process—Plaint to be returned to the proper Court.

The plaintiff instituted a suit for rent and an ejectment suit against his tenant which were dismissed by the District Judge on the ground of want of plaintiff's title. He instituted a second suit, with a view to get over the plea of res judicata, for recovery of possession of the house from the tenant which was also dismissed. The District Judge on appeal, allowed the appeal, decreeing the suit on the ground that S. 11 of C.P. Code was no bar. The High Court in Second appeal, reversing the decision of the lower appellate Court held,

Per Walsh, A. C. J. that the plaintiff's attempt to dodge the previous judgment ought to be defeated and that the suit was an abuse of the process of Court within the meaning of S. 153, C. P. Code.

Per Sulaiman, J.—The valuation was deliberately inflated in order to provide a ground for getting round a previous decision and the proper course was to direct the plaint to be returned for presentation to the proper Court. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) MOHAN LAL v. BHUTESHWAR. L. R. 5 All. 709 (Civ.) : A. I. R. 1925 All. 142.

———O. 2, R. 2—Dismissal of prior suit—Plaintiff not entitled to relief sued for—Suit dismissed—Suit for relief for which plaintiff is entitled is not barred.

A plaintiff, who sues for a relief which the Courts cannot grant him, is not debarred from subsequently bringing a suit in respect of a relief which the Courts can grant him. (Abdul Raoof and Fforde, JJ.) SARDARI MAL v. HIRDE NATH. 7 Lah. L. J. 236 : 87 I. C. 994 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 459 (2).

———O. 2, R 2 and S. 11—Dismissal of prior suit—Misdescription—First suit—Bar.

Where a suit is dismissed on the ground the properties are wrongly described, there is no bar to the filing of a fresh suit either under S. 11 or under O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code. (Scott-Smith. J.) BIKA v. BALANDA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Dismissal of prior suit.

78 I. C. 579 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 193.

——O. 2, R. 2 (2)—Dismissal of prior suit—Two suits filed on same date—Suit bearing subsequent number filed later.

Two suits presented on the same day must be presumed to be presented and admitted in the order in which their numbers appear on the register. (Duckworth and Po Han, JJ.) STANDARD ELECTRIC AND MOTOR WORKS v. PICTURE PALACE.

2 Bur. L. J. 218 : 1 Rang. 682 : 76 I. C. 791 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 161 (2).

Dower.

——O. 2, R. 2—Dower—Different causes of action—Suit for possession—Mahomedan heir—Suit for dower.

A Mahomedan lady died leaving considerable property and her husband R, her sister Q and a minor daughter K as her heirs. The sister Q sued for recovery of possession of her share of certain zemindari property as heir to the deceased impleading R and K as defendants and alleging that R had taken possession of the whole property improperly in the name of K. Two years later the same plaintiff brought a suit against the same defendants alleging that as the dower debt due from R to the deceased lady had been unpaid on the date of her death plaintiff was entitled to a share of it for her own benefit and another share for the benefit of K. The defence was that the suit was barred by the provisions of O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code. Held, that the causes of action for the two suits were not identical and that the second suit was not barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) ABDUR RASHID v. QUDRATUNNISSA BIBI.

22 A. L. J. 432 : L. R. 5 A. 321 : 79 I. C. 338 : 46 A. 542 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 713.

——O. 2, R. 2—Dower debt not a charge—Muhammadan Law.

Claim for dower debt is not a charge on the property and the widow of a Muhammadan is not entitled to sue for only a portion of a dower debt. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) KANEEZ FATIMA BEGUM v. RAM NANDAN DHAR DUBE.

21 A. L J. 269 : 45 A. 384 : 73 I. C. 977 : L. R. 4 A. (civ) 181 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 331.

——O. 2, R. 2—Dower—Separate suit for share of inheritance—Maintainability of.

Per Lindsay, J. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. dissenting). A suit by an heir of a deceased Mahomedan Lady for a share of the inheritance of certain Zemindari estate is a bar to a subsequent suit against the lady's husband for a share of the dower due to the deceased. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHEIKH ABDUL RASHID v. MT. QUDRAT-UN-NISSA.

L. R. 3 A. 587 : 70 I. C. 817 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 510.

Execution Proceedings.

——O. 2, R. 2—Execution proceedings.

The rule does not apply to proceedings in execution of decree. (Fawcett, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) IBRAHIM v. GHULAM HUSSAIN. 62 I. C. 507 : 15 S. L. R. 11.

Fresh suit.

——O. 2, R. 2—Fresh suit—Two properties mortgaged by one deed—Suit for declaration that one of these is inalienable bars a subsequent suit in respect of the other property for similar relief.

If two properties are mortgaged by one deed a suit for declaration that one of them belongs to joint family and is inalienable precludes a subsequent suit for similar relief in respect of the other property. (Wazir Hasan and Misra, JJ.) ABHAIDAT SINGH v. RAGHO INDAR PARTAB SAHAI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R 2—Instalment Bond

3 O. W. N. 40 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 77.

——O. 2, R. 2 and S. 11—Fresh suit—Suit for share in amount deposited in Court—Suit on same ground for share in amount subsequently deposited is not barred—Decision about grounds of claim in first suit is res judicata.

Where the plaintiff sued for his share of a certain amount deposited in Court on account of a mortgage decree in favour of two other persons, on the ground that he had purchased the whole rights of one of them, Held : that he was not debarred from suing on the same ground for his share in sums that were subsequently deposited to the account of his vendor. Held also that the decree in the first suit would be res judicata so far as it decided about the grounds on which he claimed a share in the amounts deposited. (Pullan, A. J. C.) LALTU v. BAJARANGI LAL.

84 I. C. 263 : 28 O. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 303.

——O. 2, R. 2—Fresh suit—Different causes of action in one and the same transaction, need not be joined.

O. 2 R. 2 does not compel a plff. to include in one and the same action different causes of action though they arise out of the same transaction. If the plaintiff on the allegations made in the plaint, can make a claim, which he does not put forward in his suit, he cannot put forward that claim in a subsequent suit. But if on the allegations he cannot put forth a claim, that claim he can put forth in a subsequent suit. (Das, J.) HARDEO SINGH v. BHAWANI SAHI.

60 I. C. 496 (2) : 1921 P. H.C. C. 125.

Instalment Bond.

——O. 2. R. 2 and O. 9, R. 4—Instalment bond—Omission for instalments which had accrued due bars subsequent to sue suit therefor.

On 28-6-1917 plff. brought a suit against defts. for recovery of the instalment of an annuity which had fallen due from 1-1-1914 up to 1-1-1917. On 31-7-1917 the suit was dismissed by the Court on the ground that the suit was premature because an appeal was pending with respect to a certain sale deed. The parties, however, were absent on that date. The plff. applied to the court under O. 9, R. 4, C., P. Code to set aside dismissal but the application was rejected. Against the order of rejection plff. filed an appeal but on 2-3-1918 that appeal was with drawn and dismissed. Meantime the instalment of the annuity which fell due on 1-7-1917 had become payable and a suit was brought on 22-12-1917 for its recovery and decreed on 2-4-1918. In a subsequent suit plaintiff claimed arrears of annuity from 1-1-1914 up to 1-1-1919. Held that when the plaintiff brought the suit on 22-12-1917 in respect of the half-yearly instalment of the annuity which had become payable on 1-7-1917 he was bound to include in his claim a claim for all the other instalments which had become due up to that date and with respect to which a claim would have been within limitation, and that the present suit was barred by O. 2, R. 2, by reason of the prior suit decreed on 2-4-1918. Plff. cannot be heard to say that he was in any way protected against the operation of O. 2, R.2, C.P. Code by the fact that he had an appeal pending in the District Court at the time the second suit was filed. After the appeal was withdrawn, any protection, which might have accrued to the plaintiff, by reason of the appeal having been filed was taken away and his proper course then was to apply to the court in which the suit was pending and to ask for amendment of the claim and permission to include in the claim a claim for the years 1914 to 1917. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) ABDUL KARIM KHAN v. MAHOMED GAN. 44 A. 663 : 20 A. L. J. 590 : L. R. 3 A. 480 : 68 I. C. 970 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 379.

C.P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Instalment Bond.

——0. 2, R. 2—Instalment bond—Whole amount payable on default of single instalment—Failure to pay—Suit for unpaid instalments only—Effect.

Under a mortage executed in 1902 the principal sum borrowed was Rs. 1,200 and the sum was payable in annual instalments of 100 rupees each. On default of payment of any one instalment the whole of the balance was to be paid at once. In the years 1903 and 1904 the mortgagors paid Rs. 44 only ; in 1905 the plaintiffs filed a suit to recover the amount of the first two instalments and obtained a decree. In 1917 plaintiffs (mortgagees) filed a suit for recovery of the remaining instalments with interest. Held that the suit was barred by O. 2. R. 2, C. P. Code. 20 Bom. L R 773 ; 37 A 400 ; 43 A. 671, Foll. ; 39 M. 981, Diss. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) SHRINIVASA v. CHANBASAPPA GOWDA. 25 Bom. L. R 203 : 72 I. C 290 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom 201 (2).

——0. 2, R. 2—Instalment bond—Prior suit for some instalments—If bars subsequent time.

An instalment bond gave the creditor option to enforce full payment on a single default being committed or to waive it. The creditor first sued for some instalments which had fallen due and subsequently for the balance. Held, he did not waive his right to the second suit by filing the prior suit. (Halifax, A.J.C.) KESHEO RAO v. SUKLIA. 19 N. L. R. 170 : 76 I. C. 122 : A. .I R. 1924 Nag. 61.

Mesne Profits.

——0. 2, R. 2—Mesne profits—Suit for possession—Subsequent suit for mesne profits.

The law provides for the awarding of mesne profits upon the date of obtaining possession and it is open to the plaintiff not only to have asked for mesne profits up to the date the decree was passed but up to the date that he obtained possession and his omission to have done so tells against him not only up to the date that the decree was passed but up to the date that he obtained possession. A subsequent suit would be barred. (Stuart, J) GIRWAR SINGH v. MT. RAM PIARI KUNWAR. L. R. 5 A. 223 : 78 I. C. 326 (1) : A. I. R 1924 All. 909.

——0. 2, R. 2—Mesne profits—Prior suit for possession only.

O. 2, R. 2 does not bar a suit for mesne profits brought subsequently to a suit for possession, as a claim for mesne profits is based on a cause of action distinct from a claim for possession. (Walsh and Sulaiman, JJ.) MIYAN KHAN v. SARFARAZ KHAN. 60 I.C. 65. (All.).

——0. 2, R. 2 and S. 11, (Expl. 4)— Mesne profits prior to suit, though not claimed in a suit for possession can be separately sued for.

Omission to sue for mesne profits prior to the date of the suit where plaintiffs sue for possession of immoveable property does not bar the second suit against the same defendants for those mesne profits. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J) RAMCHANDRA ADARAM v. LODHRA GOURI. 26 Bom L. R. 288 · A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 368.

——0, 2, R. 2—Mesne profits—First suit for possession—Subsequent suit for mesne profits.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage.

A prior suit for possession does not bar a suit for mesne profits due for a period subsequent to the institution of the prior suit. The cause of action for such mesne profits is one which has accrued subsequent to the suit for possession. (C. C. Ghose, J.) EQUITABLE COAL COMPANY, LTD. v. BAGALA SUNDARI DEBI. 71 I. C. 972 : A I. R. 1924 Cal. 442.

——0. 2, R. 2—Mesne profits—Prior suit for possession—No claim for future mesne profits—Second suit for mesne profits—If barred.

Where in a prior suit for possession, there was no claim for future mesne profits, a subsequent suit therefor is not barred, as the cause of action is different. (Miller, C. J, and Foster, J.) RAM JAN SINGH v. KHUB LAL SINGH. 80 I. C. 710 : 6 P. L. T. 78 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 145 (2).

——0. 2, R. 2—Mesne profits—Might and ought—Suit for redemption and subsequent one for mesne profits res judicata.

Where the plffs. executed a usufructuary mortgage to X, and subsequently applied for redemption which was refused, and afterwards got a decree in Court, and subsequently filed a suit for mesne profits, from the date of notice and it was contended that the doctrine of res judicata will apply. Held, relying on Satya Badi Behara v. Harabati 34 C. 223 and Rukemi Bai v. Venkatesh, 51 Bom 627. that even after a tender or deposit the mortgagee continues as mortgagee with a statutory liability to account for profits received by him, holding the property as a trustee for the mortgagor, and that the liabilities of the mortgagee in such a case have to be determined once and for all in the redemption suit and cannot be determined in a separate suit. A second suit for mesne profits is not maintainable under S. 11, Expl. 4, and O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code. (Duckworth, J.) MA NYO TONA v. MAUNG HEHA BU. 2 Rang. 382 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 13.

Minor.

——0. 2, R. 2—Minor—Omission of claim by guardian does not bind minor.

An omission in a suit by the next friend of a minor of a portion of the property to which the minor is entitled, will not bar a second suit by the minor for the portion omitted. (Macleod. C. J. and Shah, J.) VYANKAT AWACHI PATIL v. ONKAR NATHU. 45 Bom. 805 : 61 I. C. 276 : 23 Bom. L. R. 250.

Mortgage.

——0. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Mortgagee, suing twice for sale.

If the mortgage provided, as mortgages always do in England, for an independent obligation to pay the principal and the interest, then a suit brought to obtain a personal judgment in respect of the interest alone, would not prevent a subsequent claim for payment of the principal. In such a case the cause of action would be distinct. The matter is, however, different if the non-payment of the interest causes the principal money to become due, as in that case the cause of action, the non-payment of the interest gives rise, to two forms of relief which the Code provides shall not be split. The fact that the decree obtained by the mortgagee was not a decree for sale but in the nature of a personal judgment, does not alter the effect of his claiming a decree for money recoverable from the mortgaged property. (Lord Buckmaster,) KISHAN NARAIN v. BALA MAL. 44 M. L. J. 123 : 25 Bom. L. R. 220 : 32 M. L. T. 41 : 4 L. 32 : 50 I. A. 115 : L. R. 4 P. C. 46 : 72 I. C. 187 : 27 C. W. N. 802.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage.

38 C. L. J. 126 : 18 L. W. 341 : 66 P. W. R. 1923 : 9 O. & L. R. 488 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 412 (P. C.)

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Several mortgagees, having specified shares—Single suit by all, for redemption—If can be maintained.

Where in the mortgage-deed the share of each of the joint mortgagees is set out and specific portion of the property is made security for each, but where it is expressly provided that the mortgage money should be paid in a lump sum, all redemption proceedings having been taken together, Held, there is no impediment in law to the redemption of such a mortgage by one suit. The transaction does not amount to nine separate mortgages and for redemption of all these mortgages one suit is maintainable. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) LACHMI PRASAD v. GOKUL. 20 A. L. J. 157 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 80.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Two mortgages—Each can be sued on separately.

Where two successive mortgages are created on the same property by the same debtor, in favour of the same creditor, the creditor may either sue on the first including the claim as to the second or sue separately on each claim and he is not debarred from adopting the latter procedure either by S. 11, Expl. IV or O. 2, R. 2. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) NILU ROY v. ASIRABAD MANDAL. 33 C. L. J. 282 : 60 I. C. 809 : 25 C. W. N. 129.

——O 2, R. 2—Mortgage and lease—Suit for rent—Suit on mortgage not barred.

Where at the time of the execution of a mortgage deed a lease is granted in favour of the mortgagor under which the latter is to continue in possession on payment of a monthly rent, in default of which payment the mortgagor was to be ejected, the mortgage and lease do not form part of the same transaction. Consequently a suit for recovery of the rent due does not debar a suit for the principal amount of the mortgage though the rent was to be applied towards the interest on the mortgage. 69 P. R. 1918; 19 P. R. 1910. Ref. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BHAGWAN DAS v. JALAL DIN. 69 I. C. 54 : A. I R. 1924 Lah. 190.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Prior suit for possession—Subsequent suit for redemption.

Where mortgagors have obtained a decree for redemption and have failed to execute it, another suit to redeem will lie for the same reason that the cause of action is not the same. In 1904 the plaintiffs sued for possession ignoring a mortgage to which the plaintiffs objected ab initio. In that suit they were attempting to avoid it and had they prayed for redemption they would have ipso facto admitted their liability to redeem the mortgage; in other words; such a prayer would have cut at the roots of their claim. Subsequently they sued for redemption. Held that the cause of action in the present suit was the mortgage now admitted as binding on the plaintiffs plus a refusal of the mortgagees to accept redemption on the terms offered by the plffs. The second suit was not barred. (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) JAIMAL v. GANESHI MAL. 4 Lah. 187 : 5 Lah. L.J. 296 : 75 I. C. 528: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 143.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Suit by mortgagee for possession on default of payment of interest—Subsequent suit under S. 12 of Punjab Act II of 1913—Maintainability.

In 1902 a mortgagee in enforcement of the terms of his mortgage sued for possession of the mortgaged property on default of payment of interest for the previous years. The mortgagee obtained a decree in 1904 but the Court refused to go into the question of what arrears of interest were due. The mortgagor subsequently applied to the Collector under Punjab Act II of 1913 and obtained a decision that the mortgage could be redeemed on payment of Rs.570. Thereupon the mortgagee sued for a declaration that there was a further charge on the land for Rs. 5,015 and that there could be no redemption without payment of that amount. Held, that the mortgagee's suit was not barred under O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code by reason of the prior suit for possession, 66 P. R. 1912 foll.; 1 Lah. 457 (F B.), Ref. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) KHOTA RAM v NAWAZ. 5 Lah. L J. 238 : 4 Lah. 76 : 72 I. C. 765 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 21.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Suit on—Dismissal of prior suit for possession—Subsequent suit for money.

A subsequent suit for recovery of the principal and interest due on the mortgage is barred by the dismissal of a prior suit by a mortgagee for possession of the mortgaged land, 25 B. 161. Foll. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) HARNAM SINGH v. BHOLA SINGH. 4 Lah. L. J. 502.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage and lease forming one transaction.

Where a mortgage and the lease form one transaction and the lease is only a mode for realizing the interest due on the mortgage, a suit on the mortgage cannot be brought subsequent to a suit for rent on the lease. (Leslie-Jones and Broadway, JJ.) RALA RAM v. DIWAN CHAND. 63 I. C. 928 : 3 Lah. L. J. 390.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Independent covenant for interest—Suit for interest does not bar suit for principal.

Where there is a provision in the mortgage-deed for the payment of interest, different from that as to the payment of the principal, making two independent covenants, and a personal action is brought on the covenant for the payment of interest, and a decree is obtained, that would not prevent a subsequent suit being brought for the mortgage-money, and O. 2, R. 2, would have no application. 1922 P. C. 412 and 1922 P. C. 23. Foll. (Coutts Trotter, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) SWAMY RAO v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS. 49 M.L.J. 474 : 22 L. W. 17 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1120.

——O. 2, R. 2—Mortgage—Two mortgages—Suit on latter one does not bar subsequent suit on former one.

Where a person holds two mortgages over the same property a suit on the latter one will not bar a suit subsequently brought on the former. (Maung Kin, C.J.) MA MYIT v. SHARMA. 69 I. C. 897 : 10 L. B. R. 360.

Omission of claim.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Suit for profits under Agra Tenancy Act for particular year—Cause of action arising on date on which suit for profits for previous years was instituted—New claim also should be included in suit.

On the 1st of August 1916, the plaintiffs first instituted a suit for arrears of profits for the years 1321 and 1322 Faslis. The 1st of August 1916 was also the date on which, according to the notification by the Local Government under S. 163 of the Agra Tenancy Act, the profits for the year 1323 Fasli were divisible. Held: that the cause of action for a suit for profits for the year 1323 Fasli arose on the 1st of August 1916 and as the claim was not included in the suit instituted on that day for profits for the years 1321 and 1322, no suit could be brought subsequently for the profits for 1323 Fasli. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) GIRDHARI LAL v. KHURE PRASAD. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 371 : 88 I. C. 530 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 795.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R 2—Omission of claim.

——O. 2, R.2—Omission of claim—Hindu widow—Alienation—Setting aside—Successive suit by reversioners.

A Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate made several alienations of it in favour of the defendant. The plaintiff, a reversioner, brought a suit for recovery of some of the properties so alienated but omitted to sue for the remaining items. In a subsequent suit for possession of the items so omitted, Held, that the subsequent suit was barred by O. 2, R, 2, C. P. Code. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) DARBARI LAL v. GOBIND SARAN. 22 A. L. J. 753 : L. R. 5 A. 556 : 46 A. 822 : 80 I. C. 31 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 902.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Misapprehension—Subsequent suit—No bar.

O. 2, R. 2 of the C. P Code, does not debar a plff. from including in his claim certain additional profits omitted in a previous suit under a misapprehension that the profits were paid annually and not, as was subsequently ascertained to be the fact, half yearly. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) BABU NIHAL SINGH v. MST. NAJUBAN. 4 U.P.L.R. (A). 16 : 65 I.C. 585 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 230.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Prior suit for redemption of portion of mortgaged property—Subsequent suit for possession of remainder.

Where in a suit for redemption of a portion of the mortgaged property the plaintiff succeeds and obtains a decree he is debarred from bringing a fresh suit for recovery of possession of the remaining portion of the mortgaged property. (Shah, A.C.J. and Crump, J.) BHAU DAJI v. PATLU MALU. 73 I. C. 862 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1157 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 63.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Relief claimable but not claimed cannot be claimed in a subsequent suit.

Relief available to a party in the previous suit or in execution of the decree in the previous suit cannot be claimed in a subsequent suit. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) SAROJ BAUDHU BHADURI v. MANIK SHEIKH. 80 I. C. 917 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 305.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim - Relief under S. 77 of the Registration Act cannot be joined with that for possession and mesne profits.

So far as suits under S. 77 of the Indian Registration Act are concerned, it is well settled that no other claim such as a claim for possession and mesne profits can be coupled with the prayer to enforce registration of the document and the Court-fee leviable is separately provided for. 9 M. L. J. 107. Foll. (Mookerjee and Suhrawardy, JJ) DWIJENDRA NARAIN ROY v. JOGESH CHANDRA. 39 C. L. J. 40 : 79 I. C. 520 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 600.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Bars subsequent suit.

Where a person alleging to be the heir of another sues for the recovery of a portion of the estate from another alleged to be in wrongful possession of the same, the omission to sue for the remainder operates as a bar to a subsequent suit for the recovery of the same. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BHUDMAL SHEOLAL v. ZUNKARI. 18 N. L. R. 136 : 65 I. C. 338 : A. I. R 1922 Nag. 246.

——O. 2, R. 2—Omission of claim, for mesne profits made but rejected as not claimable in the prior suit does not bar suit — Intentional omission or relinquishment of claim bars a second suit.

Where in the earlier suit there was at prayer in the plaint as follows:—"The defendants be ordered to render true and full accounts of all receipts in their hands and expenditure since the estate passed into their possession," and the Judge at the end of the judgment made a note to the effect that the relief was not to be claimed in the suit. Held: that if the right to mesne profits be considered as a relief, then the effect of the Judge's order would be to give the plaintiffs leave to omit the relief in the suit and to refer them to a separate suit for that purpose. But even if the right to mesne profits be considered as a claim arising out of the cause of action a fresh suit was not barred, as in the earlier case the plaintiffs had asserted their claim and prayed for a relief in respect of it. It is only when there is an omission or intentional relinquishment that a second suit is barred. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) MAUNG MYA v. MA THIN TIN. 4 Bur. L. J. 113 : A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 313.

——O.2, R. 2—Omission of claim—Cause of action not arisen at date of first suit—Second suit is not barred.

Where the plaintiffs had no cause of action at the date of the first suit to assert a claim there can be said to have been no omission on their part to include it in the first suit. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J. C.) FIRM OF BRIJLAL JAGANNATH v. FIRM OF ALLAH DITTA. 86 I.C. 393 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 242.

Option to sue.

——O. 2, R. 2—Option to sue—Mortgagee authorized to sue for interest or for possession in default by mortgagor—Suit for interest—Subsequent suit for possession.

Where by a stipulation the mortgagor authorized the mortgagee to sue him for interest or for possession in the event of the former's failure to pay interest at the stipulated time, and the mortgagee on the mortgagor's default sued only for interest, and afterwards for a subsequent default sued for possession, held, that the suit was not barred under O.2, R. 2, C.P. Code.(Shadi Lal, C. J. Chevis Scott-Smith, Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) PARMESHRI DAS v. FAKERIA. 56 P. W. R. 1920 : 59 I. C. 71 : 1 Lah. 457 (F.B.).

Partition.

——O. 2, R. 2—Partition—Decree—Subsequent suit for accounts for a period prior to partition—If lies.

In a suit for partition a plaintiff is bound to include all the claims that he might have at the time the suit is filed, in respect of the property. He is not to file first a partition suit and then after the decree to file another for accounts for a period prior to the partition. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) VISHNU v. GANGADHAR. 46 Bom. 823 : 69 I.C. 399: 24 Bom. L.R. 302 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 9 (1).

——O. 2, R. 2—Partition—Property situate in different jurisdiction—Separate suits if maintainable.

Sections 16 and 17 of C. P. Code do not overrice the principles of the provisions of S. 11 and O. 2, R. 2 of the Code. They simply provide for the machinery to enable litigants with property in more than one jurisdiction to adhere to these principles. (Oldfield J.) BANAKARA BASAVANA v. BANAKARA DODDA, LINGAPPA. 44 M. L. J. 652 : (1923) M.W.N. 294 : 17 L. W. 740 : 72 I. C. 430 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 584.

——O. 2, R. 2—Partition—First suit against members of the Family—Second suit against alienees—No bar.

Although O. 2, R. 2, of the C. P. Code requires that every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action, still that rule does not require that every suit shall include every claim or every cause of action which the plaintiff may have against the defendant. Where the former suit was a suit for partition of certain moveable and immoveable property by one member against another member of the family, the plaintiff was not bound to join in that suit his distinct cause of action against the stranger purchaser. Cases are possible where the mere fact that the partition has been effected does not by itself, in the absence of an agreement to that effect, bar the right of partition of property still undivided and in respect of which the member may retain his share in the undivided estate. The whole village or a particular community may have joint property in a common pasturage or a forest, and such common enjoyment may continue even after there has been a private partition among the members of any one or more of the component families. No intention to relinquish a part of the claim can be inferred by the mere non-inclusion of such a common claim in a family partition suit. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SONBA v. BABYA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Partition.

20 N. L. R. 28 : 78 I. C. 376 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 89.

——O. 2, R. 2—Partition—Different relief need not be claimed.

A fractional co-sharer brought a suit in a Civil Court that a certain gift of plots to a party will not prevent his getting his full fractional share of the total mahal at partition and succeeded in the suit. Held, in a later suit he can claim that the deed of gift shall not affect the choice by the partition Court for the specific area to be assigned to him since the claim that it should not affect the choice of area is different from the claim that the deed of gift could not affect the area. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) MT. KUSEM DEI v. HAR DATT. 26 O. C. 98 : 74 I. C. 459 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 129.

——O. 2, R. 2—Partition—Dismissal of prior suit for possession—Subsequent suit for partition.

Where a purchaser of the share of a co-owner in a specific plot of land brings a suit for possession of that specific land and the suit is dismissed on the ground that the partition alleged by the plaintiff as between his vendor and the defendant was not proved, a subsequent suit for partition of the entire plot is not barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code as the causes of action in the two suits were different. In the first case the cause of action was exclusion from joint possession by a co-sharer. In the second the cause of action was the right of every co-sharer to bring an action against his other co-sharers for partition. (Twomey, C. J. and Robinson, J.) MAUNG LU THA v. MAUNG PO. U. 64 I. C. 174 : 11 L. B. R. 1.

Principal and Interest.

——O. 2, R. 2—Principal and interest—Mortgagee's suit for interest—Subsequent suit for principal and further interest—Bar.

A mortgage for a term of two years executed in 1904 provided for realisation of interest alone by the mortgagee by suit. The interest was in arrears after 1905. The mortgagee instituted a suit in 1908 for the interest then due reserving the right to sue for the principal and future interest. The suit was decreed. In 1914 he instituted a suit for the principal and interest still due. Held, that the suit was barred under O. 2, R. 2, C. P Code. 49 I. A. 9 Foll. (Lord Buckmaster.) KISHAN NARAIN v. PALA MAL.
32 M. L. T. 41 : 25 Bom. L. R. 220 : 44 M. L. J. 123 : L. R. 4 P. C. 46 : 4 Lah. 32 : 27 C. W. N. 802 : 38 C. L. J. 126 : 18 L. W. 341 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 488 ; 6 P. W. R. 1923 : 50 I. A. 115 : 72 I. C. 187 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 412 (P. C.)

——O.2, R. 2—Principal and interest—Mortgage—Option to sue for interest alone—Suit for interest after expiry of term—Second suit for principal and interest.

If a mortgagee to whom a cause of action to realise the whole mortgage security has accrued, exercises the option given to him by the document and sues for interest alone, he must be deemed to have relinquished his claim for further relief, under O. 2, R. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and a second suit for principal and interest is not maintainable. 15 I. A. 156 : 12 I. A. 116 ; 21 Bom. 267. Ref. (Lord Buckmaster.) MUHAMMAD HAFIZ v. MIRZA MUHAMMAD ZAKARIYA. 42 M.L.J. 248: 44 All. 121 : 20 A.L.J. 17 : 26 C. W. N. 297 : (1922) M. W. N. 89 : 35 C. L. J. 126 : 24 Bom. L. R. 341 : 15 L. W. 377 : L. R. 3 P. C. 73 : 30 M. L. T. 224 : 3 Pat. L. T. 279 : 1 P. W. R 1922 : 65 I. C. 79 : 49 I. A. 9 . A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 23 (P. C.).

——O. 2, R. 2—Principal and interest—Mortgage—Interest payable monthly— Default—Suit for interest—Subsequent suit for principal not barred.

Where the time stipulated for payment of the principal is one year after the date of the mortgage but interest is made payable monthly, a default in the payment of interest gives rise to a cause of action and a suit for interest alone does not bar a subsequent suit for principal. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG KYIN PEIN v. MA PWA ME. 4 U. B. R. (1921) 62 : 64 I. C. 953 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 1.

Rent suit.

——O. 2, R. 2—Rent suit.

A prior suit for account of rents bars a subsequent suit for rent due prior to the date of the first suit. Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHOMED BHAI v. ADAMJI. 23 Bom. L. R. 1086 : 64 I. C. 919 : 46 Bom. 229 : A. I.R. 1922 Bom. 152

——O. 2, R. 2—Rent suit—Claim for adjustment of rent for additional land in first suit does not bar similar claim for subsequent period.

During the pendency of the first suit where a claim was made for adjustment of rent in respect of additional land, the claim for assessment of rent at the enhanced rate does not suspend the assertion of a similar claim in respect of the subsequent period covered by the second suit. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) MANMATH PAL CHAUDHARY v. SURENDRA NATH BOSE. 40 C. L. J. 538 : 85 I. C. 162 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 463.

——O. 2, R. 2—Rent suit—Cause of action—Cesses—Separate suits for—Maintainability.

In a prior suit the lessor had sued the lessee for rent and obtained a decree. Subsequently the lessees had neglected to pay the cesses due on the land and the lessor was compelled to pay the same. In a subsequent suit by the lessor for recovery of the cesses so paid, Held that the subsequent suit was uot barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) MAHENDRA NATH BOSE v. ABINAS CHANDRA BOSE. 27 C. W. N. 521 : 77 I. C. 364 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 615.

——O. 2, R. 2—Rent suit—Suit for ejectment of a tenant—Subsequent suit for arrears of rent.

Under O. 2, R. 2 of the Code a subsequent suit to recover arrears of rent under the terms of the lease is not barred by a previous suit to eject a tenant holding under a lease. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) KHUSHI RAM v. ABDUL GHAFUR KHAN. 4 Lah. L. J. 17 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 118.

Revenue Court.

——O. 2, R. 2—Revenue Court—Applicability to

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Revenue Court.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R 2—Same Parties.

proceedings in.

O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code which requires that every suit shall include the whole of the claim which plaintiff is entitled to in respect of the Cause of action is applicable to proceedings in Revenue Courts for recovery of arrears of rent. It applies not only to cases of deliberate relinquishments but also of accidental or involuntary omission. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) PRATAB CHANDRA JANA v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

35 C. L. J. 304 : 67 I. C. 375 : 49 Cal. 1026 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 101.

Same parties.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Same parties—Suit against defendant not party to previous suit is not barred.

For a suit to be barred under O. 2, R. 2, a previous suit against the same defendant arising out of the same cause of action is necessary. For determining whether the cause of action was the same in the previous suit also, the Court must arrive at the actual cause of action and will not accept the cause of action which a plaintiff may choose to specify in his plaint The parties were brothers. After their father died his estate was recorded in the names of his sons. The plaintiff found that the shares recorded in his name with respect to eight of the properties were much less than those to which he was entitled. When he applied to the Revenue authorities for the correction of the entries in the Records, he was referred to the Civil Court. He then instituted a suit in the Civil Court against defendant No. 1 in respect of five of the properties and after obtaining a decree, he brought another suit against defendants Nos. 1 and 2 in respect of the three remaining properties. Held: that the suit was barred as against defendant No. 1 as the cause of action was the same as in the previous suit against him and that as there had been no previous suit against defendant No. 2, the suit was competent as against him. (Dalal, J. C.) SHEIKH MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM v. ASMATULLAH. 81 I. C. 562 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 53.

Specific Performance.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Specific performance—Suit for—Subsequent suit for earnest money is not barred.

Plff.'s suit for specific performance of a contract of sale of immoveable property in his favour was dismissed and he subsequently brought a suit for recovery of earnest money from the defendant Held, that the claim for the recovery of the earnest money was based on a different cause of action from the claim for specific performance and that O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code was no bar to the subsequent suit. 27 M. 380 referred to. (Lindsay, J.) MUNNI BABU v. KOER KAMTA SINGH. 45 A. 378 : 21 A. L. J 265 : 90. & A. L. R. 429 : 72 I. C. 86 : L. R. 4 A. 176 : A. I R. 1923 All. 321.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Specific performance—Suit for—Failure to ask for possession—Effect.

Per Krishnan, J.—Quaere: Whether a plaintiff suing for a conveyance is not entitled to ask for possession as of right and the failure to ask for it in the first case is a bar under O. 2, R. 2. Per Venkatasubba Rao, J.—The true principle in such a case is that if the claim to possession in the second case is based on the contract O. 2, R. 2 bars the suit; but if it is based on the conveyance obtained in the first suit it can lie. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SUNDARA RAMANUJAM NAIDU v. SIVALINGAM PILLAI.

45 M. L J. 431 : 18 L. W. 333 : 77 I. C. 542 : (1923) M. W. N. 726 : 47 Mad 150 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 360.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 2—Withdrawal of suit.

Suit for Possession.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Suit for possession—Claim for refund of purchase money—Suit for—If lies.

Where a vendee's suit for possession is dismissed, a separate suit for refund of purchase money is not barred under O. 2, R. 2. (Mookerjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) LUKHAN CHANDRA MONDAL v. TAKIM DHALI. 80 I. C. 357 : 28 C. W. N. 1033 : 39 C. L. J. 90 : A I. R. 1924 Cal. 558.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Suit for possession—All persons in possession should be joined.

Where the son-in-law was in possession under a sale-deed by which half the property was sold to him by the mother-in-law and the daughter along with her husband was in joint possession under a will by which the remaining half was bequeathed to her and the previous suit, after the death of the widow was brought for possession of the portion that had been alienated dagainst the husband only held the present suit against the daughter is barred. Plaintiff should join all the persons in possession of the property which he claims (Martineau and Harrison, JJ.) MAULA BAKSH v. MT. JIVI. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 556.

Withdrawal of suit.

——— O. 2, R. 2—Withdrawal of suit—Santhal Paraganas Settlement Regulation, III of 1872—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

One S had two wives B and N. By B he had one son and one daughter both of whom predeceased their father. By N he had a son H. N predeceased S but B survived him S died in 1900 when H was 5 or 6 years old. After the death of S, the Settlement Officer entered the name of B and H in the Record-of-Rights. In 1909 a guardian for H was appointed when B averred that the half share entered in her name was her own. In 1911 H sued B for declaration of his right to the whole property alleging fraud on the part of B in having got the property entered as their joint property. B defended on the ground of Record-of-Rights and impugned the legitimacy of H. In April 1911, the suit was dismissed on the ground that S. 11 of Regn. III of 1872 barred the jurisdiction of the Civil Court in the case. In June an appeal to the Dist. Judge was dismissed on the same ground. H then preferred a Second Appeal. In the meantime H sued for temporary partition on 15th Aug. 1911. B resisted on the ground that the suit lands belonged to her father from whom she inherited them after her brother. In Nov. 1911 H's suit was decreed and the property was partitioned in 1912. About the 24th Aug. 1913 B died and two sons of her daughter were impleaded in the Second Appeal. On the 26th Aug. 1924 H withdrew and in 1918 sued the grandsons for declaration and possession of half the property. The defts. contended that the suit was barred by O. 2, R. 2 and also S. 11 of Regn. III of 1872. Held, by (F.B.) (Mullick, J. diss.) that the suit was not barred. (Miller, C. J., Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) HARE KRISHNA SEN v. UMESH CHANDRA DUTT.

2 Pat. L. T. 528 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 57: 62 I. C. 962: 6 Pat. L. J. 373 : (1921) P. H. C. C. 209 (F. B.).

——— O. 2, R. 2—(2)—Withdrawal of suit—Rule does not prevent reliefs omitted in suit withdrawn with leave under O. 23, r. 1 from being added in the second suit.

Effect of an order for the withdrawal with leave under O. 23, R. 1 (2) is to restore the parties to the position in which they would have stood if the suit had not been filed and, therefore, plaintiff can include portions of his claim in the new suit though they were omitted in the first suit. (Young, J.) MA PO v. A. BUX. 3 Bur. L. J. 189 : 84 I. C. 483 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 118 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 3.

——O. 2, R. 3—Joinder of causes of action.

Two reliefs i.e. for setting aside an order of the execution Court and for a declaration that property could be attached in execution of the decree, can be joined in the same suit, the parties being the same. (Stuart, J.) SHAMBU DIYAL SINGH v. ISWAR SARAN. 75 I. C. 597 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 306.

——O. 2, R. 3—Five persons making five contracts with the same defendant—One suit by all five on the contract is not maintainable.

Where a joint suit was brought against the same defendant by five different persons, each of whom had contracted to supply a certain number of maunds of cotton to the defendant, to recover from him the price thereof. Held, the suit is not maintainable and must be wholly dismissed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHANDULAL SUKLAL SHET v. DAGDU MAHADA CHAUDHURI. 87 I. C. 435 : 27 B. L. R. 472 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 342.

——O. 2, Rr 3, 4, 5—Suit for pre-emption—Four sales of four plots of lands to different vendees on different dates—Single suit for pre-emption if maintainable.

The vendee purchased four plots of land from different owners at different prices. The plaintiff as pre-emptor brought a single suit in respect of all the sales impleading the vendee and also the various vendors of the four sales, Held, that the suit was not defective by reason of misjoinder of defendants and causes of action. If the trial Court did not think fit under O 2, R. 6, of the C. P. Code to order separate trials it is not proper to interfere with its discretion in the matter in appeal and order separate trials. (Abdul Raoof, J.) PIARA RAM v. KESHO NATH. 82 I. C. 605 : 6 Lah L. J. 349 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 156.

——O. 2, R. 3—Mortgage—Want of legal necessity and consideration—Limitation as additional ground only.

When a mortgage is attacked on the ground that it was bad for want of consideration and legal necessity and the plea of limitation is put forward as an additional ground for avoiding liability on mortgage, the suit will not fail completely only because the issue as to limitation is decided against the plaintiff. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Moti Sagar, J.) INDAR SINGH v. BASANTA. 4 Lah. L. J. 13 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 91.

——O 2, R. 3—Connected suits decided by only one judgment—Only one defendant appealing—Other decrees are unaffected unless appellate decree affects them specifically—Practice—Connected suits—C. P. Code, S. 151.

Several suits were decided by one judgment. Only one defendant appealed and succeeded. Held : that the appellate decree does not affect the other cases unless a specific direction to that effect is contained in the appellate decree : 1923 P. C. 118 (P. C.) Foll ; 1922 P.C. 383 (P. C.) Expl. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A.J. C.) BIPIN CHANDRA v. DEWAN SINGH. 2 O. W. N. 894 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 732.

——O 2, Rr. 3 and 6—Suit for rescission of contract and return of earnest money—Specific performance can be claimed in the alternative.

Rr. 3 to 6 of O. 2 allow a plaintiff to unite in the same suit several causes of action against the same defendant and to order separate trials if necessary. The Court can in a suit for rescission of contract and return of earnest money also try an alternative claim for specific preformance arising out of the same facts.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 5.

The scope and effect of the Judicature Act pointed out. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) CHANDRIKA PRASAD v. HIRA LAL. 75 I. C. 433 : 5 Pat. L. T. 49 : 2 Pat. L. R. 82 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 357 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 280.

O. 2, R. 3—Suit is not bad for misjoinder of causes of action.

In a suit by one partner against the remaining two partners for accounts, the plaintiff alleged that a certain sum thrown into the business was from a previous business carried on by plaintiff and one defendant and asked relief in respect of that sum only against that defendant.

Held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of causes of action. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) K. V. LIMAYA v. J. K. WATVE. 1923 P. H. C. C. 276 : 76 I. C. 950 : 2 P. L. R. 132 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 65.

——O. 2, R. 3—Joinder of causes of action—Suit for recovery of rent.

One suit cannot be maintained for the recovery of rent in respect of different and distinct liabilities with regard to separate holdings. (Atkinson, J.) MAHIPAT NARAYAN SINGH v. KISIT SINGH. 81 I. C. 648 (1) : 1 Pat. L. R. 458.

——O. 2, R. 3—Misjoinder of defendants—Effect.

A good test to see whether two suits filed separately ought to have been filed together is to see if they could have been filed as one without a misjoinder of defendants. (Duckworth and Po Han, JJ.) STANDARD ELECTRIC AND MOTOR WORKS v. PICTURE PALACE. 2 Bur. L. J. 218 : 76 I. C. 791 : 1 Rang. 682 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 161 (2).

——O. 2 R, 4—Plaintiff cannot be allowed to claim alternative titles arising out of inconsistent facts.

Per Mullick, J.—A plaintiff may join as many causes of action as he pleases subject to (1) the provisions of O 2, R. 4, of the C. P. Code and (2) the general rule that though he may base his claim on alternative and inconsistent titles he should not in any event be allowed to claim on alternative titles which arises out of inconsistent facts. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) BHIMNATH v. JAGARNATH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 294 : 89 I. C. 814 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 674.

——O. 2, R. 4—Mortgage—Suit for redemption—Persons claiming by title paramount—Question of title—Adjudication on.

As a general rule in mortgage suits, all questions except those between mortgagor and mortgagee are to be excluded. But where defendants are in possession and set up a title paramount and are likely to obstruct plaintiff in getting possession, it is better to adjudicate on such questions also in order to prevent multiplicity of action, O. 2, R. 4, provides for leave being granted in such a case. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) KHUB LAL UPADHYA v. JHABSI KANDU. 3 Pat. 244 : 78 I. C. 885 : 5 Pat. L. T. 573 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 613.

——O. 2, R. 4—Leave of the Court may not be express.

If the parties raise issues apart from the main cause of action and the Court acquiesces in that course and allows those issues to be tried it may well be said that the issues were raised with the leave of the Court though no express application was made, (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) KHUB LAL v. JHAPSI KUNDU. 3 P. 244 : 78 I. C. 885 ; 5 P. L. T. 573 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 613.

——O. 2, R. 5—'Arises with reference to'—Construction—Partnership between plaintiff's father and defendant—Subsequent partnership between plaintiff and defendant with old assets—Plaintiff obtaining letters of administration to his father's estate—Suit by plaintiff to recover father's share in the first partnership and his own share in the second—Not bad for misjoinder.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 2, R. 6.

Plaintiff's father who was divided from the plaintiff was carrying on a business in partnership with the first defendant which lasted till the plaintiff's father's death. Subsequent to the plaintiff's father's death the plaintiff and the first defendant carried on business with the old partnership assets ; the plaintiff subsequently obtained letters of administration to his father's estate. He as administrator brought the present suit for the accounts of the partnership between his father and the first defendant. He also claimed in the same suit his share in the partnership between himself and the first defendant. Such a suit does not offend the provisions of O. 2, R. 5, C. P. Code, and it comes within the exception specified in the rule as the plaintiff's personal claim in respect of the partnership with himself "arises with reference to the estate in respect of which he is suing as administrator". The words "arises with reference to" in the exception to O. 2, R. 5 are very general and cover a case where the plaintiff's personal claim can only be determined after calculating the amount due to him as administrator. The expression "arises with reference to" should not be read as being equivalent only to "arises against or on behalf of.' Tredegar v. Roberts, (1914) 1 K. B. 283 dist (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR. 43 M. L. J. 218 : 16 L. W. 175 : (1922) M. W. N. 453 : 69 I. C. 966 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436.

——0. 2, R. 6—Suit for rent—Different holdings with the same tenant—Right to claim rent in one suit —Agra Tenancy Act.

It is not competent to the plaintiff to join in one suit claims for arrears of rent in respect of occupancy and non-occupancy holdings held by the same tenant. Under the Agra Tenancy Act there should be different suits in respect of different holdings. 3 A. L. J. 603 followed. (Mukerjee, J.) HIRA LAL v. HOTI LAL. 22 A. L. J. 459 : L. R. 5 A. 155 (Rev) : 79 I. C. 560 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 720.

——0. 2 R. 6—Trial Court refusing to act under —Appellate Court should not interfere.

In a case of a joinder of causes of action, where the Trial court does not think fit to act under O. 2, R. 6, it is not proper for the appellate court to interfere with the discretion. (Abdul Raoof, J.) PAIRA RAM v. KESHO NATH. 73 I. C. 892 : A.I. R. 1924 Lah. 156.

——0. 2, R. 6—Suit for arrears of rent and ejectment—Joinder of—Maintainability—(Oudh Rent Act XXII of 1866 as amended by Act IV of 1921).

Per Burn, J.M.—O. 2, R. 6 gives powers to a Court to order separate trial when it appears that any causes of action joined in one suit cannot be disposed of conveniently together. A suit for ejectment should not be joined with one for arrears of rent since the forum of appeal is different. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) MADHO PRASAD v. LACHMAN. 11 O. & A. L. R. 12 : 2 O. W. N. 19 · L. R. 6 (O) 43 (2) : 12 O. L. J. 191.

——0, 2, R. 7—Suit against minor—Compromise by guardian—Validity

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 3, R. 1.

The compromise entered into by the guardian of a minor in a suit though not sanctioned by the Court is not void but only voidable the decree passed thereon is not a nullity. Hanuman Prasad v. Mahmad Ishaq (1906) 28 Allahabad 137 and Virupakshappa v. Shidappa (1902) 26 Bom 109 referred to. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) SITA SINGH v. MAIN SINGH 4 Lah. L. J. : 211 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah: 166.

——0. 3.

See also LEGAL PRACTITIONER.

——0. 3—Power of attorney—Defective for want of proper name.

Where a vakalatnama was signed by plaintiff and accepted by the pleader, the mere fact that, in the body of vakalatnama, the name of the other pleader appeared in print and the name of the pleader actually employed was absent altogether, does not invalidate it. 43 All. 392 Foll. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) MULCHAND v. RADHABAI. 6 N. L. J. 179: 73 I. C. 251 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 381.

——0. 3, Rr. 1 and 2—Pleader appointed by recognised agent of party is a 'duly appointed pleader and an execution petition signed by him only is valid.

Where a party to a suit authorizes an agent by special power of attorney to appoint a pleader to sign execution petitions, a pleader so empowered by the agent is a "pleader appointed to act on his (the party's) behalf," within S. 36 of the C. P. Code of 1882 and the petition signed by the pleader but not signed by the party is a duly presented petition even if neither the agent nor the pleader is a "recognised agent" within S 37 of the Code of 1882. (Lord Atkinson.) THIRUVENGADASWAMI AIYANGAR v. PAVADAI PILLAI. 41 M. L. J. 645:44 Mad. 736: 48 I. A. 534 : (1921) M. W. N. 552 : 14 L. W. 244: 30 M. L. T. 109: 26 C. W. N 376: 24 Bom. L. R. 606: A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 225 (P C.).

——0. 3, R. 1—One plaintiff ordered to attend personally—His failure does not entitle court to dismiss suit against all.

Where court requires personal attendance of one of the plaintiffs but he fails to attend, the dismissal of the suit against all the plaintiffs is illegal. JUSTICES RAM RAO KRISHNA JATAN v. SHAMI NATH PANDEY. L. R. 2 A. Rev 233.

——0. 3, R. 1—Power of attorney—Validity—Objection as to, cannot be raised for the first time in appeal.

Where the defendant in the Court below failed to take the objection that a power of attorney constituting a recognised agent was not valid, he must be deemed to have waived the same. The objection cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in appeal. (Scott-Smith, J.) GOPAL SINGH v. BHAGA. 69 I. C. 365: A I. R. 1924 Lah. 296.

——0. 3, R. 1—Plaint signed and verified by agent —Leave to sign and verify granted only subsequently—Defect is not fatal.

Where a plaint was signed and verified by the plaintiff's agent who was only subsequently granted leave to sign and verify the plaint, held, that the omission or failure to obtain leave beforehand was a mere irregularity not invalidating. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) LODD GOVINDOSS KRISHNA VARU v. MUTHIAH

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 3, R. 2.

CHETTY. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 660 : 48 M. L. J. 721

——O. 3, R 2—Power of attorney—Special power—Suit filed by Mukhtear—Irregularity—Immaterial defect—C. P. Code, S. 99.

Plff. instituted a suit for recovery of possession of land from defendants and the plaint was filed by a Mukhtear holding a special power of attorney from plff. and not a general power of attorney as required by O. 3, R 2 (a) as amended by the Rules made by the High Court of Bombay. The defendants objected that the suit was not properly instituted, but the Courts below overruled the plea and decreed the suit. Held, on second appeal, that the irregularity, if any, was cured by S. 99, C. P. Code, and that the decree of the Court below should be affirmed. (1886) P. J. 63, Foll. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) GANAPATHY NANA v. JIVANABAI.

47 B. 227 : 24 Bom. L. R 1302: 76 I. C. 34 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 44 (1).

——O.3 R.2, cl (a)—Bombay High Court Rules.

O. 3, R. 2 cl. (a) as altered by the rule made by Bombay High Court enables a person holding a general power of attorney from a party not resident within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court within which limits the appearance is made, authorising him to appear and act on behalf of the party, to so appear and act. (Shah and Crump. JJ.) ACHUT SITARAM v TARACHAND. 72 I.C. 1003: A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 41 (1).

——O. 3, R. 4—Power to prosecute all litigation implies power to lodge and conduct appeal and fresh power is not necessary for appeal.

A power of attorney authorising a Pleader to prosecute all the litigation of a suit impliedly confers upon him the power to lodge and conduct the appeal up to the High Court and fresh power is not necessary for appeal. 80 P. W. R. 1915 Foll. (Addison, J.) BUDHU RAM v. KALU RAM. 6 Lah. 461: 26 P. L. R 721: A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 32.

——O. 3, R. 4—Vakalatnama need not be accepted in writing by a Vakil.

O. 3, R. 4 does not expressly state that the acceptance of a Vakalatnamah should be in writing. The fact that the Vakil appeared and conducted the case in the lower Court and also filed the appeal is sufficient to show that he accepted it. 1923 Lah. 402 Appr. (Addison, J.) BUDHU RAM v. KALU RAM.

6 Lah. 461: 26 P. L. R. 721 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 32.

——O. 3, R. 4—Power of attorney is enough authority.

The presentation of an appeal by a pleader who held a power of attorney which expressly authorised him to present the appeal was held valid presentation though the power was not filed with the appeal. (Harrison, J.) KURA v. UDAMI, 7 Lah L. J. 29 : 86 I C. 207 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah 331 (2).

——O. 3, R. 4—Power of attorney—Acceptance must be in writing. (Scott-Smith and Zafar Ali, JJ.) THE FIRM MATHRA DAS v. THE FIRM RAMA LAL.

A I. R. 1923 Lah. 402.

——O. 3, R. 4—Right of audience is not created by R. 4—R. 4 enables pleader, after accepting and filing power to conduct proceedings until client's death or end of proceedings.

Order 3, R. 4 does not give an absolute right to a pleader to appear in a Court till the termination of the proceedings, but only provides in what manner a pleader should be appointed and till what time the appointment will be in force. It assumes that a pleader is competent to appear, plead and act in the Court in which he wishes to plead and act. If he is not competent to appear, plead and act in any Court under the rules governing the procedure in that Court, he cannot claim right of audience by virtue of O. 3, R. 4. Rule 4 is only an enabling provision by which a pleader, when he accepts an engagement and files his vakalat in Court, is entitled to conduct the proceedings till he or his client dies or till the termination of the proceedings. But this rule does not override the rules governing the qualifications of various classes of pleaders or the rules governing the procedure of the Courts. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) VEERAPPA CHETTIAR v. P. G. SUNDARESA SASTRIGAL. 48 M. 676 : 22 L. W 606 : A I. R. 1925 Mad 1201 : 49 M. L. J. 366.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 3, R. 4.

——O. 3, R. 4—Omission to sign a power of attorney by a minor's guardian can be cured by the minor subsequent to giving a fresh power.

The omission to sign the power of attorney given by a minor's guardian to the pleaders, is similar in character to that of an agent who inadvertently fails to sign a power of attorney given by him to a pleader. The omission is an irregularity which can be cured by the minor's giving a fresh power of attorney as major to his pleaders. C. R. No. 130 of 1924, Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DATTU v. BHANSINGH.

88 I. C. 235 : A. I. R 1926 Nag. 40.

——O. 3, R. 4—Vakalat—Mark made by consent of executant—Ability to sign—Validity of appointment of pleader.

Where a person who can sign his name touches the pen of a scribe who puts in his mark in a vakalat and there is no doubt of the intention to give a vakalatnama the defect is only a technical one and the acts done by the pleader so appointed are valid. (Baker, J. C.) GULAM MOHIUDDIN v. SHANKAR.

A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 159.

——O. 3, R. 4—Pleader—Vakalat—Acceptance—Omission of pleader's name in vakalat—Effect of—Presentation of plaint, if proper.

Where a vakalatnama executed without the pleader's name appearing upon it is accepted by the particular pleader who was engaged by the party and a plaint was presented by that pleader. Held, that the provisions of O. 3, R. 4 of C. P. Code, were sufficiently complied with and that the presentation of the plaint was proper. Once the party has delivered the vakalatnama to a pleader without putting a name on it he must be deemed to have impliedly authorised the pleader to fill up the necessary details and to appear for him. Even where a Court returns a plaint for presentation to a proper Court the original vakalatnama will continue to be in force even after the return of the plaint. O. 3, R. 4 provides that the authorisation must be in writing not that it must be in any particular form, nor that it must show the pleader's name in the main body of the document. As long as it is a writing which states that the party authorises the pleader to act for him and is signed by the party and the pleader, there is no relaxation of the provisions of the rule in accepting it. Even if there is any defect in the vakalatnama by reason of the omission to mention the name of the particular pleader authorised to appear, such defects can be cured by amendment (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MAHARASHTRAYA JNAN KOSH MANDAL v. BIJJULAL. 19 N. L. R. 36 : 6 N. L. J. 100: 71 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 182

——O. 3, R. 4—Pleader—Authority to represent client—Return of plaint does not terminate.

So far as the client is concerned, the appointment of a pleader is not determined until all proceedings in the suit are ended. The return of a plaint for presentation to the proper Court does not put an end to the authority of the pleader and if the plaint is presented to the proper Court on the same day the pleader can act in the case. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) DEBI LAL v KRISHNAJI. 5 N. L. J. 265 : 67 I. C. 296 : A I. R. 1922 Nag. 125.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 3, R. 4.

——O. 3, R. 4—Vakalatnama—One person signing for another.

The rules as regards appointing pleaders are salutary and strict rules made with a view to prevent fraud. But in a case where no fraud has been committed and one person signs for another with the full knowledge and acquiescence of the latter, the irregularity is a formal one not affecting the merits of the case and is cured by S. 99, C. P. Code. (Mitler, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BANWARI RAI v. CHETHRU LAL RAI. 2 Pat. L. R. 174 : 74 I. C. 1033 A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 114:

——O. 3, R. 4 (1) and (2)—Appointment and discharge of pleader—Leave of Court.

Per Curiem :—A pleader accepting a vakalatnama cannot divest himself of his duty arising from such acceptance without leave of the Court. If he desires to discharge himself from a case, he must give his client reasonable notice of his intention. A pleader cannot delegate his work to another pleader without his client's consent, express or implied. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) EMPEROR v. RAJANI KANTA BOSE. 49 Cal. 732 : 35 C. L. J. 356 : 71 I. C. 31 : 24 Cr. L. J.33 : 26 C. W. N. 589 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 515 (S. B.)

——O. 3, R. 4 (1)—Pleader—Appointment—Vakalat can be accepted even after filing in Court.

Where a pleader's name appears in a vakalat he is competent to sign and accept the vakalat even though it has already been accepted and filed in Court by another pleader also retained by the party. The Court has no power to refuse permission to the pleader whose name appears on the vakalat to sign it and appear for the party. R 46 (f) of Ch. XI of the General Rules and Circular Orders provides for a vakalatnama already filed in Court being subsequently accepted by a pleader or vakil whose name appears in the vakalatnamah at the time when it was filed. All that is necessary is that there should be an endorsement of acceptance in proof of acceptance. 5 C.W.N. 816 ; 20 C.W.N 283 ; 20 C. W. N. 287, Ref. (Jwala Prasad, J.) KUNJ BEHARI SINGH v. SHEODAHIN PANDEY. 3 Pat L. T. 447: 68 I. C. 659 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 504.

——O. 3, R. 4 (2)—Withdrawal.

When a pleader reports no instructions whether after he has asked for an adjournment and been refused or not the pleader cannot be deemed to have appeared. (Coutts Trotter, Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) V. MANICKAM PILLAI v. MAHUDUM BATHUMMAL. 20 L. W. 427 : 35 M. L. T. 48 : 47 Mad. 819 : 1924 M. W. N. 689 : 82 I. C. 102 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 21 : 47 M. L. J. 398. (F.B.)

——O. 3, R. 4(2)—Leave of Court can be assumed from its attitude and other circumstances.

No formality is necessary about the leave of the Court and it may be presumed that in a case where the Court assents to the conduct of the vakil and raises no question about his withdrawal the consent of the Court has been given within the meaning of the section. (Coutts Trotter, Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) V. MANICKAM v MAHUDEEM BATHUMMAL, 47 Mad. 819 : 20 L. W. 427 : 35 M. L. T. 48 : (1924) M. W. N. 689 : 82 I. C. 102 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 21 : 47 M. L. J. 398. (F. B.).

——O. 3, R. 4 (2)—There is no specified form for written withdrawal by pleader.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 4, R. 1.

The statute does not require the writing containing the withdrawal by the pleader of his vakalat to be in any specified form. Endorsement on the back of the plaint that he (the practitioner) had no instructions except to apply for an adjournment was held a good written withdrawal. (Coutts Trotter C. J., Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) V. MANICKAM PILLAI v. MAHUDUM BATHUMMAL. 20 L. W. 427 : 47 Mad. 819: 35 M. L. T. 48 : (1924) M. W. N 689 : 82 I. C. 102 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 21 : 47 M. L. J. 398. (F.B.).

——O. 3, R. 4, cl. (3)—Advocate of High Court Necessity of vakalatnama.

An Advocate unlike a pleader can be verbally appointed to act on behalf of his client and when so appointed under O. 3 R. 1, he can appear, plead and act. (Jwala Prasad, J.) LAURENTIUS EKKA v. DHUKI KOERI. 4 Pat. 766.

——O. 3, R. 4 (3)—Advocate of Patna High Court need not present document empowering him to act on behalf of his client.

An Advocate of the Patna High Court is not required to present any document empowering him to act on behalf of his client because the Government of India Act repeals and re-enacts the Indian High Courts Act and therefore the reference in C P. Code O. 3, R. 4 (3) to the High Courts established under the High Courts Act of 1861 includes the Patna High Court which was established under the provisions of the Government of India Act. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) MT. GOBINDA KOER v. JAI NARAIN. 6 P. L. T. 380 : 88 I. C. 91 (1): 1925 P. H. C. C. 233 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 614.

——O. 3, R. 5—Pleader, position and duty of—Power of pleader, how determined.

When a pleader accepts a case it is his duty to attend to his client's interest throughout the proceedings in the case unless his appointment be determined with the leave of the Court by a writing signed by him or his client filed in Court. (Lyle, A. J. C.) SHEO SAIK SINGH v. AUSAN. 25 O. C. 40 : 9 O. L. J. 170 : 67 I. C. 554 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 75 (1).

——O. 3, R. 5 (d)—Rejection of application on ground of suit matter being res judicata is illegal and revisable.

To reject an application to sue as a pauper on the ground that the matter in suit between the parties was res judicata is illegal and apt to be revised. (Daniels, J.) LACHMI v. RAM BAHADUR. 23 A. L. J. 200 : 86 I. C. 781 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 275 (2).

——O. 4, R.1—Plaintiff a major—Suit instituted by next friend not valid.

Where a plaintiff has attained majority before the institution of the suit a plaint signed and verified on his behalf by a next friend is not valid and the defect is not a mere irregularity in proceeding and cannot be cured by section 98 of the Civil Procedure Code. (Mears C.J. and Piggott, J.) RUHUL AMIN v. LALA SHANKAR LAL. 45 A. 701 : L. R. 4 A. 342: 21 A. L. J. 626 : 77 I. C. 30 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 54.

——O. 4, R. 1—Plaint—Vakil patra—Signed by plaintiff's servant—Plaintiff should be given opportunity to sign.

A suit cannot be dismissed without notice to the plaintiff and an opportunity to him to sign it personally where the plaint when filed was signed by the plaintiff's servant who also empowered the pleader though the servant was not the recognized plaintiff's agent (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) UTTARAM v. THAKOR DAS. 46 Bom. 150 : 68 I. C. 217 : 23 Bom. L. R. 911 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 113 (1).

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O 4, R. 1

——0. 4, R. 1—Presentation out of office hours. being not accepted does not constitute proper presentation on the day of refusal.

Where a plaint was presented out of office hours at 6-30 p. m. to a District Munsiff at a Club, who refused to receive it, the plaint cannot be treated as having been filed on the day on which it was actually presented. (Jackson, J.) SINNAPPA NAIDU v. SINNAMMA NAICKEN. 20 L. W. 655 : 35 M. L. T 116 : 82 I. C. 928 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 201.

——0. 4, R, 1—Presentation of plaint to Judge outside Court and out of office hours—Validity of.

Where a Judge accepts a plaint presented to him outside Court and after the usual office hours, the suit must be deemed to have been instituted on the day on which the plaint was so presented. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Ramesam, JJ.) SATTAYA PADAYACHI v. SOUNDARATHACHI. 47 Mad. 312 : (1924) M. W. N. 162 · 19 L. W. 468 : 33 M. L. T. 278 (H. C.) : 79 I. C. 1017 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 448 : 46 M. L. J. 78 (F. B.).

——0. 4, R. 1—Presentation of plaint.

Presentation of plaint at residence of Judge after the usual Court hours is valid. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) MADHORAO v. MANOHARLAL. 65 I. C. 674 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 167 (1).

——0. 5, R. 1—Onus of proof of service is on plaintiff.

The onus of proving the service of summons on the defendant is upon the plaintiff. (Page, J.) BHOWANIDAS RAMGOBIND v. PANNACHAND LUCHMIPUT. 52 Cal. 453 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 801.

——0 5, R. 1 and 0. 17, R. 2—Suppression of summons—Fraud.

In order to charge a party with fraud in the suppression of summons it is essential to prove that the non-service was the result of some active part taken by that party in not having the summons served and thereby keeping the opposite party from the knowledge of the suit. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) RANI CHHATTRA KUMARI DEBI v. PANDA RACHOMOHAN SINGARI. 3 P. L. T. 451 : A. I. R 1922 Pat. 291.

——0. 5, R 9—Service of summons outside the jurisdiction of Court issuing it—No order of the Court having jurisdiction—Service is irregular.

The service of summons effected outside the jurisdiction of the Court issuing it and without any order of the Court having jurisdiction is irregular. (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNG SAN BWIN v. MAUNG NYI. 3 Rang. 239 : 89 I. C. 870: A. I. R. 1925 Rang 325.

——0. 5, R. 10—Service must be effected by an officer of the Court.

Service of a summons is irregular if it is not made by an officer of the Court. (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNG SAN BWIN v. MAUNG NYI. 3 Rang 239 : 89 I. C. 870 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 325.

——0. 5, Rr. 12, 14 and 17—Pardanashin lady—Service of summons on husband is not proper service.

A pardanashin lady executed a power of attorney in favour of her husband but there was no power given to accept service of summons on her behalf. The summons was served on the husband. Held, that there was no proper service under O. 5. R. 12 as the husband was not an agent duly authorised to accept service of summons. As a pardanashin lady is not able to accept service personally, she comes under the expression "cannot be found" under O 5, Rr. 14 and 17, and service of summons can be effected by serving it on any adult male member of the family, or affixing it on the outer door of the house in which the lady ordinarily resides. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MT. NAJMUNNISSA v. JAGMOHAN LALL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 5, R. 17.

4 Pat. L. T. 89 : 72 I. C. 910 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 433.

——0. 5, R. 13—Service on cousin—No attempt to serve personally—Service not proper.

If it is not shown that sufficient attempt was made to personally serve the summons, and if it is not shown that the person who has been described as a cousin of the appellant was a person who was sufficiently authorised to receive the summons, the appeal to set aside an ex parte decree must succeed on the ground of non-service of summons. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) ROMESH CHANDRA v. DURGA CHARAN. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 128.

——0. 5, R. 13 and O. 30, R. 3—Scope.

O. 5, R. 13 applies only to suits against firms and O. 30, R. 3 also applies where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, and they do not apply when suits are brought against persons in their individual capacities. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHABIR v. BALKISUN. 3 P. L. T. 29 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 76 · 1 P. 48 : A. I R 1922 Pat. 376.

——0. 5, R. 15 Mode of service—Service on son when sufficient to bind father—Conditions necessary.

Service on son is not sufficient to bind father when it is not proved that the father cannot be found and the son is not proved to be adult. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BHARAMCHAND GUIN v. KANEK SARKAR. 26 C. W. N. 359 : 68 I. C. 991 . 35 C. L. J. 203.

——0. 5, R. 17—Service of summons by post—R. 22 of the Allahabad Rule Committee.

Service by post or fixing to the door, in case, a person cannot be personally served, is prima facie sufficient ; but under R. 22 added by the Allahabad Rule Committee, to O. 7, C. P. Code, the Court is bound to direct additional service by registered post. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD v. BHOOP NARAYAN. 43 All. 411 : 61 I C. 135 : 19 A. L. J. 145.

——0. 5 R. 17—Defendant having two residences—Plaintiff must enquire for defendant at both.

Where a defendant has two residences or places of business, it is not enough that the plaintiff, in order to become entitled to take advantage of the provisions for substituted service, should call once, twice or any number of times at one of those places. A plaintiff must use reasonable diligence to ascertain the whereabouts of the defendant, and where, the defendant, according to the plaintiff, resided at both places the plaintiff cannot be held to have used reasonable diligence to discover the defendant's whereabouts if he does not make enquiries for the defendant at both of these places. (Page, J.) BHOWANIDAS RAMGOBIND v. PANNACHAND LUCHMIPAT. 52 Cal. 453 : 88 I. C. 929 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 801.

——0. 5, R. 17—Deft. refusing to accept service—Affixing of summons on outer door of premises in which defendant is found but which is not his residence or place of business, is not enough.

To affix a copy of the summons on the outer door of premises in which a defendant is found, and where the defendant has refused to accept service is not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of O. 5, R. 17, but in order duly to effect substituted service it is necessary for the proper officer to affix summons on the outer door or some other conspicuous part of the house in which the defendant ordinarily resides or carries on business or personally works for gain. (Page, J.) BHOWANIDAS RAMGOBIND v. PANNACHND LUCHMIPAT. 52 Cal. 453 : 88 I C. 929 : A. I, R. 1925 Cal. 801.

——0. 5 R. 17—"Due and reasonable diligence".

The question of "due and reasonable diligence" in

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 5, R. 17.

O. 5, R. 17, C. P. Code is a question of fact. Where a process server went to a place on a day and hour when he expected to find the defendant there and did all that was required under the section but could not find him he must be taken to have exercised "due and reasonable diligence." (Sanderson, C. J and Buckland, J.) BALDEODAS LOHEA v. SHUBCHURNDAS GOENKA. 30 C. W. N. 104.

——O. 5, R. 17—All available steps to effect personal service must be made.

All available steps to effect personal service must be made before resort is had to the provisions of O. 5. R. 17. It is not enough to attend at the ordinary places of residence or of business or the place where the defendant personally works for gain, and to conclude that substituted service may be effected merely because at the time when serving peon attends at such place the defendant does not happen to be there. It makes no difference whether the peon attends at such place once or three times. It is necessary that the serving peon, having discovered or believing that the defendant cannot be served at the time when he is attending. should institute proper enquiries to endeavour to ascertain where the defendant's whereabouts are. The serving peon before he can take advantage of the provisions of O. 5, R. 17 must attend at the right place and he must attend at a time when he may reasonably expect that the defendant will be present, and if he fails to find the defendant he must take reasonable steps to discover where the defendants may happen to be. (Page, J.) BALDEODAS LOHIA v. SUBKARANDAS GOENKA. 52 Cal. 179: 88 I. C. 508 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 627 (2).

——O. 5, R. 17—Service of summons—Substituted service—Necessity for personal service.

Where a process server is told that the persons whom he is seeking to serve, were not living at that time at the place where he seeks to serve them but at their own native place, it is his duty to endeavour to effect personal service upon them either by proceeding to that place or returning the summons to the Court with a proper endorsement so that fresh summons should be issued. Under O. 5, R. 17. C. P. Code, the service, if possible,should be personal unless there is an agent empowered to accept service and it is only if personal service cannot be effected that there is any justification for proceeding in accordance with the provisions of O. 5, R. 17. (Greaves and Graham, JJ.) CHOWDHURY DINA NATH PATI v. CHOWDHURY UPENDRA NANDAN DAS. 82 I. C. 703 : 40 C. L. J. 154 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1004.

——O. 5, R. 17—Personal service—When can be dispensed with—Peon affixing notice at entrance of party's house—Service if valid.

Personal service of notice should not be dispensed with unless it is unavoidable to do so or unless there is an agent empowered to accept service. Where the notice was sent for service at the place mentioned in the plaint as the plaintiffs' residence but the peon on arriving there did not find the plaintiffs or any male member of the family, but found there a servant of the plaintiffs and was told that the plaintiffs were at that time living at their own bari at a village some two or three miles distant : Held, that the affixing of the notice at the entrance of the plaintiffs' house was not good service as the peon did not use due and reasonable diligence. (Greaves and Graham, JJ.) DINA NATH PATI v. UPENDRA NANDAN DAS MAHAPATRA. 40 C. L. J. 154 : A. I. R 1924 Cal. 1004.

——O 5, R. 17—Summons—Service by affixture—When proper.

Where on going to the village of the defendant the Amin learns that the defendant had gone to another village and that the time of his return was not known and that there was no adult male member in the defendant's family, affixture of the summons to the outer door of the house is not a substituted service but is good service. (Ramesam, J.) SYED MUHAMMAD SAHIB v. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR. 22 L. W. 423 : 90 I.C. 104 (2) : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 131 : 49 M. L. J. 445.

——O. 5, R. 17—Affixture to outer door—Propriety of.

The petitioner at the hearing of an application to set aside an ex parte decree alleged that the summons had been affixed on the outer door of his house as stated in the return but the court refused to enquire into the matter and dismissed the petition. Held, that the disposal of the petition was irregular and the court must enquire and come to a conclusion on the evidence. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) KARUTHAN AMBALAM v. DORAISWAMI AIYANGAR. 16 L. W. 444 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 27.

——O. 5, R. 17—Service by affixture—Temporary absence.

Service by affixture during the temporary absence of the party to be served with a notice, on the outer door of his house where his wife was living is sufficient service within the meaning of O. 5, R. 17. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) KASIVISVANATHAM CHETTY v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY. (1922) M. W. N. 173 : 70 I. C. 611 : 45 M. 875 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 93 : 42 M. L. J. 422.

——O. 5, R. 17—Service of summons—Personal service—Necessity for—Diligence.

Where there is an agent empowered to accept service on behalf of the deft. or any other person on whom service can be made, it is not incumbent on the serving officer to make such diligent efforts to effect personal service as in a case where there is nobody else on whom service can be made. (Hallifax, A.J.C.) MADAN SINGH v. KESHEO PRASAD. 5 N. L. J. 41 : 65 I. C. 44 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 105.

——O. 5,R. 17—Service by affixture—Temporary absence—Only one attempt—Effect.

Service by affixture should not be made the very first time notice is sought to be served. If it is done and a decree is passed ex parte it is sufficient cause within the meaning of O. 9, R. 13 to set aside the decree. Temporary absence at the time of the process-server's call does not mean he cannot be found within the meaning of O. 5, R. 17, (Dalal, A. J.C.) MATHURA SINGH v, SHEO MOHAN PRASAD. 9 O. & A. L. R. 437 : 10 O. L. J. 337 : 74 I. C. 792 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 237.

——O. 5, R 17—Service of process—Affixture—Temporary absence of party.

Where the process server's report was to the effect that on reaching the village, he was informed that the tenant had gone to another district, and so he served the notice by affixation. Held that the affixture did not invalidate the notice. The object of that rule is to make certain that the person who is to be served receives notice whereas, in the present case, he actually received it. The question whether affixation was really justified is of less importance. In the circumstances of the present case affixation does not invalidate the notice. (Fremantle, S.M. and Burn, J. M.) ABDULLAH KHAN v. MAHANT KESHO RAM. L. R. 5 O. 43 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 348 : 11 O. L. J. 64.

——O. 5, R. 17—Bengal Tenancy Act, S. 49—Tender of summons—Acceptance but refusal to grant receipt—No affixture or order of Court holding service sufficient—Effect—Strict compliance is essential.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 5, R. 17.

The rules laid down in O. 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the service of summons will apply to notices served under S. 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Perhaps R. 19 does not apply to notices issued under the Bengal Tenancy Act for the rule numbered 3 of the Government rules only says that the process shall be served in the manner provided in the C. P. Code. Rule 10 relates to the proof of service by the affidavit of the serving officer or his examination on oath in Court and the decision of the Court that the service was duly made. But rule 17, relating to the mode of service, applies and if it is not complied with, the notice will be vitiated. A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 446, Dist. (Jwala Prasad, A.C.J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) MAHADEO SINGH v. BAGIT SINGH.
4 Pat. 135 : 1925 P.H.C.C. 106 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 441.

——— O. 5, R. 17—Service of summons—Summons received but endorsement not made—Affixture—Necessity for.

The summons in a case was served by delivering a copy of the summons together with a copy of the plaint to the defendant personally (the defendant being personally known to the peon). The defendant refused to grant a receipt therefor, but retained the summons and the copy of the plaint. When the defendant took the summons and the plaint, the peon had no other copy to affix upon the outer door or other conspicuous part of the house. He therefore did not affix it to the house. If the defendant had refused to take the summons and to sign the acknowledgment, in that case the peon would have a copy of the plaint and the summons to be affixed upon the house of the defendant. Held, that defendant by his conduct rendered it impossible to have the copies affixed on the house and he cannot be permitted to take advantage of his own wrong and to plead that the omission rendered the service invalid. The defendant was in this house and copies of the summons and the plaint were given to and left with him in his hands. Therefore the requirements of O. 5, R 17 were complied with. (Jwala Prasad and Forbes, JJ.) NAGESHWAR BUX ALI v. FEASWAR DAYAL SINGH. 3 Pat. 236 : 2 Pat. L. R. 58: 78 I. C. 889 : 5 Pat. L. T. 576 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 446.

——— O. 5, Rr. 18 and 19—Presumption as to service.

It can be assumed until the contrary is proved that the summons is in fact served in the mode stated in the report of the peon, and therefore the plaintiffs must prove that the statements in the report are untrue. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) DAMODHAR PRASAD v. RAM SARUP KUMAR. 1 P. L. R. 252 : 71 I. C. 843 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 137 : 4 P. L. T. 102 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 327.

——— O. 5, Rr. 18, 10—Identification of person sought to be served—Identifier need not be supplied by party.

It is not incumbent on a party to provide an identifier for the purposes of O. 5, R. 18, C. P. Code. The identifier may be a person in the village knowing the defendant. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) NAGENDRA NATH GHOSH v. SAMBU NATH PANDE.
3 Pat. L. T. 498 : 65 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 114.

——— O. 5, R. 19 and O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Finding that service was sufficient not recorded.

Where a Small Cause Court without regarding any order under O. 5, R. 19, C. P. Code, and without finding that the service was sufficient decreed the suit ex parte. Held, that the ex parte decree must be set aside. (Ramesam, J.) CHIRAKKAL v. MULLA MITTATH. 15 L. W. 17 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 417 (1).

——— O. 5, R. 20—Substituted service—Mere absence from village is not sufficient ground.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6.

Mere absence of the person to be served from the village is not a sufficient ground for substituted service. RANDHIRA v. RANI KHUSHAL KUAR.
L. R. 2 All. 244 (Rev.).

——— O. 5, R.20—Substituted service through newspaper—Time to to be allowed.

Where substituted service is ordered to be effected by means or a newspaper reasonable time to allow the newspaper to reach in addition to the time of the notice is sufficient. All that the court is required to do is to see that the judgment-debtor has had sufficient opportunity to see the newspaper. KEWAL v. SAJJAD HUSAIN. L. R. 2 All. 242 (Rev.)

——— O. 5, R. 20—Substituted service—When to be ordered.

Under O. 5, R. 20 substituted service should be ordered only when the court is satisfied that there is reason to believe that the defendant is evading service or that summons cannot be served in the ordinary way. Where the plaintiff knew all along that defendant had left a certain place two or three years before suit, it cannot be said he was evading service at that place (Chevis, J.) RAM KISHAN v. MULA.
69 I. C. 467 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 191

——— O. 5, R. 20—Copy attached to tree near house is sufficient.

Provided the tree to which the copy of summons is attached was reasonably near the hut, that would probably be sufficient. (Batten, J.C. and Hallifax, A.J.C.) PANJAB RAO v. BALIRAM.
69 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 13.

——— O. 5, R. 20—Service by affixture at the first time—No presumption of knowledge of proceeding to defendant can be made.

When service is made the very first time by affixing summons to the door of the defendant's house, there can be no presumption that he had notice of the case or of the date fixed for hearing. (Dalal, A. J. C.) MATHURA SINCH v. SHEO MOHAN PRASAD.
10 O. L. J. 337 : 74 I. C. 792 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 237.

——— O. 5 R. 21—Service outside jurisdiction—How effected.

A service of summons on a person residing outside the jurisdiction of a Court can only be done by an officer of the Court and that with an order from a Court having jurisdiction over the place where he resides. (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNUG SAN BWIN v. MAUNG NYI. 3 Rang. 239 : 89 I. C. 870 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 325.

——— O. 5, R. 22—Service by post—Bombay High Court Civil Circulars, 1912, Chap. I, R. 20.

The service of summons by post is allowed to litigants as a matter of convenience. Retrial should be ordered if, after the decree has been passed against him on evidence that the summons was sent by registered post and returned refused, when he appears and denied that the packet has ever been delivered to him by the postal authorities. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) SUNDER v. MAKAN. 23 Bom. L. R. 908 : 46 Bom. 130 : 64 I.C. 386 : A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 377 (1).

——— O. 5, R. 23—Oudh Civil Digest, S. 115—Certificate by munsarim is ineffective.

The certificate as to whether the service was sufficient or not, if signed by the munsarim and not by the presiding officer of the Court, is neither legal nor of value. (Dalal, A. J. C.) MATHURA SINGH v. SHEO MOHAN PRASAD. 10 O. L. J. 337 : 74 I. C. 792 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 237.

——— O. 6—Pleadings—Suit for right of way—Relief based on ownership or in the alternative user—Defendant claiming ownership—Claim on the ground of easement not barred.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 1

Where the defendant contended that the case of easement could not be made out where plaintiffs put forward an allegation of ownership and the evidence in the case made it clear that the plaintiffs were using the dispute lane as a means of access to their survey number ; Held, the real issue in the case was whether the plaintiffs had enjoyed for the statutory period the right of way over the strip in dispute. The Court was entitled to accept the defendant's contention that lane belonged to him but that would not prevent the plaintiffs from asking the Court to protect their user or the lane. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) DHARAMDAS v. RANCHHODJI. 46 Bom. 200 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 199.

——— —O. 6, R. 1—Partition suit—Defence claiming certain lands as raiyati —Specific allegation in plaint as baksht—If necessary.

In a suit for partition of village lands, the defence claimed some lands as raiyati and the court decided that as the plaint had not specifically alleged the lands were baksht, they should be allotted to defendants. Held, plaintiff was not bound to assert so specifically in the plaint and the question should be decided after preliminary decree but before the final decree is passed. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) LACHMAN NARAYAN TIWARI v. RAMSARAN TIWARI. 6 Pat. L. T. 152 : 86 I.C. 785 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 433.

——— —O. 6, R. 2—Plaint in collision cases—Frame of.

The decision of a case, should be founded upon a case to be found in the pleadings or involved in or consistent with the case thereby made. In collision cases, especially, the plaint should be so framed that it sets out the circumstances of the collision, with clearness and accuracy, to enable his adversary to know the case he has to meet, and to state the particular acts of negligence that, according to him caused the collision. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) REES v. YOUNG. 25 C.W.N. 519 : 66 I.C. 745: 34 C.L.J. 178.

——— ——O. 6. R. 2—Denial of marriage includes denial of validity of marriage.

The denial of a marriage ceremony in answer to a claim for restitution of conjugal rights covers the plea that, if the marriage, if performed, was otherwise invalid. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RAM JAWAI v. GOPAL CHAND. 64 I. C. 150.

———O. 6, R. 2—Inconsistent pleas are not prohibited.

O. 6, R. 2 cannot be construed as prohibiting the raising of the inconsistent pleas. A person may rely on one set of facts if he succeeds in proving them, and on another set of facts if he succeeds in proving that set of facts. (Wazir Hasan and Pullan, A. J, Cs.) BANSI DHAR v. AJUDHIA PRASAD. 27 O. C. 175 : 11 O.L.J. 619 : 82 I. C. 333: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 120.

———O. 6, R. 3—Evidence has no place in pleading.

O. 6, R. 3 states that every pleading shall contain and contain only a statement in a concise form of the material facts on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence as the case may be but not evidence by which they are to be proved. (Dawson Miller, C. J and Foster, J.) THAKUR PRASAD SAHU v. MAHOMED MUSA. 86 I. C. 629: 3 Pat. L. R. 36: A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 410.

———O. 6, R. 4—Fraud—Collusion—Nature of—Proof necessary.

Charges of fraud and collusion must be proved by those who make them by established facts or inferences legitimately drawn from those facts taken together as a whole. Suspicions and surmises and conjectures are not permissible substitutes for those facts or those inferences, but that by no means requires that every puzzling artifice or contrivance resorted to by one accused of fraud must necessarily be completely be unravelled and cleared up and made plain before a verdict can be properly found against him. (Lord Atkinson.) SATISH CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v. KUMAR SATISH KANTA ROY. 33 M. L. T. 325: 28 C. W. N. 327: 73 I.C. 391 : 39 C. L J. 165 : A. I. R. 1923 P.C. 73 : 45 M. L. J. 363 (P.C.).

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 4.

———O. 6, R. 4—Fraud—Particulars—Duty to disclose—Procedure.

Where the defendant pleads fraud in his defence in a vague position it is the duty of the pleader for the plaintiff to apply to the Court to order the defendant to deliver further and better particulars of the charge of fraud. When settling issues it is the duty of the Judge himself to require the defendant to specify with particularity the nature of the fraud alleged. Subordinate Judges should be watchful to see that in all cases the parties have pleaded their cases so plainly, fully and clearly that each side knows the nature of the case which has to be met, and this rule is one of general application. Frequently the result of ordinary particulars of nebulous claims and defences will be to make it manifest that the claim or defence has no substance. A Subordinate Judge should, when ordering particulars to be given, order the party in default to pay a specified sum of costs to the other side for the costs occasioned by the application ; such payment to be made on or before the delivery of the particulars. If the order is disobeyed and if the plaintiff is in default he should have his action staged ; and if the defendant is in default, his defence should be struck out. Particulars having been furnished the Judge should be careful at the trial to exclude all evidence which is not fairly covered by the original paragraph and particularly should give that as his reason. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) GAURI SHANKER v. MANKI KUNWAR. 21 A. L. J. 571: L. R. 4 A. 464: 45 A. 624: 74 I. C. 466: A. I. R. 1924 All. 17.

———O. 6, R. 4—Particulars of misrepresentation or fraud must be given to resist auction-purchaser's title.

Rule 4 is clear that the auction-purchaser is entitled to particulars of the misrepresentation and fraud set up to resist his title ordinarily vesting in him under S. 65. Wallingford v. Mutual Society, 5 A.C. 685, Foll. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) DODBASAPPA DHARMAPPA v. PRADHANAPPA VENKAPPA. 27 Bom. L. R. 1318: A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 33.

———O. 6, R. 4—Undue influence—Particulars as to—New case on appeal not to be allowed to be set up.

To make out a plea of undue influence, the person alleging it must prove that another person was in a position to dominate the will and exercise influence and secondly that he actually did influence. Where there was no issue on these questions, no evidence and no findings of the trial, it will be impossible for the appellate court to adopt the suggestion of the appellant to remit the case for retrial (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SHIDDUBAI v. NILAPGAUDA. 26 Bom. L. R. 622 : 83 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 457.

———O. 6, R. 4—Fraud of one kind alleged—relief on another ground cannot be given.

In a case based on a fraud of a particular kind no relief can be given on any other ground. But the obtaining of a benefit by undue influence is a fraud of the gravest kind and when such fraud is alleged and proved the allegation that they were parts of a scheme very early conceived is, whether made out or not, of no material consequence. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) SATIS v. KALIDASI. 34 C. L. J. 529 : 68 I. C. 577 : 26 C. W. N. 177 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 203.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R 4.

——— O. 6, R. 4—Allegation of custom to be specific.

A custom should be specially pleaded and all the essential requisites to its validity and binding effect must be proved. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) GOPALKRISHNA v. ABDUL. 66 I. C. 640 : 34 C. L. J. 319.

——— O. 6, R. 4—Fraud—General averment not sufficient.

A general averment in the plaint that a survey entry has been obtained by fraud is not sufficient. It must be stated who committed the fraud and if full particulars are not given as required by R. 4, the plaint should be rejected. (Miller, C. J., Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) HARE KRISHNA SEN v. UMESHCHANDRA DUTT. 2 Pat. L. T. 528 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 57 : 62 I. C. 962 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 209 : 6 P. L. J. 373 (F. B.).

——— O. 6, Rr. 4, 5—Dismissal from service—Suit for damages—Particulars if can be ordered.

In a suit for damages for wrongful dismissal from service, the defendant cannot be directed to furnish particulars of the reasons for dismissal. (Madgavkar, A. J. C.) COLLINS v. CHARLES BOOTH & CO. 80 I. C. 958 : 17 S. L. R. 9.

——— O. 6, R. 6—Condition precedent—Allegation and denial—Pleadings.

It is for the defendant, if he contends that there was condition precedent and that it has not been duly performed to state specifically what the condition was and to plead its non-performance otherwise its due performance will be presumed (1914) 1 Ch. 920, Rel. (Ross, J.) MURLI MANOHAR v. RAJA NAND SINGH. 72 I. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 205.

——— O. 6, R. 7—Illegal consideration must be specifically pleaded.

Where in a suit on a bond, the illegality of the consideration is raised as a defence it must be definitely pleaded in the pleadings for it is a case in which particulars may be necessary. The plea cannot be raised for the time in argument. (Harrison, J.) NUR ILAHI v. MAWAZ KHAN. 7 Lah. L. J. 86 : 86 I. C. 683 : 26 Punj. L. R. 76 ; A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 345.

——— O. 6, R. 7—Admissions—Amendment for evading, effect of.

An amendment of plaint should not be allowed where the object is to get round the effect of some admissions made by the plaintiff himself. (Baker, J. C.) RAGHUNATH SINGH v. GABDOO. 80 I. C. 355 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 127.

——— O. 6, R. 10—Fraud—Particulars necessary.

A person alleging fraud must state in detail the facts constituting fraud. A vague allegation of fraud cannot be accepted. A judgment-debtor applying to set aside an execution sale on the ground of fraud must clearly state in his petition as to how he was kept from the knowledge of the execution proceedings and the sale, and how this fraud was practised and how he came to know of the sale. Mere want of diligence is not fraud. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) BABU DAS NARAYAN SINGH v. MUHAMMAD YUSUF alias BHEKHO. 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 33 : 61 I. C. 823 : 2 Pat. L. T. 401: 1921 P. H. C. C. 181 : 6 Pat. L. J. 319.

——— O. 6, R. 11—Rule is one of procedure—Defect in signature and verification is not fatal and can be amended.

The object of the signature to the plaint is to prevent as far as possible disputes as to whether a suit was instituted with the plaintiff's knowledge and authority or not. This authority may be established by other means besides the signature. The provisions of O. 6, R. 11, C. P. Code relate to a mere matter of procedure and any mistake or omission therein may be amended at any time subsequent to the institution of the suit. 22 All. 55 and 40 All. 147 Foll. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) SECY. OF STATE v. DINSHAW NAVROJI. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 275.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Addition of Party.

——— O. 6, R. 14—Plaint valid if signed by person instructed by plaintiff to sign.

Where a plaint was signed by a person on instructions from the real and ostensible plaintiff, held, that the plaint was signed by a duly authorized person. (Le Rossignol, J.) ALI AHMAD v. ABDUL GHANI. 75 I. C. 880 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 144 (1).

——— O. 6, R. 14—Co-plaintiff is plaintiff though he may not sign.

There is no rule that a person named as a co-plaintiff is not to be treated as a plaintiff unless he signs and verifies the plaint. 17 C. 580 Appr. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HAZARI LAL v. AMBIKA GIR. 3 P. 67 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 273 : 2 P. L. R. 169 : 79 I. C. 5 : 5 P. L. T. 591 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 104.

——— O. 6, R. 15—Verification by next friend of minor—Plaintiff really a major—Amendment of cause title—Bar of limitation—Verification by next friend if sufficient. AMRITSARIA v. GAMUN 89 I C. 363 (Lah.).

——— O. 6, R. 16—Exercise of powers.

A Court should not, as a rule, decide a point as to the relevancy of matters on an application to strike out. The jurisdiction, which is given to the Court, by O. 6, R. 16, is one which ought to be exercised with great care and caution. A written statement should not be struck out unless it is clear beyond all reasonable doubt that the allegations do not afford a defence, with the result that if they are allowed to stay on the record, the trial of the suit must be unnecessarily delayed. (Sanderson, C. J. and Rankin, J.) ANDERSON KIRKWOOD TENNENT v. WALTER MITCHEL. 29 C. W. N. 670 : 88 I. C. 435 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 860.

——— O. 6, R. 17.

Addition of party.
Addition of relief.
Alternative Case.
Appellate Court.
Cause of Action.
Declaratory Suit.
Description.
Discretion.
Inconsistent Claims and Pleas.
Late Stage.
Limitation.
Mistake.
Nature of Suit.
New Plea or Case.
Partition.
Power of Court.
Prejudice to defendant.
Refusal to amend.
Revision.
Shortening Litigation.
Subsequent cause of action.
Technical defect.

Addition of Party.

——— O. 6, R. 17—Addition of party—Suit under O. 1, R. 8.

If a suit to which O. 1, R. 8 applies is brought in the name of one person alone as plaintiff and it is otherwise good the Court will allow, if necessary, the suit to be amended so as to make the necessary additions with respect to parties under O. 6, R. 17 as under O. 1, R. 10. (Mulla, J.) NARIMAN v. MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF BOMBAY. 47 Bom. 809 : 25 Bom. L. R. 689 : A. I. R 1923 Bom. 305.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Addition of Party.

——— O. 6, R. 17—Addition of party--Application to bring new plaintiff on record on date when suit would be barred—Amendment cannot be allowed.

The plaint in a suit cannot be allowed to be amended so as to bring in a new plaintiff on record when such application is made after the lapse of the period of limitation prescribed for the suit. (Devadoss, J.) VENKATASUBBARAMANA v. PULIPULLA REDDY. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 917.

Addition of Relief.

———O. 6, R. 17—Addition of relief—Suit brought in respect of a portion—Amendment to allow its conversion into one respecting whole property is not wrong.

A Court is not wrong in the exercise of its discretion in allowing an amendment so as to convert the suit brought for a portion, into one in respect of the whole property, if the amendment serves the purpose of avoiding multiplicity of suits. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) HEM CHANDRA v. SRIMANTA CHATTOPADAYA. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 944.

——— O. 6, R. 17 and Sch I, Appx. A. Form. 47—Addition of Relief—Suit for specific performance of an agreement to sell—Amendment allowing addition of prayer for possession—Propriety.

It is open to a Court in a suit for specific performance of sale also to give a decree for possession and therefore a court cannot be said to have exercised its discretion wrongly in permitting the amendment of the plaint in such a suit and allowing the plff. to add a prayer for possession also. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Wallace, J.) CHOCKALINGAM PILLAI v. PICHAPPA CHETTIAR 22 L. W. 579 : (1925) M.W.N. 202.

——— O. 6, R. 17—Addition of relief- Amendment of plaint—Change of date when cause of action arose and not of cause of action itself.

Where an amendment sought for is only to change the date when cause of action arose and not to change the cause of action itself, the amendment ought to be allowed. (Visvanatha Sastry, J.) RAMASAMI v. VENKATANARAYANA. (1925) M.W.N. 781.

———O 6, R 17—Addition of further relief—Amendment not allowed.

Where there was a clear omission to add further relief of redemption, the plaintiff was not allowed to amend the plaint in second appeal, to add that relief (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) (PUPOOTH alias KOMANCHERI) RARICHAN alias RAMANUNNI KURUP v. VAYISRAVANTH MANAKAL RAMAN. 17 L. W. 558 :32 M. L. T. 107 : (1923) M. W. N 301 : A. I. R 1923 Mad. 553 : 44 M L. J. 515.

———O. 6, R. 17——Addition of relief—Suit for injunction—Relief for possession necessary—Application for amendment of plaint, by addition of prayer for possession—Discretion.

Where a plaintiff sued for perpetual injunction probably on the misunderstanding that the slight user of the land by the defendant, viz., tying cattle, feeding them and erecting a house for himself did not amount to possession but only a nuisance which could be prevented by an injunction and after the issues were framed and before the evidence was led, he applied for amendment of the plaint by the addition of a prayer for possession which the Court refused. Held, that having regard to the provisions of O. 6, R. 17, C. P. Code, the Court should have allowed the amendment upon payment of costs by the plaintiff. (Dolal, J.C.) WARIS ALI v. SYED ABBAS ALI. 1 O. W. N. 757 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1185 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 555.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Alternative Case.

———O. 6, R. 17—Addition of relief—Appellate Court—Powers of—Bona fide mistake—Effect.

An amendment is not generally allowed by an appellate Court if the plaintiff has elected to go to trial on an issue whether the frame of the suit is correct notwithstanding the objection of the defendant that it offends S. 42, Specific Relief Act. But where it is framed bona fide believing consequential relief is not open to him, the appellate court can allow an amendment of the plaint. The rule is subject to change and that no amendment can be allowed if the plaintiff had notice in the trial court of the objection to the frame of the suit (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) SHEIPUJAN RAI v. MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 2 P. 919 : 76 I. C. 347: 5 Pat. L. T. 315 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 310.

———O. 6, R. 17—Addition of relief—Amendment of plaint—Principles.

If the claim sought to be introduced is an entirely different cause of action and is one that was not heard of before limitation expired the amendment ought not to be allowed but if it is nothing more than the original claim in another form and is one that the other party had already to meet no injustice is caused and the amendment ought to be allowed. (Robinson, J.) MA E GYE v. MA LE WA. 64 I.C. 29: 13 Bur.L.T. 201.

Alternative case.

———O. 6, R. 17—Alternative case—Pre-emption based on custom or contract.

A plaintiff basing his suit on a custom of pre-emption, without even mentioning any contract of pre-emption, should not be allowed to amend the plaint at appellate stage. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAM GARIB TIWARI v. SHANKER TIWARI. 20 A. L. J. 15 : 65 I. C. 242 : L.R. 3 A. 636 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 5.

———O. 6, R. 17—Alternative case—Suit on promissory note insufficiently stamped—Original consideration.

Where the plaintiff, whose suit based on an insufficiently stamped hundi was dismissed, applied for leave to amend his plaint as he wished to sue on the original consideration and the court refused leave, held in revision the amendment should have been allowed. (Martineau, J.) SUNDAR DAS v. PURAN SINGH. 10 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 394 (1).

———O.6, R. 17—Alternative case—Plaintiff claiming on basis of custom—Amendment that his title was valid even if alleged custom was not proved, must be allowed.

Where in his plaint, a plaintiff claimed title on the basis of a custom and subsequently applied to amend the plaint by raising an alternative plea that his title held good even if the alleged custom was not established.

Held, that the application for amendment ought to be allowed. (Dalal, J. C. and Ashworth, A. J. C.) GHAFOOR KHAN v. MEHDI HASAN KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 253 : 87 I. C. 356 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 523.

———O. 6, Rr. 16, and 17—Alternative case—Suit for rescission of contract—Amendment asking for specific performance in the alternative can be allowed.

In an action for rescission of a contract and for return of earnest money, the plaintiff can be allowed an amendment claiming specific performance as an alternative relief, arising out of the same facts. The court has always the power to strike out matters which tend to prejudice, embarass or delay the trial, if the occasion arises during the trial. Scope and effect of the Judicature Act pointed out. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) CHANDRA PRASAD v. HIRA LAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 6, R. 17—Alternative case.

2 Pat. L. R 82 : 5 Pat. L. T. 49 : 75 I. C. 433 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 357 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 280.

——O. 6, R. 17—Alternative case—Buddhist Law (Burmese)—Defence raising kittima adoption—Appathitta adoption proved—Defence can be amended.

Where the written statement raises a defence of kittima adoption, but the facts establish only appathitta adoption, the Court can under suitable circumstances permit even at the appellate stage the written statement to be amended so as to make the defence an alternative one of appathitta adoption, (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNG GYI v. MAUNG AUNG PYO.
2 Rang. 661 : 85 I. C. 286 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 178.

——O. 6, R. 17—Alternative case—Grounds for.

In a suit for specific performance or in the alternative for damages, plaintiff can be allowed to amend his plaint by giving up his claim for specific performance in view of the fact that the property had depreciated in value. It is a well recognised rule of law that under O. 6, R. 17, C. P. Code, the powers of amendment vested in the Court are very wide. (Raymond, A.J.C.) EANCHOSE NARSE v. ABDUL HUSSAIN
A.I.R. 1922 Sind 46.

Appellate Court.

——O. 6, R. 17—Appellate Court—Amendment of plaint.

A direction by an appeallate Court for amendment of a plaint can be carried out in the Appellate Court. (Chatterjea and Panton, JJ.) NRIPENDRANATH v. HEMANTA KUMAR. 63 I. C. 701 (C).

——O. 6, R. 17—Appellate Court—Powers of—Amendment of grounds of appeal.

The court has full discretion under the C. P. Code to allow the amendment of pleadings at any stage and if the grounds of appeal are not sufficiently clean, there is no reason why an appellate Court should not direct a report on all the points raised in the applications filed by the parties in the District Judge's Court. (Scott Smith and Abdul Raoof, J.J.) MT. RAM PIARI v. SULTAN BAKSH 3 Lah. 382 : 77 I. C. 207 : A. I. R 1923 Lah. 115.

——O. 6, R. 17—Appellate Court—Amendment can be allowed in.

Where plaintiffs alleged but failed to prove exclusive title to certain fraction of the joint estate and where the defendants asserted their exclusive title but it was found that they have no such exclusive title a decree for joint possession of joint property can be given. 29 P. R. 1918, Dist. The question whether a co-sharer occupying a portion of the joint land without denying the joint character thereof should be allowed to retain it until partition in the case of abadi land when that land has been reduced to a minimum area barely sufficient for the common purposes of the village was raised but was not decided. The highest court of appeal may allow an amendment of the plaint. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Leslie Jones, J.) MAUJI ASHAQ ALI v. GHULAM MAHOMED.
3 Lah. L. J. 75.

——O. 6, R. 18 and S. 107 (2)—Appellate Court—Amendment—Leave to amend plaint in appeal.

Leave to amend a plaint may be granted by the appellate Court. (Gokaran Nath, J.) SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. MAHANT HARCHARAN DASS. 3 O. W. N. 45.

——O. 6, R. 17—Appellate Court—Amendment

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R 17—Cause of action.

of plaint—Power of court—Bona fide mistake—Objection taken in trial court—Effect.

Appellate Court can allow amendment where plff. has omitted to seek amendment in the trial court due to a bona fide mistake. (Mullick and Bucknill, J.J.) SHEOPAYAN RAI v MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 5 P. L. T. 315 : 2 Pat. 919 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 310.

——O. 6, R, 17—Appellate Court—Amendment.

An amendment of pleadings can be allowed even at the stage of appeal. (Jwala Prasad, A.J.C. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HARGOBIND RAI v. KESHWA PRASAD SINGH. 1924 P. H. C. C. 297 : 84 I. C. 386 : 6 Pat. L. T. 465 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 168.

——O. 6, R. 17—Appellate Court—Amendment in appeal—Change of cause of action—Alteration of claim from kittima adoption to Appathitta adoption.

The suit was originally brought by the plff. claiming as the kittima adopted son of the deceased and was dismissed. On appeal, the plff. applied for amendment of plaint by the insertion of alternative claim based on an Appathitta adoption. The Court refused permission to award as the cause of action for each was distinct and different. (Robinson, C. J. and Maung Ba, J.) MAUNG BA THEIN v. MA THAN MYINT. 3 Rang. 483.

Cause of action.

——O. 6, R. 17—Cause of action—Amendment of plaint—Cause of action arising after filing of suit should be allowed to be added, where there is no change of jurisdiction, or undue delay in applying nor necessity for fresh enquiry on other facts.

Events that happened, even after the filing of the suit including these that add to the title of the plaintiff, may be taken notice of, so that a cause of action that arose after the filing of the suit can be included by the amendment of a plaint. But the discretion ought not to be exercised when there is a change of jurisdiction, when there is a great delay in making the application, and may not be exercised if a fresh enquiry on other facts is necessary. But when these features do not exist, the amendment ought as a general rule, to be allowed, to avoid multiplicity of proceedings. In all such cases, the only question of consequence is one of Court-fees, a matter with which the parties are not concerned and the opposite party is not deprived of any defence which is open to him. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) V. APPALASURI v. KANNAMMA NAYURALU. 49 M. L. J. 479 : 22 L, W. 287 : (1925) M. W. N. 622 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 6.

——O. 6, R. 17—Cause of action—Amendment asking for change in the date of cause of action should be allowed.

Amendment should be allowed when there is no change in the cause of action but only a change in the date when the cause of action arose. 36 Mad. 378 Rel. upon : 36 All. 370 Expl. (Viswanatha Sastri, J.) A. RAMASWAMI v. D, VENKATANARAYANA. (1925) M. W. N. 781 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 128 (2).

——O. 6, R. 17—Cause of action—Limitation.

To disclose further details of facts which support a cause of action already sued upon is not to introduce a new relief of a new cause of action in the plaint and consequently no prejudice can result to the defendants, on the point of limitation. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) SITARAM v. NANDRAM. 78 I. C. 234 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 9.

——O. 6, R. 17—Cause of action—Change of date.

A change in the date corresponding to the verna-

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Declaratory suit

cular date which still remains the same is not the introduction of a new cause of action. (Wazir Hasan, J.C. and Kendall, A. J. C.) BANS BAHADUR SINGH v. MT. SAKABRAI KUAR. 11 O. L. J, 297 : 81 I. C. 484 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 385.

Declaratory suit.

——O. 6, R. 17—Declaratory suit—Amendment of plaint—Specific Relief Act, S. 42, Proviso

The plff. appealed : Held (a) that declaration suit that a certain decree being based on fraud shall not affect the plff.'s rights and for any other relief which the Court might deem fit to grant, was one for declaration only. 20 Bom. 736 and 30 Cal. 788, Ref. ; (b) that a suit for a mere declaration was not competent in this case unless followed up by a prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise, 38 Mad. 922 and 29 I.C. 132, Ref ; (c) that the Court ought to have allowed the plff. an opportunity to amend his plaint so as to include the necessary prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise ; and (d) that the mere prayer for general relief is not necessarily a prayer for consequential relief so as to make the suit out of the class of suits for a declaration only. (Shadilal, C. J. and Dundas, J.) BUA DITTA v. LADHA MAL. 65 P. W. R. 1921.

Description.

——O 6, R 17—Description—Amendment of plaint—Clerical error—Wrong description of mortgaged property in plaint—Amendment if alters cause of action- Application for amendment in appeal allowed.

Amendments of clerical mistakes are allowed even in second appeals The mortgage in suit was filed along with the plaint and showed quite clearly what the property really mortgaged was, Held under such circumstances the amendment prayed for should be allowed. The amendment would in no way alter the cause of action of the plaintiff. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BHAGIRATHI SHUKUL v. CHANDRA HARIHAR PATAK. 20 A. L. J. 159 · A I. R. 1922 All. 81.

——O. 6, R. 17—Description- Suit against Railway—Title of defendant as "agent" sought to be altered to 'Railway administration"—Plaint as a while indicating that suit was agai st Railway administration—Amendment should be allowed.

Where the title of defendant in a suit against a railway company was sought to be altered from the agent, East Indian Railway, Calcutta, into "East Indian Railway Administration", through the Agent, Calcutta, after the expiration of the period of limitation for bringing a suit against the Railway, and the reading of the plaint as a whole clearly showed that the plaintiff's claim was against the Railway Administration as a Company and not against the Agent personally. Held : that the amendment should be allowed as the case was only one of misdescription of party. A I. R 1923 Bom. 452 Foll. A. I. R. 1925 Pat 37 Dist. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) NANAK CHAND MUKANDI LAL v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY. 6 Lah 2 2 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 441.

——O. 6, R. 17—Description—Majority of the plaintiff discovered on defendants objection—Amendment should be allowed—C. P. Code, O. 32, R. 2 (b) (ii).

Where the fact of plaintiff's minority is ascertained upon objection by the defendant and an enquiry by the Court, and it is held that the plaintiff had no knowledge of his minority and no intention of deceiving the Court, an opportunity should be given on application being made to amend the plaint. (Harrison, J.) MT DURGA DEVI v. GUR NARAIN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 157.

Discretion.

——O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Suit in forma pauperis—Costs of application—Order for payment of.

An order directing a plaintiff to pay in cash the costs of an amendment of the plaint, after he has been found to be a pauper is improper. Shah, A.C.J. and Crump, J.) AMBAJI BALWANT RAO v. HAMMANG RAO. 24 Bom. L. R. 924 : 69 I. C. 207 : 47 B. 104 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 385 (7).

——O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Question in controversy" generally refers to question in controversy when defendant puts in his written statement.

However the necessity, to amend, may have arisen, leave to amend should always be granted and at any stage in the proceedings in order to allow the real question at issue between the parties to be raised on the pleadings unless the party applying for leave has acted in bad faith or the amendment will cause some injury to the opposite party for which he cannot be fully compensated by costs or otherwise. A High Court Vakil like anyone else may make a mistake or omission in his pleadings, and, if he has really done so, he is as much entitled as any one else to put the matter right by amendment in order that the real question in controversy between him and his opponent may be decided. So far from being slow to grant leave to amend pleadings or from pinning the parties to the strict letter of their pleadings, it is the duty of the Court to assist parties in bringing out clearly the real questions in issue between them. The questions in controversy between the parties which have to be brought out clearly and decided are, save in exceptional cases, the questions in controversy when the parties join issue that is, when the defendant puts in his written statement. They do not include new questions which the defendant neither wished nor intended then to dispute, but which, at a later stage, in the proceedings, either because he has changed his mind or because something has happened after he filed his written statement, he thinks it profitable to dispute. A defendant who has deliberately and under no mistake or misapprehension admitted a material fact in his written statement cannot be allowed at a later stage in the proceedings to change his front and make a new case for himself by denying that fact. (Ramesam and Reilly, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA v. HITCHCOCK. 22 L. W. 26 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 950.

——C. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Amendment when allowed.

Under O. 6, R. 17 an amendment can be allowed at any stage of the suit and the question is one for the discretion of the court, (Prideaux, A. J. C.) ANWAR KHAN v. JAKUB KHAN. 79 I. C. 911 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 62.

——O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Character of suit changed.

An amendment altering the character of the suit entirely, was under section 53 of the Old Code, expressly forbidden. But section 135, and rule 17 of order 6 of the present Code make no express restriction on the discretion of the Court provided it is judicially exercised. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHEONARAIN v. RAM PRASAD. 74 I. C. 317 : A.I.R. 1923 Nag. 241.

——O. 6, R. 17—Discretion Clerical error—Vakalatnama not bearing pleader's name but signature—Amendment at the time of judgment.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Discretion.

Where a vakalatnama did not contain a name of the pleader after the word Mr. in the printed form, but there was the pleader's signature on it. Held, it was a formal defect and the Court should allow it to be amended even after the case is closed. No comprehensive formula can be framed to define precisely the power of a Court to allow amendment but this much may be laid down as the cardinal rule that the allowance of amendments must in every stage of the case rest with the discretion of the court. If a limit to amendments may be laid down it is this: that they must not be allowed to prejudice the substantial rights of the party in favour of whose opponent, the amendment is allowed, but observing due caution in that regard, the time and extent of each amendment are in the judicial discretion on the Court. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MAHARASHTRAYA JNAN KESH v. BIJJULAL. 19 N. L. R. 36 : 6 N. L. J. 100 : 71 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 182.

——— O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Court's discretion is wide.

The discretion of a Court under O. 6, R. 17, is very wide. (Dalal, J. C.) RAGHURAJ SINGH v. MAJID-UN-NISSA. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 692.

———O. 6, R. 17—Discretion — All amendments necessary for determining real questions in controversy should be allowed.

The provisions of O. 6, R. 17, relating to amendment give a large discretion to the Court. The real question in controversy between the parties was whether the plaintiff had lost his possession in such a way that he could not oust the trespasser viz., the defendant. Originally the plaintiff prayed for perpetual injunction against the defendant restraining him from using the plaintiff's land. Subsequently after the issues were framed plaintiff applied to amend his plaint by adding a prayer in the alternative for possession. The grounds of the claim were not changed. Held, that the amendment should be allowed. (Dalal, J. C.) WARIS ALI v. ABBAS ALI. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 555.

———O. 6, R. 17—Discretion—Ends of justice.

In a suit for possession of property by a husband from his wife on the ground of adultery, oral application was made to amend the plaint to add a prayer for divorce. Permission to amend was refused by the trial Court on the ground that the plaintiff chose this form of suit deliberately, for the purpose of giving his wife as much annoyance as possible without at the same time giving her the satisfaction of being released from the marriage tie. Held the case was pre-eminently one in which an amendment of the plaint should have been allowed in order that justice might be done. Such amendment should be allowed even in second appeal. (Carr, J.) MAUNG PO HAN v. MA SO YI. 2 Bur. L. J. 65 : 75 I. C. 6 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 160.

Inconsistent claims and pleas.

———O. 6, R. 17—Inconsistent claims—Legal representative of deceased plaintiff cannot plead what the latter could not have pleaded.

In a suit for redemption of a mortgage, the mortgagor being the owner of an impartible estate the plaintiff died and his legal representative sought to amend the plaint, by including a cause of action for a declaration that the mortgage was not binding on him the successor to the estate. Held, that the amendment could not be allowed. It is not open to the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff, to seek to include in the plaint by way of an amendment, a claim or relief, which the original plaintiff himself could not have asked for. The proper course for the legal representative is to file a separate suit for such a relief. The wide powers of amendment given under the Code of 1908 are always subject to the rule that by means of an amendment the subject matter of the suit cannot be changed, or one distinct and inconsistent cause of action cannot be substituted for another, (1921) M. W. N 396, Ref. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) INAGANTI VENKATARAMA ROW v. VENKATALINGAMA NAYANIM BAHADUR VARU. (1922) M. W. N. 42 : 15 L. W. 72 · 30 M. L. T. 204 : 68 I. C. 703 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 49 : 42 M. L. J. 43.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Late stage.

Late stage.

———O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Claim for mortgage decree only—Alternative claim for personal decree put forth at the hearing of appeal to Privy Council—Amendment was not allowed.

Where the plaintiff first claimed only a mortgage decree and his claim was decreed by the trial Court but dismissed by the High Court and it was only when the appeal was being heard before the Privy Council that he put forth the alternative claim for personal decree. Held that no such decree could be made without an amendment of the plaint, and although it was in their Lordship's discretion to allow an amendment at that last stage they did not think that this was a case in which that discretion should be exercised. (Mr Ameer Ali.) GAJADHAR MAHTON v. AMBIKA PRASAD TIWARI. 41 C. L. J. 450 : 27 B. L. R. 853 · 87 I. C. 292 : L. R. 6 P. C. 126 : (1925) M. W. N. 532 : 22 L. W. 306 : 47 All. 459 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 169 (P. C.) : 49 M. L. J. 238.

———O. 6, R. 17—Late stage

Where defts. based their defence on a definite plea that they were holding under a completed sale, and it was that plea that was put in issue and had been decided against them. They cannot be allowed to plead at such a late stage as second appeal an agreement to sell. It has been repeatedly pointed out that Pleadings must be strictly construed, and parties must be restricted to what they allege in their plaint or in their written statements as the case may be. (Broadway, J.) PALU v. RASILU. 75 I. C. 740 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 675.

——— O. 6, R. 17—Late stage.

When there is an amendment at a very late stage it should not be allowed. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) SANKARI v. JODHA. 3 Lah. L. J. 437.

———O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Change of case—Improper grant of leave to amend—Interference on appeal.

When a suit for redemption of a mortgage was ready for judgment the plff. presented an application stating that he had filed the plaint in ignorance of real facts and asked the Court to allow him to amend his plaint. This prayer was granted by the Court at this late stage. In the amended plaint the plff. alleged that the mortgage deed was unlawful and was executed without consideration and necessity, and that he was entitled to get possession of the mortgaged property without paying anything to the mortgagee. Held, that by the amendment the nature of the suit was altogether altered and such amendment ought not to have been allowed at such a late stage. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) TOHLU MAL v. BUTA. 67 I. C. 132 : 3 L. L. J. 184.

———O. 6, R. 17—Late stage--Amendment of plaint.

An amendment should be allowed at however a late stage, provided it can be made without injustice to the other side and if the other side can be compensated

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Late stage.

by costs, there is no injustice. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) DEVI DAYAL v. WAZIR CHAND.
61 I. C. 328 : 3 U.P.L.R. (Lah.) 44.

——O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Second Appeal—Conversion of suit into a representative one was disallowed.

Amendment of plaint at the stage of second appeal, so as to convert a suit for maintenance of certain members alone of a tavazhi, into a suit on behalf of the whole tavazhi, was not allowed. (Devadoss, J.) K. P. P. MAYANKUTTI v. K. P. P. KATHIRI.
21 L. W. 224 : 86 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 441.

——O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Amendment ordered after conclusion of trial is not necessary.

In a suit for a declaration that a decree obtained against a minor was not binding on him on account of the gross-negligence of the guardian ad litem in the conduct of the prior suit, the plaint did not allege and the deft., did not ask for, particular of the alleged negligence. The parties, however, went to trial and it was found on the evidence that negligence had been established Subsequently the court ordered an amendment of the plaint. Held that the case having been tried out and a finding of negligence arrived at, no amendment was necessary. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VEERAPPAN v. MENNAPPAN.
31 M. L. T. 449 : 70 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 245.

——O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Mere delay is no ground for refusing amendment.

Mere delay is no ground for refusing amendment of plaint. The Court should consider the grounds of the application and deal with them in a judicial manner. Loss to the defendant due to delay in amendment can well be compensated by an order for costs in his favour. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) MT. EJAZ RASUL KHAN v. MUBARAC HUSAIN. 27 O. C. 231 : 11 O. L. J. 613 : 79 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 291.

——O. 6, R. 17—Late stage—Opportunity already given—Prejudice to defendant.

Where in the written statement the defts. raised a plea that the suit was badly framed inasmuch as possession had not been asked for and an issue was raised on this contention of the defts. but yet the plff. never thought of applying for the necessary amendment of the plaint and the trial Jndge allowed the plff. an opportunity of amending plaint and yet the plff. refused to amend, and it was only after the whole case was concluded and the plff. probably had suspicions as to the bent of the Judg's mind for amendment. Held the Court below acted quite rightly in refusing the amendment. 9 S. L R. 174 ; 26 C. 845, Foll. Where an order for amendment would operate prejudicially to the defts. so far as their evidence of possession is concerned, the Court will refuse to allow amendment of plaint. (Kincaid, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) MANOHERDAS v. RAMDAS. 75 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Sindh 17.

Limitation.

——O. 6, R. 17—Limitation—Amendment of plaint.

A Court can allow a plaint to be amended, even though at the time of the amendment a new suit on the same cause of action would not be allowed. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) SATCHIDANANDA DUTT v. NRITYA NATH MITTER.
27 C. W. N. 1007 : 50 Cal. 878 : 79 I. C. 287 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 517.

——O. 6, R. 17—Limitation—Correction of description of parties.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Mistake.

Where no substitution or addition of a new plaintiff was made by an amendment but only the description of the plaintiff was corrected, there is no question of limitation that arises. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BAKARAM v. HIRALAL. 71 I. C. 39 : A. I.R. 1923 Nag. 96.

——O. 6, R. 17—Limitation.

Amendment of plea should not be allowed if on the date when it is asked for, a fresh suit on the amended allegations would be barred by limitation. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) HIRJEE DEORAJ & CO. v MAUNG NYUN SHEIN. 2 Rang. 414 : 84 I. C 295 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 49.

Mistake.

——O. 6, R. 17—Mistake—Suit instituted in name of wrong person by bona fide mistake—Real plaintiff's names substituted subsequently—Latter entitled to be treated as plaintiffs from start, subject to questions of limitation.

Where owing to a bona fide mistake a suit was instituted in name of some persons who were not the real plffs. and the matter in dispute was referred to arbitration by order of Court and subsequently the plaint was amended by the substitution of the names of the real plffs. Held, that after the date of amendment of plaint the persons whose names were substituted as plaintiffs,were,subject to the question of limitation, to be treated as if they had been described as plaintiffs in the suit from the very start, and that they were entitled to take advantage of and proceed under the order of reference to arbitration made previous to the amendment of the plaint, and that the said arbitration proceedings were rightly continued after the order for amendment of plaint had been passed. (C. C. Ghose, J.) HOGARTH SHIPPING CO. LTD. v. MITSUI BUSSAN, LTD. 41 C.L.J. 511 : 88 I. C. 1029 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 922.

——O. 6, R. 17—Mistake—Amendment of plaint should be allowed in case of bona fide mistake by plaintiff.

Amendment of plaint should be allowed in case of bona fide mistake by plaintiff. Where the plaintiff was not the original creditor and made a bona fide mistake in the plaint which was found out on inspection taken by defendants : Held, the plaintiff should be allowed to amend his plaint by inserting the facts disclosed by the inspection. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SITARAM v. NANDRAM. 78 I. C 234 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 9.

——O. 6, R. 17—Mistake if bona fide whether deliberate or not, justifies permission to amend.

Amendments of pleadings should be allowed in suitable cases in order to overcome the effects of bona fide mistakes whether the assertions or omissions caused by such mistakes were deliberately made or not. (Lentaigne, J.) K. E. A. K. A. SAHIB AND CO v. K. M. ADAMSA. 2 Rang. 66 : 81 I. C 465 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 249.

——O. 6, R. 17—Mistake—Amendment—When allowed—Claim barred by limitation—Change in description of defendant.

In allowing amendments under O. 6, R. 17 courts have to see that the case tried is consistent with the case as originally laid and the equities and grounds of relief originally pleaded and alleged are not departed from. Nor should fresh claims barred by limitation be allowed to be set up. Where however in a partnership action a bona fide mistake crept in, in describing the defendant and the latter knew of it, the court should allow the amendment to bring out the true state of things. (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) DIPCHAND DOWLAT RAM v. PARMANAND CHIMAN-

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6 R. 17—Nature of suit.

DAS. A. I. R. 1924 Sind 144.

Nature of suit.

——O. 6, R. 17—Nature of suit—Suit on allegation of tenancy failing—Plaintiff was not allowed to succeed on title.

The plaintiffs brought a suit on the footing that the defendants were their tenants. The defendants pleaded that they were not tenants under plaintiffs. The defendants proved their case. The third party whose title was set up by the defendants was not a party to the case. That party was in possession. Held, that it was not open to the plaintiffs to shift their ground and claim to eject the defendants as trespassers and that the plaintiffs should not be allowed to amend or implead the said third party. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) SHIB RAM v. FAQIRA.

L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 348 : 89 I. C. 103 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 705.

——O. 6, R. 17—Nature of suit—Allegations in plaint determine nature of suit—Suit brought under one section -Defendant—Objecting—Offer to amend plaint to suit another section should be allowed.

The nature of the suit is indicated by the allegations made in the plaint and not by quoting a section which does not apply. Where a suit was brought under S. 165 of Agra Tenancy Act, but on the objection by defendant the plaintiff offered to amend the plaint so as to be one under S. 164 and the Court disallowed the same. Held, that the amendment ought to have been allowed. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) CHANDER SEN v. MOHUR SINGH,

85 I. C. 700 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 538.

——O. 6, R. 17—Nature of suit.

Amendment of plaint is not allowed if it alters the nature of the suit. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) GNANENDRANATH v PORESH NATH.

35 C. L. J. 25 : 65 I C 39 : 26 C W N 73 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 255.

——O. 6, R. 17—Nature of suit—Amendment of plaint must be allowed when it merely amplifies and does not vary the original cause of action.

Amendments which only amplify and develop the original cause of action and do not vary it can be allowed. Where the suit was to set aside a sale and where the plaintiff alleged that the defendants taking advantage of his youth had defrauded him and where the plaintiff afterwards applied to amend the plaint by adding that on the date of the sale he was a minor. Held that the amendment must be allowed as it was not such a variation of the original cause of action as would preclude permission to amend under O. 6, R. 17; 1922 Mad. 49 Foll. 1922 P. C. 249 Dist. (Jackson, J.) SOMASUNDARA BHATTAR v. MUTHU THEVAR. 80 I. C. 278 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 188.

——O 6, R. 17—Nature of suit—Pure redemption suit cannot be turned into ejectment suit but redemption of a usufructuary mortgage is a suit for possession.

Where plaintiffs sued for redemption, which could not be granted as the mortgage deed was unregistered and could not be admissible to prove the terms, but which was admissible to prove the nature of possession, held, that plaintiffs could have applied for amendment to convert the suit into one to recover possession as owners but they cannot be allowed to so amend in appeal. (Ramesam, J.) N. APPAMMA v. S. CHINNA VEADU. 47 M. 203 : (1923) M.W.N. 825 : 19 L.W. 37 : 33 M L.T 146 : 79 I.C. 510 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 292 : 45 M. L. J. 667.

——O. 6, R. 17—Nature of suit—Claim under gift cannot be changed into one under inheritance.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O, 6, R. 17—New Plea or case.

Plaintiff would not be entitled in the same suit to recover possession of any part of the house as being his share where his original case was that the whole house had been his transferor's property under a gift from the transferor's father and this case has been found to be false. It is impossible to allow the plaintiff to change his case altogether from the case made in the plaint and depend on the case of the defendants for relief. (Adami, J.) DALPHEROO MIAN v. BANGALI MALI. 4 P.L. T. 397 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 481.

New plea or case.

——O. 6, R. 17—New case—Change of cause of action and subject-matter.

A Court, though it has full power of amendment of pleadings, cannot allow one distinct cause of action to be substituted for another, nor to change the subject-matter of the suit nor to permit a new case to be made. (Lord Buckmaster.) MA SHWE MYA v. MAUNG MO HNAUNG. 48 Cal. 832 : (1921) M. W. N. 396 : 48 I. A. 214 : 4 U. B. R. 30 : 30 M. L. T. 28 : 24 Bom. L. R. 682 : 63 I. C. 914 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 249 (P. C.).

——O. 6, R. 17 and O. 23, R. 1—New case—Nature of suit and plaintiffs' title changed during suit amendment or withdrawal not necessary.

Plaintiffs sued the defendants on the basis of a certain transfer which was challenged by the defendants as void in law. The suit was dismissed but during the pendency of appeal, plaintiffs' transferor died and plaintiffs being his heirs put forth a new plea that they claimed not as transferees but as heirs. Held that in view of justice plaintiffs should succeed even though they have not asked for amendment or withdrawal under O. 23, and though the nature of suit has undergone a change thereby. (Daniels, J.) INDER DEO RAI v. RAM CHARITTER RAI. L R. 5 A. 28 : 74 I. C. 971 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 560 (Rev.)

——O. 6, R. 17—New case—Substitution of new plaint cannot be allowed.

A plaintiff cannot by amendment be allowed to substitute one plaint for another.

Where the plaintiff has sued as principal on a contract alleged to have been made with him by the defendants for the import of certain goods on c.i.f. terms, he cannot claim to sue on the same plaint the defendants as their agent who has, on receipt of the shipping documents, cleared and delivered the goods to them as his principals. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KOKAMAL MADHORAM v. GULABSINGH GURU DASSINGH. 27 Bom. L. R. 277 : 87 I. C. 481 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 248.

——O. 6, R. 17—New case—Amendment of plaint introducing time barred cause of action cannot be allowed.

Amendment of plaint which would have the effect of introducing a new cause of action which has become time barred should not be permitted. (Page, J.) MCLEOD AND COMPANY v IVAN JONES & CO.

87 I. C. 218 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 189.

——O. 6, R. 17—New case—Plaint—Amendment in second appeal.

Where the plaintiffs had full opportunity to amend their plaint in the Courts below, but never did so and there was nothing to prevent the plaintiffs from suing in the alternative in the first instance and basing their suit upon two alternative grounds and no explanation was put forward as to why the plaint was not framed in this manner, an opportunity to amend the plaint in second appeal by introducing an entirely new cause of action was refused. (Moti Sagar, J.) KIRPA v. MT.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—New Plea or case.

CHINTI. 77 I. C. 518 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 530.

———O. 6, R. 17—New plea—Pleadings—Partition by metes and bounds—Found against—Division in status.

Where in a suit by a creditor against a Hindu father and his sons for recovery of a debt contracted by the father, the sons set up a division by metes and bounds which was found against, they could not on second appeal alter their plea into a division in status merely and escape liability on that footing. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) NIDADAVOLU ACHYUTAM v. VEERINA SURAYYA. (1924) M. W. N. 485 : 79 I. C. 902 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 845.

———O. 6, R. 17—New case—When not to be allowed.

An amendment ought not to be allowed where the cause of action is materially changed and a party is prevented from setting up a plea of limitation. (Napier and Odgers, JJ.) SREEDHARAM VALIA RAJAH v. NARAYANA. (1921) M. W. N. 639 : 71 I. C. 270 : 41 M.L.J. 525.

———O. 6, R. 17—New plea—Amendment of plaint should be allowed so as to include a new plea, where, even had the plea been raised earlier, defendant could not have disproved it.

Where a plaintiff has not raised a plea in the plaint but raises the plea at the trial he should be allowed to amend his plaint, if even had the plea been raised in the plaint as originally presented, the defendant, according to his own pleading, could not have disproved the plea. (Kennedy J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) BHAWANJI NARSI v. ASSAN PITAMBARDAS. 86 I. C. 357 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 241.

Partition.

———O. 6, R. 17—Partition—Partible property other than that included in the plaint can be partitioned.

Property proved to be partible though not included in the plaint can be decreed to be partitioned without formal amendment. 29 M. 165 Appr. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTY v. PALANI APPA CHETTY. 18 L.W 656 : (1923) M.W.N. 841. 76 I. C. 798 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 354.

Power of Court.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Pre-emption suit—One plaintiff not entitled—Suit dismissed—Appeal—Unentitled plaintiff's name cannot be removed.

The Court is not entitled to resort to any powers of amendment which it has under the Code of Civil Procedure in order to allow an amendment in a case of pre-emption suit where the plaintiff, whose suit has been dismissed on the ground of his violation of the law of pre-emption by associating with himself in the suit a person not entitled to pre-emption, seeks at the appellate stage to cure the defect by striking out the name of the other plaintiff. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) UMAR DARAZ v. SRI RAM DAS. 47 All. 450 : 23 A. L. J. 198 : 87 I. C. 55 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 355.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Amendment by original Court cannot be allowed after decree.

After a decree has been passed, the original Court cannot allow amendment of plaint. The proper course open to the plaintiffs is to apply, if possible, in view of O. 47 for review. The case is different where amendment is allowed by an appellate Court. 24 A. 456 Dist. (Fawcett, J.) KISHEN PRASAD & CO., LTD, v. FULLUMAL HIRALAL. 25 Bom. L. R. 888 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 166.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Amendment of plaint, when permissible.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court.

Courts will not allow amendment of pleadings except (1) where there is bona fides on the part of the applicant ; (2) where the amendment does not cause such prejudice to the other party as cannot be compensated by costs ; (3) where it does not convert a suit of one character to a suit of another character. (Chatterjea and Newbould, JJ.) GYANSUDRA v. PARESH NATH. 26 C. W. N. 73 : 35 C. L. J. 25 : 65 I. C. 39 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal 255.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Court's power to amend plaint.

A Court can allow amendment of a plaint to do that substantial justice for which alone it exists. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) SATIS v. KALIDASI. 34 C. L. J. 529 : 26 C. W. N. 177 : 68 I. C. 577 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 203.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Duty of Courts to allow all amendments—Application before framing of issues.

A Court should always grant leave to amend unless it is satisfied that the party applying was acting mala fide or that by his blunder he had done some injury to his opponent which could not be compensated for by costs or otherwise. However negligent or careless may have been the omission, the amendment should be allowed if it could be made without injustice to the other side. (Scott-Smith, J.) JHARIA COAL COMPANY v. DIWAN CHAND & CO. 67 I. C. 335 (Lah.)

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Amendment not changing nature of suit should be allowed.

Where an amendment does not change the nature of the suit, it should be allowed. Powers of amendment should always be liberally exercised. 1922 249 (P. C.) Foll. (Krishnan, J.) SATYANARAYANA VARA PRASADA RAO v. SANKARAHANAPALLI VENKATA TIRUMALA. 88 I. C. 65 : 22 L.W. 318 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 794 : 48 M.L.J. 489.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Ex parte order—Party duly summoned but not appearing—Ex parte order of amendment of plaint passed—Party not entitled to impeach the order.

A party isnot entitled to impeach an order of amendment of plaint passed ex parte against him if he after being duly summoned does not appear as he is not entitled to a fresh notice during the pendency of the suit. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) BANOOBI v. YAKUBKHAN. 80 I. C. 375 : A.I.R. 1925 Nag. 108 (2).

———O. 6, R. 17 and O. 23, R. 1—Power of Court—Order refusing to allow amendment on the ground that it will start a trial de novo but allowing withdrawal with permission to bring fresh suit is illegal.

Where the lower Court refused to permit the amendment for the reason that the suit would have to be tried de novo if the amendment were allowed, but accepted the application for withdrawal of the suit with permission to the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit. Held, that it would entail a greater waste of public time if the second suit were brought, and that the order permitting the withdrawal with liberty to sue again is illegal, and must be set aside and that the application for amendment must be allowed. 1925 Oudh 291 Foll. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BULAQI DAS v. JUGAL KISHORE. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 718.

———O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—Amendment of plaint should be freely allowed.

In proper cases the Courts should freely allow amendments of plaints so as to ensure that justice is done to the parties and the time and the money of the parties are not wasted. (Kennedy, J. C. and Desouza, A. J. C.) MUNICIPALITY OF TANDO ADAM v. KHAIR MAHOMED. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 260.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court.

——— —O. 6, R. 17—Power of Court—All amendments necessary to decide points in controversy should be allowed.

All such amendments should be allowed as may be necessary for determining the questions in controversy between the parties. (Raymond. A. J. C.) YUSIF MAHOMED v. ABUBACKER IBRAHIM.
78 I. C. 817 : A I. R. 1925 Sind 26.

Prejudice to Defendant.

———O. 6, R. 17—Prejudice to defendant—Amendment cannot be allowed where a right legally accrued to defendant will thereby be taken away.

The power of the Court to amend the plaint should not be exercised when the effect is to take away from the defendant a legal right which has accrued to him by lapse of time ; but there are cases on which that consideration may be outweighed by the special circumstances of these cases. 22 C.W.N. 10 ; 45 Cal. 305: 24 C. W. N. 749 and 1922 Cal. 255, Ref. (Chatterjea and Cuming, JJ.) NIRANKA CHANDRA v. ATUL KRISHNA. 28 C. W. N. 1009 : 83 I C. 110 : 41 C. L. J. 149 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 67.

———O. 6, R. 17—Prejudice to defendant—Suit against railway—Defendant described as agent—Plaint may be amended by striking out agent.

Where a Railway Company was the real defendant in a suit, but the defendant was described as the agent of the Railway Company, and all the parties fully knew of the fact that the suit was against the Railway Company and the relief asked was against the Railway Company who defended the suit as such. Held, that it would not be prejudicial to any rights acquired by the company under the law of Limitation if the plaint was permitted to be amended by striking out the word " agent." (Backer, J. C.) BULAKIDAS v. AGENT B. N. RY. COMPANY 82 I.C. 177 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 155.

———O. 6, R. 17—Prejudice to defendant—Amendment of plaint—Extent of.

An amendment will not be allowed which would prejudice the rights of the opposite party existing at the date of the proposed amendment, e.g., a right acquired by virtue of the Statute of Limitation. (Ross, J.) SINEHI RAM BIHARI LALL v. AGENT E. I. RY. 64 I. C. 125 : 2 Pat. L. T. 679.

——O. 6, R. 17—Prejudice to defendant—Amendment resulting in introduction of new cause of action—Defendant likely to be deprived of the plea of limitation—Amendment should not be allowed.

The powers of amendment given to Courts are very wide but they should not ordinarily be used to allow a new cause of action to be introduced where the defendant would be deprived of his plea of limitation if the amendment were granted. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) S. K. NAGOOR MEERA v. H. N. NAINAR MEERA ALI. 4 Bur. L. J. 110 : A. I R. 1925 Rang. 264.

———O. 6, R. 17—Prejudice to defendant—Under special circumstances amendment taking away right secured by lapse of time can be allowed.

In the exercise of its jurisdiction a Court can allow an amendment under special circumstances, so as to take away from the defendant a legal right which has accrued to the defendant by lapse of time. (Aston, A. J. C.) FIRM OF JESSARAM BHAGWAN DAS v. RATANCHAND FATTEHCHAND. 78 I. C. 846 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 173.

Refusal to Amend.

——— —O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—Grounds.

Where only the assignees of plaintiff made an affidavit withdrawing from several important allegations

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Refused to amend.

in the plaint and alleging a radically different story, amendment was held to be rightly refused. (Lord Phillimore.) SAHDEO NARAIN v. KUSUM KUMARI. 2 Pat. 230 : 50 I. A. 58 : 4 P. L. T. 217 : 32 M. L. T. 121 : 25 Bom. L. R. 560 : (1923) M. W. N 377 : 27 C. W. N. 901 : 18 M. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 21 : 44 M. L. J. 476 (P.C.).

———O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—Plaint—Valuation.

Where the court thinks that the claim should have been for possession but the plaintiff did not choose to make that claim and if the plaint was not amended the value of the claim is not enhanced by the mere finding that it required to be amended. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) GHANASHYAMDAS v. LAXMI BAI. 24 Bom. L. R. 726 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 218.

———O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—Change in cause of action.

The plaintiff sued for money on a promissory note, which he alleged had been executed by the defendant in consideration of certain sums due. The defendant denied having executed the promissory note, but he was suspected to have substituted a forged promissory note for the one which he had written. The Finger Print Bureau at Allahabad were of the opinion that the finger printed in the document did not agree with those of the defendant. The trial Court held that the plaintiff is entitled to sue on the oral settlement made before the promissory note was given, and on the basis of that settlement it had given the plaintiff a decree for the full amount claimed. On appeal by defendant, the plaintiff had nowhere stated that he wished to change the basis of his suit and fall back on the oral settlement, nor had he asked to be allowed to amend his plaint. The suit had been passed through solely on the promissory note, held, when it has been found that the promissory note sued upon is a forgery, the claim must necessarily fail. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAJINDAR SINGH v. TEK CHAND. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 628.

——— —O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—Revision.

Though orders refusing amendment have been set aside by the High Courts on revision where the lower courts have acted with material irregularity; each case must be decided on its own merits, and no hard and fast rule can be laid down that an amendment must, as a general rule be allowed where a refusal to amend would be likely to result in hardship to a party. The test to be applied is whether the amendment would or would not occasion injury to the opposite party such as cannot be recouped by costs andleave to amend should generally be refused if it would. (Moti Sagar, J.) SHAMSUD-DIN v. DEVI DAS. 77 I. C. 471 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 505.

———O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—All amendments necessary for deciding disputed points must be allowed—Revision lies against improper refusal.

The powers of amendment conferred on the Courts under the present law are much wider than formerly and all amendments should be allowed as would enable the Court finally to determine all matters in controversy between the parties. The High Court is entitled to set aside in revision an order of the lower Court refusing to grant amendment and to avoid the trouble, delay and expense that would otherwise be caused. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) KARIYA GOUNDAN v. TIRUKKAIVELU CHETTY. 21 L. W. 639 : 87 I. C. 90 : (1925) M. W. N. 469 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 585 : 48 M. L. J. 349.

———O. 6, R. 17—Refusal to amend—Refusal to allow amendment of plaint is revisable—C. P. Code, S. 115.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 6, R. 17—Revision.

Refusal to allow amendment disposes of the case so far as the question of amendment is concerned and such an order of refusal is revisable. 7 N. L. R. 130: 15 N. L. R. 125 Rel. on. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SHANKAR v. MURARJI. 78 I. C. 510: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 195.

Revision.

——O. 6, R. 17——Revision—Plaintiff allowed to amend plaint so as to satisfy Specific Relief Act, S. 42—No revision lies.

There is no right to apply in revision against an order permitting the plaintiff who sues for a bare declaratory decree to amend his plaint so as to include a prayer for the consequential relief of possession. (Godfrey, J.) MA E v. MA E 4 Bur. L. J. 1: 86 I. C. 509: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 199.

Shortening Litigation.

——O. 6, R. 17—Shortening litigation—Amendment—Duty of Court to allow.

It is the manifest duty of a Judge to try to put an end, once for all, to all questions that can arise in relation to a particular transaction. Where an amendment is necessary forthe purposes of settling all matters in controversy and works no injustice, nor takes by surprise the opposite party, the Judge should make such amendments. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) NUR MAHOMED v. NATWAR LAL. 45 A. 220: 71 I. C 452: A. I. R. 1923 All. 112.

——O. 6, R. 17—Shortening litigation—Amendment intended to shorten litigation should be allowed.

All amendments should be allowed which are intended to shorten the litigation and to put the case of the plaintiff more eminently and clearly if by reason of the plaintiff's case being misconceived in the first instance it has not been put in proper form. 22 C. W. N 611 Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SHANKAR v. MURARJI. 78 I. C. 510: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 195.

——O. 6, R. 17—Shortening litigation.

The only object of allowing amendment of a plaint is to avoid multiplicity of suits. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHIOBAKSH SINGH v. JAGANNATH. 64 I. C. 99 (Nag.).

——O. 6, R. 17—Shortening litigation—Amendment should be allowed where refusal would result in another but successful suit.

An amendment of pleadings can be allowed at any stage of the proceedings, where the sole result of a refusal would be to force the plaintiff to another suit to avoid which is one of the principal objects of the much wider rule as to amendment which has been introduced in the present Code of Civil Procedure. (Robinson, C. J., Lentaigne and Cunliffe, JJ.) MAUNG SHWE MYAT v. MAUNG PO SIN. 3 Rang. 183: 4 Bur. L. J. 141: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 282 (F. B.).

Subsequent Cause of Action.

——O. 6, R. 17——Subsequent cause of action—Amendment—Second appeal.

The High Court in second appeal will not allow an amendment of the plaint so as to allow the plaintiff to sue on a cause of action which has arisen subsequent to the suit. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chotzner, J.) MOBARAK MOLLA v. HECHAMUDDI MULLA. 65 I. C. 214 (Cal.).

——O. 6, R. 17—Subsequent cause of action—Change of position.

An amendment should be allowed when it is necessary for the determination of the question at issue owing to the change of a position of parties since the suit. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) MUMTAZ v. NAURANG. 3 Lah. L. J. 227.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 6, R. 17—Technical defect.

——O. 6, R. 17—Subsequent cause of action—New plea raising title acquired after the date of the plaint—Amendment may be allowed.

There is no general rule that an amendment cannot be allowed so as to plead a title acquired after the date of the plaint. Such an amendment ought to be allowed, in all cases where there is no question of change of jurisdiction, or great delay in making the application, or depriving the opposite party of a defence otherwise available, or the necessity of a fresh trial into facts. 21 Mad. 288 Dist. S. A. No. 1061 of 1922 Rel. on. (Ramesam, J.) B. GANGAYYA v. V. SATYANARAYANA. 22 L. W. 120: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1021.

——O. 6, R. 17—Subsequent cause of action—Formal amendment may sometimes be dispensed with.

Where plaintiff had no right of suit at the date of institution but he acquired the right through inheritance opening in his favour after the filing but before disposal of the suit, held, that the right of suit can be recognised, even without formal amendment. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) P. THIMMAYYA v. P. SIDDAPPA. 20 L. W. 548 (2): 75 I. C. 112: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 63.

——O. 6, R. 17—Subsequent cause of action—Declaratory relief—Prayer for possession.

An amendment in the pleadings should be made if thereby the real and substantial question can be raised between the parties and multiplicity of legal proceedings can be avoided. If a plaintiff sues for a mere declaration and in the altered condition of things it so happens that a declaration will be useless and a second suit for possession will be necessary, it is open to the trial Court to order an amendment of the plaint by the addition of a prayer for possession. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) HAMID MIRZA BEG v. AHMAD MIRZA BEG. 9 O. L. J. 359: 68 I. C 986: 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 89: A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 266.

Technical Defect.

——O. 6, R. 17—Technical defect—Omission to verify is a mere irregularity curable at a late stage.

A plaint is not a void plaint merely because it does not contain the verification clause as required by the Code of Civil Procedure. The omission to verify it is a mere irregularity which could be cured even at a later stage and such a plaint therefore is deemed as presented on the date of actual presentation and not on the date of its verification. Merely on the ground of such a defect, the plaint cannot be treated as altogether invalid. The subsequent verification is not amendment of the plaint. 22 All. 55 Ref. to. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHIB DEO MISRA v. RAM PRASAD. 46 A. 637: 22 A. L. J. 690: A. I. R. 1925 All. 79.

——O. 6, R. 17—Technical defect—Description of the defendant—Limited Company.

Where the suit for damages for loss of goods sent by the defendant Railway Company was entitled. "The Agent, Railway Company" as defendant and the Railway Company objected to this description, held, that the addition of the word "Agent" to the name of the Railway Company in the description of the defendant merely amounted to a misdescription and the plaintiff should be allowed to amend the plaint. If it can be said, in the interests of justice, that there has been a misdescription of a party in the title of a plaint the necessary amendment ought to be allowed, if otherwise the rights of the parties would be prejudiced. 64 I. C. 125 Dissented from. (Macleod C. J. and Crump, J.) THE SARASPUR MANUFACTURING CO. v. B. B. & C. I. RY. CO. 47 Bom. 785 : 25 Bom. L. R. 513 : 73 I. C. 1027 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 452.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 1.

——O. 7, R. 1 (b)—Suit by shebait—Omission to describe plaintiff as a shebait is merely misdescription and can be cured by amendment.

The omission to describe the plaintiff in the cause title as shebait of the idol is certainly a misdescription, but it may be cured by amendment without any hardship to the defendant. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) DAYAMAYI v. SANKAR NATH MUKHOPADHYAYA. 42 C. L. J. 30 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 417.

——O. 7, Rr. 1 and 6— Limitation as regards suit—Plaintiff to prove he is in time.

In limitation as regards suit, plaintiff is to prove that he is in time. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) PROHLAD CHANDRA CHOWDHRY v. RAMSARAN CHOWDHURY. 38 C. L. J. 213 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 420.

——O. 7, R. 1—Adverse possession should be expressly pleaded at least as alternative ground.

The requirement of the law is strict and imperative that any plaintiff who seeks to rely upon the acquisition of title by adverse possession should expressly plead it in his plaint at any rate as an alternative ground. (Spencer, Offg. C.J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) RANGAPPA v. RANGASAMI. (1925) M. W. N. 232 : 88 I. C. 249 : A. I. R 1925 Mad. 1005.

——O. 7, R. 1— Scope.

The provisions of O. 7, R. 1 (f), C. P. Code, are imperative. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SETH HARBAX v. LACHMAN. 82 I C. 201 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 183.

——O. 7, R. 1—Authority to sue is matter of principle but signing plaint is matter of practice and any defect therein may be cured at any time.

A person who is named as a co plaintiff though he may not sign and verify the plaint may be treated as plaintiff for though a person's authority to bring a suit is a question of principle, yet the proper signing of the plaint is a matter of practice only and any mistake or omission therein may be amended at any time and the authority to institute a suit may be established by means other than the signature alone. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) MOTHARAM DOWLATRAM v. PAHLAJRAI GOPALDAS. 80 I. C. 141 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 159.

——O. 7, R. 2—Mesne profits from date of suit cannot be valued.

Where mesne profits are claimed only from the date of institution of the suit it is obviously impossible to state even approximately the amount of mesne profits. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG LU GALE v. MAUNG LU PO. 1 Bur. L. J. 267 : 77 I. C. 53 : 4 L. B. R. 140 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 110.

——O. 7, R. 4— Joint family—Suit by manager—Other members not necessary parties.

Where the deft. passed a promissory note in favour of plff. who was the eldest member of the joint family for money due to the joint family and the plff. sued as the manager, held, that as the deft. dealt with the plff. alone though he knew that the loan was from joint family funds the other members of the family will not be necessary parties. 36 All. 383 P. C. and 33 All. 272 P. C., Expl. (Fawcett, J.) RAMNATH v. RAMDEO. 23 Bom. L. R. 1135 : 64 I. C. 966 : 46 Bom. 358 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 281.

——O. 7, R. 4—Plaint is to state the representative nature of the suit.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 6.

Under O. 7, R. 4 of the C. P. Code the plaint must contain a statement that the suit is brought in a representative character, whenever such is the case. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SETH HARBAX v. LACHMAN. 82 I. C. 201 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 183.

——O. 7, R. 5—Several defendants—Plaint to show cause of action against each.

Every plaint must show how the various defendants are interested in the subject matter of the suit and the cause of action against each. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALAJI VINAYAK BUTI v. VITHOBA. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 191.

——O. 7, R. 6—Pleadings—Ground of exemption from limitation not set up in plaint—If can be set up and proved.

Where a plaint which is barred does not contain the ground of exemption as required by O. 7, R. 6 the plaintiff cannot afterwards rely on a ground of exemption not contained in the plaint. (Moti Sagar and Martineau, JJ.) NANAK CHAND v. MAHOMED KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 702.

——O. 7, R. 6—Grounds of exemption not stated.

A suit was returned to be presented to the proper Court. When it was so presented to the later Court, it was beyond time. On the plaint no statement as required under R. 6, was made, held no statement was necessary as there was the endorsement of the Court returning the plaint giving the dates of original presentation and the date of return. (Abdul Raoof and Fforde, JJ.) SUKHBIR SINGH v. FIARE LAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 591.

——O. 7, R. 6—Mortgage—Suit by mortgagee for possession—Ground for extension of period of limitation set out in plaint—Plaintiff can rely on another ground.

Under the terms of the mortgage in case of default of interest the mortgagee was to be entitled to realise interest by a separate suit or to claim possession of the mortgaged land in lieu of principal and interest. The mortgagee brought a suit in 1906 for arrears of interest for 3 years and obtained a decree on 18th August 1906. After further default on 6th June 1918 the plaintiffs instituted the present suit for possession of the mortgaged land. It was contended that the suit was barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code and by Art. 135 Limitation Act, but a Full Bench decided that the suit was not barred under O. 2, R. 2 (1). Held, where the plaintiff has mentioned one ground of exemption in the plaint there is no bar under the provisions of O. 7, R. 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure to take another and an inconsistent ground to avoid limitation and the acknowledgment made in the written statement in previous case could be relied on. (Chevis and Scott Smith, JJ.) PARMASHRI DAS v. FAKIRIA. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 230.

——O. 7, R. 6—Failure to set up acknowledgment as saving limitation is a bar.

Where the plaintiff did not set up in his plaint, as required by O. 7, R. 6, an acknowledgment, within the meaning of S. 19 of the Limitation Act which would bring his suit within time, he cannot be allowed to raise it. (Scott-Smith and Campbell, JJ.) UTTAM CHAND v. MT. THAKUR DEVI. 4 Lah. L. J. 190 : 3 Lah. 233 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 39.

——O. 7, R. 6—General relief—Grant of declaration—Suit for possession.

Where a plaintiff prays for such general relief as the court might grant if his prayer for possession is refused, the Court can grant him a declaration of his title though he fails to obtain the specific relief prayed for. (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) MOHAN LAL

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 6.

v. MAYA MAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 393.

——— O. 7, R. 6—Construction must be liberal—Ground of exemption from limitation omitted from plaint.

R. 6 should be construed liberally and reasonably. Where the plaint does not state the ground of exemption from the Law of Limitation, the Court should allow the inclusion of that ground. Where that point is expressed in the plaint R. 6 is satisfied but in such a case plaintiff may try to get over the bar of limitation by putting forth another ground if he believes the latter to be true (Chevis and Scott-Smith, JJ.) PARMESHRI DAS v. FAKIRIA.
60 I C. 772 : 3 Lah. L. J. 22 : 2 L. 13.

——— O. 7, Rr. 6 and 11 (d)—Setting aside order rejecting plaint—Rejection on another ground by appellate Court.

Where it was urged that, the first Court's decision as to the insufficiency of the court-fee, on the ground of which the plaint was rejected, having been reversed the lower appellate Court ought to have remanded the case and not entertained and decided the objection on the ground of limitation. Held, the plaint can be rejected, if from the statement therein the suit is barred by any law. If the plaintiff does not show in the plaint the grounds of exemption for bringing the suit after the period prescribed by law as is his duty to do under R. 6, O. 7 the appellate Court can reject the plaint as the first Court can do. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) SAWATRAM v. GANESHLAL.
A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 30.

——— O. 7, R. 6—Limitation—Exemption from—Plea of—Inconsistent averments may be allowed.

A plaintiff fulfilling the requirements of O. 7, R. 6 of the C. P. Code by a statement of grounds showing how the plaint is within limitation, should be allowed to take another and even an inconsistent ground, for getting over the bar of limitation. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) ONKARLAL v RAJ MAHOMED.
65 I. C. 279 : 17 N. L. R. 209.

——— O. 7, R. 6—Limitation—Saving of—Acknowledgment—Plea in defence not barred.

It is open to the plff. to show in reply to the defence set up that his claim was within time by reason of the acknowledgments of the defendants. Such a plea in rebuttal is not inadmissible under O. 7, R. 6, C. P. Code. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) RAM AUTAR v. BENI SINGH. 25 O. C. 89 : 68 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 135.

——— O. 7, R. 6—Scope.

An acknowledgment of liability sufficient under S. 19 of the Limitation Act to give a fresh start to limitation from the date thereof should not be allowed in evidence unless the ground upon which exemption from limitation is claimed is pleaded specifically. (Das and Ross, JJ.) CHHATERDHURI MAHTO v. NASIB SINGH. 5 P. L. T. 551 : 78 I. C. 919 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 806.

——— O. 7, R. 7—Prayer for general relief—Power of Court to grant reliefs not asked for in the plaint.

Under O. 7, R. 7, C. P. Code, a prayer for general relief is unnecessary and a Court may always give general or other relief, as it may think just, to the same extent as if it had been asked for. All that is necessary is that the necessary foundation of facts must be laid in the plaint. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) SATYATARAN CHAUDHURY v. JYOTI PRASAD SINHA DEO. (1923) P. H. C. C. 153 : 5 Pat. L T. 330: 76 I. C. 940 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 386.

——— O. 7, R. 9—Institution of suit—Date of.

A suit is instituted on the date when the plaint is filed and not on the date when it is ordered to be registered. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) H. H. MAHARAJAH OF COOCH BEHAR v. RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN. 66 I. C. 923 : 34 C. L. J. 465.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 10.

——— O. 7, R. 10—Court holding plaintiff's case untrue—Procedure is to dismiss the suit and not return the plaint—C. P. Code, S. 115.

Where a Judge did not hold that on the facts alleged in the plaint he had no jurisdiction but held that the case set out in the plaint was untrue in fact. Held, that on this finding he ought to dismiss the suit on the merits and not return the plaint under O. 7, R. 10. If he returns the plaint, he fails to exercise jurisdiction vested in him by law and the order is open to revision. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) BISHESHAR PRASAD PANDEY v. RAGHUBIR.
24 A. L. J. 83 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 58: 90 I C. 353.

——— O. 7, R. 10 and S. 92—Suit under S. 92—Claim for possession included—Plaint should not be returned.

Where a suit under S. 92 includes a claim for possesssion, though no relief for recovery of possession can be granted in a suit under S. 92, the Court will not be justified in returning the plaint altogether. The Court may call upon the plaintiffs to amend the plaint by striking off the claim for possession or it may wait till it pronounces its judgment and may dismiss the claim with regard to that particular relief. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) RAMRUP GOSHAIN v. RAMDHARI BHAGAT. 23 A. L. J. 601 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 352 : 89 I. C. 40 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 683.

——— O. 7, R. 10—Absence of jurisdiction—Return of plaint—Dismissal of suit improper.

It is the duty of a Court to return the plaint for presentation to a proper Court and not to dismiss the suit if it holds that it has no jurisdiction to entertain it. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) RAM JAS SINGH v. BABU NENDAN SINGH. 44 All. 686 : 70 I. C. 98 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 424 (1).

——— O. 7, R. 10—Scope of—Plaint consisting of claims partly within and partly without jurisdiction—Ancestral home, if a test.

O. 7, R. 10 does not specifically state what is to be done when a plaint consists of a claim within the Court's jurisdiction and also a claim outside the jurisdiction, but it obviously means that that portion of such a plaint which is outside the jurisdiction shall be treated as though it was a distinct plaint by itself. The mere fact that the ancestral home of persons, who are really residing outside the jurisdiction is within the jurisdiction does not matter. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.). KISHORI LAL v. RAM SUNDAR.
64 I. C. 688 (1) : 19 A. L. J. 822.

——— O. 7, R. 10—Order under—No second appeal lies.

Only one appeal lies from an order passed under O. 7, R. 10, ordering return of plaint for presentation to the proper Court under O. 43, R. 1 (a). (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) NILKANT VASDEO SAMANT v. BALWANT PANDURANG SAMANT.
27 Bom. L. R. 635 : 88 I. C. 753 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 431 (1).

——— O. 7, R. 10—Plaint returned for presentation to proper Court—Plaintiff appealing—Appeal dismissed—Plaintiff's remedy.

Where a plaint has been returned for presentation to the proper Court, and the plaintiff appeals against the order, he is still at liberty to present the plaint to the proper Court subject to the bar of limitation. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) ABDUL AZIZ v. CHANDU SONU. 27 B. L. R. 652 : 89 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 418.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 10.

——0. 7, R. 10—Scope.

Where there was nothing to prevent a suit being instituted in a Court if the proper procedure had been followed, in which case it would have been decided on merits, held, the only course for the Court was to dismiss the suit. As it is not a case in which the suit should have been instituted in another Court, R. 10 of O. 7 does not apply. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHOMEDBHAI HUSENBHAI v ADAMJA HALIMBHAI. 46 Bom. 229 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 152.

——0. 7, R. 10—Plaint returned and then presented in proper Court—Court-Fees Act amended in the meantime—Fees according to new act must be paid—Court fee.

When the plaint which has been returned is presented in a Court of competent jurisdiction, the suit, even for purposes of Court-fees, must be taken to be instituted on the date of such re-presentation and therefore on such plaint the Court-fee should be leviable under the law which was in force at the time when the plaint was re-presented. If the Act is amended in the meantime increasing the amount of fee payable thereunder, the plaintiff should be credited with fee originally paid. 15 C. L. J. 241 Ref. (Newbould and Graham, JJ.) BIMALA PRASAD v. LALMONI. 30 C. W. N. 90 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 355.

——0. 7, R. 10—Plaint returned by Civil Court after its return by Small Cause Court—Order is not one under R. 10.

If a plaint has been returned under S. 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act to be presented to another Court and it is presented to an ordinary Civil Court, any order for return of the plaint by the Civil Court afterwards is not an order under O. 7, R. 10, C. P. Code, and, therefore, no appeal lies from such an order. 18 C. W. N. 380 Foll. (B. B. Ghose, J.) HARA MOHAN v. SUDHANSHU BHUSAN. 85 I C. 1002 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 83.

——0. 7, R. 10—Appeal wrongly filed without excuse was dismissed and not returned.

An appeal presented to the High Court wrongly without any excuse, the law being clear, was dismissed, as the High Court refused to return the memorandum of appeal. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) CHATURBHUJ MAHESRI v. HARLAL AGARWALA. 80 I. C. 858 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 335.

——0. 7, R. 10—Return of appeal for presenting to a proper Court—Revision lies.

Order returning a memorandum of appeal to be presented to the proper Court is revisable. (Abdul Raoof, J.) GHULAM SARWAR v. GHULAM MUSTAFA. 7 L. L. J. 285 : 26 Punj. L. R. 584 : 90 I. C. 603 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 479.

——0. 7, R. 10—Returning plaint for presentation to proper Court—Specific Relief Act, S. 42—Arbitration Act (IX of 1899), S. 14.

A suit for a declaration that a certain award, not filed in Court, is not binding on the plaintiff falls under Specific Relief Act, S. 42 and not under Arbitration Act (IX of 1899), S. 14, and as such can be filed in the Sub-Judge's Court and not in the District Judge's Court. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) THE FIRM OF HIRA NAND MURLIDHAR v. THE FIRM FLEMING SHAW & CO. 4 L. L. J. 12 : 68 I. C. 187 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 26 (1) ——0. 7, R. 10—Suit presented—Court having no jurisdiction should not dismiss it but return it for proper presentation.

When a suit is not maintainable in the Court to which it is presented, it should not dismiss it but should return it for presentation to proper Court. (Phillips, J.) TRUSTEE OF THE VIZIANAGRAM ESTATE v. PAILA ACHANAH. 22 L. W. 522 : (1925) M. W. N. 771 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 140.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 10.

——0. 7, R. 10—Plaint ordered to be returned for presentation to proper Court, as the subject-matter was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court—Whether order is a final order—Subsequent order allowing the withdrawal of the claim of some items and bringing the claim within the jurisdiction of the Court.

The Court first held that the valuation of the subject-matter was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court and ordered the plaint to be returned for presentation to the proper Court. Subsequently, the plaintiff applied to withdraw his claim to certain items and amend the plaint so as to bring the valuation within the jurisdiction of the Court and the same was allowed. Held that this order was not without jurisdiction and the first order was not a final order. (Odgers, J.) KOMMAREDDI RAMACHANDRAYYA v. VENKATARATNAM. 22 L. W. 582 : (1925) M. W. N. 804 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 133 (2).

——0. 7, Rr. 10, 11—A Court should reject plaint on refusal of plaintiff to pay Court-fee though for claim exceeding Court's jurisdiction.

Where the Court directed plaintiff to pay Court-fee on market value but the plaintiff did not pay and the Court held that the subject-matter of the suit exceeded its jurisdiction and directed the return of the plaint for presentation to a superior Court, held, that the procedure of the Court was illegal. The Court should have first called upon the plaintiff to state the market value and then directed him to pay the proper Court-fee on his plaint and on his failure to do so rejected the plaint. If the plaintiff paid the requisite Court-fee and it was then found that the valuation of the suit went beyond the jurisdiction of the Court the plaint should have been returned for presentation to the proper Court. (Krishnan, J.) KANDASWAMI GOUNDAN v. SUBBAI GOUNDAN. 46 M. L. J. 345 : 34 M. L. T. 92 : (1924) M. W. N. 338 : 77 I. C. 781 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 646.

——0. 7, R. 10—Finding on the point—Amending the plaint giving further particulars.

After having been found by the Court that gross negligence has been established there is no necessity whatever for amending the plaint by giving fuller particulars. The order directing amendment of the plaint is inconsistent with previous judgment and it should be set aside. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VEERAPPAN SERVAI v. MENNAPPAN. 70 I. C. 335: 31 M. L. T. 449: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 245.

——0.7, R.10—Court finding that it has no jurisdiction to try suit—Court cannot try suit on merits.

Where a Court decides that it has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit, but instead of returning the plaint proceeds to decide the suit on the merits and passes a decree, the decree is liable to be set aside in revision. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SHUKRA v. FARZAND ALI. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 735.

——0. 7, R. 10 and S. 107 (2)—Civil Court holding that appeal lies only to the Revenue Court should not dismiss appeal but should return it to be presented to proper Court.

Where a Civil Court holds that it has no jurisdiction to entertain an appeal and that the appeal lies in a Revenue Court, the Civil Court should not dismiss the appeal. The right course for it to take would be to return the memorandum of appeal for presentation to the proper Court. (Misra, A. J. C.) KALKA v. RAM SUCHIT. 12 O. L. J. 362: 2 O. W. N. 499 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 499.

——0. 7, R. 10—Return of plaint—Revision.

Where on application of the plaintiff, the plaint was returned to be presented to the proper court and in revision the High Court by order refused to interfere but the lower appellate court in appeal set aside the order of the trial court returning the plaint, held, it would be impossible to restore the plaintiff to his prior position and it is not desirable that any further inference should be made on revision with the progress of the hearing and the order of the trial court must be confirmed. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) KHUNAI TEWARI v. MT. DILL KUNWAR. A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 38 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 10.

——— —O. 7, R. 10—Munsiff returning plaint to be presented to Small Cause Court cannot re-entertain it on the refusal by the latter Court.

A Munsiff's Court which has once returned the plaint on the ground that the suit was cognizable by a Court of Small Causes has no jurisdiction to entertain it again although the Small Cause Court has also returned the plaint for presentation to the Munsiff's Court, the previous order of the Munsiff being final between the parties unless set aside by a superior Court. (Ross, J.) RAZAUR RAHAMAN v. ATTAR HUSSAIN.
2 Pat. L. T. 739: 64 I. C. 496: A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 368.

———O. 7, R. 11 and S. 149—Extension of time—Limitation.

Under O. 7, R. 11 (c) read along with S. 149, C. P. Code, a Court has power in its discretion to allow a plaintiff further time in which to make good a deficiency in court-fee and if such deficiency is made good within the time prescribed, the fact that in the meantime limitation had expired would not affect the suit. (Ryves, J.) RAM DIAL v. SHER SINGH. 45 A. 518: 21 A. L. J. 387: L. R. 4 A. 251: 74 I. C. 358: A. I. R. 1923 All. 538 (1).

———O. 7, R. 11.

Ordinarily a mortgagor or those responsible for the mortgagor's estate will not be liable to account to the beneficiaries unless it can be shown that the sale had realised sufficient to pay off the mortgage, and left a surplus, and that the surplus was in the hands of the person from whom an account was claimed. But the plaintiffs are not in a position to allege anything of the sort. Held, as the plaint does not disclose a cause of action, it should be rejected (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHOMEDBHAI HUSENBHAI v. ADAMJA HALIMBHAI. 46 Bom. 229: A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 152.

———O.7, R. 11—Plaint rejected for undervaluation—Plaintiff appealing, putting same value on appeal as he put on plaint—Appeal cannot be rejected as insufficiently stamped, without investigating true value of suit properties.

Where a plaint was rejected under O. 7, R. 11 for insufficiency of Court-fee on the ground that the plaintiff had undervalued his suit and that he had failed to pay enhanced Court-fees in accordance with the real value of the property as found by the Court, and where plaintiff preferred an appeal valuing the appeal at the same value as he had put upon his plaint originally: Held, that the appellate Court was bound to go into the question as to the true value of the properties and that without coming to a finding on this question it could not hold that the appeal was insufficiently stamped. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) AMART LAL KUMAR v. SISIR KUMAR BASU. 87 I. C. 651: A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 427.

———O. 7, R. 11—Provisions of—Mandatory—Deficient Court-fee—Procedure—Objection when to be raised.

The provisions of O 7, R. 11, C. P. Code are mandatory and they require that where a plaint is written on paper insufficiently stamped, the Court is bound to give the plaintiff time to make good the deficiency.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 11.

38 B. 41, 2 Pat. L. J. 74, Ref. The fact that the objection is heard at a time subsequent to the registration of the suit is immaterial because the provisions of the rule can be brought into operation at any stage of the suit. 12 A. 553; 18 M. 338; 47 C. 376; 34 C. 20 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) RADHA KANTA SAHA v. DEBENDRA NARAYAN SAHA. 49 Cal. 880: 70 I. C. 101: 38 C. L. J. 74: 27 C. W. N. 566: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 506.

———O. 7, R. 11—Suit dismissed on merits—Order for additional Court-fee is incompetent.

Where the Court has dismissed a suit on the merits, it is not competent to order that the plaintiff should pay the additional Court-fee and that if he failed to do so the plaint would stand rejected. (Martineau, J.) ISMAIL SHAH v. SALEH MAHOMED SHAH.
7 L. L. J. 18 : 86 I. C. 266: A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 326 (2).

———O. 7, R. 11—Cause of action arising after plaint filed—Suit should not be rejected.

Where in a suit for money, the real cause of action arose only after the institution of the suit, the Court should not reject the plaint and drive the plaintiff to filing a fresh suit but pass a decree there itself. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) KANSHI RAM v. JAIMAL SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 31: 75 I. C. 562: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 590.

———O. 7, R. 11 and O 17, R. 3—Plaint rejected because plaintiff did not file amended plaint as asked to do—O. 7, R. 11 and not O. 17, R. 3 applies.

Order 17, R. 3, applies only after a suit has been instituted and only after it has been adjourned for the purpose of giving evidence. But where a plaint is rejected on the ground that the plaintiff has not filed an amended plaint, as he was asked to do, O. 17, R. 3, does not apply, but the case falls within O. 7, R. 11, cl. (c). (Madhavan Nair, J.) K. SANKARANARAYANA IYER v. VENKATARAMA IYER.
86 I. C. 491 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1045.

———O. 7, R. 11—Suit to set aside decree on mortgage—Fraud regarding execution of mortgage alleged against defendants in previous suit—Continuance of fraud in conduct of previous suit need not be alleged.

The suit was brought by the junior members of an Aliyasanthana family for declaration that a decree obtained against certain other members (including the two managers) was not binding on them. The plaintiffs were not parties to the former suit. The plaint made various allegations of fraud in connection with the execution of the mortgage deed on which the former suit was laid but made no further specific allegations of fraud in the conduct of the former suit. Held, that if the defendants in the former suit were different from the executants of the mortgage the plaintiff ought to have made a further allegation about the conduct of the defendants in defending the suit such as that they did not raise an obvious plea open to them or that the executants of the document were not managers at the time, conduct showing gross negligence equivalent to fraud and collusion. But as in the present case the plaint attributed initial fraud to the defendants in the suit at the stage of execution of the document it was not necessary for the plaintiff to make a redundant allegation that the fraud continued during the conduct of the suit and hence the plaint did disclose a cause of action. (Ramesam, J.) DURGAMMA v. KECHAMAYYA.
(1925) M. W. N. 162 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 792 : 48 M. L. J. 351.

———O. 7, R. 11—Order under—Revision lies.

According to the practice in the Madras High Court, an order holding that a certain Court-fee is payable is revisable. 4 Pat. L. J. 57 Dist. (Krishnan, J.) SUDA-

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 7, R. 11

LAIMUTHU PILLAI v. P. SOMASUNDARAM PILLAI.
(1925) M. W. N. 104 : 87 I. C. 25 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 722 : 48 M. L. J. 514.

——O. 7, R. 11—Suit to recover bonus credited to plaintiff in two years and partly paid to the plaintiff is based either on a completed gift or on contract and therefore there is good cause of action which is not a mere promise without consideration—Contract—Consideration.

A suit was dismissed upon demurrer on the ground that the plaint disclosed no cause of action. The plaint alleged that the plaintiff who was a godown keeper in a Mahomedan firm was credited with a bonus of Rs. 3,500 out of the profits of the firm in consideration of his good services, and that out of the bonus, which was carried to the plaintiff's credit in 1919-20 the plaintiff was allowed to draw out Rs. 420 but the balance was refused notwithstanding the demand. Held, [Per Spencer, Offg. C. J.] The plaint disclosed a case of completed gift and there was more than a mere promise though the amount originally was of the nature of a bonus.

Per Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.—The plaintiff's claim should be deemed to be based on a contract apart from his pleas of completed gift or the case of depositor and the depositee. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) P. KANAKASABAPATHY v. HAJEE OOSMAN SAHIB. 20 L. W. 910 : (1925) M. W. N. 279 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 192: 47 M. L. J. 791.

——O. 7, R. 11—Rejection of plaint—Powers of appellate Court.

An appellate Court has the same powers of rejecting a plaint under O.7, R.11 of the C.P. Code, as the court of first instance. It is the duty of the plaintiff to show in his plaint the grounds on which he claims exemption from limitation in respect of a claim which is prima facie barred by limitation. If he fails to do so the appellate Court is not bound to give an opportunity to specify those grounds, (Kotwal, A.J.C.) VITHOBA YADEO v. SURYABHAN. 69 I. C. 554 (1): A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 80.

——O. 7, R. 11 and S. 151—Rejection of plaint—Inherent power of Court--Suit by next friend of minor.

The instances given in O. 7, R. 11, C. P. Code, empowering the Court to reject a plaint are not exhaustive and they do not limit the powers of a Court. A Court has jurisdiction in a proper case to dismiss a suit filed by the next friend of a minor on the ground that it is not in the interests of the minor that the suit should be allowed to go on. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) THAKUR HARIHAR BAKHSH SINGH v. THAKUR JAGANNATH SINGH. 11 O. L. J. 260 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 413.

——O. 7, R. 11 and O. 9, R. 9—Rejection of plaint—Non-payment of Court-fee—Application for restoration does not lie.

Where a plaint has been rejected by a Court for non-payment of Court-fees and the order has been signed by the Court, the order operates as a decree and the court has no power to restore the suit under O. 9, R. 9, C. P. Code or under its inherent powers under S. 151, C. P. Code. The proper remedy of the plaintiff is by way of an application for review under O. 7, R. 11 of C. P. Code. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMESHWARDHARI SINGH v. SADHU SARAN SINGH. 2 Pat. 504 : 4 Pat. L. T. 261 : 72 I.C 629 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 354.

——O. 7, R. 11—Insufficient stamp—Time must be given to make good deficiency.

In the case of a plaint insufficiently stamped, the Court is bound under O. 7, R. 11, to give the plaintiff time to make good the deficiency although it is found that the plaint had been deliberately filed on an insufficient Court-fee. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) DEONATH SAHAI v. RADHA KANT PRASAD. 3 P. L. T. 142 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat 56 (1).

——O. 7, R. 11—Plaintiff entitled only to one of two reliefs sued for—Lower Court decreeing suit fully—Decree need not be vacated but may be varied.

Where a person who is entitled to sue only for accounts sues for dissolution of partnership and for accounts, and the lower Court decrees the suit, where accounts have been taken and where defendants have not been prejudiced, the lower Court's decree need not be vacated but it is enough if it is suitably varied. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) TULSIDAS v. GANGARAM. 18 S L. R. 96 : 86 I. C. 944 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 272.

——O. 7, R. 11 (a)—Power when to be exercised.

The power to reject a plaint on the ground it does not disclose a cause of action must be exercised with great care and it is only if the court thinks that if even all the plaint allegations are proved there is no cause of action that the plaint can be rejected. (Madgaonkar, A. J. C.) COLLINS v. CHARLES BOOTH & CO. 80 I. C. 958 : 17 S. L. R. 9.

——O. 7, R. 11 (c)—Appeal—Memorandum insufficiently stamped—Rejection of appeal.

An appellate court has no right to reject an appeal on the ground that it is insufficiently stamped. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) JAI SINGH GIR v. SITA RAM SINGH. 21 A L. J. 333 : 74 I.C. 757 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 188 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 349 (1).

——O. 7, Rr. 14 and 18 (2)—Documents produced by plaintiff in answer to case set up by defendants—No necessity for filing before first hearing.

Where the plaintiff produces certain documents in rebuttal of a case set up by the defts. he need not enter them in the list prescribed by O. 7, R. 14, C. P. Code, nor need he file them before the first hearing under O.7, R.18 (2), C.P. Code. Where the trial court refused to admit certain receipts tendered in evidence to prove the plaintiff's parentage which was denied by the defendant, on the ground they were not filed under O. 7, R. 18 (2). C. P. Code. Held, the trial court was wrong in its procedure and it should have allowed the plaintiffs to prove the documents at the trial. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MANBODH MISSIR v. BHAIRO MISSIR. 4 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 97 : 4 Pat. L. T. 322 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 300 : 77 I. C. 848 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 569.

——O. 7, R. 14—Document not filed in Court when may be allowed to be used.

Where it is made clear to the Court, that though a document is not filed or entered in the list along with the plaint, the document cannot be said to be fabricated on the face of it ; there is no reason why the party should not be allowed to use it in Court. (Jwala Prasad, J.) SUKAN SHAHU v. JHORI MAHTO. 60 I. C. 372 (Pat.).

——O. 7, R. 16—Suit on pro-note—Note not returned to defendant—Security.

Where the promissory note sued on is not returned to the defendant, the deft. may become liable to third persons who may become holders of the note in due course and Courts can obtain proper security from the plaintiff before awarding him the amount found due from the defendant. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) DUGGEMPUDI NAGAMMA v. TIRUMALA-REDDI PEDA VENKATAREDDI. 59 I. C. 363 : 12 L. W. 147.

——O. 7, R. 18—Failure to produce document—Effect of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 7, R. 18.

Where a plaintiff who is directed to produce a certain document by a certain time fails to do it, he cannot put it in as evidence later without leave of court, but this does not entitle the court to reject his plaint. Neither O. 7, R. 11 nor O. 17, R. 3 apply to such a case. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MAHOMED BAKSH v. MALIK MUSA. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 608.

——O 7, R. 18—Certified copies of public documents may be received, though not produced with plaint.

The C. P. Code, no doubt compels the parties to produce all the documentary evidence in their possession or power on which they intend to rely at the first hearing of the suit. The rule was enacted to prevent fraud by the late production of suspicious documents and no suspicion can attach to certified copies of public documents and such documents may be received in evidence though they have not been produced at the first hearing. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DWARKA PRASAD v. JAI BORHAM. 67 I. C. 686 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 322.

——O. 8, R. 2—Limitation under special law cannot be allowed to be raised in appeal.

A point of limitation under the provisions of Sch. III, Art. 2 of the Bengal Tenancy Act cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in appeal as the determination of that question depends upon the fact as to when service of notice of deposit was made on the landlord. O. 8, R. 2 requires the defendant to raise a question of special limitation. (Ghose, J.) SHEIKH HAJI SADAK ALI KHAN v. JANAKINATH SINGHA ROY. 69 I. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 463.

——O. 8, Rr. 2 and 4—Defence to be specific.

It is the duty of defendants to particularise in their defence all points either of law or fact which they desire to take. Evasive denials are depreciated and the points of defence must be stated specifically and clearly. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) SARIFUN MANDALIN v. FERADOUL KHATUN. 76 I. C. 603 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 578.

——O. 8, R. 2—Limitation should be specifically pleaded.

Limitation, where it is sought to be relied on, should be specifically pleaded, particularly where the bar is alleged to be under some special law. Points of limitation should not be decided against the parties unless attention of the parties had been drawn thereto and opportunity given them to meet it on evidence. An issue ought to be framed if necessary. (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) SECY. OF STATE v. ANANDA MOHAN ROY. 66 I C. 287 : 34 C. L. J. 205.

——O. 8, R. 2—Question of limitation cannot be raised in appeal.

A question of limitation cannot be raised for the first time in appeal. It must be raised by the defendant in his pleading according to O. 8, R. 2. (Mookerji, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BHUSHAN CHANDRA PAL v. NARENDRA NATH KOER. 60 I. C. 280 : 32 C. L. J. 236.

——O. 8, R. 2—Plea of limitation.

A general plea in the written statement that the suit is barred by limitation means that on the face of the plaint, the suit is barred. Hence a substantive plea of limitation cannot be raised unless the necessary facts are stated in the written statement. (Das and Ross, JJ.) HASAN IMANA v. DEBI PRASAD. 3 P. 546 : 5 P. L. T. 303 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 189 : 80 I. C. 956 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 664.

——O. 8, R. 2—Want of legal necessity—Plea cannot be raised for first time in appeal.

Where a mortgage by the manager of a Hindu family is disputed on the ground that there was no necessity for a particular rate of interest, the plea cannot be raised for the first time in appeal. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) AITHAN GOPE v. KHAKHAI GAHU. 3 Pat. L. T. 367 · 67 I. C. 790 : 1 Pat. 612 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 356.

——O. 8, R. 3—Fraud, etc., not set up—Absence of issue—Court's powers.

Where the defendants admitted execution of a document but did not plead fraud or undue influence and no issue was raised regarding the same, it is not open to courts to find that the defendants were not aware of the contents of the document. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) SADANAND TEWARI v. DEB NATH MANJHI. 1922 P.H.C.C. 154 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 184.

——O. 8, Rr. 3 and 5—Scope—The words "stated to be not admitted" in R. 5—Meaning of.

Rule 5 should be read with R. 3. The words "stated to be not admitted" in R. 5 mean specifically stated to be not admitted. (Ramesam and Reilly, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA v. HITCHCOCK. 22 L. W. 26 : 85 I. C. 900 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 950.

——O. 8, R. 5—Admission by Mukhtear of a party—Right to require proof in spite of admission.

Though prior to the framing of issues in a suit the defendant's mukhtear admits a fact alleged by the plaintiff, the admission is not conclusive in his favour and it is open to the court under O. 8, R. 5 proviso to require the facts admitted to be proved by other evidence. (Scott-Smith, A. C. J.) VIR SINGH v. BHOLA SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 358 : 82 I. C. 617 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 744.

——O. 8, R. 5—Allegation in pleadings—Plaint—Statement as to date of death—Denial—Sufficiency of.

Where the reversioners of a deceased Hindu bring a suit for possession of properties alleged to have been with the widow of the last male owner and in the plaint they allege that the widow died on a particular date and the defendant in the written statement alleges that the widow did not die on that particular date and also alleges that the plaintiff's suit is barred by limitation, held, that it could not be said that inasmuch as the defendant did not make a counter-allegation as to what exactly the date of the death of the widow was, he must be deemed to have admitted that allegation in the plaint within the meaning of O. 8, R. 5 C. P. Code. In the present case there was no question of evasive denial for there was only one fact alleged and that had been stated to be not admitted. Whether the defendant actually knew the date of the death of the widow or not at the time they made, the pleading was not material. (Phillips, J.) N. C. RAJAGOPALACHARIAR v. BASHYACHARIAR. 20 L. W. 399 : (1924) M. W. N. 788 · 82 I. C. 584 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 838 : 47 M. L. J. 520.

——O. 8, R. 5—Fact explicitly relied on in the plaint—No denial of it in the written statement of defendant except a general denial.

When an allegation of fact is explicitly relied on in the plaint and there is no denial of it in the written reply of the defendants except a general one, viz. that fact is not admitted must be proved, the general denial will not safeguard defendants unless there is something in the course of trial to justify a suspicion that the defendant was taken by surprise or there was misunderstanding. In the case of a minor defendant however there is an exception which relates to persons under disability in O. 8, R. 5, C. P. Code. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) GOVINDASAMI PADAYACHI v. R. SAMI PADAYACHI. 16 L. W. 911 : 31 M. L. T. 258: (1923) M. W. N. 42 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 114 (2) : 43 M. L. J. 579:

——O. 8, R. 5—Discretion when to be used—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 8, R. 5.

Admission made collusively or to evade a rule of public policy.

The discretion under this rule should be exercised by the lower Court where it suspects an admission made collusively or to avoid a rule of public policy An allegation of fact in a plaint not specifically denied, must be deemed to have been admitted and the Appellate Court would in such case be using its discretion wrongly in requiring proof of the admission. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATA REDDI v. MUTHU PAMBULU NAIK. 60 I. C. 554 : (1920) M. W. N. 512 : 58 I. C. 801 : 28 M. L. T. 213 : 39 M. L. J. 463.

———O. 8, R. 5—Failure to deny an oral pleading —No inference of admission can be drawn.

Provisions expressly made applicable to allegations in plaint, and to defendant's failure to deny them should not be applied to an oral pleading of the defendant so as to infer from the absence of a reply by plaintiff, that the latter accepted it as true. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) LAXMAN v. BABUSA. 85 I. C. 768 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 380.

———O. 8, R. 5—Admission in pleadings—Construction of—Qualified admission—Effect of.

It is a general rule of law that an admission made by the opposite party in his pleadings of a fact necessary for the decision of a case dispenses with its proof. But an admission must be taken as a whole and not piecemeal. The principle upon which the latter rule is grounded is that if a party makes a qualified statement, that statement cannot be used as against him apart from that qualification. An unfair use is not to be made of a party's statement by trying to convert into a particular admission by him. that which he never intended to be such an admission. Where the defendant admits the affixing of his thumb impression in a blank paper, that does not amount to admission of execution of a promissory note which had been brought into existence over his thumb impression. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DEVIDAS v. MAMOOJI. 20 N. L. R. 7 : 78 I. C. 104 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 103.

———O. 8, R. 5—Defendant ex parte—Proof of plaint—Allegations when necessary—Practice.

Under O. 8, R. 5 where the defendant does not appear at all he must be taken to have admitted all the allegations in the plaint. Therefore ordinarily in an ex parte case no issue arises at all and there is nothing for the plaintiff to prove. But by the proviso to O. 8, R. 5 it is left to the discretion of the Court to select some of the facts which under the rule itself must be regarded as admitted and to say that the plaintiff must prove them in spite of the implied admission. The Courts do in practice almost invariably, though often tacitly, direct that the main points alleged in the plaint are to be proved otherwise than by the implied admission of the defendants and only the minor points are to be taken as proved by that admission. But when the Court accepts certain allegations in the plaint as proved by the implied admission of the defendant and selects others as requiring proof by the plaintiff it is bound to tell the plaintiff clearly what the points are that have been so selected and the only way to do this is to state them as issues. In the majority of ex parte cases it is so clear to everybody what the points selected as requiring proof otherwise than by the implied admission are that it is unnecessary to state them at all, and this would seem to be the state of things for which the last paragraph of Rule 1 of O. 14 provides. But if there is any room for doubt about the matter, then the Court is bound to inform the plaintiff specifically which points he has to prove and which can be taken as proved. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A.J.C.) MT. BHURIBHAI v. ISHAK HUSSAIN. 69 I. C. 619 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 83.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 8, R. 6.

———O. 8, R. 6—Set off—Suit by assignee from co-sharer for profits—Decree in favour of lambardar—Right to set off.

A decree for arrears of rent obtained by a lambardar against co-sharer could not be set off against a claim for profits by an assignee from the co-sharer. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) GOVIND RAM v. KUNJ BEHARI LAL. 22 A. L. J. 217 : L. R. 5 A. 65 (Rev.) : 83 I. C. 403 : 46 A. 398 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 341.

———O. 8, R. 6—Set off—Suit for price of goods sold and delivered—Defence that there were counter-dealings between the parties—Set off.

Plaintiff brought a suit for the price of goods sold and delivered. The plea of the defendant was that the suit transaction formed one out of a number of similar transactions between the parties and that if the payments were to be credited on both sides a definite balance would be found payable by the plaintiff to the defendant. Held. that the sum claimed by the defendant was an ascertained sum and could be made the subject of a set-off within the meaning of O. 8, R. 6, C.P. Code and consequently the Court below was wrong in refusing to go into his claim. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) HAR PRASAD v. FIRM OF RAM SARUP RADHA KISHEN. 22 A. L. J. 844 : L. R. 5 A. 734: 82 I. C. 340 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 872.

———O. 8, R. 6—Set-off—Counter-claim—Distinction—Claim for unliquidated damages—Omission to plead—Amenament.

Under O. 8, R. 6 C. P. Code., it is not open to a defendant to claim a set-off in respect of unliquidated damages for alleged breaches of contracts. But the C P. Code does not exclude what is called an equitable set-off provided the defendant's cross-demand arises out of the same transaction as the plaintiff's claim. 2 M.H.C.R. 296, 303, Foll. Under R. 118 of the Bom. High Court Rules a defendant may set up by way of set-off or counter-claim against the claims of the plaintiffs any right or claim whether such set-off or counter-claim sounds in damages or not. Nothing which was not a good set off before the passing of the said rule can be a good set-off under the said rule, the set-off must still be for an ascertained sum or it must arise out of the same transaction, as the plaintiff's claim. A counter-claim, however, need not arise out of the same transaction. Set-off is a ground of defence and it should be pleaded in the written statement Counter-claim does not afford any defence to the plff.'s claim : it is a weapon of offence which enables a defendant to enforce a claim against the plff. as effectually as in an independent action. The above distinction between a set-off and counter-claim hasan important bearing on the question of limitation, forif the statute of limitations is pleaded to a defence of set-off, the plaintiff, in order to establish his plea, must prove that the set-off was barred when the plaintiff commenced his action ; it is not enough to prove that it was barred at the time when it was pleaded. In the case of a counter-claim, it is enough for the plaintiff to prove that the counter-claim was barred when it was pleaded. Walker v. Clements, (1850) 15 Q. B. 1046 ; McGowan v. Middleton, (1888) 11 Q. B. 464 : 7 A. 204 ; 42 M. 873 Rel. (Mulla, J.) NAJAN AHMED HAJI ALI v. SALE MAHOMED PEER MAHOMED. 24 Bom. L. R. 998 : 77 I. C. 943 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 113.

———O. 8, R. 6—Set-off—Counter-claim—Equitable set off—Difference between—Suit for dividend—Right to set off damages.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 8, R. 6.

A set-off and counter-claim are governed by rules or procedure, and a person can only plead by way of set-off or counter-claim that which is permitted by those rules. A set off can be pleaded as a defence and can only be raised where the claim to set-off one against the other whether by plaintiff or defendant exists in the same right. A set-off can also be the subject-matter of a separate action or a counter-claim. In a suit by a shareholder for recovery of dividends declared by the company it is not open to the directors to claim by way of set-off damages due from plaintiff in respect of alleged breaches of contract. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) VITHALDAS GULABDAS v. THE HYDERABAD SPINNING AND WEAVING CO., LTD. 47 Bom. 182 : 67 I. C. 326 : 24 Bom. L. R. 328 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 24.

——O. 8, R. 6—Scope of.

O. 8, R. 6, C. P. Code only provides for set-off in suits for recovery of money but makes no provision for counter-claim. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) GOUR CHANDRA GOSWAMI v. CHAIRMAN, NABADWIP MUNICIPALITY. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 1 (1).

——O. 8, R. 6—Unascertained sum—O 8, R. 6 does not apply, but if cross-demands are very closely connected set off can be pleaded.

Where the sum claimed is not an ascertained sum of money O. 8, R. 6, C. P. Code, is inapplicable. But if cross-demands arise out of one and the same transaction or are so connected in their nature and circumstances that they can be looked upon as part of one transaction. Courts of Equity in England have held that the defendant may be allowed to plead a set-off although the amount may be unascertained. This doctrine of equitable set-off has been recognised by Indian Courts. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) SUTRAME GOVINDA RAO v. A. N. RUDRAYYA. (1925) M. W. N. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 830 : 49 M. L. J. 14.

——O. 8, R. 6—Equitable set-off—Failure to plead does not bar suit.

It is not obligatory upon a defendant to plead an equitable set-off.

The defendant who was the principal of the plaintiff had a claim against the latter for damages for the unauthorised sale of certain goods belonging to himself (defendant). But in the plaintiff's suit against the defendant, the latter chose not to have the point as to his claim tried. Held, that his failure to have the issue tried led to the same legal consequence as an entire omission to raise the plea: but that he was not bound to raise the plea and his omission to raise it did not preclude him from bringing a separate action on it. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) SUTRAME GOVINDA RAO v. A. N. RUDRAYYA. (1925) M. W. N. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 830 : 49 M. L. J. 14.

——O. 8, R. 6—Defendant having first stated in the statement that he would make a separate counter-claim is not estopped from claiming a set-off in the same suit.

Where plaintiff sued for price of an article and defendant stated that he never got it and that he would bring a separate suit for damages for non-delivery, due to plaintiff's negligence but subsequently changed his mind and wanted to make a counter-claim and set-off in respect of such damages held, that though they could not make a counter-claim still they were not precluded from claiming set-off by way of defence to the plaintiff's claim. (Coutts Trotter, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) ABDUL KADER BIN SALIM BASHRABIL v. FAROJI BIN ALI BANE MOON. 20 L. W. 531 : 83 I. C. 769 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 228.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 8, R. 6.

——O. 8, R. 6—Equitable set-off—Time-barred claim by a co-parcener against joint family cannot be set-off.

When taking accounts in a partition suit, a time-barred claim by one co-parcener against the joint family, cannot be allowed as equitable set-off. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBRAYA BHANDARY v. JANARDANA BHANDARY. 14 L. W. 534 : 62 I. C. 852 : 41 M. L. J. 370.

——O. 8, R. 6—Omission to plead set-off—Prior litigation—Effect of.

In case of legal set-off, deft. is not bound to put forward his counter-claim and a separate suit by him will lie. Yet if he did put forward such a counter-claim by way of legal set-off and if the whole of that counter-claim, was within the competence of the Court to decide, he cannot afterwards sue for any portion of that claim, if he did not get a decree for that portion in the fresh suit. An equitable set-off ought always to be the basis of a counter-claim in the first suit itself. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) AMEENAMMAL v. MINAKSHI. 60 I. C. 226 : 12 L. W. 173.

——O. 8, R. 6—Set-off—Counter-claim—Limitation.

A set-off claimed not merely by way of defence, but made the basis of a counter-claim can in no sense be treated as a defence, and limitation in regard to its recovery must be determined with reference to the date on which the counter-claim was preferred. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BENI v. BISAN DAYAL. 89 I. C. 371 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 445.

——O. 8, R. 6—Set-off can be claimed if arising out of the same transaction.

In a suit for contribution of rent due by plaintiff and defendant, the latter cannot claim by way of set off an amount due to him from plaintiff as share of profits realised by plaintiff as manager of the tenancy land. But he can make a counter-claim in respect of it. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) MT. ZUKKOBAI v. BHAL SINGH. 8 N. L. J. 205 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 155.

——O. 8, R. 6—Limitation Counter-claim must be within time on the date of pleadings.

Where defendant claims certain sum against plaintiff in a suit for money not merely by way of defence but as a counter-claim, his claim must be within time on the date he files his pleadings. 7 All. 284 Dist. (Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BENI v. BISAN DAYAL. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 445.

——O. 8, R. 6—Set-off not claimed in the suit cannot be claimed in the execution proceedings.

Where the plaintiff Bank obtained a decree in a suit in which the defendant did not claim his fixed deposit in the Bank as a set-off. Held, he could not claim it in execution proceedings of that decree. (Kendall, A. J. C). NATIONAL BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. v. GOPAL DAS. 11 O. L. J. 517 : 27 O. C. 248 : 81 I.C. 651 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 434.

——O. 8, R. 6—Equitable set-off can be claimed though time-barred.

A time-barred debt may be claimed by way of equitable set-off. 12 C. W. N. 60 and 19 C. W. N. 1183 Foll. (Adami and Sen, JJ.) NATHAN PRASAD SHAH v. KALI PRASAD SHAH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 77.

——O. 8, R. 6—The whole sum set-off without reference to any portion of the plaintiff's claim which defendant admits determines jurisdiction whether set-off is a legal or equitable one. But where the plaintiff admits any portion of the sum set-off, that portion should be deducted while determining jurisdiction of the Court to try the set-off.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 8, R. 6.

Thewords " not exceeding the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court " must be construed as applying to the whole of the ascertained sum. That being so, the valuation of a set-off, for the purposes of jurisdiction, must be taken as relating to the whole of the ascertained sum so pleaded and without reference to any portion of the plaintiff's claim which the defendant admits. This method of valuation should be applied equally whether the set off is of the nature of a legal " set-off' or of an ' equitable set-off.' But where the plaintiff admits in the plaint any portion of the defendant's claim, that portion must be deducted from the set-off claimed while determining the jurisdiction of the Court to try the set-off. (Lentaigne, J.) D. S. ABRAHAM AND CO. v. IBRAHIM GORABHOY.
2 Rang. 462 : 84 I. C. 971 : A. I. R 1925 Rang. 65.

——0. 8, R. 6—Set-off— Counter-claim — Specific performance.

Though counter-claim is a form of suit unknown to the C. P. Code, there is nothing to prevent a Judge treating the counter-claim as the plaint in a suit and hearing the two together if the counter-claim is properly stamped. (Young and Heald, JJ.) SAYA BYA v. MAUNG KYAW SHUN. 2 Rang. 276 : 82 I. C. 721 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 346.

——0. 8, R. 6 (f)—The whole of the sum claimed as set-off should be within jurisdiction.

The words " not exceeding the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court" must be construed as applying to the whole of the " ascertained sum." Where plaintiff claimed Rs. 3,567-1-0 but admitted receipt of Rs. 1,600 and prayed for a decree for Rs. 1,967-1-0 and where the defendant admitted the claim for Rs. 3,567-1-0 but alleged that he had made payments to plaintiff amounting in all to Rs. 3,000 and also that plaintiff owed to him Rs. 1,573, the principal and interest due on a promissory-note and claimed Rs. 1,005-15-0 as the net balance due to him by the plaintiff, held, that the fact that the defendant claimed only Rs. 1,005-15 0 was not the test to be applied to ascertain whether the set-off was within the jurisdiction of the Court and that the proper test must be whether the ascertained sum or the aggregate of the ascertained sums which the defendant sought to set-off did not exceed the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) MOE MOE v. I. M. SEEDAT. 2 Rang. 349 : 84 I. C. 956 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 22.

——0. 8, R. 9—Court's permission is necessary for filing pleadings in reply to defendant's written statement.

Under the ordinary practice in the mofussil of Bombay it is not customary for a plaintiff to put in a reply to the defendant's written statement ; on the other hand Order 8, R. 9, requires the leave of the Court before any party can make a further pleading after the written statement has been filed. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) JUVANSINGJI MOTISINGJI v. DOLA CHHALA. 27 B. L. R. 890 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 390.

——0. 8, R. 10—Delay in filing written statement—Vakil refusing to file is sufficient cause.

Where a Vakil refused to file a written statement on behalf of the defendant and did not consent to any other Vakil being engaged, held, it was sufficient cause to excuse a delay in filing a written statement after the date fixed. (Wallis and Krishnan, JJ.) RAJA MUTHU KRISHNA v. NURSE.
14 L. W. 154 : 69 I. C. 695 · (1921) M. W N. 562: 44 Mad. 978 : 41 M. L. J. 213.

——0. 8, R. 10—Rule applies only if there is specific requirement by Court for written statement and not merely general direction in summons.

Rule 10 of Order 8 applies only to a specific requirement by the Court to the filing of a written statement and not a general direction in the summons that such a written statement may be filed. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A.J.Cs.) THAKURAIN DHIRAJ KUNWAR v. SARJU NARAIN. 12 O. L. J. 532 : 2 O. W. N. 391 : 88 I. C. 540 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 567.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 1.

——0. 9—Applicability —Ex parte decree— Application to set aside—Whether affidavit compulsory—Proper procedure.

Where the applicant, in seeking to set aside an ex parte decree of an appellate Court on the ground that he had no notice of the appeal, was questioned why he did not file an affidavit in support of his allegation. Held, there is nothing in Order 9, C. P. Code, making it compulsory on the applicant to file an affidavit. If the Court entertains any doubt as to the applicant's bona fide it should require the applicant to file an affidavit or examine him. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) PREM NARAIN v. AHMAD SHAH. L. R. 5 A. 325 (Civ.).

——0. 9—Applicability—Application arising out of execution proceedings —Order does not apply.

O 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not applicable to applications arising out of execution proceedings. 99 C. W. N. 25 ; 41 C. 1 ; 63 I.C 655 ; 49 I.C. 617 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) NAGENDRA NATH CHATTERJI v. RAKHAL DAS TARAFDAR. 41 C. L. J. 286 : 79 I. C. 351 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 510.

——0. 9—Under O. 9 status quo ante is only restored.

Under Order 9, C.P.Code, an application for restoration should be made so as to bring the suit back, as regards parties to the exact position in which it was when the suit was dismissed. After that,it is competent for a particular plaintiff or plaintiffs to apply to be dismissed from the suit or to withdraw the suit. (Rankin and M. N. Mukerji, JJ.) KALIDAS CHANDRA RAY v HRIDAY CHANDRA DAS.
39 C. L. J. 367 : 83 I. C. 958 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 814.

——0. 9—Applicability — Proceedings connected with pauper applications.

Quaere: If O. 9 applies to proceedings connected with pauper applications ? (Madhavan Nair, J.) CHINNAMMAL v. PAPATHI AMMAL
85 I.C. 982 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 986.

——0. 9—Applicability—Missing of a train is no good ground for absence—Practice.

It cannot be too emphatically laid down that the missing of a train is no sufficient ground for postponement of a case. Even if the missing of a train was proved to be for good cause parties must understand that they must leave a safe margin for appearance in cases. (Ashworth, A.J.C.) MT. AMMA KHATUN v. MAHOMED WALI. 88 I.C. 481 : A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 75.

——0. 9 and S. 141—Applicability to execution proceedings.

S. 141 and O. 9 are not primarily intended to apply to proceedings in execution under O. 21, R 90 for disposing of applications ex parte, still, a court in the exercise of its jurisdiction should have power in such cases to restore the applications to file and decide it on merits. (Kennedy, J.C. and Madgaonkar, A.J.C). ISARSING v. UDHAVDAS. 83 I.C. 749: 17 S.L.R. 105.

——0. 9, R. 1—Ex parte cases—Duty of Court to require proof from plaintiff.

Even if a case is heard ex parte, it is the duty of the Court to consider the interest of the absent party and not to pass a decree except on proof by the plaintiff that he is entitled to that decree. (Newbould and

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 2.

Rankin, JJ.) MONMATHA KUMAR RAY v. JASODA LAL. 28 C. W. N. 300 : 77 I. C. 551 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 647.

——0. 9, Rr. 2 and 4—Process fee paid in sufficient time—Summons not served — Suit cannot be dismissed.

Where the plaintiff had paid the process fee on such a date when there was sufficient time for the service of summons being effected before the date of hearing the suit cannot be dismissed under O. 9, R. 2, C. P. Code. The High Court can interfere in revision and set aside the dismissal even though the plaintiff can sue afresh. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RALLA RAM v. MT. RAJ. 4 Lah. L.J. 71: 67 I.C. 945 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah. 63.

——0. 9, Rr. 2—4 —Execution application dismissed under R. 2 or R. 3—Proceedings under R. 4 cannot be taken.

When an application for execution has been dismissed for default in circumstances mentioned in Rr. 2 and 3 of O. 9 of the Code relating to suits, proceedings under R. 4 of the same order cannot be taken in respect of such an application. 17 All. 106 (P. C.) Ref. (Dalal, J.C. and Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) IKBAL NARAIN v. MT. JAGRANI. 28 O. C. 158 : 85 I. C. 450 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 552.

——0. 9, R 3—Plaintiff and two out of three defendants absent—One defendant alone present—Dismissal of suit—Subsequent suit.

Strictly construed, the expression "neither party" in O. 9, R. 3 of the C. P. Code would mean "not any one of two or more parties". But the word "party" in the Code in various rules refers to the party whose case is being considered. Consequently in a case where the plaintiff and two out of three defendants were absent but one defendant was present, the dismissal of the suit for default can be said to be under Order 9, R. 3 only so far as the two absent defendants are concerned but not so far as the defendant who was present was concerned. Therefore a second suit against the two absent defendants is maintainable. (Mears, C.J. and Sulaiman, J.) MAKUNDI SINGH v. PARBHU DAYAL. 90 I. C. 2 : 23 A. L. J. 993.

——0. 9. R. 3—Suit against several defendants—One defendant only present—Plaintiff and other defendants absent—Suit dismissed for default—Plaintiff can bring fresh suit against absent defendants for whole amount if cause of action be joint and several—Contract Act, S. 43.

Where on the day fixed for hearing only one of several defendants appears and the plaintiff also fails to appear, and the suit is consequently dismissed for default, the plaintiff can bring a fresh suit on the same cause of action against the absent defendants and can get a decree for the whole amount if the cause of action be joint and several against all defendants. 10 N. L. R. 39 Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) PARBHU DAYAL SINGH v. TIRBHUWAN SINGH. 85 I. C 788 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 425.

——0. 9, R. 3—Suit not to be dismissed for plaintiff's failure to appear on date not fixed for defendant's appearance but only for plaintiff's appearance to learn the date for defendant's appearance.

Where no date has been fixed for the appearance of the defendants within the meaning of O. 5, R. 1 the Court has no power to dismiss the suit in default under O. 9, R. 3. Where the date on which plaintiff made default was not a date fixed for hearing in the case but was a date fixed for the plaintiff to attend and find out what date had been fixed for the appearance of the defendant. Held, it was quite unnecessary for the plaintiff to appear on this date, and what the Court ought to have done was to fix a date for the appearance of the defendant, and to proceed with the suit under O. 9, R. 3, if on the date so fixed the plaintiff failed to put in appearance. (Moti Sagar, J.) ISHAR SINGH v. SHARAF. 78 I. C. 15 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 96.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9 R. 4.

——0. 9, Rr. 3 and 8—Party pleading bar of O. 9 must prove that prior dismissal was under R. 8.

O. 9, C.P. Code, contemplates two cases of dismissal for default of appearance with distinct legal consequences attaching to each dismissal. Where the dismissal is under R. 3, O. 9 there is no bar to a fresh suit, while a dismissal under R. 8 of O. 9 precludes a second suit. Hence in seeking to apply O. 9, C.P. Code it is essential to ascertain under what rule the dismissal of the first application was made. It is incumbent on the party who relies on the bar of O. 9 to show that the dismissal of the previous application was under R. 8. (Madhavan Nair, J.) CHINNAMMAL v. PAPATHI AMMAL. 85 I. C. 982 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 986.

——0. 9, R. 3—Does not apply to O. 10, R. 4.

O. 9 does not apply to the special set of circumstances contemplated by O. 10, R. 4. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) KANDOTH PUTHIYADATH CHENGARU CHANDU v. PUTHIYADATH CHENGARU RAMAN NAIR. (1921) M. W. N. 390: 63 I. C. 961 : 14 L. W. 15.

——0. 9, Rr. 3 and 4—Dismissal in default of parties—Permits fresh suit.

Where a suit has been dismissed in the absence of both the parties under O. 9, R. 3, of the C. P. Code the plaintiff can institute a fresh suit under R. 4. (Baker. J. C.) SHEIKH BALDAR v. SHEIKH IMAM. 76 I.C. 46 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 31.

——0. 9, Rr. 3 and 9—Execution proceedings—Dismissal of, for default—Setting aside dismissal.

Where an execution application is dismissed for default, no application lies under O. 9, R. 9 to have the application restored to file and disposed of. 17 A. 106 Ref. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) IQBAL NARAIN v. MT. JAGRANS. 1 O. W.N. 847 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1285 : 28 O. C. 158 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 552.

——0. 9, R. 3—Dismissal of suit under—Application for restoration—Notice to opposite side is not necessary.

Notice of application for restoration of a suit dismissed under O. 9, R 3 in the absence of both the parties need not be sent to the other side 10 A. L. J., 399, Foll. (Daniels, J.C.) RAMJI LAL v KESHO RAM. 24 O. C. 347 : 9 O. L. J. 52 : 64 I. C 767 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh. 55 (1.)

——0. 9, R. 3—Dismissal for default.

An order dismissing the suit for default under O. 9, R. 3 on the ground that the pleader was not appearing and there was no one to examine the witness where there is a duly authorised agent, with a registered power of attorney present in Court with his witness, is illegal. (Jwala Prasad, J.) KUNJA BEHARI SINGH v. SHEODAHIN PANDEY. 3 P. L. T. 447 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 504.

——0. 9, R. 3—Application for amendment of issue—Parties absent—Suit cannot be dismissed.

Where, on a day fixed to consider an application for amendment of issues, in a suit, neither party is present, the Court can only dismiss the application for amendment and not dismiss the suit for default. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SUKHDEO v. JUDAGI. 6 Pat. L. J. 331: 63 I. C. 746 : 2 Pat. L. T. 760 (1).

——0. 9, R. 4—Application—Notice of, to defendant is unnecessary.

On an application under O. 9, R. 4 of the Code, notice to a defendant is unnecessary. 10 A. L. J. 399

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 4.

Foll. (Daniels, J.C.) RAMJI LAL v. KESHO RAM.
24 O. C. 347 : 9 O. L. J 52 : 64 I. C. 767 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 55 (1).

——O. 9, R. 4—Merely writing the word file on an application is neither a dismissal nor a rejection of it.

On the 11th November 1922 the opposite party made an application under O 21, R. 100 affixing talbana (court-fee) for service of notice upon the opposite party. That application was headed O. 21, R. 100. On the 11th November when the application was filed the Court on the margin thereof noted. "With case on 18th November 1922". On the 18th November, 1922, the Court made the following note: "Petitioner absent. Put up on 20th November, 1922". On 20th November 1922, it was noted in the margin that "Petitioner still absent, file." The opposite party then on the 14th December 1922 made an application asking for the hearing and disposal of his original application made on the 11th November 1922. In his application the opposite party asked for the restoration of his former application. Held, that there was nothing to be restored, inasmuch as the first application was not disposed of in accordance with law. The Court had not rejected or dismissed it, but had simply ordered it to be filed on account of the absence of the opposite party. Held further that this kind of order is not sanctioned by the Code nor has it any meaning. Held, also that even if the Court below meant to dismiss the application by the word "File" employed by it, it had ample jurisdiction to restore it under Section 151 of the Civil Procedure Code. (Jwala Prasad, J.) THAKUR PRASAD v. SUKHLAL SINGH.
5 P. L. T. 567 : 79 I. C. 598 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 698.

——O. 9, R. 4—Applicability—Application under O. 21, R. 100.

An application under O. 21. R. 100 is not an application in execution, the proceedings being in the nature of a summary suit. Although the provision of O. 9, R. 4 does not apply to an application under O. 21, R. 90 it can well apply to proceedings under O. 21, R. 100. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHEO NANDAN CHAUDHURY v. DEBI LAL CHAUDHURY. 4 Pat. L. T. 93 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 78 : 1 Pat. L. R. 134 : 71 I. C. 484 : 2 Pat. 372 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 239.

——O. 9, R. 4—Duly authorised agent present—Suit cannot be dismissed for default.

Where there is a duly authorised agent with a registered power of attorney present in Court for the hearing of a suit, it is not competent to the Court, to dismiss the suit for default of appearance of the party under O. 9, R. 4, C. P. C. (Jwala Prasad, J.) KUNJA BEHARI SINGH v. SHEODHIN PANDEY.
3 Pat. L. T. 447 : 68 I. C. 659 : I.A.R. 1922 Pat. 504.

——O. 9, R. 4—Default to pay process-fees for the attendance of one of several defendants—Suit cannot be dismissed against all.

A suit should not be dismissed as against defts. who have been served and who have filed written statements, owing to the default of the plaintiff to pay process fees on the day fixed for payment in respect of some defts. The provisions of R. 4 apply to a date fixed for the hearing of the suit and not one fixed for the payment of process-fees. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMNAND SINGH v. CHANDRAMA SINGH.
60 I. C. 377 : 2 Pat. L. T. 256.

——O. 9, R. 4—Application to sue as pauper—Dismissal for default—Fresh application.

Fresh application can be made, although the applications to sue in forma pauperies is once dismissed. (Po Han, J.) MAUNG AUNG TUN v. MA E KIN.
2 Bur. L. J. 217 : 76 I. C. 785 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 161 (1).

——O. 9, Rr. 5 and 4—Dismissal for default—Absenec of petitioner—Non service—Effect of.

O. 9, R 5 has no application to a case where the plaintiff has failed to appear ; and the fact that the summons has been returned unserved, is no ground to set aside the order of dismissal for default of the petitioner. (Cuming, J.) SARBA SUNDARI DASSI v. PANCHANAN RAY. 90 I. C. 675 (Cal.).

——O. 9, Rr. 6 and 7—Order for ex parte proceeding—No necessity of setting aside the order.

The mere fact that on a particular date on which a case had been taken up for, hearing the deft. was not present and an order was made that proceedings should be taken against him ex parte on that date, does not preclude him from appearing at a later stage in the suit and if decree is not passed ex parte against him, it is not necessary for him to have that order set aside. He can appear and defend the suit and can refer to arbitration and can authorise his pleader to do the same. (Banerji, J.) MAUNU v. TULSHI.
L. R. 3 A. 579 : 64 I. C. 958 : 20 A. L. J. 39 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 33.

——O. 9, Rr. 6 and 7--Striking of defence—Order when to be passed.

No order should be passed against a party without allowing him a reasonable opportunity of being heard and adducing evidence in his favour. A suit for partition was taken up for hearing on 12-4-1923 after several prior adjournments granted at the instance of one or other of the parties. On that date the defendant was absent and the plaintiff being ill applied for one month's time. The Court on that date passed an order as follows : "Put up on 14-4-1923 for disposal ex parte" The defendants appeared on the 14th April and proved that they should be allowed to defend the suit. The Court rejected their prayer examined the plaintiff and passed an ex parte preliminary decree. Held that the Court erred in making an order on 12th of April 1923 depriving the defendant of his rights to defend the suit. The Court had no statutory authority to take such a disciplinary measure and there was no question of exercise of the inherent jurisdiction of the Court. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RAI SATIYENDRA NATH SEN BAHADUR v. NARENDRA NATH GUPTA. 39 C. L. J. 279 : 81 I. C. 867 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 806.

——O. 9, R. 6—Ex parte procedure—Nature of, not specified.

O. 9, R. 6, C. P. Code, lays down when the Court may proceed ex parte but there appears to be no explanation in the Code what ex parte procedure is. In respect of the issues, it is the accepted practice that none are framed, though the plaintiff is always called upon, expressly or impliedly but in quite general terms to prove his case. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A.J. C.) MT. BHURIB H. A. I. v. ISHAK HUSSAIN.
69 I. C. 619 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 83.

——O. 9, Rr. 6, 7—Defendant filing written statement—Subsequent withdrawal and proceedings treated as ex parte—If proper—Application to set aside—Sufficient cause.

A defendant after filing his written statement withdrew from the case on the ground he could not afford to engage counsel or go on with the case himself. The court directed the proceedings to go on ex parte. Held his position was, as if he had not made any appearance at all and the court was entitled to direct the case should proceed ex parte.

If at a later stage he applies to set aside the order directing the case to proceed ex parte he must show good cause for his previous withdrawal. (Ashworth,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 6.

A. J. C.) MATADEEN v. RAGHUNATH PRASAD. 89 I. C. 487 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 717.

——O. 9, R. 6—Court can proceed on an adjourned date for compromise under R. 6.

Where a defendant had obtained an adjournment on the ground that a compromise between him and the plaintiffs was probable and on the adjourned date he did not appear to advise the Court as to what had been done, an ex parte order passed on that date is proper. (Dalal, J. C.) MAZHAR HUSAIN v. RAFIQ HUSAIN. 28 O. C. 85 : 87 I. C. 222 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 645.

——O. 9, R. 6 and O. 17, R. 3—Setting aside of a decree—Revision.

A suit for rent was adjourned from time to time but on the day fixed for hearing when the defendant was absent, it was decided on evidence produced by plaintiff and the Court remarked in the judgment that it was to be an ex parte decree. On defendant's application the decree was set aside. Held, in revision, the order being manifestly just there was no reason to interfere in revision. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) CHANHARJA BAKSH v. KALKA PANDE. 9 O. L. J. 543 : 72 I. C. 394 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 18.

——O. 9, R. 6 and O. 17, R. 2—Scope of—Procedure.

Both under O. 9, R. 6 and O. 17, R. 2 the procedure is the same, where the defendant fails to appear at the first hearing, whether that hearing takes place on the day fixed in the summons as contemplated by O. 9, R. 6, or at a later date to which the hearing may be adjourned, which is contemplated by O. 17, R. 2. In either case, what is contemplated is the procedure on the first day on which the hearing of the suit, as distinguished from interlocutory proceedings, takes place. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) DAMODHAR DAS v. RAJ KUMAR DAS. 1 Pat. 188 : 69 I. C. 837 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 485.

——O. 9, R. 7—Declaration ex parte—Subsequent appearance before decree—Not barred.

Where on the date fixed for the first hearing of the suit the deft. did not appear and the Court declared him ex parte, it is open to him to appear on a subsequent hearing and to ask for leave to file a written statement and to examine witnesses. (Banerji and Stuart, JJ.) BHAGWAT PRASAD TEWARI v. MAHOMED SHIBLI. 20 A. L. J. 270 : L. R. 3 A. 225 : 66 I. C. 892 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 110.

——O. 9, R. 7—Rule applies only to setting aside proceedings taken place during party's absence, but does not debar party from resuming appearance afterwards.

O. 9, R. 7, applies to a party, who wishes to be relegated back to the position in which he would have been if he had appeared at a previous hearing at which he was absent, and who wishes the proceedings taken in his absence to be taken over again in his presence, so that he may regain the opportunities of cross-examination, etc., which he lost by his absence. Its operation cannot be extended to the subsequent hearings of the suit, so that the defendant can conduct his case from the day of his appearance : A.I.R. 1922 All. 33; A.I.R. 1922 All. 110 and A.I.R. 1924 Cal. 806, Referred. (Wallace, J.) VENKATASUBBIAH v. D. LAKSHMINARASIMHAM. (1925) M. W. N. 647 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1274 : 49 M. L. J. 273.

——O. 9, R. 7—Refusal to set aside ex parte order can be challenged in appeal from the decree.

The refusal to set aside an ex parte order during the trial is an interlocutory order which can be brought to the test as to its justification in appeal. 21 Mad. 324, Dist. ; 12 O. C. 25 Foll. (Dalal, J. C.) MAZHAR HUSAIN v. RAFIQ HUSAIN. 28 O. C. 85 : 87 I. C. 222 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 645.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 8.

——O. 9, R. 7—Good cause not shown—Application need not be allowed.

There is no authority for the proposition that whenever a defendant applied to be heard in a suit, the hearing of which had been adjourned ex parte, his application was bound to be allowed irrespective of whether he showed good cause of his previous non-appearance or not. A.I.R. 1922 A. 110, Expl. (Ashworth, J.C.) (SHEIKH) FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI. 26 O. C. 10 : 73 I. C. 591 : 10 O. L. J. 36 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——O. 9, R. 8—Claim party rejected—Appeal lies.

An appeal lies from an order dismissing a suit for default where part of the claim is rejected. (Lord Dunedin) KANHAIYA LAL v. NATIONAL BANK. 4 Lah. 284 : 33 M L. T. 349 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1248 : 50 I. A. 162 : 75 I. C. 7 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 114 : 45 M. L. J. 497 (P. C.).

——O. 9, Rr. 8 and 9—Plaintiff and two out of three defendants absent—Dismissal of suit—Subsequent suit.

Where the plaintiff and two out of three defendants were absent but one defendant was present and the suit was dismissed for default, held that so far as the defendant was present who was concerned, the suit must be deemed to have been dismissed against him under R. 8 and the only remedy open to the plaintiff as against him was to have it set aside under R. 9 and he cannot maintain a second suit. But a second suit against the defendants who were absent is maintainable, for the dismissal as against them must be deemed to be under O. 9, R. 3 and not under O. 9 R. 8. The "partial dismissal" under R. 8 refers to the dismissal of the claim in part and not to a case where a suit is dismissed partly under R. 8 and partly under some other rule ; and therefore in this case, where the dismissal was partly under R. 8 and partly under R. 3, it cannot be said that the second suit against the defendants who were absent is not maintainable by virtue of Rule 9. (Mears, C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) MAKUNDI SINGH v. PARBHU DAYAL. 23 A. L. J. 993 : 90 I. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 169.

——O. 9, R. 8—Plaintiff missing train—Suit dismissed for default—Plaintiff reaching Court and applying for restoration same day—Restoration was ordered.

It is the business of the Court to decide the rights of the parties and not to deprive them of their rights by the mere exercise of discipline, but to use their discipline for the purpose of penalising them for their neglect and removing the results of such neglect. Where the plaintiff's claim was valued at Rs. 20,000 and on the date of the hearing the plaintiff started with his witnesses but missed the train and reaching the Court after the suit had been dismissed for default, applied for restoration on the same day. Held that the plaintiff's negligence in starting for the last train and missing it was human and not irreparable, that it could be repaired by paying the costs of the opposite party and that the suit should be restored. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) ANRUDH SINGH v. MT. RUPA KUNWAR. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 221 : 87 I. C. 118 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 601.

——O. 9, R. 8—Suit for—Subsequent events—Numerous sales and as many suits, effect of dismissal of last one.

Where as the result of numerous sales, as many suit for pre-emption were filed and were all decreed, except the last which was dismissed for default, the dismissal does not affect the prior claims. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) SRI THAKUR KADHIKA RAMAN BIHARIJI v. BOHRA SHIAM SUNDER LAL.

45 A. 561 : 21 A. L. J. 518 : L. R. 4 A. 257 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 526.

——O. 9, R. 8 and O. 17, R. 2—Absence of plaintiff—Court cannot hear case on merits.

Where the plaintiff and his pleader are both absent on the date of an adjourned hearing, the Court cannot hear the case on the merits under O. 17, R. 2. It can only dismiss the case under O. 9, R. 8 or postpone the hearing under O. 17, R. 2. (Banerji, J.) RUKAM v. TARA CHAND. 20 A. L. J. 123 : L. R. 3 A. 68 : 65 I. C. 775 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 68.

——O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal for default—Prior adjournments by Court—Discretion.

Where a Deputy Collector has three times adjourned a case on account of want of time, it is all the more necessary that he should show some consideration to litigants. Where no kind of consideration was shown to the parties and the dismissal of a suit was induced by the desire merely to get rid of the case, the order of the lower court should be set aside and the case remanded for trial on the merits. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) AJODHYA PRASAD v. RAM PHUL KURMI. L. R. 5 A. 222 (Rev.).

——O. 9, Rr. 8 and 9 and O. 47, R. 1—Dismissal of suit for default—Review of the order.

A suit dismissed for default under O. 9, R. 8 can only be restored under Rule 9, but cannot be reviewed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) MAHADEO v. LAKSHMINARAYAN. 27 Bom. L. R. 1150 : 90 I. C. 610 : 49 Bom. 839 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 521.

——O. 9, R. 8—Plaintiff arriving late in Court but on the same day—Suit if already dismissed for default, should be restored on payment of costs if any.

When a party arrives late before the Judge, and finds that his suit or application has been dismissed before his arrival, he is entitled to have his suit or application restored on payment of such costs as may have been incurred, by reason of his default, by the opponents. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHHOTALAL MOHANLAL v. AMBALAL HARGOVAN. 27 Bom. L.R. 685 : 89 I.C. 225 (1) : A.I.R. 1925 Bom. 423.

——O. 9, R. 8—Absence of pleader or party—Procedure.

If a plaintiff does not appear either in person or by pleader who has instructions to go on with the suit, then the suit should be dismissed under O. 9, R. 18 and the remedy of the aggrieved party is to apply for review or get the dismissal set aside. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) PANDURANG VEDURAM v. MOHAN CHHATRABHUJ. 80 I. C. 178 : A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 395.

——O. 9, R. 8 and O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Scope of—Failure to appear—Procedure.

O. 17, C. P. Code, deals generally with adjournments. Under O. 17, R. 2, where on any day to which the hearing of the suit is adjourned, the parties or any of them fail to appear, the Court may dispose of the suit under O. 9, C. P. Code. In all the cases which come under O. 9, C. P. Code, the party against whom a decree or order is passed in default of his appearance, can apply to the court to have the ex parte decree or order set aside on the ground that he can show sufficient cause for his non-appearance. Ordinarily if a case appears on the board on an adjourned date for hearing, and there is default of appearance on the part of both or either of the parties, the court must refer to O. 9, C. P. Code, so as to ascertain the proper procedure to be followed and there is no necessity whatever to have any recourse to O. 17. R. 3. Where the hearing of a suit had not commenced and the plff. did not appear on the adjourned date, the suit should be dismissed under O. 9, R. 8, C. P. Code, and not under O. 17, R. 3, C. P. Code. In the case of a dismissal under O. 17, R. 3, C. P. Code, the remedy is by way of appeal or review and in the case of a dismissal under O. 17, R. 2, the party can apply to set aside the dismissal under O. 9, R. 9 or R. 13, C. P. Code. Courts should exercise extreme caution, when, on an adjourned date the parties or any of them fail to appear. They should in the first place have recourse to O. 17, R. 2 rather than O. 17, R. 3 and even in cases where O. 17, R. 3 can be considered to apply, that is to say, where the case has been part heard and an adjournment granted, it would not be in accordance with justice to refuse a party who had failed to appear on the adjourned date at the time fixed, the chance of having the suit restored. 20 B. 736 743, Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) RATANBAI SHIVLAL LOHAR v. SHANKAR DEOCHAND LOHAR.
24 Bom. L. R. 775 : 68 I. C. 514 : 46 Bom. 1026 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 27.

——O. 9, R. 8—Adjournment refused—Vakil reporting no instructions—Dismissal.

When the pleader for a plaintiff applies for adjournment of a suit and on its being refused states he has no further instructions, it is equivalent to absence of the party at the hearing, and any subsequent dismissal of the suit is one under O. 9, R. 8. (Newbould and Pearson, JJ.) MANMATHA NATH CHOUDHURY v. JAMINI NATH MALLIK. 90 I. C. 768 (Cal.)

——O. 9, Rr. 8 and 10—Absence of one of two plffs.—Decree in favour of both is not illegal.

A decree in a mortgage-suit by two plffs. in favour of both, is not illegal though one plff. was absent. The Court has discretion, under R. 10, in such cases, to permit the suit to proceed in the same way as if all the plffs. had appeared. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) KUBENDRA KISHORE ROY v. RAI KISHORE SHAH.
62 I. C. 112 : 48 Cal. 57.

——O. 9, R. 8—Scope of.

The 18th February, 1922, had been fixed for the hearing of the suits, but when the plff. arrived at Asni early that morning, he found that the presiding officer of the Court had left for Miltrankot. He at once went to Miltrankot, and learnt from the Muharrir of the court, whom he found there, that the suits had been dismissed for default and that the Munsif had left for Dera Ghazi Khan. He went to Dera Ghazi Khan and on the 20th February put in applications for the restoration of the cases. He was told that the applications would be brought up when the Munsif returned to Asni, but was not given a date. The applications were laid before the Munsif after his return on the 27th March and he directed that the records should be sent for the 11th April and that the plaintiff should produce evidence. That order, however, was passed in the plff.'s absence and was not communicated to him. He afterwards learnt from the Muharrir that the 11th April was fixed for his appearance in Court, and he appeared on that date. The Munsif then summarily rejected the applications, remarking that the plff.'s plea was absurd and that he had produced no evidence. Held the Munsiff's procedure was illegal. (Martineau, J.) RAMAL DAS v. IMAM BAKSH.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 431 (2).

——O. 9, R. 8—Admissions— Co-defendants—Admission by some when binding on others.

Where there are several defts. jointly interested in a particular matter, an admission by some of them is relevant against all the defts. 44 C. 133 ; 45 C. 159, Ref. (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) BHIKA MAL v. PURAN MAL. 69 I. C. 35 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 123.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 8.

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal for default—Improper order.

Where the order of dismissal ran as follows: "Claim be dismissed for want of prosecution. Plff. was present but subsequently went away; but the defendant is present. After waiting for some time the plff. was called again but he remained absent." Held, it was wrongful to dismiss the claim for default. (Abdul Raoof, J.) ATRA v. JAGTA 3 Lah. L. J. 449.

———O. 9, R. 8 — Ex parte hearing—Default of appearance—Fault of party or his legal advisers—Proper course f rthe Court—Costs sufficient punishment for party in default.

It is contrary to principles of natural justice, that cases should be decided on the hearing of one side only if the other side is ready and willing to be heard. In such case adequate punishment is to be found in the remedy of costs.

Where the defendants did not appear owing to a mistake of their Vakil and owing partly to their not having received a telegram which had been sent by their Vakil in such time that if it had been received in the normal course, he would have got them on the second day of hearing, it is not a fit case for trying the suit ex parte against the defendants. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) LAKSHMINARAYANA v. THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY, NEW YORK.
17 L. W 627 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 296 : A. I R. 1923 Mad. 581 : 44 M. L. J. 488.

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal under—Appeal does not lie.

After the framing of issues in a suit, the court disposed of it in these words: "The plaintiffs are absent. The suit is dismissed with costs." The plaintiff appealed against the decision and the appellate court remanded the case for fresh disposal after taking evidence. Held, that the disposal of the suit by the trial court was under O. 9, R. 8 C. P. Code and that its order could be displaced only under O. 9, R. 9 or an appeal from an order under that provision. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VELAYUTHA MUDALIAR v. SUNDARESAM PILLAI.
(1922) M. W. N. 483 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 416.

———O. 9, Rr. 8 and 9 — Adjournment refused, and suit dismissed—Pleader stating that he had no further instructions—Dismissal of a suit under R. 8 and so application under R. 9 is competent.

When after an application for adjournment is rejected, the party's pleader states that he has no further instruction, that is equivalent to the absence of the party from the hearing, and so if the plaintiff's suit is dismissed for default, it is a dismissal under R. 8 of O. 9, and the plaintiff is entitled to make an application under O. 9, R. 9, and an appeal lies against the order refusing that application. 34 Cal. 403 Foll. (Newbould and Pearson, JJ.) MANMATHA NATH v. JAMINI NATH. 90 I. C. 768 : A I.R. 1926 Cal. 246.

———O. 9, R. 8—Even one different fact makes causes of action different.

Order 9, R. 8 of the C. P. Code, prohibits the filing of a second suit on the same cause of action. Where, however, there is even a slight discrepancy arising out of a single fact among many other facts common to the two causes of action, that single fact alone makes them different causes of action. 15 Cal. 422; 16 Cal. 98; 7 N. L. R. 23; 7 N. L. R. 130 Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) UDARAM v. GONDU. 87 I. C. 35 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 366.

———O. 9, R. 8—Suit fixed for issues and not ready for hearing—Dismissal in default is not unjustified.

On a date fixed for issues where a plaintiff makes a default in appearance even though the suit is not ready for hearing and the default is due to a mistake of his pleader, Court can dismiss the suit under O. 9, R. 8. (Simpson, A. J. C.) BISHAN NARAIN v. ABDUL MANAN. 2 O. W. N. 574 : 89 I. C. 64 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 682.

———O. 9, R. 8—Legal practitioner's mistake about date—Court need not excuse default.

It is for the party and his pleader, if they are duly notified for a day, to appear on that day, and, if they make a mistake as to the date fixed, they must take the consequences (Simpson, A. J. C.) BISHUN NARAIN v. ABDUL MANAN. 2 O. W. N. 574 : 89 I. C. 64 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 682.

———O. 9, R. 8, O. 17, R. 2 and S. 115—Plaintiff's case closed—Case adjourned for next day because defendant's evidence not completed—Plaintiff absent on next day—Suit dismissed for default—No revision lies.

The plaintiff closed his case and the hearing of the defendant's evidence was begun. The case was then adjourned till next day for the remainder of the evidence. Next day the plaintiff and her pleader were both absent and the Court dismissed the suit under O. 9, R. 8 read with O. 17, R. 2, C. P. Code. Held: that it was within the competence of the Court to dismiss the suit for default, and it could not be said that in doing so the Court acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. (Daniels, J. C.) MT. AISHA v. MT. CHATTA. 2 O. W. N. 432 : 89 I. C. 418 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 433.

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal for default—Sufficient case—Pleader sent for when case called.

When a case was called up, plaintiff's pleader was in the bar room and his clerk went to call him. By the time the pleader came the case had been dismissed for default. Held it was proper case for restoration. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) KHWAJA KARAMAT ALI v. HARDUWAR PANDE. 78 I. C. 123 (2) : 11 O. L. J. 243 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 405.

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal for default—Plaintiff dead on the date of hearing—Order is a nullity.

Where an order purported to be passed under O. 9, R. 8, C. P. Code; but in fact the plff. was dead on that date though neither the Court nor any of the parties was aware of it, held that the order passed was a nullity. (Daniels, A.J.C.) TIRLOCHAN PRASAD SINGH v. BHAGWATI. 9 O. & A. L. R. 70 : 73 I. C. 230 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 114.

———O. 9, R. 8——Plaintiff present all along except on one date—Defendant admitting part of the claim—Case should not be dismissed for default.

Where the plaintiff was all along present in Court on all hearings except one, and the Court dismissed the suit for default on that date though the defendant had admitted a part of the claim. Held: that the order of dismissal was not proper. (Bucknill, J.) SANAHI RAM v. GULAB CHAND. 3 Pat. L. R. 249 : 89 I. C. 614 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 712 (2).

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal after preliminary decree is revisable.

An order dismissing a suit for want of prosecution, made after the passing of the preliminary decree is not appealable but is open to revision. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) LACHMI NARAYAN TEWARI v. RAMSURAM TEWARI. 86 I. C. 785 : 6 P.L.T. 152 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 433.

———O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal—No appeal lies—Question of jurisdiction involved—Appeal may be treated as revision petition.

No appeal lies against an order of dismissal for default. But when it raises the question of excess of jurisdiction the appeal may be treated as an application for revision. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) DURGA PRASAD v. A. H. FORBES. 6 P. L. T. 127: 86 I. C. 787 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 109 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 374.

Advocate High Court

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 8.

——O. 9, R. 8—Appearance—What amounts to.

Where the party and his pleader appear, but the pleader asks for a pass over to consult his leader, and when the case is later called on, no one appears and is dismissed for default, it must be held the plaintiff had not appeared within the meaning of the rule. 3 P. L. J. 355 and 5 P. L. J. 17 foll. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) BASDEO NARAIN SINGH v. HARAK NARAIN SINGH. 68 I. C. 942 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 156.

——O. 9, R. 8—Date fixed for appearance of guardian ad litem—Dismissal for default not proper.

Where a suit is adjourned to a certain date for the appearance of the guardian ad litem a dismissal for default on account of the absence of plaintiff is not justified. (Macpherson, J.) THAKUR PATHAK v. RAGHO PATHAK. 73 I. C. 559 (Pat.).

——O. 9, R. 8—Plaintiff entitled to decree on admission of defence—Cause of action.

The question whether there is a cause of action or not does not depend upon the admission of the defendant. Where the plaint discloses a cause of action, the plaintiff is entitled to get a decree on the admission of the defence. (Ross, J.) BAUL DAS MISRA v. DIGAMBAR KURI. 65 I.C. 644 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 297.

——O. 9, R. 8—Dismissal for default—Minor plaintiff.

In dismissing a suit for default, a Court has no jurisdiction to provide that the order shall not prejudice a minor plaintiff. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KIRIT NARAYAN v. CHANCHAL DAS. 63 I. C. 736. 6 Pat. L. J. 317.

——O. 9, R. 8—Admission in part and counter-claim by defendant—Plaintiff absent—Procedure.

Where a plaintiff's claim was admitted in part by the defendant subject to a counter-claim, but when the suit was called on the plaintiff being absent the suit was dismissed as a whole. Held, the suit ought to have been decreed to the extent the defendant admitted liability; the counter-claim can be considered only if the defendant comes forward to prove it. (Kincaid, J. C. and Kennedy, A. J. C.) KHEMCHAND DARYANOMAL v. MENGHOMAL CHUNIMAL. 66 I. C. 789 : 15 S. L. R. 172.

——O. 9, R. 9—Decree—Dismissal of suit—Appeal if any.

After a decree has once been made in a suit the suit cannot be dismissed unless the decree is reversed on appeal. The parties have on the making of the decree acquired rights or incurred liabilities which are fixed unless or until the decree is varied or set aside. (Lord Phillimore.) LACHMI NARAIN v. BALMAKUND. 4 Pat. 61 : 51 I. A. 321. 20 L.W. 491 : (1924) M.W.N. 707 : 35 M. L. T. 143 : L. R. 5 P. C. 171 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1129 : 22 A. L. J. 990 : 5 Pat. L. T. 623 : 40 C. L. J. 439 : 1 O. W. N. 629 : 29 C. W. N. 391 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1033 : 81 I. C. 747 ; A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 198 : 47 M. L. J. 441 (P.C.).

——O. 9, R. 9—Partial dismissal under R. 3 is not covered by the section.

The clause in R. 9, 'where a suit is wholly or partly dismissed under R. 8, obviously means a suit dismissed in part or in its entirety. It does not mean where a suit is dismissed wholly or partly under R. 8, or partly under some other rule. (Mears, C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) MAKUNDI SINGH v. PARBHU DAYAL. 23 A. L. J. 993 : 90 I. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 169.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 9.

——O. 9, Rr. 9 and 13—Dismissal of suit for default—Application to set aside dismissal—Dismissed—Fresh application if maintainable.

Although an application is called an application to restore the application to set aside the ex parte decree, which application had itself been dismissed for default, it really is an application to set aside the ex parte decree, and it may be treated as such. The application may be treated as an original application although no fresh parties are interested in the case. The proceeding is initiated by an application which has to be numbered as a separate miscellaneous case. But the application has to be made within 30 days of knowledge of the ex parte decree or dismissal for default. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) PITAMBAR LAL v. DODEE SINGH. 46 A. 319 : 22 A. L. J. 191 ; L. R. 5 A. 226 : 78 I. C. 358 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 503.

——O. 9, R. 9—Execution proceedings.

On the 15th January 1921, one D applied under S. 47 for cancellation of a sale. The application was struck off in default on the 28th May, 1921. On the 11th June 1921 D moved the Court to restore his application which was restored on the 9th July 1921: Held following 21 A. L. J. 135 that the order of the Munsif on the 9th July must be set aside. (Rafique, J.) BHIKAM KHAN v. DAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 All. 544 (1).

——O. 9, R. 9—Applicability—Execution proceedings.

The provisions of Order 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure have no application to execution proceedings and the decree-holder's remedy in case of dismissal of application is to make a fresh appl cation for execution of his decree. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) BHARAT INDU v. HAKIM ASGHAR ALI KHAN. 45 A. 148 : 21 A. L. J. 135 : 73 I. C. 453 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 460 (1).

——O. 9, R. 9—Fresh suit—When barred.

O. 9, R. 9, C. P. Code, has a restricted application only to those cases only where a second suit is brought for the same object and on the same cause of action as the suit, which was dismissed. (Kanhaiya Lal and Sulaiman, JJ.) BALKISHAN v. RAGHUBAR DAYAL. L. R. 3 A. 485 : 74 I. C. 991 : 45 All. 81 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 409.

——O. 9, R. 9—Restoration—Grounds for.

When a suit was called for hearing the plaintiff who was present in Court left the Court precincts to fetch his pleader who was engaged in another Court. In the meantime the case was called and the names of the parties were called out by the Court peon. The plaintiff who was present and who must therefore have appeared went away to fetch his pleader. When the plaintiff and his pleader both arrived it was three-quarters of an hour after the case had been called and dismissed for default. Held that in the circumstances of the case the suit should be restored for re-hearing on condition of the plaintiff paying into the Court the costs of the defendant within a prescribed time failing which his application should stand dismissed. (Ryves, J.) BEHARI LAL v. MAQSOOD ALI. 71 I. C. 283 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 189.

——O. 9, R. 9—Restoration—Party appearing after a few minutes.

Where a party appears a few minutes after the case has been called on and dismissed during his absence, he should be made to pay the costs of the application to restore the suit and his suit should be restored and heard on merits. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) IRAPPA v. NINGAPPA. 77 I. C. 901 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 480.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 9.

——— O. 9, R. 9 and S. 151—Restoration—Application for restoration itself dismissedfor default.

There is no rule in the Code that enables the Court to restore an application made under O 9, R. 9 which has been dismissed for want of prosecution. Even S. 151 does not apply in such a case. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MANKE v. WALWEKAR.
A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 386.

——— O. 9, R. 9—Dismissal of suit for default—Application for Restoration—Non-contesting defendants—Compromise by some of the parties—Effect of.

Several plaintiffs brought a suit for setting aside a decree in a partition suit and other incidental reliefs. Some of the plaintiffs compromised the case. The remaining plaintiffs applied for an adjournment of the case and the application was rejected and the suit was dismissed for the default both against the petitioners, who were the contesting defendants and other defendants who remained ex parte. An application for restoration of the case was refused and on an appeal against the order of refusal to which the non-contesting defendants were not made parties, the appellate court directed the suit to be restored between the plaintiffs and the contesting as well as the non-c ntesting defendants. On an application to revise the order of the Lower Appellate Court held that its order was wrong in so far as it purported to put the non-appearing defendants back on the record. Under O. 9, C. P. Code an application for restoration should be made so as to bring the suit back as regards parties to the exact position in which it was when the suit was dismissed. After that, it is competent no doubt for a particular plaintiff or plaintiffs to apply to be dismissed from the suit or withdraw the suit and such an application can be made. There was no justification for letting out any plaintiff until first of all the costs of the present petitioners up to the date of the dismissal of the suit had been paid to them by those plaintiffs who proposed to continue the suit. Secondly, if the suit is to proceed by those plaintiffs only against the petitioners, it must be distinctly on the terms that any objections arising out of that new state of things must be capable of being raised by the present petitioners by an additional written statement if they so desire and must be dealt with in the course of the case. (Rankin and Mukherji, JJ.) KAILAS CHANDRA RAI v. HRIDAY CHANDRA DAS.
39 C. L. J. 367 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 814.

——— O. 9, R. 9—Ex parte suit—Duty of Court—Burden on plaintiff to prove his case.

The fundamental principle of law is that the plaintiff when he comes to court must prove his case to the satisfaction of the Court. His burden is not lightened because the defendant is absent ; on the other hand the responsibility is increased in one sense, for when a matter is heard ex parte in the absence of one of the parties who is not re presented, it is the duty of Counsel to bring to the notice of the Court adverse as well as favourable authorities. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RAI SATYENDRA NATH SEN BAHADUR v. NARENDRA NATH GUPTA.
39 C. L. J. 279 : 81 I. C. 867 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 806.

——— O. 9, R. 9. and O. 43, R. 1 (c)—Dismissal for default—Application to set aside—Application dismissed for default—Subsequent application—Order on, not appealable.

Where a suit is dismissed in default and an application to set aside the order is also dismissed in default, an order made on subsequent application refusing to set aside the dismissal of the previous application, is not an order refusing to set aside the dismissal of a suit in default within the meaning of the cl. (c) of R. 1 of O. 43, of the C. P. Code. Such an order is not appealable. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) HARA KUMAR v. MURARI MOHAN. 36 C. L. J. 184: 69 I. C. 1003 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 572.

——— O. 9, R. 9—Restoration—Order restoring suit is not appealable—Not a 'judgment' within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent.

O. 9, R. 9. of the Code of Civil Procedure restoring a suit dismissed for want of prosecution is not a 'judgment' within the meaning of clause 15 of the LettersPatent and is therefore not appealable. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) MAHARAJ KISHORE KHANNA v. KIRAN SHASHI DASI. 49 Cal. 616 : 69 I. C. 820: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 407.

——— O. 9, R. 9—Applicability—Execution sale—Application to set aside—Dismissal for default—Refusal to restore—Appeal.

O. 9, R. 9 does not apply to an application to restore a petition under O. 21, R. 90 dismissed for default. An order refusing to restore, is not appealable. (Le Rossignol, J.) KAURA LAL v. THE PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK, LTD. 89 I. C. 360 (1).

——— O. 9, R. 9—Application for restoration made and dismissed as time-barred—Application for review subsequent to such dismissal cannot be entertained.

Where a suit is dismissed for default, there are two courses open to the plaintiff ; he can either make an application for restoration under O. 9, R. 9, or he can make an application for review under O. 4, R. 1. The application for restoration must be made within 30 days from the order of dismissal, but if such an application has been made and dismissed on the ground that it was barred by limitation, the rule of limitation cannot be evaded by making another application by way of review. (Moti Sagar, J.) ABDUL RAZAK v. MUHAMMAD SHARIF. 86 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 517.

——— O. 9, R 9—Dismissal for default—Dismissal of an application against order dismissing an application under O. 9, R. 9 for default—Revision.

An application lies to restore a former application which is dismissed for default. At the same time when that application is rejected, no appeal lies from the order of rejection. O. 43, R. 1 (c) shows that an appeal lies from an order under O. 9, R. 9 rejecting an application from an order to set aside the dismissal of a suit. This cannot be interpreted to mean that an appeal lies from an order under R. 9, O. 9, ejecting an application for an order to set aside the dismissal of an application, but a revision lies. (Scott-Smith, J.) LOK NATH v. MT. SATTAN BAI.
73 I. C. 821 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 302 (2).

——— O. 9, R. 9 and O. 32, R. 11—Dismissal for default of guardian—Application for setting aside and for removal of guardian for negligence—Court must not dispose of without taking evidence.

Where a guardian allows anappeal to be dismissed for default and afterwards an application is put in for the removal of the guardian on the ground of negligence in duty and for setting aside the dismissal for default the Court should take evidence on the question as to whether the guardian was negligent in his duty unless the respondent admits the facts of the guardian's negligence. (Krishnan and Waller. JJ.) RAMAPPA NAYUDU v. SAMBOORANATHACHI.
21 L. W. 325 : 87 I. C. 117 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 774.

——— O. 9, R. 9—Does not empower Court to set aside dismissal for default as matter of grace—The fact that subsequent to restoration of suit decree has been passed against defendant is no ground against setting aside restoration.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 9.

Where there was an application for setting aside the dismissal of a suit for default and where the lower Court found that the grounds alleged were insufficient to set aside the order, but as a matter of grace, taking into consideration the fact that the suit was for nearly ten thousand rupees and the plaintiff a Mohamadan Gosha lady had recently lost her husband, set aside the dismissal. Held: in revision that the Court was not empowered under O. 9, R. 9, to set aside the dismissal of a suit for default of appearance as a matter of grace. Whatever may be the circumstances of the case, the order setting aside the default in this case must be quashed as being passed without jurisdiction. Held: further, that the fact that after the order was passed setting aside the order dismissing the suit for default, the defaulter without obtaining an order for stay of proceedings allowed the suit to be proceeded with and that a decree had been passed against the defendant was no ground against annulling the illegal order restoring the suit. (Wallace, J.) V. MANICKAM PILLAI v. MAHUDAM BATHUMMAL. 20 L. W 849 : 85 I. C. 499 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 209 : 48 M. L. J. 152.

———0. 9, R. 9 and S. 141 —Execution proceedings

The provisions of O. 9, R. 9 do not apply to execution proceedings. (Jackson, J.) KAJUBURISAMI v. SOORYANARAYANA RAJU. 20 L. W. 192 : (1924) M. W. N. 672 : 81 I. C. 841 : A. I. R 1925 Mad. 126 · 47 M. L. J. 269.

———0. 9, Rr. 9 and 13– Dismissal for default—Appearance by pleader—Pleader reporting no instructions—Dismissal for default—Restoration.

On the day on which a suit was posted for hearing the plaintiff's pleader appeared and stated he had no instructions. Thereupon the Court dismissed the suit. Held, that the dismissal of the suit under the above circumstances was a dismissal for default and that an order restoring the suit by the court was rightly passed. When a pleader appears and says he has no instructions he intends to inform the court that he had no instructions to conduct the case either wholly or partially in other words he tells the court that though he has filed an appearance he does not propose to appear for his client. It is a contradiction in terms to hold that a person who says he does not appear does in fact appear. 30 M. 271 followed. (Venkatasubba Row, J.) ARUNACHALA GOUNDAN v. KATHA GOUNDAN. 20 L.W. 795 : 82 I. C. 107 : (1924) M. W.N. 835 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 842 : 47 M. L. J. 514.

———0. 9, R. 9—Sufficient cause—Many adjournments at plaintiff's request—His absence at the last hearing—Dismissal for default.

A suit was repeatedly adjourned at plaintiff's request, and he stated that he did not desire to prosecute the claim. On the day of the last hearing he was absent and his pleader had no instructions and thus the suit was dismissed for default. He then applied for restoration on the ground that he had no notice of the date of hearing. Held, that the application for restoration was properly dismissed under O. 9, R. 9. (Adur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) RAMACHANDRA v RAJU. 62 I. C. 378 : 13 L. W. 334.

———0. 9, R. 9—Fresh suit—Cause of action—Suit for declaration—Dismissal for default.

A suit for declaration that an alienation in favour of the defendant is invalid, was dismissed for default. The plaintiff subsequently sued for partition and possession of a share. Held, the causes of action being different the suit is not barred. R. 9 bars a suit where the cause of action is the same. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) ASIA BIBI v. SEHU MOHAMMAD ROWTHER. 12 L. W. 431 : 60 I. C. 201 : 39 M. L. J. 412.

———0. 9, R. 9—Application for restoration dismissed for default—Appeal.

Appeal lies against an order of dismissal of an application for restoration of an application dismissed in default, for Restoration of the suit dismissed in default (Hallifax, A. J. C.) KALICHARAN v. RATAN SINGH. 19 N. L. R. 119 : 75 I. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 293.

———0. 9, R. 9—Restoration against some defendants on plaintiff's application—Restoration against others by Court after limitation is ultra vires.

A suit was dismissed against two defendants and it was restored against one on an application made by the plaintiff. Subsequently the Court on its own initiative and beyond the period of limitation for restoration, restored the suit against the other. Held that the order restoring the suit against the other defendant was ultra vires. (Pullan, A. J. C.) SHAMSHAD MEHDI v. MAHBUL KHAN. 11 O. L. J. 573 : 80 I. C. 75 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 105.

———0. 9, R. 9—Execution proceedings—Application for final decree is not.

O. 9, R. 9 is applicable to an application for final decree for foreclosure dismissed for default, the application for final decree for foreclosure not being a proceeding in execution. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BABU RAM v. MT. RAM DULARI DEBI. 26 O. C. 194 : 74 I. C. 701 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 30.

———0. 9, R. 9—With S. 141 (1)—Application to set aside ex parte decree – Dismissal of application for default—Restoration.

Where an application to set aside an order of dismissal for default has itself been dismissed for default it is open to the Court to set aside that dismissal under O. 9, R. 9 read with S. 141, C. P. Code, 4 P. L. J 135, 44 C. 950 dissented, 23 O. C. 349 followed. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. JAMNA v. MT. RAMRAJ. 9 O. L. J. 627 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 32 : 74 I. C. 380 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 146.

———0. 9, R. 9 and S. 151—Execution proceedings—Strong grounds necessary.

O. 9, R. 9 has no application to execution proceedings the reason being that fresh applications can be filed. Strong grounds would be required to justify an application under S. 151 for the restoration of an execution application as would be required for an application for review. (Ashworth, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) NAGESHWAR PRASAD v. JAI NARAYAN. 73 I. C. 73 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 201 (2).

———0. 9, R. 9—Restoration—Exonerated defendants.

Where the plff. exonerates certain defts. from liability and the suit is subsequently dismissed for default it cannot be restored as against the exonerated defts. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAGESHAR v. BHAGY DOBEY. 25 O. C. 67 : 68 I. C. 246 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 160.

———0. 9, R. 9, O. 21, R. 90—Execution proceedings—Restoration.

O. 9, R. 9 applies to an order dismissing for default an application under O. 21, R. 90. (Lindsay A. J. C.) GOWRI v. HINGA. 59 I. C. 575 · 23 O. C. 349.

———0, 9, R. 9—Sufficient cause—Illness of brother—Other grounds if can be urged under.

Illness of a brother was held not sufficient cause to set aside a dismissal for default. In an application for restoration, it is not open to attack the order on the ground that the proper course was to reject the plaint under O. 7, R. 11, as that is a matter for appeal. (Miller. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMBHANJAN SINGH v. PASHUPAT RAI. 2 Pat. 784 : 74 I. C. 847 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 271 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 9.

——O. 9, R. 9—Dismissal for default.

Where on the day of hearing, the plaintiff's pleader had instructions only to ask for adjournment which was not granted and the case dismissed, held the dismissal was under O. 17, R. 2 and an application for restoration under R. 9 of O. 9 was maintainable. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) SD. SHAHA MUHAMMAD MAUDOOD v. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH. 1 Pat. L. R 281 : 74 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 530.

——O. 9, R. 9, and B. T. Act, S. 158—Dismissal for default.

Subsequent application for assessment of rent where the application failed for default, is not barred under S. 158 of the B. T. Act. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) JANKI RAY v. RAJA KALANAND SINGH. 2 P. 192 : 4 Pat. L. T. 705 : 74 I. C. 464 : A I. R. 1923 Pat. 381.

——O. 9, R. 9—Restoration — Order rejecting plaint—No power to restore.

An order rejecting a plaint under O. 7, R. 11, (c) of the C.P Code, operates as a decree and once the order is perfected, there is absolutely no power in the Court under its inherent jurisdiction either to alter or to add to that order save as provided by S. 152 of the Code or on review. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMESHWAR DHARI SINGH v. SADHU SARAN SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 261 : 72 I. C. 629 : 2 Pat. 504 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 354.

——O. 9, Rr. 9 and 13 and O. 47, R. 1—Res judicata—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Dismissal for default—Subsequent application—Review.

Where a suit was decreed inter partes against some defendants and ex parte against other defendants and the latter applied to set aside the ex parte decree but their application was dismissed for default. Held, that a further application under O. 9, R. 9 asking that the dismissal of their former application under O. 9, C.P. Code for default be set aside, is not maintainable. 4 P. L. J. 135 (F. B.) followed, O. 47, C. P. Code, does not apply when the order passed is by an officer other than the officer who made the original order, S. 153, C. P. Code, has no application as the dismissal order was not an error or defect in the proceedings. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAMGHULAM SINGH v. SHEODEONARAIN SINGH. 1922 P. H. C. C. 5 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 121.

——O. 9, R. 9—Suit of minor dismissed for default—Fresh suit with new guardian.

The provisions of O. 9, R. 9 caanot be nullified in the case of minor plaintiffs by changing the guardian ad-litem after the prior suit was dismissed for default. Where after a mortgagee had obtained a decree for sale against a Hindu father his minor sons first sued for partition free of the mortgage which they challenged as not binding and the same was dismissed for default, a subsequent suit for an injunction restraining the mortgagee from selling the properties is barred under O. 9, R. 9, as the cause of action in both suits is the same. What is meant by cause of action considered. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) VISHINDAS FATEHCHAND v. NARUMAL DHARAMDAS. 80 I. C. 985 : 17 S. L. R. 41.

——O. 9, R. 9—Sufficient cause—Pardanashin lady—Neglect of agent not a sufficient cause.

Where an appeal is dismissed owing to the default of the appellant in depositing the cost of serving notices, the order of dismissal should not be set aside except for just and sufficient cause. That the default was due to the agent's neglect or misconduct, where the principal was a pardanashin lady is not a sufficient cause. The propriety of an ex parte order setting aside an order dismissing an appeal for default, may be questioned at the hearing of the appeal and can be reconsidered at the instance of the party aggrieved. (Fawcett, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) JANAT v. KAMILSHAH. 60 I. C. 948 : 14 S. L. R. 239.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Appeal.

——O. 9, R. 13.

Absence of Notice.
Appeal.
Appellate Court.
Co-defendants.
Conditional order.
Costs.
Effect of setting aside.
Ex-parte decree.
Final Decree.
Legal Representative.
Limitation.
Miscellaneous Proceedings.
Procedure.
Revision.
Right to apply.
Scope of.
Service of Summons.
Sufficient Cause.
Suit to set aside.

Absence of Notice.

——O. 9, R. 13—Absence of notice—Transfer.

Where a suit is transferred without notice to defendant, the ex parte decree must be set aside. (Moti Sagar, J.) GANGA RAM v. GUJAR MAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 444.

——O. 9, R. 13—Absence of notice—Application under—Merits of the case are not to be considered—Knowledge of particular decree on defendant's part is essential—Vague suspicion that defendant may have known of some decree is not enough to impute him with knowledge of the decree.

In an application under O. 9, R. 13, what the Court has to find is not whether the defendant has any good defence on the merits, but whether there is proper service, and if there is proper service whether there was sufficient cause for his non-appearance. Courts even in moffusil ought not to proceed to the trial of a case until at least three services have been taken upon the defendants which is the practice in the High Court. Unless the Court finds positively that the petitioner was aware of the decree at a time which was more than a month before the petition it is not barred by limitation ; and apart from the limitation the knowledge of the suit after a decree is irrelevant for any other purpose. A vague knowledge that a decree had been passed by some Court is not enough. It must be found that the defendant had knowledge that a particular decree had been passed against him in a particular Court in favour of a particular person and for a particular sum. A vague suspicion that the defendant must have heard of some decree is not enough to dismiss his petition on the ground that it is barred by limitation. (Ramesam, J.) SYED MUHAMMAD SAHIB v. A. P. R. L. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR. 22 L. W. 423 : 90 I. C. 1042 (2) : A.I. R. 1926 Mad. 31 : 49 M. L. J. 445.

Appeal.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal.

No second appeal lies against an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) GANESHI LAL v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 : L.R. 6 A. Civ. 79 : 85 I. C. 470 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal—Ex parte decree in appeal—Second appeal—Maintainability — Other remedy open—Effect.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Appeal.

A party whose appeal is decided ex-parte can maintain a second appeal against the decision, though he has two other courses open to him, viz., to apply for restoration under O. 41, R. 21 or to apply for review. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) KALI PROSANNA CHAKRAVARTY v. NAJABULLA JAMADAR.
80 I. C. 14 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 497.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal — Order setting aside ex parte decree—Order not affecting decision within S. 105, C. P. Code—Order cannot be assailed in appeal from final decision.

An erroneous order accepting an application to set aside the ex parte decree is not assailable in appeal from the final decision except in so far as it accepts the decision of the case on the merits with S. 105, C. P. Code. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) SUNDER SINGH v. NIGHAIYA. 6 Lah. 94 : 88 I. C. 920 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 466.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal against order setting aside ex parte decree.

Not only can an order setting aside an ex-parte decree not be questioned on appeal but, any error, etc., made by a Court in setting aside such an ex-parte decree is not an error affecting the decision of the case within the meaning of section 105. (Harrison, J.) SUNDER SINGH v. NIGAHIYA.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 425 (1).

——O. 9, R. 13, and O. 43, R. 1 (d)—Appeal—Conditional order setting aside ex parte decree—Condition not complied with—Application to set aside dismissal—Appeal lies from the later order alone.

On an application to set aside an ex-parte decree an order was passed by the Court that the decree will be set aside if the petitioner will pay to the plaintiff his costs and deposit the decretal amount into Court within a certain period. A note was made on the order that the petition will be called for final disposal on a certain date. On the date on which the application was taken up for final disposal, petitioner applied for permission to give immoveable property as security for decretal amount. The Court dismissed the application to set aside the ex-parte decree on the ground that the money had not been deposited in Court. Held, that the first order of the trial Court was merely conditional and that, therefore, it was not open to the petitioner to prefer an appeal against that order, and that the final order dismissing the application to set aside the ex-parte decree was appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (d). (1917) M. W. N. 815, Foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) RAJAGOPALACHARI v. NARSIMHA THATHACHARIAR. 88 I. C. 196 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1182.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal—Proceedings under—No decree passed—Effect—If bar right of appeal after decree.

A person can take cross-objection by way of appeal against a decree passed ex parte if he files such objection within one month from the date of service of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) BAVA LEVVAI SAHIB v. AMMEENAMMAL. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 107 : 45 M. L. J. 805.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal—Decree against defendants some of whom were ex parte*—Appeal by contesting defendants—Application to Appellate Court to set aside* ex parte decree if lies.

Where a decree against several defendants some of whom were ex parte in the Trial Court was appealed against by the contesting defendants, impleading the ex parte ones as respondents, the latter cannot maintain an application in the Appellate Court to set aside the ex parte decree under O. 9, R. 13 of the Code.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Appellate Court.

The proper procedure for them is to get an adjournment of the hearing of the appeal and make the application to the Trial Court. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) PALANIAPPA CHETTY v. SUBRAMANYAM CHETTY 14 L. W. 609 : (1921) M. W. N. 796: 66 I. C. 59 : 30 M. L. T. 151 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 33 : 42 M. L. J. 12.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal—Failure to take advantage of R. 7 and R. 13 precludes the plea in appeal.

If a party failed to take advantage of O. 9, R. 7 and R. 13 he cannot raise the same point of the injustice of the ex parte order on an appeal under S.96 30 Mad. 54 and A.I.R. 1923 Oudh 177, Diss. 12 O. C 25, Dist. and 39 M. L. J. 697, Appr. When a specific remedy with a particular period of limitation is granted, a party must avail himself of it and cannot make it a ground of appeal under the general provision granting him a right of appeal from an exparte decree. 39 All. 143 Foll. (Dalal J.C.) MAZHAR HUSSAIN v. RAFIQ HUSAIN. 28 O. C. 85 : 87 I. C. 222 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 645.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appeal—Application under S. 151.

Inherent powers of Court under S. 151 cannot be invoked to set aside an ex parte decree long after the limitation prescribed by Art. 164 has passed. An order refusing exercise of such powers by court is not appealable. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) AJODHYA MAHTON v. PHUL KUER. 1 Pat. 277 : 65 I. C. 341 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 61 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 479.

Appellate Court.

——O. 9, R. 13 and O. 43. R. 1 (d)—Appellate Court—Appeal from order rejecting application for setting aside ex parte decree—Appellate Court cannot go beyond R. 13.

Per Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.—In an appeal from an order rejecting an application to set aside an ex parte decree, the appellate Court cannot go beyond the provisions contained in O. 9, R. 13 for reasons for setting aside the decree. A.I.R. 1922 All. 441 and 43 M. 94 Foll. 44 Cal. 929 Dist. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. GAYA PRASAD. L. R. 6 A. 601 : 90 I. C 180 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 610 (F.B.).

——O. 9, R. 13 and S. 105—Appellate Court—Application under, dismissed—Appeal from decree—Appellate Court whether can decide the cause of dismissal.

Where an application to have an ex parte decree set aside has been dismissed, the question as to the propriety of dismissal cannot be re-agitated in an appeal from the decree, not is such a right given by S. 105 of the C.P. Code. 23 Mad. 445; 30 Mad. 54 ; 43 Mad. 94 (F.B.) ; 23 Mad. 260 Expl. and Dist. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) BADVEL CHINA ASHETHU v. VATIPALLI KESAVAYYA.
12 L. W. 507 : 60 I. C. 215 : (1920) M. W. N. 780 : 29 M. L. T. 63 : 39 M. L. J. 697.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appellate Court—Reversal of decree on the ground that ex parte procedure was not justified.

Where an appeal is preferred against an ex parte decree, the appellate Court has jurisdiction to reverse the decree of the lower court merely on the ground that such Court was wrong in proceeding to decide the case ex parte. 33 M. 54, Foll. (Ashworth, J. C.). FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI. 26 O. C. 10 : 10 O. L. J. 36 : 73 I. C. 591 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——O. 9, R. 13—Appellate Court—Confirmation of decree by—Trial Court can set aside the decree.

An original suit was decided ex parte against one of the defendants. The decision was upheld in appeal. The party against whom the ex parte decree was passed applied to the Trial Court for setting aside the ex parte order. The Trial Court set aside the ex parte order and restored the case for hearing on the merits. Held, it was right. (Daniels, J. C.) MAHABALI PARSHAD v. BALBHADDAR SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants.

64 I. C. 303 : 24 O. C. 282.

Co-defendants.

——O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants—Cause of action— Ex parte decree against several defendants, whether can be set aside at the instance of some of them alone.

An ex parte decree against several defendants cannot be set aside as against all of them at the instance of some of them alone, when the cause of action against all of them is not necessarily joint and indivisible. (Odgers, J.) THIRUMALACHARIAR v. ATHIMOOLA KARAYALAR. 22 L. W. 695.

——O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants—Ex parte decree against several defendants—Application to set aside by one—When can be set aside against all.

Where in a suit for possession of separate items from separate sets of defendants, an ex parte decree is passed against all and an application is made by one to set aside the decree, held, that the decree is not such a joint and indivisible one as to allow its being set aside in favour of those who had made no application to set it aside, though there were some common issues in the suit in which all were interested. (Krishnan, J.) NARAYANASAMY AIYAR v. DORAISAMY.

65 I. C. 343 : (1921) M. W. N. 795.

——O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants— Decree-holder agreeing to the setting aside of decree against some—Court can set aside against all the defendants.

Where an ex parte foreclosure decree is passed against the mortgagor and a rival claimant of mortgagee right and is set aside against the latter on the consent of decree-holder, it should be set aside altogether under the proviso to O. 9, R. 13. (Simpson, A. J. C.) DEBI CHARAN v. DEO MUKHI. 2 O. W. N. 702 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 621.

——O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants—Ex parte decree—Several defts.—Similar but distinct defences—Exparte decree set aside on application of some defts.—Non-applicants are not benefited.

Where an ex parte decree is passed against several defendants whose defences are similar but distinct, and where the ex parte decree is set aside on the application of some of the defendants only, the other defendants cannot claim the benefit of the decree being set aside but will still be bound by it. (Kendall, A. J. C.) PITAMSHAH v. BHOG NATH.

81 I. C. 520 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 181.

——O. 9, R. 13—Co-defendants—Mortgage decree—Ex parte against some and on the merits against others It can be set aside as regards some only.

Where a mortgage decree is passed ex parte against some defendants and on the merits against others, the liability being joint, the decree cannot be set aside as against some only of the defendants under O 9, R. 13. (Dass and Ross, JJ.) RAGHUBAR CHOWDHURY v. RAMASRAY PRASAD CHOWDHURY.

1924 P. H. C. C. 252 : 78 I. C. 408 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 771.

Conditional order.

——O. 9, R. 13 and S. 115—Conditional order—Order of restoration conditional on payment of costs within a certain time—Order is proper—Refusal to extend time fixed is not a failure to exercise jurisdiction.

An order restoring a case dismissed for default on condition of the payment of a reasonable amount of costs to the opposite party within a time fixed by the order is not an illegal order, but, on the contrary, is an order contemplated by O. 9, R. 13. Where an application of defendant to extend the time fixed for payment was refused, Held that the refusal did not amount to a failure to exercise jurisdiction against which a revision can lie. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) AHMAD HUSSAIN KHAN v. HARDIAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Effect of setting aside.

L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 586 : 90 I. C. 243 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 142 (2).

——O. 9, R. 13—Conditional order—Party appearing soon after decree passed—Setting aside decree.

Where a suit is disposed of ex parte on account of the absence of the party or pleader at the time of hearing but later on the pleader turns up in the course of the same day, the court should after notice to the other party, restore the suit to file after imposing such conditions on the defaulting party as might meet the justice of the case. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SORABJI RUSTOMJI v. RAMJI LAL DEVJIBHAI.

26 Bom. L. R. 321 : 80 I. C. 237 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 392.

——O. 9. R. 13—Conditional order—Harsh conditions should not be imposed.

A Court should not as a condition precedent to setting aside an ex parte decree require the deposit of a large sum of money, as it will work hardship on the defendant (Dalal, J. C.) INDAR SINGH v. GURDAYAL SINGH. 74 I. C. 86 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 229.

Costs.

——O. 9, R. 13—Costs—Setting aside dismissal Condition to pay costs—Legality.

An order setting aside a dismissal for default on condition of paying costs within a fixed time is perfectly legal. If the costs are not paid and an extension of time is refused, the order is not open to revision. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) AHMAD HUSAIN KHAN v. HARDIAL. L. R. 6 A. 586 : 90 I. C. 243.

——O. 9, R. 13—Costs—Ex parte decree set aside on payment of—Costs not paid in time—Procedure.

On a petition to set aside an ex parte decree, the defendant who was ordered to deposit in Court the decree amount and costs, but he neither carried out the order of the trial court nor of the appellate court to deposit the costs within the time fixed. Held in revision, that the appellate Court ought to have dismissed the appeal on non-payment of costs for payment of which time should have been fixed before disposal of the appeal. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SUKHAI v. BINDA BAKSH. A. L. R. 1922 Oudh 14.

——O. 9 R. 13—Costs—Ex parte decree—Default—Setting aside.

When an ex parte decree is not challenged on the ground of irregularity entitling the applicant to have it vacated ex debito justitiae, but the applicant admits his default and his defence does not appear a bona fide one, the Court can put him on terms, such as by requiring him to deposit the amount claimed within a fixed time. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) DAVID SASSON & CO., LTD. v. SHIVJIRAM DEVIDAS.

90 I. C. 236.

Effect of setting aside.

——O. 9, R. 13—Effect of setting aside—Ex parte decree—Decree set aside—Restitution—Right to, against original plaintiff and his representatives.

Where an ex parte decree is set aside, the deft. is entitled to be restored to his original position under S. 144 of the C. P. Code. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) BASANTA KUMARI v. BALMUKUNDA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Ex-parte Decree.

1923 P. H. C. C. 1 : 72 I. C. 912 : 2 P. 277 : 1 Pat. L. R. 338 · A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 371.

Ex-parte Decree.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Pleader unable to proceed—Decree not necessarily ex parte.

At the hearing of a suit the defendant being absent the trial court proceeded under O. 17, R. 3 on the merits and decreed it. The defendant applied to have the decree set aside but the application was rejected. He then appealed from the order and the decree. The appellate court dismissed the former appeal but declared in the case of the second that the trial court had no power to decide the case on the merits in the absence of the defendant and that the decree was only an ex parte decree. Held, the order of the appellate court in the latter appeal was both in substance and in form open to question. By the pleader saying that he was unable to proceed with the hearing, it cannot be said that the pleader had withdrawn himself ; and the decree passed in that suit cannot therefore be regarded as an ex parte decree which could be set aside in the manner laid down in O. 9 R. 13. In form the order passed by the lower court was similarly open to objection. It was not open to the Judge, who heard the appeals, to take the view that the decree was an ex parte decree after he had dismissed the appeal which had been filed from an order refusing to set it aside, on the ground that the decree was one dealing with the suit on the merits. If he was satisfied that there was sufficient excuse for his absence, he could have passed an order setting aside the decree passed by the court of first instance and remanded the suit. If he was not satisfied that there was sufficient reason for his absence, it was still necessary for him to have examined the suit on the merits and determined whether the decree passed by the court of first instance was proper or not. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SARJU PRASAD v. GUJADHAR LAL. 2 A. I. R. 1922 All. 497.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside dismissal for default—Order refusing to restore.

Where an application to set aside a decree was dismissed for default and the court refused to set aside the order of dismissal and restore the application. Held no appeal lies against the order. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHARIF HUSSAIN v. HAIDAR HUSSAIN. 20 A. L. J. 519 : 67 I. C. 320 : A. I. R. 1922 All 337 (2).

——O. 9, R. 13 and O. 43, R. 1. Cl. (1)—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Rejection by successor of the Judge—Appeal.

A suit was decreed ex parte by a Munsif exercising Small Cause powers. His successor who was not invested with such Small Cause powers refused to set the ex parte decree aside on the application of the defendant. Held, that the decree, being final the order rejecting the application to set aside was not appealable. (Banerji, J.) HIRA LAL v. JHUNNI LAL.

20 A. L. J. 208 : L. R. 3 A. 124 : 65 I. C. 967 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 50 (1).

——O. 9. R. 13—Ex parte decree against firm—Setting aside—One of the partners not served—Effect—Lim Act, Art. 164.

An ex parte decree passed against a firm after it had been served in the manner contemplated by O. 30, C. P. Code, cannot be set aside on the application of a partner who alleges he was not duly served. Any application to set aside the decree must be made within the period of 30 days prescribed under Art. 164, Limitation Act. It can never be said a decree against the firm is ex parte against one of the partners because he has not appeared. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ADIVEPPA SHIDLINGAPPA v. PRAGJI MOHANJI.

26 Bom. L. R. 388 : 80 I. C. 773 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 366.

——O. 9, R. 13— Ex parte decree—Defendant absent but pleader present—If duly instructed—Taking no part in proceedings.

Where the pleader for deft. was present but took no part in proceedings, then unless it is held that deft. appeared by duly instructed pleader, the disposal would be held ex parte otherwise not. If the deft. is not able to show that the pleader was not duly instructed, then it is not an ex parte decree. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) MOTILAL RATANCHAND MARWADI v. NANDRAM DALPATRAM.

25 Bom. L. R. 1222 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 139.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Knowledge—Proof of.

The applicant must have knowledge that a particular decree has been passed against him in a particular court in favour of a particular person for a particular sum. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BAPURAO SAKHURAM v. SADHU BHIRRA GHOLAP.

25 Bom. L. R 74 : 72 I. C. 130 : 47 Bom. 485 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 193.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte mortgage decree—Plaintiff appealing against interest disallowed—Decree varied—Application to set aside ex parte decree—If lies.

The plaintiff obtained an ex parte mortgage decree, but as some interest was disallowed he appealed and got the decree varied. Thereafter the defendant applied to the Trial Court to set aside the ex parte decree. Held it should not be allowed as the decree of the Trial Court had already been superseded by the appellate decree. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) MURTAZA BEGUM v. JOGENDRA NATH ROY.

90 I. C. 724 (Cal).

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Rule does not apply if the decree, on the face of it, is inter partes.

A decree on the face of it inter parties cannot be treated as ex parte and application under O. 9, R. 13 does lie to set it aside. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) RAMESH CHANDRA GUHA v. DENISH CHANDRA GUHA. 42 C. L. J. 224 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1010.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Non-payment of process-fee—Dismissal of application—Appeal.

Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is dismissed for failure to pay process fee this is in substance a dismissal for default and an appeal lies from the order. 21 C. L. J. 628 ; 36 I. C. 798 ; 37 I. C. 835, Rel. (Harrison, J.) BAHADUR SINGH v. WASAWA SINGH. 69 I. C. 713 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 281 (1).

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree when justified—Suit disposed of on day fixed for arguments on a preliminary question—Legality of.

Where on the day fixed for hearing arguments on the question of jurisdiction the Court finding the defendant absent, heard the plaintiff's evidence and passed an ex parte decree, held, that an ex parte decree ought not to have been passed under the circumstances as the date was not fixed for the decision of the case. The fact that an appeal had been preferred from the ex parte decree does not prevent the Court from setting aside the ex parte decree or a Court of appeal from reversing an order of the first Court refusing to set aside the ex parte decree. (Abdul Raoof, J.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte Decree.

FIRM OF SETH KHUDA BAKHSH v. GHULAM QADIR. 72 I. C. 900 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 224.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Vakil after many hearings stating no instructions—No withdrawal in absence of statement to the effect.

The mere fact that a vakil after having appeared for the party at many hearings says he has no instructions does not amount to his withdrawal from the undertaking in his Vakalatnama unless it is so stated. Where after many hearings the defendant's vakil states on the final hearing day that he has no instructions, but the Court disposes of the case on the merits, there is an appearance and O. 37, R. 3 applies to the case. The remedy of the defendant against the Court's order is by way of appeal and not by way of an application to set aside the decree as if it had been made under O. 9, R. 13. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) S. S. BALAKRISHNA AIYAR v. MUTHAMMAL.

82 I. C. 1028 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 316.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Decree of appellate Court.

Where an appellate Court confirms an ex parte decree on an appeal by the deft., the decree of the appellate Court is not an ex parte decree. The deft. should apply to the appellate Court to stay appeal to enable him to apply to first Court to set aside the ex parte decree. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) PALANIAPPA CHETTY v. SUBRAMANIA CHETTY.

14 L.W. 609 : 66 I. C. 59 : (1921) M. W. N. 796 : 30 M. L. T. 151 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 33 : 42 M. L. J. 12.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Setting aside.

When there is transfer of territorial jurisdiction after decree, the new Court can entertain application to set aside ex parte decree. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) SRINIWAS RAO v. HANUMANTHA RAO.

46 Mad. 1 : 15 L. W. 458 : (1922) M. W. N. 349 : 65 I. C. 727 : 31 M.L.T. 79 · A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 10 : 42 M.L.J. 344.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Setting aside—Grounds for.

A Court has no power to set aside an ex parte decree except on one of the grounds contemplated by O. 9, R. 13, C. P. Code 43 M. 94 Foll. (Waller, J.) GULLAPALLI KOTAYYA v. GORANTLA SUBBAYYA. 20 L. W. 490.

——O. 9, R. 13—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Appeal—Effect of.

A suit was decreed ex parte and the defendant filed an application under O. 9, R. 13 and also subsequently preferred an appeal. The application for re-hearing was kept pending till the disposal of the appeal. The appellate Court dismissed the appeal but observed that the application for re-hearing under O. 9, R. 13 deserved consideration by the trial court, which however, held that after the appellate court had confirmed the ex parte decree, it had no jurisdiction to set it aside under O. 9, R. 13, and further that there was no sufficient cause for restoration. Held that after the ex parte decree had been affirmed by the appellate court, it merged in the appellate decree and the trial court had no jurisdiction to entertain the application under O. 9, R. 13, although it had been filed before the filing of the appeal. (Bucknill, J.) MT. AJODHYA KUAR v. DURGA PRASAD. 1923 P. H. C. C. 145 : 71 I. C. 383 : 4 Pat. L. T. 115 : A. I. R 1923 Pat. 331.

Final Decree.

——O. 9, R. 13—Final decree ex parte—Partition suit—Decree passed without notice to defendant—Setting aside.

When a court adjourns a pending suit it is its duty to give notice of the adjourned date to the parties or their pleaders. Where after the preliminary decree in a partition suit the court appointed a commissioner for division by metes and bounds and on his report being received passed a final decree without notice to the defendant, the ex parte decree is bad and should be set aside. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) DURGA PRASAD v. HET RAM. 20 A. L. J. 912 : 77 I. C. 91 : L. R. 3 A. 626 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 79 (2).

——O. 9, R. 13—Final decree—Mortgage setting aside.

The proceedings in a mortgage suit after the passing of a preliminary decree and a final decree are proceedings in the suit which continues until a final decree is passed. On an application by the plff. in a mortgage suit for the passing of a final decree it is not strictly necessary that notice should be given to the mortgagor-deft. If the Court passes a final decree without such notice, it is not an illegality or irregularity and the Court is not bound to set aside the ex parte final decree. At the same time it is open to deft. on showing sufficient cause under O. 9, R. 13 for his absence to apply to set it aside. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) ANNAJI v. FAKIRA. 67 I. C. 282 : 6 N. L. J. 27 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 175.

Legal Representative.

——O. 9, R. 13—Legal Representative—Heir if entitled to apply.

Heirs of a defendant against whom an ex parte decree is passed before his death, have a right to apply to set aside the ex parte decree. 27 All. 274, doubted. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) MT. BANOO v. LALA HARADWARI LAL.

A. I. R. 1923 All. 30.

Limitation.

——O. 9, R. 13—Limitation—Application to set aside ex parte decree passed must be within 30 days of the defendant's becoming aware of the decree.

Where there has been no due service of summons, the Court should decide whether the application is within time from the date when the petitioner came to know of the ex parte decree. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MOHLA v. KAHNUN. 7 Lah. L. J. 408 : 26 Punj. L. R. 600 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 577.

——O. 9, R. 13—Limitation — Onus of proving knowledge.

An applicant who seeks to have an ex parte decree set aside has to prove the application is within the time allowed by law. If he alleged that he did not know of the decree he will have to explain satisfactorily the circumstances which led to the default. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM OF MAGHI MAL KHARAITTI RAM v. THE FIRM GOPI RAM RAM CHAND. 75 I. C. 1020 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 603.

——O. 9, R. 13—Limitation—Application to set aside ex parte decree—Delay—Power to excuse—Limitation Act, S. 5.

The High Court has power under the combined effect of S. 5 of the Limitation Act and S. 122, C. P. Code to apply the provisions of S. 5 of the Limitation Act to applications to set aside ex parte decrees. Consequently the rule framed by the High Court applying S. 5 of the Limitation Act to such applications is intra vires. (Coutts-Troter, C. J., Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) KRISNAMACHARIAR v. SRI RANGAMMAL. 35 M.L. T. (H. C.) 43 : 20 L. W. 332 : 80 I. C. 877 : (1924) M. W. N. 682 · 47 Mad. 824 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 14 : 47 M.L.J. 409.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Limitation.

——— O. 9, R. 13 - Limitation— Extension of time for applying should be made on justifiable grounds.

Under O. 9, R. 13 as amended by the Madras High Court, though time can be extended, still it should be extended on justifiable grounds. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) PALANIYAPPA CHETTY v. SUBRAMANIYA CHETTY. 14 L. W. 909 : 30 M. L. T. 151 (H. C.) : (1921) M. W. N. 796 : 66 I. C. 59 : A. I. R 1922 Mad. 33 : 42 M. L. J. 12.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Limitation—Application barred is no ground for setting aside—Inherent powers cannot be resorted to.

The fact that a certain application which had been decreed ex parte was barred by time, is not a ground for setting aside the ex parte decree under O. 9, R. 13. The inherent powers of a court under S. 151, C. P. Code cannot be called in aid to set aside an ex parte decree or to extend the time therefor. 43 Mad. 94 Foll. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) AJODHYA MAHTON v. MT. PHUL KUER. 65 I. C. 341 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 61 : 1 P. 277 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 479.

Miscellaneous Proceedings.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Miscellaneous proceedings—Application to set aside ex parte decree—Dismissal for default—Application for restoration dismissed—Appeal if lies.

Under the C. P. Code there is no appeal provided for from an order dismissing an application which is for restoring an application for setting aside an ex parte decree. When O. 43 makes no provision for an appeal S. 151 cannot be resorted to as conferring a right of appeal. (Sulaiman, J.) CHANDRA SAHAI v. DURGA PRASAD. 46 A. 538 : 22 A. L. J. 427 : 79 I. C. 323 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ) 331 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 682 (2).

——— O. 9, R. 13—Miscellaneous proceedings—Ex parte order—Setting aside.

Until a suit is actually called on, a party is entitled to appear and defend. It may be that he is guilty of delay, and if that is the case he may be mulcted in costs. But if he does appear before the suit is heard, then he has a right to be heard. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) RADHABAI v. ANANT PANDURANG. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 345 (1).

——— O. 9, R. 13—Miscellaneous proceedings—Applicability—Order dismissing application under O. 21, R. 100.

Quaere—If O. 9, R. 13 applies to an order dismissing for default an application under O. 21, R. 100, C. P. Code? (Jwala Prasad, J.) THAKUR PRASAD LAL v. SUKHLAL SINGH. 5 Pat. L. T. 567 : 79 I. C. 598 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 698.

Procedure.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Procedure —Ex parte decree, when to be passed.

Where the vakil of the defendant had asked for an adjournment, and on the same being refused took no further part in the proceedings, an ex parte decree should be passed. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) KRISHNA DASS v. RAM UGRAH SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 500 : L. R. 4 A. 423 : 74 I. C.845 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 549.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Procedure—Forum—Appeal preferred against the decree.

Though an appeal is pending against an zx parte decree, an application to set it aside should be made to the Court which passed the decree and not to the Court hearing the appeal. 30 Mad. 535, Dist., 27 Mad. 622; 39 All. 13 and 38 Cal. 394 Foll. (Wallis, C J. and Oldfield, J.) PALANIAPPA CHETTI v. SUBRAMANIA CHETTY. 44 Mad. 731 · 13 L. W. 519 : 62 I. C. 755: (1921) M. W. N. 309 : 41 M. L. J. 90.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Procedure—Notice—C. P Code, O. 3, R 5.

Where deft. applied to have an ex parte decree set aside and the Court ordered payment of process-fee at once and the signature of the plff.'s pleader was taken on the order, but as the deft. paid no fee and no notice was served on plff. but the Court set aside the decree and ordered payment of Rs. 7-8-0 as costs to deft. for which the deft. got plff.'s property worth Rs. 400 sold for Rs. 150 and purchased it himself and the plff. sued for recovery of possession, held, that the ex parte decree could not be set aside without notice to plff. and that the plff.'s pleader did not represent the plff. after the ex parte decree was passed. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHEIKH MAHOMED JAMIL v. MUSAMMAT BIBI TUFAILAN. 63 I. C. 47 (P).

Revision.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Revision.

An order setting aside an ex parte decree cannot be set aside by the High Court in revision, for the simple reason that the validity of such an order can be attacked under S. 105 of the Code in an appeal from the final decree passed in the suit. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) SHEIKH KALLU v. NADIS BAKSH. A. I. R. 1922 All. 441.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Revision against order setting aside the decree passed against all defendants—All defendants must be made parties to revision.

If an ex parte decree passed against a large number of defendants be set aside on application of two of them, it is in effect set aside against all and, therefore, all of them are necessary parties to an application for revision of the order setting the ex parte decree aside. (Suhrawardy, J.) PROFFULLA CHANDRA GHOSE v. TARA CHANDRA GAIN. 78 I. C. 132 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 509.

——— O. 9, R. 13— Revision —Ex parte decree set aside—Revision lies.

An application for revision lies from an order setting aside an ex parte decree. (Case law reviewed.) (Baker, J. C.) VISHWANATH v. VAIJNATH. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 356.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Revision — Application to set aside ex parte decree allowed—No revision lies.

Where on an application to set aside an ex parte decree the Court considered the evidence and decided that the applicant had no knowledge of the suit and that summonses were not served upon him and that he came to know of the decree within 30 days of application and set aside the ex parte decree. Held, that no revision lay as it cannot be said that the Court committed any error, illegality or irregularity within the meaning of S. 115. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SHAMSHER NARAIN SINGH v. MAHOMED SALE. 90 I. C. 329 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 29 (2).

——— O. 9, R. 13—Revision—Refusal to set aside ex parte decree on the ground of disbelieving a medical certificate is not revisable.

A Court has jurisdiction to accept or reject any piece of evidence including a medical certificate, hence its order based upon such acceptance or rejection is not revisable. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) BHAICHAND FULLCHAND v. HAJI DAWOOD AYUB. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 816.

Right to Apply.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Ex parte decree against one defendant—Appeal by the other impleading the ex parte defendant—Application for setting aside—If maintainable.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) O. 9, R 13—Right to apply.

Where a decree is passed ex parte against one of two defendants, the mere fact that an appeal is pending at the instance of the respondent, impleading him as a respondent, he has a right to apply under O. 9, R. 13 for setting aside the decree. Case law reviewed. (Sulaiman, J.) MIRZA ABDULLA BEG v. RAMZAN KHAN. 21 A. L. J. 901 : L.R. 5 A. 8 : 79 I. C. 381 : A I. R. 1924 All. 173.

———O. 9. R. 13—Right to apply—Minor defendant not represented—Setting aside decree—Duty of Court.

In an application under O. 9, R. 13, C. P. Code, the only point which the Court has to consider is whether the defendants were prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing. If the minor defendants were not represented there is sufficient cause for their non-appearance and the Court could set aside the ex parte decree. (Daniels, J.) PEARE LAL v. ASHRAF KHAN L. R. 4 All. 137 : 71 I. C. 456 : 21 A. L. J. 185 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 213. See Contra 66 I. C. 460 (Nag.)

———O 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Third party.

A Court has no jurisdiction to set aside an ex parte decree at the instance of a person not affected by the decision, and who has been expressly exempted from the decree. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) AJODHYA PRASAD v. KATORI 61 I. C. 484 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 29.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Application to set aside ex parte decree—Fresh vakalat unnecessary.

A pleader duly appearing in a suit is not obliged to file a fresh vakalatnama for the purpose of an application to set aside an ex parte decree in the suit. Ch. IV of the Bombay Manual of Civil Circulars does not lay down that an application to set aside an ex parte decree is not an application connected with the suit. (Macleod. C. J. and Kanga, J.) BACHUBAI JHIRAD v. IBRAHIM ISAK. 24 Bom. L. R. 744 : 69 I. C. 169 : 47 B. 11 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 207.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Appeal against decree by one defendant — Application by another—Jurisdiction to hear—Successor-in-office if can declare predecessor's order as being without jurisdiction.

A suit for partition was instituted on 20-12-1918 against several defendants, among whom the present appellant was No. 4. Two of the defendants contested the suit, and on 22-2-1919 a preliminary decree for partition was made on contest against two of the defendants and ex parte against the others. The present appellant did not appear at all in the first Court, and he was one of those against whom the decree was made ex-parte. On 17-12-1919 the first defendant alone preferred an appeal against the decree to the High Court and three days later, i. e., 20-12-1919 the appellant presented an application to the trial Court under O. 9, R. 13, C.P. Code. The application was kept pending until after the disposal of the appeal preferred by 1st defendant. The appeal in the High Court was dismissed on 5—1—1922 as having abated by reason of the omission of the appellant to implead the legal representatives of one of the deceased respondents. The record was returned to the lower Court and on 8-4-1922 a petition of compromise between the plaintiff and the appellant was presented and in accordance therewith the court ordered that the suit should be restored to its original number as against defendant No. 4 in regard to three of the items in the suit. In making this order the Court proceeded on the compromise alone without any enquiry as to the causes which prevented defendant No. 4 from appearing at the trial. In July 1922 a different Judge succeeded and on 7-7-1922 he passed an order to the effect that the order of 8-4-1922 was made without jurisdiction because there was no longer any ex parte decree over which the Court had any control; that the order was a nullity and utterly void so that no proceedings to set it aside were necessary, and that the fact of its being made on contest as against the plaintiff could not convert it into a valid order. Held that the appellant had the right to make an application under O. 9, R. 13 at the time when he did make it, although an appeal had been preferred by another defendant: that the result of the appeal could not have been to rob the Court of its jurisdiction to make an order on the application of the appellant; that the order of the High Court dismissing the appeal as having abated was not a decree in which that of the lower Court was merged; that the order of the 8th April 1922 was an order within the jurisdiction of the Judge to make whether it was legal or otherwise ; that the order must stand until proper steps were taken by the parties affected thereby to have it set aside ; and that the subsequent order of 7-7-1922 should be set aside and the suit remanded for trial.

Per Mukerjee, J.—Where a defendant against whom an ex parte decree is passed applied under O. 9, R. 13 to set it aside and at the same time prefers an appeal from it, the original Court may proceed with the application notwithstanding the pendency of the appeal. When the ex parte decree has been confirmed or otherwise disposed of on appeal, the Court which passed the ex parte decree has no longer any power to entertain the application to set it aside even though the application was made before the appeal was filed. The same principle will hold good, even if the appeal has been preferred by a party other than the defendant against whom the decree was passed ex parte provided the decree was one and indivisible. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.) KALIMUDDIN AHAMMED v. ESABAKUDDIN. 39 C. L. J. 399: 28 C. W. N. 795: 51 Cal. 715: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 830.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Decree against minor, not properly represented, is a nullity and suit can't be restored to file.

If a minor is not properly represented before the Court, a decree passed against him is in effect a nullity and the Court cannot set aside the ex parte order and re-open the suit under O. 9, R. 13. The Court possesses no inherent power to restore a suit once disposed of and to add parties to it. who were not represented at the original trial. 39 All. 8, 5 L. W. 482. Dist.; 10 L. W. 471, Foll. (Spencer, J.) ARUMUGA GOUNDAN v. PERIAVANJIAPPA GOUNDAN. 19 L. W. 233 : 34 M. L. T. 94: (1924) M. W. N. 289: 78 I. C 76: A. I R. 1924 Mad. 489 (1.): 46 M. L. J. 348.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Minor defendant — Guardian-ad litem not properly appointed—Effect of.

Where the allegation of an applicant applying under O. 9, R. 13, C.P. Code, is that he was a minor and that he was not represented by a guardian when the ex parte decree was passed an application under O. 9, R. 13, C.P. Code, is incompetent. 31 A. 572; 37 M.L.J. 399; 24 A. 383; 37 A. 179; 39 A. 8, Ref. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) SETH PARMANAND v. LAKHMICHAND. 18 N.L R. 138: 66 I. C. 460: A.I R. 1922 Nag. 249 (2). See Contra A. I. R. 1923 All. 213.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—Guardian negligent in the conduct of suit—Minor can apply to have ex parte decree set aside.

Courts will allow a minor to intervene for the purpose of setting aside an ex parte decree, provided he can show negligence on the part of his guardian in the conduct of the suit. 6 C. L. R. 69, Foll. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) BINODINI DEBI v. PARMESHWAR DAYAL

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply.

SINGH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 180: 88 I. C. 987. 6 Pat. L. T. 855 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 512.

———O. 9, R. 13—Right to apply—B. T. Act, S. 153.

S. 153 of the B. T. Act bars an application under O. 9, R. 13 or O. 47, R. 1, unless the application states the injuries sustained by the applicant on account of the decree or judgment, and he deposits in Court the amount of rent admitted by him to be due. If no rent is admitted to be due, no deposit is needed. (Jwala Prasad, J.) CHANDRA BHUR DEB v. BHOLA RAI. 2 Pat. L. T 372· 62 I. C. 80 : 1921 P. H. C C. 301.

Scope of.

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of.

There can be no ex parte proceedings against a defendant who has entered appearance and filed his defence. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) RAM CHARAN LAL v. RAGHUBIR SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 495: L. R. 4 A. 294 : 75 I. C. 387 : 45 A. 618 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 551.

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of—Ex parte decree - Setting aside—Conditions requisite.

A Court can set aside an ex parte decree only under the provisions of O. 9, R. 13, under which the applicant has to satisfy the Court that summons was not duly served or that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing. In the absence of either of these conditions, the Court has no jurisdiction to set aside an ex parte decree. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) SHEIKH KALLU v. NADIR BAKSH. 19 A L. J 907: 64 I. C 527: A. I. R. 1922 All. 441 (2).

———O. 9, R. 13——Scope of—The two parts of the rule are disjunctive.

If the Court is satisfied either that the summons was not duly served, or that the defendants were prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing the ex parte decree should be set aside. The two branches of the rule are distinctive and the defendant whatever his position may be in respect of one branch, is entitled to the benefit of the section if he satisfies the Court that he has made good his contention under the other branch. (Page, J.) BALDEODAS LOHIA v. SUBKARANDAS GOENKA. 52 Cal. 179: 88 I. C. 508: A. I. R. 1925 Cal 627 (2).)

[See on appeal 30 C.W.N. 104: A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 327.]

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of—Application for setting aside decree, dismissal for default—Second application is allowable.

An application under O. 9, R. 13 to set aside an order passed in a preceding application of the same nature lies. Proceedings under O 9, R. 13 may go on ad infinitum. 44 Cal. 950, Foll. Where an appeal against an order under O. 9, R. 13 is dismissed for non-prosecution, second application under O. 9, R. 13 to restore the first application may be allowed subject to terms. (Walmsley, J.) BHOLA NATH DE v. NRISHIMHA PROSAD ROY. 76 I. C. 533 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 552.

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of—Inherent power.

The appellate Court is not competent to set aside an ex parte decree under O. 9, R. 13 unless it was satisfied the defendant was prevented by some sufficient cause from appearing on the 4th August. A court has no power apart from the provisions of O. 9, R. 13 to set aside an ex parte decree made by itself, there being no inherent power to do so. 53 I. C. 847, Foll. (Martineau, J) JAGAN NATH v. ABDUL HAKIM. 73 I. C. 660: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 147 (1).

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons.

The expression "the court by which the decree was passed" in O. 9, R. 13, is so definite and precise as to create an exception to the general rule introduced by S. 150 of the C. P. Code. Per Krishnan, J. The R. 13 of O. 9 of the C. P. Code, is an enabling one which prescribes what is to be done in the ordinary course to get an ex parte decree set aside. It does not say that the Court that passed the decree is the only Court that can set it aside. Nor is there anything restrictive in the meaning. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) SRINIVAS RAO v. HANUMANT RAO. (1922) M. W. N 349: 31 M. L. T. 79: 46 Mad. 1 : 15 L. W. 458: 65 I. C. 727: A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 10 : 42 M. L. J. 344

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of—Appearance—What amounts to.

The word "appearance" as used in the C. P. Code has a well recognised meaning and implies that the party is present at the trial either in person or through pleader for the purpose of conducting the case. Where therefore a pleader appears and asks for an adjournment, which is refused but has no instructions to represent the client for the purpose of the suit, there is no appearance within the meaning of the Code, even though the party was present in person in Court. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.)DAMODAR DAS v. RAJ KUMAR. DAS. 69 I. C. 837: 1 P. 188: A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 485.

———O. 9, R. 13—Scope of—Inherent powers.

The Court, in dealing with an application to set aside an ex parte decree, is restricted to the provisions of R. 13 ; it cannot consider any other valid reason for disposing of the same, nor it has inherent powers in this case. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF NOTANDAS v. FIRM OF PRIBHDAYAL. 63 I. C. 131 : 15 S. L. R. 61.

Service of Summons.

———O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons—Summons is not duly served if it has no relevance to real proceeding which is contemplated.

A summons cannot be said to be duly served which is a misleading document having no relevance to the real proceeding which is contemplated and having no reference to the order ultimately passed. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) BALGOBIND v. SHEO KUMAR. 22 A. L. J. 791 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 545 : 82 I. C. 184 : 46 All. 864 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 818 (2).

———O. 9, R. 13 and O. 5, R. 20—Service of summons by registered letter—Ex parte decree.

Service by registered post is at any time a poor substitute for personal service, which is directed by the Code. It is allowed to litigants as a matter of convenience. If defendant represents to the Court that he had not been offered the postal packet, he is entitled to retrial where an ex parte decree has been passed. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SUNDER SPINNER v. MAKAN BHULA. 46 Bom. 130 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom 377 (1).

———O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons—Setting aside ex parte decree on ground that defendant was not duly served—Court should see that provisions of O. 5, R. 17, are really complied with.

Before setting aside an ex parte decree it is necessary for the Court to be satisfied that the provisions of the second part of R. 17 of O. 5 have been really complied with. It is necessary in each case for the Court to see whether in fact the serving officer has used all due and reasonable diligence with a view to finding the defendant before the process of affixing the summons to the outer door or some conspicuous part of the house is resorted to.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons.

Per Buckland, J.—It is impossible to say what is necessary by way of "reasonable and due diligence." What is due diligence in one case may not even be diligence in another case. If the process server goes to a place on a day and hour when he may expect to find the defendant there, and does all that is required under the section, and if he cannot find the defendant and he could not find him, whatever further steps he took, by reason of his absence, then it is not necessary for the process-server to repeat his attempts to effect personal service. (Sanderson, C. J. and Buckland, J.) BALDEODAS v. SHUBCHURNDAS.

30 C. W. N. 104 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 327. (On appeal from 52 C. 179.)

——— O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons—Affixture—Temporary absence of defendant—Duty of Court.

Mere temporary absence of the deft. does not justify the serving officer in affixing a copy of the summons on the door of his house. Before that can be done all due and reasonable diligence to find him must be used, and where it cannot be said that this was done, service by affixture is improper. (Scott-Smith, J.) NIHALA v. KHAZAN SINGH. 73 I. C. 34 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 233. (But see 42 M. L. J 422.)

——— O. 9. R. 13—Service of summons—Defendant having refused ex parte summons, decree cannot be set aside.

An ex parte decree can only be set aside if the defendant satisfies the Court that he was not duly served or that he was prevented by some sufficient cause from appearing. This can have no application where it is found that the defendant refused the summons. In such a case the Court has no power, apart from the provisions of Order 9, rule 13, to set aside an ex parte decree passed by itself. 26 Mad. 597 held overruled by 43 Mad. 94 Foll. (Baker, J.C.) VISHWANATH v. VAIJNATH. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 356.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons.

It is not legally necessary to give the defendant notice of an application by the plaintiff for a final decree in a mortgage suit. The summons mentioned in Rule 13 of Order 9 is the first summons issued to the defendant giving him notice of the suit filed and the failure to appear mentioned in the same rules means failure to appear at any time during the suit and not absence at some of the hearings, even if they are all the hearings after the first at which the plaintiff may have made a number of applications of various sorts. That rule does not therefore apply to the case of a defendant who is merely not served with notice of some application made in the course of the suit. (Batten, J.C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) PANJAB RAO v. BALIRAM. 69 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 13.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Service of summons—Burden of proving want of due service is on applicant.

Order 9 Rule 13 requires the applicant to satisfy that the summons was not "duly served" and the onus is therefore upon the applicant. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) NAGESHWAR BUX RAI v. BISESHWAR DAYAL SINGH. 3 P. 236 : 2 P. L. R. 58 : 78 I.C. 889 : 5 P. L. T. 576 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 446.

Sufficient Cause.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Sufficient cause—Date not fixed for defendant's appearance.

If no date has been fixed for the appearance of the deft. within O. 5, R. 1, the Court cannot dismiss the suit under O. 9, R. 13. A plff.'s failure to appear on a date fixed for him to attend and to find out what date has been fixed for the appearance of the deft. does not enable the Court to dismiss a suit for default. The Court should in such cases fix a date for the appearance of the deft. and even then if the plff. does not appear, the Court can dismiss the suit. (Scott-Smith, J.) INDER SINGH v. SHERU.

60 I. C. 475 : 22 P. W. R. 1921.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Sufficient cause for setting aside ex parte decree—Absence of practitioner.

The absence of a pleader when the case was called on for hearing may not be a ground for setting aside the ex parte decree. (Odgers, J.) THIRUMALACHARIAR v. ATHIMOOLA KARAYALAR. 22 L.W. 695.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Sufficient cause.

On an application to set aside an ex parte decree the question to be considered is whether the defendant honestly intended to be present at the hearing of the suit and did his best to do so. Once the court is satisfied that he did try to be present in court in time and would have got there in time but for the intervention of an accident for which he was in no way responsible, it is the duty of the court to set aside the ex parte decree, mulcting in proper cases, the defendant in costs. The fact that by some human possibility the defendant could have been present in time does not affect his right to have the ex parte decree set aside. (Schwabe and Wallace, J.) ARUNACHELLA AIYAR v. SUBARAMIAH.

46 Mad. 60 : 31 M. L. T. 257 : 16 L. W. 583 : (1922) M. W. N. 600 : 68 I. C. 971 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 63 : 43 M. L. J. 632.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Sufficient cause—Setting aside, conditional on paying costs—Legality of—Facts to be proved.

Before a court sets aside an ex parte order, it must come to a finding whether the facts on which the application is based are true or not. An order setting aside an ex parte decree conditional on the petitioner paying costs within a certain time is not proper. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SANT BAKHSH v. OUDH RAM. 90 I. C. 745.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Sufficient cause—Wrong date given by Small Cause Court Bench Clerk—Ex-parte decree—Application to set aside decree refused—Order set aside in revision.

Where the Small Cause Court Bench clerk gave a wrong date to the petitioner (defendant) as that on which the case was fixed for hearing and an ex parte decree was passed in consequence. Held, that the procedure in the Small Cause Court under which the clerk fixed date for cases which are ripe for hearing lends itself to such a misunderstanding as was alleged by petitioner and the ex parte decree should have been set aside and the High Court accordingly set aside the decree and ordered a re-hearing. (Heald, J.) WAZIR CHAND v. B. M. BHARADWAZA.

3 Bur. L. J. 34 · A. I. R. 1924 Ran. 271.

Suit to set aside.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside—Failure of one plaintiff to file affidavit of documents—Ex parte decree on counter-claim passed against all plaintiffs—Decree against other plaintiffs is nullity and obtaining of it is fraud on Court justifying maintainability of a suit to set it aside though application under r. 13 be barred.

Plaintiff filed a suit in which defendant put in a counter-claim against plaintiff as well as other persons, alleged partners of plaintiff. Plaintiff failed to obey an order made in the suit to file his affidavit of documents, whereupon defendant applied for an order that in default of the affidavit, the plaintiffs' suit should be dismissed and that he should be held entitled to an ex parte decree on his counter-claim not only against plaintiff but against the other defendants to the counter-claim, who were not in default ; the ex parte decree was thus passed. Held that there was a fraud on Court and the other non-defaulting parties were entitled to have the ex parte decree set aside. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) DEVJI PADAMSEY v. THOMMADRA ERIKALAPPA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set as de.

27 Bom. L. R. 1494 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 63.

——— O. 9, R. 13 and S. 11—Suit to set aside—Dismissal of application—Matters in subsequent suit to set aside decree outside scope of R. 13—Non-service of summons is not res judicata.

Where the subsequent suit to set aside an ex parte decree contained matters which could not have been raised in an application under O. 9, R. 13, which had been dismissed, Held, that the question of non-service of summons was not precluded by res judicata in the subsequent suit. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NALINI KANTA MUKHERJI v. HURI NIKARI.

41 C. L. J. 281 : 86 I. C. 779 : 29 C. W. N. 325 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 663.

———O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Dismissal—Subsequent suit to set aside decree on the ground of fraud—If maintainable.

Defendants obtained an ex parte decree in a money suit against plaintiff. Subsequently the plaintiff applied under O. 9, R. 13, C. P. Code, to set aside the decree on the ground that he had been wrongly informed by his mukhtear of the date when the hearing was to take place. The Court disbelieved the plaintiff's case and dismissed the application. Subsequently plaintiff brought a suit against the defendant on the ground of fraud namely that the defendant and the plaintiff's mukhtear had fraudulently conspired to keep the true date of hearing from the plaintiff and the suit was therefore decreed ex parte. Held, that the matter having been the subject of decision in the previous proceeding to set aside the ex parte decree, could not be re-opened again in the suit. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MAHABIR PRASAD CHOUDHURY v. CHHEDI SINGH. 1924 P. H. C. C. 155 : 81 I. C. 1035 : A. I. R 1924 Pat. 769.

———O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside—Application to set aside ex parte decree does not bar suit to set aside decree for fraud.

An infructuous application to set aside an ex parte decree does not in any way bar a subsequent suit to have the decree set aside on the ground of fraud such as by non-service of summons. The questions arising in such a suit are not the same as what arises on an application under O. 9, R. 13. The issues are different and the prior decision is not res judicata. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHARANI JANKI KUER v. BABU THAKUR RAI. 5 Pat. L. T. 37 : 75 I. C. 343 (2) : 1923 P. H. C. C. 336 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 241.

———O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside ex parte decree.

Though a suit does not lie to set aside a decree and a sale in execution of such decree on the ground that none of the processes in the suit or in execution was served upon the plaintiff, such a suit is maintainable if the allegations in the plaint amount to an attack, not on the regularity or sufficiency of the service of summons or the proceedings, but on the whole suit in which the ex parte decree was obtained as being a fraud from beginning to end. 29 Cal. 395 Foll. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SATDEO NARAIN v. RAMAYAN TEWARI. 2 P. 335 : 4 P. L. T. 147 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 242 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 10, R. 1.

———O. 9 R. 13—Suit to set aside.

Plaintiff obtained an ex parte decree and got defendant's property sold under the decree. Defendant applied under R. 13 to set aside the decree, on the ground of defective service of summons but the Court found against him and dismissed the application. He then sued to set aside the decree on the ground of fraud and perjured evidence. Held, that both the questions had been raised and decided in the previous litigation and so the suit was barred. (Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) JANGAL CHAUDHARI v. LALJIT RASBAN. 1 Pat. L T. 735 : 6 Pat. L. J. 1 : 60 I. C. 124 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 1 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 3.

———O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside—No application made—Suit on ground of fraud is not barred.

A suit will lie to set aside an ex parte decree impeached on the ground of fraud, although application has not been made to have that decree set aside. (Godfrey, J.) ABDULLA RAHMAN AUDY v. SYED ALABI. 3 Rang. 65 : 86 I. C. 537 : 4 Bur. L. J. 18 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 200.

——— O. 9, R. 13—Suit to set aside—When lies—Fraud

Where plaintiff alleged that defendant purposely served summons on a wrong person and did not give plaintiff's father's name though he knew it and impleaded plaintiff as a partner of a firm, though he knew that he was not and got an ex parte decree, held, that a separate suit will lie to set aside the ex parte decree. (Madgaonker, A. J. C.) SHIRAM v. DATARAM MUNSHIRAM. 16 S. L. R. 109 : 70 I. C. 852 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 20.

———O. 10, R. 1 and S. 115—Failure to examine to ascertain real points in dispute justifies interference in revision.

The powers which O. 10 of the C. P. Code vest in the Civil Courts to examine the parties are mainly intended to draw out by viva voce examination the real points in controversy between them and thus prevent the real matter in dispute remaining undecided or left out from consideration. There are other enabling provisions also in Orders 11 and 12 of the C. P. Code which the parties can avail themselves of and thus reduce the points of dispute between them and lessen the number of issues to be framed in the case. Where the Court fails to perform this duty, the High Court will interfere in revision. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALAJI VINAYAK BUTE v. VITHOBA. 79 I. C. 614 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 191.

———O. 10, R. 1—Pleadings not clear—Duty of Court.

The proper way of clearing up the pleadings after the plaint and written statement have been filed is that prescribed by O. 10, R. 1, C. P. Code, the provisions of which are peremptory. The Court must, under that rule, at the first hearing of the suit, ascertain from each party or his pleader whether he admits or denies the allegations of fact made by the opposite party except where such admissions or denials are already contained in the written pleadings and must record such admissions or denials. A written replication is not a substitute for this oral examination of the parties and their pleaders and it is of the utmost importance for the purpose of doing justice between the parties that this oral examination should be duly and carefully carried out by the court. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) ANJUMAN-UN-NISSA v. ASHIQ ALI. 8 O. L. J. 439 : 66 I. C. 222 : 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 65 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 178.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 10, R. 4.

——O. 10, R. 4—Scope of.

O. 10, R. 4 is a self-contained Code for cases where a party is ordered to attend because the Court desires to have his evidence. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) KANDOTH PUTHIYADOTH CHENGARU CHANDU v. PUTHIYADOTH CHENGARA RAMAN NAIR. (1921) M. W. N. 390 : 63 I. C. 961 : 14 L. W 15.

——O. 11, R 2—Refusal to issue interrogatories —No revision.

A refusal to issue interrogatories for the examination of witnesses is not a ground for revision. (Scott-Smith, J.) ROOP CHAND AND MELA RAM v. THE CHURCH MISSIONARY TRUST ASSOCIATION. 69 I. C. 417 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 282 (2).

——O 11, Rr.12 and 14—Documents—Production in Court—Admission in evidence.

A document directed to be produced under O. 11, Rr. 12 and 14, does not ipso facto become evidence in the case. It must be proved by witnesses and then marked as an exhibit on the side of the party relying on it. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) JUGAL-KISHORE v. ATTRA. 4 Lah. L J. 385.

——O. 11, Rr. 12 and 14—Order for production of documents must follow an order as to—Affidavit of documents—Procedure.

An order for production of documents under O. 11, R. 14, C. P. Code must follow an order as to affidavit of documents under O. 11, R. 12, C. P. Code. In the absence of an order compelling defendants to file an affidavit of documents, the Court cannot on the plaintiff's application compel the defendants to produce certain account books alleged to be with them. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BAIDYANATH v. BHOLA-NATH ROY. 1 Pat. L. R 233 : 76 I. C. 991 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 143 : A. I. R 1923 Pat. 337.

——O. 11, Rr 14, 18 and 21—Order of production --Effect of non-compliance—Defence cannot be struck off —Powers of Court how and when to be exercised.

The non-compliance with an order under O. 11, R 14 for the production of account books does not warrant the striking off the defence of the party which is guilty of the non-compliance of the order. The grounds on which the discretion is given to a court for striking off the defence are given in O. 11, R. 21. An order under O. 11, R. 21 can be passed only after the court has directed discovery under O.11, R. 12 or inspection of documents under O. 11, R. 18. A strict compliance with the provisions of these later is necessary in every case before defence is struck off. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) THE LYALPUR SUGAR MILLS & CO. v. THE RAMCHANDRA GUR SAHAI COTTON MILLS & CO. 44 All. 565 : 20 A. L. J. 422 : L R. 2 A. 317 : 67 I. C. 73 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 139 : A. I. R. 1922 All 235.

——O. 11, R. 14—Inspection of adversary's documents—Order permitting— Propriety— Condition— Notice to opposite party—Necessity—Partnership— Declaration of right as partner and taking of partnership accounts—Suit for—Inspection by plaintiff of alleged partnership accounts—Order permitting before commencement of trial—Inspection by employee in defendant's firm who had been won over by plaintiff— Revision— Interlocutory orders of Court below—Interference with--Conditions.

Inspection by a party of his adversary's documents is not a matter of routine, but is to be permitted or refused only after a judicial decision not only as to the right to inspection itself but with reference also to the stage of the case at which such right is to be permitted and the right must be exercised so as to result in as little harm as possible to parties who are entitled to have the protection of the court in carrying on their lawful pursuits. In a suit in which the two main contentions were (1) whether plaintiff was really a partner in 1st defendant's firm and trade and (2) whether he was therefore entitled to a taking of the partnership accounts, the defendant filed various lists of documents and produced various documents with an affidavit praying that the court should not allow inspection of any document by plaintiff without specific orders and without notice to him. Before the trial of the suit had begun the Court made an order without notice to the defendant allowing the plaintiff to inspect a number of documents produced by the defendant. Held in revision against the order of the Court below, that plff. could not be allowed unless and until he had established that he was a partner, to inspect any document which did not bear on the question of partnership, and that as regards documents which did bear upon it the court below must hear the defendant's objection before it passed its order. Following on the order referred to above, the court below passed a further order permitting M, who had obtained a power of attorney from plaintiff, to inspect all the defendant's documents. M was employed in the defendant's firm for at least 20 years writing up and keeping the firm's accounts ; he had left defendant and he actively reverted to plaintiff's side in the dispute between plaintiff and defendant ; and he actively supported plaintiff and was ill-disposed towards defendant. M was employed by the plaintiff for the purposes of inspection because of his exclusive and intimate acquaintance with the firm's business. Held, in revision against the said order, that unless and until the plaintiff established his plea of partnership, inspection on his behalf by M could not be permitted, and that such inspection as the lower court permitted must be by some one else There would be no objection to an inspection by M. after plaintiff established his plea of partnership. Interference by the Court in revision with proceedings of the lower Court during the pendency of a suit are to be deprecated unless strong reasons are made out. Interference in the present case was based partly on the ground that the lower Court had not properly understood the provisions of O. 11, R. 14, C. P. Code, and partly on the ground that the result of the orders of the Court below might be wholly unnecessary and irremediable damage to the defendant's business interests. (Wallace J.) RAMACHARI v. KRISHNAMACHARI. 20 L.W.533: (1924) M.W.N. 863:47 Mad. 934: 80 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 846 : 47 M. L. J. 460.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 11, R. 18.

——O. 11, Rr. 14 and 21—Order for production of documents—Non-compliance with—Dismissal of suit.

O. 11, R. 21 of the C. P. Code does not justify the dismissal of a suit for non-compliance with an order under O. 11 R. 14, C. P. Code, for production of documents. 65 I. C. 661 diss. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) SITHAMALLI SUBBAYYAR v. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR. 19 L. W. 355 : 34 M. L. T. 23 : 77 I. C. 766 : (1924) M. W. N. 340 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 582 : 46 M. L. J. 350.

——O. 11, Rr. 15 and 18—Immateriat—Documents—Inspection of, before filing written statement.

Where the defendant did not file written statement but took out a summons asking the plaintiff to give inspection of documents casually referred to in the plaint but not material to the case the order about the summons was discharged. (Macleod, C. J.) RAPAPORT v. KALLIANJI. 23 Bom. L. R. 1255 : 66 I. C. 8 : 46 B. 866 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 73.

——O. 11, Rr. 18 and 21—Order of inspection— When to grant.

Under O. 11, R. 18 when a party applies to inspect documents in the pleadings or in a previous affidavit of documents and make an affidavit for that purpose the Court ought not to make an order for inspection without giving the other side an opportunity of replying to the affidavit. In such a case, dismissal of suit for non-compliance with the terms of the order is not proper. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) FIRM OF KEDAR NATH DURGA PRASAD v. FIRM OF BISHWANATH LAKHMICHAND. L. R. 5 A. 225 : 22 A. L. J. 299 : 46 A. 417 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 510.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 11, R. 18.

——— O. 11, R. 18—Strict compliance with provisions of the rule is necessary before an order for inspection of documents is passed. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) LYALPUR SUGAR MILLS & CO. v. RAMCHANDRA GURSAHAI COTTON MILLS & CO.
20 A. L. J. 422 : 67 I. C. 73 : 44 A. 565 : L. R. 3 A. 317 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 139 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 235.

——— O 11, R. 21—Non-compliance with orders for discovery or inspection does not justify a Trial Court to strike off the defence of the party so ordered. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) LYALPUR SUGAR MILLS & CO. v. RAMCHANDRA GURSAHAI COTTON MILLS & CO. 20 A. L. J. 422 : 44 A. 565 : L. R. 3 A. 317 : 67 I.C. 73 : 4 U. P. L R. (A.) 139 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 235.

——— O. 11, R. 21—Documents—Striking off defence—Propriety—Failure to file affidavit of.

A defendant is liable to have his defence struck out only when an order of the Court has not been obeyed; and even then the Court should direct that the defendant be called upon to show cause why his defence should not be struck out. The penalty will be imposed, if it can be shown that the non-compliance with the order of the Court is due to wilful default. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) DEVAKARAN BHOLARAM v. SANGIDAS JESIRAM.
89 I. C. 215 : 27 Bom. L. R. 694 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 386.

——— O. 11, R. 21—Rule contemplates two orders first, for answering to interrogatories or for inspection and secondly, upon failure to comply with the first, of dismissal of suit—Dismissal should be ordered only when Court is satisfied that plaintiff avoids fair discovery.

The terms of O. 11, R. 21 contemplate two orders being made. First, an order for the answer to the interrogatories or for the discovery or inspection of documents, as the case may be, within a specified time and, secondly, upon the failure to comply with such an order, a further order dismissing the suit. It is desirable that this course should ordinarily be followed, and it should be noted that an order dismissing the suit should not be made unless the Court is satisfied that the plaintiff is endeavouring to avoid giving a fair and proper discovery. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) JAGANNATH MOTILAL v. BALA PRASAD ARJUNDAS. 78 I. C. 859 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 66.

——— O. 11, R. 21—Dismissal of suit under—Setting aside dismissal under O. 9, R. 9 wrong—Remedy by appeal or review.

Where a case was fixed for the plaintiff's compliance with the direction of the Court under O. 11, R. 12, C. P. Code, and the suit dismissed for their default under O. 11, R. 21, C. P. Code. Held, that such a dismissal cannot be set aside by an application under O. 9, R. 9. Held, further, that such an order is a decree and is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (f), C. P. Code, and the plaintiff's remedy is either by way of appeal or perhaps by way of review. (Godfrey, J.) MAUNG KHANT GYI v. MA THET HNIN.
3 Rang. 63 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 218.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 13, R. 1.

——— O. 12, R. 1—Admissions must be taken as a whole.

Admissions must be taken as a whole or not at all. All the words of the admission must be taken even if they operate in his favour. (Napier and Odgers, JJ.) SREEDHARAM VALIA RAJAH v. NARAYANA.
(1921) M. W. N. 639 : 71 I. C. 270 : 41 M. L. J. 525.

——— O. 12, R. 6—Judgment on admissions—When to be passed.

Final judgment ought not to be passed upon admissions in a pleading or an affidavit unless the admissions are clear and unequivocal. It must further be remembered that the Court can pass judgments on admissions if it thinks fit and its exercise cannot be claimed as a matter of right. 23 C. W. N. 1017, Foll. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) GALSTAUN v. E. D. SASSOON & CO., LTD. 27 C. W. N. 783 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 190.

——— O. 12, R. 6—Admissions—Pleadings—How to construe.

In construing admissions in a pleading a Court ought to look to the plaint and the pleadings as a whole. The rule is that if a party makes a qualified statement, it cannot be used against him apart from the qualification. (Prideaux and Kinkhede, A. J.Cs.) KRISHNABAI v. DHONDO RAMCHANDRA. 20 N. L. R. 63 : 78 I. C. 542 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 129.

——— O. 12, R. 6—The rule is permissive.

Obiter.—O. 12, R. 6 is merely permissive ; upon an application under the rule, the Court may make such order or give such judgment as the Court may think just. The Court is not bound to pass an immediate judgment. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) S. P. R. M. FIRM v. MAUNG PO KYA. 1 R. 580 : 77 I. C. 332 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 144.

——— O. 12, R. 6—Admission can't be ordinarily withdrawn in appeal if treated as basis of judgment.

It is only in special circumstances that a consent, which formed the foundation of the judgment appealed from, is in the appeal Court to be treated open to withdrawal. (Lord Blanesburgh.) DIWAN CHAND KIRPA RAM & CO. v. WELD & CO.
(1925) M. W. N. 459 : 88 I. C. 54 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 150 (P. C.).

——— O. 13, R. 1—Account books not produced in proper time—Power of Court to receive.

O. 13, R. 1, C. P. Code, does not exclude the discretion of the Court to receive any documentary evidence at any subsequent stage. The appellate Court should not interfere with the discretion of the Court below unless it has been capriciously exercised. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RANI PRAYAG KUMARI v. SIVA PRASAD. 42 C. L. J. 280 at 376.

——— O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2—Documents produced by defendant after settlement of issues but at early stage of suit—Allegation in affidavit that documents could not be found earlier—No counter-affidavit by plaintiff—Summary rejection is improper and is revisable by High Court—Madras Civil Rules of Practice, R. 64.

After issues had been settled, but at an early stage of the trial of the suit, the defendant applied to the Court to receive certain documents produced by him in evidence alleged in an affidavit in support of the petition that he was unable to find the documents earlier. There was no counter-affidavit by the plaintiff. The Judge summarily rejected the application on the ground that the reasons given for the documents not having been produced earlier could not be accepted. Held, that the order was improper and was liable to be set aside in revision by the High Court. R. 64 of the Civil Rules of Practice made by the Madras High Court indicates that the documents should be called for on some date fixed by the Court for such documents being produced and left in the Court. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) CHIDAMBARA CHETTIAR v. PARVATHI ACHI. 87 I. C 351 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 744.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 13, R. 1.

——O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2—Documents filed at late stage—Admissibility—Power of Court.

Under O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2, C.P. Code, unlike the corresponding provisions of S. 138 of the old Code, there is an absolute prohibition of the reception of documents not produced at the first hearing, unless good cause is shown for their non-production at that stage. The Court may, however, admit the evidence in the interests of justice, if the Court is of opinion that the reception of the evidence will enable the person tendering it to win a case, which he will otherwise lose and that the loss on the case would be an excessive penalty for failure to produce the evidence in time. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHANKAR LAL v. MAHBUB SHAW. 25 O. C. 286 : 70 I. C. 278 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 59.

——O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2—Filing of documents—Late stage—Admission in evidence.

O. 13, R. 1, C. P. Code, makes it obligatory on the parties to produce all their documentary evidence at the first hearing of the suit. O. 13, R. 2 provides that no documentary evidence in the possession or power of any party which should have been but has not been produced in accordance with O. 13, R. 1, C. P. Code, shall be received at any subsequent stage of the proceedings unless good cause is shown to the satisfaction of the Court for the non-production thereof. But the fact that a document sought to be admitted in evidence at a late stage is a public document is a good cause for relaxing the stringency of the rule. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MT. TAIBUNNISSA BEGAM v. JAGDIP PANDEY. 2 Pat. L. R. 1 : 78 I. C. 489 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 517.

——O. 13, Rr. 1 and 2—Production of documents at late stage—Admission—Discretion of Court.

Though it is left to the discretion of the trial court to admit in evidence documents produced at a late stage, still, in such matters of procedure, the Court should lean to an interpretation which advance justice, rather than to a contrary interpretation. Where certain documents had been exhibited in a case under O. 21, R. 100, C. P. Code, between the parties to the present litigation and there was, therefore, no ground for supposing that they had been fabricated and they evidently had an important bearing on the question at issue in the trial, Held, that the Court below erred in the exercise of its discretion in rejecting these documents. (Ross, J.) JAGDIP PANDEY v. MT. TAIBUNNISSA. 72 I. C. 397 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 208.

——O. 13, R. 4—Documentary evidence—How to be exhibited in a suit—Defect in procedure.

Under O. 13, R. 4, C. P. Code it is provided that a presiding Judge shall endorse with his own hand a statement that a document proved or admitted in evidence was proved against or admitted by the person against whom it was used. Unless such procedure is followed, the documentary evidence for the Secretary of State as well as for the objector cannot be regarded as having been legally brought on the record. (Broadway and Fforde, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. SHRIMATI SARLA DEVI. 5 Lah. 227 : 79 I. C. 74 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 548.

——O. 14, Rr 1 and 3—Court cannot raise points not raised by parties.

The Courts should confine themselves to the dispute between the parties and not go out of their way to raise fancy points, which are not raised by the parties themselves. (Walsh, J.) LALA LACHMAN v. MAJJU.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 14, R. 2.

A. I. R. 1923 All. 167.

——O. 14, R. 1—Framing of issues.

An issue may be framed not merely by reference to the pleadings but also by reference to other matters. When an issue is amended, the trial is not in any way vitiated so long as the parties are not prejudiced. (Greaves and Mukerjee, JJ.) UMESH NARAIN CHOWDHURY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 87 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1157.

——O. 14, R. 1—Issues—None arise where no averment or denial.

In the absence of averment in plaint and denial in written pleas, no issues arose as to whether the land was ancestral or self-acquired and it cannot be said that the trial Court was in error in not framing an issue which did not arise on the pleadings. (Scott-Smith, J.) FATEH MAHOMED v. IMAM-UD-DIN. 68 I. C. 106 : 2 Lah. L. J. 188.

——O. 14, R. 1—Framing of issues—Duty of Court—Evidence.

The Court should frame proper issues arising from the pleadings in the case, and the litigant should produce evidence in respect of issues framed but he cannot be expected to produce evidence in respect of points not covered by the issues. (Chevis, J.) KASTURI MAL v. LAJJA RAM. 60 I. C. 751.

——O. 14, R. 1—Issues—Framing of.

Issues are framed not only with reference to the pleadings but also with reference to statements made at the time they are framed. (Krishnan, J.) DEVARAJULU NAIDU v. KONDAMMAL. 20 L. W. 754 : 89 I. C. 929 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 427.

——O. 14, R. 1—Issues should be exact.

It is hard if not impossible to decide any case properly unless the issues are carefully framed to cover only the points of difference between the parties and to cover each point once only. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SALEH MAHOMED v. RAMRATTAN TEWARI. 78 I. C. 1015 : A.I.R. 1924 Nag. 156.

——O. 14, R. 1—Issues—Scope of—Power of Court.

O. 14, C. P. Code, does not limit the Court framing issues to the matters set out in the pleadings. (Burn, J. M.) KAMTA SIROMAN PRASAD SINGH v. BIPAT KURMI. L. R. 5 O. 121.

——O. 14, R. 2—Trial—Discovery—Order for—Hearing of preliminary issues.

Where it is necessary before an order for discovery can be made that certain questions in suit should first be decided, the proper order is that the suit should be set down for the settlement of issues. The Judge would then be in a position to decide which of the issues were necessary to be determined before the question of inspection or discovery could be decided. The same procedure should be followed when one party suggested thatthe suit could be decided on the hearing of a preliminary issue. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) THE EAGLE STAR AND BRITISH DOMINIONS INSURANCE CO. v. DINANATH. 47 Bom. 509 : 25 Bom. L. R. 164 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 249.

——O. 14, R. 2 and O. 15, R. 3 (1)—Preliminary issues of law—Trial on—Procedure.

The power to order trial on preliminary issues is contained in O. 14, R. 2, and O. 15, R. 3 (1), C. P. Code. O. 14, R. 2, C. P. Code, clearly applies, when on settlement of issues the Court thinks there are issues of law upon which the case of some part thereof may be disposed of ; then those issues are to be tried first and settlement of issues of fact may be postponed. O. 15, R. 3 (1), C. P. Code, applies after issues have been framed and allows the Court to determine issues of law. if satisfied that no further argument or evidence than the parties can at once adduce is required upon such of the issues as may be sufficient for the decision of the suit. There is no reason to confine the power of the Court to try certain issues as issues of law to the date of first hearing. 20 C. L. J. 426 ; 19 C. W. N. 1193, Ref. (Odgers, J.) RAMAKRISHNA PILLAI v. KRISHNASWAMI PILLAI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 14, R. 2.

15 L. W. 667 : (1922) M. W. N. 521 : 68 I. C. 167 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321.

——O. 14, R. 2 Issues of fact—Decision on, cannot be postponed.

O.14, R. 2 of the Code gives the Court power where issues both of fact and of law arise in the same suit to postpone the settlement of the issues of fact until after the issues of law have been determined, if the Court is of opinion that the case or any part of it may be disposed of on the issues of law at first. There is no such power to separate the issues of fact. Per Mullick, J.—There is no authority under the Code for postponing the trial of an issue of fact except on the ground of embarrassment. A plaintiff is entitled to a trial of the issues of fact which he raises and the Court has no authority to refuse to try these issues if the suit is properly framed. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) BHIMNATH v. JAGARNATH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 294 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 674.

——O 14, R. 3—Issues, framing of.

Issues may be framed from other materials than the pleadings as contained in the plaint. (Fremantle, J. M.) BABU v. ABDUL HUSSAIN.

3 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 94 (2).

——O. 14, Rr. 3 and 5—Issue may be framed on other matters th n pleadings—Amendment of issue not prejudicing any party—Trial upon such amended issue cannot be declared improper.

An issue may be framed not merely by reference to the pleadings but also by reference to other matters and so long as any amendment that is made does not prejudice the parties it cannot be said that the trial held upon the issue amended in that way was not a proper trial. (Greaves and Mukerjee, JJ.) UMESH NARAIN v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1157.

——O. 14, R. 3—Court's duty.

It is the duty of the Court primarily to frame necessary issues but the parties are entitled to be heard. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) M. KORU KUTTY v. VALIKATHODIYIL AHAMMAD.

78 I. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 169.

——O. 14, R. 4—Document produced at the instance of other party—Evidence.

A document produced by a party under O. 14, R. 4 at the instance of his adversary need not be used in evidence all at once under S. 163, Evidence Act. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) TRIMBAK v. SHRI SITARAM SANSTHAN. 89 I. C. 1016.

——O. 14, R. 5—Court can frame additional issues—But it should not go outside the statements of parties—Irregularity of framing additional issues at the end of trial is not cured by giving the parties opportunity to adduce additional evidence.

A Court has under R. 5 power to frame additional issues. But the additional issues authorised by this rule are such as may be necessary for determining the matters in controversy between the parties and that is a clear indication that it was not the intention of the legislature that the Judge should travel outside the actual averments and counter-averments of the parties. What is to be considered is the case made by a party and not the case as "moulded by the astuteness of the Judge." Where the additional issues are framed after the whole trial has been finished and the case is reserved merely for judgment, held, that the mere fact that the parties were given an opportunity of adducing additional evidence in regard to the further issues does not suffice to validate a procedure opposed to the law. 11 Bom. 160 (Notes) ; A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 83, Foll. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) DODBASAPPA DHARMAPPA v. PRADHANAPPA VENKAPPA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 16, R. 1.

27 Bom. L. R. 1318 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 33.

——O. 14, R. 5—Special issue—Decision—S. 151.

Where no direct issue upon a point was taken in the pleadings nor was the issue raised at the trial but the trial Judge, after the evidence had been taken and after the arguments were concluded, framed a special issue and decided the case upon it, held, that this is permissible and, even had there been no such express provision in the Code, every Court trying civil causes has inherent jurisdiction to take cognizance of questions which cut at the root of the subject-matter of controversy between the parties. 45 Cal. 748, Ref. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BAIJNATH SINGH v. BRIJRAJ KUAR. 2 P. 52 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 515.

——O. 15, R. 3—Scope of.

The application of this rule is not confined to the date of first hearing. (Odgers, J.) S. RAMAKRISHNA PILLAI v. KRISHNASWAMI PILLAI.

15 L. W. 667 : (1922) M. W. N. 521 : 68 I. C. 167 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321.

——O. 16, R. 1—Plaintiff applying for summons to witnesses eleven days prior to hearing—Court is bound to issue summons.

Where the plaintiff applied for summonses to witnesses eleven days prior to the date fixed for hearing and the Court dismissed the application, held, the dismissal was wrong. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) SAIBAI GOVIND LAVLEKAR v. BALKRISHNA PANDURANG. 87 I. C. 702 : 27 Bom. L. R. 471 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 368.

——O. 16, R. 1—Non-service of summons is not itself proof of fraud—Fraud—Non-service of summons.

Mere non-service of summons in ordinary cases is not sufficient to constitute fraud, but the non-service, taken together with other circumstances, may constitute fraud. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) PRAYAG KUMARI DEBI v. SIVA PRASAD SINGH.

42 C. L. J. 280 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1.

——O. 16, R. 1—Court cannot refuse to issue summons except in case of manifest abuse of procedure.

The Court has, except in cases of manifest abuse of procedure, no discretion to refuse an application for summons. The circumstance that the application was made at a late stage is no ground for refusing it though the Court may, when the case is heard, refuse to adjourn the hearing. 9 Bom. 308 and 24 W. R. 290, Foll. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) KANDRU HALDAR v. TARAPRASANNA.

87 I. C. 355 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 364 (1).

——O. 16, R. 1—Documents, although not mentioned in summons to be produced, should be admitted—Witness is not bound to produce a document before he is put in witness box.

It is open to a witness to produce at the hearing documents which are not referred to in the summons requiring him to give evidence, and these documents are admissible in evidence on behalf of the party calling the witness, although they may not be mentioned in the summons addressed to the witness. There is no obligation on a witness to file the documents in his possession before he is put in the witness box, nor is there an obligation on the party summoning the witness to procure this filing ; for clearly he cannot compe the witness to file beforehand the documents. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) BAI KUNTHA NATH v. UMA NATH. 88 I. C. 498 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1149.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 16, R. 1.

——O. 16, R. 1—Court is bound to issue summonses unless the application is not bona fide.

So long as the application for issue of summonses is made after the institution of the suit and before its final disposal, the Court is bound to issue summonses. The only case in which the Court has power to refuse to issue summonses is where the application is not made bona fide, and in such a case the Court acts in the exercise of its inherent power to prevent the abuse of its own process. 15 B. 86 ; 28 M. 28, Foll. (M. N. Mukerji, J.) PANCHKARI MITRA v. PANCHKARI SAHA. 39 C. L. J. 598 : 84 I. C. 9 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 971.

——O. 16, R. 1—Adjournment cannot be refused on ground that witnesses would not be able to prove the facts in issue.

Once a Court holds that a party is not to blame for non-attendance of his witnesses he ought to be given an opportunity of procuring the attendance of such witnesses, and the case cannot be decided on the ground that the witnesses, if produced, would not have supported the case of the party producing them. (Campbell, J.) MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN v. RADHA KISHAN. 26 Punj. L. R. 181 : 86 I. C. 1012 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 572.

——O. 16 R. 1—Witnesses not present owing to non-service of summons—Court ought to issue fresh summonses.

Where certain witnesses are not present on the date of hearing owing to non-service of summonses upon them without fault of a party the Court ought to issue fresh summonses and it is not justified in depriving the party who wishes to produce them of his right to have the evidence of those witnesses taken. (Abdul Raoof and Addison, JJ.) GOPI CHAND v. KIRPA RAM. 26 Punj. L. R. 630 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 26.

——O. 16, R. 1—Court has no power to refuse to summon witnesses when the application to issue summons is too late ; it may refuse to adjourn the case.

A party is entitled as of right to summonses to witnesses. So long as an application is made after the institution of the suit, the Court is bound to issue the summons. If the application is made at so late a stage of the proceedings that the witnesses cannot be present, the Court may refuse to adjourn the case for their attendance but it has no power to refuse to issue summonses. 16 All. 218 ; 9 Bom. 308, Foll. (Moti Sagar, J.) SARDAR LAL v. MOHAR SINGH. 79 I. C. 143 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 67.

——O 16, R. 1—Duty of Court—Summoning of witnesses.

Under O. 16, R. 1 a party has an absolute right to summon witnesses and so long as he pays the necessary expenses, to insist that their attendance shall be enforced. The only case in which the Court has power to refuse to issue summons is, where the application is not made bona fide or where in the exercise of its inherent powers to prevent the abuse of its own process it is necessary to refuse to issue the summons. The fact that whether the party originally undertook to bring the witnesses or applied late for issue of summons does not affect the duty of the Court. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) PRITAM SINGH v. SOBHA SINGH. 75 I. C. 866 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 647.

——O. 16, R, 1—Witnesses—Court need not adjourn case to enable party to procure.

Though the Court is bound to summon witnesses on an application therefor by a party, it is not bound to adjourn the hearing to procure the attendance of the witnesses. if the party is not prompt and applies late. (Raoof, J.) BALMOKAND v. JAGAT RAM. 63 I. C. 735 (Lah).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 16, R. 2.

——O. 16, R. 1—Right of parties to summon witnesses—Court has no discretion to refuse.

Under O. 16, R. 1, C. P. Code, a Court has no discretion in the matter of an application for summonses on witnesses if such application be made before the day of hearing. The hearing may not be concluded on the date fixed and an adjournment may take place in the usual course of the progress of the trial and the Court cannot refuse to allow any of the parties to reap the benefit of such an adjournment in the matter of giving evidence. 5 N. L. R. 181 ; 9 W. R. 530, Ref. There is nothing in the C. P. Code which expressly or impliedly declares that witnesses must necessarily be summoned before the day fixed for the first hearing of the suit. (Batten, J.C. and Hallifax, A.J.C.) BHAGCHAND v. MUSAJI. 68 I. C. 272 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 58.

——O. 16, R. 1—Witnesses absent—Further opportunity should be allowed.

Where a party summoned two witnesses to give evidence in the case and they were not present on the day when the Court proceeded to try the case, held, the Court must give an opportunity to the petitioner to call those two witnesses. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MODE NARAIN SINGH v. BIKRAM SINGH. 4 Pat. L.T. 545 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 36.

——O. 16, R. 2—Pleader, summoned as witness—Subsistence allowance—Bombay High Court Civil Circulars, 1912, cl. 55.

A pleader was merely called to give evidence as to what had occurred in a previous suit in which he was engaged as a pleader. According to the statement made by him, it appears that Courts had considered that such special fees could be paid to ordinary witnesses, and if that has been the practice in the District Courts then it must be said that there is no warrant for it in law. There is no such rule either in the Civil Procedure Code or in the Civil Circulars applicable to this case; and in the absence of any such rule, the order of the lower Court, which is based apparently upon the practice of that Court, cannot be supported. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) VALI ASMAL v. RAO BAHADUR A. U. MALJI. 46 Bom. 89 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 116.

——O. 16, Rr. 2, 3 and 4—Witness—Government or Municipal servant—Costs of.

Government servants and persons in Municipal or private service, cited as witnesses in civil suits, cannot claim as part of their expenses the payment of the salary which they would earn in their ordinary employment for the time which they spend in attending Court. As to the servants of the Municipal bodies and private employers, held, the Court below was right in supposing the question depends on the provisions of Rules 2, 3 and 4 of O.16 of the Civil Procedure Code, and on the rules made by the High Court under clause (3) of Rule 2. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) In the matter of REFERENCE UNDER RULE 1, O. 46, C. P. CODE. 38 C. L. J. 149 : 76 I.C. 353 (1.)

——O. 16, R. 2—Plaintiff repeatedly failing to pay process fees for witnesses—Witnesses absent consequently—No good reason for plaintiff's act—Suit can be dismissed.

Where the plaintiff repeatedly fails, for two or three times, to pay process fees for summoning his witnesses and consequently the witnesses do not attend Court on the day of hearing and the plaintiff does not give any satisfactory reason for his conduct, then it is open to the Court to dismiss the suit for want of evidence. (Jai Lal, J.) RAM BHEJA MAL v. BHAGWAN DAS. 7 L. L. J. 232 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 457.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 16, R. 4.

——O. 16, R. 4—Default of payment—Only moveable property can be attached.

O. 16, R. 4 authorises the Court in default in payment to order the expenses of a witness, to be levied by attachment and sale of only the moveable property of the party obtaining the summons. His immoveable property cannot be put up to sale. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) MAHAMED WARISH SADAGAR v. RAHMAN ALI MEAH. 70 I. C. 123 : 26 C.W. N. 877.

——O. 16, Rr. 10 and 12—Proclamation or order of attachment of property are not conditions precedent to impose a fine on a defaulting witness.

The provisions of Rr 10 to 12 of O. 16 do not mean that the issue of a proclamation or an order for attachment of property are conditions precedent to the imposition of a fine for non-attendance of a person who has been summoned to attend a Civil Court. 31 C. L. J. 363 and 57 I. C. 302 Diss. The words "such person" in R. 12 mean a person to whom a summons has been issued and who fails to attend under R. 10 (1). (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) PETA NARASAYYA, In re. 22 L. W. 332 : (1925) M. W. N. 767 : 90 I. C. 991 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1247 : 49 M. L. J. 438.

——O. 16, R. 10—Arrest and attachment—Both cannot be ordered.

A Court, after the issue of a warrant for arrest of a witness, for failure to produce a document, cannot afterwards order an attachment of his property. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RANGASAMI REDDI v KONDA REDDI. 61 I. C. 967 : 29 M. L. T. 95.

——O. 16, R. 12—Fine.

Where the witness appears, but is unable to produce the document, it is illegal to impose a fine upon him. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RANGASAMI REDDI v. KONDA REDDI. 61 I. C. 967 : 29 M. L. T. 95.

——O. 16, R. 19—Applicability—Insolvency proceedings.

In insolvency proceedings the Insolvency Court has power to examine witnesses resident more than 200 miles. (Greaves, J.) DINARAM SOMONI, In re. 27 C. W. N. 370 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 427.

——O. 16, Rr. 19 and 21—Scope of.

These rules have no application to a case where a party to a suit desires to give evidence of his own motion in his own favour. (Mukerjee and Panton, JJ.) SARAT KUMAR v. RAM CHANDRA CHATTERJEE. 35 C. L J. 78 : 68 I. C. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 42.

——O. 16, Rr 19 and 21—Applicability.

Rules 19 and 21 of O. 16 do not apply where party of his own accord desires to examine himself on commission. Further, defendant's application is less strictly dealt with than plaintiffs'. (Krishnan, J.) VISWANATHAN CHETTY v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY. 34 M. L. T. 314 : (1924) M. W. N. 191 : 78 I. C. 407 : A. I.R. 1924 Mad. 541 : 46 M. L. J. 131.

——O. 17—Provisions of—Liberal construction.

The provisions of O. 17, C. P. Code, should be liberally construed, particularly as there is latitude given to the trial Court to make any such order as it thinks fit, in lieu of an order of dismissal. (Kinkhede, A.J. C.) AYODHYA PRASAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 79 I. C. 123 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 298.

——O. 17, R. 1—When notice for the discovery of documents has been posted to the hearing of the suit, but on the day so fixed, no judgment is given on the notice, adjournment of hearing of the suit may be refused.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R. 1.

Where a notice as to inspection and discovery of documents is adjourned to the hearing of the suit, though no judgment is given on the notice, the Court may proceed with the suit on the day fixed for hearing and refuse further adjournment especially where the nature of the case requires the avoidance of delay. (Shah, A.C.J. and Fawcett, J.) F. A. C. REBELLO v. CO-OPERATIVE NAVIGATION AND TRADING CO., LTD. 26 Bom L. R. 907 : 84 I. C. 363 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 105.

——O. 17, Rr. 1, 2—Defendant absent but pleader present—No action by pleader—Nature of decree passed.

Where a decree was passed against a defendant, when he was absent at the hearing and his pleader being present took no part at all in the proceedings, then unless it is determined that he appeared by a pleader duly instructed, the disposal would be ex parte in which case, sufficient cause being shown, he can apply to have it set aside. If the defendant is unable to show that the pleader was not duly instructed then it is not an ex parte decree. (Shah, A.C.J. and Crump, J.) MOTILAL RATANCHAND MARWADI v NANDRAM DALPATRAM. 25 Bom. L. R. 1222 : 82 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 139.

——O. 17, R. 1—Time should be given to party to pay costs.

The dismissal of an application for adjournment granted with a direction to pay costs, because the applicant failed to pay the costs fixed by the Court on the same day, is wrong. The party should be given sufficient time to produce the money. Litigants are not expected to come to Court with sufficient money to meet all unforeseen contingencies. (Suhrawardy, J.) DELARUDDIN HALDAR v. DEOLAR BUN MOLLA. 78 I. C. 125 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 570.

——O. 17, R. 1—Adjournment is not a right on the ground that Court can be otherwise kept busy.

There is no authority for the notion that parties whose cases are fixed have a sort of right to get adjournments without any reason being given on the ground that somebody else undertakes to keep the Court busy. (Rankin and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) BINDUBASHINI ROY v. SECY. OF STATE. 51 Cal. 70 : 40 C. L. J. 163 : 79 I. C. 745 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 774.

——O. 17, Rr. 1 and 3—Adjournment cannot be granted in the absence of—Due diligence.

Where, if zeal and diligence had been shown, there would have been no difficulty about appellant's presenting and obtaining order on an application for transfer to the District Court before which similar cases were pending, before it closed for vacation, held, no adjournment could be granted. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) FITZ HOLMES v. THE BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 4 Lah. 258 : 77 I. C. 523 : 5 L. L. J. 438 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 548.

——O. 17, R. 1—Adjournment should be asked as early as possible.

Applications for adjournment should not be belated but should be sufficiently early so as not to inconvenience the Judge and the opposite Counsel. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANESH PRASAD v. BHANGILAL. 83 I. C. 257 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 236 (2).

——O. 17, R. 1—Discretion of the Court.

Where the appellant's contention was that he ought to have been given another adjournment in the first Court for the purpose of going into the witness-box himself and procuring the attendance of other witnesses, held, this is a matter in the discretion of the first Court and not in that of an appellate Court and still less in that of a Court of second appeal.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R. 1.

(Hallifax, A. J. C.) AMOLAK RAO v MAHIPAT RAO. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 81.

——O. 17, R. 1—Witnesses absent—Absence not due to delay in summoning—Adjournment should be granted.

Where summonses reached the destination before the date of the hearing but the witnesses were not to be found and they did not appear at the hearing, Held, that the non-appearance of the witnesses was not due to delay in the application for summoning them and that the party concerned should be granted another opportunity to prove his case. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) DHANI RAM v. GAYA SINGH.

84 I. C. 173 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 304.

——O. 17, R. 1—Case transferred without notice to defendant—Defendant should be granted adjournment if he pleads unpreparedness to go on.

Where after a case has been posted for trial to a certain date, but prior to the latter date, the case is transferred to another Court, but the defendant is not informed of this, and on the date to which the case has been posted, the defendant applies for time on the ground that he was not aware of the transfer and is not prepared to go on with the case, the adjournment should be granted. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) S. N. MULLICK v. GANGA GOPE.

1925 P. H. C. C. 199 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 534.

——O. 17, R. 2—Order dismissing suit after decree is without jurisdiction.

In a partition suit the Court made an order dismissing a party from the array of defendants. On an appeal from this order, the suit was compromised and the suit was remitted to lower Court for further action. On a day fixed by lower Court for this purpose the plaintiff did not appear and thereupon the Court dismissed the suit apparently under O. 17, R. 2. Held, that O. 17, R. 2 did not apply that there could be no dismissal after decree and that the order was made without jurisdiction and was rightly set aside by the High Court. (Lord Phillimore.) LACHMI NARAIN MARWARY v. BALMAKUND MARWARY.

35 M. L. T. 143 : 4 Pat. 61 : (1924) M. W. N. 707 : 20 L. W. 491 : L. R. 5 P. C. 171 : 26 Bom. L.R. 1129 : 22 A. L. J. 990 : 29 C. W. N. 391 : 5 Pat. L. T. 623 : 40 C. L. J. 439 : 1 O W. N. 629 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1033 : 51 I. A 321 : 81 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 198 : 47 M. L. J. 441 (P C.)

——O. 17, R. 2—Hearing—If includes interlocutory applications.

Quaere: Whether the term "hearing" in O. 17, R. 2 extends to occasions when interlocutory applications are being dealt with? (Lord Phillimore.) LACHMI NARAIN v. BALMAKUND. 4 Pat. 61 : 35 M. L. T 143 : 20 L. W. 491 : L. R. 5 P. C. 171 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1129 : 22 A. L. J. 990 : 5 Pat. L. T. 623 : 81 I.C. 747 : (1924) M. W. N. 707 : 40 C. L. J. 439 : 1 O. W. N. 629 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1033 : 29 C.W.N 391 : 51 I.A. 321 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 198 : 47 M. L. J. 441 (P. C.)

——O. 17, R. 2—Defendant taking time for producing evidence, but absent—Rule applies.

Where a party absents himself, whether on the adjourned date or not and whether he had taken time to produce any particular evidence or not, the provisions of O. 17, R. 2 become applicable. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) GANESHI LAL v. DEBI DAS.

47 All. 140 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 79 : 85 I. C. 470 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Defendant absent at adjourned hearing—Order should be presumed to be under R. 2 in absence of mention otherwise.

Where the defendant did not appear on the date to which the hearing of the case had been adjourned and judgment was pronounced on that day, held, that in the absence of any express mention that the order passed was under O. 17, R. 3 it must be presumed that it was an order passed under O. 17, R. 2 and therefore in deciding the case the Court must be deemed to have proceeded under the provisions of O. 9 of the Code. An application to have the decree set aside as being an ex parte one would lie.

Per Mukerji, J.—Held, in this particular case, inasmuch as the lower Court had passed the judgment as on contest, it should be deemed to have acted under O. 17, R. 3. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) GANESHI LAL v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 : L R. 6 A. (Civ.) 79: 85 I.C. 470 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 267.

——O. 17, R. 2—Wrong decision that O. 9, R. 13 did not apply—Revision lies.

Where a Court in the case of an order under O. 17, R. 2 wrongly holds that no application under O. 9, R. 13 lies, it amounts to refusal to exercise jurisdiction and revision is competent. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) FIRM GANESHI LAL-HAR NARAIN v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 · L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 79 : 85 I C 470 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Court wrongly acting under R. 3 instead of under R. 2—Remedy is by appeal.

The defendant had taken time for framing of issues, and on the day finally fixed he did not appear. The plaintiff was present. The Court framed issues, took evidence on behalf of the plaintiff and decided the case on that evidence. Held, that as the Court in fact decided the case on the merits under O. 17, R. 3, the defendant's remedy was by way of appeal if he considered himself aggrieved. The right of appeal does not depend on what a Court ought to have done but on what it actually did. If the Court acted wrongly in deciding the case on the merits, the appellate Court had full power to put things right. (Daniels, J.) MADHO DAS v. HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJAH OF BENARES. L. R 6 A. (Civ.) 152 : 84 I. C. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 252.

——O. 17, R. 2—Even where defendant is absent on adjourned hearing, the Court ought to pass an ex parte decree and not a judgment on merits.

Even where a party has taken time to produce evidence and on the date fixed for hearing of that evidence he is absent, the proper course to follow is to pass an ex parte decree and not an order under R. 3. The words "make such other order as it thinks fit" in R. 2 do not include an order under R. 3. A.I.R. 1923 All. 153; A. I. R. 1922 All. 68; A. I. R. 1923 All. 551, Foll. In such a case even if the Court purports to deliver judgment on merits, the order is to be treated as ex parte decree, for the setting aside of which the procedure in O. 9, R. 13 is to be followed. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) RAM ADHIN v. RAM BHAROSE.

22 A L.J. 1041 : 47 All. 181 : L.R. 5 A. (Civ.) 740 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 182.

——O. 17, R. 2—Applicability of.

O. 17, R. 2 applies to the case where the hearing of a suit has been adjourned and on the adjourned date, the parties or any of them fail to appear. In such a case, O. 17, R. 2 enables the Court, if it so chooses, to deal with the case as being one under O. 9 or to make such other order as it thinks fit. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) RAM CHARAN LAL v. RAGHUBIR SINGH.

45 A. 618 : 21 A. L. J. 495 : L. R. 4 A. 294 : 75 I. C. 387 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 551.

——O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Pleader having no instructions—Order of dismissal—Construction.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R 2.

Adjournment of a suit was granted to plaintiffs for producing witnesses : but on the adjourned date they were absent and their pleader applied for permission to withdraw the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit, which was refused. A further adjournment was then asked for and being refused, the pleader said he had no instructions to do anything further in the case, and left the Court. An order was made dismissing the suit and on an application for restoration being made, the question arose whether the dismissal was under O. 17, R. 2 or O. 17, R. 3. Held, Per Walsh, J.—Under whatever form the Judge may make an order disposing of a case or however he may misunderstand what he is doing or whatever mistaken language he may use in disposing of the case, the Court has to look at the actual facts as things were at the time and decide under which rule the order was made. Where a party does not personally appear even though his counsel originally instructed is there, if he has failed to supply his counsel with materials or funds, and the counsel states he has no further instructions, although the situation may be drawn into the express words of O. 17, R. 3, it ought to be treated as a default by the plaintiff for want of appearance under O. 17, R. 2, for the counsel no longer represents him and in that sense the counsel is not present, while the plaintiff himself is absent. Held, on the facts of the case, the dismissal was under O. 17, R. 3. Per Piggott, J.—The plaintiffs not being present and the pleader having said, he had no instructions to do anything further in the case left the Court, a point had been reached at which it was literally true that the plaintiffs were absent neither appearing in person nor by counsel authorised to act on their behalf. The dismissal was under O. 17, R. 2 and an application for restoration lay. (Walsh and Piggott, JJ.) LAL JANGPAL SINGH v. RAJA KUSHALPAL SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 97 : 70 I. C. 942 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 153.

———O. 17, R. 2—Absence of party.

Plaintiff and pleader being absent on adjourned date, Court cannot hear case on the merits. (Banerjee, J.) RUKME v. TARA CHAND. 20 A. L. J. 123 : L. R. 3 A. 68 : 65 I. C. 775 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 68.

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Failure of plaintiff to appear at adjourned hearing—Court should proceed under R. 2—Trial Court and not the Appellate Court can consider if plaintiff had good reasons for non-appearance.

If a party fails to appear at an adjourned hearing, the proper order for the trial Court to pass is one under R. 2 and not under R. 3, but if it proceeds under R. 3 and dismisses the suit on merits, it is the trial Court and not the appellate Court which can consider if the plaintiff had sufficient cause for non-appearance. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) BASAYYA AYAPPA v. ALLAYA MAHARUDRAYYA. 27 Bom. L. R. 477 : 87 I. C. 710 : A.I.R. 1925 Bom. 328.

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Absence of party—Court must proceed under R. 2.

On failure of parties to appear on an adjourned date, it is the duty of Court to act under O. 17, R. 2 rather than under O. 17, R. 3, C. P. Code. (Macleod, and Shah, JJ.) RATAN BAI v. SHANKAR DEOCHAND. 24 Bom. L. R. 775 : 68 I. C. 514 : 46 Bom. 1026 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 27.

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Adjournment granted to plaintiff—Default on adjourned date—Disposal of matter on record—If regular.

Where after the evidence in a case was complete, the case was adjourned for argument to a particular date at the request of the plaintiff and on that date he was absent and the Judge decided the case on the materials on record, the procedure is quite regular. He was not bound to proceed under O. 17, R. 2. Per Abdul Raoof, J.—If there was any irregularity, it was covered by S. 99, C. P. Code. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) JHANDA SINGH v. SADIQ MAHOMED. 5 Lah. 218 : 78 I. C. 453 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 545.

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Pleader applying for adjournment—Refusal—Court should write judgment.

Where on the day fixed for hearing, the plaintiff appeared by a pleader who asked for an adjournment which was refused, held, that the proper procedure for the Court was not to dismiss the suit for default but to proceed with the case and write a judgment. O. 17, R. 2, C. P. Code, was not applicable to the case, but O. 17, R. 3 did apply. 41 M. 256, Ref. (Odgers, J.) VISVANATHA ASARI v. SAMI ASARI. 18 L. W. 209 : (1923) M. W. N. 802 : 73 I. C. 982 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 43.

———O. 17, R 2 and S. 115—Dismissal wholesale is not proper if pleader is unprepared—Court should proceed to decide on merits—Revision lies from the dismissal but no appeal.

A pleader's unpreparedness to argue affords no ground for the Court to ignore his presence and proceed to dismiss the appeal as if there was no appearance ; he is bound to proceed to decide on merits but a revision can lie on the ground that, in dismissing an appeal, the Court clearly acts illegally and with material irregularity. 17 C. P. L. R. 1, Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANESH PRASAD v. BHANGILAL. 83 I. C. 257 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 236 (2).

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Party absent on adjourned date—R. 2 and not R. 3 applies.

A case in which one of the parties fails to appear on the date to which the case is adjourned falls under O. 17, R. 2 and not R. 3, and, therefore, such a case must be disposed of under one of the modes laid down in O. 9 and cannot be considered to have been disposed of on the merits. (Neave, A. J. C.) PUTTU LAL v. MT. CHHULKO. 85 I. C. 528 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 360 (1).

———O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—R. 2 is not distinct from O. 9—R. 3 is different—Under R. 3 Court must have material to decide case on merits.

No valid distinction can be drawn between O. 17, R. 2 and O. 9. O. 17, R. 2. refers back to O. 9 and gives the Court permission to decide the case in one of the ways prescribed by the order. O. 17, R. 3 is different. That rule does not refer back to O. 9 in any way and therefore where the decision is given on the merits under O. 17, R. 3, the remedy of the aggrieved party is by way of an appeal from the decree. R. 3 applies where two elements combine, namely :—(1) The adjournment must have been at the instance of a party, and (2) There must be the materials on the record for the Court to proceed to decide the suit. 41 Cal. 956, Appr. (Daniels, J. C.) RAMESWAR DUTT SINGH v. H. H. MAHARAJ JAGJIT SINGH. 78 I. C. 340 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 278.

———O. 17, R. 2—Dismissal for default—Application for restoration—Duty of Court.

When the plaintiff is absent on a date to which the suit is adjourned, and the suit is dismissed for default, an application for restoration must be decided by the Court on the merits of the allegations in the affidavit. The fact that plaintiff consented to pay Rs. 300 demanded by deft. for setting aside the order of dismissal does not entitle the Court to surrender its jurisdiction. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MANNI LAL v. SHEO SARAN. 10 O. & A. L. R. 136 : 27 O. C. 103 : 11 O. L. J. 412 : 78 I. C. 157 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R. 2.

A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 389.

——— O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Applicability f—Absence of plaintiff on adjourned day—Dismissal of suit—Effect of.

Where a plaintiff realising the weakness of his case absented himself on the day fixed for hearing and let the suit be dismissed for default, the decision is one under O. 9, R. 3, C. P. Code, even though the Court purported to act under O. 17, R. 3 and the decision does not bar a fresh suit. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) SYED MD. HASAN v. SYED ALI HYDER. 10 O. & A. L. R. 1239 : 1 O. W N. 803.

——— O 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Suit adjourned for appointing guardian—Dismissal for default—Propriety of.

